AN OFFICIAL INVESTIGATION

In Regard to the So-Called "Cabbage Snake" Made by Health Officer.

IT IS PERFECTLY HARMLESS.

Some time ago I began an investigation of the "cabbage snake," but on account of illness I was not able to complete the work and make the results public as early as I hoped to do.

The public has been much disturbed by the sensational reports of newspapers in regard to his snake-ship. For the past two months you could hardly look at the small caliber newspaper from the corner of one eye without seeing some account of the "snake" and some horrifying account of a family "yander in Tennessee" or "over in Elenoi" who had been poisoned by it. These reports are pure fabrications, the result of an imaginative mind or for the sake of producing a sensation.

That there is a peculiar parasite infesting the cabbage this year there is no doubt. It is a new species of worm to this state, but old and well understood in many of the Southern states, also in Minnesota. This little parasite has his peculiarities as all other worms do. It is found principally among the loose leaves of the cabbage and is as innocent little creature as ever lived, devoid of all vanity, delicate in his physiognomy and there is not the slightest trace of poison in his snakeship.

I have taken particular pains to correspond with the authorities in the communities where reports of poisoning by this insect have originated, and in every instance I have been informed that there has been no case of poisoning from any cause in their community, but that they can hear of cases just a "little farther off."

I make this statement of facts because I feel that it is my duty as Health Officer to give to the public any and all information at my command that pertains to the health and happiness of our people, and you who have cabbage or kraut can eat it and I will guarantee that it will not harm you unless you eat too much. I would not advise you to eat the "snakes," but should you want to try it you can eat them raw or cooked, dead or alive with perfect impunity.

I herewith submit the official report of Dr. Louis Leroy, of Nashville, State Bacteriologist of Tennessee:

"Nashville, Sept. 1, 1904.
"HON. W. W. OHLVIE,
"Commissioner of Agriculture,
"Nashville, Tenn.

"Dear Sir: I have the honor herewith to submit my report upon investigations which I have undertaken under your direction, concerning the so-called 'cabbage snakes,' which have recently attracted attention in this state. I have obtained a large number of specimens from nearly all parts of the state and find them to be identical. A few specimens of other forms of life have been sent to me in this connection, but these have been well-known forms of insects. The 'cabbage snake' has, within the past year or so, been reported from neighboring states, especially from Georgia, South Carolina and Louisiana, and a large number of articles bearing upon the subject have appeared in the public press.

"The so-called snake belongs to one of the lower orders of the family of Gordiidae, and the individual itself is known scientifically as Mermis Albicans. This animal is neither snake nor insect, but one of the forms of worms. In its adult state it lives upon the cabbage leaf, but does not subsist upon it, so that the cabbage is in no wise injured by its presence. It lays its eggs in large numbers, which eggs are eaten by caterpillars, and in the body of the caterpillar they hatch, forming the embryo worm. These embryos grow at the expense of the caterpillar until they reach sexual maturity, when the body of the caterpillar is ruptured and the worm set free to again live their external adult life. In this way they become quite a factor in the destruction of the caterpillar and are to that extent beneficial to the cabbage crop.

"I have entered into correspondence with localities from which cases of alleged poisoning from the eating of cabbage containing these worms have been reported, and find in every case that the reports are without foundation, and that no authentic case can be cited. In order to determine whether or not the worm itself had any poisonous qualities, I have carried on an extensive series of experiments upon rabbits, Guinea pigs and domestic animals, and find that they can all eat the worms, raw or cooked, with impunity. I have also made extracts from the worms with all the various solvents, which extracts were found to be entirely innocuous, both internally and when injected hypodermically. Believing that possibly these worms might cause decomposition or fermentation in cabbage, with the production of poisonous substances, the result of decomposition, I allowed samples of cabbage, raw and cooked, to decompose in the presence of the worms, and then tested these decomposed substances for poisonous properties as before and found that in no case was any injurious substance produced. I also made chemical analysis of the worms and products of decomposition and was unable to find any ptomaine or other isolable substance which was toxic in any way. I can, therefore, assure you that this 'cabbage snake' is entirely harmless and that public rumors and superstitions are fallacies without semblance of foundation.

Is New Cemetery Road—Who is Responsible For its Condition?

Notwithstanding the fact that it has been said that the only places of show to which we can take people who come here, is the new jail and the new cemetery; the town is all right, but we would like to drop the hint that while every one who goes to the new cemetery may not be dead when they start, yet, as the condition of the cemetery road is, some one is likely to meet with death on the way. The fact of the matter is that there should really be a macadamized way leading to the new cemetery. Ladies driving about the city often wish to drive out there, but as the condition of the road leading from Salem street has been this summer it is very unsafe for a lady to drive over it. Before funerals could be conducted it has been very necessary for parties to be employed to work this road. This had to be done on one occasion on Sunday. Now it seems to the writer that some body is responsible for the condition of this road. Who is it? Is it the county, the city or individuals? And then, after the responsibility is ascertained, the writer wishes to know whether the road is going to be properly cared for?

A SUBSCRIBER.

A LESSON FROM THE PAST

The farmers and business men of this community remember well how the people suffered here and elsewhere on account of the oppression of hard times under the Cleveland administration. The affairs of government were administered in a way that endangered domestic enterprises, and men of means, rather than risk their fortunes in investments of doubtful income because of bad legislation, hoarded up their money, markets became uncertain, mills and factories in general closed, and thus a crushing blow fell upon the laboring classes everywhere. Men were thrown out of employment in large numbers, especially in the cities, and those who were employed received low wages because of two reasons: There was an immense competition in labor and no demand for labor on account of stagnated business. This effected the country people, and farmers felt the keen, cutting slashes of hard times not least of all, because the general condition of the country has a direct effect on the farmer, or we may say, when there is general prosperity the farmer prospers and the farmer's prosperity is the surest sign that the wheels of progress are rapidly rolling on.

Now, let us consider this matter from a practical standpoint. When Cleveland was president the farmers of this county remember that corn gathered and placed on the river bank ready for shipment sold at 18 cents; now it is selling at 40 cents and upward. Hogs were selling at from 1 1-4 to 2 1-2 cents per pound, and now they are bringing 4 1-2 to 5 cents per pound. Wheat sold at 50 cents per bushel and less at the threshing machine and it took the best quality to bring it; this year it sold at 90 cents and more at the threshing machine and there was little discrimination exercised as regarded the quality. Cattle were low, horses, mules, stock of every kind owned by the farmer, and all his farm products were selling at low prices. Oftimes we (the editor lived on the farm then) would be almost compelled to take any price the purchaser might see fit to offer. Much stuff could hardly be sold at all. Mortgages on farms increased then, while they have decreased for the last seven years. Money could hardly be borrowed then and high rates of interest always prevailed. To-day money can much more readily be obtained, security is better and safer and therefore the rate of interest is less, 6 and 8 per cent. being paid now on borrowed money where 10 per cent. was paid then.

