MINUTES

Of the Ministers' and Members' Meeting

Of the Ohio River Association, Held With Deer Creek Church, Crittenden County, Ky., April 27-8-9.

The body was called to order at 10:30 a. m. by Eld. W. R. Gibbs, moderator of former meeting; Eld. J. S. Miller was chosen to preach the introductory sermon, which he did, using as a text, 1 Cor. 3:9, "For we are laborers together with God." Eld. W. R. Gibbs was re-elected moderator and U. G. Hughes secretary.

Eld. T. C. Carter being absent, his topic: "Should Christmas and Easter be kept by christian?" was assigned Eld. E. B. Blackburn.

Moderator appointed pastor and deacons of Deer Creek church, committee on divine services; after prayer by Eld. Blackburn, adjourned until 1:30 p. m., and dinner was served on the ground.

AFTERNOON.

Prayer by Eld. J. S. Henry; enrollment of members; visiting brethren invited to seats.

Essay: "The Evils of Mormonism," by Eld. R. A. LaRue. He regards Mormonism as an evil, and would not encourage it any way, with his vote or otherwise. After a very warm discussion by Elds. Henry, Miller, Eaton, Bro. J. A. Davidson and others the subject was passed.

Address: "What schools should Baptist patronize?" by Eld. W. R. Gibbs. He would patronize Baptist schools if possible. If not then schools of good moral and christian influence. He would never patronize any school where any of the faculty were tainted with infidelity or Catholicism; the subject was passed after many talks endorsing his position.

Benediction by Eld. Bebout.

SATURDAY MORNING.

Prayer by Eld. Blackburn.

Topic: "Should Christmas and Easter be kept by Christians?" by Eld. Blackburn; he thinks christians are under no obligations to keep these days; Eld. Bebout endorses Bro. Blackburn talk, but thinks good may come of keeping them. Eld. Henry thinks the keeping of these days had its origin with the Catholics, and we, as Baptist, cannot afford to give way to them. Bros. Crow and Miller thinks the day of Christ birth was wisely lost by the Lord, less we should lose sight of Christ and worship the day; Bro. Miller thinks we do an evil by giving special observation to these days; Eld. R. A. LaRue likes Christmas and Santa Clause, because it teaches giving. Subject passed with its criticism.

Essay: "What is a New Testament Church?" by Eld. J. S. Henry. He defines the church as a body of baptised believers. He emphasizes the point of being democratic in government.

On motion of Eld. R. A. LaRue it was voted that Eld. W. R. Gibbs follow Bro. Henry by reading an Essay on "Church Ordinances and what do they Symbolize?" Both essays were heartily endorsed.

Sermon for criticism at 11:30 by U. G. Hughes. Text: Mat. 12, 43: 45. Benediction by Eld. J. J. Franks.

AFTERNOON.

Criticism of sermon; after remarks by Elds. Henry, Miller, LaRue and others the sermon was passed with criticisms.

Essay: Do the Scriptures justify our Divorce Laws? by Eld. J. S. Miller. He thinks not; the laws are recorded in the statutes, fathers.

If you are disposed to save money, keep on your mind the fact that I sell

FURNITURE,
Building Lumber
and Paints....

I sell them right, and when you want to build, paint or furnish your house, give me a chance to make you some close figures. It may be that I will save you money, and I will appreciate a call.

Sincerely Yours

JESSE OLIVE.

He stands firmly by the scriptures, only one cause for divorce; but holds that in case of unscriptural separation, if one marries it gives the other the right to. Elds. LaRue, Blackburn and Henry take issue on that proposition; after considerable discussion a motion was offered to pass essay with criticisms. Motion prevailed.

Topic: "Should all christians give for Missions?" by Eld. J. J. Franks. He proved by the Word of God that every one should. His talk was endorsed by all.

SUNDAY MORNING.

Prayer by P. A. Clark.

Essay: "Should every church have a Sunday school and prayer meeting?" by Eld. J. C. Kinsolving. He thinks they should; J. S. Henry likes both; J. S. Miller likes both, but gives preference to the prayer meeting; C. B. Hina likes both but gives preference to the Sunday school.

On motion the programme was dispensed with to hear Eld. J. S. Miller preach.

On motion the secretary was requested to have the proceedings of the meeting printed in the CRITTENDEN PRESS, Smithland Banner and Western Recorder.

Moderator appointed Elds. Henry, Blackburn and Hughes committee to report themes at the association, for next annual meeting.

Thanks were extended to the people of Deer Creek for their kind hospitality during the meeting.

Sermon by Eld. J. S. Miller from Psalms 84:11. The sermon was full of spirituality and God's presence was wonderfully felt among his people.

After singing and extending the parting hand, adjourned to meet on Friday before the first fifth Sunday after March, 1901, with the church to be designated at the annual association in August.

Not Badly Hurt.

Dick Belt, the young man who took the double header down the shaft at the Memphis mines, was up walking around the third day after the accident. The distance he fell has since been measured, and it was just seventy feet and three inches. Parties wanting long falls made will find Dick an expert. A man who can fall head foremost down a hole seventy feet deep and land without any material inconvenience to his anatomy, is a safe hand to trust with all such jobs.

The report of the Constitutional Commission of the Methodist General Conference will call for the maintenance of the religion of John Wesley, and will oppose any departure from the theology of the fathers.

MORE WIRE.

A Telephone Line to Rodney, in Bells Mines, and to Dycusburg, a Probability.

