ONE YEAR ONE DOLLAR

Will the Courier-Journal take to the woods again so soon as free silver is mentioned?

Old No. 4, seemed to have done business at the old stand, and evidently enticed No. 3, to join her.

The Hell and End has evidenced the fact that this is not the thousand years during which his Satanic majesty is to be claimed.

Bradley carried Crittenden by 454; Taylor got only 374. There is some "balm in Gilead," but, confidentially, the healing powers in this case is not what it might be.

We believe that it was T. J. Yates who said a majority of the Democrats of Dycusburg would vote for Brown. Dycusburg Democrats bore the brunt of the battle and acquitted themselves like the loyal men they are.

The First District Educational Association will convene in Marion December 1, and will be in session two days. This district is composed of the foremost educators of the district and Marion will give them a royal welcome.

John Young Brown has trampled the love of the Kentucky Democracy under his feet, and as the days go by the contempt of the Republicans for him will grow. He loses old friends and merits the suspicion of the men into whose hands he played.

Upon one occasion the lowly Nazarene announced that he could call the legions of heaven to his succor but his mission was to set up the kingdom of love, not war. In the Philippines and in the Transvaal our boastful christian nations are taking the other horn of the dilemma.

And there stood old Bella Mines at her lovely old place in her lovely old style. All others may flicker, but her flame burns steadily. In good as well as in evil report, in peril as well as in restful times, she is the same old Bella Mines. She is the one ray of sunshine through the cloud that drifted over Crittenden Tuesday.

Two of the most unjustifiable wars in the history of modern times are being waged by two of the most highly civilized nations on earth against two of the weakest nations, whose desires are simply the privilege of governing themselves. Under the cloak of christianity greed stalks about in individual and nations alike.

From the amount of trouble Gov. Bradley is having to get a hold, we judge that he finds in his own words, "it is a hard job to choke off that d-d Deboe." A Crittenden county politician may be shot or drowned or disposed of in various other ways, but there has never been one choked off yet, Governor.

The secret ballot may be a good thing, but it does not prevent frauds when they are desired. Out of all the new plans, and new laws and new schemes comes the fact that its the "new man," in the New Testament sense, that we must have before the old Adam ceases to stalk abroad.

Stop Coughing

Every cough makes your throat more raw and irritable. Every cough congests the lining membrane of your lungs. Coughing tears your throat and lungs in this way. Put the parts at rest and give them a chance to heal. You will need some help to do this, and you will find it in

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

From the first dose the quiet rest begin; the tickling in the throat ceases; the spasm weakens; the cough disappears. Do not wait for pneumonia and consumption but cut short your cold without delay.

Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral Plaster should be over the lungs of every person troubled with a cough.

Write to the Doctor.

Personal opportunities and long experience eminently qualify us for giving you medical advice. Write freely all the particulars in your case. Tell us what your experience has been with our Cherry Pectoral. You will receive a prompt reply, without cost.

Address, DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

GOEBEL ELECTED.

His Majority is Good and Safe
Legislature Democratic

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 8.—The Associated Press claims Goebel's election to night (at midnight) at from 5,000 to 8,000.

Covington, Ky., Nov. 8.—I have advice enough from all over the State to say that the Goebel Democratic ticket is elected by not less than 7,000 majority, and have working majority in each House. In God we trust.

William Goebel.
Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 8.—(8 p. m.)—Goebel elected on face of returns Legislature safely Democratic.

As we go to press the news indicates the election of Goebel and the entire ticket by a safe majority. Brown received something like 15,000 votes. The Republican committee last night still claimed Taylor's election, but the late returns did not justify the claim.

Louisville, Nov. 8.—Returns were never so slow in coming in for Kentucky. The blue grass district is strong for Goebel. Some of the western counties are disappointing. The majority in the second (Owensboro) district gave Bryan about 6,000 majority.

