ABSOLUTELY PURE

THE RECORD IS MADE,

The Work of the Fifty-Third Congress is Now History. Its Good and Its Evil.

MEN MADE AND UNMADE.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The history of the Fifty-third Congress has about been made up, and the remaining days before it expires will scarcely contribute anything that will give a new light or shade to the record. In all that will be considered in measuring its success or failure the chapter is complete.

The two years of its life have seen the Democratic party, long in the minority, in control of not only the legislative, but the executive departments of the government, and they beheld that party confronted by problems of state more momentous than any others that have developed since the war. This Congress, moreover, has marked the dividing line between two of the greatest political revolutions in this country has produced in times of peace. Its majority recorded the indignation of the people over the misuse of power by the Republicans; its repudiation was a public expression of disapproval of its failure to heed the moral of its victory. The cost of that failure has been borne by the Democratic party, but the cause rests with freebooters who have styled themselves Democrats. The trucking to trusts sacrificed the Republicans, and the same policy, forced upon an unwilling party by half a dozen unscrupulous Senators, explains the loss of public faith in the rule of the Democracy.

Whatever may be said of the Fifty-third Congress, its accomplishments and its failures, it has developed an issue which neither party in the future can afford to ignore. It has brought out in strong relief the interests which, interwoven in power by Republican favoritism, arrogantly assume to control national legislation. It has shown the widespread influence of the trusts, and brought fact so prominently before the people that for any party of men to espouse their special cause will be to invite inevitable defeat. The death sentence of the trusts has twice been pronounced. The verdict is not likely to again go unexecuted. This Congress has also checked effectually the headlong McKinley rush of the Republicans in the line of favoritism in legislation.

A LONG STEP FORWARD.

A most succinct review of the result of the Fifty-third Congress is contained in this statement:

The Democratic party has taken a long step in reforming the tariff; how many Republicans advocate the reenactment of the McKinley law? Do Reed, Aldrich, Sherman, Allison, or any of the other great Republican leaders?

The Democratic party has added the income tax to the statutes, thereby compelling the rich to bear their proportion of the expenses of the government. How many Republicans will advocate repeal, as a part of the Republican policy? Will Reed, Sherman, Aldrich or McKinley?

The Democratic party has repealed the Federal Election laws enacted during the reconstruction period following the war. Will Reed, Sherman, Allison or McKinley advise their rehabilitation? Lodge—be of Force bill fame—stands alone in favor of reviving this species of oppression. The Republican victories West Virginia and Tennessee and the semi-Republican victory in North Carolina confute the arguments of Lodge in favor of bayonet domination at the polls.

The Democratic party took the initiative in repealing the silver purchasing clause of the Sherman act. There are no Republicans willing to advocate its revival.

One other great accomplishment would have been added to this list had not a handful of Democratic Senators proved susceptible to trust influences. Sugar would have been placed on the free list, and the Haymeyer been deprived of their bounty in the shape of protection. How many Republicans are prepared to declare that the Sugar Trust is entitled to the concessions it now enjoys. The disgust of the people at the course of the conservatives found expression in the last November election, and they can no longer afford to sustain this gigantic monopoly.

These results furnish the bright spots in the record of this Congress.

THE FAILURES.

What the Democratic party has failed to accomplish is a longer story. The financial question, which was forced upon the Democratic party as the result of the makeshift Sherman law, precipitated divisions and factions which have led to the irreconcilable estrangement of the President and the majority of his party in this Congress. The Democrats have split upon finance, but the break has occurred on open lines. There have been no Republican compromises, and the issue that has been made by the conflicting opinions of the President and a majority of his party associates in Congress will doubtless prevent a Republican compromise in the future. The question of money standard is now well defined, and the great issue will no longer be evaded by temporizing and conciliation. How the problem will be solved remains with the Republicans. The Democrats have compelled them to meet it squarely. This much, at least, has been accomplished.

