Anarchists have created in Paris scenes of the wildest disorder known in that city since the Commune. In response to appeals by two anarchist or revolutionary organs, a big anarchist meeting was held in the afternoon. Speeches of the leaders were so revolutionary that the police arrested the speakers. The crowd then began marching the streets, smashing windows of churches, destroying alta-s and images and other contents of the churches, in the meantime fighting with the police, seriously wounding several of them. The disorders were repeated at night, several more churches being desecrated united in the holy bonds of matriand several cafes destroyed.

Senator Goebel, in his speech, clearly defined the issues of the campaign. His arguments were telling and clear. During the delivery of his peroration, Mr. Goebel was momentarily overcome by the intense heat, an incident which for a time caused some alarm. He was compelled to give way to Senator Blackburn, who made an eloquent defense of the principles of Democracy, and at its conclusion, Senator Goebel and at its conclusion, Senator Goebel finished his masterly address.

The immense meeting was held in the shadeless courthouse yard at Mayfield, and despite the great heat, the auditors remained to the very last.
On the platform was noticed an immense picture of Hon. William J.

Now, as in 1896, the corrupt and corrupting forces that seek to perpetuate their control of government, to enrich themselves at the expense of the masses of the peoare engaged in an effort fraudu-ly to take Kentucky's electoral from Bryan and transfer it to McKinley; to prevent the election to the federal senate of Blackburn, Ken tucky's foremost champion of bimetallism, and to subject Kentucky per-manently to the domination of Hanna-ism and Hunterism, and all that they

FOE OF DEMOCRACY.

Big Railway Corporation Arraigned For Dipping In Polities.

"In 1896 the most effective instrument that aided in fraudulently taking Kentucky's electoral vote from Bryan and giving it to McKinley was the Louisville and Nashville Railroad company. Today the chief influence that is endeavoring to repeat the foul work of 1896 is the Louisville and Nashville Railroad company. Now, as in 1896, the means employed to this end are the subsidizing of newspapers, the cothe subsidizing of newspapers, the co-ercion and intimidation of employes and dependents, and an attempt to di-

"The true reason for this course of the most powerful monopoly of the commonwealth is found not so much in the pretended apprehension of hostile state legislation—for no such legislation is or has been proposed—but in the fact that those who own and control that conversiting have a greater control that corporation have a greater interest than any other persons on earth in the maintaining of the single gold standard.

"The Louisville and Nashville Rail-road company is controlled by the Belmonts, who are and for many years have been the American representatives of the Rothschilds. Mr. August Belmont is the chairman of the executive board of the directory of the Lou-isville and Nashville Railroad com-pany. The Cleveland-Carlisle gold bond sale contract was signed 'August Belmont & Co., on behalf of Messrs, N. M. Rothschilds & Sons of London, and themselves.

"None have a greater interest in maintaining the single gold standard than the Rothschilds and the Belthan the Rothschilds and the Belmonts, because they are the largest holders of American securities on earth. The agency through which they can most effectively work in Kentucky is the Louisville and Nashville Railroad company. Now, as in 1896, that corporation employs every known engine of coercion and intimidation against the Democratic party.

"Now, as in 1896, it uses the money gathered by it from the people of Kentucky to send broadcast over the commonwealth many thousands of free copies of newspapers that it has sub-sidized, containing every assault upon the Democratic party and its candi-dates that malignity and mendacity

the Democratic party and its candidates that malignity and mendacity can invent.

"Indeed, this year the people of Kentucky are plainly told by the president of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad company, Mr. Milon H. Smith, in an open letter, that that corporation is engaged in the effort to defeat the Bemocratic party and its candidates; and, furthermore, that it will desist from this effort only when a pledge is given not to do anything to which those who control the affairs of that corporation object.

"In other words, the owners of this corporation, which the people of Kentucky created by act of their general assembly; assume to decide for the people of the commonwealth what laws shall, and what laws shall, and what laws shall, and what laws shall not, be enacted, and what laws shall, and what laws shall not, be enough of Kentucky the question whether their laws shall be made and executed by themselves, through their duly chosen servants, or whether the exercise of the sovereign powers of government shall be turned over to the most powerful corporation in the commonwealth.