Returns from two-thirds of the State show Goebel has a plurality of 4,100. Six counties in the eleventh district the banner republican district, give Taylor 300 more votes than Bailey, republican, in 1897. Half of the district gives Goebel 300 less than Shackleford, democrat, in 1896.

Half of the first, the banner democratic district, and half of the eleventh, the banner republican district, are yet to be heard from.

Jefferson county, in which Louisville is situated, gives Taylor 2,500 plurality.

Urey Woodson, Democratic National Committeeman for Kentucky.

Covington, Ky., Nov. 8.—Kentucky is safely democratic. I will carry the State by 3,000 to 5,000 plurality.

The legislature is democratic, which will insure the election of J. C. S. Blackburn to succeed William Lindsay in the United States senate.

William Goebel.

Covington, Ky., Nov. 8.—The counties so far reported give Goebel a majority of 7,077. The counties unreported, gave in 1897, a net Republican majority of 6,158.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 8.—(12:00 a. m.)—Senator Blackburn announces that Goebel and the entire state ticket wins easily by 12,00 majority.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 8, 8 a. m.—Fifth district, which embraces Louisville and Jefferson county, give Taylor a majority of 2700. This district gave Bradley 14,000 in 1895, and McKinley 15,000 in 1896.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 8, 8 a. m.—Republican committee claims the State by 25,000.

MARYLAND.
Baltimore, Md., Nov. 8.—Democrats carry Maryland by 10,000 majority.

NEW JERSEY.
New York, Nov. 8.—New Jersey has been carried by the Republicans by from 18,000 to 25,000 majority.

OHIO.
Cincinnati, Nov. 8.—Nas's, Republican, governor, by 35,000.

UNCLE JEFF

Will Cast His Vote for J. C. S. Blackburn.

HE WINS BY 85 MAJORITY

Mr. T. J. Nickel is elected to the legislature from Crittenden and Livingston counties by a majority of 85. Nickels carries Livingston by 454 majority, and Blackburn Crittenden by 369.

THE VOTE OF CRITTENDEN COUNTY.

	Marion No 1	Marion No 2	Marion No 3	Marion No 4	Dyersburg	Union	Sheridan	Tolu	Ford	Boals	Pinney	Franklin	TOTALS
Governor
WILLIAM GOEBEL.....	75	88	116	63	100	88	90	142	93	232	161	84	1327

Representative
F. J. NICKEL.....	75	82	118	64	93	84	90	127	80	220	164	84	1286
A. B. BLACKBURN.....	114	145	172	265	75	121	174	138	93	92	189	89	1605

The above table tells the tale, and we have no disposition to comment. Taylor has a majority of 374, Blackburn 369. The remainder of the tickets have a few votes less but the majorities are practically the same. Brown has 77 votes in the county—a very small bullet for all of the smoke made and powder burnt.

The Populist party practically disappears, having only 11 votes to its credit, the Prohibitionists have 7 and the Social Labor ticket 1.

The election passed off quietly throughout the county, there was hard work and hustling everywhere, but good humor generally.

Rev. Joseph R. Oelendahl, of St. Ambrose church, Union county, was in town Monday meeting the members of his church and getting acquainted with the people generally. He has a large scope of country, embracing Crittenden and Livingston counties, in his work, and this will bring him among our people frequently. He is an affable, pleasant gentleman and likes to mix with the people.

Wiley Dollar, whose illness was announced in the Press last week, passed away Thursday morning at his home in the country of typhoid fever. He was an old and well known citizen, a successful farmer and tobacco merchant and was known for his honesty and straightforward dealing with his fellow men. He was buried with Masonic honors Friday in a cemetery near his home, of which fraternity he had long been a member.

Rev. James Long died at his home in the Chapel Hill neighborhood Friday of consumption. He had been in poor health for several months and his death was not unexpected by his friends. He was a good man, a successful farmer, and a devout Christian and minister of the gospel. He was a member of the Sisco's Chapel Baptist church. His remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at Chapel Hill Saturday, a large number of friends attending the funeral services.