The telephone line to View was completed yesterday and now that place is on the Marion exchange. Mr. Alexander was in town last week, and he tells us that he will endeavor to extend the line from Mexico to Dycusburg, and will make the Dycusburg people a liberal proposition in the near future, and hopes to be able to make the necessary arrangements for the immediate construction of the line. Parties in the neighborhood of Rodney, the new post office in Bells Mines, are also wanting a line from Marion to that point, and it probable that in a short time Messrs. E. L. Nunn, H. L. Sullivan, W. S. Hicklin and Chas. Nunn will have telephones in their houses.

Mr. Alexander also has other connections in view, and but for the advance in wire these would be pushed along. Wire that he once paid $1.85 for, now costs him $4.40, and a few weeks ago he had to pay $5.25 for it. The advance has added about $25 per mile to the expense of constructing telephone lines.

Pepsin Syrup Co., Monticello, Ill. Gentlemen:—Our baby Esther has never tasted a drop of medicine other than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for more than a year. It entirely cured her of constipation. She is a lovely child and since I gave her your medicine she has been perfectly healthy, altho' she had not well and strong until we began using it. We know of others who are using it with equally good results. Wishing you success.

DOES IT PAY TO BUY CHEAP?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only ONLY remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. For sale by R. F. Haynes.

BALARD'S SNOW LINIMENT cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Headache, Sick Headache, Sore Throat, Cuts, Sprains, Bruises, Old Sores, Corns, and all pain and inflammation. The most penetrating Liniment in the world. Price 25c and 50c at Orme's druggists.

Old Trustees Re-Elected,

Not much interest was elicited in the school election Saturday. There was no fight, and the old trustees—Messrs. H. A. Haynes and J. N. Clark, were elected without any opposition. Since the organization of the school, six years ago, the members of the original board have been re-elected, and this endorsement of their management of the school is a compliment that the board should appreciate.

Delegate to Baptist Convention.

Rev. W. R. Gibbs.

Delegates to the Convention.

Elders W. R. Gibbs and J. S. Henry left yesterday for Hot Springs, to attend the Southern Baptist Convention. They are the delegates from the Ohio River Association.

The Southern Baptist Convention will meet at Hot Springs on Friday of this week. On the day previous the Baptist Union People's Union and the Baptist Educational Society will meet. It is expected that there will be 800 or 900 delegates at the convention proper and 2000 visitors.

Mrs. Cash died at the home of her daughter Mrs. William White, of the Levis neighborhood, Friday. She was seventy years old, and had been both blind and deaf fourteen years.

REPUBLICANS MEET.

Proceedings of the County Convention Saturday.

Pursuant to a call by Chairman J. Frank Conger, of the county executive committee, the Republicans of Crittenden county met in mass convention at the court house in Marion, Ky., Saturday May 5, 1900.

The convention was called to order by Chairman Conger, after which W. B. Yandell moved that A. A. Deboe be elected temporary chairman and Jno. W. Bebout secretary.

On motion of A. C. Moore the county committee was thoroughly reorganized by re-electing the old committee as it stood.

There being a vacancy in Dyersburg committee, caused by the death of F. N. Dalton, the name of E. M. Dalton was, upon motion of H. A. Haynes, recommended to said precinct committee to fill the vacancy.

The following committee on resolutions was appointed: H. A. Haynes, W. C. Franklin, W. H. Copher, E. B. Blackburn and W. M. Babb.

On motion of A. C. Moore, Chas. Conger addressed the convention, followed by Anthony Davidson, Alvin Perry, Julius Fohs, Mack Woodall and others.

The committee on resolutions reported as follows:

The Republicans of Crittenden county Ky., in mass convention assembled to select delegates to the District Convention at Paducah, Ky., and the State Convention at Louisville, Ky., endorse the call of these conventions and your committee on resolutions beg leave to submit the following report:

Resolved, That we endorse the wise and patriotic administration of President McKinley. The unexampled prosperity and progress of the country under the magnificent management of this administration speaks louder than mere words in praise of his leadership.

Resolved. That we endorse the clean and able Republican administration in the State and most positively do we endorse Gov. W. S. Taylor and his splendid fight in behalf of the people and for the cause of civil liberty.

Resolved, That the supreme issue in Kentucky is a fair election law. Until that is accomplished other issues sink into insignificance; for if the people can not have their will, as expressed at the polls, fairly recorded and honestly enforced, it is useless have opinions upon any public matter. We denounce the infamous and cowardly efforts of the Goebel democracy to steal from the Republicans officials the offices to which they were fairly elected and we call upon all liberty-loving citizens of the state to aid us in maintaining the people's rights and in the enactment of a fair and honest election law.

Resolved, that we endorse Senator Wm. J. Deboe as one of the Delegates from the State at Large to the National convention at Philadelphia and the delegates here-in-after named are instructed to cast the vote of this county for him.

We recommend as delegates to the Dist. and State conventions the following viz: Wm. J. Deboe, John T. Franks, W. A. Blackburn, A. C. Moore, W. B. Yandell, H. A. Haynes, J. A. Farmer, J. W. Guess, Aaron Towery, W. H. Copher, J. Frank Conger, W. C. Franklin, Ed Asbridge, John T. Pickens, John A. Moore, A. A. Deboe, W. M. Babb, E. B. Blackburn and Rev. C. C. Thompson.

