NUMBER 45

JUDGE NUNN IS NOMINATED.

After Three Ballots His Opponents Gracefully Withdraw.

Grayott Has No Opposition—A Harmonious Convention and Satisfactory Results.

According to call the delegates from Caldwell, Crittenden, Hopkins and Livingston counties convened at Princeton, Thursday, April 8th, for the purpose of nominating Democratic candidates for Circuit Judge and Commonwealth Attorney.

The convention was called to order by W. P. Black, of Caldwell, chairman of the district committee. He stated the object of the meeting, and on the preliminary motions and movements demonstrated his ability and fairness in handling such matters.

Crittenden county presented the name of L. W. Cruce for temporary chairman, and Hopkins put forward Mr. Flem Gordon.

A roll of the precincts was called, and Cruce had 74 votes and Gordon 80. Thus old Crittenden lost by six votes. Our boys took defeat like the Spartans they are. Mr. Gordon was escorted to the stand and made an eloquent, sensible and altogether timely speech—one that found a response in the heart of every delegate present, and by the way, later on Mr. Gordon showed a spirit of impartiality and fairness in his rulings that was gratifying to every delegate who wanted the action of the convention to be nothing more and nothing less than a reflex of the voice of the people as expressed at the precinct meetings on the Saturday before. All the delegates wanted this. After his speech, Mr. Gordon asked the pleasure of the convention.

Mr. Laffoon's friends moved an adjournment. Nunn's friends object, and wanted the committee on credentials and permanent organization appointed at once. The motion for adjournment was lost, and each county appointed one member for each of the two committees, after which all forces moved an adjournment for dinner.

After dinner the committee reported. The temporary organization was made the permanent one without a dissenting voice, the report of the committee on credentials had smooth sailing, and there was nothing to disturb the placidity of the gathered hosts.

Nominations were declared in order for commonwealth's attorney, and our own Oly James, in one of his characteristic, genuinely eloquent and most felicitous speeches presented the name of John L. Grayott. His name was received with unbounded enthusiasm. Mr. H. V. McChesney, of Livingston made a happy speech, seconding the nomination. Hopkins county moved that the nomination of Mr. Grayott be made unanimous. Caldwell county seconded the motion, and in the twinkling of an eye, and with the unanimity with the voice of one man, the thing was done. A committee found Mr. Grayott at his hotel, and escorted him to the convention. As he entered he was greeted with deafening cheers. He made a speech, a good speech, and the approval it met with at the hands of the convention showed plainly that his ideas were the ideas of the convention. No man ever received a handsomer endorsement at the hands of his party than did Mr. Grayott on this occasion; and no man ever merited it more.

The roll of counties was called for nominations for Circuit Judge. Mr. Ward Hendley of Caldwell in chaste, well chosen and warmly spoken words presented the name of Mr. Marble. When Hopkins was called Mr. Rufus Teiger, a large, handsome, bronzed face farmer of White Plains, briefly and pointedly presented the name of Nunn Judge Dempsey made an eloquent speech presenting the name of Laffoon. Then the balloting began. The first, second and third ballot each resulted in 63 for Nunn, 59 for Marble and 40 for Laffoon.

After the third ballot Laffoon's friends moved an adjournment, until 8 o'clock; on the vote, Marble delegates joined them and the convention adjourned.

The voting, as well as the disposition everywhere to do the fair thing, showed that Nunn was bound to win. If Laffoon was dropped, the larger portion of his vote would go to Nunn, because the delegates were thus instructed; if Marble was dropped, the same thing would happen.

There had been some talk about a deadlock in the forenoon, but this had disappeared before the night session. The delegates, fresh from the people, were in no humor for a deadlock. They were there to make a nomination, they had instructions from the sovereigns to do that very thing, and everybody knew before night that Judge Nunn would be nominated.

When the night session convened, Mr. Laffoon and Mr. Marble appeared upon the floor, and in the order named, withdrew their names, each making graceful speeches and pledging his support to the nominee.

Mr. Headley, of Caldwell, then made a motion that Nunn's nomination be made unanimous; a Hopkins county Laffoon delegate seconded the motion, and it carried with a whirl. Judge Nunn was sent for and made a splendid speech.

Mr. O. M. James offered resolutions reaffirming the doctrine of the party enunciated by the Chicago platform, and congratulating Bryan on his matchless race against the combined forces of plutocracy. These resolutions were passed unanimously.

The convention was in high spirits, and began to call for speeches, and for an hour there was a flow of eloquence and a roar of applause.

