

THE SIMS ROAD LAW.

ITS ADOPTION URGED BY THE GOOD ROADS CONVENTION AT BOWLING GREEN.

Resolutions Adopted Favoring the Working of Coalfields on Public Highways.

Bowling Green, Ky., April 13.—The Good Roads Convention met again this morning and heard reports from the Committees on New Roads, Dirt Roads, Turnpikes and Road Laws. The reports were adopted. The one in which most interest centered was the report of the Committee on Road Laws. This committee reported that after examining the different drafts of proposed road laws they had agreed to report for recommendation to the General Assembly the law proposed by the Revisory Commission on the 23d day of November, 1892, known as the Sims road law, with several changes of minor importance. The report of the committee was adopted.

This bill is so broad and flexible as to give to the county or official courts the complete control of the road question. The provision relating to taxation is probably the most important. The substance of it is that a tax not exceeding twenty-five cents on each $100 and a capitation tax of not exceeding $1.50 shall be levied each year for road purposes, and that the funds so raised shall be applied by the fiscal court to the construction, repairing and maintenance of public roads, of dirt, stone, gravel, or any other material in their discretion. This gives the fullest powers to the county authorities to improve and expand the road system, carrying out the principle of local self government, which seems to be demanded by public sentiment.

At 2:30 o'clock the convention adjourned and the members were taken in hand by the citizens and driven to the points of interest about the city. They reconvened at 5 o'clock and a resolution favoring the working of coalfields on the public highways of the State, under the supervision of the State, was adopted. On motion Chairman Bell appointed a committee, whose duty it shall be to go to Frankfort and do everything possible to influence the Legislature to enact the Sims road law. The committee consists of the Hon. J. C. Sims, of Warren county; the Hon. L. A. Spaulding, of Union; the Hon. J. Hall Davidson, of Fayette; the Hon. S. R. Crowder, of Logan; and the Hon. D. M. Rouman, of Jefferson. After a vote of thanks to the citizens of Bowling Green for courtesies extended, the convention adjourned.

DESTRUCTIVE STORM.

A Large Section Visited—People Killed and Property Destroyed.

Memphis, Tenn., April 13.—It is hardly possible to exaggerate the havoc made by the cyclone and fire at Robinsonville, Miss., yesterday. There are parts of two houses and a water-tank still standing, and everything else was razed to the ground and most of it burned. The number of killed, so far as can be ascertained by a census of the bodies found, is seventeen—one white and sixteen colored—and about ten more injured, two so seriously that they are expected to die.

Detroit, Mich., April 13.—Reports from different sections of Michigan show that the storm of last night prevailed all over the southern portion of the State, leaving destruction and death in its wake. It was most severe in the south-eastern portion, where most of the damage was done and several lives lost. The principal towns to suffer from the storm were Ypsilanti, whose business section was almost entirely destroyed, causing a loss of $100,000; Ren, where many buildings were wrecked, Mrs. Jacob Hiser killed and her husband fatally injured; Clarksville, at which place one house was blown down and an unknown woman killed, and Royal Oak, where Thomas Brick and his wife were buried to death in the ruins of their home, and several others injured.

As far as can be learned this is the total number of casualties. From smaller places throughout the State stories of minor damages are coming in. Crops of all kinds suffered considerably, hundreds of acres of orchard were destroyed, farm-houses, barns and outbuildings were demolished or badly damaged; fences, telegraph telephone and electric light wires were broken down, and the trees were uprooted. Many head of stock were also killed. Although no accurate estimate can be made, the total loss resulting from the storm will foot up to several hundred thousand dollars.

THE HEARING POSTPONED.

Mr. Oliver Unable to Appear in Court at Morganfield.

Morganfield, Ky., April 15.—The hearing of the cases against the men charged with the murder of Mrs. Henry Delaney and the wounding of her father, Taylor Oliver, was set for today, but owing to the fact that Mr. Oliver is unable to appear, the matter has been postponed until next Saturday. All is quiet, and no further trouble is feared. Mr. Oliver is improving, but is not yet out of danger.

The lawyers for the defense are: I. A. Spaulding, H. D. Allen, D. H. Hughes, Jr., S. C. Hughes, P. B. Miller, of this bar; J. A. Scott, of Frankfort, Ky.; C. C. Hall and John W. Lockart, of the Henderson bar. John L. Doney, of Henderson, assists the prosecution.

