MINING FEATURES OF THE WEEK

MINERALS FROM HERE AND THERE!

The development of the mining industry in the Illinois Section of the State is such that all productive geologists will be interested in its progress. In Illinois, during the past few years, there has been a great increase in the number of mines and in the extent of the mining property. While the number of new mines is increasing, the number of old mines is decreasing, due to the exhaustion of known deposits. The geological survey of Illinois is doing excellent work in assisting the mining industry by providing information on the location and quality of mineral deposits. The Illinois Geological Survey is an important agency in the development of the mining industry in the State.

... The Greatest Line of . . .

Holiday Goods

Ever Brought to Marion.

Will be on Display Nov. 24th.

Druggist R. F. HAYNES
Marion, Ky.

WEDDING BELLS

A Master Tuxedo Express the World Wide Fashion. Low Price.

Mr. and Mrs. John Estes, of Marion, were married on November 12th, 1924, at the Presbyterian Church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. E. J. Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. John Estes, of Marion, were married on November 12th, 1924, at the Presbyterian Church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. E. J. Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. John Estes, of Marion, were married on November 12th, 1924, at the Presbyterian Church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. E. J. Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. John Estes, of Marion, were married on November 12th, 1924, at the Presbyterian Church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. E. J. Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. John Estes, of Marion, were married on November 12th, 1924, at the Presbyterian Church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. E. J. Baker.

... Coming!
In College Athletics Good Is Mixed With Evil

By SAMUEL E. ELDER.

THERE ARE those who believe that college athletics are a thing of the past, and are of the opinion that the only benefit derived from college athletics is the joy that comes from the participation in the games. However, this belief is not shared by all. In the following article, a town with a population of 36, W. C. Langley, who had been a poet, a professional football player, and a religious leader, left his town to devote his entire life to the promotion of college athletics. On Tuesday following his death, his funeral services were conducted at the Baptist church in a large congregation. The mourners were addressed by his wife and their remembrance was interred with such beauty of sentiment and of reverence and decorum that the occasion will long be remembered. Several days after his death, his son arrived in New Haven, Conn., and called at the house of his late father. He was a fine young man with a good education. He sat for a time in the parlor where his father had been taken to make arrangements for his funeral. He then went to Mr. W. H. King's drug store.

W. C. Langley formerly resided here and his many friends here will be deeply missed by his bereaved family.

W. C. Langley's death was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability and was a leader in many important causes. He was also a man of great influence, and his loss will be keenly felt by those who knew him. He was a man of great kindness and generosity, and his donation to the college was a great act of charity. His death will be deeply mourned by all who knew him.

W. C. Langley's funeral was attended by a large congregation. The mourners were addressed by his wife and their remembrance was interred with such beauty of sentiment and of reverence and decorum that the occasion will long be remembered. Several days after his death, his son arrived in New Haven, Conn., and called at the house of his late father. He was a fine young man with a good education. He sat for a time in the parlor where his father had been taken to make arrangements for his funeral. He then went to Mr. W. H. King's drug store.

W. C. Langley's death was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability and was a leader in many important causes. He was also a man of great kindness and generosity, and his donation to the college was a great act of charity. His death will be deeply mourned by all who knew him.

W. C. Langley's funeral was attended by a large congregation. The mourners were addressed by his wife and their remembrance was interred with such beauty of sentiment and of reverence and decorum that the occasion will long be remembered. Several days after his death, his son arrived in New Haven, Conn., and called at the house of his late father. He was a fine young man with a good education. He sat for a time in the parlor where his father had been taken to make arrangements for his funeral. He then went to Mr. W. H. King's drug store.

W. C. Langley's death was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability and was a leader in many important causes. He was also a man of great kindness and generosity, and his donation to the college was a great act of charity. His death will be deeply mourned by all who knew him.

W. C. Langley's funeral was attended by a large congregation. The mourners were addressed by his wife and their remembrance was interred with such beauty of sentiment and of reverence and decorum that the occasion will long be remembered. Several days after his death, his son arrived in New Haven, Conn., and called at the house of his late father. He was a fine young man with a good education. He sat for a time in the parlor where his father had been taken to make arrangements for his funeral. He then went to Mr. W. H. King's drug store.

W. C. Langley's death was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability and was a leader in many important causes. He was also a man of great kindness and generosity, and his donation to the college was a great act of charity. His death will be deeply mourned by all who knew him.

W. C. Langley's funeral was attended by a large congregation. The mourners were addressed by his wife and their remembrance was interred with such beauty of sentiment and of reverence and decorum that the occasion will long be remembered. Several days after his death, his son arrived in New Haven, Conn., and called at the house of his late father. He was a fine young man with a good education. He sat for a time in the parlor where his father had been taken to make arrangements for his funeral. He then went to Mr. W. H. King's drug store.

W. C. Langley's death was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability and was a leader in many important causes. He was also a man of great kindness and generosity, and his donation to the college was a great act of charity. His death will be deeply mourned by all who knew him.

W. C. Langley's funeral was attended by a large congregation. The mourners were addressed by his wife and their remembrance was interred with such beauty of sentiment and of reverence and decorum that the occasion will long be remembered. Several days after his death, his son arrived in New Haven, Conn., and called at the house of his late father. He was a fine young man with a good education. He sat for a time in the parlor where his father had been taken to make arrangements for his funeral. He then went to Mr. W. H. King's drug store.

