He is prepared to meet any prices in any retail market.

The Crittenden Press

ISSUED WEEKLY.

R. C. WALKER, Publisher.

The Russellville Herald says that, with the modern machinery and new idea touching the building of turnpike roads, the cost of constructing these roads is much less than formerly and, that the roads are now made at a cost of $1,200 per mile. Do not get irritated, reader, at the mention of $1,200 per mile for a road. We are not advocating a tax for the purpose, nor do we believe that the present generation, nor the next, in this county, will invest that amount of money in roads, but that does not deter us from speculating and day dreaming on the vexatious road question. A turnpike from Marion to Salem, according to the estimates given, would cost in the neighborhood of $15,000. Now if one hundred public spirited men, living adjacent to, and at each end of the road, would furnish $100 each, and one hundred men, just as public spirited, but not quite so rich in this world's goods, would give $50 each, the $15,000 would be on hand. There are that many men who could do this and do no injury to themselves, their heirs, executors or administrators, but the rub comes in getting them to think that way. The property along the road would be enhanced in value several $15,000; every farm would be brought several hours nearer a railroad men who want to buy them. With a turnpike a Salem merchant could leave home early in the morning, reach Marion for the early train, spend the day in Evansville, return to Marion and then take late supper at home, and play with baby until bed time. Tobacco merchant at Salem, who wanted to put his goods and wares on the market, sell them and put his money in his pocket, could put a couple of hogheads on his wagon; the team would gallop down the pike and in a couple of hours the tobacco would be in a car and on its way to Louisville, and in three hours more the driver would throw his reins aside, while he unloaded a couple of tons of freight at the door of some princely merchant at Salem. The farmer living in the neighborhood of Salem could bring his stock or other products to the railroad at any time of the year, or if he had no merchandise to market, he could come up to preaching on Sunday, enjoy a sermon on any phase of the baptismal question, take dinner with his friends here, and return home in his carriage in the afternoon fresh and happy for the week's trials and tribulations. Hundreds of our blessings might be recounted, but we desist. The same advantages would apply to the turnpike built to Shady Grove, Tolu or any other point. We could if we would, but we won't.

Gov. Brown replies to ex-Governor Buckner's paper. He eschews any personal remarks and makes what appears to be an exhaustive statement of the facts in the case. Suits have been filed against the lessees of the convicts for $99,358.95, and the courts will settle the dispute.

If the men who held office under the President during his first term are to be taboos, what about the Republicans who held office under Harrison? What is sauce for the Democratic gander, ought to be gravy for the Republican goose.

Just so Grover don't require his postmasters to be run who part their hair in the middle, and vote any but the Democratic ticket, the country is all right, and his other requirements will be endorsed.

When Capt. Stone returns from Washington, his country home will be the Mecca of Western Kentucky.

Cleveland's latest edict is to the effect that he will appoint none of his own kinsmen to office.

No drinking man need apply.—G. C. CLEVELAND.

A REMARKABLE OLD MAN.

SOMETHING ABOUT THE CAREER OF MR. JAMES PRINGLE.

He is hale, hearty and happy At Ninety-Six.

JAMES PRINGLE.

The most remarkable man living in Livingston county, Ky., is James Pringle. He was born in Henry county, Ky., the 16th day of July, 1797, and came to Livingston county in 1819 and here on the 10th day of July, 1820, he married Miss Agnes Wilson, daughter of James Wilson, who played his part in the history of our country, for he fought in the Revolutionary war, and was of Independence. James Wilson was born in Pennsylvania, moved to North Carolina, in which state at the age of fifty years he married, and moved from North Carolina to Livingston county, Ky., in 1811, and died here in the spring of 1813 and was buried near the Ohio river.

Mr. Pringle and his good wife lived a peaceful, happy and prosperous life together, until the 10th day of September, 1879, when she departed this life, for her home in heaven, where she is watching and waiting for him. They never had any children. Mr. Pringle had three sisters and five brothers, all of whom are dead. His father was a Scotchman, his mother Irish. In his youth he was learned the hatter's trade, and was a journeyman hatter when he found his way to this country, and here in connection with farming he continued to make hats for many years. By untiring energy and the hardest kind of work, in connection with close economy, good judgment, and fair and honorable dealing with his fellow-men, he began to grow rich; then he dropped off the hat business, and besides farming and working as hard as ever, he began to loan money, and in this, as in every thing else, he watched his business, and a man had to get up before day to beat Mr. Pringle out of any of the principal or interest, for like Napoleon Bonaparte, he always slept with one eye open, and was always up before day himself. Well, this he continued to prosper until it became a familiar saying among the people of this county, "That if I have not got the money, Pringle has." And so to-day he is counted one of the richest men in this county; his property consisting of lands, town property, Government bonds, good promissory notes secured by mortgages on good real-estate, and money in banks. Mr. Pringle is one of the few men in this life who has always proved his word to be as good as his bond. While he has never thrown away any money on frauds and vagrants, he has always given liberally and with open hands and heart, to charitable objects and to persons needing and deserving help. Many poor men and women of this county have been pulled out of the mud and mire of poverty and distress by the open purse and kind heart of James Pringle.

