

Blank Books,
Large and Small, at the
PRESS BOOK STORE.

The Crittenden Press

Writing paper, pens, ink, pencils, etc., at the
PRESS BOOK STORE.

VOLUME XI

MARION, CRITTENDEN COUNTY, KENTUCKY, OCT. 9, 1890.

NUMBER 17.

TO THE FIELDS OF UNLIMITED BARGAINS.

NO ROOM FOR FURTHER ARGUMENT.
—MY CHOICE STOCK OF NEW—
FALL AND WINTER GOODS
ARE NOW OFFERED AT PRICES WHICH MAKE ME BEYOND QUESTION
THE LOWEST HOUSE IN TOWN,
QUALITY CONSIDERED.

Try me and I will surely please you. My stock is complete in all of its departments.
RESPECTFULLY
A. WOLFF.

MARION, KY.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
For the hair, scalp, and face.
It cures itching, dandruff, and keeps the hair soft and glossy.
It is the best for the hair, and is sold everywhere.
Beware of cheap imitations.
The name is on the wrapper.
Solely for sale by
W. H. NUNN,
Marion, Ky.

DR. RICHMOND'S
Bellcapsie
PLASTERS.
FOR THE BEST PAIN-RELIEF IN THE WORLD.
They cure Rheumatism, Kidney Pain, Headache, Toothache, and all other pains.
They are applied to the affected part, and the pain is relieved.
They are sold everywhere.
Beware of cheap imitations.
The name is on the wrapper.
Solely for sale by
W. H. NUNN,
Marion, Ky.

R. W. WILSON, President.
H. H. LOVING, Cashier.
W. C. CARRAHAN, Vice Pres.
Marion Bank
MARION, KY.
AUTHORIZED CAPITAL $300,000.
DISCOUNTS PAID.
LOANS, MONEY,
RECEIVES DEPOSITS.
BUYS AND SELLS EXCHANGE.
MAKES COLLECTIONS.
REMITTANCES, etc., etc.
All rates reasonable. The patronage of the people is solicited.

BLUE & BLUE,
Attorneys-at-Law.
(Office in Courthouse Yard.)
MARION, KY.

J. Bell Kevil
Attorney-at-Law
and SURVEYOR.
Marion, Kentucky.
Office with J. G. Rochester.

W. H. Nunn,
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Repton, Ky.
LAND SALE.
On Monday the 10th day of November 1890, it being county court day, I will offer for sale at the court house door in Marion, Ky., a tract of land containing 390 acres, about 150 acres cleared and under fence, the remainder in timber, dwelling house, stables, orchard, etc. This farm is on Livingston creek, well watered, 2 miles from Dyeusburg, Ky., and will make a good stock farm. Also at same time and place will sell a tract of land containing 300 acres on Claylick creek, about 35 acres cleared and under fence, dwellings houses, 2 barns, stables, etc., the remainder in timber. Any one wishing to buy these lands are requested to call on the undersigned at his farm in Caldwell county, Ky. Terms made known on day of sale.
W. B. BENNETT.

FRANCES.
W. J. Oliver has a sick child.
W. W. Mathews will move to Ills. soon.
Jas R. Lynch has gone to Tenn. on a visit.
The rainy weather interferes with tobacco cutting.
G. A. Franklin and Jas I Mathews are visiting in Ills.
Mrs A B Wicker has been quite ill but is improving.
G L Whitte has been confined to his bed for several days.
Mr James Myers and Miss Mary Mabry, were married Sunday.
W W Pogue and J A Lewis are attending the Grand Lodge of F. A. A. M. at Louisville.
Rev Sullivan preached three sermons at Oliver school, but postponed the protracted meeting indefinitely.

The question has often been asked us, "how did Capt Stone vote on the Free Coinage Bill?" We could not answer, will somebody answer?
W. H. Brown who made such an admirable race for a seat in the Constitutional Convention, was in town to-day, and is as "chuck" full of Wee-weeism as ever.

Capit has again made his target: Mr Robt. Waddell, of Exmoor neighborhood, and Miss Sissie Brasher, of this community, were married Wednesday night, Rev D. P. Campbell officiating. May long life and prosperity be theirs.
Robert Braz, who left here last spring for Missouri, died a few days ago while in Ills., on a visit. He has many friends and relatives in this and livington counties. The sorrow stricken young wife has our heartfelt sympathy in her loss of an affectionate husband.

At your request Mr Ed tor, we give you the status of our school, Dist No 5, for the month of Sept.
No enrolled in census 100
" " school 75
Highest No in school 49
Lowest " " 26
Average " " 40
Educational interest good.
Promises for a prosperous term fair, our efficient and worthy Superintendent, Dr Deboe, honored us with his presence last week, his talk to the school was full of wisdom to the point. G. L. Whitte, W. F. Oliver and J. B. Polk, are our kind trustees, each one having visited the school twice. Why do not patrons visit the school, sometimes? Let us hear from other schools throughout the county.
M. F. P.

Freedom Church.
G. M. Russell and John H. Rushing are on a land trade. Mr Rushing will doubtless purchase the Russell farm.
Mr John H. Rushing and wife, of Livingston county, were visiting the family of Marshall Hughes last Saturday.
Eld Kinnin has resigned the pastorate of Freedom church and will move to Webster county. A call has been made on Elder Ramsey to take charge of the pulpit.
The recent rains have not only been of monotonous frequency, but also of unusual copiousness, and if this thing is kept up many weeks longer there will be a large quantity of rotten corn for sale in Crittenden county, "cheap for cash or country produce."

Laas: Monday the McKinley tax law went into operation; and now I wish every reader of the Press, Democrat as well as Republican, to carefully note, in dealing with their merchants, the gradual rise in the price of the necessities of life. It is bound to come, and the McKinley bill will be solely responsible for it.
Nemo.

Iron Hill.
The eastern of the church is complete.
Harry Cook, of Weston, paid relatives here a visit last week.
Mack Hill says he is going to Congress when Ed Franks' term expires.
Little Marion McConnell was severely burned recently by walking into a fire.
The saw mill in the bottom is saving a large bill of lumber for the Marion Lumber Co.
Rev. R. T. McConnell has moved from this vicinity to Trigg county where he has been assigned to preach by conference. He is a zealous worker and his efforts will be crowned with success.

