WHAT HAS BECOME OF THE SURVEY?

The survey from which we obtained our zinc ore, lead and silver content is now subject to questioning. According to the records of the Bureau of Mines, this property covers an area of 3,500 acres. The survey was made in 1877 and again in 1880, and the property was patented in 1881.

The Bureau of Mines states that the survey was made by A. H. Allen and that the survey was filed on July 12, 1877. The survey was approved by the Commissioner of the General Land Office on April 9, 1880.

The property was patented on June 29, 1881, to the surveyors, A. H. Allen and W. W. Butler.

The patent was recorded on July 10, 1881.

Life's Great Handicap!

The close school room into which children are packed at the period of year makes it difficult for them to develop their natural inclination for physical activity, and the bending position which they assume are potent forces in producing eye deformity.

Don't allow the little ones to start with life's great handicap—poor sight.

I charge nothing for consultation, if glasses are needed I'll tell you, if they are, I will furnish what the child should have at a reasonable price.

Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

The Relation of Religion to This Commercial Age

By Dr. N. L. LUCOCK
Rector of St. Peter's Church, Boston.

BUSINESS is one of the first recorded words of our Lord and Master, who was the Father's business. He hit it to the highest position, where it might always be held. In fact, the first business activities have qualities in them and carry responsibilities with them, which demand that they be done with care and good will. The transaction may be profitable, and seem fair enough, but will God, Almighty, say about it in the end?

The age in which we live is predominantly a commercial age. The services of Christian and business values and the values of the care of our fellow human beings are to be in good degree driven into the channels of business. Man seeks a career in business as the one way to make good in the field of business of the age of political influence. One can dissipate energy by the internal interests which dominated them. The twentieth century was the age of the corporation in which the market and the market test were used. We have not understood that the real business of our world is to make the world a better place to live in. Now, what is it in the relation of religion to this business, this citizenship in the world?

No, it is not the position in the world, but the quality of the person. What is the true meaning of business? Is it to have a new, a sort of culture? Is the goal of business to have a new, a sort of culture? Is the goal of business to do good, to be good, to be useful, to be of service to others?

To have a real understanding of business, we must have a true understanding of the purpose of business. Business is not an end in itself. It is a means to an end. The end is the promotion of the common welfare. The primary object of business is to make the world a better place to live in. Now, what is it in the relation of religion to this business, this citizenship in the world?

An Optimistic Outlook

By Bishop SAMUEL FALLOW

I have been greatly influenced by the moral progress and the ethical development that has taken place since the American Civil War. The ethical development has been remarkable. The ethical progress of the last two centuries has been great. The ethical development of the last two centuries has been great. The ethical development of the last two centuries has been great. The ethical development of the last two centuries has been great. The ethical development of the last two centuries has been great. The ethical development of the last two centuries has been great.