When the chairman's gavel fell, adjourning the meeting, the delegates fell to congratulating themselves upon the fairness of everything, the good humor of everybody, and the harmonious proceedings throughout.

It was the universal opinion that the district committee did the wise thing in asking the people to make second instructions. Second instructions prevents "swapping" and "dickering" and many things that sometimes give rise to untold and everlasting discord in the party.

A big stock barn on the farm of Mr. R. H. Kemp, in the Shade Grove neighborhood, was destroyed by fire Wednesday night of last week. A lot of farming implements, hay and corn, a lot of hogs and a milk cow, belonging to John Kemp, were lost in the big blaze. The origin of the fire is unknown.

SAM DAVIS CAMP.

Ex-Confederate Soldiers Form An Organization.

Monday pursuant to a call a number of old ex-Confederate soldiers met in Marion for the purpose of organizing a Camp. The G. A. R. Post tendered the use of their hall for the organization. Capt. T. J. Johnson of Princeton came down and assisted in the organization. The following officers were elected:

A. M. Hearin, president.
R. W. Wood, vice-president.
R. E. Pickens, secretary.
J. P. Pierce, treasurer.
W. E. Potter, chaplain.

It was agreed that the camp meet three times yearly—first Monday of each circuit court.

The following old soldiers were present and participated in the organization:

H M Cook, J N Franks, R W Wood, R B Dorr, D F Guess, S P Weldon, A M Hearin, R G Brown, W D Williams, J B Doss, R E Fowler, H W McKee, A S H Boyd, J P Pierce, R E Pickens, W E Potter, A J Eskew, T T Murphy, G M Russell, Horace Williamson.

The next meeting of the Camp will be at the June term of circuit court. There are some fifty or sixty ex-Confederate soldiers in the county, and it is expected that all will join the Camp.

SIX IN JAIL.

Charged with White-Capping in Webster County.

Some time ago there appeared in the Gleaner an account of some white parties whitecapping and unmercifully whipping some negroes in the neighborhood of Rock Spring, Webster county, near the Union county line. The negroes sought refuge at Sturgis, where in their helpless condition they were given shelter and medical attention.

The grand jury, which was in session at Dixon last week, gave the matter a thorough investigation and as a result brought in four indictments against each of the following parties: John Cowan, Wm. Cordell, James McGraw and Ollie Hinton. The indictments were immediately placed in the hands of the sheriff, who arrested the parties Saturday night and placed them in the Dixon jail Sunday.

If the parties so desire Judge Givens will give them a trial during the present sitting, or, if expressed in sympathy, if any, expressed in behalf of the parties.—Henderson Gleaner.

Spring Time.

Is when nearly every one feels the need of some blood purifying, strength invigorating and health producing medicine. The real merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla is the reason of its widespread popularity. Its unequalled success is its best recommendation. The whole system is susceptible to the most good from a medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla taken at this time, and we would lay special stress upon the time and remedy, for history has it recorded that delays are dangerous.

PERFECT and permanent are the cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla, because it makes pure, rich, healthy, life and health-giving BLOOD.

VOORHEES DEAD.

The Tall Sycamore of the Wabash is No More.

He Was one of the Most Picturesque Figures in the Senate.

Washington, April 10.—Daniel Wolsey Voorhees, ex-United States Senator from the State of Indiana, died at 5 o'clock this morning at his home in this city.

The Senator has been in very poor health for several years, and for at least two years has taken but little part in the proceedings of the Senate. He had been a constant sufferer from rheumatism of the heart, and his friends, therefore, had come to expect that they might hear of his death suddenly. The last reports from him, however, were that he was showing some signs of improvement, and his death, while not entirely unexpected, came with the suddenness of a shock.

At the time of his retirement from the Senate, "the Tall Sycamore of the Wabash," as the Senator was affectionately called by his devoted followers in the Hoosier State, was the ranking Democrat on the Finance Committee, and by virtue of this position the nominal leader at least of his party on the floor of the Senate on tariff and financial questions.

Mr. Voorhees' death was caused by an attack of angina pectoris. The Senator's health was so poor during the recent political campaign that he could not participate in it, but after his return to Washington in November he seemed to improve in health.

Two weeks ago the old rheumatic troubles returned and three days ago they became even more alarming, but the Senator still did not confine himself to his bed, and his family felt no immediate alarm.

The remains will be taken to Terre Haute, Ind., the Senator's home for so many years, for interment, but just when has not yet been determined. The time will depend upon the word received from his eldest son, the Hon. Charles Voorhees, who resides in the State of Washington. The Senator is survived by three sons—Charles, Reese N. and Jas. Paxton, and one daughter, Miss Hallie, all of whom, except the first named, reside in Washington.