He is possessed of a first class English education, which he obtained himself without the advantages of a school, by close, hard study, by burning the midnight oil, by knowing how to economize time. He would carry his book with him to the field and read as he went to and from his work. I very much doubt if there is a better posted historian in this end of the State than Mr. Pringle; he has been blessed with a most remarkable memory, and now in his ninety-sixth year, he can repeat almost the entire Bible, word for word, from memory. The other day your correspondent called on him and he repeated in grand style, "Harney's Meditation on Creation," which he had not read for twenty years. He can write good poetry himself, and is good in mathematics, and no other man can beat him working out sums in interest.

In politics he was an old line Whig under Prentiss, now he is a Democrat under Grover Cleveland. He has been a member of the Baptist church for many years, and for many years was the leader in the singing at this church.

Mr. Pringle is fond of talking of things related in ancient history, and can give you names and dates accurately while talking on historical subjects. He has not read the Beecham's Soliloquy, which was published shortly after Beecham killed Sharp, since it first came from the press, but he can repeat it to-day word for word. While he is as kind and tender hearted as a child, there never has been a day, since he reached manhood, but what he would fight, and fight hard, if any one reflected in any way upon his honor. He has proven his bravery upon more than one occasion. Mr. Pringle has never used tobacco in any form, and never used whiskey in any shape or form, unless when sick, and then it had to be prescribed by his attending physician. Many years ago Mr. Pringle wrote his motto and his epitaph, which is in the following, "Honor, Virtue, Justice and Truth."

"When consolation in these words, What consolation it affords; If we follow them in our lives, They are a warning to the wise. O, that He who rules in Heaven above, Where all is pleasure, peace and love; Would incline our hearts to see The way that leads to felicity. Then we could shout, there we could sing, O, wonder Death, where is thy sting? Why should I fear the raging sea, When Jesus Christ died for me? O, what a blessing it would be, If all our follies we could see; To guide us to the realms above, Where all is pleasure, peace and love."

Mr. Pringle has always lived up to his motto, Honor, Virtue, Justice and Truth, and so when the question comes to him from above, "Are you ready?" he can safely answer back, "I am ready." We hope and pray however that God in his mercy may spare Mr. Pringle for many years yet to come; at any rate, until he can say in round numbers, one hundred years.

Obituary.

Mrs. Susan M. Witherspoon died at the home of her son-in-law, Mr. Wm. Condit, Dec. 13th, 1892, in the 77th year of her age. She was the wife of the late U. G. Witherspoon, so long an honored elder in the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Witherspoon professed Christ very early in life, and with her father's family, went into the Methodist church, and remained a member of that church until the conversion of her husband, when she went with him into the Presbyterian church. She was ever gentle, kind and affectionate; possessing a spirit of unselfishness and tender regard for others. And her Christian influence will long be felt in the community in which she so long lived. There was indeed a Christian home. Morning and evening the children were gathered around the family altar. And often did father and mother plead in secret for God's benediction on their children and loved ones. There are but few homes where father and mother spend so many years in earnest, faithful service. Few leave such sacred memories and such hallowed influence behind. In July 1892, in the 79th year of his age, Bro. Witherspoon, after a long life of usefulness, was called to the saint's reward. From the time of his death his wife's health was very much broken, and she survived him only a few months. "And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord henceforth; yea, and with the spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them." W. H. M.

FREDONIA.

Everything sold at J. E. Pilate last Saturday, and brought a good price.

Go to A. S. Threlkeld for new ground plows.

H. C. Turley and family of Crider, were visiting here Saturday and Sunday.

Horse shoeing a specialty at A. S. Threlkeld's.

Misses Nora and Sarah Glenn have been visiting in Bethlehem neighborhood for the past week.

James McCaslin is now prepared to furnish the creamery with the milk of several cows.

Will Tisdale will move to town and engage in the grocery business.

See Cassidy's for gingham.

Seed oats seems to be scarce in this neighborhood.

Cassidy has an elegant line of neckwear, latest styles.

Two or three fruit tree agents delivered trees here last week.

We sell for cash, and run at a very small expense, therefore can sell you goods for less profit than you can buy them any where. Call and see for yourselves. S. R. Cassidy.

A. S. Threlkeld will fix up your buggies for use, new shafts, single trees or any part of iron work.

Best prints 5c per yard at Cassidy's. Ladies shoes 75c to $4 at Cassidy's. Men's shoes 75c to $5 at Cassidy's. Dress goods of every kind at Cassidy's. Mary Nell has been severely afflicted for the past two or three weeks, but is improving.

I have just returned from market where I bought everything new and fresh of the latest styles and patterns and will sell them at rock bottom prices. Don't fail to see me before making your spring purchases. I will save you money. R. Cassidy.

A. S. Threlkeld will sell you a good shovel plow.

W. H. McKee has moved to Kelsy. Don't put off seeing F. W. Dice until he has sold out his stock of wall paper, and then have to buy an inferior article from some one else.

Henry Dalton is improving, after suffering with lung troubles for the past year.

Joe Gass, of Donaldson was in town Saturday.

Mrs. Hattie McMurray returned last Thursday from a visit to relatives and friends at Sturgis.

T. M. Butler planted a corn patch last week.

Scott Wilson, of Cadiz, attended church here last Sunday.