H. A. Haynes,
W. C. Franklin,
W. H. Copher,
E. B. Blackburn,
W. M. Babb,
Committee.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted.

City Council.

The city council held its regular meeting Tuesday night.

The enforcement of the Sunday law was discussed. The sentiment of the body is that if the law is enforced at all, it should be enforced to the letter.

It was ordered that sidewalks be built by Mrs. M. E. Reed, abutting her property on Walker, and Depot streets, G. E. Boston and A. J. Baker on Depot street, and T. J. Yandell, W. B. Yandell, Dr. J. R. Clark and A. J. Baker on Mill street.

The Tell Tale Corner.

Happening Among the Young People.

Edited by three of them.

SALUTATION.

The editor of the Press has kindly given us the use of this space for the purpose of recording the happenings among the young people and to relate the current, interesting and harmless gossip and tattling. It will be the aim of the editors of this corner to furnish items of general interest to the young people and we will stand strictly responsible for all that appears herein. Each week social events of all kinds, local items and entertaining gossip will be found here.

Remember that the editorial staff consists of three personages whose ability of detecting, exposing and relating is absolutely unquestionable, nothing will escape their notice, no secret can be hidden from their penetrating gaze. The staff has kindly consented to let the price of the Press remain the same, so you will have the privilege of reading their brilliant productions without extra cost. The exact address of the editors is withheld as they do not desire to be overcome by receiving visitors and reading letters of congratulations.

On Friday last invitations were received by a number of young men, that read:

Party Tonight.
Guess Where,
Come There.

The young men attempted to unravel the mystery ere night came, but failed. The young ladies would reveal nothing. The search began at eight o'clock and after great difficulty the party was located at the residence of Mrs. Julia Myles, and the young ladies discovered in their hiding place. The evening was spent in pleasant conversation, and at 10 o'clock refreshments were served, after which the young people dispersed having had a delightful time. Those present were: Misses Kittie Gray, Adelia Clement, Kathie Woods, Claire Taylor, Melville Glenn, Sallie Woods, Annie Dorr, Mary Maxwell, Jennie Bell, Carrie Moore, Florella Randolph and Emma Bigham and Messrs. Chas. Moore, Luther Farmer, Walter Walker, Creed Taylor, Will Clifton, Jno. Travis, Dean Woods, Rob Cook and Hughey Hurley.

The United Parliament of Great Britain is now in session in this city.

Quite a number of young people spent last Wednesday in picnicking and roaming happily along the banks of the picturesque Piney.

A beautiful and attracting ornament has been added to Orme's drug store. It bears a close connection with the soda fountain.

Wonder who heard that serene Tuesday night of last week?

Several girls looked very, very happy Sunday—we afterwards learned that Northern Woods was in the city.

On the first night of May, a crowd of girls went to the home of Mrs. Bessie Orme, with the intention of performing that mysterious rite, long dear to sentimental maidens, known as the "Dumb Supper." A pleasant time was spent waiting for the clock to give its mid-night signal, then the girls went into the dining-room and set the supper daintily upon the table, with their hands tied behind them. There in the dim light of the candle they awaited the expected guests for supper. Just as "Midnight's Hour" made itself known, six ghastly visitants bearing a coffin, staid in and marched around the table. To describe the terror and consternation of the girls would be impossible. After enjoying while the mid-night visitors and the supper disappeared together.

Arthur Finley is hugging telephone poles this week.

Julius Fohs and Joe Randolph held the Republican convention Saturday, spell-bound by the oratory.

That terrible disease, the enache, prevented one of our most popular young ladies from being present at the party at Mrs. Miles.

The staff of the Tell Tale Corner is composed of Catherine DeMedici, Sherlock Holmes, Marius Zahn.

"O, the merry month of May 'Tis a time for love and play."

The girls and boys went on their annual May-day pilgrimage to the classic shades of Piney last Wednesday.

The very approach of day bespoke loveliness and the day broke fresh and beautiful. At a very early hour Marion was unusually alive with youngsters who wore the smiles of anticipated joy. Arrangements having been completed the merry band departed. As the day glided on the elements put on a gloomy appearance which continued to increase until a storm was threatened; even yet our happiness had not been marred for a moment, for scarcely had we taken cognizance of approaching fury; but when the rain began falling with a steady down-pour, our gaiety and giddiness was damped as well as our garments, yet the dauntless spirit of the young gentlemen "naturally" suggested close communion under the shelter of their "top-buggies." The clouds soon vanished and all again went well as before.

The following members made up our party: Misses Dennis Williams, Lena McNeely, Anna Johnson, Byrd McNeely, Lizzie Johnson, Clara Taylor, Ida Hill, Melville Glenn, Anna Dorr, Lillie Doss, Nellie Champion, Bessie Trieler, and Messrs: Creed Taylor, Oliver Hurley, Will Cochran, Richard Pickens, Harry Hammonds, Healy Cochran, Charlie McNeely, Ed Olive, Frank Doss, Ira Pierce, George Givens.

About 5 o'clock the rain ceased and we all started for home. The day was spent most delightfully in regular picnic fashion, and all returned home, "in the gloaming" with light hearts and merry laughter.

ONE YEAR ONE DOLLAR

The national convention of the middle-of-the-road Populists convened in Cincinnati yesterday with Jody Parker at the helm.

The reading matter from Frankfort seems sufficiently interesting to keep the country reading, while the Supreme court is preparing its programme for next Monday.

