THEIR LAST RAID.

TWO ARE SHOT DEAD.

Somerset, Ky., March 27.—The industry of train robbery received a blow in this county last night which will doubtless discourage any early attempt to revive it. The blow was delivered when a bold attempt was made by a gang of masked men to hold up the southbound passenger train No. 3 of the Cincinnati Southern railway, near Greenwood, in the southern part of Palaski county, at 2 o'clock this morning.

The railway and express officials had been expecting an attack for some time, and were prepared. The result was a hot and exciting fight between the robbers and the detectives on board in which one robber was killed outright, another shot so that he died a few hours afterwards, and a man who gave his name as Martin, was being a stolen ride, was probably fatally wounded, while not a single detective or member of the train crew received a scratch.

The dead robbers have been identified as Jerry Morrow and Thos. Morrow, his son. There were six members of the gang, three of whom escaped. The sixth is Sam Fraser, who tipped off the plot to special railroad agent Griffin of this place.

About three weeks ago Special Agent Griffin received information that a plot was on foot to wreck fast express No. 3 at Greenwood, about 17 miles south of here. He told his informant, Sam Fraser, to get the confidence of the gang and wire him when the attempt would be made. Last night Mr. Griffin received a telegram from Fraser, saying that the fast express No. 3 would be held up at Greenwood. When No. 3 left here at 1:50 this morning, she had on board Special Agent Griffin and Detectives C. F. Allgood and W. S. Eddy.

The train was flagged at the south end of tunnel No. 9, in a deep cut, and while pulling up a steep grade. As soon as the train stopped a man jumped to the cab of the engine and commanded the engineer at the point of a gun to stand still and said: "I'll tell you when to go." At this time two masked men made for the baggage car; they directly, however, came out of this car and started to go into the express car in the rear.

While on the ground and just before they had reached the first step of the express car, they met Special Agent Griffin and Detective Allgood and Eddy. A shot was fired from the robbers' party, when the railroad posse let go with one volley at the men in front of them with fatal effect. Eddy then attempted to shoot the robber who was standing watch at the top of the cut, but he escaped before he could fire the second shot, Eddy being delayed by his gun refusing to work.

When the firing began the man in the engine stopped and made for the woods, and when it ceased engineer was free to pull out, which he did, leaving the detectives in charge of the two Morrows.

In the skirmish in the dark Albert Martin, a tramp, was shot, and it was thought fatally wounded.

The bodies of Jerry Morrow and his son were taken to Greenwood, where they were laid out.

Jerry Morrow lived with his three sons on a farm about eight miles from the scene of the attempted robbery. He bore an unsavory reputation, and was last summer tried for the murder of Jils New, but wore the case out. Morrow had always been considered a bad man, but although often stealing a sheep or bacon, it was never deemed that he would aspire to the high rank of an express robber.

A SAD SUICIDE.

A Young and Beautiful Woman Who is About to become A Mother.

Princeton, Ky., March 28.—Miss Mollie Easley, aged 22 years, who for the past two years has been living with her uncle, W. W. Dorroh, about three miles west of this place, committed suicide this morning by shooting herself through the head with a rifle. After closing all the doors to the house she put the muzzle of the gun to her forehead and with a stick pushed the trigger.

She was an orphan, and her uncle, a widower, for whom and his sons she had been keeping house, there being no other woman on the place. Her body was found lying in a large pool of blood.

A sad feature of the case is that the poor girl had been ruined and was about to become a mother. It is reported that her cousin is the cause of her ruin. She left no letter and told no one of her unfortunate condition, and it is supposed was led to the rash act by brooding over her downfall. She was a beautiful woman and was of good family. Public sentiment is strong against her seducer. There is no truth whatever in the reports sent out from this place early this morning that she was murdered; it is a plain case of suicide.

BURNED A HOTEL.

And Responsible for the Death of Four People.

Lancaster, Ky., March 28.—Twelve serious jurymen marched into the court room this morning after being out for nearly 24 hours and took their seats in a grave and quiet manner. Judge Warren asked them if they had reached a verdict in the case of Henry Reddick. They replied that they had, and then the foreman, in a clear and impressive voice read: "We, the jury, find the defendant guilty of murder and fix his punishment at imprisonment in the penitentiary for life." The condemned man heard his sentence with apparent stolid indifference, as if unable to fully comprehend its meaning, but there was a slight contraction and twitching of the facial muscles and a perceptible tremor when he was gazed at.