There is no fact better established than that during the canvass preceding the recent Democratic state convention, and during that convention, the Louisville and Nashville Railroad company left undone nothing within its power to control the action of that convention. That that attempt falled is sufficiently attested by the platform adopted and the ticket nominated by the convention and the open letter of Mr. Milton H. Smith. And when this corporation failed to control the Democracy of Graves, the banner Democracy of Graves, the banner Democratic in order to prevent the

If it needs a governor to do its will, it needs also a legislature, and railroad commissioners, and an attorney general, and a complete staff of subservient state officials. And if it may have and own a governor, it may have and own all the others. It need not stop half way in its determination to control the making and the execution of the laws, and of course it will not. For, if it may control in legislation and then in executive direction it may ultimately fix by law its tion, it may ultimately fix by law its own rates for the carriage of freights and passengers, and compel every bus-iness interest in Kentucky to pay trib-

"The Commercial utters this note of warning to the people of Kentucky, and it admonishes the great railway company which appears to be chiefly concerned that it is entering upon a dangerous campaign. SILVER AN ISSUE. Kentucky Democratic Platform Favors the White Metal.

"The platform adopted by the De-mocracy of Kentucky this year is as clear and unequivocal a defiance of all the forces of monopoly and concentrated wealth as the national platform of 1896 itself. It reaffirms without qualification that astional platform, and insists upon the independent free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to and insists upon the independent free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. Money is a measure of value, a medium of exchange. It is an established economic principle that as the volume of primary money, which is the basis of all business exchanges, decreases, the value of all property measured in the medium of exchange decreases. And as the volume of primary money increases, the value of property measured in or by it increases. Also, as the amount of primary money is lessened, the purchasing power of the dollar is increased. From the foundation of the government until 1873 both gold and silver constituted primary money of this country—being freely received at the miats without discrimination against either metal, and without charge for miniage. In 1873, without demand therefor from any political party, without describes of the matter, without open or public demand from any business interest, but secretly and surreptitiously, silver was demonetized and gold was made the sole primary money. The volume of primary money was thus cut in half; the value of all things measured in money was likewise cut in half, and the value or purchasing power of all credits was doubled. This act was done in the interests of the holders of the bonds and other securities of the American peo-

ELECTION LAW.

Its Real Provisions and Workings Are Lucidly Explained.

Lucidly Explained.

"This statute was rendered necessary by the frauds by which the vote of Kentucky was in 1896 taken from Bryan and given to McKinley. By what means were these frauds in the election of 1896 committed? By the deliberate and systematic violation of the most important provision of the secret ballot election law, designed to prevent frauds, namely, that provision which directed that at each voting precinct there shall be a division of the election officers among the political parties contesting in the election. There never was a secret ballot election law enacted anywhere that did not contain that safeguard against fraud. Why is that provision so important? Because by other provisions of the law it is directed that immediately upon the closing of the polis the ballots shall be counted, and immediately upon the closing of the conting the ballots shall be destroyed, and then the voter is prohibited from testifying in any proceeding, civil or criminal, how he voted. It is obvious that under such a system, if election officers act corruptly, they can with impunity make the result of an election what they choose without reference to how the votes were cast. The ballots being destroyed, and the voter prohibited from testifying how he voted, it is impossible to prove the fraud. When the offices are divided among the political parties, the representatives of each party can see to it—and if they are honest they will see to it— that no false count in the ballots is made, and they will refuse to join in certifying any other than the honest result.

