CHINA RILED

At the Course Recently Taken by the United States in Again Putting Up the Bars to Chinese Citizens.

The Hung Gee, a San Francisco Chinese newspaper, says the Emperor has signed his edicts to prohibit the admission of any kind of Chinese into the United States.

PHILADELPHIA, May 9.—A movement was recently begun to cause the return of all the Chinese in the United States to China in consequence of the exclusion law.

A few days ago a conference of the Chinese of Philadelphia, Maryland and several other neighboring states was held in this city and attended by hundreds of the more influential Chinese. Delegates attended from many cities, but all the delegates are kept a profound secret. The convention adjourned Friday.

These meetings have been held in Baltimore, but the fact leaked out and was published in the Baltimore papers. Thereupon George Hot, the Baltimore magnate, who is also the grand master of the Chinese Masons, issued an edict, transferring the meetings to Philadelphia.

The meeting was held in the city, which are detailed the public meetings which have been held in China, particularly in the city of Shanghai, which are detailed the public meetings which have been held in China, particularly in the city of Shanghai.

Our country has at last awakened to the fact that the Chinese and their paternal and ancestral gods have been unduly imposed upon. Why does not our government do something to protect the American race? But the time is coming when our rights must be respected. The father has started his children to school and he will not allow them to be educated in the Chinese language and when we have all done our duty properly the edict will be forthwith rescinded.

A meeting was held in Boston was proposed and it was suggested that Tani, minister at Washington, be asked to attend and give his opinion on the subject. It was decided that the wisest heads expressed grave doubts of the invitation being accepted, as they say that the minister is doing world compromise himself. Thursday night, Chong, one of the leading lights, arranged a meeting for two hours. Gong Hot also made an address.

CAPTURED BY REBELS.

The Town of Calabozo, Venezuela, Now in the Hands of the Rebel Forces.

San Yago, May 9.—Calabozo, the paper, the Venezuela correspondent of The Herald says: "I have just received important information, which, strange enough, comes by way of Caracas, instead of the important camp near San Sebastian. The news revealed is to the effect that Calabozo has fallen."

"The mystery surrounding Calabozo is solved at last, and there is no doubt that the command-in-chief of the government troops is in the hands of the insurgents. Calabozo and its command were not taken without a show of resistance, but constant marching and the want of supplies had so weakened the government troops that to hold out against the rebel forces who opposed them was no longer possible."

"Numerous of this disaster to the power of Calabozo have been coming in for several days, but they were discredited. Major details mention a fight, in which the rebels were driven into the city, with the insurgents following and taking possession."

"The secret of Calabozo's capture is out. He has been awaiting among the rebels has come a message to the chiefs that Calabozo was falling and that the rebels were armed. This indicates that the vessel which landed her cargo somewhere in the vicinity of Puerto Santo carried the material needed by the revolutionists in Calabozo."

"Calabozo is the northeastern district of Calabozo, and was formerly the state of Calabozo. The reason of the capture of Calabozo into the hands of the rebels is now clear. He probably crossed over into Calabozo to help organize the rebellion there."

Among the passengers on the steamship Venezuela, which arrived at New York Saturday from Calabozo, was Jose Maria Paul, nephew of ex-President Rojas Paul, of Venezuela. The captain is now in Calabozo, waiting to send to Calabozo to assist in the overthrow of Calabozo.

The younger Paul, up to a few days before the sailing of the Venezuela from Calabozo, was a prisoner in the Calabozo, Calabozo, where he had been placed by order of Calabozo four months ago.

On April 30 he was released, given a passport and ordered to get out of the country at once. Infatuated friends had secured his release. His wife and a nine-year-old daughter accompanied him. Mr. Paul said last night that Calabozo would be overthrown within two months.

NEGRO CRAP SHOOTERS TACKLE THE WRONG MAN—Three shot. CHARLESTON, S. C., May 9.—In a negro crap den Sunday afternoon Sam Cummings, of Hale, Webster county, shot Simon Preston in the hand, George Hill in the hand, and Jim Easter in the leg.

Cummings is here as a witness before the federal court, and runs for a negro crap house. He got into a game and after winning his money, $2.50, attacked him and badly bruised him with beer bottles about the head and breast.

About fifty men were engaged in the game, and Cummings, in order to protect himself, began shooting, and when the bullets cleared away, Cummings succeeded in reaching the street, when a general chase after him resulted. He ran about a mile and a half, and fell, and was arrested and placed in jail. A mob of negroes were after him and, had it not been that the officers got him, there would have been a lynching. When he was brought to the jail a large crowd of negroes surrounded the officers and at one time took him, but prompt action on the part of the officers prevented further trouble.

