It Tastes Good

One reason why Scott's Emulsion of Pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda has had such a large sale is because it is "Almost as palatable as milk," but the best reason is that its curative properties are unequalled. It cures the cough, supplies the waste of tissues, produces flesh and builds up the entire system.

THE JIM CROW CAR.

How the Separate Coach Law Works in Texas—Negroes Get the Best of It.

[St. Louis Globe-Democrat.]

The only grievance the Texas negroes have is that the law passed by the retiring Legislature requires them to ride in separate coaches on railroads. The traveler about to enter a car anywhere in Texas finds himself confronted at the door by one of two forms. The notice reads: "For Whites," or it reads "For Negroes." For a "white" to ride where it says "For Negroes" is to violate a law which subjects himself, the railroad employees personally to heavy penalties. There is nothing optional about the operation of the law. A white person is shut out as completely from the negroes as the negro is excluded from the white car. There may be one negro riding in solitary comfort in the negro coach and 100 white people crowded in discomfort into the white coach. That makes no difference. There can be no mixing. The railroads are unable to foresee just what the times. It happens very frequently that a condition similar to that just mentioned is the result. There are not seats enough for one race and there are too many for the other race. A single illustration from actual observation may be interesting. At Amarillo, in the Panhandle, two ladies with children, a couple of drummers, and the usual assortment of passengers boarded the south-bound train at 4 white coach was full. The negro compartment was occupied by a Chinaman in solitary state. John had turned over the seat in front and had disposed of his bags—the heathen always travels with bags—in such a way as to prop himself into a very comfortable position. There is nothing in the law which says "whites" shall not ride in the "negro" compartment, when there are no negroes on board. So the passengers from Amarillo filed in to the negro compartment and proceeded to do as the Chinaman had done. The train had begun to move when a solitary negro got on. He took a seat. The conductor appeared. White men, women and children were required to get up and move into the crowded white coach. There a general awakening took place. Seats were turned. Those who had whole seats were obliged to double up with those who had none. Children cried. Everybody grumbled. A few swore. In the compartment for negroes the African and the Chinaman rode with two seats apiece and several others unoccupied for more than 100 miles. Not another negro came in all that distance. Chinamen, Mexicans and Indians are not classed. They ride where they please. Probably a very strict and liberal construction of the law would throw all but the African on the white side of the coach dead line, but the railroads only observe the forms to the degree that will protect them from prosecution. At first whole coaches were set apart for the different races. Now, however, at the end of the year's trial of the law, that is rarely done. Each coach is separated by a partition. In parts of Texas there is almost no negro travel. On such roads a small compartment is cut off at one end by a thin partition and reserved for the occasional negro traveler.

Half of the time it will be unoccupied. Further south the negro compartments are larger. And in the black belt the coaches are separated in halves. Some roads have the fastenings and grooves so arranged that a partition can be taken out and moved a few seats forward or backward according as the race proportion of travel changes. Negroes do not ride on cars the year round. After cotton picking is well under way and silver begins to circulate freely there is a great deal of negro travel. Later on, when "the crop" must be cared for, the negro travel falls to a small fraction. To accommodate these changes the partitions are so arranged that they can be moved.

The law makes one exception in favor of negro nurses for white children. This provision is somewhat elastic. A lady came on a train at San Antonio with a robust little Eord Fauntleroy son and a negro lad. She planted the boy in one seat and told the negro to sit with him, while she took the seat in front. The negro protested. "Missus," he said, "I mustn't ride here. There is a place where my people have to sit." "You stay right where you are," the lady said, and proceeded to drill the negro in his temporary duty as nurse to the ten-year-old youngster in sailor suit and long hair. The negro promptly fell asleep and the boy amused himself by leaning far out the window. The lady, having succeeded in doing something the law said couldn't be done, took great satisfaction in watching the "travellers" of the negroes of Texas do not object to the separate coach act. They are insured more comfort in travel than they ever had before. Theoretically they think the law is an outrage because it raises what they call a "class distinction." The well-dressed and well-educated negro doesn't like anything which reminds him that he isn't a white man.

TWO KILLED, ONE WOUNDED.

The Work of Two Drunken Strangers at a Kentucky Dance.