"From the time that the bill for the election law was offered in the senate, over time I have publicly said any-

"From the time that the bill for the election law was offered in the senate, every time I have publicly said anything about this law I have stated this fact. In the election of 1896 the election officers of the city of Louisville were so appointed that at over 40 precincts there was not a single election officer for Bryan. This statement has never been questioned by any one. Under these circumstances a majority of 12,000 was turned out in Jefferson county for McKinley. It would have been quite as easy to have made the majority 23,000, and there can be no doubt that if the Democratic majority in the First and Second congressional districts had not been underestimated by the Republican party leaders and their allies in that contest the McKinley majority in Louisville and Jeffer-"From the time that the bill for the their allies in that contest the McKinley majority in Louisville and Jefferson county would have been much larger than it was. We have the authority of Hon. John S. Rhea for this fact. Several weeks before the election of 1896 it became known that the Republican county judge of Monroe county had grossly violated the law requiring a division of the election officers. Mr. Rhea's brother and a friend went to Tompkinsville, the county seat of Monroe county, and called the attention of the law, and demanded a division of the election officers. The county judge promptly agreed to comply with the demand, and told the Democrats to select their list of officers, which they did, and the judge appointed them. On the evening judge appointed them. On the evening before the election this county judge revoked the appointments thus made, reappointed the officers he had orig-inally appointed, and the next day

Hon. Godfrey W. Hunter turned out the largest Republican majority the the fact that in 1896 no definite knowledge could be had as to what was the Republican majority in the Eleventh congressional district for a week after the election. The reports as to what that majority was were changed every day, and the Republican majority grew with every change. It is reasonably certain that if the returns of the election in 1896 from the other parts of the state had not yet reached Frankfort the returns from the Eleventh congressional district would still be held back. In 1896, in the Eleventh congressional district, the requirement of the law that the election officers should be divided among the political parties contesting in the election was wholly disregarded. The records of the Beil county court show this remarkable fact concerning the election markable fact concerning the election of 1896. One of the precinct election officers appointed by the county judge of Bell county for one of the precincts of the town of Middlesboro was Hon. Daniel G. Colson, then the Republican member of congress for that district and a candidate for re-election in that election. Is it any wonder that a ma-jority of 16,000 was turned out for Me-repetition of these frauds be prevented. That way was by changing the appointing power so as to render it certain that at every voting precinct in the commonwealth the Democratic party would be represented by two real Democrats, as well as the Republican party by two Republicans; and this the new law does. [Applause.] "Many misrepresentations were utthis the new law does. [Applause.]

"Many misrepresentations were uttered and published about this new law. It was asserted that no penalty for offenses committed by election officers was provided by the new law, and consequently there was no law providing punishment for such offenses. But in the suit to test the validity of the law the appellate court adjudged, as the advocates of the law had contended, that the penalties provided by the original secret ballot election law remained in force and were applicable to every wrong done after vided by the original secret ballot election law remained in force and were applicable to every wrong done after the enactment of the new law. It was claimed that because the new statute did not provide for appeals to the courts from decisions of election contest boards in election contests, therefore that right was destroyed. But the court of appeals decided, as the Democrats contended, that the right of appeal to the courts remained unaffected in every case in which there was such right before the new law was enacted.
"The Republican platform declares that the law commits broad power to irresponsible commissioners not chosen by or accountable to the people for their acts. To whom is a county judge in any of the mountain counties having large Republican majorities responsible? And what would such a judge care for criticism because he had not, in appointing election officers, divided them among the old political parties? Under the old law the action of the county judge in appointing elecof the county judge in appointing elec-tion officers could not be reviewed, nor could he be removed from office nor be in any wise punished for disregarding the law governing the appointment of election officers. There can scarcely be imagined a more irresponsible power than that conferred by the old law upon the county judge.

"But the new law empowers the state commissioners to remove from office at any time any county commissioner, so that whenever any county commissioner violates the law there is an immediate remedy by bringing the matter to the attention of the state board.

is an immediate remedy by bringing the matter to the attention of the state board.

"It was said this law was without precedent, but in Ohio the Republican party has for years had in operation a law which vests in one man, the secretary of state, the power to appoint county election commissioners for all counties in the state save those containing the large Republican cities, and in those excepted counties, which usually go Republican even when the state goes Democratic, the power to appoint the election commissioners is vested in the mayors. The Republican press of Ohio, of course, continues to denounce the 'infamous' Kentucky election law.