CHICKERING FOR FOUR MASH. An English Syndicate Wants Control of Kentucky's Whisky Distilleries. LOUISVILLE, May 9.—Nathan Hoffheimer, of New York, and Joseph Woolner, of Peoria, Ill., are in the city. The latter, until a few days ago, has been a member of the whisky trust.

Mr. Hoffheimer is well known for his large speculation in whisky. They do not desire to make their plans public, but it is learned from a reliable source that Hoffheimer is getting up a project to control most of the whisky distilleries in this section.

About a year and a half ago he came to Kentucky and secured an option on the distilleries of this state on behalf of an English syndicate. The scheme fell through on account of the opposition of financial circles and the failure of Barling Brothers. Since then, it is understood, Hoffheimer has made arrangements with another syndicate to control the output of the whisky in Kentucky.

TO THE VOTERS OF CRITTENDEN COUNTY: Having served you for the past two years as Sheriff, I take this method of expressing to you my gratitude for the confidence imposed in me. I feel that my experience will enable me to serve you better in the future than in the past, and if chosen by the people, will endeavor to do so. Yours truly,

TO THE VOTERS OF CRITTENDEN COUNTY.

Democratic Convention.

Pursuant to the instructions of the Democratic State Central Committee, a mass meeting of the Democrats of Crittenden county is hereby called to meet in Marion on Saturday, May 14, 1892, at 2 o'clock, p. m., for the purpose of appointing delegates to the State convention to be held in Louisville, May 24, for the purpose of selecting delegates to represent the Democrats of Kentucky in the National Democratic Convention at Chicago in June.

J. W. BLISS, Ch'mn.

The President's household is not happy.

Mrs. Blaine is taking a hand in the Presidential fight. It is said in a Washington dispatch in this morning's news that she has it in for Harrison because he refused to make her late son Walker Blaine Solicitor for the Department of State. If this is authentic, it means a very black eye for President Harrison.

We are in receipt of the State Geologist's report on the progress of the survey in Kentucky. The report shows that good work has been done by the Geologist, and that Kentucky, when the report is completed will be in shape to let the world know what is under the surface. Referring to the survey in this section Prof. Proctor says: "Mr. E. O. Ulrich had previously done the geologic field work in Caldwell and Crittenden counties, but additional field work was made necessary by observations in these and the adjoining county of Livingston." This was completed, and he is now engaged in preparing the report on these two counties for publication.

If the Democratic doctrines were ever right, they are supremely right now. "Equal rights to all and special privileges to none" is sound doctrine. Let the sunshine of a Republican government fall with its liberal rays upon the rich and poor, the high and low, the farmer, the doctor, the lawyer, the artist and the artisan alike. Give no man, nor class of men, no corporate nor company, nor any other creature, advantages that all do not enjoy. In the battle for bread, in the rush for wealth, and in the race for honors let industry and frugality, honesty and intelligence be unshaken by any law that puts the goal within easier reach of one man than another. This is democracy.

To Increase the State Tax Rate.

A bill has been reported to the House by the Committee on Revenue and Taxation to increase the rate of taxation from 42½ to 47½ cents on the $100 valuation. This increase of five cents is to be appropriated to the five cents is the general expenditure fund. It has been demonstrated that the reduction of five cents in the tax rate, two years ago, was unwise and embarrassing to the proper administration of the State government. The only contest, when the bill comes up for consideration, will doubtless be for a less increase of the rate. It is not probable that the tax rate will be increased more than five cents, although many persons doubt if the increase proposed by the bill will be sufficient to prevent a large deficit in the State Treasury at the close of the fiscal year, June 30, 1893.—Frankfort Capital.

JNO. ROBINSON'S SHOW.

The Amusement Gaiety of the Period.

More than seventy years of continuous ovation has characterized the career of the John Robinson show, which this season is reaching the proud culmination of its triumph. No other show in existence can display so continuous and so clear a record. From the cold waters of the Kennebec to the shores of the Pacific, from the northern boundaries of civilization to the southern limits of the continent, for more than one generation has the name of John Robinson been a household word, and the coming of the always unexceptionable exhibition enters prizes that bear his name is ever greeted with a hearty welcome. From the genesis of the show until its present colossal perfection, there has not been a solitary season in which it has not led its fellows in the multiplicity and general excellence of its attractions, and now it towers above and dwarfs all contemporaneous tented exhibitions into comparative insignificance, and this season it presents such an opulence of sterling and meritorious attractions as to truly entitle it to be designated as a vast Amusement Gaiety, whose wondrous wealth of entertainment is unlimited and immeasurable. It is merely a work of supererogation to say that his circus has always been the best and biggest, always in the van, always proudest in leading and sensational features, and always fully equipped with the finest stud of horses and the most skillful and finished bareback riders, gymnasts and acrobats in the profession; that his large, well-ordered and well-selected menagerie contains living, vigorous specimens of all that is strange, rare and curious within the range of natural history, and that his royal Roman Hippodrome is a vivid and realistic reproduction of that of the days of Imperial Caesar.

