MINING NEWS

Louisville Capital Opening The Old Columbia--A Rail Road May Follow.

A Prominent Mining Engineer May Locate Machine Shops in Marion.

A force of hands is at work day and night re-opening the old Columbia shaft. This is the old Page & Krause mines, about a mile from Crittenden Springs. Dr. Curran Pope, R. W. Bingham, W. E. Burks, of Louisville, have an option on this property and are directing the work. This shaft is 175 feet deep, and at present is the deepest shaft in the county. It has been filled up for several years, but it is thought that it is only gorged for some forty feet at the top and when this is cleared out the bottom can be reached.

These men also have an option on the minerals of the Crittenden Springs land, and they propose to put men to work on it at once.

The Columbia, Beck and the Memphis veins traverse this land, and the probabilities are that the mineral deposits are as rich on this survey as any other in the county.

If the Columbia proves to be as rich as all evidences indicate, these people, we are reliably informed, propose to build a railroad from Marion to their property.

Mr. C. M. Miller, a prominent mechanical-mining engineer, of Cleveland, O., has been here some days looking over the field. He is a man of large experience in mining of this kind; he is interested in mining interests at Joplin, Mo., and there is no phase of lead and zinc mining that he is not thoroughly familiar with, and he is so favorably impressed with the outlook here, that he has under consideration the building of machine shops at Marion for the manufacture of mining machinery, and for the separation of the ores. He has invented and patented machinery for the separation of lead, zinc and spar. This has been the problem in mining in this section, and if Mr. Miller has solved it, he has given an impetus to mining in this field that will lead to developments on a large scale, and the development with this invention behind will lead to the establishment of the industry upon a scale never dreamed of by the most sanguine believers in the great value of minerals in this county.

Marion should show a disposition to lend all the assistance necessary, and give all of the encouragement possible and legitimate to Mr. Miller's enterprise, and the Press suggests that an organization of our citizens be formed at once for this purpose. Our city is the central point of these interests, and there is a future for us, if we will grasp the opportunity and show our appreciation of the surroundings.

We suggest that the Mayor call a public meeting, at that a commercial club be formed, to look to these important matters. "Every body's business is nobody's business." We need a committee of substantial citizens to look after this matter, and authorized to speak for the community.

Shafting was commenced Monday at the Milliar mines on the LaRue vein. The miners are down about ten feet and have prospects for spar. The zinc will come later at a greater depth.

The Fluor Spar Company has retimbered all of its shafts—the Hodge, Tabb and the Blue & Marble—and has doubled its capacity for getting out spar.

Mr. Wm. Lowery returned from Louisville yesterday, where he had been negotiating a number of mineral leases. He succeeded in selling thirteen leases to McConathy, Burks, Pope and Hunter. These leases are in Crittenden and Livingston and the parties expect to begin work on them at once. These parties probably control the largest number of leases in the mining district, and they are talking of constructing a short line of railroad from the I. C. to their properties. This company is said to be the strongest, financially, that has become interested in this district, and there is no doubt about the construction of the road, if they find the minerals prove to be as rich as present prospects indicate.

The Kentucky Fluor Spar Company is bringing to the surface over fifty tons of fine fluor spar daily. It has twenty or more teams on the road hauling the product to its mill at this place.

Chicago capitalist have had a man in the Salem vicinity several days looking over the field,

A Big Damage Suit.

Mrs. Sarah E. Kirk and her husband J. W. Kirk have filed a suit against Drs. J. V. Hayden and R. H. Grassham, two of the leading physicians of Salem. In the petition the plaintiff states that in a fall her thigh was broken and these physicians treated her jointly, and they "did not treat her with skill and with care, but with gross negligence and unskillfulness treated her, and in consequence they inflicted great bodily injury and pain and mortal suffering and impaired her of the use of her leg and rendered her a cripple for life." She prays for damages in the sum of $30,000.

CRITTENDEN SPRINGS.

There are two points about Crittenden Springs that were settled long ago, the virtue of the water and the beauty of the surroundings and we are glad to note that the hotel is in the best of hands this year. Mr. J. W. Wilson, the manager, proposes to see that his guests have the best of edibles and the best of treatment in every particular. We had occasion to "drop in on him" a day or two ago, and the little party of twenty found the supper, the service and the surroundings to their taste. Mr. Wilson has an experienced cook, and house-keeper and is taking especial pride in seeing that his guests want for nothing.

Mrs. Frank Swansey Dead.

Mrs. Ida Swansey, wife of Frank Swansey, one of the leading farmers of the Pleasant Hill neighborhood, died at their home Sunday night, after a long illness, of consumption. The interment took place Monday at Piney Creek, and was attended by a large concourse of the friends of the deceased. Mrs. Swansey was a daughter of Mr. A. D. Crider, and she was an estimable christian lady.

A Church Suit.

The trustees of Piney Fork Cumberland Presbyterian church—Messrs. W. B. Crider and J. T. Wilson—have filed a suit in court against James C. Alexander—for the possession of a piece of land. While only three acres of land are involved, the suit promises to be a hard fought one and will attract a good deal of interest locally. The land involved is a portion of the old Piney camp-ground. The petition states that the church has been in possession of the piece of land, 1 1/2 acres in all, for seventy-five years, "until a few months ago the defendant wrongfully and without right or authority of law fenced in a portion of said land—about three acres." The trustees, through their attorney, Mr. A. C. Moore, prays for possession of the land and $50 damages.

Convict Captured.

The convict who made his escape from the Eddyville prison at the time John Howland was attacked, was captured in this county last week. He stopped at a barn and got some tobacco, went to the farm residence for matches and before he knew what was going to happen Jim Crider had his shot gun leveled on him, and as he peeped down the barrels of the gun, he readily obeyed the command to throw up his hands.

Sacramental Service.

The sacrament of the Lord's supper will be administered in the Presbyterian church next Sabbath morning. There will be preaching, as preparatory services to this ordinance, in the church next Friday night at 8 o'clock. All the members and friends are cordially invited and expected to be present at both services. In the afternoon of the Sabbath at 4 o'clock, services will be held for children, to which all children in the city will be welcomed.

QUESTION ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mother and grandmothers' never thought of using anything else for Indigestion or Biliouness. Doctors were scarce and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied that is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by R. F. Haynes.

TWO CONVENTIONS

June 14 to Appoint Delegates to the National Convention.

July 19, at Lexington, to Nominate a Candidate for Governor.