The heat and excitement of the three sessions of this Congress have gauged the ability of leaders. Many men who have been popularly regarded as the foremost spokesmen of their parties have been found unequal to the demands of the emergency. Men have stepped into prominence who have heretofore been only followers. Issues have made big men little and little men big. Who will say that Gorman's usefulness as a Democratic leader is not past and gone? Who will say that Hill has not grown in popular favor? Who will not admit that Reed's reputation has suffered because of his course of evasion on the financial question? Who will deny that Brice, Vest, Smith and Murphy have lost prestige with Democrats and so it goes through a long list.

HEROES OF SHILOH'S FIELD.

Prominent Generals and Governors of Many States to Attend the Reunion.

Monticello, Ill., February 27.—The Governors of Illinois, Iowa, Kentucky, Mississippi, Tennessee, Indiana, and other States, with their official staffs, have accepted invitations to attend the reunion of the survivors of the Army of the Tennessee, the Ohio and the Mississippi on the Shiloh battle field, on the 33d anniversary of the battle, April 6 and 7. Gen. B. F. Prentiss, the hero of the Hornet's Nest; Gen. D. C. Buell, the commander of the Army of the Ohio; Major Breckinridge, Gen. Joseph Wheeler, Gen. M. F. Pierce, Gen. Lew Wallace, and others will attend.

NEAR DALLAS.

Robbers Get Away With an Engine and Express Car.

Dallas, Tex., February 27.—Fifteen robbers held up the northbound Houston and Texas Central express at the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Central railroad crossing at 7 o'clock this evening. The fireman and engineer were compelled to leave the engine and the robbers cut loose the baggage car and express, put their men on the locomotive, jerked the throttle open and went north, leaving the rest of the train on the track. It is thought they will run the express car to White Rock creek and rob the Wells Fargo safe. It is said the safe contains a large sum of money.

Chief of Police Arnold and Sheriff Cabell, with ten mounted officers were sent after the robbers. The robbers were armed.

PROHIBS. PLATFORM.

A Full State Ticket Nominated and Sent Forth to Battle.

Crittenden Has a Place on the Ticket.

The Prohibition political State Convention was held in Louisville last week, adjourning Friday. The following State ticket was nominated and platform promulgated:

For Governor—T. B. Demaree.
Lieut. Governor—H. B. Asbury.
Auditor—James M. Ragsdale, of McCracken.
Register of the Land Office—S. E. Simpson, of Laurel.
Attorney General—J. B. Tinnell, of Georgetown.
Secretary of State—Mrs. Beauchamp, of Lexington.
Supt. Public Instruction—Mrs. Henry.
Commissioner of Agriculture—S. R. Weldon, of Crittenden.

PLATFORM.

The Prohibition party of Kentucky in convention assembled, reaffirms its allegiance to the National Prohibition party, and the platform of principles adopted at the National Convention at the city of Cincinnati in the year 1892, and therefore declare:

First—We regard the traffic in liquor as the bleeding slenchound of crime, shame, poverty, misery and dishonor to state and people, and declare that any and all laws that attempt to legalize the drink traffic foster crime and dishonor American civilization and citizenship; therefore, the manufacture and traffic in intoxicants for beverage purposes should be utterly and absolutely suppressed and outlawed, and no compromise with it, whether it be called local option, taxation, regulation or public control, should be tolerated, and the sale of liquor for mechanical and medical purposes should be conducted by the state under the strictest legal enactments.

Second—The right of suffrage inheres to citizenship, and the free exercise of this right can not be denied to any citizen by reason of sex.

Third—The money of the country—gold, silver and paper—should be issued by the general government alone, and should be of full legal tender in payment of all debts, public and private, and should be issued in such manner as to prevent cornering of the money market by capital, and in such quantity as to meet the demands of commerce and industry of the country, and be so regulated as to secure its obtainance at a fair rate of interest.

Fourth—Tariff should only be levied for the defense of American labor against foreign labor, and upon each foreign product as levy tariffs upon the products exported by us to such countries. The means raised for the necessary and economical administration of the government should be raised by a just and fair adjustment of the taxes upon property and incomes.