Soldier, Ky., Oct. 10.—At a social gathering Friday night at the house of Mrs. Cox, a few miles from here, two half-drunken strangers entered while dancing was in progress and made themselves so obnoxious that the managers, Charles Wilmoth and Harry Collins, felt compelled to eject them. The strangers resisted and fatally shot both the young men besides seriously wounding William J. Henson.

The murderers escaped on a horse, but are being hotly pursued. The victims were excellent young men, and one of them was to have been married shortly.

FOUND A PETRIFIED MAN.

A Fossil Hunter of Chadron, Neb., Has Refused $2,000 for the Specimen.

Chadron, Neb., Oct. 10.—Great excitement was created here to-day by the discovery of a petrified man about two miles north of this city, near Natural Wall, one of the great wonders of this region. The body was found by Eed Rossiter, a well-known collector of this town, while engaged in securing turtle fossils. It is thought to be that of a man 6 feet tall, well developed and in a perfect state of preservation. It was found buried in clay and weighs over 500 pounds. The teeth are plainly visible, and the skull, head and lips are those of a negro. The finder was offered $2,000 in cash for the specimen, but refused it.

STILL THEY COME.

Prominent Republicans Converted to Tariff Reform.

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—H. Labarre Jayne, lawyer and son of the late Dr. Jayne, who has been identified with the Republicans all his life, to-day announced his intention to vote for Cleveland. Mr. Jayne was some years ago a member of the Republican city committee. He has been a member of the Union League since he became of age. His resignation is ready to be handed in and will be tendered to the club in a few days, to take effect Nov. 1. He has already been proposed for membership in the Young Men's Democratic Association. Mr. Jayne was asked what had brought about this wonderful change in his politics. He said: "I have decided to support the Democratic national ticket because I find that my views are in accord with those of the great majority of the Democratic party as indicated by the platform they have adopted and still more clearly emphasized in the opinions and character of their nominee for the Presidency."

New York, Oct. 8.—Honorable Henry A. Meyer, who was the Republican candidate for Mayor of Brooklyn at the last election and who ran 9,000 votes ahead of his ticket has come out in a strong letter declaring that owing to the protection policy as illustrated in the McKinley bill and because of the proposed Force bill he is a Republican no longer. He is a life long connection with the Republican party and work and vote for Grover Cleveland.

New Albany, Ind., Oct. 8.—John Jackson, pension agent of this city, and Dr. Voyles, of Corydon, formerly postmaster of this city under Gen. Grant, have declared themselves for Cleveland and reform. Also several others have left the G. O. P., and aided in organizing the Democratic iron workers' and Sixth ward clubs.

Jeffersonville, Ind., Oct. 8.—Judge Columbus B. Harrod, a well-known Southern Indiana lawyer, and heretofore a strong Republican, having been the nominee for Congress of his party a few years ago, has publicly announced that he would vote the Democratic ticket next month. The tariff question was the lever which brought the change about, he says.

The Tin Plate Humbug.

N. Y. Evening Post. We doubt if there has ever been in any previous campaign any thing comparable to the silliness of the "American tin" performances which Mr. McKinley and his associates are guilty of in the present one. When Mr. McKinley spoke in Philadelphia on September 23, the following solemn buffoonery was gone through with in the Academy of Music, according to the report of the Philadelphia Press: "While he was telling of the new industries that had been built up in this country, a banner made of tin, and bearing the inscription, 'American tin, 1892, made at Norristown,' was carried down the platform. The applause which greeted the appearance of the banner interrupted the Governor, and he turned and looked at the banner. 'Another trophy to a protective tariff,' was his comment and then cheers were given for American tin."

Col. McClure exposed the humbug of this performance completely a few nights later, but the manager of the "American Tin Works at Norristown" has since added the final touch. He says the works have been shut down, and their sixty workmen thrown out of employment because of the delay in the arrival of material from Wales. There are, he says, 250 tons of plates on the way, all of which have been rolled in Wales, and that when the plates arrive, they will be dipped at the works in tin. As for the source of his tin supply he says: "I purchase it from the importers in New York. It comes from various parts of the world, and I am frank in saying that although I have looked high and low for the American article, I have never seen it." He goes on to "give away" the entire business by adding:

"I am willing to tell the truth about this matter, and nothing but the truth, and therefore I mean exactly what I say—that the sheets, pig tin, and palm oil, are imported. Therefore if at any time there should be a delay in the arrival of these materials, we would be compelled to shut down, as we have done this week. We have ten timen at work this week, and they are all men who were employed in the factory at Wales."

