MARION, CRITTENDEN COUNTY, KENTUCKY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1898.

NO. 12

A Brave Woman.

A few days ago Mrs. Alice Wheeler, near Ansonia, this county, met a big rattlesnake. Instead of screaming or climbing on top of any convenient elevation to arouse the neighborhood, or making a Cervera run as is the wont of her sex, she secured a club and promptly administered a Dewey thrashing unto his snakeship, and when the battle was over Mrs. Wheeler notified the family that she was master of the situation. His snakeship had an armada of twelve rattles, and his battleship was nearly five feet long.

To be a Missionary

Miss Alice Griffith, a well known young lady teacher of this county, left Tuesday for Kansas City, where she will attend a missionary training school two years preparatory to taking work in the foreign missionary field of the Methodist church. Last year she completed a literary course at Valparaiso, Ind., and determined to devote her life to the cause she has now chosen. Miss Alice is an accomplished and charming young lady, a devout Christian, and possesses all the qualifications necessary to success in the great work which she elects to undertake.

At the regular meeting of Crittenden Chapter No. 70, Saturday night, the following officers were elected and installed for the ensuing year.

Watson—Jones.

Yesterday evening at 6 o'clock, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Alex Jones of the Levisa neighborhood, Mr. Hick Watson and Miss Ida May Jones were united in marriage. Rev. A. S. Johnson officiating. Both are well known and well liked young people of this section, and the Press extends congratulations, hoping that the union will prove a happy one, and that peace and prosperity will attend them all the days of long and useful lives.

Volunteer at Home.

Thomas Woody, who belongs to the First Mississippi regiment of volunteers, is at home on a thirty day furlough. He was stationed at Jacksonville, Fla., when taken down with fever. He has recuperated since finding a place at a Kentucky table, and breathing Kentucky air, and is now beginning to look like his former robust self. His furlough expires on the 18th, and if his regiment is not mustered out by that time he will return to it. He is not charmed with camp life, however, and was disappointed in not being sent to the front.

Takes Two Premiums.

Last week Col. A. D. McFee's saddle and harness mare, Madge, took two handsome premiums at the Shaw neetown fair—one in the sweepstakes and the other in the all purpose ring. Madge is an iron gray, six years old, and was sired by Denmark Chief. Under the saddle or in the harness she is mighty hard to beat. Mr. McFee had given her no special attention, but took her off the pasture, rode over to the fair, and entered her against some fine stock from various places, and he is naturally very proud of the prizes he captured.

Wheat Thrashed.

We would be glad to have all the thrasher men in the county report to us the amount of wheat each has thrashed during the season. The following have already reported:
G. B. Crawford 21,000 bushels.
Buckner Croft 16,000.
Hughes & Gass 16,000.
Thomas Latham 7,000.

SCHOOL OPENS.

Our Great Public Institution Begins Its Fifth Year Better Than Ever.

Teachers, Trustees and Patrons are All Well Pleased.

The fifth term of Marion graded school opened Monday under the most favorable circumstances. The big hall was crowded with pupils and patrons. After a song by the pupils, Rev. Jno M. Crowe read a lesson from the Scriptures and led in prayer, closing with the Lord's prayer, which was repeated by the pupils. Then came a timely address from Prof. Evans, outlining the work of the year; the president of the board of trustees made a few remarks and Mr. A. C. Moore, on behalf of the patrons, assured the teachers of the appreciation of the public. Miss Min Wheeler made a splendid but brief address to the pupils.

The Star Spangled Banner was sung by the school, and then the tick of the gong called each grade to its room, and the work of the year began in earnest.

The people of Marion appreciate their school more than ever, and there is practically a unanimity in the community that insures a successful season.

The outside attendance is large for the beginning of the term and will grow as the season progresses. Marion has every reason to be proud of her school, and its growing usefulness and extending popularity at home and in surrounding counties is an evidence that it is appreciated. If the school continues to grow, it will not be many years before the already large house will have to be extended, and no doubt when the time comes for this the people of Marion will readily respond to the demand. Nothing has done or could do more to build up the town than this school, and this fact is being so clearly demonstrated that the people who desire the community to grow, in all that makes a higher and better civilization, will rally to the support of every effort taken for the benefit of the school.

WALTER BLACKBURN PROMOTED.

A Crittenden County Boy Becomes Chief Deputy.