Fifth—We regard with horror and alarm the investment of foreign capital in the industries, lands and bonds of our country, and denounce the consent of the Democratic and Republican parties to such investments, as un-American, unpatriotic and dangerous to our free republic, and as a menace to the liberties of our people. We declare that all such investments should be prohibited by the laws of the land—both state and national—and the acquisition of land by individuals and corporations should be limited by law.

Sixth—Railroads and telegraphs and all like natural monopolies should be owned and controlled by the government, to the end that the people may be protected against extortionate and unjust discriminations.

Seventh—The formation of all trusts and combines for the arbitrary control of prices in the money and products of the country, should be prohibited by state and national law.

Eighth—Just pensions should be paid to all ex-Union soldiers and sailors, their wives and minor children, graded upon time of service and limited to disability.

Ninth—Our immigration laws should be amended, and the required time before naturalization should be extended to an actual bona fide residence in the United States of twenty-one years.

Tenth—We stand for the American public schools, and are uncompromisingly opposed to any and all appropriations by state and national legislatures of the public money for sectarian schools and churches.

Eleventh—All property in the state should be listed at actual value, less the bona fide indebtedness of the owners, for purposes of taxation, and made to share the burdens thereof, including money, bonds and stocks.

Twelfth—All official fees should be covered into the public treasury, and all public officials should be paid reasonable salaries.

Thirteenth—We favor the abolition of the system of collecting tolls on public roads, and believe the roads should be opened by the public.

Fourteenth—The insurance companies doing business in this state have combined and confederated together by means of "local boards" to destroy competition in the business, and to charge exorbitant rates; we pledge ourselves to enact such laws as will effectually destroy such combinations.

Fifteenth—The President, Vice President, and United States Senators and all civil officers should be selected by direct vote of the people.

Sixteenth—We denounce the corrupt, wasteful and reckless administration of the finances of the country in the general government, and in the state government, whereby both have been dragged to the verge of bankruptcy, and we indict the Democratic party in its administration of public affairs in the nation for four years and the state for thirty years past.

Seventeenth—We pledge ourselves to a strict, sober, and honest economy in the administration of the affairs of the state, and the just and fearless enforcement of all laws, and for the best and highest interests of all the people of the state.

"Perhaps you would not think so, but a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness in catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edison. "It is such a simple thing, and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold. New York is one of the healthiest places on the Atlantic coast, and yet there are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Dr. Edison does not tell you how to cure a cold, but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs, aid expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale at Orme's drug store.

"We urge all Democrats who favor the financial policy above set forth to associate themselves together and impress their views upon the party organization; we urge all newspapers in harmony with the above financial policy to place it at the head of the editorial column and assist in the immediate restoration of bimetalism."

A SILVER MANIFESTO.

Those of the Democratic Church Urged to Organize and Take Charge.

A number of the silver Congressmen held a meeting at Washington a few days ago, and after a conference issued the following appeal; the names of those who signed the paper are not made public:

"We, the undersigned Democrats, present for your consideration the following statement:

"We believe that the establishment of gold as the only monetary standard, and the elimination of silver as a full legal tender money will increase the purchasing power of each dollar, add to the burden of all debts, decrease the market value of all other forms of property, continue and intensify business depression, and finally reduce the majority of the people to financial bondage.

"We believe that no party can hope for enduring success in the United States so long as it advocates a single gold standard, and that the advocacy of such a financial policy would be injurious, especially so to a party which, like the Democratic party, derives its voting strength from those who may without reproach be called the common people. And we point to the overwhelming defeat of the party in 1894, to the opposition aroused by the veto of the Seigniorage Bill, and to the still more unanimous protest against the issue of gold bonds in proof that the Democratic party can not be brought to the support of the gold standard policy.

"We believe that the money question will be the paramount issue in 1896, and will so remain until it is settled by the intelligence and patriotism of the American voters.