"In Virginia, the home of Jefferson, the father of the Democratic party, the general assembly at every seasion, by joint resolution, appoints a board of three election commissioners for every county in the commonwealth, who in turn appoint the registration and election officers. Mahoneism has given the people of Virginia a proper appreciation of the importance of this subject, and they have therefore placed it upon the same plane with the highest function of government—the exercise of the sovereign legislative power.

"In Tennessee, the home of Jackson, than whom there was no greater Democrat, nor truer man, the governor annually appoints three election commissioners for each county, who in turn appoint the election officers. The people of Tennessee have had a longer experience with Republican frauds under a secret ballot system than have the people of Kentucky, and that experience has taught them what is necessary to prevent those frauds.

Phase of the Opposition.

"I have confidence not only in the Phase of the Opposition. "I have confidence not only in the wisdom, but in the integrity of John W. Daniel and compeers of Virginia, and Isham G. Harris, Benton McMillin, Robert L. Taylor, William B., Bate and other Democrats of Tennessee. Their brand of Democracy is good enough for me, even if it does not suit the tastes of Mr. Henry Watterson and Colonel W. C. P. Breckinridge, and I believe that these Tennesseeans and Virginians have at least as much and I believe that these Tennesseeans and Virginians have at least as much honesty as W. Godfrey Hunter, W. S. Taylor and other Republican party leaders of Kentucky. [Applause.]

"The character of the opposition to this law is the best evidence of its necessity and wisdom. Every corrupt and maltgn influence in the commonwealth or out of it that concerns itself with our elections opposed the enactment of this law, denounces it now, and demands it repeal. When the bill for the law was pending the railroad lobby, the book trust lobby and every other corrupt influence at Frankfort used every possible means to defeat it. Every influence and agency that fought the Democracy in 1896 and helped to steal Kentucky's vote opposed the enactment of this law, and is against it now.

"The best test of any law is its practical operation. In November of last year we had an election under this law. It is conceded that that election was as fairly conducted as any election ever held in the commonwealth. Two contests for seats in congress grew out of that election, both contests being the McChord bill in the discussion concerns. but in neither case was there any claim of wrong under or by reason of this law. Judge Jones, the Republican candidate for judge of the court of ap-

it, but even he has declared that the new law is better than the old law, to which the Republican platform demands a return.

"No well-informed, fair-minded man doubts that but for this law Judge Hobson would not now be judge of the court of appeals. No well-informed, court of appeals. No well-informed, fair-minded man doubts that but for this law—without reference to how the votes may be cast—the results of the elections this year and next year would have been determined now in favor of the Republican party.

"Their real objection to this law its opponents do not state; that objection is that this law insures honest elections. This law takes the vote of Kentucky out of the vote market which member of congress for that district and a candidate for re-election in that election. Is it any wonder that a majority of 16,000 was turned out for Mc-Kinley in that district? The wonder is that the majority was not 26,000.

A Remedy.

"In only one way could indefinite repetition of these frauds be prevented. That way was by changing the appointing power so as to render it certain that at every voting precinct in the commonwealth the Democratic party would be represented by two real Democrats, as well as the Republican party by two Republicans; and this the new law does. [Applause.]

"If that bill had become a law the

"If that bill had become a law the railroad commission would have been empowered by it to fix maximum rates for the carrying of freights on railroads in this commonwealth, in order to prevent discrimination and extortion. Several years before the general assembly had exacted section. Sis of tion. Several years before the general assembly had enacted section 816 of the Kentucky statutes, which undertook to define the offense of extortion by railway carriers and to impose a penality for its commission. In April, 1896, the court of appeals adjudged this statute insufficient to support a prosecution, because the general assembly had not by law fixed a maximum rate for freight carrying, nor empowered the railroad commission to do so. To remedy this defect the McChord bill was passed. The bill made it the duty of the railroad commission upon complaint of extortion to give notice of a hearing to hear the proof on both sides, and, if it is found an extortionate rate was being charged, to fix a just and reasonable rate which should be the maximum rate thereafter to be charged, and the charging of a greater-rate should be deemed extortion and punished by fine.