Druggist George P. Henry is allowed by the court to remain out of jail, under guard, but the guard is doubled. The other prisoners were remanded to jail. Nothing has yet been heard of "Albert Carter," and conviction grows that he is a myth.

WAR ON WHISKY.

The Women of Bowling Green Trying to Close the Saloons.

Bowling Green, Ky., April 14.—Bowling Green is up in arms against whisky, and the women in this city have inaugurated a fierce warfare against the saloons.

Petitions are being circulated by the women and are being numerously signed, calling on the City Council to refuse to renew the liquor licenses of the saloon keepers when they expire May 1. There are thirty or more saloons in the city, and the proprietors are quaking in their boots at the war that is being made upon them. The temperance people claim that they already have a majority of the Council promised to vote against license, and it looks very much as if every saloon in Bowling Green will have to close the first of next month. Numbers of the saloon men have big stocks of whisky on hand, and claim that it will ruin them if they are closed up on such short notice. Notwithstanding this, the war goes on, and the situation for them looks exceedingly blue.

HAULED DOWN OUR FLAG.

Protectorate Over the Hawaiian Islands Abolished.

Honolulu, April 14.—The stars and stripes, which for two months have floated from the government building, have been hauled down. The remaining forces from the United States cruiser Boston have been sent aboard. Nothing indicative of American authority remains in Honolulu save Minister Stevens and Commissioner James H. Blount, of Georgia. The latter sits in his easy chair at his cottage cogitating, no one knows what. April 1, in the presence of a crowd numbering probably two thousand persons, L. T. Draper, marine officer of the Boston, blew the notes of the retreat from his bugle and "Old Glory" sank from the sight of the throng and was replaced by the colors of Hawaiian monarchy, which still remains the flag of the land. The report that Commissioner Blount would order the American flag down and the protectorate abolished got abroad the night of March 31, preceding the day of the occurrence, but did not become general. It created at first, among the American party, a feeling of consternation not altogether unmixed with indignation. This was due to the fact, perhaps, that Blount has maintained a Chinese wall about the purposes of his mission here, and has satisfied neither side as to whether he came as an envoy to investigate or a minister to negotiate in a matter of vital importance to them.

BLOUNT NOTIFIES THE MINISTRY.

The afternoon of March 31 the commissioner held a lengthy and secret conference with President Dole and his ministry, at which he notified them of his intention to declare of the protectorate established by Minister Stevens Feb. 1. It is understood that he gave as a reason therefor that the Hawaiian administration did not regard the protectorate as necessary, and, further, that it was incompatible with any diplomatic negotiations that might be arranged between the two countries. The United States, however, would brook no hostile interference in Hawaiian affairs by foreign power. Conscious of their strength, in view of the latter assurance, the provisional government, though reluctantly, acquiesced in the commissioner's decision, and prepared to order their forces to maintain peace and order, which had continued almost unbroken during the protection.

THOMAS F. BAYARD.

Thomas Francis Bayard of Delaware, late Secretary of State, is descended from a long life of ancestors numbered among the gallant knights and courtiers conspicuous in the wars of France during the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, and statesmen prominent in colonial revolutionary and national affairs in America during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. Francis King, of Spain would receive Knighthood from no other hand than a Bayard. One of three Bayards, brothers who entered the Reform faith in France and fled to Holland to escape religious persecutions became the husband of Anna, the sister of Peter Stuyverant, the Governor of New Amsterdam. With three sons and one daughter she landed America with her valiant brother the Governor of the dutch possessions, Pebrus, the youngest of these sons, was naturalized in Maryland in 1684. It was his grandson, the grandfather of Secretary Bayard, who made Thomas Jefferson, President of the United States by his vote in the House of Representatives in 1801. Thomas F. Bayard was born on the 29th of Oct. 1828, and is the son of the late Hon. James A. Bayard of Delaware. He was educated partly at home and partly at Flushing school at Wilmington, and his training was with the direction of mercantile career. He entered a hardware house in Philadelphia as a clerk, but arising of the business he studied law. He was admitted to the bar in 1851, and had soon built up an excellent practice, extending all over the State. In 1853 he was appointed by the President United States District Attorney, but soon afterwards abandoned the office. In 1868 his father was appointed to serve out an unexpired term in the United States Senate and at the same election Thomas F. Bayard was elected for a full term of six years to take his seat in March 1869, a remarkable circumstance in itself. He was re-elected on the expiration of his term almost without opposition. He was chosen as a member of the famous Electoral Commission and voted against counting in disputed states for Hayes. In the green back craze of 1875 he was one of her public men who refused to dally with rascalism and demagoguery. If it had not been for this position he would very possibly have received the Democratic nomination for the Presidency in 1880, but as it was, the soft money men banded together against him and he was beaten although he got 153 votes on the first ballot in the convention.