"We believe that a large majority of the Democrats of the United States favor bimetalism, and realize that it can only be secured by the restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the present ratio, and we assert that the majority has and should exert the right to control the policy of the party and retain the party name.

"We believe that it is the duty of the majority, and within their power, to take charge of the party organization and make the Democratic party an effective instrument in the accomplishment of needed reforms. It is not necessary that Democrats should surrender their convictions on other questions in order to take an active part in the settlement of the question which at this time surpasses all others in importance.

"We believe that the rank and file of the party should at once assert themselves in the Democratic party and place it on the record in favor of the immediate restoration and the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1, as such coinage existed prior to 1873, without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nations, such as gold and silver coin to be a full legal tender for all debts, both public and private.

"We urge all Democrats who favor the financial policy above set forth to associate themselves together and impress their views upon the party organization; we urge all newspapers in harmony with the above financial policy to place it at the head of the editorial column and assist in the immediate restoration of bimetalism."

Obituary.

Caroline Elkins, nee April 28, 1826, in Tennessee, and Jan. 13, 1895. She was married William Elkins Jan. 5, 1862. She professed faith in Christ when young and joined the Presbyterian church. Chapel Hill, and has lived a faithful Christian. She was the mother of six children, and loved by all. Her remains were laid to rest in Crooked Creek Cemetery.

Mrs. Elkins was truly a woman. She was an excellent housekeeper, nice and economical. She was a companion indeed to whom no benefit of his greater earthly comfort.

She was a tender and devoted mother, sincerely devoted to her children. There was no one too great for to make in behalf her children. She is gone, we feel the tear of sympathy and bereavement, and yet these tears are changed to jewels of joy as we turn our eyes to Heaven and see her with the spotless robes of angel youth and life in the Paradise above.

FORTY MINERS KILLED.

A Gas Explosion Near Cerrillos, New Mexico.

Albuquerque, N. M., February 27.

At 11:30 this morning a terrible explosion of gas occurred in the White Ash mine of the Santa Fe railroad company, three miles from Cerrillos, N. M. The first intimation of the disaster was a muffled roar and clouds of smoke and dust rolling from the mouth of the mine. Nearly 300 men are employed in the mine, but fortunately but 50 were at work when the explosion occurred. Only eleven of these escaped alive and some of them may yet die. Twenty have been taken from the mine and it is doubtful if those who remain are alive. Relays of men have been working like Trojans, all day to try and reach those who are imprisoned, but little progress can be made on account of the gas, which permeates every shaft and soon overpowers the workers. Upon to 4 o'clock those of the inside could be heard trying to work their way out from the cavern mine, but as nothing has been heard since then, the imprisoned men in all probability have succumbed to the deadly gas.

The scene after the explosion was heart-rending. One man, supposing her husband to have been killed, tried to commit suicide, by throwing herself in front of a moving train. Her husband was afterwards rescued alive, and the reaction on intense grief was nearly fatal. The mine has been known to be badly ventilated, and was full of foul and gas, and a catastrophe of this kind has been frequently predicted.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives the best satisfaction any cough medicine I handle, and a seller leads all other preparations in this market. I recommend it because it is the best medicine I ever had for coughs, colds and croup. W. Baldridge, Millersville, Ills. Sale by J. H. Orme.

ONE YEAR ONE DOLLAR

Hurrah for Bissell! He should have done it sooner.

Frankfort had a hanging Friday; she may be a city yet.

The farce of finding out who was elected Governor of Tennessee continues.

The worst feature of the situation has subsided. Congress was headed off by the constitution Monday. Hurrah for the constitution.

Miss Anna Gould and Count de Castellane, a French nobleman, were united in marriage Monday. The wedding was a grand affair. The bride has a fortune of $15,000,000.

Gen. Hardin will not veto any silver bill that the Kentucky Legislature may pass, if he is Governor. He has decided vice. Now let us hear from Clay, and the thing will be settled.

Our prohibition friends are stealing Populist thunder, and first thing we know the Populist will be saying to the prohibitionist that the Governor of North Carolina said to the Governor of South Carolina.

