

The Crittenden Press.

VOLUME 23.

MARION, CRITTENDEN COUNTY, KENTUCKY, NOVEMBER 21, 1901.

NO 24

GENERAL NOTES.

Items of Interest that are Daily Occurring.

The Canal Commission favors Nicaragua route.

Over 130 lives were lost during the recent storm on the coast of England.

It is claimed in London that violet leaves have been used with success in curing cancer.

Prof Gordon, of Brown University, claims to have extracted light from an overripe beefsteak.

The Brazilian Congress has favored American flour at the expense of the Argentine product.

James Kolis, a junk dealer, has been arrested on the charge of conducting a 'Fagan' school of crime in the Chicago Ghetto.

James J. Jeffries is still the champion heavy weight pugilist of the world, with an unbroken record of victories to his credit.

A meeting has been held in the city of New York for the purpose of combining the steel plants not in the United States Steel Corporation.

Edgar Stanton MacLay states that he will revise his book, entitled, "A History of the United States Navy," if Admiral Schley is acquitted.

A Detroit Judge, trying a murder case has dismissed the jury and ordered the arrest of one of the jurors and the officer in charge for misconduct.

The President's high regard for Booker Washington will be shown it is said, by having him as a guest at one of the White House dinners this season.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that beer manufactured in the United States and shipped to the Philippines, is subject to the internal revenue tax.

Joseph D. Keith was hanged in the Indiana State prison in Michigan City early Friday morning, for the murder of Nora Keifer, of Eberfield, Ind. He confessed his guilt in a letter to his wife.

Edward V. Wilborn, of Cincinnati, is in New York to perfect his plan for an automobile trip around the world. He expects to leave Cincinnati early next spring and hopes to circle the globe with his machine in 300 days.

Divisions in the British Cabinet may lead to the resignation of Sir Michael Hicks-Beach. Conditions in the London War office are going from bad to worse, and the resignation of Lord Roberts as commander-in-chief is now threatened.

Mrs Geo Bailey and Miss Lena Reimers, of Evansville, were murdered by unknown persons, and their bodies were found in ditches near Evansville. Their deaths occurred under similar circumstances, both women having been out driving with strange men. The murders resembled the killing of Mrs Mary Stark and Miss Nora Keifer, which occurred in Indiana some time ago.

KENTUCKY CLIPPINGS,

Culled from Our Exchanges and Telegrams.

There are forty-six cases of the smallpox in Breathitt county, but there have been no deaths from the disease.

Mr. Byron Hillyard, who was accidentally shot near Owensboro while hunting, will recover. He resides in Louisville.

Since the last oil well has come in at Glasgow operations on an extensive scale have been planned and excitement is high.

Four new oil wells have come in this week in the Wayne county oil fields, and three others are ready to be shot with nitro-glycerine.

Harvey Sallee, the fourteen-year-old son of a Somerset merchant, was killed by the accidental discharge of his shotgun while hunting.

A special term of the Henderson circuit court was called for the trial of Dr W. E. Clark for the alleged murder of Miss Cora Waller at Sturgis.

The Rev. D. S. Edwards, Democrat, has defeated John Feland, Jr., Republican, for the State Senate from Hopkins and Christian counties by four votes.

At Russellville Judge Crewdson granted an injunction against the Logan County Election Commissioners, as a result of which they must issue certificates of election to candidates on the face of the returns.

Indianapolis, Nov. 14.—Governor Durbin has returned to Indianapolis from a hunting trip, and has read the letter from Governor Beckham. He was asked if he would reply to the letter and said: "No, I shall not. The incident, as far as I am concerned, is closed forever. As far as the letter of Governor Beckham itself is concerned, the more people who read it the better satisfied I will be. That's all."

State Senator J. J. Watkins, of Morganfield, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for State Superintendent of Public Instruction in 1903. He represents Henderson and Union counties in the Senate, and is holdover this time. He was elected to succeed the late Senator, John A. Bell. He was a member of the faculty of the Ohio Valley College, at Sturgis, and he is now Vice President of the Second Congressional District Educational Association. He has made an excellent record as a member of the Senate.

The official count of the vote at the last election shows that the Democrats will have sixty majority on joint ballot in the General Assembly. This result is arrived at as follows:

House of Representatives.
Democrats,	73
Republicans,	27
Senate.
Democrats,	26
Republicans,	12
On Joint Ballot.
Democrats,	99
Republicans,	39
Majority,	60

LIVINGSTON COUNTY.

Big Deed Filed—Death from Pyemia—Other News.

The residence of Will Shouse, three miles from Hampton, on the Lola road, was destroyed by fire last week.

Hilliard Harris, who was fined in the county court a few weeks ago for petit larceny, broke jail on Thursday last and made his escape.

Lawrence Wells, who has been quite ill for several weeks from the effects of blood poisoning, has died at his home near Hillsville. Several days ago physicians amputated one of his lower limbs, with the hope of saving the life of the young man, but he grew rapidly worse until relieved by death.

There was filed and recorded in the office of county clerk Landram last week a deed of conveyance from John W. Harrison, E. C. Simmons, and Isaac C. Morton, the St. Louis capitalists, to the Hillman Iron and Land Company of Grand Rivers, the internal revenue stamps on which amount to $498.75, the consideration being $950,000.

The property transferred is the Grand Rivers furnaces and all the land in Livingston, Lyon and Hopkins counties which was purchased by the above named gentlemen a few months ago for the sum of $185,000.

The Press on Wattersons Lecture

"Money and Morals" is a diamond set in emeralds, rubies and gold.—Pittsburg Post.

Henry Watterson is wholly unlike any other speaker. There are times when you feel that he is merely talking to you, personally, and in a simple, conversational tone; and then, before you know it, you are whirled along by the irresistible force of his eloquence, and the originality of his thought while at all times his diction is exquisite.—Chattanooga Times.

Watterson is a great talker and "Money and Morals" is a great talk.—Des Moines Leader.

There never was a lecture with more in it, and more charmingly delivered than Henry Watterson's "Money and Morals."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

In his really delightful discourse on "Money and Morals," Mr Watterson captured everybody. There was not a dull line in it. From first to last he held his audience by the silken thread of his eloquence, oaths and humor.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

Mr. Watterson delighted everybody. His lecture on "Money and Morals" is full of light and shade humor and pathos.—Mobile Register.

Deeds Recorded.

T. F. Newcom to Mary O. Cannan, house and lot in Marion, for $850.

L. W. Postlewait to Mrs Eva W. Moore, house and lot in Marion, $1500.

Lawrence E. Crider to James N. Hill, interest in land.

Robt E. Foster to O. H. Paris, Haynes place west of town, 102 acres, $1700.

W. F. Mott to Mrs Frances C. Watson, 4 acres on Morganfield road, $250.

J. T. Dempsey to Chas T Dempsey, interest in land.

BOILER EXPLOSION.

At Sturgis—Big Mill Wrecked—Engineer Killed.

A serious accident occurred at Sturgis Thursday morning. Shortly after nine o'clock the boiler exploded in the plant of the Sturgis Milling Co., and as a result Geo. Hugh Quirey, the engineer, was fatally injured, and Chas. Harper, the miller, was seriously wounded. The former's skull was fractured in three places and he died in a few hours. The latter was badly bruised and lacerated. The boiler was blown from the building, and landed in a field 500 yards distant. The force of the explosion can be imagined when it is known that some section hands who were at work on the railroad near the mill also received painful injuries. The mill was rendered a total wreck.

Several of the other workmen about the mill were injured, but none so seriously as those mentioned above.

Mr. George Hugh Quirey was a son of Mr. Mort Quirey, of Sturgis. It is thought young Quirey was not a competent engineer, he having no experience in that class of work, and that the boiler was defective.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for Indigestion or Biliousness. Doctors were scarce and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headache and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by R. F. Haynes and J. H. Orme. Get Green's Prize Almanac.

Notice.

I will at the December term of the Crittenden county court change the line between the voting precincts of Bells Mines and Rosebud so as the following persons, now liners, may vote at Rosebud precinct instead of at Bells Mines, viz: Sam Asher, Wm Asher, Will Taylor, Bob Lee Phillips, Arthur Nunn and Jim West.

J. G. Rochester, County Judge.

Magazines. Novels. Newspapers.

Creed Taylor,
News Agent.

R. F. Haynes' Drug Store.

Louisville's Three Big Dailies—Courier Journal, Times and Post always on sale.

Secure a Remunerative Investment at a Moderate Cost

20-Year 5 per ct. Gold Debenture Bonds.

Sold in Lots of From $1,000 to $200,000.

For Full Particulars Address,

L. W. CRUCE, MARION, K.

ARE YOU DEAF?

ANY HEAD NOISES?

ALL CASES OF DEAFNESS OR HARD HEARING ARE NOW CURABLE by our new invention. Only those born deaf are incurable. HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY.

F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:

Gentlemen:—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion. About five years ago my right ear began to ring, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely. I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever. I then saw your advertisement in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and today, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain Very truly yours,

Our treatment does not require any operation. YOU CAN CURE YOURSELF AT HOME at a nominal cost. F. A. WERMAN, 520 S. Broadway, Baltimore, Md. INTERNATIONAL AURAL METHOD, 596 LA SALLE AVE., CHICAGO, ILL.

Something New...

Every week in Goods and Prices.

Don't fail to call and see our 5, 10, 25 and 30 cent counters on the second floor. There is something on them that will please you.

You can still get 16 pounds of granulated sugar for $1.

Coffee, green, from 10c up to 20c per pound.

Coffee, roasted, from 12c up to 30c per pound.

Rice 4 lbs for 25c.

Apricots 20 and 25c per can

A barrel of ginger snaps for 25c

3 lb tomatoes, 2 cans for 25c

3 cans tomatoes (2 lb cans) for 25c

Quaker rolled oats, 15c. or 2 for 25c

Pettit Johns wheat, " " "

Pickles in bulk 5c per dozen.

A nice line of white decorated lamps, from 50c to 80c. A big bargain—regular 75c and $100 lamps.

Candy from 8c to 50c per lb.

Tinware as cheap as any in town

Glassware, woodenware and stoneware cheaper than the cheapest.

Don't fail to call on us and see our goods and get prices before you buy we will sure save you money.

Bring us your produce we pay cash for all we buy.

Hearin & Son.

Colds

"I had a terrible cold and couldn't breathe. I then tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and it gave me immediate relief."

W. C. Layton, Sidell, Ill.

How will your cough be tonight? Worse, probably. For it's first a cold then a cough, then bronchitis or pneumonia, and at last consumption. Coughs always tend downward. Stop this downward tendency by taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Three sizes: 25c., 50c., $1. All druggists.

Consult your doctor. If he says take it, then do as he says. If he tells you not to take it, then don't take it. He knows. Leave it with him. We are willing.

J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.

Does it Pay to Buy Cheap?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve a cure the most severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible. If not possible for you, then in either case take the ONLY remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success for throat and lung troubles, "Boesche's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but inflammation, causes easy respiration, gives a good night and cures the patient. bottle. Recommended by all druggists in the sale by R. F. Haynes and Orme. Get Green's Henry Brydon Harris, says: "I took medicine 2 for arthma, but one bottle Minute Cough Cure did me good than anything else that time. Best Cough Cure. F. Haynes.

DON'T BE FOOLED!

Take the genuine, original ROCKY MOUNTAIN TEA Made only by Madison Medicine Co., Madison, Wis. It keeps you well. Our trade mark cut on each package. Price, 25 cents. Never sold in bulk. Accept no substitute. Ask your druggist.

BOUNTY

Is due thousands of soldiers, and 3 months extra pay to officers or their heirs.

C. B. WADLEIGH, 518 Fifth St. Washington, D. C.

TO THE WEST AND SOUTHWEST.

A new road, reaching with its own rails all principal points in

KANSAS, OKLAHOMA, INDIAN TERRITORY AND ARKANSAS,

Connecting with through trains from St. Louis and Kansas City to

NORTH AND SOUTH TEXAS.

Library Observation Sleepers to

SAN ANTONIO,

With connections for all points in the

REPUBLIC OF MEXICO

Excellent service via Burrton, Kas., f. points in

COLORADO, NEW MEXICO, ARIZONA,

CALIFORNIA and the FAR WEST.

Ask for tickets via the

FRISCO SYSTEM

Full information as to route and rates cheerfully furnished upon application to any representative, or to ALEX. HILTON, BRYAN SHYDER, Passenger Agents, St. Louis, Mo.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
ABSOLUTELY PURE
Makes the food more delicious and wholesome

THANKSGIVING.

A Proclamation by the President of the United States.

The season is nigh when, according to the time hallowed custom of our people the President appoints a day as the especial occasion for praise and thanksgiving to God.

This Thanksgiving finds the people still bowed with sorrow for the death of a great and good President. We mourn President McKinley because we loved and honored him, and the manner of his death should awaken in the breasts of our people a keen anxiety for the country, and at the same time a resolute purpose not to be driven by any calamity from the path of strong, orderly, popular liberty, which as a nation we have thus far safely trod.

Yet, in spite of this great disaster it is nevertheless true that no people on earth have such great cause for thanksgiving as we have. The past year particularly has been one of peace and plenty; we have prospered in things material and have been able to work our own uplifting in things intellectual and spiritual. Let us remember that, as much as has been given us, much will be expected of us, and that true homage comes from the heart as well as from the lips, and shows itself in deeds. We can best prove our thankfulness to the Almighty by the way in which on this earth and in this time each of us does his duty to his fellow man.

Now therefore I, Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, do hereby designate as a day of general thanksgiving Thursday, the 28th of this present November, and do recommend that throughout the land the people cease from their wonted occupations and at their several homes and places of worship reverently thank the giver of all good for the countless blessings of our national life.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done in the city of Washington this, the second day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand, nine hundred and one, and of the independence of the United States one hundred and twenty-sixth.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.
By the President:
JOHN HAY, Secretary of State.

Educational Association.

An Educational Association is to be held at Crayneville Saturday, Nov. 30, at 2 o'clock, p. m. following is the program:

Recitation—Miss Maud Hill.
Relation of teacher and pupil—E. E. Thurman.
Colonial Authors—John E. Travis.

National Literary Writers—Henry Parish.
Modern Authors—Miss Addie Boyd.

Resolved that the present trustee system should be abolished. Pro: R. M. Allen; Con: B. Frank Jacobs.

Address—Marion Pogue.
District Library—P. M. Ward, followed by discussion.

Kentucky Authors—Miss Dedie Clement.

Recitation—Miss Lizzie Gardner.

The amount of time a pupil should give to fiction—W. O. Wicker.

Recitation—Lard Hark.
Grading in public school—J. B. McNeely.

Adjournment.
The public is cordially invited, especially those interested in education.

R. M. Allen,
B. F. Jacobs,
Committed.

Kimball Pianos and Organs

LEAD THE WORLD.

The average daily sales of W. W. Kimball Co., for October were one hundred instruments.

Kimball Pianos and Kimball Organs are sold direct from factory.

For catalogues and prices write to

W. W. KIMBALL CO., - Evansville, Ind.
A. J. CHITTENDEN Local Agent Marion Ky.

THAT THROBBING HEADACHE.
Would quickly leave you if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for sick and nervous headaches. They make pure blood and build up the health. Only 25c, money back if not cured. At Woods & Co's.

A jaybird in the hand is worth two wild turkeys on the wing.

LADIES.
If you want a beautiful complexion, a bright eye, a good appetite, an active liver, bowels regular as clockwork, and vigorous, healthy body, use Morley's Liver and Kidney Cordial, the great System Renovator. It cures all diseases to which women are subject, such as weakness, debility, melancholy, nervous prostration, etc. At Woods & Co's.

Buying on the installment plan means paying a dollar down and a dollar per month for the rest of your natural life.

Brings attractiveness to listless, unlovable girls, making them hand some, marriageable women. That is what Rocky Mountain Tea will do. 35c. Ask your druggist.

Let me write the checks of the country and I care not who writes the songs.

I'd leave my happy home and cross the deep blue sea
Rather than be without Charley and my Rocky Mountain Tea
Ask your druggist.

The contrary man is always on the fence ready to jump either way.

Town Lots for Sale.
I have a number of choice building lots in Marion for sale.
Charles Evans.

I have a cottage house with four rooms and hall, in desirable section of the town for sale. Large lot and good improvements.
J. W. Blue, Jr.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure
Digests what you eat.

Every bride is duty bound to consider her husband the best man at the wedding.

Reliable and Gentle.
"A pill's a pill," says the saw. But there are pills and pills. You want a pill which is certain, thorough and gentle. Early Risers fill the bill; purely vegetable; do not force but assist the bowels to act; strengthen and invigorate, small and easy to take. At Haynes'.

A congressman says a constituent is a man who expects you to get him a job.