Mr. Bayard has the honor of being the first American who has ever been appointed Ambassador. It was only fitting that President Cleveland should recognize England's courtesy in elevating the English minister in Washington, Sir Julian Pauncefote to the rank of Ambassador, the highest known in Diplomacy. The American representatives already ever edited to the great powers will now be of the same rank as those of England, France and Germany and will next have to take a back seat as they used to do.

EDISON, THE WIZARD.

His Latest Invention the Most Wonderful of All.

Chicago, April 16.—Thomas A. Edison has finally announced the nature of his individual exhibit. It is the kinetograph, the last of a series of wonderful inventions displayed in connection with the most versatile group of photographs ever brought together. It is to the eye what the photograph is to the ear. A mechanical retina which stores away a living picture, to be reproduced in all its action, every movement faithfully shown, at any time and in any place. With the kinetograph it is possible to show in Chicago Chauncey M. Depue delivering a speech aboard the flag-ship Chicago in New York harbor. Not a photograph of arrested action, but the living man, his every gesture, the play of expression on his face, the movements of his lips. It will transmit and reproduce motion of any kind for any distance.

South Carolina's Experiment.

[Courier-Journal.]

It is a curious circumstance that a state that has been so long conservative as South Carolina should be the first to try the experiment of carrying on a branch of private business. It is true that she was long known as the extreme advocate of state's rights, but this referred to the relation of the state to the federal government and not to socialistic experiments. South Carolina for many years was fast bound in the fetters of precedent and adhered with singular pertinacity to the traditions of her past. Up to the beginning of the civil war she insisted on choosing presidential electors through her legislature, though all the other states had abandoned that system for nearly thirty years. Her laws relating to divorce furnished another instance of her unwillingness to make changes. Since then, and especially within the past few years, her people have given a very hospitable reception to new ideas, and especially to certain crude schemes of reform believed elsewhere to be absurd or impracticable. Along with these has given her approval to a scheme to make a state monopoly of the liquor business.

This is not precisely a new idea, for the experiment has been tried in other countries. It is never to be forgotten, however, in citing the example European nations that the genius of our institutions is essentially different from theirs. In France, for example, the people have long been trained to rely upon government initiative for all sorts of business enterprises. In Germany the empire has tried to head off the socialists by introducing a great number and variety of socialistic schemes of its own. Even in England plans essentially socialistic have been adopted, and others received with favor. On this side of the Atlantic, however, though many such schemes have been proposed, comparatively few have met with favor. Our socialists are active and aggressive, but so far have not been able to make as sufficient display of numbers to secure the extensive adoption of their ideas.

The plan of making the state dealer in alcoholic beverages has much to recommend it to purely theoretical reformers. It removes the desire of private gain as one of the motives to push the business to an undue extent, as, for instance, by selling to minors, to know-nothings, or to those who already have as much as in good for them. It may fairly be expected also to remove in a great measure the temptation to sell liquors containing hurtful adulterants. Moreover, it turns into the public treasury an profits that may accrue from the lawful traffic, thus offsetting any expense that may result from the indirect effects of undue indulgence.

Considerations of this kind are very influential with that class of reasoners who think that nothing is thoroughly well done unless it is done by government. To make all the bar-tenders in a state public officers seems a little ludicrous, of course; but this would not matter much if the theorist's idea were correct, that a public officer is necessarily more competent and more faithful than a private individual. Everyday experience conduces very strongly to the contrary conclusion. In a general way it may be said that no business is so badly done, in proportion to the capital and labor employed, as that which is done for the public. To expect that the public officers who dispense drinks for the state will not be ingenious enough to find means to exploit the traffic for their own benefit, and for the benefit of the politicians to whom owe their positions, is to manifest a singular forgetfulness of the lessons of experience.

The practical working of experiments of this sort is seldom what is expected of them. Usually both their friends and their enemies are more or less at fault in predictions. South Carolina is definitely committed to this experiment, and its practical operation will offer an interesting study.

KRUPP'S BIG GUN.

It Will Take Nearly a Week to Place It On Its Carriage.