When the news of Senator Voorhees' death became known at the Capitol today expressions of deepest sorrow were heard.

The Senator had been so long in public life that he was known to every employe about the building, and all felt an affectionate regard for him because of his uniformly kind treatment of them.

Mr. Voorhees was 75 years of age last September, and prior to his retirement from public life on March 4 last, had been for many years one of the most picturesque figures in the Senate. He was born in Liberty tp. Butler county, Ohio.

It is impossible to be happy, or cheerful, or useful when one is suffering from a discomfiting cold or a nasty little cough. It is wonderful that some people will go on from day to day suffering from these distressing disorders, when a 25 cent bottle of Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey will relieve the most stubborn case.

Theodore Durant will be hung at San Francisco June 11 for the murder of Blanche Lamont.

MONTICELLO.

THE HOME OF JEFFERSON.

Bryan Believes Should be a National Memorial.

New York, April 7.—Monticello, in West Virginia, the birth place of Thomas Jefferson, should be, William J. Bryan believes, a national reservation and memorial of the great Democratic President. The recent Democratic candidate for the Presidency has got his heart upon this project and is going to advocate it with all of his usual energy.

Mr. Bryan will put forth his ideas on the subject next Tuesday, before a league of Democratic clubs. He will advocate that Congress make an appropriation for the purchase of the property and the maintenance thereof, and should this project fail to materialize, then that the Democratic clubs of the country subscribe a sum of money for the same purpose.

But there is this slight drawback to Mr. Bryan's hopes—the property is owned by Jefferson M. Levy, of this city who takes so great a family pride in it that he does not care to part with it for any amount of money. Mr. Bryan is hopeful, however, and will push both his entreaties and negotiations.

Mr. Bryan wrote to Mr. Levy last Saturday, asking him to name the selling price of the Monticello property, and briefly outlining the great project he had for a national memorial. Mr. Bryan believed that private interests, no matter how laudable, ought to give way to public requirements. He further believed that it would redound to Mr. Levy's honor to have the nation take hold of the birthplace of the distinguished President.

Mr. Levy today sent a courteous reply to Mr. Bryan to Washington and a duplicate of it to Lincoln, Nebraska. The gist of his answer was that not all the money in the United States treasury would induce him to part with it. This is not the first time Mr. Levy has been approached on the subject. He has refused large sums of money for the place. Mr. Bryan is aware of this, but hopes that if the project is taken up by the nation the owner may change his mind.

Mr. Levy said today that were it not for his family, which took hold of it soon after Jefferson's death in 1826 there would today be no Jefferson home to negotiate for. The Levys have preserved it and maintained it, and have done better than the Government could do.

"The property consists of some 740 acres," said Mr. Levy, "all laid out in a park. Serpentine roads wind in and out of Monticello for twenty miles. There are no restrictions on the public—the park is open to them at all times. When I am there visitors are admitted to the house, and when I am away my card is a sufficient passport."

Thousands suffer from Catarrh or cold in head and have never tried the popular remedy. There is no longer any excuse, as a 10 cent trial size of Ely's Cream Balm can be had of your druggist or we mail it for 10c. Full size 50c.

Ely Bros 58 Warren st., N Y City. A friend advised me to try Ely's Cream Balm, and after using it six weeks I believe myself cured of Catarrh. It is a most valuable remedy.—Joseph Stewart, 624 Grand Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

CANNIBAL FEAST.

Natives of the Hebrides Kill and Eat a White Man.

Victoria, British Columbia, April 8.—Australian advices state that Mr. S. Duncan, a white trader who came to Sydney from South Africa last year, met his death in a very painful way while trading with natives of the New Hebrides.

He was tied up to one of the trees three days, being kept alive and forcibly stuffed with food. He was then cut down, killed and eaten, women even joining joyfully in the cannibal feast. There was a great assemblage on hand from the various groups of islands.

Duncan, it appears, was a single man, about 33 years of age. He was a peaceable man, and his friends at Sydney say that he would not draw his revolver on any account. From those who know the New Hebrides has been collected the information, they having on several occasions here before dealt murderously with European vessels.

ISSUED WEEKLY.

R. C. WALKER, Publisher.

ONE YEAR ONE DOLLAR

The State Treasurer has suspended payment again, but he still has the legislature on his pay-roll.

The victories in Chicago, Cincinnati, and other cities last week have encouraged bimetalists everywhere, and their organizations are being rapidly reconstituted.

