

MOVING ON TO SANTIAGO

Both Sides Hurrying Reinforcements Forward.

The Great Battle May Occur Today Or May Delay A Week.

Seboay, Cuba, June 29.—[Special to the Press.]—The slow movement of American artillery may delay the general attack on Santiago until Friday.

Eight thousand Spanish are approaching to reinforce Santiago, but the Cubans hold every road and hope to cut them off.

The Americans are closing in slowly on the doomed city, each day finds some of our forces a little nearer. The rough approaches necessarily make the movements of the American army slow.

MADRID, June 29.—[Special to the Press.]—Spain claims that Germany has promised to prevent the bombardment of Manila.

MADRID, June 29.—[Special to the Press.]—Spain is gathering a fleet to resist the proposed attack of Americans.

PORT SAID, June 29.—[Special to the Press.]—The Spanish fleet is still here.

All Is Well Says Shafter.

Off Siboney, June 28.—Adjutant General, Washington: All is progressing well. We occupied today an advanced position abandoned by the enemy yesterday on the Savilla and Santiago road, within three miles of Santiago, and from which it can plainly be seen.

SHAFTER, Major General Commanding.

May Be Delayed A Week.

Washington, D. C., June 28.—The officials of the war department expressed the opinion this afternoon that the attack upon Santiago will not be undertaken for several days. This theory was based on the belief that Shafter has not yet landed his siege guns, and that it will be near the end of the week before the guns can be put ashore and hauled over the bad roads and placed in position commanding the doomed city.

Famine Threatened.

Madrid, June 28.—A dispatch from Manila to the Impartial, under date of June 22 says the insurgents are daily becoming more powerful. The large army of rebels besieging Manila is receiving reinforcements every day. The work of strengthening the defenses of the city is being carried on under terrible hardship and suffering.

The Spaniards lack food and it is feared they will soon succumb to starvation. They are now reduced to the extremity of eating such wild birds and shellfish as they are able to get.

The Canaries To Be Held

London, England, June 28.—The latest news from the Canaries to the Daily Mail says most of the new forts have guns mounted, but they are still quite exposed to view. The earthworks are not nearly completed. It is reported that 10,000 more soldiers are on the way from Spain, 5,000 for G and Canary, and 5,000 for Tenerife.

The government has determined to hold the islands at any cost.

Insurgents Give Trouble.

New York, June 28.—A Manila special to the Herald, dated June 28, says the situation in the Philippines is about to become complicated and it is now greatly to be regretted the United States did not send Decey 1,500 men immediately to take hold of Manila.

The interference which would have been impossible with Manila under American flag is not only easy while still under Spanish rule, but from present appearances almost certain.

The rebels owing to their successes have changed their tone and now want complete independence.

BY A DARING BLUFF

The Rough Riders Frightened the Spaniards From Their Stronghold at La Quasina.

New York, June 28.—Richard Harding Davis, in the Herald, adds some details of the fight at La Quasina. He says the action was finally won by a piece of pure American bluff.

"The Spanish position was an old ruined distillery, that in by impregnable bushes. In advance of the bushes there were a hundred yards of open ground covered with grass. At the edge of this grass Col. Wood ordered the line to cease firing, rise and charge across. The men did so under a heavy but, fortunately, misdirected fire of the Spaniards. It looked like a skirmish line thrown out in front of a regiment. The Spaniards could not believe so few would advance with such confidence unless supported in force, so they turned and ran.

"What had looked to the enemy like an advanced line was every man Col. Wood had let his disposal. At the place where the two trails meet and on ground the volunteers won from the enemy were buried the bodies of nine of the volunteers."

"The bodies were placed side by side in a deep grave, wrapped above and below in leaves of the royal palm. The place of each body was carefully recorded and the spot itself clearly marked."

SIXTEEN ARE KILLED

The First Fight On the Soil Of Cuba, Spanish Are Routed.

But Sixteen Brave Americans Go Down Before A Withering Fire.

Juragua, Cuba, June 26.—The initial fight of Col. Wood's rough riders and troops of the First volunteers, and Tenth regular cavalry, will be known in history as the battle of La Quasina.

That it did not end in the complete destruction of the Americans was not due to any miscalculation in the plan of the Spaniards, for as perfect an ambush as was ever formed in the brain of an Apache Indian was prepared and Tenth Col. Roosevelt's men walked squarely into it.