SPREADS LIKE WILDFIRE.
When things are "the best" they become the best selling. Abraham Hare, a druggist of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in twenty years." "Do you know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates kidney liver and bowels, purifies the blood strengthens the nerves and hence cures multitude of maladies. It builds up the entire system, puts new life into run down men and women. 50c at Woods & Co's.

When a man is sick he has it in for all the neighbors who do not come to see him.

A never failing cure for cuts, burns, scalds, ulcers, wounds and sores is DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A most soothing and healing remedy for all skin affections. Accept only the genuine. R. F. Haynes.

Memory recalls many things, but never the money loaned to your friend.

When you feel life hardly worth living take a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They will cleanse your stomach, tone your liver and regulate your bowels, making you feel like a new man. At Woods & Co's.

Envy is the lowest known form of praise.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets cure biliousness, constipation and headache. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. At Woods & Co's.

The Fighting Swordfish.

The swordfish is utterly without fear and will, like a buffalo or rhinoceros, charge anything that offends it, often doing an amount of execution hardly to be believed did not the evidence exist. Combats between swordfish are most interesting and may be compared to a duel between two expert swordsmen. Such a contest was observed off the long pier that extends out into the ocean at Santa Monica, near Los Angeles, last year. Some fishermen noticed two big fish leaping out of the water and dashing along the surface. Soon it was seen that they were swordfish.

The season was when the fish are unusually ferocious. They had made several rushes and when observed were at close quarters, striking each other powerful side blows like cavalrymen. This was unsatisfactory, and finally they separated and darted at each other like arrows, the water hissing as their sharp dorsal fins cut through it. They evidently struck head on, one missing, while the sword of the other struck just below the eye and plowed a deep furrow in the fish, partly disabling it, so that it turned and attempted to escape. But its adversary also turned and with a rush drove its sword completely through the body of its foe and held it fast, only wrenching its weapon loose when its enemy stopped swimming.—San Francisco Call.

Put Through His Paces.

The wealthy Briton is confessedly the most fastidious man living as to the quality of his personal domestic service. The concentrated energy with which an Englishman will rebuke his servant for an offense so slight that the average American fails to observe it bears out the above statement, and it is this social condition that has developed the hypercritical intelligence office in London.

Those who propose changing servants are not content with references and a perfunctory interview with the man or maid under consideration, but insist upon a full dress rehearsal of both manners and appearance.

The servant in livery is put through all his paces, must display the size of his calves, the height of his pose, as well as breeding in handling a card, announcing a guest or serving at the table.

Nothing is taken for granted. The master and the mistress sit by and discuss the points of groom or butler as they would those of a high priced horse or valuable dog. Domesticates are taken with great seriousness by the upper class Englishmen, and for that reason nothing is left to luck in peopling the servants' hall.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Scotch as She Is Wrote.

Mrs. Hohmboddie—What are you reading that absorbs you so?
Mr. Hohmboddie (looking up from his book)—It is a new Scotch novel.
Mrs. Hohmboddie (with enthusiasm)—Oh, I am so fond of those dear dialect things! Do read me a little.

Mr. Hohmboddie (reading)—"Ye see, Elsie," said Duncan dovelly, "I might hae mair the matter w' me than ye wad be sperin. Aibins me een is a bit dazzit an am hearin the poolies thuddin in ma ears, an ma tongue in clavin when it sud be gaein, an div ye no' hear the dirin o' ma haist an feel the shakin o' ma bond this day gin I gat a glimpse o' ye, sair hirplin like an auld mon? Div ye nae guess what's a' the steer, bluney, w'fot me gaein it mair words?"

Mrs. Hohmboddie—Stop, for goodness' sake! What in the world is the creature trying to say?

Mr. Hohmboddie—He's making a declaration of love.

Mrs. Hohmboddie—A declaration of love! I thought he was telling a lot of symptoms to his doctor.—Collier's Weekly.

A Rejected Favor.

When the German emperor was at school at Cassel, he and his brother, Prince Henry, lodged in an old castle near, but in the school the two boys were treated exactly like any other youngsters. On one occasion, it is related, a master, knowing that Prince William was backward in Greek and wishing to curry favor with him, told him secretly what the subject of the next day's examination would be. Early next morning the prince went into the classroom and wrote the information on the blackboard in huge letters, not wishing to have any unfair advantage over his schoolfellows.

Unconstitutional.

"What a wretched daub!" exclaimed the unsophisticated visitor at the art exhibition, turning to speak to a stranger.

"Ha, ha!" laughed the stranger. "It is a pity to violate all the time honored precedents, but I really am not the painter of that picture."

This is a cold, iconoclastic age, and the mortifying, yet instructive, contretemps of the olden time is not good form in literature now.—Chicago Tribune.

Greenland's Comparison.

Laurence Gronlund, the socialistic writer who ended his days in New York, was a thorough pessimist. One evening, after he had denounced the modern industrial system in savage terms, a friend remarked:

"It is not so bad as Russian despotism, is it?"

"Not quite. The former is the worst possible; the latter the worst conceivable."

Katir Greeting.

"Saku bona" are the first words a stranger learns of the Katir vocabulary. The expression is the common form of salutation used by the natives, and its literal translation is, "I see you." It is considered a mark of respect not to give the greeting immediately, the delay showing the reverence in which the native holds his visitor.—Philadelphia Record.

THE GRAPHOPHONE

Prices $5 to $150

ENTERTAINS EVERYBODY EVERYWHERE

Latest NEW PROCESS Records

SEND FOR CATALOGUE 35

COLUMBIA PHONOGRAPH COMPANY

88 Wabash Avenue, CHICAGO, ILL.

THE SUNNY SOUTH

Fifty Cents a Year Less Than a Penny a Number
THE SOUTH'S LITERARY WEEKLY

Published at Atlanta, Ga.

After a career of more or less activity in the Southern field for over a quarter of a century The Sunny South has again become a weekly, better and more readable than at any time in its history. It contains serial stories from the best known authors the world over. It is devoted to Southern readers and Southern writers and is their own story paper. Short stories, sketches, incidents of war and of peace, anecdotes at home and abroad, poems, ideas, fashions, hints for home keepers, everything of interest to old and young will appear in its excellent weekly make up.

The two great serials, "TRISTRAM OF BLENT," by ANTHONY HOPE (now in progress with full synopsis to cover former installments), and "Kenslyville's Lovers," by Maurice Thompson, to begin April 27th, will be read with absorbing interest throughout the whole South. This is your opportunity, and only 50 cents for a full year of it. Think of it! 50 cents.

Subscription price is only fifty cents a year. No agents' commission. The paper is its own best offer and argument to the subscriber. One sample copy free to you and to your six neighbors whose names and addresses you send on a postal card, provided you send at once. A club of five at 50 cents each, accompanied by the full amount $2.50 net to us, entitles the sender to The Sunny South a whole year free.

The Sunny South is your old friend in a new form, always improving, every issue to excel the last one. The South's literary paper is here at last. Order it to-day.

The Sunny South in combination with the greatest of all Southern weeklies, "The Atlanta Weekly Constitution," for only $1.25 a year. I send this amount to The Sunny South, and get these two great papers—One Literary; the other News.

Address all letters and remittances to

THE SUNNY SOUTH, ATLANTA, GA.

Kodol S. H. Ramage Tinner,

Dyspepsia Cure Does all Kinds of Roofing

Digests what you eat. Guttering and Repairing.

This preparation contains all of the digestants and digests all kinds of food. It gives instant relief and never fails to cure. It allows you to eat all the food you want. The most sensitive stomachs can take it. By its use many thousands of dyspeptics have been cured after everything else failed. It prevents formation of gas on the stomach, relieving all distress after eating. Dieting unnecessary. Pleasant to take.

It can't help but do you good

Prepared only by E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. The $1. bottle contains 2 1/4 times the 50c. size.

FOR SALE—Two desirable building lots in East Marion.

Wanted.—Several persons of character and good reputation in each state (one in this county required) to represent and advertise old established wealthy business house, of solid financial standing. Salary $18 per week with expenses additional, all payable in cash each week direct from the head offices. Horse and carriage furnished when necessary. References. Enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope. Manager, 316 Claxton Building, Chicago.

Farm for Sale.

We have for sale a farm of 223 acres creek bottom land part of it well timbered, about 2 1/2 miles of Repton, on the I. C. railroad and four miles from Marion. Mr. Abe Baker will show the land to persons interested.

Blue & Nunn, Agts. for Watking, Carriers & Co.

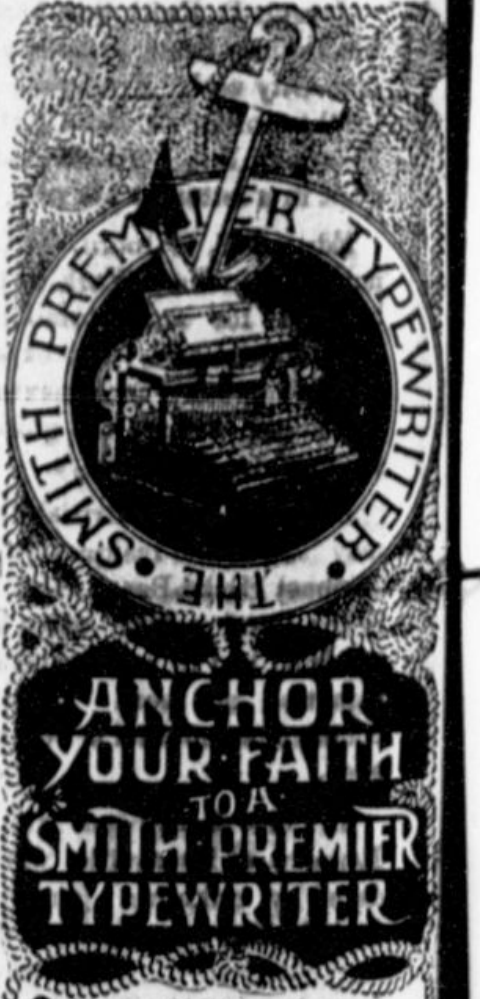

Farm for Sale.

A farm of 111 acres, three miles below Mattoon, Ky., on the old State road running from Shady Grove to Weston; 80 acres cleared; two fine orchards, good water, good house, barn, etc. Will sell at a bargain.

F. M. Daniel, Mattoon, Ky.

Ties Wanted.

Wanted to buy 250,000 railroad ties. May delivery. Box 300 Omaha, Neb.

ANCHOR YOUR FAITH TO A SMITH PREMIER TYPEWRITER

When all other writing machines fail, the Smith Premier will still be serving you well, day by day, year by year. Because the has a longer life of usefulness than any other machine. It is built right for long, hard, continuous service. Durability must be present in the Best Value Typewriter and that, emphatically, is what The Smith Premier is—the Best Value Typewriter.

Smith Premier Typewriter

ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE FREE. The Smith Premier Typewriter Co., 821 Pine Street, ST. LOUIS, MO.

The Hardships of Campaigning in Samar

This One of the Philippines Offers Many Obstacles to the Soldier.

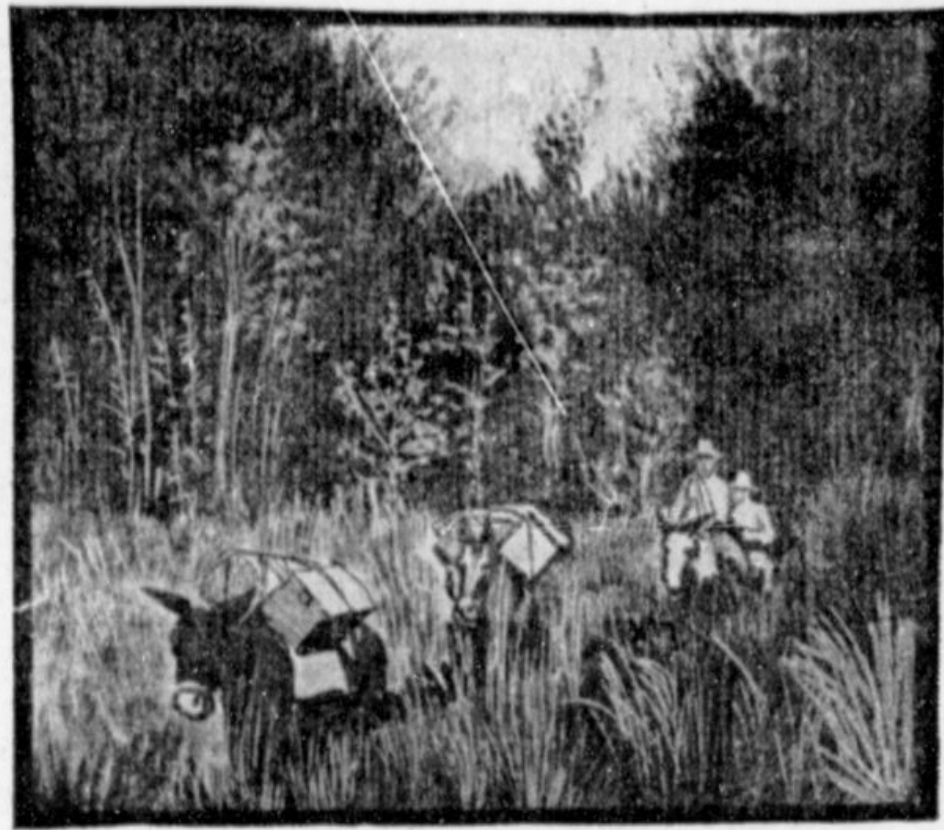

THE lot of the American soldiers to whom have been assigned the task of suppressing the insurrection in the island of Samar is not an enviable one. They do not dread the native foe in human form particularly, but the tangled forests present other foes which are not nearly so easily suppressed, and which fight with a stealthiness for which there is no known defense.

The coming campaign in Samar presents difficulties that were unknown to the campaigns in Luzon and other islands which our troops have invaded. They are difficulties which the soldiers of Spain never surmounted, and which prevented the spread of Spanish rule to the interior of the island. Spain's soldiers never suffered severely from the attacks of the insurgent natives in Samar, but at every attempt to penetrate the interior of the island they did suffer severely from the attacks of reptiles almost countless variety of clinging vines and creepers that stretch from one to another and weave themselves into a mat so dense that it is almost impossible to see through it. Imbedded into these dense mats of foliage are thousands of thorn-bearing pests that tear both clothing and flesh into ribbons. To get through this it is necessary to cut a roadway foot by foot.

But the jungle is not all that confronts the soldier detailed for service in Samar. The denizens of the jungle are an ever present source of annoyance and danger. Of these there are the snakes of all varieties and sizes. They range from the great python to the very smallest form of reptile. Of all these reptiles the most feared is the venomous cobra, of which there are thousands. They constitute a foe more dreaded than the native insurgents, and much harder to fight. Once the cobra has plunged its death-dealing fangs into the flesh, nothing can save the victim save the most heroic methods, and the affected part must be cut away instantly before the poison gets into the circulation. It is to be hoped that an abundance of surgeons will accompany the troops sent to exterminate the insurgents in this pest-ridden island.

Scorpions and centipedes come first among the disagreeable insects to be encountered. They are met with at every turn, and the sting or bite of these is not to be considered lightly.

AN ARMY PACK TRAIN TRAVELING THROUGH THE SAMAR FORESTS.

and insects with which the forests of the island abound, and from which they were never able to find protection.

To the native races the scourge of reptiles and insects has become but one of the incidents of life. Not a pleasant incident to be sure, but one to which they have become accustomed, and with which they have had to bear. Then, too, they have found them a blessing in disguise in one way, for they have in the past prevented not only the invasion of the soldiers of Spain but the Spanish tax collector as well. Living in the very center of the island, their villages surrounded by the tangled tropical forests, are thousands of natives—"rematados"—who have found this a convenient way of escaping the Spanish tax collector and the Spanish friar, if, perchance, he wished to. These forest protected natives raise mountain rice, yams, bananas and an abundance of chickens for meat. Some of them grow abaca, valuable to them only as an article of commerce, and for which they must find a market. To do this they smuggle it into and out of the coast towns.

AN OLD CHURCH IN BORONGAN, SAMAR else the tax collector will seize it and charge it up to "taxes due."

It is these interior villages in Samar that to-day harbor insurrection. Not that the natives, as a whole, might be classed as insurgents, but the armed insurgent is within their midst, and if the American soldier is to do more than the Spanish soldier ever did and capture him he must needs get to and through these villages, and push from coast to coast.

In accomplishing the purpose decided upon by the officials in the Philippines and at Washington the American soldier will meet first with a tropical forest so dense that to get through it he must first cut a trail or roadway. It is a jungle in the full meaning of that word, a jungle through which the sun never penetrates. It is filled with a moisture that brings down upon the invader a continuous shower, and keeps him wet to the skin. It is a jungle in which the heavy army shoes will serve but a poor purpose, for they will be constantly soaked, and hundreds of sorely blistered feet will be subjects for medical attendance.

