

M. E. FOHS,
Merchant Tailor
 MARION, KY.
 Receives new goods every day. Suits
 made to order $15.00 and upwards.
 All-wool pants made to order $3.50.

The Crittenden Press.

All-Wool Pants
 MADE TO ORDER
FOR $3.50 CASH.
 M. E. FOHS, The Tailor.

VOLUME 16.

MARION, CRITTENDEN COUNTY, KENTUCKY, JUNE, 20 1895.

NUMBER 2

Memphis Convention.

Men from All the Southern and Western States Council
 Together.

The Leaders of Democracy in the Fight and Refuse to be Led Astray.

Memphis, June 12.—The largest meeting ever held in this country for the discussion of a single economic question, convened at the Auditorium in this city Wednesday. Certainly no such outpouring of men of all classes, from the tiller of the soil to the representatives of the bench and bar, the artisan and the merchant, representing all political parties but unanimous at least upon one principle of governmental policy, has ever been seen in the South. While an overwhelming majority of the delegates to the "honest money" convention, called in the interest of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, came from this section of the country, the representation includes almost every State South of the Ohio river and west of the Mississippi, from Puget sound to the keys of Florida, from the Mexican boundary to the Potomac.

Memphis, June 13.—It was only by the exercise of rare good judgment on the part of the leaders that the silver convention escaped disruption today. Senators Harris and Jones, and other cool-headed veterans, threw themselves into the breach and averred disaster. Not only that, but they succeeded in bringing the convention to a successful close without any sign of discord appearing in the record.

The trouble was due to the Populist element and the silver issue. More than a third of the voting strength of the convention, were under the leadership of John H. Mc-Dowell of this State, a shrewd politician who has been practically the dictator of the third party in Tennessee for years. He knew that the large majority of the delegates were Democrats, but he also knew that the leading spirits were anxious to avoid any thing like partisan assertion, seeking rather to conciliate hitherto antagonistic elements, and bring them all into line on this occasion for a united nonpartisan demand for justice to silver. He saw his advantage and seized it promptly.

When the names of the members of the committee on resolutions were read out in the convention and it appeared that only one was a Populist,
 he arose and demanded that his people be given additional representation and at the suggestion of ex-Congressman Casey Young, of Memphis, the six men whose names were submitted by McDowell were added to the list.
 The six included himself, and proved just that many firebrands in the committee room. Their purpose was to commit the Democrats to the support of an independent silver party, and they fought hard for it, with the assistance of Sibley, who was a member of the committee and whose personal interest in the success of the scheme was obvious, but it failed.

The Democratic members of the committee, under the masterful guidance of Senator Harris, member for the United States at large, finally succeeded in convincing the independents that the free silver Democrats could not be alured from their allegiance to the party, even by the glittering promise of a great alliance of all the silver men. It was a long and hard fight, however, and the resolutions were not reported until three o'clock this afternoon.

TEXT OF THE RESOLUTIONS.

When the convention was called to order for the afternoon session, Senator Jones of Arkansas as chairman, presented the following report of the committee on resolutions, which was unanimously adopted:

The universal experience of mankind has demonstrated that the joint use of both silver and gold coin as money constitutes the most stable standard of value and that the full amount of both metals is necessary as a medium of exchange. The demonstration of either of these historic money metals means an appreciation
 in the value of money, a fall in prices of commodities, a diminution of the profits of legitimate business, a continual increase in the burden of debt, withdrawal of money from the channels of trade and industry, where it no longer yields a safe and sure return, and its idle accumulation in the banks and in the great money centers of the country.

There is no health or soundness in a financial system under which a hor-ded dollar is productive of increase to its possessor, while an invested dollar yields a constantly diminishing return, and under which fortunes are made by the accretions of the idle capital or destroyed by a persistent fall in the price of commodities and a persistent dwindling in the margin of profits in almost every branch of useful industry. Such a system is premium upon sloth and a penalty upon industry, and such a system is that which the criminal legislation of 1873 has imposed upon the people of this country.

The bimetallic standard of silver and gold has behind it the experience of ages, and has been tested and approved by the enlightened and deliberate judgment of mankind. The gold standard is a departure from the established policy of the civilized world with nothing to commend it but 22 years of depression and disaster to the people and extraordinary accumulation of wealth in the hands of the few.

FREE COINAGE FAVORED.

Under the measure prevailing prior to 1873, the value of silver and gold two metals, for a rise in value of one metal is counteracted by a decreased demand and a fall in value by an increased demand. Under the operation of this beneficent law a stable relation was maintained between them in spite of the most extreme changes in relative productions. From the earliest period of our history up to 1873 the right of the debtor to choose whether he should pay his debts in silver or gold coin, was always recognized. The subsequent policy has been to transfer this right to the creditors, thus tending to constantly increase the value of the dearer metal and thus destroy the parity between them.

Believing that it is absolutely necessary to reverse the iniquitous and ruinous policy, we therefore resolve—

That we favor the immediate restoration of silver to its former place as a full legal tender, standard money, equal with gold, and the free and unlimited coinage of both silver and gold at the ratio of 16 to 1 and upon terms of exact equality.

That while we should welcome the co-operation of other nations, we believe the United States should not wait upon the cooperation of cred-governments or the pleasure of creditors, but should themselves proceed to reverse the "grinding process" that is destroying the prosperity of the people and should lead by their example the nations of the earth.

That the rights of the American people, that the interests of American labor, and the prosperity of American industry have a higher claim to the consideration of the people's lawmakers than the greed of foreign creditors, or the avaricious demands by the "idle holders of life capital." The right to regulate its own monetary system in the interests of its own people is a right which no free government can barter, sell or surrender.
 This reserved right is a part of every bond, of every contract, and of every obligation. No creditor or claimant can set up a right that can take precedence over a nation's obligation to promote the welfare of the masses of its own people. This is a debt higher and more binding than all other debts and one which is not only dishonored, but treasonable to ignore.

CENTRALIZATION OF WEALTH.

Under the financial policy that now prevails we see the land filled with idle and discontented working men,
 and an overgrowing army of tramps,
 men whom lack of work and opportunity have made outcasts and beggars.
 At the other end we find a few thousand families own one-half the wealth of the country. The centralization of wealth has gone hand in hand with the spread of poverty. The pauper and the plutocrat are twin children of the same vicious and unholy system.
 The situation is full of menace to the liberties of the people and the life of the Republic. The issue is enfranchisement or hopeless servitude; whatever the power of money can do by debauchery and corruption to maintain its grasp on the lawmaking power will be done.

We therefore appeal to the plain people of the land, with perfect confidence in their patriotism and intelligence, to arouse themselves to a full sense of the peril that confronts them and defend the citadel of their liberties with a vigilance that shall neither slumber or sleep.

Obituary.

Sister Jimima Elizabeth Davis, nee
 Owens, was born in Crittenden county, Ky., Nov. 28, 1828. She sought and found pardon and peace for her sins in Jesus Christ, and was enabled to rejoice in hope of immortality and eternal life. She connected herself with God's people, and from that time until life was ended, was a devoted, humble and joyous christian.

On the 12th of January, 1893, she was happily married to Mr. James C.
 Davis, with whom she shared the trials and triumphs of life forty-two years.

She was a sweet flower, its my case, but like a sweet flower, its delightful perfume flowed out on all occasions, filling the social atmosphere with the aroma and unction of the spirit of love, and the ministry of kind words. Her church work was never neglected if, by any reasonable means, she could be present. She delighted in the company and communion of saints, and in a remarkable manner showed and proved her faith by her works.

But how shall we adequately describe this sainted woman as wife and mother?

Her wise and gentle words fell on the ears of her husband like a benediction, and aim the toils and trials of life he could always find in her gentle words a solace and quieting influence, that gave him strength and energy to go forward in the performance of life's responsible duties.

She was his guardian angel; her prayers kept Heaven's shield suspended over him, and God's strong arm was ready to deliver and protect him.
 All the natural instincts of motherhood, reinforced by the purest and fondest maternal love for her children were characteristics that distinguished her as one among the most affectionate and tender of mothers.

The last few years of her life she seemed to forget self, and live, and labor, and sacrifice almost everything earthly for the dear ones—the children.

Her neighbors learned to love her as a mother, or a sister; were always delighted when she called in to see them.

In the year 1887 she came to Paris, Texas, where she joined the 1st Christian church, in which she lived and labored until her death.

All her children were present when her spirit took its flight to God who gave it. The sad scene occurred on Feb. 18, 1895.

Her precious remains were laid to rest in the beautiful evergreen cemetery, to await the resurrection of the just. We know where in the sweet by-and-by.

A Friend.

Paris, Tex., 1895.

REPAIRING MAIL BAGS.

A Great Industrial Establishment Located at the National Capital.

Special to the Press.

WASHINGTON, June 17, '95.

Every one knows that Uncle Sam is engaged in various phases of business in order to carry out his main purpose, which is the proper conduct of the government of over sixty millions of people. Perhaps the average citizen does not realize, even those who are more or less familiar with Washington, that at the nation's capital there is a large establishment controlled entirely by Uncle Sam, which is devoted to purely industrial purposes. It is the shop where the mail bags used in the postal service are repaired. Some idea of the magnitude of this business can be gathered from the fact that the building occupied for this purpose is a large five story structure, where over 230 persons are employed.

The annual expenditure is about one hundred thousand dollars, and while this may seem to be a large sum to be used simply in the repair of mail bags, yet it is said by the post office department officials, that if this shop was not in existence, that the government would spend two or three times as much as it does at present in the purchase of mail bags. As every one knows these bags are made of canvass or jute, and are subjected to considerable hard usage. Even an expert baggage smasher does not handle the luggage of the traveling public with any more recklessness than the mail bags are treated in their long journeys.

Into the cars, or the process is reversed, and the main consideration is the saving of time. When the bags become worn or torn or damaged in any way, they are gathered together and forwarded to Washington. There is a small repair shop in Chicago which, however, only repairs minor injuries.
 At the shop in this city, some 200,000
 mail bags are received, overhauled, and sent to different parts of the country every thirty days. Some of the mail pouches are made of leather and experts are needed to make the necessary repairs. There is in addition a mail lock shop, where fifteen skilled mechanics are employed, and about thirty other men and boys.

The pay of those who repair the mail bags is not large, but the labor is unskilled, as it consists mainly in sewing and patching the canvass sacks.
 It is a singular thing, but occasionally mail matter is found in the sacks which are sent to the repair shops.
 This is mostly newspapers and circulars, but once in a while a letter is found. For this reason the bags are carefully inspected, before they are placed in the hands of the work people.

Some time ago a patent attorney in this city forwarded a book of patent coupons to a client to be used in securing copies of patents. His client received the letter, but it did not contain the coupons. A long time afterwards a post office inspector called on the attorney and asked him if he had not sent a book of coupons through the mails which had not reached its destination. He said that he had and the inspector produced the lost coupons, which it seems had been found in a mail sack, which had been forward to the repair shop, and been there found.

It was evident that the letter had been rifled by some one who supposed that the coupons had an available money value. A list is kept of the purchasers of the coupons and in this manner the post office inspector was able to trace the owner of the lost book.

A year or so ago one of the curiosities of the mail bag repair shops was a woman employed as one of the repairers and who had been totally blind for years. Her special duty was to examine the mail bags which had defective cords, and either to repair them or to supply new ones.

 She did this work with the most wonderful quickness, and was regarded as one of the most efficient workers in the shop.

School Trustees.

The election for school trustee is now over, and if you did not elect a good man for the place it is your own fault. If you failed to go to the polls and vote, don't grumble at the man elected or the school you have next winter.

If you have a poor teacher, and as a result a poor school, remember you are to blame, you did not elect the right man trustee. The time of shifting the school trusteeship from one illiterate, worthless fellow to another is fast going by. Let us hope that good men have been elected to this important office, all over the State—men who believe in progress, men that believe in pushing the cause of education to the front, men who believe in having the best of everything, that the best is the cheapest, and that will not make an exception to the rule
 when they are called on to employ a teacher to instruct our children; men that will take a personal interest and a personal pride in doing all in their power to assist the teacher in making the school a success.

It has been said, "as is the teacher
 so is the school." Allow me to suggest, as is the trustee so will be the teacher, in a great measure. A trustee should be liberal minded, of fair literary ability, capable of judging the superior from the inferior, one that has pride enough to learn his duty, and the backbone to do it; one that can say "No" twice or three times to "Yes" once. He should never be willing to let a bad teacher go to his present and future schools.

Let us see why this is the case.
 Because if you employ a second or third class teacher, when you could just as easily have gotten a first class, you virtually say to your second or third class teacher, that he need not do more to try to better his qualifications, for he already stands ahead of his first class fellow teacher. Mean while, where is the first class man or woman that you failed to employ?
 They have been forced by your acts
 to seek employment in other States, where qualification and merit are the first considerations when they want to employ a teacher. Result: our schools many of them, are kept, not taught,
 by second and third class teachers from year to year, whose only interest in the school is the "almighty dollar,"
 they get out of it.

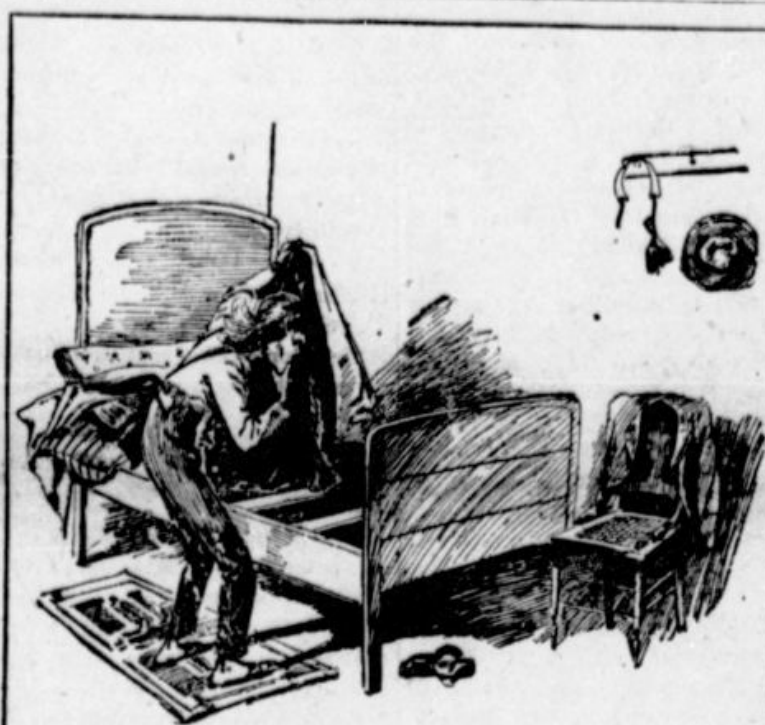

Trustees should see that the teacher
 they hire is not only qualified, from a literary standpoint, but that he or she is of good moral character, God loving, God fearing and God honoring. They should not hire a second class teacher because he or she is kin to them or because they are their townsman or neighbor, or neighbor's boy or girl. Hire the man or woman that is able to do you the best work, whether they are your personal favorites or not, for you can not reasonably expect a second or third class teacher to do you first class work. Then why not hire the live, wide awake teacher as it is not only your interest but your duty to do so.

When trustees shall have adopted these rules then, and not till then may we expect to be found in the foremost ranks pushing forward the grand cause of education.

One word to the low grade teacher:
 don't be content with a second or a third class certificate; go to school and show yourself worthy, by your competency, of the calling you have espoused.

You haven't got the money?
 Then borrow it, you surely have a friend that will help you. No worthy young man or woman but what can get help. Come to the front and then ask for a school, and you shall surely have it.

Back Number.

THE POET'S REALITY.

Oh, Spring, Spring!
 Beautiful Spring—
 Where art thou?

—Truth.

A. O. U. W. Resolutions.

Keystone Lodge No. 52:

WHEREAS: It has pleased our Supreme Master and Ruler of the Universe in His infinite wisdom to remove from our midst our beloved Bro. Wm
 Frizzell, of Marion, Ky.

WHEREAS: Bro. Frizzell as a true Workman has left with us the legacy of brotherly love and workmanship yet fresh in the memory of those near him.

WHEREAS: The bereaved family has lost a loving and devoted father and husband, the A. O. U. W. a true and valued member, the town of Marion an esteemed citizen, we must look to God for guidance and support in this hour of sorrow; and He that doeth all things well will be with us and give us amply of the balm of solace and fortitude in Christ our Resolved, That a copy of this reso-

Harry Henry,
 J. B. Hill,
 T. M. Jenkins, jr.,
 Committee.

Keystone Lodge, No. 52, Henderson, Ky., to Marion Lodge No. 60,
 Marion, Ky.

Resolved, That Keystone Lodge
 No. 52, A. O. U. W. tender to Marion Lodge No. 60, Marion, Ky., our sincere thanks for the aid and comfort and solace of brotherly love extended to our late Bro. Wm. Frizzell in the hour of his trouble and sickness, and although everything looked dark and dreary, the noble brethren of No. 60 drove away the black clouds of sorrow and distress and administered comfort and hope to the now deceased brother and his family.

God bless his wife and children and you, our beloved brethren of Marion, hoping that sorrow and distress may never darken your lodge, and everlasting peace, happiness and joy reign supreme.

We remain fraternally in CH & P.

Harry Henry,
 J. B. Hill,
 T. M. Jenkins, jr.,
 Committee.

It May Do As Much For You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so called kidney cures but without and good result. About a year ago he began use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure of all kidney and Liver Troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50c. for large bottle. At H. K.
 Woods Drug Store.

THE BEST is what the People
 buy the most. That's Why Hood's Sarsaparilla has the largest sale OF ALL MEDICINES.

ARE YOU
 BANKRUPT in health, constitution undermined by extravagance in eating, by disregarding the laws of nature, or physical capital all gone, if so,
NEVER DESPAIR
 Tutt's Liver Pills will cure you.
 For sick headache, dyspepsia, sour stomach, malaria, torpid liver, constipation, biliousness
 and all kindred diseases.
Tutt's Liver Pills
 an absolute cure.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Sal-Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per ox. For sale by H. K. Woods.

CLOSING OUT!

During the next 30 days we propose to Close out our entire stock of

Glassware, Tinware
 and Queensware

AT COST!

Our New Bakery Shop
 Will be open June 20 and can furnish you bread, cakes, pies and delicacies of all kinds.

In connection we have opened an

ICE CREAM PARLOR

And have cream on hand at all times. Should you want cream for Sunday or any occasion leave your order in time and we will have it for you. We still have a small stock of

Hardware, Cradle Blades, Window Sash,
 RAKES, HOES, LOCKS, ETC.,

Which will go for what they will bring. We have 13 gross of Masons Fruit Jars left which we will sell cheaper than any one.
 Call and get our prices.