The articles of the Weston scribe seem to be inspired of a spirit of such ineffable meanness that we hardly know whether or not they deserve our notice, but as he kicked us first we beg of the editor some more of his valuable space. We said at first that Ed was employed by the proper authorities and now say if there is a man who is not a member of the teachers' order or greater than that vested in two trustees, we have no knowledge of it. We know nothing of the efficacy to which the talented scribe has twice called our attention, but don't think the county commissioner or either of those trustees would condescend to circulate a remonstrance to injure and slander a poor boy who is trying honestly to win his way into the world and about whom they know next to nothing. We know to some people it is exceedingly galling to see a person or thing prosper which they have tried to hold down, therefore "B" has our sympathy. We are aware that men of certain dispositions can injure the reputations of others, but we hope friend Ed will not allow himself to be disturbed by their trials, as they are powerless to injure him where he is best known. Yes, "B," even you can "learn a little." If you will watch Ed Walker you will learn how it makes a malicious man feel to confront a gentleman.

Blaze away "B," but your teacher will succeed, then you can crawl into your hole, tear your hair, (if you have any) howl and snap your nails because you are powerless to do him further harm.
Brithel.

White Hall.
Remember that White Hall is not dead yet. We have a good school at the Hall this year. Miss Jennie Clement is our teacher, and she is a good one.
Miss Jennie Jacobs was the guest of her sister, Mrs Lee Lewis, near White Hall.
Guess Who.

Miss Fannie Kirk and Walter Riggs left for Union county Thursday, where they will be united in the holy bonds of matrimony. May their future life be crowned with success. Rumor says another couple will soon do likewise.
One of our molasses makers is making molasses as white as doves. As says he carried ten gallons home with a tobacco stick wound around it.
W H Minner and Enoch Stone are on a land trade with unknown parties in Hopkinsville.
Prayer meeting at Hurricane every Wednesday night.
The Christian people should all come out and take part in the grand work.
T A Champion on a Texas pony went bucking down the lane. The same pony crippled T A C, and made him very lame.
But the pony could not throw him. For he held it by the mane.
J W Swanagon is making staves.
Plotter.

HERE AND THERE.
Banerott, the historian, was ninety years old Friday.
The Christian county circuit court sends seven convicts to the penitentiary.
Judge, G. W. Williams a prominent lawyer and citizen of Owensboro, died last week.
The Madisonville Fair Company, it is said, lost money this year. The attendance was very slim.
Five men were killed by the explosion of a steam mill boiler in McNairy county, Tenn., Friday.
At the close of September, there had been filed 460,282 applications for pensions under the dependent bill.
The Governor of Arizona, claims that the population of that Territory is 57,000, and begs for admission to the Union.
During the first nine months of 1890, 3,782 miles of railroad was built in 39 states. Georgia leads the list with 328 miles.
The Masonic Grand Lodge was in session at Louisville last week. C. H. Fiske, of Covington, was chosen Grand Master, and Jas. A. McKenzie, Deputy Grand Master.
The President of the Mormon church says: "We are not teaching polygamy or plural marriage, nor permitting any person to enter into its practice."
The committee on the McChord-Lewis contested election case before the Constitutional convention reported unanimously in favor of seating McChord. Lewis submitted without a murmur.
In the Democratic primary election in the Second district last week, Hon W. T. Ellis, the present Congressman, he received every vote cast. The Wheelers have also endorsed him.
When the new constitution shall have been adopted, the days of voting a tax to aid in the building of railroads will be no more. There is no one who objects to a cheerful "amen" to this amendment.
General Manager G. H. of the Farmers Alliance Exchange, of Montgomery, Ala., is advancing farmers money on their cotton in that State. He appears to have plenty of money, and is proceeding in a methodical way to advance it.
Lexington wants the State Capital. A committee of twenty of her leading citizens has been appointed to go over to Frankfort and get it. Lexington is a pretty fair place without, and without Frankfort would be a hole between two hills. Even things up by letting it remain at Frankfort.
Bertha Dennis, of Henderson, has sued the O. V. Railroad Company, for $15,000 damage. She claims the Conductor refused to put her off at the station for which she bought a ticket, and that she had to walk six miles, and the exposure and labor rendered her unable to perform her household duties.
The Press of the State can all control its mirth at Cassius M. Clay, Jr., the Bluegrass aristocrat, suddenly blossoming out as a farmer and laborer. It is true that Mr. Clay lives in the center of a 4,000 acre Bourbon county farm, but it is doubtful if he could tell a tobacco worm from a caterpillar or ever walked across a plowed field.—Exchange.
Congress passed a resolution appropriating $10,000 to enable the Postmaster General to test the free delivery system in small towns and villages. As Marion bears the distinguished honor of being the county seat of the only county in the First Congressional District of Kentucky that ever gave a Republican candidate for Congress a majority of votes cast, we see reasons why Ber W. Wannamaker should select this "small town" to try his project. Cut this out, Brer Johnnie, past it in your hat, and let us hear from you.
In the Eleventh District Republican Congressional Convention, J. H. Wilson was nominated on the one hundred and first ballot. In withdrawing from the convention, Finley, the present congressman, made some very caustic remarks. He charged that he was robbed of the nomination by treachery, and the use of money. Referring to the Bell county convention he said: "A car-load of negroes, headed by a keg of whiskey, and coming from nobody knew where, arrived by the way of Middleborough, marched into the court-house at Pineville, declared themselves the convention, and when they had done their work, announced the result to a crowd of white Republicans, his friends, who stood outside."

HOW IT WORKS.
Indianapolis, Oct. 3.—The effects of the McKinley Tariff bill will begin to be observed in Indiana within a few days. Jobbers are receiving letters from importers by scores, announcing advances in prices, and the increase will not be long in effecting the pockets of consumers. According to the arguments of the supporters of the bill, the wages of workmen affected should straightway be increased in the game or greater proportion, but there is much doubt expressed among business men of this city as to whether or not this will be the case. Standard hosiery of medium quality, such as the masses of the people use in great quantity, furnish an excellent sample of the effects of the new tariff. Old prices in this market range from $1.58 to $1.35, while, according to the new schedule, they will vary from $2.03 to $2.82. These are the wholesale prices of men's half hose and ladies' hose. The increase in retail prices will be a still greater per cent than in the wholesale trade. The cost of ordinary pearl buttons, such as are used by the hundred in every home in the land, furnishes one of the best illustrations of the direct results of the bill. The trifling simple prohibitory in this case, and the domestic manufacturers, whose business is to be stimulated, are sending out circulars which place the prices at the highest notch possible under the new tariff, and at the same time notify customers that they can only half fill their orders because they can not produce as many buttons as are needed. In other markets of this city, complaint is also being made. A coffee pot, which a month ago could have been purchased for 35 cents, will cost probably 45 cents when the new law gets fairly established, and a similar rate of increase will be discovered by the purchaser in all kinds of tinware.
There are extensive advances also in the various materials and tools used in the trade of book binding. Prices of all metals have advanced, and are so strong as to indicate still further appreciation. While the latter fact is not because of increased demand, it is because of the sympathy in trade which runs through all the goods of kindred classes and is a familiar phenomenon of the markets.
From this time forward tombstones will cost twenty per cent more than in the past—true of our marble men showed us a circular letter a few days since from the market stating that on account of the new tariff bill that this class of trade would be compelled to advance prices as above stated. The tombstone is about the last article purchased for the man or woman who has lived in this world and it is the last whack the Republicans will get at the deceased—the idea is to get all possible before the last trumpet shall have sounded.—Madisonville Hustler.

