The Crittenden Press

ISSUED WEEKLY.

R. C. WALKER, Publisher.

F. M. Clement is the Democratic nominee for the Legislature. He will appreciate your vote and influence.

We are authorized to announce ISAAC LINLEY a candidate for the Legislature, to represent Crittenden and Livingston counties in the next General Assembly of Kentucky. Election November 1893.

The Legislature is making an effort to adjourn July 4. The effort is feeble, however.

Gen. Don Carlos Buell will be made Register of the Treasury, says Washington letter.

A six-story building in New York burned Monday, and a number of people perished.

The Louisvilleans swept down on Frankfort en masse Monday. They were after the capital.

The Capital removal fight is now on at Frankfort. Three cheers for Louisville and her million.

Mr. Webb Watkins, one of the editors of the Princeton Banner, was married last week to Miss Emma Coleman a beautiful and popular young lady of Princeton. The Press extends congratulations.

One branch of the Legislature has passed a dog law, but it is so framed that the responsibility of this great imposition upon the dog will not rest upon a clone. Each county can vote upon the question, if it chooses, as to whether it shall tax the male canine 10 cents and the female $1.00.

We announce Mr. Isaac Linley a candidate for the Legislature. He is the Third Party nominee. He is well known throughout the district as an honorable, clever gentleman, and he is highly respected. As a legislator he would be faithful to his trust, and earnest in his efforts.

The present Legislature is not without some virtue, and as all the mean things are known, we make haste to clip the following from the Frankfort Capital:

We have known every member of the General Assembly who has served here since 1871, and no House or Senate, in all those twenty-two years, has been a more moral or sober body than that which has been here for the past eighteen months.

Mrs. Josephine K. Henry, of Versailles, petitions the Legislature "to pass a special act creating the power or authority" to which she may apply and have bestowed upon her the right of citizenship. She also asked to be pardoned of the single crime of which she is guilty, "namely that of being born a woman." Mrs. Henry has been running for office, and raising "cain" generally so long, that people are no longer inclined to believe that she is guilty of the crime to which she alludes.

During the late campaign, Peck, the commissioner, of New York, announced that he had corresponded with the manufacturers, and those employed in the factories in the state of New York touching the increase of wages under the McKinley tariff bill and that the answers were to the effect that wages had been increased since the passage of the law. The correspondence was demanded of Peck, he not only refused to let the documents be seen, but burned them to prevent their falling into the hands of the people, claiming that these communications were his private property. The matter was taken to the court and the supreme court of New York has decided that the documents of a public office are public records, and no one has a right to destroy them.

The speech of our esteemed Third Party friend, Mr. Isaac Linley, at the court house Monday, was, in some particulars, a little amusing. He was kind that swim in the political sea; he had been a Democrat, he was now a Third Party man, and his father was a Republican. Therefore he was a trinity—a trinity candidate—like the ex-Democrat, like the Peoples Party man like the son of a Republican. His wonderful love and admiration for the Republican party was truly and tenderly touching, but the old gal was old, deep furrows ploughed her brow; her sunken cheeks no longer responded to the touch of paint and powder. The Democratic party, his constant companion, for many years he had nestled upon her bosom, poured peans of love into ears, and gallantly defended her from all foes, but the plighted vows are now broken; like now turns to a younger she stands in her frills and flounces, and while he would sip the nectar from her lips in private, he shirks from accepting a wreath at her hands and wearing it publicly; but the little miss stamped her feet Monday, and said that he must bear her token of love, accept her seal of commendation and announce publicly that he was her partner in the Legislature hall. She was so young, so frail, so tender; but so vindictive that she yielded, notwithstanding his belief that without the help of the old girls he never would reach the honors that glitter in the Legislature hall in the old capital at Frankfort. Hence standing before all three chambers Monday, it is no wonder that the tender chords of the heart were touched as thoughts of each whirled through his mind, while the unspoken feelings were there:

"How happy could I be with either, Were 't'her dear charmer away, Out, while ye this tease me together! There is no telling what I will say."