It may be said, however, that to these always prominent and desirable attractions has been added, for the current season, a feature so stupendous in magnitude, so overpowering in unprecedented grandeur and impressiveness, and so enormous in the expense necessary to its production, that the features mentioned, grand and multifarious as they are, can at best play but a secondary part. The grand biblical, historical, scenic-graphic, lyric, terpsichorean and pantomimic spectacle of "Solomon, his Temple, and the Queen of Sheba" is thus added to a transcendently impressive and eminently moral and mind-elevating pageant and scenic production, from the fertile brain of Mr. John Rittig, the projector and creator of "Rome under Nero," "The Fall of Babylon," "Montezuma" and "Bonaparte in Egypt," noted spectacles which have been annually produced under the auspices of the Order of Cincinnati, and which have become famous throughout the length and breadth of the land. To claim that "Solomon, his Temple, and the Queen of Sheba" is the masterpiece of this brilliant artist is not transcending the limits of veracity. There is not a sensual, libidinous nor lascivious scene, set or thought in the spectacle, and every thing in the entire presentation is holy, chaste and pure. The limits of a newspaper notice prevent mention in detail of the manifold characteristics and excellencies of this gorgeous and imposing spectacle, but the reader will find exhaustive description in the bills, circulars and advertisements disseminated broadcast by the management.

The Robinson show will exhibit at Marion, Ky., Monday, May 30, 1892.

Miles Orton show was here Thursday. The circus performance was good, but the menagerie portion of the show was a tame affair. There are a set of fakirs and gamblers with the show—that are a disgrace. Numbers of parties here lost money "monkeying" with the set. The sheriff was called upon more than once to make the rascals disgorge, and in one or two instances they did hand over their ill-gotten gains. Dr. Russell was fleeced of $70 in making change for one of these sharps, but succeeded in getting his money. So long as Orton or any other show permits such barnacles to follow them around the people should steer clear of such shows.

To the Good People of Crittenden and Adjoining Counties.

We wish to say a few words. Two years ago we commenced business at Marion, and have now been in your midst long enough for you to know what kind of people we are. We will say that no other firm has paid out as much money to the farmers as we have, and we have never offered to sell you anything, but have always had the cash and paid it to you for your produce. Now we have begun the sale of flour and would most respectfully ask a share of your trade. We don't ask all but only a part, and remember, if our flour is not as good or better and as cheap or cheaper than any flour offered you we don't want you to take it, as we fully guarantee every sack and barrel, and when it is not what we represent, it don't cost you a cent, and we pay you for time and trouble of taking home and delivering. You are admonished to patronize home industry. What is home industry? Is it not home firms, or firms that pay out their cash to you? Have we not done this for two years and are we not still doing so? We say yes. We are here to stay and will continue to buy your produce or anything you have to sell, and will pay cash and the highest market prices. We want 500,000 dozen eggs at once, 500,000 chickens, 500,000 lbs of wool, and everything else you have to sell. We have got the cash ready to pay for it and don't you forget it. If at any time we mistreat you, all you have to do is to let us know and we guarantee to satisfy you. It is true our mills are not located at Marion, but that does not effect prices, and as prices are what talks, "we are in it." We offer flour at same price as others and we will pay you the same price as others for your wheat, corn, etc. As we have been in your midst for two years, paying out from thirty-four thousand dollars per year, before we had asked for a cent of your custom for anything we sell, we can not see why we are not entitled to some of it the same as any other home industry, as when you buy our flour your money does not leave the county, but goes right back into you or your neighbors' hands for circulation. Don't take our word for it, but ask the Marion Bank if we ever send a cent away from here, but on the other hand, we are always bringing money in to pay out.

J. M. JEAN & SONS.

COLUMBUS DAY, OCT. 12.

A Message to the Public Schools of America.

LOCAL OBSERVANCES SUGGESTED.

The Day Should Be Signified in Every Town and Village in the Republic by a Local Celebration of Which the Public School Is the Center.

To the scholars of the public schools of the United States the executive committee of the Columbian public school celebration sends the following message:

The 12th of October, 1892, the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America, ought to be observed everywhere in America.

The day will be marked in Chicago by the dedication of the Columbian exposition grounds. The day also may be signified in every town and village in the republic by a local celebration of which the public school is the center.

The public schools of the republic will form the most fitting center for all these local observances. A national public school observance simultaneous with the Chicago exercises will awaken a popular interest in the coming exposition. Far more important is the fact that the public school has the right to occupy the most prominent place in the celebration.