The Parish Tyrant.
It is not our purpose to point out just where he resides, but we are very certain he exists. Not every form of slavery has been abolished in the United States. Some of it still finds a refuge in our churches. A new anti-slavery society is needed for its abolition.
We know very well that the parish tyrant is sometimes in the pulpit. Even under the congregational system, the minister may become a pope in his own parish. Some ministers never discover the difference between leading their people and driving them. But we refer now more particularly to the laical tyrant. We have received a pathetic appeal for emancipation from one who groans under the burden of oppression.
It is hardly worth while to classify all the forms of oppression in which laical tyranny may be exerted. Whenever there is any authority to be exercised, whether it be the introduction of a new stove or a new minister, a singer or a sexton, the putting in of a pane of glass in a church window, the gilding of the ball of the steeple, the taking of a collection, the reading of a church notice, the holding of a parish party, or a picnic, or of having a Christmas tree, the will of the parish tyrant is very sure to be felt. There are none of our parish manuals that directly provide for the appointment of a "church boss." We should deprecate the introduction of the title. Still more do we deprecate the existence of the office, for the "church boss" may be easily found. He is generally self elected. As money has proved to be of great use in securing political promotion, so the parish boss is indebted to it frequently for his advancement. He rules not so much with a rod of iron as with a rod of gold. He looks at a church organization very much as he looks at a mill in which he controls a large portion of the stock. He has invested his money in this church enterprise. He has put in more than anybody else; why should he not, therefore, control its administration? We have known churches that have nearly been ruined by this selfish policy.

When our correspondent asks us to point a way out of the difficulty, he has imposed no easy task. If parish tyrants were all cruel and wicked, it would be easy to get rid of them. They could be indicted for trespass by some justice of the peace. An invasion of local rights could be settled by the courts. It is generally the case that excessive arbitrariness ultimately produces a reaction or revolution in the society. But the great difficulty is that the most effective church tyrants are the most generous and devoted people in the world. The suspicion never enters their heads that they are lording it over anybody else. They have not the slightest idea how tyrannical they are. They really mean to do right," says our correspondent, "the difficulty is in their feeling so dead sure that their way is the only way."

As there are men who rule the parish because they give most of the money, so there are women who rule because they give most of the service. And we must confess, that it there is any justification for most of the work seems to be best entitled to the office.
The natural cure for the difficulty we have described would seem to be the cultivation of a more general interest on the part of all the members of the church, and the submission of church matters to parish meetings for frank and fraternal discussion, with the real desire of learning the honest will of the majority. In most churches the work falls to a few, the many are indifferent. There are churches, indeed, in which lethargic members regard the dominion of the parish tyrant as a grateful relief from calls upon their services or their purse. In such cases slavery cannot be abolished until the enslaved are made to feel the value as

The Future of Cattle.
Live stock journals of the far west claim that the numbers of cattle on the ranges have been falling off, so largely in the last few years that the aggregate totals now are several million head less than a few years ago. This is perhaps correct. The natural result of this must be (in deed it cannot be otherwise) that the surplus of cattle which has been weighing on the trade so heavily for a number of years will, one of these days disappear. This is certainly an inevitable as any other positive thing which is bound to occur. When that time comes cattle prices will, of course, substantially advance. Conditions are such that the ranges are not likely to be again filled up as they have been with live stock, and this ought to insure a prevention of the recurrence of any such wonderful multiplication in numbers as has taken place in the last ten years.
This, from the National Stockman indicates this inevitable trend of popular thought in regard to the cattle business, and it is special significance to the farmer, because if the range is at an end the farm is the only source of supply.—Colman's Rural World.

IRON HILL.
The eastern of the church is complete.
Harry Cook, of Weston, paid relatives here a visit last week.
Mack Hill says he is going to Congress when Ed Franks' term expires.
Little Marion McConnell was severely burned recently by walking into a fire.
The saw mill in the bottom is saving a large bill of lumber for the Marion Lumber Co.
Rev. R. T. McConnell has moved from this vicinity to Trigg county where he has been assigned to preach by conference. He is a zealous worker and his efforts will be crowned with success.

THE PARISH TYRANT.
It is not our purpose to point out just where he resides, but we are very certain he exists. Not every form of slavery has been abolished in the United States. Some of it still finds a refuge in our churches. A new anti-slavery society is needed for its abolition.
We know very well that the parish tyrant is sometimes in the pulpit. Even under the congregational system, the minister may become a pope in his own parish. Some ministers never discover the difference between leading their people and driving them. But we refer now more particularly to the laical tyrant. We have received a pathetic appeal for emancipation from one who groans under the burden of oppression.
It is hardly worth while to classify all the forms of oppression in which laical tyranny may be exerted. Whenever there is any authority to be exercised, whether it be the introduction of a new stove or a new minister, a singer or a sexton, the putting in of a pane of glass in a church window, the gilding of the ball of the steeple, the taking of a collection, the reading of a church notice, the holding of a parish party, or a picnic, or of having a Christmas tree, the will of the parish tyrant is very sure to be felt. There are none of our parish manuals that directly provide for the appointment of a "church boss." We should deprecate the introduction of the title. Still more do we deprecate the existence of the office, for the "church boss" may be easily found. He is generally self elected. As money has proved to be of great use in securing political promotion, so the parish boss is indebted to it frequently for his advancement. He rules not so much with a rod of iron as with a rod of gold. He looks at a church organization very much as he looks at a mill in which he controls a large portion of the stock. He has invested his money in this church enterprise. He has put in more than anybody else; why should he not, therefore, control its administration? We have known churches that have nearly been ruined by this selfish policy.

