COLD IN E.

Shops of Berlin and All the Stream.

Horrible Stories and Suffering In the.

Berlin, Jan. 18.—Through-out Europe continues tense. In this city the cold severe, being twenty-three below.

The bodies of three persons been frozen to death were in the streets to-day. Navigating suspended on the Elbe, ship-owners have ordered vessels to proceed to other parts from South America but to Bremerhaven.

Intensely cold weavers throughout Brandenburg East Prussia. All the stream-ers. In this city all skating and ice festivals have been on account of the great discom-forting them. The shops and most of the cabmen their stands. The poor of Prussia are suffering keenly.

Tension of trade has left tens of thousands unemployed who in the duller of former seasons have had in Berlin alone Wilhelm Liebknecht more than 100,000 men of no employment.

Horrible stories come from remote regions of Europe, usually the Balkans of death arising caused by the severity of winter. In Serbia the wolves have been the forests and howl about in villages in search of a young girl was devoured by the wild animals, and another made her way to the streets of the city. In Sago packs of wolves have been to enter the sheep folds, refuse to retreat when fired upon by hunters.

Dispatches from Russia that there is great suffering in towns, where the famine prevails last year, the people have been weakened by their former struggles to make sufficient provision of food and fuel for the winter. In Russia, the wild animals, made desperate by hunger and cold, have been in the villages and devoured both human beings and domestic animals.

NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

CALDWELL-COUNTY NEWS.

[From the Banner.]

Princeton again has the electric light fever. This time Eugene, who by the way is one of our most enterprising men, is at work on the project.

Mrs. Eliza Perry, formerly this county, died at her home near Princeton last Sunday night very suddenly. Her remains were brought here and buried Tuesday at the family burying ground about five miles north of town. Mrs. Perry was about 65 years of age.

James Moore residing near Cedar Springs was robbed a short time since of two hundred and fifty dollars. Mr. Moore went to assist one of his neighbors to kill his pork, and was accompanied by his wife, leaving alone at home. On their return, late in the afternoon, they found that the dwelling had been forcibly entered, and everything in their private chamber in a state of confusion. On examination Mr. Moore found that he had been robbed of the above named sum. No clue to the robbery has as yet been obtained.

A number of Homeopathic physicians met here yesterday and organized a Western Kentucky Homeopathic Society. Dr. Young, of Hopkinsville, was elected President, and Dr. Anderson, of Princeton, Secretary. About twenty physicians applied for membership and a safe organization was effected.

HOPKINS COUNTY NEWS.

[From the Hustler.]

Will Wiley, a negro from Earlinton, was brought to town a few days since and placed in jail for 30 days and with a $50 fine hanging over him. He pulled a pistol on a man, made him give up a hat and was making off with the plunder when caught. He may perhaps have to serve a term in the penitentiary for highway robbery.

it was a case of heart-failure. He was about 55 years old, and was well-known to many of our readers as a genial whole-souled fellow.

Charles Mash and Henry Grant, both colored, engaged in a quarrel over some very trifling matter at their matter at their boarding house in this city last Tuesday night. After words had lost all effect, Charles hurled a brick, he claims in self defense, at his antagonist who was approaching him with a drawn pistol. The brick went wide of its mark nearly demolishing a window. At that instant Henry fired the ball entering the shoulder of Mash and lodging somewhere under the collar bone. Dr. Dulin was called and dressed the wound. Grant immediately left and is supposed to have gone to Tennessee, his former home.—Earlington Bee.

UNION COUNTY NEWS.

[From the Union Local.]

The upper portion of the county presents a case of desertion that calls for the condemnation of all good people. Two years ago John Cleveland, of near Robinsonville, deserted his young wife near Paducah, Ky., whether they had moved. He was gone from her about six months. In the meantime she returned to her father's home near Hillville. Coming home last spring, the truant husband persuaded the trusting wife to again live with him. During the past summer he raised a crop of corn and tobacco in the vicinity. Selling the proceeds in his pocket, and during Christmas week, disposing of the corn, he deposited price of same in his private bank account, and without a word of warning to anybody, unexpectedly skipped the country, leaving her and the little child, as report says, without a bit of meat or ounce of bread, nor money to procure either.

We learn that a negro man was found down the O. V. railroad, nearly frozen to death the first of the week, his feet and hands bursting open. He was brought to Morganfield and placed in the poor-house, where he soon died, and was buried by the county.

[From Sturgis Enterprise.]

The Methodistists at Morganfield will build a new $10,000 church.

Mart Wadon, a prominent farmer of the Bordley neighborhood and well known throughout the county died suddenly of pneumonia at Corydon on last Saturday. His remains were interred at Bordley the Monday following. This makes the third death which has occurred in the family within the past few months.

Butler's Big Brain.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 17.—It is stated that an autopsy on the body of General Butler, previous to interment, showed that the cause of the death was caused by the bursting of a small blood vessel on the brain, caused by a violent fit of coughing. All the internal organs were found to be in excellent condition, and but for the accidental cause of his death he would probably have lived many years. His brain weighed four ounces more than that of Daniel Webster, which was one of the largest on record.

THE FRAUD OF '76.

How It Was Made Possible For Hayes to be President.

It has always been contended that Mr. Hayes was not rightfully elected President, but that he was seated by fraud. The Presidential election of 1876 occasioned one of the most critical disputes to which the working of our political institutions has ever given rise.

After the election it was found that the vote in Florida and South Carolina was very close and the result uncertain, and that in Louisiana, though the majority of the vote cast was unquestionably Democratic, the result might be reversed under the power of the State returning Board to throw out returns vitiated by alleged violence and fraud.

The Republican National Committee decided to adopt fraudulent means to promote the election of Republican electors, if fair means would not avail. A conspiracy was hatched in New York to throw out some of the Democratic votes in the three States in which the result of the election was in doubt and return Republican electors. As a result, in Florida, South Carolina and Louisiana two sets of certificates were issued and sent to Washington, one for the Republican electors. Previous to this a committee of Republicans had been sent to New Orleans to witness the canvass in the interest of a "fair" count. The Democratic National Committee also sent a committee there, among whom were John M. Palmer, Henry Watterson, Samuel J. Randall, Wm. S. Morrison, Oswald Ottendorfer, of New York, and Colonel J. O. Broadhead, of Missouri.

