NUMBER 23

FRANKS COLLECTOR.

Vandell To Return To Marion; Adams Is Chief Deputy; Other Changes.

THE VOTE IN THE STATE IS LARGE.

Owensboro, Ky., Nov. 22.—E. T. Franks is Collector of the Second district and before he had settled in the chair he had made a number of changes. Chief Deputy Will Feland was made assistant in the chief deputy's office; S. W. Adams of Marion chief deputy; N. B. Chambers of Harrodsburg; S. A. Lefebvre transferred from office deputy, Owensboro, to division deputy, Owensboro; Stuart Starling, transferred from cashier to office deputy at Henderson; W. L. Hardigg was appointed stamp deputy at Uniontown; W. J. White, of Paducah appointed stamp deputy at Paducah; O. Dehaven transferred from special brandy deputy to division deputy of Glasgow division; John P. Eagles, transferred from Glasgow division deputy to special brandy deputy. Former Collector, T. J. Vandell, will become cashier of the Bank of Marion, and ex-chief deputy Clark will open a law office.

THE FINAL FIGURES.

Shackelford's Plurality by Official Count is 17,804.

The official returns from 116 counties and the semi-official returns from the other three, in the late race for clerk of the Court of Appeals, give Shackelford, the Democratic nominee, a majority over Bailey, the Republican nominee, of 17,804 votes. The vote of each candidate is—

Shackelford,	187,482
Bailey,	169,678
Hindman,	9,583
Parker,	7,289
Wallace,	1,805

While the vote this year is 70,000 less than last year, Shackelford has a larger vote than any other candidate for a State office ever received, and the vote polled at this election is larger than any ever before polled in an election for State officers.

The vote for the Constitutional amendment is 33,485, and against it 38,674.

AN EX-MARIONITE.

J. H. Hillyard Gets a Plume From the Collector's Office.

J. H. Hillyard, who was recently appointed stamp deputy here, will take charge of the office tomorrow as a stand of December 1st. He will go to Owensboro tomorrow morning, where he will execute bond and return the same day with his stamps, when he will immediately open his office. He succeeds Hugh L. Aikins, who has held the position for the past four years.—Henderson Glenner.

The office has but little work attached to it and pays $600 per annum.

Courtney Wails Injured.

Paducah, Ky., Nov. 22.—News reached here today from Smithland that Mr. W. C. Watts, a prominent citizen and author of "Chronicles of a Kentucky Settlement," was probably fatally injured yesterday afternoon at his home by falling out of his chair. He was partially stricken with paralysis several days ago. His friends fear the end is near.

He was in ante-bellum days a member of the famous cotton firm of Watts & Co., who did business in this city, New York, New Orleans and Liverpool, England. Mr. Watts had charge of the business in Liverpool.

TO DIVIDE NEW YORK.

Schem: To Create a Strong Democratic State.

A New York telegram [to the Chicago Tribune says:] According to a local paper it is Richard Croker's ambition to extend Tammany's dominion beyond the confines of Greater New York. The proposal to create a new state by divorcing sixteen counties of the State of New York and incorporating them as the State of Manhattan is defined in a bill which is to be introduced at the opening session of the legislature by Assemblyman Patrick T. Quinn, of the Thirtieth District, this city. Mr. Quinn, who is a member of Tammany Hall, presented a similar bill in the Assembly last year, but it did not get beyond a committee.

Mr. Quinn insists that the bill and the idea embodied in it are his own, but the political importance of the measure is such that it is hardly credible that a sub lieutenant would undertake to suggest and advocate the plan without the consent and assistance of the leader, Mr. Croker, however, professes ignorance of the project, which is one of the most gigantic ones in the political history of modern times.

The plan is to create a new Democratic State and add two sure Democratic United States Senators to secure control of the Legislature of what would be the greatest and richest State in the Union, to divide the electoral vote of the pivotal State, to send to the lower house of congress a solid Democratic delegation, from the State of Manhattan, and to get absolute legislative control over the second greatest city on earth for the benefit of Tammany Hall.

The other Democratic leaders in the State, it is said, will oppose the bill, on the ground that it will be unwise to separate the great commercial and political interests of the Empire State and furthermore, they will not assist in making an old rival and antagonist the greatest political power, perhaps, in the country, for his aggrandizement would mean their extinguishment politically.

In order to become a law the Train bill must be adopted by the Legislature and be approved by congress. The sixteen counties which it is proposed shall form the State of Manhattan are New York, Kings, Queens, Richmond, Suffolk, Westchester, Orange, Putnam, Dutchess, Columbia, Ulster, Greene, Rockland, Albany, Rensselaer, and part of Schoharie, with a population of 3,902,220, as compared with 2,621,123 for the 44 remaining counties.

This would make the new state the second largest in the Union in population, Pennsylvania alone exceeding it. The remaining 44 counties left to comprise the State of New York will make a state the sixth largest in the Union. The new state would contain a territory of 8,960 square miles, compared with a territory of 40,493 square miles.

The sixteen counties have twenty seven out of the fifty Senators and more than half of the Assemblymen in the Legislature under the present apportionment, and 20 out of the 34 Representatives in Congress.

RAILROAD ASSESSMENT.

The Kentucky Commissioners Complete Their Work and There is a Decrease.