GRASSHOPPERS IN MISSOURI.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 7.—Myriads of grasshoppers have appeared in Buchanan and adjoining counties and are rapidly destroying the winter wheat. The hoppers are not of the variety that appeared in 1879, but are the common field grasshoppers that stay in one locality an entire season. The warm, dry weather has hatched them out by the millions and unless a cold rain or frost comes immense damage will be done. Fourteen counties in Missouri report to the State Secretary of the Board of Agriculture, that the insects are so numerous that they are causing alarm to the farmers. In many parts of Kansas they are said to be threatening to destroy many acres of wheat.

THREE KILLED.

Desperate Fight Said to Have Taken Place in Knott County.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 10.—A special received to-night from Norton, in Wise county, says that Frank Johnson, being refused admittance to see his sweetheart, Lulu Warwick, by her father, in Knott county, Kentucky, went away and returned with three friends. A fight ensued, in which Warwick and his son and one of Johnson's friends were killed. The others fled.

LAST OF THE IMMIGRANTS.

Quarantine Is Free at Last From Its Cholera Infested Population.

New York, Oct. 10.—The last batch of immigrants who have been held down the bay since the outbreak of cholera was landed at Ellis Island to-day. They number 40 and were brought from the steamer Stonington where they had been transferred from the Normannia.

Famine Will Follow.

Hamburg, Oct. 9.—The outlook for the coming winter among the poor is very gloomy. The money thus far subscribed for the relief of distress caused by the cholera has already been entirely spent with hardly any visible improvement. An organized system of relief is urgent, and unless something in that line is speedily accomplished, famine will follow the plague.

YELLOW JACK IN BRAZIL.

Terrible State of Affairs at Santos—More Deaths Than From Cholera in Europe.

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—Reports from Santos, Brazil, to Philadelphia merchants reveal a disaster of yellow fever at that important seaport in South America. An epidemic has been raging there for months and the dead have been piled in trenches of great length. It is claimed that more victims have been swept away in and around Santos than have died in Europe from the cholera plague.

Three hundred and forty-seven vessels are awaiting their turn to discharge valuable cargo shipped from all parts of the world and they will, it is claimed, be there a year hence still waiting to be loaded alongside the discharged berth.

INSANE WIFE'S DEED.

She Sets Fire to Her Husband's Bed and Holds Him in the Flames.

Greencastle, Ind., Oct. 7.—The village of Coatesville, Hendricks County, was the scene of a terrible tragedy yesterday. The wife of William Sharpe poured coal oil upon his bed-clothing while he was sleeping and then applied a match to it, burning him to death. Sharpe endeavored to extricate himself, but she opposed his efforts with all her might and was slain. She had but recently returned from the Insane Hospital at Indianapolis, where she was confined for two or three years. The couple were upwards of 50 years ago.

COLUMBUS' BODY ON THE MARKET.

President Huereaux of San Domingo Offers It for $100,000.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—A somewhat startling story is told by one of the World's Fair Commissioners, who, during a recent visit to the State Department, learned that the remains of Christopher Columbus were offered to the United States as security for a loan of $100,000 at 6 percent interest. The offer had recently been made with due formality by President Huereaux of San Domingo.

President Huereaux's thrift has been exemplified in several negotiations with the authorities at Washington, but it was not until the proposition was made to hypothecate the sacred remains of the great navigator for a cash consideration that the full extent of his thrift was appreciated. Although the proposition of President Huereaux was that the remains should be taken in security for the loan, it is the general belief of the officials here that this was merely a delegate way of proposing an absolute sale. This view was strengthened by the fact that no time was mentioned for the payment of the loan. It was simply that the $100,000 should be placed in the hands of President Huereaux; that he in turn should have the relics taken from their resting place, boxed and shipped and that the interest on $100,000 thereafter be regularly paid by him.