John Rorer and wife of Crittenden were visiting here Sunday.

You will not have to wait long if you take it to A. S. Threlkeld.

Young men don't fail to see Cassidy's fancy ties and fine shoes.

Observer.

TOLU.

River is rising again.

Harvey Minner died Thursday, and was buried at Hurricane on Friday; he was the last one of a large family.

W. E. Weldon, of Sheridan, is very sick at the Board House.

Rev. J. J. Franks, of Bethel, was in town Saturday.

El Young is still in the chicken trade.

The young folks had a good singing at Dr. Tinsley Saturday.

There is another applicant for the post-office, at this place. J. C. Baze-man, of Carversville was circulating a petition on our streets last week. He is qualified for the office; but he is from the wrong county to make an application here.

Mrs. Harvey Minner is sick at her son-in-law's James L. Love.

John B. Perry of Irma, has bought the nice residence of Walter Clements and will soon be a resident of Tolu.

What we don't like, is to commence to read items from a place, and find it full of advertisements, from Howerton's and Cassidy's place. If you are going to give items, give them and don't mix up.

Charlie Hammonds died at the residence of Mr. F. Crider's last week.

W. C. Farmer has moved to the Croft farm. Rob Roy.

FLAT LICK.

Albert Cline and Wm. Johnson had a working last week.

Our people are very busy sowing plant beds and oats and breaking corn ground.

J. W. Ross, formerly of this neighborhood, now living at Dahlgreen, Ill., will move back in April.

J. W. Bradshaw has sent in his resignation as postmaster at Lola. I will venture to say that Mr. Bradshaw has made the best postmaster that ever was at Lola; on the contrary but some of us would be glad to see him go. We need a man that will attend to his post when he takes the postoffice in his hands.

Albert Lamb has been in our midst selling the patent wagon bed lifter.

Take the Press and read the best county paper there is.

Ben Johnson and Albert Cline went to Carversville last Saturday.

Logan Belt and wife has separated again; this makes about the fourth time; they believe in married life, and don't either.

Mrs. Mary Hamilton, of Illinois, was the guest of your correspondent and Mr. Irion's family Sunday.

School is said to be progressing finely under the careful management of Prof. E. E. Thurman, who never fails to perform his duty.

J. N. Smith's family, who moved to Indiana last fall, have again become citizens of our town.

There was a rumor in circulation here that Mr. Louis Cook and Cook Brothers have given the hotel at Caseyville up to the former owners. The rumor is denied.

Mr. A. B. Rankin, whose house was destroyed by fire, informed us that he will move to the property occupied by T. N. Wofford this week, and will erect a better residence upon the burnt place.

Mr. J. L. Hughes has been afflicted with rheumatism for several days.

Dr. Henry Ford went to Ford's Ferry Saturday on business.

W. D. Crowell, an extensive and polite clerk of the G. L. Rankin store, returned Sunday from his trip East.

In regard to the legislative timber, Mr. T. A. Rankin has been notified by many citizens of his neighborhood to become a candidate for nomination for that honor.

Several parties in town have been gardening.

Mr. Walker, of the Bell's Mines neighborhood, returned from home to Tolu last week, having been employed to work.

LEVIAS.

Mrs. Julia Coram, of Gosconda, Ill., who is very low from blood-poisoning was moved at her earnest request to the home of her mother at this place last Saturday. She is now cheerful and contented.

Miss Lake Summers, of whose serious illness we spoke of last week is now, we are glad to say improving.

The spring school at New Salem opened up Monday with flattering prospects.

Messrs. Fred Hardy and Geo. Hall, attended church at Union Sunday.

We like competitors and welcome an examination of our goods and prices. Cash or produce enables us to sell you goods cheaper than the credit system. Come and be convinced.

LaRue Bros.

L. L. Price has been quite sick, but is now improving.

FORD'S FERRY.

Health generally good, in this section.

Mrs. Levi Cook went to Evansville, Ind., to visit her daughter, and will also spend a few weeks with her other daughter in St. Louis.

Sheriff Franks and his deputies are making their first triannual "round up"; the branding will be done next week.

Billy James has severed his connection with the creamery, and has gone to Hopkins county to sell wagon bed litters.
The Marionite who is not now posted on baptism, can be put down as a hard-sinner, for he has not been going to church at all.

The grave yard question has been settled. It is the site west of town. Let us hope that it will be a long time before it is needed.
An effort is being made to change the Piney public road so that it shall enter town on the east, striking depot street at its eastern extremity.

A few days ago dogs killed fifteen sheep for Mr. J. H. Hughes. Dogs are valuable property and of course they must have something to eat.
A certain person took Mr. Walker's double shovel plow out of S. Hodge's stable about three or four weeks ago; by returning it they will save trouble.

Goldworthy, the reformed blind tiger man, who is doing penance in jail, has issued a poem, and offers it for sale at 10 cents per copy; proceeds to ensure to the benefit of his father's tomb.

The many friends of Miss Ada Gilliam will be glad to learn that her health has improved since she has been in Florida. She will probably remain in the land of flowers during the summer.

Mr. Granville Clement, the old and well-known citizen, of Iron Hill, accidentally fell a few weeks ago and severely injured his hip. The doctors fear that it was broken. He is unable to walk.