Now, why do we have better times now than then? Simply because of the fulfillment of the prophecy of Wm. McKinley. He appealed to the American people in 1896 and said, "place the power of government in the hands of the Republican party and the country will be saved from oppression and business stagnation." He said, "Do this and we will pledge reciprocity to the nations of the earth and at home we will assure that whistles will blow, beckoning idle armies of men to come and find employment, and that factories will hum synonymous with the wheels of progress and that every mouth can be fed." The nation heard his appeal, notwithstanding the wail of the opposing party denying his assertions, and for almost eight years we have lived within the full meaning of his words.

Would the American people turn the dial of time backward and for one moment let the country feel again that the supremacy of the "soup house" was inevitable? The administration to-day is pursuing the straightforward course by which McKinley redeemed the country. Theodore Roosevelt, in every respect, has shown himself to be the man of the hour. He is energetic, honest, firm, decisive in action and able. The Cleveland wing of Democracy has seen fit to make him the issue in this campaign and he will meet the test. Between the McKinley-Roosevelt administration and the Cleveland administration, every sane American would choose that of Roosevelt or McKinley.

Now, the real issue before the people is this: Are you satisfied with the music of humming factories, blowing whistles and boundless prosperity? If so, vote for Theodore Roosevelt and the rest of the Republican ticket. If you would like to live over again the hard times of Cleveland's regime, vote for Alton B. Parker, the man who represents every idea of Cleveland's, who is the champion of the Cleveland wing of Democracy, and the man that is being supported by Grover Cleveland with his time and money.

MINERAL NOTES.

Messrs. Dollar & McFee, of this city, are to be congratulated on their successful mining venture. At a depth of about 30 feet and drift of 20 feet they have uncovered the Columbia vein. The showing is very fine and of course the owners are already begin to paint the future golden.

The Ada Florence continues its flattering developments. A. D. Noe has charge and is now getting out some of the best lead to be found anywhere in the district. Machinery is being put in to prepare this mineral for the market.

Rice & Co., of Louisville, are sinking a shaft on the Eaton property. This is a spar-zinc blende and a sufficient depth will doubtless develop a marketable zinc.

Prominent Citizen Dies.

Robt. Wood, of Shady Grove, a farmer, and one of Crittenden county's most prominent citizens died Sunday afternoon at 6 o'clock as the result of phthisis and typhoid fever. Mr. Wood was a Christian gentleman, being a steward in the Methodist church at Shady Grove. Although he lived five miles from his church, every Sunday found him there. He was the father of ten children and these, with the mother mourn the loss of father and husband.

Mr. Wood was also a leading Democrat and made the race in the primary with P. C. Stephens and A. J. Bennet the year that Hon. M. F. Pogue received the nomination and was elected.

Just received a complete and up-to-date line of ready-to-wear and silk hats for ladies. Call and see before making a purchase. 15-24 MRS. M. DENMAN.

HALLOWEEN PARTIES

Spooks and Spirits Visit Marion—Party Goes Picnicing.

That the spirits of the unseen world had been in our little city the night before could be readily seen by anyone passing along the streets Tuesday morning.

Signs were changed so that furniture men were barbers, grocery men were selling dry goods "cheap for cash" or in the millinery business the millinery ladies were selling groceries, etc.

To have seen the buggies on the broad, concrete walk in front of the post office, one would think that postmaster Crider was running a livery stable or rather, perhaps a blacksmith shop. There had been several parties the night before and to see the smiles on the face of the young ladies and young gentlemen who attended them, it was evident that the spirits had revealed to them a pleasant companionship.

One of the most unique and novel entertainments of the season was the one given by Miss Carrie Moore on Halloween night to a few of her friends. Silently, yet swiftly the word sped away that a number of Miss Moore's friends would meet with her in order that they might delve into the mysteries of the unforeseen gaze into the "magical mirror" and meet their fate face to face. This was such an opportune time that no real live spook could afford to while away his hours in another locality. So, just as the old day with his aged locks breathed his last and a new day with grave responsibilities sprang into being, the spooks were on the move. Tall, silently and awe-inspiring did these ghost-like beings intrude upon the scene, before so pleasant to these fair maidens, but when plates were claimed by each spook and the one nearest by was claimed by a lady, all masks were removed, well, a surprise pleasant beyond description—the short were matched with the long, the thick with the thin and one was left unmasked and there were spread on the table such refreshments as could not be refused. After an enjoyable hour in the dining room the guests were invited to test their fortunes in different ways—one by removing apples by the stem from a large reservoir of water, thereby proving their power to capture anyone desired. Another by searching for the ring, thimble and button. In the last many fates were still unsettled. After two hours of feasting and solid pleasure each one went his way declaring Miss Moore to be one of the sweetest and most pleasant entertainers that it had been their privilege to meet.

Mrs. Jim Henry, assisted by Mrs. Charley Moore, very delightfully entertained a crowd of young people at her home on West Belleville street. Games and contests were engaged in. Henry Haynes won the prizes given for the "Advertisement Contest." Miss Daisy Towery, also, won a prize. It being Halloween, of course, fortune-telling was popular, each one drawing his or her fate from a pumpkin.

Quite a jolly crowd enjoyed a picnic among the hills of Piney on Tuesday. It was an ideal day for a picnic and every one was just in the mood for having a good time.

ANTE-ELECTION SPRIGS.

When one tries to follow the record of Mr. Bryan he is made to wonder if, in his case, at least, consistency is not at a premium.

O O O

The broncho buster will be busier enough to bust into smithereens any kind of blunderbus the Democrats may bring forth Nov. 8th.

O O O

Because their candidate has no record, the Democrats remind us of the story about the rooster bargaining with the horse not to step on each other's toes.

O O O

The future Judge Parker anticipated for himself when nominated, will be behind him after Nov. 8. He'll then rue his resignation as judge, but regrets don't rectify mistakes.

O O O

Even silence is not a good mount upon which Democrats may mount their paramount issue. The prophecy of Beveridge that no mystery was ever elected president nor ever will be, will be verified Nov. 8.

O O O

It is said that when David Bennett Hill said his pre-arranged plans materialized in the nomination of Alton Brooks Parker at the St. Louis convention, he shed tears. This is another proof to the old, old truth that water runs down hill. But Nov. 8th was not so near then.

O O O

Bryan and Cleveland play a bold hand at politics, but not a winning one. But it's somewhat a tit for tat game. In 1896 and 1900 Cleveland and Clevelandites cold-decked Bryan and this year Bryan's silent influence will cold-deck Cleveland's favorite as Nov. 8th will show.

O O O

Among newspapers there is much patting Henry Gassaway Davis upon the back and fondly calling him eighty-one years young and at the same time they whisper in his ear, "How is your pocketbook Gassaway?" But, of course, Mr. Davis is perfectly willing to pay for these caresses.

O O O

William Jennings Bryan said some time ago in The Commoner that the Democrat party offered four years of usefulness to its adherents. Now any school boy most can "figure that sum." Bryan was thirty-six when nominated and Davis is eighty-one. The difference is forty-four. Of course, Billy, your arithmetic is all right as far as figures go, but about the facts, well, give us time to think.

VETERANS. ATTENTION!

Cleveland Ran Inquisition and Cut Down Your Pension.

Can You Figure Out the Difference Between Parker and Cleveland?