We have one-half barrel of mince meat which we will sell at 5c at the weather.

Having quit the picture business we have for sale several large picture frames for $1.00 and $1.25, will cost you anywhere from $2.50 to $3.00.

Come to see us at the J. N. Woods old stand. Satisfaction guaranteed in every department.

YOURS TRULY,

THOMAS BROS.

J. H. ORME,

MAIN STREET

DRUGGIST

MARION
 KY.

Customers will find our stock complete in—
 BOOKS, BRUSHES, SPONGES, STATIONERY, FINE SOAPS, OILS,
 ETC., ETC., LEAD

Prescriptions from Pure Drugs. Prices Reasonable.
 Filled at all hours, Day or Night, Accurately.
 We also handle Pure Brandies, Liquors and Wines; price from $2 to $5 per gal

BEN. F. McMICAN,

THE BAKER,

Special Inducements For Barbecues.

Fresh Bread and Rolls Every Day.

M. E. FOHS,
Merchant Tailor
 MARION, KY.
 Receives new goods every day. Suits
 made to order $15.00 and upwards.
 All-wool pants made to order $3.50.

The Crittenden Press.

All-Wool Pants
 MADE TO ORDER
FOR $3.50 CASH.
 M. E. FOHS, The Tailor.

VOLUME 16.

MARION, CRITTENDEN COUNTY, KENTUCKY, JUNE, 20 1895.

NUMBER 2

Memphis Convention.

Men from All the Southern and Western States Council
 Together.

The Leaders of Democracy in the Fight and Refuse to be Led Astray.

Memphis, June 12.—The largest meeting ever held in this country for the discussion of a single economic question, convened at the Auditorium in this city Wednesday. Certainly no such outpouring of men of all classes; from the tiller of the soil to the representatives of the bench and bar, the artisan and the merchant, representing all political parties but unanimous at least upon one principle of governmental policy, has ever been seen in the South. While an overwhelming majority of the delegates to the "honest money" convention, called in the interest of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, came from this section of the country, the representation includes almost every State South of the Ohio river and west of the Mississippi, from Puget sound to the keys of Florida, from the Mexican boundary to the Potomac.

Memphis, June 13.—It was only by the exercise of rare good judgment on the part of the leaders that the silver convention escaped disruption today. Senators Harris and Jones, and other exalted veterans, threw themselves into the breach and averted disaster. Not only that, but they succeeded in bringing the convention to a successful close without any sign of discord appearing in the record. The trouble was due to the Populist element and the Sibley Presidential boom. The Populists, comprising more than a third of the voting strength of the convention, were under the leadership of John H. McDowell of this State, a shrewd politician who has been practically the dictator of the third party in Tennessee for years. He knew that the large majority of the delegates were Democrats, but he also knew that the leading spirits were anxious to avoid any thing like partisan assertion, seeking rather to conciliate hitherto antagonistic elements, and bring them all into line on this occasion for a united nonpartisan demand for justice to silver. He saw his advantage and seized it promptly.

When the names of the members of the committee on resolutions were read out in the convention and it appeared that only one was a Populist, he arose and demanded that his people be given additional representation and at the suggestion of ex-Congressman Casey Young, of Memphis, the six men whose names were submitted by McDowell were added to the list. The six included himself, and proved just that many firebrands in the committee room. Their purpose was to commit the Democrats to the support of an independent silver party, and they fought hard for it, with the assistance of Sibley, who was a member of the committee and whose personal interest in the success of the scheme was obvious, but it failed.

The Democratic members of the committee, under the masterful guidance of Senator Harris, member for the United States at large, finally succeeded in convincing the independent that the free silver Democrats could not be allured from their allegiance to the party, even by the glittering promise of a great alliance of all the silver men. It was a long and hard fight, however, and the resolutions were not reported until three o'clock this afternoon.

TEXT OF THE RESOLUTIONS.

When the convention was called to order for the afternoon session, Sen-

tor Jones of Arkansas as chairman, presented the following report of the committee on resolutions, which was unanimously adopted:

The universal experience of mankind has demonstrated that the joint use of both silver and gold coin as money constitutes the most stable standard of value and that the full amount of both metals is necessary as a medium of exchange. The demonetization of either of these historic money metals means an appreciation in the value of money, a fall in prices of commodities, a diminution of the profits of legitimate business, a continual increase in the burden of debt, withdrawal of money from the channels of trade and industry, where it no longer yields a safe and sure return, and its idle accumulation in the banks and in the great money centers of the country.

There is no health or soundness in a financial system under which a hoard of dollars is productive of increase to its possessor, while an invested dollar yields a constantly diminishing return, and under which fortunes are made by the accretions of the idle capital or destroyed by a persistent fall in the price of commodities and a persistent dwindling in the margin of profits in almost every branch of useful industry. Such a system is premium upon sloth and a penalty upon industry, and such a system is that which the criminal legislation of 1873 has imposed upon the people of this country.

The bimetallic standard of silver and gold has behind it the experience of ages, and has been tested and approved by the enlightened and deliberate judgment of mankind. The gold standard is a departure from the established policy of the civilized world with nothing to commend it but 22 years of depression and disaster to the people and extraordinary accumulation of wealth in the hands of the few.

FREE COINAGE FAVORED.

Under the measure prevailing prior to 1873, there can be no violent change in the relative value of the two metals, for a rise in value of one metal is counteracted by a decreased demand and a fall in value by an increased demand. Under the operation of this beneficent law a stable relation was maintained between them in spite of the most extreme changes in relative productions. From the earliest period of our history up to 1873 the right of the debtor to choose whether he should pay his debts in silver or gold coin, was always recognized. The subsequent policy has been to transfer this right to the creditors, thus tending to constantly increase the value of the dearer metal and thus destroy the parity between them.

Believing that it is absolutely necessary to reverse the iniquitous and ruinous policy, we therefore resolve—

That we favor the immediate restoration of silver to its former place as a full legal tender, standard money, equal with gold, and the free and unlimited coinage of both silver and gold at the ratio of 16 to 1 and upon terms of exact equality.

That while we should welcome the co-operation of other nations, we believe the United States should not wait upon the cooperation of other governments or the pleasure of creditors, but should themselves proceed to reverse the "grinding process" that is destroying the prosperity of the people and should lead by their example the nations of the earth.

That the rights of the American people, that the interests of American labor, and the prosperity of American industry have a higher claim to the consideration of the people's lawmakers than the greed of foreign creditors, or the avaricious demands by "idle holders of idle capital." The right to regulate its own monetary system in the interests of its own people is a right which no free government can barter, sell or surrender. This reserved right is a part of every bond, of every contract, and of every obligation. No creditor or claimant can set up a right that can take precedents over a nation's obligation to promote the welfare of the masses of its own people. This is a debt higher and more binding than all other debts and one which is not only dishonest, but treasonable to ignore.

CENTRALIZATION OF WEALTH.

Under the financial policy that now prevails we see the land filled with idle and discontented working men, and an overgrowing army of tramps, men whom lack of work and opportunity have made outcasts and beggars. At the other end we find a few thousand families own one-half the wealth of the country. The centralization of wealth has gone hand in hand with the spread of poverty. The pauper and the plutocrat are twin children of the same vicious and unholy system. The situation is full of menace to the liberties of the people and the life of the Republic. The issue is enfranchisement or hopeless servitude; whatever the power of money can do by debauchery and corruption to maintain its grasp on the lawmaking power will be done.

We therefore appeal to the plain people of the land, with perfect confidence in their patriotism and intelligence, to arouse themselves to a full sense of the peril that confronts them and defend the citadel of their liberties with a vigilance that shall neither slumber or sleep.

Obituary.

Sister Jemima Elizabeth Davis, nee Owens, was born in Crittenden county, Ky., Nov. 28, 1828. She sought and found pardon and peace by faith in Jesus Christ, and was enabled to rejoice in hope of immortality and eternal life. She connected herself with God's people, and from that time until life was ended, was a devoted, humble and joyous Christian.

On the 12th of January, 1895, she was happily married to Mr. James C. Davis, with whom she shared the trials and triumphs of life forty-two years.

Sister Davis was a lively, congenial and joyous Christian lady. Her religion was not of that morose and gloomy caste, but like a sweet flower, its delightful perfume floated out on all occasions, filling the social atmosphere with the aroma and unction of the spirit of love, and the ministry of kind words. Her church work was never neglected, if, by any reasonable means, she could be present. She delighted in the company and communion of saints, and in a remarkable manner showed and proved her faith by her works.

But how shall we adequately describe this sainted woman as wife and mother?

Her wise and gentle words fell on the ears of her husband like a benediction, and aim the tolls and trials of life he could always find in her gentle words a solace and quieting influence, that gave him strength and energy to go forward in the performance of life's responsible duties.

She was his guardian angel; her prayers kept Heaven's shield suspended over him, and God's strong arm was ready to deliver and protect him. All the natural instincts of motherhood, reinforced by the purest and fondest maternal love for her children were characteristics that distinguished her as one among the most affectionate and tender of mothers.

The last few years of her life she seemed to forget self, and live, and labor, and sacrifice almost everything earthly for the dear ones—the children.

Her neighbors learned to love her as a mother, or a sister; were always delighted when she called in to see them.

In the year 1887 she came to Paris, Texas, where she joined the last Christian church, in which she lived and labored until her death.

All her children were present when her spirit took its flight to God who gave it. The sad scene occurred on Feb. 18, 1895.

Her precious remains were laid to rest in the beautiful evergreen cemetery, to await the resurrection of the just. We know where to find her, and hope to meet her in the sweet by and by.

A Friend.

Paris, Tex., 1895.

REPAIRING MAIL BAGS.

A Great Industrial Establishment Located at the National Capital.

Special to the Press.

WASHINGTON, June 17, '95.

Every one knows that Uncle Sam is engaged in various phases of business in order to carry out his main purpose, which is the proper conduct of the government of over sixty millions of people. Perhaps the average citizen does not realize, even those who are more or less familiar with Washington, that at the nation's capital there is a large establishment controlled entirely by Uncle Sam, which is devoted to purely industrial purposes. It is the shop where the mail bags used in the postal service are repaired. Some idea of the magnitude of this business can be gathered from the fact that the building occupied for this purpose is a large five story structure, where over 230 persons are employed.

The annual expenditure is about one hundred thousand dollars, and while this may seem to be a large sum to be used simply in the repair of mail bags, yet it is said by the post office department officials, that if this shop was not in existence, that the government would spend two or three times as much as it does at present in the purchase of mail bags. As every one knows these bags are made of canvas or jute, and are subjected to considerable hard usage. Even an expert baggage smasher does not handle the luggage of the traveling public with any more recklessness than the mail bags are treated in their long journeys.

Time is a prime requisite in the dispatch of the mails, and the bags are loaded into wagons, and from thence into the cars, or the process is reversed, and the main consideration is the saving of time. When the bags become worn or torn or damaged in any way, they are gathered together and forwarded to Washington. There is a small repair shop in Chicago which, however, only repairs minor injuries. At the shop in this city, some 200,000 mail bags are received, overhauled, and sent to different parts of the country every thirty days. Some of the mail pouches are made of leather and experts are needed to make the necessary repairs. There is in addition a mail lock shop, where fifteen skilled mechanics are employed, and about thirty other men and boys.

The pay of those who repair the mail bags is not large, but the labor is unskilled, as it consists mainly in sewing and patching the canvas sacks. It is a singular thing, but occasionally mail matter is found in the sacks which are sent to the repair shops. This is mostly newspapers and circulars, but once in a while a letter is found. For this reason the bags are carefully inspected, before they are placed in the hands of the work people.

Some time ago a patent attorney in this city forwarded a book of patent coupons to a client to be used in securing copies of patents. His client received the letter, but it did not contain the coupons. A long time afterwards a post office inspector called on the attorney and asked him if he had not sent a book of coupons through the mails which had not reached its destination. He said that he had and the inspector produced the lost coupons, which it seems had been found in a mail sack, which had been forwarded to the repair shop, and been there found.

It was evident that the letter had been rifled by some one who supposed that the coupons had an available money value. A list is kept of the purchasers of the coupons and in this manner the post office inspector was able to trace the owner of the lost book.

A year or so ago one of the curious features of the mail bag repair shops was a woman employed as one of the repairers and who had been totally blind for years. Her special duty was to examine the mail bags which had defective cords, and either to repair them or to supply new ones. She did this work with the most wonderful quickness, and was regarded as one of the most efficient workers in the shop.

School Trustees.

The election for school trustees is now over, and if you did not elect a good man for the place it is your own fault. If you failed to go to the polls and vote, don't grumble at the man elected or the school you have next winter.

If you have a poor teacher, and as a result a poor school, remember you are to blame, you did not elect the right man trustee. The time of shifting the school trusteeship from one illiterate, worthless fellow to another is fast going by. Let us hope that good men have been elected to this important office, all over the State—men who believe in progress, men that believe in pushing the cause of education to the front, men who believe in having the best of everything, that the best is the cheapest, and that will not make an exception to the rule when they are called on to employ a teacher to instruct our children; men that will take a personal interest and a personal pride in doing all in their power to assist the teacher in making the school a success.

It has been said, "as is the teacher so is the school." Allow me to suggest, as is the trustee so will be the teacher, in a great measure. A trustee should be liberal minded, of fair literary ability, capable of judging the superior from the inferior, one that has pride enough to learn his duty, and the backbone to do it; one that can say "No" twice or three times to "Yes" once. He should never be willing to employ a second or third grade teacher, if it is possible to get a first grade; he should especially study the importance of hiring first-class teachers. It is essential both to your present and future schools.

Let us see why this is the case. Because if you employ a second or third class teacher, when you could just as easily have gotten a first class, you virtually say to your second or third class teacher, that he need not do more to try to better his qualifications, for he already stands ahead of his first class fellow teacher. Mean while, where is the first class man or woman that you failed to employ. They have been forced by your acts to seek employment in other States, where qualification and merit are the first considerations when they want to employ a teacher. Result: our schools many of them, are kept, not taught, by second and third class teachers from year to year, whose only interest in the school is the "almighty dollar," they get out of it.

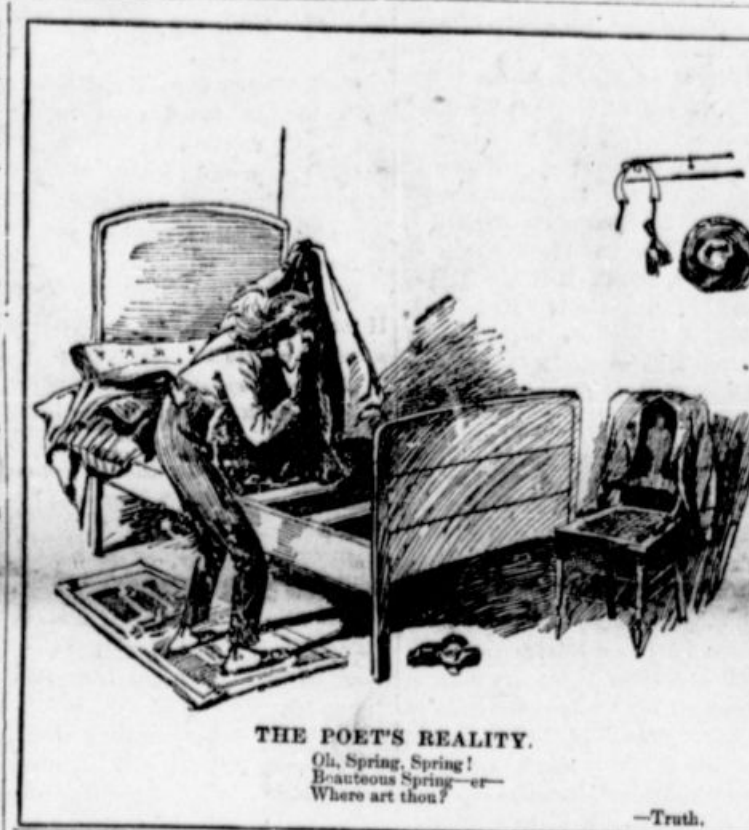

Trustees should see that the teacher they hire is not only qualified, from a literary standpoint, but that he or she is of good moral character, God loving, God fearing and God honoring. They should not hire a second class teacher because he or she is kin to them or because they are their townsman or neighbor, or neighbor's boy or girl. Hire the man or woman that is able to do you the best work, whether they are your personal favorites or not, for you can not reasonably expect a second or third class teacher to do you first class work. Then why not hire the live, wide awake teacher as it is not only your interest but your duty to do so.

When trustees shall have adopted these rules then, and not till then may we expect to be found in the foremost ranks pushing forward the grand cause of education.

One word to the low grade teacher: don't be content with a second or a third class certificate go to school and show yourself worthy, by your competency, of the calling you have espoused.

You haven't got the money? Then borrow it, you surely have a friend that will help you. No worthy young man or woman but what can get help. Come to the front and then ask for a school, and you shall surely have it.

Back Number.

THE POET'S REALITY.
 Oh, Spring, Spring!
 Beauteous Spring—
 Where art thou?
 —Truth.

A. O. U. W. Resolutions.

Keystone Lodge No. 52:

WHEREAS: It has pleased our Supreme Master and Ruler of the Universe in His infinite wisdom to remove from our midst our beloved Bro. Wm. Frizzell, of Marion, Ky.

WHEREAS: Bro. Frizzell as a true Workman has left with us the legacy of brotherly love and workmanship yet fresh in the memory of those near him.

WHEREAS: The bereaved family has lost a loving and devoted father and husband, the A. O. U. W. a true and valued member, the town of Marion an esteemed citizen, we must look to God for guidance and support in this hour of sorrow; and He that doeth all things well will be with us and give us amply of the balm of solace and fortitude in Christ our

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the bereaved family, be spread on the minutes and be published in the Press and Henderson Journal.

Yours fraternally in C. H. & P., Harry Henry,
 J. B. Hill,
 T. M. Jenkins, Jr.,
 Committee.

Keystone Lodge, No. 52, Henderson, Ky., to Marion Lodge No. 60, Marion, Ky.

Resolved, That Keystone Lodge No. 52, A. O. U. W. tender to Marion Lodge No. 60, Marion, Ky., our sincere thanks for the aid and comfort and solace of brotherly love extended to our late Bro. Wm. Frizzell in the hour of his trouble and sickness, and although everything looked dark and dreary, the noble brethren of No. 60 drove away the black clouds of sorrow and distress and administered comfort and hope to the now deceased brother and his family.