Man is a sociable being. He likes to see his neighbors as well treated as himself. No man before the Board of Tax Supervisors would have grumbled, had the Board raised his neighbor just a few hundred also.

Col. Tunc Barnett, of Hurricane, was in town Monday to attend the "raising." He was not by himself, however, for George and Phil Croft, Albert Weldon and Sherrill Hall were in to attend the same frolic.

Yesterday Annie Jacobs, of the Hurricane country came to town and had a warrant issued charging Henry Yenkey with the paternity of her illegitimate child, and asking his arrest and punishment according to law.

Sam Farmer, Chas Pritchett and Walker Merrivether, all colored, were before Judge Moore Saturday, charged with a breach of the peace. Their accuser, Dan Moss, did not come up, however, and the cases were dismissed.

Carpenter C. J. Burget was at home Monday. For several weeks he has been engaged in building a handsome residence for Daniel Stone near Tolu. Mr. Stone's house was destroyed by fire some time ago, and he has a new one now about completed.

Judge James, of Marion, Ky., was in town Monday, taking depositions in the case growing out of the shooting scrape at Carversville between Baker and Thompson. Mr. Plater represented one side in the taking of the depositions—Elizabethtown Independent.

"See that man dodge around the corner?"
"Yes, what is the cause of his hasty movement?"
"He is a member of the Board of Tax Supervisors, and he is keeping out of the way of a big tax payer whose list has been raised. His friends fear suicide, and he will never again serve as a supervisor."

SETTLED.

One Big Damage Suit Goes Off the Docket.

The damage suit of Florence B. Burnett against S. N. Henry has been settled without going into court. In addition to paying the attorney for the plaintiff, the defendant executed the following documents, and the matter ended.

WHEREAS, there is now an action pending in the Crittenden Circuit Court of Florence B. Burnett against myself in which it is alleged that I made certain statements to certain parties in this county derogatory to her character. Now I wish to say that I did not use any of the language imputed to me in said petition to any one in this county or elsewhere. And I further say that so far as my own personal knowledge goes I do not know of anything against her character. This the 18th day of March, 1893.

S. N. HENRY.

How They Hold.

Fourth class post-masters are not appointed for any definite length of time. Hence the commission of Postmaster Coffield does not expire on a fixed or named day, and unless he should of his own free will and accord tender his resignation, he may continue to serve the public weeks or even months yet to come. The closing sentence of the commission, which is signed by the Postmaster General reads this way: "To have the said office of postmaster, with all the powers, privileges, and emoluments to the belonging, during the pleasure of the Postmaster General of the United States." Mr. Coffield took charge of the office the first secular day of April, 1889.

Couldn't Agree.

The ten of our citizens who served as jurors in the Thomas case at Morganfield returned home Sunday. The jury failed to return a verdict, they could not and did not agree. Two were for a sentence of seven years; two for two years, and six for acquittal; how the others stood is not stated. When court convened Monday, the case was upon motion of the Commonwealth's Attorney, dismissed.

Public Speaking.

I will address the citizens of Crittenden county at the court house, Marion, Ky., Monday, March 27, at 1 o'clock, p. m., in the interest of my candidacy for Representative. All of my announced and prospective opponents are cordially invited to attend and a fair division of time will be given them.

Grand Jurors.

The following is a list of those who have been summoned to serve as grand jurors at the coming term of court: W. B. Nation, Henry Reynolds, J. C. McConnell, W. S. Perkins, Newton Barnes, W. B. Little, W. J. Board, Leander White, W. D. Haynes, Josiah Paris, W. M. Hill, G. G. Hammond.

County Court.

S. A. Dillard was allowed $30 for building small bridge.
Flem Shoemaker was appointed road overseer.
The certificate of the clerk showing the approval of the assessor's book for 1893 was filed, and $90 was appropriated to pay the Board of Supervisors.

A couple of colored damels had a street fight yesterday. The battle took place at the corner of college and depot street, and it was long and bloodless. Tilda Stewart, and Alma Garner will be before the court to-day.

Mrs. Dorr has employed an expert hat maker from the city. You will get the latest, neatest and prettiest hats at her millinery store.
Dr. W. M. Carter, optician special list, will be in Marion, Ky., at Dr. Swope's office, April 18 and 19. He will examine eyes for all errors of refraction, and adjust glasses; examination free.

If you want a resident lot, any size, and in any part of Marion, call on R. C. Walker.
P. H. Woods will erect nice porches at both ends of his new store house which will add very much to the comfort of the Crayneville bakers.

A Seven Year Sentence.

The case against Hyland Skinner for killing M. J. Bigwood at Eddyville some years ago was tried in the Caldwell Circuit Court last week; Skinner was convicted and given seven years in the penitentiary.

The deed with which the prisoner is charged was committed about six years ago in Eddyville. Bigwood, his victim, ran a saloon. Skinner and some companions were drinking when some trouble arose, resulting in Bigwood making some threats followed by his being shot dead. Skinner made good his escape, but one of his companions was arrested as an accessory to the crime and sentenced to a term in the penitentiary, but shortly afterward was paroled. Two or three years elapsed when Skinner suddenly turned up at his home and surrendered himself. He was admitted to bail in the sum of $5,000, which amount he readily gave. The case was continued at the next term of circuit court, and finally a change of venue to Caldwell county was secured.