For an hour and a half they held their ground under a perfect storm of bullets from the front sides, and then Colonel Wood at the right and Lieut. Colonel Roosevelt at the left led the charge which turned the tide of battle and sent the enemy flying over the hills toward Santiago.

It is now definitely known sixteen men on the American side were killed and fifty wounded or missing.

The Spanish losses were far heavier. Already thirty seven dead Spanish soldiers have been found and buried, while many others are lying in the thick underbrush on the side of the gully and on the slope of the hill, where the main body of the enemy was located.

The troops had requested that they be sent to the front at once, and they were ordered to march over the foothills from Banquiri last night. After a forced march the troops were dismounted. They were then eight miles distant from Santiago.

They heard the Spaniards felling trees a short distance from them, and they were ordered to advance upon the enemy. The country about is covered with high grass and chapparal, and in this a strong force of the Spaniards were hidden. As the Americans moved forward they were met by a withering fire. Colonel Leonard Wood and Lieut. Colonel Roosevelt led the charge with great bravery. They scorned to hide themselves in the grass or underbrush as the enemy did, and ultimately they drove the enemy back toward Santiago, inflicting heavy loss upon them.

The troops sent out in advance were commanded by General Young. The rough riders were on his flank, several miles further inland. They were guarding him from a surprise. Of the cavalry there were in the expedition several troops of the First and Tenth cavalry, and eight battalions of the rough riders, all dismounted. There were not 1200 men in all. They found 2,000 Spanish in a thicket and finally drove them back to the defenses of the town.

The blockade is extended.

Washington, June 28.—The president has issued a proclamation extending the blockade of Cuba to the Southern coast, from Cape Frances to Cape Cruz, inclusive, and also blockading San Juan, Porto Rico.

The terror crippled.

Washington, June 28.—A bulletin states that Capt. Sigbee, of the St. Paul, reports that he was attacked by a Spanish cruiser and the Terror off San Juan, and that he sent three shells against the Terror, sending her to shore in a sinking condition, killing one officer, two seamen and wounding several others. The Terror's cruiser was disabled early in the action and scamped back to shelter. The St. Paul sustained no damage.

The Vesuvius in action.

Off Santiago, Cuba, July 27.—Rear Admiral Sampson warned his fleet this morning to exercise great care in shooting at the hills east of Morro Castle, pointing out that the American army had advanced and that our troops might be deployed on the hillsides.

It is hardly likely that any serious action will be taken by the navy until Wednesday. By that time the army is expected to be ready for another forward movement.

The dynamite gunboat Vesuvius fired three shells last night. They fell in the vicinity of Morro Castle and the eastern batteries.

During the night a loud explosion occurred in shore near Aguadores. It is believed to have been caused by the Spaniards trying to blow up the rail road trestle near that place.

OUR BOYS ORDERED TO MOVE.

The First and Third Kentucky regiments have been ordered to Tampa, preparatory to embarking for Cuba or Porto Rico. The Marion boys are in the Third regiment, and will probably see something of real war at once.

Prison Commissioners.

Frankfort, June 28.—The headquarters of the Board of Prison Commissioners at the Board of Trade Hotel is a busy scene today. Candidates for places are taking turns at private interviews with members of the board. It is announced that the board will not elect officers until Friday. The election is expected to take place Thursday night. This decision has been arrived at since the question as to eligibility of members of the Legislature holding the offices, "which they voted to make," is being raised, and as a consequence the old slate, thought to have been cut and dried, now stands in a fair way to be broken, and a new deal may result.

PLANS ARE READY FOR SANTIAGO

Kingston, Jamaica, June 27.—The plans of Admiral Sampson for assisting Gen. Shafter in taking Santiago are completed. It is said warships can be sent in the bay without hindrance, as the Vesuvius has passed the Merrimac wreck while cruising at night, and learned that the bulk does not prevent the safe entry and exit of vessels.

Rome, Italy, June 28.—Earthquake shocks were felt at 1 a. m., at Rieti, forty miles away from this city. A number of buildings were damaged and the barracks were rendered uninhabitable. The population was panic stricken. At other points a number of persons were injured, but only one child is reported as killed.

TWENTY THOUSAND SPANIARDS THERE

At the Front on the Rio Guama. June 27.—It is announced on very high authority that almost 20,000 Spanish soldiers have arrived at Santiago de Cuba since the American advance began, and it is added that Gen. Pando may be able to effect a junction with General Linares at Santiago.