Chicago, April 16.—The big Krupp gun has arrived, and to-morrow will be brought into the Krupp building at Jackson and set upon its mighty carriage. The sixty-two tonner, which is already in place there, is large enough to terrify the ordinary non-combatant. Yesterday thirty men were at work with immense steel cradles and ponderous chains lifting the giant into place on its carriage. It is 33 feet long with a twelve-inch bore, and throws a projectile weighing 1,600 pounds. The gun which arrived yesterday weighing 124 tons, and it is expected that it will require the best portion of a week to get it hoisted and in its place on the carriage.

Sam Jones at Bowling Green.

The Sam-Jones revival at Bowling Green resulted in nearly 2,500 professions of religion among the ungodly of that city, and about five hundred additions to the church. The converts number the Mayor of the city, a majority of the Councilmen and many in all the business following. Several saloon keepers have thrown up their jobs and it is said that the Council will soon refuse to renew saloon licenses.

The Crittenden Press

ISSUED WEEKLY.

R. C. WALKER, Publisher.

The extra session of the United States Senate adjourned Saturday.

The Legislature is again discussing a resolution providing for an adjournment. It will probably be thus engaged when its lawful life goes out.

The preachers of Owenboro are making war upon Sabbath breakers. To suit their actions to their preaching they will have no more church notices inserted in Sunday newspapers.

The Leslie Keeley Company which has had exclusive control of the Keeley bi-chloride of gold cure is said to be negotiating a sale of the remedy to a Boston syndicate for $10,000,000.

Union county does not propose for Crittenden to outdo her in shooting scenes. Let us hope however that such things are now over in both counties, unless it be the use of some heavy, where heavy is apparently needed in both counties.

It was talked for a while that Mr. E. T. Franks would be the Republican candidate for the State Senate in this district, but the unanimity with which the voters keep calling upon Dr. W. J. Deboe, puts the latter in the light of a man with any ambition in that direction.

Another ex-officer is successful. Joseph Miller, of West Virginia, has been appointed Commissioner of Internal Revenue. There appears to be a great many exceptions to the general rule not to appoint the old officers to office. In other words the rule is merely a matter of convenience to be called into use when needed and to be put aside when it suits the powers that be.

"By an agreement of the proprietors all the gambling houses in Louisville were closed Saturday afternoon," says a Louisville paper. Where are Kentucky's stringent laws against gambling? Do they apply to Louisville, or were they made for the ungodly small towns? The suspension of the business may mean that Louisville is putting on her meeting clothes preparatory to praying for the State capital.

The United States Minister to Chili, Patrick Egan, who gained so much notoriety on account of the Chilean affair, is at it again. American residents of that country have sent the following dispatch to President Cleveland.

"Minister Egan is harboring criminals in the United States Legation, and is dishonoring the country. He evidently desires to provoke a conflict between the United States and Chili."

NOTICE.

Cleveland's special agent, My men are now riding to catched Hawaii and the taxes due me. They have instructed which has taken the tax on me.

Several prominent educators have had their eyes on Marion with a view of locating here, and establishing a school. For several years Marion has been regarded as a capital place for a large school. A good building is all that is needed to insure a school that will add materially to the population of Marion, by bringing good citizens who are seeking educational advantages for their children; and will add materially to the business of the merchants of the town by bringing scores of boarding students to town every year, who will spend money for board and for clothes. Nobody will deny these two propositions, yet in the face of them, there are men who are able to help build a fine school, standing back to see how the enterprise moves off. If it begins to take on the appearance of success, they will join in after the first hand rub is over, and will be loud in their praise of the enterprise of Marion, and swell up with self importance as they say, "We are people, we are." If on the other hand a failure comes and the good cause is lost, the wisdom like appearance of the owl will spread over their countenances, and you will hear them say, "Didn't I tell you so. I knew it could not be done." Gentlemen, if you want to help the community in which you live, subscribe some of your dollars at the start; it will encourage others to go in; one dollar at the beginning is worth five at the finish. The man who sees a good thing for his community, and says that it is a good thing, and has money to help get it, but stands back and refuses, will not be missed very extensively when Satan gets him.

Mr. Ouley, the new attorney general, is not proving to be a popular official. He shows a disposition to snub the Congressmen when they would talk to him about the positions in his department that ought to be filled by Democrats. This does not suit modern Democrats, and Mr. Ouley ought to consult the desires of the people who put him in power, or step out early.