THEY WERE RAISED.

A List of the Increase in Assessments as Made by the Board.

The Board of Tax Supervisors held its final meeting Monday and Tuesday and made their final adjustment of the Assessor's book and from their action there can be no appeal. A great many of the tax-payers appeared before the Board and a good many changes were made in their first work.

IN A BAD BOX.

Two Young Livingstons Arrested on a Serious Charge.

Two young men by the name of Ford and Leech, residents of Livingston county, are under arrest at Princeton on the charge of horse stealing. The young men lived a few miles back of Smithland. Farmers by occupation they were unable to secure employment in the neighborhood and some days ago they went to Mayfield in hopes of obtaining work at that place.

They were unsuccessful, however, and Ford who appears to have been a slick citizen, prevailed upon Leech to hire a horse and buggy from a livery stable man and go to Murray, where he said they could get work. Leech hired the conveyance, paying for it himself. On arriving at Murray they were unsuccessful in securing employment and left for Benton and thence to Princeton, where Ford made an unsuccessful attempt to sell the horse and vehicle, and in fact had closed a trade with a resident of the last named place. But the prospective purchaser suspecting that all was not right, declined to buy and the pair left. Meanwhile a warrant had been issued for their arrest on the charge of horse-stealing and they were pursued and captured. Ford made a desperate attempt to escape from the officers and would probably have succeeded had not Leech taken a hand and assisted in his recapture. They are now in jail at Princeton. Leech claims that he had no intention of stealing the rig and that his comrade assured him that he would settle the livery bill and see that the horse and buggy were returned to the owner. He declares that he knew nothing of Ford's attempt to sell them, Leech has influential relatives in this city and in Livingston county and they will probably make every attempt to extricate him from the predicament into which he has been led by his unscrupulous companion.—Paducah News.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

THE NEW ADMINISTRATION GETTING DOWN TO BUSINESS IN EARNEST.

Unnecessary Functionaries Lopped Off.

Washington, D. C., March 21.—The new officials fit their harness like old stagers, the army of office seekers here is thinning out and the world still moves grandly on.

Jim McKenzie goes as Minister to Peru, and gets $10,000 a year. He is the first Kentuckian besides Carlisle to get a rich piece of pie, and by the way his salary is larger than that of the great Secretary of the Treasury, who gets only $8,000 a year.

Secretary of Agriculture Morton proposes to lop the expenses of his department by dismissing about sixty employees for whose services there is not great need. He proposes that every man shall earn the dollars he gets from Uncle Sam.

It is said that "Mr. Carlisle expects to have ready to submit some financial proposition by the time Congress meets which will form the basis of agreement between Congress and the Executive on the vexed financial problems. Gentlemen who have talked with him on the subject say that he has a plan pretty well outlined in his mind which will involve a complete reorganization of our financial system. It is said that it will include the repeal of the law compelling the purchase of silver by the Government and will provide for the deficiency of currency by providing for the deficiency of currency by providing for the repeal of the State bank tax, and the issue of currency by banks under State charter under the general supervision of the General Government, the security for the currency provided for under the laws of the States requiring the approval of the Government."

Heretofore it has been customary to appoint the postmasters according to the wishes of the Congressmen, each Congressman arranging these little matters in his own district. Postmaster General Bissell is going to make a break from the old lines, and has notified Senators and Representatives that their recommendations will not be sufficient, but that the wishes of the patrons of the office must have consideration.

It is all a mistake about Cleveland's giving the cold shoulder to the editors. The firstmaster appointed was an editor. He is Robert B. Brown, of Meadville, Pa.

The United States Senate is now Democratic, but that does not signify that new men must handle the affairs of that body for Democracy. The party has experienced and able men at the helm. There is Gorman splendidly equipped for any emergency. Harris, of Tennessee, is a ready, rough and tumble fighter. Vest, of Missouri, is always loaded, and when he fires the canister are generally effective; then there is Morgan, brimful of information, and Cockerell as watchful as a cat. Of course if there is any fighting to be done, Kentucky smiles as she thinks of Joe Blackburn and a pair of ears once pulled.

Mr. Cleveland is not satisfied with the information he has touching Hawaii, and it is stated that he has sent an agent to the Island to gather information. Last week ex-Representative Blount, of Georgia, started in that direction, accompanied by a confidential stenographer of the State Department, and it is surmised is acting according to instructions from the President and will visit the Island and report.

Pension Commissioner Baum sent in his resignation Thursday, and there was no delay about its acceptance. Baum resigned in time to save official depreciation, for the President had whetted his axe, and arranged the block.

(THE GREATEST GUN.

Krupp's 124-Ton Cannon Arrives At Baltimore.

Baltimore, March 18.—After a tempestuous voyage across the North Atlantic from Hamburg with the second consignment of the Krupp exhibit for the World's Fair, the British steamship Longwell arrived off Sparrow's Point at noon today and anchored in the stream awaiting the completion of the preparations for docking her. The cargo comprises exclusively war material. The chief article is the big 124-ton cannon built expressly for the exhibit.