The proposition was rejected, as the department authorities in Washington have no right to make purchase of relics, no matter how valuable they may be.

WEBSTER'S RELIGION.

Testimony of Those Who Knew Him as to His Earnest Convictions.

(Washington Star.)

Daniel Webster was through out all his life, not only a "religious man" in the ordinary meaning of the words, but a man of profound religious convictions in the higher sense. Mr. Webster was a daily reader of the Bible, a firm believer in its teachings, and could repeat no small part of it, the Psalms and the writings of the apostles being to him an unfailing source of instruction and wisdom.

On all proper occasions he never failed to refer to the Bible as the book of all books and the Christian's reliance the grandest of all codes of morals and the only right rule of personal conduct.

Mr. Webster was asked by a friend what was the most important thought that ever occupied his mind. It was asked at a repast where there were a number of gentlemen but not one of all of them together could draw Mr. Webster out of the moody reverie into which something had plunged him. Attempt after attempt was made to draw him into conversation, and finally one gentleman repeated the question: "Mr. Webster I want you to tell me what was the most important thought that ever occupied your mind?" Mr. Webster slowly passed his hand over his forehead and near who does not know me?" He was told there was no one. Then he looked over the table says the narrator of the incident, and you may well imagine how the tones of his voice would sound upon such an occasion, giving answer to such a question. "The most important thought that ever occurred to my mind," said he, "was that of my individual responsibility to God!" And then for twenty minutes he spoke on the theme, and when he had finished he rose from the table and retired from the room. The rest of the company retired to an adjoining room. When they had gathered there some one exclaimed: "Who ever heard anything like that?" What Mr. Webster said no one ever attempted to repeat. It was impossible to do so.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT,
GROVER CLEVELAND,
OF New York.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
ADLAI E. STEVENSON,
OF Illinois.

HON. JOHN S. RHEA

Will address the people of Crittenden county at Marion on Monday, Oct. 24, 1892.

There stood Florida.

There stood Georgia.

There stood Alabama.

There stood Arkansas.

Vote your sentiments, and I do not "swap."

The Third party hasn't gone South to spend the winter, yet.

Chas. Mitchell, the English prize-fighter, has been sent to jail for abusing and beating an old man.

Hon. George Shiras, Jr., of Pittsburgh, was sworn in as an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, Monday.

There is a row in the Pension Department at Washington. Secretary Noble threatens to dismiss Geo. W. Baker, a member of the Board of Pension appeals.

Near Fintville, Tenn., a party composed of six internal revenue officers made a raid upon an illicit distillery. A battle ensued and three of the officers and one moonshiner were killed.

The Third party candidates for President and Vice President, Weaver and Field, were billed for speeches in this State last week. With one exception they failed to materialize. Weaver was at Hopkinsville.

A dispatch from Frankfurt says that two or three prominent members of the Legislature are thinking of resigning.

The list of resignations ought, however, to number more than three.

The Judicial District Committee met at Princeton Friday to fill the vacancy on the Democratic ticket, caused by the resignation of Mr. L. H. James. Every committee member was present, one from each of the four counties, and they unanimously tented the nomination to Mr. Gordon. He declined to accept it, and then it was with equal unanimity given to Mr. John L. Gray, of Livingston county. There is no better young man in the district than John L. Gray. Possessing fine natural abilities, he began active life as a lawyer and since he entered upon the profession has been associated with Hon. John K. Hendrick, and this law firm is now one of the best in Southern Kentucky. John Gray has all of the sterling qualities that go to make an untiring, conscientious and faithful officer. If elected, all of his energies will be used in the discharge of duty; he is the personification of honesty, and integrity. In addition to this, he is as true a Democrat as the district has. There is now nothing to prevent the getting together of the party, the healing of all past differences, and the ultimate election of the ticket. So let it be.

The Foreigner Pays the Tax.

(St. Louis Republic.)

"We should never tax our own people so long as we can find other people to tax," solemnly preaches Governor McKinley from Nebraska to Maine, forgetting for the time that other first principle of Protection that the Tariff is not a tax, but a mere regulation of commerce.

