THE NOMINATING SPEECH.

Ruben A. Miller's Speech Putting Brown Before the Louisville Convention.

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention:

The county of Davies, with her nineteen delegate votes, her almost matchless political record, and her unflinching devotion to that party which is today, as it has ever been, the hope of the Republic, desires to be heard in the council chamber of the Kentucky Democracy, and to place in nomination before this convention for the high office of Governor, one of the most gallant Democrats within the Commonwealth that he honors and which honors him.

He is a man who has met the enemies of his party in stern, honorable and victorious battle since the days of his boyhood, and he is one whose political success and accomplishments in statecraft are familiar to all men these twenty five or thirty years ago. At an unusually early period of his life and even before the law of the land could give its sanction, the partiality of his countrymen had thrown around him the toga virilis of the statesman which in the same act was denied to age and experience, arrayed in determined but glorious competition; and since that time passing years have only served to ripen the genius and bring to the aid of his youth.

His public life is known of all men. It is part of the history of his country, while his private life and personal character, adorned with all the graces of good citizenship, are pledge and guaranty of the fidelity with which he would guard the trust committed to his keeping.

Although distinguished by that retiring modesty that ever marks true worth and contents the meritorious in private station, he is in truth as he is everywhere recognized to be one of the ablest living doctrinaires of the Democratic faith.

A student of conditions as well as of theories, of a broad and liberal culture, embracing alike the excellence of polite learning and the saddest lessons of philosophy, with the highest sense of public duty, and with an intelligent and generous sympathy with the wants of the people with whom he is identified, there is no one better fitted to assume the high functions of the executive office or who would bring to the discharge of its duties a warmer or more generous patriotism.

To illustrate the character of him whose honored name I shall propose to this convention, it may not be improper to remember that in a more disturbed period of our history than this, he stood in the nation's Capitol before the Representatives of the freest and grandest people on earth, and in that high presence, with a blade keen as the sword of Saladin, he pierced the tough hide of the Beast, tore the mask from his face, and said in burning words that rang from sea to sea: "If I were called upon to characterize all that is inhuman in war, pusillanimous in peace and infamous in politics I should call it Butlerism."

And what called to the bar of the House by a hostile and imperious majority, which demanded that he should withdraw the language used, this Tribune of the people, instead of cringing like a whipped spaniel at their feet, answered with the superb courage of a Bayard, "I will stand by the record."

Need I say to an assemblage of Kentucky Democrats or would it be necessary to say to an American audience, no matter where assembled, that I refer to that gifted Kentuckian and eminent statesman, the Hon John Young Brown, of the city of Henderson.

His neighbors and friends have brought him to this convention with hope in their hearts and prophecy on their lips, but let me say for a loyal Democracy as lives in any section of the State, that while they feel that they have brought good gifts to the altar, they have come with that proud and almost feudal submission to the will of the majority that they have shown always in the past.

It is important to select and commission a leader in the coming campaign of tried ability, with a profound knowledge of all public and economic questions, and whose heroic and historic past shall give the world assurance of a man, then place your approval upon his candidacy this day.

I shall not mention his distinguished services to the party in Kentucky. You know them and know whether they were valuable.

I do not even refer to the numerous and effective canvasses he has since.

made. These are matters of party record, and besides, 'twere long to tell the story. It is but the truth of history, however, to say that at the call of his party, which to him is the call of his country, his voice has been heard in every contest; and with the wasteful prodigality of genius, he has poured out his wondrous eloquence upon every hilltop and in every valley or the State he loves so well and in whose kindly and fecund womb he sprang.

With a mind stored with the fruitage of a studious and laborious life, with a heart on fire with love of country, and with lips stung, as it were, with Attila bees, this man has stood for more than a quarter of a century the invincible champion of that party that gave civil liberty to the world and secured its perpetuity in our Republican institutions.

Make him the nominee of this convention, enrich him with your confidence in the supreme hour, cast upon him the sword of your knight-hood, and your action, satisfying as it must the judgment of every thoughtful person in Kentucky who professes the faith of Jefferson and of Jackson, will yield and abundant harvest of good results not only to the Democracy of the State, but to the whole people.

Mr. Chairman, I nominate John Young Brown for the office of Governor.

THE PLATFORM.

Democratic Convention.

The following resolutions were adopted by the Convention:

"We insist that tariff reform is the paramount question before the American people and denounce the McKinley bill as the most outrageous measure of taxation ever passed in the American Congress. It has increased the burdens, already too great, upon the necessities of life, and reduced taxes on luxuries that are most able to bear them. It has made existence harder for every farmer and wage earner in the land, in order that the profits of the monopolies and trusts may be increased. It robs the many to enrich the few, and does not open a market for a single bushel of wheat or a single pound of cotton. It is a violation of the policy of Grover Cleveland and John G. Carlisle would discourage unnecessary expenditure, provide all needed revenue, cheapen what we buy and open the markets of the world to the products of our farms and factories. Recognizing the fact that the United States is the greatest silver producing country in the world, and that the gold and silver were equally the money of the constitution from the beginning of the Republic until the hostile and fraudulent legislation of the Republican party against silver, which unduly contracted the circulating medium of the country, and feeling that the great interests of the people demand more money for use in the channels of trade and commerce, we tender our gratitude to the Democrats in the last Congress for their almost unanimous votes in both houses in favor of the free coinage of silver and demands its restoration to the position of equality before the law given to it by our fathers."

