FREDONIA.

The Reswnt Question Again Agt. The People of Sedo Livingston.

Mr. R. J. W. Proctor, the head man of the Latitude on the M. S. River, has entered a complaint against the people of the county of Sedo Livingstone, saying that they are not paying the duties on their corn. The case was tried before the circuit court, and the court found in favor of the people of Sedo Livingstone. The defendant, Mr. R. J. W. Proctor, is a man of integrity, and the court was satisfied with his testimony. The court appointed a referee to report on the case, and the report of the referee was favorable to the people of Sedo Livingstone. The case was then heard before the circuit court, and the court found in favor of the people of Sedo Livingstone. The defendant, Mr. R. J. W. Proctor, is a man of integrity, and the court was satisfied with his testimony. The court appointed a referee to report on the case, and the report of the referee was favorable to the people of Sedo Livingstone. The case was then heard before the circuit court, and the court found in favor of the people of Sedo Livingstone.

CARDINAL.

The Rev. Mr. J. F. D. Smith, the pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, has been conducting a business in this city. He has been very successful in his work, and the congregation has increased in numbers. The pastor has been very active in the work of the church, and has been very successful in his efforts to promote the interests of the church. The church has been very successful in its work, and the congregation has increased in numbers. The pastor has been very active in the work of the church, and has been very successful in his efforts to promote the interests of the church. The church has been very successful in its work, and the congregation has increased in numbers. The pastor has been very active in the work of the church, and has been very successful in his efforts to promote the interests of the church. The church has been very successful in its work, and the congregation has increased in numbers. The pastor has been very active in the work of the church, and has been very successful in his efforts to promote the interests of the church.

SUNDAY SCHOOL, Cohan.

The Rev. Mr. J. F. D. Smith, the pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, has been conducting a business in this city. He has been very successful in his work, and the congregation has increased in numbers. The pastor has been very active in the work of the church, and has been very successful in his efforts to promote the interests of the church. The church has been very successful in its work, and the congregation has increased in numbers. The pastor has been very active in the work of the church, and has been very successful in his efforts to promote the interests of the church. The church has been very successful in its work, and the congregation has increased in numbers. The pastor has been very active in the work of the church, and has been very successful in his efforts to promote the interests of the church. The church has been very successful in its work, and the congregation has increased in numbers. The pastor has been very active in the work of the church, and has been very successful in his efforts to promote the interests of the church. The church has been very successful in its work, and the congregation has increased in numbers. The pastor has been very active in the work of the church, and has been very successful in his efforts to promote the interests of the church. The church has been very successful in its work, and the congregation has increased in numbers. The pastor has been very active in the work of the church, and has been very successful in his efforts to promote the interests of the church. The church has been very successful in its work, and the congregation has increased in numbers. The pastor has been very active in the work of the church, and has been very successful in his efforts to promote the interests of the church.

1894.

The old year with its ideals goes, the new year with its promises comes. We shall stand upon the verge of the one and upon the threshold of the other. We shall enter into the world of new hopes—of new faiths,—of good, we and to the world.

RO-OPENING.

The old year with its ideals goes, the new year with its promises comes. We shall stand upon the verge of the one and upon the threshold of the other. We shall enter into the world of new hopes—of new faiths.—of good, we and to the world.

THOMAS BRO.

Having seen your letter, we have discarded your old ones, and are glad to send you our new ones. We have discarded your old ones, and are glad to send you our new ones.