IRON HILL.
The eastern of the church is complete.
Harry Cook, of Weston, paid relatives here a visit last week.
Mack Hill says he is going to Congress when Ed Franks' term expires.
Little Marion McConnell was severely burned recently by walking into a fire.
The saw mill in the bottom is saving a large bill of lumber for the Marion Lumber Co.
Rev. R. T. McConnell has moved from this vicinity to Trigg county where he has been assigned to preach by conference. He is a zealous worker and his efforts will be crowned with success.

THE PARISH TYRANT.
It is not our purpose to point out just where he resides, but we are very certain he exists. Not every form of slavery has been abolished in the United States. Some of it still finds a refuge in our churches. A new anti-slavery society is needed for its abolition.
We know very well that the parish tyrant is sometimes in the pulpit. Even under the congregational system, the minister may become a pope in his own parish. Some ministers never discover the difference between leading their people and driving them. But we refer now more particularly to the laical tyrant. We have received a pathetic appeal for emancipation from one who groans under the burden of oppression.
It is hardly worth while to classify all the forms of oppression in which laical tyranny may be exerted. Whenever there is any authority to be exercised, whether it be the introduction of a new stove or a new minister, a singer or a sexton, the putting in of a pane of glass in a church window, the gilding of the ball of the steeple, the taking of a collection, the reading of a church notice, the holding of a parish party, or a picnic, or of having a Christmas tree, the will of the parish tyrant is very sure to be felt. There are none of our parish manuals that directly provide for the appointment of a "church boss." We should deprecate the introduction of the title. Still more do we deprecate the existence of the office, for the "church boss" may be easily found. He is generally self elected. As money has proved to be of great use in securing political promotion, so the parish boss is indebted to it frequently for his advancement. He rules not so much with a rod of iron as with a rod of gold. He looks at a church organization very much as he looks at a mill in which he controls a large portion of the stock. He has invested his money in this church enterprise. He has put in more than anybody else; why should he not, therefore, control its administration? We have known churches that have nearly been ruined by this selfish policy.

IRON HILL.
The eastern of the church is complete.
Harry Cook, of Weston, paid relatives here a visit last week.
Mack Hill says he is going to Congress when Ed Franks' term expires.
Little Marion McConnell was severely burned recently by walking into a fire.
The saw mill in the bottom is saving a large bill of lumber for the Marion Lumber Co.
Rev. R. T. McConnell has moved from this vicinity to Trigg county where he has been assigned to preach by conference. He is a zealous worker and his efforts will be crowned with success.

THE PARISH TYRANT.
It is not our purpose to point out just where he resides, but we are very certain he exists. Not every form of slavery has been abolished in the United States. Some of it still finds a refuge in our churches. A new anti-slavery society is needed for its abolition.
We know very well that the parish tyrant is sometimes in the pulpit. Even under the congregational system, the minister may become a pope in his own parish. Some ministers never discover the difference between leading their people and driving them. But we refer now more particularly to the laical tyrant. We have received a pathetic appeal for emancipation from one who groans under the burden of oppression.
It is hardly worth while to classify all the forms of oppression in which laical tyranny may be exerted. Whenever there is any authority to be exercised, whether it be the introduction of a new stove or a new minister, a singer or a sexton, the putting in of a pane of glass in a church window, the gilding of the ball of the steeple, the taking of a collection, the reading of a church notice, the holding of a parish party, or a picnic, or of having a Christmas tree, the will of the parish tyrant is very sure to be felt. There are none of our parish manuals that directly provide for the appointment of a "church boss." We should deprecate the introduction of the title. Still more do we deprecate the existence of the office, for the "church boss" may be easily found. He is generally self elected. As money has proved to be of great use in securing political promotion, so the parish boss is indebted to it frequently for his advancement. He rules not so much with a rod of iron as with a rod of gold. He looks at a church organization very much as he looks at a mill in which he controls a large portion of the stock. He has invested his money in this church enterprise. He has put in more than anybody else; why should he not, therefore, control its administration? We have known churches that have nearly been ruined by this selfish policy.

IRON HILL.
The eastern of the church is complete.
Harry Cook, of Weston, paid relatives here a visit last week.
Mack Hill says he is going to Congress when Ed Franks' term expires.
Little Marion McConnell was severely burned recently by walking into a fire.
The saw mill in the bottom is saving a large bill of lumber for the Marion Lumber Co.
Rev. R. T. McConnell has moved from this vicinity to Trigg county where he has been assigned to preach by conference. He is a zealous worker and his efforts will be crowned with success.

THE PARISH TYRANT.
It is not our purpose to point out just where he resides, but we are very certain he exists. Not every form of slavery has been abolished in the United States. Some of it still finds a refuge in our churches. A new anti-slavery society is needed for its abolition.
We know very well that the parish tyrant is sometimes in the pulpit. Even under the congregational system, the minister may become a pope in his own parish. Some ministers never discover the difference between leading their people and driving them. But we refer now more particularly to the laical tyrant. We have received a pathetic appeal for emancipation from one who groans under the burden of oppression.
It is hardly worth while to classify all the forms of oppression in which laical tyranny may be exerted. Whenever there is any authority to be exercised, whether it be the introduction of a new stove or a new minister, a singer or a sexton, the putting in of a pane of glass in a church window, the gilding of the ball of the steeple, the taking of a collection, the reading of a church notice, the holding of a parish party, or a picnic, or of having a Christmas tree, the will of the parish tyrant is very sure to be felt. There are none of our parish manuals that directly provide for the appointment of a "church boss." We should deprecate the introduction of the title. Still more do we deprecate the existence of the office, for the "church boss" may be easily found. He is generally self elected. As money has proved to be of great use in securing political promotion, so the parish boss is indebted to it frequently for his advancement. He rules not so much with a rod of iron as with a rod of gold. He looks at a church organization very much as he looks at a mill in which he controls a large portion of the stock. He has invested his money in this church enterprise. He has put in more than anybody else; why should he not, therefore, control its administration? We have known churches that have nearly been ruined by this selfish policy.

IRON HILL.
The eastern of the church is complete.
Harry Cook, of Weston, paid relatives here a visit last week.
Mack Hill says he is going to Congress when Ed Franks' term expires.
Little Marion McConnell was severely burned recently by walking into a fire.
The saw mill in the bottom is saving a large bill of lumber for the Marion Lumber Co.
Rev. R. T. McConnell has moved from this vicinity to Trigg county where he has been assigned to preach by conference. He is a zealous worker and his efforts will be crowned with success.

