GOV. BECKHAM IN MARION.

Several Thousand People Participated in The Democratic Rally Friday—A Great Demonstration.

GOVERNOR MAKES STRONG SPEECH.

GOVERNOR J. C. W. BECKHAM.

(By Walter Walker)

Friday was Beckham day in Marion and the day will go down in local history as the date of one of the greatest and most enthusiastic political rallies ever held in the county. The crowd in town at a very fair estimate numbered at least 4,500. People were here from every section of Crittenden county, and many came from Livingston. The day was an ideal one for a speaking; truly Democratic weather prevailed. At an early hour people began to arrive, and they came by the scores until past noon.

Gov. Beckham, Col. W. I. Thorne, and Congressman Sherley arrived on the noon train from Sturgis. The party was given a magnificent ovation at the depot, where between fifteen hundred and two thousand people had gathered to welcome Kentucky's brilliant young Governor. The station grounds were crowded with people and the sidewalks were thronged along Wilson avenue. The Governor and party entered carriages and were driven through Main street, followed by hundreds of enthusiastic Democrats, repaired to the home of Congressman James, where they were entertained.

A large stand had been erected in the court house yard and seats arranged for about one thousand people. At 1 o'clock the speaking began. Every seat was filled; hundreds of people were standing, the buildings across the streets were thronged with people. Not less than three thousand people heard the Governor.

Mayor John W. Blue introduced Gov. Beckham in a brief but splendid manner. Mr. Beckham was in excellent condition and made a rousing speech, presenting an unanswerable array of argument. In his opening remarks he spoke in highly commendable terms of Ollie James. He said that the Democratic party of Kentucky owed as much to Ollie James as it owed to any one man, and that if he was elected Governor of Kentucky he would owe a great deal of his success to Congressman James, who in every campaign was untiring in his work for Democracy. There was not a weak point in Beckham's address, and he made a wonderful impression upon his hearers.

Gov. Beckham made plain his position on all the questions of interest to the State and defended his administration with facts and figures that can not be set aside. He took up the charge made against him by his opponents and revealed their falsity. His speech was clean and free from abuse; his manner of speaking clearly shows him to be a gentleman of high intelligence.

Following the Governor Congressman James introduced Congressman Sherley of Louisville, whose fine address was well received. He is an able and polished orator and a deep thinker.

Col. W. P. Thorne, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, made the closing speech. He made the vast assembly roar with laughter, and his ridicule of the Republican party was merciless and telling. He is a remarkable speaker, and his humorous manner of presenting a logical array of facts has a great effect.

The audience was highly enthusiastic and every speaker was heartily applauded.

At the conclusion of the speaking Gov. Beckham stood on the court house steps and shook hands with several hundred admirers.

The crowd that heard the speeches Friday was as large again as the crowd that heard W. C. Owens and Judge Pratt Saturday, Oct. 11, which was pay day for three mining companies and the school teachers; but Friday, Oct. 16th, the people came to hear Beckham. It was not pay day.

The Madisonville Brass Band furnished splendid music during the day.

The school was dismissed in the afternoon in order that the pupils might see and hear the Governor of the Commonwealth.

Many ladies were in the audience and at the conclusion of his speech Gov. Beckham was presented with an elegant bouquet.

Circuit Judge Gordon and Commonwealth's Attorney Grayot were in the city and occupied seats on the speakers stand.

In one of the offices of the court house a picture of Col. Belknap was placed against the window pane facing the crowd; in presenting Gov. Beckham Mayor John W. Blue caught the crowd when he said that he took pleasure in presenting a governor who did not have to come before the people screened by glass (pointing to Belknap's picture).

The demonstration Friday was certainly a great one, and did much good for the Democratic ticket.

RICH STRIKE

By the Mountain Zinc, Lead and Fluorspar Company.

The Mountain Lead, Zinc, Fluor Spar company, which was lately organized by Jos. L. Freidman, W. D. Greer, Wm. Marble, Jas. A. Rudy, E. P. Gilson and George C. Hughes, well known business men of Paducah, Ky., has been developing its mineral property about a half mile northeast of the Crittenden Springs and it has "struck it rich."

The mines are situated in the noted mineral district shown by the geological surveyor's report, sent out from Washington.

This report and map show many fractures in the earth's surface, and mineral bearing veins in that locality. Within about one and one-half miles of these mines there is the "Old Jim" mine, on the Eureka vein, owned by Blue & Nunn; the Clarke mine, on the same vein; the Columbia mines, on the Columbia vein; the Clement mines on the same; the Memphis mines, on the Memphis vein, and now the mines of this company on the celebrated Columbia, and on the Beck veins, both of which cross the property of this company very close together.

There are also in this locality numerous developments that are now being carried on by several different companies.

The Mountain Lead, Zinc, Fluorspar company has opened up two mines on the side of the mountain and near the great upheaval which has taken place by volcanic action or some internal disturbance of the earth's surface. In the immediate vicinity of these mines there are great, tall, craggy hills, crowned with enormous rocks, surrounded by deep gorges and valleys, which make it a veritable Rocky Mountain scene.

This company is now working in two true fissure veins, one on the Beck vein, which is named the "Lone Rock" mine, where they have gone down about 40 feet on a vein of lead, and has begun drifting, and is now getting out large quantities of lead and some zinc.

At the other mine, called "Struck It Rich," on the Columbia vein, a fine lode of carbonate of zinc has been uncovered within 5 feet of the surface; and is 10 ft. in width. There have been a good many tons of this valuable ore and some lead taken from this mine, and the company has now commenced to drift and take out large quantities of ore. Experts say these mines will pay from the very start. Besides many tons of mineral now on the dump; there are tons of it in sight. An analysis has just been made of the ore from these mines. The lead assays 67.0 and the carbonate 47.8, which is over the average.

The company hauled through Marion last week and shipped by railroad to Paducah, a fine specimen taken from their mines in one lump and weighing between 500 and 600 pounds.

These mines are right on the survey made by the I. C. railroad, from Cave-in-Rock to Marion. When this gap from Cave-in-Rock to Eldorado is built to Marion, these mines will have superior advantages in the way of cheap transportation, and save 90 cents per ton, which it now costs to haul products to Marion.

When we get more capital and a few more wide awake business men in this great mineral belt, and a few more fortunes are made, then the old croakers will take a back seat.

OLLIE JAMES

Makes a Rousing Speech for the Democratic Ticket.

Our brilliant young Congressman, Hon. Ollie M. James, of Marion, made a rousing Democratic speech in Cadiz last Monday. He spoke one hour and twenty minutes and when he concluded there was not standing room in the court house.

He showed that the administration of Gov. Beckham was one of the ablest in the history of the State, and pointed to the fact that Kentucky, under Democratic rule was one of the four States of the Union that was out of debt. He showed that the collection of the war claim had cost Kentucky less than any other State in the Union, and referred to the fact that only a few days ago the Republican Governor of West Virginia had employed C. C. Culbourn to collect the claim of that State at 10 per cent, when Kentucky's had cost only five and five-eighths per cent.

He went after Mr. Belknap and the Republicans in great shape, and said that while they claimed their platform to be opposed to assassination, that not one of them in Kentucky but opposed the efforts that were being made to bring to justice those who had foully assassinated Gov. Goebel.

He paid a glowing tribute to the district and county nominees, and said it was the duty of every Democrat to put his shoulder to the wheel and see that the ticket was elected all along the line.—Cadiz Record.

A New Railroad Probable.

A corps of railroad engineers under the direction of S. G. McWade started a survey for a railroad from Rosi Claire, Hardin county, Tuesday morning. The proposed route will run through Bowlesville township and cross the Saline creek near the Saline mines; thence through the center of Hardin county to Rosi Claire. The crew now consists of ten men and will be increased to from fourteen to sixteen in a few days.

The prospects for the road being built in the near future are exceedingly good, and with the proper support of those who would be most benefitted in this and Hardin counties, it is practically assured.

The surveyors have run about seven miles of the route and the survey will be completed in less than three weeks.—Gallatin Democrat.

Message to Garcia.

By ELBERT HUBBARD.

In all this Cuban business there is one man stands out on the horizon of my memory like Mars at perihelion. When war broke out between Spain and the United States, it was very necessary to communicate quickly with the leader of the Insurgents. Garcia was somewhere in the mountain fastnesses of Cuba—no one knew where. No mail nor telegraph message could reach him. The President must secure his co-operation, and quickly.

What to do! Someone said to the President, "There's a fellow by the name of Rowan will find Garcia for you, if anybody can."

Rowan was sent for and given a letter to be delivered to Garcia. How "the fellow by the name of Rowan" took the letter, sealed it up in an oil-skin pouch, strapped it over his heart, in four days landed by night off the coast of Cuba from an open boat, disappeared into the jungle, and in three weeks came out on the other side of the island, having traversed a hostile country on foot, and delivered his letter to Garcia, are things I have no special desire now to tell in detail.