At a meeting of the Democratic State Executive Committee of Kentucky, held at Frankfort, Ky., May 24, 1900, all of the members being present in person or by proxy, the following calls for State conventions were ordered: It is ordered that a State Convention be held in the city of Louisville on Thursday, June 14, 1900, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the Democratic National Convention at Kansas City on the 4th day of July, 1900. Said convention shall be called to order at 2 o'clock p. m., Standard time. Delegates to said State Convention shall be chosen at county mass-conventions, to be held at the various county court-houses in counties having but one legislative district, of which due notice shall be given by the various county chairmen. In counties having more than one legislative district there shall be a convention for each legislative district, to be held at some convenient point to be indicated by the chairman of the Legislative District Committee, who shall advertise in the local papers the location for said convention at least ten days prior to the date fixed by this committee. Said county and legislative district conventions shall be held at 2 p. m., Standard time, on Saturday, June 9, 1900. Said conventions shall be called to order by the chairman of the respective County or Legislative District Committees. The basis of representation of each county to the said convention shall be one delegate for each two hundred votes and fraction consisting of one hundred or more votes, cast for the head of the Democratic electoral ticket at the presidential election in 1896, provided that each county shall have at least one delegate vote. All person who will at the November election, 1900, be legal voters in this State, who are devoted to the principles of the Democratic party and desire to see those principles succeed, and who by participating in the mass-meetings will feel in honor bound to support the nominees of the Democratic National Convention, shall have the right and are hereby invited to participate in the said meetings.

The Democrats of Kentucky are a law-abiding and peace-loving people. They would welcome, not repel, from their association those Kentuckians who love liberty and justice and who hate crime. Under Republican rule the civil arm of the State Government was struck down, and a military usurpation was set up in its place. Under Republican rule murder was made a weapon of party warfare, and Republican officials obstructed and defied the courts in their effort to discover and punish its authors. In view of these things, we invite every Kentuckian who remains a true Kentuckian and without regard to former political affiliations, to join with us in stamping out their possible recurrence and to share with us the glory of redeeming the honor of the State and reviving the memory of the patriots and sages, who, in its better days, made it prosperous, illustrious and happy.

GOVERNMENTAL CONVENTION.

It is further ordered that on Saturday, July 14, at 2 p. m., Standard time, there shall be held at each voting precinct in the various counties and legislative districts of the State of Kentucky, or the usual voting places, a precinct convention for the purpose of appointing delegates to a county or legislative district convention on Monday, July 16, at 2 p. m., at which county and legislative district conventions shall in turn appoint delegates to a State Convention, to be held in Lexington, Ky., on Thursday, July 19, 1900, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Governor, to be voted for at the November election, 1900. Provided, that in the counties of Campbell, Kenton, Fayette and Jefferson legislative district conventions only shall be held in lieu of precinct conventions. The basis of representation for precinct delegates shall be one vote for each fifty votes and fraction over twenty-five cast for the Bryan Electors in 1896. The basis of representation for county delegates and the qualifications of voters shall be the same as provided for in the State Convention above ordered for 14, 1900.

Fine Horse for Gen. Gordon.

Nicholasville, Ky., May 25.—The Confederates of Kentucky have purchased of R. A. Dodd, this county, a beautiful thoroughbred horse as a present to Gen. John B. Gordon. "Wilmore," as the horse is called, is a fine type of the Denmark stock. He is solid black, six years old, of good height, and weighs 1,145 pounds. He is a typical old-time Kentucky saddle horse and goes all the gaits.

A Woman's Awful Peril.

"There is only one chance to save your life and that is through an operation" were the startling words heard by Mrs. I. B. Hunt, of Lfme Ridge, Wis., from her doctor after he had vainly tried to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. Gall stones had formed and she constantly grew worse. Then she began to use Electric Bitters which wholly cured her. It's a wonderful Stomach, Liver and Kidney remedy. Cures Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite. Try it. Only 50 cts. Guaranteed. For sale by J. H. Orme druggist.

Sat While Preaching.

Rev. J. D. Fraser, the pastor of the Methodist church, conducted service Sunday morning for the first time in three months. The public generally will be rejoiced at his improvement, which, though slow, seems to be sure and of a nature calculated to inspire hope of his ultimate and entire restoration to health. He was compelled to sit while preaching Sunday, not being able to stand throughout the sermon. The service was held at the public school building where the Methodist congregation have worshiped since the destruction of the church.—Glasgow Times.

FARMER BOY CAN ENTER A PROFESSION.

Opie Read, one of the most successful literary men in the West, a man well acquainted with all phases of life, thus speaks in part, to the farmer boys, yet it applies to almost every man and woman desiring to enter a profession or change their occupation.

"The farmer boy makes inquiry and finds a starvation period with beginners in professions. The young lawyer must wait not months but years, and has no opportunity to progress while he waits. It is the same with the doctor.

The young preacher finds that it requires exceptional ability to win recognition—a positive genius to establish himself in the minds of men busy with the worldly affairs of to-day.

Commercial life is a matter of opportunity. It involves capital, a long period of struggle. The day of small beginnings is almost at an end. The department store has forever put an end to the development of the small merchant.

Business colleges turn out telegraphers, stenographers and would be business men, but the chances of employment are few, the position is uncertain and the pay is small. The type-setting machine has killed a trade.

Business opportunities for great reward are fewer than they ever were. Thousands of unmarked graves now hold the ashes of brains that once could have made the world stare.

But at this time there is an opening for every intelligent boy

—the study of Osteopathy.

Osteopathy is natural, exact, drugless science for making sick people well. It stands like a giant by the therapeutic dummy of medical prejudice. Doctors have forsaken their professions to follow it.

There is no starvation period in the practice of Osteopathy. There is a demand for Osteopaths and this demand cannot be supplied. Every town, every hamlet is in need of his services.

I would advise every young man to study Osteopathy. If conscientious and serious in his application he cannot fail. A great revolution has taken place. He ought to be identified with it. I give this advice because I am interested in the country boy. I know the longing to get away from the drudgery of the farm. It is well enough to admire the independent life of the farmer, but I know that farming requires a sort of statesman, a man of executive force and one that must own land. The hired man cannot acquire a plantation.

Yes, I was a boy on the farm. I had to fight my way out of the cornfield. I gave up sleep to study. At drowsy morning I stole an hour and gave it to a book. The warfare was long. How short it might now be made, what prospects of success!

I had no special aim. I saw nothing of freedom beyond the damp furrows and the sickening breath of the cow at daybreak.

A school of osteopathy would have been a godsend to me. It would have saved years of toil and uncertain fruition.

I believe thousands of country boys will hold me in grateful remembrance for this advice: 'Take up Osteopathy. It is the coming profession. It has no starvation period. It offers a living at once. It has an easier and more useful life for you. In it lies the opportunity of your life.—Opie Read.