The arrival of the ship and the gun is particularly interesting, owing to the fact that the piece of ordnance is the largest ever in existence. The calibre of the gun is 19 1/2 inches. The projectiles fired from it weigh 2,600 pounds and are four feet long. About 700 pounds of powder are used at a single shot, and the projectile is hurled with such terrific force that it will go through a plate of steel 20 inches thick at a distance of nine

GENERAL NEWS NOTES.

Wife-murderer Schneider was hung in Washington city Friday.

A Washington special says: "An intimate friend of the Secretary of State Mr. Gresham would not undertake to exercise any influence over either the diplomatic or Consular appointments, and would bring no cases to the attention of the President unless Mr. Cleveland himself requested it."

The Southern Educational Association will hold its annual meeting in Louisville this summer. A public meeting of educators, school trustees and citizens was held yesterday and arrangements begun for the entertainment of the large number of visitors expected.

Died From Eating Poison.

Henderson, Ky., March 15.—Hampton Book, a young farmer of the county, met death yesterday in a peculiar manner. He had been burning a plant bed, and just before returning home to supper picked up a piece of some kind of root that had been grubbed up and ate several mouthfuls of it. He was a corpse in an hour afterward. It is supposed the herb he ate was pork root.

Three Grades.

In a certain town in the north of Yorkshire, England, a traveling American found an omnibus which carried first, second and third class passengers.

As the seats were all alike, the traveler was mystified, but not for very long. Midway of the route the bus stopped at the foot of a long steep hill, and the guard shouted:

"First class passengers, keep your seats. Second class passengers, get out and walk. Third class passengers get out and push."

A PARTY NAME WANTED.

Preachers and Prohibitionists Start a Brand New Reform Party by Meeting at Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, March 16.—A conference of ministers and Prohibitionists interested in the formation of a new national political organization was begun this morning in Lafayette Hall, the birthplace of the Republican party. When the conference was called to order by W. H. Tapp, of Allegheny, there were just twenty-three men and ten women present, and a majority of these were from this vicinity. The hall was tastefully decorated with bunting, flowers and plants, but the place was so cold that the delegates did not remove their overcoats and wraps. After welcoming the delegates Mr. Tapp read the platform of the proposed party and a call for the meeting signed by 2,000 persons. The platform recognizes God as the author of civil government, equal rights for all without respect to race, color or sex; abolition or suppression of the drink traffic and such other moral, economic, financial and industrial reforms as are needed in this country. A Committee on Permanent Organization was then appointed, after which R. S. Thompson, editor of the New Era of Springfield, O., addressed the conference at length, advocating the formation of a new party.

There was a larger attendance of delegates in the afternoon. The question of naming the new party occupied both afternoon and evening sessions, and it was finally decided to let the matter go over to some future time. Among the names suggested were National Reform party, National Prohibition party, Abolition party and National party. A committee was appointed to arrange for a State congress at Harrisburg on June 6, after which the conference adjourned.

AN OFFICER SLAIN.

Bloody Battle on a Passenger Train at Hell's Point, Tenn.

Knoxville, Tenn., March 18.—A terrible tragedy occurred on the Knoxville and Ohio Passenger train this morning before daylight at Hell's Point, a peculiarly significant name, at one mile and a half east of Newcomb, in Campbell county, in which Sheriff John Burnett, of Campbell county, was killed; Deputy Sheriff John Dail probably fatally wounded, and Jesse Jones sustained several serious injuries. Sheriff Burnett and Deputy Sheriff Dail went to Jellico yesterday from Jackson to arrest a miner by the name of Jesse Jones on the charge of carrying weapons. Jones was arrested and a pearl-handled thirty-eight-caliber revolver was taken from him by Sheriff Burnett.

The arrest was made on the Tennessee side of the line dividing Kentucky and Tennessee, not far from Jellico, and soon afterward a number of miner friends of Jones came to the rescue of Jones and succeeded in taking him away from the officers. They then hastened to the Kentucky side of the line and bade defiance to the Tennessee officers, who deemed it prudent not to cross the line.

Jones was afterwards found on a train and arrested by the officers. While the officers had Jones under arrest on the train, the friends of the arrested man undertook to release him, a battle followed with the result as stated.

TO KNOCK OUT PROTECTION.

E. Ellery Anderson Preparing a Tariff Bill Which the Reform Club Will Submit to Secretary Carlisle.

New York, March 18.—E. Ellery Anderson, Chairman of the Committee on Tariff Reform of the Reform Club, said this morning that he was hard at work preparing a tariff bill, which the club will submit to Secretary Carlisle for the approval of the Administration and submission to the Fifty-fourth Congress when it assembles. He said he did not know how soon the bill would be ready, but it would be completed just as soon as possible.

"The bill will be in harmony with the Chicago platform," said Mr. Anderson. "Duties will be fixed on a revenue only, but we will try to arrange them so that no industry will be crippled. We want to be fair to all interests, and, at the same time, carry into effect the tariff plank of the party's platform, which declares in favor of a tariff for revenue only. Our bill will not be sent to Congress by the Reform Club. We will submit it to Secretary Carlisle for examination by him and the President. We want the bill to go to Congress as an Administration message. It will be sent to the House of Representatives by Secretary Carlisle with his approval."