The public school is the one characteristic institution which links all the neighborhoods together, and can thus furnish a common bond for a national celebration. The public school is the ripe fruit of the four centuries of American civilization. The public school is today away the hundred years to come.

How It Came About.

The first approval of this suggestion came from the public school scholars themselves. When the plan was first proposed by the Youth's Companion, January, 1891, thousands of letters were received, testifying to the enthusiasm with which the scholars responded.

The world's congress auxiliary of the Columbian exposition then took up the proposal, calling upon all the people of the republic to observe the day in their own localities, and suggesting that the public schools be everywhere the centers of the celebration.

The superintendents of education were the next to recognize the fitness of giving to this public schools the first place in this Columbian anniversary. At their national convention in Brooklyn in February, 1892, they took charge of the movement, and appointed the undersigned an executive committee to lead the schools in their commemoration.

Appeal to the Scholars.

This executive committee now appeals to the scholars themselves to be the first to move. It is for you, scholars of the American public schools, to arouse a sentiment in your schools and in your neighborhoods for this grand way of celebrating the finding of America. Educators and teachers will meet you from their side. But it is for you to begin. There are 12,000,000 now in the public schools. You have the chance to conduct a patriotic movement which will have a place in history, and will strengthen the republic through the coming century.

What to Do.

The first thing to do is to determine, when you read this message, that you will do all you can to induce your school to enter the celebration. Then show this message to your teachers; every patriotic teacher will be glad to help you if you show yourselves in earnest. Take the message to the school committee and the superintendents—their consent and aid are indispensable.

After you secure the support of all these, then let the school vote that it will enter the celebration.

The next thing after this public vote will be the appointment of a strong committee made up jointly from citizens, scholars and teachers to take charge. The committee should in all cases consist of those most in earnest, so that the work may not be checked by any possible change of teachers during the summer.

The Programme.

A programme of exercises will be furnished by the executive committee. It will be simple and adapted to any school, yet so arranged that more elaborate exercises may be added wherever desired. The aim of this official programme will be to secure a certain leading exercise, may be the same in every school in the republic, and that at least in one feature the Chicago programme and the school programme may be identical.

In due time this executive committee will make further suggestions.

The duty of your committee will first be to interest the citizens and to prepare the school. Processions may be arranged. The veterans, both north and south, will gladly be escorted for the parade. The other military, civil and religious organizations of each town will lead their aid if they see that the schools are determined that the celebration shall be worthy of the day. The local press will be the most valuable of all supports.

On Oct. 12 the stars and stripes should be floating from every school house in the republic. It is the hope of the friends of common school education that not one public school in the United States will allow itself to be left out in this most memorable celebration.

Executive Committee.

Francis Bellamy, chairman, representing Youth's Companion, Boston.
John W. Dickinson, secretary of Massachusetts board of education.
Thomas R. Shickman, commissioner of public schools of Rhode Island.
W. R. Garrett, superintendent of public instruction of Tennessee.
W. C. Hewitt, superintendent of Michigan educational exhibit at World's fair.

CAUGHT WITH $4,600.
A Snatch Thief Is in Bank at Mount Sterling, Ky.

MOUNT STERLING, May 7.—Friday morning while John Robinson's shoe parlor was passing through the city and the cashier had taken the money, the deposit bank was taking it in a case entered the building from the rear and went into the safe and got $4,600.
A woman in front of the bank gave a signal, which the clerk, Roy Kerns, caught, and looking around saw a man, when a bell, Charles Garfield, saw and caught him, and took the money.

Another thief then ran in and put the thief under arrest. He gave his name as Frank Owens, of Cincinnati. The woman dashed into the crowd and made her escape.
The prisoner was taken before Judge Groves, and, waiving examination, he was held on a bond of $5,000 to make his appearance before the district court, which commenced Monday week.

Excitement ran high, and as he was entering the jail, a crowd ran after him calling for a rope, which made the prisoner tremble like a leaf.

He is 5 ft. 6 in. tall, wears a heavy mustache, weighs 180 pounds, and is about forty years old.
He is wanted at other places.

Saturday.

The special order of the day was Bishop To's report of the work of the church among the natives in Africa. The progress made in the past was encouraging. They have over 5,000 church members, thirty-eight Sunday schools, over 300 teachers and 3,750 scholars. He said the Africans needed education to make them able to take advantage of the resources they have.

Sunday.

In the evening a meeting was held at exposition place to the interest of an American university and Christian education. It was well attended. Addresses were made by a number of prominent divines.

Monday.

Several memorials were presented, among the most important of which was one petitioning that the discipline be so changed as to make dancing permissible.