M'CHORD MEASURE,

'Many of the states have such laws as was contemplated by the McChord bill, among them Nebraska. The contest with reference to this matter be. Kentucky is substantially that which Mr. Bryan fought in Nebraska to ob-Mr. Bryan fought in Nebraska to obtain lower freight rates for the people of that state and to prevent favoritism between individuals and localities. The Nebraska railroad commission, under the law of that state, fixed maximum rates for railway freight carrying. The railway corporations contested in the courts the validity of the law conferring the power to fix rates upon the commission, and also justness of the rates fixed. That litigation was carried to the supreme court of the United States, and there the Nebraska law was adjudged valid, but the cause was remanded for the fixing of a greater rate than that fixed by commission, which the court adjudged to be too low. In that contest the people of Nebraska were represented by their attorney, Mr. William Jennings Bryan. "The decision in the Nebraska case candidate for judge of the court of appeals last year, made opposition to this law the basis of his canvaas. He was defeated. Neither he ner any one else has even pretended that wrong of any kind contributed to the result. This is a complete answer to every objection that has been made to this law.

"Governor Bradley in his message to the general assembly that enacted the general assembly that enacted this law recommended the enactment of a new election law to prevent election frauds. The bill for the new law did not meet his views and he vetoed it, but even he has declared that the ject of railway rates and discrimina-tion and extortion is one with which only experts are fitted to deal, and that therefore the matter must not be submitted to a railroad commission, which may be composed of ordinary citizens. This is the same argument which may be composed of ordinary citizens. This is the same argument that the single gold standard advocate makes upon the free coinage question. He, too, says this is a profound, an occult question. I have studied it, and you have not; leave it to me, and I shall attend to it for you. "The people of Kentucky pay annually many millions of dollars to the railway corporations. The present state of the law leaves it within the power of railroad managers, by means of extortion and discrimination, to destroy the business of some communistroy the business of some communi-ties and persons and to build up that of others at will. No such uncon-trolled power should reside anywhere

SCHOOL BOOKS cratic Platform Favors the Law Reducing the Price.

"The Democratic platform favors, and the Republican platform opposes, the enactment of a law reducing the prices of schoolbooks used in the common schools of the state. At the last session there was passed by the house of representatives a bill upon this sub-ject, offered by Mr. Chinn of Mercer county. This bill fixed a maximum of prices for schoolbooks, on an average, sne-third less than the proces now fixed by the school book trust, but that maximum was still 10 per cent above the average maximum price fixed by a similar law that has been fixed by a similar law that has been in successful operation in Indiana for 10 years. In the house of representatives and in the senate every Republican vote was cast against this bill. "What good reason can there be why the same school books, manufactured and sold by the same corporation, should in Kentucky cost 43 percent, or nearly one-half, more than they cost in the adjoining state of Indiana? Such is the fact, solely because the law permits it, and because the representatives of the Republican party in the last general assembly did the bidding of the lobbylists of the book trust. If there be anything that ought to be made as nearly free as air as the trust. If there be anything that ought to be made as nearly free as air as the law can make it, it is the opportunity of every child in the commonwealth to get an education.

"The Democracy of Kentucky affirms that it is as true now as it was when Jefferson wrote it into the Declaration of Independence, that Rovarnments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed, and that this applies to all peoples everywhere. They affirm that this nation should no more have a British colonial policy than it should have a British financial policy; that what would have been 'criminal aggression' in Cuba is crimnal aggression' in the Philippines.

and build up those trusts The Republican party in this cam-

"By the vote of the entire Republican membership of both houses of the general assembly at its last session there was prevented the passage of a law reducing to a just charge the prices of school books now fixed by the book trust, and by a like vote of the Republicans of the general assembly there was prevented the enactment of a proper and effective anti-trust law.

