The Crifftenden Press.

VOLUME 25.

MARION, CRITTENDEN COUNTY, KENTUCKY, JANUARY 14, 1904.

NUMBER 33

ECLIFTONS GREATE

Some Merchants

Advertise just what they have for sale and tell the truth about it. Some print fairy tales We print nothing in this advertisement but a simple, straight forward story of store news. We tell you frankly that we want to clean out—to make a clean sweep of entire stock of Clothing to make room for the Spring and Summer Goods soon to come in. We not only want the room, but more than that, we want the money that is tied up in these goods to put in new goods.

It will Certainly

Pay you to spend a few minutes in the carefully examination of the very unusual offerings as described in this advertisement, as you will surely save many dollars by making your purchases during this sale.

We want you to come expecting good big values for your money, and you will not be disappointed.

Entire Stock of Clothing!

BEGINS SATURDAY, JAN. 16th, AND CLOSES SATURDAY, JAN. 30th, 1904.

$5000

Stock of the Cleanest and Best Clothing Ever Brought to Marion to be sold at Sacrifice Prices.

The goods we offer during this sale are not old shop-worn or out-of-date stuff, but just exactly what we claim them to be, "the Best Lot of Clothing in Marion," embracing our entire stock. Positively nothing reserved. The knife has been sent to the very bone of every piece of Clothing in our store. Winter Suits, Spring Suits, Summer Suits, or all-the-year-round Suits. No difference what you want they all go alike.

All of our Regular $7.50 Suits 4.00

All of our Regular $8.50 and $9.00 Suits for 5.98

Big lot of our Regular $12.00 and $12.50 Suits of the Celebrated Kirschbaum Hand-Made Suits as good as you can buy any where for the above price. Your Choice for... 7.48

Big lot of our Regular $12.50, $14.00 and $15.00 Suits. The best lot of Suits in Marion. Your Choice 9.48

A like Reduction on all of our Boys' and Childrens' Suits and Overcoats.

One little lot of Mens' Regular $4.50 Over coats for 2.98

All of our Mens' Regular $5.00

All of our Mens'Regular $5.00 3.50 All of our Mens'Regular $6.50

Overcoats for.....

All of our Mens' regular $8.50 and $9.00 Overcoats for 5.98

SOME BARGAINS IN COATS AND VESTS

We know of no stronger magnet to draw people to our store than to convince them that we will save them money. THIS YOU CAN DO BY ATTENDING THIS SALE. When we advertise a cut price sale you know from experience that it means something to the purchasing public. It means that every thrifty, fore-handed person should seize the opportunity to procure many of their present and future needs at prices that will prove to the shrewdest buyer that it pays to attend our sales. If you need a suit now or will need one this spring now is your opportunity.

Don't Wait until all the Best Things are Gone! Come Early and Bring your Friend!

Ladies Jackets.

All of our Ladies $3.50 and $4.00 Jackets, for $2.50.

All of our Ladies 5.00 and 6.00 Jackets, for $3.75.

All of our Ladies 7.50 and 8.50 Jackets, for $5.48.

All of our Ladies 10,00 and 12.50 Jackets, for $7.48.

REMEMBER THE DATE! CLIFTONS,

Main St., - - Marion, Ky.

BigaReduction in Mens' Pants!

$1.50 Pants for $1.10 $2.00 Pants for 1.50 $2.50 Pants for 1.98 $3.00 Pants for 2.25 $3.50 Pants for 2.50 $4.00 Pants for 2.75

TRIBUTE BY A SON

TO THE MEMORY OF

JOHN W. CONWAY.

Thursday evening, Dec. 17th, 1903, at seven forty-five o'clock, at my old home, Father fell asleep in Jesus.

Death is a misterious and august visitant. He can not come but by the divine will. - It seems that death is only an usher into the presence of the King. The room of a dying child of God is the very anti-chamber of Heaven. I never felt so near to Godas when Father went to be with Jesus that Thursday night.

"I can not say, and I will not say That he is dead—he is just away"

a halo of sweetness o'er the soul, Straight to my home above. and brings heaven's love to our hearts, and faith in the future im. mortality of light and life to us, the human affections of our hearts lingers and weeps for its great loss.

No more on earth to see his face or hear his kindly voice or welcome footfall, upon the old home floor, or grasp that hand-no more no more! We feel, we can but

"One touch of the vanished hand, One note of the voice that is still' would be a joy to home-which shall never come again.

O, how true he was to us ail! His life was one of a noble, selfsacrificing love. He thought and labored for our good. There is no home more empty than ours without him. We feel as Longfellow sweetly sings,

"Dying, he leaves a memory like the death,

Of summers, full of sunshine and showers, and as a son, I looked upon him came to the wilds of Kentucky as one of the noblest of men. from his lips. He was a man, at large family, five sons and two God hath given to love to keep divine help. No, it was the work and two small children in the of Christ in his life which shown out. Truly can I say of him,

"Rich in saving common sense And, as the greatest only are, In his simplicity sublime."

These qualities made his life on earth so dear to his children, and we weep because our noble father the Ohio river (a sorry affair). has left us to struggle without Grandfather had to raise flax, spin him. His great gain is our earthly loss we feel; yet God knows the best, and his will be done. He was best of all, a firm believer in Jesus Christ, and he could say in truth,

"That sweet comfort was mine, When the power divine I hast found in the blood of the Lamb

When by faith I believed Oh what joy I received What a heaven in Jesus, sweet name! and his song.'

ness, as he pressed his horse on He was elected sheriff of the coun with energy and life, you could ty several times and represented hear him cheerfully humming the the people for three terms in the sweet songs of Zion. Perhaps State Legislature. there is not a soul in all his neigh borhood that does not carry the memory of the songs they have heard, as this true soldier breath- ried to Miss Barbara Ann Davened them out from a courageous port, a daughter of Abram Davenheart of faith. That voice is si- port. Twelve children blessed lent, but today the strains of that this delightful union and no sweehearts. "We are toiling up the way Narrow way, narrow way.

many a day, Toward the Kingdom."

Never did he miss his Saturday church meeting or Sunday School or prayer meeting uniess he was is delightful to think about. unwell. He was a man of busi-

in God electing love, and salvanow risen and glorified Saviour. by his grace. He loved the Christ and his will was to him a constraining and positive law, and he delighted to follow it as far as he was enabled by They are but on Christ's other light divine, and shall we not, who mourn his death, not as those who They are; with Christ and Christ have no hope, say to Christ, thy will be done?-yes,

My Saviour as thou wilt, All shall be well for me, Each changing future scene And yet, while the gospel sheds I gladly trust with thee, And sing in life or death, My Lord, thy will be done.

> The Lord blessed Father with noble ancestors. He was of Welsh descent. In the language of one who knew we write the following of his noble ancestors:

"For generations back our ancestors have been good and noble people. I have heard grandfather John Conway say that his ancestors fought under Oliver Cromwell. Grandfather had five brothers, I think, who fought through the revolutionary war. I heard him say he was the youngest son, and was eleven when the battle of Yorktown was fought, and saw Cornwallis' army as Washington and Lafayette marched them through While my soul flits away on a his father's plantation.

They lived in Fauquier county, Virginia. Grandfather was a good man; used to preach sometimes, was a great Bible student, could he fed each morning and that repeat chapter after chapter by lighted on his shoulders, oh! how memory. The beauty of it was, lonesome; his favorite dog seems A grief and gladness in the atmos- he conformed his life to its holy to have given up as he lies and Soon will sound the boatman's teachings. * * * Nearly 110 waits for his master. The fields, He was a man that was either at years ago he with his wife, newly the barns, the garden and flower And our fragile bark church, or attending to business, married, and an old family servant beds all seem to miss him. The Must launch into the night and her child crossed the Allegha- place seems strangely changed, I knew him long and intimately ny mountains on horseback and but memories as fresh and sweet

* finally settling in Trimble all these things of him, A man with tender and fine feel- county, Kentucky, in the hills "I cannot think of him as dead ing, open and frank in all his con- three miles South of Madison, In- Who walks amid these scenes no victions; courageous always for diana. Madison was not thought what he thought was truth. Never of then. There on a small, rather did I hear an impure word fall unproductive farm he raised a He has but gone before. least to me, of a pure mind. Not daughters, named William, Polly, It's own eternally, that he was faultless, for no one John, Peter, Thomas, James, Mawas more conscious of his need of ry. In 1812 he buried his wife same grave. * * He was left in a howling wilderness with seven small children, the oldest 16. No stores, no factories, no steamboats then.

It was in 1812 my mother saw the first steamboat that came down and weave the flax for clothing. Deer were abundant and he used their skins for pants and shoes, and raccoon skins for hats."

One of the these seven children came to Union county, Ky., and settled near Morganfield, Thomas Conway, the father of John W. Conway, the subject of this tribute. His mother was Cornelia Connell. My father was born of this happy union Oct. 14, 1844. He was the only son of a large family. Grandfather was well known Jesus all the day long was his joy by the former citizens of Union county, and they showed to him On the road of life and busi- their high regard in many ways.

He was a firm Baptist and man of noble mould. In 1870 father was happily marsong he loved so well rings in our ter home was ever enjoyed by a set ries of that home will ever fill my soul with the tenderest joy. The Golden harps are loudly ringing We have journeyed many a day, Christ was its secret power. That love to Christ; the good counsel and genuine good sense and generous spirit that filled that home

ness but he put Christ's work first. | fants) and the loving mother, sur-He loved his pastors and always vive the death of father. Their delighted to have them with him. names are as follows: T. A. Conand talk about the truth of the Bi- way, a minister of Jesus; Dr. Jno. ble, the great doctrine's of God's W.Conway, Berry L.Conway, Mrs word. He was a strong believer Oth McMurry; children at home: Maggie, Bettie, Hugh, Barbara, tion alone by grace through faith. Joe and Hal. All are christians He trusted his salvation alone to but Hal, and he is young. Yet the merits of the crucified, and the Lord will no doubt call him

'Death hides but he can not di-with me, In Christ united still are we." 'The living are the only dead,

The dead live—never more to die: And often when we mourn them fled

They never were so nigh." Papa loved the farm. Well do I remember reading him James Whitcomb Riley's famous poem on the Clover, and when I came to this beautiful verse he wept: "And so I love clover—it seems like a part Of the sacredest sorrows and joys of my heart; And wherever it blooms, oh there let me bow

And thank the good God as I'm thanking him now, And I pray to him still for strength

when I die To go out in the clover and tell it good bye, And lovingly nestle my face in its bloom,

breath of perfume."

He loved his stock-cattle, hogs and horses. How lonesome Bettie, his horse, looks; the pigeons as the dews of heaven linger with It will bear us safely to the shores

Along the path of life I tread

Then let Love clasp Grief lest both be drowned."

His life on earth is over. We miss him and our hearts are torn and bleeding; but the will of God the taint of sin or power of death be done. He doeth all things well. Soon we shall pass down the val-Now we see as through a glass, ley thou hast trod. darkly; but we shall know. Never has there crossed my mind a doubt of his eternal welfare, but I feel and know that he is-"Safe in the arms of Jesus, Safe on his gentle breast. There by his love o'er shadowed Sweetly his soul shall rest. Hark! 'tis the voice of Angels Borne on a song to me, Over the fields of glory, Over the jasper sea."

He fell with his armor on, it the midst of the battle. He fought I will lean upon my Saviour good fight; there was no long Thro' the valley as I go. evening to his life.

He has passed over the river and rests under the shade of the trees. And "we shall meet our loved and When the pearly gates unfold.

Some sweet day, some sweet day, Gathering round the great white Blooms the tree of life immortal,

Some sweet day, some sweet day By the tree of life so fair, Joy and rapture everywhere, O, the bliss of over there.

Today he no doubt sees the And the evening bells will toll, King in his beauty, exalted upon But my heart will know no sadthe throne of his glory, beside the tideless ses; and there with the When the pearly gates unfold." saints of all ages, in the Paradise of happier children. The memo. of God, joins in the song of Moses and the Lamb, over there.

over there, And our loved ones wait we know While we shrink and fear to go To that sunny land to dwell for-All of the children (but two inevermore.

'Soon the evening shades will fall,

But the Hand that led us here Will not fail us in our fear.

of light.' O city eternal, with thy streets of gold, and walls of precious stones, thy river of life, clear as crystal, and sea of glass, ablazo with the glory of God and the Lamb, with thy myriads of angels and saints redeemed, thou art His dwelling place. Beyond thy gates of pearl he is. Our Father thou art at rest beyond corroding cares, beyond the rack of pain, beyond

'I have given up all for Jesus, This vain world is naught to me, All its pleasures are forgotten In remembering Calvary.

Though my friends despise, forsake me,

And on me the world looks cold, I've a friend that will stand by When the pearly gates unfold.

When the voice of Jesus calls n And the angels whisper low, I will claim his precious promise, Worth to me a world of gold, Fear no eyil, I'll be with thee Just beyond the shores of Jordan. Just beyond the chilly tide, And the living waters glide. In that happy land of spirits, Flowers bloom on hills of gold, And the angels are awaiting, When the pearly gates unfold. Some sweet day, some sweet day." Life's morn will soon be waneing,

T. A. CONWAY,

A Vest Pocket Doctor.

Never in the way, no trouble to carry, easy to take, pleasant and never failting early family altar and unfailing Angel choirs are sweetly singing, in results are DeWitt's Little Early R. sers. A vial of these little pills in the vost pocket is a certain guarantee constipation. They tonic and strengthen the liver Sold by all druggists.

EMBALMER FUNERAL DIRECTOR.

WALTHER'S

is simply a combination of port wine and pepsin-it contains no drugs or chemicals. Doctors recommend it as a good,

common-sense tonic; as a remedy for dyspepsia, indigestion

and kindred ailments-for invalids, convalescents, old

Two sizes, 50 cts. and $1.00.

THE WALTHER PEPTONIZED PORT CO., PITTSBURGH, PA.

For sale by

R. F. Haynes, Druggist.

folks, nursing mothers, and debilitated people generally.

PEPTONIZED

DEALERIN

BURIAL ROBES AND SLIPPERS

Fine Hearse for Funeral Occasions. Picture Frames of all kinds made to order. Picture Matts.

hone 105.

H. H. COCHRON

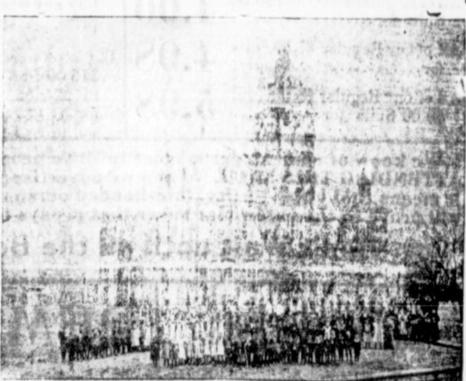

MARION, K ...

Adams & Cochron Machinists.

Mining Machinery, Steam Fittings of all Kinds, Etc.

Sole Agents for THE SULLIVAN MACHINE CO, Manufacturers of ROCK DRILLS, DIAMOND DRILL, AIR COMPRESSORS, ETC Repair Work of all inds Given Prompt Attention.

MARION GRADED SCHOOL

SPRING TERM BEGINS Monday, January 18, 1904.

Enter the Leading Graded School in Western Kentucky against headache, biliousness, torpid and prepare for Business, Success and Life. Tuition Cheap, liver and all of the ills resulting from Board Low. $44.00 for four months, complete expenses.

CHARLES EVANS, Supt. Marion, Kye

TRIBUTE BY A SON

TO THE MEMORY OF

JOHN W. CONWAY.

Thursday eving, Dec. 17th, 1903, at seven forty-five o'clock, at my old home, Father fell asleep in Jesus.

Death is a misterious and august visitant. He can not come but by the divine will. - It seems that death is only an usher into the presence of the King. The room of a dying child of God is the very anti-chamber of Heaven. I never felt so near to Godeas when Father went to be with Jesus that Thursday night.

"I can not say, and I will not say That he is dead—he is just away"

a halo of sweetness o'er the soul, and brings heaven's love to our hearts, and faith in the future im. My Lord, thy will be done. mortality of light and life to us, the human affections of our hearts lingers and weeps for its great

No more on earth to see his face or hear his kindly voice or welcome footfall, upon the old home floor, or grasp that hand-no more no more! We feel, we can but feel,

"One touch of the vanished hand, One note of the voice that is still" would be a joy to home-which shall never come again.

O, how true he was to us ail! His life was one of a noble, selfsacrificing love. He thought and home more empty than ours without him. We feel as Longfellow sweetly sings,

"Dying, he leaves a memory like the death.

Of summers, full of sunshine and showers,

phere.'

church, or attending to business, married, and an old family servant beds all seem to miss him. The Must launch into the night

I knew him long and intimately and as a son, I looked upon him came to the wilds of Kentucky as one of the noblest of men. divine help. No, it was the work of Christ in his life which shown out. Truly can I say of him, "Rich in saving common sense And, as the greatest only are,

In his simplicity sublime." These qualities made his life on earth so dear to his children, and the first steamboat that came down we weep because our noble father the Ohio river (a sorry affair). has left us to struggle without Grandfather had to raise flax, spin him. His great gain is our earthly loss we feel; yet God knows the best, and his will be done. He was best of all, a firm believer in Jesus Christ, and he could say in truth,

"That sweet comfort was mine, When the power divine I hrst found in the blood of the

Lamb When by faith I believed Oh what joy I received

What a heaven in Jesus, sweet name! Jesus all the day long was his joy and his song.'

ness, as he pressed his horse on He was elected sheriff of the coun with energy and life, you could ty several times and represented hear him cheerfully humming the the people for three terms in the sweet songs of Zion. Perhaps State Legislature. there is not a soul in all his neigh borhood that does not carry the memory of the songs they have heard, as this true soldier breathed them out from a courageous port, a daughter of Abram Davenheart of faith. That voice is si- port. Twelve children blessed hearts. "We are toiling up the way Narrow way, narrow way. We have journeyed many a day, many a day, Toward the Kingdom." Never did he miss his Saturday church meeting or Sunday School erous spirit that filled that home or prayer meeting uniese he was is delightful to think about. unwell. He was a man of busi-and talk about the truth of the Bi-He trusted his salvation alone to but Hal, and he is young. Yet now risen and glorified Saviour. by his grace. He loved the Christ and his will was to him a constraining and positive law, and he delighted to follow it as far as he was enabled by They are but on Christ's other light divine, and shall we not, who mourn his death, not as those who They are; with Christ and Christ have no hope, say to Christ, thy will be done?-yes,

My Saviour as thou wilt, All shall be well for me, Each changing future scene And yet, while the gospel sheds I gladly trust with thee, Straight to my home above. And sing in life or death,

> The Lord blessed Father with noble ancestors. He was of Welsh descent. In the language of one of his noble ancestors:

"For generations back our ancestors have been good and noble people. I have heard grandfather John Conway say that his ancestors fought under Oliver Cromwell. Grandfather had five brothers, I think, who fought through the revolutionary war. I heard him say he was the youngest son, and was eleven when the battle of Yorktown was fought, and saw Cornwallis' army as Washington and labored for our good. There is no Lafayette marched them through While my soul flits away on a his father's plantation.