THE O. V. ROAD AGAIN.

The Courier-Journal of Monday last thus speaks of the Ohio Valley railroad, and the proposed change to the N. N. & M. V. Co.:

"On the 21st of June the Newport News and Mississippi Valley railroad will hold its annual meeting at Memphis, and at that time the Ohio Valley Railroad Company will go out of existence and the tracks, franchises, etc., of the road will become the property of the Newport News and Mississippi Valley people. This, then, will be made a connecting link of this corporation with the Northwest via Evansville. Mr. Huntington was there a few weeks ago, and looked over the situation pretty thoroughly. He visited the transfer of the Ohio Valley railway above Evansville, and found it would be inadequate to the demands of the traffic destined for Evansville and elsewhere in the Northwest, and decided that a great bridge would be the only way to meet the issue. It would not pay to give up tolls over the Henderson bridge, for the great traffic expected to ensue with the new road, and hence was a new reason for building a bridge."

We are sorry to learn from the Frankfort Capital that its editor Col. J. P. Johnson twisted his ankle last week and sprained his ankle so seriously as to confine him to his room. He was hurt during the war, when his horse was killed in battle and fell on him, injuring the ankle, which has never been strong since.

THE THIRD PARTY.

A Platform Promulgated and a National Committee Appointed.

Cincinnati, O., May 21.—The much talked of and liberally advertised convention of the various organizations has met, done its work and adjourned. About 1300 delegates were in attendance from a number of States, Kansas having the largest delegation and Ohio next. There was some opposition to launching a "third party" at this time. President Polk wrote a letter advising a postponement, and his admonitions were disregarded, the city organizations opposing Polk's views.

U. S. Senator Pfeiffer, of Kansas, was made permanent chairman of the convention, and the various committees were appointed. A platform was adopted and it demands the Subtreasury scheme, free silver coinage, equal taxation, revenue limited to Government requirements, an income tax, election of the President by a popular vote, prohibition of alien ownership of land, favorable consideration of universal suffrage, hard money pension payment and eight hours for a day's work.

The platform was a compromise. There were three Presidential candidates in the convention and all the questions of general issue revolved around them. The three big guns were Ignatius Donnelly, of Minnesota, James B. Weaver, of Iowa, and Ives Weaver, of New York, and Streeter had two or three of his committee on it. Donnelly was supposed to represent the Farmer-Alliance party. Weaver was a special advocate of the old Greenback universal Kikerelement, while Streeter was supposed to be the peculiar representative of the Knights of Labor and the working delegate crowd—that is to say, the city man against the country man.

Each of these three big guns came here with a platform cocked and primed. Donnelly and Weaver were both intellectual men, while Streeter was not. Donnelly and Weaver went on the committee with the evident intention of fighting it out, but Mr. Streeter, being a schemer rather than an intellectual, kept away from the committee personally but put his men on there to carry out his ideas.

The fact that the tariff was not mentioned in the platform shows that Streeter got in his work. Weaver and Donnelly are both tariff reformers, if not absolute free traders, and if they had had their way without question, the chances are that there would be a ringing denunciation of the tariff from the platform. But Streeter is supposed to be a protectionist himself or is in the employ of the tariff barons for the time being, nobody seems to know, but at any rate he served the tariff barons to the extent of preventing a good, flat footed declaration against the tariff shewery. To this extent he won the victory over both his opponents.

It is admitted that the platform is in a manner a concession to all the issues except prohibition. It is understood that the vote in committee was 11 to 10 against embracing prohibition in the People's party demands. Subsequently an effort was made to inject prohibition in the convention but it failed. A prohibition amendment to the platform was voted down by an overwhelming vote.

Before the close of the convention the hat was passed around for funds to pay expenses, and about $3 was thus collected. At this juncture a negro delegate from South Carolina made a speech in which he said he was poor and patriotic, that the reason why there were not more negroes present was because they could not get free passes from the railroads, and the country roads, at this season of the year were rather bad to travel. He threw out a few gentle hints upon the propriety of passing the hat to pay his expenses here and back, and the hat was passed.

All in all the convention was an enthusiastic and pretty good sized affair, and among the chief participants were many of the old Greenback folks.

Spurious Coffee.

San Francisco Chronicle.

The British ship Lucipara arrived at this port some weeks ago from Antwerp with a cargo of general merchandise on board. This cargo she has been gradually discharging at Howard street wharf. There appeared on the manifest in the long list of items consigned to A. Carpen of this city one case of "colonial produce," but about it there was apparently nothing out of the way. The marks on the case showed that it was to be delivered on presentation of the order. The order came from E. L. Labadie, of Oakland, and a few days ago a man went on board the Lucipara, produced the proper shipping receipt, and proceeded to load the case on his truck.

In moving the case it was slightly broken in on one side, and the "colonial produce" was spilled in a heap at the ship. Capt. Harder and one or two others who were present picked up some of the stuff and at once pronounced it roasted coffee beans. On closer examination, however, it was shown that the beans were not coffee. They were artificial, shaped round on one side, flat on the other, and sealed just like a coffee bean. The first thing noticed was that they have absolutely no odor. On breaking them they are found to have a cement like appearance and no taste and yet ninety nine in a hundred persons would at once pronounce it coffee.