The point I wish to make is this: McKinley gave Rowan a letter to be delivered to Garcia; Rowan took the letter and did not ask, "Where is he at?" By the Eternal! there is a man whose form should be cast in deathless bronze and the statue placed in every college of the land. It is not book learning young men need, nor instruction about this and that, but a stiffening of the vertebrae which will cause them to be loyal to a trust, to act promptly, concentrate their energies; do the thing—"carry a message to Garcia!"

General Garcia is dead now, but there are other Garcias.

No, man, who has endeavored to carry out an enterprise where many hands were needed, but has been well-nigh appalled at times by the imbecility of the average man—the inability or unwillingness to concentrate on a thing and do it. Slipshod assistance, foolish inattention, dowdy indifference, and half-hearted work seem the rule; and no man succeeds, unless by hook or crook, or threat, he forces or bribes other men to assist him; or mayhap, God in His goodness performs a miracle, and sends him an Angel of Light for an assistant. You, reader, put this matter to a test: You are sitting now in your office—six clerks are within call. Summon any one and make this request: "Please look in the encyclopedia and make a brief memorandum for me concerning the life of Correggio."

Will the clerk quietly say, "Yes Sir," and go to the task?

On your life he will not. He will look at you out of a fishy eye, and ask one or more of the following questions:

Who was he?
Which encyclopedia?

MEAT & MALT

THE IDEAL TONIC AND RECONSTRUCTIVE.
There's Life and Strength in Every Drop
A scientific combination of the essential constituents of PRIME BEEF and PURE OLD MALT.

Louisville, Ky., January 22, 1908
MEAT & MALT CO., Louisville, Ky.
Gentlemen—Having examined your Meat and Malt preparation, and being thoroughly acquainted with its composition and mode of manufacture, I can state that it is an efficient nerve and blood tonic. It excites the appetite and invigorates digestion, and is especially beneficial in nervous prostration and all diseases attended with debility. Yours truly,
L. D. KASTENBINE, M. D.,
Louisville College of Pharmacy.

MEAT & MALT CO., Louisville, Ky.

Where is the encyclopedia?
Was I hired for that?
Don't you mean Bismarck?
What's the matter with Charlie doing it?

Is he dead?
Is there any hurry?
Shan't I bring you the book and let you look it up yourself?

What do you want to know for?
And I will lay you ten to one that after you have answered the questions, and explained how to find the information, and why you want it, the clerk will go off and get one of the other clerks to help him find Garcia—and then come back and tell you there is no such man. Of course I may lose my bet, but according to the Law of Average, I will not.

Now if you are wise you will not bother to explain to your "assistant" that Correggio is indexed under the C's, not in the K's, but you will smile sweetly and say, "Never mind," and go look it up yourself.

And this incapacity for independent action, this moral stupidity, this infirmity of the will, this unwillingness to cheerfully catch hold and lift, are the things that put pure socialism so far into the future. If men will not act for themselves, what will they do when the benefit of their effort is for all? A first mate with knotted club seems necessary; and the dread of getting "the bounce" Saturday night holds many a worker to his place.

Advertise for a stenographer, and nine out of ten who apply can neither spell nor punctuate—and do not think it necessary to.

Can such a one write a letter to Garcia?

"You see that book-keeper," said the forman to me in a large factory.

"Yes, what about him?"

"Well, he's a fine accountant, but if I'd send him up town on an errand, he might accomplish the errand all right, and, on the other hand, might stop at four saloons on the way, and when he got to Main street, would forget what he had been sent for."

Can such a man be entrusted to carry a message to Garcia?

We have recently been hearing much maudlin sympathy expressed for the "down trodden denizen of the sweat-shop" and the "homeless wanderer searching for honest employment," and with it all often go many hard words for the men in power.

Nothing is said about the employer who grows old before his time in a vain attempt to get frowsy ne'er-do-wells to do intelligent work; and his long patient striving with "help" that does nothing but loaf when his back is turned. In every store and factory there is a constant weeding-out process going on. The employer is constantly sending away "help" that have shown their incapacity to further the interests of the business, and others are being taken on. No matter how good times are, this sorting continues, only if times are hard and work is scarce, the sorting is done finer—but out and forever out, the incompetent and unworthy go. It is the survival of the fittest. Self-interest prompts every employer to keep the best—those who can carry a message to Garcia.

I know one man of really brilliant part who has not the ability to manage a business of his own, and yet who is absolutely worthless to anyone else, because he carries with him constantly the insane suspicion that his employer is oppressing or intending to oppress him. He can not give orders, and he will not receive them. He thinks some one wants to "bluff" him. Should a message be given him to take to Garcia, his answer would probably be, "Take it yourself, you can't run over me."

One night this man walks the streets looking for work, the wind whistling through his threadbare coat. No one who knows him dare employ him, for he is a regular fire-brand of discontent. He is impervious to reason, and the only thing that can impress him is the toe of a thick-soled No. 9 boot.

Any business entrusted to our care will be appreciated.

Of course I know that one so morally deformed is no less to be pitied than a physical cripple; but in our pitying, let us drop a tear too, for the men who are striving to carry on a great enterprise, whose working hours are not limited by the whistle, and whose hair is fast turning white through the struggle to hold in line dowdy indifference, slipshod imbecility, and the heartless ingratitude which, but for their enterprise, would be both hungry and homeless.

Have I put the matter too strongly? Possibly I have; but when all the world has gone a slumming I wish to speak a word of sympathy for the man who succeeds—the man who, against great odds, has directed the efforts of others, and, having succeeded, finds there's nothing in it; nothing but bare board and clothes.

I have carried a dinner-pail and worked for day's wages, and I have also been an employer of labor, and I know there is something to be said on both sides. There is no excellence, per se, in poverty; rags are no recommendation; and all employers are not rapacious and high-handed, any more than all poor men are virtuous.

My heart goes out to the man who does his work when the "boss" is away, as well as when he is at home. And the man who, when given a letter for Garcia, quietly takes the missive, without asking any idiotic questions, and with no lurking intention of chucking it into the nearest sewer, or of doing aught else but deliver it, never gets "laid off," nor has to go on a strike for higher wages. Civilization is one long anxious search for just such individuals. Anything such a man asks shall be granted; his kind is so rare that no employer can afford to let him go. He is wanted in every city, town and village—in every office, shop, store, and factory. The world cries out for such; he is needed, and needed badly—the man who can carry a message to Garcia.

OBITUARY.

Edward Farmer died at the home of his father, 5 miles west of Marion, Sept. 5, 1903, aged 33 years.

It has been said that "death loves a shining mark." It does seem that the truth of this expression is verified in the death of Ed Farmer, when we think of the many things that made his life dear it makes his death a peculiarly sad one. His industrious habits, up-right moral character, attractive popular manner made his life a useful one.

He was the oldest child of H. C. and Sallie L. Farmer; his manly, yet loving and gentle disposition, made him the chief delight of their lives and the sunshine of their homes.

To parents, brothers and sisters he was ever thoughtful of their interest and obedient to their wishes, so that his life filled a place in their hearts that naught but the grace of God can supply.

No young man was more highly esteemed in the community than Ed. He had no enemies. His even way was not calculated to make them. His life and manner were such that he won the love and admiration of old and young alike and no act or word of his ever lowered him in the esteem or confidence of those who knew him.

In 1886 he made a profession of religion and united with Union church, in which he lived a consistent life. He was affable in his intercourse to all; honest in his dealings, brave and strong in temptation ever, walking above suspicion or reproach.

It seems strange that our Father in His providence should take such an one in his strong young manhood from the earth, but He never makes a mistake, so we must bow to His will in this as in all other things He does to us and for us.

His funeral was preached by his pastor at the family residence, after which his young friends bore his remains to the family graveyard there laid him away to await the trumpet of God.

GOEBEL MONUMENT

To Be Unveiled on Anniversary of The Governor's Death.

Arthur Goebel, brother of the late William Goebel, is in New York to inspect the model of the statue to be erected in memory of the assassin's victim. The monument, which is to cost $15,000, donated by public subscription, will be erected in the Frankfort cemetery.

The figure is ten feet high. It shows Mr. Goebel standing beside a gothic column, his left hand slightly behind him, holding a manuscript, while his right hand falls naturally with hand firmly clinched.

The statue, with its pedestal, when completed, will rise thirty-two feet from the base. The pedestal will be of granite and adorned with a female figure of Fame, prostrated with grief. This also will be brought out in relief in bronze. It is hoped to unveil the statue on the anniversary of the Governor's death.

BLOOD POISON.

News has been received by Paducah relatives of another sad bereavement, which has befallen Dr. David Gardner, formerly of this city, but now of Lehigh, Indian Territory.

A few weeks ago his little daughter, Mary Ellen Gardner, aged 6 years, accidentally cut her foot on a piece of glass. The wound appeared of a trivial character, but blood poison developed, and after much suffering the little one expired on October 14th. Papers and letters giving detailed accounts of the death reached here Friday evening.

It has only been a few months since Dr. Gardner lost his wife by illness, leaving him with a large family of little children.

