The Court Speaks.

MORGANFIELD, KY., March 12. Ed. Press: My attention has been called to certain paragraphs, going the rounds of the papers, which would imply that the court had ordered jurors from Henderson county to try the Delancy coses because of some suspicion of impropriety on the part of some jurors heret ofore brought from Crittenden county. For this implication there is not a shadow of excuse. At the last November term, when the order was made for the last 200 jurors from Crittenden, the court announced publiely that at the present March term the jurors would be ordered from Henderson county. The reason as signed by the court at the time was because so many had been drawn from Crittenden that it would be due to all concerned to try some other county at this term.

All I have ever heard of the impropriety on the part of the Crittenden county jurors is what I have recently seen in the paragraphs referred to. I very much regret that such an unfounded implication has found circulation anywhere.

Quarterly Conference.

The Methodists of the Marion Cir. cuit held their sepond quarterly conference at Siloam Saturday. The churches were all represented but Hebron; the conference was presided over by Rev. B. F. Orr, P. E.

The pastor reported the "general state of the church on the circuit" as in a moderately good condition "the attendance upon the ministry of the Word good." He reported one Epworth League, with 22 members, and one Sunday school with 18 officers and teachers, and 175 pupils. Special services were held in he interest of missions during "Do Without Week, February 4-10 at six places in the circuit. The voluntary gifts during the week amounted to $21.78. Under the topic of education Rev. Fraser submit! I the following report:

"The people of Marion and vicinity have recently completed a beautiful and substantial public school building at Marion, in which is now being taught a splendid graded school; and I am glad to know that the religious influence of the school is decided, for I learn that the Bible s read and prayer offered in the school every day. So long as this is kept up it will be a free school in ideed. To our minds the Bible in the school becomes the charter of our free school system. Quite a number of young men and women of Methodist families are attending this school to prepare themselves for better work. We also recommend to those dy for high school and colleges that they patronise those institutions un-

THE NOW AND THEN.

The globe, like all the universe.
That fills the niche prefound,
Whirls on as endless cycles tick.
Its high appointed round.
The must of need is laid on man,

He meets it with his will contact brings forth fate, and Jack And Jill went up the hill!

Oh, baseless fabries of the air! Oh, conth's enchanted lands!
What eastles made of dreams are reared
On fancy's shifting sands!
Awhile an Eden is the lot
Of every sen and daughter
Eve gives mute the world. They went
To fotch a pail of water

What are we but the toys of fate?

His mocks the earthquake's laughter. Then Jack fell down and broke his crown, And Jill cause tumbling after.

Each heart some trace of Egypt has And o'er them all the sphynx teems up

With its eternal why
Perhaps the hill the pair went up
Was a tank built by the town
And seared to death they feared its banks
Might break ere they walled down.

THE BIBLE

Manuscripts of the New and the Old Tes taments Often Rewritten.

The New Testament, as we know it comes down to as after having been kept for hundreds of years in manuscript form by the priests, "fathers of the church, and others. The writings have been copied and recopied probably scores of times, at least as often as occasion re quired, being always renewed before becoming unintelligible by use and wear. The two oldest of these mannscripts now known are the Codex Seniaticus and the Codex Vaticanus, each of which dates from the fourth century, A. D. The languages originally used in this work were Hebrew and Greek, but after the year 300 A. D. the manuscripts were all, or nearly all, written in Latin. The last mentioned language was that adopted by the Roman church in their translations and was known as the "Vulgate," because commonly used in the churches. As far back as the seventh century portions of the Vulgate were translated into old English, and it was also the version used by Wickliffe (Wyclif), Purvey and their predecessors and was the first book printed from movable type, 1450-5. Tyndale's version was from a German translation of the original Greek, made by Martin Luther.

The "authorized version," or King James' translation, was made by 47 of the most eminent British scholars and was finished in the year 1611. The Latin Vulgate was the main version used by them; but, so far as they were accessible, other manuscripts, both in e Greek and Hebrew, were consulted spend $10 for a desk ornament to hold Jewish Immunity From Disease.

Out of a total population in New York of 1,891,000, 70.46 per cent, or 1,883,000, live in 39,138 tenement houses. Apartment houses of the better class are not included among tenement houses. It is a somewhat remarkable fact that the lowest death rate in the city is in one of the most thickly settled tenement house districts, occupies by some of the poorest people, in the wards where the Jewish population is the densest. The death rate among the crowded Jews was in 1891 only 18.73 to each 1,000, and in 1893 only 17,14. The comparatively cleanly habits of these Jews, their observance of the Mosaic law about food and their abstinence from alcoholic liquors are given as explanations of their low death rate. In the Italian districts the death rate is double what it is among the Jews and the population not so dense, and even in the wards occupied by wealthy people the death rate is greater than among the Jews. The Fourth, Fourteenth and Eighth are the Italian wards, and the death rate in 1893 was 33.78, 35.12 and 31.98 respectively. - Springfield Re-

The Kaiser's Uniforms.

The task of looking after the uniforms and other costumes of the Emperor William is by no means a sinecure. All these different and greatly varying articles of attire, as diversified as those at the disposal of a star actor, are carefully kept, systematically arranged and in large wardrobes, and at the head of the department is an official entitled the obergarderobier, who has under his command two valets de chambre. The nautical uniforms are placed under the charge of an ex-subofficer of the German navy. Before the emperor undertakes any one of his many expeditions the obergarderobier is provided with an exhaustive list of all the dresses and other paraphernalia that will be re quired. - London Tit-Bits.

The Middle Aged Man Contrasts It With the Stew of Before the War. "When I was a boy, before the war,' said a middle aged man, "the price of an oyster stew in a good ordinary restaurant was 12) cents. The price has gradually gone up until now, in a good restaurant, an ordinary stew costs 25 cents. In the old restaurant there was a cloth upon the table, but this cloth, unless you happened to find it when it had just been put on, was apt to be frescoed with coffee stains. There were catchup and vinegar and so on, some of them perhaps in bottles in a caster. Perhaps the waiter gave you a pickle or two. The light was not very bright. The waiter brought the stew in an oyster plate, and as the hot broth washed about a little in the plate as he carried it and set it down you were afraid it might burn his thumb. But the oyster were good. Let me pause to remark that

The stew comes in an oval dish that rests upon a plate. I don't like to eat out of such a dish so well as I do out of a plate, but you know at least there is no danger burning the waiter's thumb. The oysters are good; the whole arrangement is away beyond the stew of before the war. It costs more, but are we not better able to pay for it? For general get up and get and dash and style and comfort the old stew couldn't begin to compare with it. The modern eyster stew is one of many things that we do an everlasting sight better than we did. "—New York Sun.

JUST BEFORE RETIRING.

How to Insure Peaceful and Refreshing Slumber and a Sweet Mouth. A warm bath, a light lunch, and s clean mouth before retiring are good things to take. They promote sleep and a "clean" tongue in the morning What this lunch should be the consumer must decide. The juice of a couple of oranges, half a grape fruit, a cup of tea with dry toast, a sherry, crackers with milk and vichy, or a bowl of bread and milk are the healthy and handsome.

The best thing in the morning after a cold plunge or sponge bath is a cup of hot tea or coffee with a little lemo juice. The earlier this draught is taken the better; it should precede the breakfast by at least half an hour. This is prime for the alimen-tary canal; it is a comfort to the stomach, and puts the digestive organs in order. A cup of hot milk is also prescribed, and even hot water the first thing in the morning is not bal. For anything but the abusive "A man soon gets cured of many long cup of cold water the poor stomach