They were shown to a coffee merchant in this city, who examined them and stated that they were artificial beans for the adulteration of coffee, and probably of German make. He said he had seen such beans here once before some years ago. They had been sent out to the trade by a Trenton, N. J. firm which made no pretense as to what they were intended for. Mixed in with coffee beans it would take an expert to detect the difference. They are harmless, do not affect the taste, and are simply intended to adulterate the coffee with, as this bean is cheaper than coffee, the case was ostensibly for the Oakland shipper. A little inquiry revealed who the shipper was, and suggested very forcibly why the deception should be practiced. E. L. Labadie & Co., of Oakland, are large dealers in and manufacturers of coffee, spices, chocolate, etc., and as the stuff was shipped to this firm, the whole matter is explained.

A WESTERN CYCLONE.

A Terrible Storm Passes Over Missouri.

swept through Adams county early this morning, devastating a section twelve miles long and a mile wide. A dozen persons were killed and over a hundred injured. The devastated district is twelve miles Northeast of this city. The number of wrecked dwellings has not yet been ascertained, but over fifty have been reported. In many cases the destruction has been complete, and in many cases the unfortunate victims lose homes, crops and all. All the physicians are out attending the injured, and calls for assistance have been sent to surrounding towns.

One of the first victims in the line of the storm was that of W. T. Morris. The entire family of seven were badly injured and buried in the ruins of the house. At E. B. Norris seven persons were injured, two of them fatally. At the farm house of Wm Y. Stumey, not a board was left standing. Mr. Yostmeyer was killed and his wife and three children were dangerously injured. Gus Kunkel was blown against a wagon and killed. The names of the dead, as far as obtained, are John Crane, Wm. Rogers, B. C. Renn, Emily Seal, Gertie Fletcher and William Yostmeyer.

ANOTHER PLACE HEARD FROM.

Marshallville, Mo., May 20.—The news reached here of a cyclone in the vicinity of Centralia, on the Chicago and Alton railroad, at 8 o'clock this afternoon. A farm house was destroyed and much damage done. Further particulars could not be learned tonight. The wires are all down in that locality.

The Courier-Journal's Washington correspondent says: In spite of Commissioner Raum's defiant assertion that he does not intend to resign, and his insinuation that efforts are being made to have him removed, and that the newspapers in the opposition party are trumping up things to prejudice him, many Republicans admit that the administration will be compelled to unload Lemmon's pal as soon as a successor to the thrifty Raum can be found. Some of the Commissioner's personal friends have to blush for him, and that story that has been cooked up to shield the younger Raum is considered here as one of the thinnest that has ever been constructed. The Commissioner appears to be right in only one thing, and that is, that the papers are after him in the liveliest sort of fashion, and they will keep it up. The Democratic papers are not alone, either in showing up the crookedness at the Pension Office. The New York Tribune, the bitterest kind of a Republican journal, has been exposing Raum; and now the Pittsburgh Dispatch is also demanding Raum's scalp.

OUT OF REACH.

The Runaway Itata Said to Have Escaped the Charleston.

City of Mexico, May 19.—Dispatches received here from the Pacific coast seem to indicate that the Itata is already far out of reach of the U. S. ship Charleston. From these dispatches it also appears that the Itata passed outside of Acapulco at noon on Friday last and that the Charleston reached the port on Saturday. The Emeralds is still at Acapulco, awaiting coal, which is said to have been ordered from the United States. It is believed that the Itata received all the Emeralds coal and that during the voyage she will receive more, which has been sent her from Chile.

The Emeralds officers finished buying provisions last night and that it is believed at Acapulco that the Emeralds secretly loaded coal and was to receive more this morning outside the harbor.

Washington, May 19.—Not one word of news of the Charleston or Itata was received at the Navy Department today. A cablegram in cipher came from Admiral Brown, aboard the San Francisco, at Iquique, Chile, which gave employment to the translators for some time, but Secretary Tracy declined to say anything about it.

could seize the insurgent steamer Itata in Chilean waters, although he declined to say whether or not he would do so, in case the Itata is not captured until she gets into those waters. The movements of the Charleston are under the direct command of Commodore McCann, now in the Baltimore. He has large discretionary powers regarding the future course of the Charleston, and on him would probably devolve a determination as to whether or not the Itata should be seized in her own waters. The Navy Department does not expect any news from the Charleston before she reaches Panama, which is about four days sail from Acapulco, where the vessel sailed on Monday last.

VENTION.

The State Convention of the Republican party of Kentucky, which assembled at Lexington last week was rather a stormy one, the Bradley and anti-Bradley factions mixing with about the same harmonious degree as oil and water. Mr. Bradley held the convention well in hand, however, from the start, and his man for Governor went through with a rush and with a large number of votes to spare. The following nominations were made:

For Governor—A. T. Wood, of Montgomery.

For Lieutenant Governor—Henry Houston, of McCracken.

For Attorney General—L. J. Crawford, of Campbell.

For Auditor—Chas. Blandford, of Breckinridge.

For Treasurer—Eli Farmer, of Pulaski.

For Supt. Public Instruction—L. V. Dodge, of Madison.

For Register of the Land Office—W. J. A. Rardin, of Greenup.

For Clerk of the Court of Appeals—E. R. Blaine, of Fayette.

It will be observed that the mountain counties are well taken care of on this ticket, which is but just and proper, as a majority of its votes will come from that section. The claims of the colored brother were entirely ignored in the make-up of the ticket.