Mrs. M. E. Wheeler, of Gallatin is one of the happiest patients that has left the Southern Infirmary of Osteopathy for several weeks, and she certainly has cause to be. Nearly five years ago she was injured on a railroad and since that time has gotten around with great difficulty on two crutches, suffering all the while the most intense pain. She had been treated by the most noted specialists in the United States, without benefit. As a last resort, and with but little faith, she tried osteopathy, and after three months treatment is now entirely recovered. Naturally she is loud in her praise of osteopathy, and especially to the Southern Infirmary and its corps of skilled operators.

Skelton's Corner

Some of my friends, who occasionally sell a quarter's worth of sugar, persistently claim, as I sell sugar cheaper than they do, that I sell only Southern granulated, or second class sugar, and now in order to refute the false charges that they are making about this matter, I herewith present you a statement from one of my customers, (and I could give you fifty more such statements) which I hope will satisfy my customers actual and prospective, and put a "stopper" on those who have no regard for the truth. If my low prices hurt the "kickers" too much, they have my consent to retire from business if they so desire. My place of business is 4 doors east of James & James law office. Inquire for Skelton's medicines.

To whom it may concern: Whereas, some parties claim that Jno. W. Skelton is selling only second class sugar, I hereby state that I bought 100 lbs., of granulated sugar from him, and find it to be first class fine grain granulated sugar, and as good as any sugar I ever bought from any dealer in Marion.

W. H. Elgham,

Marion, Ky., May 28th 1900,

At Marion Opera Tuesday night Hart, the laugh king, commenced a series of demonstrations of hypnotism to one of the most select audiences of the season.

After a pleasing explanation concerning the science of hypnotism, Dr. Hart invited those desiring to test their susceptibility to come on stage. A number of young men responded and were made to dream that they could not open their eyes, could not put their fingers together, that they were fishing, driving a horse race and a dozen ludicrous things.

With his brother, J. S. Hart, he performed several tests in catatopsy truly wonderful, the most remarkable being the human bridge—the young man being hypnotized and suspended by head and feet between two chairs and a committee of five men sat on him, an aggregate weight of 975 pounds.

Two subjects were placed in a state of anæsthesia and two hat pins thrust their arm and cheek, showing the utility of hypnotism in minor, major or dental surgery.

The closing feature was the putting to sleep of Mr. Robt. Miller, who was removed to the show window of Pierce-Yandell-Gugenheim Co., where he slept peacefully 'till Wednesday night.

There will be a complete change in program every night during the engagement, and many scientific features introduced.

Dr. Hart is a graduate of the New York Institute of Science, the leading college of hypnotism of the world and each day between the hours of 10:00 and 12:00 o'clock treats free of charge such diseases as hypnotism is adapted to cure.

EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION.

In point of attendance the joint meeting of the First and Second districts associations was not a big success. The meeting was called to order Friday afternoon, and Judge Rochester, Mayor Blue and Prof. Evans delivered appropriate addresses of welcome and after the responses, the association took up the program, and some splendid addresses were made by a number of the teachers, and the lack of numbers was compensated for in enthusiasm. One of the teachers furnished the Press the following:

Everybody was not here but we had a good time.

Friday night's program was coin enough to pay for damages to any body's feelings.

Mrs. H. H. Duley, Jr., of Smithland, captured the audience in the night program, with her interpretation of Carleton and Nye. It was reading, it was inspiring, it was art.

Marion always does her part for a good thing. She did it this time and was sorry she was not permitted to do more.

Everybody that met the S. C. D. E. A. chairman, Prof. Poole, of Dixon, found in him, that which reflected credit upon any body of teachers that would elect him chairman.

There were perhaps thirty teachers of the county present.

Miss Dora Draffin, of Calvert City, the Secretary of the F. D. E. A., was here and to the hearty pleasure of her friends.

Prof. Coates and his Princeton friends, with the Paducah element saved the organization from another knock-out.

Frank B. May, Ward Principal, of Paducah, is a school man, all the way, and all the time. He and Prof. Coates gave the audience, a night session, some good things

Miss Wilson's paper on Character Building was worth money to the teacher or parent who wants to think. Miss Wilson is a sister of the active Superintendent of Fulton county.

Miss Jameson once more delighted a Marion audience with her excellent recitative power. Friday evening's program was rendered doubly effective by her appearance.

What array of local talent old Marion discloses when occasion arises. There was Mrs. Effie Jenkins, once a Marion girl, what a touch of the harp she has; Miss Roney's solos; the Quartette, made up of Miss Glenn, Miss Carrie Moore, Mr. Clem Nunn and Mr. Charles Moore; the reading power of our young friends, Miss Schwab, Mr. Fohs, and Mr. Moore, all place Marion up with the best. And then to think all this is only a part.

The most disappointed individual was the one interested the wrong way.

Miss Melville Glenn's visit to Sullivan and Sturgis was very profitable.

Walter Walker is very artistic in his taste for colors. His favorite color is Gray.

Alvis Stephens looked somewhat dejected Friday and Saturday wonder what was the matter?

Miss Lillie Doss returned from Dycusburg last week, where she has been visiting friends. She said she had a delightful time.

Mr. McChesney is seen frequently going along North Main, but he generally stops when he reaches the top of the hill.

Creed Taylor is not seen driving as frequently as he was in the early spring, when the lovely Myrtle was in full bloom.

The smiling countenance of Bert Snow is no longer to be seen among the young people, as he has gone home to spend his vacation on a farm.

One of the principal features of the exercises at the Opera House last Friday evening was the reproduction of "Ben Hur" by four famous dramatists—Rosa Schawb and Julius Fohs.

selves against these "long breathers". Patiently we bore it. But the editors of this Tell Tale Tick of Time continued to revile and belittle.

They believed as they hoped that the "youngsters" would have no means of defense.

But their day of retribution has come. A beardless, bashful young man who has just embarked upon a sea of courting troubles has called a "youthful". Unteamed girls have named us "youthful detectives". They are deceived. We are those that have eyes and see, ears and hear. The gods disclosed their own identity. They came together in places where unless we were blind bats we could not fail to know. Staircase and transom revealed your identity. One hour only that way. Knew which it was. Skill? No, just sense. The gods bite themselves and blame mortals.

The Greeks of old were repulsed at the sight of gods combatting with mortals, yet Mars, Venus and Minerva are now spending sleepless nights because of just youngsters.

Ah, you Ticks, Tatlers ye are gods that can't write anything except a three line personal without consulting an ancient history or a dusty volume on gods.

Now, the editors say they have changed.

O, what a tangled web we weave, When first we practice to deceive.

But you are the same. You have made that fact known yourselves. You may be godly. You say we are still ignorant of your identity. But the over-godly are not always the over-truthful. We know.

