HARMONY REICNS

In the Legislature Writes The Press Correspondent.

PERSONNEL OF THE BODY.

DEAR PRESS: I promised you something last week about the can be no doubt that the young man is fast taking his place in the front ranks of those who manage the affairs of state and nation. This is emphesized in this state by the fact that one-half of the present assembly is under forty and twenty-five under thirty. Near ly all occupations are represented, with farmers predominating, lawyers, teachers and doctors following, in the order named. Brother Woodson, of Webster, is the only minister in the body.

While Republicans are not so numerous as in previous sessions they probably rate higher in respectability and intellect. Lieut. Gov. Worthington is the most venerated of that party, and Col. Dave Colson, of Bell has the brain of a philosopher, and with his statesmanlike bearing is an honor to any assembly. Courteous and polite to all, he has the esteem of by the opposing counsel, the witevery one.

First district. He is a typical farmer and a gentleman.

Uncle John Naylor of Hickman is the oldest member from the Gibraltar. He is as just as Aristides and scorns the corruption of modern politics.

Delegates are here from 24 states, representing every bituminous and anthracite coal field in the United States. Ben Tillett, the famous British labor leader, who is in this country studying labor conditions, arhe McKinley Memorial association, rived Sunday night to be the guest of President Mitchell and the miners until Wednesday or Thursday. His address will be one of the features of the convention. The convention will continue until January 30, when the joint conference with the operators of Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Indiana will begin. This last conference will probably last for ten days.

It is the understanding that the delegates are preparing to ask for an advance that will be equivalent to an all-round increase of at least ten per cent. Along with this report, however, is another to the effect that many of the operators have determined to take a stand for a reduction of ten per cent., on the ground that they have had an unprofitable year and that the prospects for the coming year are not bright enough to warrant even a continuation of the present scale. #### THEY MADE A KILLING.

Representatives of the Validating Office Capture a Score of Scalpers' Tickets. The biggest capture of scalpers' tickets since the exposition opened was made yesterday afternoon at the Atantic Coast Line depot, when nearly & score of "rich" tickets were confiscated by representatives of the Joint Validating Agency. It was a regular 'killing" for the validating office and the way in which the trick was turned staggered and demoralized the scalpers, who were at the depot trying to get their goods accepted. The capture was important from a railroad standpoint, and it demonstrated the fact that the joint agency has the scalping situation well in hand. A week ago a number of experts were sent to Charleston to assist Mr. here, Thursday night, and which is W. M. Bennett, the joint agent, and the sole subject of conversation in their presence was not discovered by Montgomery county. About eight the cut-rate dealers until yesterday afternoon, when the bunch of tickets was out a driver stopped at Cundiff's livery captured. The agency has kept a close watch on all transportation sold into Charleston, and it was found yesterday that many New York tickets had drifted into the offices of the dealers

Just how the validating force got on to the game was not made public, although the developments were unique. and in a few minutes all gates leadimmediately held up, and not much of Brockman has two scalp wounds, a kick was registered. The passenger Atlanta and a handful of tickets to other points. Several of the losers goods. The "killing" at the gate, however, frightened them, and they did not attempt to run the blockade. The way I never can go again. Putting His Foot in It. Many different persons find the beginning of a conversation awkward, especially on ceremonious occasions and with strangers. Sometimes, however, the beginning is not half so awkward as what comes afterward.

A bashful young man, on being introduced to a lady at a dinner party, "I've got to take you to dinner, Miss Travers, and I'm rather afraid of you.

you know. Every one tells me you are very clever." The young lady was naturally amused by this display of simplicity.

"How absurd!" she exclaimed. "I'm not a bit clever."

The young man heaved a sigh of relief, and answered: "Well, do you know, I thought you weren't!"-Tid-Bits. A recent bulletin of the United States census compares the mortality of 1890 and that of 1900, and shows that there has been a diminution of something like 10 per cent. in the death rate. In 1890 the average longevity in the United States was 31.1 years; in 1900 it is 35.2 years. The increase is 13 per cent. This is the conclusion, at least, so far as cities of over 8,000 inhabitants are concerned, and it represents the facts for the whole country approximately. In 1894 245 persons died of consumption in every 10,000; in 1900 only 190. The case is similar, though not so marked, for other diseases-diphtheria, bronchitis, typhoid, cholera infantum and the like. The main causes are a perfected hygiene of towns and the progress of medicine. Pneumonia, however, claimed 192 victims per 10,000 in

Mrs. R. C. Walker, assisted by Miss Ruby James, charmingly entertained a number of her many friends at her new home on last Friday afternoon, at the first Pan-American party of the season.

The house was attractively decorated with the flags of the American countries. In keeping with the nature of this party a Pan-American contest was fought and won, Miss Alice Browning won the the second.