Reinforcements To The Front.

Washington, June 28.—Orders have been issued for the immediate sailing of another large expedition to reinforce Gen. Shafter. The soldiers will sail from Tampa and will include about nine thousand men. It is understood they will be taken from General Snyder's second division of the fourth army.

The Blockade Is Extended.

LUCIAN MILES DEAD.

Passes Away Wednesday Morning After A Long Illness.

After an illness extending over many weeks Lucian Miles, Jr., died at the home of his sister, Mrs. P. E. Cook, of this place, Wednesday morning at 3 o'clock. Everything that the skill of physicians could suggest was done to prolong his life, but surrounded by friends and loved ones, he passed peacefully away, after the many weeks of suffering. The funeral took place from the Cook residence yesterday evening at 5 o'clock, the Knights of Honor, of which he was a member, conducting the services at the grave. The interment took place at the new cemetery. A large crowd of his friends attended the last sad rites. The deceased was in his 22d year, and had many friends who mourn his death.

A Mob's Work.

Russellville, Ky., June 27.—George Scott, a negro, was lynched by a mob here yesterday morning. The mob overpowered Jailor Price, secured his keys and took the negro out on the Nashville pike and hanged him on the tree on which the notorious Proctors paid the penalty of their crimes.

Scott attempted to outrage Mrs. William Scroggins at her home, near Adairville, several weeks ago. At the time her husband pursued him and fired at him, but he escaped to Tennessee. He was captured there and placed in the Springfield jail, and later brought here.

BIGGEST ON RECORD

Is the General Deficiency Bill Just Sent to Congress.

Washington, June 15.—The Secretary of War has sent to Congress estimates of appropriations for the army up to January 1 next, amounting to $13,200,000, as follows: Regular supplies, $10,000,000; army transportation, $3,000,000; contingencies of the army, $100,000; secret service, $100,000.

The amount so far asked for on account of the war is approximately $391,000,000.

The bill is the largest deficiency bill ever presented to Congress, and the largest appropriation bill ever passed through that body since the civil war, a special appropriation bill of upwards of $700,000,000 enacted in the law in 1863 eclipsing it. It is the last of the general appropriation bills to be reported to the House at this session, all the others having already been disposed of by the House and all are now laws, except the Sundry Civil, Indian and District of Columbia, which latter have passed both Houses and are now in conference.

In addition to the amount carried by this bill, appropriations have been made during the session to supply deficiencies aggregating $115,356,146, making in all for deficiencies, including the present measure, $339,385,480. Of this amount $321,183,453 is distinctly for war purposes, and is independent of amounts carried in the Naval and Fortifications Acts, and in the Naval Auxiliary Act, which appropriated $3,000,000.

Under the head of naval establishment the bill carries ten millions for an emergency naval fund, and a maximum of $500,000 of the sum appropriated for the creation of an auxiliary naval force is authorized to be expended for the repair and equipment of vessels so purchased.

The following appropriations are included under the head of military establishment: Pay of volunteers under an act approved April 22, 1898, and subsequent acts, for six months beginning July 1, $25,026,266; also volunteer's pay under that act and of subsequent acts mustered into service under the President's call of May 25 to be available from June 1 to December 31, 1898, in all $1,099,881.

Total for War Department and military establishment war expenses, $178,317,876. The bill provides that these appropriations for the naval and military establishments for the fiscal year 1899 shall be available for liabilities incurred to and including December 31, next, and as much as necessary of the appropriations under the military establishment for the six months beginning July 1 may be available 100 months of June.

Aside from the war features, the bill repeals the joint resolution that accepted the invitation of Norway to participate in the International Fisheries Exposition this year; gives $2,000 indemnity to the heirs of Louis Moreno, the Mexican lynched at Yreka, Cal., in 1895, and gives $50,000 for continuing the examination, etc., for the Nicaragua canal; $1,000,000 to collect the revenue from the customs, additional to the permanent appropriation for this purpose; $200,000 in use for preventing and suppressing epidemics; $500,000 for additional temporary force in the internal revenue service to collect war revenue, and provides that the war revenue bill in the part making an indefinite appropriation for preparing and advertising the issuing of bonds, and certificates shall be construed to authorize the immediate temporary employment of such clerical and personal services as may be necessary.

The Wealth of the United States.

