MONEY IS KING.

The Destiny of Nations is Shaped By Money Monarchs.

Kings, Princes, Statesmen and Politicians Yield to the Powerful Rothschilds.

And They Make Peace or War To Suit Their Interest.

(New York Tribune.)

Although during the last two or three weeks of Cretan imbroglio the telegraphic dispatches have kept people on this side of the Atlantic so abundantly informed regarding the opinions and intentions of the rulers and principal statesmen of Europe as completely to mystify persons of average intelligence—since each fresh dispatch published has conflicted in the most flagrant manner with those that have previously appeared—yet, for some reason or another, the American people have been left in complete ignorance concerning the views of those whose opinions are of immeasurably greater importance in the present crisis, namely, the so-called "Princes of Finance" in London, Paris, Berlin and Vienna. It is they who, far more than monarch or premier, control the situation of the moment, and who hold in their hands the keys of the temple of Bellona. The question as to whether the great gates of the latter are to remain open or shut is determined no longer by the caprice of an Emperor, or by the whim of a Prime Minister, but by those who dominate the money market.

There are times when the interests of these gentry of what is known as "La Haute Banque" would be advanced by an outbreak of war, as affording an opportunity of profitable investment in neutral countries. It was this that induced them to sanction the conflict between France and Germany in 1870, and between Turkey and Russia seven years later. Just at the present moment, however, a war would disturb their calculations and mar success of a number of undertakings which they have in hand, and the result is that they are determined to preserve the peace of Europe at all costs, no matter whether it is Turkey or Greece that has to be coerced in order to attain this end. And that is why the world in the last ten days has been called upon to witness the astounding and otherwise inexplicable spectacle of warships of the great Powers of Europe being used to bombard the unfortunate Christian inhabitants of Crete when endeavoring to defend their families and their homes from massacre, out rage and destruction by the barbarous Turks.

The shills hurried by the allied fleet at the Cretans and at their Grecian sympathizers were fired in defiance not only of public opinion of the entire civilized world—popular sympathy on both sides of the Atlantic being all with the Cretans and the Greeks—but likewise in direct opposition to the inclinations of the various reigning houses of Europe. The Empress-mother of Russia is the favorite sister of King George of Greece.

Moreover, the Crown Prince of Greece, married to one of Queen Victoria's most cherished granddaughters, is a particular favorite of Her British Majesty, and it is well known that her sympathies, as well as those of the Prince and Princess of Wales, are all with King George and his family in the present crisis. This did not, however, prevent England's magnificent iron clads from bombarding the Greeks and Cretans alike, from training her guns on ships and towns over which the Greek flag was waving and from taking a leading part in coercing the plucky little kingdom of the Hellenes.

With no crowned head in Europe does King George stand on a more intimate footing than with Francis Joseph of Austria. Yet the navy of Austria's chivalrous Kaiser joined that of Queen Victoria and of Emperor Nicholas in endeavoring to reduce Greece to subjection, and received the co-operation of the fleet of France—a nation which, in the early part of the present century, gave expression to its enthusiastic admiration for Greece by actually sending an army of 8,000 men under the command of Marshal Maison to help her in her war of independence against the Turks.

This shows how much the influence of family ties among the reigning houses of Europe has been overruled by those who profess to see therein an assurance of international amity and alliance. If the guns of the allied fleet have fired upon the Greek flag, it was at the instance of the great financiers of Paris, London, Berlin and Vienna. These gentry have nothing to gain, but on the contrary a vast amount to lose by a full-fledged war just at present between Turkey and Greece. Almost the whole of the enormous national debt of the Ottoman Empire, which, by dint of conversation and reorganization, has been somewhat reduced from its original figure of $1,000,000,000 held in France and in England, mainly by the Rothschilds, their associates and their clients. They purchased the bonds for a mere song at the time when Turkey first defaulted, and since then they have been gradually increasing in value, thanks to the marked improvement in the finances of the Sublime Porte effected by the international commission of the foreign debt, organized at Constantinople to look after the interests of the bondholders. Any war in which Turkey were to become involved at the present moment would destroy all the good already achieved in this direction, throw back the Porte into the monetary morass from which she is just emerging, and offer to the Sultan the opportunity of repudiating the liabilities of his Empire, a course to which she is incited by his Church, which teaches in the most definite manner that it is unnecessary for a follower of the Prophet to fulfill any obligations contracted toward Christians or Jews.

There are relatively few Turkish bonds held in Austria and in Russia. But the Rothschilds and the syndicate of bankers of which they are the leading spirits in Paris and London, control the finances of these two nations to a degree of which the American public have no idea, and the Muscovite government, as well as the governments at Vienna and Pesth, is compelled, whether it likes it or not, to defer to the wishes of those who hold it in bondage on the banks of the Seine and within the sound of Bow Bells.