The State Railroad Commission has finished its assessment of the railway mileage in Kentucky. The total assessment amounts to $43,550,876, as against $48,429,876 in 1896. The apparent decrease is due to the fact that the commission has not assessed the big Ohio river bridges used for other than railroad purposes, leaving this work to the county assessors and State Board of Equalization. Adding this, and the increase on depot property, etc., makes the aggregate exceed last year's valuation by $250,000. The report shows that only thirty-one miles of road was built during the past year.

The Coming Woman.

Who goes to the club while her husband tends the baby, as well as the good, old fashioned woman who looks after her home, will both at times get run down in health. They will be troubled with loss of appetite, head aches, sleeplessness, fainting or dizzy spells. The most wonderful remedy for these women is Electric Bitters. Thousands of sufferers from lame back and weak kidneys rise up and call it blessed. It is the medicine for women. Female complaints and nervous troubles of all kinds are soon relieved by the use of Electric Bitters. Delicate women should keep this remedy on hand to build up the system. Only 50c per bottle. At Orme's.

CHINA'S WOES.

Plague, Famine, Earthquake, and Storm Devastate the Celestial Empire.

WHOLE VILLAGES ARE DESTROYED.

Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 22.—The steamer Columbia brings news that the bubonic plague is gaining headway in Southern China. On the coast of Kwang Tung province it is raging with great violence. Within two weeks forty villages were almost wiped out by the plague.

The eastern coast of the Philippine Islands has been visited by earthquakes, equaling in violence those experienced at Manila in 1863. At Zamboanga several shocks lasted a minute and a half each, destroying most of the houses, including the public buildings. A tidal wave followed the earthquake. From some coast villages great loss of life is reported, and there was considerable destruction of property in all of them.

There is scarcely a time when some part of the Chinese Empire is not famine stricken, owing to the disastrous rains for four months past. Crops in Chekiang Province are almost totally destroyed. Gov. Liao has memorialized the throne, asking for help and permission to distribute grain held in reserve granaries to thousands of distressed farmers, who will otherwise perish during the winter. Harvests in the famine districts of Szechuen have not turned out well this autumn, and there will be starvation there this winter unless relief is sent to unfortunate inhabitants.

The recent earthquake on the Borneo coast resulted in throwing up a new island some distance from the mainland, opposite Labuan Island, which is 400 yards long, 60 feet high, and appears to be increasing in several places in size. It emits inflammable gas, which fishermen have ignited, causing great flames visible for many miles at sea.

Last month a band of 200 robbers sacked a village of Szechuen, near Canton, where many rich families reside. Over 500 houses were plundered, their contents being valued at $2,000,000. Next day another village was similarly looted. As the local officers dared not suppress the outrage, merchants of the district applied to the Governor of Canton for permission to engage armed protectors at their own expense. Hearing this, the robbers planned another attack. They were desperately resisted by shopmen and villagers, who killed nine robbers and wounded many more. Now all Canton is terrorized for fear the robbers will retaliate by combining with other bands and raid the entire city.

Our Pension Roll.

Washington, Nov. 18.—Secretary of the Interior Bliss, in his annual report made public tonight, submits estimates aggregating $156,532,419 for appropriations by Congress for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1899. Decreasing pensions, he says 200,000 pension claims are awaiting adjudication, and it is estimated that 40 or 50 per cent of these will be finally admitted. If they are rapidly adjudicated they will swell the pension roll from five to seven millions. When, however, these claims are adjudicated and the first payments made thereon, the amount of the pension roll will decrease very rapidly, possibly to $125,000,000 or $130,000,000 the first year.

Pilot's Official Account of Christ.

The most important part in the work of the "Archon" volume, or the archaeological writings of the Sanhedrim and of the Talmuds of the Jews, which has been on sale in this country for some years—is the account of the arrest, trial and crucifixion of Jesus.

The report is taken from the work of Valerius Paterculus, a close friend of Caesar, who commanded the army for sixteen years. The report is given in full, and deals with Pilate's first knowledge of Christ through his death. After describing recent events which had taken place in his province, and which he said he feared might change the destiny of the Roman nation, he cursed the day when he was appointed Governor of Judea and wrote in a most bitter way of the Jews.

He describes his first meeting with Jesus as follows:

"Among the various rumors that come to my ears there was one in particular that attracted my attention. A young man, it was said, had appeared in Galilee preaching with a noble unctious new law, in the name of the God that had sent him. At first I was apprehensive that his design was to stir up the people against the Romans, but my fears were soon dispelled. Jesus of Nazareth spoke rather as a friend of the Romans than of the Jews.

"One day in passing by the place of Siloe, where there was a great confluence of people, I observed in the midst of the group a young man who was leaning against a tree calmly addressing the multitude. I was told it was Jesus. This I could easily have suspected, so great was the difference between him and those who had been listening to him.

"His golden colored hair and beard gave to his appearance an ecclesiastical aspect. He appeared to be about 30 years of age. Never have I seen a sweeter or more serene countenance. What a contrast between him and his hearers, with their black beards and tawny complexions.

"Unwilling to interrupt him by my presence, I continued my walk, but signified to my secretary to join the group and listen. My secretary's name is Manlius. He is grandson of the chief of the conspirators who encamped in the Etruria, waiting for Catiline. Manlius was for a long time an inhabitant of Judea, and is well acquainted with the Hebrew language. He was devoted to me and worthy of my confidence.

"On entering the praetorium I found Manlius, who related to me the words Jesus had pronounced at Siloe. Never have I read in the works of philosophers anything that can compare with the maxims of Jesus.