IRON HILL.
The eastern of the church is complete.
Harry Cook, of Weston, paid relatives here a visit last week.
Mack Hill says he is going to Congress when Ed Franks' term expires.
Little Marion McConnell was severely burned recently by walking into a fire.
The saw mill in the bottom is saving a large bill of lumber for the Marion Lumber Co.
Rev. R. T. McConnell has moved from this vicinity to Trigg county where he has been assigned to preach by conference. He is a zealous worker and his efforts will be crowned with success.

THE PARISH TYRANT.
It is not our purpose to point out just where he resides, but we are very certain he exists. Not every form of slavery has been abolished in the United States. Some of it still finds a refuge in our churches. A new anti-slavery society is needed for its abolition.
We know very well that the parish tyrant is sometimes in the pulpit. Even under the congregational system, the minister may become a pope in his own parish. Some ministers never discover the difference between leading their people and driving them. But we refer now more particularly to the laical tyrant. We have received a pathetic appeal for emancipation from one who groans under the burden of oppression.
It is hardly worth while to classify all the forms of oppression in which laical tyranny may be exerted. Whenever there is any authority to be exercised, whether it be the introduction of a new stove or a new minister, a singer or a sexton, the putting in of a pane of glass in a church window, the gilding of the ball of the steeple, the taking of a collection, the reading of a church notice, the holding of a parish party, or a picnic, or of having a Christmas tree, the will of the parish tyrant is very sure to be felt. There are none of our parish manuals that directly provide for the appointment of a "church boss." We should deprecate the introduction of the title. Still more do we deprecate the existence of the office, for the "church boss" may be easily found. He is generally self elected. As money has proved to be of great use in securing political promotion, so the parish boss is indebted to it frequently for his advancement. He rules not so much with a rod of iron as with a rod of gold. He looks at a church organization very much as he looks at a mill in which he controls a large portion of the stock. He has invested his money in this church enterprise. He has put in more than anybody else; why should he not, therefore, control its administration? We have known churches that have nearly been ruined by this selfish policy.

IRON HILL.
The eastern of the church is complete.
Harry Cook, of Weston, paid relatives here a visit last week.
Mack Hill says he is going to Congress when Ed Franks' term expires.
Little Marion McConnell was severely burned recently by walking into a fire.
The saw mill in the bottom is saving a large bill of lumber for the Marion Lumber Co.
Rev. R. T. McConnell has moved from this vicinity to Trigg county where he has been assigned to preach by conference. He is a zealous worker and his efforts will be crowned with success.

THE PARISH TYRANT.
It is not our purpose to point out just where he resides, but we are very certain he exists. Not every form of slavery has been abolished in the United States. Some of it still finds a refuge in our churches. A new anti-slavery society is needed for its abolition.
We know very well that the parish tyrant is sometimes in the pulpit. Even under the congregational system, the minister may become a pope in his own parish. Some ministers never discover the difference between leading their people and driving them. But we refer now more particularly to the laical tyrant. We have received a pathetic appeal for emancipation from one who groans under the burden of oppression.
It is hardly worth while to classify all the forms of oppression in which laical tyranny may be exerted. Whenever there is any authority to be exercised, whether it be the introduction of a new stove or a new minister, a singer or a sexton, the putting in of a pane of glass in a church window, the gilding of the ball of the steeple, the taking of a collection, the reading of a church notice, the holding of a parish party, or a picnic, or of having a Christmas tree, the will of the parish tyrant is very sure to be felt. There are none of our parish manuals that directly provide for the appointment of a "church boss." We should deprecate the introduction of the title. Still more do we deprecate the existence of the office, for the "church boss" may be easily found. He is generally self elected. As money has proved to be of great use in securing political promotion, so the parish boss is indebted to it frequently for his advancement. He rules not so much with a rod of iron as with a rod of gold. He looks at a church organization very much as he looks at a mill in which he controls a large portion of the stock. He has invested his money in this church enterprise. He has put in more than anybody else; why should he not, therefore, control its administration? We have known churches that have nearly been ruined by this selfish policy.

IRON HILL.
The eastern of the church is complete.
Harry Cook, of Weston, paid relatives here a visit last week.
Mack Hill says he is going to Congress when Ed Franks' term expires.
Little Marion McConnell was severely burned recently by walking into a fire.
The saw mill in the bottom is saving a large bill of lumber for the Marion Lumber Co.
Rev. R. T. McConnell has moved from this vicinity to Trigg county where he has been assigned to preach by conference. He is a zealous worker and his efforts will be crowned with success.

THE PARISH TYRANT.
It is not our purpose to point out just where he resides, but we are very certain he exists. Not every form of slavery has been abolished in the United States. Some of it still finds a refuge in our churches. A new anti-slavery society is needed for its abolition.
We know very well that the parish tyrant is sometimes in the pulpit. Even under the congregational system, the minister may become a pope in his own parish. Some ministers never discover the difference between leading their people and driving them. But we refer now more particularly to the laical tyrant. We have received a pathetic appeal for emancipation from one who groans under the burden of oppression.
It is hardly worth while to classify all the forms of oppression in which laical tyranny may be exerted. Whenever there is any authority to be exercised, whether it be the introduction of a new stove or a new minister, a singer or a sexton, the putting in of a pane of glass in a church window, the gilding of the ball of the steeple, the taking of a collection, the reading of a church notice, the holding of a parish party, or a picnic, or of having a Christmas tree, the will of the parish tyrant is very sure to be felt. There are none of our parish manuals that directly provide for the appointment of a "church boss." We should deprecate the introduction of the title. Still more do we deprecate the existence of the office, for the "church boss" may be easily found. He is generally self elected. As money has proved to be of great use in securing political promotion, so the parish boss is indebted to it frequently for his advancement. He rules not so much with a rod of iron as with a rod of gold. He looks at a church organization very much as he looks at a mill in which he controls a large portion of the stock. He has invested his money in this church enterprise. He has put in more than anybody else; why should he not, therefore, control its administration? We have known churches that have nearly been ruined by this selfish policy.

IRON HILL.
The eastern of the church is complete.
Harry Cook, of Weston, paid relatives here a visit last week.
Mack Hill says he is going to Congress when Ed Franks' term expires.
Little Marion McConnell was severely burned recently by walking into a fire.
The saw mill in the bottom is saving a large bill of lumber for the Marion Lumber Co.
Rev. R. T. McConnell has moved from this vicinity to Trigg county where he has been assigned to preach by conference. He is a zealous worker and his efforts will be crowned with success.

