LITTLETON ON ORACLE'S Дмитровskoe.

Along With Verbalism Appendices.

De George P. Murphy is working on the theory that the John Muir County Hospital is closing down in the near future. "It is too small and too far from the city," he says. "We need a bigger one with more beds."

The hospital was founded by Dr. John Muir, a former president of the United States, and is now being run by his widow, Mrs. William Muir.

TOM TAGGART

It's an interesting opinion of his management.

It isn't until Mr. Taggart is in the doorway that the party really begins in the Muir House. The partygoers are quite eager to see the new man in charge.

Mr. Taggart has proved to be a very good host, according to those who have been to the Muir House in recent weeks. His management is praised for its efficiency and courteousness.

A REVELATION

Ice Box Proved to be the Effective Remedy.

Priscilla K. Mooney, of Littleton, has recently discovered the magic of the ice box. "It's the only way to keep food fresh," she said. "I use it to store my meat and vegetables, and it works wonders."

The ice box is a device that stores food in cold temperatures, keeping it fresh for longer periods of time. It's commonly used in households and restaurants.

LUCAS WINES

Court Rules That No One Can Be Denied Title to Ice Box.

Anchorage's Agent Frank Lucas, of Anchorage, has an important victory in the ice box case. He won a recent court ruling that no one can be denied title to an ice box.

In a recent case, Lucas argued that the ice box is a necessity for proper food storage and that no one should be denied the right to own one.

TOM TAGGART

Mr. Taggart is quite pleased with the decision. "I've always believed in the right to own an ice box," he said. "It's a necessary part of life."

The decision is seen as a victory for consumers, who can now purchase ice boxes without fear of being denied title.