Dr. Gardner is a son of Mrs. S. M. Gardner, and a brother of U. S. Commissioner, W. A. Gardner.—News-Democrat.

Mr. Gardner is a cousin of the editor of the Press and has our sympathy in his bereavements.

In Memoriam.

In memory of Bertha Williamson who was murdered October 22, 1902, aged 18 years, six months and sixteen days.

One day a fragrant flower
Was placed upon my breast,
I kissed the sacred treasure
And laid it down to rest;
A tender blooming rosebud
Still moist with morning dew,
An angel gave it, saying:
"I lend this bud to you."

I dearly loved the flower
And pressed it to my heart,
We never wished to sever
We would not live apart;
I watched it without ceasing,
I saw the bud unfold
And blossom into beauty,
With charms that never grow old.

My love for her grew stronger,
As months and years went past,
We spent the time together,
I thought that it would last,
But lo! one October evening
A fiend drew near
To take away the flower,
That I loved so dear.

I asked "who claims my treasure
The object of my love?"
"The Gardener" was the answer,
The Husbandman above!
The Father has your darling
Fear not the parting sting,
He will weave it in a garland
For our beloved King.

I take this precious treasure,
Remove it from your care,
And flee away to Jesus
To place it gently there,
Among the choicest flowers
That lie upon his breast,
That he may share the sweetness
That makes her memory blest.

My heart will break with sorrow
Without my darling near,
Why take this loved one from me
And leave me lonely here?
Just why I cannot tell you
The Gardener only knows,
'Tis well I'm very certain,
To spare him this sweet rose.

I said farewell my darling
Then kissed the precious one,
And whispered in my sorrow
Dear Lord thy will be done;
Some time I'll know the reason
If it is best to know,
So Father take the flower
That I have cherished here.

—HER MOTHER.

CARBORUNDUM.

There is a great demand for materials required by the grinder and polisher of metal; rubber, marble, ruby, granite, etc. Articles made of carborundum have come to play an important part in supplying those requirements, because of carborundum's pre-eminent adaptability as an abrasive, and because of its extreme hardness. Carborundum also has remarkable refractory and chemical properties, which have greatly extended its use in the arts. It is well known that the carborundum company of Niagara Falls, N. Y., claims to be the only manufacturers of carborundum. In fact the company states that the word "carborundum" was formed for its use, and is a registered trade-mark and therefore being personal property. The Carborundum Company manufactures emery carborundum crystals, grains and powders, wheels, sticks, knife sharpeners, hones and bricks, paper and cloth, metal goods, etc. Its plant is as complete as science and art can make it, and the processes are carried through from the raw materials to the finished article. The Carborundum catalogue is one of the most creditable specimens of the printer's art in trade publications that has recently been issued. This book gives in most complete form the whole story of carborundum its development and manufacture, tells of its valuable qualities and to what great variety of uses it is being adapted.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

What Is Style?

Mr. Goose and Mr. Green Bull Frog chanced to inhabit a pond quite near a fashionable hotel in the country. Their little pond was not much larger than they needed for their comfort, but on the booklet advertising the hotel it was called "the lake."

Every evening the ladies and gentlemen from the hotel would put on their fine clothes and walk around the pond and say:

"Oh, look at the swan!"

"Oh, see the fine frog!"

Both Mr. Goose and Mr. Green Bull Frog were much pleased at being so recognized and determined to have some style in dress at the pond since they saw so much of it at the hotel. Each was to dress as best became him, and then together they were to decide on the style for the pond people. When each had put on his mannish clothes he hardly knew the other.

"THIS IS THE PROPER THING."

Mr. Goose was rigged out in coat and vest with a tall six story pica-dolly collar and high hat. Mr. Frog was dressed simply in a low standing collar and sporty derby.

"This is the proper thing," said Mr. Frog. "All the sports wear it."

"Imagine what a sight I'd be in that little linen band," said the goose disgustedly. "This neck of mine needs a high board fence about it. And as for that hat—I should be lost to view."

"Think what a figure I'd cut in that collar of yours," grinned the frog. "It might do for a crown, and those clothes—oh, awful! I tell you mine is the style!"

"No; mine is, for yours wouldn't stay on me one moment!"

At length the discussion waxed so warm that they came to blows, and the goose all but swallowed the frog. Then, with collars torn and clothes rent and hats smashed, they sat down on the bank, panting.

"I guess the style," said Mr. Goose sadly, smoothing down his ruffled feathers, "is to wear what suits you best."

"I guess you speak the truth," panted Mr. Frog.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Puzzle for last week, "If the man on the front of the wagon weighs 200 pounds what does the man on the rear end weigh? Answer: He weighs ice."

Correct answers were received from Mildred and Dixie Trisler, Etta Bettis and Madeline Jenkins, Marion. Good answers were received from Stella Dobson, Marion. Jimmie Walker, Iron Hill.

The first correct answer opened was that of Mildred and Dixie Trisler, therefore they were awarded the prize.

Should plan this day to do alone
The good deeds to be done—
Should scatter smiles and kindly words,
Strong, helpful hands should lend,
And to each others wants and cries
Attentive ears should lend.

If every man and woman, too,
Should join these workers small—
Oh, what a flood of happiness
Upon our earth would fall!

How many homes would sunny be,
Which now are filled with care!
And joyous, smiling faces, too,
Would greet us everywhere.

I do believe the very sun
Would shine more clear and bright,
And every twinkling little star
Would shed a softer light.

But we instead, must watch and see
If other folks are true,
And thus neglect so much that God
Intends for us to do.

—Sarah E. Eastman.

BOYS BE CAREFUL WITH AXES.
Near Valdosta, Ga., the six-year-old son of F. B. Rivers died from the effects of a blow on the head with an ax in the hands of his brother. The boy was hit with the ax accidentally by his brother while chopping wood several days ago, but the wound was not regarded as a serious one at the time. Later blood poison intervened and resulted in his death.

DOMESTIC SIGNALS.

The father of a large and expensive family had brought a guest to dine with him, says the Chicago Tribune. The dinner was in progress. He helped the guest liberally to everything that was on the table, but before serving the members of the family he glanced at his wife who made a slight and almost imperceptible signal to him, in accordance with some preconcerted code, and it worked in practice as herein set forth: "Caroline" hesaid to the eldest daughter, "shall I help you to some more of the chicken—n. m. k.?"

"Just a little, please, papa."

"Some of the mashed potatoes—a. y. w."

"If you please."

"With gravy—n. m. k.?"

"No thanks. No gravy."

"Johnny will you have some more stewed tomatoes—n. m. k.?"

"No thanks."

"Some of the mashed turnips—a. y. w."

"If you please."

"Pardon me, Mr. Torgson," the guest said, "but you have excited my curiosity. May I ask what 'a. y. w.' and 'n. m. k.' mean?"

"Hub!" spoke up Johnny, "I thought everybody knew that. Them letters mean 'all you want' and 'no more in the kitchen.'—Selected.

A MOTHER'S HIT.

The Woolen Mills advertised in the Gleaner that they would sell boys knee pants from "6c to 20c a leg, seats free." Just at the beginning of the school, this of course attracted a great deal of attention among the mothers. They went to the Woolen mills in crowds, and had the little "legs and seats" of their young "hopefuls" duly clothed at the advertised price. Everything went along nicely. The Woolen Mill people were just congratulating themselves on their new and catchy ad, when in walked a bright and enterprising young mother and called for a dozen seats without the legs.—Henderson Gleaner.

FATAL CRASH.

At the undertaking establishment of Nance & Spaulding, upon South Third, near Court street, there now lies the remains of Engineer George Dulaney and fireman C. L. Hutton, who were burned to death in flames that encircled the engine and freight cars at the wreck at the long culvert near Calvert City, sixteen miles above this city, night before last. Of the former there are only a few bones held in a piece of paper, while of the fireman the lower limb bones and a portion of the body were recovered from the embers. The remains were brought here at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Wednesday night an extra freight train pulled out of here bound towards Central City in charge of conductor Theodore Decker, of this city. Engineer George Dulaney, who came here only a few weeks since from Minnesota and was making his second trip out over the division, with Young Eden as fireman, while C. L. Hutton was along to learn the road as extra fireman. Pulling out here, the crew got orders to stop at Clark's Station, several miles above here, and wait for the first section of regular freight No 151, which was coming this way in charge of Conductor F. M. Hill, and Engineer H. Scarborough. The extra crew got their orders mixed and thought they read to meet the regular freight at Calvert City, hence when reaching Clarks Station they went on by at forty miles an hour, headed for Calvert City. In doing so they crashed into the regular freight which had come on by Calvert City, upon the long 75-foot trestle that stands 14 feet above ground. All of both crews jumped except Engineer Dulaney and fireman Hutton, of the extra, who went down with the engine. The wreck caught fire, and burned with the men named.

Other than the engines, four cars of the regular and seven of the extra were demolished. The trestle caught fire and was burned also. The wreck will cost the rail road heavily.