The platform adopted by the convention is as follows:

"The Republicans of Kentucky in convention assembled, declare their adherence to the principles of the Republican party as enunciated in the platform of the National Convention of 1888; they heartily endorse the administration of President Harrison as pure, wise and patriotic; they approve the action of the Fifty first Congress and especially on what are known as the Silver, Tariff and Pension bills, and are opposed to the free and unrestricted coinage of silver; that it is the highest duty of a political party to have and to declare its convictions on all matters of political importance, and especially where the questions involve the very form and system of our State Government, and they now declare that they recommend the adoption of the New Constitution, because it abolishes our laws all provisions that authorize human slavery, secures a secret ballot, and provides against fraud and corruption in elections, subjects to regulation by law all public corporations, prohibits the abuses of special legislation, abolishes lotteries, enlarges and protects the common school fund, increases the opportunities of popular education, makes more equal the burdens of taxation, better protects the interests of agriculture and labor, and makes provision for its own ready amendment by the people.

"Finally, the Republican party appeals to the people of Kentucky to condemn the reckless, dishonest and extravagant administration of State affairs by the Democratic party and they ask the intelligent and patriotic members of that party to join in giving relief from the grievous burdens that oppress the citizens of the Commonwealth."

SUICIDE IN MEMPHIS.

Memphis, Tenn., May 21.—The Hill Shoe Company, of Memphis, made an assignment this afternoon for the benefit of its creditors.

Under this evening the dead body of Wm. V. Hill, manager of the firm, and one of the principal owners, was found in the bath room at his residence. A bullet from a Winchester rifle had passed through his heart.

The tragedy is supposed to have occurred about 5 o'clock, and three hours before the deed of assignment was filed for record. The day being a State holiday and the Register's office closed in consequence, the fact of the failure was not generally known in business circles until after the news of the tragedy spread.

He was not more than thirty-two years of age when he died.

He was a well known statesman, "I shall never believe that woman has the proper judgment and politics, while she is so weak minded as to passively suffer, year after year from diseases peculiar to females, when every newspaper she picks up tells of the merits of Dr. Pierce's favorite Prescription. No to take advantage of this remedy is certainly an indication of woman's mental imbecility."

There is a wholesome kernel of truth in the rough shell of this ungallant speech. (The Favorite Prescription is invaluable in all its uterine troubles, inflammations, ulcerations, displacements, nervous disorders, prostration, exhaustion or hysteria. For run down, worn out women, no more strengthening tonic or nerve is known.)

Arrest of J. T. Borders.

Paducah, Ky., May 19.—J. T. Borders was held in the city court here today to answer for passing counterfeit money and bigamy. He showed a "queer" dollar on a carman and attempted to get away but was arrested. In proving his character to be light that he had been living in Callaway county for several years as L. T. Loeper, and had married a Miss Kate Adams, by whom he has several children. As he was known here by the name given, and to have been married in Ballard county a number of years to Miss Mary Houser, whom he afterwards deserted without known cause, a warrant for bigamy followed. He is in jail in default of bail.

Mr. Wm. Westlake, a prominent farmer and breeder of thoroughbred horses, living near Aves, Neb., was so badly injured by being thrown from his suika, as to be unable to raise his head to his head. After suffering numerous moments and consulting several physicians without getting any relief, he asked me if I knew of anything that would help him. I recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which he used, and within two weeks he had entirely recovered the use of his arm. I have recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm, the greatest preparation ever produced for sprains, bruises, de-punctured muscles, pains, burns, etc.—J. J. The Republican State Convention endorses the new constitution, which was made by the Democrats. Now if the R. S. C. had continued its good work and endorsed the platform of the Democratic State Convention, it would have done the square thing.

If the Democrats in Livingston county will do their duty as faithfully in August as the Democracy in Crittenden will, Jim Summers, the Democratic Wheeler, will go to Frankfort smiling, with a bigger majority than any other man ever carried up from this district.

Congressman Houk, of Tennessee, died Monday from a dose of poison accidentally administered. While in a drug store he asked for a glass of ice water, and the clerk placed it on the counter near another glass containing arsenic. By mistake Houk swallowed the latter.

In this neck of the woods the new constitution is gaining ground, and by August the opposition will be practically gone. Really there has been no serious objection, a great many voters would not express themselves before reading the document, and as the reading goes on the declarations in favor of it grow in number.

Mr. P. C. Stephens goes into the Senatorial fight at some disadvantage, Webster county having already held a primary and nominated Mr. Rudy. Webster ought to have affiliated with the other two counties in the district in the selection of a nominee. It would have been more after the proper way of doing business if the primaries would have been held in each of the three counties on the same day.

John Young Brown was treated to an ovation at his home in Henderson Friday night. All hands turned out to do honor to an honest, conscientious, brilliant man, who won the nomination without trade or intrigue, and who will make a manly, vigorous campaign for Governor; there is no able exponent of Democracy in the country, and no man with cleaner hands.

In the convention at Cincinnati last week Kansas had 411 delegates, more than double all the delegates from all the Southern States combined. The people of the South are still Democrats. They know what's in the Democratic platform, and what is in the leading men of the party. Kansas people do not, hence they want a new party.

When the Force Bill, the McKinley Bill, and anti-Silver resolutions are endorsed along with the new constitution, the latter is in mighty bad company; but it is not responsible, and with all the respectability it has it can in no wise leave its ungilded company. Neither is it broad, deep, nor wise. It is a pleasant draught when taken straight, and no Democrat in the State will take it otherwise, and no independent will be so anxious for it that he will take the Republican compound to get it. No, we'll take ours straight.