They lived in Fauquier county, Virginia. Grandfather was a good man; used to preach sometimes, tie, his horse, looks; the pigeons was a great Bible student, could he fed each morning and that repeat chapter after chapter by lighted on his shoulders, oh! how memory. The beauty of it was, lonesome; his favorite dog seems A grief and gladness in the atmos- he conformed his life to its holy to have given up as he lies and Soon will sound the boatman's teachings. * * * Nearly 110 waits for his master. The fields, He was a man that was either at years ago he with his wife, newly the barns, the garden and flower And our fragile bark and her child crossed the Allegha- place seems strangely changed, ny mountains on horseback and but memories as fresh and sweet

* finally settling in Trimble all these things of him, A man with tender and fine feel- county, Kentucky, in the hills "I cannot think of him as dead ing, open and frank in all his con- three miles South of Madison, In- Who walks amid these scenes no victions; courageous always for diana. Madison was not thought what he thought was truth. Never of then. There on a small, rather Along the path of life I tread did I hear an impure word fall unproductive farm he raised a He has but gone before. from his lips. He was a man, at large family, five sons and two God hath given to love to keep least to me, of a pure mind. Not daughters, named William, Polly, It's own eternally. that he was faultless, for no one John, Peter, Thomas, James, Ma- Then let Love clasp Grief les was more conscious of his need of ry. In 1812 he buried his wife and two small children in the same grave. * * He was left in a howling wilderness with seven small children, the oldest 16. No stores, no factories, no steamboats then.

It was in 1812 my mother saw and weave the flax for clothing. Deer were abundant and he used their skins for pants and shoes, and raccoon skins for hats."

One of the these seven children came to Union county, Ky., and settled near Morganfield, Thomas Conway, the father of John W. Conway, the subject of this tribute. His mother was Cornelia Connell. My father was born of this happy union Oct. 14, 1844. He was the only son of a large family. Grandfather was well known by the former citizens of Union county, and they showed to him On the road of life and busi- their high regard in many ways.

He was a firm Baptist and man of noble mould.

In 1870 father was happily married to Miss Barbara Ann Davenlent, but today the strains of that this delightful union and no sweesong he loved so well rings in our ter home was ever enjoyed by a set of happier children. The memories of that home will ever fill my see and the Lamb, Christ was its secret power. That love to Christ; the good counsel and genuine good sense and gen-

All of the children (but two inness but he put Christ's work first. fants) and the loving mother, sur-He loved his pastors and always vive the death of father. Their delighted to have them with him. names are as follows: T. A. Conway, a minister of Jesas; Dr. Jno. ble, the great doctrine's of God's W.Conway, Berry L.Conway, Mrs word. He was a strong believer Oth McMurry; children at home: in God electing love, and salva- Maggie, Bettie, Hugh, Barbara, tion alone by grace through faith. Joe and Hal. All are christians the merits of the crucified, and the Lord will no doubt call him

> Pappa is gone, Death hides but he can not di-side. with me,

In Christ united still are we." "The living are the only dead, The dead live-never more to die; And often when we mourn them fled

They never were so nigh." Papa loved the farm. Well do I remember reading him James Whitcomb Riley's famous poem on the Clover, and when I came to this beautiful verse he wept:

who knew we te the following "And so I love clover-it seems like a part

Of the sacredest sorrows and joys of my heart; And wherever it blooms, oh there let me bow And thank the good God as I'm thanking him now,

And I pray to him still for strength when I die To go out in the clover and tell it

goodbye, And lovingly nestle my face in its bloom,

breath of perfume."

He loved his stock-cattle, hogs and horses. How lonesome Betas the dews of heaven linger with It will bear us safely to the shores both be drowned." His life on earth is over. W miss him and our hearts are torn beyond the rack of pain, beyond and bleeding; but the will of God the taint of sin or power of death. Now we see as through a glass, ley thou hast trod. darkly; but we shall know. Never has there crossed my mind a doubt of his eternal welfare, but I feel and know that he is-"Safe in the arms of Jesus, Safe on his gentle breast. There by his love o'er shadowed Sweetly his soul shall rest. Hark! 'tis the voice of Angels Borne on a song to me, Over the fields of glory,

Over the jasper sea." He fell with his armor on, it the midst of the battle. He fought I will lean upon my Saviour good fight; there was no long Thro' the valley as I go. evening to his life.

He has passed over the river and rests under the shade of the trees. And "we shall meet our loved and When the pearly gates unfold.

Some sweet day, some sweet day, Gathering round the great white throne,

Some sweet day, some sweet day By the tree of life so fair, Joy and rapture everywhere, O, the bliss of over there,

Some sweet day, some sweet day. Today he no doubt sees the And the evening bells will toll, King in his beauty, exalted upon But my heart will know no sadthe throne of his glory, beside the tideless sea; and there with the When the pearly gates unfold." saints of all ages, in the Paradise of God, joins in the song of Mo-

over there,

over there,

And our loved ones wait we know While we shrink and fear to go To that sunny land to dwell forevermore.

fall,

But the Hand that led us here Will not fail us in our fear.

of light." O city eternal, with thy streets of gold, and walls of precious stones, thy river of life, clear as crystal, and sea of glass, ablazo with the glory of God and the Lamb, with thy myriads of angels and saints redeemed, thou art His dwelling place. Beyond thy gates of pearl he is. Our Father thou S. R. ADAMS art at rest beyond corroding cares, be done. He doeth all things well. Soon we shall pass down the val-

> 'I have given up all for Jesus, This vain world is naught to me, All its pleasures are forgotten In remembering Calvary. Though my friends despise, for > sake me, And on me the world looks cold, I've a friend that will stand by

When the pearly gates unfold. When the voice of Jesus calls n And the angels whisper low, I will claim his precious promise, Worth to me a world of gold, Fear no eyil, I'll be with thee Just beyond the shores of Jordan, Just beyond the chilly tide, Blooms the tree of life immortal. And the living waters glide. In that happy land of spirits, Flowers bloom on hills of gold, And the angels are awaiting, When the pearly gates unfold. Life's morn will soon be waneing, soul with the tenderest joy. The Golden harps are loudly ringing Never in the way, no trouble to carry, easy to take, pleasant and never failtng sers. A vial of these little pills in the vost pocket is a certain guarantee constipation. They tonic and strengthen the liver Sold by all druggists.

T. A. CONWAY,

A Vest Pocket Doctor.

EMBALMER. FUNERAL DIRECTOR.

COFFINS AND CASKETS. BURIAL ROBES AND SLIPPERS.

Fine Hearse for Funeral Occasions. Picture Frames of all kinds made to order. Picture Matts.

WALTHER'S

is simply a combination of port wine and pepsin-it contains

no drugs or chemicals. Doctors recommend it as a good,

common-sense tonic; as a remedy for dyspepsia, indigestion

and kindred ailments-for invalids, convalescents, old

Two sizes, 50 cts. and $1.00.

THE WALTHER PEPTONIZED PORT CO., PITTSBURGH, PA.

For sale by

R. F. Haynes, Druggist.

folks, nursing mothers, and debilitated people generally.

PEPTONIZED

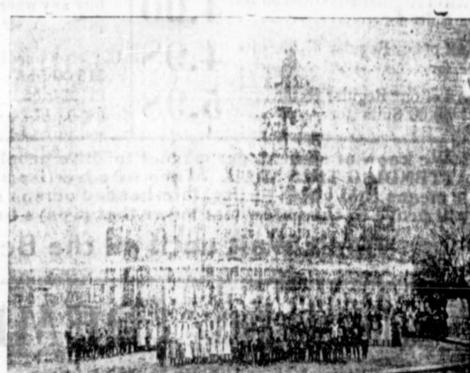

H. H. COCHRON

Adams & Cochron Machinists.

Mining Machinery, Steam Fittings of all Kinds, Etc.

Sole Agents for THE SULLIVAN MACHINE CO, Manufacturers of ROCK DRILLS, DIAMOND DRILL, AIR COMPRESSORS, ETC

Repair Work of all inds Given Prompt Attention. hone 105. MARION, K ..

SPRING TERM BEGINS early family altar and unfailing Angel choirs are sweetly singing, in results are DeWitt's Little Early R. Monday, January 18, 1904.

Enter the Leading Graded School in Western Kentucky against headache, biliousness, torpid and prepare for Business, Success and Life. Tuition Cheap, liver and all of the ills resulting from Board Low. $44.00 for four months, complete expenses.

CHARLES EVANS, Supt. Marion, Kye

ALICE OF OLD VINCENNES

MAURICE THOMPSON

Copyright, 1900, by the BOWEN-MERRILA COMPANY

CHAPTER IX. THE HONORS OF WAR. ASPARD ROUSSILLON Was thoroughly acquainted with savage warfare, and he knew all the pacific means so suc cessfully and so long used by French missionaries and traders to control sayage character, but the emergency now upon him was startling. It confused him. The fact that he had taken a solemn oath of allegiance to the American government could have been pushed aside lightly enough upon pressing c: casion, but he knew that certain confidential agents left in Vincennes by Governor Abbott had, upon the arrival of Helm, gone to Detroit, and of course they had carried thither a full report of all that happened in the Church of St. Xavier when Father Gibault called the people together, and at the fort when the British flag was hauled down and la banniere d'Alice Roussillon run up in its place. His expansive imagination did full credit to itself in exaggerating the importance of his part in handing the post over to the rebels.

suggestion. M. Roussilion lacked everything of being a coward, and treachery had no rightful place in his nature. He was, however, so in the habit of fighting windmills and making mountains of molehills that he could not at first glance see any sudden presentment with a normal vision. He had no love for Englishmen, and he did like Americans, but he naturally thought that Helm's talk of fighting Hamilton was, as his own would have been in a like case, talk and nothing more. The fort could not hold out an hour, he well new. Then what? Ah, he but too well realized the result.

And what would Hamilton think of this? Would be consider it treason?

The question certainly bore a tragic

Resistance would inflame the English ddiers and madden the Indians. There rould be a massacre, and the belts of savages would sag with bloody scalps. He shrugged his shoulders and felt a chill creep up his back.

The first thing M. Roussillon did was to see Father Bezet and take counsel of him; then he hurried home to dig a great pit under his kitchen floor in which he buried many bales of fur and all his most valuable things. He worked like a giant beaver all night long. Meantime Pather Beret went about over the town quietly netifying the inhabitants to remain in their houses until after the fort should surrender. which, he was sure, would happen the ext day.

"You will be perfectly safe, my chiln," he said to them. "No harm can ne to you if you follow my direc-

Helying implicitly upon him, they scrupulously obeyed in every particu-

He did not think it necessary to call at Roussillon place, having already given M. Roussillon the best advice be could command. Just at the earliest break of day, while yet the gloom of night scarcely felt the sun's approach, a huge figure made haste along the narrow streets in the northern part of the town. If any person had been looking out through the little holes called windows in those silent and rayless huts it would have been easy to recognize M. Roussillon by his stature and his gait, dimly outlined as be was. A thought which seemed to him an inspiration of gentus had taken possession of him and was leading him as if by the nose straight away to Hamflton's lines. He was freighted with elequence for the ear of that commander. and as he strode along facing the crisp morning air be was rehearsing under his breath, emphasizing his periods in tragic whispers with sweeping gestures ad liberal facial contortions. So abed was he in his oratorical solilothat, he forgot due military precauand ran plump into the face of a picket guard, who, without re-

r the great M. Roussillon's digprang up before him, grunted usly, flourished a tomahawk e in excellent and exceedingly I Indian:

h, surrender!" is probable that no man ever comwith a modest request in a more tle spirit than did M. Roussillon that occasion. In fact, his ptness must have been admirable, the savage grunted approval and ightway conducted him to Hamils headquarters on a batteau in the British commander, a hale man andy complexion and probably unmiddle age, was in no very pleashumor. Some of his orders had misunderstood by the chief of his in allies, so that, a premature exre of his approach had been made ell, sir, who are you?" he gruffly ded when M. Roussillon loomed Gaspard Ronadillon, the mayor mes," was the lafty reply. "I be to announce to you officially my people greet you loyally and my town is freely at your comd." He felt as important as if his ents had been true. umph! There it it? De

Mr. Mayor, you have my congratumtions, but I should prefer seeing the military commander and accepting his surrender. What account can you give me of the American forces, their aumber and condition?"

M. Roussillon winced, inwardly at least, under Hamilton's very undeferential air and style of address. It piqued him cruelly to be treated as a person without the slightest claim to respect. He somehow forgot the rolling and rhythmic eloquence prepared for the occasion.

"The American commander naturally would not confide in me, M. le Gouverneur; not at all. We are not very side friendly. He ousted me from office, he offended me"- He was coughing and stammering.

"Oh, thunder! What do I care? Answer my questions, sir!" Hamilton gruffly interrupted. "Tell me the number of American troops at the fort,

"I don't know exactly. I have not had admittance to the fort. I might be deceived as to numbers. But they're strong, I believe, M. le Gouverneur; at least they make a great show and much notse."

Hamilton eyed the huge bulk before him for a moment, then, turning to a subaltern, said: "Place this fellow under guard and word immediately to Captain Farnsworth that I wish to see him at once." The interview thereupon closed abruptly. Hamilton's emissaries had given him a detailed account of M. Roussillon's share in submitting Vincennes to rebel dominton, and he was not in the least inclined toward treating him graciously.

"I would suggest to you, M. le Gouverneur, that my official position demands"- M. Roussillon began. But he was fastened upon by two guards. who roughly hustled him aft and bound him so rigidly that he could scarcely move finger or toe.

Hamilton smiled coldly and turned to give some orders to a stalwart, ruddy young officer who in a canoe had just rowed alongside the batteau.

"Captain Farnsworth," he said, acknowledging the military salute, "you will take fifty men and make everything ready for a reconnoissance in the direction of the fort. We will move down the river immediately and choose a place to land. Move live'y! We have no time to lose."

In the meantime Beverley slipped away from the fort and made a burried call upon Alice at Roussillon place. There was not much they could say to him, saw him die like a panther at each other during the few moments at bay, saw the gay rag snatched down command. Alice showed very little excitement. Her past experience had It was the tragedy of a single moment fortified her against the slarms of enacted in a flashlight of anticipation. frontier life. But she understood and | She released Jean so suddenly that perfectly appreciated the situation. he fell to the floor. She remembered

ley demanded in sheer despair. He was not able to see any gleam of hope out of the blackness which had fallen around him and into his soul.

"What shall you do?" he repeated. "Take the chances of war," she said, smiling gravely. "It will all come out well, no doubt." "I hope so, but-but I fear not." His face was gray with trouble

"Helm is determined to fight, and that "Good!" she interrupted, with spirit

"I am so glad of that. I wish I could go to help him. If I were a man I'd love to fight. I think it's just delight-

"But it is reckless bravado. It is worse than foolishness," said Beverley, not feeling her mood. "What can two or three men do against an army?" "Fight and die like men," she replied, her whole countenance lighting up. "Be herotel" "We will do that, of course. Wedo not fear death, but you-you"-His voice choked him.

A gunshot rang out clear in the distance, and he did not finish speaking. "That's probably the beginning," he added in a moment, extending both hands to her. "Goodby. I must hurry to the fort. Goodby." She drew a quick breath and turned so white that her look struck him like a sudden and hard blow. He stood for a second, his arms at full reach, then: "My God, Alloe, I cannot, cannot leave you!" he cried, his voice again breaking huskfly. She made a little movement as if to take hold of his hands, but in an instant she stepped back a pace and said: "Don't fear about me. I can take care of myself. I'm all right. You'd better return to the fort as quickly as you can. It is your country, your flag, not me, that you must think of now." She folded her arms and stood boldly

Never before in all his life had he felt such a rebuke. He gave her a straight, strong look in the eyes.

"You are right, Alice," he cried, and rushed from the house to the fort. She held her rigid attitude for a little while after she heard him shut the front gate of the yard so forcibly that it broke in pieces, then she flung her arms wide, as if to clasp something, and ran to the door, but Beverley was out of sight. She turned and dropped into a chair. Jean came to her out of the next room. His queer little face was pale and pinched, but his jaw was set with the expression of one who has known danger and can meet it some-

"Are they going to scalp us?" he half whispered presently, with a shuddering lift of his distorted shoulders.

Her face was buried in her hands and she did not answer. Childlike he turned from one question to another inconsequently. "Where did Papa Roussillon go to?" he next inquired. "Is he going to fight?"

She shook her head.

"They'll tear down the fort, won't they?" heard him she did not make

"They'll kill the captain and lieutenant and get the fine flag that you set so high on the fort, won't they, Alice?" She lifted her head and gave the cowering hunchback such a stare that he shut his eyes and put up a hand as if afraid of her. Then she impulsively took his little misshapen form in her arms and hugged it passionately. Her bright hair fell all over him, almost hiding htm. Mme. Roussillon was lying on a bed in an adjoining room moaning diligently, at intervals handling her rosary and repeating a prayer. The whole town was sflent out

"Why don't you go get the pretty flag down and hide it before they come?" Jean murmured from within the silken meshes of Alice's hair.

In his small mind the gaudy banner was the most beautiful of all things. Every day since it was set up he had gone to gaze at it as it fluttered against the sky. The men had frequently said in his presence that the enemy would take it down if they captured the fort.

Alice heard his inquisitive voice, but it seemed to come from far off. His words were a part of the strange, wild swirl in her bosom. Beverley's look as he turned and left her now shook every chord of her being. He had gone to his death at her command. How strong and true and brave he was! In her imagination she saw the flag, above and torn to shreds by savage hands.

"Wah, surrendert"

night of the dance when they were standing under the flag. "You made it and set it up," he lighty remarked. "You must see that no enemy ever gets possession of it, especially the English." "I'll take it down and hide it when there's danger of that," she said in the same spirit. And now she stood there, looking at the words under her breath. "I'll take it down and hide it. They shan't have it." Mme. Roussillon began to call from the other room in a loud, complaining voice, but Alice gave no heed to her knew, level a large part of the stockquerulous demands.

"Stay bere, Jean, and take care of Mamma Roussfflon," she presently said to the hunchback. "I am going out; I'll be back soon. Don't you dare leave the house while I'm gone. Do you hear?"

She did not wait for his answer, but, snatching a hoodlike for cap from a peg on the wall, she put it on and hastily left the bouse.