But we are merciful. Venus ye have captured Mars by your beauty. Perhaps ye are a Woods-be-Mrs. Mars. Minerva, we know that ye need not Moore wisdom. God of war, stay your uplifted sword—lest ye strike thyself. We close as ye began. A. K. W., W. N. W. and K. M.

CLARK'S SALE

The Big Public Auction of Desirable Town Lots.

As will be seen in our advertising columns Dr. J. R. Clark, who owns one of the beautiful resident sections of the town, proposes to give the public an opportunity to secure some most desirable improved and unimproved resident lots. The location is shown at a glance by the drawing reproduced in his advertisement. These lots are in what is popularly known as East Marion, which means east of the railroad. Since that section was opened up in 1894-5, the town has spread that way and now many pretty homes dot what was so lately known as the Carahan field, and that section is destined to be the pretty resident portion of Marion. It's elevation, the "lay of the land," and the substantial homes and people, all go to make it the ideal locality for a home, and if Marion continues to grow as it has been growing, the Clark addition will be in the center of East Marion. If you want a home in Marion and a house to your taste this sale offers you a rare opportunity to get a pretty lot upon which to build.

BLACKBURN AND RHEA

Talk About the Famous Kentucky Election Law.

In an interview on the situation in Kentucky, Congressman John Rhea discussed the election law as follows:

"In reference to the present election law, I think the people have not understood it, and it has been in many respects purposely misrepresented by the enemies of the Democratic party. Every charge made against it by the Republicans has been disproved by the results. In the congressional elections of 1898 the seats of two Democrats from Kentucky were contested in the House by their Republican opponents—those of Hon. Oscar Turner and Hon. G. G. Gilbert, by Judge Evans and Hon. George M. Davidson—yet in the record of the contest, as made by these two Republicans, not one word of complaint is made against the Goebel election law or its administration, and those receiving a majority upon the face of returns were certified as elected. In the election of last year, the courts, presided over by two Democrats, Judges Jones and Toney, granted every relief prayed for by the Republicans and compelled the doing of everything supposed to be required by the law. In such Democratic strongholds as Warren and Logan counties, under the operation and administration of the Goebel law, the Republicans won victories not gained for many years. If ever, under the old law, and the face of the returns was certified by the commissioners, The Canvassing Board of the State, elected by the General Assembly, as provided by the Goebel law, certified the election of the entire Republican ticket as shown upon the face of the returns. The power of the General Assembly to determine contests for Governor and Lieutenant Governor was not in the slightest degree changed or enlarged by the Goebel law. Under all laws, and for more than 100 years the General Assembly has been the final judge of contests for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, and the result of the contest just ended would have been the same had the election occurred under the old law. The present law provides the severest punishment for any violation of the rights of a voter or any fraud on the part of the election officers, the punishment being that fixed under the old law, and this law requires an equal division of the election officers, between the two contending parties, just as the old law did. To talk about non-partisan boards to canvass the returns of an election and hear contests is mere rot. They never existed and never will. Under the old law, when the County Judge, Sheriff and County Clerk were the Canvassing Board of the county, they were partisan, all being of one party, unless, perchance, a divided county ticket happened to be elected. Under the old law, when the Governor, Auditor, etc., were the canvassing and contesting boards for the State, except for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, they were partisans, all being either Democrats or Republicans. I have faith in Democrats to understand the right and their honesty to do it. If the Democratic party in Kentucky were to turn over to the Republicans the control of the canvassing and contesting boards it would prove its incapacity to rule. Amendments may be needed to make perfect the present election law, but not to make it either fair or honest. It is both. Any law may be violated and the mind of man can not devise a law that the mind of some other man can not circumvent. I favor any change in the present law that wisdom and time may show is necessary to secure that which every Democrat wants—a fair election and an honest count, so that military interference and corporate boodle can not forge an unrighteous and untruthful result. The people; the Democratic people, have the right to make their platforms and nominate their candidates, and their choice should be respected by the official agents of the party."

In a letter to the Democrats of the State Senator Blackburn said: "The convention should, therefore, declare for an amendment to the present election law, so as to give to each of the two leading political parties majority and minority representation upon both the State and County Boards of Election Commissioners, and an equal division of election officers in each voting precinct, such precinct officers to be chosen and appointed by the County Boards of Election Commissioners from a list to be furnished by each respective party, and the law should be so safeguarded with fines, penalties and otherwise as to protect both the election officers and the voter from force, fraud, corruption and intimidation by corporation and employers of labor, as also the militia of the State, the police forces of cities and towns, and all other public functionaries, with adequate penalties to compel all persons upon whom any duties are enjoined relative to the casting, counting and certifying of the vote to honestly, faithfully, fairly and promptly discharge the same. As auxiliary to this, and in order that the members of the party, who are the people, may be satisfied with the action taken by its representatives, for the purposes of local self-government of the party organization in the various voting precincts, the convention should provide that party laws be adopted authorizing and empowering the members of the party organization in each precinct to select and elect their own committeemen, chairman and other officers, and change and remove the same at pleasure. This brings the party organization as near the people as it is possible to get it. It puts them in control and makes the people responsible for the conduct of these officers, who are likewise responsible back to the people. It prevents all centralization of power in a governing committee and applies to our party organization the fundamental principles of our government—a government of the people; the power of the people to govern and control. We must build from the people up if we would succeed."

MATTERS OF MOMENT

CLEANED AND D'STILLED IN THIS AND ADJOINING STATES.

Kentucky Democrats to Hold Two State Conventions—Taylor to Nominates Bradley—Republicans in Court. Other Pickings.

Frankfort, Ky., May 25.—The Democratic state executive committee held a meeting here and issued calls for two state conventions. The first will be held at Louisville, June 14, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the Democratic national convention. The other will be held at Lexington, July 19, and at this convention a Democratic candidate for governor will be nominated. The call is wide open and invites all known Democrats who pledge their support to the ticket and platform in November to participate. Governor Beckham signed the commission of Senator-elect Blackburn. Governor Taylor refused to sign when Blackburn was elected on Jan. 2.

Republicans in Court.

Frankfort, Ky., May 24.—In the court of appeals ex-Governor Bradley, representing the Republicans, moved to dismiss without prejudice the appeals of the Republican minority state officers from the judgment of the lower court. Counsel for the Democrats objected to the dismissal and the court took the matter under advisement. If the motion is sustained the appellants (the Republicans) will have two years in which to sue out their appeals in the court below. If the motion made by the Democrats to affirm as delay cases be sustained, that would end the matter, and no further appeals could be sued out.

Boom For Mount.

Indianapolis, May 24.—Officers of the Indiana Lincoln league and the Republican state candidates are here. There is renewed talk of Governor Mount as a candidate for vice president. The sentiment of many is in favor of an Indiana man for the second place on the ticket, and several of the candidates said they thought Governor Mount's record as chief executive of the state, as a popular campaigner and as a man popular with the people at large, would make him a good man for McKinley's running mate.