God bless his wife and children and you, our beloved brethren of Marion, hoping that sorrow and distress may never darken your lodge, and everlasting peace, happiness and joy reign supreme.

We remain fraternally in C. H. & P.,
 Harry Henry,
 J. B. Hill,
 T. M. Jenkins, Jr.,
 Committee.

It May Do As Much For You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so called kidney cures but without good result. About a year ago he began use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure of all kidney and Liver Troubles and gives almost instant relief. Oae trial will prove our statement. Price only 50ct. for large bottle. At H. K. Woods Drug Store.

THE BEST is what the People buy the most. That's Why Hood's Sarsaparilla has the largest sale OF ALL MEDICINES.

ARE YOU BANKRUPT in health, constitution undermined by extravagance in eating, by disregarding the laws of nature, or physical capital all gone, if so, NEVER DESPAIR Tutt's Liver Pills will cure you. For sick headache, dyspepsia, sour stomach, malaria, torpid liver, constipation, biliousness and all kindred diseases. Tutt's Liver Pills an absolute cure.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Sal Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per ox. For sale by H. K. Woods.

CLOSING OUT!

During the next 30 days we propose to Close out our entire stock of

Glassware, Tinware
 and Queensware

AT COST!

We have a full stock of tinware and glassware and beautiful line of decorated queensware of all kinds. During the summer months we will give all our attention to the Bakery and Confectionary business, and will positively close these other lines of goods out at once, so you had better come early.

Our New Bakery Shop

Will be open June 20 and can furnish you bread, cakes, pies and delicacies of all kinds.

In connection we have opened an

ICE CREAM PARLOR

And have cream on hand at all times. Should you want cream for Sunday or any occasion leave your order in time and we will have it for you. We still have a small stock of

Hardware, Cradle Blades, Window Sash,

RAKES, HOES, LOCKS, ETC.,

Which will go for what they will bring. We have 13 gross of Masons Fruit Jars left which we will sell cheaper than any one. Call and get our prices.

We have one-half barrel of mince meat which we will sell at 50c at the weather.

Having quit the picture business we have for sale several large picture frames for $1.00 and $1.25, will cost you anywhere from $2.50 to $3.00.

Come to see us at the J. N. Woods old stand. Satisfaction guaranteed in every department.

YOURS TRULY,

THOMAS BROS.

J. H. ORME,

MAIN STREET

DRUGGIST

MARION
 KY.

Customers will find our stock complete in
 BOOKS, BRUSHES, SPONGES,
 STATIONERY, FINE SOAPS, OILS,
 ETC., ETC., LEAD

Prescriptions from Pure Drugs, Prices Reasonable. Filled at all hours, Day or Night, Accurately. We also handle Pure Brandy, Liqueurs and Wines; price from $2 to $5 per gallon.

BEN. F. McMILAN,

THE BAKER,

Fresh Bread and Rolls Every Day.

Special Inducements For Barbecues.

The Press.

ISSUED WEEKLY.

R. C. WALKER, Publisher.

ONE YEAR ONE DOLLAR

We are authorized to announce

DAVID ADAMS

a candidate to represent Crittenden and Livingston counties in the next General Assembly of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce

G. N. McGREW

as a candidate to represent Crittenden and Livingston counties in the next General Assembly of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce

T. J. NICKELL

as a candidate for Representative from the legislative district of Livingston and Crittenden, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

It seems to us there is just a little bit of hiding behind the brush in the use of the term "sound" money for "gold standard;" call a spade a spade boys. Be fair.

The Cadiz Telephone thinks the Press and some other papers are inconsistent in advocating "free silver" now, "inasmuch as less than three years ago they were advocating a sound money platform." The Press stands where it stood three years ago "We hold to the use of both gold and silver as the STANDARD money of the country." This is our doctrine; this is the party's doctrine. You do not find it in Mr. Carlisle's late speeches; you don't find it in Senator Lindsey's speeches; you don't find it in Mr. Watterson's editorials. They are now boldly declaring for gold, and gold alone as a STANDARD. Mr. Carlisle frankly says he has changed; the Courier-Journal says it has changed; now as the Telephone is flocking with these birds, it should be fair enough to say that it had changed also. There has been some inconsistency, brother, but don't shake your gory locks at us; look to your own footprints. Now behold the rest of these things, first and last, are they not written in the book of Chronicles of the Democracy of Crittenden county, and the book of the Press, as it is not open to the world, and in June, on the 15th day thereof, when the hosts of Democracy of the county called Tripp assembled and elected delegates to go up to Louisville, and said unto them we favor the coinage at 16 to 1.

Our friends the Grand Rivers Herald and Livingston Banner have our sympathy. The Press has been in many a fight and has stood on the ragged edge of despair more than once, and to some extent it knows how to sympathize with its esteemed contemporaries; but really, boys, we were never in quite as bad a pickle as you are now. The Republicans have spanked us often, but never, never, has the Democracy of our own county had occasion to pull us over its mighty knee, and by that peculiar manipulation of its honest hand, read us of some little affairs that occurred frequently around the old homestead many years ago. Boys, you've been to the swimming hole on Sunday; you have been hanging around the other fellow's watermelon patch; you have been trying to hook apples out of Mr. Republican's orchard, and now you see the good Democratic father families of Livingston county is still doing business at the old stand and in the old way. While we sympathize with you youngsters, we uncover our head to the old gentleman, and in the words of old Rip—"May you live long and prosper."

Ollie James, the brilliant young lawyer of Marion, was in the city a day or two this week on legal business. He is one of the most enthusiastic advocates of the Jeffersonian system of finance to be found in Kentucky. A young man of unusual ability and extensive knowledge on the subject, he is able to express his views fluently and eloquently on the stump. He lets no Shermanite invade Crittenden county with replying to him and correcting his misrepresentations, and it is largely through his efficient service for Democracy that there are no goldbug Democrats in Crittenden county. He is one of the coming men of the State, and at 25 gives greater promise than any young man of his age in Kentucky.—Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

We Would Like to See

Waterworks at Marion. Salem and Marion tied together with a turn-pike. Some manufacturing establishments of some kind in Marion. That dollar you owe on subscription. A little more life in the Marion merchants. Crittenden Springs a-borning. Every man who does not take the Press call and leave his name, garnished with a dollar, at this office.

CONVENTION OUTLOOK.

Complete Returns From the State Show Hardin to Have 289 Votes, Clay 209.

Louisville, June 15.—The following counties send to the State convention Hardin delegations:

Adair 6, Allen 6, Anderson 6, Ballard 5, Barren 10, Boyle 6, Bracken 7, Breckinridge 7, Bullitt 2, Butler 4, Caldwell 5, Callaway 8, Christian 12, Clark 10, Clinton 1, Crittenden 6, Davies 11, Owensboro district 6, Floyd 6, Franklin 11, Grayson 6, Hancock 4, Hardin 1, Henry 9, Harrison 11, Henderson 11, Hickman 6, Johnson 4, Second district of Kenton 9, Larue 4, Lawrence 9, Livingston 5, Logan 11, Magoffin 3, Marion 7, Martin 1, McLean 4, Meade 6, Mercer 8, Metcalfe 2, Monroe 3, Russell 2, Simpson 6, Spencer 4, Taylor 2, Trigg 5, Bowling Green district of Warren county 5.—Total for Hardin 289.

For Clay: Bath 7, Bourbon 11, Bullitt 2, this counties vote was evenly divided between Hardin and Clay; Elliott 5, Jackson 1, county district of Jefferson 16, first Louisville district 9, third 13, fourth 10, fifth 10, sixth 7, seventh 26, Jessamine 5, Lewis 5, Lincoln 7, Lyon 4, Nicholas 7, Oldham 4, Pendleton 7, Pike 8, Rowan 3, Scott 10, Todd 8, Union 11, county district of Warren 9.—Total for Clay 209.

For Buckner: Perry 2, Rockcastle 3. Total 5.

For Alford: Russell 1, the county vote is divided between Hardin and Alford, Letcher 1. Total 2.

The uninstructed counties: Bell 3, Boone 10, Boyd 8, Breathitt 5, Carlisle 4, Carroll 8, Newport district of Campbell county 10, county district 12, Carter 5, Casey 5, Clay 2, Cumberland 3, Edmonson 2, Estill 3, Lexington district of Fayette county 12, county district 7, Fleming 9, Fulton 6, Gallatin 4, Garrard 6, Grant 8, Graves 13, Green 3, Greenup 6, Hardin 10, Hart of Hopkins 10, Second district of Louisville 14, Knott 3, Knox 3, Laurel 4, Letcher 3, Leslie 1, Madison 13, Marshall 5, Mason 13, McCracken 9, Menafee 2, Montgomery 8, Morgan 6, Muhlenburg 7, Nelson 9, Ohio 8, Owen 13, Owsley 1, Powell 3, Pulaski 9, Robertson 2, Shelby 11, Trimble 6, Washington 6, Wayne 5, Webster 6, Whitley 3, Wolf 3. Total 433.

At 10:45 A.M. the delegates assembled in the hall of the Louisville Hotel, and the indications certainly are that Hardin will get enough of the uninstructed votes to nominate him on the first ballot. There is some talk of dark horses, and Henry Burnett, of Paducah, is being groomed and boomed as a dark horse, but the impression is that the fight will be finished between Hardin and Clay, and Hardin will be the winner.

And There Stood Old Livingston.

Gravel Switch, June 17.—The convention of Livingston county in instructed delegates as follows: Governor Hardin; Lieutenant Governor, Taylor; Auditor, Norman; Secretary of State, Hale; Attorney General, Hendrick; Treasurer, Gardner; Superintendent of Public Instruction, Taylor; Commissioner of Agriculture, Nall; Register of Land Office, Glenn. The following resolution was adopted: "Resolved, That the delegates from this convention to the State convention be instructed to cast the votes of Livingston county for a resolution favoring the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the time-honored ratio of 16 to 1.

The Smithland precinct and Pan Handle precinct refused to vote on the resolution, and it was carried by a vote of 6 to 0. Had they voted the vote would have stood 6 for and 4 against the resolution.

To Whom It May Concern.

I understand the report is being circulated that on my recent visit to Tolu, on our quarterly meeting occasion, I was not even invited to stay all night with any one, but was forced to go to the hotel and put up. I was of course very much surprised when a friend called my attention to the report. As to who started the report, I am not anxious to know, and as to why any one should be so malicious, either toward me or the good people about Tolu I can not imagine, for there certainly is not a word of truth in it. On every visit to Tolu I have had numbers of invitations, to both eat and lodge, from people of other churches and outsiders as well as members of my own church, and have always received the most cordial hospitality from the good people of Tolu and community. And from that reason I can but think the report was circulated through pure malice to some one.

J. D. Fraser.
Marion, June 19, 1899.

OUR COUNTRY CORRESPONDENTS

TOLU.

It is a girl at Geo. Williams, Ben Funkhouser, a little son of J. C. Funkhouser was hurt by a mule last week; he lay unconscious for 3 or 4 days, but is somewhat improved now.

G. N. McGrew paid our town a call; he has found some friends among the Toltites.

Our section of the country has been blessed with several good rains, and given the farmers a good chance for tobacco crops.

Dr. J. O. Dixon returned from Henderson Wednesday; he received a special call to that place.

The Peoples store is at work at the gallery, which will add to the looks of the room.

The Mercantile Co. is also making some improvements; a portico at the front door.

Miss Bertie Miller, of Richmond, Ill., is the guest of Miss Cora Croft.

Miss Alice Browning, of Marion, spring Friday and Saturday in our town, on her way home from Rosi Claire, Ill.

Everybody is busy cutting wheat, and the crop is fine in this neighborhood.

The Sunday school convention will go to Hurricane instead of Tolu.

R. A. Moore has made quite an addition to his property, in the way of some handsome stone steps, from the street to the house.

Mrs. Martha Stewart, of Marion, is visiting friends at Tolu.

Some of our farmers will lay buy some corn this week, and the bottom corn is as fine as we have ever had, for the time of year.

Dick Williams says the cutworms cut all of three acres of corn for him but 37 stalks; who can beat it?

Miss Emma Worley of Pennsylvania, is visiting relatives in this community.

James Murray, our village blacksmith, is gone again, and his wife knows not of his whereabouts.

Mrs. Norfolk Moore will go to Morganfield Friday to attend the annual meeting of the woman's missionary society of the Louisville conference.

Bud Sullenger shipped a lot of fine hogs Saturday.

Mr. E. C. Stiles returned home from Marion, where she has been visiting relatives.

Our rustic wood workmen are still at the river.

Mr. Bill Martin is very low with congestion of the stomach.

John Weldon and wife went to Princeton last week on a visit.

Foster Threlkeld went to Evansville Saturday.

Miss Ettie Stone, the little blind girl, is at home from Louisville.

Our roller mill is not ready for work and will not be soon, as the machinery is not all made yet.

BAYOU.

Miss May Abbott, of Golconda has been visiting Miss Jessie Flanary. She returned home Saturday.

Miss Georgie McGrew is at home from Marion.

Miss Pearl Markey is at home from Bethel College.

Leslie Ray and Will Clupper have a new buggy.

Teachers are like grasshoppers in Texas, the country is full of them.

Ten applications have been made for our school, and ten able teachers would be hard to find.

Charles L. Nickell will be our teacher, Hurrah for our trustees!

Look out for hot debates; silver talk is all the go.

There is little election talk here, as our candidate will get all the votes without a doubt.

Mrs. Bucky is having a fine house built; Wright & Croford are performing the work.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Hamlin Cusby, June 10, a boy.

Mrs. A. H. Rice, of Lancaster Ky. spent several days with Mrs. G. N. McGrew.

SALEM.

Salem is proud of her people and past history, but the people do not seem to be proud enough of her to tell to the outside world what a conspicuous part she is playing in the history of the United States.

Our old Salem boy, Chas. Evans, has come back to spend a week or two with us. The people of this place are more than glad to see him, and shake his hands once more; they are glad to know that he had such a great success with his school at Marion. We hardly know where Prof. Evans will spend most of his vacation, here or at DeKoven.

Lewis Wolf and Everett Butler, of this place, and Hal Robinson, of Hampton, who have been attending school at Marion, returned home last week. The boys have a light complexion now, but when they get into the harvest field they will look somewhat like farmers. They are well pleased with their five months' work.

M. B. Harris, who has been attending school at Hopkinsville returned home last week; he looks like a soldier with his uniform on.

J. A. Alvis, who has been attending school at Hopkinsville, came home last week, as usual, with a college bag.

Miss Pearl Lattue, who has been attending school at the female college at Hopkinsville, returned home two weeks ago, escorted by her mother.

Salem is represented in nearly every college of this State; she has now and always had a high standard in educational affairs.

Oscar Pierce is spending most of the Sunday hours at the postmaster's house.

Miss Anna Coffield, of Hampton, spent Sunday at this place.

Brother Carter preaches here Sunday night and Monday.

Prayer meeting every Wednesday night. Sunday school at the regular time Sunday.

PINKNEYVILLE.

I have seen nothing in your paper about our town but it by no means dead.

Ours is not a boom town but from the first has advanced slowly. The want of capital has prevented a faster growth.

I have been up and down the Cumberland river and Pinkneyville is not only a more beautiful situation for a town than any other on the river, but the back country is also fine.

Before this there have been so few lots that could be bought, but now 40 or 50 acres have been thrown on the market. There is a chance for enterprising persons to settle here. This land lies on the Cumberland river and will make beautiful building lots; we have a warehouse owned by Oliver Wyllie, also one general store, a grist mill and a blacksmith shop, owned by our enterprising merchant, Mr. H. C. Dixon; a flour mill and tobacco stemmery would do well here.

It is a strange sight to see so much freight hauled right through our streets, to Salem, a distance of six miles, just for the want of a few more enterprising citizens. It would be a good place for a high school; we have a post office and a good school house.

By examining the place it is only ten miles to Nashville, and only thirty to Memphis. We can have a fine hotel here; in some towns the children are dying every year, but there has never been a death among ours.

We have no railroad, but the best that runs our river are "things of beauty and a joy forever."

In my next letter I will give you more information, and also record the news events.

Citizen.

CARRSVILLE.

The cut worms have left this vicinity and the farmers breathe more freely.

Crops are looking well since the rain last week.

Mr. Rushing and sons have moved their saw mill near here; they will have enough sawing to keep the mill here all summer.

Since the showers of rain all are wearing a pleasant smile.

Mr. Henry Harmon is very sick. The blind man, Mr. Morehead, and wife talk of locating here.

The applicants for certificates from this place came back joyfully; but when they heard how they came out they sighed.

"Of all sad words of tongue or pen, The saddest are these—it might have been."

We are truly sorry to hear of their misfortune, though we feel that they, being so determined, will make another effort; and may success be their reward.

Prof. Appleton and wife are in town; Mrs. Appleton and their little daughter Iva will start for Ohio today where they will remain for about six weeks. The Prof. will remain here, and work in the interest of Hampton Academy.

Miss Mary Leaser has applied for the primary department of our school. She left yesterday for Evansville, Ind. where she will remain some four or five weeks with her uncle.

M. C. Wright was in town today, looking after the school.

D. V. Worten leaves his drug store in care of Alfred Henderson, while he takes a trip into the country.

Dr. Allen Lowery is building a new yard fence.

While Rev. Crandall was engaged in fishing the other day a puff of air came and blew his hat into the river, where it immediately sank from sight. Of course the "good brother" is minus a hat.

Hurrah! Carverville has a brand new wharf boat. Wright Gwantney is the master.

Our popular Sheriff, Tom Evans, passed up on the Joe Fowler yesterday.

Business good and farmers cheerful.

Siding, ceiling, moulding, etc., for sale by Walker & Olive. Get our price on any bill you may want.

Dodd.

All kinds of dressed lumber, flooring, siding, ceiling, finishing lumber, mouldings of every description, turned columns; our prices will not admit of competition. When wanting any of the above don't fail to get our prices.

A. Dewey & Co.

A WORD TO FARMERS!

WE WANT TO Supply Your Wants IN OUR LINE.

We announce to the Farmers of Crittenden and adjoining counties that we are handling Farming Machinery this season, and will supply you with as good as the market affords AT THE Lowest Prices!

We handle the Mogul Wagon, one of the best made. We have the celebrated Champion Harvesting Machines, so long known, and greatly prized by farmers of the South and West.

Your attention is especially called to our own make of plows. Our double shovels, new ground plows and cultivators are extensively used and highly appreciated by many farmers—we are selling them very low and know that a fair trial will convince you of their many good qualities. We are also handling National Corn, Tobacco and Wheat Fertilizers, One of the best commercial fertilizers known.