Dulaney resided at the boarding house of Mrs. Mary Bailey, of Broadway, near Ninth street, and his young wife is now there. Hutton resided at Cumberland Furnace, Tenn., where his remains will probably be sent upon relatives being heard from.—News-Democrat.

This week we publish the "Message to Garcia," a story of the Cuban war, and men who assisted the government in time of need. Every man or woman who has to deal with children and employees will appreciate this comment on life as we find it most often. We would be glad every boy in Marion, or in our scope would read it and profit thereby.

We all have reason to be proud of our Governor, the young champion of democracy; for while young in years he has shown a wonderful adaptability to the affairs of state and has made a record which will go down in history as one of the best administrations the commonwealth has ever enjoyed. He is a magnetic speaker, a polished gentleman and a parliamentarian unequalled for one of his age. Kentucky, with him at the helm, will be safe and all her interests keenly watched.

The looks of a city or town have more to do with the character of its people than is dreamed of by the unobservant. Beautiful surroundings unconsciously make their impress upon the character, increase the love of neatness and order, and elevate and refine the nature. Uncleanliness and unsightliness have just the opposite effect. He who assists in making Marion more beautiful, therefore, is no less a benefactor than he who assists in adding to her wealth and business importance.

The recent decision of the Alaska Boundary Commission is a complete victory for America. All the waterways to the northern field were taken from Canada except the Portland canal, and no American citizen will lose a foot of ground.

The long standing dispute was only settled after a week of keen trying, secret deliberation between the arbitrators.

No hitch occurred during the entire deliberations, and as these progressed the confidence of the American Commissioners that a decision substantially upholding the American claims would be given increased, but it was admitted from the start that it would be necessary to agree on some compromise on the Portland canal, which was done.

Governor and Mrs. Beckham spent Sunday last in Paducah. The Governor spoke Monday to one of the greatest crowds ever assembled in Mayfield. The Messenger says:

"Early this morning hundreds of people from all parts of the county began arriving in order to be here and see and hear Governor Beckham and Congressman Ollie James, two of the most popular Democrats in the State, with the Democratic hosts of Graves county. The Democratic boys are just beginning to get fully in the harness and they came here today to have the finishing touches put on them.

The indication is now that the largest Democratic vote will be polled for governor this time in the county that was ever polled before. There is no disturbance among the Democrats here, and they almost to a man will go to the polls and vote the straight ticket. There is great enthusiasm among the boys and a great vote will be polled.

Crittenden county has a treat this week in having Judge J. Fleming Gordon, Hon. John L. Grayot and T. Everett Butler within her gates. They will visit every section of the county from Shady Grove to Dycusburg and Tolu. Judge Gordon, during his short term of office has endeared himself to the people of this county by his uniform courtesy to all, his fair and impartial rulings, and his genial and magnetic manner. Although a young man he has had much experience in law and has had the advantage of his father's counsel and help in the practice of law and his decisions stand high before the Court of Appeals. As to John Grayot, he is almost one of us. He was educated here, and spent much time here and had friends by the score here two decades ago when as a boy full of youth and ambition he came to Marion to enter school. He has still the same cheerful and congenial disposition, and is admired and indeed, beloved in Marion and Crittenden county by a host of friends. He has proven his ability and deserves the recognition which will be given him Nov. 3rd.

JUDICIOUS ADVERTISING.

Many merchants are not as successful as their rivals in business, and wonder why it is, not thinking of their slow business being the natural result of timidity in putting their wares before the people. But such is surely the case. Can you hope to succeed if you put no enthusiasm in your business? Do you expect others to become enthused over your offerings when you are, to all intents and purposes, cold and lifeless in your manner of showing your stock or speaking of it personally or through the columns of the local papers. One can not afford to be silent in regard to the variety and quality of their wares, but must keep hammering away. Don't be afraid to say something that will make people talk about you. That's just what you want. Stir up the town and country with low prices. Be true to the right and be true to your principles, in order that people may learn to depend on you. Say and do all only what you think is right and don't stop to wonder what others might think. Govern yourself and you will naturally be able to govern others.

Remember there never was two people who thought alike, and a man can become a moulder of public opinion if he will give expression to his thoughts and they are pure and true. The right leads fearlessness every time, and gives strength to the character and invites confidence.

Now if it's too much trouble to show your goods and talk about them you are not the fellow we are after. A man to rise above his fellow beings in every avenue of life, may expect trouble. Your very success will invite jealousies. A man who can please everybody is not for this old world. He should go up higher. Therefore we say be bold and fearless in pushing your business by all honorable means, and let others think as they please of your methods. You are the man to be judged in after years as to the measure of your success.

Special from Shady Grove.

Judge Gordon, John Grayot and Everett Butler, the three exponents of democratic doctrine, spoke at Shady Grove Monday night. The arraignment they gave the republican party was something terrible. The party is in fine shape in this section and it is freely predicted that one of the largest votes ever polled will be given the above named standard-bearers, and also the whole State ticket. They went from here to fill their appointment at Baker at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and also Rosebud Tuesday night, and then on to Weston, where they spoke Wednesday night.

MASONIC GRAND LODGE.

On Tuesday the Masonic Grand Lodge of Kentucky held their one hundred and 2nd annual meeting at Louisville. One purpose of the meeting is to dedicate their new building, the Masonic Temple. This new structure is one of the handsomest in the south. Bigham Lodge, No. 256 of Marion, was represented by James Gilbert. Dycusburg Lodge No. 231, by Percy Cooksey. Zion Hill Lodge, No. 371, of Weston by J. L. Rankin; Dr. C. G. Moreland of Fords Ferry, also attended from this lodge. Liberty Lodge, No. 580, of Frances by Hon. M. F. Pogue. Salem Lodge, No. 81, by Dr. R. H. Grassham. Hurricane Lodge, No. 571, by A. J. Bebout. Many other delegates whose names we did not learn attended.

POLITICS GET WARM

At Dycusburg—Judge Gordon Calls Down Henderson

(By Walter Walker)

As usual the Republicans are resorting to any and all kinds of tactics in order to win in the November election, and slander, bullying and falsifying are being freely indulged in, and the little fire eating top waters are out in force doing what they can to injure the characters of their superiors.

Judge Pratt is at his old tactics in reference to public speaking. While Judge Gordon was filling a series of appointments in Hopkins county, to every one of which Judge Pratt was invited and a division of time offered, that gentleman hied himself to Crittenden and Livingston, and made his appointments very quietly, a day or so before the speaking took place.

The fact that Pratt was to speak at Dycusburg had been circulated very quietly. The Democrats heard of the appointment and notified Gordon, who arrived just before the speaking hour, and was granted a division of time with Pratt, who lead off speaking an hour and a half and Gordon followed Pratt speaking one hour and a quarter. Pratt made a twenty minutes reply. Both speeches were pleasantly delivered. Pratt did not deal in personal abuse, according to his statement, but, however, he had a man with him to do this for him.

After Pratt had finished speaking, his man Friday and main expounder of abuse, Carl Henderson of this city, the county attorney, took the floor and proceeded to denounce and vilify Judge Gordon, and he is known to be good at such business. But the gentleman went up against the wrong man when he attacked Judge Gordon. Henderson made the statement that Gordon had said that if Judge Pratt had received the nomination for Governor he would have received democratic votes all over the district. Judge Gordon arose and stated that he had not known that Henderson was to speak, thought he (Gordon) was dividing time with Judge Pratt, and as he would have no opportunity to reply to Henderson, that he would like for Henderson to quote him truthfully. Henderson, the fire-eater, became enraged and said he could prove that what he said was true by J. Watts Lamb, the republican sheriff of Crittenden county, who is actively engaged in the campaign. Judge Gordon declared that he had never made such a statement, and that if Henderson could prove it he would prove a lie. Henderson proceeded to rave and called Judge Gordon a liar, and accused him of being drunk, and the audience becoming disgusted left him speaking.

Since then Henderson and his crowd have proceeded to circulate highly painted and exaggerated reports of the affair, and made again and again the statement that Gordon was drunk. The statement is a base lie, and the man who tells it should be and is branded as a falsifier. The best citizens of Dycusburg denounce the statement as false. Judge Gordon is a clean, temperate man, and he who assails his character in saying that he is an intemperate man is of those reprobates who tell anything in order to defeat a political opponent. We telephoned prominent citizens of Dycusburg and asked if Gordon was drunk and in every instance the statement was denounced as a lie.

Judge Gordon was interviewed and stated that he was to divide time with Judge Pratt, and that nothing out of the ordinary happened until Henderson spoke, the latter knowing that Judge Gordon could not answer him, began his tirade of abuse by accusing Gordon of being drunk. Gordon interrupted him, as he should have done, as stated above. All the reports circulated stating that he started at Henderson in a threatening manner, and broke up the meeting, are branded by Judge Gordon and many other well known men in the audience whom we have interviewed, as lies. The crowd walked out while Henderson was speaking; and by the way we might say here, that this is the second time a crowd has walked out at Dycusburg and left Carl Henderson speaking.