The Administration is believed to have resolved upon an earnest effort to bring about an early and satisfactory settlement of the controversy over the Bering Sea seal fisheries.

The planters in the submerged district along the lower Mississippi now hope that the flood will disappear by May 1, and that they can still make a fair crop. The water in the Delta is slowly receding.

The toll gate raiders in the central portion of the State, having demolished the most of the toll gates, are now warning many of the farmers not to grow tobacco this season, threatening destruction to tobacco plants, if the quantity is not curtailed.

The death of Dan W. Voorhees removes one of the staunch, stalwart, intrepid Democrats from a field that he has conspicuously occupied for twenty-five years. He was a matchless orator and a true friend of the people.

The 15th anniversary of Jefferson's birthday was celebrated with brilliant ceremonies by the National Association of Democratic Clubs at Washington on the 13th. Speeches were made by Mr. Bryan, Senator James, Dick Bland, Jos. Sibley and others.

It seems that they are opening the campaign in Hopkins early. The hustler says: "Hon. T. J. Nunn addressed the citizens of Lexington on Saturday night at Masonic Hall, and a rousing club was organized, with J. B. Head as President and Jesse Phillips Secretary. Active steps will be taken to perfect organization and effective work will be done in the campaign. The Lexington boys are a gallant lot of Democrats."

The Legislature has at last got its feet upon the highway of reform and great problems will be solved as readily and as naturally as night turns to day, when the sun rises. The bill making it unlawful to throw eggs at a speaker at any gathering has been passed. The country has been pining for this remedial legislation as a hart paneth for a brook, as a dry denizen of a dry town paneth for the bottle. Now let the tax rate be cut down to meet this reform and the sun will once more shine brightly on the old Kentucky home.

"The delay in electing a Senator and the injury to public interests incident thereto, is not the worst feature of the serio comedy that has been presented at Frankfort for the past four weeks. Charges of attempted bribery are made, and the history of the present session of the legislature of our proud old commonwealth has much in it to remind one of the rows and rowdism that has heretofore been chiefly confined to some of the wild and woolly Western States like Kansas.

President McKinley has appointed Senator Wolcott, of Colorado, ex Vice President Adlai Stephenson and Charles J. Paine, of Boston, as commissioners to an international monetary conference. Wolcott is said to be in harmony with international bimetalism. Stephenson was a staunch supporter of Bryan, and Paine is a gold standard, wealthy corporation man. It is said that the commissioners will organize in May and begin their task. It is to be hoped there will be no grand stand play, no Pickwickian effort, but an honest, straight forward, earnest, untiring movement to accomplish the end sought. If there is any chance for honest international bimetalism, let that chance be utilized; and if there is any good in this plan, let us have it. If the English, who are lenders of money, can be induced to abandon the gold standard, which has added millions to their wealth, let these sinners against mankind, in this matter, be afforded every opportunity to repent. But no half way repentance, no makeshift, no spurious article, no imitation will be acceptable, or accepted as a settlement of the matter. The fight is on, and the war will be waged until the cause is won. The end may be some distance in the future, and the road leading to it may be rugged, but bimetalism will yet be reached.

The gold standard papers are printing, with evident glee, the statement that Japan has adopted the gold standard. The truth of this statement is denied, but if it is true, the demand for gold will be increased to the extent of Japan's necessities, and, as the demand for an article grows, the price advances, this new call upon the world's supply of the yellow metal, will increase the price, and make it the more difficult for all countries to obtain it. Surely the difficulty already experienced by the American people in their effort to secure gold is sufficient for a hedge of evil, without being gleefully told that the demand is extending, while the supply practically stands at the same disastrous mark. One of the two things is ineffectual, satisfactory international bimetalism, or free coinage independent of other nations. If Mr. McKinley fails to bring about the first, the people will attend to the other in due season.

Grant's Achievement as a Peacemaker.

The honors and attentions showered upon Grant during his tour of the world are, perhaps, unequaled in the history of kingly hospitality. He was received everywhere as the greatest soldier of his time and as the foremost living American. Hon John Russell Young, who accompanied Gen Grant throughout the famous journey, graphically recalls in the May Ladies Home Journal, its conspicuous incidents: his receptions, dinners, fetes, etc., given the distinguished American. It is said that Mr. Young brings to light a fact that has received but passing attention; that General Grant was instrumental in arranging the terms of a treaty of peace between China and Japan, which prevented an outbreak of war between the two nations.

The bribery investigation in the Kansas Legislature developed the fact that various attempts have been made to buy the votes of members, including the speaker. Ex-Gov. Lewelling is implicated in the charged made.