It has been sold in this county for years, and is recommended by many of the best farmers. We keep on hands repairs for all the mowing machines sold in this section.

Knowing that we have good goods, and will give you value received for every dollar you spend with us, we earnestly solicit your trade. As to our reliability, we refer to our record for the many years we have done business in Marion. Come and see us.

J. W. ADAMS & SON.

Marion Planing Mills, MARION, KENTUCKY.

urnishes all Kinds of Building Lumber, such as:

FLOORING, SIDING, CEILING.

Cornice of all kinds, Brackets, Etc., MADE TO ORDER

Makes Doors and Window Frames, Does all kinds of Repairing in wood work.

Competes with anybody in prices, and excels all in quality of goods. Don't buy anything in our line until you see us. Mr. R. B. Dorr, our manager, has had 30 years experience in this work; he would be glad to have all of his old friends and customers to call.

R. N. DORR, Propt.

Times are hard, I must and will have money, will positively sell anything and everything in the Grocery and Hardware line at COST for the next 30 days.

Mason Fruit Jars, 80 cents per dozen. Sealing Wax Fruit Jars, 65 cents per dozen. Granulated Sugar 19 pounds for $1.00. Light C Sugar 20 pounds for $1.00. Cups and Saucers 15 cents per set. Glasses 15 cents per set. Water Buckets, 10 cents each.

I AM HANDLING THE Geo. Delker Buggy, The Best Buggy Made in the World

Disc Cultivators, The Best Made, Handled By Us Only

Buggy Harness, from $5.00 up. * Nails, wire and in fact everything else in the Hardware line positively at first cost for the next 30 days. We want your Wool, Ginsang and Feathers, will pay you spot cash for them.

M. SCHWAB.

The Press.

ISSUED WEEKLY.

R. C. WALKER, Publisher.

ONE YEAR ONE DOLLAR

We are authorized to announce

DAVID ADAMS

a candidate to represent Crittenden and Livingston counties in the next General Assembly of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce

G. N. McGREW

as a candidate to represent Crittenden and Livingston counties in the next General Assembly of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce

T. J. NICKELL

as a candidate for Representative from the legislative district of Livingston and Crittenden, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

It seems to us there is just a little bit of hiding behind the brush in the use of the term "sound" money for "gold standard;" call a spade a spade boys. Be fair.

The Cadiz Telephone thinks the Press and some other papers are inconsistent in advocating free silver now, "inasmuch as less than three years ago they were advocating a sound money platform." The Press stands where it stood three years ago. "We hold to the use of both gold and silver as the STANDARD money of the country." This is our doctrine; this is the party's doctrine. You do not find it in the Carlele's late speeches; you do not find it in Senator Lindsey's speeches; you do not find it in Mr. Watterson's editorials. They are now boldly declaring for gold, and GOLD ALONE as a STANDARD. Mr. Carlele frankly says he has changed; the Courier-Journal says it has changed; now as the Telephone is flocking with these birds, it should be fair enough to say that it had changed also. There has been some inconsistency, brother, but don't shake your gory locks at us; look to your own footprints. Now behold the rest of these things, first and last, are they not written in the book of Chronicles of the Democracy of Trigg county, and the book thereof, was it not open in the month called June, on the 15th day thereof, when the hosts of Democracy of the county called Trigg assembled and appointed delegates to go up to Louisville, and said unto them we favor free coinage at 16 to 1.

Our friends the Grand Rivers Herald and Livingston Banner have our sympathy. The Press has been in many a fight and has stood on the edge of despair more than once, and to some extent it knows how to sympathize with its esteemed contemporaries; but really, boys, we were never in quite as bad a pickle as you are now. The Republicans have spanked us often, but never, never, has the Democracy of our own county had occasion to pull us over its mighty knee, and by that peculiar manipulation of its honest hand, remind us of some little affairs that occurred frequently around the old homestead many years ago. Boys, you've been to the swimming hole on Sunday; you have been hanging around the other fellow's watermelon patch; you have been trying to hook apples out of Mr. Republican's orchard, and now you see the good old Democratic party families of Livingston county is still doing business at the old stand and in the old way. While we sympathize with you youngsters, we uncover our head to the old gentleman, and in the words of old Rip—

"May you live long and prosper."

Ollie James, the brilliant young lawyer of Marion, was in the city a day or two this week on legal business. He is one of the most enthusiastic advocates of the Jeffersonian system of finance to be found in Kentucky. A young man of unusual ability and extensive knowledge on the subject, he is able to express his views fluently and eloquently on the stump. He lets no Shermanite invade Crittenden county with impunity, and correcting his misrepresentations, and it is largely through his efficient service for Democracy that there are no goldbug Democrats in Crittenden county. He is one of the coming men of the State, and at 25 gives greater promise than any young man of his age in Kentucky.—Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

We Would Like to See

Waterworks at Marion. Salem and Marion tied together with a turpentine.

Some manufacturing establishments of some kind in Marion. That dollar you owe on subscription.

A little more life in the Marion merchants.

Crittenden Springs a-blooming.

Every man who does not take the name and leave his name.

CONVENTION OUTLOOK.

Complete Returns From the State Show Hardin to Have 289 Votes, Clay 209.

Louisville, June 15.—The following counties send to the State convention Hardin delegations:

Adair 6, Allen 6, Anderson 6, Ballard 5, Barren 10, Boyle 6, Bracken 7, Breckenridge 7, Bullitt 2, Butler 4, Caldwell 5, Calloway 8, Christian 12, Clark 10, Clinton 1, Crittenden 6, Daviess 11, Owensboro district 6, Floyd 6, Franklin 11, Grayson 6, Hancock 4, Hardin 1, Henry 9, Harrison 11, Henderson 11, Hickman 6, Johnson 4, Second district of Kenton 9, Larue 4, Lawrence 9, Livingston 5, Logan 11, Magoffin 3, Marion 7, Martin 1, McLean 4, Meade 6, Mercer 8, Metcalfe 2, Monroe 3, Russell 2, Simpson 6, Spencer 4, Taylor 2, Trigg 5, Bowling Green district of Warren county 5.—Total for Hardin 289.

For Clay: Bath 7, Bourbon 11, Bullitt 2, this county vote was evenly divided between Hardin and Clay; Elliott 5, Jackson 1, county district of Jefferson 16, first Louisville district 9, third 13, fourth 10, fifth 10, sixth 7, seventh 26, Jessamine 5, Lewis 3, Lincoln 7, Lyon 4, Nicholas 7, Oldham 4, Pendleton 7, Pike 8, Bowman 3, Scott 10, Todd 8, Union 11, county district of Warren 9.—Total for Clay 209.

For Buchanan: Perry 2, Rockcastle 3. Total 5.

For Alford: Russell 1, the county vote is divided between Hardin and Alford, Letcher 1. Total 2.

The unincorporated counties: Bell 3, Boone 10, Boyd 8, Breathitt 5, Carlisle 4, Carroll 8, Newport district of Campbell county 10, county district 12, Carter 5, Casey 5, Clay 2, Cumberland 3, Edmonson 2, Estill 3, Lexington district of Fayette county 12, county district 7, Fleming 9, Fulton 6, Gallatin 4, Garrard 6, Grant 8, Graves 13, Green 3, Greenup 6, Hardin 10, Hart of Hopkins 10, Second district of Louisville 14, Knott 3, Knox 3, Laurel 4, Letcher 3, Leslie 1, Madison 13, Marshall 5, Mason 13, McCracken 9, Menafee 2, Montgomery 8, Morgan 6, Muhlenburg 7, Nelson 9, Ohio 8, Owen 13, Owsley 1, Powell 3, Pulaski 9, Robertson 2, Shelby 11, Trimble 6, Washington 6, Wayne 5, Webster 6, Whitley 3, Wolf 3, Woodford 4.

It takes 440 votes to nominate and the indications certainly are that Hardin will get enough of the unincorporated votes to nominate him on the first ballot. There is some talk of dark horses, and Henry Burnett, of Paducah, is being groomed and boomed as a dark horse, but the impression is that the fight will be finished between Hardin and Clay, and Hardin will be the winner.

On the silver question 328 votes are instructed and announced together for free coinage, about 236 are announced and instructed for "sound" money, and among these are a number of counties that endorse the Chicago platform of 1892. The others are unincorporated and their position is not known, but a great many of them are for a compromise that may insure harmony. All in all the friends of silver are in the lead, and it they stand firmly together they will control the convention.

And There Stood Old Livingston.

Gravel Switch, June 17.—The convention of Livingston county instructed delegates as follows: Governor or Hardin; Lieutenant Governor, Tyler; Auditor, Norman; Secretary of State, Hale; Attorney General, Hendrick; Treasurer, Gardner; Superintendent of Public Instruction, Taylor; Commissioner of Agriculture, Nall; Register of Land Office, Glenn. The following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That the delegates from this convention to the State convention be instructed to cast the votes of Livingston county for a resolution favoring the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the time-honored ratio of 16 to 1.

The Smithland precinct and Pan Handle precinct refused to vote on the resolution, and it was carried by a vote of 6 to 0. Had they voted the vote would have stood 6 for and 4 against the resolution.

To Whom It May Concern.

I understand the report is being circulated that on my recent visit to Tolu, on our quarterly meeting occasion, I was not even invited to stay all night with any one, but was forced to go to the hotel and put up. I was of course very much surprised when a friend called my attention to the report. As to who started the report, I am not anxious to know, and as to why any one should be so malicious, either toward me or the good people about Tolu I can not imagine, for there certainly is not a word of truth in it. On every visit to Tolu I have had numbers of invitations, to both east and lodge, from people of other churches and outside, as well as members of my own church, and have ALWAYS received the most cordial hospitality from the good people of Tolu and community. And from that reason I can but think the report was circulated through pure malice to ruin one.

J. D. Fraser.

OUR COUNTRY CORRESPONDENTS

TOLU.

Its a girl at Geo. Williams, Ben Funkhouser, a little son of J. C. Funkhouser was hurt by a mule last week; he lay unconscious for 3 or 4 days, but is somewhat improved now.

G. N. McGrew paid our town a call; he has found some friends among the Tolutes.

Our section of the country has been blessed with several good rains, and given the farmers a good chance for tobacco crops.

Dr. J. O. Dixon returned from Henderson Wednesday; he received a special call to that place.

The Peoples store is at work at the gallery, which will add to the looks of the room.

The Mercantile Co. is also making some improvements; a portico at the front door.

Miss Bertie Miller, of Richmond, Ill., is the guest of Miss Cora Croft.

Miss Alice Browning, of Marion, spring Friday and Saturday in our town, on her way home from Rosi Claire, Ill.

Everybody is busy cutting wheat, and the crop is fine in this neighborhood.

The Sunday school convention will go to Hurricane instead of Tolu.

R. A. Moore has made quite an addition to his property, in the way of some handsome stone steps, from the street to the house.

Mrs. Martha Stewart, of Marion, is visiting friends at Tolu.

Some of our farmers will lay by some corn this week, and the bottom corn is as fine as we have ever had, for the time of year.

Dick Williams says the cutworms cut all of three acres of corn for him but 37 stalks; who can beat it?

Miss Emma Worley of Pennsylvania, is visiting relatives in this community.

James Murray, our village blacksmith, is gone again, and his wife knows not of his whereabouts.

Mrs. Norfolk Moore will go to Morgantown Friday to attend the annual meeting of the woman's missionary society of the Louisville conference.

Bad Sullenger shipped a lot of fine hogs Saturday.

Mrs. S. F. Crider returned home from Marion, where she has been visiting relatives.

Our rustic wood workmen are still at the river.

Mr. Bill Martin is very low with congestion of the stomach.

John Weldon and wife went to Princeton last week on a visit.

Foster Turekeld went to Evansville Saturday.

Miss Etie Stone, the little blind girl, is at home from Louisville.

Our roller mill is not ready for work and will not be soon, as the machinery is not all made yet.

BAVON.

Miss May Abbott, of Golconda has been visiting Miss Jessie Flannery. She returned home Saturday.

Miss Georgie McGrew is at home from Marion.

Miss Pearl Markey is at home from Bethel College.

Leslie Ray and Will Cluppr have a new buggy.

Teachers are like grasshoppers in Texas, the country is full of them.

Ten applications have been made for our school, and ten able teachers would be hard to find.

Charles L. Nickell will be our teacher, Hurrah for our trustees.

Look out for hot debates; silver talk is all the go.

There is little election talk here, as our candidate will get all the votes without a doubt.

Mrs. Boky is having a fine house built; Wright & Croford are performing the work.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Hamin Cusby, June 19, a boy.

Mrs. A. H. Rice, of Lancaster Ky spent several days with Mrs. G. N. McGrew. X Y Z.

SALEM.

Salem is proud of her people and past history, but the people do not seem to be proud enough of her to tell to the outside world what a conspicuous part she is playing in the history of the United States.

Our old Salem boy, Chas. Evans, has come back to spend a week or two with us. The people of this place are more than glad to see him, and shake his hands once more; they are glad to know that he had such a great success with his school at Marion. We hardly know where Prof. Evans will spend most of his vacation, here or at Dekoven.

Lewis Wolf and Everett Butler, of this place, and Hal Robinson, of Hampton, who have been attending school at Marion, returned home last week. The boys have a light complexion now, but when they get into the harvest field they will look somewhat like farmers. They are well pleased with their five month's work.

ding school at Hopkinsville returned home last week; he looks like a soldier with his uniform on.

J. A. Alvis, who has been attending school at Russellville, came home last week, he says that Bethel college leads them all.

Miss Pearl Lakin, who has been attending school at the female college at Hopkinsville, returned home two weeks ago, escorted by her mother.

Salem is represented in nearly every college of this State; she has now and always had a high standard in educational affairs.

Oscar Pierce is spending most of the Sunday hours at the postmaster's house.

Miss Anna Coffield, of Hampton, spent Sunday at this place.

Brother Carter preaches here Sunday night and Monday.

Prayer meeting every Wednesday night. Sunday school at the regular time Sunday. Junior.

PINKNEYVILLE.

I have seen nothing in your paper about our town but it by no means dead.

Ours is not a boom town but from the first has advanced slowly. The want of capital has prevented a faster growth. I have been up and down the Cumberland river and Pinkneyville is not only a more beautiful situation for a town than any other on the river, but the back country is also fine.

Before this there have been so few lots that could be bought, but now 40 or 50 acres have been thrown on the market. There is a chance for enterprising persons to settle here. This land lies on the Cumberland river and will make beautiful building lots; we have a warehouse owned by Oliver Wylie, also one general store, a grist mill and a blacksmith shop, owned by our enterprising merchant, Mr. H. C. Dixon; a flour mill and tobacco stemmy would do well here.

It is a strange sight to see so much freight hauled right through our streets, just for the want of a few more enterprising citizens. It would be a good place for a high school; we have a post office and a good school house.

By crossing the river it is only ten miles to Smithland, our county seat.

We can boast a fine lot of children here; in some towns the children are dying every year, but there has never been a death among ours.

We have no railroad, but the boat that runs our river are "things of beauty and a joy forever."

In my next letter I will give you more information, and also record the news events.

Citizen.

CARRSVILLE.

The cut worms have left this vicinity and the farmers breathe more freely.

Crops are looking well since the rain last week.

Mr. Rushing and sons have moved their saw mill near here; they will have enough sawing to keep the mill here all summer.

Since the showers of rain all are wearing a pleasant smile.

Mr. Henry Harmon is very sick.

The blind man, Mr. Morehead, and wife talk of locating here.

The applicants for certificates from this place came back joyfully; but when they heard how they came out they sighed.

"Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest are those that might have been."

We are truly sorry to hear of their misfortune, though we feel that they, being so determined, will make another effort; and may success be their reward.

Prof. Appleton and wife are in town; Mrs. Appleton and their little daughter Iva will start for Ohio today. The Prof. will remain here, and work in the interest of Hampton Academy.

Miss Mary Lasher has applied for the primary department of our school. She left yesterday for Evansville, Ind where she will remain some four or five weeks with her uncle.

M. C. Wright was in town today, looking after the school.

D. V. Worten leaves his drug store in care of Alfred Henderson, while he takes a trip into the country.

Dr. Allen Lowery is building a new yard fence.

While Rev. Crandell was engaged in fishing the other day a puff of air came and blew his hat into the river, where it immediately sank from sight. Of course the "good brother is minus a hat."

Hurrah! Carrsville has a brand new wharf boat. Wright Gwantney is the master.

Our popular Sheriff, Tom Evans, passed up on the Joe Fowler yesterday.

Business good and farmers cheerful. Dodd.

Siding, ceiling, moulding, etc., for sale by Walker & Olive. Get out your prices.

FREDONIA.

Mrs. Gus Bentley and Miss Isabel Howerton who have been visiting in Hopkinsville, Russellville and Bowling Green for several weeks, returned home last Thursday.

A large crowd attended the lawn social given by E. W. Baker last week and had an enjoyable time.

The shower last Saturday gave the farmers a chance to plant tobacco.

Miss Georgie Landes of Muhlenburg is visiting her sister, Mrs. Sam Howerton.

Mr. and Mrs. Alek Kirk, of Leavenworth, Kansas, are here on a several weeks visit.

Alphonso Greer was written for a week or two ago to come and see his mother, Mrs. T. J. Greer, who was very feeble, he has waited on her a great deal; she is 85 years old and is very feeble.

After the old crop of wheat was out of the farmers hands the price of flour more than doubled, and now the speculators will make it appear that the new crop is worth but little; thus the farmers and mechanics are at the mercy of monopolists.

Miss Musa McDonald, who has been teaching in Nashville for ten months, and her sister Miss Carrie, who has been visiting in Bell Buckle for several months, returned home Saturday.

Mrs. A. Dewey, of Marion, was visiting in town last week, and was very sick for a few days.

The corn crop is looking well, but most of it will be late.

More than one hundred people went to see the little babe that was left on J. W. Hughes' porch.

Born to the wife of J. T. Morgan, the 13th, a fine boy.

W. C. Rice and wife and Mrs. Mollie Dulaney of New Bethel, Fred Guess and sister, James and Lawrence Wilson, T. H. Glenn and family, J. F. Hughes and daughter Lucy, Mrs. C. A. Wilson and daughter Charline, of Crider, Quincy Long of Paducah, Miss Lucy Walker, Spencer Dorr and sister of Marion attended Children's Day exercises at the C. P. church here Sunday.

Union of Fine Style and Low Price. Our shoes are the latest style and nice. And best of all are lowest in price. With corn you will never be annoyed. If you buy shoes of Bugg & Loyd.