It is no longer necessary to waste words or time in overthrowing a proposition so inherently absurd, but I may mention two facts that recently came under my own observation, which show how the foreigner pays the McKinley tax, whether on the imported or the exported article.

Some days ago I was in one of the largest stores in New York City. The gentlemen, whose name would be recognized at once as a synonym of business integrity, called my attention to two bills which he had just paid. One was for $10,000 for an invoice of women's and children's woolen dress goods he had just imported, and the other was for $10,000—the McKinley tax he had just been compelled to pay upon them.

The goods were the ordinary comfortable stuff worn by our wives and daughters. For every dollar's worth sold over his counters he was obliged to charge $2.05, with the profit on that sum. I suggested to him that, instead of sending a clerk for $10,000 to the mill owner at Leeds from whom he bought them in payment of his bill, he should according to McKinley credit the mill with $10,000 for the goods and charge him with $10,000, the duty paid upon them, thus compelling their maker not only to transfer his goods without compensation but to pay an American buyer $200 for taxing them.

Moreover, ladies were buying these very goods over the counters, all unsuspecting that more than one-half that they paid for every dress pattern was for the tariff and not for the goods.

If, however, the Collector of Customs, instead of taking this tariff in gross from the merchant himself, and thus compelling him to collect it back indirectly and secretly from his customers, had permitted the merchant to sell at first cost and fair profit, placing a deputy in the store to collect from each lady, upon her purchase, the amount of the tariff tax, the result would have been the same to her, but the result to McKinley would be very different. It would not survive a single popular election, and over its gravestone would appear the epitaph: "The women did it." So much for the foreigner paying the tax on an imported article!

Let me give another fact how he also pays a tax on our home articles when they are exported.

A leading merchant of New York told me that, having a fancy for a bicycle, he applied, through a friend to the manufacturer of a widely used wheel to find out if he made any discounts to purchasers directly from the factory. The manufacturer replied with emphasis that he had but one price for his wheels, and that no man could buy them at less than that price, which was $135. Not long afterward the New York gentleman, being in London, learned from the newspapers that the manufacturer was also in that city. Surmising that he was there for trade purposes he again got a friend to ask him what he would charge for a bicycle delivered in London. The manufacturer promptly replied that he would deliver his wheels in London, freight paid, at 25 per cent discount from his home price. "In other words," said he, "I will you a bicycle, delivered in London, for $200," which is $95. One hundred and thirty-five dollars to every American buyer of his bicycle, and $95 to every English buyer.

If the foreigner, as Mr. McKinley says, is to pay the tax, why does he not pay it on his own goods when they are exported?

The Democrats of Crittenden and surrounding country intend to raise a pole next Saturday and have invited Hon. K. Hendrick to be here and talk to the people. The Democratic glee clubs of Elizabethtown and Rose Clark will be here. They are well organized and we will have good singing. As one of the committee your correspondent is authorized to invite as many as will come and join us in one grand old Democratic rally.

Carrsville Items.

On yesterday morning some parties traveling in a skiff from Shertersville, Ill., to Rose Clark, Ill., discovered a dead body in the river about one mile below this place; investigation showed it to be the body of a man named Alexander, who left Carrsville on last Saturday about noon in a skiff in company with a man named Trusty, and a woman who claimed to be Trusty's wife. Trusty and the woman reached Shertersville about one o'clock, p.m., and called at a shanty boat, belonging to Alexander's son, and ate their dinner, and left immediately, after saying the woman's mother was very sick at Paducah and they were going to see her. They landed, however, about one mile below and Trusty told some parties that he and old Alexander had had some trouble and that he knocked him in the river, but felt sorry for him and pulled him out, leaving him on the bank. On the bank near where the dead man was found there are signs of a tussle and some women who were washing on the river bank opposite at the time the murder is supposed to have been committed, say they saw some people get in a skiff and scream of a woman and heard her say, "Poor old fellow!" Word was sent to the police at Paducah and it is hoped the murderer will be caught.

The Democrats of Carrsville and surrounding country intend to raise a pole next Saturday and have invited Hon. K. Hendrick to be here and talk to the people. The Democratic glee clubs of Elizabethtown and Rose Clark will be here. They are well organized and we will have good singing. Murdered Helpless Babes.