Kentucky Educational Association.

Superintendent Wheeler received the following from the president of the association:

"The next meeting of the Kentucky Educational Association will be held at Bowling Green, June 29 and 30 and July 1, 1897. Every effort will be made both by the present administration and the good people of Bowling Green to make this the largest, best and most enjoyable meeting in the history of the association. A full and complete program is now being prepared, and the best school talent in the state and in the United States will be called into the service of the association.

"A full attendance from every county in the commonwealth is earnestly desired. To emphasize this desire the Executive committee offers a fine silk banner, beautifully made and appropriately inscribed, to the county that produces receipts from ticket agents for the largest amount of railroad fare.

"Each session of the association will be opened with quotations from the members on educational topics. Every member will be expected to have a quotation, taken from what ever source he or she may wish to search for it, and all will be given a chance to be heard. Judges will be selected to determine who offers the best quotations, and a fine International Dictionary will be awarded to the member whom the committee may select.

"Bowling Green has promised to do herself proud to make the stay of her visitors pleasant. Her people have planned many pleasant entertainments for the teachers who attend the association, and, aside from the profit in a professional way that will come to all who attend, it will be a most delightful summer outing. The Mammoth Cave and the newly discovered Colossal Cavern will be visited. The Tennessee Centennial will be in full blast at this time, and since it is only about two hours ride from Bowling Green, an opportunity will be given to visit this great show after the association.

"The railroads will give the usual low fares, which will be shortly announced.

RETALIATORY TARIFF BILL.

Washington, April 11.—The framers of the Dingley Bill are much interested in a semi-official report from the City of Mexico to the effect that a retaliatory tariff bill is to be introduced in the Mexican Congress this week.

It is stated that in view of the practically prohibitive duty on Mexican cattle provided by the Dingley Bill the Mexican will place a prohibitive duty on American hogs and packing house products, which comprise one of our most important articles of export to Mexico.

Last year 17,450 hogs valued at $208,807, were sent from the United States to Mexico, and this number comprised almost all of our live hog exportation. The total number exported to all countries was 21,046, and their total value was $227,297.

Our exportation of lard to Mexico are also large, having amounted last year to 3,540,157 pounds, valued at $209,727. The other articles which the Mexicans propose to tax to a prohibitive point are canned beef, pickled and salted beef, cured beef, tallow, bacon, hams, pickled pork, mutton, imitation butter, oleo oil, poultry and game and other provisions.

Our National Extravagance.

Within the last twenty five or thirty years the national ship of state has drifted a long way off from its democratic moorings. In 1840 the expenses of the government, including interest on the public debt, aggregated only $24,314,518, or less than $1.40 per capita.

Decidedly at variance with these figures, however, is the governments expenditure for the year ending June 30, 1896, at which time it reached the enormous sum of $434,678,654, or nearly twenty times as much as in 1840.

In accounting for this increase it is claimed by our Republican friends that the difference is due almost exclusively to the burdens entailed upon the government by the late war. But is this explanation satisfactory? Subtracting from last year's expenditures the amount of pension money paid out, together with interest on the public debt, there still remains a balance of $259,859,626, the war burden amounting to $174,819,028. Can it be fairly claimed, even after this subtraction is made, that the government's expenditures have not materially increased per capita.

Of course the machinery of the government is much more complicated at the present time than in 1840, and some due allowance should be made on this account. But in spite of the country's growth during the last half century, there is no warrant for the enormous expenditures that have characterized republican administrations since the war. What the country needs at the present time, and what it must adopt ere long is a frugal and economic policy. Under Mr. Jefferson and his democratic successors in office this country enjoyed the greatest measure of prosperity it has ever known, and not until democratic principles have been restored in their purity to the government can the better days of the republic be revived.—Atlanta Constitution.

Largest Poultry Farm in the World.

Isaac Wilbur, of Little Compton, R. I., has the largest poultry farm in the world. He ships from 130,000 to 150,000 dozen eggs a year. He keeps his fowls on the colony plan, housing about forty in a house 8x10 or 8x12 feet in size; these houses being about 150 feet apart, set out in long rows over the gently sloping fields. He has one hundred of these houses scattered over three or four fields. The food is loaded into a low wagon, which is driven about to each house in turn, the attendant feeding as he goes; at the afternoon feeding the eggs are collected. The fowls are fed twice a day. The morning food is a mash of cooked vegetables and mixed meals; this mash is made up the afternoon before. The afternoon feed is whole corn the entire year round.