There was much dispute and contention over the returns, and many claims and protests. No agreement was reached, and after a stormy period of filibustering two sets of certificates were issued. There had been a controversy pending for some time in Congress in regard to the matter of counting and declaring the electoral votes of the several States, and the matter was still unsettled when the returns of Florida, South Carolina and Louisiana were presented to Congress. A joint committee of the two houses was created to devise a method for settling such disputes as might arise. Out of this was born the Electoral Commission. Five members of this commission were to be appointed by each house. The Associate Justices of the Supreme Court for the First, Third, Eighth and Ninth circuits were designated to act with them after agreeing upon a fifth Justice to be appointed by their number. In this way the commission was made up of Senators Edmunds, Morton, Frelinghuysen, Thurman and Bayard—three Republicans and two Democrats; Representatives Payne, Hunt, Abbott, Hoar and Garfield—three Democrats and two Republicans; and Justices Clifford, Field, Strong and Bradley, the last named being the one agreed upon by the others.

The Democrats who voted for the bill creating the electoral commission expected that David Davis of Illinois would be the fifth Justice on the Commission and the 15th and last chosen member of that body. Instead, Davis suddenly conceived an ambition to go to the United States Senate, resigned his judgeship and became ineligible. It was then that Joseph Bradley of New Jersey became the balance of power. He was a Republican. The decisions of the contested returns were all in favor of the Republican claims by a vote of 8 to 7 and Hayes was declared elected. A word from Samuel J. Tilden at this time would have created a revolution, but Tilden was a patriot, as well as a statesman and politician, and he refused to lend himself to violent measures. Hayes Cabinet consisted of Wm. M. Evarts of New York, Secretary of State; John Sherman of Ohio, Secretary of the Treasury; George W. McCrary of Iowa, Secretary of War; Richard W. Thompson of Indiana, Secretary of the Navy; Carl Schurz of Missouri, Secretary of the Interior; David M. Key of Tennessee, Postmaster General, and Charles Devens of Massachusetts, Attorney General.

Broadhead, of Missouri.

There was much dispute and contention over the returns, and many claims and protests. No agreement was reached, and after a stormy period of filibustering two sets of certificates were issued. There had been a controversy pending for some time in Congress in regard to the matter of counting and declaring the electoral votes of the several States, and the matter was still unsettled when the returns of Florida, South Carolina and Louisiana were presented to Congress. A joint committee of the two houses was created to devise a method for settling such disputes as might arise. Out of this was born the Electoral Commission. Five members of this commission were to be appointed by each house. The Associate Justices of the Supreme Court for the First, Third, Eighth and Ninth circuits were designated to act with them after agreeing upon a fifth Justice to be added to their number. In this way the commission was made up of Senators Edmunds, Morton, Frelinghuysen, Thurman and Bayard—three Republicans and two Democrats; Representatives Payne, Hunt, Abbott, Hoar and Garfield—three Democrats and two Republicans, and Justices Clifford, Field, Strong and Bradley, the last named being the one agreed upon by the others.

The Democrats who voted for the bill creating the electoral commission expected that David Davis of Illinois would be the fifth Justice on the Commission and the 15th and last chosen member of that body. Instead, Davis suddenly conceived an ambition to go to the United States Senate, resigned his justiceship and became ineligible. It was then that Joseph Bradley of New Jersey became the balance of power. He was a Republican. The decisions of the contested returns were all in favor of the Republican claims by a vote of 8 to 7 and Hayes was declared elected. A word from Samuel J. Tilden at this time would have created a revolution, but Tilden was a patriot, as well as a statesman and politician, and he refused to lend himself to violent measures. Hayes Cabinet consisted of Wm. M. Evans of New York, Secretary of State; John Sherman of Ohio, Secretary of the Treasury; George W. McCrary of Iowa, Secretary of War; Richard W. Thompson of Indiana, Secretary of the Navy; Carl Schurz of Missouri, Secretary of the Interior; David M. Key of Tennessee, Postmaster General, and Charles Devans of Massachusetts, Attorney General.

FIERY DEATH.

Six Persons Roasted Alive and Seventeen Others May Die.

St. Louis, Jan. 21.—A wreck, which in its consequences is one of the most appalling and disastrous that has happened in years, occurred at Alva Junction, Ill., this morning. The Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Southwestern limited passenger train, consisting of an engine and four coaches, which left here this morning for the East, ran into an open switch half a mile north of Wann Junction, and crashed into a train consisting of seven tank cars standing thereon. The result was a fire, and afterward an explosion, which has already cost six persons their lives and probably fatally injured seventeen others, while fully fifty more are suffering from painful burns. The property lost to the company is great.

St. Louis, Jan. 22.—Eleven additional deaths up to 6 o'clock is the record of the dual catastrophe at Alton Junction since midnight last night. Seventeen are now dead and the physicians say at least six others will die. All the dead were burned to

As Seen By Kentucky Papers.

OUR FOUR STAPLES.

"If Mr. Cleveland should appoint every member of his Cabinet from Kentucky we would still have enough great men to keep business running at the old stand. When it comes to whisky, tobacco, stud 'horses' and statehood, Kentucky is without a peer or comparable rival.—Williamsburg Times.

PORTENT HOPES.

The Democratic commenting on the cold weather says that the Democrats won money enough to equip themselves with fur-lined overcoats appropriate to the season. And the paper might have added that before another winter rolls around these same Democrats would further shut out the cold by being snugly ensconced in quarters now held by the Republican office-holders.—Princeton Banner.

HOLD FAST TO WHAT YOU HAVE.

Too many good men are hankering after the flesh pots to allow one office to be used simply as a stepping-stone to a higher one. Mr. Brown is making a good Governor, and numerous friends who helped elect him are not only willing out would prefer that he should continue as Governor, at least for the present.—Georgetown Times.

IN THE SWEET EYE AND EYE.

The Nicholas Democrat asks the question, "Is the separate coach bill a dead letter?" Why, hell your old soul, it is not. Didn't you know the law doesn't go into effect until ninety days of the adjournment of the legislature? And if you can figure out just when that body will bring its business to a close, we will then tell you about when you may expect the law to be in effect.—Murray Ledger.

HAVE YOU TRIED IT?

It is easier to "swear off" when you are drunk than when sober.—Sturgis Enterprise.

SUBSTANCE OF THE WHOLE THING.

Good roads cannot be constructed and maintained without expenditure of money, and the question first in order, how to raise the money. When this question is satisfactorily settled, the chief difficulty will be overcome.—Frankfort Capital.