Mr. Walter Blackburn, one of the most popular deputies in the United States Marshal's office, has been promoted from the position of book-keeper to that of chief clerk.

O. V. Office Moved.

It is now a certainty that the office of the superintendent of the Illinois Central Railroad will be removed from Henderson to this city during this week.

They will be located on the second floor of the E. & T. H. freight house facing the entire length on Eighth street.

Work was begun Saturday to get the office in readiness for the reception of the furniture, fixtures, and other effects of the Henderson office. In connection much new furniture will be secured, and when the offices are ready for occupancy they will be equal to any in the city.—Evansville Courier.

Compulsory Education.

It is likely the people need to be reminded of their compulsory law, which was passed by the legislature before the last. It provides a punishment of a fine of five to twenty dollars for the first offense and ten to fifty dollars for the second offense. The law requires all parents and persons having children between the ages of seven and fourteen years under their control, to send their children to school at least eight consecutive weeks in a year. Trustees are unable under the law for not prosecuting parents and guardians who violate the law.

The small attendance generally reported by teachers makes it appear the law is violated by a large number.—Murray Ledger.

MORE SUGGESTIONS.

Remove Incompetent and Neglect Overseers, and Make Amenable to Circuit Court.

EDITOR PRESS: With feelings of a diaphoretic tendency I lay bare my shirt collar to do homage to the all-important road question which is, or ought to be universally uppermost in the minds of all tax payers in the county. In the first place we want no Sister Sally say so of either sex, but we do need a legislative enactment, a creature of law composed of a commission of three men, with the county judge at its head. The judge's assistants should be men of practicability, whose past record shows them to possess good judgment and ingenuity in the art of road making. This commission should be notified by every road overseer in the county, immediately after they have worked their roads, and said assistance shall immediately proceed to investigate the character of the work done, and with the county judge as chief, fix the compensation therefor. It shall be the duty of county judge, after investigation by all the board of commissioners, to relieve any road overseer for neglect or incompetency, and employ a neighboring overseer to discharge his duty, until said road district can furnish a competent man. Said commissioners shall have the present road law executed in full, and for failure be amenable to the circuit court judge in behalf of the county roads in sums double the amount of damage sustained at any particular time or place from wanton neglect. County Judge shall select his colleagues annually and remove one or both at discretion and appoint a like number, whose duty it shall be to have all plank, picket and any character of fence removed to a proper distance to insure a competent roadbed, also to condemn all parts of roads worked in a careless manner and take such inefficiency from the payroll of said road. County judge shall receive $3 a day when on the road in consultation with his assistants, but shall be limited to five such consultations annually, and shall meet his assistants in his office from time to time without extra charge to the county.

It is permissible and just to say that our road overseers have under past circumstances done what they thought best, but the condition of our county roads, to say the least, there is great room for improvement, so much so that any able bodied man under sixty five years old should be directly interested and listed as a road hand or overseer, from the fact that our old men are better qualified and more competent in many respects and would command perhaps more reverence from the road hands than our young men. This of itself is an item of importance, for "united we stand, divided we fall." If we are to progress in everything else, let us take a long stride to have roads that will not endanger the lives of our wives and children when compelled to leave home. We can have just such roads if we put the right character of men after them, empowered and bound under legislative enactment to draw the last drop of essence out of the road question favorable to improvement or perfection.]

DEWEY'S SWORD.

Designs for the Memorial Finally Accepted By the Committee in Charge.

The design for the memorial sword the Government is to present to Rear Admiral Dewey, according to act of congress, has been determined upon by the committee having the subject in charge, consisting of Acting Secretary Allen, Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, and Prof. Oliver, of the United States Naval Academy. A great many designs have been submitted, some of them showing much artistic beauty. The one selected was submitted by Tiffany & Co. of New York.

The design is less ornate than some of the others, but its marked character is its simplicity and solid elegance. The hilt of the sword, as originally submitted, showed an eagle's head, but this was changed to a plain and solid but highly chased gold handle. The blade is "damascened," being subjected to the process by which the famous Damascus blades were made. One side of the blade bears the inscription, "The gift of the nation to Rear Admiral George Dewey, U. S. N., in memory of the victory at Manila Bay, May 1, 1898." The scabbard is of dark blue damascened metal, with tracery of gold. One of the most marked features of the original design was at the end of the scabbard where in miniature a crown, presumably the Spanish crown, was being run through by this Dewey sword. The committee rejected this suggestive feature and instead of the pierced crown there is substituted two dolphins.