Friday morning at about 5 o'clock a large stock barn on the farm of Mr. A. J. Bebout, at Sheridan, was consumed by fire. Besides the building, the entire contents of the barn, consisting of four head of horses, a lot of hay, some corn, a buggy, a farm wagon, a binder and other farming implements. Mr. Bebout nor any of the family can tell nothing as to how the fire originated. The loss is estimated at about $1000. There was no insurance.

Last week Henry Terry, colored, was arrested in Livingston county for going into a man's house and deporting himself in a way that frightened the two ladies who were at home alone. He was taken before Squire Stephens at Salem, and it being late he was put in the town calaboose for safe keeping until morning. Next morning Terry was gone having made his escape through the roof of the building; he traveled so far that night that he has not been heard of since.

At an early hour Monday morning the stock barn of Mr. Thomas Carter, and one of the largest buildings of the kind in the county, was burned to the ground. The family of Mr. Carter had not arisen from their beds when the flames started and when the building was reached it was too late to save the barn or its contents. Twelve head of horses and two milk cows perished in the flames. About 500 bushels of corn, a large lot of hay and farming implements of all kinds were consumed. Mr. Carter was absent, being in Cincinnati at the time, and no one knows how the fire originated. The total loss is estimated at about $3000.

David T., son of Littleton and Maria Owen, was born in Crittenden county, Ky., Nov. 16, 1885, and died at his residence near Jennings, Lamar county, Texas, Oct. 20, 1899.

Mr. Owen was happily married to Miss Annie Newcomb, Dec. 9, 1863, who with five sons and two daughters live to mourn their loss. Mr. Owen was a member of the Methodist church and a high toned Christian gentleman. His stay in Lamar county was short, but he had gathered many friends around him who with many are in Crittenden and Caldwell counties, will deeply regret his death.

Mr. James Dobbs, of Crayneville, is very low with typhoid fever. His daughter is also very ill.

Miss Emma Johnson, of Mt. Vernon, Ill., is visiting Mrs. W. G. Condit and other friends in this county.

Mr. J. B. Perry left Monday for Caneyville, Grayson county, to take charge of a poultry house for the Ohio Valley Poultry Co. Mr. Perry is a straightforward business man and the people of that section will find him a reliable, fair man to deal with.

Mr. W. R. Cruce returned home from Texas Monday. He travels over several states in the far west, but never gets so far away that he fails to turn up when there is an interesting election on hands. He will be at home all this month.

Wright's Original Nashville Students combined with Gideon's Minstrel Carnival, two big minstrel shows in one, will be the attraction at the Opera House, one night only, Friday Dec. 1.

Rev. J. W. Biggam, the presiding elder, has secured the services of Rev. G. W. Pangburn for pastor of the Shady Grove circuit, and he will preach his first sermon at Shady Grove next Sunday morning. The quarterly meeting on that circuit has been postponed until Dec. 30-31.

The best, brightest and biggest minstrel show traveling. The Wright's Original Nashville Students combined with Gideon's Big Minstrel Carnival, will be at the Opera House, one night only, Friday, Dec. 1st. This popular attraction numbers 45 people all well known entertainers, who come with the highest of press commendations.

Rev. H. K. Berry, pastor of the Christian church at Salem, closed a meeting at Cave-in-Rock this week. During the meeting there were twenty additions to the church. Mr. Robert Uley had charge of the singing. The two went to Corydon yesterday where they will hold a series of meetings.

The Wright's Original Nashville Students consolidated with Gideon's big minstrel carnival, will be the attraction at the Opera House, one night only, Friday, Dec. 1st.

This big show has been before the public for 25 years and is considered the most progressive in the minstrel field. It covers the widest range of this always favorite line of amusement and gives one big continuous performance of the latest, costliest and best acts. Every act is different and there is no surfeit of any one feature. The show is said to be a clean, wholesome minstrel arrangement catering to the best of patronage.