The date for the Senatorial tournament to select a champion to compete with the enemies of Democracy in November has been announced. Only a pair of knights have thus far enrolled their names on the list and it seems that only these two will contest for the honor. On the glittering shield of each "Democracy" is emblazoned, and as a matter of course each vies with the other in displaying the invulnerable points in his armor; each is anxious to show his prowess and skill to cope with the enemy, but it behooves the Democrats of this district whose standard bearer these men desire to be made, to coolly, and with an eye of precision, carefully weigh the merits and demerits of each before bestowing the medal of favor. Fatal mistakes are often made in the arena of politics in selecting a man who fits in harness a long time. What we want now is a man who has courage, and who will contest every inch of ground with the adversary, even carrying the fight into the lion's den. A fight-out-on-this-line-fight-takes-all-summer-and-part-of-the-fall—democracy is what is wanted. With the best of feeling toward both the aspirants of feeling toward both, we select the one whom we consider the best equipped, and a man worthy the hearty endorsement of every Democrat in the district. Sam Nunn, of Crittenden, is comparatively a young man; but he has been in harness a long time. A few years ago he represented the counties of Crittenden and Livingston in the Legislature, and made one of the ablest representatives our neighbor has ever had. He is active, vigilant and trustworthy, in season and out of season, and without hope of personal emolument he has been a zealous laborer in the Democratic vineyard. Schooled in practical politics, he is quick to discern the pitfalls laid by the enemy and is adroit in combating them. So, shiable, generous, and manly, he is very popular with all who know him. If nominated he will let no grass grow under his feet and will make a strong fight.—Webster Record.

Secretary Carlisle illustrates the working of the Sherman silver law in the following statement:

"The records of the Treasury Department show that during the thirteen months beginning May 1, 1892, and ending May 31, 1893, the coin treasury notes issued for the purchase of silver bullion under the act of July 14, 1890, amounting to $49,861,184, and that during the same period the was $47,745,173. It thus appears that all the silver bullion purchased during that time, except $2,216,011 worth, was paid for in gold, while the bullion itself is stored in the vaults of the Treasury and can neither be sold nor used for the payment of any kind of obligation. How long the Government shall thus be compelled to purchase silver bullion and increase the public debt by issuing coin obligations in payment for it, is a question which Congress alone can answer."

Under Arrest At Dawson.

The Paducah News says: It is reported here that three young white men are under arrest at Dawson Springs as being murderers or having had a hand in the killing of Rev. Albert Berry, colored, one night last week. The names of the men are, Thornton, Gilbert and a saloon man whose name could not be ascertained. Gilbert is a young man and belongs to a wealthy and highly respected family. The arrests created quite a sensation.

It was several days before even a clue could be secured and it is said the proof against the young men arrested is insufficient to convict them. They were given a preliminary hearing at Madisonville today but the result is not known.

Prospective Steamboat Race.

It is said that the steamer Royal has covered the $1,000 put up by the Dick Fowler to run a hundred mile race up the Ohio, and that the race will come off in the near future.

It is to be here noted that the Dick Fowler recently broke the record made by the side-wheel steamer, Idlewild, when she steamed from Cairo to Evansville, 100 miles, in 15 hours and 29 minutes, by covering the same distance over the same water in 14 hours and 47 minutes, and she will beat the Royal, too, although that boat is a clipper for speed. We are with the "Dick."—Cave-in-Rock Register.

FIVE KILLED.

The Horrible Crime of a Demented Mother.

Parkersburg, W. Va., June 14.—Mrs. Kate Kerch, living ten miles from here, having lost her reason, poisoned two of her young children, threw two others into a well and then killed herself.

She tried to kill her eight children, but four were saved by the desperate struggle of her fourteen-year-old daughter, Mollie. The family is in good circumstances.

There Will Be No Hanging.

The 23rd inst., as has often been remarked lately, is the day set for the execution of Milligan, the brutal wife murderer. The courts have said the man must hang and the governor has declined to interfere, and Milligan says he wants to be hanged rather than go to the penitentiary and the officials will enforce the court edict, but—and here the News drops a prophetic hint, there will be no execution. Milligan, as all are now concluding, is now, if he has not before, an insane man and not therefore a subject for the halter. The governor, when he gets the facts, won't let the execution occur, for though firm in his views he is a human in his feelings. Milligan will no doubt be respited to a life term, and those who expect a hanging may disabuse their minds forthwith, for it won't occur.—Paducah News.

SPRAYING.

What to Spray For, When to Spray and What to Spray With.