"Nearly every bill passed by the general assembly that would have given "Nearly every bill passed by the general assembly that would have given people relief from oppressive burdens was vetoed by the Republican governor—chief among which was the McCord bill to prevent extortion and discrimination in freight rates by rall-road corporations, and both upon its original passage and upon the ques-lon of passing it over the veto every Republican vote was cast against this bill. This bill was entirely in the interest of the masses of the people of the commonwealth.

"The governor vetoed the 'fellowservants bill,' which would have given mervants bill, which would have given the same right of compensation for in-jury to, or death of, railway employes by reason of negligence that the law gives to strangers. This bill, if ap-proved, would have given a large class of employes who daily hazard their lives, for an inconsiderable compensation, in a public service, the same right that the law gives the traveler, upon the highway. The gross discrimina-tion that this bill would have eliminbill offered by Mr. Gladstone.

equiring railway companies to carry As to Newspaper Support. "In view of this record of the Repubompares with the superb effrontery of the platform of that party, and that thing is the effort of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad company and its newspapers, attorneys and paid agents to 'save' William Jennings Bryan, Joseph C. S. Blackburn and the national Democratic platform of 1896.

ville Courier-Journal and Louisville limes are giving the Democratic ticket have this to say-and in making this statement I speak for all the candi-dates upon the state ticket and for the state committees, including the distinguished chairman of the campaign committee, Senator Blackburn: The support of the state ticket by the Courier-Journal and Times was and is whol-ly unsolicited by any candidate upon the state ticket or by any member of the Democratic organization; it is purely voluntary upon the part of the owners of those newspapers. There is not, nor will there be, any obligation of any kind due from the Democracy of Kentucky, nor from any of its candidates, to any one for that support. No favor or recognition of any kind will be accorded to those newspapers, nor to any one connected with them, for that support, nor upon any other ac-count. Nothing whatever of the prin-ciples of the Chicago platform of 1896. nor of the declarations of the state platform of this year, nor of the devotion of the party to Bryan and Black-burn, will be surrendered or abated because of this support by those newspapers, nor upon any other account. Our position with reference to this matter is precisely that of Mr. Bryan, as stated in his recent letter to Mr. Woodson, namely: frive people away from it, but rather to invite people into the party. The party stands committed to the doctrines set forth at Chicago, and, while it will not turn its back upon those doctrines in order to gain the friendship of Gold Democrats, it does not and should not reject the support of any who are willing to aid in vindicating the principles of the platform by elect ing candidates who are pledged to those principles.'

"The Louisville Dispatch was estab-lished with the money of 2,000 Demo-crats in the hour of Democracy's peril. It has fallen into the hands of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad company. It is the blackest traitor company. It is the blackest traitor that has ever attempted to destroy the Democratic party. The election law, which it now denounces and calls upon the Republican governor to have repealed at a special session of the general assembly, was passed by its aid, and after the enactment of that law it claimed avaluate condition. and after the enactment of that law it claimed exclusive credit for it.

"The people of Kentucky are to determine this year whether next year Kentucky's vote will be counted as it will be east for Bryan for president and for the national platform of 1896, or whether the theft of Kentucky's vote perpetrated in 1896 shall be repeated; whether another Deboe or some Democratic renegade, or Joseph C. S. Blackburn shall succeed William Lindsay in the federal senate; whether British financiers or American voters shall control this nation's financial policy; whether the trusts or the people shall rule; whether imperialism shall replace Democracy; whether the Louisville and Nashville Railroad company is the servant or the master of the people of this commonwealth. The issues are clearly drawn, emphatically presented. There ought not to be, there cannot be, doubt as to the verdict." [Loud and continued applicable.]