Down at the fort Helm and Beverley were making ready to resist Hamilton's attack, which, they knew, would not be long deferred. The two heavily charged cannon were planted so as to cover the space in front of the gate, and some loaded muskets were ranged near by ready for use. "We'll give them one good blast," growled the captain, "before they overpower us!"

Reverley made no response in words but he was preparing a bit of tinder on the end of-a stick with which to fire the cannon. Not far away a little heap of logs was burning in the fort's area.

The British officer, already mentioned as at the head of the line advancing diagonally from the river's bank, halted his men at a distance of 300 yards from the fort and seemed to be taking a deliberately careful survey of what was

"Let 'em come a little nearer, lieutenant," said Helm, his jaw setting itself

He stooped and squinted along his "When they get to that weedy spot out yonder," he added, "just opposite the little rise in the river bank, we'll turn loose on 'em."

Beverley had arranged his primitive match to suit his fancy and for probably the twentieth time looked critically to the powder in the beveled touchhole of his old cannon. He and Helm were facing the enemy, with their backs to the main area of the stockade, when a well known voice attracted their attention to the rear. "Any room for a fetler o' my, size in this here crowded place?" it demanded in a cracked but cheerful tenor.) "I'm kind o' outen breath a-runnin' to git here."

They turned about. It was Onck Jazon, with his long rifle on his shoulder and wearing a very important air. He spoke in English, using the backwoods lingo with the ease of long prac-

"As.I's a-comin' in f'om a-huntin' tuck notice 'at somepin' wasyup. I see!

a fot o' boats on the river an' some fel- it and disappeared. The vision trelers wi' guns a-scootin' around, so I jes' mained in Beverley's eyes forever aftslipped by 'em all an' come in the back | erward. The English troops, thinking way. They's plenty of 'em, I tell you that the flag was taken down in token what! I can't shoot much, but I tuck of surrender, broke into a wild tumult one chance at a buck Indian out yan- of shouting. der an' jes' happened to hit 'im in the lef' eye. He was one of the gang 'at scalped me down yander in Kaintuck." The greasy old sinner looked as if he had not been washed since he was born. He glanced about with furtive, shifty eyes and grimaced and winked waking from a lazy nap. "Where's the rest of the fighters?" he demanded quizzleally, folling out his tongue and peeping past Helm so as to get a glimpse of the English line. 'Where's yer garrison? Have they all gone to breakfas'?"

after the manner of an animal just

The last question set Helm off curs ing and swearing in the most melodramatic rage.

Oncle Jazon turned to Beverley and said in rapid French, "Surely the man's not going to fight those fellows you-Beverley nodded rather gloomily.

"Well," added the old man, fingering his rifle's stock and taking another glance through the gate, "I can't shoot wo'th a cent, bein' sort o' nervous like, but I'll stan' by ye awhile jes' for luck. I might accidentally hit one o' 'em."

When a man is truly brave himself there is nothing that touches him like an exhibition of absolutely unselfish gameness in another. A rush of admiration for Oncle Jazon made Beverley feel like hugging him. Meantime the young British officer showed a flag of truce and, with a file of men, separated himself from the line, now stationary, and approached the stockade. At a bundred yards he halted the file and came on alone, waving the white clout. He boldly advanced to within easy speaking distance and shouted:

"I demand the surrender of this

"Well, you'll not get it, young man!" roared Helm, his profamity well mixed in with the words. "Not while there's a man of us left!"

"Ye'd better use sof' soap on 'im, cap'n," said Oncle Jazon in English. "Cussin' won't do no good." While he spoke he rubbed the doughty captain's arm and then patted it gently.

Helm, who was not baif as excited as he pretended to be, knew that Oncle Jazon's remark was the very essence of wisdom, but he was not yet ready for the diplomatic language which the old trooper called "soft soap."

"Are you the British commander?" he demanded. "No," said the officer, "but I speak

"Not to me, sir. Tell your command-

That ended the conference. The young officer, evidently indignant, strode back to his line, and an hour later Hamitton himself demanded the unconditional surrender of the fort and

"Fight for it!" Helm stormed forth.

"We are soldfers!" Hamilton held a confat with his officers, while his forces, under cover of Jean without seeing him, and repeated the town cabins, were deploying so as to form a half circle about the stockade. Some artillery appeared and was planted directly opposite the gate, not three hundred yards distant. One blast of that battery would, as Helm well

> "S'posin' I hev' a cannon, too, seein' it's the fashion," said Oncle Jazon. "I can't shoot much, but I might skeer 'em. This little one 'll do me."

He set his rifle against the wall, and with Beverley's help rolled one of the swivels alongside the guns already in position.

In a few minutes. Hamilton returned under theiwhite flag and shouted: "Upon what terms will you surren-

"All the honors of war." Helm firmly replied. "It's that or fight, and I don't care whichi"

Hamilton half turned away, as if done with the parley, then facing the fort again be said: "Very well, sir. Hault down your

Helm was dumfounded at this prompt acceptance of his terms. Indeed the incident issunique in history.

As Hamilton-spoke, he very naturally glanced up to where la banniere d'Alice Roussillon waved brilliantly. Some one stood beside it on the dilapidated roof of the old blockhouse and was al ready taking it from its place. His aid Captain Farnsworth, saw this, and the vision made his heart draw in asstrong hot flood. It was a girl in short skirts and moccasins, with a fur'h sed on her head, her face, thrillingly beaut ful, set around with fluffs of wind blown like a lion's. "When we shoot we want brown gold hair. Itama worth your too young to be critical and too old to let his eyes/deceive him. Every d tail of the finetsketch, with its stad blue background of sky, flashed to his mind, sharp cut as a cameo. I involuntarily he > took off his hat. Alice had come in thy very of the postern. Sie mount di chine montunobserved, and made her tway to the flag just at the moment exhen lielm, glad at heart tomccopt the easies. Way out of a tight place, asked Ducle Jazon to lower it. Beverley was tthinking; of Alice, and when he looked up he could scarcely realize that he saw her. Buttthe whole situation was phain the instant; she snatched the staff from its place, for he, too, recollected what she, had said at the river house. Thet memory and the present scene blended perfectly during the fleeting instant that she was visible. He saw that Alice was smiling somewhat as in there most mischievous moods, and when she jerked the staff from its fastening she lifted it high and waved it once twice thrice definitive toward the British itnes then con squatting behind the little swivel, fled down the ragged roof subper with sand the region of the little swivel, just what Alice was doing, for he knew her nature and could read her face. His blood effervescedt in antinstant.

"VivetZhorzh Vasinton! Vivetla banniere d'Alice Roussillon!" he screamed, waving his disreputable cap round his cannon ball hit that English command scalpless head. "Hurrah for George er right in the face, he looked so arro Washington. Hurrah for Alice Rous-

It was all over soon. Helm surrendered himself and Beverley with full honors. As for Oncle Jazon, he disappeared at the critical moment. It was not just to his mind to be a prisoner of war, especially under existing conditions, for Hamilton's Indian allies had some old warpath scores to settle with him dating back to the days when he and Simon Kenton were comrades in Kerrucky.

When Alice snatched the banner and descended with it to the ground she ran swiftly out through the postern, as she had once before done, and sped along underscover of the low bluff or Helm. swell which, terracelike, bounded the flat "bottom" lands southward of the stockade. Shetkept on until she reach-

She lifted it high and waved it. edia point opposite Father Beret's hut, to which she then ran, the dlag streaming bravely behind her in the wind, her/heart beating time to her steps. Ittwas plainly a great surpuse to Father \Beret, who looked up from his er that I will hear what he has to say prayer when she rushed in, making a full liberty, on parole of honor not to from his own-mouth. No understrapper startling clatter, the loose puncheons shaking dogether under her reckless

"Oh, father, here it is! Hide, It; hide it, quick!"

She thrust the flag toward him. "They shall not have it! They shall never have it!"

He opened wide his shrewd, kindly eyes, but did not fairly comprehend her

She was panting, half laughing, half crying. Her hair, wildly disheveled, hung in glorious ma. see over her shoulders. Her face bean ad triumphantly. "They are taking the fort," she breathlessly added, again are ag the dag upon him. "They're goings a, but I got this and ran away with it. Hide it, father; hide it, quick, quick, before they come!" The daring light in her eyes, the witching play of heree mples, the madcap air intensified by nor attinude and the exclosing of the leter overelse just ended an action of a midel of priest strangely. Involuntarily he crossed thimself, astif against a dangerous charm. "Mon Dieu, Father Beret!" she exclaimed, with impatience. "Haven't ed as duplicity in M. Roussillon's conyou a grain of sense left? Take this duct. flag and hide it, I tell you! Don't stay there gazing and blinking. Here, quick! They saw me take it; they may be following me. Hurry, thide it somewhere!" He comprehended now, rising from his knees with a queer smile broadening on his face. She put the banner into his hands and gave him a gentle push. "Hide it, I tell you; hide it, you dear old goose!" Without speaking he turned the staff over and over in his hand until the flag was closely wrapped around it; then, stooping, he lifted a puncheon and with it covered the gay roll from sight. Alice caught him in her arms and kissed him vigorously on the cheek.

Her warm lips made the spot tingle. "Don't you dare to let any person have it! It's the flag of George Washington."

She gave him a strong squeeze. He pushed her from him with both hands and hastily crossed himself, but his eyes were laughing. "You ought to have seen me. I waved the flag at them-at the English-and one young officer took off his hat to me! Oh, Father Beret, it was like what is in a novel. They'll get the fort. but not the banner, not the banner!

I've saved it, I've saved it!" Her enthusiasm gave a splendor to her countenance, heightening its riches of color and somehow adding to its natural girlish expression an audacious sweetness. The triumphant success of her undertaking lent the dignity of conscious power to her look, a dignity which always sits well upon a young and somewhat immaturely beautiful face. Father Beret could not resist her fervid eloquence, and he could not run away from her or stop up his ears while she went on. So he had to laugh when she said:

"Oh, if you had seen it all you would have enjoyed it. There was Oncle Jacon squatting behind the little swivel, tenante Bewerley, holding, their burnin sticks over the big cannon ready t shoot, allfor them so intent that the didn't see me, and yonder came the English officer and his army agains Oncle Jazon intuitively understood the three. When they got close to th gate the officer cried out, 'Surrender and then Captain Helm yelled back 'Blessed if I do! Come another stel and I'll blow you all to hades in a sec ond!' I was mightily in hopes that they'd come on. I wanted to see ! gant."

Father Beret shook his head and tried to look disapproving and solemn. Meantime down at the fort Hamilton was demanding the flag. He had seen Alice take it down and supposed that it was lowered officially and would be turned over to him. Now he wanted to handle it as the best token of his bloodless but important victory.

"I didn't order the flag down until after I had accepted your terms," said Helm, "and when my man started to obey we saw a young lady snatch it and run away with it." "Who was the girl?"

"I do not inform on women," said

Hamilton smiled grimly, with a vexed look in his eyes, then turned to Captain Farnsworth and ordered him to bring up M. Roussillon, who when he appeared still had his hands tied together.

"Tell me the name of the young woman who carried away the flag from the fort. You saw her; you know every soul in this town. Who was it,

It was a hard question for M. Roussillon to answer. Although his humiliating captivity had somewhat cowed him, still his love for Alice made it impossible for him to give the information demanded by Hamilton. He choked and stammered, but finally managed to say:

"I assure you that I don't know-1 didn't look-I didn't see-it was too far off for me to-I was somewhat excited-I"-

"Take him away. Keep him securely bound," said Hamilton, "Confine him. We'll see how long it will take to refresh his mind. We'll puncture the big wind bag."

While this curt scene was passing

the flag of Great Britain rose over the fort to the lusty cheering of the victorious soldiers. Hamilton treated Helm and Beverley with extreme courtesy. He was a soldier-gruff, unscrupulous and cruel to a degree, but he could not help admiring the daring behavior of these two officers who had wrung from him the best terms of surrender. He gave them attempt escape or to aid in any way an enemy against him while they were prisoners. Nor was it long before Helm's genia and sociable disposition won the Englishman's respect and confidence to such an extent that the two became al most inseparable companions, playing cards, brewing toddies, telling stories and even shooting deer in the woods together, as if they had always been the best of friends. Hamilton did not permit his savage allies to enter the town, and he immediately required the French inhabitants to swear allegiance to Great Britain. which they did with apparent heartiness, all save M. Roussillon, who was kept in close confinement and bound like a felon, chafing lugubriously and wearing the air of a martyr. His prison was a little log pen in one corner of the stockade, much open to the weather, its gaping tracks giving him a dreary view of the frozen landscape all these and more, affected the good | through which the Wabash flowed in a broad, steel gray current. Helm, who really liked him, tried in vain to procure his release, but Hamilton was inexorable on account of what he regard-

"No: I'll let him reflect," he said "There's nothing like a little tyranny to break up a bad case of self importance. He'll soon find out that he has overrated himself."

TO BE CONTINUED]

SHORTHAND

A valuable accomplishment every young man and Learn it Here We teach all business branches. Correct methods. Large patronage. Enter any time. GOOD BOARD FOR $1.75 A WEEK, Write for catalogue. Lockyear's Business College. Evansville, Ind

ALICE OF OLD VINCENNES

By MAURICE THOMPSON

Copyright, 1900, by the BOWER-MERRILL COMPANY

> CHAPTER IX. THE HONORS OF WAR.

ASPARD ROUSSILLON Was thoroughly acquainted with savage warfare, and he knew all the pacific means so suc cessfully and so long used by French missionaries and traders to control sav age character, but the emergency now upon him was startling. It confused him. The fact that he had taken a solemn oath of allegiance to the American government could have been pushed aside lightly enough upon pressing c :casion, but he knew that certain confidential agents left in Vincennes by Governor Abbott had, upon the arrival of Helm, gone to Detroit, and of course they had carried thither a full report of all that happened in the Church of St. Xavier when Father Gibault called the people together, and at the fort when the British flag was hauled down and la banniere d'Alice Roussillon run up in its place. His expansive imagination did full credit to itself in exaggerating the importance of his part in handing the post over to the rebels. And what would Hamilton think of this? Would be consider it treason? The question certainly bore a tragic suggestion.

M. Roussillon lacked everything of being a coward, and treachery had no rightful place in his nature. He was, however, so in the habit of fighting windmills and making mountains of molehills that he could not at first glance see any sudden presentment with a normal vision. He had no love for Englishmen, and he did like Americans, but he naturally thought that Helm's talk of fighting Hamilton was, as his own would have been in a like case, talk and nothing more. The fort could not hold out an hour, he well knew. Then what? Ah, he but too well realised the result.

Resistance would inflame the English soldiers and madden the Indians. There would be a massacre, and the belts of savages would sag with bloody scalps. He shrugged his shoulders and felt a chill creep up his back.

The first thing M. Roussillon did was to see Father Bezet and take counsel of him; then he hurried home to dig a great pit under his kitchen floor in which he buried many bales of fur and all his most valuable things. He worked like a giant beaver all night long. Meantime Pather Beret went about over the town quietly netifying the inhabitants to remain in their houses until after the fort should surrender, which, he was sure, would happen the

"You will be perfectly safe, my children," he said to them. "No harm can come to you if you follow my direc-Altons."

Relying implicitly upon him, they scrupulously obeyed in every particu-

He did not think it necessary to call at Roussillon place, having already given M. Roussillon the best advice he could command. Just at the earliest break of day, while yet the gloom of night scarcely felt the sun's approach, a huge figure made haste along the narrow streets in the northern part of the town. If any person had been looking out through the little holes called windows in those silent and rayless huts it would have been easy to recognize M. Roussillon by his stature and his gait, dimly outlined as he was. A thought which seemed to him an inspiration of genius had taken possession of him and was leading him as if by the nose straight away to Hamflton's lines. He was freighted with eloquence for the ear of that commander, and as he strode along facing the crisp morping air he was rehearsing under his breath, emphasizing his periods in tragic whispers with sweeping gestures and liberal facial contortions. So absorbed was he in his oratorical soliloouy that, he forgot due military precaution and ran plump into the face of a savage picket guard, who, without repage for the great M. Roussillon's dignity, sprang up before him, grunted cavernously, flourished a tomahawk and spoke in excellent and exceedingly

"Wah, surrender!" It is probable that no man ever com-Hed with a modest request in a more octle spirit than did M. Roussillon upon that occasion. In fact, his promptness must have been admirable, for the savage grunted approval and straightway conducted him to Hamilon's headquarters on a batteau in the ruttural Indian:

The British commander, a hale man at sandy complexion and probably uner middle age, was in no very pleasant humor. Some of his orders had been misunderstood by the chief of his Indian allies, so that a premature exposure of his approach had been made the enemy.

Well, sir, who are you?" he gruffly aded when M. Roussillon loomed

Gaspard Rousellon, the mayor ennes," was the lufty reply. "I come to announce to you officially t my people greet you loyally and nat my town is treety at your command." He feit as important as if his "Humph! There to ts tt?. Other

Mr. Mayor, you have my congratumtions, but I should prefer seeing the military commander and accepting his surrender. What account can you give me of the American forces, their number and condition?"

M. Roussillon winced, inwardly at least, under Hamilton's very undeferential air and style of address. It piqued him cruelly to be treated as a person without the slightest claim to respect. He somehow forgot the rolling and rhythmic eloquence prepared for the occasion.

"The American commander naturally would not confide in me, M. le Gouverneur; not at all. We are not very friendly. He ousted me from office, he offended me"- He was coughing and stammering.

"Oh, thunder! What do I care? Answer my questions, sir!" Hamilton gruffly interrupted. "Tell me the number of American troops at the fort, sir."

"I don't know exactly. I have not had admittance to the fort. I might be deceived as to numbers. But they're strong, I believe, M. le Gouverneur; at least they make a great show and much notse."

Hamilton eyed the huge bulk before him for a moment, then, turning to a subaltern, said:

"Place this fellow under guard and see that he doesn't get away. Send word immediately to Captain Farnsworth that I wish to see him at once."

The interview thereupon closed abruptly. Hamilton's emissaries had given him a detailed account of M. Roussillon's share in submitting Vincennes to rebel dominton, and he was not in the least inclined toward treating him graciously.

"I would suggest to you, M. le Gouverneur, that my official position demands"- M. Roussillon began. But he was fastened upon by two guards, who roughly hustled him aft and bound him so rigidly that he could scarcely move finger or toe.

Hamilton smiled coldly and turned to give some orders to a stalwart, ruddy young officer who in a canoe had just rowed alongside the batteau.

"Captain Farnsworth," he said, acknowledging the military salute, "you will take fifty men and make everything ready for a reconnoissance in the direction of the fort. We will move down the river immediately and choose a place to land. Move live'y! We have no time to lose."