The celebrated English statistician, Mr. Michael G. Mulhall, is authority for the statement that the United States is considerably the richest country on the globe. In the following table Mr. Mulhall gives in round numbers the wealth of each of the world's leading countries, beginning with the United States:

United States,	$81,750,000,000
Great Britain,	59,080,000,000
France,	47,950,000,000
Germany,	40,200,000,000
Russia,	32,125,000,000
Austria,	22,560,000,000
Italy,	15,800,000,000
Spain,	11,300,000,000

In arriving at the wealth of each country Mr. Mulhall has not only considered its circulating medium, but also its real estate, railways, buildings and merchandise. From the foregoing table it appears that the wealth of the United States is $22,720,000,000 in excess of the wealth of Great Britain, and is equal to the combined wealth of Russia, Austria, Italy and Spain.

Spinal Disease the Result of a Fall—Abscesses Formed.

Kentucky Clergyman Reports What Hood's Sarsaparilla Did.

The character of the people who testify to the merits of Hood's Sarsaparilla is worthy of consideration. Read what a Kentucky clergyman says: "When our little girl was 3 years old she fell from a loft and strained her spine. Since then she has been subject to spinal disease, and lost the use of her limbs. She was very delicate and did not have much appetite, and abscesses formed on the left side of her spine, which discharged continually and she was obliged to lie on her right side all the time. We procured a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and she began taking it. The first effect was to give her an appetite and enable her to sleep. She continued taking it, and now she is a healthy child with the exception of her deformity." Rev. R. W. WARD, Chaplin, Kentucky.

AMERICAN HORSE WANTED ABROAD

Demand in the Old Countries for Cavalry Purposes.

There is one business that has not yet been crushed by the war, and that is the export trade in horses. In fact Europeans are buying more American horses than ever, if anything, and it now seems probable that over half of the old world's cavalry will ultimately be supplied with American mounts.

European faith in the American horse for any purpose is comparatively a new thing. It was born of the slump in horseflesh on this side, the sea that came with the trolley and the bicycle. Before that American prices were invariably too high for the European pocket, but then the surplus of horses soon became so great as to cut prices two or three times in half, reducing them below the European figures in fact.

This encouraged buyers from abroad and heavy shipments of horses soon began. It was not long after the first consignment of American beasts to the other side before their sterling qualities were fully recognized, and today they are among the most popular animals offered in any of the great European horse markets.

Nearly 70,000 horses were sent abroad from the United States last year. Of these, 42,070 were shipped from New York alone, and at the present rate the total shipments from that port will be larger this year than last.

"Most of the horses shipped here," county some years after the civil war and Northern funds kept it up for many years. At this school negroes and whites of both sexes were educated, and the head of the movement, John G. Fee, who suffered all the social ostracism, successfully carried on the movement and finally established a negro school with white teachers, men and women, at Ariel, near camp Nelson in this, Jessamine county. It was supposed that matters were moving on smoothly, as the whites gave no opposition. The white teachers lived with negroes and taught them. The teachers were women, northern women. They did not try to get admission to white society and they may not have taught social equality except by example. They were not molested but were looked upon as harmless cranks. No white pupils ever attended this negro school taught by white people.

said a man who is intimately connected with the export trade in horses to the writer yesterday, "are sent through two well known stables, one located in the borough of Manhattan and the other across the river in Hoboken. Seven thousand went from the Hoboken stable last year, and 27,207 from the one at Manhattan, while 8,800 were sent from scattering stables or put aboard ship direct from the cars as they came from the West.

"At the present time shipments are going forward in greater number and with greater steadiness than ever before. Regularly on Saturdays the Atlantic Transport line of steamers, plying between this port and London, carries a cargo of 350 white like number is also taken each Saturday by the Wilson Furnish line, sailing direct from London. On Tuesday regularly from 300 to 500 are taken by the big White Star freighters and on Saturdays there are shipments of nearly equal proportions by the Hamburg American line. Besides irregular shipments go by the Wilson lines to Hull, Glasgow, and London. Fortnightly shipments are sent by the Phoenix line to Antwerp and tramp steamers very often include horses in their cargoes.

"The biggest dealers in these horses on the other side are, probably, William Orai, of Liverpool, and Pritchard & Moore, London. They hold weekly sales, Orai's being on Tuesday's and Pritchard & Moore's Wednesday's, and the number of horses disposed of by each every week is about 350. Adam Macchatti, of Glasgow; Henry A. and Chas. Fleishman and W. Schlesinger & Co. of Vienna; Morganstein, Ruskas, Berlin; and H. B. and Co. of London, are all important factors in the American horse trade abroad.