Thus ended one of the most interesting and sensational trials ever held in the courts of Grand county. The crime with which Reddick stood charged was the robbing and burning of the Miller Hotel on the morning of January 1, in which Mr. E. A. Pascoe, Mrs. Masters, his mother-in-law, and his little son Oscar lost their lives. Reddick was indicted at the present term of the court on five different charges for larceny, arson, and the murder of three persons. He was tried on one indictment only, and that was for the murder of Mrs. Lucy J. Masters. The other four indictments remain against him. He was convicted wholly upon circumstantial evidence, although in the minds of many there was no doubt of his guilt.

A motion for a new trial was made before the court, but overruled. The attorney for the defendant, Mr. L. L. Walker, will carry the case to the higher courts.

Those who never read the advertisements in their newspapers miss more than they presume. Jonathan Kenison, of Bolan, Worth Co., Iowa, who had been troubled with rheumatism in his back, arms and shoulders, read an item in his paper about how a prominent German citizen of Ft. Madison had been cured. He procured the same medicine, and to us his own words: "It cured me right up." He also says: "A neighbor and his wife were both sick in bed with rheumatism. Their boy was over to my house and said they were so bad he had to do the cooking. I told him of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and how it had cured me, he got a bottle and it cured them up in a week. 50 cent bottles for sale by J. H. Orme.

School Report.

To the Trustees of Marion Graded Public School, and to the friendly public, we submit the following report of the second month of school ending March 15, 1895:

Grade No. 1, Lina Clement Teacher—Entire enrollment 59; enrollment for month 54; general average for same 53. Best Grades: Fannie James, Alice Hayes, Presley Guess, Eugene Crittenden. Degraded, none; promoted to 2d grade, Fannie James.

Grade No. 2 and part of No. 6, Alice Browning, Teacher—Enrollment for month 31; general average 29. Best grade made in 6th grade, Walter Walker 86, Arthur Finley 74, 2d grade, Marion James, Leonard Johnson, Kitty Hodge.

Third and Fourth Grades, Maggie Moore Teacher—Entire enrollment 60, enrollment for month 59; general average for month 55. Best grades in 3d grade, Mollie Potter 90, Davis Clark 90, Clyde Hubbard 90, Hattie Bryan 90. 4th grade, Annie Hodge 94, Mammie Hubbard 94, Emil Elder 93, Carey Champion 93.

Fifth and Sixth Grades, Mattie Kevil, Teacher—Entire enrollment, 58, enrollment for month 58; average attendance 54. Best grades in 5th, Henry Haynes 94, Laura Hubbard 95, Lilly Doe 94, Frank Summerville 94. 6th grade, Chastain Haynes 98, Rob Hodge 96, Bettie Bigham 96, Mary Maxwell 95.

Seventh Grade, W. A. Blackburn, Teacher—Entire enrollment 49, enrollment 48; average attendance 46. High grade pupils, Dacie Clement 96, Leaffa Wilborn 96, Robt Gore 94, Chas Moore 94.

Eighth Grade, S. W. Adams, Teacher—Entire enrollment 69; enrollment for month 55; average attendance 50. Pupils grading highest in examination: Anna Finley 86, T. G. Smith 86. Pupils standing above average: Mary Minner, Kitty Gray, Ida Drennan, Maud Gill, Tom Cook. Pupils degraded 15.

Ninth Grade—Entire enrollment 37; enrollment for month 36; average attendance 34. Pupils receiving the highest grades: A. J. Baker 94, P. D. Maxwell, E. D. Gray, Ray Woods, Azzie Clemens, Essie Barnett.

Thus we see that the school has enrolled 353 pupils, of which about 53 are pay pupils, while 300, or 82 per cent, of those enrolled are public school pupils; 340 of these were enrolled at end of 24 month.

The general average for attendance was 518, an increase of 18 over preceding month, while increase of enrollment was 30.

On examination at end of the first month it was observed, that many in 8th grade fell very low in grades, showing they were either careless with their work or unfitted for it; a close surveillance and the examination at close of 24 month proved the last to be true, and knowing it would be for them and the school's work, they were given seventh grade work.

The school has not been increasing only in numbers during second month but also in work. Every room has been busy and the students have showed that luck and vivacity which speaks of lively teachers near them.