License Tax.

Under the new law the amounts to license tax for different privileges are as follows:

To keep a tavern, $10.

To keep a tavern with the privilege of selling malt liquors, $50.

To keep a tavern with the privilege of retailing spirituous and vinous liquors $100.

To retail malt liquors, $50.

To retail spirituous and vinous liquors, $100.

To distillers of spirituous and malt liquors, $150.

To distillers of spirituous and malt liquors who desire to retail their own product $75.

To manufacturers of vinous liquors who desire to retail their own product, $25.

Storekeepers license, $75.

Druggist license, $50.

To sell playing cards, $5.

To sell pistols, $25.

To sell bowie-knives, dirks, brass knuckles or slug shots, $50.

License to run pool, billiard and pigeon-hole table, $30 for the first and $20 for each additional table.

Pawnbrokers license, $300.

License to run bowling alley in a city of 10,000 people, $40; in smaller towns $20 for each alley or hallway.

Circus and menagerie license, $1.00 for each 100 voters, and in the same for each side show per exhibition; but the same shall not exceed $50.

Exhibiting only trained or educated animals per day, $5.

Acres license, a sum equal to the largest single service fee.

Peddlers license are as follows:

One person with a two horse wagon, $50.

One person with a one-horse wagon, $40.

One person on horseback, $30.

One person on foot, or each person who may accompany a peddler with a wagon, $0.

To peddle in one county in this State, one fourth of the tax required for the entire State.

Lightning rod and patent right peddlers are taxed twice the amount of other peddlers.

The Crittenden Press

ISSUED WEEKLY.

R. C. WALKER, Publisher.

The Legislature will adjourn—this year.

Andrew Carnegie has reached home, after sojourning in Europe for many months.

Lucius Quintus Cincinnatus Lamar, one of the ablest and purest men of the age, is dead.

This section of the country may not always be able to catch murderers, but the cock fighters will have.

Gov. Brown left the Senatorial fight before there was much skirmishing. He will evidently be heard from when Blackburn's term expires.

The Lower House of Congress has passed the National quarantine bill; its object is to intercept the cholera if it approaches our shores next summer.

Father John Culleton, a learned, loved and popular priest, who had charge of the church at Raywick, Marion county, renounced his priestly orders and married.

We frequently hear of a millionaire leaving vast sums to found colleges, and public libraries. They never turn the dollars about, however, until the angel of death, demands, "hands up."

There are only five Democrats in the Kansas Legislature, but while the Senatorial fight is waging, they are the biggest five in the grasshopper State. They hold the balance of power.

Lamar is gone; Hayes has departed; Butler is no more; but Blaine fights on for a foot hold on the earth. His star was the brightest, flecked the highest heavens, and sinks out of sight the slowest.

Of the 306 delegates who voted so long for Grant in the Republican convention of 1880, 256 are living and they are arranging for a big banquet at Philadelphia April 27, anniversary of Grant's birth.

The coal miners at Central City and some other Kentucky miners demanded an increase in wages last week, and failing to get their demands, quit work. They wanted to share in the profits of the increased price of coal. Who will blame them.

The new postage stamp is much larger than the old, and will require more than the ordinary amount of tongue to lick it off in one pass. Evidently John W. Wainwright is trying to force Mr. Cleveland to fill the office with women.

Mr. Cleveland evidently believes in the Carlises. He will make Logan Carlisle, a son of John G., his private secretary. He has pinned his faith to a staple article, and honored a great State in so doing. Kentucky is now in shape to guarantee a successful administration.

An eighteen-year-old Kansas girl, upon being released from prison, where she had been confined for stealing a horse, immediately took two horses and a carriage. If a private citizen, a girl at that, a young and pretty one, too, steals two horses, what need is there in being surprised at what other party in a double barrel legislature may do, when hanging around the valuable toga of a United States Senator.

Western Kentucky will not accept Lindsay as a Western Kentucky candidate. He is all right and would make an admirable Senator, but he has resided too long in Frankfort to be accepted as a bona fide citizen of our own "Pennyroyal" or Purchase citizen. We are proud that he once lived in Western Kentucky, but a new generation has sprung up since his sojourn here, and by it he is not considered a native of this hallowick. There is not but one Western Kentucky man in the United States Senate.

of the western man in the United States Senate. There is not but one Western Kentucky man in the United States Senate.

CAUCUS CALLED.

A United States Senator To Be Nominated Feb. 2nd.

The Democratic members of the Kentucky Legislature will meet in caucus February 2nd, to nominate a successor to Senator Carlisle. Stone, McCreary and Lindsay are the three candidates; and at this time, Lindsay appears to have more votes than either of the others, though he has not enough to nominate him. There are 99 votes, making 50 necessary to choice. The estimates vary according to the inclination of the men making them. Lindsay men claim that they will be able to nominate him on the first ballot, while his more conservative following claim that he now has 45 votes. Another estimate, which is perhaps near correct gives Lindsay 41, McCreary 41, and Stone 17. Stone holds the balance of power, and in the event of a long struggle, he is more likely to draw from the forces of the other candidates than they from him. The papers speak very highly of his dignified, heightened efforts to secure the prize; he evidently has the respect and admiration of his opponents, and if a break from their ranks should come, Stone is in a mighty fine shape to profit thereby.

Thousands of petitions for opening the World's Fair on Sunday are being sent to Congress. We may be old fashioned and out of touch with the times but the following sounds mighty like good doctrine to us:

"Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy."

"Six days shalt thou labour, and do all thy work."

"But the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord, thy God; in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy man servant, nor thy maid servant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gate."

It is true that this is not from the pen of any modern writer, who has waxed wise under the penetrating light of the nineteenth century, but it is in the same book, and, in the same connection, there are some other things set forth, for the observance of which we are mighty anxious; if, then, a part is good, why not the whole. This quotation, with some other things make a mighty powerful buzz-saw, and an article to run up against which is sometimes disastrous.

The Senatorial Race.