Our Third Party friends said nothing about a candidate for the House at their meeting Saturday, and their non-action has given rise to the talk that a Third Party man wants to make the race without the nomination, hoping as an independent to draw largely from the ranks of all parties. If this be true, the embryo candidate is not in accord with his party, for it was resolved against fusion.

THE WHOLE ISLAND.

Of Zante Shaken By An Earthquake.—The People Fleeing. Athens, April 17.—Since 7:30 this morning two more heavy shocks have shaken the whole island of Zante. The people are fleeing from all the towns to find safety on the plains and hill sides. All are terror stricken. Thousands are without shelter and few have sufficient food.

The British minister resident has telegraphed to the British foreign office a request for warships to be sent at once to Zante with money and building materials, that temporary sheds may be erected for the shelter of the people on the plains and hill sides.

Athens, April 17.—The Island of Zante was visited by a destructive earthquake to-day resulting in great loss of life and property. The shock this morning at 7:30 appears to have been the most violent in the city of Zante, the greater part of which was destroyed. The people are panic stricken and the authorities helpless.

Thus far the bodies of twenty persons killed by falling walls have been recovered from the debris, and it is feared that many more dead are still in the ruins. The number of persons injured runs up into the hundreds. Everything is confusion and the work of searching for bodies and for the injured cannot be pursued systematically.

NO FUSION.

THE THIRD PARTY OF CRITTENDEN COUNTY PROPOSE TO TAKE THEIR POLITICALS STRAIGHT.

A Convention to Nominate a Candidate for the Senate.

Several weeks ago the faithful votaries of the Third party in Crittenden county held a meeting at Marion to discuss among other things possibility of electing a member of the next House and Senate. As a result of the conference, committees were appointed to confer with the heads of the party in the other counties, and to report the situation of affairs at another meeting. Messrs. Newton Towery and J. C. Little visited Webster county, and A. H. Cardin and Dr. J. R. Clark interviewed the Colwell county Third Parties. These committees reported at a meeting held at Sycamore Chapel, last Saturday, April 15th. The conclusions reached were to hold a convention at Sycamore Grove, May 27, to elect and probably nominate a candidate for the State Senate. At the meeting Saturday the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That we will support the principles of the Omaha convention, and we are in favor of nominating candidates for both State and county offices and strictly opposed to fusion.

Resolved, That the following persons be and they are hereby appointed delegates to the convention to be held at Sycamore Grove, May 27th: Marion—Allan Hurst, Dr. J. R. G. M. Sisco.

Dycusburg—A. Sunderland, W. H. Travis, T. C. Campbell.

Union—A. B. Hodge, A. H. Cardin, D. N. Riley.

Pinney—J. N. Towery, J. C. Little, Wm. Joyce.

Bell's Mines—F. M. Brightman, W. C. M. Travis, Forest Brightman, Ford's Ferry, W. E. Flannery, Bej. Rankin, L. J. Daugherty.

A Tribute Of Love.

Passed from earth to a more beautiful sphere, on Monday, April 30th, 1893, Miss Mary Gregory, of Atlanta, Georgia.

To those who knew her sweet ways, and beautiful unselfish spirit, no words can describe the charming traits of character which so fully adorned every thought and deed of her life, the whole of which was like some beautiful dream, of all that was pleasant, uplifting, and full of beauty and love, which clustered around her earth life, like the order that clings to a bank of violets or odorous roses. Her ways were the ways of kindness, and her paths were the paths of peace. She possessed all the charms and sweetness of character that renders woman lovely and which tempers age with a halo more beautiful than the rainbow's hues, or the pencillings of a most beautiful flower.

But her days are o'er, and she has, almost like a ripe sheaf of wheat, passed to her better reward, where sorrow never comes, and where the true and good rejoice over the recollections of a well-spent life, a life spent in doing good and making others happy. She is now rewarded with the ineffable peace which God in his infinite mercy, gives those whose life work has been all that rounds into a beautiful and perfect life. Farewell to-day, and Hail, to-morrow. She willingly accompanied the beautiful ferryman over the river to that clime where she rests amid many joys and pleasures with the just and good, and we shall meet her again some summer day, when she will be radiant with that beauty which always results from a perfect life. Truly it may be said, she has only gone before, "To live in the hearts of those we leave behind, is not to die."

A FRIEND.

A Cyclone.