If you really do not want to go to Morganland to serve on a jury watch the corners; circuit court is in session over there, and that means a special ballot may come to this county any moment, armed with orders for a hundred men.

Crittenden may be in it this year. We have a place on the Prohibition ticket; we are hoping for the second place on the Republican State ticket, and are anxious to furnish the candidate for Railroad Commissioner on the Democratic ticket.

Our Prohibition friends have put out their ticket and sent forth a platform. They will not be heard of any more until after the election, when everything else is settled: then some fellow will ask: "How many votes did the Prohibitionists get?"

While there are differences of opinion on the money question, and many adherents of his own party hold views entirely different from the President's no fair minded man can question his honesty of purpose and his earnest devotion to what he conceives to be the best interests of his country.

The Caldwell circuit court is in session this week with 110 Commonwealth cases on the docket; of these the Banner says: "The criminal docket would be very small, except for the old cases, many of which have been handed down from the prohibition era."

At last President Cleveland is becoming a little tinctured with Democracy—he is putting a few Democrats into office. Let us hope that it is because he likes the Democrats, and not up on the grounds that he has already used all of the available Republican material.

The latest in reference to the candidacy of Capt. Stone is published in a Louisville paper, and reads this way: "Capt. Stone has never authorized any one to say that he will not be a candidate for Governor, all publications to the contrary notwithstanding."

A San Francisco merchant has issued a manifesto calling upon the Pacific States to secede and establish a Republic of their own. Whatever the grievances of the gentleman, he should remember that divisions of his kind have not heretofore been a "howling success" in this country.

The State officials at Frankfort are getting their stipend by discounting their claims five per cent. This is not a deep cut by any means, when it is remembered that the income of the people who pay these officers has been cut to the quick by the general depression. While everything else but interest rates has been going down, the salaries of officers persistently holds its own. The officer, instead of grumbling, ought to be thankful that he has a better job than most other people.

According to authentic reports one of the victims of the "White Caps" switch in this county last fall, when a little business of that character was done in certain quarters, has recently met with similar reverses in Webster county. "Evidently" "white capping" as a reformatory measure, is a failure—the material sought to be reformed simply changes location. If the gentleman in this case has suffered from cold recently, the work of his tutors has been altogether in vain, for it has neither benefited the physical or moral man, and it is to be hoped that he will go to Texas, or locate in some pariah country where timber is not indigenous.

The case against the parties implicated in the Oliver tragedy in Union county, with the exception of Frank Holt, is set for trial March 11. It is said that the jury will be secured in Henderson county. The Morganfield Sun says that some of the jury summoned from Crittenden county in the past have, it is thought, been making the matter a speculative one. —Courier-Journal.

We can mention about three newspapers, two of them not a thousand miles from Louisville, that have fair reasons for believing that some Crittenden and Caldwell county people, who served as jurors in one of the cases alluded to, were paid more than the jury fees. These papers have been in possession of this valuable peace of news sometime, but for reasons best known to themselves they have not been profligate, to say the least of it, in dispensing information along that line. Now there has been quite a number of Crittenden people, first and last, on juries in these cases, and if the Sun would explain itself, and designate the particular persons that have created the "thoughts" alluded to, it will greatly oblige the men who have served on the juries, and will remove the aspersion cast upon those who are not guilty, as well as point out those who are.

According to estimates made just before adjournment the total appropriations made by this Congress will amount to something near $987,000,000—about $15,000,000 less than the Reed billion dollar Congress.

Among the jobs killed during the last hours of the session was one appropriating $500,000 to lay a cable between this country and Hawaii; another to pay $75,000 for the Blaine home in Washington.

The provision for delegates to any international monetary conference that may be called was adopted; the commission is to consist of nine members; three to be appointed by the Senate, three by the House, and three by the President. Senators Daniel, Jones and Teller have been selected on the part of the Senate; Speaker Crisp will head the House delegation.

Road Tax.