In dress goods we are now complete, for style and price we can't be beat. Trouble and waste of cash you'll avoid if you buy dress goods of Bugg & Loyd.

And when it comes to gente furnishings and supplies.

Our prices will make you open your eyes. And think of the happy days you would have enjoyed.

Had you bought your furnishings of Bugg & Loyd.

Come and see our stock, every one who can.

We have everything to wear for girl, boy, woman, man.

And high prices have been effectually destroyed.

By your very best friends Bugg & Loyd.

All kinds of dressed lumber, flooring, siding, ceiling, finishing lumber, mouldings of every description, turned columns; our prices will not admit of competition. When wanting any of the above don't fail to get our prices.

A Dewey & Co.

A WORD TO FARMERS!

WE WANT TO Supply Your Wants IN OUR LINE.

We announce to the Farmers of Crittenden and adjoining counties that we are handling Farming Machinery this season, and will supply you with as good as the market affords AT THE Lowest Prices!

We handle the Mogul Wagon, one of the best made. We have the celebrated Champion Harvesting Machines, so long known, so well tried and greatly prized by farmers of the South and West. Your attention is especially called to our own make of plows. Our double shovels, new ground plows and cultivators are extensively used and highly appreciated by many farmers—we are selling them very low and know that a fair trial will convince you of their many good qualities. We are also handling National Corn, Tobacco and Wheat Fertilizers, one of the best commercial fertilizers known. It has been sold in this county for years, and is recommended by many of the best farmers.

We keep on hands repairs for all the mowing machines sold in this section. Knowing that we have good goods, and will give you value received for every dollar you spend with us, we earnestly solicit your trade. As to our reliability, we refer to our record for the many years we have done business in Marion. Come and see us.

J. W. ADAMS & SON.

Marion Planing Mills, MARION, KENTUCKY.

urnishes all Kinds of Building Lumber, such as: FLOORING, SIDING, CEILING. Cornice of all kinds, Brackets, Etc., MADE TO ORDER

Makes Doors and Window Frames, Does all kinds of Repairing in wood work.

Competes with anybody in prices, and excels all in quality of goods. Don't buy anything in our line until you see us. Mr. R. B. Dorr, our manager, has had 30 years experience in this work; he would be glad to have all of his old friends and customers to call.

R. N. DORR, Propt.

Times are hard, I must and will have money, will positively sell anything and everything in the Grocery and Hardware line at COST for the next 30 days.

Mason Fruit Jars, 80 cents per dozen. Sealing Wax Fruit Jars, 65 cents per dozen. Granulated Sugar 19 pounds for $1.00. Light C Sugar 20 pounds for $1.00. Cups and Saucers 15 cents per set. Glasses 15 cents per set. Water Buckets, 10 cents each.

I AM HANDLING THE Geo. Delker Buggy, The Best Buggy Made in the World

Disc Cultivators, The Best Made, Handled By Us Only

Buggy Harness, from $5.00 up. Nails, wire and in fact everything else in the Hardware line positively at first cost for the next 30 days. We want your Wool, Ginseng and Feathers, will pay you spot cash for them.

M. SCHWAB.

TERMS STRICTLY CASH.

A JUNE OUTING SALE.

NO CREDIT. NO CREDIT.

A SLAUGHTER PRICE Clothing and Hat Sale.

For the remainder of the month. This is no idle talk. We mean just what we say.

$2000

Worth of Men's, Boys and Youth's suits and odd Pants to be sold Regardless of Profit.
Clothing purchasers, look to your interest.

$500.00

Worth of Men's, and Boys Sample, Hats, all shapes, kinds and colors, to be sold at Less than wholesale Prices,

$2000.00

Worth of Shoes to be sold at a reduction of old prices, notwithstanding the fact that shoes have advanced 25 per cent recently. If you have an eye to business, you will come to see us.

Appreciating past favors, we ask all indebted to us to come and settle at once or we will be compelled by law after July 1

S. D. HODGE & CO

The Press.

C. WALKER, Publisher.

F. E. ROBERTSON

Wants to Tell You What He Has For Sale.

The best brands of sugar, granulated and light brown.
The best coffee in this market.

PARCELS:

Old Government Java, Mocha, mixed Java and Rio, Rio and Arabica, all in packages.

GREENS:

Rio of the best imported qualities, ranging in prices 3, 4, 4 1/2, and 4 3/4 pounds per dollar and all a good article.

QUEENWARE AND GLASSWARE
Of the latest patterns and of the best qualities and very cheap.

TINWARE:

The young and middle aged housekeepers—know little, if anything, about the class of ware I have, but your mothers can tell you of the tinware she used in early life, you can find the same quality at my house, and it is not too cheap to advertise.

Spices, canned goods of all kinds, and lines both imported and French, mustard of best quality, oysters, salmon, steaks, chipped beef, potted ham, peaches, corn, peas, beans, pickles in bottle and bulk, cheese of best quality; well I am going to tell you nothing more about it, come and see for yourself. Respectfully,
F. E. ROBERTSON.
OUT ON PINEY.

LOCAL NEWS.

Needles, oils and supplies for all kinds of sewing machines at Pierce & Son's.

Lime at Pierce & Son's.

Shingles at Walker & Olive's.

Circuit Court next Monday.

Dr. T. H. Comitt, Dentist, Marion.

Dr. Jordan, the dentist, of Marion.

Doors and sash at Walker & Olive's.

Everything is still cheap at Griffiths.

This is a year fruitful of conventions and elections.

Mr. Geo. Boaz, of Golconda, was in town Monday.

Please come and settle your bill—I need it.

A. F. Griffith.

Big lot of molasses to close out cheap.

A. F. Griffith.

Something worse than the cutworms seems to be thinning the ranks of the teachers.

Get out prices on screen doors before buying elsewhere.

A. Dewey & Co.

Save money and buy your screen doors from

A. Dewey & Co.

LAND FOR SALE.—100 acres, 25 under cultivation; good 1/2 and good barn; well watered. Price low; terms easy.

C. W. Baldwin,

Shady Grove, Ky.

FINE PIGS.—I have a number of fine imported Chester White pigs for sale.

J. H. Walker,

Marion, Ky.

The Sunday School District Convention for the third district will be held at Hurricane Saturday, June 29.

The docket for the approaching term of circuit court is not as large as usual. Only twenty-nine new suits have been filed since the last term.

Everybody should avail themselves of the cheap rate to Evansville and return Monday, June 24th. Only $1.25 for the round trip.

T. C. Jameson, Agt.

Thomas Bros are agents of Estey & Camp pianos and organs, of St. Louis; the finest in the world. They will have in a sample instrument in a few days.

Buy your screen doors from A. Dewey & Co.

You can buy wall paper at 20 to 33 per cent. discount at H. K. Woods.

Communion services at the Presbyterian church Sunday.

Mr. Aaron Towery has just received a fine threshing machine, fresh and new from the foundry.

Squire George F. Williams, of Piney, and Mrs. Mary Heady, came to town Thursday and were united in marriage, Eld. E. B. Blackburn officiating.

J. P. Farmer, of Clay, Whitmel Jenkins, of Henderson county, and John L. Oldham, of Morganfield, were before the board of pension examiners yesterday.

The merry month of June does not seem to be productive of the usual amount of weddings. Only two couples have been granted licenses during the month.

Since the first day of last July the county claims amounted to $7,189.04. County clerk Woods is arranging a statement of the finances of the county for publication.

The Oakland church, together with the lot on which it stands, and seats belonging to same, will be sold on Saturday, June 22, 1895, on a credit of twelve months. Sale will take place at the church at 1 P. M.

Rev. B. F. Orr is having large congregations at the Methodist church this week. Monday night he preached on "Regeneration." Tuesday night "Christian Perfection." Wednesday "Infant Baptism." Tonight he will deliver a lecture, "Methodism in America."

WANTED.—To exchange a good work mule for a milk cow.

Joshua Conger.

We are reliably informed that Dr. Shelby, formerly of Salem, but now of Princeton, will locate at Marion, and will probably move here this week. He is well known in this section, and is highly prized, both as a physician and a citizen. While he is well pleased with his surroundings at Princeton, on account of his father's family and at the earnest solicitation of friends, he has concluded to make the change.

Miss Maggie Moore is still very ill at the residence of Mr. W. B. Vandell of this place. She has typhoid fever and pneumonia, and her recovery is not now thought possible. She has numerous friends throughout the county, who will be sad to hear this news, and in Marion, where she has been teaching in the graded school, there is universal grief.

The Grand Rivers Herald will have its annual Cumberland River, Fort Donelson, and Bear Spring excursion on the steamer Alex. Perry on Monday, June 24. Nickell's string band accompanies the party. Boat leaves Paducah about 6 o'clock; the fare for the round trip from Smithland to Iuka inclusive is $3, which includes meals and sleeping accommodations.

Rochester Wallingford is working out a fine for drunkenness on the street. Despite every effort put forth by his family, one of the best in the county, he seems bent on continuing a downward career; and after exhausting all the means that both love and duty can command to reform and uphold him, his folks, it seems, have concluded to let him collect the wages of his folly.

The Second, or "Yandell" baseball nine of Marion have a grievance. Not long since they sent a challenge to the Salem nine, which was accepted and last Saturday set for the game. The Yandell's were in Salem promptly on time, but as soon as the captain of the Salem crew found our boys on hand he "lit out" for a colored barbecue near town, and neither he nor any of his nine again showed up during the day. At least this is the story the Yandell's tell, and assert, moreover, that the Salem nine showed the white feather. Our boys passed the day in Salem, "chipped in" and had a sumptuous dinner of cheese, crackers and ardenes, and returned home later in the evening, a sadder but a wiser nine.

County Convention.

Free Silver and Hardin Without a Dissenting Voice.

NO GOLD BUGS ON US.

Saturday the Democrats in the voting precincts of the county held mass meetings and appointed delegates to the county convention which convened at Marion Monday. Hardin was the choice for Governor in every precinct, and in every precinct the Democrats were practically unanimous for free coinage of silver as well as gold.

Monday, when the convention assembled at the court house, the following delegates were present:

Marion No. 1.—P. S. Maxwell.
Marion No. 2.—O. M. James, T. H. Cochran, T. L. Gass, Gus Taylor.
Marion No. 3.—J. G. Rochester, S. D. Hodge.

Marion No. 4.—L. W. Cruce, Jesse Olive, Dr. R. L. Moore.

Dwight—S. H. Cassidy, T. J. Yeats, Dr. F. S. Wilborn, Dr. W. S. Graves.

Union.—W. C. Tyner, E. H. Taylor.

Hurricane.—E. S. Moore, Dr. A. H. S. Boyd.

Ford's Ferry.—T. A. Rankin, Ed. McFee.

Bell's Mines.—E. C. Moore, E. L. Nunn.

Piney.—Tom McConnell, H. W. McFee, Dr. J. N. Todd.

Upon motion P. S. Maxwell was elected chairman and Dr. R. L. Moore Secretary. After a call of the precincts the following resolution was offered by Dr. W. S. Graves and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the following named Democrats be and they are hereby selected as delegates from this, Crittenden county, to the State Convention which assembles at Louisville, Ky., on the 25th day of June, 1895, for the purpose of selecting the nominees of the Democratic party for State offices, namely: E. H. Taylor, McOmara, Dr. Graves, T. J. Yeats, P. K. Cooksey, A. H. S. Boyd, Foster Threlkeld, Tom Rankin, A. D. McFee, Eli Nunn, E. C. Moore, Frank Summerville, Hugh McGee, Tom McConnell, R. C. Walker, C. S. Nunn, Jesse Olive, John N. Clark, J. W. Skelton, P. S. Maxwell, O. M. James, L. W. Cruce, C. E. Weldon, T. H. Cochran, Dr. R. L. Moore, S. H. Cassidy, D. B. Kevil, W. C. Tyner, Dr. J. N. Todd, J. D. Hudson, S. F. Crider, and that said delegates are instructed to vote as a unit upon all questions and motions before said convention, and they are instructed to cast the six votes of this county in said convention upon each and every ballot for Gen. P. Watt Hardin for Governor, so long as his name remains before said convention, and to use all honorable means to secure his nomination.

Be it further resolved, That the delegates from this county be and they are hereby instructed to cast the 6 votes of this county for L. C. Norman for Auditor, and the 6 votes of this county for J. J. Glenn for Register of the Land Office.

Resolved, That—
1st. We declare with unflinching trust that it is a fundamental principle of the Democratic party that the federal government has no constitutional power to impose and collect tariff duties except for the purpose of revenue duties.

2d. We endorse the repeal of the McKinley law and the reduction of tariff duties accomplished by a Democratic congress, and demand that the reform thus begun shall be vigorously carried forward until the levy and collection of tariff taxes shall be limited to the actual necessities of the government when honestly and economically administered.

3d. We declare it to be an elementary principle of Democracy's faith that both gold and silver coin shall constitute the primary money of the country; that both metals shall be received for mintage without discriminating against either, and at the legal ratio that existed prior to 1873—16 to 1—and we demand the unrestricted coinage of both gold and silver at their legal ratio, and that both metals be declared full legal tender in payment of all debts, public and private.

You can buy Wall Paper at 20 to 33 per cent. discount at H. K. Woods.

Believing the above principles are the teachings of our party and its long honored tenets, we therefore instruct our delegates to cast the vote of this county upon each and every ballot for the adoption of a platform declaring for the free and unrestricted coinage of both gold and silver at the rate of 16 to 1, without waiting for an international agreement, and to use all honorable means within their power to secure the passage of same.

Said resolution was presented to the county convention of the Democrats of Crittenden county, assembled pursuant to the call of the Democratic State Committee, at Marion, Ky., on the 17th day of June, 1895, and was unanimously adopted.

P. S. Maxwell, Ch'n.

R. L. Moore, Sec'y.

Great Disappointment.

On Friday and Saturday, June 7 and 8, thirty-nine applicants for certificates to teach school were examined and on last Saturday the result was announced. Of the total number examined twenty-eight failed and one got a first class certificate, and the other ten were happy enough to get out with a second class certificate. Mr. Jeffery Travis was the fortunate one to secure the first class certificate, while Ed. Watson was next, lacking just 4-7 of getting into the first class. It is needless to say that the result produced some long faces. The next examination is in July, and a number of those who failed will make another trial.

Mrs. Colfield Dead.

Sunday evening at 5 o'clock Mrs. Marshall Colfield, of Birdsboro, Ky. died at the residence of her mother, Mrs. M. L. Barnes of this place, after a long illness. The funeral took place from the residence at 4 o'clock Monday evening; interment at the new cemetery. Surrounded by loved ones, after all that human skill, love and power could do to prolong life, the gentle spirit of the patient, good woman, passed away.

Skipped Out.

Mack Magee, a young man of the Crayneville neighborhood, was under bond to appear at court at this place, to answer the charge of carrying concealed weapons, and reckless riding. He not only failed to report, but skipped out for parts unknown, leaving his bondsmen to face the deficit.

Deeds Recorded.

S. E. Hurley to W. P. Maxwell 87 acres for $300.

G. W. Hooven to M. K. Asbridge 80 acres for $410

B. L. Dewey to D. B. Kevil, half interest in Marion Roller Mills, for $4,267.73.

J. R. McIntire to J. F. Price lot for $1.00.

Jas. M. Dore, Jr., to Jas. H. Lamb interest in land for $47.45.

W. S. Kemp, Jr., to J. T. Tucker 43 acres for $464.

Jas. I. Walker thinks there is a fine deposit of coal under the ground on his farm five miles east of town. He would like to have some miner to investigate, and will make a liberal contract with the man who will develop the mines.

Sheriff Franks took Sam Patterson to Smithland Tuesday and delivered him to the powers that be to answer the charge of burning the town prison at Salem. Sam was not anxious to go to Salem, and shed a good many tears on the road.

J. B. Kevil is agent for the land lying just north of town, known as the Haynes place. Parties desiring a lot in that section should see him.

Choral Club at Marion.

The Princeton Choral Club went to Marion last Monday night on invitation and gave a concert. From an artistic point of view the concert was a success, but otherwise—About thirty persons went down from here, and about as many of the people of Marion were in attendance. The reception committee, which met the club at the depot, took the wrong road and didn't get out with the carriages until long after the folks got to town on foot. Once in the town they were quite hospitably received, full permission being given them to occupy the streets, and even the side walks were at their disposal, free of charge. If they desired to see the inside of any building the privilege was theirs by paying for it, at the ratio of 16 to 1. A financial discussion had been going on all day, and this may or may not have had something to do with the scale of prices fixed for everything eatables or drinkable. A number of ladies were in the club and the accompanying crowd and it is but fair to say that these received every possible attention—from their escorts. Taken altogether the trip was a pleasant one, to those who took it, and the pleasure was not divided up—they had it all to themselves—the Marionites not even turning out to see what it was all about. The club may go to Marion again soon, but then it is just as likely that it may not. The trip brought it out in debt.—Princeton Banner.

That "reception committee," brother, had gone in search of the committee that extended that "invitation," and the difficulties in locating the object of its search detained it beyond train time; in fact so tedious has been its task that it has not returned yet, and a suitable reward will be given for the return of that "invitation" committee to this place, or information as to its whereabouts will be thankfully received.

Marion is gratified that her stock law had been abrogated and that her streets are now free; the law was not annulled especially for the occasion, but the occasion shows the wisdom of the annulment, because the prevailing custom of charging to see the inside of a building at the ratio of 16 to 1 would have shut out certain parties, 16 of them not being on a parity with one building, it would have been necessary to increase the ratio to 17, 18, or even 20 to one to have maintained the bullion parity. It was fortunate that the "financial discussion had been going on" in Marion the day preceding the entertainment, for it was transferred to Princeton the day after the concert, and, if we have properly diagnosed the animus of the above article, it is still going on at the place aforesaid. It is gratifying to know that the ladies had every attention from their escorts, the absence of any other work on the part of the escorts gave them ample time to look after the ladies. We are glad, taken altogether, the trip was a pleasant one to the Princetonites. It would have been too bad to have gone to the expense and trouble of such a trip without a little pleasure, and the supply of that article being so limited, the Marion people had no disposition to be hogish, consequently they turned it all over to the visitors, and if there was not enough to go around, Marion should not be so sarcastically treated, because it was not her night out. We understand the club better now, and had we known before that, like little Tommy Tucker, it was out "singing for its supper," we would have been prepared for the occasion, and doubtless the coming in contact with "everything eatable or drinkable" would have made the affair a social success.