NEW ACETYLENE LAMP.

Gas Is Generated in Brass Tubes and Stored in the Handlebars of the Bicycle.

Acetylene seems to be the proper light for the bicycle, and about the orly objection hitherto has been the bulk and store the gas for use. An English inventor has devised an apparatus for this purpose, which, while still having the necessary bulk, conceals it in such a manner as to give a neat and small appearance to the lamp. The contrivance has been patented in this country by Arthur Macleod Carey, of Middlesbrough, England. The arrangement consists essentially of a tube of brass, divided into two chambers, the lower of which contains the cartridge of calcium carbide and the upper the water to be admitted to the carbide for generating the gas, the flow being regulated by a pin valve located between the two compartments. The handlebars of the cycle are made of steel tubing, and the usual open ends are sealed gas tight, with a passage leading from the gas generator to the interior of the bar. This allows the bar to be used for the storage chamber, and the only portion of the lamp exposed is a valve and flame hood, which may be detached when not in use. The intention of the inventor is to manufacture the handle bar and lamp complete to replace the ordinary bar.

As the carrying frame is loosely suspended from the wheels it is possible for the rider to tilt the seat into any comfortable angle and a canopy may be placed on the frame overhead to shut out sun and storm. As each wheel is independent the rider has but to turn one crank alone to make the adjoining wheel describe a circle around the other and it is an easy matter to guide and propel the vehicle.-Chicago Daily News.

REACHING FOR STRAWS.

A Scientific Explanation of the Phenomenon of Drowning Persons Wildly Clawing the Air.

An explanation of the invariable habit of the drowning to reach after the intangible, which has been described as "catching after straws," is explained by the evolutionists as an unconscious return to the instinctive habits of man's arboreal ancestry-the tree inhabiting apes. When consciousness fades he loses his acquired habits, including those inherited from a more recent ancestry, and reverts to the instinctive habits of the frightened monkey who seeks safety by clutching the nearest limb of the tree from which he is in danger of falling.

The movement is certainly instinctive, for it can only be eliminated by considerable training and voluntary efforts, and yet it is fatal to the individual, for the specific gravity of the human body is so nearly that of water that the removal of the arms from the supporting fluid at | determine the proportion of zine which | once sinks the face beneath the sur-

THE ENERGY OF COAL.

Statisticians Have Prepared Some Figures Whose Immensity Is Almost Incomprehensible.

writer in Cassier's Magazine presents a new series of calculations showing the amount of energy represented in the coal output of the world. This is a favorite field for mathematical recreation, but it possesses perennial interest, and each writer who discusses it seems to find a way of presenting the facts.

The total quantity of coal taken in any given year from the mines of the whole world cannot be very accurately ascertained, but from the best available information it may be assumed to have been about 700,000,000 tons of 2,000 pounds each for the year 1900, the last of the nineteenth century. Assuming that the combustion of one pound of coal produces available energy equal to the work of one horse for one hour, and that a horse power is equal to the power of seven men, it is found that this represents in energy the equivalent of 9,800,000,000,000 hours of work for one man, and allowing ten hours to each day and 300 working days to the year, this is found to be equal to the work of 3,000,000,000 men during one year. This is about double the entire population of the globe, and it follows that the utilization of the energy of combustion is equivalent to an increase of the working capacity of this population to the extent of an addition of two able-bodied men for every man, woman and child; and practically it amounts to much more than this, for these additional 3,000,000,000 stalwart laborers make no demands upon the food products of the world; they need no clothing, no matter what the zone of their employment, and in faithfulness, loyalty, general docility and case of management they are beyond com-

COLLEGE YELL MADE GOOD.

Cost His Father a Lot of Money But It Came in Handy at a Critical Moment.

FURNITURE ARRANGEMENT.

The Purpose of Each Article Should Be Indicated by Its Position.

In arranging furniture, it cannot be too often emphasized that a first element to be considered in the use of the article is the place in which it is put, says the New York Post. For example, a screen standing against the wall between two windows is bad. A screen is intended to screen something-a draught, or unattractive doorway, or unsightly view; it is never an ornament, except secondarily. Chairs, too, are to sit in. They should express this purpose by their placing-the low sewing-chair by the work-table; another inviting one by the reading-lamp; a lolling chair near the hearth; one into which a listener by the piano may drop. Tables, too, have a purpose. They are away with horses at the fire stations | not to be dotted over a room because they fill space or because a certain number is owned. Two or three years ago a New York woman received as a curio a slice from a mahogany tree, which was seven or eight inches thick and at least three feet in diameter. She had it hollowed and polished and mounted on a tripod of mahogany, and even then would not let the beautiful thing it had grown to be stand in her parlor till she discovered a use for it as a cardreceiver. It supplanted a less attractive one, and now, just at the right of her door, is most convenient for its purposes and a joy to every one who sees it.