EDITOR PRESS.—I would not, if I could, pluck a single laurel from the brow of any aspirant for honors in the State Senatorial race, rather rejoicing, as a Democrat, that we have so many capable and worthy men. But in my humble judgment, the county and the district could do more handsome a thing than the making of Mr. S. O. Nunn the next State Senator. Mr. Nunn is a young Democrat, who has always been faithful, earnest and untiring in his work for the party; he has not only been there to vote, but in every contest has worked like a Trojan for the ticket, and many is the time that his precinct has pulled out boys through when all hope was lost. Every Democrat in this county knows this is true. In his devotion to the party Mr. Nunn has been unselfish; his only desire being to see the party and its nominees succeed. He has but once been a candidate, and was then elected to the House. His course as an official then met the hearty approval of the people of his district; he was always at his post of duty, and always had the nerve to stand for that which he conceived to be right, and demand that which he promised his constituency. His course in the House demonstrated his ability and his high sense of honor and conscientious appreciation of the responsibilities resting upon an official. His experience in the House amply qualifies him for a useful career in the Senate. He is and always has been a farmer, but is awake in the interest of all alike. He is deserving, he is competent and will be faithful.

A VOTER.

It is not often that Marion precinct captures an appropriation from the board of magistrates, unless it is for jail or court house repairs, and the Press sincerely hopes that the magistrates will find it in their hearts to give us one for an iron fence around the court house. The precinct is paying the taxes that got the railroad; under the ad valorem tax system the precinct will pay the lion's share of taxes for bridges, etc., and of the precinct's amount, the town will pay the lion's share. We have no objection to paying our slice of the funds necessary to build bridges, wherever they are needed, all we ask gentlemen is a slight recognition now and then. The ragged old board fence is a freckle upon our fair face, a tetter-worm around the court house, and its removal will be appreciated. Hurricane may have bridge, Ford's Ferry may locate her bridge wherever she chooses, Piney may continue to enjoy her iron bridge, and Duesburg may cross and recross her iron bridge, and we will not grumble about our share of the tax. Now, gentlemen, drop us about $500 for beautifying the public square, and we are for you all for re-election.

BLACKFORD.

Saturday a house occupied by Bland Jernerson, at this place, was destroyed by fire. About half of the household goods were lost. The house belonged to Sam Davis; no insurance.

Dock Stephenson and — Traylor disagreed here Sunday morning and a personal encounter followed. Nobody to bury.

Our town is still improving; the latest addition is a grocery store, owned by Mr. Berry.

The real estate market is lively; several tracts have been made, and the prices show that land in this vicinity is advancing.

Dodge & Kelley have bought all the tobacco in this country.

The big saw mill here will be in operation as soon as Tradewater is navigable. Mr. Forbes, the owner, will put in a planing mill.

George Woodson and Miss Maggie Franklin went to Shawneetown Sunday morning and returned at night man and wife. Mr. Woodson is a prosperous young farmer, a son of Mr. S. S. Woodson; the bride was a daughter of Mr. Ben Franklin, who recently moved from Webster to Crittenden.

CROOKED CREEK.

Rev Atwood filled his appointment Saturday and Sunday at this place.

The Crooked Creek class had a good singing Friday night.

Ira Hughes and wife attended church here Sunday.

Isaac Sprill has moved out of our neighborhood to Ford's Ferry.

Jack Thomas and lady visited in these parts Sunday.

Miss Dell Kevill closed her school at this place Saturday. The evening exercises were composed of singing, spelling and recitations. Misses Laura Gilbert and Rosie Gahagan were the prize winners. We give our kind regards to the Marion pupils for their presence on that day.

Bert Stout attended church at town Sunday night.

Some of the boys of Beech Valley came in our midst Monday evening last after a wagon load of girls to take to a candy breaking in their parts as they had failed in getting a crowd of their own girls, so we fill their bill and sent them on their way rejoicing. Call again boys we can fill the bill at any time. If first you don't succeed try, again.

SHADY GROVE.

After a long cessation of hostilities we propose to give you a few items from the East End. Our little town is not exactly on a boom like all other towns are said to be, but it has not retrograded any for nearly forty years.

Our merchants all have an "I" to business. They have learned that to draw and retain custom it is important to keep a good assortment, and they have adopted the wise plan of keeping in stock such things as they happen to have on hand.

Our tobacco men, Woodall, Dollar & Co. are prizing and hauling to Marion. Their house is considerably crowded. One of the firm, Mr. Boone, has moved to this town.

Everybody and all their families are going to raise tobacco this year; but these crops raised around the fire place during the winter often fail to pan out in due season. This section, however, is very well in corn and tobacco the past year, and taken generally, our farmers are as independent and clear of debt as those of any locality around them, and they have every reason to hope for good results from the coming crop year.

The Baptist brethren held a meeting last Saturday and called Rev. U. J. Fox to preach for them the ensuing year.

Farmer Birch, our hotel keeper, the well known timber man, has sold to J. Kelly Beard a part of the large hotel lot and Mr. Beard will proceed at once to build residence thereon.

James Coleman the son of ———

for Caldwell, was here on business and visiting friends last week.

Dan Browning, of the Life Insurance Corp., makes his headquarters at the Birch Hotel and radiates all around. We are told that the young ladies like his company very well but have not yet approved his policy.

Sam A. Frazier is still nothing but "old batch."

Since the mention in the Press of the candidates and probable candidates for the Legislature, the writer has had an interview with our fellow-townsmen, Dr. J. N. Todd, on the subject. He has but little to say so far ahead of the time but seems willing to allow the bee to gently buzz until the hour and article for action shall arrive.

John G. Asher now has the best stock of pure drugs to be found in the place.

Henry Towery is still our postmaster and so far as we know is willing to continue to bear the burthen even under the incoming administration.

FREDONIA.

Rev. Jasper Wells preached a good sermon at the C. P. church last Sunday night.

Rev. J. B. Fletcher, of Tennessee, will preach at the C. P. church Tuesday night, January 31st. Rev. Fletcher was raised near Fredonia, but has been absent for many years.

Mat Dalton and William Tash posed through town Monday morning with two loads of nice looking tobacco for Carlin at Marion.

It will pay every farmer and stockman in this county to subscribe to the Farmer's Review, published in Chicago. W. C. Glenn, Agt.

Some of the citizens here, through the solicitations of Miss Orphanetta Wyatt, presented Rev. Jasper Wells with a nice overcoat, tie, &c, last week.

B. A. Jacobs has a good trade, but would add to his stock if those indebted to him would settle up; remember time is short; don't run the risk of dying in debt.

S. C. Bennett, of Caldwell Springs, was in town Monday.

The coal famine effected the people of this community to a considerable extent.