Judge Gordon is making a fair, open campaign. At Dycusburg he told Judge Pratt that he had dates for all sections of Crittenden and invited him to divide time with him, but Pratt refused.

If necessary we can furnish signed and sworn statements from prominent men at Dycusburg corroborating the above statements. All manner of vile, slanderous reports are being circulated in the district in order to defeat Gordon, Grayot and Butler, and the people should carefully investigate before believing. Some fellows will stoop to anything and lying is easy.

FLYING

Trip Through State on Special Train For Gov. Beckham

As a grand finale to Gov. J. C. W. Beckham's campaigning tour of the State, he will in the last few days of the week proceeding the election make a swing about the State on a special train, speaking at forty places which he has been unable to reach through lack of time. The Governor's speeches and the great outburst of enthusiasm which has greeted him everywhere have aroused the Democrats all over the State and so great has been the demand for his presence that the State Campaign Committee has determined to engage a special train on which he will make a flying trip, beginning Tuesday, October 28, and traveling all the week, making his fortieth and last speech of the trip at LaGrange Saturday afternoon.

The special train will carry a private car which Governor Beckham and the immediate members of his party will occupy during the tour and from the back of which most of the speeches will be made. The Campaign Committee will invite about eight prominent Democrats to make the trip, including United States Senators James B. McCreary and J. C. S. Blackburn. The speakers will alternate in introducing Gov. Beckham and making short speeches to the crowds. The Beckham special will be a record breaker, as the schedule calls for the covering of a vast amount of territory in a comparatively short time. An average of eight speeches a day will be made.

Prices For Zinc Ore.

The rate at which carbonate of zinc is sold is beginning to be of considerable interest to our producers. The following is the present method of settlement on shipments, always deducting the freight which is $3 per ton to either Mineral Point, Wis. or Joplin, Mo. the only two oxide plants that are available to this district.

The basis is calculated on 30 per cent metallic zinc in the ore which is worth $12.00 per ton. For every per cent under 30 a penalty of 90 cents is exacted and for each per cent above 30 a premium of 80 cents is allowed. On this basis a 20 per cent ore could not be shipped. A 35 per cent ore would be worth $16. A 43 per cent ore, which our carbonate when properly cleaned generally averages, would bring $22.40 at destination or $19.40 on board cars at Marion.

DEEDS RECORDED.

Ann R. Moneymaker to J. T. Freeman 4 acres of land on Livingston creek for $60.
H. E. Babb to H. A. Babb, 80 acres, for $40.
Chas. E. Donakoy to T. N. Bracy, 114 acres on Ohio river for $4000.
T. F. Williams to P. S. Maxwell to J. W. Taler, 20 acres on Dry Fork creek for $235.
Geo. W. Rice to E. N. Todd, 108 acres for $1000.

CRAYNEVILLE

I will sell meat to the people of Marion by the quarter at 6 and 7 cents per pound, and think that I deserve your patronage. J. W. Givens.

There is an indescribable charm about the smile and greeting one gets when meeting Judge Evans of Smithland. He has a hand shake which is like Bishop Hendrix. "It makes one feel as if they had found a big body of carbonate." "Tom" as everybody calls him, is a great fellow and will go up higher we predict.

FOR SALE:—A good family horse about 8 or 9 years old; dark bay will work anywhere, and when worked regularly is perfectly gentle. Apply to R. F. Haynes.

Miss Ada Robinson and Mrs. A. J. Baker went to Paducah Tuesday to attend the wedding of Mr. Robt. Deboe and Miss Marcella Neil. Miss Neil is a niece of Mrs. Morgan of this city. The groom has prepared a home for his bride and they will go to it at once, and their friends will give them a reception at which a wedding banquet will be served.

Quite a contingent of the Salem population left for the rice fields Tuesday on a visit. The cheap excursion rate of $15 for round trip makes the trip a cheap one as well as delightful at this time of the year. Those who went were Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Gray, Mrs. John Wolfe and son, H. D. McClesney, Jessie Farris, Tom George and Miss Nettie Grassham. They will take a tour of the state and be gone about two weeks.

Mr. Ernest Carnahan and Miss Estelle Gilbert, of Paducah, were married Monday night at the residence of the Rev. T. V. Joiner at 7 o'clock. It was quite a surprise to every one. They obtained their license at 6:30 and immediately repaired to the ministers home where the holy bonds of matrimony were quickly consummated. Mr. Carnahan is the son of W. G. Carnahan, the capitalist of this city, and the happy couple went to his residence immediately after the ceremony and will make their home there. Miss Gilbert is from Paducah and is quite an attractive young lady. Her father, J. M. Gilbert, is a tobacconist. She was the guest of Miss Lillie Duval, and has been visiting here for several weeks. The Press extends congratulations.

Richard Sharp, of the Repton neighborhood, brought to the Press office a Golden Pippin apple, 12 inches in circumference. It was a perfect apple and is certainly the finest specimen ever brought to the Press office.

Facts Versus Wind

If we had no more to command us to your consideration than mere talk we could not expect your patronage. But when you know that behind that talk is a quarter of a century's experience in the business, and a stock of goods second to none in the county, and with all transactions made upon a STRICTLY CASH BASIS it would seem that no other statement, that no argument would be necessary to convince the thoughtful that if there are bargains to be had, snaps to be picked up, that here is a mighty good place to find them. In fact you know that this is the only store in Crittenden county that ever laid down a line of prices so low that no competition ever dared to meet.

Remembering these facts don't you think it would be very much to your interest to see us on your fall goods? We've got exactly the kind of goods you want. It won't cost you one cent to see them. No difference whether you buy from us or not, you'll be shown ever attention. We are anxious to show you our stock and we'll appreciate you coming.

CLIFTONS.

Mrs. Ira Bennett, the wife of the Kentucky merchant and daughter of Rev. J. S. Henry, of this city, met with a painful accident last week, by falling into a cellar, the door of which had been left open over night. She suffered the fracture of two ribs and was painfully bruised besides. A physician was summoned who soon set the bones and dressed the wounds. Fortunately she was not dangerously hurt and is now able to sit up a little, but is quite sore from her experience.

THE NOIRMA CLUB.

This club had its first regular meeting for the year, beginning October 1st, at the residence of Mrs. J. W. Blue Tuesday afternoon, October 14th.

This club begins its third year in the Chataquan Course. This year's study being the American year, the club proposes to be thoroughly American by putting on its studying cap and following closely the subjects of "The Racial Composition of the American People" and "The Reading Journey in the Borderlands of the United States."

The following are the members who will study the course during the year: Mesdames T. H. Cochran, W. J. Deboe, G. M. Crider, W. B. Yandell, H. A. Haynes, J. W. Blue, H. K. Woods, J. H. Woods, J. H. Orme, C. S. Nunn, G. C. Gray and Miss Nellie Walker.

The club will greatly miss Mesdames P. H. Woods and J. T. Franks when they leave for their new homes in the west.

The following officers were elected for the year: Mrs. T. H. Cochran, president; Mrs. W. J. Deboe, vice-president; Mrs. G. M. Crider, treasurer; Miss Nellie Walker, secretary.

After the election of new officers, Mrs. Woods in resigning her office as president and leaving the club, made the following farewell address:

"Ladies, you have done yourselves proud. You have chosen well and worthily. Under her wise and intelligent leadership, I feel sure you will go out into new fields of success and achievement."

"I should like, if possible, at this time to say something that will enthrall and stimulate you to renewed endeavor. We are all familiar with the old saying, 'We can't stand still; we must not go back.' I wish we each might say, 'we will not go back.' Let us 'hitch our wagon to a star,' as we used to do when we were school girls. We can not rise higher than our ideals, as we all know. I know of no more royal road to success in all that is broadening and elevating in thought, in enriching and happying our lives, in teaching us to be of service to others, than this same course of study—the Chataquan Course. But let us remember that we have not half tried. Let us this year, where we have spent a few minutes or perhaps half an hour, double the time. We can, if we are systematic in our duties and pleasures. It is impossible to estimate the benefit of one hour of solid, sound reading each day."

"Another thing, let us be more punctual in attendance. We have read and heard all of our lives, of the value of punctuality, but we have scarcely begun to appreciate its importance. We might as well attempt to build a house of sand on a sea-beaten shore, as to try to keep a society, or organization, or undertaking of any kind up to its mark by intermittent effort. We must remember the case of the hare and the tortoise if we want 'to get there.'"

"I grieve to say, shall work in another and distant field, but the days of 'lang syne' will remain with me. I can truly say, 'I count myself in nothing so happy, as a soul remembering my good friends.' The tenderest memories of my heart will cluster round Marion. It was here I spent some of my happiest days as a young lady; 'twas here I was married; 'twas here most of my children were born; 'twas here I spent a few delightful years with my father and mother, now entered into their rest; and, it is here I have enjoyed the fruition of ripened friendship, generally, and especially with the ladies who form the choice and charmed circle of the Noirma Club. I can think of no more fitting words with which to close, than those of Browning:

"What a thing friendship is, world without end!
How it gives the heart and soul a stir up,
As if somebody breathed you a glorious runlet,
And poured out all lovely, sparklingly, sunlit
Our green Moldavia, the streaky syrup Cotnam, as old as the time of the Druids—
Friendship may match with that Monarch of fluids:
Each supplies a dry brain, fills you its ins-and-outs."