Says the Courier-Journal: A meeting of the stockholders of the Chesapeake, Ohio and Southwestern will be held in Memphis, Tenn., June 2, to consider and act on the proposed purchase of shares of stock in the Ohio Valley Railroad Company and the guarantee of the payment of the subsequent to January 1, 1891, of the general consolidated and first mortgage 5 per cent fifty year gold bonds of the Ohio Valley Railroad Company, not exceeding $2,102,000 in amount, and approval of the proposed agreement between the Western Contract Company and the Chesapeake, Ohio and Southwestern Company as to those matters, and the operation or lease of the Ohio Valley Railroad. It will be pushed further South at once.

Costly Property.

A number of the daddies of the new third party called on Senator Carlisle at his home in Covington last week to get his opinion of their platform. Government ownership of railroads and telegraphs were under discussion when Kentucky's great Senator turned questioner:

"Do you propose to get possession of those properties by confiscation?" he asked them.

"No, that wouldn't be fair," they admitted.

"Then you must buy them," was the reply. "And to buy them you must pay for them, and to pay for them you must tax yourselves. Have you any idea how much it would cost? Our Government debt at the close of the war was more than $200,000,000, and we have been almost thirty years in paying half of it. The railroads, telegraphs, telephone lines, and steamboats in the country represent about $10,000,000,000 invested capital. Four thousand million is bonded indebtedness, which must be paid. Are you ready to tax yourselves to raise the money? Then after you have got the property, are you ready to tax yourselves to operate it, for the Government never yet succeeded in doing business at a profit."

"Consider another effect. Such a plan would add perhaps 12,000,000 men and women to the roll of Government employees. How would you ever succeed in turning out of power an administration with such resources at its command? The more corrupt it was the more difficult it would be to displace it."

Last Monday evening, when the blushing rays of the sun were hid behind the earth, and all darkness prevailed, the time evil doers, begin their hellish work, a negro by the name of Jim Jennings tried to commit rape on a Miss Buel, of near Providence. We learn that there was no encouragement whatever on the part of the poor girl to occasion the attempt. Miss Buel is a young white girl just blooming into womanhood—a young woman true, virtuous and modest. Jennings is a young negro man, perhaps twenty-one years old, given to quarreling, fusing and fighting. He has several times had differences with boys of his own race. Jennings fled, and is pursued by several white men, who will handle him roughly if captured.

Elder W R Gibbs and wife are in our midst, it being his regular time to preach at this place. Dr J S Henry occupied the pulpit Sunday night. He speaks highly of his trip to Birmingham.

When will attorney T J Nann tell us about the new constitution? The time will soon come to vote on it. To let the people be ready.

Ed Bon D Clark, of the Primitive Baptist persuasion, preached here Wednesday night, the 20th.

Two men appeared on the streets with a bear, the hat was pined off around, and after the cash was collected, the fun began in earnest; to say the least of it the bear was exhibited for all that was on the outside. In the heat of the fun quite a number of horses became frightened, the owners of the horse saying loudly to take the bear away. Turks that exclaim "Allah!" at the sight of the bear.

Our farming interests are moving on and on, and every body seems to be in good shape.

Sam Pettigrew, a good farmer, (and by the way got married early in the spring) was in town today. Some one says, How are you getting along with your crop, Sam? Sam says, All O K; I am independent; I have my choice, I can work or severely let it alone and starve. Sam touched the keynote for us all.

J L Cardwell's mother, and his brother Frank and family were here Saturday and Sunday, returning to their home near Madisonville to lay. J L Cardwell and Miss Cardwell.

Geo S Cardwell, the Cincinnati shoe man, called last week; Mr Middleton, of Louisville, was on the market Friday; Dan Browning, the Evansville office man, was here Saturday.

Messrs Powell & Cuddy were registered at the "Brown" House last week.

Miss Mary Hubbard, of Water Valley, Graves county, formerly of his place, is here visiting her mother.

Levins.

While outing last week a beautiful bouquet and a nice lot of strawberries were left in the office for us. Thanks ladies.

J B Stephenson and family, of Hurricane, visited relatives here Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Jennie Johnson was carried to her home near Crittenden Springs Tuesday. She is recovering from the injuries she sustained some time ago as rapidly as could be expected.

Wallace Stephens and Miss Willie Fowler of Lola are the guests of H. B Stevens and family this week.

A large crowd attended the birthday anniversary at Mr Zion Sunday.

Glenn Threlkeld wears an unusually broad smile now; it's a new boy at his house.

The ladies mission society met at Mrs W J LaRue's Saturday, to see their quilt together. They will meet again next Saturday at Mrs Jane Carter's. Any one desiring to purchase a handsome silk quilt, and at the same time contribute to the cause of missions, it will be ready for exhibition soon. They have recently made and sold a handsome worsted quilt, which will be appropriated to missions, etc.

Nice, fresh summer goods at Price & Co's.

Miss Birdie Love, of Brinsville, a visiting relative and friend in this section.

Tobacco season Wednesday. Get your fruit cans, stoneware, etc of Price & Co.

Lola.

Dr J F Clemens is making flying visits to Ill; it is supposed that the magnetism of some widow is attracting the doctor.

The rain improved the looks of wheat and other crops.

Mr Summers, the Democrat nominee, will be acceptable to the F M B A and Wheelers and will receive the full Democratic vote in this section.

All who heard Judge Nann speak were converted to the new constitution. When explained to the people I think it will be adopted; all should read it carefully.