Here is some spraying information boiled down originally for The Farm Journal and containing pointers for readers in every locality:

Spray for the early fall of the leaf of the year, apple, quince, cherry, pear and the cracking of the year; the rot of the cherry, plum and grape; apple scab; rust of the strawberry and blackberry; leaf and potato blight and rot. These diseases are caused by fungi, and these fungi can be rendered largely inert by spraying.

Spray also to prevent damage by insects, by leaf lice, apple worms, apple maggots, borers, leaf slugs, curculio, currant worms, cabbage worms and the potato beetle; also by lice and flies on animals and in chicken houses, and for musty cellars, bad drains and sinks.

The Bordeaux mixture seems to be all that is necessary for most species of fungi. Here is one formula for making it: Put about 30 gallons of clean water in a barrel, put four pounds of sulphate of copper in a coarse sack and suspend it in the water just below the surface. In about 12 hours the sack will be empty. When two or three pounds of lime are thoroughly soaked under water and cooled, stir well, and after it is partially settled pour off the bulk of the lime and add it to the copper solution, straining it through a piece of burlap. This takes out the bulk of the lime sediment, and as it is again strained as it goes into the sprayer there is little chance of clogging the nozzle. After the lime water is added the barrel is filled with clean water to the amount of 45 or 50 gallons, and the mixture is ready for use. Stir well before filling the sprayer.

Paris green is the material for leaf eating insects. When fungi and insects are to be met at the same time, the Paris green is to be mixed with the Bordeaux mixture, three or four ounces to a barrel of water. Take five pounds of tobacco steep them in three gallons of water for three hours, strain the concoction and add sufficient water to make seven gallons. This is for spraying insects, and as it lies on plants and animals, and kills by contact. Carbonate of copper dissolved in ammonia is a sure fungicide, is largely recommended and used, but it is more expensive than the Bordeaux mixture. It has to be cooked to keep, and we do not see that it is in any way superior to the Bordeaux mixture. Where the preparation can be had ready mixed, so as to use it as a first rate. By spraying the potato plant every two weeks with either of these solutions it will be defended against the fungus, which causes the rot.

Spray all plants and fruit trees before they blossom, never while in blossom. Use no Paris green then. Then spray after the blossoms fall and every two or three weeks all summer. Use Paris green when leaf eating insects appear. This is soon after the first warm days come. The County Judge rules that Marion is not a local option town. It is correct, but unless a fellow knows how to pull the "ropes," he finds it a job to get a drink.

LOCAL POLITICS.

Isaac Linley accepts the Third Party Nomination for the Legislature.
Last week there appeared in the Press a little notice calling the Third Party Committee together at Marion Monday, June 12. The Committee met according to the call, and the result of the meeting is a candidate in the person of Mr. Isaac Linley, of Livingston, for the Legislature.
The Third Party Committee was called to order Monday at the court house by Dr. J. R. Clark, of Marion, Mr. W. E. Flannery presented resolutions endorsing the Omaha platform, and nominating Isaac Linley for the Legislature. The chairman put the resolutions on their passage, and they were adopted without discussion.
Mr. Linley was introduced by Mr. A. H. Cardin. He said that he accepted the nomination and was proud of it. He endorsed the Third Party platform from end to end. He thought the Government ought to loan the people money at a low rate of interest, if the people could give the Government good security; if they could secure it by land mortgages. He was for free and unlimited coinage of silver. He wanted the Government to buy the railroads.
He thought the Democratic party was incapable. He had nothing against the Republican party; some of the brightest pages in the history of the country were made bright by the acts of the Republican party, but the party had outlived its usefulness. He said that he left the Democratic party last fall. Mr. Linley concluded by saying that "if you hear any evil reports about me do not believe them, wait until you see me, none of them are true."
MR. F. M. CLEMENT followed Mr. Linley. He said that he was the nominee of the Democratic party; the nomination had come to him fairly. He was a thorough Democrat, his was the Democracy that was expounded by Cleveland, Carlisle and Waterson. This is a free country, every man has a right to belong to any party that pleased him best, that while he was a Democrat, he had no fault to find with the man who belonged to another party. He said that only in a general way he would favor legislation. He was opposed, as a rule to issue bonds of any kind; no State, county or district should issue bond except under extreme circumstances. States and counties should, if possible, transact all business on a cash basis.
He favored, leaving the convict labor to be worked inside the penitentiary walls. He was for a good road law, but knew of no feasible plan for making good roads; we could not afford to pave our roads; we are not able.
Railroad Fair Paid.
We desire to call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of the Bowling Green Business College and Literary Institute of Bowling Green Ky.
The proprietors of the school offer to pay the railroad fare of all parties who will enter their school. The school is one of the leading institutions in the South, and had a very large enrollment of students the past year. Fifty-two page catalogue free.
The Baptist Sunday school at Marion will meet at the Opera House Sunday. The church is under going repairs and is not in condition for use.
The public is rapidly investing in the new cemetery. Many of the good citizens have already purchased lots. It will be a beautiful burying ground and will always be cared for. Mr. J. B. Kevill is managing the sales for John Lamb.
Wheat harvest on hands in few days. An insect is in some neighborhoods, injuring the crop by cutting the stalk of straw off near the ground. Several crops have been materially injured in that way.
Monday young Henry Yeakey executed a $500 bond with O. P. Yeakey and G. J. Hamilton as sureties for his appearance before Judge Moore when wanted in a trial to settle his interest in a little citizen of the Hurricane neighborhood.
Mrs. Sallie Padon Worten, wife of Mr. J. M. Worten, a popular young lawyer of Smithland, died last Wednesday. She was a most excellent lady, a lovable and loving wife, and the Press deeply sympathizes with the bereaved husband in his irreparable loss.
Yesterday a Miss Pulliam, of Eldorado, Ill., accompanied by her father, was in town, consulting an attorney about bringing a breach of promise suit against Thos. Brantly, a young man of this county. The suit has not yet been filed.
Mr. H. V. McChesney, of Smithland, was in town Saturday. He has been teaching at Smithland, and is very popular as a teacher there; as an evidence of this appreciation of him, the trustees have contracted with him to teach next year at $400.