There has been for years a pretty strong road tax party in Crittenden county. It is a valiant, brave band, too, especially in days distant from elections. At such times it is strong in numbers, well grounded in the faith buoyant in hope and ardent in argument; but when the real test comes, there is a wholesale "fallin' from grace". A road tax is one of those things to which distance lends enchantment—the greater the distance the more cheering the view. Such has heretofore been the relation of the people of Crittenden county to a road tax. At one election the sense of the people was taken on the question, and out of a total of 2300 votes polled, 184 voted for the tax, and to this good day, not a mother's son of that little band will "acknowledge the corn," not that he doubts the wisdom of his vote, but because he was in such a hopeless minority; nobody but a crank wants to be by himself. The tax would now make a stronger race; the inadequacy of the old system is becoming too obvious to be longer overlooked, and the value of good roads is becoming more and more apparent every year. A large per cent. of the people no longer regard a tax—when it is well invested—as so much stolen from them, or so many dollars thrown away. As people begin to live in better houses themselves—as they begin to improve their barns, and add to the thrifty appearance of their farms, the demand for good roads becomes louder, because the same spirit that brings about the improvement of individual property, and demands greater comforts and more conveniences at home, will sooner or later lead the people who cultivate it to a desire for public improvement, and at the head of this list stands our public roads. Caldwell county has been trying the road tax, and after some years experience the Banner sums up the situation as follows:

"The system of working the roads by taxation, which has obtained in this county for a number of years, has resulted in better roads than exist in any of the counties around us. All these roads, or rather the roads that do not work them, under the old system. Traveling men and other Willie Dren-who drive out of other counties infrequently sowed up the gashes and this are struck with the change for they are getting along very well, better, and in many places the countesses Cora Gardner and Birdie line can be fixed by a stranger withering are attending school at Go. a few yards by the difference. 7 Springs.

taxing system is the proper one. Miss Ursie Nunn is visiting relatives in our vicinity. Dr. Frank Walker was with us a few days last week. Michigan Democrats have set a pace. In convention assembled they declare for free silver at the rate of 16 to 1. Difference of opinion as to where it should be located. Our farmers have set in to work with new zeal, hoping to have a good crop year, and hustling that the harvest may be as great as the winter was severe. J. H. C. We are glad to note that Mr. F. E. Robertson is recovering from his late illness.

Our prohibition friends are stealing Populist thunder, and first thing we know the Populist will be saying to the prohibitionist that the Governor of North Carolina said to the Governor of South Carolina.

If you really do not want to go to Morganland to serve on a jury watch the corners; circuit court is in session over there, and that means a special ballot may come to this county any moment, armed with orders for a hundred men.

TOLU.

Winter seems to be going away; the birds are singing in the morning, the yell of the small boy is heard on the streets again, the lowing herd comes home at milking time without a chill.

In the allotment of Providence Tolu is placed in a pleasant and beautiful country. Siren songs of nature says come and dwell amongst us, and we will extend to thee the right hand of fellowship.

Tolu is on a general boom; several new houses going up.

E. F. Wright and C. J. Bozeman have just completed their livery stable on main street.

E. S. Moore is teaching the spring school and he reports a big attendance.

Deputy Sheriff Farmer says taxes are low.

BLACKFORD.

Our farmers are about done burning tobacco beds, and many of them are turning the turf.

The prospects for a tobacco crop in these days is very flattering, and Blackford is the best point for a tobacco factory in the state.

pleased with the most excellent and timely address. Mrs. Cardin has been an earnest and successful worker in this department of church work, and is thoroughly conversant with the aims, objects, and practical movements of the League; she is a pleasant, forceful speaker, and handles the subject in such a way as to charm her auditors
and impress them with the importance of the work of the League, the splendid possibilities it has for the young people of the church.

The March term of circuit court began at Morganfield Monday. The only criminal cases of any especial importance to be tried are those connected with the Oliver-Delany tragedy.
The case against Frank Holt for malicious shooting was set for Tuesday, the second day of court, but will not be tried. The cases against the others implicated in that tragedy are set for the following Monday, March 11. Which one of the accused will be tried first is not known. It is said the jury this time will be taken from Henderson county. The Morganfield docket shows 73 appearances, 41 common law and 32 equity cases. Only three suits for divorce appear on the docket.