OVERCOME WITH HEAT.

And it is Feared That the Result to Henry Love Will Be Serious.

Henry Love, a young man living near Salem, became raving mad a few days ago, and his condition was such as to alarm his friends. Just after leaving his work in the field one of the hot days last week, he grew wild and it required two or three men to hold him. He was taken home and placed on a bed, but would not remain there, and every article of furniture that came within his reach was broken to pieces, and he made herculean efforts to escape from his friends. It is thought that the excessive heat on the brain caused the trouble, and it is hoped that the young man would recover. He is a son of Mr. Newton Love, one of the best citizens of Livingston county.

NEGROES IN A PANIC.

Over Two Thousand Have Been Driven Out Texas Country Districts by Whitecaps.

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 1.—A reign of terror exists all over Northern Texas among the negroes and they are flocking to Dallas for protection. The whitecaps in Denton, Rockwell, Grayson, Kaufman, Fannin and other counties are to blame. Outrages have been perpetrated in numerous places, during the last thirty days, including the whipping and shooting of negroes for various criminal offenses, and blowing up of half a dozen more houses by dynamite.

The negro districts and suburbs of Dallas are crowded with strangers. Chief of Police Cornwell says there are nearly 2,000 negroes here and more coming. Police Captain Kahan says that 200 negroes came in last night, huddled together like a flock of sheep.

The police and the sheriff's department find this race problem a difficult local situation to solve. Burglaries are increasing in numbers and boldness but the officers believe that most of them are the work of white thieves who reason that the crimes will be charged to the strange negroes. Cornwell and his force are doing all they can for the refugees.

Some farmers claim that many of the whitecap notices are posted by designing negroes, who have lived long in certain localities and desire to create a panic among their race so as to make a scarcity of cotton pickers and thus advance the price of the picking.

Aerial Dynamite Torpedoes.

Hiram Maxim is now located in England, where he has five large factories, employing over two thousand men in the manufacture of his celebrated guns.

The genius of the Maxim family does not stop with Hiram. His brother, Hudson Maxim, has just invented a gun that, in its awful destructive force, goes far beyond Hiram's. It is called the Maxim aerial torpedo and is designed for coast defense and naval work. The torpedo is fired in to the air, instead of along the surface of the water. In fact it is used the same as any cannon or mortar. The gun has a bore of twenty six inches, which is double the size of any cannon. It throws a ton of dynamite five miles.

With torpedoes the object must be hit, or no damage is done. With the Maxim torpedo, if it strikes within two hundred feet of a warship, it will shiver it to atoms. He has invented a smokeless powder to use with the torpedo.

This is the most terrible invention of the age. If it proves all that is expected, and our government promptly takes possession of the gun, we shall be invulnerable against all the combined forces of the world. One of these in New York harbor would destroy the navies of all nations.—Selected.

TO TEST GOBEL LAW.

The Franklin Circuit Court Will Decide on its Constitutionality.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 1.—The constitutionality of the Gobel election law will be tested at the September term of the Franklin circuit court. Attorney Briggs filed a mandamus suit against Auditor Stone to compel him to pay the expenses so far incurred by the board, amounting to $210. The petition recites the appointment and qualification of the commissioners, their services and expenses, the presentation of their bill to the auditor, properly certified, and his refusal to pay it. Senator Gobel will probably assist Mr. Briggs in the trial of the case.

MRS. CRAVENS SUES.

Accuses Mrs. Thomas Jackson of Alienating Affections of Her Husband and Wants Damages.

Sebring, Ky., Sept. 2.—A damage suit, sensational in its allegations, was filed in the Webster Circuit Court at Dixon today. Mrs. W. H. Cravens sues Mrs. Thomas Jackson for $5,000 damages, alleging the alienation of her husband's affections. The petition sets up that the defendant wine and dined her husband, and she, the plaintiff, was not invited nor present at such dining. Bad conduct on the part of both is alleged. Both families are of good standing. The filing of the suit has created no little comment. Mrs. Jackson is quite well off in this world's goods, by inheritance, and her husband is a prominent farmer. Mrs. Cravens and her husband have been living apart for the past six months, he being in McLean county. Cravens is a contractor.