TEACHINGS OF EXPERIENCE.

The similarity of the campaign now being conducted on behalf of Judge Parker to that of 1892 in support of Mr. Cleveland must strike every veteran with apprehension. The same men are at work, with a striking reproduction of the old methods, making the probability approach a certainty that their success will be followed by years of as dire distress to the veterans and their widows as characterized Mr. Cleveland's administration.

Then, it will be remembered, every man and woman who drew a pension was put into sickening fear that it would be taken away, and that fear remained as long as Mr. Cleveland was in office. No matter how deserving a man or woman might be, no matter how much the pensioner had dared and suffered for the country, he could not be sure any minute that some pretext would not be found for taking away his little stipend. Every subterfuge that could be made to avail was employed, and used with merciless cruelty. The subterfuges and pretenses began with the heartless pettifoggery with the terms of the Act of June 27, 1890, which came from no less a source than Mr. Cleveland's cabinet, that devised a wretched quibble, to take away the pensions of tens of thousands, and deny them to hundreds of thousands more. Naturally, all the subordinates hastened to follow the august example. In fact, they were ordered to do so. Besides the machinery of the Interior Department, all that of the great Postoffice Department and the Attorney-General's Department were impressed to aid in the work of pension robbery. The country was covered with an official army of gossip-hunters, scandal-mongers, from whose secret attacks no reputation was safe, and for whose injuries there could be no reparation. For the first time in its history the United States was running an inquisition. Postmasters vied with the extra-salary Special Agents in gathering up neighborhood gossip and forwarding it to the Pension Bureau, where it was treated as conclusive evidence, and the victim denied the right of seeing it, of controverting it, or of even knowing the names of the authors of the scandalous libels on him or her. More than $500,000 was spent every year during Mr. Cleveland's administration in salaries and extra pay to Special Examiners engaged in this iniquitous work, besides $1,000,000 a year to Examining Surgeons, to find reasons for depriving veterans of pensions. Besides this, $6,000,000 worse than squandered in Mr. Cleveland's four years was the diversion of the greater part of the energies of the Post Office and Attorney-General's Departments in aiding the Pension Bureau's fraud-hunt. With all this prodigious effort of the entire Administration the actual discovery of real frauds was astonishingly small. The convictions in any year did not reach 10 per cent. more than the routine results of previous Administrations.

If frauds could not be found, the pension roll must be cut down any way, and honest pensioners made to suffer in lieu of dishonest ones. This evil became so outrageous—its crying injustice so manifest—that Congress had to intervene, with laws making a regularly adjudicated pension a vested right, and prohibiting the Pension Bureau from taking away a pension without giving the pensioner due notice, and allowing him to be heard in his own defense. It is almost incredible that this should have been necessary, and that a pensioner was denied the commonest rights of an American citizen.

Now, do the veterans want to give these men another opportunity for such a riot in injury and injustice?

They must make up their minds to have it, if Mr. Parker is elected. It can not be averted.

In 1892 the Democrats brought the pension issue to the very front, as they have in this campaign. When they were successful they claimed to have received a mandate from the people to apply drastic correctives to the pension system, just as they will claim if they are successful this fall. The only way to prevent their repetition of the widespread cruelties and wrongs of the Cleveland regime is to prevent their getting an opportunity.

We must give Judge Parker at least the credit of frankness. He tells us plainly that he intends, if elected, to at once revoke Order 78, and remand us to the condition we were in before that order came to our relief. He is as frank as Mr. Cleveland was, when he announced his belief that "thousands of communities contain pension frauds," and that he proposed to cut down the pension roll. He did not find the frauds, in spite of his tremendous efforts; but he cut down the pension roll all the same, just as if what he said was true. With the same men behind him, with the same proclamations of hostility, we can and should expect nothing more than a repetition of all that we suffered under Cleveland and Lochren.

The veteran has his choice plainly before him, and no excuse for making a mistake.—National Tribune.

Noted Georgia Humorist.

Prof. Charles Lane, the noted Georgia humorist will lecture at the Opera House November 12th on "Analysis of Laughter." Prof. Lane is not a new figure on the local stage. He has appeared here before and with considerable success. The mission of the humorist is a lovable one. It is to carry smiles into the hearts that require them, to brighten dark spots in the lives of the great public, and to transplace gloom for sunshine. He also lightens domestic cares and makes the worries of business less significant. For this he should be encouraged, his mission should be applauded, and only kind words should be his lot in life. Prof. Lane works his way carefully at first and finding an established foothold, delights his audience with bits of story.

"A Democratic victory will mean very little if any progress on economic questions so long as the party is under the control of Wall street."—From the same issue.

The nomination of Judge Parker virtually nullifies the anti-trust plank."—From the same issue.

"I have nothing to take back."—From the same issue.

Thomas E. Watson, People's candidate for president says "The Democrats have a meaningless platform and a speechless candidate."

Dr. T. J. McCoy, one of the most prominent Democrats in Warrick county, Indiana, has created a sensation at Boonville by renouncing Democracy and coming out strongly for Roosevelt and Fairbanks.

While the Mayfield papers, all democratic, are "roasting" each other it is a splendid time for some one to start a newsy, up-to-date republican paper there. We are informed that there is no better field in the state for such a paper.

"If protection is indeed robbery, and if our opponents really believe what they say, then it is precisely to the destruction and uprooting of the tariff and therefore of our business and industry, that they are pledged."—Roosevelt's Letter of Acceptance.

"To uproot and destroy that (tariff) system would be to insure the prostration of business, the closing of factories, the impoverishment of the farmer, the ruin of the capitalist, and the starvation of the wage-worker."—Roosevelt's Letter of Acceptance.

The secret of political victory is the thoroughness with which the vote is gotten out to the polls. Let every Republican see to it that the full strength of the party in his immediate vicinity is recorded at the polls, and the rest of the state will take care of itself.

The Chicago Chronicle says: "Four years ago the issue was the full dinner pail. This year the issue at the south is the Booker Washington luncheon. In the course of time we may develop a pie-for-breakfast party."

And in the north the Democrats represent the Hungry Joe party now.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says: "Judge Alton B. Parker wears well." So does an evening dress suit that is donned only once or twice a year. If Parker could be induced to make a few speeches he would be frayed into rags before November 8. A machine of any kind that is as silent as Judge Parker should never wear out.

The Democrats are everlastingly referring to Jackson and Jefferson as the political demigods of the past. No one can tell what Jefferson would do were he alive today. He was a good man, and a schemer and dreamer in politics. Anyone can tell you what Jackson would do were he alive today. He would be with Roosevelt. He in a less educated way was the same kind of man.

Do the people of to-day like the policies of Lincoln and McKinley, the working out of which effected the saving of the Union with Mr. Lincoln and the making it prosperous under McKinley? Mr. Roosevelt has run the government along their policy lines in domestic and foreign affairs. The only signs of dissatisfaction come from the Democrats; and their cries are political capital—partisan faultfindings.