In the meantime Beverley slipped away from the fort and made a hurried call upon Alice at Roussillon place. her imagination she saw the flag, above There was not much they could say to him, saw him die like a panther at each other during the few moments at bay, saw the gay rag snatched down command. Alice showed very little and torn to shreds by savage hands. excitement. Her past experience had it was the tragedy of a single moment fortified her against the slarms of enacted in a flashlight of anticipation.

ley demanded in sheer despair. He was not able to see any gleam of hope out of the blackness which had fallen around him and into his soul.

"What shall you do?" he repeated. "Take the chances of war," she said, smiling gravely. "It will all come out well, no doubt.' "I hope so, but-but I fear not." His face was gray with trouble 'Helm is determined to fight, and that means"-"Good!" she interrupted, with spirit. "I am so glad of that. I wish I could go to help him. If I were a man I'd love to fight. I think it's just delight-

"But it is reckless bravado. It is worse than foolishness," said Beverley, not feeling her mood. "What can two or three men do against an army?"

"Fight and die like men," she reptied, her whole countenance lighting up. "Be herotel" "We will do that, of course. We-I do not fear death, but you-you"-His voice choked him. A gunshot rang out clear in the distance, and he did not finish speaking.

"That's probably the beginning," he added in a moment, extending both hands to her. "Goodby. I must hurry to the fort. Goodby."

She drew a quick breath and turned so white that her look struck him like a sudden and hard blow. He stood for a second, his arms at full reach, then: "My God, Alice, I cannot, cannot leave you!" he cried, his voice again breaking huskily.

She made a little movement as if to take hold of his hands, but in an instant she stepped back a pace and said: "Don't fear about me. I can take care of myself. I'm all right. You'd better return to the fort as quickly as you can. It is your country, your flag. not me, that you must think of now." She folded her arms and stood boldly

Never before in all his life had he felt such a rebuke. He gave her a straight, strong look in the eyes. "You are right, Alice," he cried, and rushed from the house to the fort. She held her rigid attitude for a little while after she heard him shut the front gate of the yard so forcibly that it broke in pieces, then she flung her arms wide, as if to clasp something. and ran to the door, but Beverley was out of sight, She turned and dropped into a chair. Jean came to her out of the next room. His queer little face was pale and pinched, but his jaw was set with the expression of one who has known danger and can meet it some-

"Are they going to scalp us?" he half whispered presently, with a shuddering lift of his distorted shoulders.

Her face was buried in her hands, and she did not answer. Childlike he turned from one question to another inconsequently. "Where did Papa Roussillon go to?" he next inquired. "Is he going to fight?"

She shook her head. "They'll tear down the fort, won't they?"

If show

"They'll kill the captain and lieutenant and get the fine flag that you set so high on the fort, won't they, Alice?"

She lifted her head and gave the cowering hunchback such a stare that he shut his eyes and put up a hand as if afraid of her. Then she impulsively took his little misshapen form in her arms and hugged it passionately. Her bright hair fell all over him, almost hiding htm. Mme. Roussillon was lying on a bed in an adjoining room moaning diligently, at intervals handling her rosary and repeating a prayer. The whole town was stient out-

"Why don't you go get the pretty flag down and hide it before they come?' Jean murmured from within the silken meshes of Alice's hair.

In his small mind the gaudy banner was the most beautiful of all things. Every day since it was set up he had gone to gaze at it as it fluttered against the sky. The men had frequently said in his presence that the enemy would take it down if they captured the fort. | der?"

Alice heard his inquisitive voice, but it seemed to come from far off. His words were a part of the strange, wild swirl in her bosom. Beverley's look as he turned and left her now shook every chord of her being. He had gone to his death at her command. How strong and true and bravethe was! In frontier life. But she understood and | She released Jean so suddenly that "What are you going to do?" Bever- what she had said to Beverley on the night of the dance when they were standing under the flag.

"Wah, surrendert"

"You made it and set it up," he lightly remarked. "You must see that no enemy ever gets possession of it, especially the English."

"I'll take it down and hide it when there's danger of that," she said in the same spirit.

And now she stood there, looking at Jean without seeing him, and repeated the words under her breath. "I'll take it down and hide it. They shap't have it." Mme. Roussillon began to call from the other room in a loud, complaining voice, but Alice gave no heed to her querulous demands. "Stay bere, Jean, and take care of Mamma Roussillon," she presently said to the hunchback. "I am going out; I'll be back soon. Don't you dare leave the house while I'm gone. Do you hear?" She did not wait for his answer, but, snatching a booditke for cap from a peg on the wall, she put it on and hastily left the house. Down at the fort Helm and Beverley were making ready to resist Hamilton's attack, which, they knew, would not be long deferred. The two heavily charged cannon were planted so as to cover the space in front of the gate, and some loaded muskets were ranged near by ready for use. "We'll give them one good blast," growled the captain, "before they overpower us!"

Beverley made no response in words, but he was preparing a bit of tinder on the end of a stick with which to fire the cannon. Not far away a little heap of logs was burning in the fort's area.

The British officer, already mentioned as at the head of the line advancing diagonally from the river's bank, halted his men at a distance of 300 yards from the fort and seemed to be taking a deliberately careful survey of what was before him.

"Let 'em come a little nearer, lieutenant," said Helm, his jaw setting itself like a lion's. "When we shoot we want to hit." He stooped and squinted along his gun. "When they get to that weedy spot out yonder," he added, "just opposite the little rise in the river bank, we'll turn loose on 'em."

Beverley had arranged his primitive match to suit his fancy and for probably the twentieth time looked critically to the powder in the beveled touchhole of his old cannon. He and Helm were facing the enemy, with their backs to the main area of the stockade, when a well known voice attracted their attention to the rear. "Any room for a feller o' my size it this here crowded place?" it demanded in a cracked but cheerful tenor.) "I'm kind o' outen breath a-runnin' to git

They turned about. It was Onche Jazon, with his long, rifle on his shoulder and wearing a very important air. He spoke in English, using the backwoods lingo with the ease of liong prac-

a fot o' boats on the river an' some fel- it and disappeared. The vision \relers wi' guns a-scootin' around, so I jes' mained in Beverley's eyes forever aftslipped by 'em all an' come in the back | erward. The English troops, thinking way. They's plenty of 'em, I tell you that the flag was taken down in token what! I can't shoot much, but I tuck of surrender, broke into a wild tumult one chance at a buck Indian out yander an' jes' happened to hit 'im in the lef' eye. He was one of the gang 'at scalped me down yander in Kaintuck."

The greasy old sinner looked as if he had not been washed since he was stant born. He glanced about with furtive, shifty eyes and grimaced and winked after the manner of an animal just waking from a lazy nap.

"Where's the rest of the fighters?" he demanded quizzically, folling out his tongue and peeping past Helm so as to get a glimpse of the English line. "Where's yer garrison? Have they all gone to breakfas'?"

The last question set Helm off cursing and swearing in the most melodramatic rage.

Oncle Jazon turned to Beverley and said in rapid French, "Surely the man's not going to fight those fellows you-

Beverley nodded rather gloomily. "Well," added the old man, fingering his rifle's stock and taking another glance through the gate, "I can't shoot wo'th a cent, bein' sort o' nervous like, but I'll stan' by ye awhile jes' for luck.

I might accidentally hit one o' 'em." When a man is truly brave himself there is nothing that touches him like an exhibition of absolutely unselfish gameness in another. A rush of admiration for Oncle Jazon made Beverley feel like hugging him. Meantime the young British officer showed a flag of truce and, with a file of men, separated himself from the line, now stationary, and approached the stockade. At a hundred yards he halted the file and came on alone, waving the white clout. He boldly advanced to within easy speaking distance and shouted:

"I demand the surrender of this "Well, you'll not get it, young man!" roared Helm, his profamity well mixed in with the words. "Not while there's a man of us loft!" "Ye'd better use sof' soap on 'im, cap's," said Oncle Jazon in English. "Cussin' won't do no good." While he spoke he rubbed the doughty captain's arm and then patted it gently.

Helm, who was not balf as excited as he pretended to be, knew that Oncle Jazon's remark was the very essence of wisdom, but he was not yet ready for the diplomatic language which the old trooper called "soft soap." "Are you the British commander?"

he demanded. "No," said the officer, "but I speak for him."

"Not to me, sir. Tell wour commandperfectly appreciated the situation. he fell to the floor. She remembered from his own-mouth. No understrapper

That ended the conference. The young officer, evidently indignant, strode back to his line, and an hour later Hamitton himself demanded the unconditional surrender of the fort and garrison.

"Fight for it!" Hekm stormed forth. "We are soldfers!"

Hamilton held a confind with his officers, while his forces, under cover of the town cabins, were deploying so as to form a half circle about the stockade. Some artillery appeared and was planted directly opposite the gate, not three hundred yards distant. One blast of that battery would, as Helm well knew, level a large part of the stock-

"S'posin' I hev' a cannon, too, seein' it's the fashion," said Oncle Jazon. "I can't shoot much, but I might skeer 'em. This little one"ll do me."

He set his rifle against the wall, and with Beverley's help rolled one of the swivels alongside the guns already tim position.

In a few minutes. Hamilton returned under theiwhite flag and shouted: "Upon what terms will you surrender?"

"All the honors of war," [Helm firmly replied. "It's that or fight, and I don't care whichi"

Hamilton half turned away, as it done with the parley, then facing the fort again be said: "Very well, sir. Haul down your dag."

Helm was dumfounded at this prompt acceptance of his terms. Indeed the incident issunique in history. As Hamilton spoke, he very naturally glanced up to where la banniere d'Alice Roussillon waved brilliantly. Some one stood beside it on the dilapidated roof of the old blockhouse and) was already taking it from its place. His aid. Captain Farnsworth, saw this, and the vision made his/heart draw in akstrong hot flood. It was a girl in short skirts and moccasins, with a furthood on her head, her face, thrillingly beaut Mul. set around with fluffs of wind blown brown gold hair. Harra worth vals too young to be critical and to old to let his eyes/deceive him. Every detail of the finetsketch, with its stal blue background of sky, flashed k to his mind, sharp cut as a cameo. I invokuntarily he took off his hat.

Alice had come in thy very of the postern. She mount di chine mooff unobserved, and made her way to the flag just at the moment evhen Helm. glad at heart toraccept the easies, way out of a tight place, asked Dncle Jazon to lower it. Beverley was thinking, of Alice, and when he looked up he could scarcely realize that he saw her. Buttthe whole situation was phain the instant; she snatched the staff from its place, for he, too, recollected what ishes had isaid at the river house. Thet memory and the present scene blended perfectly during the fleeting instant that she was visible. He saw that (Alice was smiling somewhat as in there most mischievous moods, and when she jerked the staff from its fastening she lifted "As I's a comin' in from a huntin' I defiantly toward the British itnes of the consquatting behind the little swivel, and there was Oncie Jatuat police at somepin' was up. I see of shouting.

Oncle Jazon intuitively understood just what Alice was doing, for he gate the officer cried out, 'Surrender knew her nature and could read her face. His blood effervesced in antinniere d'Alice Roussillon!" he screamed, they'd come on. I wanted to see ! waving his disreputable cap round his Washington. Hurrah for Alice Rous- gant." sillon's flag!"

It was all over soon. Helm surrendered himself and Beverley with full honors. As for Oncle Jazon, he disappeared at the critical moment. It was not just to his mind to be a pris- it was lowered officially and would be oner of war, especially under existing turned over to him. Now he wanted conditions, for Hamilton's Indian allies had some old warpath scores to settle | bloodless but important victory. with him dating back to the days when he and Simon Kenton were comrades in Kerkucky.

When Alice snatched the banner and descended with it to the ground she ran swiftly out through the postern, as she had once before done, and sped along under cover of the low bluff or swell which, terracelike, bounded the flat "bottom" lands southward of the stockade. She'kept on until she reach-

She lifted it high and waved it.

edia point opposite Father Beret's hut, to which she then ran, the dag streaming bravely behind her in the wind, her/heart beating time to her steps.

Ittwas plainly a great surpase to Father Beret, who looked up from his er that I will hear what he has to say prayer when she rushed in, making a startling clatter, the loose puncheons shaking dogether under her reckless

"Oh, father, here it is! Hide, it; hide it, quick!" She thrust the flag toward him. "They shall not have it! They shall never have it!" He opened wide his shrewd, kindly eyes, but did not fairly comprehend her meaning.

She was panting, half laughing, half crying. Her hair, wildly disheveled, hung in glorious macket over her shoulders. Her face bean ad triumphantly. "They are taking the fort," she breathlessly added, again are ng the fing upon him. "They're going, a but I got this and ran away with it. !Ude it. father; hide it, quick, quick, before they come!" The daring light in her eyes, the witching play of here implet the madcap air intensified by nor attitude and the exclusion of the leter of ereise just ended, so not in a new of of all these and more, affected the good priest strangely. Involuntarily he crossed thimself, as if against a dangerous charm. "Mon Dieu, Father Beret!" she exclaimed, with impatience. "Haven't ed as duplicity in M. Roussillon's conyou a grain of sense left? Take this flag and hide it, I tell you! Don't stay there gazing and blinking. Here, quick! They saw me take it; they may be following me. Hurry, hide it somewhere!" He comprehended now, rising from his knees with a queer smile broaden-to his hands and gave him a gentle push. "Hide it, I tell you; hide it, you dear ing on his face. She put the banner in-old goose!" Without spenking he turned the staff over and over in his hand until the flag was closely wrapped around it; then, stooping, he lifted a puncheon and with it covered the gay roll from sight. Alice caught him in her arms and kissed him vigorously on the cheek. Her warm lips made the spot tingle. "Don't you dare to let any person have it! It's the flag of George Washington."

She gave him a strong squeeze. He pushed her from him with both hands and hastily crossed himself, but his eyes were laughing.

"You ought to have seen me. I waved the flag at them-at the English-and one young officer took off his hat to me! Oh, Father Beret, it was like what is in a novel. They'll get the fort, but not the banner, not the banner!

I've saved it, I've saved it!" Her enthusiasm gave a splendor to her countenance, heightening its riches of color and somehow adding to its natural girlish expression an audacious sweetness. The triumphant success of her undertaking lent the dignity of conscious power to her look, a dignity which always sits well upon a young and somewhat immaturely beautiful face. Father Beret could not resist her fervid eloquence, and he could not run away from her or stop up his ears while she went on. So he had to laugh when she said:

"Oh, if you had seen it all you would have enjoyed it. There was Oncle Jatenant Bewerley holding their burnin sticks over the big cannon ready t shoot, all of them so intent that the didn't see me, and yonder came th English officer and his army agains the three. When they got close to the and then Captain Helm yelled back 'Blessed if I do! Come another step and I'll blow you all to hades in a sec "ViverZhorzh Vasinton! Viverla ban- | ond!" I was mightily in hopes tha cannon ball hit that English command scalpless head. "Hurrah for George er right in the face, he looked so arro-

> Father Beret shook his head and tried to look disapproving and solemn. Meantime down at the fort Hamilton was demanding the flag. He had seen Alice take it down and supposed that to handle it as the best token of his

> "I didn't order the flag down until after I had accepted your terms," said Helm, "and when my man started to obey we saw a young lady snatch it and run away with it."

"Who was the girl?" "I do not inform on women," said

Helm. Hamilton smiled grimly, with a vexed look in his eyes, then turned to Captain Farnsworth and ordered him to bring up M. Roussillon, who when he appeared still had his hands tied together. "Tell me the name of the young woman who carried away the flag from the fort. You saw her; you know every soul in this town. Who was it, sir?" It was a hard question for M. Roussillon to answer. Although his humiliating captivity had somewhat cowed him, still his love for Alice made it impossible for him to give the information demanded by Hamilton. He choked and stammered, but finally managed to say:

"I assure you that I don't know-I didn't look-I didn't see-it was too far off for me to-I was somewhat excited-I"-

"Take him away. Keep him securely bound." said Hamilton. "Confine him. We'll see how long it will take to refresh his mind. We'll puncture the big wind bag."

While this curt scene was passing

the flag of Great Britain rose over the fort to the lusty cheering of the victo Hamilton treated Helm and Beverley with extreme courtesy. He was a soldier-gruff, unscrupulous and cruel to a degree, but he could not help admiring the daring behavior of these two officers who had wrung from him the best terms of surrender. He gave them full liberty, on parole of honor not to attempt escape or to aid in any way an enemy against him while they wer prisoners. Nor was it long before Helm's genia and sociable disposition won the Englishman's respect and confidence to such an extent that the two became al most inseparable companions, playing cards, brewing toddies, telling stories and even shooting deer in the woods together, as if they had always been the best of friends. Hamilton did not permit his savage allies to enter the town, and he immediately required the French inhabitants to swear allegiance to Great Britain. which they did with apparent heartiness, all save M. Roussillon, who was kept in close confinement and bound like a felon, chafing lugubriously and wearing the air of a martyr. His prison was a little log pen in one corner of the stockade, much open to the weather, its gaping tracks giving him a dreary view of the frozen landscape through which the Wabash flowed in a broad, steel gray current. Helm, who really liked him, tried in vain to procure his release, but Hamilton was inexorable on account of what he regardduct. "No: I'll let him reflect," he said "There's nothing like a little tyranny to break up a bad case of self importance. He'll soon find out that he has overrated himself."

TO BE CONTINUED

SHORTHAND

for every young man and Learn it Here We teach all business branches. Correct methods. Large GOOD BOARD FOR $1.75 A. WEEK, Write for catalogue.

Lockyear's Business College. Evansville, Ind

The Bress.

S. M. JENKINS, Editor and Publisher.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION

| Olumba con | les mi | Latie | | | |
|------------|---------|--------|--------|-------------|--|
| SIMEJE COL | nes m | aneu | ****** | | |
| 1 month, 1 | marifed | to any | addres | S | |
| 3 months | | ** | ** | | |
| 6 mouths | 4.5 | ** | ** | | |
| | | ** | ** | | |
| l year | - | ** | ** | ********** | |
| 6 years | | ** | | *********** | |

will be published free of charge. over 10 lines at 5 cents per line. RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT:--$1.00

EX-GOV. BROWN DEAD.

There passed away at Henderson, Ky., his home, Monday, one of the brainiest men Kentucky which a sharp quarrel ensued behas ever produced; a lawyer of tween him and the manager. At rare ability, a leader of great sa- this point in the game John Frances vicinity, who was last The body is intensely Democra- moved in; Hutch Young moved a peer. John Young Brown, than arm and led him from the room, trying to pacify him. King folwhom no man was better known lowed them out and attacked in public life, was born near Eli- Brantly with a knife. Brantly zabethtown, Ky., June 18, 1835; then drew his revolver and shot 1904, in his 69th year.