The State Committee of the Middle-of-the-road Populists has named thirty-six delegates to the Cincinnati convention and instructed them to vote solidly for Eugene V. Debs for President.

The man who thought Jack Chinn did, and his side partner who knew that the shot was not fired from the executive building, have retired from the field. With these two momentous questions settled, the main question doesn't seem so far off.

Mr. Chas. Finley continues to fire his long distance gun from behind his breast-works in Indiana. He contradicts everything Culton told, and says that he is coming home to stand his trial, however, he doesn't seem to believe in the aphorism, that the only way to do a thing is to do it.

Ninety-three million five hundred thousand persons are suffering from cholera and famine in India and relief is being supplied to but five millions. The vast sums contributed throughout the world are said to be but a drop in the ocean when compared with what is necessary.

Monday evening the Post had a tip from Washington that the thing was all right for Taylor, and the Times saw a man just from Washington, who said there was no division of opinion at the capital as to the decision of the court, everybody conceded that the court would decide that it had no jurisdiction. "You pays your money and takes your choice," but you will wait until Monday to make up your mind, if you are wise.

The American Chamber of Commerce at Manila, whatever that may be, is protesting against the excessive taxation exacted by the United States military government and its grievances will be laid before Congress. According to the report the cost of living has trebled within the jurisdiction of the United States, a barrel of flour costing $3 in gold in the United States must be sold at $12 Mexican in Manila. We believe the Porto Ricans have also been protesting against taxation, and the natural conclusion is that taxation follows the flag, whether the constitution does or not.

By doubling the prices of wire and nails the trust made $12,000,000 profit in a year. After the members have made a few more millions in this style, some of the beneficiaries will probably begin to make donations and magnificent gifts to libraries, schools or some other big institution to get their names enrolled upon the somewhat questionable banner of fame. Would it not have been more Christ like, more charitable, more humane to have permitted the excessive profits collected through the spirit of greed and the power of the trust to remain in the hands of the people who had to buy? This thing of putting the rack and screw to the people amass millions, and then disbursing a few hundred thousand to some pretentious institution is a popular fad with some men, and it is about the most inexpensive way there is to make a name and a fame that will not be permitted to enter as a proposition in that court where judgment is passed "according to the deeds done in the body."

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA Eradicates Scrofula

Subdues and heals Salt Rheum, cures Boils, removes Pimples and Eruptions, gives fair, clear, complexion. It thoroughly purifies, vitalizes and enriches the blood.

We give it up. We can't please either the Paducah Register or the News in our comments on the action of the congressional committee. Nothing short of a shot gun policy or mayhap a Marlin rifle suits the Register, while a car load of olive branches, and the meekness of a Moses must be in the atmosphere to satisfy the good little boy of the News. The Press is not an extremist. We need neither a cyclone nor a dead calm. Experience teaches that one kills too quick, while the other is productive of a stagnant condition of the atmosphere that means disease. A lively blow now and then purifies the surrounding and we propose to continue to grumble, growl or kick so long as a Democratic committee so far misses the old land marks as to call upon those who seek to be its servants to pay the expenses for making a selection, especially when the committee creates an expense that has never heretofore existed, and for which there is no excuse except a desire to limit the aspirants to those who have plenty of money. Primaries are held by, in and for the party, the candidate is a secondary consideration, and to require him to put up his check that the party may be paid for transacting its business is manifestly unfair. Besides the Democrat party has always been the friend of the poor, the poor man whose cause is good should have the same showing, the same footing so far as the actions of the party effect him, as the rich. This has been and is a sacred doctrine of the party. With this action of the committee as a precedent, and so much per precinct as a starter where will that idea, that equity be in a few years? The Democratic party is engaged in fighting the encroachments of the dollar upon the rights of individuals, and if it succeeds it must keep that insidious dollar from canker-ing its own heart.

The insinuation on the part of the News that the Press' objections are founded upon Ollie James' alleged disappointment, and the covert threat that Mr. James had better be good is not placing a very high estimate on our motive in objecting to this action of the committee, nor does it credit Mr. James with any independence of thought or action. If he must become passive to every action that shapes the destiny of the party, in order to go to Congress, we fear that nature will have to reconstruct that individual. As to the Press, it thinks, whether right or wrong in thus thinking, that there are more people interested in maintaining the old time custom of a free for all primary in this the home of old time Democracy, than those who live in its town. There should be no money price upon the privilege of entering a Democratic primary election, it should be as free to the capable, loyal, true Democrat, though poor, as to the wealthiest man in the district, and whenever it deviates from this, it deviates from Democracy.

Referring to a paragraph in the Press last week concerning the action of the congressional committee, the Paducah News rises to remark: "It seems to us that people are hard to please." There are also people easily pleased, and if we are to judge the News by the company it was industriously keeping a few weeks ago, it seems to us that it belongs to that class. Continuing, our cotemporary says: "It seems to us that the action of the committee was fair and proper." Now we are not altogether prepared to accept from the News an "it seems to us" as the closing of an incident. Some mighty queer things occasionally crowd themselves upon the plates in the camera of the News. Events not old enough to be classed as history and its connection therewith are yet so fresh in the minds of the Democracy, that the News' ipse dixit will not be accepted as the law, much less its persuasive, "it seems to us." As the News saw many things in the late campaign and during the memorial contest that seemed to it fair and proper that the Democrats of the district did not see, we are not surprised that it seems to it fair and proper to call upon the candidates to put up a few hundred dollars to get into a Democratic primary.