Girl Found Dead.

Terre Haute, Ind., May 23.—The dead body of Emily Price, 18, daughter of a well known farmer of this county, was discovered in a pond near Youngstown, Ind. There were clots of blood upon the face and her clothing was disarranged. The coroner left for the scene. The girl has for some time been employed in the household of a prominent farmer who lives near the scene of the tragedy. The people of Youngstown believe that the girl met with foul play.

Taylor to Nominate Bradley.

Cincinnati, May 26.—It is stated that when Kentucky is reached in the call of states for nominations for vice president at Philadelphia next month, W. S. Taylor, one of the delegates-at-large from that state, and who has just been unseated as governor by the courts, will present the name of former governor William O. Bradley, and that the Kentucky delegation will see that Taylor gets an ovation.

Dr. Morrill Resigns.

Owensboro, Ky., May 25.—Dr. G. L. Morrill, who has just returned from the orient and the European continent and was given a reception last Friday, has surprised his church by offering his unconditional resignation, to take effect on or before Sept. 30. Dr. Morrill has had important charges in Minneapolis, Denver and the east, and is a minister of national reputation.

Beckham's Order.

Frankfort, Ky., May 26.—Governor Beckham will issue a general order allowing military bodies from other states to come into the state next week on account of the national reunion of Confederate veterans at Louisville. This will obviate the necessity of Governor Mount calling on the Kentucky executive for permission for the Madison military company to attend.

Battle at a Circus.

Hopkinsville, Ky., May 26.—As a crowd of negroes left the circus tent at Bolivar, Ky., numerous persons began shooting pistols. A fusillade followed. About 75 shots were fired. Mary Bell and Frank Rives were probably fatally wounded and Zordie Wills and "Buster" Davis severely injured in the panic which ensued. Several children were hurt.

Killed Five Men.

Covington, Tenn., May 25.—Ten miles west of here a boiler at McFerrin's sawmill exploded, killing five men and completely wrecking the plant. The dead: Captain James A. McFerrin, Moses Hunley, — Burkett, — York, unknown negro. Captain McFerrin was 66 years of age and was well and favorably known throughout the state.

Third West Virginia.

Hinton, W. Va., May 25.—The Republicans of the Third Congressional district selected M. J. Sims and Philip Goodall delegates to the Philadelphia national convention. J. W. Heavner and Professor J. W. Hill, the latter colored, were elected alternates.

Nothing Done.

Frankfort, Ky., May 26.—The Goebel reward commissioners have adjourned its two days' session. The commissioners say that nothing was done except to pay a few minor bills for current expenses of the commission and those working under it, aggregating $500.

I see in the Press the Sunday law is endorsed by a large number of Marion's good folks. Not only do I endorse such law, but I say enforce the law to the fullest extent, and while we have a law to protect the Sabbath and keep it holy, we ask for an amendment on that to keep some of the endorsers of said law from hunting and fishing on Crooked Creek on Sunday. Such as this does not make us feel any better on the Sabbath day than it does for the business houses of Marion to stand open all day on Sunday.

1,000,000 DEATHS!

FROM CHOLERA DURING THE PAST YEAR.

The Germs of This Fatal Disease Are Lurking Everywhere! Thousands of Dollars Saved By This Wonderful Discovery.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars has been lost in the poultry business on account of the devastation among the flocks, caused by cholera, roup, gape and other fatal diseases. There have been many remedies advanced, but none seem to be so successful as the American Poultry Mixture. This will cure chickens in the last stage of cholera and roup, and is excellent for gapes. Do your fowls suffer from violent diarrhoea, dropping of the wings, stupor or excessive thirst? These are the first symptoms of cholera. Cholera is a germ disease and being infectious spreads rapidly through the entire flock. Take time by the forelock; don't stop to experiment with unreliable or untried remedies. Use this mixture at once and the sanitary measures they recommend in connection. Don't give the fowls up. Cholera is a terrible disease but this remedy cures it every time. It is also guaranteed for roup, which can be told by hoarse breathing, swelled eyes, discharge at the nostrils, resembling catarrh. Fifty dollars is offered for any case the Mixture will not cure. If some of your fowls are diseased it will prevent the rest from catching it. Try it. It is cheap, reliable and effective; a scientific preparation, goes more than three times as far as any other remedy, does more good than all of them combined. It is used and endorsed by the most experienced and largest breeders of plain and fancy poultry in all parts of the world. The manufacturers guarantee every package or refund purchase money. If your druggist don't sell American Poultry Mixture, he's behind the age. In that case send $1.00 for sample box to American Mfg. Co., Terre Haute, Ind.

Church Subscription.

The collection of subscriptions made at the dedication of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church last June has been very satisfactory and has been easily made. Most of the pledges have been paid without the asking. We have left this largely to the convenience of the people believing all would pay in due time. We would be glad to wind up this matter, as nearly as possible, by the first of July, one year from the dedication. If the subscriptions and remnants unpaid can be conveniently settled by that time, it will be highly appreciated by,

Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only ONLY remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." FOOTBALL ARMOR.

Its Development Coincides with That of the Game.

The full armored football player of to-day bears a striking resemblance to the knights of the middle ages in battle array, minus his spear and his sword. With the top of his head protected from hostile blows by a heavy leather cap, with pads about his ears made of lamb's wool to withstand the shock of the attack, with his nose and mouth shielded by hard pieces of rubber molded into convenient shape, with his arms and shoulders padded, his chest protected by strips of leather so as to ward off chance blows, his legs encased in breeches two inches thick with pads, his shins protected by guards, with spikes in his shoes, and every joint of his body encased in and reinforced by elastics, the football hero of to-day charging over the gridiron field is not at all unlike an unhorsed knight of the middle ages in a tilting tournament.

The development of the armor of the gridiron has been coincident with the development of football. A dozen years ago the game of football was only beginning to be developed in this country. Americans got their ideas of the Rugby game as it is now played in this country from England. There the game was then and still is played in tennis shirts and flannel knickerbockers, with bare knees and arms bare to the elbow. The English game is very much like the American game of polo, with the use of the hands to drive the ball instead of polo sticks. The American game of Rugby football has been made infinitely more scientific.

Mass plays were found to be very dangerous, especially to the team that sought to break them up. The average player could not stand the knocks and bruises which were received in these plays. Means were therefore devised to protect the players from injury. First came padded breeches, then padded elbows, padded shoulders, and finally shin guards. The next addition was the gutta percha nose protector, which was devised at Princeton by a player who had repeatedly had his nose broken. In a year or two the nose protector had a piece added to it which protected the mouth and teeth from cuts and knocks.