Spring is here and parents should remember that it's as natural for the boy of the average sort to grow "school lazy" on one of those April days as it is for the buds to sprout. But you can not afford, as your child an opportunity to educate your value, to let them stay at home, or even keep them at home to do the thousand little things which must needs be done about the house or on the farm in spring time, which can be done by them so well.

Remember that the only key to a successful student life is regular attendance at school, and keep your children there, day after day. Trusting we may have the support of the patrons in all things that pertain to the school's welfare, we are, Respectfully, CHARLES EVANS.

CHAOS FOR CUBA.

Expression That Castillo's Rise Means This.

Tampa, Florida, March 28.—The Plant steamship Olivette arrived from Havana tonight, bringing a number of passengers. One of these, a Cuban planter of vast estates, is going to his home in New York. He says the Cuban revolution means the ruin of the island; that there are no influential men at the head of it, and he predicts a dismal failure in four months. He fears that the rise of Castillo to the Ministry means chaos for Cuba and thinks the Cubans have much injured themselves by this insurrection when Spain was just beginning to give them home rule.

Other passengers bring news of the arrival of additional troops from Spain. They arrived at noon on Tuesday. At 3 o'clock two hundred of them went into the interior. This shows the expeditionary manner in which the troops are handled, scarcely giving them time to eat dinner. There are at this time twelve thousand Spanish regulars and twenty thousand volunteers on the island.

If reports are to be believed the Cubans allege that if there are two hundred thousand Spaniards sent to that island it will not suppress the present movement. They declare that they are out to win, and win they must. An American passenger on the steamer stated that the newspapers were giving only the government side and sending out false reports; that in all the engagements which had yet been fought the patriots had been victorious. He further stated that there were now twenty thousand repeating rifles in the hands of the patriots.

MARION, KY., March 28.

TO THE CRITTENDEN PRESS: I would lay before you a most vital matter, and request its publication in your columns, that the people may read and understand their financial condition, and the cause that has produced it, and the remedy to return prosperity to the nation.

It is a mathematical demonstration that because we were on the gold standard in '73, when gold rose 37½ per cent, we owing 32 billions of public and private debts, suffering over 10 billions of confiscation; the manifest remedy for this unbearable robbery is to get off this confiscating standard by its repeal. It is plain to every thinker that the gold standard was the cause of the confiscation. One would think that all true friends of common honesty would welcome and promote exposure of this confiscation, so the people would learn the truth, and immediately repeal.

Yet the leading political newspapers of the day refuse admission to their columns any plea for the repeal of the gold standard enacted on Feb. 12, 1873. They insist we are on a double standard, and pretend to clamor for free coinage of silver, without changing the present standard. This means that they favor the gold standard. As the U. S. statutes show it has been our standard since 1873, when it was enacted that the one dollar gold piece of the standard weight of 25.8 grains shall be the unit of value or standard. That act repealed the act of April 2, 1892, which made the Spanish milled dollar of 37½ grains of pure silver a unit or standard of value. These are plain matters of law to which I have called the attention of our editors, also proprietors of papers.

They have been deaf to all such calls. They prate of the double standard, which is simply a straddle and an evasion. It is a natural impossibility that the Rothschilds and the holders of one hundred billions of gold bonds to conceal from the people the confiscation caused by a rise in gold, when gold is the standard.

Just think of it; the Rothschilds and associates forced Austria and India to the gold standard, a rise in gold of 37½ cents followed, and added 37½ billions to the value of their gold bonds. I don't know why the newspapers, especially the local papers, refuse to advocate or permit others to advocate in their columns the repeal of the gold standard. I only know that their action is in the interest of the holders of one hundred billions of gold bonds. As pretended friends of free coinage their attitude has been potent to conceal the truth from the people.

There is no reason for retaining the gold standard to make the rich richer and poor poorer, and to do this weakens our efforts to get unlimited free coinage; in fact makes it impossible. To return to the silver standard re-

We are authorized to announce

as a candidate to represent Crittenden and Livingston counties in the next General Assembly of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

The Lyon county Stone has not yet rolled across Wat Hardin's path to the gubernatorial office at Frankfort.

The investigating committee of the Tennessee Legislature will elect Turney governor by something like 3,000 plurality.

Every time you hear from a Crittenden county boy who has gone West, you hear of a good sized office mentioned in connection with his name.

Two of Kentucky's most gifted Democratic orators are for the free coinage of silver. Hardin and Blackburn represent the fighting, working element of the party in the State.