There is nothing in this country, and but little in the island of Luzon, with which our troops are fairly familiar, that can be compared to these Samar forests. The larger tropical trees but serve as foundations for the

Then there is the little red tick, called the fograu, so small that a microscope is necessary to detect it, and yet capable of causing the greatest annoyance. It is found practically everywhere, buries itself under the skin, producing at first an intolerable itching, and, if not speedily removed, developing into an annoying disease that will put the best soldier in our army out of service for a time at least.

Of all the pests of Samar the most numerous are the various varieties of ants that swarm about the islands. No one ever wrote a better description of these than has Dean C. Worcester in his volume, "The Philippine Islands." Of them he says:

"Ants are the most common source of annoyance. There are millions of them, belonging to many different species, some of which are quite harmless, while others bite viciously, and a few sting as well. One often sees what looks like a thick, black rope dragging along through the jungle. Closer inspection shows that it is a column of ants out on a hunting expedition. It is made up of individuals of several different forms, each of which has a special duty to perform. Scouts run ahead and skirmish on the flanks. Big fellows, with huge, caliper-like jaws, are constantly looking for something to bite, while officers skirt the sides, turn back stragglers, and give such commands as are necessary."

"An orderly, well-disciplined army is going forth to battle, and woe betide the animal, or for that matter the man, attacked by these myriads of biting creatures. If one inadvertently sets foot upon such a column he will not soon forget it."

Of these ants which Worcester describes there is one species, a very large brown ant, which is particularly hard to escape. It makes its mud nest among the fallen leaves of the jungle, and can inflict severe pain by both a bite and sting. The bite will draw blood, while the sting causes rapid swelling and is often followed by serious illness. This species also fights in numbers, and a person is seldom attacked by one only, but by large numbers from which it is impossible to escape without considerable injury.

The largest of the Samar ants is a big fellow, fully an inch in length, and which is gifted with a bulldog tenacity. It is black and brown in color, the head being black and the body brown, and once its massive jaws are closed in a grip in the flesh it seldom lets go again, and will hold on even after the body has been torn from the head.

These reptiles and insects constitute a foe more to be dreaded than the insurgents that the troops are being sent against. The insurgents are the same treacherous tribes that have caused trouble at other places, and who can transform themselves from an armed foe to a peaceful "amigo" at a moment's notice. To counteract the annoyance caused by these pests are thousands of monkeys to furnish amusement.

DANIEL CLEVELAND.

EUROPEAN ECHOES.

In the last 50 years France has converted 9,000,000 acres of waste land into forest.

Norway owns 325 different submarine cables, but their combined length is only 324 miles.

French people use six pounds of soap a head yearly, against ten pounds per English person.

The duty on bicycles which was introduced in France in 1894 yielded an income last year of nearly 5,500,000 francs.

More than 400 guides have been insured free against accidents by the Swiss Alpine club, at an annual cost of over 12,000 francs.

The three largest cities in Sweden are Stockholm, with about 300,000 inhabitants; Gothenburg, with 131,000; and Malmö, with 61,000.

In the province of Verona, in Italy, 3,200 people were victims last year of pellagra, a disease resembling leprosy, and ending in madness.

While the proportion of male criminals has increased considerably in Germany since 1882, that of female offenders has remained stationary.

Hessen claims a larger proportion of students among its population than any other German state—81 to every 100,000 inhabitants; while Saxony had 68, Baden 65, Bavaria 62, Wurtemberg 60, Prussia 56.

Privileged communications to an attorney are held in Koerber vs. Somers (Wis.), 52 L. R. A. 219, not to include a conversation giving authority to compromise an action, since the giving of such authority necessarily implies a right to communicate the fact.

Schools in Porto Rico.

The expense of maintaining schools in Porto Rico is very high if we consider the amount spent for the small number of pupils enrolled. Education, however, is always essential to success. In our country the people are being educated to the fact that there is a sure cure for indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, nervousness and malaria, fever and ague, and that medicine is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Try it. Our Private Dis Stamp is over the neck of the bottle.

Her Choice.

Doctor—My dear young lady, you are drinking unfiltered water, which swarms with animal organisms. You should have it boiled; that will kill them.
Patient—Well, doctor, I think I'd sooner be an aquarium than a cemetery.—What to Eat.

Truth in Advertising.

Mr. Gettitt—Well, that place where we boarded this summer advertised the truth, anyway.
Mr. Harzitt—Indeed? That was a novelty.
"Yes, sir; it advertised 'Summer boarders taken in.'"—Detroit Free Press.

An Incomplete House.

We run wild over the furnishings of a house; its furniture, carpets, hangings, pictures and music, and always forget or neglect the most important requisite. Something there should be always on the shelf to provide against sudden casualties or attacks of pain. Such come like a thief in the night; a sprain, strain, sudden backache, toothache or neuralgia attack. There is nothing easier to get than a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil, and nothing cures so quickly any form of pain. The house is incomplete without it. Complete it with a good supply.

Foreigner—"In American politics I understand the office seeks the man." American—"That's all wrong! A representative American wouldn't have an office that sought him."—Ohio State Journal.

The old-fashioned genius thrived on compliments. The genius of to-day is judged by its cash balance.—Washington Post.

Love's labor is never laborious.—Ram's Horn.

The Family Home Run.

The national game is frequently productive of "home runs," and one of the most interesting of this variety of tallies was made by a Philadelphia batsman in Chicago. He hit the ball squarely, and drove it over the right field fence. It entered the window in the second story of a house, rolled down the back stairs into the kitchen and lodged in a pan of dough under the stove. The natural inference is that the family partook the next day of ball-bearing bread.—Youth's Companion.

Paradise for Sportsmen.

To him who knows not where to go, there can be no better place suggested than the Pocono mountains, lying in the northeastern part of Pennsylvania, along the beautiful Delaware river. Whether you go for health, or sport, you can hardly experience the latter without acquiring the former. The elevation of the mountains varies from 1,500 to 2,000 feet, and are one dense growth of pine and fir trees. Deer, bear and other large game are plentiful, and though the region is visited by thousands of sportsmen every year, there seems to be no noticeable decrease in the attractions offered. The Pocono mountain hotels, camps and game preserves are readily accessible by the Lackawanna Railroad, the great trunk line between New York and the Great Lakes.

The Last Word.

Mrs. Jigby (the discussion having become somewhat personal)—You may talk till doomsday, George Jigby, but you'll never get me to admit that a wife is bound to do as her husband tells her.

Mr. Jigby—By grave, madam, if I outlive you I'll have it engraved on your tombstone that you were a good and obedient wife!—Chicago Tribune.

Best for the Bowels.

No matter what ails you, headache to a cancer, you will never get well until your bowels are put right. Cascarets help nature, cure you without a gripe or pain, produce easy, natural movements, cost you just 10 cents to start getting your health back. Cascarets Candy Cathartic, the genuine, put up in metal boxes, every tablet has C. C. C. stamped on it. Beware of imitations.

Poor Champeigh.

"Why, no, this is roast beef!" exclaimed Little Willie at dinner on the evening when Mr. Champeigh was present as the guest of honor.

"Of course," said the father. "What of this?"

"Why, you told me this morning that you were going to bring a 'mutton-head' home for dinner this evening."—Philadelphia Press.

Care of the Complexion.

Many persons with delicate skin suffer greatly in winter from the evening wind. Frequently the trouble arises from the use of impure soap and cheap salves. The face and hands should be washed only in clear, hot water with Ivory soap. A little lemon tallow or almond oil may be used after the bath to soften the skin. ELIZA R. PARKER.

Knowledge and Speech.

"One great trouble," said Uncle Eben, "is dat when a man is smart enough to say anything wuf hearin' he is also smart enough not to talk much."—Washington Post.

I am sure Pio's Cure for Consumption.

saved my life three years ago.—Mrs. Thos. Robbins, Maple Street, Norwich, N. Y., Feb. 17, 1900.

A Smart Dog.

A gentleman advertising for a lost dog says the animal answers to the name of "Smugglydiving deed." That's a smart dog.—Tacoma Ledger.

To Cure a Cold in One Day.

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

It Seemed So.

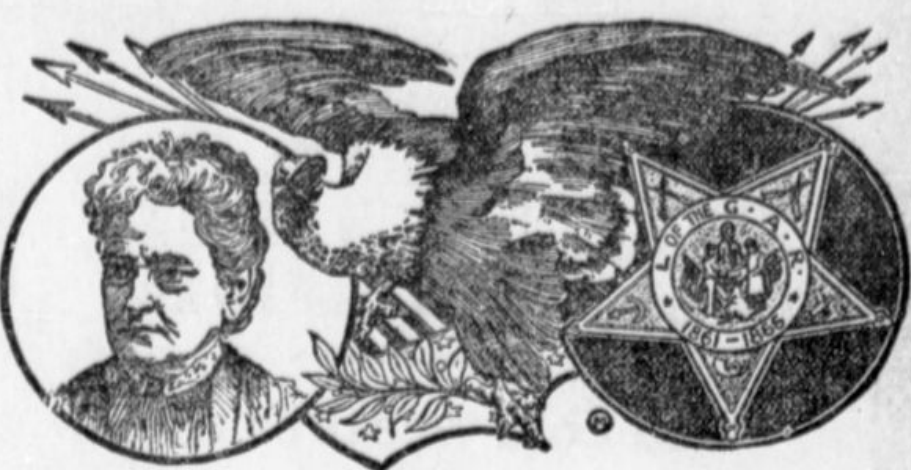

Strawber—Was her father willing to help you out?
Singerly—That's the way he acted.—Town and Country.

Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar relieves whooping cough, cures croup, soothes the throat, and cures all the troubles of the throat. Pike's Toothache Drops Cure in one minute.

Mabel's Haste—"Mabel doesn't believe in long engagements." "Yes, I understand Mabel's young man had a good deal of money."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES color silk, wool or cotton perfectly at one boiling.

Vanity sometimes assumes the guise of modesty for a purpose.—Chicago Daily News.

Mrs. Ellen Ripley, Chaplain Ladies Aid, Grand Army of the Republic, No. 7, 222 10th Ave., N. E., Minneapolis, Minn., Strongly Endorses Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Your Vegetable Compound cured me of ulceration of the womb, and getting such a complete cure I felt that the medicine had genuine merit and was well worth recommending to other sick women."

"For fifteen years I have been your friend. I have never written you before, but I have advised hundreds of women to take your medicine, in fact it is the only reliable remedy I know of for a sick woman."

"I have not yet found a case of ovarian or womb trouble which has not been relieved or cured by the faithful use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

"You have brought health to hundreds of women in Minneapolis as you have no doubt to others over the country."—MRS. ELLEN RIPLEY.

$5000 FORFEIT IF THE ABOVE LETTER IS NOT GENUINE.

When women are troubled with irregular or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhoea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine.

W. L. DOUGLAS

UNION MADE

OUR $3.50 SHOES $3.00

MAJOR

THE LATEST FASHION

W. L. Douglas's $4.00 Edge Line

For More than a Quarter of a Century the reputation of W. L. Douglas's $2.00 and $3.00 shoes for style, comfort and wear has exceeded all other makes sold at these prices. This excellent reputation has been won by merit alone. W. L. Douglas's shoes have to give better satisfaction than other $2.00 and $3.00 shoes because his reputation for the best $2.00 and $3.00 shoes is based on the fact that the standard has always been placed so high that the greater portion of shoes made for sale in the U. S. W. L. Douglas's $2.00 and $3.00 shoes are made in his factory in Lowell, Mass. W. L. Douglas's shoes are made in his factory in Lowell, Mass. W. L. Douglas's shoes are made in his factory in Lowell, Mass.

CATALOG FREE

Sold by all Douglas stores in American cities selling direct from factory to wearer at one price and the best shoe dealers everywhere.

Local agents having W. L. Douglas's shoes with name and price stamped on bottom. Shoes sent anywhere on receipt of price and 25c. additional for carriage. Take measurements of foot and wrist; state style desired; size and width usually worn; plain or cap toe; heavy, medium, or light sole.

W. L. Douglas, Brockton, Mass.

See-sawable Sentiment.

"A romantic country, that!" "Yes!"

"Sure. All along the coast the boys are hugging the shore!" (He might have added that the sound of the fishing smack was heard now and then as the waves kissed the beach, and that an arm of the sea half encircles a sandy waste, but—) Yale Record.

People who get the hardest knocks have the best idea of life.—Atchison Globe.

TO HOT SPRINGS

ARKANSAS

Three Daily Trains.

TO OKLAHOMA

AND

Indian Territory

Two Daily Trains.

Pullman Sleepers and Free Reclining Chair Cars all the way without changing.

TEXAS and the WEST. The very best of connections. Cheap home-seekers tickets on sale first and third Tuesdays each month.

Memphis Ticket Office, 15 Monroe St.

F. D. BLACKMAN, T. P. A., Chattanooga, Tenn.

FRANK M. GRIFFITH, T. P. A., Memphis, Tenn.

GEO. H. LEE, C. A. P. & T. A., Little Rock, Ark.

FAVORITE HYMNS

OF

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY

"Nearer, My God, to Thee," "Lead, Kindly Light," Etc.

ABSOLUTELY FREE

ALL THE WORDS. ALL THE MUSIC. Write for them. No cost to you.

McKinley Music Co., CHICAGO, 303 Wabash Ave. NEW YORK, 24 Fifth Ave.

One Cent Buys the Best

Yes, when you subscribe by the year for

10 Story Book

You pay less than one cent each for new, copyrighted stories by such authors as Robert Barr, Isaac Asimov, Gen. Chas. King, Ohio Road, Mary H. Wilkins, Hallie Erminie Rives, George Ade, Octave Thanet, Irving Bacheller, Elsie Fenimore, John Galsworthy, Henry James, F. M. Young, and others. For the monthly magazine 10¢. For the 10 story book 10¢. Less than one cent each, 10 STORY BOOK, 167 Dearborn St., Chicago.

MEMPHIS SCHOOL OF TELEGRAPHY

Commercial and Railroad Telegraphy taught by expert teachers using latest methods. Special rates for board to students. Full information by mail. 142-144 Randolph Bldg., Memphis, Tenn.

PILES

ANAKESIS gives instant relief and cures worst cases. Quick relief and cures worst cases. Quick relief and cures worst cases. Quick relief and cures worst cases.

DROPSY

NEW DISCOVERY! gives quick relief and cures worst cases. Quick relief and cures worst cases. Quick relief and cures worst cases. Quick relief and cures worst cases.

USE CERTAIN CHILL CURE,

NEVER FAILS! Price, 50c.

RISO'S CURE FOR

CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Cures Croup. In time. Sold by druggists.

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS

Please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

Ladies and
Childrens
Shoes at COST!

Cold Weather Necessities!

An Elegant
Tailor Made
Suit for Five Dollars.

The cold weather is now approaching and a change of wearing apparel must be made. We now are offering to the public the BEST and most desirable goods at the MOST REASONABLE PRICE.

SEE OUR LINE OF

JACKETS, CAPES, FURS, DRESS GOODS,
TAILOR MADE SUITS, SKIRTS, SILK WAISTS

Underwear, Hosiery, Dress Trimmings, Embroidery, Laces, Handkerchiefs.
French Flannels, Outings, Belts, Corsets, Etc. Etc.

MARION'S GREATEST NOVELTY STORE.

C. Oppenheimer.

NEXT DOOR TO MARION BANK.

The Press.

R. C. WALKER, - Publisher
WALTER WALKER, Manager.

ONE YEAR ONE DOLLAR

It looks like Marion will some day be the home of an ex-United States Senator as well as a Congressman.

The man who undertakes to discuss the stock law or a road tax in this county is liable to be indicted by the grand jury, and convicted of grave-robbing.

The Governor of Kentucky has spoken to the Governor of Indiana, but there were no remarks about it being "a long time between drinks," although it will evidently be the case.

We are assured that the combine of the four great railroad systems of the northwest is for the benefit of the shippers. It is truly touching, this care and kindly attention these combinations of capital give to labor. In the breaking of the news, this early in the action, the greatest of consideration is shown the shipper; without it, he probably would have angled along for years without appreciating the benedictions so munificently showered upon him. However, in the face of all this, the States through which these roads pass are preparing to fight the combine.