"One of the rebellious Jews, so numerous in Jerusalem, having asked Jesus if it was lawful to give tribute to Caesar he replied: "Render unto Caesar the things that belong to Caesar, and unto God the things that are God's."

Pilate then admits that it was on account of the wisdom of the sayings of Jesus that he granted him so much liberty, but he says the unlimited freedom provoked the Jews and he was appealed to to restrain the liberty of the Nazarene. Complaints were daily made at the Praetorium against the tolerance of Jesus. Fearing an insurrection Pilate wrote to Jesus, requesting an interview with him at the Praetorium. He describes vividly his feelings at the first appearance of Jesus, saying:

"My feet seemed fastened with an iron hand to the marble pavement, and I trembled in every limb as does a guilty culprit."

The interview that followed was extraordinary, as Pilate's report shows as follows:

THE INTERVIEW WITH JESUS

"Jesus, says I unto him at last—and my tongue faltered—Jesus of Nazareth, for the last three years I have granted you ample freedom of speech, nor do I regret it. Your words are those of a sage. I know not whether you have read Socrates or Plato, but this I know, there is in your discourse a majestic simplicity that elevates you far above those philosophers. The Emperor is informed of it, and I, his humble representative in this country, am glad of having allowed you that liberty of which you are so worthy.

"However, I must not conceal from you that your discourses have raised up against you powerful and inveterate enemies. Nor is this surprising. Socrates had his enemies, and he felt a victim to their hatred. Yours are doubly increased against you on account of your discourses being so severe upon their conduct, against me, on account of the liberty I have afforded you. They even accuse me of being indirectly league with you for the purpose of depriving the Hebrews of the little civil power which Rome has left them.

"My request—I do not say my order—is that you be more circumspect and moderate in your discourses in the future, and more considerate of them, lest you rouse the pride of your enemies and they raise against you the stupid populace and compel me to employ the instruments of the law.

"The Nazarene calmly replied:

"Prince of the earth, your words proceed not from true wisdom. Tell the torrent to stop in the midst of the mountain gorge and it will uproot the trees of the valley. The torrent will answer you that it obeys the laws of nature and the Creator. God alone knows whether flow the waters of the torrent. Verily I say unto you, before the rose of Sharon blooms that the blood of the just shall be spilt."

PROTECTION PROMISED.

"Your blood shall not be spilt," said I, with deep emotion. "You are more precious in my estimation, on account of your wisdom, than all the turbulent and proud Pharisees who abuse the freedom granted them by the Romans. They conspire against Caesar and convert his bounty into treason, impressing the unlearned that Caesar is a tyrant and seeks their ruin. Insolent wretches, they are not aware that the wolf of the Tiber sometimes clothes himself with the skin of sheep to accomplish his wicked designs. I will protect you against them. My praetorium shall be an asylum, as cred both day and night."

"Jesus carelessly shook his head, and said with a grave, careless smile: "When the day shall have come there will be no asylums for the Son of Man, neither in the earth nor under the earth. The asylum of the just is there—pointing to the heavens. That which is written in the books of the prophets must be accomplished."

"Young man," I answered mildly, "you will oblige me by converting my request into an order. The safety of the province which has been confided to my care requires it. You must observe moderation in your discourses. Do not infringe my order."

You know the consequences. My happiness attend upon you. Farewell."

"Prince of the earth," replied Jesus, "I come not to bring war into the world, but peace, love and charity. I was born the same day on which Augustus Caesar gave peace to the Roman world. Persecutions proceed not from me. I expect it from others and will meet it in obedience to the will of my Father, who has shown me the way. Restrain, therefore, your worldly prudence. It is not in your power to arrest the victim at the foot of the tabernacle of expiation."

"So saying he disappeared like a bright shadow behind the curtains of the basilica to my great relief, for I felt a heavy burden on me, and of which I could not relieve myself while in his presence."

After giving full details of the feast of the Passover, which was then approaching, and describing the arrest of Jesus, Pilate's report says:

CONDEMNED TO DEATH.

"Jesus was dragged before the High Priest and condemned to death. It was then that the High Priest, Caiaphas, performed a divinely act of sublimation. He sent his prisoner to me to confirm his condemnation, and secure his execution. I answered him that as Jesus was a Galilean the affair came under Herod's jurisdiction, and ordered him to be sent thither. The wily tetrarch professed humility and protesting his deference to the lieutenant of Caesar, he committed the fate of the man to my hands.

"On my palace assumed the aspect of a besieged citadel. Every moment increased the number of the malcontents. Jerusalem was founded with crowds from the mountains of Nazareth. All Judea appeared to be pouring into the city. By this time the marble stairs groined under the weight of the multitude.

"The Nazarene was brought back to me. I proceeded to the halls of justice, followed by my guard, and asked the people in a severe tone what they demanded.

"The death of the Nazarene," was the reply.

"For what crime?" "He has blasphemed; he has prophesied the ruin of the temple; he calls himself the Son of God, the Messiah, the King of the Jews."

"Roman justice, said I, punishes no such offences with death.

"Crucify him! crucify him!" cried the relentless mob. The vociferations of the infuriated rabble shook the palace to its foundation.