1859 he was elected to Congress, tions. but being only 24 years old was not allowed to take his seat for a year after. He opposed "Nonothingism," an anti-catholic moveant. In 1860 he stumped Kentne- ably the fundamental principle honoring Marion Pogue. ky for Stephen A. Douglas for and issue in the canal question. President. In 1867 he was elect- Public sentiment is stronger than ed to congress, and in 1875, in the ever in favor of building an Isthhalls of congress denounced Gen. mian waterway. Of this there is his residence in the Chapel Hill Benjamin F. Butler, which gave him national prominence. He re- no doubt. But when the principle neighborhood last Saturday aftertired from congress and was elec. that "might makes right" is ap- noon at 1:30 o'clock. He was sur- mined democracy swept aside the ted Governor in 1891. He made plied to getting a canal "at any rounded by his family, all of cobwebs of opposition, reorganiz- goose was a plenty. The goose an enviable record as the chief executive. Had he rested on his cost" it puts national honor below breathed his last. Dr. Elder was selves on record for state uniforgravy; we have not felt very we'll laurels he would have gone to his laurels he was a laurely had a laurely had laurely had a laurely had lau reward with the love and confi-situation or to justify the course county ever produced. He was monwealth. Much feeling was dence of all his constituents. His taken will fall flat and fail to sat- born on the John I. Hughes farm, shown on both sides. At one memorable race as an independent isfy the public, which looks to the two miles south of Marion, Jan- time the excitement ran high; first men I ever knew in my boy. candidate for Governor on the gold bug platform cost him many friends, and caused his political star to set forever, although he set forever, and the excitement ran high; the public, which looks to the uary 12, 1819, therefore lacked only three days of passing his by the strong arms of Speaker race with him more than 40 years for only three days of passing his by the strong arms of Speaker race with him more than 40 years for only three days of passing his by the strong arms of Speaker race with him more than 40 years for only three days of passing his by the strong arms of Speaker race with him more than 40 years for only three days of passing his by the strong arms of Speaker race with him more than 40 years to Miss Mary Ann Stinson, Dec. Smithland, Ky.

Smithland, Ky. was followed in his convictions by of national honor and the confi. 8, 1842, (a sister of the beloved that they were received upon the Neighbor Joe Lindsey, who has many noted statesmen. Of him dence of the world? the Courier-Journal says editori-

"He was, in many respects, no ordinary man. A good lawyer, with a strong and cultivated mind, out to ex-President and Mrs Cleve- him. They are J. C. Elder, Jr., As to professions they predomian eloquent advocate, a fearless land in the bereavement which executive, the force of his character, the independence and sturdiness of his convictions, the integrity of his private life and the con be remembered as Baby Ruth of Dr. Elder was a consistent and ber, also ranks the highest in ca. ready. scientiousness and oftentimes bril- the White House, where she was life-long member of Chapel Hill pacity and intellectual for ce. liance of his public service, commanded universal respect from friends and opponents alike."

GEN JONN B. GORDON DEAD.

One by one the links that bind to the other. the past to the present are being severed; one by one the spirits that made history in the memorable "days of the sixties," are passvast unknown.

has now surrendered. John B. past four years, is no ionger con-Gordon, Commander-in-chief of nected with said Society. Please Jesse W. Deboe, dec'd, offer for soldier, statesman and diplomat, George L. Sehon, State Superin-said Deboe, consisting of horses, ded and gone." We shall see if first dose of medicine I took when the United Confederate Veterans, address all communications to sale all the personal property of has been summoned to the final tendent, Rooms 514 and 515, The roll call and all the South is in Masonic, Louisville, Ky.

Gen Gordon died last Saturday night, on his plantation near Bis. York. Why don't our people raise rent farm for the ensuing year. cayne, Fla., his winter home. His more chickens? Nothing pays remains were brought to Miami, better than spring chickens and 2w the railroad station, and taken fresh eggs. Try it. from there to Atlanta, Ga., his late home, where they will lie in state in the state capitol until Wednesday noon, when the funeral will be held.

VOTED DOWN.

Tuesday night, voted down a mo- though it sometimes gives me the tion to grant a franchise to the blues and makes me wish I were Cumberland telephone company, back there again, but at the same which the Press notes with pleas- time, if I did not get the paper evure. The telephone service we ery week I would not be able to have here is the best in the coun- stay out here at all, for I like to try. The Editor of the PRESS know of everything going on. for 15 years has visited semi-an- I certainly would like to put in nually almost every section of a few days skating and trudging Kentucky and has traveled during through the snow hunting, but afthat time a distance equal to quad- ter all this is the finest country in ruple the circumference of the the world for a winter climate; we globe, has used telephones every never see snow except up in the day since they were installed, has mountains. We have all kinds of friends in every county of this and many of the adjoining states whose voices he knows 100 miles and tell you all about the country away over the phone, but at no but can't just now. I am still worplace have they any better service king in the dry goods business than in Marion and vicinity. The and like my place very much. management is clever and accommodating at all times, and we think Marion owes much to them as well as to the foundsr of the lives in, is in the centre of the system, J. T. Alexander. Marion Mormon settlement of Arizona and subscribers have the privilege of a very wealthy portion of the ter- and will be glad to see his old 27 towns and hamlets which are nitory. Otie would better keep on the Exchange. What other his weather eye on those Mormon town has as good?

SHOOTING AFFRAY.

John Brantley Pours Some Lead Into Tom King at Gladstone.

News comes to the PRESS office of a shooting affray which occurred last Thursday night at Gladstone, ten miles north of this city, between John Brantley and Tom King, both residents of that vicinity. As reported to this office the OBITUARIES:-Not exceeding 10 lines facts are substantially as fol-

A ball and oyster supper was in full blast at the time, when Ben King and Hughey Lowey came upon the scene, both pretty well tanked up with Blackford chainlightning. It is said Lowey purchased some oysters which he was accused of not paying for, upon He was a graduate of Center ing out below and just forward of College; in the class with W. C. the ear. The wound, though very

THE PANAMA CANAL.

"BABY RUTH" DEAD.

their first-born, Ruth She will and Miss Mary E. Elder. born when her father was Presiyears was a Ruling Elder in that manry has found that they must drakes; look out for eggs soon. dent. During Mr. Cleveland's congregation. The funeral took not lesve legislation entirely to term of office "Baby Ruth" was place at the family grave yard on others. the idol of the capital, and was the farm Sunday afternoon. Dr. known from one side of the world Elder lived his whole life in Crit-

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

Mr. James W. Gardner, who has ing the earthly veil to enter the been in the employ of the Kentucky Children's Home Society as The greatest of those left to us District Superintendent for the LETTER FROM ARIZONA.

Mesa, Ariz, Jan. 5, 1904-MR. S. M. JENKINS: Please find enclosure, which I owe for the Critten-

I do not know what I would do The city council, at its meeting if it were not for that paper, all return to PRESS office, and no

Yours truly,

["Mess," the town that "Otie" lasses this leap year.—ED.]

HON. M. F. POQUE.

Crittenden county is proud of her distinguished son of the the personal of that body. House of Representatives by be-That national honor and integ. in store for him Crittenden in the old Kentucky home. ment, although he was a Protest- rity be maintained is unquestion- county has made no mistake in The caucus called for the pur-

A PIONEER CITIZEN.

Dr. John Clark Elder died a and lamented David N. Stinson, awaiting shield of another fully as been very sick is up again! who died recently in Illinois,) and determined. for over sixty years they fought The membership of both houses tenden county, excepting a few dal wave of Democracy which rolyoung single man.

SALE NOTICE.

I will on the 15th day of January, 1904, at the late residence of cattle, hogs, corn, hay, farming their comrades of this session proimploments, wagon, buggy, and Eggs are 45 cts. a dozen in New household goods; and will also This January 4, 1904.

Eliza R. Deboe, Exrx.

Lost, Solid Gold Watch.

I have lost my solid gold watch It had engraved on inside of case, "M. Schwab, 1891," and Masonic emblem engraved on back. Ten dollars reward will be paid for its questions asked.

M. Schwab.

and Eye Glass Man

Marion, Ky., until January 18th, his assistance,

OUR FRANKFORT LETTER.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 12, 1904 DEAR PRESS: It will indeed give me pleasure to send you the happenings at the State capital this winter, as far as my duties will allow me to investigate, and my ability to chronicle them go.

One who visits the city in the "off year" would be surprised to see the life that a legislative session infuses into this old town; like the eternity plant, whose sriveled leaves grow verdant, and whose dried petals glow with a bath of warm water, does this le-Solan is announced at the city's

The Legislature is, as yet, hardour remarks this week chiefly to gacity, and a lawyer almost with. Brantley gently took him by the week honored by the Kentucky tie, both in membership and spir- out, Dink Lynn moved in; John it; a great many "has beens" have Swanagan moved out and Mrs. ing elected assistant clerk. There do the will of a long suffering con was a strong fight made for the stituency, who would be fooled no Guess moved out and Tom Sleaplace by four or five prominent more, and I feel that I may safely naker moved in; Joe Taylor mov died at Henderson, Ky., Jan 11th, King, the ball entering the mouth men. Mr. Pogue, however, won prophesy that some wholesome ed out and Jim Minner moved in; ranging around the jaw and coming out below and just forward of the ear. The wound, though very

the ear. The wound, though very

the latter than the fourth ballot, which attests his popularity with the obedient governor will execute to P. Breckinridge, T. M, Green and sevore, is not necessarily danger. public men whom he associates the letter. The future of Kentuc- in our neighborhood and we think Gov. Crittenden, of Missouri. In ous, without further complica- with. As our Representative be ky has never been brighter than there will be more moving still to made an enviable record and we at present, and with justness, firm come predict that he will make a good clerk and that better things are make the fire grow still brighter, pose of nominating a State Librarian and Prison Commissioner resulted in the choice of Miss Paued until a triumphant and deter-the battles of life side by side. excels the former session in being a boy. The heart of all the world goes His wife and five children survive older, stronger and more resolute. the tobacconist; Jos Charles El- nate them: farmers, merchants, der, a farmer; M. A. Jacobs, widow doctors, lawyers and teacners; and has befallen them in the death of of W. R. Jacobs; Julia A. Belt, I find that the farmer element, besides being the greatest in num-Presbyterian church, and for many which shows that the sturdy yea-

We find that but thirty-one Republicans withstood the great tiyears spent in Illinois when a led from the Mississippi to the mountain tops last fall, and the most of those faces are new to me, only Jim Rogers of Christian and Gov Worthington of Greenup remind me of the bygone days; and pleasant remembrance it is, too, his home graveyard on the 10th. for they both voted for the Book and a large crowd witnessed his Bill, and survived the flood, while burial, consisting of kinsmen and fit by their example. The First district delegation make a splendid showing this time and has among its number some whose names will soon be household words throughout our state and nation; especially do we mention Henry Lawrence, of Trigg, Cracken. These men can not fail to succeed, as no more taithful ser vants ever knelt at the feet of a worthy constituency.

again in behalf of cheaper school | Caldwell county. books and longer school terms.

The Gibraltar can beast of more old vets who wore the gray, than any other district. They are Sen ators George and Gilbert and Representatives Clarke. Ray and Da-onlo Republican. You will doubtless want to hear about our member, the Hon. Everett Butler. While he has not yet had the opportunity to show his metal, I will say that you need not have any misgivings about him. but rest assured that your interests will be looked atter; for no in the barn. truer christian spirit resides in The Renowned spectacle the body of any member of either house than he. His Democracy is unquestioned and his loyalty to his triends can not be shaken. Will be at the Cottage Hotel while his devotion to the cause of urday night and Sunday. justice is as stable as the Rock of Gibraltar itself

In the matter of offices the Pen- Sunday. friends or any stranger needing nyrile succeeded in capturing the Fred Hill and little sister Rena speakership, assistant clerk of are on the sick list.

both houses, doorkeeper of senate and five pages.

I hope next week to be able to tell you of the committees and some progress in legislation. With best wishes,

Your servant, MARION F. POGUE.

HURRICANE,

As there has never been any thing from this part of the country I will venture a few things by way of introduction.

The place from which we write is situated near the Hurricane thargie city rise from its long camp ground, and we are in a com slumber and put on the air of a paratively new neighborhood, owcapital city, when the moral of the ing to the fact the greater part of the farms have changed hands within the past year. G. R. Williams moved out, B. M. George ly organized, and we must confine moved in; John Vaughn moved out Jim Hall moved in; Jim Hall movad out and Hayward Coffield

We have a little Sunday school at Hurricane every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, with R M Franks L. A. Weldon, of this place Sun-

On Christmas day your scribe was invited to dine with Mr. and line Hardin and Hon George V. Mrs McChesney, of Marion, and Green, the present incumbents. which I did with much delight But this work was not accomplish. Oh we had such a fine goose for dinner, and what we did for that since; but it was such a rarity.

Mr. McChesney is one of the Uncle Jimmy Lanham's wife has been quite sick but is again pond, and it's got ice on it al-She has ten ducks now. Last year she had two ducks and two With best wishes for the PRESS and its readers, I am yours.

Some grippe in our neighbor-

CHAPEL HILL

Doctor Elder, one of our old landmarks, passed away on Janu ary 9th, 1904, and was buried at first dose of medicine I took when I came to this county thirty years

Miss Mollie Hill from Marion, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Hill.

We note the party at Charlie Clement's on last Thursday night was well attended, and the young and Senator Campbell, of Mc. people all say they had a good old time, with Alvy Stephens at the helm.

The majority of our friends are wondering if Uncle Billy Loyd OUR STOCK Our old friend Rainy Wells has heard of his sack of hickory not lost any of his fighting quali. nuts he should have put on the ties and his voice will be heard Christmas tree for his brother of

> Carson Franklin and wife from Levias, was a welcome guest of B. F. Walker's Saturday and Sun-

The wheat crop in our precinct vis. Mr. Jones of Caldwell is the is looking very sorry, it looks just now that wheat cakes next year will come up short,

> Some few are burning their plant beds preparatory to raising more tobacco, and we can't sell what we have got; still hanging

Mr C. A. Walker, of Marion, is in our midst to see his boy.

Willie Ward and wife visited J F. Bigham of Crayneville Sat-

Eura Bigham and family visited J. N. Hill's Saturday night and

TOLU

Our doctor reports quite a number of cases of sickness in this vicinity.

Bro Givens, wao has the appointment of filling Bro Bigham's place, was here Saturday making arrangements to move into the parsonage the latter part of this

Bro Martin preached at the Presbyterian church in this place Sunday at 11 s. m. and Sunday

Saturday was a busy day in To. lu, all our merchauts doing a fair business.

The river is clear of ice again, but no packets have started out at this writing. They are waiting for the water to get hot.

Mr E. F. Smith, the BIG cash. ier of the Tolu bank, arrived here with his family Friday evening

Uncle Bill Coffield is very low at this writing and not expected to live but a short time.

Curt Hardin and Herbert Chit. tenden spent Saturday night and Sunday in Tolu.

Masters Herman and Guy Babb of Salem, visited their grandpa,

The latest is a 10 pound boy at Walker Hughes'

Buckner Crofts says he did not know the darned old steer was blind when he bou, ht him.

FOR RENT.

The well-known T. M. Glenn farm midway between Dycusburg and Fredonia. Splendid residence and all necessary out-buildings. Two good tobacco barns. Fifty acres for corn and tobacco,

To Whom It May Concern

Box Belt is still agrinning. Its I will not pay any debts contracted by Mrs. Mary A Perry J. B. PERRY.

January 13, 1904.

George Sullenger has a new

The year 1903 is past and gone and the year 1904 finds us at the Old Stand still asking your patronage and promising you it shall be our every wish to please you as it has been in the past, and if good goods. goods, right prices and courteous treatment will catch you then you are ours for 1904.

HANDLE

as good a line of goods as the market affords and allow no one to beat us in prices and weights; having been doing business with you for '7 years we need no introduction, all we ask is a trial and let the balance rest with you.

CONSISTS OF

Sugars, Coffees, Teas, Spices all kinds, Candies, Fruits, Nuts, Canned Fruits and Vegetables, also Canned Meats and Fish, Soda, Soaps, Starch Pickles, Sauces, Catsups, Lamps and Globes, Glassware, Queensware, Tinware, Granite ware, Stoneware, Bacon, Lard Meal and Flour ; in fact every thing to be found in a first class grocery house and re member if we sell you an at ticle that is not good we take it back and refund your money. Don't fail to call on us and bring anything you have to sell, we pay market prices in SPOT CASH.

Yours to Please,

Hearin

Spring and Summer White Goods

WE ARE SHOWING NEW GOODS IN ALL WEAVES FOR AND FOR EARLY SPRING SEWING

COME AND SEE THEM!

THE GOODS AND PRICES ARE RIGHT.

WE ARE THE FIRST TO HAVE THEM!

IT IS A STEP TO THE SPRING SEASON OF 1904

Grand Clean Out Sale of Winter Goods

Buy what you may need, and you will not be disappointed. We are making room by making prices an inducement.

Yandell-Gugemheim Co.

The Bress.

S. M. JENKINS,

THURSDAY, JAN. 14 1904.

C. C. Cook for first-class photographs

Dr. C. A. Powers, the specialist, is at the Cottage Hotel.

business last Friday.

good Photographs at C. C. Cook's. Green B. Crawford, Jos. Guess and Phin B. Croft, all of Tolu, were here in the city last Friday. He is manager House. Our hat is off to Mr. Butler, of a big store there. Rev. Smithson, of Carrsville, was here last week. While here he sold his place in Northeast Marion to J. N. Boston. Preaching Sunday morning at i o'clock at the Presbyterian church, by the pastor, Rev. S. I. Martin. Layne & Moseley, the mule men, were sumptuous Christmas dinner by Mr.

with us again County Court day, buy W. S. Adams, the father of the groom. ing mules and leaving the cash all over

R. E. Martin, one of the merchant princes of Webster county, was here young woman of the Crayneville neigh-Sunday and Monday. He is looking for a location to open a big new store.

Senator Deboe was in Washington, D. C., last week. Few men stand in closer touch with the "powers that be" at Washington than he.

E. P. Stewart, of Owensville, an expert jeweler, optician and watchmaker, was here last week looking for a location to open a new store.

Hon. Eli Nunn, the old war horse of Bell's Mines, was in the city Thursday. Eli Nunn is a representative man, one him like a brother.

Mr. and Mrs. U. S. King are the happy parents of a third boy, born Janunry 5th. Mr. King formerly attended school here, and is now County Superintendent of Schools of Lyon county.

I have rented Mr. Kingston's gallery bring $1,860. S. M. JENKINS, for a short time. Those wishing first-class photographs will do well to call at once. Cloudy weather as good as clear; my work shows for itself. C. C. Cook.