Died of Hydrophobia.

Henderson, Ky., Sept. 4.—The 7 year old child of Policeman Satterfield died a horrible death this morning from hydrophobia. It was bitten by a puppy some time ago. No attention was paid to the slight wound until the child took sick on Friday. It had convulsion after convulsion, for several hours before death relieved it from its terrible sufferings.

The same dog also bit several other young children at the same time, but no symptoms of the disease have developed among them.

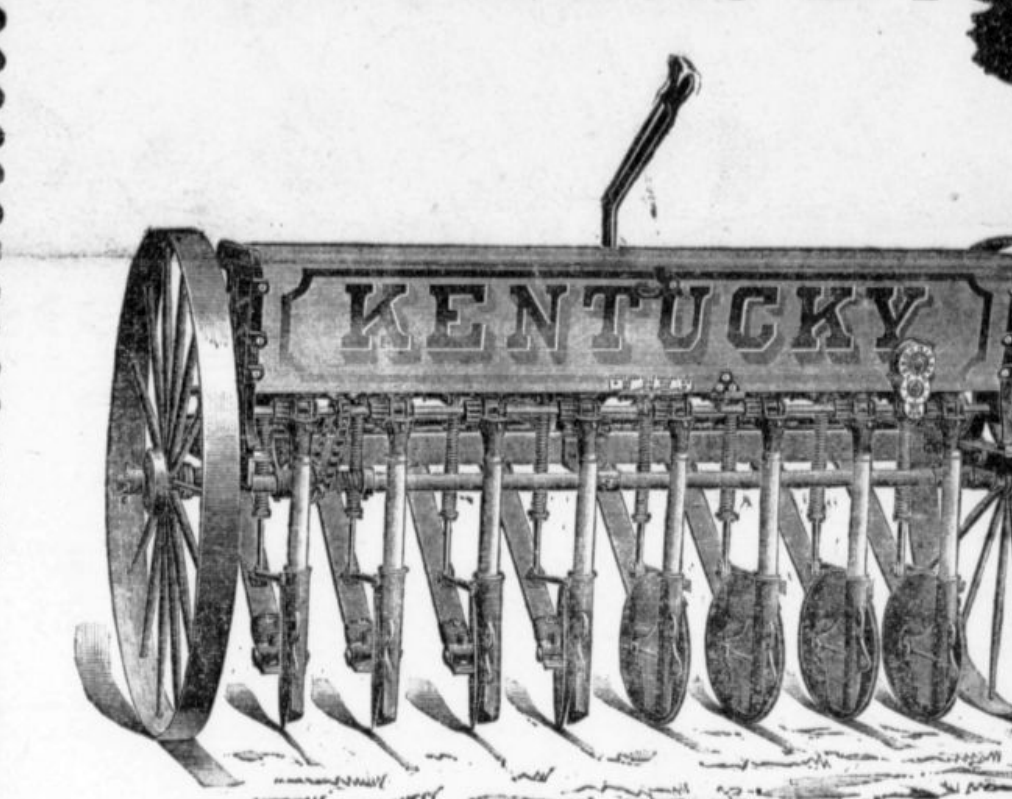

To Vote on Prohibition.

The Lecture.

Rev. John M. Crowe will deliver his famous lecture, "The Tell Tale Tick of Time," at the Opera House to night. His great powers as an orator have charmed the people of Marion for the past week, and his sermons at the Methodist church have been full of the best thought of the age. Judging from these we have no hesitancy in predicting that his lecture to night will equal anything we have had in that line, and we have had Sam Jones, John Temple Graves, Dr. Dixon, and other bright lights of the American platform. Wherever the lecture has been delivered the comments of the people and press have been of the most favorable kind.

When some big corporation or company engaged in a business that adds not a single dollar to the wealth of the world, but handles the dollars made by the toiling millions, foots up its business at the end of the year and finds that its profits are large, the announcement is promptly made that prosperity has returned. The correct way to measure prosperity is to consider the condition of the producer of wealth, the standing of the man who makes two blades of grass grow where one grew. If his two blades bring him no more dollars than did his one, wherein has he prospered? The increased profits of the corporation handling the product of his labor does not mean prosperity to him. It simply means that the corporation with its evidence of prosperity is growing off of his labors, and so far as he is touched "returning prosperity" is still a future factor in his affairs.