But what is the News any way, that it should advise, or lecture an old line Democrat like the Press. A few moons ago, mighty few, the News with the other L. & N. papers was engaged in abusing, misrepresenting and villifying Kentucky Democrats. Where will it be after the nominee is named? It does not take much to make that paper see trees walking like men, water run up stream, and the advocates of the committee's new scheme had better get a less warring organ or they may wake up some morning and find that it has gone glimmering.

NEWS NOTES.

The men charged with the Goebel assassination were removed to the Georgetown jail Monday.

Gov. Leary reports that the census taken in Guam shows the population of the island to be 8,661.

Over 2000 Spanish prisoners are said to be still in the hands of the insurgents in the Philippines.

A shortage exceeding $36,000 has been discovered in the Havana postoffice. Charles F. Neeley, former Treasurer of the Post-office Department in Cuba, is under arrest. Auditors Reeves and Reynolds have been suspended and other arrests are probable. It is said the frauds have continued since July last.

NO BAIL.

For Culton and He Goes to Jail and Will Be Tried in September.

Frankfort, Ky., May 5.—At the conclusion of the argument on the motion for bail for W. H. Culton, charged with being an accessory in the murder of Gov. Wm. Goebel, to-night, Judge Cantrill denied the application and Culton was remanded to jail.

In rendering his decision, Judge Cantrill said that the uncontradicted evidence on some of the points in the case left the court no recourse but to refuse the defendant's application for bail.

Culton's trial will come up at the regular September term of court. The trials of the other accused prisoners will be held at Georgetown.

PROMPT PAYMENT Of A $2,000 Life Insurance Policy.

Mexico, Crittenden Co., Ky., May 3. Mr. J. S. Hawthorne, Special Agent, New York Life Insurance Co., Princeton, Ky.,

Dear Sir—We are this day in receipt of checks for $2,000, payment in full of policy held in your company by the late W. B. Oliver. Thanking you for assistance rendered, and commending the great company to all who need protection for their families, I am, Yours Truly,

J. E. STEPHENSON, Guardian, W. B. Oliver heirs.

You need not lose flesh in summer if you use the proper means to prevent it. You think you can't take SCOTT'S EMULSION in hot weather, but you can take it and digest it as well in summer as in winter. It is not like the plain cod-liver oil, which is difficult to take at any time. If you are losing flesh, you are losing ground and you need

Scott's Emulsion and must have it to keep up your flesh and strength. If you have been taking it and prospering on it, don't fail to continue until you are thoroughly strong and well.

AN ACCIDENTAL SHOT.

The Ball Goes Through a Young Lady's Foot.

A few days ago while a party of young folks were out fishing near Fords Ferry, the unexpected discharge of a target rifle sent a bullet through Miss Lela Wilborn's foot. They were engaged in target practice, and Miss Wilborn prepared for a shot, but turned the gun down without making it, and while talking, forgot about the attitude of the hammer, and unthoughtedly pulled the trigger, and there was a report, and the pain. Dr. Moreland dressed the wound, he found that the ball had gone entirely through the foot. It is a painful, but not dangerous shot, and the patient is getting along nicely.

Hog Indignant.

Frankfort, Ky., May 8.—Attorney E. C. Hogg, who represents W. H. Culton in the Goebel assassination cases, is indignant at the position taken by ex-Governor Brown and the Liberty League attorneys. He says Mr. Brown has gone on the idea that all the suspects are equally guilty and did not want to have an examining trial for bail for Culton for fear it would develop the evidence. Mr. Hogg insists that Culton has told all he knows of the conspiracy.

MARION BARNES,
Salem, Ky.

Tom Rankin, who carries the mail from Fords Ferry to Marion, finds that his mule has not the proper respect for Uncle Sam's servants, and as a consequence Tom was limping a little Friday. His muleship unceremoniously deposited the rider and mail-bags on the road side and now the mail is carried in a buggy.

Saturday night Volentine Threlkeld, col., opened his ice-cream parlors, and the summer fights began in fairly good shape. Only five were engaged in the initiatory ceremonies, but as the season advances, the "razor brigade" will probably grow in numbers and the interest increase. Chas. Mills, John, Gilliam and Cam McCain, and Sam McCage were the chief combatants, fists, knives and chairs were the arms in service. A knife blade made a mighty close call for John McCain's jugular vein, but his well starched collar caused a deflection and John is still with us. The police court gave them a hearing Monday morning; the McCages pleaded guilty and were given small fines; the jury acquitted the other participants. Chas. Mills, according to the testimony manipulated the knife,

Rev. J. S. Henry. Delegate to Southern Baptist Convention.

Messrs. Jim Paris, Henry Stone, Mark Terry and Henry Haynes composed a party that went to Piney creek fishing Wednesday. They watched the flicker cork all day Wednesday, and fished without corks all that night, and not a bite did they get. Thursday morning they hitched up early and started for home. After driving some hours they came to a strange town to them, and upon inquiry found that they were at Shady Grove, some miles further away from home than when they started. The moral to the tale is this: Unless you want to travel in a circle, don't take "snake medicine" at daylight without a hearty breakfast.

ALL WOMEN AGREE.

A druggist in Macon, Ga., says: "I have sold a large quantity of Mother's Friend, and have never known an instance where it has failed to produce the good results claimed for it. All women agree that it makes labor shorter and less painful."