HEARIN WINN.

The Long Drawn Out Fight Ends.
Monday's evening Louisville papers reach Marion Tuesday morning. They came in as usual last Tuesday morning and in a few minutes thereafter it was known that Congressman Stone had cast his vote for a post master at Marion and that the choice of the Congressman was Judge A. M. Hearin.
This settles the long fight over the juicy plum; and the old will go out, and the new go in, while the world will roll on about as usual.
J. Strother Smith.
Everybody knows plain Jim Smith, when he writes you a letter he signs it "J. S." Of course we all know that he is manager of the Crittenden Springs; he invested his time and money in the famous history this year because he had a large acquaintance, among people who usually go to good watering places and as his many warm friends knew that he had charge of Crittenden they would summer with him. Jim was in town Monday, and Jim was mad; he was not only mildly angry, but raving mad, and he was talking about courts, lawyers, damages, juries, and things of that kind. After he had simmered down to about 104 in the shade, he called a lawyer and after retaining the attorney proceeded to explain his case by handing the limb of the law, and invitation to the opening ball at Crittenden. The lawyer read, folded and put it in his pocket, and said: "now for your case, Jim." "Yes, said Jim, "that paper explains it all." The attorney adjusted his glasses, re-read the invitation carefully, and said: "Jim; Jim, what do you mean; this is nothing but an invitation; that certainly has nothing to do with you;" "It hasn't," fairly roared Jim. "No," said the lawyer, "your name is nowhere mentioned." "Ain't I the manager of Crittenden Springs?" screamed the client, as he mopped the perspiration from his clouded brow; "didn't I drop everything and come over here because of my extensive acquaintance, didn't my friends tell me they would come, if I would let them know when I took charge, didn't we have those invitations printed to let them know about it, and now even you don't know my name as printed on it. Look, J. Strother Smith; nobody knows me by that name, not even my mother, or wife, and already some of my friends are writing to Strother Smith, asking the whereabouts of Jim Smith. Of course I want damages, and big damages from Jenkins, who is responsible for it all. I don't part my hair in the middle, I have no soiled pink shirts, and yet this is all heaped upon me. Damages, yes sir, damages, by jings, I will have."
At the residence of his mother Mrs. Fannie R. Lemon in Crittenden county on the 9th day of June 1893, Richard Lucien Lemon, aged 19 years one month and three days.
Yes, after long and patient suffering, the close attention of his physician, the diligent, anxious and laborious care of his fond mother and the kind attentions and good offices of neighbors and friends, he came to his final end at the setting of the sun on last Friday.
To speak well of Dick, requires no partiality on the part of those who knew him. In many respects he was an exception of a boy. To his seniors in years he was respectful and polite, to his juniors he was kind and helpful and with his associates always courteous and pleasant. His good traits of character will be long remembered and praised by the young and the old in the Iron Hill country and wherever else he may have been known. He now sleeps calmly in the Sugar Grove cemetery. "Peace to his ashes and honor to his memory."
His Uncle.
Sheriff James Cooper, of Randall county, Texas, is a fortunate man and while he has plenty of dollars and representatives of dollars, the best part of his fortune cannot be estimated that way. It is a wife and she is a Crittenden county girl. On the 6th at Cayton City, Tex., he and Miss Belle Stewart were united in marriage. Miss Belle went from Marion to Texas several years ago, homesteaded a section of land, and like the brave girl, she began to carve out a fortune for herself; she was succeeding admirably when the young and popular officer came along and won her heart and hand.
Chittenden Pardoned.
Hon. J. K. Hendricks was in Frankfort last week to present a petition to Gov. Brown for a pardon of J. J. Chittenden who was sentenced to the Penitentiary at the last term of Circuit Court for killing Mr. Rodgers in this county several years ago. The pardon was granted, and Mr. Chittenden is again a free man. He is a good citizen and his friends are gratified.—Smithland News.
Forest Harris has been appointed post master at Carversville; vice Albert Likens removed.
The promotion of Judge A. M. Hearin to the post office leaves the office of Police Judge vacant. The Board of Trustees can fill the vacancy by appointment. Who will be the man to claim the honors to say nothing.