Nearly the whole of the national debt of Greece is held at Berlin chiefly by a syndicate controlled by the great German banking house of Bleichroder. The debt amounts to about $180,000,000, a large sum for a country which yields a State revenue of only some $15,000,000.

In one word Messrs. Bleichroder and their fellow financiers at Berlin are of the opinion that the Greek government has no right whatsoever to spend a cent in endeavoring to protect its countrymen in Crete from the Turkish oppression and outrage, as long as the interest of the debt remains unpaid in full.

Curiously enough, the Bleichroders and their associates at Berlin have found in Emperor William an enthusiastic supporter of their policy toward the Greek government in the present crisis.

Another illustration of the all pre-dominating influence of the "Haute Banque" is afforded by the case of Egypt. The British government manifested but scanty interest in the Land of the Nile or in its finances until the Rothschilds were induced to float a Khedival loan, and to devote their attention to Egyptian bonds. The latter were at the time very low, something like 30 to 40 below par, being regarded as a risky investment, in spite of the high rate of interest, which amounted all the way from 7 to 10 per cent. By degrees the Rothschilds increased their holdings, and the British government, which had been so indifferent to the country that it had actually declined to take any share in the construction of the Suez canal, began suddenly to develop a marked interest in the affairs of the Delta. Little by little it extended its grasp upon Egypt and when the natives rebelled against the idea of foreign domination, in the avowed interests of the foreign bondholders, and announced their intention of repudiating the national debt, the English fleet at once bombarded Alexandria, and sending out an army of 20,000 men took possession of the entire country, which it has held ever since. From the moment that the military occupation of Egypt by England began, the bonds went up from 40 below to above par, since the British government, by assuming control of the administration of the country, practically became responsible for the payment of the interest of the debt. It was a splendid coup for the Rothschild clique in Paris and London, but there is no doubt that the possession of Egypt by England has contributed more than anything else to embitter the French against Great Britain and consequently to impair the strength and the influence of the latter in what is known as the concert of Europe.

All this, however, tends to show what has been pointed out above, namely, that the destinies of Europe nowadays are controlled, not by monarchs, but by business men, and that the council which decides upon the vital questions of peace or war is composed, not of statesmen and politicians, but of financiers, who sacrifice without compunction the welfare and aspiration of nations to the selfish pecuniary interests of La Haute Banque which holds the people of Europe in bondage like some Nineteenth century Pharaoh.

BOTH MUST HANG.

Gov. Bradley Refuses to Interfere in the Walling Case.

Frankfort, Ky., March 15.—Scott Jackson and Alonzo Walling will be hanged at Alexandria on Saturday, March 20, for the murder of Pearl Bryan.

A great many people think that Jackson is more responsible for the crime than Walling, and a strong effort has been made to get the Governor to commute the sentence of the court, so far as Walling is concerned, to life imprisonment. After a thorough investigation the Governor wrote the following on Walling's petition:

"The jury were the judges of the credibility of the witnesses and their verdict should not be disturbed unless flagrantly against the evidence. The circuit court and appellate court have reviewed the case and declined to interfere. I see no reason why I should commute the sentence, and therefore decline to do so."

Dangers of the Grip

The greatest danger of a grip is of its assuming pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for the grippe, we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventive of that dread disease. It will effect a permanent cure in less than any other treatment. The 25 and 50c sizes at Orme's drug store.

A Bank President.

Paducah, Ky., March 16.—Former President Milton G. Cope, of the First National Bank of Paducah, is a forger to the extent of $13,000, according to the bank officials here. This was discovered a day or two ago but the secret was carefully guarded, and the facts are now given to the public for the first time.

Mr. Cope, it is charged, by forging the names of gentlemen of Mayfield, secured $13,000. The name of R. A. Mays, Cashier of the City National Bank of Mayfield, and W. J. Stayden, of Covington & Co., were forged to a note for $8,000. There were also two notes of $3,500 each, on G. R. Allen and R. E. Allen, prominent tobacco men.

CONGRESS CONVENES.

The President Message Confined to the Tariff Question Alone.

Washington, March 15.—The House of Representatives was fully organized today, by the election of speaker, clerk, doorkeeper, sergeant at arms and other officers. It consists of 357 members, of whom 209 served in the last Congress, while 152 have never served in congress before. Politically classified there are 206 Republicans, 122 Democrats and 29 fusion silverites and Populists. There were 341 of them present today. The vote on the election of speaker was:

For Reed, rep., 199; for Bailey, dem., 114; for Bell, pop., 21; and for Mr. Newlands 1.

The President's message is devoted exclusively to the tariff.

The total receipts for the last three fiscal years he said had been insufficient to meet the past three fiscal years he said had been insufficient to meet the expenditures by $137,811,000, and the interest on the public debt had increased by $11,593,000. This condition was for congress to correct. Ample revenue should be provided for the expenses of the government, the prompt payment of pensions and the liquidation of the public debt. The necessity of the hour was the enactment of a tariff bill that would provide ample revenues and render to labor in every field of useful labor liberal wages.