Senator Warren, although at present surrounded by all the luxury of the prosperous man, delights in telling stories of the days when his bed was a pine box filled with hay in an attic and when he had to get up every morning at three o'clock, feed the cowa, split a lot of wood before breakfast and then walk three miles to school.

A friend of William C. Whitney the other day spoke of the latter gentleman's lavish style of entertainment. Mr. Whitney said in reply: "I have the money and can afford the expenditure It is the duty of every rich man to spend as much as he can afford, and that is my way of helping those less fortunate than myself. Better give employment than give alms."

The Distinctive Value

of Syrup of Figs is due to its pleasant form and perfect freedom from every objectionable quality or substance and to the fact that it acts gently and truly as a laxative, without in any way disturbing the natural functions. The requisite knowledge of what a laxative should be and of the best means for its production enable the California Fig Syrup Co. to supply the general demand for a laxative, simple and wholesome in its nature and truly beneficial in its effects; a laxative which acts pleasantly and leaves the internal organs in a naturally healthy condition and which does not weaken them.

To assist nature, when nature needs assistance, it is all important that the medicinal agents used should be of the best quality and of known value and Syrup of Figs possesses this great advantage over all other remedies, that it does not weaken the organs on which it acts and therefore it promotes a healthful condition of the bowels and assists one in forming regular habits. Among its many excellent qualities may be mentioned its perfect safety, in all cases requiring a laxative, even for the babe, or its mother, the maiden, or the wife, the invalid, or the robust man.

Syrup of Figs is well known to be a combination of the laxative principles of plants, which act most beneficially, with pleasant aromatic liquids and the juice of figs, agreeable and refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system, when its gentle cleansing is desired. The quality of Syrup of Figs is due not only to the excellence of the combination, but also to the original method of manufacture which ensures perfect purity and uniformity of product and it is therefore all important, in buying, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note the full name of the Company-California Fig Syrup Co.-printed on the front of every package.

Certainly there will always be variation in corn regardless of the purity of its breeding, but the longer it is bred pure the greater its prepotency and hence, the more certainty there will be that it will "produce after its kind."

It is well known that there is no variety of corn which, under average conditions, will produce a very large per cent. of ears true to type. It follows, therefore, that the type has not been firmly fixed. Corn breeders are breeds, and that they will succeed is no longer problematical. #### Destiny of the Hog Skin.

The oily, greasy, thick pig skin is arousing new interest. Heretofore the slaughterhouse has not seriously bothered itself about skinning the hog while his green hide left on the carcass and nuencumbered with expense, brought 8 cents per pound and more as pork, or 12 cents per pound when weighed in as cured ham or smoked bacon.

Thousands of Women Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

To prove what The Great Kidney Remedy, Swamp-Root, will do for YOU, every reader of this paper may have a sample bottle sent absolutely free by mail.

Women suffer untold misery because the nature of their disease is not always correctly understood; in many cases when doctoring, they are led to believe that womb trouble or female weakness of some sort is responsible for their ills, when in fact disordered kidneys are the chief cause of their distressing troubles.

Nervousness, headache, puffy or dark circles under the eyes, a dragging pain or dull ache in the back, weakness or bearing down sensation, profuse or scanty supply of urine, frequent desire to pass it night or day, with scalding or burning sensation,—these are all unmistakable signs of kidney and bladder trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. A trial will convince anyone.

If there is any doubt in your mind as to your condition, take from your urine on rising about four ounces, place it in a glass or bottle and let it stand twentyfour hours. If on examination it is milky or cloudy, if there is a brickdust settling, or if small particles float about in it, your kidneys are in need of immediate attention.

When the heart is acting badly, have you ever thought that it may be due to kidney trouble, as is often the case? Other symptoms showing that you

DOCTOR AFTER DOCTOR.

"None of Them Suspected that the Cause of My Trouble Was Kidney Disease."

Vinton, Iowa, July 15th, 1901.

In the summer of 1893, I was taken violently ill.

My treuble began with pain in my stomach, so severe that it seemed as if knives were cutting me. I was treated by two of the best physicians in the county, and consulted another. None of them suspected that the cause of my trouble was kidney disease. They all told me that I had cancer of the stomach, and would die. I grew so weak that I could not walk any more than a child a month old, and I only weighed sixty pounds. One day my brother saw in a paper your advertisement of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy. He bought me a bottle at our drug store and I took it. My family could see a change in me, for the better, so they obtained more and I continued the use of Swamp-Root regularly. I was so weak and run down that it took considerable time to build me up again. I am now well, thanks to Swamp-Root, and weigh 148 pounds, and am keeping house for my husband and brother, on a farm. Swamp-Root cured me after the doctors had failed to do me a particle of good.