The Kelsey Hotel, under the management of Mrs. Patterson and daughter, Miss Clare, is doing a splendid business. A large share of patronage solicited for them, as they well deserve it.

Wiley Dollar was in town Monday for the first time for two or three months; he has had a severe wrestle with the mumps.

Rev. Jasper Wells preaches a great many deaths in this community during the spring and summer; do good while you may and prepare for judgment day.

Miss Sadie Webber with her father's will leave in a few days for their future home in Michigan. Miss Sadie will leave many broken hearts in this community.

A valuable premium is offered to the most regular attendant in the Ladies Bible Class, Fredonia Sunday school, during 1893.

Don't neglect to renew your subscription to the Press pay up all arrearages and you will be happy.

R. L. Wigginton and wife were visiting in the country last Sunday.

S. C. McElroy, of New Bethel, was in town Monday.

Attention, everybody; Loyd & Pilant will run their cruise Monday, Wednesday and Friday each week; patronage solicited.

Harry Patterson, nine-year-old son of Joe Patterson, has been dangerously ill for the past eight weeks, with several doctors attending him; and not much prospect of his recovery.

Charley Morgan, of Marion, was visiting his mother here last Sunday.

TO LEVY THE TAX

The Board of Magistrate Meet Monday.

Monday the County Judge order made upon the books, the sheriff to summons the magistrates of the county to the court-house Monday, Jan. 22nd, to levy the county tax. When court was in session last fall, the court had not completed the bill, and the tax could not be levied. Hereafter the poll taxes, under the new law, tax cannot exceed $1.50. The necessary amount of an ad valorem tax amount of this board may any sum not to exceed 50 cent $100 worth of taxable property county.

In addition to the tax, other matters will come before the board. At the fall term of $10000 was appropriated to a bridge at Tolu; it was afterwards at $1000 would not do the work, and the commissioner, advising with a number of magistrates to complete it, and make it the purpose, $1200, or $200 and will be necessary. This approp will be asked for.

At the last term an order was to have an auction put upon public square, and commissioner appointed to receive bids for the same. These commissioners will present Monday.

An appropriation of $2000 was for a bridge at Ford's Ferry.

The work has never been completed, and the following petition is presented to the court, to complete it.

Whereas the Court of Claims October term, 1892, approp $2,000 to build a bridge across at Ford's Ferry, now we, the citizens living in the vicinity of Ford's Ferry, Clementsburg, etc., respectfully ask the court to complete it.

By so doing it will be a general convenience to the people living in the community mentioned, but if built at Ford's it will be a convenience to only citizens. The petition is signed by a hundred citizens.

SHOT DOWN IN THE RO

John Van Cleve Meets His End At the Hands of Silas Ren Near DeKoven.

DeKoven, Ky., Jan. 21.—A truly occurred near DeKoven last night 7 o'clock. One of the participants was John Van Cleve, of near the same age, and called him to the door, telling his parents that he intended to invite young Van Cleve to accompany him to an entertainment which was to occur in the neighborhood next night. Van Cleve answered the call and went to the room, where Renick was waiting. It was but a few minutes till the report of two pistol shots was heard and Silas Renick lay dead in the road from a pistol in the hand of John Van Cleve. A messenger was dispatched to DeKoven and a coroner's jury summoned.

Van Cleve at once mounted his horse, and saying that he was going to Morganfield to give himself up, rode rapidly away. He reached that place early this morning and is now in jail to await an examining trial. An old grudge is said to be the cause of the murder. Some time ago Renick moved away but lately being re-employed by Mr. McKinley, farmer, returned and just finished moving yesterday. It is claimed that Renick had his clothing laying on the bed and a revolver, but said he would go over to Van Cleve's before dressing for the entertainment, saying that he was a neighbor again he would like to be friendly. When no weapon was Marriage licenses have been issued to John R. Marvel and Miss Sarah E. Shoemaker.

Mr. J. S. Fowler, "Uncle John," has been appointed collector for the Marion Roller Mills.

I have but 300 bushels of seed oats on hand. If you want any call early.
Schwab.

It is a mistake about it being a girl; it is a new boy at my house, says Rufus Witherspoon.

J. W. Johnson is the place to buy groceries; he also keeps on hand flour, meal and provisions.

Will pay the highest market price in goods or cash for eggs.
J. N. Woods.

Don't forget that J. W. Johnson is in the grocery business and wants your trade; he will give bargains.

You will miss a valuable article, if you fail to buy the wagon bed liner sold by B. F. James.

The wife of Mr. Henry Young, who lived a few miles south of town, died Tuesday night, of consumption.

New stock of overshoes, just received as good as there is on the market. Mens, womens and misses.
J. N. Woods.

Did you see that dress that was made at Mrs. S. K. Dorr's; the fit was perfect and the price abominably cheap.

You will find Mrs. Miles at Mrs. S. K. Dorr's millinery store. I solicit your sewing, and will guarantee satisfaction.
Mrs. Julia Miles.

If you are in town Monday, or any other day, drop into the Puss office and leave your name and a dollar, and get the county news for a year.

I wish to buy new goose feather, for which I will pay the highest market price in cash or goods.
J. N. Woods.

J. W. Johnson has a repair shop in his store. Bring your shoes and boots that needs repairing and have it done cheap.

Cloaks, Cloaks.
Still a good stock of the best goods at J. N. Woods.

NO POSTOFFICE PRIMARY.

The Aspirants Will not all Agree to Submit to It.

The much talked of primary election to select a postmaster at Marion will not materialize. It will not settle the matter, because all of the candidates will not agree to submit their claims to this mode. Last week an agreement was drawn up, pledging the candidates to submit their claims, fixing February 11 as the day, and further pledging the candidates to support for the place one receiving the highest number of votes. The paper was presented to the candidates as they were met, and the four first accosted readily signed the document. Then came a hitch, the fifth did not like this method and declined to attach his signature; the sixth did likewise, and then the effort ceased. Two or three of those not seen were ready to sign the paper, but the failure to get the signatures of all put an end to the plan. The fight will therefore go on until the powers at Washington select the fortunate man. The office at this place pays something like $800, and in addition to this Postmaster Coffield has succeeded in getting an allowance of $100 for clerk hire. Out of the gross proceeds must come an additional amount for clerk hire, house rent, fuel, lights, etc.

W. L. Clement will be an applicant for the postoffice at Tolu. He will make a good one.

Dr. C. M. Preston, of Repton, was before the pension medical examiners Tuesday for examination.