We paid Salom a visit Saturday and was happy to meet and form the acquaintance of the urbane editor of the Press.

W L Kennedy has about completed the upper story of his new store. All indebted to Paris & Foley on old account will please settle up. [There was a large crowd disappointed at New Union church, as there was to be a baptism and foot washing; the pastor failed to put in an appearance on account of sickness.

Freedom Church.

A certain Marion widower is paying rather marked attention to a widow of this section.

J hu Brown has been called to the pastorate of Freedom church. He preached here on the 2d Sunday.

Willie Fritts has in about forty acres of corn on his father's and grandmother's farms. Willie is a hustler and a good boy.

Wheat in this section looks well. A large acreage of corn has been planted.

John H Homan and Nemo dog out and murdered a ground hog on the Chandler farm Sunday week. Neither of them knew what it was, and they supposed they had cornered the devil.

To Charley Gray, Telo: Many thanks my venerable and venerated friend for your kindly welcome to old Crittenden. No, I didn't visit any of the Apache lodges in Arizona nor attempt to inveigle any of the fair Indian maidens to trip the soap dance with me "by the soft, silvery light of the moon," consequently, I am not a gray and grizzled old fellow.

Sunday Mrs R and myself, and Uncle Jimmy Brown, whose guests we were until Sunday evening, when by special invitation we became the guests of Bob Fritts and family until Monday morning. It is needless to say we were treated handsomely at a bth place. We attended church Sunday, met many of our old neighbors, and had to re-use a number of pressing invitations to accompany them home.

The special attraction, however, which drew me to Freedom on the afternoon of the second Sunday, was to listen to a sermon from Rev J. J. Evansville. I am not yet quite sanctified myself, but I like to gaze, "reverently and with awe," on those who are; for the being who lives in this wicked world and can do no sin, either in thought, word or action, is indeed to me "a thing of beauty and a joy forever," a rara avis, a khorinoor of ineffable glory. There was a good sermon, and I met some old friends. Conger held his end of the string pretty straight and delivered a far better discourse than I expected to hear.

NEWS NOTES.

Circuit court commences Monday with a total of 241 cases on the docket divided as follows: Commonwealth 70; common law 17; continued equity 98; appearances 90; there are four felony cases from examining courts.

Last Sunday morning Moses Raris was handling a pistol, when the "blasted thing went off," and the ball struck his leg near the knee and wandered around the bone somewhere, and stopped. The wound is painful but not dangerous.

Judge R. A. Duwell and daughter Miss Lide, of Wellsford, Kansas, are visiting with their friends in this county. The Judge is hale and hearty and apparently no older than when he left Crittenden. His love for Kansas continues to grow and he has about given up the idea of ever making his home in Kentucky again.

Mr J. M. Jean, of Robinson, Ill., the senior member of the firm of J. M. Jean & Sons, the produce buyers, was in Marion last week. He was well pleased with the place and its surroundings, and thinks something of erecting here a house, with all the appliances necessary for dressing and shipping poultry. This firm has branch houses at several places, and is doing a large business.

Last Saturday the Drs Clark, of this place, and Drs Hayden & Threlkeld removed a large scirrhous cancer from the breast of Mrs T. J. Babb of Livingston county. The operation was performed at the residence of Dr J. R. Clark, of this place, where the patient still is. She is resting easy and is getting along as well as could be expected under such trying circumstances.

We announce Mr Peter C. Stephens, of this county, a candidate for State Senator. To the people of his own county Mr Stephens needs no introduction. Born and raised in our midst, his prominence and good standing as a citizen is familiar to all. He is an industrious and successful farmer, a man of intelligence and a man that would appreciate the honor of the office to which he aspires, and a man that stands firm for what he conceives to be right and duty.

The Princeton District Conference held its session at Canton, Ky, May 19-22. Rev. D. S. Campbell presided. The session was a delightful one. Preachers and people seemed to enjoy the occasion. The following were elected delegates to the ensuing Annual Conference: R. N. Walker, R. W. Wood, Jas. Richardson, and F. P. Cobb. Shady Grove was selected as the place for the next meeting.

The trial of two colored men, by a colored jury, with colored witnesses, occurred in Marion Saturday. Robert Clement and Walker Merriweather were before the court charged with a breach of the peace. Judge Moore directed the sheriff to summon a colored jury, to try the case. D. M. Boyd, M. W. Thurman, Glasgow Lee, Sam Cruce, R. C. Waddell and Simon Bigham were empaneled, and after hearing the evidence and argument of County Attorney Blue and attorney Moore, the jury retired and after consultation brought in a verdict of guilty and fined each $5.

On motion of A. L. Cruce, sheriff, John W. Delaney was appointed and qualified as deputy sheriff.

AT SALEM AND ON THE ROAD.

Ye editor accompanied Judge T. J. Nunn to Salem Saturday, where the latter addressed a large crowd, setting forth the advantages of the new constitution. The Judge makes a strong appeal for the new document, being thoroughly conversant with every section he leaves no point untouched, and no attentive listener can fail to comprehend the difference between the old and the new. His audience Saturday gave him careful attention for two hours and twenty minutes, and we believe it would be safe to say that every voter who heard him went away for the new constitution. At the close of his speech the Judge asked those who were against him, or those who had objections to state them. Mr A. J. Fleming asked a few pointed questions; they were answered satisfactorily, and Mr Fleming announced that he was almost converted.