"Before the transaction of other business," the message concluded, "let us provide sufficient revenue."

It is rumored that the patronage will not be handed out very liberally until the tariff bill is passed.

The selection of Bailey by the Democrats as their choice for speaker means that the brilliant young Texan is to be the leader on that side.

The Arbitration Treaty.

The newspapers tell of a big meeting held at Cooper Union, New York last week, to pass resolutions endorsing the proposed arbitration treaty with England. It is said that Cooper Union scarcely ever contained a larger or more thoroughly cosmopolitan audience than crowded its space at this meeting. Mayor Strong made a brief address advocating the treaty and formal resolutions, calling upon the Senate to ratify the document were introduced. Before taking the vote, which was, according to arrangement, to be solid for the resolutions, permission was granted to Mr. Lynn to address the meeting. He said:

"Before adopting the resolutions we should stop and pause; who wants this arbitration?"

He then went on to say that England had broken the treaty of 1812, and raised troops and built war vessels for the Confederacy during the civil war and so again broke our treaty.

"The spirit of New York is against such resolutions." (Great cheering.) "I care not for the depreciation of securities. I care more for the depreciation of American patriotism. We can have no peace with the robber nation, England. Tonight the Greeks are defending their humble brothers in Crete while England with arms and guns is forcing that unfortunate people by coercion under the Turk. (Applause.) A treaty with a government which has permitted the Armenians to be slaughtered by thousands! (Applause.) A treaty with a nation that has broken every obligation and violated every pledge of honor she ever made. (Applause.) We are a peaceful nation, and we maintain that peaceful attitude with honor that we have always maintained. We ask no war, but in the words of the great Washington, and which this call does not incorporate tonight, 'We seek no entangling alliances with foreign nations.' (Applause.) A treaty that upon its face reads five years and means forever. (Applause.)

By the time Mr. Lynn had finished he had ocular evidence that the people were with him, and there was such a unanimous endorsement of his position that the leaders of the meeting would not permit a vote on resolutions condemning the treaty. Mid a storm of "noes" that drowned everything the resolutions endorsing the treaty were declared passed. A fair count would have shown that this body of representative New Yorkers were bitterly opposed to the treaty; and this is the honest sentiment of nine-tenths of the thinking American people.

TWO MEN KILLED

A Bloody Affair at Hopkinsville. Police man and His Slayer Dead

Hopkinsville, Ky., March 13.—Henry Lane one of the most efficient policemen of this city, was killed to night at 9 o'clock by George Merritt, who shot him to death in front of Lane's saloon on Seventh street. Merritt was also killed, it is supposed by one of two officers, their names being Moorman and Cravens.

George Merritt had been drinking and was standing in the front door of Lane's saloon and was acting in a disorderly manner, when officer Lane stepped up and told him he had better go home and behave himself. Merritt used an ugly oath and at the same time pulled a pistol and shot Lane. The ball entered his left eye, penetrated his brain and killed him instantly. With the smoking pistol in his hand Merritt started to leave the spot, when two more shots rang out on the air and the excited crowd saw Merritt fall on his face on the pavement, with a bullet through his heart.

Simultaneously with the firing of these shots, police officers Moorman and Cravens appeared on the scene, and it is generally thought that the shot that killed Merritt came from either one of their pistols, although this has not been determined, as the coroner's jury is now holding an inquest on both bodies.

The sentiment of this community is with the murdered officer who was killed in cold blood by Merritt, who it is said received his just deserts in being killed.

BITTEN BY A MULE

A Caldwell County Man in Danger of Hydrophobia.

W. H. McCargo, of Scottsburg, was badly bitten by a rabid mule Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The mule became very unruly and Mr. McCargo was trying to conquer him when he was bitten. The animal caught him by the index finger and bit it off, after first kicking him in the right hip and trying to bite him in the leg. Mr. McCargo was brought to Princeton and the mangled finger was amputated by R. S. Coleman.

Mr. McCargo is getting along all right, and unless hydrophobia sets in he will be out among the people in the near future.

He is well known in Princeton and the people sympathize with him in his suffering. It seems that the mule had been bitten by a mad dog, which of course the sufferer did not know, else he would not have attempted to work the animal.—Princeton Republican.

COMMISSARY

Is Carried by the Candidates in Graves County.

The candidates in Graves county have introduced a new wrinkle in the canvass, which is now in full blast. They carry their own hotel on wheels and eat when they get hungry. The new device is nothing more nor less than a traveling commissary department, which consists of a covered wagon, cooking utensils, with first and second quartermasters John Knight and Boyd Nance, of near Pottsville, in charge. Though the former is a Populist and the latter an enthusiast over Edward Bellamy's "Looking Backward," they say they do a fair business with the Democratic candidates.