Under the date of October 10, the following dispatch was sent from Paducah to the St. Louis Republic: John Haldinger, who ten days since in Livingston county, this State, cruelly beat and stamped to death a 3-year-old stepchild because it fretted while sick, was arrested Saturday in a secluded section of the neighboring part of Illinois and put in jail at Smithland, Ky. Yesterday he was in the section but a few weeks, and later by the mother of the child he killed.

Until his wife appeared Haldinger denied his identity, but on her appearance he gave in and confessed all. He later denied that Haldinger is his name, and said he had killed four other children and a man. He would not tell his name or where he came from. He did say that he came out of the Ohio on a flatboat and that in Indiana he married the woman whose child he killed.

Very Respectfully,
H. A. Haynes.

To THE VOTERS OF CRITTENDEN COUNTY: I respectfully announce myself a candidate for the office of Circuit Court Clerk, subject to the action of the Democratic party. I have for twenty four years stood with the rank and file of the party, and with them borne the heat and burden of the day, in doing so, I simply expressed my conviction of the policy of the two great parties of the country. While I am a Democrat I have always cheerfully recognized the right of my neighbor to entertain and express different opinions. In this office its occupant can in no way make or influence the laws of State or Nation and I maintain it should be filled regardless of political prejudice and without pandering to partisanship, the people should with reference to the position and standing of the man and over with a sealous regard for his qualifications to discharge the duties of the office, select and elect a good man and not a partisan.

My business training has lead me for a number of years in a channel which taught and instructed me in the duties of this office, and without presumption or egotism I felt that I am qualified for the discharge of its duties, and can promise if elected to make a faithful and competent clerk. To my many friends of all parties if you can agree with me in the sentiments I have here expressed I ask your suffrage and if it should be my good fortune to be your choice you will ever have my heartfelt gratitude, and I assure you I shall recognize and appreciate my position if elected, as that of a public servant and from no official act of mine will any man know my politics.

Very Respectfully,
J. R. Finley.

A. L. CRUCE.

We are authorized to announce JOHN T. FRANKS a candidate for Sheriff of Crittenden county, subject to the action of the Republican party. He will appreciate your vote and influence.

We are authorized to announce A. C. MOORE a candidate for Commonwealth Attorney of the Fourth Judicial District. Election November, 1892.

To The Voters of Crittenden County.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for reelection to the office of Circuit Court Clerk subject to the action of the Republican party. I wish to return to the people of this county my heart felt thanks for the support given in the past. Whatever may be my lot in the future one of the brightest spots in my life will be the memory of what the people of Crittenden county have done for me. I have endeavored to so regulate my official conduct as to be worthy of the confidence reposed in me and the honor conferred upon me. My official life is before you. If I have discharged the duties of the office with a conscientious regard for the interest of the people, without partiality to any party or shade of political belief but treating all men exactly alike and if I have performed the work of the office properly and right I respectfully ask an endorsement at your hands. For the next term if elected, I can promise nothing more than what I have earnestly endeavored to do in the past to faithfully and impartially discharge every duty incumbent upon the office, with profound gratitude for your support.

Very Respectfully,
H. A. Haynes.

To THE VOTERS OF CRITTENDEN COUNTY: I respectfully announce myself a candidate for the office of Circuit Court Clerk, subject to the action of the Democratic party. I have for twenty four years stood with the rank and file of the party, and with them borne the heat and burden of the day, in doing so, I simply expressed my conviction of the policy of the two great parties of the country. While I am a Democrat I have always cheerfully recognized the right of my neighbor to entertain and express different opinions. In this office its occupant can in no way make or influence the laws of State or Nation and I maintain it should be filled regardless of political prejudice and without pandering to partisanship, the people should with reference to the position and standing of the man and over with a sealous regard for his qualifications to discharge the duties of the office, select and elect a good man and not a partisan.