The members of the Epworth League gave a farewell reception to the families of R. C. Walker and P. H. Woods. Both families are well represented in the League as well as other church work, and will be greatly missed. The reception was held at the residence of H. A. Haynes. Refreshments were served and an enjoyable evening spent by all present, and most everybody in town was there. The affair should certainly be very gratifying to those in whose honor it was given.

Mrs. J. A. Sherrill and child will leave for her home in Meridian, Texas, tomorrow, after several weeks visit to her old home and associates in this place and also the Salem section. This is Mrs. Sherrill's first visit in 18 years and she found many changes. She did not know her brother, Prof. Chas. Evans, when he approached her in the depot at Princeton, but he did not stand long on formalities when he saw and recognized her as his sister whom he had not seen for so long. Her husband is a planter and also owns a jewelry establishment.

Hutchins Bros., hypnotists, were here last week and gave one or two performances at the opera house. The same night the big band from Madisonville was serenading the public in front of the New Marion Hotel and the medicine man and his imitable "coons" were entertaining the public in front of the court house. After the hypnotist finished, the opera house was turned over to the young people and a grand ball was given, music being furnished by the Madisonville band. Marion is certainly getting quite metropolitan when four such events occur the same evening.

THURSDAY NIGHT'S BALL.

The following account of the ball given at the Marion opera house on Thursday evening was written by one of our new reporters whose home is in the Ohio river or will be as soon as we can take him there.

It was a gallant array of Knights and Dames that graced the opera house floor on Thursday evening.

The inspiring strains of the well equipped brass band of Madisonville with its twelve pieces made music that could only be likened to the celestial waves.

The opera house under the direction of Manager Will Clifton was just the same old opera house that it has been for several years. It needs several squares of glass in its windows and a wheel raft of soap and water and brooms and dust cloths, and a little whitewash wouldn't hurt anything.

It was a magnificent sight to view the wildly circling, handsomely dressed waiters. It was indeed.

Tuxedos and swallow tails was for the nonce discarded, but we are happy to say every gentleman had a coat on.

It was a great dance. Your reporter interviewed several of the contestants and takes pleasure in reproducing their views:

Sam Gugenheim—"It was simply a peach."

Will Clifton—"You bet that was a dance."

George Roberts—"Fine."

John Wilson—"It closed a little too early."

H. H. Sayre—"I left at mid-night."

Roy Gilbert—"Let's have another."

Ernest Carnahan—"Never had so good a time."

Dr. Morris—"Were you ever in Cincinnati?"

Tucker the druggist—"Very recherche."

Dave Kevil—"I wasn't there."

Almost everybody present breakfasted in their slumber robes Friday morning or some time during the forenoon. Those that boarded didn't get anything to eat but it was a great dance.

N. B.—Several ladies were present.

OFF FOR THE WEST.

Tuesday was indeed a sad day in Marion. Some of her best people left for new homes in the west. Some in search of health and some in quest of fortune.

Among those who left were P. H. Woods and wife, Miss Lavine Woods, and Masters Mortie and Menard Woods; Mrs. Sherman Franklin and two step-children; Eph Doles, wife and three children, all of whom go to Milburn, Indian Territory.

The Colorado contingent was composed of three generations of the Loving and Franks family. Mrs. F. W. Loving, Mrs. John T. Franks, Miss Annie Williams and J. T. Jr. They go to Denver where Mr. Franks awaits their coming. The Press regrets to see so many good people leave, but hopes they will all be happy and prosperous in their new homes.

Bargains in coats and vests.—D. W. Stone, Tolu.

Mr. W. H. Scott, the manager of the People's Independent Telephone Co., of Paducah, was in the city Tuesday. He is a gentleman of pleasant address and anxious to please the public and to extend the usefulness of his line. Their long distance service now is getting in fine shape to the west of us, and ere long their lines will have traversed the length of the state. They expect to put Louisville on their long distance list before the end of next month. The pleasure of a telephone is in quick and accurate service and the "People's" realize that that's the way to extend their business.

R. C. Walker, who comes from Marion Ky., is a most pleasant visitor to the city. Mr. Walker was formerly engaged in the newspaper business at Marion, Ky., editing and publishing the Marion Press. He comes to this state for the benefit of his health and may reside here, as he likes the climate very well. Mr. Walker is simply run down from years of hard newspaper work. Mr. Walker carries with him letters of introduction from the governor of Kentucky, which speak of him in the very highest terms and recommends him to the citizens generally.—Grand Junction Colorado Sentinel.

On Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Lou Herring on South Third street, Paducah, Miss Marcella Neil was married to Robt. E. Deboe. Miss Neil formerly lived here. Other the News-Democrat says: "The bride is a young lady of unusual attraction and winsome beauty and is exceedingly popular with a host of friends made during her short residence here. She is a milliner who came here one month ago to take a position at the Rudy & Phillips establishment, but now severs her connection for the ceremony which originally was not to have been performed until next spring."

I will until the 1st of January make first-class artificial teeth on best rubber plates, finely finished and a perfect fit for $7 for either upper or lower set; $14 for both, and I guarantee them to be fully equal in every way to any made in the county or state. Teeth extracted carefully and with as little pain as possible with perfect safety. I warrant all my fillings to stay in and my gold crowns to stay on. If you need Dental Work come and see me. Office on same hall with telephone office.

T. H. Cossitt, Dentist.

TAKE YOUR TIME.

The following will no doubt be of interest as well as beneficial to our readers, when getting out of bed:

Don't jump up the first time your eyes open. Remember that while you sleep the vital organs are at rest. The vitality is lowered, and the circulation is not so strong. A sudden spring out of bed is a shock to these organs, especially to the heart, as it starts to pumping the blood suddenly, says Medical Talk.

Take your time in getting up. Yawn and stretch. Wake up slowly. Give the vital organs a good chance to resume their work gradually.

Notice how a baby wakens up. It stretches its arms and legs, rubs its eyes and yawns and wakes up slowly. Watch a kitten wake up. First it stretches out one leg then another, rubs its face, then rolls over and stretches the whole body. The birds do not fly as soon as their eyes are open; they ruffle their wings and stretch the legs. This is the natural way. Don't jump out suddenly. Don't be in too much of a hurry, but stretch and yawn and stretch.

Members of Mob Indicted.

Nashville, Oct 7.—The grand jury of Moore county has returned a joint indictment against twenty-two members of the mob, that lynched the negro Allen Small on Sept. 24.

The defendants were indicted for murder in the second degree, as the attorney general and grand jury thought this course was prudent and more likely to result in conviction than would an indictment for murder in the first degree.

The indictment causes the case to be bailable and nearly all of the defendants will be released on bond.

Warts on her fingers, corns on her toes she will be miserable wherever she goes, unless she uses Dr. Mendenhall's Corn Cure. 15 cents at druggists, or sent by mail on receipt of price by J. C. Mendenhall, Evansville, Ind.

A LONG TIME IN JAIL.

Oakland, Cal., Oct 7.—George Jones, who had been in the county prison eighteen years awaiting trial has just died there, aged 93 years. He had been incarcerated since January 18, 1885, for the murder of Lorenzo Sutilo. He was convicted June 5, 1885, of the murder and sentenced to be hung, on July 11. He succeeded in getting a new trial. About the time the trial was to begin Jones was taken with a stroke of paralysis and has never been able to leave his bed. Time and again the case was set for trial, but a continuance was always granted.

THROWN FROM BUGGY.

Trenton, S C, Oct 7.—Late yesterday, while driving from Trenton to her home, Mrs R. B. Tillman, wife of United States Senator B. R. Tillman, and her son were thrown from their buggy by the horse running away. Mrs Tillman and her son both sustained severe gashes on their faces, but physicians state their injuries are not serious.

Strength and vigor come or good food, duly digested. "Force," a ready-to-serve wheat and barley food, adds no burden, but sustains, nourishes, invigorates.

FOR STREET WEAR.

Gowns Have Cape Effects—Stoles and Hats Should Correspond.

The gowns made for the early autumn are usually finished with some kind of cape effect, and later on we shall supplement our costumes with large capes of fur. The coats or blouses will have a deep cape effect finished with fur. Narrow fur trimmings and fur tails will be in great request during the coming winter, for a warm costume always looks well adorned with fur.

So far blue and brown are likely to be the leading autumn colors for gowns, and black will still be in great demand. A very brilliant empire green is to be much used for trimming, and this new tint is more intense than the vivid emerald shade of last season.

When a wide fluffy stole or a huge boa is worn the hat condenses the figure and has not a happy effect. The new autumn hat, with the left side turned over on to the crown, is very effective with the bushy stole or boa and the flat spreading chapeau is most harmonious with the cape effect.

The picture shows a costume of dark and light gray cloth, with the latest double sleeve. JUDIC CHOLLET.