Democracy's leading man, Judge Parker, has said that if he had the power he would give independence to the Filipinos at the earliest possible moment when they showed their ability to take care of themselves. That is a Democratic would-do. The Republicans are already educating those people to that end, and anything their opponents might do would only be a continuation of the sagacity and labor of the Republicans. The Filipino matter should not be a question in this campaign, as our party is doing what the other promises to do.

ALL READY FOR THE BLOW.
Now Williams Jennings Bryan Has dipped his pen in woe, And has his leader written— It says: "I Told You So!"

CONFIDENCE.
It's wrong to bet, but lots of men Would bet all that there is in their banks The winning side is mentioned when You speak of Roosevelt and Fairbanks.

HIS MORNING PLUNGE.
When morning dawns, the next day after, Then Parker will with chilly shiver Dive where he will not hear our laughter— He'll take his swim in old Salt river.

HAY WILL STAY.
Say! Did you hear that Hay Is a-going to stay As Secretary of State for the U. S. A.? That's a move that will pay— We will know every day That the U. S. A. Will move along in the proper way.

THE SAFEST STRIP.

The strip of land which lies between the Rocky mountains and the Pacific ocean has practically already gone Republican. It may be said frankly of our friends, the enemy, that they need not waste time or money on the Pacific coast.

All the trade and commerce of the Pacific coast is going to float westward. The Republican party is endeavoring to promote this trade in every way, and the Democratic party under the cry of "imperialism," is trying to embarrass it in every way. Well, the western fringe of the states of the United States is peopled by intelligent human beings. Is there any question as to how they will vote?

WHO HOLDS THE FULL HAND?

Republicans, if for no other reason, could be most sanguine of victory when it is a conceded fact on the part of Democrats that of the 108 doubtful electoral votes Parker would have to get 88 while Roosevelt will need only 22. If Roosevelt gets New York, as he will, he can give all the remaining doubtful votes to Parker and have 17 votes to spare, or if he gets Maryland and Indiana, and Parker gets the other doubtful votes, he will still be elected.

Here are the doubtful votes. Figure anyway you wish, it is easy to find 22 votes for Roosevelt:

Colorado	- - - - - 5
Connecticut	- - - - - 7
Delaware	- - - - - 3
Idaho	- - - - - 3
Indiana	- - - - - 15

Not a Sick Day Since.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured, and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver and Kidney troubles and General Debility." This is what B. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C. writes. Only 50c, at R. F. Haynes', Druggist.

CABBAGE SNAKES ARE HARMLESS

And May be Eaten Raw or Cooked With Impunity.

For the benefit of the nervous and dyspeptic the statement is made on the best authority that the so-called "cabbage snake" is no snake at all, but a harmless little worm that may be eaten raw or cooked without danger. They are as harmless as apple worms and are not near so plentiful. The following article by Gerald McCarthy, biologist, published in the bulletin of the North Carolina State Board of Agriculture is conclusive:

"The sea serpent of mendacious renown seems to have been forced out of business this year by a land serpent which has located in the western part of North Carolina, where it has taken to frightening the owners of cabbage patches. Many stories have been published concerning the deadly venom of this creature, usually referred to as the 'cabbage snake.' Several of these 'serpents' have been caught and sent to the North Carolina department of agriculture for identification. In every case these have proved to be the common and harmless water worm, or 'hair snake.'—Gordius variabilis.

"Snakes and serpents belong to the back-boned series of animals. This creature is a nematode worm belonging far down in the scale of created being. It has a soft, boneless body, with only rudimentary organs. It does not bite or chew, but absorbs its food in liquid form through every part of its body. It is normally an internal parasite of grasshopper and other insects. Its presence in cabbage heads is rare and accidental, due to the previous abundance of insects upon the plants. The Gordius worms are never found parasitic upon human or vertebrate animals. The stories concerning the deaths supposed to have been caused by these worms are untrue and ridiculous!"

"There is no venom in them. They may be eaten raw or cooked without any danger to the eater."

"The serious part of these stories is that such publications may cause considerable loss by preventing people from eating the cabbage they have raised or purchased. Such fears are wholly groundless. These worms are not common, and when they do occur upon cabbage they will do no harm to any one eating the vegetable. They are at worst no more hurtful than the worms so plentiful in apples and peaches some seasons."

"The so-called cabbage worm, or gordius variabilis, is a slender, white-bodied form from four to twelve inches long, and about as thick as an ordinary knitting needle."

"It is hoped that those newspapers which have published the misleading stories concerning this worm, will republish this refutation and thus help to prevent needless loss of good food."

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from Throat and Lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds and even the worst cases can be cured, and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs. Lois Cragg, of Dorchester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all Throat and Lung diseases by R. F. Haynes, druggist. Price 50c, and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

FOR SHERIFF

DUVALL.—We are authorized to announce Alonzo J. Duvall a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Crittenden county, subject to the action of the Republican party. Election 1905.

Twice the American people have declared at the polls that they understood what the country needed and have twice declared their faith in Republican administration as against Bryanism. It was a victory for progress, enterprise and able government. The people voted for this, and the party in which they confided has fulfilled every trust.

But our Democratic opponents declare, while acknowledging the wonderful prosperity the country has enjoyed, that God Almighty did it, and when He blesses the people they say the Republicans claim credit for it.

In reply to this we will say that we, too, believe that all great blessings come from on High, but this we know as taught by the Bible, that God always sends blessings through agencies. And as He blessed the country in olden times as when "good King Asa" reigned, so He blesses America when Roosevelt or some other good Republican sits in the chair at Washington. Now, if our prosperity is of the Lord, as our opponents say, for the reason that God blesses the people most when Republicans are in power and because of the fact that the country suffers while Democrats rule, therefore Theodore Roosevelt should and will be elected president next Tuesday.

Again we will say that while the wonderful prosperity the country enjoys may come from the Lord, yet to the Republican party, the divine agency, is due the credit for making possible the conditions whereby the American people may enjoy most that which they have. God never wastes His blessings and since Cleveland and his party never gave to the country the necessary conditions, therefore with them the blessings could not come.

Democratic spell-binders and Democratic newspapers generally are preaching all over the country that the Philippines have cost the United States $1,200,000,000. This is as big a Democratic falsehood as was ever uttered. Including the $20,000,000 paid Spain, the total cost to date has been only 189,000,000. They just lacked 500,000,000 telling the truth that time, but worst of all I am sorry to say that Alton B. Parker originated this "yarn." American people will not stand for a misrepresentation of facts, and Parker will come as near to being elected Nov. 8th, as he did to stating the truth in the above reference.

If Parker is the Democratic Moses, as Mr. Bryan says, the judge might as well retire from the race. Moses, the Bible says, was permitted to gaze on the Promised Land, but not to enter it. Moses Parker may view the White House from a distance until November 8, when he will pass into oblivion as did Moses on the Mount.

STILL HUNT BY THE DEMOCRATS OPEN FIGHT BY REPUBLICANS!

With the Populists Ever on the Alert, Thus the Campaign in Crittenden County is Rapidly Drawing to a Close—A Majority of 400 Expected for Republican Ticket.