"It would not be easy to find out how large a proportion of these horses are bought for cavalry service," the speaker continued, "but I have no doubt that a large number of those going to Australia find their way into the cavalry there elsewhere. Unquestionably the cavalry service of the country now includes thousands of horses raised on this side of the water.

"Austrian cavalry horses are undoubtedly selected with greater care than those of any other country. Horses with hoofs pointing inward or outward are invariably rejected. To be acceptable the hoofs should point straight to the front, since horses with such hoofs are rarely subject to interference or over reaching, two vices which are considered decidedly detrimental in cavalry mounts. Horses with ewe necks and unduly sloping shoulders are also thrown out, while of course the animal with a deep chest, high withers and an arched neck is always in demand. American breeders have lately been paying special attention to these points, and if the good work is continued right along the demand in this country for European cavalry horses is sure to increase almost to an indefinite extent."

France and Russia probably come next to Austria as buyers of American horses for the cavalry service. Russia buys them in great numbers, openly, the same as Austria; but not so France; such a course, as the writer was informed by the horseman, above quoted, would raise the biggest kind of a row among the Gauls. They hold that everything bought by the government should be produced in France, if possible, and that the French horses are second to none in the world.

This is unquestionably true with regard to heavy animals for draught purposes. But the French product of horses fit for cavalry falls far short of the demand. American horses get into the service, however, through the hands of speculators, who buy them at sales in Vienna, Bologna, and Brussels and then take to France, where they are turned out and kept for a season and then sold to the government as the genuine, French bred animal.—Philadelphia Times.

Failure of the Scheme to Establish a Mixed College.

The movement commenced after the war by Northern philanthropists to establish mixed schools for both races and sexes in Kentucky, that created so much criticism, falls to pieces of itself as a failure and unworkable, and the social educational experiment is about to disintegrate, says the Nicholasville Democrat.

Berea was established in Madison John G. Fee continued to purchase land, and build small cottages and sell to negroes. He was active in educational, church and temperance work. A few distinguished persons came and wrote about Berea in newspapers and magazines. The Gliders of the Century Magazine and George K. Orle, the novelist, visited Berea. Judge Becker, of Winchester, too, adhered to the movement and made a lengthy defense of it in the public prints. He was criticized by the press and people, but by degrees the subject dropped out of mind. Time brought changes. The school graduated preachers and teachers. The white men and white women who went there were seldom Kentuckians.

Preacher John G. Fee, who had made of himself a martyr to the move, gave a blow to the cause he had kept alive by strange fanaticism when he changed his religion, and now he is about to give up the anomalous social arrangement as a failure. Fee, who was a Congregationalist, was converted to the church which Alexander Campbell has distinguished—Christian or reform church, and now he wants this church to buy up Ariel and make of it an industrial school for negro boys and negro girls while Berea will get rid of the negroes as fast as possible and in their stead will take in poor mountain boys the "Brother in White" only, from Kentucky and Virginia, and educate them for the ministry. With all the zeal of a new convert to his newly found faith, he has interested the rich congregation at Louisville, and will doubtless succeed in his new undertaking.

The deal is about to be consummated. His church at Louisville he wants to experiment with negro education, and sent a board to Ariel to make a proposition. Fee owns ten lots and one hundred and fifteen acres there, but the school and 140 acres is in the hands of a board of trustees. Elder R. G. Frank, of Nicholasville, with Elders Dorsey and Smith, made a proposition to pay $3,375 to the board and it was accepted, now to be ratified by the church at Louisville. The deal will doubtless be consummated and it virtually means a collapse of coeducation of races and sexes under one roof.

NOTICE.

TO DEPOSITORS AND CORRESPONDENTS OF MARION BANK.

Your attention is called to that part of the WAR REVENUE ACT relative to STAMPS on checks, drafts, etc., which requires that a TWO (2) CENT REVENUE STAMP be placed on "any bank check or draft or order for the payment of any sum of money drawn upon or issued by any Bank, Trust Company, or any person or persons, companies or corporations, at sight or demand, and that the person using or affixing same shall write or stamp thereupon the initials of his name and the date upon which said stamp is used."