Cassville is opening saloons at $250 each; Blackford gets $300; Dyersburg $300 and Marion $500. Everything else, however, is as cheap as Marion as at either of the other points named.

It seems that Cuba is making a desperate effort to free herself from Spanish rule. The rebellion has assumed a serious phase, and the carnage of war is no longer child's play.

The colored brethren continue to bob up over the State as candidates for places on their party ticket. The latest is a colored teacher, and he has designs on the position of Register of the Land Office. He will do all of his canvassing, however, before the State Convention occurs.

Train robbing in Kentucky does not seem to be a prosperous business. Those mountain fellows had better stick to their old calling—moonshining. Outside of legitimate business, the latter seems to be the only avocation wherein men "live long and prosper" on Kentucky soil.

John Hendrick is wrestling with his first post office contest. The postmaster at Murray is dead, his successor is to be appointed, and a number of excellent gentlemen are applicants. A post office fight at Murray was the first gun of Capt. Stone's Waterloo. Let us hope that this fight will prove to be an Asteritis for Hendrick.

A gleam of sunshine now and then portends the approach of brighter days. The Evansville Courier had the Democratic roster at the head of its columns Tuesday. Grand Rapids, Mich., and Columbus, O., elected Democratic mayors. Evansville elected a Republican mayor by 500 majority. It don't take much of a worm to make the Democratic chicken cackle this spring, but he is regaining his health, and by the spring of '96 he will have gained his accustomed strength.

It seems that when Bells Mines started out a few months ago to weed out some noxious herbs in that section, she meant business and is still unrelentingly meaning it. According to late returns a man must make a decent effort to support his family comfortably before he is recognized as fit material to enter or remain in the composition of citizenship. If he is without accomplishments of this most valuable nature, he finds other climates more congenial to his ideas of the temporal fitness of things. To be sure we are opposed to mobs, white caps and all similar institutions, but no law could have had such a salutary influence as some "little irregularities" have had in that community. Gentlemen, the medicine is not altogether orthodox, and is not administered by authorized physicians, but the results appear to be entirely satisfactory.

Bement & Seitz Co. vs. W. H. Copher; judgment for plaintiff for $70.29.

Murder 1; detaining a woman 1; confederating and banding together to intimidate 1; breach of peace 2; flourishing a deadly weapon 3; selling liquor on Sunday 2; selling liquor to minor 2; concealed weapons 1.

Last week the grand jury returned a bill against James T. Adams, accusing him of killing his wife. The court appointed Blue & Deboe and O. M. James to defend the accused, he having no money to employ counsel. Monday the case was called for trial and both sides announced ready.

Twenty odd witnesses were examined. Some of the commonwealth witnesses stated that there were bruises on the neck and knees of the dead woman; one witness stated that he heard screams in the direction of the house the night Mrs. Adams died; other witnesses stated that Adams was in the habit of cruelly treating his wife.

Witnesses for the defense stated that the accused was kind and good to his wife; that the wife was subject to smothering spells; the defense proved that the witness who told of the woman's screams had made contradictory statements. Dr. J. H. Clark stated he had examined the body of the dead woman, which was exhumed Saturday, and that there was no evidence of a violent death; that there were no bruises on the neck and that the red places on the knees were caused by the disease of the skin, and they were not bruises. He said the neck of persons dying suddenly frequently turned black.

The case was given to the jury without argument, and about thirty minutes the jury returned a verdict of acquittal and the defendant was discharged.

As will be seen by the court proceedings, Crittenden will send two men—or rather a man and a boy—to the penitentiary. Ed Long is a youth in his teens, and he goes for barn burning. He appears to be a hard case, and the result of his trial has in no wise tamed his spirit. Jas. Ray is a negro, prominent in the affairs of the colored people of the Tolu county. He goes up for shooting at another negro named Todd. According to the evidence he is a pretty hard citizen.

The damage suit of Willouby vs. James is on trial, and will go to the jury this morning. The plaintiff says the defendant accused him, the plaintiff, of stealing his, the defendant's, watermelons, and he prays the court for damages in the sum of $5,000.

The docket will probably be completed today, and court will adjourn until next term.

County Judge Moore is now an attorney at law. His long experience in office, together with his study and ample fund of good sense, qualify him for successful work at the bar.