Dig down to the cause of your sickness, if you want to get well and stay well. Most likely it's indigestion, the irritating poisons of fermenting, putrid food, left in the stomach by indigestion, cause headache, neuralgia, nervousness, dizziness, stomach ache, nausea, irritability, and all the other well known symptoms of indigestion.

They also cause many pains and disorders which are often laid to other causes and hence are not easily cured. But as soon as the poisons are removed, all these symptoms and disorders disappear, because there is nothing left to cause them. Nothing succeeds in this like Shaker Digestive Cordial, because it prevents the uncooked food from fermenting in the stomach, and also helps the stomach to digest its food.

A LIFE SENTENCE

Wiley Leeper Goes to the Penitentiary for Life.

Wiley Leeper, the negro who was the leader and chief actor in the killing of Tom White, some months ago in Caldwell county, was given a life sentence last week at Princeton. Leeper, with a number of other persons, went to White's cabin and called him out, ostensibly to give him a whipping. White suspected that something was wrong and returned to his house and fastened the door, and was followed by Leeper and some one in the crowd shot and killed White. Of the trial the Princeton Banner says:

From the first a considerable interest was manifested and large crowds filled the court room. The plea was "not guilty" and the defence relied on the grounds that while Wiley was one of the leaders in the mob which murdered Tom White, still he went to the latter's house only to chastise him for whipping his wife, and that he, Wiley Leeper, did not go into the house or have anything to do with the killing of Tom White. The Commonwealth, however, made out a strong case against the accused, and there is general satisfaction at the verdict of the jury in sending Leeper up for life.

THAT OPEN LETTER.

A Friend of Rev. Fox Comes to His Defense in the Matter.

Ed. Press: Will you please allow me a little space in your valuable paper, as I wish to speak a few words in favor of my friend Henry Fox in reply to the Open Letter I see in the issue of March 11 from Mr. O. T. Justice. I expect I know Mr. Fox as well as Mr. Justice. I notice Mr. Justice pitched "honorable christian gentleman" in Mr. Fox's face several times. Now I expect Mr. Fox is as much an honorable christian gentleman as the writer of the letter.

In regard to Cockeysville church I was born and raised in that community and happen to know more about those matters than Justice. Mr. Fox has been a builder of and a mother of that church for several years, and in time of his first pastorate he had no horse and foisted it from Piney creek church, where he lived, to fill his appointment at Cockeysville. I know that Mr. Fox was unceremoniously discharged from Cockeysville church, and it was through malice and envy by some few of the members, while he was liked by the majority of the members. One thing I know, Mr. Fox is more of an honorable christian gentleman than those members that are persecuting him.

Mr. Justice take your Bible and turn to Matthew 12 chap. and read from 35 to 40 v. Now, Mr. Justice, I am no church member nor never was, but if I was I would never write such a letter about one of my Baptist brothers as you have done.

In conclusion I am a Fox man and I expect to speak well of him as I think him an honorable christian gentleman.

Hood's Sarsaparilla has achieved a great success in warding off sickness which, if allowed to progress, would have undermined the whole system and given disease a strong foothold to cause much suffering and even to threaten death. Hood's Sarsaparilla has done all this and even more. It has been taken in thousands of cases which were thought to be incurable and after a fair trial has effected wonderful cures, bringing health, and strength to the afflicted.

Noah Franklin has been indicted for the murder of Daisy Sullivan in Marshall county. The case is in some respects like the killing of Pearl Bryan. Franklin was paying court to Miss Sullivan. One night as she was passing through a hallway from one room to another, at her home, some one hid behind a rose bush in the yard, shot and killed her. Suspicion pointed to Franklin and it was supposed that she had been killed to hide her shame. After examining about one hundred witnesses, the grand jury charges Franklin with the terrible deed. The accused had always borne a good reputation.

Obituary.

Hazel Elkins, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. James Elkins, died at his home January 28, 1897, after a few weeks' illness, aged 18 months.

Again the angel of death comes and lays its cold hand upon a mother's sweet flower, which withers, fades and dies; yet it shall bloom again in the land of eternal bliss, where flowers immortal never fade.

Mysterious indeed that an all wise God sees fit to call one so lovely as little Hazel, to try the realities of an unknown world; but such is the king dom of God. Parents weep not for him for your loss is his eternal gain. A loved one from us is gone, A voice we love is still, A place is vacant in our home Which never can be filled.

God in His wisdom has recalled The boon His love had given, And though the body moulders here The soul is safe in heaven.

Obituary.

Mr. W. C. L. Moore, of Repton, Ky., died of heart disease and dropsy at his residence on Monday morning, March 8, 1897, between daybreak and sunrise, and the remains were interred at Mount Zion on Wednesday, March 10th.