THEREFORE, ON AND AFTER JULY 1st, NEXT, stamps must be affixed to all checks or drafts you may draw on this Bank, and all checks or drafts you may deposit or remit for your credit, and all stamps must be cancelled as provided above.

Respectfully,
T. J. VANDELL, Cashier.

STAMPS REQUIRED.

All Checks and All Notes Will Have to Be Stamped.

The new revenue law goes into effect July 1. On and after that date all bank checks must bear a two cent stamp; the party drawing the check must attach the stamp and cancel it and the teller of a bank paying a check without the stamp attached is liable to a heavy fine. No matter whether the check be for one dollar or one thousand dollars, it takes the two cents, no more, no less, to satisfy the law. A stamp must also be attached to all promissory notes bearing date of July 1, or any date thereafter. All old notes or notes dated prior to July 1 are not required to be stamped. Notes for a sum not exceeding $100, require a two cent stamp, and for each additional one hundred dollars or fractional part thereof in excess of one hundred dollars, two cents.

The Collector has made arrangements with Mr. George M. Orider, the postmaster at Marion, to handle these revenue stamps, and he now has them for sale. The postmaster is allowed a commission of one per cent on all he sells.

Our Teachers.

All of the teachers have been selected for Marion school for next year. Their names and positions are as follows:

Charles Evans principal and teacher of ninth and tenth grades.
Miss Alice Browning, eighth grade.
Miss Maggie Moore, seventh grade.
E. D. Gray, fifth and sixth grades.
Miss Lillie Cook, third and fourth grades.
Miss Pearl Cook, second grade.
Miss Lena Woods, first grade.

A Tall Man.

Marion can not be easily excited over the appearance on her streets of tall men, because we have some pretty altitudinous folks ourselves, but last week, when Jim Goodloe was seen climbing onto one of his counters to look into the pocket of a coat on a man, and when Bell Keivil had to look up at an angle of about 60 degrees to see the face of that man, crowds gathered around. The man was Col. A. A. Powell, who is possibly the tallest man in the country. He is seven feet and four inches in his stocking feet. His usual weight is 325 pounds, but he is not up to the usual weight now only 250. He is thirty seven years old and was born in Texas. He has traveled with the big circuses, but is now traveling for the Arm and Hammer brand of soda.

Asker Anniversary.

WESTON, Ky., June 23.

Last Saturday Mrs. M. A. Asher celebrated her sixty fifth anniversary. Her family and many friends gathered in and it was a day of handshaking and reunion. With one exception all of the children were present. Mr. Jeff Asher was detained at home on account of illness. A sumptuous meal was prepared by the children and all present enjoyed the tempting viands of the bountiful board. Mrs. Asher was the daughter of Mr. Samuel Orider, who came from Virginia in an early day. In 1852 she professed faith in Christ under the preaching of Bro. Love at Piney Fork church, and has been a faithful Christian ever since, giving her children an example worthy of imitation. She took the Bible as her guide. She first sought "the Kingdom of God," and many blessings have been added to her lot. She and her husband have been well blessed with this world's goods, industry and economy have characterized their lives, and now as they grow old, they happily and trustfully look to their heavenly Father for the future.

To know Mrs. Asher is to love her, she is not a woman of many words, but rather of deeds, and her kind deeds and motherly love lives in the hearts and minds of her children and friends.

The pleasures of the day will long be remembered by all present. May there be many returns of the day.

STONEWALL.

Nothing of unusual interest. Everything in Stonewall lowly and the goose hangs high.

Prayer meeting at Piney creek every Sunday morning with good interest manifested.

We had a good rain on Saturday night.

Some wheat crops are good, while others are light.

Talk about roads; ours are solid now, they have some high and some low places but we manage to get over them, and we will continue to before we will be in favor of assessing a "three dollar poll tax on every voter in the county. We are in favor of working the roads by taxation but we think it should be both poll and ad valorem. Who does good roads benefit the most? The property owner of course. We are in favor of taxation, but each one should pay in proportion according to his means and property.

BELLEVILLE BEND.

James Spencer went to Glenn Grove Sunday.

Wheat is all harvested and the prediction is, that the yield will be light.

Lee Wood and Walter Neal, who have been in Mississippi sowing oats, have returned. The boys look rather emaciated; but cupid's longing is no more, and the Kentucky breezes for smiling faces.