A law compelling both parties to submit their troubles to arbitration would have prevented a world of trouble in Hopkins and Webster counties. The mine operators have rights that the union miners should respect, and the miners have rights which should be respected by the operators. Capital would be as much handicapped without labor as labor would be non-effective without capital. The one is as necessary to the world as the other. Labor antedates capital; it existed when society first began to take shape and emerge from chaos. It created capital, and has augmented the forces of the dollar until the latter now seeks to dominate. Capital demands more than a living, a mere holding of its own. Why should not labor do so? If one is entitled to an increment, so is the other. If conditions exist that make it lawful for capital to grow rapidly, the same conditions should augment the forces which elevate labor. An impartial court of inquiry, for commission, could investigate the causes of such trouble as exists in these counties, and adjudicate the differences between capital and labor. When this is done let both sides understand that all the powers of the commonwealth or nation will be literally used to enforce the findings of equity. Find out who is right and who is wrong, and stand by the right.

The Hill Home Fund.

An effort is being made to raise sufficient funds, by popular subscription, to buy a home for Mr. Dozier Hill, the unfortunate young man who lost both hands while at work with a corn shredder. There has been subscribed $135.50. A complete list of the subscriptions will be published in the Press next week. Call at Haynes' drug store and subscribe what you can, and let's swell the list to $500 by next week.

School Bazaar.

Monday evening next the girls of the Eighth and High School grades will hold a bazaar in school hall for the benefit of the library. They will have supper that evening for those who will want it. Lunch and splendid ices will be served. The best of kitchen candies can be bought cheap. Then, with needle and thread, the girls are making some things that can be used for Christmas remembrances. The school expects its old and new friends to come out. No charges at the door. Everybody invited.

Deeds Recorded.

O H Paris to T F Newcom, lot in Marion, $1100.
A H McNeely to Elvis Mensur, lot near Marion, $60.
I H Clement to Jas W Paris, lots in Tolu, $1000.
Jno T. Franks to J W Blue, lots near Marion, $350.
W J Bebout to J W Stallions, land on Deer creek, $1050.
W T Perry to Geo W Perry, lot in Marion, $1000.

New Kimball Piano.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Franklin purchased last week from the W. W. Kimball Co., for the New Franklin Hotel, one of their celebrated grand upright pianos. The piano is in a solid oak case, and is in keeping with the furnishing, and adds much to the life of the elegant new hotel.

Accepts Carnegie's Offer.

Paducah, Nov. 13.—The City Council passed an ordinance accepting Carnegie's proposition for a public library. The city agrees to purchase a site and appropriate $3,500 yearly for its maintenance. Carnegie give the city $35,000.

The Paducah Postoffice.

The Paducah News-Democrat says Deputy Stamp Collector L. L. Bebout has actively entered the race for postmaster at Paducah. His friends claim that Deboe, Bradley, Yerkes and Franks are all for him. Lewis is tipped as a sure winner.

James—Deboe.

Last Wednesday evening, at the residence of Mr. Harry Young, near Marion, Mr. J. L. James and Miss Lena Deboe were united in marriage, Rev John A. Hunt officiating.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Very Little Business—Report of the Grand Jury.

On account of the absence of some of the bar very little business has been transacted this week. The case of the Commonwealth vs. Frank Jacobs was continued by the com'th.

Ollie Crider was fined $200 for shooting Wm Graves, a full report of which is given in this week's issue.

The grand jury returned 20 indictments as following:

False swearing, 1.
Forgery, 2.
Seduction, 1.
Detaining a woman, 1.
Uttering a forged writing, 1.
Shooting in sudden heat and passion, 1.
Breach of peace, 5.
Concealed weapons, 2.
Drawing a deadly weapon, 1.
Firing on the highway, 2.
Furnishing liquor to a minor, 1.
Selling liquor without license, 8.
Assault and battery, 1.
Obtaining signature by false pretense, 1.
Gaming, 1.

The following is a list of the grand jurors of the November term of the Crittenden Circuit Court, giving their age, religion and political views:

Name	Age	Religion	Dem
G. G. Hammond	65	Univer't	Dem
G. E. Brown	60	Baptist	Dem
J. M. Travis	60	C. Pres	Dem
W. C. Tyner	58	Method't	Dem
W. K. Bibb	53	Baptist	Rep
Isaac Conger	52	Baptist	Dem
J. B. Carter	50	Baptist	Dem
R. W. Vanhooser	51	C. Pres	Dem
A. F. Easley	48	Baptist	Rep
G. D. Humphreys	36	Baptist	Rep
J. W. Harris	37	Baptist	Dem
Chas. W. Fox	44	Baptist	Rep

BADLY HURT.

His Buggy Demolished and W. J. Hill Badly Hurt.

A few days ago while Mr. W. J. Hill and wife were going home in a buggy, the mule they were driving became frightened and unmanageable. He ran away, turned the vehicle over, and Mr. Hill was pretty badly injured. Three of his ribs were broken and he was otherwise bruised. Mrs. Hill escaped with a few bruises. The many friends of Mr. Hill will be glad to know that he is recovering.

County Court Orders.

H. S. Newcom was allowed $53.58 for building election house at Rosebud.

J. B. Davidson was allowed $10 for hauling rock for New Salem bridge.

W. E. Todd allowed $100 for making levee to the Bellville iron bridge.

LOST BOTH HANDS.

Caught in a Corn Shredder and Both Hands were Cut Off.

Mr. Dozier Hill, a young farmer of the Piney Fork neighborhood, happened to a horrible accident last Thursday evening while working with a corn shredder.

The accident happened while Mr. Hill was repairing some part of the machine, when the machine was put in motion without giving him any warning. His left hand was caught in the knives first and in an effort to get loose his right hand was caught and both hands horribly mutilated.

Drs Clark and Driskill were called and found that it was necessary to amputate the right hand at the wrist and the left one just below the elbow.

Mr Hill is getting along as well as could be expected, considering the nature of the wound.

Church Notes.

Rev. J. S. Henry closed an interesting and successful revival at his church, at Bordley, Union county, Sunday. He administered the ordinance of baptism to fifteen converts Sunday. He begins a meeting at Grand Rivers this week.

Rev. Smithson filled the pulpit at the Methodist church Sunday night. He is the new pastor of the churches on the Shady Grove circuit. His people are well pleased with him, and he is so well pleased with the situation that he is preparing to build a residence in Marion.

Rev. T. A. Conway returned Friday from Rock Spring, Union county, after conducting a most successful protracted meeting, resulting in 23 additions to the church at that place.

Rev. Dupuy's time as pastor of the Presbyterian church here expires the first of the year and he will not remain as pastor any longer.

William Yates went to Cairo Monday to lead the singing in a meeting to be held by Revs. Smith and Niles.

The Methodists of this place raised their pastor's salary to $700 this year. Rev. Joiner is one of the most popular pastors the church ever had. He expects to begin revival services at his church in a few days. Rev. Lowery, one of the most successful revivalists in the country, will assist him.

Rev. W. R. Gibbs recently held a successful revival at Old Salem church. He is very much gratified with the work of his brethren in building a new house of worship at Dyer's Hill. He is an able preacher and his popularity and usefulness grows as the years come and go.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets cure biliousness, constipation and headache. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. At Woods & Co's.

THE CRIDER TRIAL.

The Defendant Found Guilty and Fined $200.

Some months ago Mr. William Graves was shot and seriously wounded in the streets of Marion, by Ollie Crider, a young farmer of the Bells Mines neighborhood, a full account of which affair was published in the Press at the time it occurred.

Both parties to the trouble are well known and prominent in the farming circles of the county; both are young men of good reputation, and the affair was but another sad commentary on the laxity of our State law as to the carrying of concealed deadly weapons.

Without reiterating the details of the encounter, suffice it to say, that a few angry words were spoken, a pistol flashed, and Will Graves fell with a bullet in his body. It has been said the affair was the result of an old family feud. Be that as it may, its effects are no less deplorable and lasting.

The evidence on the trial proved good characters for both the prosecution and defense. Neither are men of belligerent dispositions, and both have many warm friends in their respective neighborhoods.

The prisoner was represented by the legal firms of James & James, Moore & Moore, and Blue & Nunn; the prosecution was conducted by States Attorney John Grayott, assisted by County Attorney J. Bell Kevill and Attorney Carl Henderson.

Some trouble was experienced in securing a jury, but a first-class one was finally obtained, and Saturday morning the trial was begun.

The arguments of counsel attracted quite a large audience to the court room.

Messrs. J. W. Blue and Carl Henderson made argumentative speeches for the defense and prosecution, respectively, and County Attorney Kevill made a fine and convincing speech for the prosecution.

The leading speeches, however, for the defense and prosecution were those of Allie Moore, Ollie James and John Grayott.

Allie Moore made one of his ringing speeches, bristling with cold facts and replete with argument and eloquence.

The speech of Mr. James was a logical presentation of facts gleaned from the witnesses; a close analysis of various connecting links in the chain of evidence; a touching appeal to the jury on the score of previous good character, and a final outburst of eloquence on general principles.

In winding up for the prosecution States Attorney Grayott was lucid in argument, impassioned in his eloquence, earnest in his convictions and convincing in his general premises. The arguments of both Messrs. Grayott and James were entirely worthy of the two men. And that says much.

The case was given to the jury hand at 6 o'clock Saturday evening, and at 3 o'clock Sunday evening their verdict was handed in—a fine of $200 and costs of prosecution.

The general consensus of opinion seems to be that the sentence was a light one, the gravity of the charge considered, and the defendant thinks so too. The verdict was a compromise.

Entertained.

The Naormi Club was most delightfully entertained last Saturday afternoon between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock by Mrs. John W. Blue, at her residence, on Wilson avenue. The entertainment was given in honor of Mrs. John L. Grayott, of Smithland, Ky., and Mrs. J. H. Walker, of St. Louis, Mo.

A feast of good things is always anticipated when an invitation comes from Mrs. Blue. Her "afternoons" are very interesting and entertaining. This one was of a literary nature, and in keeping with the usual work of the club. The literary problems furnished each guest was such as required careful thinking; and, in order to solve them, authors new and old had to be recalled. Each guest was furnished with cards, on which were suggestions which were to be answered by the name of a literary nature, and when all of the cards had been given to each table, the count was made. It was found that the table at which Mrs. P. H. Woods Mrs. G. M. Crider and Miss Nelle Walker sat had answered the largest number correctly. This table was awarded the prize. Then quite a while was spent in social talk, and refreshments were served.

Those present were Mrs. J. H. Walker, St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. Jno. L. Grayott, Smithland, Ky.; Messrs. H. A. Haynes, G. C. Gray, W. B. Vandell, G. M. Crider, P. H. Woods, Dr. J. J. Clark, Chas. Evans, T. H. Cochran, C. S. Nunn, Carrie Maxwell, R. F. Haynes, S. M. Jenkins, J. H. Orme, Wm. J. Deboe, Miss Nelle Walker.

The Naormi Club is now beginning what promises to be the most interesting year of its work. It has taken up part of the Chautauquan work, as found in the Chautauquan Magazine, this year. The lessons on Early American Diplomacy are very interesting as well as instructive. The studies of ancient cities, as "A Walk Through Rome," "A Gondola Ride Through Venice," are especially interesting to those who enjoy history. The Club is making a thorough study of each topic.

Notice.

The public is hereby notified that my son, Geo. W. Mills, has left my home without my consent and warned that if they either hire him or harbor the aforesaid Geo. W. Mills, they will be proceeded against according to law.

This Nov. 20, 1901.

Wm. Mills.

Pure apple vinegar always on hand
E. E. Thurman,

The Press.

R. C. WALKER, Publisher
WALTER WALKER, Manager.

OBITUARIES:—Not exceeding 10 lines will be published free of charge. All over 10 lines at 5 cents per line.
RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT:—$1.00

New goods—Fols, the tailor.

Henry Watterson next Tuesday night.

Judge James Campbell, of Paducah, attended court here last week.

Mr Geo Madden, the popular insurance agent, was in town this week.

Get your tickets for the Watterson lecture at Woods & Fowler's.

Mineral leases for sale at PRESS OFFICE.

North Main street is being macadamized.

Mr. R. B. Gass has moved his family to Henderson.

Building paper and wall-paper at Boston & Walker's.

Joe Schmit moved from Evansville to Marion last week.

The hunters are out in full force and are bagging lots of quail.

Mr. Wm Green of Providence, is visiting relatives in this city.

Mrs Roney and Miss Maud spent several days in Salem last week.

Mrs J. E. Dean spent Saturday and Sunday in town with friends.

Mr Fred W. Krause, the tailor, made a business trip to Dixon last week.

Dr J. J. Clark has postponed the building of his residence until spring.

Mrs. J. W. Blue entertained the literary club at lunch Saturday afternoon.

Quite a number of cases on the docket have been laid over to the March term.

"We are nearing the end," remark the turkey gobbler to the cranberry pie.

Rev T. C. Carter has the framing lumber on the ground for his new residence.

A good milk cow and a first-class surry for sale cheap. Apply to J. W. Goodloe.

Mrs H. A. Cameron's residence on Main street is being painted and otherwise improved.

Present indications point to a crowded house for the lecture of Marse Henri Watterson.

House paint, wagon paint, buggy paint, and paint for "any old thing" at Boston & Walker's.

Misses Maggie Franks and Mattie McFarland, of Tolu, spent Saturday and Sunday in Marion.

Rev Smithson, of the Shady Grove circuit, filled the pulpit of the Methodist church last Sunday night.

Mrs Bell James went to Paducah last Friday to spend a few weeks with her daughter, Mrs L. C. Perry.

Mrs Mary Hibbs and Mrs C. S. Nunn visited the family of James Barnes in the Colon neighborhood last week.

A minister of the gospel, who is supposed to follow the teachings of the meek and lowly Jesus, should not hold spite.

The grand jury closed up its business with promptness and dispatch. That's the way foreman Fox always runs things.

A man who is generally well posted in local affairs is satisfied that the incoming city council will grant saloon license.

Doors, windows, window glass, pine flooring and ceiling, cottonwood, gum and poplar weatherboarding at Boston & Walker's.

Mr J. R. Station, of Carrsville, was in town Friday en route to Sturgis, where his wife was taking ill while visiting her daughter.

Messrs N. H. Snow and D. B. Jones, of Mineral Point, Wis., were in town last week looking after the mineral interests of the county.

Since the advent of cool weather the grocery stores have noticed (in the language of the latest phrase) that the loafers just now show a tendency to "go way back and sit down"—by the stove.

Have you voted in the contest yet? If not, pay up your subscription and vote for your favorite.

The somewhat celebrated slander suit of Della Sparkman vs Mrs Jane Tyner, et al., was passed to the March term of court, owing to the absence of attorneys.

The delayed teachers money arrived last Saturday and many souls were made happy when it was distributed among the pedagogues.

Messrs. L. H. James, Ollie James, A. C. Moore and John A. Moore, attended Judge Evans' court at Paducah the first of the week.

Misses Carrie Moore and Fannie Gray spent Saturday and Sunday at home. Both report full schools and seem to be enjoying their work.

Next Saturday is the day to call a pastor of Crooked Creek church, for next year. Come out soon and help us work the church road until time for services.

Do not overlook our voting contest. Some of our young lady friends want that suit of furniture. It is a handsome quarter-sawn bed room suit. There is not a handsomer suit in the county.

The tobacco buyers are not as prompt in opening the market as they were last season. The farmers are holding for six cents, the buyers are not making offers up to that notch yet.

Mr. J. P. Pierce is having the residence painted that he recently purchased from Mr. R. E. Bignam, on South Main street, and expects to move into it at an early date.

On account of the great scarcity of cars to move freight of all kinds, it is likely the price of coal will be higher this year than usual. Coal cars are scarcer than any other kind of equipment.

Get a nice couch, or sofa-lounge, dresser or sideboard, or rocking chair as a Christmas present for your family. Boston & Walker have a house full of solid, serviceable, useful things for the holiday or any other season.

It's about time the young men of this and Livingston county were getting a move on themselves in the matter of polling votes for their best girl in our voting contest. Where is your gallantry, gentlemen?

The repeated firing of a shotgun Monday evening took the people in all the business houses to their front doors. It was jailer Hard opening his batteries on the pigeons that insist on roosting on the court house steps. We presume the prisoners had pigeon pie Tuesday.

At Sturgis, Ky., Nov. 8th, was born to the wife of Mr. George H. Whitecotton a beautiful girl baby. This is the child of his old age. May it prove a blessing to him and may he long live to fondle and caress the bright being which God has given him.

A walk to the new cemetery has just been completed at a cost of $115. Mr. W. D. Baird was the prime mover in securing this much needed improvement. May it be many, many long years before he makes his last trip to that or any other cemetery. He is a handy man to have in a community.

Mr. J. P. Loyd, of the Crayneville neighborhood, lost some fine stock—a cow and some sheep—last week, caused from turning them into the stalk field while the stalks were too green. Farmers can not be too careful in this respect.

Mr. Joe H. Walker, whose family is visiting friends here, has located at San Antonio, Texas. His family will join him the first of the year. He has a situation in the Auditor's office of a railroad system; he is with his old friend John Brawner, formerly a resident of this place.