He had been a great sufferer for many months before he was confined to his bed, but being a man of undaunted courage and energy, he succeeded in overcoming his affliction until the 15th day of November, 1896, at which time he succumbed to its infirmities and became and confirmed invalid, suffering at intervals the most excruciating and intense agony, until death relieved him of his misery.

Mr. Moore bore his afflictions with the greatest degree of patience and fortitude. How he did this will be a question of conjecture, and hard for the unconverted to understand, but it will be an easy problem for those who have accepted Christ as their Saviour when I explain to them that the deceased was a child of the "King" and sustained a ring his illness by a "Friend that stoeketh closer than a brother." It is a fact that is generally known, and more especially by his intimate friends, and near neighbors, that our dear brother made no pretensions or public demonstration prior to the 20th day of August, 1896, that would indicate a profession of faith in Christ; but is a fact, the mention of which gives the writer the most profound gratification, that on the date above mentioned at a protracted meeting conducted by Revs. L. F. Price and H. S. Bennetts in a tent near our departed brother's residence; that during that meeting our deceased brother was converted and saved, evidence of which was given in his daily walk thereafter.

We are told in Holy Writ that "by their fruits ye shall know them," and that "We may know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren," and Mr. Moore gave evidence of the great at degree of brotherly love.

Among his many good traits of character he had one which was especially commendable, that of charity. A beggar was never known to leave our subject's door without being fed, unless he was known to be an impostor. Mr. Moore was an affectionate husband, a kind father, a good neighbor, and a good citizen; and in this connection it will be nothing more than the courtesy due them to state that the wife and children of the deceased, and also the neighbors, were unusually attentive to him during his entire illness, and every means that could be devised by the tender solicitude of doting children for the restoration of his health were resorted to, without avail, and when death struck the dear old father, just before he passed into oblivion he arose in his bed and told brother Thomas Henry that he had seen the most beautiful vision, and the most dazzlingly beautiful lights he had ever beheld. He said language was inadequate to describe what he saw, and that he was both ready and anxious to meet his Creator.

Mr. Moore was born on the 22d day of October, 1822, and was in the seventy fifth year of his age when he died. His birth place is in Crittenden county, about one fourth of a mile from Repton, Ky., being only about one mile from where he died.

Silverites, Attention.

Another Meeting is Called for Deliberation and Consultation

We the undersigned Populists and silver Republicans of this county, are for a union of the other silver forces of the county on a county and representative ticket, with the Democrats, on a basis that is reasonable and just to all, and therefore, if the Democrats are still willing to tender us a fair division of the said county ticket, we would be willing in regard to arrangement of ticket and device, that we nominate our man and put them under our device, and let the Democrats do the same with regard to their putting them under their device, and each party agree to instruct its voters how to vote for both tickets; or that the candidates nominated by us be allowed to say where their names shall be printed on the ballot.

We believe that principles come first and devices last in effecting a fusion.

Now we ask all fellow Populists, silver Republicans, and Prohibitionists of the county who wish to unite with the silver forces under one banner and gain a grand victory this fall, to come out to Marion next Monday, March 20th, and let us meet promptly at 11 o'clock and settle among ourselves this question, which has caused so much vexation, in a manner which will be satisfactory to all, as we can not afford to divide our forces in the face of the enemy and be defeated. Mr. W. J. L. Hughes has a card in this paper announcing his candidacy for Circuit Court Clerk. He served one term, preceding H. A. Hayer, in the office, and his work as clerk clearly demonstrated his fitness for the place. He made a splendid officer. He is a good citizen and a deserving man.

Mr. John T. Franks announces his candidacy for county clerk. The county never had a better sheriff or one who has grown more popular in the discharge of official duty. He is well qualified in every way for the office to which he aspires, and judging the future by the past, the conclusion may readily be drawn that if he were elected he would make an efficient, faithful officer.

We announce Mr. David Carter as a candidate for Jailer, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Mr. Carter is one of the substantial citizens of Union precinct. He is a good man in all respects, and is worthy the confidence of the people. He desires the party to consider his claims, and if thought worthy, he will greatly appreciate the support of the people.

Henry Watterson is so irate that he is calling the country newspapers hard names. The rural roosters have been gaffing the wild cock, since he lost his job as cock of the walk, so he is now calling the country newspapers hard names. THE LEGISLATURE.

Law-Maker Assembles at the Capital and Begin Business.

The Legislature convened in extra session at noon Saturday. The routine matters incident to the organization was about all that was done the first day, except the reading of the Governor's message.