HON. E. T. FRANKS, OF OWENSBORO, TO SPEAK SATURDAY

In this county the Democrats have seen fit to proceed with what is termed the "gum shoe" campaign, or "still hunt." Their reason for this we are unable to say, but possibly you may be able to surmise it. Probably it is because they have no issue to present to the voters of this county, except Roosevelt, and they know too well that Roosevelt is what we want.

On the other hand, the campaign in Livingston is quite different. The county is Democratic, and with only the name, Roosevelt, for an issue, every cross-roads politician is spilling Democratic fire from every stump, barrel head and schoolhouse in the county. Secretary of State McChesney has also joined the band, having passed through here Tuesday enroute to Salem.

In this county as well as Livingston the Republican and Populist parties have each taken the voters into consideration. Several speeches have been made by each party. Congressman Irwin of Louisville, did some good work in Livingston, while Messrs. Speight and Denny have each spoken here, and several other Republican speeches have been made in the county.

To-night Walter Blackburn will speak at Sheridan to a good audience, having addressed an enthusiastic crowd at Blooming Rose last night (Thursday).

Hon. E. T. Franks, of Owensboro, an old Crittenden county boy, will speak in this city Saturday, November 5th. He has risen to State and National prominence and is one of the best speakers on the stump.

Hon. W. P. Marsh, of Lawrenceburg, Populist elector of state at large, has been campaigning in this county. He spoke here Tuesday night and at Crayneville and Shady Grove Wednesday and Thursday nights respectively. He is an able speaker, clear in his argument, distinct in his utterance, and earnest in his efforts. He makes a splendid speech and makes the most favorable presentation of his position.

The Populist side has also been presented here by J. H. Lackey, of Canton, candidate for Congress, and First district elector, J. Will Graham, of Paducah.

MAJOR F. REED

Given a Life Sentence in the Federal Court at Paris, Tex., for Killing His Father-in-Law.

John P. Reed, of Lyon county, who went to Paris, Texas, to attend the trial of his son, Major, who was being tried before the United States court at that place for the murder of his father-in-law, Jas. O'Reilly, an Indian, at Durant, Texas, about a year ago, yesterday telegraphed his wife at Kuttawa that the young man was sentenced to life imprisonment. Mr. Reed was formerly a resident of this county, consequently he and Major are both well known here.

CHAMPION-CRAWFORD

Popular Crittenden Couple Marry at Evansville and Leave for Fair.

Tuesday, November 1st, Attorney J. B. Champion, Jr., of this city, and Miss Blanche Crawford, of Tolu, were united in marriage in Evansville at the St. George hotel. Immediately after the ceremony was performed the bride and groom, left for the World's Fair.

The groom is a member of the law firm, Champion & Champion, or one of the Twin Lawyers, and is a most promising young man. He began the practice of law at this bar a short time ago and has met with much success. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Champion, of Livingston county, where he was born and reared, and his sterling qualities, erect and handsome stature, justly distinguish him as the true Kentuckian that he is.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Crawford, of Tolu. She is attractive and accomplished, and one of Crittenden county's most popular daughters. She comes of one of the most prominent families of Western Kentucky. Her father is a farmer and a capitalist, being interested in two or more banks in Crittenden or Livingston counties.

That THE RECORD congratulates and wishes this young couple well is needless for us to say, and that they have scores of friends whose sentiment we voice is assured.

Walter A. Blackburn, of Louisville, arrived in the city yesterday to fill his speaking appointments at Blooming Rose yesterday and Sheridan Friday night.

Jug Hodge and wife, of Evansville, were here Monday enroute home after spending a few months with relatives in Livingston county.

Mrs. M. R. Gilliam, who has been with her sister, Mrs. R. H. Woods some time, left Tuesday for Texas where she will spend the winter.

Miss Maud Hurley went to Princeton Wednesday to meet her little niece, Mirian Blackburn, of Louisville, who was enroute to this city to be the guest of her grandparents.

Misses Annalyza and Lizzie Johnson and brothers are residing in the cottage of Mrs. Frank Wheeler on College Street, so that the latter will be more convenient to the school.

Anyone having "Excell's Triumphant Songs" No. 3 and 4 combined, will please return to the Methodist church not later than Sunday, Nov. 13th. These books are the property of the Methodist church and have been misplaced.

CARRIE MOORE.

Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Archey and little daughter, of Robards, were here Monday enroute home after visiting relatives at Carrsville for some time.

Joseph Everett Noyes, a U. S. army recruiting officer is in the city to enlist young men. Dr. G. E. Shively has been appointed to examine recruits.

Ira T. Pierce left last Tuesday for St. Louis to attend the Fair and while there accepted a position as clerk in a prominent hotel at that place. He will be gone several months.

Rev. S. J. Martin went to Paducah Wednesday where, assisted by Rev. V. P. Mayor, of Princeton, he will install W. E. Cave, D. D. as pastor of the First Presbyterian church there.

Oil Tucker returned Tuesday from Evansville where he underwent a very delicate operation, and the cause of the intense pain he had at times suffered on account of an affection, was removed.

County Clerk C. E. Weldon's wife presented him with a little daughter Monday morning. Mr. Weldon says since it was not a voter he is sure that Roosevelt will be elected by an ample majority.

Mrs. Sue Glenn arrived in the city Tuesday after a few week's visit among friends and relatives in the Salem and Caldwell Spring neighborhoods. She will keep house at her residence on Salem street.

Willie Deboe, of Blackford, was a guest of his sister, Mrs. George Thomas. He has purchased his father, P. H. Deboe's farm near Iron Hill and probably remove to it next week. As we have before announced, his father will likely move to this place.

Mrs. Fannie Clark left Wednesday evening for her future home at Milburn, Indian Territory. Her husband, Dr. J. J. Clark, who left a few weeks ago to look out a location, has purchased a drug business and is doing well with that, besides he is building up a good practice. We regret their departure but wish them well.

Arthur Finley, formerly of this city, but now of Shreveport, La., arrived Tuesday to visit his parents J. R. Finley and wife, for a short time. Arthur has a good position at Shreveport, a city of about 30,000 inhabitants, being the cashier for the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Co. He is a deserving young man and has merited his position.

POSTOFFICE OLD STAND.

Unveiling.

Sunday the Evansville lodges of the Woodmen of the World having invited sister lodges including the camp here engaged in unveiling exercises and removed the cover from monuments erected to the memories of several of their deceased brothers. The Marion lodge, Rosewood Camp No. 22, was represented by Messrs. John Nunn, A. J. Chittenden, W. H. Copher, W. H. Clark, Jno. Sutherland, A. J. Butler and Will Mott.

Chapel Hill Revival.

An interesting revival is in session at the Chapel Hill church three miles south of the city. The services are being conducted by the pastor of Kuttawa, Rev. A. J. Thompson, assisted by Rev. Jas. F. Price, of this city, and singing evangelist Alie Threlkeld, of Hurricane.

There is good attendance at the services both morning and night and the very best of order prevails. The interest in the meeting is still increasing and twelve conversions have been reported. The meeting will continue through the week.

Three Pounds.

H. S. Driver left an ear of yellow corn at this office this week that is nearly 15 inches long and weighs 3 jeweler's pounds. This is the largest ear of corn we have seen this year and was raised on the Pierce farm near the city where Mr. Driver resides.