Really it seems there was a mistake. Marion expected Princeton to furnish the pleasure in the shape of music, while Princeton expected Marion to furnish the pleasure in the shape of "grub," and the latter being without grub and the former without music, the affair was unfortunate, and a social as well as financial failure.

Notice.

All parties indebted to Dr. S. D. Swope will please call at the office of Cruce & Nunn and settle the same, thereby saving costs and trouble.

People's Party Meeting.

The Peoples party of this county are directed and earnestly requested to meet in the town of Marion on Saturday, June 29, 1895, in mass convention, to elect delegates to the State Convention to be held in the city of Louisville on the 4th day of July, 1895, and to attend to other business of importance. J. A. Parker and perhaps others will speak on the silver question and other issues of the day. Everybody invited to attend the speaking.

W. H. Brown, Ch'n.

A rate of one fare for the round trip will be in effect to the Democratic convention to be held at Louisville June 25th.

T. C. Jameson, Agt.

We bought our fruit jars last season at bottom prices, and since the great advance in prices we can sell you cheaper than any one; call and get our prices.

Thomas Bros.

Bring in your wheat. We will pay the highest market price for it.

W. D. Haynes.

Well, well, Bob, we are sorry we did—that is, we are sorry we hit him with the edge of the hatchet. We will look him up and apologize. It happened this way. He was a long, knock-kneed, lantern-jawed Populist, who came lounging around our office with a smile on his face, slapped us on the shoulder with a hand as large as a ham of bacon, and exclaimed with well-eyed delight: "I told you so." To what? we demanded with unforgotten astonishment—"That Bob Walker was guine to jine us," was the reply. This was more than our shattered patience could stand, so we grabbed our office hatchet and cut a half moon over his eye.—Smithland Banner.

That very self-same poor fellow was in Marion the day before he went to Smithland, and he attracted attention on the street in an animated discussion with a child of the Fifteenth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States. The question was after this style, "Resolved, that there is more pleasure in pursuit than in possession." The Populist was endeavoring to maintain the affirmative side of the question, while the son of Ham held that there was more fun in having a thing in your grip than in trying to get or hoping for it. "Now," said the Populist, "you can not even imagine the joy, the real mental ambrosia there is in thinking of the idea that the Press and 'Bob Walker' may jine us." At this latter Sambo showed the white in his eyes, displayed two beautiful rows of ivory, set in bars of pink, and a laugh echoing around the corners made the welkin ring as he exclaimed, "Hold on, boss; hold on. You don't know what pleasure is along that line; you have not even looked over into the promised land; now for real alititudinous, saccharine enjoyableness, you are no mo to me than moonshine to sunlight. We aint bettin' on gittin' no paper; we're already got one. There's the Smithland Banner—the youngster was born in our party. It may have the covering of a Democratic Esau, but by the holy hokies it hab the voice of a Republican Jacob. It may be young, but it cries so much like John Sherman that I bet its his kin. Anyhow it is ours, and there is more fun in knowing this than in betting on the future," and as the old man, happy in the possession of his own, retired to the bosom of his family, that "lantern-jawed Populist" journeyed on towards Smithland, fondly hugging his delusions, to meet the sad fate detailed by our neighbor, Sealand.

P. S.—Please ask him what he thinks of the hatchet the Democrats of Livingston county used, Monday.

LOLA.

We say, 'rah for the Press and free silver.

It is right for your Tolu correspondent to boast of their new mill, but we have had one so long that it is not a new thing. You are about 4 years behind us; come over and get a nice biscuit.

The wife of Jim Vaughn died last Sunday night of consumption. Children's day at Bethel was well attended.

Notice.

All parties indebted to Dr. S. D. Swope will please call at the office of Cruce & Nunn and settle the same, thereby saving costs and trouble.

People's Party Meeting.

The Peoples party of this county are directed and earnestly requested to meet in the town of Marion on Saturday, June 29, 1895, in mass convention, to elect delegates to the State Convention to be held in the city of Louisville on the 4th day of July, 1895, and to attend to other business of importance. J. A. Parker and perhaps others will speak on the silver question and other issues of the day. Everybody invited to attend the speaking.

W. H. Brown, Ch'n.

A rate of one fare for the round trip will be in effect to the Democratic convention to be held at Louisville June 25th.

T. C. Jameson, Agt.

We bought our fruit jars last season at bottom prices, and since the great advance in prices we can sell you cheaper than any one; call and get our prices.

Thomas Bros.

Bring in your wheat. We will pay the highest market price for it.

W. D. Haynes.

Mr. S. W. Adams, the assistant principal of Marion Graded School, is one of the foremost educators of this section of the State. He has been teaching a number of years and his work has always been fruitful of good results. He has proven to be one of the most popular teachers of this county, and one of the most useful factors in Marion Graded School. The trustees consider themselves fortunate in securing his services for the next term of school. He is a polished, scholarly gentleman; his learning is not confined to the branches taught in the school room; he has an extensive fund of general information and he is a man of broad views and catholic spirit. He has the valuable faculty of inspiring his pupils with a zeal and courage that carries them rapidly forward. He leaves this week for Nashville to take a course in Draughn's business college; if there are any new methods or new ideas, it is Mr. Adams' ambition to have them at his command, and he spares no labor in keeping up with all that is new. In addition to his regular work in the school, he will have a class the next term in bookkeeping and commercial arithmetic, offering those who desire this feature besides the regular school course, an opportunity rarely met with in towns like Marion.

PERSONAL.

J. H. Orme spent Sunday in Uniontown.

Mr. R. H. Woods, of Livingston county, was in town Monday.

Miss Kitty Haynes is visiting her friends and relatives in Caseyville.

Miss Annie Clark, of Clay, is the guest of Miss Nora Eddings, of this place.

Mrs. J. C. Wolfe and children passed through town Tuesday, en route to Tolu.

Messrs. James & Clark are putting in their hoop making machinery this week.

Dudley Pope returned from Davis county, where he has been at work for some weeks.

Mr. O. M. James was in Hopkinsville some days last week, engaged as counsel in a big damage suit.

Dr. Haalin, of Sturgis, was in town Tuesday. It is reported that he contemplates locating here.

Mrs. T. J. Nunn and daughter, Miss Nar, of Madisonville, are visiting friends and relatives in the city.

The families of R. W. Wilson and J. W. Blue, Jr., have taken rooms at Crittenden Springs for the season.

Mr. William Martin, an old citizen of the northwestern portion of the county, died Monday of bilious colic.

Mr. Tom Mahan, of Louisville, who worked for Henry Bros., several months last year, is in Marion this week.

Attention Farmers.

We are now ready to handle all your surplus wheat, for which we will pay you the highest market price.

A. Dewey & Co.

Our load of shingles just received, every bundle warranted; get our prices.

A. Dewey & Co.

Mr. Henry Ledbetter and family, of Elizabethtown, Ill., were with friends in Marion the first of the week.

Mrs. W. C. Carnahan returned from Missouri Monday, where she has been visiting her brother, James Cruce, for several weeks.

Frank Cositt was in town Tuesday. He has quit the railroad business and is now traveling in the northwest for the National Cordage Trust.

J. H. Walker and family, of Henderson, came to Marion Sunday. Mr. Walker returned home and family will spend the week with friends.

Miss Emma Crawford returned from Blandville, a few days ago. She has been attending Blandville college and was one of the three in the graduating class this year. She acquitted herself with honor.

Miss Nora Eddings entertained a number of her young friends at her father's residence last Thursday night. Ice cream was served, after which the guests engaged in social games. It was a pleasant affair with the young folks.

Mr. Jesse P. Crawford, of this place, completed the course in the Columbian University Law School at Washington, D. C., a short time ago and graduated with high honors; he will soon enter upon the practice of law. The Press is always happy in contemplating the fact that Marion and Crittenden county boys are pushing up towards the front, wherever and whenever their metal is put on trial.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gundersman, of Dimondale, Mich. we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist church at 'Rives Junction' she was taken with pneumonia, succeeding lagrippe. Paroxysms of coughing would last for hours, and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery, it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at H. K. Woods' drug store.

Half Rates on Sundays.

Effect May 26, the Louisville, St. Louis and Texas Railway will sell on every Sunday, round trip tickets, between all its stations on the main line, at one fare for the round trip. Tickets are good only on date of sale, good returning

TERMS STRICTLY CASH.

A JUNE OUTING SALE.

NO CREDIT. NO CREDIT.

A SLAUGHTER PRICE Clothing and Hat Sale.

For the remainder of the month. This is no idle talk. We mean just what we say.

$2000

Worth of Men's, Boys and Youth's suits and odd Pants to be sold Regardless of Profit.
Clothing purchasers, look to your interest.

$500.00

Worth of Men's, and Boys Sample, Hats, all shapes, kinds and colors, to be sold at Less than wholesale Prices,

$2000.00

Worth of Shoes to be sold at a reduction of old prices, notwithstanding the fact that shoes have advance 25 per cent recently. If you have an eye to business, you will come to see us.

Appreciating past favors, we ask all indebted to us to come and settle at once or we will be compelled by law after July 1

S. D. HODGE & CO

The Press.

R. C. WALKER, Publisher.

F. E. ROBERTSON

Wants to Tell You What He Has For Sale.

The best brands of sugar, granulated and light brown.

The best coffee in this market.

PARCHED:

Old Government Java, Mocha, mixed Java and Rio, Rio and Arabica Ariosa in packages.

GREEN:

Rio of the best imported qualities,
ranging in prices 35, 4, 45, and 47 pounds per dollar and all a good article.

QUEENWARE AND GLASSWARE:
Of the latest patterns and of the best qualities and very cheap.

TISWARE:

The young and middle aged house keepers—know little, if anything—about the class of ware I have, but your mothers can tell you of the tinware she used in early life, you can find the same quality at my house,
and it is not too cheap to advertise.

Spices, canned goods of all kinds,
sardines both imported and French,
mustard of best quality, oysters, salmon, steaks, chopped beef, potted ham peaches, corn, peas, beans, pickles in bottle and bulk, cheese of best quality;
well I am going to tell you nothing more about it, come and see for yourself. Respectfully,
F. E. ROBERTSON,
OUT ON FIREY.

LOCAL NEWS.

Needles, oils and supplies for all kinds of sewing machines at Pierce & Son's.

Lime at Pierce & Son's.

Shingles at Walker & Olive's.

Circuit Court next Monday.

Dr. T. H. Comitt, Dentist, Marion.

Dr. Jordan, the dentist, of Marion.

Doors and sash at Walker & Olive's

Everything is still cheap at Griffiths

This is a year fruitful of conveniences and elections.

Mr. Geo. Boaz, of Golconda, was in town Monday.

Please come and settle your bill—I need it. A. F. Griffiths.

Big lot of molasses to close out cheap. A. F. Griffiths.

Something worse than the cutworms seems to be thinning the ranks of the teachers.

Get out prices on screen doors before buying elsewhere.

A. Dewey & Co.

Save money and buy your screen doors from A. Dewey & Co.

LAND FOR SALE.—100 acres, 25

under cultivation; good 1 mile and good barn; well watered. Price low;

terms easy.

C. W. Baldwin,

Shady Grove, Ky.

FINE PIGS.—I have a number of fine imported Chester White pigs for sale.

J. H. Walker,

Marion, Ky.

The Sunday School District Convention for the third district will be held at Hurricane Saturday, June 29.

The docket for the approaching term of circuit court is not as large as usual. Only twenty-nine new suits have been filed since the last term.

Everybody should avail themselves of the cheap rate to Evansville and return Monday, June 24th. Only

$1.25 for the round trip.

T. C. Jameson, Agt.

Thomas Bros are agents of Ealey

Camp pianos and organs, of St.

Louis; the finest in the world. They will have in a sample instrument in a few days.

Buy your screen doors from A.

Dewey & Co.

You can buy wall paper at 20 to 33 per cent. discount at H. K. Woods.

Communion services at the Presbyterian church Sunday.

Mr. Aaron Towery has just received a fine threshing machine, fresh and new from the foundry.

Squire George F. Williams, of Piney, and Mrs. Mary Heady, came to town Thursday and were united in marriage, Eld. E. B. Blackburn officiating.

J. P. Farmer, of Clay, Whitmel Jenkins, of Henderson county, and John L. Oldham, of Morganfield, were before the board of pension examiners yesterday.

The merry month of June does not seem to be productive of the usual amount of weddings. Only two couple have been granted licenses during the month.

Since the first day of last July the county claims allowed amounted to $7,189.04. County clerk Woods is arranging a statement of the finances of the county for publication.

The Oakland church, together with the lot on which it stands, and seats belonging to same, will be sold on Saturday, June 22, 1895, on a credit of twelve months. Sale will take place at the church at 1 P. M.

Rev. B. F. Orr is having large congregations at the Methodist church this week. Monday night he presented on "Regeneration." Tuesday night "Christian Perfection." Wednesday "Infant Baptism." Tonight
he will deliver a lecture, "Methodism in America."

WANTED.—To exchange a good work mule for a milk cow.
Josiah Conger.

We are reliably informed that Dr.
Shelby, formerly of Salem, but now of Princeton, will locate at Marion,
and will probably move here this week. He is well known in this section, and is highly prized, both as a physician and a citizen. While he is well pleased with his surroundings at Princeton, on account of his father's family and at the earnest solicitation of friends, he has concluded to make the change.

Miss Maggie Moore is still very ill at the residence of Mr. W. B.
Yandell of this place. She has typhoid fever and pneumonia, and her recovery is not now thought possible.
She has numerous friends throughout the county, who will be sad to hear this news, and in Marion, where she has been teaching in the graded school, there is universal grief.

The Grand Rivers Herald will have its annual Cumberland River, Fort Donelson, and Bear Spring excusion on Monday, June 24. Nickell's string band accompanies the boat. The fare for the round trip from Smith-land to Luka inclusive is $3, which includes meals and sleeping accommodations.

Rochester Wallingford is working out a fine for drunkenness on the street. Despite every effort put forth by his family, one of the best in the county, he seems bent on continuing a downward career; and after exhausing all the means that both love and duty can command to reform and uphold him, his folks, it seems, have concluded to let him collect the wages of his folly.

The Second, or "Yandell" baseball nine of Marion have a grievance. Not long since they sent a challenge to the Salem nine, which was accepted and last Saturday set for the game. The Yandell's were in Salem promptly on time, but as soon as the captain of the Salem crew found our boys on hand
he "hit out" for a colored barbecue near town, and neither he nor any of his nine again showed up during the day. At least this is the story the Yandell's tell, and assert, moreover,
that the Salem nine showed the white feather. Our boys passed the day in Salem, "chipped in" and had a sumptuous dinner of cheese, crackers and sardines, and returned home later in the evening, a sadder but a wiser nine.

County Convention.

Free Silver and Hardin Without a Dissenting Voice.

NO GOLD BUGS ON US.

Saturday the Democrats in the voting precincts of the county held mass meetings and appointed delegates to the county convention which convened at Marion Monday. Hardin was the choice for Governor in every precinct, and in every precinct
the Democrats were practically unanimous for free coinage of silver as well as gold.

Monday, when the convention assembled at the court house, the following delegates were present:

Marion No. 1.—P. S. Maxwell,
Marion No. 2.—O. M. James, T.
H. Cochran, F. L. Gass, Gus Taylor
Marion No. 3.—J. G. Rochester,
S. D. Hodge.

Marion No. 4.—L. W. Cruce, Jesse Olive, Dr. R. L. Moore.
Dreusburg.—S. H. Cassidy, T. J.
Yeats, Dr. F. S. Wilborn, Dr. W. S.
Graves.
Union.—W. C. Tyner, E. H. Taylor.

Hurricane.—E. S. Moore, Dr. A.
H. S. Boyd.

Ford's Ferry.—T. A. Rankin, Ed.
McFee.

Beils Mines.—E. C. Moore, E. L.
Nunn.

Piney.—Tom McConnell, H. W.
McKee, Dr. J. N. Todd.

Upon motion P. S. Maxwell was elected chairman and Dr. R. L.
Moore Secretary. After a call of the precincts the following resolution was offered by Dr. W. S. Graves and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the following named Democrats be and they are hereby selected as delegates from this, Crittenden county, to the State Convention which assembles at Louisville, Ky., on the 25th day of June, 1895,

for the purpose of selecting the nominees of the Democratic party for State offices, namely: E. H. Taylor, McObara, Dr. Graves, T. J. Yeats,
P. K. Cooksey, A. H. S. Boyd, Foster Threlkeld, Tom Rankin, A. D.
McFee, Eli Nunn, E. C. Moore,
Frank Summerville, Hugh McGee,
Tom McConnell, R. C. Walker, C. S.
Nunn, Jesse Olive, John N. Clark,
J. W. Skelton, P. S. Maxwell, O.
M. James, L. W. Cruce, C. E. Weldon, T. H. Cochran, Dr. R. L.
Moore, S. H. Cassidy, D. B. Kevil,
W. C. Tyner, Dr. J. N. Todd, J. D.
Hudson, S. F. Crider, and that said delegates are instructed to vote as a unit upon all questions and motions before said convention, and they are instructed to cast the six votes of this county in said convention upon each and every ballot for Gen. P.
Watt Hardin for Governor, so long as his name remains before said convention, and to use all honorable means to secure his nomination.

Be it further resolved, That the delegates from this county be and they are hereby instructed to cast
the 6 votes of this county for L. C.
Norman for Auditor, and the 6 votes of this county for J. J. Glenn for Register of the Land Office.

Resolved, that—
1st. We declare with unflinching trust that it is a fundamental principle of the Democratic party that the federal government has no constitutional power to impose and collect tariff duties except for the purpose of revenue duties.

2d. We endorse the repeal of the McKinley law and the reduction of tariff duties accomplished by a Democratic congress, and demand that the reform thus begun shall be vigorously carried forward until the levy and collection of tariff taxes shall be limited to the actual necessities of the government when honestly and economically administered.

3d. We declare it to be an elementary principle of Democracy's faith that both gold and silver coin shall constitute the primary money

You can buy Wall Paper at 20 to 33 per cent. discount at H. K. Woods.

of the country; that both metals shall be received for mintage without discriminating against either, and at the legal ratio that existed prior to 1873
—16 to 1—and we demand the unrestricted coinage of both gold and silver at their legal ratio, and that both metals be declared full legal tender in payment of all debts, public and private.

Believing the above principles are the teachings of our party and its long honored tenets, we therefore instruct our delegates to cast the vote of this county upon each and every ballot for the adoption of a platform declaring for the free and unrestricted coinage of both gold and silver at the rate of 16 to 1, without waiting for an international agreement, and to use all honorable means within their power to secure the passage of same.