IRON HILL.
The eastern of the church is complete.
Harry Cook, of Weston, paid relatives here a visit last week.
Mack Hill says he is going to Congress when Ed Franks' term expires.
Little Marion McConnell was severely burned recently by walking into a fire.
The saw mill in the bottom is saving a large bill of lumber for the Marion Lumber Co.
Rev. R. T. McConnell has moved from this vicinity to Trigg county where he has been assigned to preach by conference. He is a zealous worker and his efforts will be crowned with success.

THE PARISH TYRANT.
It is not our purpose to point out just where he resides, but we are very certain he exists. Not every form of slavery has been abolished in the United States. Some of it still finds a refuge in our churches. A new anti-slavery society is needed for its abolition.
We know very well that the parish tyrant is sometimes in the pulpit. Even under the congregational system, the minister may become a pope in his own parish. Some ministers never discover the difference between leading their people and driving them. But we refer now more particularly to the laical tyrant. We have received a pathetic appeal for emancipation from one who groans under the burden of oppression.
It is hardly worth while to classify all the forms of oppression in which laical tyranny may be exerted. Whenever there is any authority to be exercised, whether it be the introduction of a new stove or a new minister, a singer or a sexton, the putting in of a pane of glass in a church window, the gilding of the ball of the steeple, the taking of a collection, the reading of a church notice, the holding of a parish party, or a picnic, or of having a Christmas tree, the will of the parish tyrant is very sure to be felt. There are none of our parish manuals that directly provide for the appointment of a "church boss." We should deprecate the introduction of the title. Still more do we deprecate the existence of the office, for the "church boss" may be easily found. He is generally self elected. As money has proved to be of great use in securing political promotion, so the parish boss is indebted to it frequently for his advancement. He rules not so much with a rod of iron as with a rod of gold. He looks at a church organization very much as he looks at a mill in which he controls a large portion of the stock. He has invested his money in this church enterprise. He has put in more than anybody else; why should he not, therefore, control its administration? We have known churches that have nearly been ruined by this selfish policy.

IRON HILL.
The eastern of the church is complete.
Harry Cook, of Weston, paid relatives here a visit last week.
Mack Hill says he is going to Congress when Ed Franks' term expires.
Little Marion McConnell was severely burned recently by walking into a fire.
The saw mill in the bottom is saving a large bill of lumber for the Marion Lumber Co.
Rev. R. T. McConnell has moved from this vicinity to Trigg county where he has been assigned to preach by conference. He is a zealous worker and his efforts will be crowned with success.

THE PARISH TYRANT.
It is not our purpose to point out just where he resides, but we are very certain he exists. Not every form of slavery has been abolished in the United States. Some of it still finds a refuge in our churches. A new anti-slavery society is needed for its abolition.
We know very well that the parish tyrant is sometimes in the pulpit. Even under the congregational system, the minister may become a pope in his own parish. Some ministers never discover the difference between leading their people and driving them. But we refer now more particularly to the laical tyrant. We have received a pathetic appeal for emancipation from one who groans under the burden of oppression.
It is hardly worth while to classify all the forms of oppression in which laical tyranny may be exerted. Whenever there is any authority to be exercised, whether it be the introduction of a new stove or a new minister, a singer or a sexton, the putting in of a pane of glass in a church window, the gilding of the ball of the steeple, the taking of a collection, the reading of a church notice, the holding of a parish party, or a picnic, or of having a Christmas tree, the will of the parish tyrant is very sure to be felt. There are none of our parish manuals that directly provide for the appointment of a "church boss." We should deprecate the introduction of the title. Still more do we deprecate the existence of the office, for the "church boss" may be easily found. He is generally self elected. As money has proved to be of great use in securing political promotion, so the parish boss is indebted to it frequently for his advancement. He rules not so much with a rod of iron as with a rod of gold. He looks at a church organization very much as he looks at a mill in which he controls a large portion of the stock. He has invested his money in this church enterprise. He has put in more than anybody else; why should he not, therefore, control its administration? We have known churches that have nearly been ruined by this selfish policy.

IRON HILL.
The eastern of the church is complete.
Harry Cook, of Weston, paid relatives here a visit last week.
Mack Hill says he is going to Congress when Ed Franks' term expires.
Little Marion McConnell was severely burned recently by walking into a fire.
The saw mill in the bottom is saving a large bill of lumber for the Marion Lumber Co.
Rev. R. T. McConnell has moved from this vicinity to Trigg county where he has been assigned to preach by conference. He is a zealous worker and his efforts will be crowned with success.

THE PARISH TYRANT.
It is not our purpose to point out

Sam Howerton for Congress

At a meeting of the farmers, their wives and children, the young ladies and gentlemen, and all of human kind at

Howerton's Store, Kelsey, Ky.,

they unite in the opinion that Sam Howerton is the man, (not Congress) to buy your fall and winter goods from. Every

DRY GOODS, CLOTHING, NOTIONS.

FURNISHING GOODS

WE HAVE IT.

LADIES FINE DRESS GOODS A SPECIALTY.

We keep right up with the times in every respect. Sell goods for cash strictly, and sell at HAIR SPLITTING PRICES. No lagging, dragging, or whining, but we will proceed to show you through our stock the moment you step in at the door. If you don't buy it is not our fault and no harm done. Respectfully

Sam Howerton

LOCAL BREVITIES

Buy your clothing of Sam Gugenheim.

Big stock of new clothing cheap at Sam Gugenheim's.

New dress goods at Gugenheim's.

Novelties in dry goods at Sam Gugenheim's.

Nobby clothing at unheard of prices at Sam Gugenheim's.

Buy your boots and shoes of Sam Gugenheim.

Don't fail to see my stock before buying.

Sam Gugenheim.

Flour, the best grade, at Marion Roller Mills.

A. Lamb, Manager.

County Court next Monday.

Hay's wants country bacon.

Ben Fenwick is on the sick list.

New grave yard badly needed.

Princeton fair began yesterday.

T. S. C. Elder is on the sick list.

C. J. Pierce went to Evansville Monday.

The school is running without a jar.

Wheeler meeting at Grayneville today.

Saturday was pay day for the teachers.

W. N. Davis has sold his saw mill to Allen Hurst.

Warren Moore went to Cave-in-Rock Wednesday.

Gus D. Craime, the insurance man, was in town Monday.

Edgar James spent Tuesday and Wednesday at home.

Mrs. Mary Barnes has taken charge of the Marion Hotel.