Vividly Pilate describes his efforts to save Jesus from the merciless persecutors and the pleas he urged to awe them into submission. His report then goes on:

"I then ordered Jesus to be scourged, hoping this might satisfy them, but it only increased their fury. I then called for a basin and washed my hands in the presence of a clamorous multitude, thus testifying that in my judgment Jesus of Nazareth had done nothing deserving of death. But in vain. It was his life those wretches insisted for.

"Often in our civil commotions I have witnessed the furor of anger of the multitude, but nothing could be compared to what I had witnessed on the occasion. It might have been truly said that all the phantoms of the infernal regions had assembled at Jerusalem. The crowd appeared not to walk, but to be borne off and whirled as a vortex, rolling along in living waves from the portals of the Praetorium even unto Mount Zion, with howling screams, shrieks and vociferations."

According to the statement of the Paducah News Mr. Harry McChesney, of Livingston county, will be a candidate for State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Mr. McChesney is one of Kentucky's most brilliant young men, and as an educator he stands in the forefront in Western Kentucky—a section that is more alive to the interests of the public schools than any other portion of the state. The rapid and healthful growth of public interest in our public schools has been due to the energy, good judgment and untiring devotion of such men as McChesney to the cause. His nomination for the highest office in this department of state affairs would be an announcement that his party endorses and appreciates the successful efforts his class of splendid workmen are making to press the banner of civilization forward, and his election would mean that the public schools of Kentucky are being lifted to the highest and broadest sphere of usefulness. He has been associated with the public schools from his boyhood, and no man in the state has better ideas touching the administration of the affairs of the office. Coupled with his experience, his keen foresight, his love for the work, his good business training, and with his splendid practical views along educational lines, especially fit him for this great work. His work as superintendent in his own county is unquestionable evidence of the truth of these statements; his popularity among the best teachers in Western Kentucky is another evidence of his sterling worth as an educator. For the good of the cause of education in the state, for the good of the party, for the admiration we have for the good people of Livingston county, the Press would rejoice to see Harry McChesney nominated and elected Superintendent of the public schools of Kentucky.

The impression prevails at Havana that Marshal Blanco has no hope of conquering the Cuban insurgents. He is credited with a statement that Spain could keep up the fighting until next April, after which time he would return to Spain if peace could not be established.

Gossip That's Going on Over in Illinois.

Eldorado, (Ill.) Reporter: The Equality and Ridgway paper in speaking of the extension of the Illinois Central R. R. from this city say they believe that by proper encouragement the officials could be induced to extend the road so as to reach these places. We believe ourselves that before a great many months roll by the road will be extended but it is hardly probable that it will touch Ridgway. The I. C. has recently purchased the O. V. road running into Nashville, Tenn. This would only give them a short distance to build from this city—30 miles—to a point in Kentucky where they would intersect the O. V. road, thus giving them a direct line from St. Louis to Nashville and making it a competing line with the L. & N. It is altogether probable, if the road is extended at all, that this will be the route it will pursue. However, there is a splendid country for a railroad from this city to Mt. Vernon, Ind., via Ridgway and as the I. C. is out for all they can get there would be nothing like a trial on the part of the citizens of Ridgway and other towns along the line. We should like to see both the extensions made at an early date.

Eving Binkley, formerly a resident of this section, but now living at Clarksville, Tenn., passed through here last week.

Jim Harris, of Greens Ferry, has been on the sick list the past week; he is at the house of his father in law W. C. Tyner.

Felix Tyner, who moved to Arkansas the last of October, writes back that he arrived safe at his new home all well, and is having a fine time chasing deer and killing turkeys. Send us one, Felix, for we are awfully hungry for a little deer and turkey meat.

Will Sisco has just completed a fine job of work for the county, in the shape of a fill in the road near Tyner's Chapel.

Ed Sommers and John Harpending spent part of last week on the Ohio river fishing, hunting and peccan hunting. The boys report lots of fun and plenty of game.

It has not been safe the past week for one to venture far from home on account of the bird hunters. It makes a fellow feel like he was back in the year 1893.

BELLVILLE BEND.

Traveling has almost ceased at Bellville on account of the muddy ford and low water.

Corn on Tradewater is fine. T. B. Payne's farm will yield two thousand and bushels.

STATE HOLIDAYS.
A Proposed Honor to the Memory of Jefferson Davis.
(New York Sun.)
Jefferson Davis, the President of the Southern Confederacy, was, like Abraham Lincoln, a Kentuckian by birth. Mr. Davis was born in Christian county, Ky., and Mr. Lincoln was born in LaRue county. The date of Jefferson Davis' birth was June 3, 1808, and in the State of Florida—Florida is the only State to observe it officially—the birthday of Jefferson Davis is celebrated as a legal holiday. A proposition to extend its observance to the State of Georgia is now pending, and in advocacy of the project it has been urged that Georgia is one of the five Southern States which celebrate as a legal holiday the anniversary of the birth of Robert E. Lee, January 19, and as the empire State of the South, Georgia could with propriety celebrate the birthday of the civilian head of the lost cause, as well as that of the military commander of the Southern forces. The other states of the South which celebrate Gen. Lee's birthday are Virginia, of which state he was a native; North and South Carolina and Florida. The bill offered in the Georgia Legislature to make the birthday of Jefferson Davis a legal holiday, was reported adversely by the Judiciary Committee, but the House of Representatives has by a unanimous vote rejected the report, and it is thought probable that the views of those who desire to see this day commemorated officially in the Cracker State will prevail, and that Georgia will be added to Florida as one of the states celebrating Mr. Davis' birthday. Mississippi, of which Jefferson Davis was so long a resident, which he represented in Washington in House and Senate, almost consecutively for sixteen years, and of which he was a resident until his death, has taken no action of this kind. The explanation of the matter is to be found, perhaps, in the fact that Mississippi is one of the Southern States which recognize but very few legal holidays.