Mother's Friend

is not a chance remedy. Its good effects are readily experienced by all expectant mothers who use it. Years ago it passed the experimental stage. While it always shortens labor and lessens the pains of delivery, it is also of the greatest benefit during the earlier months of pregnancy. Morning sickness and nervousness are readily overcome, and the liniment relaxes the strained muscles, permitting them to expand without causing distress. Mother's Friend gives great recuperative power to the mother, and her recovery is sure and rapid. Danger from rising and swelled breasts is done away with completely.

Sold by druggists for $1 a bottle.

LOSBANAS LETTER.

LOSBANAS, P. I., March 15.

Dear editor and friends of the Press, as you have not heard from me since we dropped anchor in Manila Bay, I will now put forth an effort to give you a miscellaneous outline of our proceedings. We landed at Manila on the 8th of December, was sent to Melete barracks for quarters. Melete is the part of the great metropolis which was bombarded and so demoralized by Dewey, it is indeed a pleasure to view what is yet left there after two years of moving and repairing; we looked upon the old fort and war vessels as they were left from the engagement, but as to the buildings, fair-ground, and cemetery, they were being repaired.

We left Manila on Dec. 14th, for Lamba, which is about thirty-five miles South of Manila, and a very noted place for insurrection, we reached this town by transportation up the Pasig river into Laguna de Bay, and the town is situated south of the river on the bay. We found the town with but a small number of Americans for duty, and surrounded on three sides by insurgents. Well, things seemed somewhat gloomy, but we cheered up our whole battalion by singing. There being but one battalion of our regiment there, we awaited the arrival of our first and second battalions. We spent our Xmas and was about to wish our comrades a happy New Year in perfect quietness, when we received orders to attack the enemy at early day break of Jan. 1st. So it was not only the opening of a New Year to us, but to many of us there was something newer than either; we had a great victory, we drove them from their entrenchments and from every town they took refuge in. We were out only two days, this being our first march.

On the 9th of January, we started for a clean sweep of the provinces of Cavite and Laguna, and thence a tour to Bantangos and to the province of Tayabas. We marched both early and late, sick and tired, but courage never failed us; during this campaign we took about seventy different towns, killing and capturing a lot of the Indian like savages. Altogether we aggregated some 260 miles—the greatest distance, it is believed, ever marched over by any one expedition in our island possessions. Our battalion has been from ocean to ocean, through ravines, over mountains, down cliffs, through cane-brakes and bamboo of the thickest, we often made our way over the roughest conceivable straits for American soldiers; troops are now distributed in different posts and charged with the pacification of a certain territory adjacent.

Two companies are stationed here, and we are to patrol the town of Bay, which is four miles away, to prohibit any theft or out-lawry by bands of Ladrons that still exist and scout about in small bands as outlaws to both Americans and Filipinos. A few days ago as a detachment of men was on its way from Losbanos to Bay, to establish civil government there, we were fired upon by a band of Ladrons from ambush, we soon routed them, of the band, said to be 26, we got 22 of them, their guns and ammunition also. Insurrection all seems to be broken up, save these bands of Ladrons that scout around under cover and do their fighting from under brush, but I think that outlaw and guerrilla bands will exist in the mountain provinces here for years yet.

Southern School of Osteopathy.

When Osteopathy was first introduced into Franklin many predicted that it would only be a fad for a time and would soon pass away. If these hypercritical pessimists will but look around them to-day, they will find much to their disappointment and the disproof of their prophecies. On the beautiful green slope of its own spacious grounds in the southern portion of this city, they will behold the splendid buildings of an university superb in its equipment, magnificent in its proportions, whose doors stand invitingly open that all that is brightest and best of American manhood and womanhood may enter in.

Within her laboratories and lecture rooms, over one hundred young men and women are fitting themselves for future usefulness and the practice of the science of their adoption. Daily they witness and personally accomplish the successful application of its underlying principles under eminently qualified and painstaking instructors.

No college in Southern Kentucky claim a more beautiful campus than the spacious, well shaded green slope on which is situated the Southern School of Osteopathy, designed, erected and fitted throughout specially for teaching the science of Osteopathy the commodious four story building of brick and stone was so planned that there is no lost room. The outside of the building has a pleasing appearance and is in perfect harmony with the purposes for which the building was planned and built.

It were a matter of impossibility to describe in any limited space, the apparatus, appliances and facilities of each separate department. Suffice it to say that they are complete in every detail and we measure our words when we state, that barring the single subject of materia medica, no medical college in the country can show a more complete curriculum either in its scope or thoroughness than the Southern School of Osteopathy. For further information address SOUTHERN SCHOOL OF OSTEOPATHY, Franklin, Ky.

In Memoriam.

Every circle of friends, every loving family must some day be broken. In this mortal sphere there exists no tie of love, no bond of friendship but what must some day be torn asunder. Before that silent Angel of Death, every mortal must fall. He spares not he whose locks are white with frosts of many winters, he pities not the bright and promising youth. Thus the Death Angel has laid his pallid hand upon a bright young man and a family loses a loved one, many lose a friend. After struggling hard with death, Clyde Moore passed away Thursday, April 26, 1900. His many boy friends mourn over the loss of a true and noble companion, a loving family sorrows for a loving son, a dear brother.