Uncle Henry Stembridge's birthday came last Friday, and with it, the accustomed celebration. By some means a few of the young bloods had supplied themselves with some "calumny water," which they did not use with proper caution, and some "common disturbance" was the result.

W. G. Williamson is now a constable in Piney precinct. This should have a machine for grinding out legal business. Our Justice and Constable both are some distance from the business part of the district.

The young man is worthy and deserves patronage.

Cox's army of horses—occupied our town last week and Rev. Archey got from the drove a regular Buephalus—a fast goer. And it is thought he will now go to his appointments the day before.

Uncle Henry Stembridge's birthday came last Friday, and with it, the accustomed celebration. By some means a few of the young bloods had supplied themselves with some "calumny water," which they did not use with proper caution, and some "common disturbance" was the result.

W. G. Williamson is now a constable in Piney precinct. This should have a machine for grinding out legal business. Our Justice and Constable both are some distance from the business part of the district.

Chas. Sunderman, who was supposed to be the man found dead near Nunn's Switch several years ago, returned to his father's house a few days ago. No resurrection—merely a wrong identity. He is a son of Wm. Sunderman, of near this place. Mrs. Ed. Walde is quite ill.

Rev. E. L. Atwood, who was called by the Baptist church here, has been preaching some instructive sermons, and is well beliked.

WELDON-STONE.

On Monday evening, while the summer sun was quietly seeking its rest beyond the western hills, with its bright shining beams bidding us a lovely farewell, and leaving a silent shadow spreading over the fairy land; a gay crowd was gathering in at the residence of Mr. Chas. Stone, coming by twos and in companies, until quite a host had assembled, waiting for the bride party to appear.

At the appointed time Mr. W. N. Weldon and Miss Mannie Young, attendants, walked down on the floor followed by the bride and groom. The former was elegantly dressed and was pronounced a beautiful bride.

After a short ceremony by Rev. L. J. Millican, they were pronounced as "one."

After many congratulations from the happy company, they drove to Mr. J. W. Beard's, where a nice supper was spread for them and their numerous relatives.

Everything moved off nicely and

Harvey Porter has purchased the Luther Rankin stock of goods, and will continue the business.

One of the most pleasant events of the season was a musical entertainment at Dr. W. M. Asher's Friday night. Vocal and instrumental music, social converse and the day dance furnished pleasure for those present. Dr. Asher knows how to entertain his friends in true Kentucky style, and all who attended will long entertain pleasant memories of the enjoyable affair.

Wm. Holloman, wife and two dogs from South of Weston, crossed the river a few days ago. According to pretty authentic reports the "white caps" had given Holloman his marching orders, after giving him a thrashing. He was told that he must go to work and support his family or leave, or take worse. He left the dogs remained in town long enough to rob Dr. Truitt's hen nests.

Misses Gertrude and Valerie Nunn, of Blackford, were guests of friends in Weston Saturday.

Mr. James S. Truitt, formerly of this county, died at his home in Waxahatchie, Texas, some weeks ago. He left this county about 18 years ago, and was a prosperous contractor and builder at the time of his death. He was a brother of Dr. W. F. Truitt, of this place.

The tragic end of Mollie Easley was a shocking affair. She was well known in Marion, where she resided when a child, and a number of her kinsfolks live here now. The event made many sad hearts in Marion.

When returning home from town Thursday the horse attached to a buggy in which Mr. George Sisco and wife were riding, became frightened on "ran away," pitching the occupants from the vehicle, and in the fall Mrs. Sisco's leg was broken.

Justice is sometimes swift. Friday of last week a negro boy stole a pig of tobacco from M. Schwab's store. He was indicted by the grand jury, given a trial in circuit court, and Saturday evening was ready to begin working out his thirty days sentence.

A few days ago a number of his friends in Marion were contributing a fund for the benefit of Dan Flannery of the Ford Ferry neighborhood. A few years back he was a stout, industrious, healthy and prosperous man, but sickness came, his health was destroyed, his energies paralyzed, and now he is in very indigent circumstances.

Friday morning the little adopted girl of Mr. A. J. Pickens was playing around the cistern when the top of the elevator, which served as a covering, was accidentally turned over and the child fell into the cistern. The noise attracted the members of the family, and help happened to be near by. A rope was swung down in the well and down it James Gilbert climbed and secured the half-drowned child.