She is the great freight transfer point from Memphis to Chicago, from Louisville to New Orleans, and from New Orleans to Memphis, etc. This being a fact the railroad officials have set about to build a "Y" two miles in length, connecting the Louisville and Memphis line with the Chicago and New Orleans line.

At a point back of the residence of W. W. Morris three and one half acres of land have been purchased, on which will be erected a $7,000 freight depot. The yard force to be sent here will bring not less than thirty or forty families to our town; while four regular freight crews will also lay over here, bringing about twenty five families with them.—Fulton Leader.

Tribute of Respect

Fannie Bell Travis, the subject of this sketch, was born February 6th, 1878, and died after a protracted illness April 27, 1898.

She was the daughter of Frank and Alice Travis. She professed faith in Christ at an early age, united with the Cumberland Presbyterian church, where she remained a faithful member until death.

It is sad to part with those whom we love, knowing that we will never see them again in this world, but we hope to see them again when life's storms are past.

Dear father and mother, we deeply sympathize with your bereavement but God alone can heal the wound that death has made. Dear brothers and sisters, weep not for dear Fannie, for she has gone home to glory, and today she is mingling her voice with the celestial choir, singing the sweet songs of Zion.

Her friends watched over her many weary days and sleepless nights, trying to keep her with them, but the cold, icy hand of death was laid upon her and she went home to God. Fannie's seat will be vacant and a void left in the family circle here, but look, dear friends, to the bright reunion by and by.

During her protracted illness she was patient and resigned to the will of the Master all the time. Not one word of discontent, not a murmur of repining, was breathed from her pure young lips, and when death came it found her ready. She called her friends around her and bid them goodbye, and told them to meet her in heaven. She told them not to grieve for her, that it was nothing to die. She said for them to tell her Sabbath school teacher and her classmates goodbye. She died the triumphant death of a Christian and went home to dwell with God and the angels. Let us all strive that we may meet her in the sweep by and by.

The funeral services were conducted by Bro J. T. Barbee, at Sugar Grove. A large crowd of friends and relatives were present. She was then laid to rest to await the resurrection morn.

Fannie has gone before us. Her saintly soul has flown, where tears are wiped from every eye and sorrow is unknown. And when the Lord should summon us Whom he has left behind? May we, untainted by the world, As sure a welcome find.

A Cousin.

A Strange Obituary.

The subject of this sketch, Robert L. Fritz, is a son of Mr. Lanzia H. Fritz, a well-known citizen of this county. In the year 1888, Robt. L. Fritz bid adieu to his friends and loved ones, to seek his fortune in the far west, and there engaged himself as a miner, which occupation he followed the most of the time for the past ten years. Within the last three years he gave his heart to Miss Ella Drury, of Web City, Mo., who became the idol of his home. Bob was honest and upright, but lived in prodigality—his mother and his brother often prayed that he might quit his wanderings. During the last year his mother visited him—on leaving him to return to her home again prayed with him and intreated him to meet her in Heaven—but said he had no hopes of meeting her on earth again. Later on his young brother, John H. Fritz, a dear boy, one who is loved by all who know him, visited him and also engaged in the mining work, and from a mysterious cause, became very much interested in the spiritual welfare of his brother and had several seasons of prayer with him. Some mornings ago conviction seemed to have a strong hold upon him; it was noticed that his affections grew stronger for his wife than usual, although he had been devoted to her, he was last to leave home for his work in the shaft, and before entering the shaft was sent to drop his face in his hands as if extreme sadness had overtaken him. At 8:30 that morning a premature blast from dynamite blew him into eternity, and he was dropped on a platform at his brother's feet in an unconscious state to die in 40 minutes. It was said by the miners present that while Billy lay dying that his brother prayed a most wonderful prayer that the Lord would save in the last moment. Can a boy forget his mother's prayer? R. M. The Middle-of-The-Roaders in Trouble at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, Sept. 6.—At the Populist Convention now in session at Cincinnati, the Western and Southern delegates nominated Wharton Baker for President and Ignatius Donnelly for Vice President and promulgated a platform of 7,000 words. It is a noisy convention and the middle-of-the-roads are badly divided. The Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio and West Virginia delegates, headed by Parker of Louisville, today joined the bulkers, leaving the hall and issuing a protest against the whole proceedings.