W. C. Langley's death was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability and was a leader in many important causes. He was also a man of great kindness and generosity, and his donation to the college was a great act of charity. His death will be deeply mourned by all who knew him.

W. C. Langley's funeral was attended by a large congregation. The mourners were addressed by his wife and their remembrance was interred with such beauty of sentiment and of reverence and decorum that the occasion will long be remembered. Several days after his death, his son arrived in New Haven, Conn., and called at the house of his late father. He was a fine young man with a good education. He sat for a time in the parlor where his father had been taken to make arrangements for his funeral. He then went to Mr. W. H. King's drug store.

W. C. Langley's death was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability and was a leader in many important causes. He was also a man of great kindness and generosity, and his donation to the college was a great act of charity. His death will be deeply mourned by all who knew him.

W. C. Langley's funeral was attended by a large congregation. The mourners were addressed by his wife and their remembrance was interred with such beauty of sentiment and of reverence and decorum that the occasion will long be remembered. Several days after his death, his son arrived in New Haven, Conn., and called at the house of his late father. He was a fine young man with a good education. He sat for a time in the parlor where his father had been taken to make arrangements for his funeral. He then went to Mr. W. H. King's drug store.

W. C. Langley's death was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability and was a leader in many important causes. He was also a man of great kindness and generosity, and his donation to the college was a great act of charity. His death will be deeply mourned by all who knew him.

W. C. Langley's funeral was attended by a large congregation. The mourners were addressed by his wife and their remembrance was interred with such beauty of sentiment and of reverence and decorum that the occasion will long be remembered. Several days after his death, his son arrived in New Haven, Conn., and called at the house of his late father. He was a fine young man with a good education. He sat for a time in the parlor where his father had been taken to make arrangements for his funeral. He then went to Mr. W. H. King's drug store.

W. C. Langley's death was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability and was a leader in many important causes. He was also a man of great kindness and generosity, and his donation to the college was a great act of charity. His death will be deeply mourned by all who knew him.

W. C. Langley's funeral was attended by a large congregation. The mourners were addressed by his wife and their remembrance was interred with such beauty of sentiment and of reverence and decorum that the occasion will long be remembered. Several days after his death, his son arrived in New Haven, Conn., and called at the house of his late father. He was a fine young man with a good education. He sat for a time in the parlor where his father had been taken to make arrangements for his funeral. He then went to Mr. W. H. King's drug store.

W. C. Langley's death was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability and was a leader in many important causes. He was also a man of great kindness and generosity, and his donation to the college was a great act of charity. His death will be deeply mourned by all who knew him.

W. C. Langley's funeral was attended by a large congregation. The mourners were addressed by his wife and their remembrance was interred with such beauty of sentiment and of reverence and decorum that the occasion will long be remembered. Several days after his death, his son arrived in New Haven, Conn., and called at the house of his late father. He was a fine young man with a good education. He sat for a time in the parlor where his father had been taken to make arrangements for his funeral. He then went to Mr. W. H. King's drug store.

W. C. Langley's death was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability and was a leader in many important causes. He was also a man of great kindness and generosity, and his donation to the college was a great act of charity. His death will be deeply mourned by all who knew him.

W. C. Langley's funeral was attended by a large congregation. The mourners were addressed by his wife and their remembrance was interred with such beauty of sentiment and of reverence and decorum that the occasion will long be remembered. Several days after his death, his son arrived in New Haven, Conn., and called at the house of his late father. He was a fine young man with a good education. He sat for a time in the parlor where his father had been taken to make arrangements for his funeral. He then went to Mr. W. H. King's drug store.

W. C. Langley's death was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability and was a leader in many important causes. He was also a man of great kindness and generosity, and his donation to the college was a great act of charity. His death will be deeply mourned by all who knew him.

W. C. Langley's funeral was attended by a large congregation. The mourners were addressed by his wife and their remembrance was interred with such beauty of sentiment and of reverence and decorum that the occasion will long be remembered. Several days after his death, his son arrived in New Haven, Conn., and called at the house of his late father. He was a fine young man with a good education. He sat for a time in the parlor where his father had been taken to make arrangements for his funeral. He then went to Mr. W. H. King's drug store.

W. C. Langley's death was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability and was a leader in many important causes. He was also a man of great kindness and generosity, and his donation to the college was a great act of charity. His death will be deeply mourned by all who knew him.
Be Moderate in Taking Your Athletic Exercise
By ROBERT J. ROBERTS

There is nothing like athletic exercise to help to teach a man how to control his own energy. If he follows the advice of this wise ruler, the use of his body can be carried on competently in a moderately easy way. At the same time, it is not unlikely that some man can see a way through to a moderate way of life, a way that is not likely to be harmful to the body or the mind.

A young man is told to enjoy his strength and the joy of being strong, but he must also be in a position to show off his physical abilities. He must not be too violent. In other words, he must not be violent. As a result, this advice is not likely to be harmful to the body or the mind.

The exercise is to be done in a moderate way, without being too violent. This advice is not likely to be harmful to the body or the mind.

The exercise is to be done in a moderate way, without being too violent. This advice is not likely to be harmful to the body or the mind.

The exercise is to be done in a moderate way, without being too violent. This advice is not likely to be harmful to the body or the mind.

The exercise is to be done in a moderate way, without being too violent. This advice is not likely to be harmful to the body or the mind.