CONVICT ROAD WORK.

Prisoners Building Good Highways in a Georgia County.

Bibb county, Ga., is divided into nine militia districts, and there are three road commissioners for each district, selected by the grand jury for a term of four years. The appointments are arranged so that the entire board is not changed at one time, says the New York Tribune. Representative men from the different parts of the district in which they reside are chosen for this position. The commissioners meet once a month and determine upon the disposal of the force for the month and also attend to other routine business in connection with road working.

The roads are worked by the chain gang, composed of the convicts from the city court and from the recorder's court. The commissioners have no engineer, but the force is managed and the method of working is determined by the superintendent. The gang is supplied with a complete outfit of machines for making dirt roads and, in addition to surfacing, does such grading as may be necessary. It is estimated that in five years more all the roads in the county will be of easy grade and properly surfaced. It has been found by experience that a mixture of clay and sand makes a remarkably hard surface, almost impervious to water, while giving a sure foothold for the horses.

The method pursued in working the roads is that, where the foundation is sandy, clay is hauled in, and vice versa; where the foundation is clay, sand is added. The roads are crowned so as to shed the water into the side trenches. No curbing is used, but on the steep inclines half round sewer pipes are sometimes placed to prevent the side drain from washing out. The height of the crown is determined by the superintendent, who is governed by the grade.

There are in the county about 425 miles of public roads. The cost of maintaining the gang is about $20,000 a year, which includes $8,000 paid to the city of Macon for their interest in the convicts.

GOOD ROAD NOTES.

What Is Being Done in Various States to Improve the Highways.

The state senate of Florida has passed a resolution memorializing congress to pass the Brownlow bill.

In Maine 152 towns have made special appropriations for the improvement of state roads with state aid as against 106 towns last year.

Joseph W. Hunter of Jenkintown has been appointed state highway commissioner of Pennsylvania and will therefore have charge of the expenditure of the largest sum ever appropriated at one time by any American state for road improvement.

Schenectady county, N. Y., has successfully tried the experiment of placing the prisoners confined in the county jail upon the roads in working out a contract for road improvement which was awarded to the county. One result of this is the avoidance of Schenectady county by tramps.

That Florida will soon be among the states that lead in the mileage of good roads is indicated by the fact that there is now over $300,000 available in the internal improvement fund and that there is a reserve of 5,000,000 acres of swamp and overflowed lands, worth from $1 to $5 an acre. By a recent act of the legislature this was made available for the building of hard roads.—Good Roads Magazine.

Trunk Lines of Good Roads.

The state aided highways of Massachusetts and Connecticut have been improved with the district idea of making trunk lines of good roads. Thus in Connecticut are fourteen main lines of 1,400 miles nearly completed and touching a majority of the towns. There is a 120 mile line along old Boston turnpike, near the sound shore, and fourteen trunk lines running north across the state and connecting in some instances with similar improved roads in Massachusetts. This is suggested the probability of national trunk lines of good roads, a prospect which grows brighter with the increasing interest in the plan project for national aid and supervision.

Good Roads Needed.

The subject of good roads cannot be much longer kept in the background, says Farm and Ranch. Trolley cars from one town to another, rural telephones and free rural mail delivery are good enough in their way, but paved country roads are necessary to the well being and happiness of the rural districts. When this is accomplished then will the best elements of city life seek country homes for comfort, escape from the evils of city life to evade the heavy taxation necessary to support urban population, and to enjoy the freedom of the country without the smoke and din of the city streets.

SMART MILLINERY.

Beaver Hats Very Chic—New Shapes in Velvet Toques.

First and foremost among millinery novelties stands the beaver hat—the real old fashioned silk beaver. This hat returned in many guises. Black and white are the favorites and are mostly of the big picture shape, with high lam pot crowns, though a few show conical crowns. These shapes without any trimming at all are quite expensive. Furthermore, they are trimmed with gold or silver lace and a single plume of rare beauty.

A rough make of beaver will also be used for knockabout hats in the form of toques and small shapes to take the place of the plateau hat we have had so long.

The three cornered, or highwayman, hat will again be seen. Some people always look their best in this shape, and they are becoming to the coiffure of the hour.

The favorite toque will be of the Tudor shape. This will take the place of the torador and the turban. It fits closely to the head and is generally made of velvet.

There is a new kind of velvet known as chiffon velvet which is popular on account of its lightness.

The picture shows a hat made of velvet ribbon.

COLD WAVES.

They Purify the Atmosphere and Benefit the Human System.

The cold wave, so much dreaded by most people, is really a blessing in disguise. It charges the atmosphere with fresh oxygen and a surplus of free electricity, which produces a most exhilarating and beneficial effect upon mankind. Torpid energies are aroused, physical vigor and resistance increased, by the advent of a cold wave to such an extent that any incidental damage is more than made up for.

The American climate has always been recognized as a strong factor in causing the aggressiveness and enterprise which have lifted our people into the first rank among nations and made us commercially supreme. The cold wave, with its results of increased energy and vigor, is a meteorological phenomenon peculiar to this country. The chief of the weather bureau at Washington explains the origin of this wave.

It appears that with a high pressure system, rotating with great velocity, large volumes of cold air are drawn down from above the clouds, so that the cold wave is "homemade," being simply a product of motion. The system of motion originates in the northwest, but the cold air comes from above the clouds.

The cold wave is not only useful for its beneficial effect upon the human system, but as a cleansing and purifying agency. It dissipates the deadly carbonic acid gas, the product of respiration and combustion, and the foul effluvia of decaying matter, increasing atmospheric circulation generally and thereby relieving stagnation.—Medical Brief.

Do Good—it Pays.

A Chicago man has observed that "Good deeds are better than real estate deeds—some of the latter are worthless. Act kindly and gently, show sympathy and lend a helping hand. You cannot possibly lose by it." Most men appreciate a kind word and encouragement more than substantial help. There are persons in this community who might truthfully say: "My good friend cheer up. A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will rid you of your cold, and there is no danger whatever from pneumonia when you use that medicine. It always cures. I know it for it has helped me out many a time." Sold by Woods & Orme.

Duty Involves Obedience.

Every duty, even the least duty involves the whole principle of obedience. And little duties make the will dutiful, that is, supple and prompt to obey. Little obediences lead into great. The daily round of duty is full of probation and of discipline. It trains the will, heart and conscience. We need not the prophets or apostles. The commonest life may be full of perfection. The duties of home are a discipline for the ministries of heaven.—H. E. Manning.

Accept No Substitute.

There is nothing just as good for Malaria, Chills and Fever as Dr. Mendenhall's Chill and Fever Cure. Take it as a general tonic and at all times in place of quinine. If it fails to give satisfaction mail the front of the carton to J. C. Mendenhall, Evansville, Ind., and get your money back.

ALMOST A WHALE.

A turtle, which is declared to be the biggest of the kind ever seen, was caught some time ago on the New Jersey coast. Its weight is 1087 pounds. The length of its shell is ten feet three inches, and its width is six feet seven inches. A dozen men can stand on its back with comfort.

HOW THE FATHER CARES.

"I grew up in a family where there were several children, and never a superabundance of money," said a gentleman, speaking of his boyhood. "I knew my father loved me, of course, but those last two words might pretty nearly have expressed my view of the tie between us if I had considered it at all. He was kind but he was naturally reserved and he was a very busy man.

"When I was a lad of eighteen I went away from home and among strangers for the first time. I had obtained a situation in a town some two hundred miles distant, and I was greatly surprised one day to see my father come walking into my boarding place. He had managed to leave his business for two or three days and he had come to spend his brief holiday with me.

The surprise of it grew upon me. I knew how he must have planned for it, have counted the money the journey would cost and have given up other things for the purpose of being with me, and I suddenly understood as never before my place in my father's heart. He visited the store where I was employed, shared my plain little lodging room, and, when I was free we had one long, happy day together, wandering about the little old town. I went with him to his train and returned through the streets alone, saying to myself, 'I didn't know father cared for me so much.'

"He never suspected what a revelation that was to me, nor how from that day to the day of my death it has put new meaning into the words: 'Our Father in Heaven!'"

Dieting Invites Disease

To cure Dyspepsia or indigestion it is no longer necessary to live on milk and toast. Starvation produces such weakness that the whole system becomes an easy prey to disease. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that one cares to eat, and is a never failing cure for indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. Kodol digests what you eat—makes the stomach sweet. Sold by all druggists.

NEW INVENTION.

A Minneapolis man has an invention for purifying water by the means of an electric current. The system has been tested by the city bacteriologist and reported on favorably, being cheaper than the use of any of the accepted methods of purifying water. The test showed that the current eliminated 92 per cent of the bacteria in the water.

A Perfect Painless Pill

is the one that will cleanse the system, set the liver to action, remove the bile clear the complexion, cure headache and leave a good taste in the mouth. The famous little pills for doing such work pleasantly and effectively are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Bob Moore of Lafayette, Ind., says: "All other pills I have used gripe and sicken, while DeWitt's Little Early Risers are simply perfect." Sold by all druggists.