Prof. Evans has issued an injunction to keep the boys off the streets after nightfall. Every parent and guardian in Marion should join with him in a crusade against this loath-some habit. On the street in where the boy learns his devilment, and takes the initiative step that leads to trouble, besides while on the street he is wasting valuable time and flinging away golden opportunities. By all means let the parents join with the teacher in his effort to break up a practice that has not a particle of good in it, but on the other hand is loaded with possibilities for evil.

SCHOOL REPORT.

As it has been clearly proven that the chief interests of a people are the education of their children, then surely anything pertaining to the progress of Marion school should interest its patrons and its friends.

Since its commencement January 21st with 267 scholars, it has grown rapidly until the present, when there are 345. Upon the first day it was seen that only a few more pupils need come into the 7th and 8th grades and a teacher would have to be found.

Not another, but many soon entered these grades, and the trustees secured the services of a splendid young teacher, Mr. W. C. Blackburn and the 7th grade was put in his charge, while Mr. Adams kept the 8th.

The 1st and 2d grades, and the 6th and 7th grades becoming too full,
the trustees quickly and generously employed Miss Alice Browning, and the 2d and a part of the 6th grade given her, relieving the teachers of these grades. Thus before the first month went out the school has grown from a 5 to a 7 room school. The grades are now distributed as follows

1st, Miss Lina Clement; 2d and part of 6th, Miss Alice Browning; 3d and 4th, Miss Maggie Moore; 5th
and 6th, Miss Mattie Kevill; 7th,
Mr. W. C. Blackburn; 8th, S. W.
Adams; 9th, myself. While many rooms are full, none are crowded, none but what are doing well with every pupil that attends, provided they are doing their duty.

Here is the report of school for month commencing Jan. 21, '95, and ending Feb. 15, '95:

1st Grade, Miss Clement Teacher
—Highest number enrolled for the month 56; average attendance 51; in monthly review: Fannie James and Presley Guess secured best grade.

2d and part of 6th Grade, Miss Alice Browning Teacher—Highest number enrolled 31; general average 27. Pupils receiving the highest grade in 6th were Walter Walker 98, Arthur Finley, 84.

3d and 4th Grades, Miss Moore
Teacher.—Highest number enrolled 57; general average 48. Pupils with best grades Bettie Gore, Josie Burget, Emil Elder, Harley Carnahan.

5th and 6th Grades, Miss Mattie Kevill Teacher—Highest number enrolled 56; average 52. Pupils with best grade Mary Maxwell 97; Rosa Schwab 91, Chasteen Haynes 99; 5th
grade, Lena Hubbard 97, Ernest Carnahan 95.

7th Grade, Mr. W. C. Blackburn,
Teacher—Highest number enrolled
47; average 46. Pupils with best grades, Dedie Clement 97, Lefa Wil-born 95, Chas. Moore 91, Robert Cook 91.

8th Grade, Mr. S. W. Adams Teas-cher—Highest number enrolled 52;
average 50. Pupils receiving best grades, Lewis Wolfe 85, T. A.
Smith 80, Kelly Gray 85, Mary Min-
ner 85.

9th Grade—Enrolled 28; average attendance 26. Pupils receiving the best grades, A. J. Baker 96, E. D.
Gray 94, P. D. Maxwell 94, J. S.

Smith 33, Miss Azzie Clemens 89,
Miss Essie Bennett 88.
The highest enrollment for month
for whole school was 323, while the average attendance was 300.
Taking into consideration the severe weather of February we could say without boasting that no town in the State, no larger than Marion can claim such an attendance at their public school.

But there is room left for more,
and we ask those in the school district who have in their charge children who should be in school to awaken to their duty and send them on to school.

Brown-Bristo.