The result of the great advance in the science of football has been to do away, first of all, with the dangers of the game. All the tricks that made football so dangerous a few years ago have either been discarded or have been prohibited. Teams all over the country are now playing the old-fashioned open game, with lots of punting and runs around the end of the line.

This game, however, is harder than the game of a dozen years ago. Interference, diving tackles, line bucking and formation plays make the players more liable to cuts and bruises. For this reason the armor of football has not been discarded. On the other hand, it has been added to from year to year. All sorts of devices have been tried to protect the players from hard knocks and bruises. The first requisite in football armor is to secure something light which does not burden the player. For this reason all the padding of the breeches and arms and shoulders and chest consists of the best quality of hair covered with leather. Shin guards are made of canvas and cork. The shoes are made as light as possible. Nose protectors are made of vulcanized rubber. The helmets, with the ear pads, are made out of sole leather lined with a fine quality of wool.

There is also another piece of armor that is now frequently seen on the gridiron. It consists of a shoulder pad, or rather a big leather shield, lined with sheepskin, which is worn over the right shoulder, on which the player falls most frequently. Playing on rough ground is likely to make the shoulder sensitive, and this scheme has been devised as a protection. There are half a dozen other devices for protecting players which are worn beneath the armor. Notable among these are rubber bandages, with cork splints, which are worn over a portion of the body that has been bruised. Almost every player wears elastic ankle supporters, many wear elastic knee supporters, elastic shoulder supporters and elastics about the elbow joints.

Every physical trainer has his own little kit of tools, medicines and bandages, which he applies according to his own ideas. Every big team is haunted by dozens of specialists with new devices for protecting the players, new kinds of foods for making boys strong, and every sort of mechanism that might have been useful in a tilting tournament. —W. T. Har-

A SUBTERRANEAN LAKE.

Found in the Heart of Mount Skirt by Gold Hunters.

A subterranean lake has been found in the heart of Mount Skirt, a few miles from Victoria. Three men were exploring the mountain in the hope of coming upon a ledge of sufficient promise to stake upon. They had passed along the Goldstream side of the hill, and, finding that all the good claims had been taken up, passed around from the Goldstream to the Millstream side. Here they pointed their course up the acclivity, and when within a short distance of the summit stumbled on a ledge of copper ore between 15 and 20 feet in width. The formation and the character of the ore was the very same as in the West and Fair properties on the other side of the hill, and the little party made preparations to plant their stakes and preempt the claim. In going about this work they found a natural shaft, sinking at an angle in the very center of the ledge. They decided to pass down this passage and explore.

About 20 feet from the surface Mr. Petersen suddenly found the passage open out into a large chamber, where inky blackness prevailed. Candles were lighted and exclamations of astonishment broke from all three as they surveyed the scene. They stood on a narrow, shelving platform of quartz, while stretching away as far as the beams of the candle would extend lay a lake which proved to be fresh water and of icy coldness. A plummet was improvised from a line, with a stone attached, and an attempt made to secure soundings, but the water could not be fathomed. Seven or eight feet above their heads extended a roof of blackened rock, from which were suspended icicle-shaped pendants, which, however, lacked the brilliancy of the regular stalactites. The opinion of Mr. Petersen is that stalactites were originally formed on the roof of the cavern by the percolation of the water through the limestone, but that fire or some similar agency has burned the lime substance, leaving only the quartz.

Knowing the great depth of the water, and having no means of ascertaining the character of the platform upon which they stood, the explorers decided to run no risks, and, after hurling stones down the length of the cave, to ascertain, if possible, its limitations, they sought the surface again. Before retiring they discovered that the lake and cavity extended along the vein which they had traced on the surface, how far, of course, they were unable to determine.

Interesting as the phenomenon is on its own merits, it is of peculiar significance, taken in relation to the operating of the ledge upon which it seems to lie. By installing a siphon the lake can easily be emptied, even if of great depth. This will leave an immense tunnel, which will immensely facilitate the work of stopping and will form an ideal tunnel for exploration. —Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

TYROLEAN HUMOR.

Unconscious Jests the Serious-Minded Mountaineers Carve on Tombstones.

That the Tyrolese are possessed of quaint humor has been long reported, but the best proofs come from the reports of a German traveler, who examined some of the epitaphs which he found in a cemetery in the Tyrol. That the humor is sometimes unconscious does not diminish its value, but rather heightens it. On a tombstone in the Valley of Tux was this inscription: "In pious remembrance of the honest widow, Ann Kriedl, 40 years long." A miller is thus remembered: "In Christian memory of —, who departed this life without human assistance." A farmer, whose initials only are given, and appears to have been the author of his own epitaph, has this memorial: "Here rests in God F. K. He lived 26 years as a man and 37 years as husband." On the tomb of a man who fell from a roof and was killed are these words: "Here fell Jacob Hosenknopf from the roof into eternity." This wall of a desolate husband caps the climax: "Tears cannot bring thee back to life, therefore I weep." —Cleveland Leader.

FRUITS OF SUPERSTITION.

Advice of One Who Would Risk Humanity of Its Follies.

Among the queer revelations which his biography made about Mr. Parrell, not the least curious was his susceptibility to superstitions. He was not a man of excitable temperament. A large part of his power over his Irish following lay in their conviction that he was free from their national weakness in that respect. No amount of abuse seemed to break the tenor of his thought, or to disturb his equanimity. Seeing him stand before the great audience which gathered to meet him in Philadelphia, with no more response to their enthusiasm than they might have got from a stone image, I should have assumed that he was as free from the minor weaknesses of humanity as are his favorite mathematics from the ordinary elements of error. Yet he would have nothing to do with a bill which had 13 clauses, and he could not abide the chosen color of the country he was championing.

Superstition, in truth, is much more widely diffused than appears on the surface. It probably lingers longer and is more potent among the rural populations of the world than in the cities. We have many farmers in America who cling to the belief that the moon affects the change of the weather, in spite of abundant scientific proof to the contrary. We also have farmers who insist on planting crops which are to grow downward when the moon is on the wane, and those which are to grow upward when she is in her first and second quarters. The presence of the horse-shoe over the doors of barns and farm-houses tells a like story. But the farmers have no monopoly of such foolishness. No sailor will start on Friday if he can avoid it, or sail in a ship called Jasper, or with a cat or a corpse on board. And many think a clergyman of any sort even more unlucky than a corpse. In Europe the superstition about 13 is so strong that the hotels skip that number in numbering their rooms; and no European city has a Thirteenth street.