R. N. Grady, of this county, who has large landed interests in the western section, is spending the winter at Tampa Fla. He hopes the mild climate and gulf breezes will be a benefit to his

LOST-Between Marion and Repton on the public road, on Sunday afternoon, January 10th, a sachel containing a dress (waist and skirt) and some handkerchiefs. A reward for its return to Gill House, Marion, Ky. Mrs. John-

Mrs. G. G. Baker, sister of Mr. Gus Taylor, whom she visited Christmas week, is grief-stricken over the loss of her beautiful little boy, six years old, who died a few days after he was here with his mother. Mr. and Mrs. Baker have the sympathy of all parents in this

Harvey Gass and Chas. M. Dillard and little son, Isaac, of Ridgway, Ill., have been visiting relatives in the county this week. They left for home Tuesday morning. Harvey is farming the Standard Oil Co.

The Marion Hardware Co. has se-Robt. Hodges, David Driskill and Will the attention of his audience in a way Browning, and will continue at the that will bring results. The people of same stand to handle all the leading Marion are showing their appreciation brands of farming implements, wagons, of his ability by going'to hear him. The Taylor, and the same for the Backbuggies, carriages, traps, pumps, etc., in house is crowded at every service and fact a first class stock of hardware. the interest is increasing. The Press bespeaks for them a liberal Dr. Travis, of Eddyville, was here on share of public patronage.

Cloudy weather as good as clear for committees, placed Hon. T. Everett Tion, Ky., do ordain as follows:

That Section 1 and Sub-Section C of Henry Haynes, Statutes. 2. Chairman of Educational committee. 3. Mines and Mining. 4. City Courts. 6. Criminal Law. 7. En-John Sutherland, Jr., leaves to-day rollment. To be placed on so many and for Cleveland, Ohio, to enter into the such important committees is a compliment to his ability, and shows at once A. Leonard Grady, of Blackford, was how our Representative stands in the

ADAMS-HILL.

Mr. C A. Adams and Miss Annie Hill daughter of Mr. H. Spillman Hill, went to Princeton on the 24th of last month and were quietly married by Rev. A. J. Thomson at the New Palace Hotel. On their return home they were given a

Mr. Adams is one of the most substantial farmers in Crittenden county, while Miss Hill is a very highly esteemed borhood. Mr. and Mrs. Hill will reside on his farm south of Marion. The PRESS extends congratulations and wishes them much joy and happiness.

On account of the wedding occuring Christmas week, when we printed no a few friends. We extend them conpaper, it was unintentionally overlooked gratulations and wish them much hap. last week, for which we ask pardon.

Splendid Farm For Sale.

farm. Fve rooms and hall in residence.

PRESS Office.

Agency of Bourland & Haynes,

MARION, KY.

Fire, Life and Tornado, Health and Accident, Employers Liability. Steam Boiler, Plate Glass, Etc., Etc.

All business entrusted to our care will receive prompt and care-

The Protracted Meeting.

The Rev. Fred D. Hale, one of the most distinguished divines of whom the State can boast, is in our midst and is Progress vs. Backnumbers .in Illinois, and Mr. Dillard is agent for giving Marion a treat in the way of splendid discourses at the Baptist church. Rev. Hale is forcible and his arguments go to the quick. He is a cured the services of Dan Browning, fluent talker, a fine theologian and holds

CITY ORDINANCE

The Kentucky Legislature, in naming The City Council of the City of Ma-Ordinance No. 2, of the Ordinances of C. C. Taylor, the City of Marion, Ky., be and the same is hereby amended as follows: By Suffrage and Elections. 5. County and striking out the word "fifteen" in line one of said sub-section and inserting in H. H. Sayre, lieu thereof the word "twenty-five," that said section, when so amended, will read as follows:

That the salary of the City Treasurer Jno. Wilson, of said Council be and the same is fixed at twenty-five dollars per annum, pay able quarterly Passed and approved January 12, 1904.

J. W. BLUE, JR., J. C. BOLRLAND,

Surprised Their Friends.

Mr. Albert M. Henry and Miss Lelia James quietly repaired to the Rev. T. A. Conway's residence last Monday eve-

Miss James is the daughter of John S. James and is quite a faverite in her circle. She has many friends.

ting a nice business.

The ceremony was witnessed by only piness along the pathway of life.

A Pleasant Event.

On Tuesday evening a party of young One of the best in the county. 93 people of the Sheridan neighborhood acres on Piney, six miles south-east of quietly repaired to the depot at Marion, all the county is proud of, and we love Marion. Five acres in timber, all ridge where they embarked on the train for level land. Fine tobacco and stock Dixon. Consequences were as follows: On Wednesday evening, December Fine stock barn; two tobaccofbarns; all 30th, at the residence of Mr. A. N. necessary out-buildings. Good well and Stalion, Mr. Henry Terry and Miss cistern and plenty of stock water; good Autie Davis were happily united in the a very enjoyable occasion, and we are fences. $1,500; one-half cash; balance holy bonds of matrimony, Rev. G. W. in twelve months. This farm should Pangburn officiating. After the ceremony and the many congratulations by bowling. the pleasant party who were assembled to witness and enjoy the occasion, all were invited to the dining-room, where was a beautiful and nicely set table filled with good things to eat, which all sumptuously enjoyed.

The bride is the daughter of Henry Davis and the groom is a son of G. A. Terry, all well-known and highly respected citizens of the Sheridan neigh-

Mrs. Stalion, the hostess, is a daugher of G. A. Terry. May heaven's choicest blessings rest upon all parties, and may a long, prosperous and happy life be in store for the young and brave couple, is the wish of A FRIFND.

Fine Farm For Saie.

15 acres in timber; 10 acres in branch bottom; balance ridge land. House of

BOWLING CONTESTS.

"Buds" vs. "Roses."

On Fuesday, January 5th, the Progpoints. The following is the score:

129 166 110 405 135 136 177 157 470 156% 122 161 160 443 14123

691 858 698 2,245 149

Geo. Roberts. 132 134 150

first game excitement was intense-the horns and cheering. The highest scores light of peronnial sunshine and usefulin the insurance business. They repre- of the evening were made by Mrs. H. H. ness, Could you do anything more ing is the score: Mrs. H. H. Sayre, 113 127 112 104 108 125 Rob. Haynes, 91 63

Chas. Moore, 73 77 Rob. Haynes, " C. S. Nunn, 90 87 100 485 490 451 1,420 S. L. Miss Ruby James, 61 96 93 Leaffa Wilborn, 78 80 114 Evelyn Shelby,

" Kitty Gray, 83 100 104 387 428 478 1,283 Difference in favor of M. L. Judging from the enthusiasm, it was sure that in a few months several of the Marion ladies will equal the best in the country in that most popular sport,

Cured Lumbago,

A. B Banman, Chicago, writes March 4, 1903: "Having been troubled with Lumbago at different times and tried one physician after another and then different eintments and liniments gave t up altogether. So I tried once more and got a bottle of Ballards Snow Lini- Love, Robt. Jenkins, Rhea Love, Mary J. F. Price, Marion ment which gave me immediate relief. 1 can cheerfully recommend it and will add my name to your list of former suf ferers." 25c, 5oc and $1.

Pleasant and Effective.

A bargain; would be cheap at $1,680. T. J. Chambers, Editor Vindicator, 112 acres; six miles south of Marion. Liberty Texas, writes Dec 25, 1902: "I three rooms, good stock barn, tobacco bear testimony to the curative powers na, Ala. I had a terrible case of Piles, through the farm. Cistern; good fences. y affirm it is the most effective and the squally good for burns and all aches W. E. Dowell, Tolu squally good for burns and all aches W. E. Dowell, Tolu and pains. Only 25c at Woods & Co's J. B. Dean. Detroit, Texas months.

S. M. JENKINS, Press Office. I have ever used." 25c, 50c and $1. drug store.

Look Out For The February New Era.

extra fine and heavy glazed book paper given: and set up by expert workman, such as J. F. Kemp, Iron Hill Marion alone can furnish. The whole Jas. Arflack, Marion tone and make-up of the paper will be G. T. Belt, Sheridan ress and Backnumber teams met on the enlarged, improved and strictly up-to- J. C. Stephenson, Tolu "alleys" and contested for honors. The date. It will be a courageous paper for R. L. Williams, Tolu game was interesting from the start and fearless people, Chained to no Creed, F. W. Moore, Repton highly enjoyed. The highest score, 184, Tied nor Harnessed to no "ism"-a A. L. Lucas, Repton was made for the Progress club by C. C. Thorough Searcher for all the Truth in E. E. Newcom, Repton numbers by Dr. R. J. Morris. The all its Bearings, Based upon the state. J. F. Threlkeld, Levias Progress club won the game by 107 ment that the growth of man is limit- J. R. Dunn. Salem less and his power commensurate with J. R. Conger, Tennessee 2 3 Tot'l Avrg | the unfoldment of his immence brain T. N. Lowery, Salem capacity, and that he has the innate Mary Lynn, Tennessee 175 170 137 482 160% power to master environment and con. W. H. Heath, Salem quor all things and conditions about Dr. J.W. Crawford, Blandville 1904 12-12 129 184 134 445 14813 him, both high and low. No student of Rev. T. V. Joiner, Marion higher thought movements or observer W. A. Newcomb, Mattoon of modern, up-to-date progress should Wm. Newcomb, Blackford 145 126 133 404 134% be without this educator and race eman. Susie Cole, Ind. Ter. 137 133 103 373 1241/3 cipator. Just the paper for school chil. J. F. Hughes, Mattoon 505 16813 dren. It contains articles from some of W. G. Conditt, Marion the most thoroughly practical reasoners Jas. Paris, Marion 717 734 687 2,138 14212 and logical thinkers of the county- R. J. Nunn, Marion whose contributions will appear in the Robt. Fisk, Marion On Friday evening a bowling contest New Era from month to month—de. J. L. Rankin, Marion took place between five married ladies voted to Higher Philosophy, Health, S. L. Rutter, Marion and five young girls, or, as the women Good Citizenship, Business Success and J. W. Bigham, Marion themselves phrased it, "between the Current Events. Subjects of import. J. W. Trisler, Marion wanted to be married." When the ance in the February issue: Complete W. I. Clark, Smithland games started there were only two men Mastication, The Editor's Interview Sam Binckley, Kelsey in the house who were willing to bet With a Reporter, Those Marriageable D. W. Jones, Tolu against the girls, but at the end of the Women, How to Cure the Blues, The J. M. McChesney, Marion married women were ahead ninety-two Immencity of Thought Power, Sugges. Foster Threlkeld, Tolu ning and were joined by him in the holy by a majority of sixty-one points. Only bonds of wedlock.

| Down and were joined by him in the holy by a majority of sixty-one points. Only in the third did the wheel of fortune | Looking Man's Advantage, (by one of Marion's own Beautiful Women. Can Mrs. S. J. Crawford, Hardesty 1905 1-1 points. In the second game they won tion, Jimmy and the Deacon, The Ugly J. S. Henry, Marion turn to the young girls, they having won you guess who she may be? Subscribe Hull Newcomb, Rodney the last game with seventeen points and find out.) Whoopee, How Good I ahead. It was the most exciting con- Feel, How to Succeed in Society, and J. W. Stephenson, Miss test ever witnessed in Marion, the audothers. The editor would kindly ask J. W. Stephenson, Missouri Mr. Henry is the son of Rev. J. S. ience becoming so enthusiastic that the readers of the Press to lend a help- ing hand by subscribing, and thereby P. E. Shewmaker, Marion integrity. He is engaged with his father borns and chearing. The highest scores light of personnial supplies and professional father borns and chearing. sent some fine companies and are get. Sayre and Mrs. John Wilson. Follow- enobling toward your fellowman than Silas Guess, Marion just this? Let us all band together in J. S. James, Marion making this orphan a great force and E. J. Hayward, Marion power for mental, physical and moral uplifting. Don't miss this great illus. J. B. Hubbard, Marion trated issue for February. It's only 25 R. H. Kemp, Marion cents per year; 3 cents per copy in ad- Mrs. F. Brantley, Iron Hill vance. If you don't want it for a year, Wm. Fowler, Marion send 3 cents for the February issue by all means. Do It Now. You will lie F. M. Davidson, Marion awake all night to read it. Get your Jas. Henry, Dycusburg uncles, aunts, brothers, sisters, friends T. N. Bracy, Fords Ferry

> February you never saw or heard the R. M. Allen, Marion like of. Address THE NEW ERA PUB. CO. Marion, Ky.

For Children Under 12.

from Miss Gwendolene Haynes and Miss C. G. Moreland, Fords Ferry 1904 1-1 Fannie Blue. In drawing the names C.H.McConnell, Shady Grove 1905 1-1 the two answers stuck together and Jasper N. Mullinax, View both were drawn, so both get a prize. Other correct answers were received from Mamie Flanary, Katie Stephenson, D. W. Ralston, Frances Wilber Boston, Margaret Joiner, Mamie S. R. Lucas, Tolu Green, Virginia Blue, Orlin Moore, all A. Jones, Levias of Marion, and Lamar Threlkeld, Tolu. This week's puzzle:

Place the first nine figures, 1 to 9 inclusive, so as to make 15 in every line Loren Boyd, Joy you add them-crossways, catacombed J. N. Boston, Marion or straight down.

No Pity Shown.

"For year fate was after me continuwith pleasure and unsolicited by you, ously," writes F. A. Gulledge, Verbe barn, grainery and all necessary out-buildings. Never-failing spring runs used it in my family and can cheerful-burldings. Never-failing spring runs used it in my family and can cheerful-burldings. Salve cured me. It is

ROLL OF HONOR.

It will come out enlarged from a 12 | Since our last report the following column to a 16 column paper, printed on have paid their subscription to dates

1904 1-18 1904 1-1 1904 1-1 1905 1-1 1904 6-20 1905 1-1 1905 1-1 1905 1-1 1904 1-1 1903 11-11 1904 3-13 1905 1-1 1905 1-1 1904 12-19

1905 4-1 1904 12-17 1904 1-1 1905 1-1 1904 8-13 1904 6-22 1904 2-28 1905 1-26 1904 9-1 1904 12-1 1905 1-1 1905 1-1 1904 11-24 1904 12-1 1904 11-2 1904 11-1

1904 7-4 1904 7-4 1905 1-1 1905 1-1 1904 9-1 1904 1-1 1905 1-1 1905 1-1 1904 7-5 1904 11-3 1905 1-1 1904 11-3 1903 1.1 1905 1-1 1904 10-1 and everyone you know, yes, even your W. D. Johnson, Fredonia 1903 12-3 1904 11-1 great February issue. If you do, some. J. L. Baldauf, Henderson 1904 3-1 thing will break loose about the first of R. L. Chron, Missouri 1904 12-3 1905 1-1 H. Ledbetter, Illinois 1904 1-1 H. H. Mayes, Shady Grove 1903 11-3 D. N. Riley, Marion 1904 1-1 E. Dean, Marion W. H. Wofford, Wash , D. C. 1905 1-1 1905 1-1 C. E. Weldon, Cairo, Ill. 1904 9-1 1904 4-1 E. L. Wood, Mattoon 1905 1-1 W. R. Vaugh, (Dick) Lola

1904 11-26

1904 8-22

1904 11-1

1904 10-10

1905 1.1

1905 1-1

1905 1-1

1905 1-1

1905 1-1

1905 1-1

1905 1-1

1905 1-1

1904 7-1

1905 1-1

C. O. Pogue, Frances T. A. Conway, Marion Jas. Babb, Carrsville Jas. Couch, Rye, Col. Eugene S. Love, Marion H. K. Woods, Marion

J. H. Orme, Marion C. J. Haury, Marion

Crittenden Press 1904-01-14 seq-7.jpg

TOLU.

T. T. Guess fell on the ice, inflicting quite a painful wound on his jaw, and rendering him unthe blamed ice was slick as glass. greased it.

J. C. Wolf passed through this place Monday en route to Illinois, his new field of labor.

Forrest Harris bought 35,000 bushels of corn last Saturday at 40c a bushel. Brown & Bozeman came in about noon and the bid-40c after all was sold.

for four weeks The packets were ent of an automobile full of flowthere came another big frost and tional Magazine. they would not venture out.

P. B. Croft bought upward of six hundred dollars worth of young cattle of Threlkeld and Hina last week.

Deputy's Hicklin and Flanary ily, of South Broadway. were here Monday getting some of the boys ready for court.

Miss Mima Weldon was quite day at Sheridan.

Sunday school at Hurricane every Sunday morning at half past ten, and every one is invited to come and help carry on the good the manufacturers of Wine of and then, he says. By the way edition of their Cardinal Weather he don't aim to live out of doors Chart and Calendar. This Calennext winter if he can help it, and dar with its 13 sheets 13x20 inch. he says he thinks he can help his es, in size makes a bright ornasuits him, and he wouldn't take a on account of the displayed weahundred for him.

to this neighborhood soon, where room as can the colored signal nghe will live the next year.

Wm A Love made a trip to Fords Ferry last Saturday.

The singing at Uncle Gil Threl keld's last Sunday night was ex-

Hurricane the last night of the the popularity of these predic-

this neighborhood last Thurs- 18,000,000 of the Ladies Birthday

Night Was Her Terror.

writes Mrs Charles Applegate, of Al- stamps to the Chattanooga Mediexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get cine Company, Chattanooga, Tenany sleep. I had consumption so bad nessee, Any of our readers who that if I walked a block I would cough | have not secured a copy of the La of Dr King's New Discovery wholly "Ladies Birthday Almanac," Chat Fannie Moss and Owen Spicer. cured me and I gained 58 pounds." Its tanooga, Tenn., or by calling on absolutely guaranteed to cure coughs, the druggist. colds, la grippe, bronchitis, and other throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free at Woods & Co's

We are having some veoy nice weather now.

Mrs. Belle Compton has moved from S. C. Jackson's to the Mott

Chesley Belt, Oscar Harris and Cland McMasters, have gone to Arkansas to seek their fortunes in foreign lands as tie hacks. Our best wishes go with them.

Mrs Ollie Hughes who has been confined to her room for some time is improving.

Mrs Martha Hardesty, of near Hardesty, Ky., is visiting her daughter, Mrs Mollie Tackwell, near Irma.

Catherine Tackwell and brother attended the pound supper at Sam mie Sullenger's last Tuesday night.

The party at Luther Hardesty's last Wednesday night was greatly enjoyed by the young folks, especially by Deller and Bartley.

Lawrence Tackwell and Miss Birdie Spees, Henry Sullenger and Miss Roxie Crawford, attended the pound supper at Sammie Sullenger's last week.

Our Ollie in Washington.

We have had no mail by river gressmen, and he was the recipito start out Monday morning, but ers on making his debut .- Na-

MISS SUSIE GILBERT.