On the Salem and Marion road there are some fine wheat crops; Mr E. H. Taylor leads and J. B. Carter is a good second. There are some good strawberry crops too. Drs Hayden and Threlkeld, Judge Nunn and the writer can tell something of the beauties of the latter crop as grown by Tom Lowery.

There is one "buggy place" on the road and that is the J. P. Moore hill. A man would have no trouble in getting a "pocket full of rocks" along the side of that hill.

The volume of business done at Salem has increased of late years, and is still growing; there are some A 1 business men there, and the town is on a progressive grade. The Paces is under obligations to the business men for substantial favors in the way of patronage.

There are several ex-Crittenden people in Salem; S. D. Hodge is one of them and is succeeding as a merchant there. J. M. McChesney and A. E. Brown are two more, and they are booming in the mill business, and then there is Jim Rutter, who once sold goods and played marbles with the boys in Marion; he is a recent acquisition to Salem and well pleased there, too, is Henry Woolridge, who is making money and has the reputation of being the best driver of masculine bovines in the county. Harlow McChesney is a Crittenden boy, and is merchandising there. The original Salem merchants are Felix Cox, and he came to Crittenden to get a wife; Jake Farris is one of the old reliable, and he, too, married a Crittenden girl. Thomas Evans, as industrious man as can be found, captured the heart and hand of a Crittenden girl. The Salem boys all have an eye for the beautiful and good. Jesse Gray and J. D. Farris are building up a good trade, and Dr Shelby has a drug store and a good practice, and so has Drs Hayden & Threlkeld. To write of all the good things Salem has would take more time than is necessary to make a constitution for the State.

Sam Clark was mixing with the people and was as merry as if he had had the 9 extra votes instead of Summers. "Tell my friends in Crittenden," he said, "if Summers is the nominee, and it looks that way, to roll him up a big vote."

If "C. C. C. Certain Cough Cure" is not the best remedy you have ever used for coughs and colds your money will be refunded. Sold by Hilliard & Woods.

Bigham, Kuttawa, Fredonia, and Liberty Lodges F. A. A. M. will celebrate St John's day—June 24—at Fredonia. Arrangements are being made for a great time. Prominent speakers will address the people, and all other things that go to make such occasions pleasant and profitable will not be wanting.

Declines to Run.

Ed. Paces: Some weeks ago a number of my friends and neighbors called upon me, through your columns, to become a candidate for jailer. On account of business matters I have been unable to reply to the flattering call, and now desire to assure the persons who signed the request as well as other friends that I appreciate their kindness and their confidence shall always pleasantly and gratefully remember them, but my business affairs are such that I can not in justice to myself, make the race.

Respectfully, J. S. Heath.

SUMMERS WINS.

His Majority in Livingston Larger than Clark's in Crittenden.

The result of the Democratic primary to nominate a candidate for the Legislature was in doubt up to last Saturday. The closeness of the vote making it doubtful until every precinct in the two counties was of officially counted. The result is as follows:

	Clark.	Summers.
Crittenden,	364	134
Livingston,	212	461
Totals,	576	595

Summers' majority 9. Summers was re-elected Crittenden and Livingston counties in the Lower House of the next General Assembly of Kentucky. His nomination will bring together the two factions of the party in the two counties and he will have an old time Democratic majority. He is personally a popular man, and besides being an ardent Democrat, he is a good Wheeler. The ultra Wheeler element, especially those not of the Democratic persuasion, endeavored to keep him from submitting to the party, but he stood by his political convictions, and there is no Democrat, whether a farmer, merchant, or if he were inclined, can find fault with the nominee, and the old log-cabin spirit which has been in every race for years, will be out of this race, and the party can, and will give Jim Summers a rousing majority next August.

Mr. T. J. Cameron and wife, and Mrs. J. N. Woods left for Hot Springs, Ark., Wednesday evening. Mr. Cameron has a severe case of the sanditis, and hopes to be benefited by the famous waters.

Tom Paris accidentally fell from a wagon loaded with railroad ties on Wednesday, and the wheels of the heavily loaded wagon pass across his body, breaking two of his ribs and otherwise severely injuring him.

Very Cheap Excursion to Evansville.

We desire to call the attention of our readers to an advertisement in this issue of the cheapest and most conveniently arranged excursion to Evansville ever given on the Ohio Valley railroad. The train will be a special and will leave Marion at 8:06 A. M., and will arrive at Evansville 12 m. Returning will leave Evansville at 3:30 P. M. Fare for the round trip only one dollar and twenty-five cents. Date of Excursion Sunday, June 7th. For time card and round trip rates, from other stations, see advertisement.

Officially Declared the Nominee.

We the undersigned, chairmen of the Democratic committees for Crittenden and Livingston counties, hereby certify that at a primary election held in Crittenden and Livingston counties on the 16th day of May, 1891, for the purpose of nominating a Democratic candidate to represent the counties of Crittenden and Livingston in the lower branch of the Legislature, S. G. Clark received (364) three hundred and sixty four votes, and J. R. Summers received (595) one hundred and thirty four votes in said county; and that S. G. Clark received (212) two hundred and twelve votes and J. R. Summers received (461) four hundred and fifty one votes in Livingston county, and that J. R. Summers has a majority of (9) nine votes in the two counties. We therefore declare J. R. Summers the regular Democratic nominee to represent the counties of Crittenden and Livingston in the next Legislative Assembly.

Given under our hands this 23d day of May, 1891.