How They Take It.

Upon the receipt of the news about the result of the post office fight the Press sent out a man to interview the vanquished fellow citizens. The first man met with was John Morse. He was rushing round hunting for a valise. "What will be my future course? I am going out to establish agencies for Morse's Patent Ribbon Rack" he said, as he pitched the valise at a neighbor who called from across the street: "Is there any mail for me?"
The next late candidate for post office honors, encountered was Herman Koltinsky. The suave little gentleman sported a far-away-night-haven look, and said, "Well, about as I expected." Just then a customer came in and called for "some dried Herron." Kol made a dive for scale weight and the customer sped around the corner.
About this time R. B. Dorr, the old time tried, never shirking Democrat, came around the corner, bearing upon his shoulder a step ladder, and in one hand a hammer while in the other hand he held his upper lip to its accustomed place. He tarried not for a talk, but blinking his off eye, passed on, striking his foot against a rock, he stumbled, and as he fell, he looked back at the inanimate object that caused his collapse and said: "Dad-blame that stone; you are not the first of the name to trip me."
Mr. H. M. Cook could not be found; he was out on his farm, probably following the plow, like Cincinnati's old, waiting to be called to serve his country.
John Bennett was found in the undertaker's establishment, sitting on a coffin box, whistling: "How Tedi-ous and Tasteless the Hours."
Rev. B. E. Martin was not in town; when last seen he was in search of some school trustee who presided over some school district, in which there was no contest for the situation at teacher.

Resolutions of Respect.

Our dear friend Mrs. Mollie Loving wife of H. H. Loving departed this life May 31, 1893, after a protracted and painful illness, therefore be it Resolved, We the "Ladies Industrial Society" of the Presbyterian church at Marion, Ky., of which society she was a good and useful member. We deeply lament the loss with aching hearts, we meet to pay this our feeble, but sad tribute to her memory.
2. That we bow with christian resignation to him that doeth all things well and with prayerful hearts we beseech Him to help us in this affliction. That we extend our heartfelt sympathies to the grief stricken husband and dear little ones, her many friends and relatives. May God sustain, and help them bear this great loss, and we humbly commend them to that grace him who weeps with them who weep.
3. That copies of these resolutions be sent to the Press for publication and to the family of the deceased, by order of the society.
Mrs. R. W. Wilson, Mrs. Dick Pickens, Mrs. H. Long, Com.
Card of Thanks.
We desire to tender our sincere thanks to the good people who so generously and so kindly administered to the wants and necessities of one husband and father during his late illness. We appreciate the favors and shall always tenderly remember them.
SARAH WELDON, EMMA WELDON, Pinkeyville, Ky., June 8.
Mr. S. Hodge has formed a partnership with Judge Hewlett for the practice of law at Princeton. Mr. Hodge will not move his family to Princeton, but will remain there himself.
B. F. McMeen caught his hand in the running gear of a pen-unit reuster a day or two ago, and now the hand is in a swing, and Ben unfit for work, but the reuster is doing business as usual.
The citizens of Bowling Green and Warren county held a mass meeting Saturday and instructed for Bowling Green first for the state capital and Louisville record.