W. H. Lawson, of Louisville, was elected assistant clerk room keeper of the House; the new members were sworn in.

Gov. Bradley's message goes fully into the subjects proposed for legislation, in his proclamation calling the special session. He lays special emphasis on the necessity of legislation to prevent mob violence. He recommends that any officer of the law who suffers a prisoner to be taken from his custody by a mob should forfeit his office, and that the officer in charge of a prisoner be authorized to arm the prisoner for resistance to a mob. He renews his former recommendation that counties be made liable for damages in cases of mob violence. For relief of the State's financial embarrassments he recommends an increase in the tax rates, and in the license fees of whiskey dealers, distillers, tobacco dealers, billiard tables, etc. He proposes a number of changes by way of reducing the cost of criminal prosecutions and suggests a general reduction of salaries and the cutting off of some useless offices. He recommends the abandonment of the Eddyville prison and the creation of the office of bank inspector.

An effort is being made to patch up peace between Brailley and Hunter. Attorney General Taylor, of Ohio, was in Frankfort Tuesday and held a conference with the governor, and it is stated that his mission was to arrange a truce so that Hunter might get all the Republican votes next Tuesday when the ballot for United States Senator is taken.

The House has passed a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee to visit and investigate the Eddyville prison. A bill has been introduced to abolish the branch penitentiary and convert it into a house of reform.

The Republican caucus, Saturday night, nominated Dr. Hunter for United States Senator. The vote was Hunter, 38; Holt, 15; Lewis, 5; Boyle, 5; Yerkes, 2.

Dr. Deboe and Representative Blackburn both voted for Hunter.

Frankfort, Ky., March 10.—At a meeting of the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners this morning Gov. Bradley moved that in view of the investigation by the State Inspector and the supplemental investigation of Commissioners Stone, Taylor, and Finley, that Warden Happy, of the branch penitentiary, be requested to resign. Treasurer Long offered an amendment: that both Happy and Clerk Canfield be requested to resign. Gen. Taylor's substitute was adopted. Commissioners Stone, Taylor and Finley voted for it and Bradley and Long against it.

Dr. Gardner was this morning appointed to succeed Supt. Letcher at the Hopkinsville Lunatic Asylum, and G. M. Stone, of Grayson, was appointed to succeed Mine Inspector Norwood.

HIGH WATER.

The Mississippi River Discounts the Records.

Memphis, Tenn., March 14.—The Mississippi river continues to rise and the situation in the lowlands of Arkansas opposite this city is very serious. Tonight the river stands at 46.3 feet, a rise of seven tenths since last night. This is the highest record since the establishment of the Weather Office here in 1872, and since the sinking of the lowlands of Missouri, Arkansas and Tennessee, by the earthquake many years ago. The Government gauge today recorded 36.3 feet above the low water mark, but owing to a change in the gauge system since the previous high waters this would read on the old gauge 37.2 feet. The high water mark on the old gauge was 36.6 feet made in the flood of 1890.

The Mississippi river broke through the levee at Marion, Ark., spreading over a large section of country.

Vessels are engaged in rescuing people and stock from the overflowed sections of Arkansas.

Memphis, Mar. 16.—The river continues to rise slowly. The change in the situation in the past twenty-four hours has been for the worse. Localities that were expected up to the last moment to withstand the flood are now under water. People who thought they were safe from the angry waters find themselves hemmed in. From every direction come reports of disaster. Over at Marion and adjacent country 400 people are lined up on the railroad track, over which occasional waves sweep that threaten to carry off the desperate people and live stock that find a precarious foothold. Along the other railroads leading out of this city into Arkansas a similar condition exists. At President's Island from fifty to a hundred people were this morning stranded in water and praying for a boat. Nearly 1000 people have been brought to this city. Many rumors of wholesale drowning are current. The Arkansas and Red rivers are booming. Great alarm is felt throughout the Mississippi valley. Untold thousands of dollars worth of property has been swept away, and hundreds of human lives are in danger.

TOLU.

Edgar Bozeman returned home from Clarksville, Tenn. Friday; he has been looking after corn.

Miss Laura McFarlan and daughter, and Miss Rena Hodge of E'town, Illa, spent a few days in our midst last week.

Mr. E. E. Thurman is still very sick, so the school is put off to some future time.

R. A. Moore has a position in the house of T. S. Croft & Co.

The question has been asked, why did Charley Bozeman resign his office so soon. It is because he is too staunch a Democrat to hold a fourth class post office under a Republican President.

There is some talk of getting a private school here this fall. There is nothing to prevent Tolu having a high school.

Miss Nellie Hale of Fords Ferry is visiting C. J. Bozeman's family.

Miss Minnie Bennett, of Salem is visiting friends here.

There will be a free silver club organized at Casey Fork school house the 4th Saturday night. E. B. Moore will make the opening speech.

"Get H. Young to order your books for you."

Miss Gerlie Nudd, a daughter of Mrs. Nunn, came down last week to attend school.

One house, a lot of farming implements and about 450 bushels corn, was taken from the island last Sunday night.

Something near 9,000 bushels of corn is being raised from the water on the Black farm.

S. B. Weldon bought the house and lot on corner Main and Broadway streets, formerly owned by Anthony Murphy.

CARRSVILLE.