Said resolution was presented to the county convention of the Democrats of Crittenden county, assembled pursuant to the call of the Democratic State Committee, at Marion, Ky., on the 17th day of June, 1895, and was unanimously adopted.

P. S. Maxwell, Ch'n.
R. L. Moore, Sec'y.

Great Disappointment.

On Friday and Saturday, June 7 and 8, thirty-nine applicants for certificates to teach school were examined and on last Saturday the result was announced. Of the total number examined twenty-eight failed and one got a first class certificate, and the other ten were happy enough to get out with a second class certificate.

Mr. Jeffery Travis was the fortunate
one to secure the first class certificate, while Ed. Watson was next, lacking just 4-7 of getting into the first class.
It is needless to say that the result produced some long faces. The next examination is in July, and a number of those who failed will make another trial.

Mrs. Coffield Dead.

Sunday evening at 5 o'clock Mrs.
Marshall Coffield, of Birdsville, Ky., died at the residence of her mother, Mrs. M. L. Barnes of this place, after a long illness. The funeral took place from the residence at 4 o'clock Monday evening; interment at the new cemetery. Surrounded by loved ones, after all that human skill, love and power could do to prolong life, the gentle spirit of the patient, good woman, passed away.

Skipped Out.

Mack Magee, a young man of the Crayneville neighborhood, was under bond to appear at court at this place to answer the charge of carrying concealed weapons, and reckless riding.
He not only failed to report, but skipped out for parts unknown, leaving his bondsmen to face the deficit.

Deeds Recorded.

S. E. Hurley to W. P. Maxwell
87 acres for $300.

G. W. Houston to M. K. Asbridge
80 acres for $410

B. L. Dewey to D. B. Kevil, half interest in Marion Roller Mills, for $4,267.73.

J. R. McIntire to J. E. Price lot for $1.00.

Jas. M. Dare, jr., to Jas. H. Lamb interest in land for $47.45.

W. S. Kemp, jr., to J. T. Tucker
43 acres for $464.

Jas. I. Walker thinks there is a fine deposit of coal under the ground on his farm five miles east of town.
He would like to have some miner to investigate, and will make a liberal contract with the man who will develop the mines.

Sheriff Franks took Sam Patterson to Smithland Tuesday and delivered him to the powers that be to answer the charge of burning the town prison at Salem. Sam was not anxious to go to Salem, and shed a good many tears on the road.

J. B. Kevil is agent for the land lying just north of town, known as the Haynes place. Parties desiring a lot in that section should see him.

Choral Club at Marion.

The Princeton Choral Club went to Marion last Monday night on invitation and gave a concert. From an artistic point of view the concert was a success, but otherwise—About thirty persons went down from here, and about as many of the people of Marion were in attendance. The reception committee, which met the club at the depot, took the wrong road and didn't get out with the carriages until long after the folks got to town on foot. Once in the town they were quite hospitably received, full permission being given them to occupy the streets, and even the side walks were at their disposal, free of charge. If they desired to see the inside of any building the privilege was theirs by paying for it, at the ratio of 16 to 1. A financial discussion had been going on all day, and this may or may not have had something to do with the scale of prices fixed for everything eatable or drinkable. A number of ladies were in the club and the accompanying crowd and it is but fair to say that these received every possible attention—from their escorts. Taken altogether the trip was a pleasant one, to those who took it, and the pleasure was not divided up—they had it all to themselves—the Marionites not even turning out to see what it was all about.
The club may go to Marion again soon, but then it is just as likely that it may not. The trip brought it out in debt.—Princeton Banner.

That "reception committee," brother, had gone in search of the committee that extended that " invitation," and the difficulties in locating the object of its search detained it beyond train time; in fact so tedious has been its task that it has not returned yet, and a suitable reward will be given for the return of that "invitation" committee to this place, or information as to its whereabouts
will be thankfully received.

Marion is gratified that her stock law had been abrogated and that her streets are now free; the law was not annulled especially for the occasion,
but the occasion shows the wisdom of the annulment, because the pre-valing custom of charging to see the inside of a building at the ratio of 16 to 1 would have shut out certain parties, 16 of them not being on a parity with one building, it would have been necessary to increase the ratio to 17, 18, or even 20 to one to have maintained the billion parity.
It was fortunate that the "financial discussion had been going on" in Marion the day preceding the entertainment, for it was transferred to Princeton the day after the concert, and if we have properly diagnosed the animus of the above article, it is still going on at the place aforesaid.

It is gratifying to know that the ladies had every attention from their escorts, the absence of any other work on the part of the escorts gave them ample time to look after the ladies. We are glad, taken altogether, the trip was a pleasant one to the Princetonites. It would have been too bad to have gone to the expense and trouble of such a trip without a little pleasure, and the supply of that article being so limited, the Marion people had no disposition to be bogus, consequently they turned it all over to the visitors, and if there was not enough to go around, Marion should not be so sarcastically treated, because it was not her night out.

We understand the club better now,
and had we known before that, like little Tommy Tucker, it was out "singing for its supper," we would have been prepared for the occasion, and doubtless the coming in contact with "everything eatable or drinkable" would have made the affair a social success.

Really it seems there was a mistake. Marion expected Princeton to furnish the pleasure in the shape of music, while Princeton expected Marion to furnish the pleasure in the shape of " grub," and the latter being without grub and the former without music, the affair was unfortunate, and a social as well as financial failure.

Notice.

All parties indebted to Dr. S. D.
Swope will please call at the office
of Cruce & Nunn and settle the same,
thereby saving costs and trouble.

People's Party Meeting.

The Peoples party of this county
are directed and earnestly requested
to meet in the town of Marion on Saturday, June 29, 1895, in mass
convention, to elect delegates to the State Convention to be held in the city of Louisville on the 4th day of July, 1895, and to attend to other business of importance. J. A. Parker
and perhaps others will speak on the silver question and other issues of the day. Everybody invited to attend
the speaking.

W. H. Brown, Ch'n.

A rate of one fare for the round
trip will be in effect to the Democratic convention to be held at Louisville June 25th.

T. C. Jameson, Agt.

We bought our fruit jars last season at bottom prices, and since the
great advance in prices we can sell
you cheaper than any one; call and
get our prices.

Well, well, Bob, we are sorry we did—that is, we are sorry we hit him with the edge of the hatchet. We will look him up and apologize. It happened this way. He was a long, knock-kneed, lantern-jawed Populist,
who came lounging around our office
with a smile on his face, slapped us on the shoulder with a hand as large as a ham of bacon, and exclaimed with wall-eyed delight: "I told you so." To what? We demanded with unfeigned astonishment—"That Bob Walker was guine to fine us," was the reply. This was more than our shattered patience could stand, so we grabbed our office hatchet and cut a half moon over his eye.—
Smithland Banner.

That very self-same poor fellow was in Marion the day before he went to Smithland, and he attracted attention on the street in an animated discussion with a child of the Fifteenth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States. The question was after this style, "Resolved, that there is more pleasure in pursuit than in possession." The Populist was endeavoring to maintain the affirmative side of the question, while the son of Ham held that there was more fun in having a thing in your grip than in trying to get or hoping for it. "Now," said the Populist, "you can not even imagine the joy, the real mental ambrosia there is in thinking of the idea that the Press and 'Bob Walker' may fine us."
At this sally Sambo showed the white in his eyes, displayed two beautiful rows of ivory, set in bars of pink, and a laugh echoing around the corners made the welkin ring as he exclaimed, "Hold on, boss; hold on. You don't know what pleasure is along that line; you have not even looked over into the promised land;
now for real altitudinous, saccharine enjoyableness, you are no mo to me than moonshine to sunlight. We ain't bettin' on gittin' no paper; we're already got one. There's the Smith-land Banner—the youngster was born in our party. It may have the covering of a Democratic Ksaw, but by the holy hokies it has the voice of a Republican Jacob. It may be young, but it cries so much like John Sherman that I bet its kin. Anyhow it is ours, and there is more fun in knowing this than in betting on the future," and as the old man, happy in the possession of his own, retired to the bosom of his family, that "lantern-jawed Populist" journeyed on towards Smithland, fondly hugging his delusions, to meet the sad fate detailed by our neighbor. Se-lan!

P. S.—Please ask him what he thinks of the hatchet the Democrats of Livingston county used, Monday.

LOLA.

We say, 'rah for the Press and free silver.

It is right for your Tolu correspondent to boast of their new mill, but we have had one so long that it is not a new thing. You are about 4 years behind us; come over and get a nice biscuit.

The wife of Jim Vaughn died last Sunday night of consumption.

Children's day at Bethel was well attended.

Notice.

All parties indebted to Dr. S. D.
Swope will please call at the office
of Cruce & Nunn and settle the same,
thereby saving costs and trouble.

People's Party Meeting.

The Peoples party of this county
are directed and earnestly requested
to meet in the town of Marion on Saturday, June 29, 1895, in mass
convention, to elect delegates to the State Convention to be held in the city of Louisville on the 4th day of July, 1895, and to attend to other
business of importance. J. A. Parker
and perhaps others will speak on the
silver question and other issues of the
day. Everybody invited to attend
the speaking.

W. H. Brown, Ch'n.

A rate of one fare for the round
trip will be in effect to the Democratic convention to be held at Louisville June 25th.

T. C. Jameson, Agt.

We bought our fruit jars last season at bottom prices, and since the
great advance in prices we can sell
you cheaper than any one; call and
get our prices.

Mr. Henry Ledbetter, every crisis, at Elizabeth, Ky. G. L. Rankin will friends, wait on you and sell you goods at a cash at lowest prices, and I make a specialty of Ohio River salt, which I am selling at $1 per bbl. Call and see me before buying elsewhere.
Respy,

LaGrippe, Indigestion, Sleeplessness, Etc.

Yes, indeed, I can say something for the Electropoise. I have possessed it only a few months, but have found it a great relief in indigestion, torpid liver, rheumatism, nervousness, sleeplessness, effects of la grippe, etc. I am 56 years old, and have been a sufferer a long time, and found little or no relief from medicine; but the Poise has been entirely different. The Poise has worked wonders with me even in so short a time; my health is greatly improved, and I feel like a new man. I am almost young again. Can work now and not get exhausted in a few minutes. I owe it all to the Electropoise. Have also used it in my family, and found it all that you represented it to be. My children all know its value and call for it daily for their many pains, cuts and bruises. I could not part with mine under any circumstances.

L. B. HUBBARD,
Montgomery, Ky.

Mr. G. T. Hughes, of Sullivan, like wise reports good results from the treatment.

DeBOISE & WEBB,
509 Fourth Ave. Louisville, Ky.

FOURTH OF JULY EXCURSIONS.

Tickets will be sold on July 2nd, 3rd and 4th, good returning until July 7th, to all points on the O. V. R. R., at one fare for the round trip. Picnic will be plentiful along the line and no excuse for staying at home.

T. C. Jameson, Agent.

The I. W. Harper is the finest whiskey on earth. Used in moderation, it is a sure specific for indigestion, general debility, for insomnia, for mental depression. It is as fragrant as ripe fruit and if used in moderation it lengthens life, adds to our joys and drives dull care away.

The I. W. Harper whiskey is absolutely pure. It is prescribed by the ablest physicians of this country, and by degrees it is winning a world-wide reputation. Sold by

J. H. Orice & Bro.,
Marion, Ky.

WOOL CARDING.

The old reliable carder is ready and doing the best work; so bring your wool and get it carded, for the fifth pound toll or seven cents per pound cash, and bring one pound of grease for every eight pounds of wool; and I do feel truly thankful to my old patrons for all past favors, though these times find me as thankful as ever before. All work guaranteed. Respectfully,

S. J. Mitchell,
Salem, Ky.

In Poor Health

means so much more than you imagine—serious and fatal diseases result from trifling ailments neglected. Don't play with Nature's greatest gift—health.

Brown's Iron Bitters

It Cures
Dyspepsia, Kidney and Liver Neuralgia, Troubles, Constipation, Bad Blood,
Malaria, Nervous ailments,
Women's complaints.

Get only the genuine—its crossed red lines on the wrapper. All others are substitutes. On receipt of two stamps we will send you a Free Bottle of Brown's Iron Bitters.

AMBITION.

A youth in the bloom of his manhood lay in radiant glow on the shining sand. As it dashed its foam on the distant strand. The southern breeze disturbed his curls. As it kissed his brow in the shining sand. And the spirit of winds its wings unfurled. As it danced on the waves to the dash of the spray.

"My life is a dream," he said, with a smile. "If pleasure and pain and all that is fair?" And he passed. "But I must have fame," he said. And he sprang to his feet with a resolute air.

The breeze ceased, and the winds danced on. And the waves threw off their laughing spray. But the youth drew back with a gesture of scorn. And the man of ambition went up from the bay!

—Lydla B. Walsh in Home and Country.

AN INTERVENTION.

Guido certainly looked perfectly happy. Indeed any one would have thought that he had not a care in the world. He was on his way home from a political banquet, where he had been explaining in detail his programme to his electors. He had been complimented on all sides, and added to this the dinner itself had been excellent and the champagne all that could be desired. Guido felt quite easy in his own mind about the result of the election, and now, as he was going to a ball where he would enjoy a flirtation with the Baroness Stefania. He was just returning home now to have an hour's rest and a nap, like Napoleon on the eve of a battle. On entering the dining room his faithful old servant, Giuseppe, followed him respectfully in and stood for a moment, evidently desiring to speak to his master.

"I am going to my room to get a little rest," he said to Giuseppe. "You can wake me at 8."

"You'd better not, sir," said the servant earnestly.

"And why not, pray?"

"Because, sir, when Girolamo was here last night, a lady called, and when she found that you were out she said, 'Tell your master when he comes in that I will call again at 7 and ask him to be sure to wait for me, as I want to see him on particular business.'"

"And her name?"

"She would not give it."

"H—! More and more mysterious. Did Girolamo say what she was like?"

"Yes. She was young, tall, dark and very well dressed."

"Oh! It's getting decidedly interesting, and I feel curious. And you think, then, Giuseppe, for the sake of this unknown lady, I ought to forego my nap?"

"Well, it's just 7 o'clock, sir. If she is anything like punctual, you wouldn't have time to lie down before she is here."

"Oh, well. I will make the sacrifice. Get my newspaper, Giuseppe, and I'll read till she arrives. Dark! The Baroness Stefania is fair. Nothing like a change," murmured Guido to himself when the old man had gone out of the room.

It certainly sounds very much as though the young politician were a veritable Don Juan, but in reality he was nothing of the kind. Guido had had a great disappointment in his life. He had loved one woman passionately and devotedly, but his happiness had been suddenly snatched away from him, and the love still smoldered in his heart, half smothered and stifled as it had been. For the last two years Guido had been striving to forget, and he had thrown himself heartily into all the gayeties and diversions of society life.

"If you please, sir," exclaimed Giuseppe, re-entering the dining room hastily.

"Has she arrived?"

"She is in the drawing room."

"Do you know her?"

"No—no, sir," stammered the old servant.

Guido was soon in the drawing room. He opened the door quietly and stood for a few seconds contemplating his visitor. She was standing near a table, turning over the leaves of an album. Her back was turned toward the door, but Guido could see that she was tall and graceful. She wore a very handsome silk dress and was decidedly elegant.

"Madame," said Guido, advancing toward her.

She turned suddenly, and her host felt as though he had received an electric shock. He bowed, however, profoundly in order to hide the surprise on his face.

"I am not inconveniencing you by coming this evening?" she asked after returning his bow, and then she sat down very deliberately.

"Certainly not. I am entirely at your service."

"If you say that twenty out of politeness, so much the more for you, as I should like to take it literally."

"Do so, by all means. I take upon myself all risk and shall be glad to hear what you have to say," answered Guido, smiling.

The lady, whose name was Emma, stroked her muff, evidently hesitating as to how she was going to express what she had to say.

Guido was watching her. Yes, she was just as beautiful as ever, just as fascinating as that first time he had seen her. It seemed to him even that her beauty was perhaps more complete, more wonderful than ever.

"Have you ever taken part in a comedy?" she asked at length.

"Oh, yes. I am still acting in one that never comes to an end."

"My question was needless, I see. Tomorrow, then, I want you to continue, that is all. But you will have an important role to take, and it will be difficult to succeed."

"All depends on the actors and the public."

"You will have me as a partner."

"I know what talent you have."

"For acting?"

"For declaiming. Is it a proverb we are to act?"

"Yes, but the moral of it is in the motive for which it is given, not in the comedy itself. Tell me, do you still write regularly to my father?"

"Yes. But the last three weeks he has not answered my letters."

"I received a letter from him yesterday, in which he tells me that he is very well, and that he will arrive tomorrow in Milan by train at 10:30."

Guido could not conceal his surprise now.

"Tomorrow?"

"Yes."

"Your father, who never stirs from home?"

"He is on his way back to Naples after a journey that he was obliged to take and is coming round this way to see."

"His daughter," put in Guido.

"And his son, he says."

"So that?"

"I would not have my father, upon any account, know the truth."

"The wretched truth," interrupted Guido.

"It is no use putting adjectives in everywhere. He must see us together when he comes tomorrow, and we must not betray, either by word or look, the true situation. This is what we must do."

Emma had spoken earnestly and firmly, and Guido had listened attentively. He was silent for a moment when she stopped speaking, and she began again impatiently:

"It is merely a comedy, as I told you at first, a play given for a charitable purpose. It ought not to cost you so much."

"Oh, I am quite ready and willing," said Guido, but are you not afraid that something may go wrong and compromise everything?"

"In what way?"

"Well, there are the servants."

"Send your new valet out tomorrow for a day's holiday, and then I will speak to Giuseppe."

"Very well. But supposing some friend should happen to drop in?"

"You must tell Giuseppe you are not at home to any one."

"I suppose we should go to the station to meet your father. What will every one say when they see us together?"

"They won't see us. We can go in a close carriage and drive fast."

"Your father will be here all day. No matter how unassuming he may be, don't you think the house looks very much like a bachelor's dwelling now?"

"Oh, that can soon be altered. My workable and other little things and then my music can be brought here this evening. That will all be our mise en scene, you know."

"But—"

"Oh, you have perhaps had some alterations made in other rooms?"

"No, nothing has been altered," said Guido, speaking very seriously.

"Everything is as you left it."

"By way of sentiment?"

"It was out of respect."

"A thousand thanks. Have you any other objections?"

"None whatever. The great thing is now whether we shall succeed in deceiving M. Girolanni."

"By acting a sentimental couple?"

"We must think of the past and try to remember all our nonsense during our honeymoon," said Emma sarcastically.

"Oh, I had completely forgotten all that," replied her husband promptly. They both glanced at each other questioningly, as though measuring strength like two duelists.