Farris-Cox.

Mr. J. D. Farris and Miss Mary Cox were united in marriage at the home of the bride in Salem, Wednesday morning, Rev. H. K. Berry officiating. Immediately after the ceremony they left for Louisville.

The bride is one of the most charming young ladies in that section, noted for her amiable disposition and beauty. The groom is one of the leading merchants of Salem, and one of the best citizens of Livingston county.

James Reunion.

On Monday, Nov. 6, 1899, the family of B. F. James met in Livingston county, Ky., at our home for the purpose of celebrating and honoring our father's birth.

B. F. James was born near Hickman, Smith county, Tenn., in 1838. He is the father of ten children, nine living and one dead.

We are thankful to our Savior that he has spared our lives and given us health and an opportunity to meet together on this occasion.

We were blessed by the presence of a great many other relatives and friends and the parents prepared an excellent dinner. Just before dinner the children and grandchildren presented the parents quite a number of nice presents and the day was greatly enjoyed by all.

First Quarterly Meeting.

The first quarterly meeting of the Marion Circuit M. E. church will be held at Marion the 18th and 19th of November, all officials are urged to be present as there is some important affairs to attend to. Services Saturday at 11 o'clock. Quarterly conference at 3 p. m., services Saturday night and Sunday morning at 10 a. m. G. M. Burnett, Pastor.

S. W. Shelton, F. E.

WET OR DRY.

The Status of the City Council a Question of Speculation.

"Is it a wet or dry council?" That's the question that everybody in Marion is asking about the city council elect, and nobody is in a position to give a satisfactory answer. Politics dropped out of the city election this year and a council composed of three Democrats and three Republicans was elected. The question of saloons or no saloons has been a pretty live one for some time, and now that we have a city council, the status of which is not known, the question will be warmly discussed until the first meeting of the new council is held in January. There is no doubt but what there will be application for saloon license. Besides the probable application of a home man or two, parties from Greenville and Sturgis have been here looking over the situation with a view of making application.

CITY ELECTION.

The Citizens Ticket Elected With out Opposition.

But little attention was paid to the city election Tuesday. The following gentlemen were elected councilmen by the vote given:

J. O. Dixon 110
T. J. Yandell 108
A. M. Hearn 113
A. J. Duvall 108
W. D. Cannon 114
Sam Henry 106

For Police Judge, A. M. Gilbert received 100 votes and H. Koltinsky 6.

Adam Clark Johnson.

Rev. Adam Clark Johnson who was at one time well known in Marion, died at his home in Quitman, Ark., a few days ago. He lived in Marion in the early seventies, and taught school several years. Many of our busy men and women were pupils of his. A sketch of his life will be published next week.

To Teachers.

I should like to meet all teachers that can possibly come, in my office next Saturday, Nov. 11, at eleven o'clock. We need to arrange for First District Educational Association. Don't fail to be present and get program.

Mina Wheeler.

Knights of Honor.

Mr. H. S. Moody, special Supreme Lodge Deputy of Knights of Honor, will visit New Delta, of this place tonight. Important business and every member of the lodge is earnestly requested to meet with us promptly at 7 p. m.

HORTICULTURE

MUSHROOMS OUTDOORS.

How a Profitable Crop Can Be Raised Outside North in the Spring and Autumn.

First dig out a trench five feet wide and 14 to 16 inches deep, sloping to the center. Mix together manure and soil, and form a bed in the trench high enough to be nine inches above the level when well tramped down. The shelter is formed with three by four hemlock for a span roof, allowing the north side to be open to the wind. The lengthwise boards overlap like a shingle roof to turn water off.

OUTDOOR MUSHROOM BED.

The north side boards may be nailed fast, and the south side left movable, leaving in the south side six inches of space for ventilation at the top, where the overhanging rafters of the north keep rain out.