SEED OATS.—I have a lot of large white seed oats for sale.
Joseph Samuels, Repton, Ky.

Hon. Sam O. Nunn went to Frankfort Monday night to do what he can towards electing our popular Congressman, Hon. W. J. Stone to the United States Senate.

Mr. Pat Sliney, a bridge contractor, of Paducah, was in town Monday. He has been down to view the two sites for the proposed bridge at and near Ford's Ferry.

Seed Oats for Sale.
I have a lot of seed oats for sale at 40 cents per bushel.
Daniel Stone, Tolu, Ky.

Flanagan Clark was in town Monday. He says that it is a mistake about his leaving a man at table waiting for his dinner, that he returned with the dinner, but did not wait until the man had eaten it.

Ira Rice, col., was before the police court Monday for drunkenness and other cussedness. He was fined $7.50 but in default of payment, he was given an opportunity to leave the county, which he did.

Administrators Notice.
All persons having claims against the estate of Josephine Ashley, dec'd, must present the same, properly proven, at once.
W. B. Crider, Adm'r.

S. O. Nunn was Dept. Warden of the branch penitentiary at this place for some time, and made many friends here who would like to see him in the State Senate and the Tale of Two Cities predicts that the man who beats him will be the next Senator for that district.—Tale of Two Cities.

Hogs, cattle and everything has advanced. So has clover seed; before they go clear out of sight, you had better call at Schwab's and get what you need. He has plenty.
Schwab.

Here's to You.
We have quite a lot of notes and accounts that are now past due. We must collect these at once; we need all the money due us and cannot wait any longer. Please call at once and settle.
Yours truly,
Pierce & Son.

While sugar and coffee has advanced I will still give you 18 pounds granulated, or 21 pounds New Orleans granulated for $1; 43 pounds of the very best coffee, and 54 pounds of medium coffee for $1. Soda has advanced 12 cent a pound, but we will still give you 6 pounds for 25 cents.
Schwab.

There is considerable complaint about the behavior of some of the young people at church. It is of people who have been raised better and know better, too. Yesterday there was talk of warrants. If there is a repetition of certain conduct, there will be some fines to pay by some folks who will be deeply mortified, and when the matter goes into the paper too.

Attorney J. M. Worten, of Smithland, was in the city today enroute home from Cairo, where he had been in the interest of young Harvey Ramage, who is in jail there charged with the murder of Officer Henry Dunker, of that city, last fall. The case will come up for trial next month. Ramage is a native of Livingston county, his father now being a resident. He went to Cairo last fall in company with some friends and while Officer Dunker was attempting the arrest of a friend of Ramage, the latter deliberately shot and killed him.—Paducah News.

Messrs Carl Flannery and Levi Cook left Monday night for Lebanon, O., to attend school.

Mrs. Mollie Wilson, and Miss Jennie Wilson of Caldwell county, are guests of friends in Marion.

Mr. Cumdiffe, the night operator at the O. V. depot, at this place, left Tuesday night to spend a week at his home in Pulaski county.

Mr. G. H. Kennedy and wife, of Leola, was in town Sunday. Mrs. Kennedy was enroute home from a visit to friends in Graves county.

Cashier Loving, of the Marion Bank, was confined at home Monday and Tuesday on account of illness, but his popular Assistant Mr. T. J. Yandell, jr., kept the bank going all right.

Mrs. Mollie Lebetter, of Elizabeth town, Ill., is the guest of her father's family at this place. In a few weeks she will join her husband at Parsons, Kansas, where he has located, and where they will make their future home. He is in the lumber business.

P. H. Woods has purchased from Mrs. Hoover, of this place, the Bruce Bros. business house at Crayneville.

A pretty fight is on for the post office at Tolu. The contestants are Walter Clement and E. B. Moore.

Fenwick-Jenkins.
Mr. B. S. Fenwick, of this place, and Miss Artha E. Jenkins, of West Point, Ky., were united in marriage in the parlor of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, Louisville, at noon, Tuesday Jan. 24. The wedding was a quiet affair, only a few intimate friends witnessing the consummation of the happy event. Mr. and Mrs. Fenwick received their home here yesterday evening.

The bride is a most excellent young lady, of one of the best families of the State. A few months ago she visited Mrs. G. C. Gray, of this place, and while here, made many friends among Marion people.

Mr. Fenwick is a popular salesman of one of the largest firms of this place; he numbers his friends by the score, and all join with the Press in extending congratulations, and welcoming the beautiful bride to her new home.

Committee For a Lunatic.
Monday the County Court appointed W. J. LaRue, committee for Jas W. Champion who was a short time ago sent to the asylum. Mr. LaRue was also appointed administrator of the personal property of Catharine Champion in the place of Jas W. Champion.

STILL A MYSTERY.

Sallie Moore's - Whereabouts Still Unknown.

New York, Jan. 22.—No progress was made to-day toward solving the mystery of Miss Sallie Moore's disappearance on last Monday. Her sister, Mrs. Cornell, of 154 West One Hundred and Third street, at whose house the young Kentucky girl had been staying, said this evening that many persons had called during the day who thought they had seen the missing girl at various places during the week, but in every case save one these supposed clues have proved worthless.

The exception is a possible trace of Miss Moore furnished by a letter which the Cornells received yesterday. While they do not place much faith in it, Mr. and Mrs. Cornell are withholding the information the letter contained until they can investigate it to morrow, fearing that its publication in advance might frustrate their efforts if Miss Moore is, as they suppose, hiding from them in order to secure employment.

Mr. Cornell is contemplating increasing the reward which he now offers for tidings of his sister-in-law from $200 to $500.

The following advertisement offering for information concerning Miss Moore appears in the New York Herald:

INFORMATION WANTED OF THE whereabouts of the young lady who left her home, West 103d st., 16 inst., and did not return; last seen at Stern Bros.; she was dressed in a blue and black fine checked cloth dress, black jacket, black felt hat, trimmed with black feathers, black ribbon and jet ornament, black veil, brown kid gloves and wore a heart shaped breast pin, with moonstone center, surrounded by rubies; she was five feet six and a half inches tall, of full figure; weighing 135 lbs., $200 will be paid for full information. JANITOR, 133 West 103d.

THE DARK ANGEL.

People Who Have Joined the Silent Majority.

Mr. Berry Knight, an old citizen of the Dyersburg neighborhood, died last Friday.