Mr. Anderson said he could not give any details of the bill at this time.

Verdict of $5,000.

Hopkinsville, Ky., March 15.—In the Christian Circuit Court today, in the case of Brantley's administrator against the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company for $10,000 damages, a verdict was rendered giving the administrator $5,000. Brantley received injuries of which he died in a wreck on the road in this county two years ago. It is not known whether or not the railroad will appeal the case.

FOR CONFEDERATE SOLDIERS.

Georgia Pays Out Over $600,000 a Year to Veterans and Widows of Veterans.

Atlanta, Ga., March 15.—The State Capitol was crowded today by Confederate veterans, who had come to collect the pension which the State of Georgia annually pays to those of her sons who were wounded in the service of the State as soldiers in the Confederate army. There are 3,200 names on this pension roll, and the amount paid out to them was $192,000. This pension, from a small sum at first to aid some soldiers who were in danger of the poor-house has steadily grown until the pension list of Georgia now reaches a large sum.

The payment to the veterans was supposed to end the calls made upon the State. When, however, the State Legislature voted down the acceptance of the Soldiers' Home, they brought down upon their heads such a storm of censure that they felt that they would have to do something to modify it. They did not want to retreat from their position in regard to the home, but not it by the enactment that all widows of veterans should receive annually the sum of $100. When the census was taken it was found that it would take $450,000 to pay the bill. This run the pension roll up to over $600,000, at which figure it now stands.

HISTORICAL PAPERS.

Original Constitution and Declaration of Independence at the Fair.

Washington, March 16.—Every precaution will be taken by the State Department to prevent any mishap to that corner stone of the republic, the original Constitution of the United States, during its exhibition at the World's Fair. It will form a part of the State Department exhibit, and a new case has been constructed to preserve the old document from possible injury or loss. It is in a fairly good state of preservation, though showing the effect of years of repose in a cylindrical tin case, which slightly mutilated the edges. The five sheets on which the instrument is inscribed are now contained in cheap wooden frames having been transferred from a portfolio which held them for many years. The new case is of oak, sheathed with steel, and is said to be almost perfectly fire-proof. The frames containing the old document will be placed in five drawers, while above will be displayed the Declaration of Independence, framed in an inner door. Similarly framed in a smaller door beneath will be rough drafts of the declaration. Other historical papers will rest on shelves behind the declaration. The articles of confederation of the colonies are exquisitely engrossed, and look almost as if they were written yesterday. They are on a long roll of the finest sheepskin parchment, the sheets being sewn together with the utmost delicacy. The Declaration of Independence, unfortunately, has so faded as to become almost indecipherable. Nearly all the signatures have wholly vanished, and the body of the text is, for the most part illegible.

MILLION DOLLAR MACHINE.

Which Will Enable Carnegie to Lead the World.

Homestead, Pa., March 15.—The Carnegie Steel Company recently gave an order to Whitworth & Co., of Manchester, England, for an enormous press for their armor-plate works here. The massive piece of machinery will have a capacity of 16,000 tons pressure, and will cost over $1,000,000. The contract specifies that the machinery must be completed and shipped to this country before the first of next year. It is claimed that the machinery will give the Carnegie Company advantages over the world in the manufacture of war fixtures. An armor plate weighing 200,000 tons can easily be worked into one piece. A company official stated today that when the new machinery is placed in the works they will lead the world in the manufacture of equipments for war vessels and armor plate. Big guns, shafts and all in that line will be constructed any size the Government desires, and can be made in any shape or quality that may be ordered.

A FORGER'S SUICIDE.

Joe Haas Found Dead in the Woods With a Bullet in his Brain.

Morganfield, Ky., March 16.—Joe Haas, a blacksmith living at Little House, three miles from Morganfield, was indicted for forgery in two cases last week. Haas disappeared and nothing was known or heard of him until 3 o'clock today, when his lifeless body was found in the woods near the Mutual Distilling Company's plant, at Uniontown. A bullet hole was found near a stump covered with blood. A gold watch and $15 were found in his pockets. His wife and children are left without any means of support. The Coroner will hold an inquest in the morning.

CHINESE PIRATER BUTCHERED.

A Horrible Story Or An Artistic Flection Brought From the Flowery Kingdom.

San Francisco, March 15.—The steamship City of Rio de Janeiro arrived today from Yokohama and Hong. A Yokohama paper prints the following account of the extermination of a of pirates in a Chinese village last January. On the 15th of January two piratical craft having run into one of the numerous inlets in the vicinity of the city of Shifu called Fan-Iu, for shelter, some of the pirates landed ostensibly for the purpose of making a few purchases, but most likely to see whether any "business" could be done in their particular calling.

As Fan-Iu had suffered repeatedly from depredation of the numerous sea pirates and had lost some of their number at the hands of the desperados, some of the pirates who landed that day were recognized by the inhabitants who, however, held their tongues while the pirates were in sight. No sooner had the men returned to their junks than the alarm was silently given and the principal men of the village immediately called upon two brothers who were officers belonging to one of the regiments garrisoning Ningbo. At a consultation held the brothers were asked to lead a body of their fellow-villagers, who had determined to wreak summary vengeance on their unwelcome visitors.