When gathering mushrooms, the south side boards may be taken off to allow space to reach in freely. The only attention a bed of this kind needs is a slight watering when the crop is being cut, and a covering of litter or long manure to keep off sun and frost. The bed must not be water-soaked, and to prevent this the ground has to be carefully graded, so as to turn water. During July and August, the bed is allowed to become dry on the surface, and is not watered to start the crop again until September.—Rural New Yorker.

CARE OF YOUNG TREES.

Without a Good Root or Stem a Plant Cannot Make Little Progress in Growth.

A large proportion of the trees that are lost in re-planting die because they have been injured when they were taken up. Without a good root or stem a tree can make but little progress in growth.

The root system of a tree is the most important part of the tree system. It is the foundation of the tree, and it is the foundation of the tree's life. It is the foundation of the tree's life, and it is the foundation of the tree's life.

When trees are planted the roots should be spread out in a natural position. The soil should be pressed very firmly around the roots, so that the new roots will be encouraged to make a rapid growth. If the soil in which the tree is planted is the same as the one from which it was taken, the tree should be set at the same depth as it was before it was removed. If the soil is heavier, the tree should be shallower; if lighter, it should be deeper. The surface of the soil which is to be around the tree should be fine and light because the capillarity is then broken up and the moisture cannot escape.—W. H. Moore, in Farmers' Voice.

Muskellon from Siberia.
It is reported that the department of agriculture has secured from Siberia seeds of a new muskellon, which resembles a watermelon in color and appearance while growing, but does not ripen on the vine. It is put in a box as we do peaches, and it will be eaten in the winter. One grower in Utah reported raising one which weighed 17 pounds, and was ripe and just fit for eating on January 10. The seeds are said to succeed well in Utah and California on irrigated lands, but do not thrive well in the eastern states, but if they can grow there profitably and they prove good, we may expect to see them here as a winter supply. They ought to stand transportation well if well packed.—American Cultivator.

Proper Use of Rollers.
To properly finish a dirt road is with the use of the roller. It should be thoroughly rolled and hardened. It is not sufficient that it be crowned, but it should be made hard and smooth. The same thing is true of gravel roads. This can be best accomplished with the use of rollers. Horse rollers weighing from five to eight tons are most frequently used for the purpose. All loose stones should be removed from the road surface before rolling, as well as sods, turf, leaves, sticks or any other matter that will tend to soften the road bed. A road that is thoroughly and repeatedly rolled is well fitted to stand the wear of travel, and can be made into a perfect waterbed.

HORTICULTURE

LAYERING THE GRAPE.

A Method of Propagation Which Many Horticulturists Declare to Be Without a Rival.

Layering is the simplest, surest and easiest method of increasing the grape, and is the best way to grow them where but few vines are wanted. There are two kinds of layers, called spring and summer layers, from the season at which they are made.

Summer layers are made in the summer, generally the last of July, from a branch of the same season's growth. They are likely to be weak for several years, and do not make as good plants as the spring layers. In making them, the wood should be slit for an inch or so near the buds that are covered. Bury about one foot of the cane four inches deep in the ground and it will be rooted by late autumn, when it should be separated and treated as a young vine; and it is generally best to get them well started in a garden or nursery before planting in the vineyard permanently.

Spring layers may be made by laying down any cane early in the spring. It will root in one season. By fall it will have made a good growth of roots, when it may be cut from the main cane, and if strong it may be divided into two plants. This form of layer is illustrated in Figs. 1 and 2. By a little different treatment the spring layer vine may be grown from each bud on the layered cane. For this purpose some thrifty cane should be selected in autumn, pruned of its laterals and buried. In the spring it should be uncovered and only one shoot permitted to grow from each joint. After the new growth has started about six inches from each bud the whole cane should be layered about four inches deep, handling it carefully so as not to break the new growth.