Mrs. Smith died at the home of her son, Mr. Pete Northern, a few miles from town, Sunday night. She was seventy-two years old.

David Hartigan, a well known citizen of the Salem neighborhood, died Wednesday morning, after suffering several weeks of fever.

Thos. McChesney, eighteen-year-old son of Harvey McChesney, died at home in the Shady Grove neighborhood, Tuesday.

Murder At A Party.

Glasgow, Ky., Jan. 23.—A terrible tragedy occurred in this county Saturday night. An old feud existed between Sam Burgess and three brothers named Wheelock. They met at a social gathering Saturday night; the three brothers attacked Burgess; he killed one, mortally wounded another, and put a bullet hole through the other hat.

Representative Summers Sick.
Representative J. R. Summers reached Marion this morning from Frankfort and left immediately in a buggy for his home in Livingston county. He is sick, and his condition is such that he is hardly able to travel. A week ago he had a chill and has had fever since; his physicians advised him to come home, and fear that he will have typhoid fever. He is a strong Stone man, and left his proxy in Frankfort, and when the caucus comes on his vote will be counted for our congressman. As to a second choice Mr. Summers said that he left his vote sealed with instructions for it not to be opened until it became absolutely necessary to make a choice by Capt. Stone being out of the race. Nobody, he said, knows for whom that vote is.

A Child Scalded.

The little child of Marion Oliver, of Dyersburg, was badly, if not fatally scalded Monday. While its mother was absent from the room, it crawled to the fire place and pulled a tea-kettle of boiling over on itself.

Do You Want to Graduate?

On Friday Feb. 3, the board of school examiners will hold an examination in which all persons who desire to graduate in the common school branches may participate. The successful ones will be granted a diploma.

Another Constable.

The vacancies in the office of constable is being filled. Saturday Mr. F. M. Jacobs was appointed for Hurricane precinct. He qualified with Dr. I. H. Clement and Mr. J. C. Stephenson as his bondsmen. The county has four constables with three valuable vacancies to fill.

The Sheriff Takes Bonds.

Monday the Sheriff took the bond of Dempsey Station to appear at the next term of Circuit Court to answer the charge of cutting a tree across the public road; and the bond of John Imboden to answer the same court on the charge of cock fighting. Both were indicted at the last term of Circuit Court.

Want Quart Licenses.

Staten Bros., of Milford, in the extreme northwestern portion of the county, have notified the public that they will on Feb. 1, apply to the county court for merchants licenses to sell liquor by the quart. This firm has been handling liquor for some time at that point, and the application is for a renewal.

Will Apply for Licenses.

The revenue law requires distillers to procure from the county court a license before they are allowed to sell liquor by the quart. Messrs. F. E. Robertson & Co., the distillers at this place, have posted the regulation notice to the effect that they will on January 28, next Saturday, make application for license. The State taxes of this character of licenses is $50 per annum.

We Die to Live. Live to Die.

Mr. C. H. Kleiderer has started a well equipped dye house in Henderson, Ky., and if you or your friends have work of any description, either cleaning, dyeing, or repairing; would be glad if you would give him a trial; satisfaction guaranteed, and work done as cheaply as possible. For further information call on or address Mrs. F. W. Loving, Marion, Ky., or C. H. Kleiderer, Henderson, Ky.

The Assessor Finishes.

Monday County Assessor McCaslin and his deputies completed the work of listing the property and polls of the county for a taxation. While the assessor has done no figuring, he is confident that the total amount of property listed for taxation this year will exceed, by several thousand dollars, the amount for last year. While the law exempts $250 worth of property of every house-keeper from taxation, the article heretofore not taxed will not only offset the exemption, but add considerably to the grand total.

A Small Blaze.

Just as Marion was getting out of bed Monday morning the bells sounded the fire alarm, and the bright blaze and curling smoke carried the half-awake citizens towards the handsome residence of Mr. A. J. Pickens. The residence was not afire, but the "smoke-house" but a few feet from the residence was ablaze. It burned to the ground; and it took close careful work to save the residence, and then it did not escape being damaged. The origin of the fire, which but for prompt work would have been a costly one, is not known.

Chopped His Hand Off.

Two or three days since an inmate of the Eddyville penitentiary, whose name could not be ascertained, deliberately took a hatchet, and placing one of his hands on a block, hacked it off, and coolly remarked afterward, "Now, let them make me work at that job." It seems that he did not like work, and was of a rather stubborn disposition, displaying a settled aversion, especially to the work he had been assigned to perform since his incarceration. As a consequence of his rash act, he is now suffering almost death in order to avoid work. After he recovers he will be subjected to some kind of punishment doubtless. The fellow was sent up from Graves county.—Paducah News.

Broke Jail.

A few night ago the prisoners in the Livingston county jail succeeded in escaping by sawing iron bars, and tunneling through the wall. They were not out long until the escape had been discovered, and several of the fugitives were captured. Those who were still at large at last accounts were:

Tom Crutchfield, charged with detaining a woman against her will.

E. A. Nuckels, colored, charged with murdering his wife.

A man named Fields, charged with leading a riot at Grand Rivers.

John Hildinger, who murdered the 2-year-old child of his mistress at Ryles Landing, and was captured near Shawmstown, a short time ago.

Respectfully,
J. W. SKELTON.

MUST CLOSE ON SUNDAY.

World's Fair People get into Trouble by Talking too Much.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 19.—Some of the Chicago people have been foolish enough to boast around the Capitol that if Congress does not amend the World's Fair bill so as to allow that institution to be open on Sundays it would be kept open anyway. Senator Pettigrew of South Dakota, evidently heard of this threat. He introduced in the Senate today a bill directing the Secretary of the Treasury to suspend the issue of sovereign coins to the World's Fair folks and not to resume it until a proper and acceptable bond had been filed with the Secretary of the Treasury that the law in regard to Sunday closing would be obeyed. This bond is to be for $2,500,000 and it is to be forfeited if the Fair should be kept open on Sunday in defiance of legislation now on the statute books prohibiting it.

A bill of similar purport was introduced in the House by Representative Ketchum, making it the duty of the Attorney General to sue and collect such bond on his ascertaining that the law has been violated.

Will be Buried and Resurrected.