My business training has lead me for a number of years in a channel which taught and instructed me in the duties of this office, and without presumption or egotism I felt that I am qualified for the discharge of its duties, and can promise if elected to make a faithful and competent clerk. To my many friends of all parties if you can agree with me in the sentiments I have here expressed I ask your suffrage and if it should be my good fortune to be your choice you will ever have my heartfelt gratitude, and I assure you I shall recognize and appreciate my position if elected, as that of a public servant and from no official act of mine will any man know my politics.

Very Respectfully,
J. R. Finley.

The storms having passed they are happy; they have our best wishes for the future.

Murdered Helpless Babes.

Under the date of October 10, the following dispatch was sent from Paducah to the St. Louis Republic: John Haldinger, who ten days since in Livingston county, this State, cruelly beat and stamped to death a 3-year-old stepchild because it fretted while sick, was arrested Saturday in a secluded section of the neighboring part of Illinois and put in jail at Smithland, Ky. Yesterday he was in the section but a few weeks, and later by the mother of the child he killed.

Until his wife appeared Haldinger denied his identity, but on her appearance he gave in and confessed all. He later denied that Haldinger is his name, and said he had killed four other children and a man. He would not tell his name or where he came from. He did say that he came out of the Ohio on a flatboat and that in Indiana he married the woman whose child he killed.

Very Respectfully,
H. A. Haynes.

All of the supplies for the butter and cheese factory have been ordered, and in a few days operations will be commenced. The managers are encouraged and if the farmers will supply the milk at a fair price, the enterprise is going to succeed. It is now estimated that 150 gallons of milk per day will make the factory self-sustaining. Surely that amount can be readily supplied.

The Sturgis Enterprise tells of a big game cock fight which occurred a week ago last Sunday on Crittenden county ground. According to the Enterprise about seventy five of the boys were on hands, with a Crittenden rooster a Henderson chicken and a Sturgis fighter. The Crittenden bird knocked Henderson out the first round, then was made to tackle the Sturgis champion, and Sturgis was victorious. We are constitutionally opposed to chicken fighting, but to call on a Crittenden bird to whip two invaders in one day was hardly fair; if he had been given two days in which to do the job, he would have sent 'em both to grass.

Sues For A Divorce.

Bigham was indicted by the grand jury for complicity in the turkey scrape for connection with which John Crow and Sherman Wheeler entertained unpleasant remembrances. Bigham give bond for his appearance at Circuit Court.

On the Wrong Side.

Tuesday Sam Hughes, an old colored citizen, who had rounded up sixty-three years, was before the court of claims asking to be released from the future payment of poll-tax. He had been asked about his age, property, health and children and finally he was asked if he was in the war, "yes sir," came the answer promptly. "Then do you not get a pension?" The next interrogative, "ant how long did you serve?" The answer was: I served four years, and many's the time I heard do bullets sing, but when I come's to get the pension I found I was on the wrong. I served under Breckenridge. All dem four years I was fighter I thought I was on the right side, and everything was all right, but when it come's to get in de pension, dey told me I was on the wrong side.

When Uncle Sam had finished his remarks, somebody made a motion that he be released from poll-tax, and when the motion was put on the passage, the right hand of every magistrate was up high for its passage, and the old colored rebel soldier will pay no more poll-tax in Crittenden county.

NOTES.

The allowances made by the court of claims amount in the aggregate to something near $75.

It was a liberal court.

Three magistrates voted against allowing the County Judge and County Attorney $500 each.

The county health affair asked for $100 and got $50.

Foster Threlkeld, Foster Crider and Green Crawford asked for the Tola bridge, and got it easily—there being only one vote against the appropriation.

Ford's Ferry is coming to the front; the bridge will help her.

The magistrates will convene again to make the county levy as soon as the legislature gets the law in shape.

Hereafter the poll tax can be no more than $1.50; hence a property tax will be in order.

The County Superintendent will be given office room in the court house next year free of charge. Heretofore he has been paying rent.

There may be an iron fence around the public square yet. The present generation however, may not see it.

AT LAST.

Notice is hereby given to the stock holders, and to all others who wish to furnish milk, that the butter and cheese factory will begin operating on Wednesday Oct. 19th, and we suggest that all begin right away to feed their cows so that the yield of milk may be greater and it is sincerely hoped that the whole community will do their utmost to make this enterprise a complete success.