Mr. Walter Walker, Manager of the Press and also Manager of the Marion opera house, went to Cincinnati last week for recreation and in search of new novelties to amuse and instruct our people. He expects to return in company with Hon. Henry Watterson on the 26th inst.

Lawyers James & James, A. C. and John Moore, are defending their own suit in the Federal court at Paducah this week. They are the defendants in the suit to test the validity of the contract under which Clark & Roberts are operating the zinc mines on William Mann's farm. These lawyers leased the mining privileges from Mr. Mann and sold to the other parties, and all are made defendants in the suit.

THE LEADERS ARE NOW TIED!

MISS CLARA NUNN AND MISS CARRIE MOORE ARE NOW EVEN IN STRENGTH.

For the first time since our interesting contest opened the two leading contestants have an equal number of votes. Last week's count gave Miss Nunn 128 and Miss Moore 126. This week gives them 155 each. Miss Semmers and Miss Butler, of Livingston county, have received a great many votes since our last issue and are rapidly gaining in strength. Other contestants have also made remarkable gains. As the time draws nearer for the contest to close the race becomes more interesting, and the question is, who will win the bedroom set. This handsome suit has been ordered and will arrive in Marion the latter part of this week and will be placed on exhibition at Boston & Walker's furniture store. Work hard for your favorite if you expect to win.

Last week Miss Zula Eaton was united in marriage to Mr. Eugene Love, and according to the rules of our contest, her name is dropped from the list of contestants.

The following is the correct slating of contestants on the week's count:

Miss Clara Nunn.....	155	Miss Ada Howerton.....	4
Miss Carrie Moore.....	155	Miss Mamie Boyd.....	4
Miss Sallie Summers.....	79	Miss Ida Duval.....	4
Miss Mary Maxwell.....	55	Miss Addie Boyd.....	4
Miss Allie Butler.....	22	Miss Mina Wheeler.....	3
Miss Alice Browning.....	21	Miss Ruby James.....	3
Miss Nellie Walker.....	14	Miss Ebba Pickens.....	1
Miss Ialeen Graves.....	10	Miss Duke Hayden.....	1
Miss Maud Roney.....	5	Miss Fannie Finley.....	1
Miss Lelia Wilborn.....	4	Miss Pearl Cook.....	1
Miss Maggie Moore.....	4	Miss Rosa Duley.....	1

Hon O. M. James was in Louisville last week.

Who will win the fifty dollar bed room suit?

Building material of all kinds at Boston & Walker's.

Mr. R. M. Wilborn is serving on the Federal grand jury at Paducah.

Mr. D. J. Green and wife, of Hebron, were in town shopping Tuesday.

James & Ordway have erected a corn meal and feed mill at Sheridan. Also flour exchange.

Mr. W. M. Towery, a prominent farmer of the Cresswell neighborhood, paid the Press a substantial visit Monday.

Mr. Hill, whose hands were cut off by the corn shredder, had accident insurance to the amount of $200.

Elder E. B. Blackburn and Mr. John A. Hurley are in Paducah this week. They are petit jurors in the Federal court.

Marriage licenses were granted this week to Hugh D. Givens and Sophia Ann Guess; John L. James and Lena A. Deboe.

Henry Watterson's lecture is not a dry one, as most people may think. It is full of humor, pathos, light and shade, as well as instruction and philosophy.

Mr A. J. Baker's property on Depot street has been greatly improved. A dressed stone wall has been erected along the front, on which rests a neat iron fence. He expects to put in a granitoid sidewalk.

R. Dewey, of Mt. Vernon, Ill., and J. Dewey, of Elizabethtown, Ill., were guests of their brother, Mr. A. Dewey, of this place, last week. Mr. R. Dewey has not seen his brother before in fifteen years. Both of these old gentlemen are practical millers, are sociable and genial in manner, and are passing down the road that leads to the grave serene and hopeful, as they look back to a life full of years and honorable toil.

Marion Graded School is making an effort to secure a gymnasium, and the enterprise is meeting with favor. It is designed to fit up a room in the third story of the school building, and supply it with the modern apparatus for such purposes. The public is subscribing liberally, and if the friends of the school will make fair contributions the undertaking will be successful.

PHOS-TONE

Cures indigestion, liver complaint and all bowel troubles. Try this great tonic. Sold by R. F. Haynes.

Don't wait until you become chronically constipated but take DeWitt's Little Early Risers now and then. They will keep your liver and bowels in good order. Easy to take. Safe pills. Robt. F. Haynes.

Lights and Shades

Metal on the street,
Light in the air;
Railroads to meet,
Ain't we gittin' there?

Marion has one dozen vigorous, healthy, white preachers, all actively engaged in the ministry; yet some people insist that it is a hard town. Not a bit of it. There is as much "goodness" to the square foot here as in any other town in the country.

The star-eyed goddess is coming to town next week. Bathe your mental man in the flow of her eloquence; store your mind with the bright wares she exhibits, and look upon a truly great character, whose name is and has been a household word in cabin and mansion, in this country, for three decades.

Sitting on the show case in one of our stores is a little glass globe with a slot in the top. Mounted above it is a card bearing these words: "Remember the destitute and homeless children during the holiday season." Kentucky Children's Home Society, Louisville, Ky. Through the little slot has fallen many dimes, nickels and pennies, and here and there lies a dollar, buried beneath its smaller companions. That globe ought to be filled by christians. Scores of people pass in and out during the day, and what a graceful thing it would be to register your mite in that globe. You will never miss the penny a moment after it is gone, yet as it slips through your fingers what a mission it starts upon, and who can measure the joy it, with its associates, may carry to the heart of some little waif, and who can estimate the good impulses that might rise in some cheerless life and mature in noble action, when these mites have performed their mission? It is not long faces, nor long prayers, nor loud songs that fill aching voids; it is the little kindnesses that makes the measure of one's own life full and mellow hearts that may be turning to stone. The ability and opportunity to do great things may never come; do the little ones and by and by they become cemented together, layer upon layer, and at the end they are big enough and high enough and solid enough for you to climb upon to the pearly gates.

I dropped into the clerk's office a few days ago prepared to console a sad, dejected, and perhaps a little bitter man; I had fortified myself for the occasion, and while I had something of a set speech my heart was in it and I felt as sorrowful as tear-damp words could express it. But my man was not there. He was the same cheery, affable, courteous David. No sign of a shock, no deep furrows, no wave of sorrow rolling over a troubled breast, no malignancy, no darkness, no bitterness. Placid as a sleeping sea; pleasant as a May morn was the man who, after twen-

Marion Opera House

MARION, KY.

Tuesd'y Night. NOV 26

Hon. Henry Watterson,

The Great Kentucky Editor and Statesman, in his Famous Lecture

'Money and Morals'

Seats Now on Sale.

The advance sale is very large. Secure your seats at once. PRICES THIS WEEK: 25, 50 and 75 cents. Manager Walker will promptly fill all telephone or mail orders for seats.

There is no danger of a disappointment. Col. Watterson will reach Marion Tuesday afternoon.

ty-three years of the best service any man could give a constituency had so recently been voted out of office. I didn't exactly understand and thought, perhaps, some of the back precincts had come in late changing an adverse majority to a goodly victory.

"Oh no," he said, "that's not the way of it. I have had it for twenty-three years, enjoying the usufruct nearly a quarter of a century, while my worthy opponent has only four years in sight. Who has the most to be grateful for? I remember with a tender regard the things that have been and can't blot that from my mind to worry over things that will be."

As I turned to leave he was looking over an old record for some information for a constituent, telling another the law in some matters, while the third waited to get him to draw a note, giving each visitor a pleasant greeting. I left with this idea: David Woods is a philosopher as well as one of the best of men, and most accurate of clerks.

Notice to Tax-Payers.

To the tax-payers of Crittenden county who owe me taxes for 1898, 1899, 1900 and 1901. I am going out of office in a few days, and have to settle with the State and county in full, and to do that I will have to collect the outstanding taxes. I am not going to wait any longer for back taxes; necessity compels me to collect. The penalty will be added the first day of Dec., 1901, on all unpaid taxes. This Nov. 19th, 1901.

3w Jno. T. Pickens, S. C. C.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure
Digests what you eat.

STEWART & RINGO, The Wide-aw Photographers

Will for the next 30 days give to their customers one-half dozen cabinet size pictures and a 14x17 enlarged picture of yourself for $3.00.

The enlarged picture is a piece of work which no one has ever been able to place before the people before. They are permanent in every respect, and will bear washing without injury, and they are a perfect likeness of the subject and give a life expression, which you fail to get in common run of enlarged pictures. Any photographer or kodak amateur can get good enlargement from their negatives, any size they wish, at our studio. All negatives sent us must be sharp and clean for best results. Any kind of work known to photography or enlarging art can be obtained at our studio. Enlargements will be given on all of our other work in same proportion as above in either dozen or half dozen. Medallions, buttons and badges of all kinds, out door viewing, etc., all of permanent work. Call at our studio just west of the Farmers Bank and see our work.

Notice.

All persons knowing themselves to be indebted to the grocery firm of Gilbert & Hurley will please call and settle at once, as a change has been made in the firm. Prompt settlement will save trouble.

Gilbert & Hurley.

Notice.

Crittenden county has no surveyor. I am prepared to do any kind of surveying, so give me your work.

G. P. Wilson,
2w Weston, Ky.

FOR SALE—A fine Jersey cow with young calf. A. H. Cardin, View, Ky.

For shirts of all kinds and underwear see us.

Woods & Fowler.

The Hawaiian woman's club at Honolulu debated the question: "Is it better to take Rocky Mountain Tea hot or cold." Either way it magnifies your pleasure.

One hundred corn shocks for sale.

R. N. Walker.

NOTICE.—The notes and accounts of Rev W. F. Hogard are in my hands for collection. Money by calling on me and settling. Joel A. C. Pickens, 23-2w Deputy S.

An English association of woman's happiness has a reward of five hundred pounds for a greater blessing to v than Rocky Mountain Tea your druggist.

THE CRITTENDEN PRESS

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.
MARION, KENTUCKY.

NATURE SELF-CONSCIOUS.

Helvetia Loquutor:
Giant of old am I,
The rock ribbed earth is my body;
The mountains that rise on high,
These are my hands, my fingers;
The snow is my hair, and the clouds
Gather around at my breathing;
I whisper in wandering winds,
But the avalanche crash is my calling;
When I raise myself anon,
And shake my limbs in the sunlight,
The sweat flows forth in rivers.

Sons and daughters of man
Room at will upon me,
Climb to my utmost hand-tips,
Hide in the hair on my shoulders,
Glide in the blue of my eyes,
In corridors made of the corn husks;
But I heed not their coming and going.

Mystery am I to myself,
Knowing not why, whence, whether
Knowing not purpose or end,
Of the things that were or shall be;
Only faintly surmising
That I was by another fashioned,
A being vaster than I,
Stronger in the and snow,
Mightier in body and arm-girth,
Giant of old, my child,
I greet thee unknown, great Maker.

But a wonder stranger is mine,
From age to age enduring,
As I lie in the night's deep silence,
When the light gliver rests in his chamber,
And gaze in the firmament o'er me,
Far from my utmost arm's reach,
Far from the sound of my calling,
And watch in the solemn distance
Of infinite space overshadowing
Those pale fires burning yonder,
Never farther or nearer,
Never brighter or dimmer,
Burning forever and ever.

This is the wonder unending,
This is the light that appalls me, —William Harbutt Dawson, in Westminster Gazette.

A PAIR OF SUEDES.

By Harriet Holmes Haslett.

FOR a few minutes they stood before the Kearney street shoe-store window, discussing the relative merits of white satin and suede versus patent leather, Sue, who was of a practical turn of mind, advised the latter.

"Gracious me, you little hayseed! I couldn't wear black slippers with my white gown. They must be white—either satin or suede. Come, let us go in; I can only tell by trying them on."

Turning hurriedly, they precipitated themselves forcibly against a man who had been gazing dejectedly into the neighboring window at the rows of manly boots and shoes. More especially were his eyes directed toward the dancing pumps—not that he admired them, nor even wished to buy them, but, nevertheless, fired by a noble resolve, he turned to enter, just as the two girls finished their little dialogue, which he partially overheard. Two pair of eyes flashed indignantly into his. Bee's brown ones were milder than the blue ones of the "little hayseed."

"Great, clumsy thing! Couldn't he look where he was going?"

"Why, Sue; it was as much our fault as his!"

Now the man was neither great nor clumsy, however, much he hoped to be the former in the future and had overcome the latter in his past. Furthermore, the glimpse he had had of the brown eyes gave impetus to his lay—that he would attend to it himself, resolve of purchasing a pair of patent leathers for the cotillion to which he was going, simply to please his friend, Charlie Graham. Hence he ordered and tried on the much-desired articles of attire, in the meantime, casting furtive glances at the purchaser of the dainty pair of white sues.

Then the two, without a backward look, hurried away to Beatrice Harloe's home on the Heights, leaving the clerk politely assuring them that the parcel would be sent without delay. No sooner had they left the store than the faithless creature turned them over to the clerk who was waiting on the purchaser of the patent leathers, and he, too, hurried away, for a little dinner at the restaurant with his best girl was not to be disturbed for any white sues in the world.

Half-past eight was sounding by the Harloes' big hall clock, and upstairs the two girls were arraying themselves to the distraction which needs to kill. "Marie," called Beatrice, to her long-suffering little maid, "have my slippers come? Dear me! what shall I do?"

For the fifth time, Marie descended in quest of the vagrant slippers, and this time returned smiling, with the long-awaited box.

"Open them now and let me put them on awhile and ease them a little before I go," said Bee.

So Marie opened the box, and they beheld a pair of manly patent leathers, slim and graceful, it is true, but never intended for Beatrice's tiny feet. The girls surveyed each other in blank dismay, then solemnly and forcibly there came from Sue the single syllable, "Gee!"

"What shall I do?" cried Beatrice, distractedly. "That wretched clerk, after all his promises, to make such a mistake! I can't go, that's all; I haven't another decent pair!"

"Not go!" exclaimed Sue, "after all my hopes for weeks on this party! Fly, Marie—fly and bring up some bread-crumbs—stale ones. Where are all your old slippers, Bee? We'll choose the best-looking ones and have them cleaned in the shake of a—very quickly, I mean!" primly, for Susan was heroically striving to drop all the slang phrases which her life on a western ranch had cultivated.

Out of various boxes an assortment of foot-gear was produced and surveyed by its dejected owner. She immediately pounced upon a pair of white sues, not so bad after all, and vigorously set herself to work with the bread-crumbs, with such good results that a fairly presentable pair of slippers was produced.

"You extravagant girl," she laughed. "If you had been used as I have, to making one pair do till it is done, you would use up plenty of stale bread. Your dress is so long they'll never show; besides, who would suspect Miss Harloe, who has a new pair for every party, if she likes, to be wearing old ones. They'll never think of looking."

"Oh! you dear little 'Hay,' laughed Beatrice, "you are such a comfort. We must hurry, it would not do to be late when I have to introduce all your partners."

"Hay seeds have their little mission in the world after all, eh, Honey Bee?" quoth Sue.

"I never would have gotten off to this cotillion if it hadn't been for you, that's certain," she answered, as the two went gayly down stairs, leaving the patent leathers, the ignominious cause of all the trouble, lying forgotten on the floor.

Scratch, scratch, went the pen, and sheet after sheet of manuscript fluttered to the floor. The medical students who were to be regaled on the morrow with Dr. John Meredith's address on anatomy were not to be envied, if length were not offset by brilliancy.

Finally the toes are reached. Surely he must be bearing the end. If not the end, the mention of his extremities started a train of thought utterly foreign to the subject in hand, however. With a sigh, he dropped his pen and turned in his chair. Drawing the arm of a skeleton hanging near him affectionately over his shoulder, with the thumbbone he thoughtfully prodded the tobacco in his pipe.

"Well, Bonita, old girl, I suppose it's about time I stopped."

The person addressed was accustomed to his confidences and, not being expected to be communicative, preserved a discreet silence. She was always introduced to his friends as "Miss Bonita, the beautiful Indian maiden," and her sole duty in life was to hang suspended there in mid-air, in convenient range, where at any time her thumb could be called into use. Meredith declared that his pipe never smoked as well as when Bonita packed it for him.

Touching his repeater, the faithful little chime rang out—nine-and-twenty! "Great Scott!" he exclaimed, springing to his feet. "Why didn't you give me a hint it was so late? What use are you, anyway, hanging there, twirling your toes, when I should be twirling mine!"

Just then there came a knock at the door, and without waiting for an answer, his friend Graham entered with a rush. "Hello, not ready yet? What have you been about, you old fogey? You'll get no dances if you don't hurry."