We were at Providence yesterday, and found wheat right down to sixty cents. What did Ollie James tell us? Well some how and for some reason our Sunday school was "out" Sunday. Very likely the out door society will continue to meet; when we were a boy, Sunday schools never went into winter quarters until frost anyway, now it seems that the some-to-go crowd soon predominates and of course the predominating elemental ways absorb the surroundings.

Miss Ella Dorris was the guest of Miss Edna Howerton Sunday.

Sunday the writer dined at the hospitable home of Mr. Geo. Johnson. His home is located in a most picturesque spot, right in the heart of Silver Ridge. Mr. Johnson has vast fortunes in the earth he owns, and takes great pleasure in explaining the riches of his survey to visitors.

In the Bend we noticed Mr. Geo. Cardwell, wife and daughter, accompanied by Miss Verna Todd, all of Shady Grove.

F. A. Casner, our Bend teacher, has been secured to teach our school. We want to congratulate our trustees.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL R. R.

OF INTEREST TO STOCKHOLDERS

Free Transportation to Attend the Annual Meeting at Chicago. Some Interesting Facts.

In order that stockholders of the Illinois Central Railroad Company may more readily attend in person the annual meetings, there has been posted in each station of the Company a notice to the effect that, in accordance with a resolve of the Board of Directors, there may be issued to each holder of one or more shares of capital stock of the Illinois Central Railroad Company, as registered in the books of the Company, a ticket enabling him or her to travel free over the Company's lines from the station of the Illinois Central Railroad nearest to his her registered address, to Chicago and return, for the purpose of attending, in person, the next Annual Stockholders' Meeting of the Company, which will be held at its General Office in Chicago on Wednesday, September 28, 1898, at noon. Details as to the necessary procedure to obtain such ticket, the date of its issue and its limit, are fully set forth on the posted notices referred to. In this connection, it will be interesting to note that since, in 1862, the capital stock of the Company became full paid, a cash dividend, ranging from 4 per cent. to 10 per cent. per annum, has been paid semi-annually to every holder of the stock, and that it is now twenty years since the Company, in any year, paid less than 5 per cent., the present rate of distribution.

Bad management keeps more people in poor circumstances than any other one cause. To be successful one must look ahead and plan ahead so that when a favorable opportunity presents itself he is ready to take advantage of it. A little forethought will also save much expense and valuable time. A prudent and careful man will keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house, the shiftless fellow will wait until necessity compels it and then ruin his best horse going for a doctor and have a big doctor bill to pay, besides; one pays out 25c, the other is out a hundred dollars and then wonders why his neighbor is getting richer while he is getting poorer. Resolutions of Respect.

WHEREAS, Bigham Lodge, No. 256 F. & A. M., is again called upon to mourn the loss of one of its honored and respected members by reason of the death of Bro. John W. Blue, who departed this life on the 23rd day of May, 1898, at the age of 69 years; and WHEREAS, Bro. Blue was for a number of years a faithful and earnest member of this lodge; having served this lodge as Master with credit to himself and with honor to the Craft; and was until the date of his death a living example of the generous and noble principles taught by our order. Therefore be it

RESOLVED, That in the death of Bro. Blue this lodge has lost one of its most valuable members, who had the highest appreciation of the tenets of our order, and whose life was a fulfillment of that Christian love and charity which everywhere mark the highest type of a Mason. In whatever station of life his acquaintanceship brought him he was honored and respected, and but few men have drawn to themselves warmer attachments. As a citizen he was upright and honorable. As a father, brother and kinsman he was gentle, indulgent and affectionate; as a neighbor he was considerate and charitable.

RESOLVED, That this lodge set apart a page on records in which to record these resolutions; that a copy be furnished the family of the deceased under seal of the lodge, and a copy furnished the Crittenden Press for publication.

RESOLVED, That the lodge be draped in mourning and the members wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

The Curfew Bell.

There are, it is said, three hundred towns in the country in which the curfew bell is now rung at night. The upholders of the new regulation quote statistics to prove that crime has decreased in consequence, and that every day fewer arrests have been made, says Harper's Bazar. The object of the movement is to keep the children off the streets at night, and to get them, safely tucked away in bed before danger or temptation can assail them.