In the Iron Hill neighborhood Sunday evening John Stewart had to kill his fine fox hound. It gave evidence of being afflicted with hydrophobia biting other dogs and some stock.
The docket of the Circuit Court is filling up very slowly. Two suits were filed last week. W. E. Wilcox sues Jas. Wittenberry on a $75 rent note, and Thos. Miner sues Chas. Minner on a $75 promissory note.
The big damage suit of Holman v. Hubbard in the Caldwell Circuit Court was settled Monday, the defendant paying the plaintiff $250. A judgement was rendered for $1,000, but the plaintiff accepted $250 as a settlement of the matter.
Monday Judge Moore issued a warrant for Enoch Bennett, charging him with assaulting and beating Alma Garner. The affair took place at the riding gallery Saturday night. Alma is a dusky maiden, and Enoch has dark skin and curly hair.
The town trustees held a meeting Thursday night and passed an ordinance directing the housekeepers to clean up their premises. The average housekeeper will pay about as much attention to the order as a hog would to a sign directing it to keep out of a convenient mud hole.
"I have found one man in the county who can 'set up' a binder without the assistance of an expert," said Mr. Robt. Hodges, of the firm of Pierce & Co. "That man is Mr. A. Tovey, of Shady Grove. He knows something about a machine, and let me tell you, he is a good farmer too."
The music class of Mrs. Carrie Thomas, under the management of their teacher will give a musical concert at the Opera House Tuesday night June 20. A most excellent programme has been prepared for the occasion, and the lovers of music will find the entertainment a great treat.
The Creamery Closes.
The directors of the creamery company, held a meeting Monday and decided to close the creamery for the present. The low prices of butter, and the want of a sufficient quantity of milk causes the shut down.
Born on the 14th to the wife of — Bennett, a boy, Dr. E. M. Newcomb officiating.

Our Taxes Reduced.
The State Board of Equalization has passed upon the Crittenden county assessment, and as usual the Board made a deduction in the assessed valuation. This year land and personal property is reduced 5 percent. "Personal property" does not include money or cash notes, they will be taxed as originally assessed. This reduction does not, however, effect the original assessment in any particular so far as the county levy is concerned—county taxes will be collected according to the original assessment.

Obituary.

Lawson R. Hughes was born in Crittenden county, Ky., Sept. 8, 1837 and was married to Miss Nannie E. Simpson, Oct. 20, 1869. About one year after his marriage he professed religion and united with the Methodist Episcopal church, South, at Mt. Zion, of which he was a faithful member till his death. For the last fifteen years brother Hughes was an invalid, and though able to get about more or less, he was never regarded as a well man. For several months previous to his death, he was a patient sufferer. On the 10th, of March, 1893, at the old homestead, where he was born, raised, and had lived, he breathed his last in the arms of a merciful Saviour. "My sky is clear," was the response in answer to a question as to his hopes of heaven. "Yes," said he, "I feel that I shall have a home in heaven." When his death was known throughout the community, his loss was keenly felt, particularly among the needy and poor. A sad vacancy is noticed and and felt at old Mt. Zion, which he loved so much and where he worshipped so long. A large concourse of people attended his funeral. In the old Mt. Zion cemetery, his body reposes till the resurrection of the just. Peace to his ashes.

"A precious one from us has gone, A voice we loved is stilled, A place is vacant in our home, Which never can be filled. God in his wisdom has recalled The boon his love has given; And though the body slumbers here, The soul is safe in heaven." —E. M. GIBBONS.

Died on the morning of the thirtieth of December 1892, little Hugh infant son of J. N. and Ida M. Roberts, aged four months and six days. We administered many remedies, we singled our prayers and tears together as we watched by his little cradle, but in vain, he faded like a gentle flower before our weeping eyes. His little body gave a way beneath the mortal stroke of disease and his spirit returned to God who gave it. And we are left here to wade through the trials and bereavements of earth, looking forward to the time when we will go home to that sweet Father. But we are not left to our own tears, but we are comforted by the thought that the same loving hand that took our darling from our embrace is still leading and guiding us, bringing us each day nearer home and everlasting happiness.