It is estimated that the flood will reduce the cotton crop 1,500,000 bales.

The Legislature.

Frankfort, Ky., April 14.—The Senatorial contest is still dragging itself along. The five bolting Republicans have again pledged themselves not to vote for Hunter; the gold Democrats vote for Martin and the loyal silver Democrats still stand by their first and only love, Joe Blackburn.

The Republicans have votes enough to elect a Senator, but they cannot unite on Hunter, and it really begins to look like no election this session.

The Franklin county grand jury is still engaged in investigating the charges of attempted bribery in the Senatorial contest. It is charged that Dr. Hunter has attempted to buy votes. A number of witnesses have already been examined, and the end of the investigation is not yet.

There are rumors of sensational developments, but no one can tell what the grand jury will do. Among the persons who have been called before the jury are Capt. Noel Gains and wife, Hon. Jas. H. Wilson, Dr. Hunter, Senator Deboe and E. T. Franks.

Two important bills have passed the House. One raising the tax rate from 42 1/2 cents to 52 1/2 cents, and the other providing for issuing interest bearing warrants.

Mr. Tompkins of Daviess felt compelled to add to the hilarity of the House session by informing Mr. Howard of Butler that Mr. Howard was a liar and "no gentleman."

The House passed the bill requiring that all death sentences imposed by the Kentucky courts should be carried out within the walls of the Frankfort penitentiary. It is thought the bill will also pass the Senate.

The House passed the bill "Retrenching on all State officers, from Governor down." The bill applies to appointive officers from the date of its passage, and reduces all salaries. The Governor gets $5,000 under the bill, the Attorney General $3,500, and $1,400 for clerk hire in the Auditor's office.

The House defeated the bill providing for the election of school trustees by secret ballot.

Ed PRESS: I noticed in the last week's Press a card from F. M. Clement, and before I answer his, I ask you for the sake of justice to me and others, to state that in my card the week before that I always said we in talking of the purchase of and removal to this place, I also said to you that the graveyard was in the garden poorly fenced, overgrown with briars, weeds and bushes. I wish to say that Mr. I. N. Clement never owned or had a deed to this place, that I know of, but it is known as the Henry Coleman farm, and consequently it is the Coleman, and not the Clement burial ground, as the Major stated in his card.

As for the removal of graves, I will say that, so far as I was concerned, I would give but little, yet I offered one of the parties from whom we bought $100 to remove them, for reasons best known to myself. On my place, which joins the home farm is a very large graveyard used by the public. In regard to "negro coos" my wife and mother in law have been in very poor health for 6 or 7 years, and during all of that time we have kept help with the exception of a very few months, and during all that time we have not had a negro not to exceed two months. On the other hand we have had white girls from two to four years at a time. As to my seeking him to vote for me and making the claim that I had voted for him twice for State office, he is positively mistaken. I never asked him to support me in my race for Assessor, but I met him as View and he came up to me and said he had noticed my announcement in the Press and he would vote for me if I got the nomination, for which I thanked him. I did tell him last fall that time and again I had voted for him, thinking him a Democrat. But why should he support me on that account as I suppose at least 4 of my opponents voted for him as of ten as I have.

Now in regard to my race for Assessor I want to say to say to my friends I am out; I was retired by the voters on April 3 by the small majority of 9; I appreciate the interest you took in my race and shall always remember you. And I want to say to each and all of you that while I am not personally acquainted with Mr. Truitt that I found while in Bells Mines that all of his neighbors and all who knew him told me that he was a high toned, honorable gentleman, and I want you all to give him your hearty cooperation in his final race, and he will surely be our next Assessor; for I rode two days in Bells Mines, saw at least 150 voters, and among them I only found one Republican, and I think he was at that time arranging to move over into Webster county.

TUTT'S LIVER PILLS

BRYAN HAPPY.

Over the Results of the Municipal Elections.

Sees in Them a Revulsion of Sentiment

Washington, D. C., April 8.—The jolliest, biggest and gladdest Democrat on this mundane sphere Tuesday was William Jennings Bryan, who, though a defeated candidate, is still the magnet which draws the multitude about him. Only yesterday, when he was announced to appear in the United States Supreme Court, crowds surged about the Capitol all day, eager to catch a glimpse of him. Bryan was forced to hold a reception, and hundreds fell over each other just to grasp his hand.

Washington Democrats felt so jubilant over the sweeping Democratic victory in the spring elections of western cities yesterday, and especially in McKinley's State, that they crowded early this morning to Bryan's Hotel, where the Nebraskan held an informal reception. No more enthusiasm could have manifested if it had been a personal victory for Bryan.