Two weeks ago a warrant was issued charging Coleman Byford with committing a breach of the peace. He was taken before Judge Moore, a day fixed for trial, and thinking the prisoner would be on hand at the proper time, the court let him go on his own recognizance. When the day for trial came Coleman was not est. Sunday night the officers found him talking to his best girl, in Boxville, and when one of the officers went in the front door the untamed young man went out the back window with the speed of a ghost, but Sheriff Franks had anticipated this strategic movement and stood at the window with open arms. Coleman is in jail now to await the day of trial.

Mr. B. S. Fenwick moved to Hampton this week, where he will go into the general merchandise business, in connection with Messrs J. C. and J. S. Markey. The firm name will be Fenwick & Markey. It affords the Pines great pleasure to recommend Mr. Fenwick and his estimable family to the people of that section. He has been a resident of Marion several years, and has been constantly in the employ of one of the largest mercantile houses in Marion, and for fair dealing, honesty and industry he has a splendid reputation. Whatever he says may be implicitly depended upon. He takes a deep interest in the affairs of his community and is a useful citizen.

FISCAL COURT.

Claims Allowed—Appropriations. And Other Matters.

The first term of the fiscal court under the new law was held Tuesday. The eight Magistrates were present. W. M. Marcum asked for an appropriation for the support of himself and daughter and was allowed $2.00 per month.

The sum of $4.00 per month was appropriated for the maintenance of Mrs. Ageline Cash, a blind woman.

Juo. A. Moore was allowed $7.50 as attorney for three pauper idiots. J. H. Orme allowed $5.10 for paint.

R. W. Taylor was allowed $6.00 for holding inquest over dead body of A. B. Perkins.

W. R. Vaughn was allowed $16.00 for four pauper coffins.

Ordered that a sum not exceeding $100 be allowed to pay for cattle guards, crossing etc., for new road proposed by J. G. Rochester.

It was ordered that all the iron bridges in the county and the iron fence around the court house be painted.

J. W. Mabry allowed $8.40 for guarding and delivering J. T. Adams to the court.

W. H. Graves allowed $27.05 for two small bridges.

J. N. Cully allowed $400 for repairing bridge.

Dr. T. M. Davis allowed $10.00 for poor house practice.

It was ordered that $50 be appropriated to aid in building a bridge near Henry LaRue's.

J. R. Clark allowed $50 for services as health officer.

J. A. Moore was allowed $500.00 salary as county judge for the year 1895.

W. C. M. Travis was allowed $500.00 for services as county attorney for the year 1895.

A. S. Hard, J. A. Moore and W. C. M. Travis appointed a committee to report at the October term of court the repairs needed on court room.

W. F. Truitt was, by reason of disability, released from road work.

Tuesday night an attempt was made by some of the prisoners in jail to prize out. Some time ago some one had left a plow in the corridor. On Tuesday night an old chair was torn to pieces and the leg used as a fork to draw the plow into the cell, and with this Long or Byford, or perhaps both, undertook to prize the cell doors open. The plow was found by the jailer next morning hid away in Long's cell.

This thing of flourishing pistols is amusing to the boys while they are at it, and unpleasant to those who happen to be in the neighborhood at the time, but when the grand jury and circuit court comes along, the affair becomes amusing to the boys, and unpleasant for the boys.

A Negro Lecturer.

Rev. J. C. Dean, colored, of Henderson, is delivering a series of lectures to the colored citizens of Marion on this week. He is said to be a very entertaining talker, and his lectures are full of food for thought. He lectures every night except Saturday. On Sunday evening at 3 o'clock he will speak in the court house. The white citizens are cordially invited to attend.

Come in and get hardware, and dory and harness at and below cost. I am closing these goods out. Come and see. M. Schwab.

THE DEAD IS ALIVE.

Chas. Souderman, Thought to be Sleeping in the Marion Graveyard Comes Home.

THE UNKNOWN SUICIDE IS STILL UNKNOWN.