Three hundred well armed men surprised the pirates during the raging of the storm in the early hours of the morning. The two pirate junks were surrounded. In another minute the two junks swarmed with the dark figures of the villagers, who amidst the shouts of their comrades on the shore burst open the hatch and doors of the cabins, and poured a stream of bullets upon the fifty or sixty pirates who were huddled together for warmth on the lower decks of the junks.

Thoroughly taken by surprise, hardly any resistance was made, all the pirates but two being almost hacked into mince meat by the exasperated villagers who had suffered so often before from pirates. The two pirates who were not treated this way, however, were to be made away with in a different manner.

Among the many villagers who had been killed by the pirates on different occasions, there was one who was the son of the patriarch of the villagers. At daylight the two pirates, escorted by the whole community, were led to the grave of the young man, and after being secured to a couple of stakes put up for the purpose, two of the nearest relatives of the dead man plunged their knives into the breasts of the unlucky pirates, and ripping open their bodies, extricated their hearts, which were then put on a plate and placed on the table, upon which were already lighted candles and an incense burner.

While all this was going on the female relatives of the deceased, dressed in mourning colors of white, were gathered by the side of the grave crying and calling out to the spirit of the dead to receive the sacrifice that was being offered, as vengeance had been taken on his murderers. The offerings were then left at the grave at the end of the ghastly ceremonies, and the villagers proceeded to ransack the junks, after having first.

The plunder from the junks—gold, silver, cash, silks, satins and rice—was then equally divided among the families who had suffered at the hands of the pirates previously, and as a finale of the last act of the tragedy the junks were towed into the stream and set on fire and burned to the waters edge. The bodies of the two victims of the sacrifice were also thrown into the sea, while their hearts were afterwards cooked and eaten by the dead man's relatives and whoever desired to do so.

OUR NAVY.

The United States Soon To Rank as The Fifth Naval Power.

In a speech at Brooklyn a few evenings ago, Ke-Secretary of the Navy Tracy referring to the States of the naval powers of the United States said:

"When the ships now in course of construction are completed we will rank as the fifth naval power, surpassed only by England, France, Russia and Italy. We shall have passed both Spain and Germany, and can once more take rank among the naval powers of the world."

GRESHAM A DEMOCRAT.

He Again Declares Himself Unmistakable Terms.

The question has often been asked since the installation of the present Administration if Judge Gresham has really become a Democrat or was simply a disaffected Republican serving the present Administration because of his personal belief in the patriotism and honesty of President Cleveland. Today Senator Vest, of Missouri, called on the Secretary of State. Gresham and Vest are old and very warm personal friends. They had not met before since the day before the Democratic National Democratic Convention at Chicago, when Senator Vest, in passing through Chicago, called upon Gresham, and lunched with him. Today, when the Missouri Senator called at the State Department to see Mr. Gresham, the Secretary grasped his hand warmly and said:

"Vest, when we last met in Chicago before the meeting of the National Convention, you little thought that when we next met I would be a Democratic Cabinet officer at Washington."

"That is so," said Vest. "I always knew that your associations were Democratic, that you thought like a Democrat and talked like a Democrat. I did not think you would be in so soon, but I am to see you."

"Well, Vest," said he, "here I am, and I am the best Democrat in Washington."

This declaration, it is to be presumed, settles Mr. Gresham's status. He reinforced the declaration a little later, when Hon. W. L. Wilson, of West Virginia, called upon him. Wilson and Gresham had never met before, and the brilliant West Virginian was introduced by Mr. Gresham's Private Secretary. Judge Gresham said:

"Mr. Wilson, while I have never met you before, I sat within two or three feet of you when you delivered your speech at the national convention on taking the chair. I agreed with every word you said, and I am perhaps ready to go a little further now."

If Judge Gresham believed every word Mr. Wilson said in his splendid speech on taking the chair at the national convention, it entirely safe to say he is a Democrat good enough to serve as Secretary of State in a Democratic administration.—St. Louis Republic Washington Special.

JAMES CORBETT.

He was born September 1, 1866, in San Francisco. His father, Patrick Corbett, who is still alive, came to this country from Ireland in 1850. Young James received his education at Sacred Heart college in San Francisco, and when 10 years old accepted a position as clerk in a bank. He always was fond of boxing, and becoming a bank clerk he took part in many amateur tournaments. When 18 he joined the Olympic club, of which he afterwards became instructor in boxing. Corbett has fought Jack Burke, Joe Chynski, Mike Brennan, James Daly, Jake Kilrain and Dompick McCallister, and John Sullivan. He has never as yet been beaten.

Charles Mitchell has arrived in this country and the long looked for battle between Corbett and Mitchell may soon take place. Mitchell is said to be in fine trim and has many friends. However, the general opinion is that Corbett will hold his own.

The janitor of one of the Portland, Me., public schools, coming into the class room one day recently, saw on the blackboard this sentence: "Find the greatest common divisor." "Hullo!" said he, "is that damned thing lost again?"

It Tastes Good

One reason why Scott's Emulsion of Pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda has had such a large sale is because it is "Almost as palatable as milk" but the best reason is that its curative properties are unequalled. It cures the cough, supplies the waste of tissues, produces flesh and builds up the entire system.