Ozage City, Kas., April 18.—About 4:30 o'clock this afternoon one of the worst cyclones that ever visited Kansas struck this city and in a short space of time forty buildings had been wrecked and several lives lost.

WILL NOT ISSUE BONDS.

Secretary Carlisle's Firm Stand Has a Good Effect Upon The Public.

Washington, April 18.—The stock gamblers' raid on the Treasury still continues, and the Eastern banking houses which stand in with the gamblers have not contributed a dollar of gold to the Treasury since Secretary Carlisle took charge. It is a cold bluff upon the part of Wall street operators to force the Secretary to issue bonds, so that they can make money. The issuing of $50,000,000 of bonds means the increase of the public debt just that much, and it benefits only the rich men who are able to buy the bonds. This is why Secretary Carlisle firmly refuses to issue bonds unless he is compelled to do so to save the public credit. Should such emergency arise, it is well for the public to understand in advance that it was the New York gamblers who made such a step necessary. In the meantime, however, Secretary Carlisle is still confident that he will yet be able to defeat the schemes of these desperate speculators, and if he can take the Treasury along for the next two weeks he will have enough gold on hand to be out of the reach of the money sharks. If the Wall street contingent get up a panic, however, they will only hurt themselves, for the Government can stand it much better than they can, whether it issues bonds or not.

This firm and determined position of Mr. Carlisle has, and so soon as it becomes known that the Secretary of the Treasury has seriously considered the advisability of stopping the payment of gold coin for the Treasury notes issued under the act of July 11, 1890, the situation will present a very different phase, and the shipment of gold, which is looked upon as a means for forcing the Administration to issue bonds, will come to an end.

GATES OPEN IN TWO WEEKS.

Exhibits Being Put In Place With a Rush At the World's Fair.

Chicago, April.—Exhibits are coming in to the World's Fair grounds faster now than ever before. There were 600 cars in the yards to-day. The daily average of cars received is over three hundred. Goods are coming so fast there that the restrictions about side tires on the wagons that enter the grounds had to be removed. The work of unpacking exhibits is being pushed vigorously. The work cannot be done any too fast, for there are yet but two weeks before the gates will open and President Cleveland will formally open the Fair.

The programme for the opening exercises seems to be generally understood. While it will be strictly an outdoor event, there are to be no military features whatever—no parade and no display of troops. The ceremony is to be very simple, and it will all take place in Jackson Park, the formal part of it from a platform at the east front of the Administration building. The programme is complete except for the selection of a chaplain to offer the opening prayer, and is as follows: Music, "Columbian March," by John K. Paine; prayer; presentation of the chiefs of departments by the Director General; chorus, "In Praise of God," address by President Cleveland, formally opening the World's Columbian Exposition; starting of the machinery, during which will be given Handel's Hallelujah Chorus; official visit of the President and other invited guests to the department building, where they will be received by the chiefs.

It has been arranged that the platform from which the programme will be given will extend from the east rotunda, where the chorus and orchestra will be stationed out far enough into the plaza so that the President speaking from the front, may at least be seen by all the crowd.

If Louisville can not manage the gamblers, what would she do with the Legislature.

Cost of Convicts.

The Frankfort correspondent of the Courier-Journal has the following: Warden Noraman, of the local penitentiary, has just completed an estimate of the daily cost of feeding the prisoners at the expense of the State, which is a revelation. The State has been feeding in the local penitentiary, since the end of the Mason & Ford lease, April 1, 1911 convicts. A careful count of what those have eaten and what it has cost shows that the prisoners have been maintained at a cost of a fraction more than seven cents a day, each. In fact the official figures the Warden furnishes the Sinking Fund Commissioners show that the total cost of all food, both in and out of the hospital, has been $77-55 a day for 1,911 men. This is considerably less than from $300 to $500 a day, the sum which it has been claimed it would cost the State to keep the prisoners. It shows that the net labor of a very few of the men paid for anything like its value would pay for the feeding of them all, and that at a fair price for the bare labor of all the convicts the State will actually obtain a revenue from her heretofore troublesome convicts.

Resolutions of Respect. We, the undersigned committee of the Presbyterian Sunday school of Marion, Ky., sorrowfully submit the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, it has pleased our heavenly Father to remove from our midst, Mrs. Fannie Blue. The intimate relations long held by Mrs. Blue with the members of this school render it proper that we should place on record our appreciation of her services. Therefore be it,

RESOLVED, that in the death of Mrs. Blue this Sunday school has lost a faithful and efficient worker, the church militant a consistent and consecrated member the community a woman of whom it be said, "She hath done what she could."