Fig. 3 shows such a layer after it has rooted. It is a good plan to cover the new growth with a layer of soil, and to fill up the trench as the shoots grow. If covered four inches deep at once the young growth will sometimes rot, though this seldom happens, and some skillful growers fill the trench full at once. In the autumn roots will be found growing from each joint, and these may be cut apart and treated as recommended for weak vines grown from cuttings. If this method of propagation is to be used to some considerable extent vines should be grown especially for the purpose. It is not a good plan to use fruiting vines for layering, to any great extent, though it may be safely done in a small way.—Farm and Fire-side.

BIRD DESTRUCTION.

A Growing Evil Against Which the Farmers of the Country Should Protest Emphatically.

Through the middle states and in some parts of the south, a mischievous trade is carried on during the winter and the early spring. It is the slaughter of insect-eating birds, to be sold as "redbirds" in the city markets. "Redbirds on toast" is a favorite dish with the epicures, but the epicures seldom get the "redbirds" they order. Authorities at Washington declare that hundreds of thousands of robins, bluebirds, cedar-birds, shore larks and other insect-eating birds are killed for this purpose every year. A single dealer in Washington received, though it is one shipment from North Carolina, and sold them all as redbirds.

Not only is the trade reprehensible as a commercial fraud, but it is a direct and very grave injury to farmers, whose fruit trees, shrubs and crops would be seriously injured, and in some cases ruined, if insectivorous birds were exterminated. Through the work of the men of science in the government departments at Washington, our farmers are learning the value of insect-eating birds to their fields and gardens. They are, therefore, neglectful of their own interests if they do not protest against this cruel and ruinous traffic, not only in the name of humanity, but because of the imperative needs of agriculture.—Youth's Companion.

Big Income from Forests.

The forests are considered one of the most valuable national possessions in all countries. In Bavaria the forest is about one-third of the total area of the kingdom. One-third of this area is owned by the government, which has spent since 1850 about $5,000,000 in acquiring forest land. A regular system of forest culture is employed. The yield per acre is generally large, valued at about $1.50, and the net income of the state amounting to about $4,000,000 per year.

INSPECTION OF PLANTS.

In No Other Way Can the Introduction and Propagation of Insect Pests Be Prevented.

The need of government inspection of all importations of plants and shrubs and the danger to the agriculturists of the country through the present lack of such inspection, was clearly shown the other day at the agricultural department buildings in Washington, when several large boxes of plants arrived from Japan. They were opened and a number of them found to contain young camphor trees intended for distribution among the southern states. As is usually the case, the various scientists of the department—the bug men, the fungus specialists, etc.—were present and on the lookout for any new bugs, fungi or other pests. The expert examination resulted in the entire lot of camphor trees being burned up, although to all appearances they were fairly healthy. Every plant was affected by a kind of anthracnose, and mildew and a species of scale insect were found.

The camphor tree as grown in the United States is remarkably free from diseases, but with the distribution which might have been given this lot of trees, perhaps highly injurious diseases and insects would have been introduced in all camphor growing sections. Such diseases frequently do not develop on the one or two-year-old nursery plants, and if sent out by nurserymen who do not take special notice and who, anyway, having paid for their importation, are loath to adopt stringent measures, are very liable to spread an incurable disease before its very existence may be known. The camphor industry in the United States is not now an important one, but in later years it may be, yet this is simply an example of what is liable to occur in other and more valuable industries. There is absolutely no national protection possible under present laws. If the nurserymen wishes to import a similar lot of camphor trees from Japan, or some other more widely grown tree, and send them out broadcast over the country, even though they be full of diseases, he cannot be stopped by the government. Many of the worst diseases and insects have been brought into the United States in this manner, requiring the annual outlay of thousands of dollars to combat their depredations; whereas, at a comparatively small cost the government could entirely control all imports of plants, seeds, etc., and save growers from possible additional losses through these mediums. Germany, France, Italy and even dozens of unimportant colonies are enforcing stringent regulations in this respect, but the United States, the country in which the imports are largest and most varied because of the energy of her people, is the farthest behind.—Journal of Agriculture.