DEADLY TRUSTS. Policy of the Democratic and Republican Parties Aptly Compared. "The Democratic platform pledges the party to renewed efforts to sup-press the trusts. It declares in favor of an amendment to the anti-trust statute now on the statue books making nonenforcible any contract made by any trust, or any member of any trust, with a view to fix or regulate prices or control production. In other words, no trusts, and no member of any trust or combination, shall be per-mitted to recover in the courts of the mitted to recover in the courts of the commonwealth the price of any article that is the product of any trust.

"The trust is among the greatest of the evils of the time. Trusts are formed and operated through corporations. The corporation is a creature of the government. Theoretically all corporations are created for the pub-lic good. When they abuse their priv-lleges and menace the public welfare laws should be enacted to prevent the abuses or to revoke the privileges "The tendency of the trusts of this day is to produce a condition like that which was produced by what was known as the feudal system in Europe 400 and 500 years ago. Our histories teach us that in that time and under that system nearly all wealth—which then consisted largely in land—was owned by a select class known as the nobility. The great body of the people were tenants and servitors upon the land, many passing with the iand like the cattle upon it. With the development of constitutional liberty the feudal system disappeared. The trust of this day tends to impoverishment of the many to enrich the few. It means corruption of government, the purchase of special privileges and use of the power thus acquired to plunder the power thus acquired to plunder the masses of the people. It enables its operators to control both production and consumption. It robs producer, consumer and employe alike. It means what the concentration of great wealth in the hands of the few has meant in all ages and in all countries—the making of mere dependents of the great body of people, depriving them of all hopes of progress or independence. It is founded in heartless greed, and is at war with fundamental principles of republican institutions tion and consumption. It robs pro principles of republican institutions and the dearest rights of mankind. Republican government can not co-exist with complete domination of the trust. Carried to its logical conclusion, the trust is more destructive of individual independence than a monarchical form of government. Either the people must control the trusts or the trusts will rule the people. "The chief means through which trusts are established and maintained are the single gold standard and a high protective tariff. The Democratic par-ty is and always has been unalterably opposed to both; the Republican party is responsibe for both. [Applause.] "The so-called Sherman anti-trust law enerted by congress contains a law enacted by congress contains a section declaring that no proceeding upon direction of the United States district attorney for the district in which the proceeding is brought, or upon the direction of the attorney gen-eral of the United States. No grand jury can act independently under the law. The law has been a dead letter ever since its enactment. It never wa ever since its enactment. It never was intended to be enforced and never will be by a Republican administration.

"Mr. Attorney General Griggs has publicly declared his reason for his failure to enforce the federal antitrust statute to be that the federal government can not suppress them, and that the trust question is one that must be dealt with by the states themselves.

"At the last session of the Kentucky general assembly the Democratic majority of the house of representatives passed an anti-trust bill, offered by Mr. Bradbura of Rowling Green, which, in my judgment, would have proved effective to crush the opera-tions of the trusts in this state. In both the house of representatives and the senate every Republican vote was cast against this bill. It failed of pas-sage in the senate solely because there two members, elected as Democrats, joined with the entire Republican member-ship of that body in voting against it. Notwithstanding this record of the Republican party in both nation and state, the Republican platform in Kentucky declares. 'We pledge form in Kentucky declares, 'We pledge the Republican party to the enactment of all such laws as may be necessary to prevent trusts, pools, etc, etc. "And Mark Hanna, the real head of the Republican party in this nation, the gatherer and disburser of the immense corruption fund used to make McKinley president, which included $1,000,000 contributed by the sugar whom the powers of government were by the Republican party bartered to the contributors of this fund, in order that they might not only reimburse but magnificently compensate them selves by levying tribute, through un-equal laws, upon the people; Hanna himself one of the foremost manipulators and beneficiaries of trusts, actu-ally had the recent Republican state convention in Ohio to denounce the merely the political agent of the money power and the trusts. It holds power now, and hopes to hold power in the future, solely as the result of the use of immense corruption funds contributed by the money power and the trusts, and it set the powers of government chiefly to repay the contributors of those corruption funds. It exalts money, the servant; it debases man, the master. [Applause.] man, the master. [Applause.]