Left Here 50 Years Ago.

Thursday morning the editor of the RECORD received a paper from Gravette, Ark., marked "Compliments of R. H. Morris, who left Marion 50 years ago at the age of 17, and is still working 16 hours a day. You send out a No. 1 paper. I wish you much success. R. H. M."

Does any one here remember this Crittenden county "boy?"

Removal Sale.

In this issue of the RECORD, Pickens & Cavender advertise their removal sale. On account of removal in the near future their large stock of Dry Goods to their new stand by the Masonic building, they are offering some real bargains and as has been done in the past, we trust that our readers will liberally patronize our advertising customers.

A Good Showing.

We have on our desk a neat little folder sent out by the Farmer's Bank, of Birdsville, containing the annual statement of the bank's business at the end of its first year closing Oct. 19, 1904. It shows that the gross earnings for the year were about 20 per cent of the capital stock paid in and that $1100 were placed to surplus. In a card to the public which accompanies the statement, Mr. Berry, the cashier, states that the years' business surpassed his expectations and warrants the assertion that the institution has passed through the experimental stage.

REPUBLICAN INDUSTRY.

Five Per Cent. of World's Population and Seven Per Cent. of its Area.

American Industry Equals One-Half of the Industry of Mankind.

NOT SO UNDER CLEVELAND.

Every vote cast against the Republican party this year is a ballot marked or the hauling down of the flag. American prosperity rests on the protective tariff. It is protection that has made the United States the prosperous country that it is. Every ballot cast for candidates not heartily in favor of protection—for candidates especially who believe that protection is robbery—is a blow at national supremacy. That supremacy rests, after all, on protection, which has given toiler and tiller the home market and is fast winning the markets of the world. Our flag now signifies continental paramountcy. Strike at commercial supremacy and industrial solidity, resting on tariff protection of American industry, and the flag is stricken at one and the same blow. What has protection done for flag and country? With less than 5 per cent. of the population and with 7 per cent. only of the world's area, the United States is equal industrially to half the remainder of mankind collectively.

In corn, cotton, eggs, petroleum, leather products, copper and products of the forest we equal or surpass the rest of the world. Of coal, pig iron and steel we produce two-thirds as much as the rest of the world and three-fifths of the earth's total food and agricultural products and manufactures. Of silver, iron ore and fish we furnish half the earth's sum total. Of gold, wheat, oats, hay, butter and cheese one-third. Of hops and beer one-fourth. Of barley and wool one-fifth to one-tenth. We have one-third as much wealth as all the rest of the world; one-third as much gold; one-fifth as much silver; one-tenth as much sheep; one-third as many cows; two-thirds as much railway mileage, or, counting total track, about as much as all the rest of the world combined. We spend two-thirds as much for education as the rest of mankind; we have one-half as much savings bank deposits; one-fourth of the spindles in operation; one-fourth as much shipping; one-fourth as many exports; about one-tenth as much revenue and expenditure as the rest of the globe. But we have, notwithstanding, one-thirtieth only as much debt. In round numbers we produce and consume half as much as the rest of mankind.

We have also better producers. Our workmen have more brain and brawn. The farm hand in the United States does, according to McHALL, as much as two in the United Kingdom, three in Germany, five in Austria, seven in Russia. It takes four and one-half Europeans to equal one American. Extend the comparison to Asia and Africa and one American producer equals ten of the world over outside the United States.

The United States is today practically independent of the rest of the earth. We shall in a few years raise all our own sugar and fibers, manufacture all our own silk, produce, in fact, almost everything used by mankind. For all this and much more stands the American flag floating from the masthead of protection. Don't vote to haul down that flag.—Louisville Herald.

Medals Awarded.

Livingston county is no mean agricultural county, as the following list of medals awarded a few days ago at the St. Louis fair will show. Below we give a list of the prize winners, and the kind of medals bestowed. To Hon. G. N. McGrew, more than any other man in the county is due the credit of Livingston county making such a respectable showing at the fair. Mr. McGrew takes more interest in the agricultural welfare of this county than any other man in it, and if all the farmers in the county would follow his lead the whole county would blossom like a rose.

Following is the list of medals awarded:

John Greenlee, Salem, sorghum—silver medal.

Robt. F. Blakely, Hampton, corn and wheat—bronze medal.

W. R. King, Berry's Ferry, corn—bronze medal.

K. W. Lay, Bayou, wheat—bronze medal.

J. D. McCandless, Bayou, corn—bronze medal.

G. N. McGrew, Bayou, wheat, beans and timothy seed—bronze medal.

Chas. Ray, Bayou, corn—bronze medal.

G. W. Stroud, Berry's Ferry, corn—bronze medal.

J. R. Summers, Salem, oats—bronze medal.

Chippis Bros., Bayou, corn and clover seed—silver medal.—Livingston Banner.

PARKER REBUKED

Democratic Paper Raps "Blather-skites" for Inciting Filipinos.

The hardest slap yet administered to Parker was from the hand of an ultra-Democratic editor. There is in the southland no more rabidly Democratic newspaper than the Memphis Commercial Appeal, yet an editorial leader in that paper reads:

"Those distinguished blather-skites who have been ablatheering about Filipino independence and corollary inanities, claim to be helping to elect Judge Parker.

"Governor Wright, who is on the ground and who knows, informed this government that all these declarations were being translated and published in Tagal newspapers and that they were having a deluding and deleterious effect on the natives.

"Now comes the report that the old agitators and professional patriots who have been in enforced retirement and whose henchmen are the head hunters and bandits from the mountains, and the bolo men from the bamboo thickets in the valley have come forth and purpose holding public 'independence' meetings in Manila.

"If these fiery exhorters arouse their half-tamed fellows to disorder and repine by their perfervid utterances, and if the task of governing the islands is rendered more difficult and expensive, our home-bred Tagal-Americans will find that they are supporting Judge Parker with a knife.

"This country is engaged in the solution of one of the most difficult problems that ever confronted a civilized people and it is bending every energy to solve it wisely. Every word uttered calculated to embarrass it will be resented by the spirit of the nation which stands for—right or wrong, our country."

In the Democratic platform and in Parker's letter of acceptance will be found that "ablatheering about Filipino independence and corollary inanities," of which the Memphis Appeal complains, Mr. Parker emphasized his desire to have it known that he demands the giving of an immediate promise of independence to the Filipinos.

DEMOCRATIC RAVINGS

Incendiary Utterances of Congressman Heflin, of Alabama.

If Democracy has returned to "sanity," as Grover Cleveland asserts, it is certain the party has not yet purged itself of something even worse than insanity. Anarchists are a greater curse to any community than lunatics for lunatics are often harmless to society, but anarchists, by their words and deeds are always a menace. Take the case of Congressman J. T. Heflin, for instance. He is an Alabamian with a mouth more dangerous than a dozen Cizolgozes. The assassin of President McKinley did not openly preach anarchism before carrying out his purpose and thereby incite others to slay public men. Heflin is more cowardly. In a recent speech at Tuskegee, Ala., the home of Booker T. Washington, and the negro school conducted by him, Heflin said:

"There they sat, Roosevelt and Booker, and if Cizolgoz or one of his kind had thrown a bomb under the table no great harm would have been done the country."