S. D. Hodge, Salem, Ky., will sell you all wool yarn 50c per lb.

Protracted meeting at the C. P. church. Services twice each day.

Mr. H. P. Long is getting up a party to go to Cincinnati by boat.

The brick masons will begin work on the new bank building this week.

Mrs. H. A. Haynes accompanied her mother to Louisville last week.

Scarlet fever is prevalent in the Jack on school house neighborhood.

Any kind or shape gentleman's hat you want at S. D. Hodge's, Salem, Ky.

Superintendent Deboe paid out $1497.05 to thirty-eight teachers Saturday.

Messrs. S. C. Haynes and R. M. Moore spent several days in Paducah last week.

Mr. S. Hodge was in Eddyville last week. He thinks of moving to that place.

A nice line of ladies and gentlemen's underwear at S. D. Hodge's, Salem, Ky.

Mr. J. E. Brawner and family returned Sunday from their visit in Meade county.

Misses Nettie and Lizzie Grassham, of Salem, returned from Louisville Monday.

W. J. Paris has transferred his Marion-Salem mail contract to Jno. B. Grisson.

Wanted, every hen-egg in Crittenden county at Hays'. Will pay cash or groceries.

John Gilliam Dead

John S. Gilliam, a young man well known throughout the county, died at his home in this place at 1:30 P. M., Wednesday, October 8, 1890. He was a young man of noble impulses, and a generous heart, and many friends will regret his death.

Princeton Presbytery.

Princeton Presbytery met Thursday Oct. 2, in this place. Thursday was spent in the examination of candidates. The committee on literature and theology, Rev. M. E. Chappell, J. E. Price and A. A. Deboe, examined candidates G. L. Woodruff, T. A. Wigginton and B. F. McMeen on the course of literature and theology assigned them. The examination was very satisfactory.

The opening sermon was preached by the Rev. M. E. Chappell on the subject of a call to the ministry and the preparation and education of young ministers.

The Presbytery was fully represented. All the churches were represented except two. All the ordained ministers were present except two. The Boards of the Church were ably represented by visiting brethren. Rev. J. H. Miller, of Evansville, represented the Board Ministerial Relief; Rev. J. S. Grider, D. D., represented the Theological School; and Rev. J. A. McDonald, of Bowling Green, represented Publication and Mission Interests. The brethren made some able speeches in behalf of their respective enterprises, which will, no doubt, stimulate the churches to a more lively zeal.

Revs. B. T. Watson and M. E. Chappell and Elders R. R. Morgan and A. H. Dudley were appointed delegates to Synod, which meets with Smith Grove congregation Oct. 14. Bro. T. A. Wigginton was ordained to the ministry. Resolutions were passed requiring the churches to report how much they pay their preachers and if they keep them paid up.

An interesting Sabbath School Institute was held on Friday evening. The ladies held a very pleasant missionary service on Saturday evening. The exercises were conducted by Mrs. Mollie Wilson. They consisted of a welcome address by Mrs. John Lamb, a response by Miss Jennie Adamson, select readings, recitations, reports, and excellent music.

The next session of Presbytery will meet with Flat Rock congregation Tuesday evening before the 1st Sunday in April, at 7:30 o'clock. The candidates will be expected to meet the committee on Literature and Theology on Monday evening.

Last week Judge Moore was after the boys who created a disturbance at Piney Creek church. The result of the investigation reads as follows:

Ira Brown for disturbing religious worship, fined $20.

John Riley, for breach of the peace, fined $5.

Jesse Guess, using profane language, fined $1.

Jesse Guess was put under a bond of $200 to answer the charge of malicious cutting. Examining trial Oct. 24th.

Will Mays, Chas. Carrick and Chas. Deboe were before his honor also, and were invited to put up $2 each for committing a breach of the peace.

At a business meeting of the members of the Baptist church Friday evening it was unanimously voted that Eld. J. S. Miller, of Livingston county, be called to the pastorate of the church. Saturday before the third Sunday was selected as the time for beginning a protracted meeting, and Eld. S. P. Foray, of Pembroke, Ky., has been called to assist in this meeting.

One Mrs. Caley was before the police court last week and was fined $100 for creating a disturbance in town. She had blacked herself and had scared some of her neighbors. While personating a colored woman she was arrested by Marshal Craig and had to go with him before his honor Judge Langley—Madisonville Hustler.

Board of Town Trustees met Tuesday morning and allowed the following claims:

H. P. Long, work on street, $11; D. Woods, fees, $9.20; R. W. McEwin, work on street, $1.50; C. W. Butler, work on street, $30; Simon Bigham, work on street, $5; A. Wilborn, jail account, $11.60.

The grocery store owned by a number of colored people has been sold to satisfy creditors. Freeman Hurley has charge now, and will continue business at the old stand. A number of the stock-holders are wondering where their investment is.

A Murder and A Mob.

On Wednesday morning of last week at Princeton, Ernest Humphreys, a colored man, shot and instantly killed Dicy Miller, a colored woman. There was no grounds for the killing. The murderer was lodged in jail, and on the night following a mob composed of about 40 men of his own race, battered down the doors of the jail, took Humphreys out, and hung him to a convenient limb.

Salt at $1 per bbl at

Clement & Croft's,

Tolu, Ky.

Go Hillyard & Woods for "C. C. C. Certain Cough Cure," it cures coughs, colds and all throat and lung diseases.

County Court Notes.

Richard T. McConnell was authorized to solemnize the rites of matrimony.

Milton Jacobs qualified as guardian for Florence Jacobs.

H. C. released as surveyor of road and Harmon Flannery appointed.

Ordered that E. W. and Jas. M. Jones and all hands on their farms be changed to S. D. Brown's road and E. W. Esley and J. P. Joyce and all hands on their farm be changed to Waldo's road.

Deeds Recorded.

E. B. Moore to John N. Boston 112 1/2 acres for $875.

F. M. Butler to Clarissa Rushing 33 1/2 acres for $501.80.

J. J. Hughes to Wm. Groves 1/2 acre for $25.

Wm. Groves to T. S. C. Elder 1/2 acre for $20.

W. D. Johnson to P. E. Shoemaker 77 acres for $400.

W. H. Koon to Trustees of graveyard, 1 acre, deed of gift.

Sam Gugenheim to J. H. Morse, lot for $65.

New Time Card.

Sunday trains on the O. V. began running on a new schedule. We now have only one passenger train each way a day. The mail going South passes Marion at 1:20 P. M., and going North at 5:36 P. M. The freight pass Marion going South at 3:50 P. M., and 1:52 A. M.; going North 12:01 A. M., and 8:01 A. M. During Princeton Fair a special passenger train will be run from Morganfield to Princeton, passing Marion at 8:47 A. M.