On the 12th day of December 1890 the dead body of a young man was found near Nunn's Switch, on the O. V. railroad in this county, and there were evidences that he had committed suicide. He had been seen a few hours before and had said to some children that his name was George Luke. The body was brought to this place, and upon it was found about $500 in money. After burial an administrator was appointed, and took charge of the money. The description of the dead body attracted the attention of Wm. Souderman, an old German citizen of Fishtrap neighborhood. His son Charles had left some three years before, taking a team with him. A short time before this young Souderman wrote to his father that he was coming home, and he was expected when the dead body was found. In size and general appearance the dead man corresponded with the absent Souderman, and the amount of money found on his person led the father to believe that it was his long absent son. The old gentleman came to town, had the body examined and examined. He was convinced beyond doubt that it was his son; certain marks on the body seemed to corroborate the other evidences of identity. Other persons who knew the boy were of the same opinion, and the body was reburied and the general opinion was that the suicide was Charles Souderman. The father instituted suit in circuit court for the estate; he won the case and the money was turned over to him. And the public had ceased to think of the matter and Charles Souderman was so far as his friends were concerned, numbered with the dead.

Last Friday the man who was supposed to be dead these four years, turned up at his father's home, hale and hearty, and about as far from death as anybody living. When he first reached home and told who he was his father refused to believe him. "No," he said, "you are not my son; Charlie has been dead four years. You are an impostor; you are trifling with me." Charlie proceeded to tell the old gentleman things that a stranger could not know; he referred to incidents, family affairs and other matters that none but a member of the family knew. Finally the old man said: "Charlie had a scar on his leg; by this we identified the dead body; you have no such a mark on your body." In a moment Charlie had pulled off the shoe, rolled up his pants and displayed the scar. "You are Charlie; you are my lost boy. Come in," and the old man and his family were all rejoicing, and the man who slept under the little mound down at the cemetery is without a name.

Young Souderman has been at work down in the Southern States, and has been remarkably prosperous, and after visiting his parents a few weeks he will return to his home down in Dixie.

Old man Souderman is an honest, hard working, simple hearted old German, and the mistake was an honest one. He was very fond of the boy, and when the decomposing body of the suicide was exhumed and there was evidences that it was that of his son, he broke down and cried like a child, and the tears he shed were the children of a sorrowful heart.

E. C. Flannery Dead.

Monday afternoon Mr. E. C. Flannery died at his residence in this place. Surrounded by relatives and friends he passed peacefully away, after an illness of several weeks; the funeral took place from the residence Tuesday afternoon and the body was placed to rest, with Masonic honors, in the new cemetery. A large concourse of friends were present to pay the last tribute of respect to the man so well known in this county.

E. C. Flannery was born in Crittenden county Oct. 24, 1856. In 1882 he was elected sheriff of the county, defeating S. Coram; in 1884 he was re-elected, defeating A. Woodall.

In 1890 he was elected to the Legislature, defeating Mr. A. B. Hodge, Greenbacker, and W. C. Hamilton, Republican. In 1894 he was appointed city attorney and served till death. He took an active interest in political affairs, and his success in a number of canvasses for office, showed that he had many friends, and throughout the county many hearts will be sad because of his death. He was a man who appreciated his friends and his heart and hands were always open for those who had remembered him. Notwithstanding men might differ with him there was that to his make up which those who really knew him well admired, and when the news of his death was spread abroad, a tear glistened in many an eye, welling up from hearts that will keep his memory green for many, very many years.

Frazer-Nunn.

Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock at the residence of R. N. Walker, of this place, Dr. T. Atchison Frazer and Miss Cleo. Nunn were united in marriage, Rev. W. H. Archey, of Shady Grove, officiating. Only a few friends witnessed the union of these two happy young people.

After the ceremony Dr. Frazer and wife left for Nashville, where they will spend a few days before returning to their home at Blackford.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. S. A. Nunn, of the Blackford neighborhood. She has been teaching in the public schools of the county for two years, and is held in high esteem by a large circle of friends. She is a beautiful young lady, amiable and accomplished.

Dr. Frazer, the groom, recently graduated from one of the best medical colleges of the country, and located at Blackford, where he is building up a lucrative practice. He is a native of Hopkins county, but was a resident of Crittenden for some time before locating in Webster county. He is very popular wherever known, and is admired for his many good qualities as a man and citizen.

J. H. Morse In Business.

Mr. J. H. Morse is in business again. He has purchased the Green, Jones & Harris stock of goods at this place, and has gone to market to replenish the stock. The public understands that he is one of the most progressive business men in the country; he is always at the front in quality and quantity of goods, and he is never behind in prices. In a few days his new goods will be in, and the people may depend upon getting some bargains at once. He will continue the business at the old Cameron stand if you want to observe your own interests see him before you buy.