Of the report that Booker Washington was going to help to beat him for election to congress, Heflin said:

"If Booker takes a hand in this thing it will be one time I will ask him to step out. I will ask him 'hands off,' and you know we have a way of influencing negroes down here."

Heflin, who succeeded Congressman Thompson, had a fight with his Republican opponent, Captain B. W. Walker, on Sunday. Smarting under this, he attacked Walker fiercely in his speech. He described him as "a black and tan serpent hissing at the feet of honest, upright Democrats." He said it was the desire of the Republicans to have Walker sent to congress so they could say: "Here's a friend of Booker Washington and it shows how he is looked upon down there and how the people uphold him."

"If Parker is elected president," he said, "and Booker Washington goes to Washington, you will find him eating in the kitchen instead of the dining-room."

Heflin said he refused to meet Walker in joint debate because that would have recognized him as his equal. He added:

"I do not recognize any black and tan as my equal. I will not lower myself to the level of a black and tan who mingles on equal terms with negroes."

It avails Heflin nothing to say his bomb talk was intended to be peculiar. The fact remains that it was incendiary language, such as is made criminal by the anti-anarchist law recently passed by congress. The Democratic party has much to answer for, and unless it muzzles such blatant "nigger" haters as Heflin it may have more crimes laid at its doors. Heflin is one of the leaders of the party in the south, and his utterances are an indication that Democracy is, at least, not "safe," even if it is now "sane," as Mr. Cleveland would have the people believe.

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age, Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Fever, Constipation all yield to this perfect Pill. 25c at R. F. HAYNES' drug store.

Large Potatoes.

F. M. Davidson, who resides near the Old Jim Mines, about four or five miles west of the city, on last Saturday presented us with two very large Irish potatoes which grew on his farm. They are what is commonly called the fall potato. The two will weigh about six pounds and we will warrant that this record will be hard to beat.

DESIRE OF VOTERS

Republican Policies Will Continue for Four Years More.

As election day draws near it becomes more certain that the Republican party is going to be continued in power by the expressed desire of an immense majority of voters. The people had made up their minds before the shouting and the hurrahing of the campaign began. Recently, under the question of canvassing committees, they have revealed their minds. Every Republican will vote for Roosevelt, no matter what local disturbances affect his ticket. Many who were Democrats before 1896 will vote for Roosevelt, although, naturally, they say little about their intention, and a very large number of independents have openly declared for him.

The fact is that the Democratic party has shown inability to manage the affairs of the nation. Its weakness was so conspicuously displayed when it was last in power that hosts of men became convinced that it no longer represented any branch or contingent of the intelligent people of the United States. The free silver craze of 1896 and 1900 completed the wreck of a once idolized party fetish. Thousands of old-time Democrats, thousands of young men with Democratic affiliations, deserted the ancient standard and came into the life and vigor of Republicans. There they remain.

The election in November of this year will show that the men who joined the party of honest money, of national prosperity, of sound, virile activity, in the work of international improvements, of a dignified, strong foreign policy, of protection to American citizens at home and abroad, of equal opportunities and justice to all without regard to race, color or religion.

It will reveal the earnest devotion of hundreds of thousands of first voters to the principles of Republicanism.

Inefficiency, uncertainty, division in council, these do not command the interest and good will of the American people. The little coterie under the wing of David B. Hill in New York is going to have a great object lesson in the near future.

The country is safe in the hands of the Republican party. Roosevelt and Fairbanks are typical Republicans. Their indorsement, by an immense majority, is certain.

PARKER'S WARNING

Personality of the New Yorker Fails to Interest Voters.

The weakness of the Democratic cause is illustrated anew with every passing day. The presidential candidate is as backboneless, as void of interest, as the platform constructed by a process of elimination at St. Louis, a process carried so far as to make the standing place of a national party look like a frail floating raft, all stringers and no flooring.

The people never "took to" Judge Parker. From the first they were unable to get into sympathy with the judicial figure-head erected by David Bennett Hill to attract votes. As the campaign progressed the candidate's few and infelicitous utterances completely subdued any rising tide of partisan zeal such as nearly always carries the hosts of a party into something like an enthusiastic contest. How could anybody get up enthusiasm for the bland, self-satisfied, managing politician whose every utterance shows the contracted sphere of his interests and influence?

Even the hope of rehabilitating the party and getting it into line somewhere near the advancing forces of the rest of the world has not been able to enlist the rank and file of the Democrats for Parker. There are armies of them who will vote for Roosevelt, brigades, regiments and squads of them who will vote for Watson, for Debs, for any candidate but Parker.

Hill's candidate lacks all the elements of popularity. He has not aroused the imagination of the people. He has not compelled their respect nor has he aroused their confidence. As a young college man said the other day: "Parker has no go in him."

On the other hand, the Republican candidate is a figure to draw to him every generous soul in the country. Let the croakers say what they may, every gallant youngster ready with his first vote, every one of them in this land of game fellows adores Theodore Roosevelt. Every mature man of action, of reserve force and that power for work which revolutionizes the world, admires Theodore Roosevelt. Every voter, young, middle-aged or old, who believes in work, in going ahead and making things go ahead, takes stock in Theodore Roosevelt. Party lines are not going to hold such men, especially when they have at the head of their own ticket, if they are Democrats, an uncertain, unknown, secretive man like Alton B. Parker.

All through the golden days of October, as the leaves fall through the hazy air, the hearts and minds of the mass of voters were turning to Roosevelt, and when the chill November day arrives, the day of the national election, there will be such a rush of enthusiasts to the polls as has never been seen in the land before, enthusiasts of all ages, degrees, conditions, colors, religions and political affiliations, and these will storm the boxes with ballots for Theodore Roosevelt for President of the United States.

CHILDREN.

Health generally good.

Sorghum making and stave hauling is the order of the day.

Rev. Ramsey, of Lyon county, preached here Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night.

Mrs. Fred Brown and children, of Clay, are visiting here.

It would pay some mineral men to visit this section. Jas. Tolley has found a vein of spar on the land he recently leased of L. E. Wadell, and says he will sell the entire mineral right on this land at a bargain.

George Conyer has gone into the timber business again.

Wm. Brown, of Enon, attended church here Sunday.

Jas. Tolley says he wants to sell his mineral right as he can't mine and follow the business too.

John Conyer is making sorghum for Frank Threlkeld.

VOICE STRANGE TO OWNER

Never Sounds Exactly the Same as It Does to the One Who Is Spoken To.

That a man does not hear his own voice as all the rest of the world hears it is shown by an interesting experiment described by Dr. L. Laloy in La Nature of Paris. Says this writer:

"If a person records on a phonograph a few sentences pronounced by himself, together with others by his friends, and causes the machine to reproduce these at the end of a brief period, it generally happens that he easily recognizes his friends' voices, but not his own. On the other hand, the friends recognize his voice perfectly. This singular fact proves that everyone hears his own voice differently from others.