Prof. Andrew F. Seymour, of Rockford, Ill., a mind reader, has begun preparations for a feat he proposes to accomplish next summer. He will, June 2, throw himself into a state of insensibility and will be buried. The grave is to be watched by a committee, day and night, while a crop of barley is sowed, ripened and harvested over it. Mr. Seymour will then be disinterred and will return to life. His feat, it is claimed, has been performed by the fakirs of India under conditions that prevented imposition, and Mr. Seymour says he has such control over his mind and nervous system that he is confident he can perform the act. —Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

Miners Want to Share the Profits.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 19.—Now that the coal operators have taken advantage of the condition of the Ohio River to advance the price of Kentucky coal 600 miners in Ohio county have struck for more wages. They are employed in the Bender, McHenry, Echols, Taylor and Williams mines. The men, since coal has advanced $1.50 per ton in the past week, demand an increase of half a cent per bushel for piece workers and an advance of 10 per cent for all day laborers. The McHenry Coal Company this afternoon acceded to the demands, but the other mines have not resumed operations. There is danger of the strike spreading all over the State, especially as there seems to have been no valid reason for raising the price of coal, and as there is great danger of a famine of Pittsburgh coal. Owners of the millions of the millions of bushels at the Pumpkin Patch have given up hope and fear great losses.

Teach Girls How to Use Money.

Would it not be wise in some exercises in the mysteries of money were added to the curriculum of every girl's studies? A boy finds it all out by actual contact with the public as soon as he is out and a part of it; but a girl may become a mature woman, shrinking then through the habit of long protection, and be thrown on the mercies of the world with her money to fall the prey to the first cheat and chosen. She is a taught at school the spectra of the stars, and the map of Mars; what pity that she should not be instructed in the workings of life on the planet where she lives! That a knowledge of the nature and meaning and cure of every girl's education is growing more and more evident in this age of enlargement and prosperity, which puts money into the hands of so many women. And in the coming century, the woman's century, as it is already called, in which so many women will be workers and earners of money, it is all the more important, in order that they may be neither handicapped nor too far outstripped, that they should be well instructed as to business movements and investments, that they may be directed in the right way before they set out to earn.

Men of Mark.

George Vanderbilt's collection of Rembrandt's etchings is considered the finest in the world. Ex-Prime Minister Crispi and a party of Italian friends propose to visit the Chicago Exposition. William F. Harty has an income of $25,000 a year as President of a Philadelphia business concern. Northampton, Mass., receives from E. H. R. Lyman of that city a $100,000 Academy of Music built by him last year. It is said that his success in various enterprises is making Secretary of War Elkins one of the wealthiest men of the country. The home life of H. Rider Haggard is beautiful in its simplicity and genuineness. The day opens with family prayers, which are read with gentle reverence by the master of the house in the large square entrance hall.

THE SEASON'S SNAKE YARN.

Colorado is Finding Petrified Reptiles Twenty-Four Feet in Length.

Cannon City, Colo. 21.—One of the most startling finds ever made in this section was unearthed today at Rockvale, a small mining camp nine miles northeast of here. The Santa Fe Coal Company was excavating in the bottom of a gulch, when a peculiar formation was run into. The strange thing was found to be a perfectly formed snake, 12 feet in length. This find caused so much excitement that the excavation was continued, and at a little distance another reptile was uncovered, and on being dug out was found to be 24 feet in length and as thick through as a man's body and perfectly petrified, and there is no telling how many of the monsters will be found. Three have already been taken out and will make part of the State's exhibit at the World's Fair.

FIGS AND THISTLES.

"Whatsoever is not faith is sin."

Deadly poisons are sometimes very sweet.

We please God most when we trust Him most.

As a clock, religion can not keep anybody warm.

The sinners on the front seats are the hardest to hit.

Keep close to God, and midnight will be bright as noonday.

The bread we take from God's hand is always the sweetest.

The best preaching is not always done in the finest churches.

No leggar ever counts on receiving much help from the rich.

Nobody else looks just right to the man who wears blue "spies."

A vacant mind is a standing offer to the devil of free house room.

The devil in church is no better looking than he is at a prize fight.

Many preachers spoil the bread of life with butter of their own make.

An enemy can be killed quicker love than he can with a bullet.

Marion Academy, SPRING TERM.

The Spring Term of the Marion Academy will begin, Monday, Feb. 6, 1893, and continue 14 or 16 weeks.

Faculty: Academic and Common } J. F. PRICE, and School Departments, } S. T. MOORE.

The higher Intermediate Classes will be under the same teachers.
Primary Department—Miss Alice Browning.

Thorough instruction will be given in the Academic Branches, while special pains will be taken in the THEORY AND PRACTICE of the COMMON SCHOOL COURSE.

One special feature of this term will be the preparation of teachers for efficient work in the school-room.

TUITION.

Academic and Common School $2.50 per month
Intermediate $3.00 " "
Primary $1.00 " "

TUITION PAYABLE IN ADVANCE!!!

No pupils will be continued in school unless tuition is paid in advance or satisfactory arrangements are made.

In every case TUITION WILL BE REFUNDED for absence of one week or more for sickness or any other reasonable cause.

GOOD BOARD can be secured in private families for $2 to $2.50 per week. The success of our school in the past is a guarantee of what it will be in the future.

We expect this to be the best season we have taught as the teachers have been using their spare time in making special preparation for this term.

It Tastes Good

One reason why Scott's Emulsion of Pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda has had such a large sale is because it is "Almost as palatable as milk" but the best reason is that its curative properties are unequalled. It cures the cough, supplies the waste of tissues, produces flesh and builds up the entire system.

Scott's Emulsion cures Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Scrofula, and all Anemic and Wasting Diseases. Prevents wasting in children. Almost as palatable as milk. Get only the genuine. Prepared by Scott & Borne, Chemists, New York. Sold by all Druggists.

What a man is will always depend upon what he believes his God to be; Christ does not want anybody to do His work who does not enjoy His rest.

The devil's money can not buy anything that a Christian ought to have. If you have light, God will be sure to put you in some place where it will shine.

"Happy is he that condemneth not himself in that thing which he alloweth."

Every man who wants to make the world better ought to begin with himself.

The Bible is always a closed book by people who expect to be saved by their own good works.

You will always have more left than you have lost until you have lost your soul.

The moment we begin to think somebody else has no religion we lose a good deal of our own.

The man who is able to say, "God is my strength," never breaks down under any kind of a load.

You can't always tell from where a man sits in church just what he will do when the Lord needs him most.