Rev. J. W. Bigham.

If there be an orator in the Louisville conference it is Rev. J. W. Bigham, who succeeds Rev. Bottomly at Henderson. He is tall and has a very commanding appearance and is probably a little over 40 years of age. He has not been preaching many years. He practiced law at Marion, Crittenden county for a number of years and figured conspicuously in local politics. He was well known over the State and was an elector on the Tilden and Hendricks ticket in 1876. Like many brilliant men he could not control his appetite for strong drink. For several years he was an every day drunkard, but the better man that was in him finally triumphed and he determined to change his life. He joined the church, but his surroundings at home led him astray. He again made up mind to lead a useful life and so he entered the ministry the might be free from temptation. He made a fine record as a preacher and has certainly won an enviable reputation as a pulpit orator. It has been said of him that many a time he would inhibit too freely and stagger up on a box in the street and commence making a speech on temperance. In a short time he would have an immense audience and often would be by his vivid pictures bring tears to strong men's eyes. This flow of eloquence is found in the pulpit also.

Oversboro Inquirer.

A. Woff, one of Marion's oldest and most reliable merchants, comes to the front this week with an advertisement. Read what he says. He has a big stock of goods, it is reliable, you can depend upon what he says. Call around and see him and you will not regret it.

A New Store in Town.

Freeman Hurley has opened a first class grocery store and will sell you goods to suit the times, and pay you strictly cash for Produce. Give me a trial and be satisfied. Next door to Marion hotel.

Ladies heavy winter shoes at 75c, at

Clement & Croft's,

Tolu, Ky.

SOLD OUT?

NO.

We will sell you a better coffee and more of it than any house in town. This is the kind of cheap advertising you generally see in monthly advertisements. What the people in this country want and should have is to look for prices in your weekly paper, then the man that advertises and don't sell you according should be boycotted by the people. Don't get called into a place by men making such statements. Let us have fair play; advertise your prices and sell to one and all alike for cash. Sold out, NO. Selling out, YES; to the people for cash only.

No 1 coffee, 4 lbs $1.00

Medium coffee 5 "

G. sugar, 15 "

C. sugar, 13 "

Clover seed, $5.50 per bushel

Red Top, 0.60 "

M. SCHWAB,

A BOMBSHELL

For Competitors!

BUT A BLESSING FOR THE PEOPLE.

Our prices may startle, but they NEVER VEX the careful buyer

If LOW Prices

&

GOOD Goods

Are any object to you, come and see the greatest line of

DRY GOODS, CLOTHING, HATS, BOOTS and SHOES,

And all kinds of goods, ever brought to this county. Give us a chance and

WE'LL GIVE YOU A BIG BENEFIT.

Sam Gugenheim

New Styles?

Ladies, Ladies,

I am at home again from Louisville with a complete line of Millinery Goods. After a two-weeks stay in the city, observing closely the style and buying accordingly. I am prepared to supply you with handsome, stylish bonnets, and hats as cheap as can be had anywhere. I will appreciate your patronage and I know that out of my great variety I can please you.

Lizzie Grassham
SALEM, KY.

Radam's Microbe Killer Co.,

Nashville, Tenn.

Gentlemen—I take pleasure in testifying to the remarkable benefit I have recently received from the use of Radam's Microbe Killer. I have been much troubled with chills and night sweats for months, and after trying a great many remedies to no avail, bought a jug of Microbe Killer and was completely cured in ten days.

Respectfully,

J. J. Smith,

Frankfort, Ky., March 15, 1890.

For sale by: Hillyard & Woods

And still that account of yours is unpaid. See our last warning.

Pierce & Son.

I cheerfully testify that after taking Microbe Killer for fifteen days I am entirely cured, after being sick two years with malaria fever, and during which time I contracted other diseases, flux etc. I was attended during this time by three of the best doctors at the city without being benefited.

Wm. Doherty,

10 Celeste St. New Orleans, Feb 27, 1888.

For sale by: Hillyard & Woods

For Rent or Trade

A handsome parlor organ, will sell at a bargain, or trade for a good horse.

Call on,

H. K. Woods.

NOTICE.

My deputies are now out for the purpose of collecting the taxes due me. Those who failed to meet them at the places heretofore appointed must pay or we will levy without further delay.

A. J. Pickens, S. C. C.

For Rent or Sale.

The grist and saw mill at Tolu, Ky. all in good running order.

Will rent reasonable or will sell low and on easy terms.

Can give possession Oct. 8th 1890.

For further information, call on or address: Henry L. Doherty

Elizabethtown, Ill.

If you want meal, flour and bran call. I have it in every grade at the bottom prices.

A. Lamb, Manager.

MARION ROLLER MILLS,

MARION, KY.

ALBERT LAMB, Manager.
FLOUR, MEAL and BRAN

of all grades kept constantly on hand, and sold at rock bottom prices. Goods guaranteed to be just as represented.

Sells and Buys Wheat and Corn.

Will treat you right. Your patronage solicited.

MRS. F. W. LOVING,

Milliner and Dressmaker,
MARION, KY.

Has just received the largest, finest, and complete stock

Hats and Trimmings

OF ALL THE LATE STYLES.

Plushes, Velvets, and Silks for dresses and hats. My business is to supply the wants of the ladies in this millinery line, and I have every article you need, and taste, quality of goods and prices were all considered in my purchases.

DRESS MAKING

And fitting a specialty. The ladies are cordially invited to call and see my goods. I have what you want and will sell it to you very cheap. Don't buy elsewhere until you call.

MRS. F. W. LOVING,

New brick, 1 door West of Walker & Olive's.

L. S. LEFFLE, H. FRAY

L. S. LEFFLE & CO

MACHINISTS AND MANUFACTURERS AGENTS for the Best Threshers and Engines on Earth, the RUSSEL

Now is the time for clubs to organize and buy their threshing rigs for this season. We will pay special attention to

CASH ORDERS.

Call when in town and get catalogues and other valuable information. In pumps we can suit you both in style and price Office with Crider & Crider.

DR. ELLIOTT'S
MEDICATED FOOD,

A Sure Cure for all Diseases in

HORSES,

Cattle, Sheep and Hogs

Arising from Impurities of the Blood, and from Functional Derangements.

A DEAD SHOT ON WORMS, AND A CERTAIN

PREVENTION OF HOG CHOLERA.