J. W. Blue, Sr., Chairman Democratic Committee for Crittenden county.

W. W. Stewart, Chairman Democratic Committee for Livingston county.

A Card of Thanks.

SALEM, KY., May 24.
ED. PACES: Last week a number of my friends and neighbors gave me an excellent milk cow, and I desire through the columns of your paper to thank them for their kindness. I assure them that I greatly appreciate the gift, and shall always remember this act of kindness, and know that God will reward those who remember the poor.

BLOWN TO ATOMS.

Terrific Explosion of Dynamite on a Train.

Tarrytown, N. Y., May 19.—There was a terrible accident near here today, by which the loss of life is estimated at between sixteen and twenty and the injured as many more. An engine and one flat car were conveying a load of dynamite, each case containing fifty pounds. The Italians were being taken to a section of the road where a third track was being laid. A coil of rope lay in front of the truck of the engine and just as the train was passing Holmes Point, midway between Tarrytown and Irvington, a spark from the locomotive ignited the coil of rope. The moving train fanned the flame, and before the Italians realized their danger one of the packages of dynamite exploded.

Wm Brannigan, the engineer of the derrick train, happened to be 150 yards from the train at the time and he tells the following story: "When the coil of rope set fire to the men seeing it on fire sprang off the flat car; he fell under the wheels and was killed. The next moment there was a rumbling noise, a dense cloud of smoke and a black mass shot up into the air. Before the explosion some of the Italians had tumbled off and a few saved their lives by so doing. The train had just about come to a stop. Mr. Brannigan saw one man blown fifty feet in the air. He fell into the Hudson river. Another man was blown into the bluff. The others were blown in various directions. Several are supposed to have been blown in the river.

James Nielsen says he saw the wreck made by the explosion. He says he counted sixteen dead men on the track and sixteen wounded. He understood that twenty men had been blown into the Hudson river, mostly Italians.

The train was torn to atoms, the railway tracks ripped from their bed and a great hole many feet deep dug into the earth, totally blocking the traffic on the road for many hours. The ground trembled as though by an earthquake, and the walls of a number of houses in Tarrytown were shaken and cracked and the window glass in that city fell in showers to the streets.

Killed by the Guards.

Birmingham, Ala., May 19.—Clayton Loyd, a white convict, was shot and instantly killed at the Penitentiary prison four miles from the city about midnight last week. He was making a desperate effort to escape at the time by burning the prison. Yesterday he secured a number of wicks and a quantity of oil from the lamps of the convict miners. About dark he took them to a water closet and stuffed the wicks into the crevices of the door. He then saturated everything around with oil and waited. One of the guards on inspection tour smelled the kerosene and on investigation discovered the plan of action. He accordingly secreted himself near the closet and watched. About midnight Loyd entered the closet, which was enclosed with lattice; the deputy saw him strike a match and light the wicks. At this juncture he fired his pistol and Loyd fell dead with a bullet in his heart. The fire was difficult to extinguish. Had it not been, the result would have been most disastrous.

The prison is a long two-story wooden structure, which would have burned like tinder. It contained 800 State convicts, who are leased by the mining company and most of them are in for long terms. They are locked every night in separate cells and could not have been rescued had a fire prevailed.

Loyd was one of the worst criminals ever known in this State. He was a preacher down in Dale county and poisoned his wife and five children about a year ago. Loyd escaped to Georgia, where he was captured and taken back home. The citizens at once organized a mob and the officers were called on to exercise strategy in order to get Loyd away. He was brought here and tried for the murder of his wife. The jury, from some unknown reason, only gave him a twelve-year sentence. A few weeks since he learned that he would be tried for the murder of his children in July next, and rather than return to Dale to trial and face the jury of the citizens again, he resorted to the desperate attempt to burn the prison.

The Best Life Policy.

It's not the Tontine plan, or Endowment plan, or Ten years renewable plan. It's a plan adding your few dollars to the hundreds of millions that the insurance companies boast of. It's a better investment than any of those. It is investing a few dollars in that Standard remedy, the Golden Medical Discovery, a cure for Consumption, in its early stages, and all throat and lung troubles.

A Romance.

She was fair—and my passion begun She smiled—and I could not but love But when from afar I debted catarrh No beauty my passion could move. In despair she saw doctors in vain, Till she heard of humanity's boon. Now her breath is as sweet as the dew Which falls upon roses in June. Tonight as we sit in our home, And I press her sweet lips o'er and o'er, We bless Dr. Sage in our bliss For the joy that he brought to our door. There is no disease more trying to friends than catarrh. The constant effort to clear the throat and nose, the foul breath, all the features of the disease, make it as much to be dreaded by the friends as the victim. Humanity has come to the aid. Dr. Sage for his "Catarrh Remedy." The manufacturers offer to forfeit $500 for any case of catarrh they can not cure.

He Did Not Call.

The man who tried Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and was sure of the $500 reward offered by the proprietors for an incurable case, never called for his money. Why not? O, because he got cured. He was sure of two things. (1) That his catarrh could not be cured. (2) That he would have that $500. He is now sure of one thing that is, that his catarrh is completely gone. So he is out $500 of course. The makers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy have faith in their ability to cure the worst cases of Nasal Catarrh, no matter of how long standing, and attest their faith by their standing reward of $500, offered for many years past, for an incurable case of this horrible and dangerous disease. The Remedy is sold by druggists, at only 50 cents. Mild, soothing, cleansing, deodorizing, anti-epileptic and healing.