GIVEN THIRTY DAYS.

Sioux City, Iowa, Oct 7.—Thos. Ward, Vice President of the Lemars national bank, who pleaded guilty to embezzlement in the sum of $13,000, was today sentenced to pay a fine of $12,000 and to remain in jail until that sum is paid.

It was discovered today that the sentence given Mr. Ward will amount to his serving just thirty days in jail. There is a special Federal statute providing that when a convict is subjected to a fine which he can not pay, he may go before a United States commissioner after serving thirty days, show that he has no property subject to execution in excess of $20, and obtain a legal discharge.

Run a Nail Through His Hand.

While opening a box J. C. Mount, of Three Mile Bay, N. Y., ran a ten penny nail through the fleshy part of his hand. "I thought at once of all the pain and soreness this would cause me," he says, "and immediately applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and occasionally afterwards. To my surprise it removed all pain and soreness and the injured parts were soon healed." For sale by Woods & Orme.

YOU CAN NEVER TELL.

You can never tell when you send a word

Like an arrow shot from a bow By an archer blind, be it cruel or kind,

Just where it will chance to go. It may pierce the breast of your dearest friend,

Tipped with its poison or balm; To a stranger's heart in life's great mart,

It may carry its pain or its balm. You can never tell, when you do an act,

Just what the result will be, But with every deed you are sowing a seed

Though its harvest you may never see. Each kindly act is an acorn dropped

In God's productive soil, Though you may not know, though the tree shall grow,

And shelter the brows that toil. You can never tell what your thoughts will do,

In bringing you hate or love, For thoughts are things, and their airy wings

Are swifter than carrier doves. They follow the law of the universe

Each thing must create its kind, And they speed o'er track to bring you back

Whatever went out from your mind. —Selected.

Watching the Foundations.

In our big harbor cities, where every inch of ground is precious, it has been necessary to build great "sky-scrapers" too near the water to give a secure foundation except by driving piles. Underneath each huge steel structure is a bed of piles, and these piles must be left damp, or they will be attacked by dry rot. There is usually water enough in the soil to keep them moist, but it will do to trust to this. In every building, therefore, a deep well is run down among the piles, and this well is often inspected. If there is no water in it the piling is in danger. Water is then poured in until the shaft is filled to a certain level and thus the foundation is kept moist. The safety of the whole tremendous structure depends upon this simple process, and if the man whose business it is to inspect the shaft neglects his duty, all the strength of the steel frame will not save it from final collapse.

There is an analogy in this material fact to certain spiritual facts. We are not wise if we neglect the examination of our foundation principles now and then, for dry rot is possible. A young man may start out with a good christian foundation and may forget it so entirely in building up his outward life that he suddenly finds the neglected foundation has crumbled away, and his moral nature collapses in defeat. We must look continually to our foundation principles, and remember that they are the most important part in life. All the outward show of life will not count for anything unless the gospel foundation of faith and righteousness are securely maintained in our deepest souls. We must watch our foundations or we will fail.

World Wide Reputation.

CAUSE OF LOCKJAW.

Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exists plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin, as in the wounds, caused by percussion caps or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is aroused to activity, and produces the most virulent poison known.

THORNS AND FLOWERS.

A reaper in the fields of life
I hastened forth to be
But others gathered the beautiful flowers.

And left the thorns to me

I turned aside and weeping asked
"Are thorns thorns the object of my quest?"

A voice replied: "Yea gather these"
What God appoints is best.

Then meekly I obeyed and found
Each thorn a priceless gem
With bleeding hands I wove a wreath
And lo! a sparkling diadem.

The glorious wreaths of flowers bright
All perished in a day.
Before the scorching summer heat
They all were swept away.

My crown composed of thorns and tears
Transformed by hands divine;
Doth now outshine the stars above,
And will forever shine.

MINING WORK

AROUND SALEM.

The Pittsburg, The Eagle Fluor Spar and Nancy Hanks Getting Into Clover—Crittenden Springs and Its Heavy Ore Veins.

Mr. F. B. Moodie, from his winter home in Florida, writes a very pleasant and complimentary letter to the PRESS.

Mr. Moodie's knowledge of the make-up of our mining district dates back to 1873, when he secured large tracts of what are now the best mining prospects in Livingston county. The Pittsburg Mining and Manufacturing company, an Eastern corporation, are one of his numerous lessees, and have, judging from reports, a most promising property near Mullikao. This company run a 50-foot level at 160 feet depth and opened out a ten foot vein of solid white fluor spar. Carrying an uprise 80 feet they found from 10 to 15 per cent of galena in combination with the fluor spar. Such ore or mineral as this shows itself to be ideal, both as to its separation and its financial status, as the entire vein matter can be handled at a very handsome profit.

The Eagle Fluor Spar company of Wheeling, West Virginia, operating the Cullen mine near Salem are down on their large working shaft some 95 feet. Two ten hour shifts of eight men are making some three feet per day, and we believe it is the intention of the President to continue sinking outside of the vein to a depth of 200 feet. At that depth a crosscut will be run to the heavy zinc vein, a station established and levels run both ways on the vein, giving very extensive stoping ground and incidentally breaking out an immense tonnage of ore.

During the winter the separating plant will be thoroughly overhauled and put in shape for the heavy work ahead of it. All of this is first-class mining work and affords an example that could be followed with advantage by several of our companies.

Drawing a circle with the Crittenden Springs hotel as its center, its radii being but a few hundred rods, the greatest wealth of the entire district in a mining way has been uncovered. When Mr. R. W. Wilson assumed and paid the large indebtedness of this hotel and its several hundred acres of land, many of us thought of gold bricks and bones games; and all that sort of thing. We all hesitated to speak about it openly.

James Barnett, of Livingston county, was here Thursday.

L. A. LaRue, of Sheridan, was here Friday.

Mrs. M. E. Moore made a trip to Caldwell county recently.

Miss Maggie Franks visited relatives and friends in this place on Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Rittie Maynard visited Miss Lena Weldon Saturday and Sunday.

Bro. Bigham preached Sunday at 11 o'clock and 7 p. m.

County clerk Weldon was here last week shaking hands with his friends.

L. A. Weldon will go to California in the near future for the benefit of his health.

A protracted meeting is in progress at Pleasant Hill church, near this place.

The farmers in this section are turning their attention more than ever to the seeding of their farms in timothy; hundreds of acres are being sown.

Don't forget to call at the Weldon House when in Tolu to get your meals, lodging and horse feed—rates $1 per day.

because Mr. Wilson had been so uniformly successful in all of his business ventures that we didn't know what might happen.

It is the unexpected that generally occurs in a mining way, and now it is occurring. There is the Columbia mine, with its daily output of lead and zinc ore, the Old Jim phenomenon with its wealth of carbonate of zinc and of Jack, the Farmer property, the Clement, the new Old Jim, the Wilson Mining company, and the latest, that of the Greer-Marble-Hughes Paducah company that are shipping as examples of what may be found on the Wilson Crittenden Springs land, great 600 pound boulders of lead and zinc ore and fluor spar. It really seems as though this Wilson land contained the mother lode of the entire district, and still Mr. Wilson is leasing on most favorable terms to responsible parties, that is, parties who will mine in a mining way, ample surface ground carrying the richest veins of the district.

On what was christened the "Nancy Hanks" shaft, a name due to many will recall the mother of Abraham Lincoln, one of the most complete mining and sinking plants in the entire district has been established. A hundred horse power boiler, a 75 horse power air compressor, power drills, steam hoist, and all the latest approved machinery is in constant use. Mr. Ratcliff, one of the members of the company operating the property—the Albany (Ind.) Mining and Investment company—seems to be getting fully 100 per cent of work for every dollar paid out.

It seems to be the intention of this company to sink to a greater depth than so far has been reached by any other shaft in the district, regardless of values, in the initial work, trusting probably to cross-cuts and levels to reach the large body of ore which it is believed will be found at depth.

There was shipped from the Old Jim mine last week 350,000 lbs of carbonate of zinc, consigned to Mineral Point, Wisconsin, and 70,000 pounds of "Jack," consigned to the Wenona, Ill. zinc smelter.

Ed Weldon and family visited relatives in this place Saturday.

The adjutant came Friday and made a satisfactory settlement with Foster Threlkeld, whose house and contents were destroyed by fire Sept. 21.

THORNS AND FLOWERS.

A reaper in the fields of life
I hastened forth to be
But others gathered the beautiful flowers
And left the thorns to me
I turned aside and weeping asked
"Are thorns thorns the object of my quest?"
A voice replied: "Yea gather these"
What God appoints is best.

Then meekly I obeyed and found
Each thorn a priceless gem
With bleeding hands I wore a wreath
And lo! a sparkling diadem.

The glorious wreaths of flowers bright
All perished in a day,
Before the scorching summer heat
They all were swept away.

My crown composed of thorns and tears
Transformed by hands divine;
Doth now outshine the stars above,
And will forever shine.