At the ball he was most absent-minded, and the Baroness Stefania did not know what to make of him. After two or three dances he managed during a quadrille to slip away unobserved, and on returning home he found that a complete transformation had taken place. The large drawing room, which had not been used for some time, was open, and candles were lighted everywhere. The wardrobe and cupboards, too, were all open, and there was a scent of violets. A copy of one of the newest songs was on the piano, the furniture had been moved about to give a less stiff appearance, flowers were in all the vases, and Emma herself in a pretty tea gown was just standing on tiptoe to put a small statue upon a bracket.

Was it all a dream? Emma there! And those two long years of separation, had he forgotten them and their terrible quarrel?

"Good night," said Guido as he passed through the room.

"Good night," she replied without turning round.

And yet before their marriage they had been so foolishly in love with each other. Guido had followed Emma from Florence to Naples and had passed whole nights under her window. Emma had written letters of love to him every day and had kissed him on the cheek every day and late late in the evenings. The young couple had been blissfully happy and devotedly in love with each other for three years.

One day, however, it happened that Guido chanced to meet a girl whom he had formerly very much admired, and with whom he had in the old days fancied himself deeply in love. Somehow or other Emma had got wind of this and reproached him with never having told her. Guido, angry at being detected, and also at his wife's want of confidence, put on a careless, indifferent manner.

She sent for her husband, and very calmly, without her voice trembling in the least, she announced to him that she had decided to quit him for good and to marry another.

Guido was stupefied. At first he protested and then tried to take it all as a joke and wanted to explain matters to her, but his wife answered so coldly and proudly that there was nothing left for him but to maintain a frigid silence. It seemed to him that it was beneath his dignity to plead his cause, and so he merely agreed to all her conditions and let her go, judging her to be both proud and heartless.

Emma had withdrawn from society, so her husband was sure never to meet her at the balls and theaters, where he now spent the greater part of his spare time. They had voices separating, agreed on one point, and that was to continue writing to the old father as though nothing had happened.

Guido used to put in his letters: "Emma is well, but I suppose she has given you all the news about herself. She sends her love," etc., and then Emma wrote in her letter: "Guido is very well, but very busy. He was not able to get off in order to stay with me at the sea."

And so M. Girolanni's happiness had gone on hanging by the fragile silken thread. To meet and speak to each other then thus for the first time after that supremely cruel day of their separation had been no easy matter for either of them.

Dinner was just over, and Signor Girolanni was smiling, for he felt so happy—he had had such a hearty reception, and everything seemed so very satisfactory.

Then they had been obliged to call each other by their old familiar pet names and to show those little attentions to each other which come quite naturally to a husband and wife who adore each other, as they were supposed to do, and all the time a word or an intonation of the voice recalled the past and made Guido turn pale with emotion and would bring the color into Emma's cheeks and make them both feel awkward for a moment.

The worst was to come, however, for no sooner had M. Girolanni taken an armchair comfortably in the drawing room than he began asking all kinds of embarrassing questions and making remarks which were not calculated to put the young husband and wife at their ease, considering the circumstances.

Suddenly M. Girolanni said: "Come, my children, I want to go through the house and see everything. There seems to me to be plenty of silk and velvet everywhere, but I have only glanced round. I want to see everything now."

"Come along," said Guido. "We will begin with the large drawing room."

"It's magnificent, this room," said M. Girolanni on entering. "Just the thing for a large reception. Do you have many parties?"

"Well, we used to give more than we do just now."

"Yes, yes; I understand. Your business affairs and your political engagements must take up your time a great deal, but it's a lovely room. Ah, and this is the parlor. Exquisite taste, to be sure. Did you choose the furniture, Emma?"

"No. It was Guido who chose it."

"Well, my compliments, then," said the father, turning to his son-in-law. "I suppose you are always to be found here, Emma? Are you not afraid of every one coming to make love to her, Guido?"

"I know my wife too well for that."

"And you, Emma? Are you over cautious?"

"I know my husband too well, papa."

Both those answers had been given so spontaneously that M. Girolanni was quite satisfied.

They went back into the drawing room and sat down. Both husband and wife were very absent-minded, and certainly if Signor Girolanni had been endowed with much perspicacity he would have discovered that something was wrong. Fortunately the excellent old man was not good at guessing enigmas.

"What a pity for you to leave such a beautiful house!"

"Why, papa?"

"Well, if Guido should be elected member, why, you will have to live in Rome six months of the year, and I suppose he won't leave you alone in Milan. You will have to have two houses. It will be a nuisance for you, but I shan't be sorry. If you come to Rome, I shall be able to see you at least once a month. From Naples to Rome, it is quite a short, easy journey, while from Naples to Milan—no, that is too far, too far. We shall be sure to see each other often then."

When our two actors, after conducting Signor Girolanni to the station, got into the carriage to drive home, they both involuntarily gave a sigh of relief.

The comedy was over, and they were going back again to their ordinary lives. Emma looked out of the window at the rain, and Guido did not stir. They were strangers again to each other now. By accident Guido touched his wife's arm.

"I beg your pardon," he said.

"Granted," she replied carelessly.

Strangers indeed! And yet they were now both of them going over in their minds the events of the day and recalling to themselves the sensations they had felt.

"Would you prefer driving straight to your home?" asked Guido just before they reached the place where their roads separated.

"No. I must go and help my maid to collect all the little things I put about your rooms. I will go home as soon as we have finished."

"Very well."

When they arrived, Emma went straight up stairs and through the large drawing room to her boudoir. Guido threw himself on a divan in the drawing room and pretended to be reading a newspaper. In reality he was listening to her footsteps as she moved slowly about in the other room. He saw her pass the open door once or twice.

"Are you not tired?" he called out at last. "Can I help you?"

"No, thank you. I have almost finished."

Presently she came into the drawing room and sat down very wearily. The excitement of the day had completely exhausted her. She looked round the room as though she missed something.

"It's raining still, is it not?" she asked Guido, for he had put his jacket down.

"Yes, it's still going on."

"The carriage is not there yet?"

"I really don't know, but I'll go and see."

"No; it does not matter. It was to be round in ten minutes from now."

"Shall I see you home?"

"No; it isn't worth while, thank you."

Did these ten minutes appear to them like a century or like an instant? Perhaps in a way like both. When the footman announced that the carriage was at the door, Emma rose deliberately, and walking across to the large mirror put on her hat. It took her some time to fasten it on with the pins, for her fingers were trembling slightly.

She then put her gloves on very slowly and gave a few finishing touches to herself at the glass. When she was quite ready, she turned toward Guido to say goodnight.

He had risen from his seat, and his face was deadly pale.

"Goodnight," said Emma.

Guido did not reply. She turned away and walked across the drawing room proudly without wavering an instant, her step firm, but she knew that her husband was following her. When she reached the door, she lifted her hand to raise the velvet curtain, but Guido was more prompt, and her hand touched his as he held the curtain down.

"You have forgotten to tell me that you have forgiven me, Emma," he said very quietly in a voice in which grief and passion were each struggling for the mastery.

She turned toward him abruptly and hid her face on his shoulder, for the old love had sprung up again between them with a stronger force than ever.

"You will never go away any more, darling, never?"

"No, Guido. We will fetch my mother's picture back here."

"From the Italian in Strand Magazine."

There was little immigration from Germany to this country until the political troubles of 1848 and the following years, which induced many of the revolutionists to leave their native country, and thus set an example which was soon followed.

C. O. & S. W. R. R.
Chesapeake Ohio and Southwestern R. R.

THE BEST LINE BETWEEN LOUISVILLE
AND MEMPHIS.

ALSO FROM AND TO CINCINNATI AND EVANSVILLE.

Do not purchase a Ticket—
NORTH, EAST, SOUTH OR WEST Until you have consulted an Agent of the
C. O. & S. W. R. R.

LIMITED TRAINS.
FULLMAN BUFFET CARRIAGES,
MODERN EQUIPMENT.

JOHN ECHOLS, T. H. LYNCH,
GEN. MGR. GEN. PAS. AGT.
LOUISVILLE, KY.

Mrs. S. A. LeFebvre
Bloomington, Ohio

Terrible Misery

Helpless With Rheumatism and Without Appetite

Tired Feeling and Pains Dispelled by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I was in terrible misery with rheumatism in my hips and lower limbs. I read so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla that I thought I would try it and see if it would relieve me. When I commenced I could not sit up nor even turn over in bed without help. One bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla restored my appetite so that I could eat without any distress, and I have gained rapidly in strength. I have taken four bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and I am as well as ever." Mrs. S. A. LeFebvre, Bloomington, Ohio.

Hood's Pills cure liver ills, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, sick headache, indigestion.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Sarsaparilla restored my appetite so that I could eat without any distress, and I have gained rapidly in strength. I have taken four bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and I am as well as ever." Mrs. S. A. LeFebvre, Bloomington, Ohio.

Hood's Pills cure liver ills, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, sick headache, indigestion.

O. V. R. R.

TIME CARD.

SOUTH BOUND TRAINS.

DAILY DAILY
No. 2 No. 4

Lv. Evansville..... 6:30 am 4:30 pm

Ar. Henderson..... 7:17 " 5:10 "

Princeton..... 8:13 " 6:06 "

Morganfield..... 8:35 " 6:28 "

Sturgis..... 9:03 " 6:55 "

Henshaw..... 9:40 " 7:44 "

Princeton..... 10:55 " 8:0 "

Gracey..... 11:48 " 9:41 "

Hopkinsville..... 12:05 pm 10:00 "

NORTH BOUND TRAINS.

DAILY DAILY
No. 1 No. 3

Lv. Hopkinsville..... 5:40 am 2:00 pm

Ar. Gracey..... 5:49 " 3:10 "

Princeton..... 6:25 " 4:00 "

Frederick..... 7:23 " 5:03 "

Marion..... 7:53 " 5:34 "

Sturgis..... 8:35 " 6:15 "</

LaGrippe, Indigestion, Sleepless- ness, Etc.

Yes, indeed, I can say something for the Electropoise. I have possessed it only a few months, but have found it a great relief in indigestion, torpid liver, rheumatism, nervousness, sleeplessness, effects of the grippe, etc. I am 56 years old, and have been a sufferer a long time, and found little or no relief from medicine; but the Poise has worked wonders with me even in so short a time; my health is greatly improved, and I feel like a new man. I am almost young again. Can work now and not get exhausted in a few minutes. I owe it all to the Electropoise. Have also used it in my family, and found it all that you represented it to be. My children all know its value and call for it daily for their many pains, colds and bruises. I could not part with mine under any circumstances.

As a candidate for the legislature, from the legislative district of Crittenden and Crittenden, subject Ky., the action of the Democratic party.

It seems to us there is just a little bit of hiding behind the brush in the use of the term "sound" money for "gold standard," call a spade a spade boys. Be fair.

The Cadiz Telephone thinks the Press and some other papers are inconsistent in advocating free silver now, "inasmuch as less than three years ago they were advocating a sound money platform." The Press stands where it stood three years ago. "We hold to the use of both gold and silver as the STANDARD money of the country." This is our doctrine; this is the party's doctrine. You do not find it in Mr. Carlisle's late speeches; you don't find it in Senator Lindsey's speeches; you don't find it in Mr. Watterson's editorials. They are now loudly declaring for gold, and GOLD ALONE as a STANDARD. Mr. Carlisle frankly says he has changed; the Courier-Journal says it has changed; now as the Telephone is flocking with these birds, it should be fair enough to say that it had changed also. There has been some inconsistency, brother, but don't shake your gory locks at us, look to your own footprints. Now behold the rest of these things, first and last, are they not written in the book of Chronicles of the Democracy of Trigg county, and the book thereof, was it not open in the month of June, on the 15th, Marion, Ky. when the

WOOL CARDING.
The old reliable carder is ready and doing the best work; so bring your wool and get it carded, for the fifth pound toll or seven cents per pound cash, and bring one pound of grease for every eight pounds of wool; and I do feel truly thankful to my old patrons for all past favors, though these times find me as thankful as ever before. All work guaranteed. Respectfully,
S. J. McNeill,
Salem, Ky.

In Poor Health
means so much more than you imagine—serious and fatal diseases result from trifling ailments neglected. Don't play with Nature's greatest gift—health.

Brown's Iron Bitters
It Cures
Dyspepsia, Kidney and Liver Troubles, Constipation, Bad Blood, Malaria, Nervous ailments, Women's complaints.

Get only the genuine—It has crossed red lines on the wrapper. All others are cheap imitations. On receipt of two stamps we will send you a Free Bottle of Brown's Iron Bitters. Write to us for the stamps. Address: BROWN'S CHEMICAL CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

WALKER & OLIVE,
Furniture,
Coffins
and Building Lumber.

AMBITION.

A youth in the bloom of his manhood lay in indolent grace on the shining sand and gazed out on the silvery bay. As it dashed its foam on a distant strand. The southern breeze disturbed his curls. As it kissed his brow in its balmy way. And the spirit of winds its wings unfurled. As it danced on the waves to the dash of the spray. "My life is a dream," he said, with a smile. "Of pleasure and ease and all that is fair." And he mused. "But I must have fame," he said. And he sprang from his feet with a resolute air. The waves stirred, and the winds danced on. And the youth drew back with a gesture of scorn. And the man of ambition went up from the bay! —Lydia B. Walsh in Home and Country.

AN INTERVIEW.

Guido certainly looked perfectly happy. Indeed any one would have thought that he had not a care in the world. He was on his way home from a political banquet, where he had been explaining in detail his programme to his electors. He had been complimented on all sides, and added to this the dinner itself had been excellent and the champagne all that could be desired. Guido felt quite easy in his own mind about the result of the election, and now he was going to a ball to which he would enjoy a flirtation with the young ladies of the district. He was of the opinion that he was a success in every way. He was of the opinion that he was a success in every way.

For Buckner, Perry 2, 3. For Alford, Russell 1, the. Alford, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

AMBITION.

A youth in the bloom of his manhood lay in indolent grace on the shining sand and gazed out on the silvery bay. As it dashed its foam on a distant strand. The southern breeze disturbed his curls. As it kissed his brow in its balmy way. And the spirit of winds its wings unfurled. As it danced on the waves to the dash of the spray. "My life is a dream," he said, with a smile. "Of pleasure and ease and all that is fair." And he mused. "But I must have fame," he said. And he sprang from his feet with a resolute air. The waves stirred, and the winds danced on. And the youth drew back with a gesture of scorn. And the man of ambition went up from the bay! —Lydia B. Walsh in Home and Country.

AN INTERVIEW.

Guido certainly looked perfectly happy. Indeed any one would have thought that he had not a care in the world. He was on his way home from a political banquet, where he had been explaining in detail his programme to his electors. He had been complimented on all sides, and added to this the dinner itself had been excellent and the champagne all that could be desired. Guido felt quite easy in his own mind about the result of the election, and now he was going to a ball to which he would enjoy a flirtation with the young ladies of the district. He was of the opinion that he was a success in every way. He was of the opinion that he was a success in every way.

For Buckner, Perry 2, 3. For Alford, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

AMBITION.

A youth in the bloom of his manhood lay in indolent grace on the shining sand and gazed out on the silvery bay. As it dashed its foam on a distant strand. The southern breeze disturbed his curls. As it kissed his brow in its balmy way. And the spirit of winds its wings unfurled. As it danced on the waves to the dash of the spray. "My life is a dream," he said, with a smile. "Of pleasure and ease and all that is fair." And he mused. "But I must have fame," he said. And he sprang from his feet with a resolute air. The waves stirred, and the winds danced on. And the youth drew back with a gesture of scorn. And the man of ambition went up from the bay! —Lydia B. Walsh in Home and Country.

AN INTERVIEW.

Guido certainly looked perfectly happy. Indeed any one would have thought that he had not a care in the world. He was on his way home from a political banquet, where he had been explaining in detail his programme to his electors. He had been complimented on all sides, and added to this the dinner itself had been excellent and the champagne all that could be desired. Guido felt quite easy in his own mind about the result of the election, and now he was going to a ball to which he would enjoy a flirtation with the young ladies of the district. He was of the opinion that he was a success in every way. He was of the opinion that he was a success in every way.

For Buckner, Perry 2, 3. For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

AMBITION.

A youth in the bloom of his manhood lay in indolent grace on the shining sand and gazed out on the silvery bay. As it dashed its foam on a distant strand. The southern breeze disturbed his curls. As it kissed his brow in its balmy way. And the spirit of winds its wings unfurled. As it danced on the waves to the dash of the spray. "My life is a dream," he said, with a smile. "Of pleasure and ease and all that is fair." And he mused. "But I must have fame," he said. And he sprang from his feet with a resolute air. The waves stirred, and the winds danced on. And the youth drew back with a gesture of scorn. And the man of ambition went up from the bay! —Lydia B. Walsh in Home and Country.

AN INTERVIEW.

Guido certainly looked perfectly happy. Indeed any one would have thought that he had not a care in the world. He was on his way home from a political banquet, where he had been explaining in detail his programme to his electors. He had been complimented on all sides, and added to this the dinner itself had been excellent and the champagne all that could be desired. Guido felt quite easy in his own mind about the result of the election, and now he was going to a ball to which he would enjoy a flirtation with the young ladies of the district. He was of the opinion that he was a success in every way. He was of the opinion that he was a success in every way.

For Buckner, Perry 2, 3. For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

AMBITION.

A youth in the bloom of his manhood lay in indolent grace on the shining sand and gazed out on the silvery bay. As it dashed its foam on a distant strand. The southern breeze disturbed his curls. As it kissed his brow in its balmy way. And the spirit of winds its wings unfurled. As it danced on the waves to the dash of the spray. "My life is a dream," he said, with a smile. "Of pleasure and ease and all that is fair." And he mused. "But I must have fame," he said. And he sprang from his feet with a resolute air. The waves stirred, and the winds danced on. And the youth drew back with a gesture of scorn. And the man of ambition went up from the bay! —Lydia B. Walsh in Home and Country.

AN INTERVIEW.

Guido certainly looked perfectly happy. Indeed any one would have thought that he had not a care in the world. He was on his way home from a political banquet, where he had been explaining in detail his programme to his electors. He had been complimented on all sides, and added to this the dinner itself had been excellent and the champagne all that could be desired. Guido felt quite easy in his own mind about the result of the election, and now he was going to a ball to which he would enjoy a flirtation with the young ladies of the district. He was of the opinion that he was a success in every way. He was of the opinion that he was a success in every way.

For Buckner, Perry 2, 3. For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2.

For Alfard, Russell 1, the. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total 2. Alfard, Latchler 1. Total