A Queer Medicine.
There is a medicine whose proprietors do not claim to have discovered some hitherto unknown ingredient, or that it is a cure all. This honest medicine only claims to cure certain diseases, and that its ingredients are recognized by the most skilled physicians as being the best for kidney and bladder diseases. It is Foley's Kidney Cure. At Haynes'.

Pianos and Organs.
LOW PRICES, EASY TERMS.
I am agent for the old reliable firm of Harding & Miller, of Evansville, and handle the best instruments made. We sell at the lowest prices, and on terms so easy that anybody can buy and pay for a piano or organ. If you are thinking of buying, I will be pleased to call on you, show the instruments and make prices and terms. Prompt attention given to mail orders.

A Short, Sad Story.
A Cold, Neglect, Pneumonia. Grief.
Had Foley's Honey and Tar been used this story would have had a happy ending.

There is no need of little children being tortured by scald head, eczema and skin eruptions. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve gives instant relief and cures permanently. At Haynes'.

It is always gratifying to receive testimonials for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy, and when the endorsement is from a physician it is especially so. "There is no more satisfactory or effective remedy than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy," writes Dr. R. E. Robey, physician and pharmacist, of Olney, Missouri, and as he has used the remedy in his own family and sold it in his drug store for 6 years he should certainly know. At Orme's.

Bargains IN Buggies.

As the season is nearly over, in order to close out my stock of buggies I will give some extraordinary bargains. I have some choice vehicles, and this is an opportunity you can't afford to miss. J. P. Pierce.

To make the complexion good and the breath sweet, use Dr. Bell's Peppermint Chili Tonic. It purifies the blood, rids you of malaria and is an upbuilding tonic, aiding digestion. Pleasant taste and pleasant effect. It is guaranteed by all dealers.

If your eyes ever become tired, or smart and burn or feel heavy, 25 cts. will give you more comfort than you can imagine, if invested in a tube of Sutherland's Eagle Eye Salve. Perhaps you never did nor never will have sore eyes—this is no sign your eyes do not need strengthening, and your sight cleared.

DISOLUTION NOTICE.
By mutual consent the firm of Clement & Gues has this day dissolved partnership. All persons owing the firm will settle same with J. W. Gues. All owing Clement & Co., will settle with I. H. Clement.
J. W. Gues,
I. H. Clement,

How long have you been coughing
—a day, a week, a month, a year? Dr.
Bell's Pine Tar Honey will cure that cough. There can be no doubt of it, because it has cured many others equally severe. Every one should investigate the merits of this great remedy.

Messrs. Arch Croxson and Joe Hays, of the Salem vicinity, were in town Tuesday. Since the election Archie is unable to get about by himself, and the boys appointed Joe as his aid-de-camp.

The following persons have our
thanks for payment of subscriptions:
J. R. Farris, Salem; C. W. Love, Abe
Millican, Sherman, M. Brantley, R. C.
Lucas, W. E. Wilcox, Mattoon; R. H.
Waddell, Levas; F. E. Davis, Black-
ford; W. F. Harmon, Jonth Stone, Tolu; Green Jacobs, W. M. Maynard,
Sam Hursi, Marion.

Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey advances
a new theory in the treatment of all cough, lung and bronchial troubles.
It cures and cures quickly. Absolutely harmless, and pleasant to take. It cuts loose the mucous without exertion or straining, and stops the cough
at once. It heals the inflamed parts.
It gives vigor and vitality to the respiratory organs. It enables the blood to receive the proper supply of oxygen. It builds up the system, rendering it less susceptible to cold.

A Runaway.
Notice is hereby given that Mont
McConnell, a 14 year old boy, left our

Mr. W. J. L. Hughes has secured a position as traveling salesman for a St. Louis firm. He was in town this week with his samples, and did business with some of our merchan-tants.

This has been a fine fall for gathering corn and the farmers have not neglected the work. According to the reports that come from the Ohio river bottoms, the yield of corn is much better than was anticipated in that famous corn growing section.

J. M. Thirswend, of Groesbeck, Tex., says that when he has a spell of indigestion and feels bad and feels bad and sluggish he takes two of DeWitt's little Early Risers at night and he is all right next morning; many thousands of others do the same thing. Do you?
At Haynes drug store.

Watson Rice and Gus Weatherford returned Monday from a hunting and trapping expedition in the Ohio river bottoms of Southern Illinois, near Shawneetown. They had a wagon load of big hickory nuts, a few bushels of pecans, and a few rabbits and quails.

Four of the persons who went to jail to pay fines assessed at the last term of Circuit Court are finding employment on the rock pile provided by town Marshall Loyd. The work is not very profitable to anyone, but it beats idleness and renders jail life
a little less inviting.

On Monday night a most ungodly thief broke into the cellar where Mr. J. M. Freeman had his canned fruits, etc., and stole two jars filled with wine, and also some canned fruit.
One of the jars of wine was subsequently found hidden under the house. Now who got drunk Tuesday on the wine?