MONEY EASILY MADE.

Running a Public Spraying Machine Is Affording a Good Income to an Eastern Farmer.

There is a man in western New York who has a complete outfit of boiler, engine, steam pump, tank and hose mounted on his farm wagon. A 12-year-old boy has run this outfit in neighboring orchards—driving the wagon and keeping up steam. The day he is at a day, the owner of the orchard provides the spraying mixture and men to hold the nozzle. With this outfit it is possible to spray out 1,000 gallons of poisoned water in a day, and the first cost of the entire outfit was but $250. This man could not begin to accommodate those who wanted to hire his spraying outfit. In 60 days of the outside work he will pay the entire first cost of the apparatus, and while the pump, boiler and tank are doubtless good for 1,000 days' work without repair. Here is an inkling of what it is coming. A man with the needed capital and the proper mechanical skill has a chance to make money as a public sprayer.—Farm and Home.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

Clear out the old dry wood from your gooseberry, currant, raspberry and other kindred bushes.

The peach and the plum are so closely related to each other that they can be grafted to each other.

Prune the grape severely at the start, and at three years old, a few bunches of grapes can be allowed to mature. While the best land is none too good to raise strawberries, yet land that will grow good corn and potatoes will do. Grapes may be grown from the seeds, but the fruit of seedlings is not like that of the parent vine.—Western Ploverman.

San Jose Scale Specific.

More than one authority states that there is practically no interest in California over the San Jose scale. The San Jose spray is considered a sovereign remedy. The formula for it is follows: Unslaked lime, 40 pounds; salt, 15 pounds; sulphur, 20 pounds. Ten pounds of lime and five pounds of sulphur are put in a barrel and the whole is boiled with the sulphur in 20 gallons of water for three hours. The remaining lime and salt are then added, and the whole boiled an hour longer. Sufficient water is then added to bring the whole solution up to 60 gallons, which is strained before using.—Guy E. Mitchell, in Farm and Fireside.

You Are a Democrat.

And of course, want a democratic newspaper. The Chicago Dispatch is the Great Democratic Weekly Newspaper of the Country. It advocates the re-election of the platform and the renomination of William Jennings Bryan.

There has never been a political campaign that will equal in importance that of the one to be fought next year. The republican party, backed by the money power of this country and Europe, is alert and aggressive. Flushed with the victory of three years ago it will seek by every means in its power to maintain its supremacy.

Democrats must be up and doing. They must wage an unceasing war upon their enemies. In no better and more effective way can this be done than by the circulation of good sound democratic newspapers.

Publisher of The Chicago Dispatch will send to every new subscriber for three months a copy The Chicago Dispatch for ten cents. If you are not already taking this great political weekly, send in ten cents at once. You should not only do this yourself, but you should induce all your friends to join with you. By a little effort you can easily raise a club of ten or twenty subscribers.

The Chicago Dispatch is endorsed by William Jennings Bryan and other democratic leaders.

You Are a Democrat.

And of course, want a democratic newspaper. The Chicago Dispatch is the Great Democratic Weekly Newspaper of the Country. It advocates the re-election of the platform and the renomination of William Jennings Bryan.

There has never been a political campaign that will equal in importance that of the one to be fought next year. The republican party, backed by the money power of this country and Europe, is alert and aggressive. Flushed with the victory of three years ago it will seek by every means in its power to maintain its supremacy.

Democrats must be up and doing. They must wage an unceasing war upon their enemies. In no better and more effective way can this be done than by the circulation of good sound democratic newspapers.

Publisher of The Chicago Dispatch will send to every new subscriber for three months a copy The Chicago Dispatch for ten cents. If you are not already taking this great political weekly, send in ten cents at once. You should not only do this yourself, but you should induce all your friends to join with you. By a little effort you can easily raise a club of ten or twenty subscribers.

The Chicago Dispatch is endorsed by William Jennings Bryan and other democratic leaders.