Yes, we are coming baby coming When the storms of life are o'er, We will meet thee, fondly greet thee, Where pain and parting comes no more. A FRIEND.

Thomas, the little son of Henry L. and Sarah E. Bell, was born Oct. 13, 1893, and died of pneumonia March 1, 1893. He was a bright and cheerful little fellow giving much attention to books and always held his class at school, he attended Sunday school, and but few of his age had such knowledge as the little.

To the bereaved mother we say, "Weep not for Tommie for he is resting in the Paradise of God, where there is no night, neither sorrow, or pain, for the hand of God has wiped all tears from their eyes and they shall reign for ever," our Saviour says, "suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

Tommie's home is the home is the home of many mansions and his companions are angels. The chilly waters of death's Jordan are passed and he stands among the bloodwashed throng on the other side, having joined the song of redemption he sings praises to Christ who redeemed him; then he is faithful until death, for our God is a son, and a child. W. F. R.

Little Gerie, daughter of Grant and Lola Davidson was born December 6th, 1891, and on May 25th, 1893, God saw fit to close her mild blue eyes, never to open them again on earth, and now she is in the realm of the blessed, where there is no more pain. Dear parents weep not for little Gerie but love her lovingly and say that she will be done O Lord not ours, and when the last roll is called you will meet your angel child, where there is no parting. Kiss no fare-well words. Oh, yes, but a little while and you will be with little Gerie, basking in the sunlight of eternal glory. I imagine I can see her bright form and hear her gentle voice saying, as she gazes out over the walls of Heaven, mama, papa and little brother come up higher and enjoy this eternal rest. Precious baby we have laid thee, I, the peaceful grave, embrace But thy memory shall be cherished Till we see thy heavenly face. Yes our darling has gone, On earth we will see her no more. But I know I will meet her In Heaven where parting will be no more. A Cousin.

HILARY A. HERBERT.

Hilary A. Herbert is undoubtedly the right man in the right place. He has been for several years Chairman of the Committee on naval affairs of the House. He was born in Lawrenceville, S. C., and belongs to an old family. His parents removed to Alabama, when he was but a child. Mr. Herbert was educated at the University of Alabama, studied law, and was admitted to the bar. He entered the Confederate service as a captain, became a colonel, and was disabled at the battle of Wilderness. Mr. Herbert has been in the House of Representatives for 14 years and is highly respected by both parties.

MR. T. E. C. BRINLEY

Has the following to say about the Electrotype and how it came after effects of La Grippe.

Office building, Miles, Hardy & Co., Louisville, January 29, 1893. Gentle: While attending the Memphis Fair some months ago, I was attacked with severe pains in my arm and legs, the effect of grippe of a child. I met your agent there, Mr. Herbert, who is a good man, and he insisted that I use the Electrotype in his office, which I did with wonderful results. In a short time the pains left me, and I concluded to visit him. When my return time had expired, I bought it, and would not part with it for any consideration. It is certainly a wonderful instrument, and it is wonderful as to how it does its work, yet it does it. I think it is the duty of every man to make known to the world anything that will be of any benefit to them, and the Electrotype certainly will. Very respectfully, T. E. C. BRINLEY.

"Mr. Brinley is one of the oldest and best known piano manufacturers in the country."

The diseases cured by the Electrotype are not confined to any particular class of ailments. By its use you can be cured of any of the most troublesome, able strength and vigor to the entire system, and will cure any disease where there is vitality to build on and a cure possible. We invite all to call or write and get full particulars.

A Picnic On a Farm

In a sequestered, wooded spot, by a cooling stream—a very pleasant contemplation for the eye and mind. They wonder why it is that the farmer does not more frequently go picnicking, and they do not get more enjoyment out of life. They do not realize that the now-a-days farmer enjoys his life in his work.

The McCormick Machine of Steel is one of the most important inventions of the age. It is such a handy machine and so reliable in its performance that the old-time dread of harvest is done away with. The makers of the McCormick get many of their ideas from the farmer and crystalize them into practical working mechanisms. You can O. K. the hints you get from the practical farmers—perhaps that's why the practical farmers O. K. the "Machine of Steel"—it's made to meet their needs. The McCormick Catalogue is invaluable to the farmer after improved harvesting machinery. McCormick Harvesting Machine Co., CHICAGO, ILL. Pierce & Son, Agents.