"Don't want any. Haven't danced for four years, as I told you," answered John, in the drawing, indifferent tone he always assumed when social matters were discussed.

"Well, you promised me you'd go to this. How do you expect to be a success in your profession if you drop so completely out of social life? Don't you know that two or three conquests to-night mean as many 'calls' in the course of the week?"

"Great Heavens! You don't mean it?" (sarcastically).

"Yes, and I'll wager you haven't even thought of the dance shoes you promised me so faithfully to buy."

"There you are wrong, dear boy, as usual. Thought of them just in the nick of time. Open the box there and lend me a hand, will you?" (giving himself a shake). He disappeared into the other end of the long room, which was divided by portiers, and was dignified by the title of sleeping apartment, in this, his home, up five flights of stairs—the climbing of which was all the exercise he needed, he declared.

An astonished silence followed the cracking of the paper, then a burst of hearty laughter.

"What in thunder have you been about, old saw-bones? Some one's been playing a trick on you."

As Charlie finished speaking, Meredith appeared at the portiers, and to his astonished gaze was held up a pair of white sues, dainty, high-heeled, fit for a fairy. Consternation dire overtook them both, then recollection came to Meredith, swift and sure. A pair of brown eyes glanced indignantly into his, then a sweet voice is saying: "They must be white, Sue; either satin or sueded!" Of course, the stupid clerk had mixed them up.

But, great Heavens, where are his? He dare not trust himself to think. In the meantime, Charlie stood with the dainty deceivers poised gingerly in one hand, gazing quizzically at Meredith.

"You've mistaken the box, old man. I did not intend to pry into your secrets, I assure you. Very clumsy of me. Kindly show me the right box."

"Oh, hang it all, dry up! What are you talking about?" almost shouted Meredith, shaken out of his customary calm. "Don't you see what has happened? The clerk has mixed them up, that's all." Then he related the whole story to his unsympathetic friend, who rolled over on the divan in paroxysms of delight, to the detriment of his immaculate evening dress.

"That's the best I ever heard!" he gasped. "Imagine the scene in the boudoir of the brown-eyed one, when your dainty canoes arrived. Don't stand there petrified. Hurry up, get out your old ones and come along."

"But I haven't any old ones! Gave them all to my small brother long ago. What use have I for dancing shoes?" dejectedly. Now that all possibility of a dance was at an end, he longed most unreasonably for the unattainable. Forlornly, he arrayed himself.

"You'll have to sit out most of your dances—if you get any," said his friend, consolingly. "Mine are all engaged. I never take any before half-past ten."

"Nobody will want to dance with me in these thick things," sighed the other, surveying his shoes ruefully.

However, they made a start finally, Charlie gayly arranging future proceedings as they went.

"Now, if the brown eyes are there, what luck. I'm sure to know her; I know everybody. I can see it all—in introduction, start of recognition, hopeless confusion, gallant friend to the rescue—all satisfactorily explained in a moment."

"Never!" ejaculated Meredith, clutching his arm. "Suppose she's a girl who chafes a fellow unmercifully?"

"Why, she cannot. She's in as much of a box as you are."

"Oh, no, she isn't! She forgot all about me and my patent leathers as soon as she entered the store."

"Well, hope for the best, my afflicted friend," said Charlie.

Presently they reached the brilliantly lighted hall where the first cotillion of the season was under way. Gayly the couples were marching back and forth through the mazes of the figures, and there—surely his eyes did not mislead him—was the "brown-eyed one," demurely leading all that lovely train of followers. Meredith leaned against the door facing, and Graham noticed the look of consternation, almost of fear, upon his face.

"She's here, is she?" he asked.

"Yes, there, leading," he answered, faintly.

"That! Beatrice Harloe! Well, you are a lucky dog! She's the jolliest and sweetest girl on the hill."

Later on Meredith was introduced, and one glance of the brown eyes was enough. Totally unprepared for the meeting, no sooner did their eyes meet than the remembrance swept over her of the "great clumsy" thing in front of the shoe store. Laughing, she put out her hand: "Oh! Dr. Meredith and I have met before, if rather unceremoniously. You must excuse our haste of this afternoon—we were in such a hurry!"

"It was all my fault, I assure you," he answered, eagerly. So far, she did not connect him in any way with the mistake of the dancing shoes. "I am so late," said Meredith. "I am afraid there is no hope for me on your card; I am not going to dance myself, but I hoped I might find some kind friend who would take pity on me and 'sit out' one occasionally." Once nothing had ever been further from Meredith's thoughts than the absurd "sitting out" of a dance with a girl; but, now—well, circumstances alter cases, that's all.

"Oh!" she answered, "I was late, too. I have only the cotillion engaged. I will give you one later on."

Charlie, who had been an amused spectator, could restrain himself no longer, in spite of an imploring look from his friend.

"Why were you late, Bee? You told me you expected to be here early, on account of your friend."

"Such a funny thing happened," she laughed. "Come here, Sue, and help me tell about it."

Glancing at the young doctor, one look at his conscious face was enough. "Oh!" she cried: "why! you—you are the man!"

Then the tension gave way and the quartet laughed long and merrily.

"What's the joke?" was asked on all sides; but taking Sue hurriedly by the hand, Beatrice made her way to a retired corner, motioning to Graham to be near her friend.

"We must exchange confidences," she said.

"And shoes," murmured Graham, sotto voce. So, with much laughter, and clatter of tongues, the whole affair was made clear, to the mystification of all their friends and acquaintances.

The following year Dr. and Mrs. John Meredith (nee Harloe) set up housekeeping in a cozy flat on Geary street, where there is a mystery still unsolved in the doctor's study. Hanging beside his desk, within convenient reach of his right arm, is the well-known figure of "Miss Bonita," gracefully swinging her toes as of old. But upon those toes are now fitted dainty slippers of white suede, held in place by huge bows of white satin ribbon.

To all inquiries, Bee merrily answers: "Well, if I did throw myself at his head first, he returned the compliment promptly by throwing himself at my feet."—San Francisco Argonaut.

What Was in Him.

"Children," said the teacher, while instructing the class in composition, "you should not attempt any flights of fancy, but simply be yourselves, and write what is in you. Do not imitate any other person's writings or draw inspiration from outside sources."

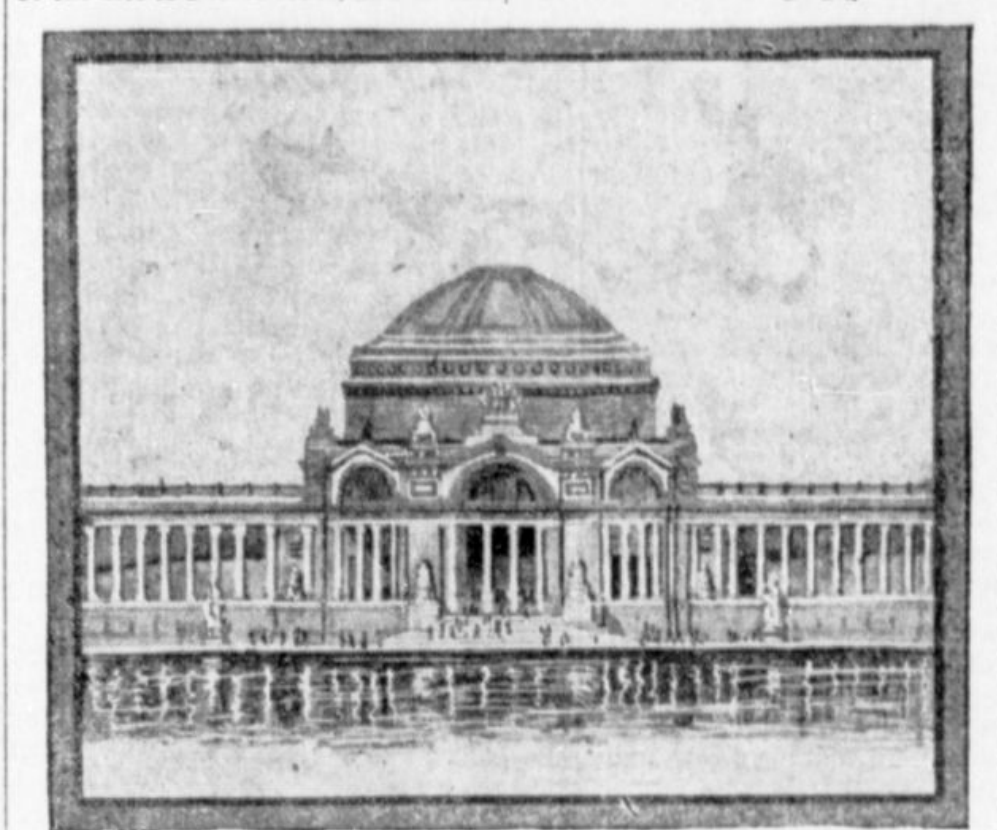

As a result of this advice Johnny Wise turned in the following composition:

"We should not attempt any flights of fancy, but rite what is in us. In me there is my stummick, lungs, hart, liver, two apples, one piece of pie, one stick of lemon candy, and my dinner."

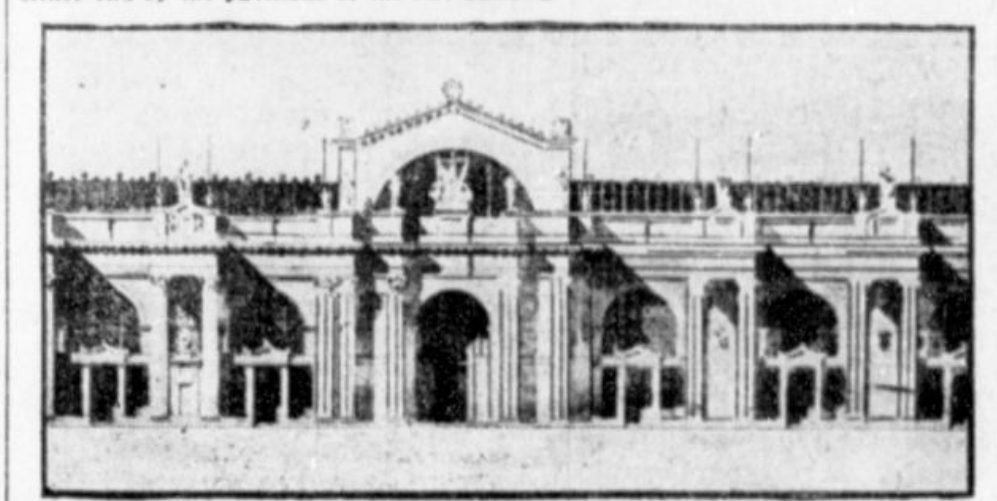

—Baltimore American.

Buildings of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition

FOREST PARK, the second largest public park in the United States, is the site selected for the Louisiana Purchase exposition in St. Louis in 1903. The site itself offers a variation from previous exposition grounds, as it is hilly, and advantage will be taken of the natural topography of the ground. Some 400 acres of the site is a level tract, and on this

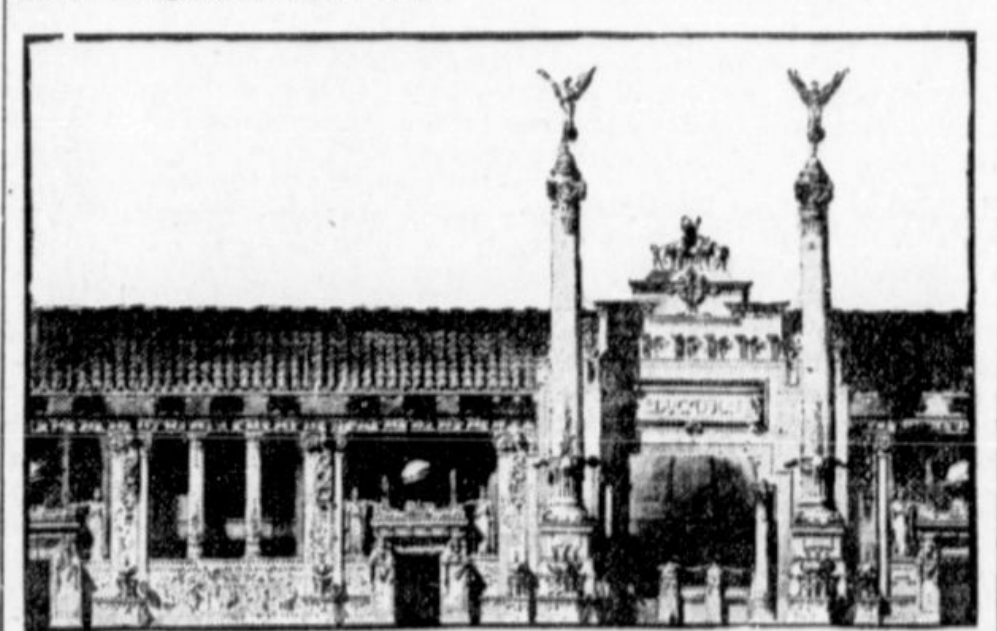

THE Art building is to be permanent fire-proof structure 200,000 feet square with two pavilions each 200,000 feet square. It will not be as ornate as the other buildings of the exposition which will be constructed of staff. To eliminate this discordant note which this difference in building material would cause was a problem given the architects to solve. They did it by arranging for a colonnade to crown the summit of the hill which will serve as a finishing touch to the main exposition picture and exclude from view the more subdued main art building. From either side of this colonnade the torrents which supply the lagoons and canals of the lower tract with water will gush. The colonnade will be terminated at either end by the pavilions of the Art building.

THE Electricity building is located on the main central avenue and is one of the leading elements of the main exposition picture. It will have a frontage toward the north of 60 feet and toward the east of 25 feet, facing the main lagoon. The design is a bold composition treatment of the Corinthian order. The columns are carried well down toward the ground, to give height to the facade. The facade is well accentuated by elevated pediments and tower effects over the four main entrances and at the corners. Over the accentuated places, as well as over the twin columns, which form a pleasing variation of the treatment of the facade, opportunity for ample sculptural decoration is supplied. The fenestration is bold and appropriate, giving ample light and substantial wall treatment. On two sides of the building are loggias which add pleasing effects of light and shadow.

THE Mines and Metallurgy building is a magnificent structure on the outer perimeter of the picture representing the main view of the fair. It is one that will strike the beholder immediately after passing the main entrance gate. It will present a facade of 1,200 feet on the north and 225 feet on the east, giving 66,000 feet of exhibition space on the first or ground floor. It is a commodated design, free treatment, of the Ionic order. There is an increase of size of column treatment at the main entrance, but in such style and taste as to not interfere with the general design. On the main 1,200 feet will be a center tower 400 feet high with flanking towers each about 200 feet high. In the large tower there will be a magnificent electric clock.

THE Education building forms part of the east wing of the fan-like general ground plan and is the last building on the south side of the esplanade leading to the group of Government buildings, which are to stand on a higher level. It will have a rich background of hillside foliage toward the south-east. Considered as part of the general scheme, it plays a very unimportant role in the spectacular display of the fair and for this reason no attempt has been made to force attention to it by such means as towers, domes, or similar architectural devices. The outside dimensions are 225x250 feet and the interior is divided into eight oblong parts, almost equal in area, because the general scope of the committee on educational exhibits shows a classification into eight departments. The ground floor will furnish an exhibition space of about 36,000 square feet and about 150,000 square feet may be gained by the introduction of galleries.

HIS DOGS ARE USEFUL.

Bar Harbor Druggist Finds Profit in Naming Them Button Hook and Collar Button.

"No, I don't bother about my dogs any individual names," said the druggist who makes most of his profits by selling whisky to such customers as he can trust with his secret, says the New York Sun. "I just call the Boston terriers Collar Button and name the Blenheim spaniels Button Hook, and that's all I need to sell them. You must know that my dogs, while nothing extra in blood or record, are bred for a special purpose, bred to do a given thing and nothing else. That's why I can sell them for $25 each as fast as I can produce them, while my neighbors have to wait a long time and do a lot of lying to sell their dogs for ten dollars."

"It all comes from being honest and giving the goods that your customers require. There is nobody you can trade with so easily as the rich summer visitors, if you will keep the things they want. When I started in to breed dogs for sale I kept Blenheim spaniels for the women and Boston terriers for the men, always trying to have the best that money could buy."

"At the end of two years I found my money getting low and myself with more unsold dogs on my hands than a poor man cares to feed and pay taxes on. Of course, I did some spy thinking, as anyone will do when he is poor and growing poorer every day. I asked myself what it was I could teach a dog to do to make that dog valuable to the rich folks."

"Before I had decided what to do my wife came into the game and settled the thing by accident. It was Sunday morning, and when she was most ready to go to church she wanted to button her boots, and, of course, she couldn't find the button hook. Nobody can find one when he wants it. She was getting cross, because the second bell was ringing, and having no new dress to appear in, she didn't want to be late."