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Cardin gave a very delightful farewell dinner party on the 21st, to Miss Zelma Moore. The rooms were handsomely decorated with ferns and chrysanthemums. The table was particularly beautiful, a very elaborate centerpiece occupied the center place on a lovely bit of Mexican drawn-work, the china
was hand-painted, on the place-cards
kiosk scenes of plantation life,
mounted on white water color paper
and bore appropriate quotations. Miss Moore left the following morning for her home in Sherman Texas.

THE HEATER BURST.

And Several Passengers on the O. V.
Train were Badly Injured.

Yesterday morning, while the south bound passenger train on the Ohio Valley was at Dekoven, the heater in one of the passenger cars burst, partially wrecking the car, and badly injuring a number of the passengers.

Those who sustained the greatest injuries were R. C. Watkins, traveling freight agent of the road; C. C.
Cameron, chief clerk of the general freight office at Louisville; Mrs. Minnie Sharp, of Hopkinsville; and Mrs.
Lolla Reus, of Obion, Tennessee.
Several others were more or less injured, but the condition of those four was serious. A number of the injured people were on the train, when it passed Marion, two hours after the accident. Physicians were aboard and doing all they could to relieve the suffering.

GOOD SALES.

The Woodall Tobacco Company Top
Figures.

Saturday Mr. (Sherman) Woodall,
one of the most successful tobacco
growers in the county, was in town.
He and his brother Will have contracted their entire crops at 8 cents per pound, all round. And John Woodall, another brother, sold his at $8.25, but retained a portion of the most inferior class, therefore the $8.25 was not quite equal to the $8,
for which the others sold, and which is, up to date, the highest price reported paid this year. Sherman Woodall was in the Passes office Saturday and after telling of his sales said: "Will the Passes please inquire the whereabouts of my friend, Harrison Bigham, of Chapel Hill. In an article in the Passes some time ago he said that his neighborhood was going out after better prices for their tobacco than the Woodall boys would get. Now we have reported we want to hear from Chapel Hill."

A PREACHER HORSEWHIPPED.

By a Young Man Who Had Been Re-
proved During Church Services.

Providence, Ky., Nov. 22.—At Rockville, a Methodist church near here, yesterday Toy Allen, a young man who had been reprovved by the preacher during services attacked
Rev. J. J. Allen as he was leaving church and publicly horse-whipped him. A warrant has been issued for Allen's arrest and he will doubtless be landed behind the bars tomorrow. A revival is in progress at Rockville and much disorder and riotous conduct has been experienced. Sheriff Wadley attended the services last evening, and securing himself, succeeded in arresting three young men who were raising a disturbance on the outside.

Quirey—Nuss.

Mr. John S. Quirey and Miss Nannie A. Nuss were married this evening, at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride, the Rev. Jas. F. Price of Marion, officiating. The wedding was extensively attended. The bridal couple entered to the music of the wedding march played by Miss Kitty Haynes and stood in front of two windows, which were handsomely and tastefully arranged, while the ceremony was being performed. The bride was attended by Miss Sue Nunn. They were becoming costumes of dark costly texture.

The groom was attended by A. O.
Williams. Mr. Reese Berry and Mr. George S. Wilson were ushers.

THE BAR SPEAKS.

Resolutions Complimentary to Judge
Pratt—Other Court Matters.

Marion, Ky., Nov. 19, 1897.
At a meeting of the members of Marion bar, held in the circuit court room at Marion, Ky., on Friday, Nov. 19, 1897, L. H. James was elected chairman, and H. A. Haynes secretary.

On motion the chair appointed J.
A. Moore, Jno. A. Moore, A. C.
Moore, J. W. Blue, Jr., J. B. Kevil and J. G. Rochester a committee on resolutions, and said committee offer
the following resolutions which were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, This is the last term of court to be held at this place by the Hon. Clifton J. Pratt before he retires from the bench as our circuit judge, and

Whereas, the members of Marion bar, being desirous of expressing in a substantial way our regard for him as a judge and a man, it is therefore resolved

First. That we have found him to be an able and just judge, and an honest and amiable man.

Second. That by reason of his learning, energy and executive ability he has afforded to litigants a speedy and impartial settlement of their causes.

Third. That by reason of his patience and courtesy to the members of the bar it has not only been a pleasure to practice before him, but he has won the esteem and admiration
of every member of this bar.

Fourth. That we commend to his successor his evitable record as a judge of this court, and trust that he will hold the esteem untarnished, spotless and without blemish as handed to him by his predecessor.

Fifth. We assure him that although he departs from our midst as judge, that our feelings and admiration for him are of that high character as are merited by his ability as judge of this court, and he carries with him the high respect and appreciation of this bar for the able manner in which he has discharged his duties as judge of this court.

Sixth. That these resolutions be spread in full upon the order book of this court, and that a copy thereof be given to Hon. C. J. Pratt, and also that copies be given the Crittenden Press and Madisonville Hustler for publication.

Committee.

On motion meeting adjourned:
L. H. James, Chm.
H. A. Haynes, Sec.