My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It cured me, and thank God I am saved and now a well and healthy woman." Trial bottles free at J. H. Orme's drugstore. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed or price refunded.

News has reached here that a young lady who lives some miles east of Marion attempted suicide a few days ago because her parents objected to her marriage. She attempted to drown herself in a pond; and but for timely rescue would have succeeded. The report is not confirmed, however, and for this reason we give no names.

The I. C. Railroad sent Miss Wheeler a check for its school tax a few days ago. In the Marion school district the road's tax amounted to $135, and will be divided between the white and colored districts in proportion to the pupils each have. When the O. Mr. W. Wheeler, a St. Louis music dealer has been in the county some days buying mules, and he has gotten together nineteen fine animals. War Questions Are Answered

From the Atlanta Constitution.

Editor Constitution—Does not the difference in caliber between the Mauer and the Krag-Jorgensen bullet account to a great extent for the startling difference in mortality among those wounded on the American and Spanish sides at Santiago? Dr. Parker sent us at the hospital here samples of both, and it does not seem fair to use them to oppose each other. Has the government prepared any report on the subject?

Harvey Long, M. D.
New Orleans, Aug. 26
Dr. Parker, of whom you speak, was making investigations of exactly this character when the abrupt departure of Dr. Guitierrez from Siboney led him to be ordered to take charge of the yellow fever hospital, and his opportunities were thus cut off. The work was then taken up by Dr. Fauntleroy, and the latter has in preparation for one of the medical magazines an illustrated paper showing the relative destructive properties of the Mauer and the Krag-Jorgensen. Every army surgeon in the field hospitals before Santiago agreed that the Mauer was by long odds the most humane bullet ever employed in war. In scores of cases, treated these bullets had passed through bones with out breaking them, and the patients were able to be about again in a couple of weeks. Men were shot straight through the head and recovered. In either instance the Krag-Jorgensen would have shattered the bone and caused the ugliest possible wound in the one case and death in the other. You are undoubtedly right in your assumption that the difference in the bullet is responsible for the difference in mortality, and the doctors are so much interested in the matter that all possible technical curiosity will be set at rest by the contributions which they will shortly make to the professional press.

Editor Constitution—How were the horses and mules landed in Cuba, if the surf, as Mr. Cramer says, was so rough that the beach was "fringed with the wrecks of small boats," and the troops were disembarked with so much difficulty? Yet we landed nearly a thousand head. Breder.
Tifton, Ga., Aug. 23.

General Shafter's way is to throw the horses and mules overboard and let them swim. That is a good way, but the horses and mules taken to Cuba had been standing ten days in the holes of the transports, and one of five of those which escaped death on route went to the bottom like lead when they struck the water. Their legs were stiff. A pretty way would have been to land them in lighters, as did Gen. Miles in Porto Rico, who differs from General Shafter as much as a Kentucky thoroughbred differs from a Mexican broncho. And there were not a thousand head landed in Cuba, either. There were less than five hundred.

Constitution: Will you give me an opinion (Mr. Cramer says he is a Scovel-Shafter affair?)

FORAKER WILL VISIT CUBA.

Will Ride Horseback Across the Island to Get Material for Speeches in Senate.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 1.—Joseph Benson Foraker, the friends of the Cuba, will ride in a saddle over the islands of Cuba and Porto Rico in order to be able to speak from a personal knowledge when the question of their future government shall come up in the United States Senate.

Senator Foraker's voice, above all others, has been the most vehement for the liberation of the Cubans. There is now said to be danger of his efforts being frustrated by a disposition to give the Cubans a protectorate instead of an independent government. The senator now intends to see for himself and to exonerate the Cubans from the charges that have been heaped upon them if they were false.

He intends to visit Cuba and Porto Rico. He intends to see the provisional government of the Cubans in operation. If the Cubans are thieves, looters, born revolutionists and intractable brigades, he intends to find it out.

This intention Senator Foraker himself disclosed to a reporter at the St. Nicholas hotel tonight. He talked freely about his plans. He said he had no personal interest in the Cubans, and if he found out that he had heretofore been mistaken he would willingly admit it. He seemed elated about Commander McCalla's report of the favorable conduct of the Cubans who participated in the fight with the marines at Guantanamo, before the army arrived in Cuba. From this he deduced that they might have shown the same daring at Santiago, had they not been restrained by the premeditation of General Shafter to make cowards of them.