"She went through the house calling out: 'Buttonhook, buttonhook! Oh, Lord, where is that buttonhook? huffylike, so I knew it wasn't prudent for me to put in a word. At that time there were a dozen or more of my Blenheim spaniels asleep on the piazza, and when they heard my wife calling in a loud voice, every one of them got up and ran to her."

"At this the idea came to me like a flash. I would name my spaniels Buttonhook, and name my Boston terriers Collar Button, and then when the owner lost one of these useful articles, all he would have to do would be to call the dog's name and he would come and bring what was wanted. Inside of six months I had sold every spaniel I could spare for my own price, and had a lot of orders booked ahead."

"The next thing was to find a sale for my terriers. It didn't take me long to remember that a man lost his collar button as often as a woman misplaced her button hook, so I named my terriers Collar Button, and they sold as well as the spaniels. Rigged out with a big collar, with a lot of brass collar buttons in their surface, instead of the usual gilt spike, the dogs did more for the support of my family than any other venture I had undertaken, with the possible exception of selling liquor to toppers who were too proud to enter a barroom."

"It would have been just as easy to teach the same dog to answer to both names and make them bring collar buttons as well as button hooks, but a wealthy visitor doesn't want anything mixed, except his drinks. He had much rather pay for two dogs, each one a specialist, than have one ear that could do many things indifferently well. Here at a summer resort, one must study his customers and keep what they need. If he will do this, he can sell most anything."

Where Air Is Pure.

During the recent scientific expedition to Spitzbergen under the direction of Prof. Nathorst, the bacteriologist of the expedition made careful examinations of the polar atmosphere to determine the amount of impurities it contained. In more than 90 different places on Bear island, Spitzbergen and King Charles Land air was filtered and not a single germ was found in it, although over 20,000 liters of air were subjected to the test. Similar investigations were made in regard to the purity of the water, snow and ice. Even salt water from a depth of 8,000 feet was subjected to the bacteriological test. A few bacteria were found, but they were extremely rare. An examination of the intestines of different polar animals proved that the animals are almost free from bacteria. Only the polar gulls made an exception. In the intestines of polar bears and seals some bacteria were discovered, which resembled the bacteria usually found in human intestines.—Chicago Tribune.

Where Uncle Sam Is Stingy.

France has just bought for $100,000 enough land in Washington for a handsome embassy. All the leading governments are providing homes for their officials—even China—Mr. Wu having recently shown that he is in doing business of other kinds. Foreign governments are showing excellent judgment in this matter. Land is appreciating in value all the time at the capital, and building may be cheaper now than in the future. In contrast to this, United States officials are living in foreign lands in rented houses. The salaries of our ambassadors and ministers are much below those paid by the leading nations.—Baltimore American.

TRAGIC MEMORIES

A Description of the Famous Cavern.

Once the Headquarters of a Daring Band of Desperadoes.

Sixty miles above Paducah, on the Illinois shore of the Ohio river, is the sleepy little town of Cave-in-Rock, and near it is the famous cavern from which the town takes its name, and which, next to Mammoth Cave is the most famous cave in the northwest. Here John A. Murrell made his headquarters, and here scores of dark and bloody deeds have been enacted.

Of late interest of another sort has centered about Cave-in-Rock. Immense beds of kaolin have recently been discovered there, and northern capitalists are now preparing to develop these deposits.

For a third of a century Cave-in-Rock was the hiding place, fortress and treasure vault of John A. Murrell, the most famous bandit who ever infested the Ohio valley. Finally it was his tomb.

From 1820 until 1850 John A. Murrell made the cavern his headquarters, and to this day relics of the bold freebooter and his band are frequently found in its labyrinthine recesses.

Murrell was the son of a wealthy Louisiana planter, an ambitious, daring young fellow who was anxious to make a fortune for himself quickly. Early in 1820 he gathered a band of about 40 men of kindred spirits and began making raids on the fleets of flatboats that went down the Ohio and the Mississippi to New Orleans, then the main market of the South.

The number of these boats was large and their cargoes were rich. They came from the upper Mississippi, the Missouri and Ohio rivers. Some of them were laden with grain and farm produce, others carried furs and manufactured goods, and still others conveyed considerable quantities of gold and silver. Making his headquarters at Cave-in-Rock Murrell preyed upon the river commerce until his depredations became so numerous and bloody that the Federal government sent posse after posse of marshals to capture him, and even put a reward of $50,000 on his head. Owing to his intimate knowledge of the recesses of Cave-in-Rock, and the topography of the surrounding country, Murrell managed to evade the numerous traps set for him by the United States marshals and was never captured.

In the winter of 1849-50 the bandit chief was killed by one of his own men in a quarrel. Later the Cave was used by Little Harp and Big Harp, two notorious bandits and murderers, and by the equally infamous Fords Ferry gang.

Cave-in-Rock, located in the northern border of Hardin county Ill., is a mammoth subterranean cavern with many side chambers. The main opening is on the Ohio river and the men who were seeking Murrell supposed this was the only means of exit, but explorations in recent years have disclosed an underground passage, thirty miles long, with an opening at the town of Equality, in Gallatin county.

This passage is large enough to lead a laden horse through, and its discovery solves the mystery of Murrell's many escapes when the marshals thought they had him trapped.

Satisfied that he and his band were being followed and watched, he would quietly make for the river opening of the cave as if he were trying to throw his pursuers off the trail. Seeing the bandit and his gang enter the cave, the marshals would settle down to watch the opening, confident that sooner or later the hunted bandits would emerge that way. But Murrell did nothing of the kind, He would lead his band through the secret passage, come out in Gallatin county, thirty miles away, and laugh at pursuit. The entrance to this passage was so cleverly concealed that none of the men who were chasing Murrell ever found it, and its discovery was due to accident.

Besides this provision for escape Murrell always had the cave stocked for a long siege. About three hundred yards from the entrance he established stables for twenty horses, and nearby were stored grain and hay sufficient to last a year. Over the stables and reached by a ladder was a large chamber, which was used as a living room, and this was also kept well stocked with food. Just beyond the stables there are a number of natural tunnels of considerable size and forming a bewildering maze through which none but men of long experience can travel, without becoming hopelessly entangled and lost. Murrell had studied these passages carefully and knew how to go through them at a rapid gait and unerringly strike the one that leads to the exit in Gallatin county.

By 1849 Murrell's thirty years of pillage had so devastated the river commerce that the people of the central west and southwest united in an appeal for relief. Murrell had amassed a large fortune, and was ready to retire, but was afraid to do so. The government had a standing reward of $50,000 for his head. His rule over his band had become so arbitrary that some of his followers revolted and he was afraid that if he deserted the remnant of his band, those with whom he had quarreled would seek him out and surrender him. Consequently he found his only safety was in sticking to his stronghold and keeping the band together as much as possible.

Murrell grew restive under the restraint, became irritable and was almost constantly quarreling with those of his band who remained with him. One day, in 1849, he was shot by one of the bandits in a dispute about the division of the spoils of a robbery. At least that is what some of the survivors said. But there is another story that the shooting was deliberately planned in the expectation of getting the reward, and that the quarrel was only a pretext. At any rate the murderer cut off Murrell's head, and made overtures to surrender it for the offered $50,000, but the deal was never carried through.

While negotiations were pending a hint was given to the murderer that the passing of Murrell's head to the government would be the signal for his own death, and so he never appeared to claim the reward.

Some years ago some patent medicine vandy painted the words, "St Jacob's Oil" over the mouth of the cave, in great black letters. Save for this disfigurement the cave looks much as it looked in Murrell's day.

The black cavern pierces a high stone bluff, some feet above high water mark. From the face of the cliff a view up and down the river for miles is afforded.—Paducah News-Democrat.

A Good Meeting.

I commenced a meeting at old Salem church on the third Sunday night in October, closed the first day of November. Elder D. E. Bentley came in Monday night and did the preaching and did it well, to the satisfaction of church and community. He preaches the old time gospel and old time religion plainly and earnestly.

There were 17 professions and 10 baptisms and a glorious revival. This old church has been standing for God and righteousness for nearly a century, having been constructed in 1805. This church has been in a cold and somewhat indifferent state for the last few years, but has taken on new life and has a bright future. To God be all the glory.

W. R. Gibbs, Pastor.

Teachers' Meeting.

The following is the program for the teachers' meeting at Tolu, Nov 30:

Music, America.
Invocation, J. W. Guess.
Music, "Lead Kindly Light."
Welcome Address, R. M. Franks.
Response, W. Hugh Watson.
The teacher's part in school sports, C. B. Hina, Bruce Babb.
The boy or girl that succeeds, Miss Nannie Campbell.
The child side of the question, M. C. Wright.

A woman's part in the professions, oration, Miss Leaffa Wilborn.

The teachers' position second to none, Prof. Ragsdale.
What lies before the American boy, John B. Paris.

What we owe to our teachers, Miss Manie Yates.

Our duty as we know it, Foster Babb.

Should the State pension its teachers. Aff., W. Hugh Watson; Neg., Miss Carrie Moore.

Address, W. F. Pogue.

Three of the most common foibles observed in our teachers, Miss Mina Wheeler.

Not all children have the same power of comprehension, John Travis.

A nice evening program will be arranged.

Teachers and friends of education invited to be present.

M. C. Wright.

Obituary.

Little May, aged 9 years, daughter of Henry J. and Mary C. Strong died Nov. 1, 1901, after an illness of 12 days. Stricken down with pneumonia she bore her sufferings bravely till death relieved her of all pain. She was a sweet playmate, a dutiful pupil, and lovable and obedient daughter and sister. She will be sadly missed by her teacher, schoolmates, and especially the bereaved family.

O. H. C.

Presiding Elder's Appointments.

Kuttawa at Glenn's, Nov 23, 24.
Dawson at Dawson, Nov 29, 30.
Princeton at Rock Spring, Nov 30, Dec 1.

Eddyville at Saratoga, Dec 7, 8.
Lamasco at Lamasco, Dec 8, 15.

Carrsville at Carrsville, Dec 14, 15.
Cerulean at Mt Zion, Dec 21, 22.

Canton at Dyers, Dec 24, 25.
Greenville at Jernigan's, Dec 28, 29.
Greenville, 29, 30.

J. W. Bigham.

LUCK OF AN EDITOR.

"For two years all efforts to cure eczema in the palm of my hands failed," writes editor H. N. Lester of Syracuse, Kansas, "then I was wholly cured by the Bucklen Arnica Salve." It's the world's best for eruptions, sore and skin diseases; 25c at Woods & Co's.

Land Sale for School Tax.

School District No. 36, Crittenden County, Ky.

As Treasurer of the above named district, on the 9th day of December, between the hours of 1 and 2 o'clock, p. m., at the court house door in Marion, Ky., I will proceed to sell at public auction, to pay school taxes due me as treasurer of above named district, one tract of land, or so much thereof as may be needful to pay taxes and costs due me as herein indicated, $4.98 taxes and penalty on property listed by the Gladstone Mining Co. for 1899, $5.25 for same for 1900, $5.25 same on property listed by F. B. Posey for 1901. Cost $1.50. Total, $16.98.

The land levied upon comprises about ninety acres and is situated in Bells Mines precinct, near Nunn's Switch, and in aforesaid school district, and is the property of F. B. Posey of Evansville, Ind.—the same that was conveyed to said Posey by T. W. Hughes, as shown by record in clerk's office of this county in deed book No. 4, page 515.

This the 15th day of Nov. 1901.

W. E. Golladay,
Treasurer and Tax Collector of above named district.

SAVED HIS SON'S LIFE.

Mr. H. H. Black, the well known village blacksmith at Grahamsville, Sullivan co N. Y. says: "Our little son, five years old had always been subject to croup, and so bad have the attacks been that we have feared many times he would die. We have had the doctor and used many medicines, but Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is now our sole reliance. It seems to dissolve the tough mucus and by giving frequent doses when the croupy symptoms appear we find that the dreaded croup is cured before it gets settled." There is no danger in giving this remedy for it contains no opium or other injurious drug and may be given as confidently to a babe as an adult. At Haynes

Illinois Central Railroad Co.

NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS.

The Board of Directors of the Illinois Central Railroad Company at a meeting held July 18, 1900 adopted the following preamble and resolution:

Upon the recommendation of the President the resolution adopted July 21, 1897, authorizing the free transportation of stockholders over the Company's lines, to Chicago and return, at the time of the annual meeting of stockholders, was reconsidered and amended so as to read as follows:

RESOLVED: That until the further order of this Board, there may be issued to each holder of one or more shares of the capital stock of the Illinois Central Railroad Company, as registered on the books of the company, a ticket enabling him or her to travel free over the company's lines from the station on the Illinois Central Railroad nearest to his or her registered address, to Chicago and return, for the purpose of attending in person the meeting of the stockholders. Such ticket to be good for the journey to Chicago only during the four days immediately preceding, and the days of the meeting, and for the return journey from Chicago only on the day of meeting and the four days immediately following, when properly countersigned and stamped during business hours—that is to say, between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m.—in the office of the Assistant Secretary, Mr. W. G. Bruen, in Chicago. Such ticket may be obtained by any registered holder of stock on application in writing to the President of the Company in Chicago. Each application must state the full name and address of the stockholder exactly as given in his or her certificate of stock, together with the number and date of such certificate. No more than one person will be carried free in respect to any one holding of stock as registered on the books of the company.

By order of the Board of Directors.
A. G. HACKSTAFF, Sec'y.

The next annual meeting of the stockholders of the Illinois Central Railroad Company will be held at the office of the company in Chicago, Wednesday, October 16, 1901, at noon. For the purpose of this meeting, the stock transfer books will be closed from the close of business on Sept. 21, to the morning of Oct. 17.

AMERICA'S Greatest Medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla, because it possesses unequalled curative powers and its record of cures is GREATEST.

Cuts and Bruises Quickly Healed.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm applied to a cut, bruise, burn, scald or like injury will instantly relieve the pain and will heal the parts in less time than any other treatment. Unless the injury is very severe it will not leave a scar. Pain Balm also cures rheumatism, sprains, swellings and lameness. For sale by Robt F Haynes.

The Commoner.

(Mr. Bryan's Paper.)

The Commoner has attained within six months from date of the first issue a circulation of 100,000 copies, a record probably never equaled in the history of American periodical literature. The unparalleled growth of this paper demonstrates that there is room in the newspaper field for a national paper devoted to the discussion of political, economic and social problems. To the columns of The Commoner Mr. Bryan contributes his best efforts; and his review of political events as they arise from time to time can not fail to interest those who study public questions.

The Commoner's regular subscription price is $1.00 per year. We have arranged with Mr. Bryan whereby we can furnish his paper and THE PRESS together for one year for $1.75. The regular subscription price of the two papers when subscribed for separately is $2.00.

R. J. MORRIS

Dentist,

Office over Marion Bank.

MARION, KY

DR. H. F. RAY, The Osteopa

Treats all chronic diseases
Without Faith, Drugs or knife.

Osteopathy is "THE DRUGLESS SCIENCE." Consultation free. Office. Charges only $25.00 per month. Money due when the treatment begins. Further information gladly given either in person or by mail.

H. F. RAY, D. O., MARION, KY.

R. F. DORR, FUNERAL DIRECTOR and EMBALMER.

Complete stock of Coffins, Caskets, Burial Robes and Slippers. Fine Hearse for funeral occasions. Prompt attention given all orders, day or night.

Put re Frames Made to Order. Marion, Ky

Woman's Home Companion

THE IDEAL HOME MAGAZINE

Is in its twenty-eighth year; is printed on fine paper and profusely illustrated. It gives 40 to 54 pages a month, each page 11 by 16 inches, and a new and beautiful cover in colors every issue. Its editors and contributors are the most popular American writers; in short, it is the ideal family magazine, magnificently illustrated. Its departments are edited by experts and are full of interest. As a home magazine it has no superiors, and few, if any, equals.

600 Pages—1,200 Pictures
EACH PAGE IS EQUAL TO FOUR ORDINARY MAGAZINE PAGES...

Hundreds of thousands consider it a family necessity. It is clean, pure and inspiring. Its contents, while varied, are entertaining and of the highest order. It contains neither sensationalism nor provincialism.

It already has 340,000 subscribers, and this number is constantly increasing.

A Live Agent Wanted in Every Community. Most Liberal Terms.

Subscription Price $1.00 a Year. Ten Cents a Copy.

Send Ten Cents for a sample copy and we will send you an elegant engraving, 20 by 25 inches in size, of Landseer's famous painting "Defiance, or Stag at Bay." Mention this offer when you write.

Address WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION, Springfield, Ohio

Wm Harrigan

(Successor to J. H. Orme)

...DEALER IN...