The divorce suit of Mrs. Electa M.
Boaz against John D. Boaz was continued until the next term. The defendant filed a lengthy answer to his wife's petition. He denies all of the charges made in the petition, and averts that he has at no time failed in his duty to his family, and that he loves his wife yet, but not her ways:

that she has forsaken him because she fears that he might get some of her property, "which seems to be now in her old age the idol of her heart";
that she would not visit nor help him
when he was sick and unable to help himself; that when her father died she received notes, bills, bonds, and chose in action to the amount of $10,000 in addition to real estate of considerable value, that these bonds, bills, etc.
were in his possession for some time
but she secured possession of them and then began mistreating him, and notwithstanding this mistreatment, set forth in this answer, "he is willing to make her a kind, loving and affectionate husband, doing everything in his power to make their home happy and pleasant;" he thinks if the divorce is refused, she will become reconciled, and he therefore asks the court to refuse the divorce, but if the court takes a different view and gives him the bonds, bills, etc., amounting to $10,000, they being, he avers his property.

The case of Wilson vs Moore was continued at the instance of the defendant, on account sickness in his family.

The jury commissioners who selected the jury for the next term were
Jno B. Perry, Jno. N. Clark and Jno
Polk. They were allowed, as the law provides, $2.00 per day each, for the two days work.

Mr. A. Wilborn renewed his bond
as master commissioner, with J. R.
Clark and B. L. Wilborn as sureties.

THE INDICTMENTS.

The indictments returned at the late term of circuit court were distributed among offenses as follows:

Concealed weapons 5.
Confederating 1.
Rape 1.
Attempted rape 1.
Assault and battery 1.
Obtaining goods by false pretenses 1.
Malicious shooting 1.
Selling liquor without license 1.
Firing pistol on public highway 1.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

The Old and Young Fall Alike Before the Grim Reaper.

Mrs. Ava Moore, relict of the late R. L. Moore, died at the Moore home stead, now the residence of Mr. E. C.
Moore, at Mattoon, Thursday at 10 a. m. She had been in feeble health, incident to her old age, sometimes on Saturday pneumonia developed and she continued to sink until she came peacefully on Thursday.

Mrs. Moore was in her 74th year;
she was born in South Carolina, March 2, 1824, and came with the family of her father, James Baker, to Kentucky in 1833; the family settling near what is now Providence. She was married to R. L. Moore in 1844, and the union proved a happy one.
To them five children were born;
Major-elect, Dr. R. L. Moore, of this place; Mr. E. C. Moore, the well known farmer and speculator of Ma-ttoon; Dr. L. B. Moore, of Missouri; Mrs. W. F. Summerville and Mrs. G. D. Summerville, both of this county.

The funeral took place from the residence Friday, Rev. W. Gibbs, preaching the funeral discourse to a large congregation of friends and neighbors of the deceased. The interment was in the new cemetery at Marion, and a large number of friends of the family attended to pay the last sad tribute of respect to the noble christian woman, and her mortal remains were placed at rest by the side of those of her husband beneath the shadow of the handsome monument
that now marks the last resting place of the old people who were honored with the respect, and the affection of the people when living, and the memory whom is cherished now that they have been gathered to their fathers.

The wife of Mr. Joe Taylor, of the Hurricane neighborhood, died Thursday after some weeks illness. She was a most excellent christian lady, and her death is deeply lamented by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. She leaves three little children, two of whom were just four weeks old
at the time of her death.

Little Eugene, eleven year old son of A. J. and Sue Chittenden, died at the home of his parents in this city Saturday night. Funeral services at the old cemetery Sunday evening,
Rev. W. H. Miley officiating.

Wm. Elder, a well known young man of Marion, died at his home
west of town Monday evening at 6 o'- clock, of consumption. The interment took place at the old cemetery
Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Elder was a good man and a good citizen, and his death is lamented by a large circle of friends and many acquaintances.

Mr. W. J. Beard, a prominent citizen of Tolu, died at his home Monday, after several weeks of fever.
He was one of the good, substantial citizens of the county, and his death is a loss to the community where he was well known and appreciated for his many good qualities.

No Shooting Allowed.

I will positively allow no hunting on my farm. Trespassers will be prosecuted.

Nov. 23, 1897.

In Memory.

Effie, daughter of R. W. and N. S.
McChesney, born July 1879, died Oct.
20, 1897, when she had emerged into womanhood she was taken sick, but bore her pain easy for two weeks. On Wednesday, Oct. 20, just at noon,
God took her away. On Friday, 22, her remains were laid away to rest in the Shady Grove cemetery, where her mother and brother Jimmie lies.

It is sad to part with those we love,
knowing that we will not see them
again in this world, but hope to see them again when the storm of life is passed away. Dear father, we deeply sympathize with your bereavement,
but God alone can heal the wound that death has made. Dear brother and sister, we are not for dear Effie, she has gone home to glory, and today she is mingling her voice with the celestial choir, singing the sweet songs of Zion.

Her friends watched over her many weary days and sleepless nights, trying to keep her with them, but no,
the cold, icy hand of death was laid upon her and she went home to God.
Effie's seat will be vacant and a void left in the family circle here, but look dear father, to the bright reunion by and by.

A precious one from us has gone,
a voice we loved is still, a place is vacant in our home that never can be filled. God in his wisdom has recalled the boon his love had given, and though the body slumbers here, the soul is safe in heaven.

Her Cousin.

utions such as were never in the editions of Pannonia or the tumults of the forum.

"By degrees the day darkened like a winter twilight, such as had been at the death of the great Julius Caesar. It was likewise the idea of March. I was leaning against a column of my basilica contemplating at heart the dreary gloom these fabled of Tartarus dragging to execution the innocent Nazarene. All around me was desert. Jerusalem had vomited forth her indwellers through the funeral gate that leads to Gemonia.