When statistics about crime and its decrease are quoted, the voice of dissent for the time being is silenced, and it requires a certain amount of hardihood afterward to so much as attempt the first argument to prove a possible other side. But there are those of us who remember among the sweetest sins of our youth the joys of running away on Summer nights when bed time came—well out of the parental voice. There was the beauty of the early moonlight to tempt us, the fragrance of sweet fields; there were the rumps on newly mown grass-heaps, the hide-and-seek behind the currant bushes, and the daring plunge into some boat drawn up on the shore. No delight were ever like them. We would rather mock that we possess today to have them ours again. And there was no penalty of a two-dollar fine hanging over our heads, only the frown on a mother's face that we could kiss or laugh away in a moment.

It would never do in these days of strict discipline let the children know how innocent and easily condoned that disobedience was. Yet who of us can resist a sigh of sympathy for those little ones who have to be summoned to bed by a curfew bell—a bell the sound of which they can never reasonably hope to escape, or coax into a smiling silence? For them there never was the memory of voice, no less sweet because ignored, of some mother standing on the porch or coming down the dusky road to call them home to call them to bed? Of course these pleasures were never at best for the town-dweller, and no doubt it is wise to get the children in from city streets and out of harm's way before temptation is abroad. Yet how hot the rooms to which the bell will summon them; how crowded, how unpleasant! Better than the streets? Perhaps! But America is not Russia, and the "curfew" is fit only for a country of slaves ruled by a Czar.

Mr. P. Ketcham, of Pike City, Cal., says: "During my brother's late sickness from acute rheumatism Chamberlain's Pain Balm was the only remedy that gave him any relief. Many others have testified to this prompt relief from pain which this liniment affords. For sale by J. H. Orme, druggist."

Obituary. Died on the 28th of April, 1898, a Salem, Livingston county, Ky., Myrtle Butler, daughter of Frank and Elizabeth Butler, aged sixteen.

In the mysterious dispensation of Providence the Master permitted the resper to come and call one of the sweetest blossoms from the parent stem. When just budding into lovely girlhood disease came like a cloud on her horizon. The cloud grew and grew, ever and evermore ominous, until at last the dark Plutonian shadows of death gathered about her and her gentle spirit took its flight, even as a star that sinks to rest. I recall the melody of her sweet voice in song, as often thrilled me; I hear distinctly now her whispered tones, produced by disease. Among the duties of her kind were found flowers springing from golden calyxes, plants with luxuriance of bloom, unselfish and generous she commanded the love, respect and esteem of every one who knew her. Uncomplainingly she suffered, submitting with christian faith to the call of death. Dead in the morning of her girlhood, dead in the home of her kindred. Dead did I say? And yet not the poet and we truly declared: "To live in hearts we leave behind is not to die."

Fortunate was each of us as we will so imitate the virtues which adorned her life that when death comes we may like her be "at rest" until our freed spirits awaken to the pure light and blissful scenes of immortality beyond the grave. How suggestive is this of the uncertainty, the instability, the utter helplessness of life and life's highest hopes and dearest ambition. And how solemn the admonition to discharge our duties here as secure the rewards of the great hereafter. She comes no more to us. If our lives are as earnest, sincere and truthful as hers was we will go to her. But while forever gone she will not be forgotten, for in the ocean of memory there is an island upon whose shores the waves beat with ceaseless roar. There is no death, what seems so is transition. This life of mortal breath is but a suburb of the life elysian, whose portal we call death.

Another Examination.

All Practicing The Healing Art Will Be Examined at Louisville, July 5

The State Board of Health, Bowling Green, Ky., issues the following under date of June 21, 1898: To Osteopaths and all other Unlicensed Practitioners of the Art of Healing in Kentucky:

Gentlemen: Notice is hereby given that this Board will hold an examination of applicants for license to practice the healing art "by any system or method whatsoever," at the University of Louisville, in the city of Louisville, beginning at 9:00 A. M. Tuesday, July 5, 1898.

The examination will be open to all bona fide residents of the State, who are graduates from schools of Osteopathy, from medical schools whose standing has not been heretofore fixed by the Board, and to all reputable non-graduates who were reputedly and honorably engaged in the practice of medicine in this state prior to February 23, 1884, who can furnish the proof required by the statutes.

The examination will be limited to the branches taught in such schools at the time the particular applicant graduated, will be entirely in writing, and while practical in character will be sufficiently thorough to fairly test the capacity of each applicant. The Board wants every competent applicant to obtain a license, and no one should ask more than this. As the Board does not contemplate another examination for graduates from schools now represented in this State, or for non-graduates, it is earnestly requested that all applicants be on hand promptly at the hour named.