Fine Wines Whiskies

and
Sole Agent for the Celebrated I. W. Harper and Old Hickory Whiskies.

Special Attention to Mail Orders.

MARION. KENTUCKY.

Finest and Best $1.00 a Day House in Kentucky.

New Richmond House

R. E. DRENNAN, Propr.

PADUCAH. KENTUCKY

Lumber For Sale,

I keep constantly on hand rough lumber of all dimensions, and am prepared to fill bills on short notice

W. A. DAVIDSON,
LEVIAS, KY

Red Poll Bull Calves.

3 half breeds, good mother, registered bull, $35.00 each.
1 full blood, $100.
They will please you, call and see them.
1 registered Poland China Boar, weight 150 or 60 lbs, $10 if taken before 15th Sept.
W. L. KENNEDY,
LOLA, KY.

Miss Nell Walker

Typewriter and Stenograph

Blue & Nunn's Office, MARIO
Typewritten copies of made at a reasonable price.

Sole Agent for the Celebrated I. W. Harper and Old Hickory Whiskies.

Special Attention to Mail Orders.

MARION. KENTUCKY.

OFFICE—Room 5, over Marion

TELEPHONE—Office 25, Resid.

T. Atchison Frazier

Physician and Surgeon,

Office—Room No. 6, Marion Bank Bldg.

'Phone 115. MARION, KY

L. H. JAMES O. M. JAMES.

James & James

LAWYERS

MARION. KY.

Dr. M. Ravdin,

Office with Dr. A. J. Knapp, suite 17, Arcade building, EVANSVILLE, IN Practice limited to diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat

GLASSPORTED.

NEWS OF THE COUNTY.

WESTON.

The river is very low.
No births, deaths or marriages this week.
T. B. Gillispie, the railroad tie man, is with us.
Miss Hallie Anderson is visiting in the country.
Miss Esther Burton, of Repton, is visiting here.
Miss Alice Brantley, of Blackford, is visiting here.
Dr. E. E. Newcom was in town last Thursday.
The hop tea party at Wm. Rollins was well attended.
Miss Jennie McConnell, of Hardin county, visited here this week.
The work on the church will begin next week.
Miss Lilly Beard, of Tolu, is visiting Ira Robinson's family.
Miss Mina Wheeler visited our school Thursday.
James Woolf is at home. He runs on the river.

Modern Surgery Surpassed.

"While suffering from a bad case of piles I consulted a physician who had advised me to try a box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve," says J. F. Carter of Atlanta, Ga. "I procured a box and was entirely cured. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is a splendid cure for piles, giving relief instantly, and I heartily recommend it to all sufferers." Surgery is unnecessary to cure piles. Witch Hazel Salve will cure any case. Cuts, burns, bruises and all other wounds are quickly cured by it. Beware of counterfeits. At Haynes'.

CHAPEL HILL.

Mrs Bryant Mann is improving; has had a severe attack of fever.
Messrs Moore & Langley, the Marion tobacco men, were in our midst a few days ago and said tobacco ought to be a good price this year.
To Bird Hunters—My place is posted, and beware of hunting on it.
Harrison Bigham.

Quite an excitement at our church on last third Sunday; while Sunday school was in session some one gave the alarm of fire, when it was discovered that the roof around the stove was on fire; the fire was put out with little damage.
A good 22 inch wood stove for sale very cheap. Apply to Harrison Bigham.
The corn fields are being gone over now and when the wagon pul's up to the crib the sight of it is enough to make a hungry hog wish he had never been born.

ASTOUNDING DISCOVERY.

From Coopersville, Mich., comes word of a wonderful discovery of a pleasant tasting liquid that when used before retiring by any one troubled with a bad cough always insures a good night's rest. "It will soon cure the cough," too, says Mrs S. Hemminger, "for three generations of our family have used Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption and never found it equalled for coughs or for colds. It's an unrivaled life saver when used for desperate lung diseases. Guar anteed bottle 50c and $1 at Woods & Co

MEMPHIS MINES.

Several of our people were attending court this week.
Norman Hoover is very sick with the fever.
Robt Todd was bitten by a mink that he caught in his hen roost the other night and the wound has become quite serious.
John L. Robertson, who has been sick is improving.
James Shockley and family will leave next week for Hardin county, Ill., their future home.
J. B. Paris is moving his new house down to the public road.
Elish Lanam, of Oak Grove, was in these parts Wednesday.
W. D. King is visiting relatives in Hardin county, Ills.
After spending a week with friends in Levas, Terry Robertson has returned home.
"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy and find it to be a great medicine," says Mr E S Phipps, of Poteau, Ark. "It cured me of bloody flux, I cannot speak too highly of it." This remedy always wins the good opinion, if not praise of those who use it. The quick cures which it effects even in the most severe cases, make it a favorite everywhere. At Woods'.

Mrs Julia Hodge, of Glendale, spent Saturday with friends here.
Harve Turley will return to Union county this week.
C. M. Simpson and wife visited relatives at Oak Grove Sunday.
Several of our farmers are hauling corn from the river bottoms.
Misses Wilma and Stella Dobson, of Bethel visited Miss Dottie Belt last Sunday.

John A. Robertson and family visited relatives at Crittenden Springs last Sunday.
Mrs Ollie Brown, of Levas, is visiting here.
Geo L. Lavender, of Ill. is the guest of R. J. Ford.
One of our old Democratic friends remarked that workers never grumble and grumblers never work.
Thos Carter, of Repton, was among our hills this week, prospecting for minerals.
Wm Carman spent Sunday with his friends near Sheridan.
Mrs Susie Dobson, of the Crittender Springs was the guest of Mrs Lee Belt Sunday.
J. J. Ford and family spent Saturday in Marion.
This is the best place we know for a grocery stand.

To remove a troublesome cork or bun ion: First soak the cork or bunion in warm water to soften it, then pare down as closely as possible without drawing drawing blood and apply Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice daily; rub vigorously for five minutes at each application. A corn plaster should be used for a few days to protect it from the shoe. As a general liniment for sprains, bruises, lameness and rheumatism, Pain Balm is unequalled. At Woods & Co's.

FREDONIA.

A protracted meeting commenced at the C. P. church Sunday.
Born to the wife of Charles A. Sturtevant Nov. 15, a fine boy.
Mrs T. M. Butler has gone to Troy, Tenn., to see her grandchild, who is dangerously ill.
Mr Brindle, of Lebanon, Tenn., and Miss Lucy Hughes were married Thursday. Ceremony by Rev Halsell.
Prof Davis and wife, of Sturgis, were visiting in town and vicinity the first of the week.
Subscribe for the Delinquent. I am agent for Ruth, Enon, Mexico, Kelsey, Crider and Fredonia. Will save you money and furnish you any paper or magazine you may want; over 2,000 to select from. W. C. Glenn.

Most everybody is going to Marion to hear Henry Watterson on the 26th Nov. The big sawmill that was expected to be built in Kelsey will be built out at the mines on the Marble land.
Miss Sue Johnson has gone to Carri ville on a visit of several weeks to her niece, Mrs Lykin.

THE CHILD'S FRIEND.

You'll have a cold this winter; maybe you have one now. Your children will suffer too, for coughs, croup, bronchitis grip and other winter complaints. One Minute Cough Cure never fails; it acts promptly, is very pleasant to the taste, and is harmless. C B George, Winchester, Ky., writes: "Our little girl was attacked with croup late one night and was so hoarse she could hardly speak. We gave her two doses of One Minute Cough Cure and it relieved her immediately and she went to sleep; when she awoke she had no sign of hoarseness or croup. At Haynes'.

CARRSVILLE.

Corn gathering is about over.
Mrs. Johnson is on the sick list.
Quite a number of our people took a trip to the hickory nut bottoms last week.
Dr Cummins was in Elizabethtown, Ill., last week.
A number of our young people attended a spelling bee at Babb's school Friday night.
On account of a misunderstanding in the program, there was no Teachers' Association here Saturday. It will be held in the near future.
E. S. Earls is building a stock barn for Anthony Belt.
W. Hugh Watson spent Saturday in Marion.
Some of our teachers will attend the Association at Tolu the 30th.

IS LIFE WORTH LIVING.

Sleeplessness, debility, nervousness and pallidation of the heart are not diseases. They are symptoms indicating that the various vital organs are not working in harmony. Morley's Liver and Kidney Cordial restores order and rids the body of all waste products that clog the system. It insures sound digestion, sound nerves and sound sleep. At H K Woods & Co's.

Farm for Sale.

75 acres; 18 in river bottom; 55 recovered bottom; all level; 7 acres in orchard; house 7 rooms; fine stock barn; warehouse on river bank; good water; sell cheap for cash, or 1/3 cash; on Cumberland river, 1 mile below Pinckneyville. C. R. Kinnin, Agt For J. W. Tweddle, Marion, Ky.

THE RULES

That Govern Our Voting Contest to Determine the Most Popular Young Lady in Crittenden and Livingston Counties.

- (1) Every young lady residing in Crittenden and Livingston counties is eligible to enter the contest. No married ladies can enter the contest.
- (2) Every $1.00 paid on subscription to the Press entitles the subscriber to four votes in the contest. Every 25 cent subscription entitles the subscriber to one vote.
- (3) A contestant must reside in either Crittenden or Livingston county. The voter may reside anywhere in the United States.
- (4) No restrictions are placed on the voter, except that all votes must be cast on ballots provided by THE PRESS for use in said contest.
- (5) The voter may pay all of his arrearages, and may pay his subscription as many years in advance as he may desire, and for each dollar so paid, receive a ticket entitling the holder to four votes in the contest.
- (6) As received the ballots will be placed in a locked box kept in the Press office for that purpose. This box will be opened every Wednesday morning, and the ballots counted. The next day's issue of the Press will contain the standing of each candidate. The report will appear each week.
- (7) The last count before the close of the contest will be made on WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 18th. The ballot-box will then be locked, the key given to some reputable citizen for safe keeping, and the ballot-box remain closed until the close.
- (8) The contest will be closed at 4 o'clock TUESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 24th.
- (9) Immediately after the close a committee of three reputable and disinterested citizens will take charge of the ballot-box, open and count the ballots, and determine the winner in the contest.
- (10) The contest will be conducted in a most impartial manner and these rules will be strictly observed. Those interested should read them carefully.

Bought a Wife.

Franklin, Tenn., Nov. 13.—A few weeks ago W. C. Marberry, a farmer living in the First district, announced that he would give five hundred dollars to any woman that would legally sign her name as Mrs W. C. Marberry. A few days ago he received a dainty note from a Dickinson county woman. He complied with the request and arranged a meeting with the writer. The woman proved to be Mrs Sallie Hornbeck, and after a few preliminaries she accepted her suitor, and, presumably, the five hundred dollars, and the wedding day was set for three days later. The ceremony took place on time at the home of the bride's sister.

After the ceremony they returned to the home of the groom at Pasadena.

Sale Notice.

On Wednesday, Dec. 4th, 1901, at the residence of A. J. Bennett, near Tolu, Ky., I will offer for sale to the highest bidder the following property:
Nine head of cattle.
Twenty-nine head of hogs and shoats.
Two good mules
One horse.
Lot of agricultural implements.
Lot of ear corn.
Purchasers will be given a credit of six months. All sums of five dollars and under cash in hand. Notes with approved security will be required before the removal of the property.
All persons having claims against the said estate will please file them by Jan. 15th next, or they will be forever barred.

A. J. Bennett, Administrator of Wallace Bennett's estate.

A thousand things by it are done far better than most things do one. We refer to Rocky Mountain Tea made by Madison Medicine Co. 35c. Ask your druggist.

Getting Thin

is all right, if you are too fat; and all wrong, if too thin already.

Fat, enough for your habit, is healthy; a little more, or less, is no great harm. Too fat, consult a doctor; too thin, persistently thin, no matter what cause, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil.

There are many causes of getting too thin; they all come under these two heads: over-work and under-digestion.

Stop over-work, if you can; but, whether you can or not, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, to balance yourself with your work. You can't live on it—true—but, by it, you can. There's a limit, however; you'll pay for it.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is the readiest cure for "can't eat," unless it comes of your doing no work—you can't long be well and strong, without some sort of activity.

The genuine has this picture on it, take no other. If you have not tried it, send for free sample. Its agreeable taste will surprise you. SCOTT & BOWNE Chemists, 409 Pearl Street, New York. 50c. and $1.00; all druggists.

A PHYSICIAN TESTIFIES.
"I have taken Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and have never used anything in my life that did me the good that that did," says county physician Geo W Scrogges, of Hall county, Ga. "Being a physician I have prescribed it and found it to give the best results." If the food you eat remains indigested in your stomach it decays there and poisons the system; you can prevent this by dieting but that will mean starvation. (Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat so you need suffer from neither dyspepsia or starvation. The worst cases quickly cured. It never fails. At R F Haynes.

o or House to Let.
I have been appointed by court of claims to let the county poor house and farm. Will receive sealed bids on Nov. 11th, county court day, and will let out to the lowest and best bidder. Good bond required. Bids received at Marion. 17-15 W. H. Asher.

Pure apple vinegar always on hand. E. E. Thurman.

Stray Notice.

Taken up as a stray by Joel M. Tabor, one black sow, with white streak in her face and unmarked; on his farm lying on Deer Creek and about one half mile from Rose Dale school house, in Crittenden county and State of Ky., on the 16th day of Sept., 1901; about 1 1/2 or 2 years old; appraised at $8. T. J. Hamilton, J. P. C. C.

LIPPINCOTT'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE A FAMILY LIBRARY The Best in Current Literature 12 COMPLETE NOVELS YEARLY MANY SHORT STORIES AND PAPERS ON TIMELY TOPICS $2.50 PER YEAR; 25 CTS. A COPY NO CONTINUED STORIES EVERY NUMBER COMPLETE IN ITSELF

DO YOU NEED

Furniture, Paints Wall Paper Window Shades ?

IF SO, SEE US. COMPLETE STOCK OF FURNITURE OF ALL KINDS. PAINTS THE BEST SOLD, FOR HOUSES, BUGGIES. WAGONS. CHAIRS, TABKES, ETC. LEAD AND OIL.

ARE YOU GOING TO BUILD ?

We carry a big stock of Building Lumber of all kinds, Siding, Ceiling, Flooring, finish of every description. Shingles, Laths, Doors, Windows, Glass, Putty, Etc.

Door and Window Frames Made to Order.

Call and see us. Our highest aim is to sell you the right goods at the right price.

BOSTON & WALKER.

MARION. KY.

NEURALGIA BANISHED.

There is no more severe and stubborn pain than neuralgia. A remedy which will cure it will cure any pain. Dr G S Stivers, dentist, Louisville, Ky., says: "My wife suffered over two years with very severe neuralgia, which several physicians failed to relieve. I then bought Morley's Wonderful Eight, which relieved her in five minutes and soon effected a permanent cure. At Woods O Co's

Children love to take Morley's Little Liver Pills for Bilious People because they are small, look and taste like candy and do not gripe or sicken them. One a dose Sold by H. K. Woods & Co.

$15 to $18 Per Week

Salary for an intelligent man or woman in each town. Permanent position, 30 cents per hour for spare time. Manufacturer, Box 78, Philadelphia. 15w

Marion Bank, Established 1887.

Capital paid up.....$20,000 Surplus..... 7,500

We offer to depositors and patrons every facility which their balances, business and responsibility warrant. J. W. BLUE, Pres. T. J. YANDELL, Cashier.

For Sale.

Well improved farm of 160 acres, located on the Dycusburg road four miles from Fredonia, and belonging to the estate of F. N. Dalton, deceased. For terms, apply at the farm, or to Logan Traylor, Crider, Ky.

For sprains, swelling and lameness, there is nothing so good as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Try At Woods & Co's.

.. Hughes'.. Chill Tonic

Palatable.

Better than Calomel and Quinine. (Contains no arsenic) THE OLD RELIABLE.

Excellent General Tonic.

As well as a sure cure for Chills and Fever.

Malarial Fevers, Swamp Fevers, and Bilious Fevers

IT NEVER FAILS!

Just what you need at this season.

MILD LAXATIVE.

NERVOUS SEDATIVE.

SPLENDID TONIC.

Guaranteed by your Druggists.

Don't take any substitute. Try it.

50 ct. and $1 Bottles.

Prepared by Robinson-Pettit Co.

(INCORPORATED.) LOUISVILLE, KY.

Norris Silver, North Stratford, N. H.: "I purchased a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure when suffering from a cough which the doctors told me was incurable. One bottle relieved me, the second and third almost cured. Today I am a well man." R. F. Haynes.

Makes assimilation perfect healthy blood, firm muscles strong nerves. Quickens the brain, and makes and keeps you well. Great medicine, Rocky Mountain Tea. 35c. Ask your druggist.