Most generally superstitions are mischievous survivals of usages for which there once was some reason. Such is the disuse of the left hand on account of the notion that it is the unlucky hand. This dates from the time when every man was a soldier, using his right hand for spear or sword and his left only for defense of his heart. Thus the left hand came to be thought unlucky as an agent of action, and the left side was contrasted with that which was in every sense right. The devil stood at men's left shoulders, and whoever spilled the salt threw some over the left shoulder to placate him. Hence "left-handed compliments."

The result has been most unhappy in converting a naturally bimanual race into one crippled by the disuse of the left hand. Children are actually punished for showing a disposition to use the left hand equally with the right. They are encouraged to do everything with the right hand, to the excessive development of one side of the body at the expense of the other. They are generally taught to write with the favored hand alone, so that when anything occurs to make it inconvenient for use they have no hand at all. It is time for a change in educational methods in this respect.

Superstition is a weakening of the mind against which we should be always on our guard. It is an implied atheism, as it assumes either that God does not rule the world or that He admits elements of absurdity into His rule of it. The best way is to do with set purpose everything which superstition forbids, and never try to "keep on the safe side" in such things. —Robert Ellis Thompson, in Saturday Evening Post.

The Chinaman Loves Luxury.

Orientalism is the embodiment of pleasure. The Chinaman loves luxury though he may deny himself the comfort of a lifetime to attain it. Eastern civilization or Asiatic barbarism, whichever may be the proper term, has been undergoing a long period of poverty, owing to exhausted lands and an excess of population. But with the coming prosperity of the Pacific a taste for the luxuries of western civilization will spring up in the far east, which will accrue to the permanent advantage of commerce. —Bancroft, in the New Pacific.

KRUGER'S ALLEGED PROCLAMATION.

Roberts' Army Enters the Transvaal Without a Struggle and the March to Johannesburg Has Begun—Federal Active Near Mafeking and Ladysmith—War News.

London, May 29.—The war office publishes the following dispatch from Lord Roberts, dated at Klip river, Transvaal: "We are now 18 miles from Johannesburg. The enemy had prepared several positions where they intended to oppose us, but they abandoned one after the other as we neared them. We pressed them so hard that they had only just time to get their five guns into train and to leave as soon as some of the Australian and Indian divisions dashed into it. French's and Ian Hamilton's force are apparently engaged with the enemy about 10 miles to our left, as firing has been heard. H. J. Whigham has just returned to Lorenzo Marques from Pretoria, where he went disguised. He wires that Kruger has all the arrangements made for flight, presumably to Holland. A special train, provisioned, is always ready, with steam up. The train waits some distance from Pretoria."

London, May 28.—The British legions on Sunday were 50 miles from Johannesburg, and 77 from Pretoria. The last natural obstacle, the Vaal river, was crossed at three points. While Lord Roberts' 20,000 infantry, 20,000 horse and 150 guns are moving on Johannesburg and Pretoria, through a parched and deserted country, the situation at the Transvaal capital is thus described by an observer, who sent his message by private hand to Lorenzo Marques: "The situation, both from a military and a political point of view, has become very critical. President Kruger admitted for the first time that matters are very grave. The Boer determination is to trust everything to a last stand on the Gatsrand mountains, to the north of Potchefstroom, where 3,000 Kaffirs are digging trenches. To that point every available man and gun have been sent."

President Kruger's proclamation to the burghers asking their voice for or against continuing the war is understood to say that they can quit now with the prospect of retaining their farms or continue to the bitter end. Rumors are current in Lord Roberts' army that the Boers intend to surrender.

The indications are that a pitched battle is imminent at Laing's Nek, where General Buller faces the Boers, reinforced and seemingly determined, with an estimated strength of from 8,000 to 10,000. The reinforcements include a large party from Ladysbrand and fresh commandoes from Pretoria. General Buller's officers are doubtful of the ability of the Boers to display the same tenacity as in the fighting at Ladysmith. The British are confident that when the moment arrives they will be able to force the passes.

Boers Very Active.
New Castle, Natal, May 28.—The Boers in this part of the theater of war are very active, having been reinforced from various directions. Their front now extends from Laing's Nek to New Republic, where they are fortifying General Hildyard's division, which is entrusted primarily with attacking the Boer right at Elandsbaagte, has arrived. The work of searching the district is progressing, and many rebels have been sent to Ladysmith.

Steyn Located.
New Castle, Natal, May 28.—President Steyn is reported to be at Valde, where the Free Staters are concentrating, preparatory to moving to join the commandoes now at Laing's Nek. Little opposition is expected this side of Volksrust. Occasional rifle shots are exchanged with the Laing's Nek outposts.

Testimonial to Cronje.
Moscow, May 26.—The subscription list for the silver plate to be presented to General Cronje, the Boer commander, now in St. Helena, includes 29,000 names, representing 7,000 rubles. The testimonial will take the form of a punchbowl, with 12 ladies. It will not be presented until after the war.

Kruger's Remark.
Lorenzo Marques, May 29.—Herr Underlay, proprietor of a German newspaper at Johannesburg, interviewed President Kruger a few days ago regarding the mines. President Kruger told him that Johannesburg was at the end of the mines that would be blown up.

May Destroy Johannesburg.
Lorenzo Marques, May 29.—President Kruger has issued a public proclamation warning all people to leave Johannesburg or to remain there at the peril of their lives, as it might become necessary to destroy the town and the mines.

Bishops Consecrated.
Chicago, May 28.—In the presence of 8,000 persons at the Auditorium, four new bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church were consecrated bishops. The newly consecrated bishops are: David Hastings Moore, assigned to the Shanghai district; John William Hamilton, assigned to the San Francisco district; Edwin Wallace Parker and Frank Wesley Warner, missionary bishops, assigned to India and Malaysia. The ceremonies were brief and simple.

VICTIMS OF FIREDAMP.

Over Forty Miners Caught by Explosion in North Carolina.
Greensboro, N. C., May 24.—Twenty-three miners were killed and a score injured by the explosion which occurred in the Cumcock mines, 40 miles west of here. Of the dead 11 were white, including several foremen, and the remainder were colored. Many of the injured are fearfully mangled and can not live. The explosion was due to fire damp ignited by a broken gauge on a safety lamp. There were 50 men in the mine at the time. Only five of them escaped injury. Among the dead is John Connolly of Pittsburgh, Pa., superintendent of the mine.

Troops May Be Used.

Shanghai, May 28.—Reports received here indicate that affairs around Peking are extremely critical owing to the defeat of the government troops by the Boxers. It is now regarded here as certain that foreign troops must be sent to Peking to protect the legations, while the withdrawal of missionaries from the interior is considered imperative. Large portions of the provinces of Pe Chi Li and Shan Tung are in a state little better than absolute anarchy, and disorder is spreading in the province of Shan-Si in consequence of the encouragement received from the empress dowager.