Yesterday evening at 3:30 at the residence of Mr. P. C. Stephens, the home of the bride, Miss Etta Bristo and Mr. John M. Brown were united in marriage, Rev. J. F. Price officiating. Quite a number of friends witnessed the happy consummation of the happy event. The bride is a young lady of many womanly virtues and attainments, she is a member of one of the oldest and best families of the county; the groom lives in Illinois,
near Chicago, and is a prosperous man and good citizen, worthy of such an estimable bride.

Our list is not as big as a pay car,
nor as broad as a barn door this week,
but none the less appreciated. Rome was not built in one day; and of course all of our subscribers, don't find it convenient to call within a week. We hope the earth will continue her diurnal motions for a while yet, giving all ample time to get in.

Next Monday is county court.
Thanks to the following for additions
to our silver reserve:

The writer, in company with Mr.
C. S. Nunn, paid the thriving little city of Salem a visit Thursday.
The town has greatly improved in business and building within the past two years. There are now some splendid stocks of goods at that place, and the business men have that industrious, stirring step that indicates prosperity and contentment.
Outside of Marion the Salem post office gets more copies of the Press
than any other office in the paper's bailiwick; hence the town is bound to be a prosperous one, for it is a prosperous people that gets mail there. There are a great many interests that deserve notice, and none
more worthy of mention than Mc-Chesney & Grassham stock scales.
Their business is confined strictly to the weighing of bibles, and they have handled congressmen and lawyers, to say nothing of editors, with care and dispatch. Charges remarkably low and satisfaction guaranteed.
Already that portion of the county
is discussing the legislative candidates. The two men more frequen-ly spoken of are G. N. McGrew and George Adams, while Mr. Nichols is mentioned now and then. Sam Clark is also spoken of, as is ex-representative Summers. One thing is certain,
the county has plenty of good material,
and there is a disposition to bring out the strongest and best man, whoever he may be.

Special attention is called to the advertisement of A. J. Utley & Co.
of Salem.

Flight over a Raise.

The Eddyville Tale: Judge Crum-
baugh rendered in the Anderson case last Monday morning. This was a case where Gov. Charles Anderson took an appeal to the Judge of the County Court from the action of the board of tax supervisors, in which they raised the value of his property about $9,000.00, above what it had been given in to Assessor. Judge
T. J. Watkins appeared for Gov.
Anderson and County Attorney Martin represented the Commonwealth.
The trial lasted about five days and every point hotly contested and resulted in the 1,550 acres of land and 234 town lots in Kuttawa being listed for taxation at $3,000.00 more than amount fixed by Gov. Anderson and about $6,000.00 less than that fixed by the board. There will be no appeal taken from Judge Crumbaugh's decision.

Queen Lil Gets Five Years.

Washington, March 4.—In a dispatch from Minister Willis, at Honolulu, by Saturday's steamer and telegraphed from San Francisco to Washington, the press reports as to the commutation of the sentences imposed upon Gulick and Seaward is confirmed, and it is also stated that the Queen was sentenced to imprisonment for five years and $35,000
fine.

Musical Entertainment.

There is to be a musical entertainment by home talent at Salem, Ky., Friday and Saturday nights, March 8th and 9th. Mrs. E. M. Wadlington is the music teacher there and is splendid teacher, and you may go fully expecting to be well entertained
by good music and some choice dramas.

NOTICE.

of Marion on county court day, 2d Monday in March, 1895. Members are requested to meet at the court house promptly at 1 o'clock; at the same time everybody is invited to come and hear the Hon. B. C. Keys who will address the audience upon the financial condition of our government, and other matters that are vital to the interests of the farmers and other laboring classes. After speaking the chairman will call a council of the People's party, for the purpose of electing delegates to meet the Livingston county delegates in the town of Salem to nominate a candidate for State Legislature and to attend to other business of importance.

Glassware and queensware,
stoves and household goods, I will say that I will close them out intirely regardless of cost as I will quit keeping glassware and queensware when this stock is sold to make room for another line of goods.
M. Schwab.