As a companion Clyde was always cheerful, and never did he fail to aid a friend when assistance was needed. No acquaintance ever met him but what was greeted with a pleasant smile, a friendly word. Since Marion has been his home Clyde made many friends and with many boys he found a most intimate friendship. Since we have known him we have held him in the highest respect and his death was a shock to his many friends. 'Tis sad to see one who is just budding into manhood taken away. Clyde will always be held in the fondest remembrance by his boy friends.

The loved ones who mourn over the loss of a son, a brother, have the deepest sympathy of the people of Marion.

How uncertain is human life. There is but a breath of air and a beat of the heart betwixt this world and the next. The last faint pulsation here is but the prelude of endless joys hereafter. To the loved one from whom a dear brother, a cherished son, is taken, it seems as if earth has no compensating good to mitigate the severity of the loss. But we should remember that death is a peaceful slumber, preceding a brighter life, and Clyde borrows the garb of gentle sleep, lays down the iron scepter of mortality, and his hands fall quietly over the weary heart, now ceasing to beat.

Several Little Ditties.
She sings soprano in a choir,
And when she isn't there,
It's ten to one she's on her wheel,
Also taking the air.

Said he: "Be all in all to me!"
She answered with a laugh:
"I think you should be satisfied
If I'm your better half."

If you tell her she stood a century well
She thanks you, and pleased appears;
But she'd cut you dead if you ever said
She had lived for forty years.

A LOCK OF HAIR.

And Why the Young Ladies Asked for the Clergyman's.

A venerable, white-haired clergyman
recently preached in the parish of a friend. He had hardly got back to the vicarage from the church when the door bell rang, and a charming girl of eighteen asked to see him. He received her. They talked about the sermon and other things, until finally
she asked, diffidently:

"Oh, won't you please give me a lock of your hair?"

"Certainly, my child," said the old gentleman, flattered at the request. "I send it to you to-morrow." And he did.

On his return to his own home he had five more requests of the same kind, and he proudly boasted to his wife that he was glad to see that he had not yet lost his power to please.
All went well until his wife received
this note:

"Dear Mrs. —: Won't you please ask your husband to send me just a little lock of his hair? We have all been taking lessons in making hair flowers. So many of the girls have asked him, and he sent it to them,
that I thought I would rather ask you to get it for me. Won't you please do this for me. It is so hard to get white hair for lilies of the valley."

"This was a terrible blow, and the less now said about locks of hair in that old gentleman's presence the better.—Titbits.

THE HOUSEHOLD.

A Few Recipes—How to Stuff and Cook Roast Pig.

About three or four weeks is the right age to roast whole; cut off the toes, leaving the skin long to wrap around the ends of the legs, and put it in cold water. Make a stuffing with about six powdered crackers, one tablespoonful of sage, two of summer savory, one chopped onion, half a pint of cream, two eggs with pepper and salt. Mix these together and stew about 15 minutes. Take the pig from the water, fill it with the stuffing and sew it up. Boil the liver and heart with five pepper corns; chop fine for the gravy. Put the pig to roast with a pint of water and a tablespoonful of salt. When it begins to roast flour
it well and baste it with the drippings.
Bake three hours.

Chicken Pie.

Cut up a nice plump chicken into joint, which lay upon a dish and season
lightly with chopped parsley,
white pepper and salt; then lay them back, cut into three pieces at the bottom of a pie dish, with the two legs on either side; have half a pound of cooked ham or bacon in slices, a layer of which cover over; then lay in two wings and over them the breast, cut in two pieces, which, with the reminder of the ham or bacon, form into a dome in the middle; pour half a pint of white sauce over, if handy, or a little broth or water; cover with paste, and bake as directed for the last. If no white sauce, dip each piece lightly in flour.

Bird's Nest Pudding.

Peel and core eight tart apples; in each hollow stuff sugar and a blade of mace or a little cinnamon; make a batter of a pint of flour, a spoonful of cornstarch, a large egg, one of milk, cornstarch, a large teaspoonful of baking powder, melted butter. Mix almost as thick as drop cake, pour over the apples and bake three-quarters of an hour. Eat with sauce. To make richer pudding stew the apples first,
but gently and hot so as to break them, stuff them with sugar and cin-nion, pour over a sweet custard and bake. Boil it two or three hours and serve with wine sauce.

Macaroni With Tomatoes.

Boil one half pound of macaroni till tender, pour off the water, then add one-half cup of sweet cream, one-third of a cup of butter; pepper and salt; let simmer for a short time, but be careful that it does not become much broken, turn into vegetable dish; have ready one pint of seed tomatoes, season with butter, salt and pepper; pour over the macaroni.

Cauliflower.

Break off the green leaves, cut the flower close at the bottom from the stalk; if large, divide into four quarters. Put into cold water, let it lie not over an hour, then put into boiling milk and water, or water only—milk makes it white—skim white boiling. When the stalks are tender, take it up, which must be done before it loses its crispness. Lay it on a cloth or colander to drain, and serve with melted butter.

To Cook Squash.

If very young and tender, merely cut in pieces and core; otherwise peel and core it with a small amount of water. When tender press out the water through a sieve or in a coarse cloth, mash it fine, and dress
it with butter, pepper and salt.

Apple Sauce.

Pare, core and slice some apples;
stew them with sufficient water to prevent burning; when done, mash them through a colander, sweeten to taste, add a small piece of butter, a little nutmeg or lemon.

Bacon Omelet.