RESOLVED, that while we sadly miss her presence in the Sunday school and church, we enshrine her virtues in our hearts and will strive to emulate her Christian example. We rejoice in the belief that she has only exchanged this world with its sorrows and trials, for life eternal and a victor's crown.

RESOLVED, that this school tender its heartfelt sympathy to the family and relatives, in their sad affliction, and would point them to a loving Father, who hath said, "Blessed are they that mourn for they shall be comforted."

Mrs. D. Woods, Mrs. C. Maxwell, Mrs. N. Leffel, Geo. M. Criden, H. K. Woods, Com.

SHOT AT A DOOR.

Huston Holman Wounded Mrs. Arnold Cowan in Union County.

Morganfield, Ky., April 17.—The epidemic of lawlessness continues in Union county. A warrant of arrest was issued this morning against Huston Holman, living near White Sulphur Springs, four miles from here for shooting in a neighbor's house Saturday afternoon and wounding a woman in the neck. Huston Holman, Tom Jeffrey and John Rowe were riding along the public road in front of Arnold's house when one of Holman's companions suggested that he should see if he could hit the door of Cowan's house. Holman at once drew his pistol and fired three shots at the house, one of the balls cutting Mrs. Cowan, who was standing near the door, across the back of the neck.

Jeffrey and Rowe were arrested here this afternoon while waiting for the train on which to escape and locked up in jail, each having a pistol taken from them. Sheriff James Blue went after Holman this afternoon, but did not succeed in finding him. Holman's father owns White Sulphur Springs and is very wealthy. Huston Holman is a brother of Sam Holman, who several years ago killed City Marshal Harland Taylor on the street here.

Foster's Forecasts.

Foster, the St. Joe weather prophet, like his contemporary, Parson Hicks, is predicting more storms and worst ones. His latest bulletin reads as follows: My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from 16th to 20th, and the next will reach the Pacific coast about the 21st, cross the western mountains by close of the 22nd, the great central valleys from 23rd to 25th, and the eastern states about the 26th. Preceding this storm wave, the warm period of April will reach its highest point, after which the temperature for three months will average about normal or a little cooler than the average of the season. Dangerous storms may be expected off the Atlantic coast about the 26th and 27th. The cool wave will cross the western mountains about the 24th, the great central valleys about the 26th and the eastern states about the 28th.

Mr. J. H. Walker, the present Master Commissioner of the Crittenden Circuit Court, is perhaps the oldest man in point of official life of any in the county. He was deputy sheriff of the county for three years and four months, beginning in 1851. He was elected sheriff in 1854, and re-elected in 1856, serving as sheriff from Jan. 1, 1855, to Jan. 1, 1859. He was deputy U. S. Marshal in 1860, and census enumerator in 1860, taking the census of half of the county. He was elected Clerk of the Circuit Court in 1862, and re-elected in 1868, serving as clerk from 1862 to 1874. At the June term of circuit court, 1870, Judge Cissell appointed him Trustee of the jury fund, and he has been appointed every four years since. It was expected that Judge Pratt would remove him and appoint a Republican at the last term of Circuit Court, but such was not the case. Mr. Walker is now 66 years old, and in every official capacity he has served with credit to himself and the people who elected and the Judge who appointed him.

A Fleet Flyer.

Constable Jacobs, of Tolu, came to town Sunday and swore out a warrant charging James Johnson of grand larceny. The Sheriff went down Monday to arrest the accused, but he had left for parts unknown and could not be arrested. According to the constable's story, Johnson lived on Hurricane Island, residing with Thos. Simpson until the latter's death a few weeks ago. When Simpson died Johnson took charge of the household effects including clothing, etc., of the dead man, and a search warrant was necessary to find them. After the goods had been found, Johnson was asked whose boots he had on; he replied that they were Simpson's; he was invited by the officer to get out of them; he got out, dropped the boots and took to the woods, the officer followed, but Johnson ran like lubricated electricity, and as he ran he shed his clothing; first his hat, then his coat, then his pants were found, by the pursuing party; about all Jim had on when last seen was a "move," and it was a move that defied the prowess of the officer's running gear.

The lightning is striking all around Marion. Miss Martin has been appointed postmaster at Eldyville; S. C. Molloy will arrange matters in the Kuttawa office, and J. W. Cade wins the prize at Smithland.