Albert Likens has gone to New Orleans with his potatoes; he shipped on steamer Buckeye State one thousand bags.

Hon. T. J. Nunn will address the silver clubs of this place this evening.

J. B. Champion, candidate for Representative is in town.

Charley Hughes, the Paducah grocer, was in town.

Since McKinley had been inaugurated even the Democrats can't hold a private meeting here without some of the colored population being present.

Why not have R. C. Walker for our next Representative?

Our school closed its winter term last week; the spring term will begin March 29.

We have had a splendid school. Prof. Boyd and Stevens have done good work and given good satisfaction all around. Mr. Stevens had some nice work in his room, and on Thursday, the last day, he had quite a number of visitors and they were well entertained.

Prof. Boyd has had some fine work done in his room as any teacher could expect, and there never was a teacher better liked by his pupils; on the closing day he had some very interesting exercises, and on the following evening the closing exercises were held at the C. P. church with the following:

KENTUCKY CROP REPORT.

The Condition of Crops and Live Stock March 1, 1897.

The March report is made up from the replies received from 67 correspondents representing one hundred counties.

The counties failing to report are Allen, Barbour, Casey, Floyd, Garrard, Greenup, Hickman, Jackson, Johnson, Knott, Lee, Leslie, Livingston, Magoffin, Martin, McCracken, McLean, Menafee and Perry.

WHEAT.

Notwithstanding several trying or deals the wheat crop passes the winter with conditions averaging 88. On December 1 last the condition was 101, and March 1, 1895, the condition was 64.

Out of 144 replies received to question, "Has wheat suffered from any cause during the winter?" 118 answered affirmatively and 24 answered no. The cause generally assigned is sudden and hard freezing while with out snow protection. The effect has naturally been more marked on the late portion of the crop and in many cases the condition of part of the crop is reported precarious in the extreme. Early wheat is looking well though in a number of cases it is infested with Hessian fly and considerable apprehension of danger from this cause has been felt.

LIVE STOCK.

Abundant cheap food and mainly open weather during the winter combine to make an excellent condition of live stock at this time.

No contagious or infectious diseases is reported prevalent with the exception of the ever prevailing cholera and as to this, 91 correspondents report a loss from cholera and thirty against 62 who report cholera present.

The manner in which many correspondents speak of cholera as being present leads to the conclusion that the loss of hogs is due to a number of other ailments likely to appear among hogs when in a low state of vitality and not to genuine cases of cholera.

The supply of horses continues in excess of the demand while cattle and sheep are scarce and higher. Hogs, while plentiful in most sections, are in good demand.

RAINS AND FLOODS.

Recent heavy rains have wrought great damage, both to crops in low lands and in washing the soil. The damage to hemp in shock and stack has been very heavy, and farm work has been practically at a standstill for several weeks.

FRUIT PROSPECTS.

What information is furnished on this score is largely to the effect that peaches are badly injured or killed, Mr. H. F. Hillenmeyer, of the Blue Grass Nurseries, is not inclined to this opinion. He considers the prospect for all kinds of fruit above the average for this period.

A REQUEST.

This Bureau greatly desires to have a correct and intelligent report from each county in the State during the season, covering the planting and maturing of the various crops, and will appreciate voluntary offers of services in those counties given as not reporting in the beginning of this report. Though the labor will be without pecuniary reward, the consciousness of a duty well performed should impel the agriculturists of the State to see that their county does its part in this matter.

NEW CANDIDATES.

FOR CIRCUIT CLERK

TO THE VOTERS OF CRITTENDEN
COUNTY:

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Circuit Court Clerk, subject to the action of the Republican party. All I ask of the committee is to give me case due consideration and finally act in accordance with their own sense of duty,
and I will be satisfied with the result.
If I am nominated and elected I shall most heartily appreciate the favor and shall endeavor to the utmost of my ability to discharge my duty faithfully and with such thoroughness and impartiality that no one who may favor me with his vote will ever have cause to regret it.

W. J. L. HUGHES.

John T. Franks announces.

TO THE PEOPLE OF CRITTENDEN
COUNTY:

I am a candidate for County Court
Clerk, subject to the action of the Republican party.

I shall ever remember with the deepest gratitude the great kindness
the people of Crittenden have heretofore shown me, and the confidence reposed in me. I have endeavored to be faithful and courteous in the discharge of all official duties. In announcing for county clerk and soliciting your support, I promise if elected to use my best endeavors to make a capable, faithful official.

To the committee, who are to make the nomination, I desire to say that I will be glad to have you consider my fitness for the office, my availability as a candidate, and my worthiness, and if you feel that I am the man to receive this honor from the party, no man can appreciate it higher.

Respectfully,

JOHN T. FRANKS.