Dr. W. H. Crawford, of the Lou isville College of Dentistry, is the guest of Mr. R H. Dean and fam-

Miss Susie Gilbert, of the State College, returned to her home in Marion, Ky., to spend the rest of ill for several days the past week, the holidays, after a pleasant visit but is much improved at this wri- to friends in Louisville. She expects to return Saturday to Lex-Charles Minner spent Christms ington to resume her studies .-Lexington Leader.

The Weather Calendar.

The Chattanooga Medicine Co. Cardui, and Thedford's Black Leslie Love is buying a dog now Draught have just issued the 1904 ment for the wall and is a useful J. W. Sherer says old Dick just acquisition in any home or office ther predictions. The prominent Uncle Tom Threlkeld will move numbers can be read across a large ures showing the weather conditions for each day. These weather signals illustrate the forecasts of Prof Andrew J. Devoe, who achie ved great prominence by his accurate predictions of the great Galveston, St. Louis and Minnesota The congregation was small at storms and cyclones. So great is tions that they are printed in 2,-Eb Sullenger passed through 500,050 of these calendars and in Almanacs, which is issued by the Chattanooga Medicine Co. each year. We understand a copy of this weather chart and calendar "I would cough nearly all night long | may be secured by sending 10c in

FEMALE WEAKNESS

FORTLAND, MAINE, Oct. 17, 1902.

I consider Wine of Cardui superior to any doctor's medicine I ever used and I know whereof I speak. I suffered for nine months with suppressed menstruation which completely prostrated me. Pains would shoot through my back and sides and I would have blinding headaches. My limbs would swell up and I would feel so weak I could not stand up. I naturally felt discouraged for I seemed to be beyond the help of physicians, but Wine of Cardui came as a God-send to me. I felt a change for the better within a week. After nineteen days treatment I menstruated without suffering the agonies I usually did and soon became a menstrusted without suffering the agonies I usually did and soon became regular and without pain. Wine of Cardui is simply wonderful and I wish that all suffering women knew of its good qualities.

Treasurer, Portland Economic League

Periodical headaches tell of fe male weakness. Wine of Cardui cures permanently nineteen out of every twenty cases of irregular menses, bearing down pains or any female weakness. If you are discouraged and doctors have failed, that is the best reason in the world you should try Wine of Cardui, page Remember, that Cardui now. Remember that headaches mean female weakness. Secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui today.

There is always an interesting discussion at the opening of every session as to the "best looking conscious for a time. Tall said man" in the congress, and every session brings new candidates for He thinks some fellow must have favor. The "Apolloship" of the Fifty-eighth congress is now claimed by his friends for Congressman James, of the First district of Kentucky. He is over six feet tall in his stockings, is a bridegroom, modest to a fault. Therefore the contest will have to be The Quaker City Self-Filling Fountain settled without any interference from Mr. James. Nicholas Longding was lively awhile, closing at worth, of Cincinnati, is another of the athletic group of new con-

FOUNTAIN PEN PERFECTION

Pen Fills Itself and Thereby Fills a Long-Felt Want.

Free Press.

Any reliable time saver is eagerly elcomed by the modern business man Prebably the most forceful illustration of this condition of things in recent years was the enthusiasm with which the fountain pen was greeted. It seemed to mean the saving of so much time and annoyance for so many people that its sale was simply phenominal But the fountain pen was not by any means perfect and its users soon dis covered that the bother was only con centrated, instead of being dispensed with. The finest fountain pen would write indifferently well as long as there was ink in it, but when that gave out our busy man had to stop, unscrew an inky cap, hunt around for a filler and the particular ink recommended by the manufacturers of that particular pen and so on through a long process of

The manufacturers of the Quaker City Self-Filling Fountain Pen have overcome all this bother and produced a practical writing tool which is as easy to use as if one were simply writing with the filler needed for the old pen. There is nothing to unscrew, nothing to quirt, nething to lose or get out of order. Its construction is simple and substantial and the operation of filling t is so simple that you wonder nobody thought of it before.

It is merely necessary to dip the per pressing it slightly, lift up as usual and go on writing. Its capacity is no less than the bothersome kind.

We feel that we are not over-praising the Quaker City Self-Filling Fountain Pen when we say that it represents the acme of fountain pen achievement.

ACME OF PERFECTION

IN FOUNTAIN PEN CONSTRUCTION Quaker City Self-Filling Fountain Pen

NO DIRT, BLOTS OR SPILLED INK !

dents, school children-all who use a pen!

Only fountain pen that never spills ink, never inks the fingers, needs no filler, can be filled from any ink stand, anywhere! For business men, stu-

COSTS $1.00!

Looks as well : .id works far better than any high-priced pen on the in ...et. Doesn't get out of order, doesn't write by fits ond starts. Built simply and well, lasts long and writes well, lasts long and writes perfectly all the time.

It Cost $3700 to Perfect. Protected by Patents

$1.00 Brings It to Your Door

Money refunded and no questions asked if you are not ENTIRELY SATISFIED. As far ahead of the old-fashioned fountain pen as the modern one is ahead of the quill. No syringe used.

70 Dollars a Gross to Wholesalers

Quaker City Fountain Pen Company, 812 DREXEL BUILDING

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

USED IN LEADING BUSINESS HOUSES ALL OVER THE COUNTRY

Building. Phil, Pa. Enclosed find One

Dollar for which send me by return mail one Quaker City Self-Filling Fountain

813 Drexel

Name Address

City or town State

DR. FENNER'S

Don't become discouraged. There is a cure for you. If necessary write Dr. Fenner. He has spent a life time curing just such cases as yours. All consultations Pres. "I suffered 10 years with backache and kidney trouble. Tried a great many physicians without relief. Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Back-nche Cure is the only Remedy that ever helped | ward off the attack if taken in time; at me and after using only two bottles I feel en- | Woods. tirely cured. Have no pain or ache of any kind, miss ALICE McDONALD, Omaha, Neb."

Druggists, 50c., $1. Ask for Cook Book-FREE

HAMPTON.

his second term of school Monday will risk a few lines for them with after an intermission of a few the Editor's permission. frightfully and spit blood, but when all dies Birthday Almanac can get days, several new pupils having other medicines failed three $1 bottles one by sending their address to entered, among the number Miss

> J. Trace Hardin and Claud train last night, after an absence nessee. of a few hours.

Buris Dunn of this place is vis. ting relatives near Salem.

N. C. Nelson of Bowling Green s visiting friends and relatives ere this week. He gave an entertainment at the school building Wednesday.

Prof Canterberry spent a few lays in Paducah last week.

lays for Bowling Green, where he him, but a Nation can. will enter school.

There is a new pastor in town, surnamed Perryman.

Brutally Tortured.

A case came to light that for persisteen equaled. Joe Golobick, of Colusa, day. cal., writes, "For 15 years I suffered nsufferable pain from Rheumatism. and nothing relieved me though I tried everything known, I came across Electric Bitters and its the greatest mediine on earth for that trouble. A few ottles of it completely relieved and cured me." Sust as good for Liver and Kidney troubles and general debility. Wood & Co.

WANTED-Trustworthy lady or genleman to manage business in this couny and adjoining territory for house of solid financial standing. $20 straight cash salary and expenses paid each Building, Chicago

Just What You Need.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver l'ablets.

When you feel dull after eating. When you have no appetite. When you have a bad taste in the

When your liver is torpid. When your bowels are constipated. When you have a headache. When you feel billous.

They will improve your appetite, cleanse and invigorate your stemach, and regulate your liver and bowels. Price 25c per box; for sale at Woods.

For sick headache try Chamberlain Stomach and Liver Tablets; they will HURRICANE.

As I have never seen anything Prof W. C. Canterberry began from this section in the Press, I

> Health is generally good at this writing and weather fine.

James Wooten is spending the Gibbs arrived on the midnight holidays at his old home in Ten-

Owen Threlkeld of Missouri, is at home to spend the holidays. Burned to the ground and the insurance will not cover the loss, It was Henry Threlkeld's ash hopper that burned, and we understand there was n , insurance. Crossly Murphy visited Fords Ferry Saturday and Sunday, He Ben Scott will leave in a few says that one person can't interest

> This community was well repre sented at Tolu the day before the affected parts. One Minute Cough Christmas, in spite of rain and Cure strengthens the lungs, wards off Surplus 13.500

Wm Love visited relatives near ent and unmerciful torture has never Dunn Springs Saturday and Sun-

> Henry Threlkeld and family vi sited his brother Robert on Sun-

Accept No Substitute.

There is nothing just as good for Malaria, Chills and Fever as Dr. Menden-Only 50c, Satisfaction guaranteed by ball's Chill and Fever Cure. Take it as general tonic and at all time in place of quinine. If it fails to give satisfac tion mail the front of the cartoon to J C. Mendenhall, Evansville, Ind., and get your money back

Strength and vigor come or good food Monday direct from headquarters. Ex. duly digested. "Force," a ready-topense money advanced; position perma-serve wheat and barley food, adds no ment. Address manager, 605 Monon burden, but sustains, nourishes, invigor

B. KEVIL,

and City Judge. Regular term of City Court

first Monday in each month.

Practitioner of the Scientific, Manipulative and Suggestive

Art of Curing Diseases and Deformities

Consultation and Examination Office in Mrs. Ho verton's residence, Marion, Ky. ****************

L. H. JAMES O. W. JAMES

LAWYERS

MARION.

Just One Minute

One Minute Cough Cure gives relie n one minute because it kills the mi crobe which tickles the mucous mem brane causing the cough and at the same time clears the phlegm, cl. are out the inflammation, and heals and scoths pneumonia and is a harm'ess and nev er failing cure cure in all curable cases of Coughs Colds and Croup. One Min old. At all druggists.

MARION. Will practice in all the courts of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Threat

Suite 17 Arcade EVANSVILLE, IND

Dr. F W. Nung Dentist

Office over James & James aw office. Give him a trial, his prices are reasonable and his work first class in even, Marion Ky

A. C. MOORE Lawyer

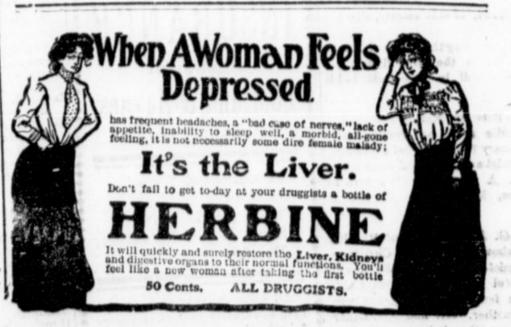

Reems 3 and 4 Bank Building

Established 1887.

Capital fully paid$20,000 Stockholders Liability 20,000

We offer to depositors and patron every facility which their balances, busi ute Cough Cure is pleasant to take, is ute Cough Cure is pleasant to take, is ness and responsibility warrant.

J. W. BLUE, Pro. T. J. ANDELL, Cashier.

STALKS AS FERTILIZER, LETTER FROM J. W. BIGHAM.

A Great Mistake is Made in Selling Tobacco Stalks.

vegetable food, fed back to the land, but such is the fact.

The Tobacco stalk is the rarest plant food, (regarded as waste), and yet seldom utilised to any good purpose. The farmer has no more right to throw away, burn or dispose of his tobacco stalks than he has to treat likewise his barnyard or stable manure. Tobacco stalks certainly belong to the farm Alabama, we enjoyed greatly a viwhere grown, just as other manure sit to the capitol building and the and no planter can haul them away | Confederate monument on Capitol or suffer his renter or cropper to Hill, the numerous old battle flags do so without impoverishing his land that much, and advertising swords and guns, with other relics himself as a poor farmer. There afforded us entertainment while is a time in every farmer's life, as in every business man's career, when he needs an accommodation, died is here preserved, and many a loan to tide over an emergency, and if he is known as a practical, prosperous husbandman he finds no trouble in obtaining the money from a banker or forehanded neighbor, and the farmer who is without this credit owes it all to himself, for his management is closely observed by neighbors as by business men

According to the authority of expert chemists of various State experimental stations, a ton of to bacco stalks shows an analysis which placed the fertalizing proparties of the stalk at $1250 to $17 in comparison to the prices of com mercial or mineral fertilizers, and yet many farmers think it a nice spend a day marketing the load for $3 or $4 and then pay three or four times as much for half a ton of mineral fertilizer to raise another crop of tobacco, when the plant food is the thing needed to produce quality. This kind of a thing makes Jordan a hard road to travel, and yet how many thoughtlessly travel it.

Not long since Secretary Wil Bureau, passed through the tobac for summer and a harvest yet to from stemach trouble." Sold by all co sections lecturing and teaching come the people the character of soil best adapted for tobacco growing. the plant food essential to keep the land open and airy, invigorated by the electric current natural to the plant, make the soil produce 1200 to 1500 pounds of rich, heavy tobacco per acre, instead of 600 to 900 pounds of common churn," is an old time dairy den Calenda, by Albert Bigelow stuff, made by force or over stim- proverb. It often seems to Paine, tells the story of the seculation from the use of costly min eral fertilizers, and, following this, reap 55 or 30 bushels of wheat per acre, or better still, 40 bushels of barley. How many farmers have profited from these val. gain strength and flesh we elle E. Jackson, a writer who is uable lectures and writings from the bureau, facts ascertained; and demonstrated by Costly experimente? Few, indeed, and yet they go on stripping the farm of its scant food, impoverishing the soil, producing common tobacco at low prices. Why not organize farmers clubs and discuss these very important questions in connection with the labor system and find s better way. However, no intelligent farmer should suffer himself to be caught hauling off his tobacco stalks to a cheap market, while they are worth so much to the land .- Western Tobacco Jour-

Not Over Wise.

There is an old allegorical picture of a girl scared at a grasshopper, but in the act of heedlessly treading on a make. This is paraleled by the man pends a large sum of money buila cyclone cellar, but neglects to ovide his family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy as a sageguard against bowel complaints, whose victims outnumber those of the cyclone a hundred to one. This remedy is everywhere recognized as the most prompt and reliable medicine in use for these diseases For sale by Woods & Co.

TALLEHASSEE, FLA., Jan 6, 1904 DEAR PRESS: At 11:45 Wednesday, Dec. 30, 1903, with wife and four children we left dear old Marion, and the number of dear friends who assembled at the de-It is strange that farmers should pot to take leave of us will linger spend a lifetime in the culture of lovingly in memory for years to tobacco, taking out a scanty living come; and as the flying train caring for the leaf and never learn bearing us southward, left each the value of the stalk as plant and familier point about the dear old place father and fainter in the distance, the line of hills, the white marbles in the cemetery, 'silent city of our dead," all faded that is known to the tobacco farm I breathed an earnest prayer to our Heavenly Father to go with us who were going, and to remain with those left behind.

The travel was without unusual incident, and waiting some hours at Montgomery, the capital city of of the Confederates, the rusty examining them. The furniture of the room in which Jeff Davis visitors inspect with reverence these silent, sad reminders of a once illustrious leadership.

Leaving Montgomery at 8 p. m. Dec. 31, we reached Bainbridge, Ga., at 2 a. m., Jan. 1st, 1904, and transferred to the F. & G. C. road -reached the capital of Florida, Tallahassse at 2 p. m , Jan 1, 1904 We were cordially received by the ladies of Trinity M. E. church, South, my new charge, and after ity. a splendid dinner provided, consisting of turkey and oysters, celery and cranberries, cakes, Floriday fruits, and superb coffee, and all embelished with choice flowers, the weary preacher and family felt assured that we were among little pick-up when they can pack friends indeed, and a people able Cured After Suffering 10 Years. half a ton of stalks in a wagon and and willing to make their pestor

My new charge, Trinity, is the strongest church in the capital. lars for medicine and with doctors with The Parsonage, newly equipped out receiving any permanent benefit, in every department, and with 10 He says, "One night while feeling exrooms, water and gas, is an ideal ceptionally bad I was about to throw down the evening paper when I saw an preacher's home and we feel inclined to enjoy it. The roses about of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I concluded our door, violets blooming in the to try it and while I had no faith in it, yard, our fig trees budding, while I felt better after the second dose. After using two bottles I am better and the stately pecan trees, lately so stronger than I have been in years, and Ason, of the National Agricultural full of fruit, promise us a shade

The Florida State College, with

"When the butter won't amusements to keep little hands come put a penny in the and minds occupied. A Little Garwork though no one has ever told why.

When mothers are worried because the children do not Postoffice is a cat story by Gabri-

It is like the penny in the milk because it works and because there is something astonishing about it.

a milk of pure cod liver oil styles in garments for them. with some hypophosphites especially prepared for delicate Children take to it naturally because they like the taste al" for 1904, which is a veritable issued by the Illinois Central R. R. and the remedy takes just as mine of information, as far as naturally to the children be- sporting matters are concerned. cause it is so perfectly adapted It contains within a small space Special tours of Mexico and California all the important boxing records, to their wants.

We will send you the penny, I. e., a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 409 Pearl St., N. Y.

LA GRIPPE-PNEUMONIA

So many people who have apparently recovered from an attack of La Grippe are stricken with Pneumonia. This is due to the fact that the Bronchial Tubes and Lungs are left wea' ed and unable to resist disease.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR

not only cures La Grippe Coughs, and prevents Pneumonia, but strengthens the Lungs so they will not be susceptible to the development of serious lung troubles. Do not take chances with some unknown preparation that may contain some harmful drug when FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR costs you no more and is safe and sure. Contains no opiates.

I had a bad case of La Grippe about ten years ago which left my Lungs so weak that I have been troubled more or less every winter since until I used FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR, which cured me completely and my Lungs no longer trouble me.—J. H. BROWNING, D.D.S., Orrick, Mo.

up-to-date equipments, affords the best educational facilities for who attend the services at Trin-

Very cordially,

P. S. Please send me the Urit-enden Press regularly-you have

B. F. Hare, Supt Miami Cycle & Mfg

Co. Middletown, O., suffered for ten years with dyspepsia. Hundreds of dol

I recommend Kodol Dyspepsia Cure to my friends and acquaintances saffering

Stories and Pastimes for Children

The Delineator for February

ontains bright stories and interesting articles for grown people, and delightful tales and other

ond month's development of a garden belonging to two very interesting children. It is instructive as well as entertaining. Tommy

A Reliable Sporting Journal.

ted in four colors. The price is

WANTED-Faithful person to travel for well established house in a few counties, calling on retail merchants and agents. Local territory. Salary $20.00 per week with expenses additional, all payable in cash each week. Money for only 10 cents.

J. W. BIGHAM.

More anon.

ny address.

The goc bottles contain two and one-half times as much as the small size and the $1.00 bottles almost six times as much.

SOLD AND RECOMMENDED BY

R. F. HAYNES LEADING DRUGGIST, MARION, KY,

our children, and my church, a modern brick structure with capacity for five or six hundred, a pipe Pros. Evans, organ, pianos, cabinet organ, cornet and violin, with the finest choir in the city, will inspire the preacher with laudable aims, and contribute largely to the pleasure and profit of the large number Reading and Recital!