"An air of desolation and sadness enveloped me. My guards had joined the cavalry and the centurion, with a display of power, was endeavoring to keep order. I was left alone, and my breaking heart admonished me that what was passing at that moment pertained rather to the history of the gods rather than to man.

FIRES IN THE HEAVENS.

"A loud clamor was heard, proceeding from Golgotha, which, borne on the winds, seemed to announce an any such as was never heard by mortal years. Dark clouds lowered over the pinnacle of the temple and, setting over the city, covered it as with a veil. So dreadful were the signs that men ran both in the heavens and on the earth that Dionysius, the Areopagite, is reported to have exclaimed: "Either the author of nature is suffering or the universe is falling apart."

"While these appalling scenes of nature were occurring there was a dreadful earthquake in lower Egypt, which filled everybody with fear, and scared the superstitious Jews almost to death. It is said Balthazar, an ancient and learned Jew of Antioch, found dead after the excitement was over. Whether he died from alarm or grief is not known. He was a strong friend of the Nazarene.

Pilate told of his midnight visit to the city, and describes the scenes as the crowd returned home after the crucifixion, stating that he was sad and pensive as he saw the Jews departing from the awful scene.

"All drunk off like cowardly curs and gnashed their teeth," is the language ascribed to him. The story of the visit of Joseph of Arimathea to beg the body of Jesus is told pathetically. The resurrection of Jesus is dwelt upon at considerable length. Pilate's report on the subject was as follows:

THE RESURRECTION.

"When the great excitement arose about the sepulcher being found empty, I felt a deeper solicitude than ever I felt for Malcus, who told me he had placed his lieutenant Ben Isham with one hundred soldiers around the sepulcher. He told me that Isham and the soldiers were very much alarmed at what had occurred there that morning.

"I sent for this man Isham, who related to me, as near as I can recollect, the following circumstance: He said that at about the beginning of the fourth watch they saw a soft, beautiful light over the sepulcher. He at first thought that the women had come to embalm the body of Jesus, as was their custom, but he could not see how they got through the guards.

"While these thoughts were passing through his mind behold! the entire place was lighted up and there seemed to be crowds of dead in their grave clothes. All seemed to be shouting and filled with joy, and all around and above was the most beautiful music he had ever heard; and the whole air seemed to be filled with voices praising God.

"At this time there seemed to be a feeling and saying of the earth, so that he turned so sick and faint that he could not stand on his feet. He said that the earth seemed to swim from under him and his senses left him, so that he knew not what did occur.

"I asked him in what condition he was when he came to himself. He said he was lying on the ground with his face down; I asked him if he could not have been mistaken as to the light - was it not day that was breaking in the east? He said at first that he thought of that, but at a stone's cast it was exceedingly dark and then he remembered that he was too early for day.

"I asked him if his dizziness had not come from seeing such a sight, and if it had not been so, he said sometimes had that effect. He said he did not and had not been asleep all night, as the penalty was death for him to sleep on duty. He said he had let some of the soldiers sleep a time. Some were asleep then.

"I asked him how long the scene lasted. He said he did not know but he thought nearly an hour. He said it was by the light of day. I asked him if he had went to the sepulcher after he had come to himself. He said no, because he was afraid, that just as a relief came they all went to their quarters.

"I asked him if he had been questioned by the priests, and he said he had. They wanted him to say it was an earthquake and that they were asleep, and offered him money to say that the disciples came and stole Jesus; but he saw no disciples; he did

WORKER OF MIRACLES.
"It seems to me that if the Jewish theory be true, the conclusions are correct, for they are in accord with this man's life, as known and testified by both friends and foes, for the elements were no more in his hands than the clay in the hands of potters. He could convert water into wine, he could change death into life, disease into health. He could calm the seas, still the storms, and call up fish with a silver coin in his mouth.

"Now, I say, if he could do all these things - which he did, and many more, as the Jews all testify, and it was doing these things that created this enmity against him; he was not charged with criminal offenses; nor was he charged with violating any law nor of wronging any individual in person, and all these facts are known to thousands, as well by his foes as his friends - I am almost ready to say, as did Manlius at the cross, 'Truly this was the Son of God.'

"With the promise of faithfulness and good wishes to my noble sovereign, I am your most obedient servant,
"PONTIUS PILATE"
Obituary.

The angel of death has come again and Crawford Bell is no more. He died at the home of his parents, Asa and Martha Bell in Crittenden county Oct 21, 1897.

Death is the liberator of those whom freedom can not release, the physician of those whom medicine can not cure. Such it proved to him to whom these lines of affection and love are now inscribed. Young, having just emerged upon the stage of manhood, he was endowed with many noble and good qualities, loving and obedient to his parents, kind and affectionate to brothers and sister, and was loved of all with whom he came in contact. Crawford told us while sick, that he loved the Lord, and that he was not afraid to die. Death certainly leaves a shining mark to take one so young and useful from the walks of life, but the Lord knoweth best; our loss is his eternal gain; we have no reason to doubt that he rests on the evergreen shore, where death, parting and tears are no more.

Farewell, dear Crawford, your parting words were: "I am going home." "Just as Good"

of Cod-Liver-Oil with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, as the standard, and the purchaser who desires to procure the "standard" because he knows it has been of untold benefit, should not for one instant think of taking the risk of using some untried preparation. The substitution of something said to be "just as good" for a standard preparation twenty-five years on the market should not be permitted by the intelligent purchaser.