"The Cubans are a tractable, liberty loving people, I believe," said Senator Foraker.

"I tell you that there are more Spaniards in Washington than you think. This hanging about the inability of the Cubans to govern themselves is an attempt to assassinate them, to stab them in the back, and there is a gang in Washington that is doing it. It is the same Spanish gang that sent Thomas Dawley to Santiago with Shafter as official interpreter to mislead the newspaper men."

Disease Beats Bullets.

While 550 Are Killed By Spaniards, 2000 Perish By Fevers

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 1.—The Tribune prints statistics showing the number of soldiers killed in battle, and who have died of disease in the camps during the war with Spain. The Tribune says:

"While 550 officers and men were killed in battle or died from wounds received, there died of disease between 1200 and 2,000 volunteers and regulars."

LEAVES THE CHURCH.

Evangelist H. C. Morrison Will Not Be Subject to Her Laws.

Louisville, Aug. 30.—The Times says:

"The Rev. H. C. Morrison of this city, the well known holiness evangelist, has withdrawn his letter of membership from the Southern Methodist church. This action was taken because the law of the church does not permit the Rev. Mr. Morrison to preach where he wants to."

It will be recalled that the Rev. Mr. Morrison was expelled from the church for alleged violation of the law, but was afterwards reinstated on appeal, in which the law was considered technically. At the last general conference of the Southern Methodist church, held at Baltimore in May, a stringent law was passed, prohibiting an evangelist from going into a Southern Methodist preacher's charge and holding services without the consent of that preacher.

In giving his reasons for withdrawing from the church in the columns of his paper the Rev. Morrison says in part:

"I have withdrawn from the church simply because those men within her membership, who are gradually but certainly working her ruin, have put a law that would deprive me from preaching to these people the bread of life."

"I have been called to Terrill, Tex., to preach entire sanctification to thousands of humble people, who the Lord willing, will meet me there. Notwithstanding this meeting is to be interdenominational, the pastor of the Southern Methodist church at that place has forbidden my coming to preach to the people."

"He has the law in his favor. It is plainly written and easily understood. If I should go forward to hold the meeting without withdrawing from the church it would precipitate a church trial, many would become involved and hurt might come to the cause of Christ."

"When I joined the church I took a solemn obligation upon myself to be subject to her discipline. This I have done in all good conscience to this hour."

"I want to say to those who have long wanted to turn or drive me out of the church, do not congratulate yourself or rejoice over my departure, for I might suddenly appear among you again. To all intents and purposes I am a Methodist, and existing circumstances make the Southern Methodist church my legitimate denominational home. I suppose this new and iniquitous law will be tested in the case of Dr. Bolling and Dr. Briggs. If it should prove to be impractical or unconstitutional I see no reason why it should not come back and live within the pale of my old mother church."

"I should be grieved if any one should withdraw from the church because of the step which I have taken."

The Rev. Morrison takes occasion to jump on the book agents of the Southern Methodist church for alleged deception in securing the passage of the Publishing House claim of over $200,000 through the Senate.

A CRITICAL TIME.

During the Battle of Santiago.

SICK OR WELL A RUSHNIGHT AND DAY.

The Packers at the Battle of Santiago de Cuba were all heroes. Their heroic efforts in getting ammunition and rations to the front saved the day.

P. E. Butler, of pack train No. 3, writing from Santiago, De Cuba, on July 23rd, says: "We all had diarrhoea in more or less violent form, and when we landed we had no time to see a doctor, for it was a case of rush and rush night and day to keep the troops supplied with ammunition and rations, but thanks to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy we were able to keep at work and keep our health; in fact, I sincerely believe that at one critical time this medicine was in the indirect saviour of our army, for if the packers had been unable to work there would have been no way of getting supplies to the front. There were no roads that a wagon train could use. My comrade and myself had the good fortune to lay in supply of this medicine for our pack train before we left Tampa, and I know in four cases it absolutely saved life."

The above letter was written to the manufacturers of this medicine, the Chamberlain Medicine Co., Des Moines, Iowa. For sale by James H. Orme, druggist.

Justice White, Whitelaw Reid, Senators Davis and Frye and Secretary Day constitute the American Peace Commission. These men will meet the five men appointed by the Spanish Government in Paris in October for a final adjustment of the matters that have heretofore been under the arbitration of arms.