TO THE PEOPLE OF CRITTENDEN AND LIVINGSTON COUNTIES:

Like most men who have some desire to participate in the honors of public office, I have been solicited by a number of friends to become a candidate for the Legislature. Yielding to these very kind solicitations, and at the same time taking a step not contrary to my own feelings, I announce myself a candidate for Representative of Crittenden and Livingston counties in the next General Assembly of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

If you believe that I am, in a fair measure, capable, and that I am deserving and otherwise worthy of such a trust, I will appreciate your vote.

Respectfully,

R. C. WALKER.

Mr. Tyrer Will Not Run.

Having been solicited by a number of friends to make the race for the Legislature, and having entertained some idea of making the race, and having so expressed myself to friends,
I have, after mature deliberation determined not to make the race. I have adopted this course because I think it best for peace and harmony in the party, and that there might be as little friction as possible in making the nomination.

I desire to return my sincere thanks to the friends who have so generously proffered me their support. I assure them that I appreciate it just as much as if I had made the race, and I shall ever cherish their kind word.

Hoping that unity of purpose and action may prevail, I am

Sincerely Yours,

W. C. TYNER.

Protracted Meeting.

We aim to begin a meeting at the Cumberland Presbyterian church next Sunday, the Lord willing, and we cordially invite all to attend our services.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

A Young Man Shoots Himself Because of His Love Affairs.

Last Friday a young man by the name of Garrett, who lives in the southwestern portion of the county, attempted to kill himself. He used a pistol, and an ugly wound in the abdomen is the result, and his death may follow, as he is in a very critical condition. According to the report that reaches us, Garrett was paying his respects to a young lady in the neighborhood. Something occurred that disrupted the kindly feeling between the two, and the young man committed the rash act that may cost him his life.

It is said that he has expressed a determination to kill himself yet. It is also reported that the young lady has been to see the wounded man, and that their troubles were amicably adjusted.

TWELVE HUNDRED DOLLARS

Is the Gross Amount the Marion
Post Office Pays.

According to information furnished us by postmaster Hearin, the Marion post office pays twelve hundred dollars annually. Of course the postmaster has to pay his clerk hire, rent
and other expenses out of this amount.
On account of this being a distributing office for a large scope of country the Government allows $300 for clerk hire. Then postmaster's commission on cancellation of stamps and fees in the money order department, and the income from box rent all amount to $900, and this added to the $300 allowed for clerk hire amounts to the $1200.

The announcement of Postmaster General Gary that all postmasters will be allowed to serve out their four years will leave postmaster Hearin at the old stand until July 1.

bett and Fitzsimmons came off at Carson, Nev., yesterday. In the fourteenth round Fitzsimmons hit Corbett a blow over the heart, and the latter was never again able to stand before his antagonist.

A HUNG JURY.

No Agreement Reached in the Boaz
Case. Will be no new Trial.

The investigation of the condition of Mrs. E. M. Boaz's mind was not completed until Saturday. The jury could not agree upon a verdict, five holding that she was insane and seven that she was sane. Pending another trial efforts are being made to adjust the family matters and obviate further court proceedings. It was a sensational affair, and to add to the sensation the lawyers got into a quarrel that would have resulted in blows but for prompt interference.
After a few moments of consternation in court order was restored, and the case proceeded. Messrs. Nunn, Rochester, Blue & Deboe, represented Mrs.
Boaz; while O. M. James and Moore & Moore, and Kevil represented the other side. After the evidence was in, Kevil made a motion to dismiss; the other attorneys on his side objected, and then for a day and a half the attorneys addressed the jury.

AC suggestion.

Editor Press:—As that true silver man John Howland, believes in uniting the bimetalists of the county, and did all that he could in an honorable way, to induce his party to accept the fair proposition made by the Democrats, in order that the silver forces might remain organized, he is worthy of a place on the ticket, and I would suggest that the Democrats would do a handsome thing by nominating him for jailer. He is competent and worthy, and would add to the strength of the ticket.

Deeds Recorded.

M. A. Davenport to L. A. Pollard

J. C. Stephenson to J. J. Boze, man house and lot in Tolu for $450.

The Vineless Sweet Potato.

The vineless sweet potato seems to be growing in popularity. It has three very strong points. First, it is claimed, and not without evidence, that it contains 20 per cent more sugar than any other sweet potato now grown; second, it has no running vines, and very little more top than the Irish potato, making its cultivation easy and inexpensive; third, it yields, according to the experience of those who have grown them, from two to four times as much as any other variety. It also is the most hardy of all, yielding well when the season is entirely unsatisfactory for other varieties.

There are quite a number of imitations on the market, and the public is liable to be defuded in the purchase of these imitations. A. M. Witherspoon, of Marion, has the genuine vineless sweet potato, and in season will have slips for sale.

Louisville, Ky., March 16, 1897.—

usual on Tuesday. The market ruled steady and all were sold at unchanged

The calf market was steady, and a