Speaking of the result in Ohio, Michigan, and other States, Mr. Bryan said to a Scripps-McRea correspondent:

"I am delighted at the outcome of the spring elections. Democratic victories in the large cities like Cincinnati, Detroit and elsewhere, which declared for McKinley only a few months ago, reveal a revulsion of sentiment. I have been watching the spring city campaigns with much interest, and while I am pleased over the result, however, I am not surprised one iota. To me it was the logical result of logical conclusions. It was bound to come. I felt confident that the people would soon see the error of their faith in Republican doctrine of the tariff as a panacea for financial depression."

"This victory is but started, and the beginning of new confidence in the Democratic policy and platform. Campaign of Michigan has wired me that there were big silver gains in Michigan, and I predict that such will be the case all over."

"I do not expect to go to Ohio for the fall campaign. However, I will pass through the State on my return from Washington and I can not now say whether I will make any speeches or not."

Mr. Bryan refused to discuss Mark Hanna's Senatorial prospects next fall, nor would he utter one glowing word over the Republican downfall in Ohio, whatever his real thoughts may have been.

R. P. Gass, one of the oldest citizens of this county, passed away March 9, 1897, after several weeks of illness, leaving a wife and ten children behind.

Mr. Gass was born in Smith county, Tenn., in 1825 and afterwards came to this county, and joined the Cooked Creek church, and has been a member of this church for over 30 years. He was an excellent singer, and always led in church worship, and there was nothing he enjoyed better than to meet at the altar and shake hands with his fellow brethren and sisters.

An Abscess

In the Stomach Caused Great Suffering—Was Confined to the Bed But Now Able to Work.

"In October, 1895, I had an abscess in my stomach. I was also taken with pleurisy and coughed very badly. I was treated by physicians but did not improve. I gave up all hope of ever getting well. My right side was swollen and I was not able to walk across the room and was confined to my bed. I was advised to try Hood's Sarsaparilla and began taking it. In three days I could see a change for the better. I kept on taking Hood's Sarsaparilla until I had taken four bottles and continued to improve. I am now able to do a good day's work on the farm."

He had no fear of death, and while the bereaved ones were so sad at this parting, there must have been great joy in heaven as the angels of love safely anchored the boat near the golden shore to contact a departed and loved one to his eternal and happy home, where he would meet with friends and loved ones gone before.

We as friends tender our sincere sympathy to the bereaved family and commend them to that God who is too wise to err and too good to do wrong.

Weep not, grieve not, your loss is his eternal gain, so strive to behold with an eye of faith that happy home that you may at last meet your loved one where beauty smiles eternally and pleasures never end.

He was buried at the Pilot Knob graveyard, where he awaits the call to arise. E. L. G.

Whenever a druggist tells you he has something just as good for coughs, colds, grip, etc., as Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey he is thinking of his profit, and not of your welfare. Obituary.

Died at his home Dec. 24, 1896, beautiful little Edgar Moore, son of J. R. Moore and wife, aged six years five months and four days. On Friday night, at 11 o'clock he closed his little eyes, no more to open them on earth. Like some delicate flower, too weak to stand the fitful changes of this world; like some lovely song, whose last cadence, so sad and low, we scarcely realize its force, his sweet little spirit passed over the river of death. In life he was beautiful; in death an angel. No one knew only to love him; he was a gleam of sunshine in his home, the sun sheds a halo of glory over his precious angelic form, that reminds one of his bright, sweet smiles; each little fitting scene seems to spread its sheltering wings and sweetly catch the sad refrain in order that the peaceful quiet of sleep remain unbroken.

So nature, unmindful of his brief little life, breathes all around his last resting place sweet songs of peace. Those kind, those tender loving hands have laid Edgar down to rest. The God who gave him to your care. His sweet young soul is blest. Tho in this world he lives no more His memory shall be clear. Within those hearts to whom His memory is dear.

Obituary.

Tabitha Jane Butler, wife of Mr. James Butler, was born January 12, 1834, departed this life March 22, 1897. She professed faith in Christ and united with the General Baptist church, she bore her afflictions with the greatest fortitude. A few hours before her death she said, "I hear the church bells calling for me," and she expressed her willingness to go. Weep not, dear husband and children as those who have no hope, for your loss is her eternal gain; while it is useless to weep for the dead let us look up higher to the hands which beckon us on.

We miss thee from our home, mother, A shadow o'er our life is cast. We miss the sunshine of thy face, We miss thee everywhere. 'Tis hard to break the tender chord, When love has bound the heart, 'Tis hard, so hard, to speak the word, We part—forever part!