"As is remarked by Prof. Exner, the difference must lie in the quality of the tone. It must be remembered that one hears his own voice not only through the air, as do his auditors, but across the solid parts situated between the organs of speech and those of hearing. The sound thus produced has a different timbre from that conducted to the ear by the air alone.

"We may show this as follows: Take the end of a wooden rod between the teeth and pronounce a vowel continuously. Let the other end be alternately taken between the teeth and released by another person, who at the same time stops his ears. The latter will find that every time he seizes the rod in his teeth the sound becomes stronger than when it reaches his ear through air alone, and has a different quality. The experiment may be varied by applying a wooden rod to the larynx of the person observed and touching it from time to time to the observer's own larynx. As in the preceding case, it will be found that its passage through a solid body augments the intensity of the sound and modifies its quality."

EARN LIVING BY SMOKING.

Paris Firms Employ Hundreds of Men to Color Meerschaum Pipes.

"With the growth of the hobby of smoking meerschaum pipes," said the Hafendorfer, of Philadelphia, according to the Louisville Herald, "there have sprung up concerns which make a business of coloring these pipes.

"How do they do it? Well, in the most natural way imaginable. By smoking them. In Paris there are two firms which employ about a thousand men to do nothing but smoke. They are paid 20 cents an hour. They smoke mild tobacco in order that they can smoke a great length of time without getting a headache.

"I have seen these men at work. They are a queer set. Some of them are persons of high educational attainments, who, being out of employment, do not object to sitting in a cool spot, reading and smoking. It's a snap for them.

"Others of these hired smokers are ignorant fellows, who never achieved success in anything but smoking.

"A few women are in the gathering, but they are all sorry-looking wrecks.

"Some of the smokers are diseased. Many of them have consumption. But this does not endanger the person who buys the meerschaum pipe later on, for the pipes are boiled and baked to eliminate all germs.

"The officials in Paris are trying to break up this business, claiming that it endangers the health of the hirelings."

Snowproof Ponies.

Dr. J. C. Ewart, in discussing the problem of the origin of horses, describes as one of the most distinct kinds now living the Celtic ponies, which are found in the most northern parts of Iceland. They reach a height of only four feet, and are so abundantly furnished with hair that in winter storms they are practically snowproof. Dr. Ewart observed the conduct of one of these ponies during a snowstorm. As soon as the storm began she turned her hind quarters to it, and in a short time the snow had formed a sort of shield or disk upon the long hair growing about the roots of the tail. Thus protected the pony did not shift her position while the storm lasted, except to turn with a change of the wind. — Youth's Companion.

LESSON TEXT.—2 Kings 11:1-16; memory verses, 10-12. Read 2 Kings, 9:15-28, for the account of the death of Ahaziah, king of Judah, Joash's father. Read also all of chapter 11, and parallel account in 2 Chronicles.
GOLDEN TEXT.—"When the righteous are in authority the people rejoice."—Prov. 29:2.

TIME.—875 B. C.
PLACE.—Jerusalem.

Introductory Note.
Athaliah was the daughter of Ahab and Jezebel, of Israel, and had married Jehoram, or Joram, king of Judah. Upon the death of Jehoram, her son Azariah became king, but within a year he was assassinated while on a visit to Joram, king of Israel, who was sick at Jezreel, and who also met death at the hands of Jehu, the "whirlwind" reformer. Athaliah, with all the wickedness of her wicked mother, thereupon slew all the sons of Azariah, except Joash, who was rescued by his aunt, Jehoshabea. Athaliah ruled over Judah for six years. It was in the seventh year of Joash's reign over Israel that Joash was made king over Judah. The mother of Joash was Zibiah of Beersheba.—2 Kings 12:1.

Comparing Scripture with Scripture.

1. Joash Saved. (1) Devices of the Wicked. v. 1.—"Athaliah." Like her mother Jezebel, she was thoroughly given to evil and was ready to go to any lengths to compass her own selfish purposes and desires. She forgot to reckon God and His purposes into the account just as Jezebel did. She "imagined a vain thing" and "took counsel against the Lord and His anointed," but the Lord finally had her "in derision." Ps. 2:1-4. Thank God, the power of evil is circumscribed within the boundaries of God's will and purposes. Athaliah sought to exterminate all the race of David, but God's promises to David were sure (2 King 8:19; Jer. 33:17-26), and all the Athaliahs on earth cannot make void the smallest of God's promises.
(2) Heroism of the Righteous. v. 2.—"Jehoshabea." What a contrast there is between the character of this woman and that of Athaliah.

II. Joash Kept. (1) A Place of Refuge. v. 3.—"Hid in the house of the Lord." Right under the very nose of Athaliah, this young prince was reared. How strange and marvelous are God's providences. He always provides a safe hiding place for His children. Ps. 17:8-9. Ps. 27:5. Ps. 31:20. Note how the wicked devices of men are made to praise God.
(2) Faithful Protectors. v. 3.—God not only provides places of refuge but He also raises up friends for us.

III. Joash Crowned. (1) The Secret Revealed. v. 4.—"Shewed them the king's son." That vision inspired their hearts and nerved their hands to strike for God. In the conflict with evil God will always give us a vision of the King of Kings that we may be inspired and strengthened to plot its downfall.

(2) The Compact Made. v. 4.—"Made a covenant with them." A solemn and holy union formed to overthrow the wicked and enthroned the righteous. Union of God's forces is always necessary to victory. The devil is always pleased when he can divide God's people.

(3) Revolution Planned. vs. 5-8.—Desperate diseases require desperate remedies. Nothing short of a complete overthrow of Athaliah and her following would do. In dealing with evil God's children are justified in making no compromises. Eph. 5:11. Note how carefully Jehoiada planned every detail.

(4) Trustworthy Allies. vs. 9-11.—Each man filled the place assigned him. Find your place and then fill it. Ah, how much the leaders in the Lord's work need men and women who will prove trustworthy. Jehoiada's plans would have failed had his helpers been faithless, and many a pastor and Sunday school superintendent have their plans hindered or defeated because of disloyal co-laborers. Paul suffered thus. 2 Tim. 4:10, 14; But he had faithful helpers, as well. 1 Cor. 4:17.

(5) The Coronation. v. 12.—The hour of triumph. That was a great day in Judah, but it will be a greater day when Jesus shall come forth to be crowned King of Kings and Lord of Lords. The wicked seek to prevent this, but the Lamb will at last be victorious over all His enemies and those who are His shall stand with Him in that hour of triumph. Rev. 17:14.

IV. Retribution. vs. 13-16.—The hour of triumph of the king was the hour of Athaliah's downfall. She was but reaping the harvest of the seeds sown six years before. Athaliah's six years of rule was purchased at fearful cost. So is all sin. Rom. 6:23.

The Golden Text.

"When the righteous are in authority the people rejoice." The pages of history, sacred and secular, give one long and convincing testimony of the blessing which always comes to a nation and people when the upright rule, and on the other hand they offer sad and repeated illustration of the woes and disaster which follow hard upon the heels of corruption and wickedness. In this democratic land of ours, the true patriot, the loyal citizen, must cast his influence, toward the establishment of righteousness, if the nation is to be exalted and the people rejoice.