Counts Against Neeley.

Washington, May 25.—According to information received from Havana, the authorities are making progress in unearthing frauds against the postal revenues. A report has been received from Special Agents Seybolt and Williams, in which they charge Neeley with not accounting for stamps, moneys, property, etc., aggregating more than $65,000. There are five counts in this charge against Neeley. One involves the appropriation to himself of stamps, moneys, etc., amounting to $57,000, one for $1,500 and one for $300. This report will be forwarded to the counsel for the government at New York.

Schwan's Hopeful View.

St. Paul, May 23.—"The pacification of the Philippine Islands is assured, at no distant date, and in fact is very nearly accomplished," said Brigadier General Theodore Schwan, who arrived in St. Paul from Manila. "There is no longer a rebel military organization and the guerrilla or robber bands now pursued by the American troops have always existed. They have been reinforced by officers and men of the rebel army, who preferred fighting to labor when their government was broken up, but they are fighting without any union and each band for itself."

Luther League Elects.

Cincinnati, May 25.—The fourth annual conference of the Luther league elected officers as follows: President, W. C. Stoeve, Philadelphia; treasurer, Adolph C. Close, Cleveland; assistant general secretary, C. G. Grauer, Buffalo; statistical secretary, C. K. Hutton, Columbus, O.; literary secretary, Charles L. Fry, Lancaster, Pa.; assistant literary secretary, George H. Schnur, Chillicothe, O. The closing event was a rally meeting at Music hall, over 5,000 attending. A feature was a chorus of over 200 voices. Several addresses were delivered.

IS THIS YOUR STORY?

"Every morning I have a bad taste in my mouth; my tongue is coated; my head aches and I often feel dizzy. I have no appetite for breakfast and what food I eat distresses me. I have a heavy feeling in my stomach. I am getting so weak that sometimes I tremble and my nerves are all unstrung. I am getting pale and thin. I am as tired in the morning as at night."

What does your doctor say?
"You are suffering from impure blood."

What is his remedy?
Ayer's Sarsaparilla

You must not have constipated bowels if you expect the Sarsaparilla to do its best work. But Ayer's Pills cure constipation.

Dynamiters Soaked.
Welland, Ont., May 26.—Karl Duffman, residence unknown; John Walsh and John Nolin of Dublin, Ireland, but latterly of Washington, D. C., and Richmond, Va., were convicted of having attempted to wreck Lock 24 of the Welland canal with dynamite, and sentenced to imprisonment for life in Kingston penitentiary. The three were caught almost red-handed. Neither made any remark on receiving sentence. No evidence was produced as to the motive of the men, although the crown claimed that it was hatched by the Clan-Na-Gael.

Neeley In Jail.
New York, May 25.—On the affidavits of Inspector General Burton and others Charles Neeley, former chief agent of the postoffice department at Havana, was rearrested by a United States marshal and lodged in Ludlow street jail. The arrest was made on a warrant issued by United States Circuit Judge Lacombe in a civil suit against Neeley by the United States. He is charged with the wrongful conversion of over $43,000. His bail was fixed at $50,000.

Time Limit Abolished.
Chicago, May 24.—By the decisive vote of 433 to 238 the Methodist general conference abolished the time limit of pastors. Hereafter, according to the amendment to the discipline just adopted by the conference, preachers will be appointed annually by the bishops, with no limit on the number of years a pastor may serve one congregation.

Will Favor Bryan.
Baltimore, May 28.—Complete returns from the Democratic primaries, which have now been held in 17 of the 23 counties in Maryland, show that unless a change of front occurs before June 5, the day set for the state convention, the delegates in favor of a Bryan delegation will control the body.

Horrible Fate.
Greenville, S. C., May 24.—In a freight wreck on the Charleston and Western Carolina road near Laurens, Engineer William McKinney and brakeman Charles Haynes were violently hurled against the engine furnace and covered with coals. They were roasted to death.

Mill and Warehouse Burned.
Phillips, Wis., May 28.—The Flambeau Paper company's mill and warehouse at Park Falls, Price county, were burned. Loss, $200,000.

DISCOVERY
Made by an Ohio Professor While Observing the Eclipse.
Atlanta, May 29.—In every section of the southeastern states over which the belt of totality of the sun's eclipse extended the weather was ideal for the observation of this remarkable phenomenon. A notable feature of the day was the discovery by Professor Lord of the Ohio State university, who believes he has obtained results that tend to prove that the mysterious matter which forms the corona is to be found also in the solar prominences, and the existence of protuberances on the sun as reported by Professor Pickering of Harvard. What constitutes the gaseous element surrounding the sun, however, has not been determined, and if any astronomer has solved this problem he has not committed himself.

Planet Rediscovered.
Denver, May 29.—While Professor H. A. Howe was waiting in the Chamberlain observatory for the sun to rise and the eclipse to begin, he made one of the most important observations of the year, the rediscovery of the planet Eros. This tiny planet, which was discovered only two years ago at the Berlin observatory, has been looked for since last September, the time when, according to calculations, it should emerge from behind the sun.

Chicago as Headquarters.
Washington, May 29.—Chairman Babcock of the Republican congressional campaign committee has arranged to make Chicago the main headquarters of that organization during the coming campaign, the old quarters in Washington being continued as a branch. The change has not yet been ratified by the campaign committee, but Chairman Babcock has little doubt on this score. The new arrangement, he says, will present advantages for systematic and effective work in the large areas where congressional seats are viciously contested.

Call of Chairman Jones.
Washington, May 29.—Senator Jones (Ark.), chairman of the Democratic national committee, has sent the following to each member of the committee: "You remember that the national committee adjourned to meet at Kansas City on the third day of July. It is clear in my mind that there should be a meeting of the full committee at least one day earlier, and I therefore request that you meet the committee in Kansas City at noon on Monday, July 2, for the purpose of transacting such business as may regularly come before the committee."

For Malaria, Chills and Fever

THE BEST PRESCRIPTION IS Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic.

The formula is plainly printed on every bottle—hence you know just what you are taking when you take Grove's. Imitators do not advertise their formula knowing that you would not buy their medicine if you knew what it contained. Grove's contains Iron and Quinine put up in correct proportions and is in a Tasteless form. The Iron acts as a tonic while the Quinine drives the malaria out of the system. Any reliable druggist will tell you that Grove's is the Original and that all other so-called Tasteless Chill Tonics are imitations. An analysis of other chill tonics shows that Grove's is superior to all others in every respect. You are not experimenting when you take Grove's—its superiority and excellence having long been established. Grove's is the only Chill Cure sold throughout the entire malarial sections of United States. No Cure, No Pay. Price, 50c.