Farewell dear husband and children. In the silent grave our dear one is laid to rest, but the spirit has soared upward to bliss ineffable beyond the stars.

Americans are the most inventive people on earth. To them have been issued nearly 600,000 patents, or more than one third of all the patents ever issued in the world. No discovery of modern years has been of greater benefit to mankind than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy, or has done more to relieve pain and suffering. J. W. WIND AND SEA.

The sea is a jovial comrade; He laughs wherever he goes; His merriment shines in the dimpling lines That wrinkle his blue eyes; He lays himself down at the feet of the sun, And shows all over with gleam; And the broad backed billows fall faint on the shore.

In the mirth of the mighty sea! But the wind is sad and restless And cursed with an inward pain; You may bark at will, by valley or hill, But you hear him sigh and complain. He walks on the barren mountains And shrieks on the wintry sea; He who in the ender and mender in the pine And shudders all over the aspen tree.

Welcome are both their voices, And I know not which is best— The laughter that slips from ocean's lips Or the comforting wail of the west. There's a pang in all rejoicing, A joy in the heart of pain, And the wind that saddens the sea that glows— Are singing the softest strain.

—Bayard Taylor.

WHO CINDERELLA REALLY WAS.

Her Story is Very Ancient and Appears in Sacred Hindu Books.

The story of Cinderella is substantially the same as that told of Rhodopis and Psamathe by Elian, who lived in Rome in the third century of the Christian era. The story, as told by Elian, is that Rhodopis was bathing in an eagle carried away one of her sandals and dropped it near the feet of Psamathe, king of Egypt, who, like Cinderella's prince, was struck by its distinctive size, caused the maiden to be sought for, and married her when found. Make the sandal a glass slipper and add the ugly sisters for the sake of contrast, and the stories are much the same. The glass slipper, by the way, is an acknowledged fact in reality, a misstatement of "pantoufle en vair" (a fur slipper), and not "en verre."

This, at all events, is what is claimed by Perrault in his "Contes de Fées." Both these stories have doubtless a common origin, but it is necessary to go further back in the history of the literature to find it—to a people who lived in a period compared with which that of even Elian is quite modern. It is in the Vedas, the four sacred books of the Hindus, that the origin is to be found.

After what has already been said, it will not be surprising to learn that Cinderella is a dawn maiden, her sisters being the powers of darkness, who compel her to wait upon them, keeping her hidden from sight. The dawn maiden breaks from her bonds, and captivates the sun, remaining with him for a time. But she cannot linger with him in the heavens; she can remain only until a certain hour. Once she lingers too long, and, hurrying back, leaves on the path she has taken a token of her visit in the form of a fiery cloud, which had borne her aloft when she left the regions of darkness. The sun, determined to find her, sends out his emissaries (the rays of light), but does not find her until she appears before him at the evening twilight. In the Vedas the prince is called Mitra, which is one of the names given to the sun.—London Globe.

Sang in the Choir For Eighty Years.

In the last 12 years of Mr. Starman's ministry at Waldenburgh's famous old German Lutheran church no salary was paid, the congregation being too poor. Old Conrad Eyer, who, although 101 years old, was as brisk as a man of 50, and had acted as chorister in this ancient church for 80 years, reading and singing from the fine print of Watts' hymnbook without the use of spectacles. Nothing remains on earth to mark the sojourn of these men but the dilapidated ruins of the building and the tall marble column in the cemetery which tells the passing traveler that there lie the remains of the saluted Ritta and Starman, pastors of the German Lutheran church of Broad Bay.—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

Harder to Get At.

"I suppose that it would take a great deal of observation and experience to enable a man to pick the fastest horse sutured for a race," she remarked. "Yes," replied the man of marvellous experience, "but that isn't what you are trying to do. What you want is to pick the horse that is going to win."—Washington Star.

MOTHER!

There is no word so full of meaning of meaning and about which such tender and holy recollections cluster as that of "MOTHER."—she who watched over our helpless infancy and guided our first tottering step. Yet the life of every Expectant Mother is beset with danger and all effort should be made to avoid it.

Mother's Friend

so assists nature in the change taking place that the Expectant Mother is enabled to look forward with confidence and without dread, suffering or gloomy forebodings, to the hour when she experiences the joy of Motherhood. Its use insures safety to the lives of both Mother and Child, and she is found stronger after than before confinement—in short, it "makes Childbirth natural and easy," as so many have said. Don't be persuaded to use anything but