Beat up some eggs (according to the quantity required), then add salt, pepper, some finely cut parsley and green onions and a slice or two of bacon cut into very fine mince meat;
mix all well together, fry and sear the top with a red hot poker.

Spare Ribs, Roasted.

Joint it down the middle; sprinkle it with fine sage, salt and a little sugar; put it in the oven and baste it well. Serve it with apple sauce, egg sauce or white sauce.

The Womanly Heart.

Shall I, wasting in despair,
Die because a bonnet's fair?
For my own no longer care,
'Cause less chic and smart they are?
Be the Joneses' Sunday hats
Made in Paris—freckled cats!
If they be not made for me,
What care I how smart they be?

Shall my foolish heart be pined
E'en if Worth their frocks designed?
'Cause their fortune seems too high,
Shall I rage with jealousy?
Jealous of the Joneses! Oh!
Jealous of such persons! No
If they be too smart for me,
What care I how smart they be?
—In The London Punch.

A Dressing Room.

When one has a good deal of poultry to dress yearly it will be found an advantage to have a room for that purpose. A lean-to to the hen house will naturally be most convenient. If this is furnished with a skylight, a l
the better. It should be light, and large enough to give sufficient room for a stove to warm the room as well as to keep the water hot for scalding or for other purposes. The floor should be smooth and tight. A scut-ling should be put across the room at a convenient height with a few spikes driven in to hang the birds while dressing; another one or two along the sides to hang the dressed poultry to let cool and to wash heads and mouths. During a greater part of the season this room may be used for storing feed chicken-coops, etc.; the stove will be handy for boiling up potatoes and other vegetables for the fowls.—Denver Field and Farm.

Charcoal for Indigestion.

As a corrective of indigestion over-feeding, as a remedy in bowel troubles and as a preventive of indigestion charcoal has no equal. Feed every other day, making it about the size of corn for fowls and the size of wheat for chicks. Charred corn on the cob is an excellent way for giving charcoal. Place a few ears of corn in the oven and keep them there until they are burned black to the cob.
Corn charcoal can thus be made as wanted. The older and dryer the corn the easier it will be to make charcoal and the better it will be. The best way to feed is to give just what the fowls will eat up clean. In that way it is little exposed to the air.

For the Pullets.

Developing pullets is not an easy matter unless it is understood. Crowding food into young, growing stock is the worst thing possible for them, unless they are given absolutely free range. The frame must be formed first before the young chickens can carry flesh. Therefore frame-forming food like wheat, oats, bran, middlings and the like is the proper food for such purpose. Corn which to the inexperienced seems the only ration for chickens, is not good except in small quantities, say one-third to two-thirds of the frame-forming food. When the frame is formed then more fattening food should be given.—Exchange.

Fattening Fowls.

Ten or at most fifteen days should be sufficient time for fattening fowls.
Feed corn meal seasoned with salt
and milk in the morning, at noon
whole corn, and the same at night.
Give all they will eat, but be sure none is left.

Clean water, plenty of sharp gravel and some charcoal should be kept where they can help themselves.
Fowls fatten much easier if confined in yards than when allowed to range at will.

Food for Thought.

Why is it that hens will be in good condition and as soon as the first cold snap comes every one of them will stop laying? It is a matter that is worthy the attention of poultrymen or philosophers. It is a serious thing, when eggs are selling at two cents a piece, to have the hens suddenly cease laying when they should be filling the egg basket. It seems hard for the hens, after laying as regular as clock
work during the summer when eggs are low, to shut down just when there is the heaviest demand.

Geese.

African and Brown China geese
mate more quickly than other kinds and are the most prolific and pure breeders. Toulouse geese are sluggish, slow to mate and as breeders are the least reliable. The hens are great layers, however, and some specimens do not offer to sit. Embden geese are more inclined to sit than Toulouse and make better mothers, but have fewer eggs. Brown China and White China geese are very prolific layers. The various crossbreeds are also of promising merit.

It All Depends.

Flying over a fence on the part of hens is a matter of education. A flock of hens in a yard may be able to go over the fence but do not know it;
they are afraid to attempt it; but let one hen go over and she will be found outside every day and will soon teach all of the others. A fence seven feet high is sufficient. If the hens go over it they will also go over a nine foot fence or a fourteen foot fence. Like human beings, it depends on how they are raised.

Beets for Swine.

Sugar beets have been found one of the best things that can be fed to hogs.
They are rich in sugar, which is changed into fat and besides this contain mineral matter of use in building up the frame of the animal. It has also been found that beet-fed pigs need but little corn to make thirty growth and that herds fed a regular ration of beets grow to larger size at the same age than those fed almost wholly on corn, while they are less subject to attacks of disease.

For Malaria, Chills and Fever

THE BEST PRESCRIPTION IS Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic.

The formula is plainly printed on every bottle—hence you know just what you are taking when you take Grove's. Imitators do not advertise their formula knowing that you would not buy their medicine if you knew what it contained. Grove's contains Iron and Quinine put up in correct proportions and is in a Tasteless form. The Iron acts as a tonic while the Quinine drives the malaria out of the system. Any reliable druggist will tell you that Grove's is the Original and that all other so-called Tasteless Chill Tonics are imitations. An analysis of other chill tonics shows that Grove's is superior to all others in every respect. You are not experimenting when you take Grove's—its superiority and excellence having long been established. Grove's is the only Chill Cure sold throughout the entire malarial sections of United States. No Cure, No Pay. Price, 50c.