Friday, January 22, 1904

AT 7 O'CLOCK P. M., AT

Crayneville, Kentucky,

IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOL BUILDING.

Crayneville and vicinity will have the pleasure of hearing Prof. Charles Evans in his inimitable Readings and Recitations. We hope all will avail themselves of this privilege.

Admission 25 Cents

Children 15 Cents.

Special Family Rates.

ANNOUNCEMENTS! ILLINOIS CENTRAL R. R.

Direct to Havana

Via Illinois Central R. R. to New Orsay give them Scott's Emul- dear to the hearts of young folks. leans and the weekly Southern Pacific Then Line Beard tells how to S.S., "Louisiana," to Havana. Leave route in dining cars. Ask for an illus-Chicago and Cincinnati Friday mornbuild a miniature Indian encamp- ing, leave St. Louis and Louisville Friment, and there is a humorous day noon, arrive New Orleans Saturday 10:00 a. m., leave Saturday 2:00 p. m. poem called The Insects' Thimarriving at Havana Monday morning. Round-trip and one-way through tickets blebee. There is other matter in the number that will delight the Central R. R. Illustrated Folder on Scott's Emulsion is simply children, and also the very latest Cuba, giving all particulars, on appli-

Ocean Steamships From New

One of the most complete and Ocean steamship sailngs from New Orraliable books of the year is the leans for Mexico, Panama, Central and Gulfport and the hotel. South America, West Indies and Eur-"Police Gazette Sporting Annu- ope concisely set fort in a special folder via the Illinois Central and New Orleans under the auspices of Raymond & Whitas well as records of the athletic comb, will leave Chicago Friday, Feb-For all weak and pale and world, and as a pocket encyclope- ruary 12, for Mexico and California via dressing the nearest of the undersigned thin children Scott's Emulsion with fine half tons portraits of the day, March 4th, for California via the Champions of the ring, the turf, and the field while the cover is an an and the field while the cover is an analysis of the date of the three transfers.

Mexico-California

New Orleans, including a stop-over for the three transfers in the tra and the field, while the cover is a tire trips made in special private vestibule trains of finest Pullmans, with dinparticularly handsome one, prining car service. Fascinating trips, complete in every detail.

Illinois Central Weekly Excursions to California. Excursion Cars through to Los Angeles and San Francisco as fol-lows: Via New Orleans and the Southern Route every Wednesday from Chicago; every Tuesday from Cincinnati. Via Omaha and the Scenic Route every Wednesday from Chicago.

expenses advanced. Position permanent. Business successful and rushing. Stanoc. and $1.00; all druggists dard House, 330 Dearborn St., Chicago. This occurs at New Orleans on Febru-health. Only 25c per box at Woods.

ary 16, 1904. For it excursion rates will be in effect to New Orleans on spec ific dates which your local ticket agent will be able to advise yon.

New Orleans

A delightfully unique city for the tourist to visit. Winter tourist rates now in effect. Double daily service and fast Bemedy and was cared without having steam-heated vestibule trains with a doctor. I consider it the best cholera through sleeping cars, buffet-librarysmoking car service and all meals entrated book on New Orleans.

The Great Southern Hotel, at Gulfport. Miss., on the Mexican Gulf Coast, has 250 rooms single or en suite, with or without bath. Steam heat, electric light, hot and cold running water, and telephone in every room. Reached via business for an old established house of Memphis and the Illinois Central's fast morning trains, carrying sleeping and buffet-library cars, with a single change, on same train en route at Memphis, into through steeping car to Gulfport. Send for illustrated folder describing Hot Springs, Ark.

Direct Pullman Sleeping Car Service via Memphis. Send for book describing this most interesting of health and Full Particulas above can be had of agents of the Illinois Central, or by ad-

A. H. HANSON, G. P. A., Chicago.

JNO. A. SCOTT. A. G. P. A., Memphis.

Working Night and Day.

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr Kings New Life Pills. These pills change weakness into strength listlessness into energy, brein-fag into mental powe Trey're wonderful in building up the Dysintery Cured.

"I am just up from a hard spell of the flux," dysentery, says Mr T A Pinner, a well known merchant of Drummond, Tenn., "I used one small bottle Chamberlain's Colic, Cholero and Diarrhea medicine in the world.' There is no need of employing a doctor when this remedy is used, for no doctor can prescribe a better medicino for the bowel complaint ih any form either for childdren or adults. Never fails and is pleasant to take. At Woods.

WANTED:-A trustworthy gentle man or lady is each county to manage solid financial standing. A straight, bona fide weekly salary of $18 paid by check each Monday with all expenses direct from headquarters. Money ad vanced for expenses. Enclosed address ed envelope. Manager, 360 Caxton Bldg

THOUSANDS SAVED BY

This wonderful medicine positively cures Consumption, Coughs Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Pneumonia, Hay Fever, Pleurisy, La-Grippe, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Croup and Whooping Cough. Every bottle guaranteed. Cure. No Pay. Price 50c. &$1. Trial bottle free.

NEW SALEM.

Mrs. Mary Taylor, widow of E. H Taylor, is quite sick at the residence of her son, William night.

A great deal of complaining is being done in nearly every family odist church Sunday, Jan 17th. -mostly gripp.

51 inch ice.

Lawson Franklin moved last week to the Mills place near Saneighbor, Sheard Hale will move to the farm vacated by Lawson Franklin.

Times seem to be getting a little closer every day on the farmer, especially those depending on a tobacco crop. From present prospects the 1904 orop of tobacco will be the shortest since the war, as about the twentieth man has with his children in Marion. burned beds and sown seed.

in 20 years, it does indeed look night for visit to Paducah. rather blue for the farmer. Now, if our mining interests should from our landing last week. come to a standstill it would cause harder times in our county than Charles contemplates removing to we have seen since the war, but Tilene, Livingston county, and closing, but from present indica- chase his town property here and be on a larger and better paying Chas Brazier. It is also reported basis during the present year than that Yancey Bros. will erect a fine ever before.

Boaz will be remembered by Bank block. many of our older citizens, as she and her husband, William Boaz, acres lie just across the Cumber-(more familiarly known as Buck) land, is negotiating for the pur- day. borhood, Mr. Boaz having been burg. A trade is pending be church. Mrs. Boaz had many for the purchase of Mr. Cassidy's friends in this section.

ily last Sunday.

John Harpending came over from the Flanery mines Saturday night and spent Sunday with his father's family, returning to the dren in this vicinity. mines Sunday evening.

the Press, in its last issue, has to city hall. say about turnpikes. We have always advocated turnpikes in our & Co. had a meeting with their county. We look at it in this creditors to adjust financial diffilight: First, what would be the culties. increase in value of every foot of real estate in the county? Not only would the increasebe in real estate, but also in personal property. Second, how many dollars would leave the county that was paid for the building? Look today at our county, since the railroad was built, but the building of a pike differs greatly from the building of a railroad. While in the construction of a railroad 3.5 of the money goes out of the county never to return, while to build a turnpike there need not one cent leave the county. All of sipelas. the material necessary to put a turnpike in operation we have in abundance, and near most of the roads that would be built. Then again, the construction of the road would give employment to all the spare teams and men. So you see at a glance that the county is in feeble health. loses nothing, but gains in wealth; not only to the present generation, but to our children and our children's children. We have almost seen our three-score years, Mr. Editor, and know that according to nature we would be benefitted but a few years by the road, but we want to have times better for our children, and we would at his house. say, give us a reasonable tax and build us a turnpike.

Miss Mary Austin returned home Saturday after a two-weeks visit to her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Binkley, of well Pinckneyville.

Heyd & Sisco have moved their well auger machinery from Robt. Mahan's. They drilled a 65-foot well for Mr. Mahan, striking a fine supply of the best of water.

for the big issue of the PRESS, and to friends near Cadiz, came home were right smartly disappointed. Monday; he has to use a crutch but we got a No. 1 copy of the Press, with the promise of the big one later on.

DYCUSBURG.

Rev Cook Kinsolving preached at the Baptist church Sunday

Rev John Fralich will fill his regular appointment at the Meth-

Rev Jos Crow spent several Everyone having an ice house, hours in Dyousburg Saturday; he filled it last week with the finest filled his appointment at Grove Chapel Sunday.

Str Buttroff, unable to make her way to Paducah through the ice lem. Lawson was a good, quite last week, turned back, and some passengers who had boarded her for that city stepped off again at Dyousburg.

Miss Alice Crouch is the guest of Mrs Sallie Robinson.

Bennett Bros will buy tobacco in large quantities this season.

Uncle Henry Mitchell has returned from his extended stay

J. A. Graves, with his niece, With no tobacco crop and the Miss Lilly Graves, and nephew. worst prospects for a wheat crop Leander Graves, left Sunday

A number of ties were shipped

It is reported that Mr. Aaron we see no cause for the mines that Mr. G. M. Yancey will purtions the mining operations will present it to his daughter, Mrs. business house at the stand now Mrs. Hallie Baker received occupied by Bennett Bros., and news last week of the death of that that firm will remove their her aunt, Mrs. Susan Boaz. Mrs. large stock of merchandise to the girl at Gladstone Sunday even-

Mr Pate Wells, whose broad were old residents of this neigh- chase of a house and lot in Dyous born and reared near New Salem tween himself and S. H. Cassidy

Mrs. Eva Eaton and daughter Our new town board, G. M. been here working for Frank Most all of the telephone posts Miss Cleo, of Salem, were the Yancey, E. G. Brown, F. F. Charguests of Esq. Harpending's fam. les, Fred Ramage, J. A. Graves, has been sworn into office before notary public C. L. Burks.

Mrs Greenles, of Paducah, has been visiting relatives and chil-

Some new lamps add to the We notice with pleasure what beauty and convenience of the

Jan. 11th, in Louisville, Cassidy

Flourishing Sunday schools is what Dycusburg has long needed for the training of the youth.

Geo Steel has annexed a handsome tensorial parlor to his post

IRON HILL,

Mrs J. M. Walker has returned from Paducah, where she has been visiting her sister, Mrs Cook.

Mrs T. J. McConnell has recovered from a severe attack of ery-

Ben Drennan has gone to Missouri to visit his relatives and Thos A. Murray visited H. R. Stembridge Saturday.

W. H. Woolf, one of the oldest and best citizens of this section,

Dr W. C. Kemp has gone back to the medical school at Louis-

John A. Wood, of Oklahoma, is spending several months at his old home here.

J. L. Woodsides has a new gir.

G. W. Sutton has moved to the Star community.

Born to the wife of Quincey Wilson, a fine girl baby; all doing

FREDONIA AND KELSEY.

Geo Stone and Tom Ordway went to Marion Monday.

Will Rice Jackson, who was ac-Well Mr. Editor, we all looked cidentally crippled while on a visit yet but is much better.

Indications now are that our week.

obacco men wil begin operations when tobacco comes in order.

Rev Miller filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church Sunday morning and evening.

Several of our boys went to Dyousburg Sunday; they returned

Rev Reid has been very sick but is some better.

L. L. Hill, of Louisville, visited his uncle, Bud Hill, near town,

Mr Will Rice, familiarly known as Grandpap Rice, is very sick, and his many friends and relatives are alarmed at his condition. The barber shop at Kelsey has changed hands and the public will find a neat shop and a good barber to wait on them.

Nearly all the ice houses in our vicinity were filled last week.

Smith Bugg of Morganfield was here last week.

We are going to increase our stock in all departments, so give us a call when in need of any dry to fill his appointment at this kinds of shelf hardware.

S. C. Bennett & Sons.

MATTOON.

Measles are still raging in our

Uncle Joe Merritt is on the sick

Will Fowler and family of Weston were here Sunday. Tom Manley called on his best

Mack Brantley of Gladstone, came over to see his father Sun-

Dr Franklin of Rosebud was in this community Sunday, Owen and Lewis Roberts have the measles. O. T. Fletcher of Blackford has Sunday.

Alvis Newcomb sold a nice lot of hogs Saturday.

Isaac McCormick, Field Crider and Tom Henry have been appoin ton, as it gets between his teeth. ted as a sanitary committee for this community.

Miss Winne Wilcox of Gladstone was here Tuesday.

Field Crider and Dr. Newcom were in the Weston neighborhood Thursday.

through here Saturday.

Frank Hughes, who has been ter service I was driven to the prospecting for mineral upon his home of Mr. Richard Allen where farm, for several weeks, hat uncov a splendid dinner, the cooking Mr ered fine specimens of lead ore at Editor of which would have made a depth of 30 feet. He is operational your mouth water, was waiting, ing the shaft under the direction center of the table. You may waof one of the best minerologists ger your last penny that I did amof Indiana. It is said they took ple justice to that fewl-or at out several large lumps of galena Saturday. Mr. Hughes farm lies one mile south of this place, and is exactly on the county mineral

HEBRON.

Dick Miles spent a few days with friends at Fords Ferry during Christmas. Carl Flanary talks of going to Mississippi soon. Miss Maggie Franks spent Chris mas at home.

Mrs Fanny Cock and children urday afternoon. spent Christmas in the Rodney neighborhood.

Newt Weldon spent several days on Tradewater last week

John Nunn of Applegate neigh borhood spent several days with his sister, Mrs Valeria Weldon, last week.

C. C. Cook of Fort Smith, Ark., is visiting friends in this neigh-

Chas Donakey is fixing to move in town Wednesday. from this section to the Siloam

Sherley Hale, of Salem, spent Springs, has returned home. some days with John Alvis during Christmas.

J. J. May of Carraville was in this section on business a few

R. L. Yeakey of Marion spent some days at Fords Ferry last We Have Just Received a Car Load of

Pittsburg Perfect Woven Wire Fence,

The best on earth. And we are prepared to make you the very best prices. Don't buy your fencing without examining ours and getting our prices.

We have just received a full line of BLOUNTS TRUE BLUE PLOWS and Repairs. We have a full line of VULCAN and OLIVER €HILLED PLOWS and Repairs. We also have the

Studebaker and Mogul Wagons, in all sizes. In fact we have everything found in an up-to-date Hardware Store. We want your patronage and will always make it to your interest to come YOURS TRULY,

COCHRAN & PICKENS.

Our pastor, Rev Given, failed

The river is full of floating ice this week; a few more cold nights and it will be blocked.

Our merchant, Mr. Herrin, is hauling his goods from Marion on account of ice in the river.

BAKER.

E. L. Nunn spent Sunday in Blackford.

C. E. Dye closed his school at this place Friday.

F. E. Davis closed his school at Gladstone June 2d.

Charley Clift hauled a loud of coal to Marion last Friday, notwithstanding the disagreeableness of the weather.

Tom Henry lost a fine mare last Wednesday.

Almer Thurman, of Blackford, visited J. W. Taylor and family have been delivered between Ma toon and Sturgis. Social suppers are very frequent now, but Ed, Mayes doesn't like to have his pies padded with cot-Miss Clara Nunn and her sister

Addie returned from their visit near Owensboro, last week.

Your humble servant was present at the services at St. Vincent Catholic church in Union county Sunday following Christmas. It was quite a novelty to me, it be A M Slayton of Marion passed ing the first service in catholocism that I ever witnessed. They are very devout in their worship. Af with a fine turkey occupying the H. K. WOODS least Mrs. Allen doubtless thinks REPTON.

John H. Smith, who has been visiting relatives in Union county. returned Sunday. Ed Barnett, of Henderson, was in our town Tuesday. G. L. King of Henshaw, called hopes of her recovery. Sunday.

Willie Howerton, who has been sick list several days. n Missouri some weeks returned

Ladies prayer meeting has been charge of the section. changed from Wednesday to Sat-

The Harmon extra crew of this place is building a sidetrack for the 1. C. railroad. the Crittenden Coal Coke Co. near DeKoven.

J. W. Branson returned home Saturday after a lengthy visit to friends in Indiana.

Miss Edith Dalton, of Bordley, s visiting relatives here. Miss Vida Tilford has been on the sick list several days.

Mrs T A Harmon who has been

Mr Cook of Wheatcroft has removed to this place. J. W. Thurman is building an ddition to his residence. Clide Watson, who has been ill several days is out again.

The little daughter of James said to be caused from a frost bite little better.

goods, shoos, groceries and all place the first Sunday in this THE PRESS PRINTING AND JOB ROOMS!

are equipped and ready for all kinds of Job Work

Wedding Invitations and Annouucements, Letter Heads, Note Heads, Envelopes, Statements, Embossed and

> Lithographed Work, Monograms, etc. :: Engraved and Printed in the Newest and most Delicate tints. In fact we are prepared to do any kind of work; our prices are right.

Samples cheerfully sent on application or can be seen at our office.

THE CRITTENDEN PRESS.

Up-Stairs Rear Marion Bank. Rooms 1, 2 and 3, to the Right.

R. J. MORRIS Dentist.

Office over Marion Bank

MARION, KY

J. H. ORME Woods & LEADING DRUGGISTS.

School Supplies, Diamond Dyes, all sizes Glass.

Prescriptions Compounded at all Hours, Day or Night of over a year ago; she is in a helpless condition but there are

Dr H D Roberts has been on last week for Morganfield to take tract with the company was out

Richard Lewis, of Piney, has moved to our neighborhood. He expects to secure a position with

The young people are having a good many parties in this com- rence is a hustler and a business munity, and report a nice time at man. He reports having moved all of them.

Eddie Slaydon of Missouri, bas of the firm will be Bishop & Rice. returned home to visit his parents Wm Pogue of Evansville was, H. A. Slaydon and wife of this place.

> S L Watson of this place has to loose him.

their baby, Tracy, a few days ago, of congestion. There is a good deal of sickness in this community; bad colds are

Mrs T J Ferrell is very sick at

H. A. Slaydon is improving; is able to sit up some.

We are very anxious to know what the telephone company in-John Sullivan, of our city, left tends to do. The two years conon the 11th inst.

> R. L. Foster of this place has gone to Joy to engage in the dry goods business. He has bought a half interest with Henry Minick.

> Lawrence Bishop, of Joy, was in our town a few days ago. Lawinto their new house. The style

A Noted Divine,

Rev Carlisle P B Martin of Waverly, visiting relatives near Blowing moved near Smithland; we regret Texas writes: "Of a morning, when first arising I often find a troublesome Henry Crawford and wife lost collection of phlegm, which produces a cough and is very hard to dislodge; but a small quantity of Ballards Horehound Syrup will at once dislodge it and the trouble is over. I know of no medicine that is equal to it, and it is so pleasant to take. I can most cordially recommead it to all persons needing a medi-Franks is in a critical condition this time, but is reported to be a cine for throat or lung trouble." 250, 50c and 1.00.