I have a nice line of hats, trimmings, flowers, etc., bought cheaper than ever before, which I will open up the first Saturday in April, with Miss Minnie Hall to do my trimming. I will endeavor to sell you hats for less than ever before. Thanking you for past patronage, and hoping to do better by you in the future, I am very respectfully,
Mrs. HENRY TOWERY,
Shady Grove, Ky.

Stock and Crop Items.

See J. J. Hunt's ad.

Press Ford, who has taken as much if not more interest in the breeding of good horses than any other man in the county, offers some standard bred animals for sale.

R. T. Damron, of Salem, has purchased Silver Heel, Jr., from Luther Elder, of Caldwell county.

Mr. A. H. Cardin calls attention to his fine saddle stallion, Tom Slasher; he certainly has a superb animal. A glance at his pedigree, published elsewhere, shows his breeding, and a look at the horse shows his style. If there is one thing needful in this county it is an improvement in the horses. There has been such a large importation of cheap western horses, that our animals have degenerated. The importation of such horses as Tom Slasher will prove to be a great advantage to the farmers, and will in a great measure offset the downward tendency.

Last year Mr. M. C. O'Hara made 25,400 pounds of tobacco on 21 acres of land—an average of 1212 pounds per acre. About on third of his crop was set out in June, when the ground was dusty and the atmosphere dry and hot; the plants were, however, watered, and the yield shows that they did well. He sold to Price, Dollar & Co. for 5 and 3 cents.

A few days since a farmer came into the Pines office and invested a few cents in a stray notice. "May be your horse has been stolen?" was the suggestive question put to him. "The old woman says somebody is using him," was the answer. "And who is the old woman?" was another question that followed, "and how does she know?" "She is an old Indian living down in Bella Mines, and she tells by her cards. Yes, we have already seen about this horse. Once two steers and a cow strayed from me and I went to her to get information about them. She told me how I could find the steers and said I never would get the cow. It turned out just that way too. Lots of folks go to her to find out about their stray stock, and the cards generally tell them, too."

After this our patron kicked some mud from off his feet onto the stove, spat on the floor, paid his bill and went out, leaving us with the money, mud and reflection that if the stray notice brought in the horse the man would have as much faith in the newspaper as he has in old Maria and her pack of cards. We shall await results with increasing interest. If any of our readers know of the horse—the notice is in this paper—they will help the fate to cast the dice in our favor; if we knock out the old woman our fortune is made.

Attempted Robbery.

News comes from the Rosebud neighborhood of an attempted highway robbery. Lewis O'Neal was returning from a neighbor's house, horseback, just after nightfall. While passing a heavily wooded piece of land, a man stepped out from behind a tree and catching the bridle reins demanded that O'Neal give up his horse or his life. O'Neal thought it was some of the neighbors playing him a trick and said, "take my life," and the stranger began firing at him. One bullet struck his side pocket, passed through a book, and had about spent its force when it struck his body. Louis returned the fire and a regular shooting bee occurred; finally both parties retired from the field of action.

Flowers, ribbons and hats of the very latest styles and at extremely low prices at Mrs. Laura Skelton's.

Resolutions.

WHEREAS, It has pleased God in his wisdom to remove from the Lodge our beloved brother, Eb. C. Flannery, on the 1st day of April, 1895, to that bourne from whence no traveler has ever returned, and that we realize that his death is not only a loss to us but to his family and friends; therefore be it Resolved, 1st, That in the death of brother Eb. C. Flannery, his wife and little boy have lost their best friend, and our lodge one of its valued members.

2nd, That we tender to his heart stricken wife and aged mother, together with his brothers and sisters our deepest sympathy and commend them to the care and keeping of Him who does all things well.

3rd, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his wife, a copy to the Press and Masonic Home Journal for publication and a copy be spread upon the minutes of our lodge; that the lodge be draped in mourning and the brethren wear their usual badge for thirty days.

"Wm. Holt, case dismissed by the court upon the grounds of insufficient evidence."

"Frank Holt, sentenced to two years in the penitentiary, which term has been served."

"George Delaney, tried and sentenced to the penitentiary for life but given a new trial by the Court of Appeals."

"Wm. Omer, tried and sentenced to the penitentiary for life, but also granted a new trial by the Court of Appeals."

"Jim Lee Tate, yet to be tried."

"All of the accused have testified on the witness stand, except Jim Lee Tate, and yet who fired the fatal shot is enshrouded in as much doubt as in the beginning."
