BIG STRIKES OF LEAD AND ZINC.

Universal Activity Now Prevails Throughout the District, and New Strikes are of Almost Daily Occurrence.

The Pogue mine is preparing to raise steam again in the near future.

W H Teasme was in the city Tuesday night and attended the Commercial Club.

The Morganfield Mining company have commenced work on their property near Sheridan.

The Commodore Mining company struck a large vein of lead and zinc on the Franks property on Friday.

Our New Salem correspondent says: "Joe Pace has sold the mineral on the farm he sold last summer to some Louisville parties."

The lead begins to show up very strong in the shaft on the Marion Beard place, which is being sunk by Mr Henry and others of Marion.

There was a number of wagons hauling floor spar from the Mary Belle mine last week to the Ky. Flour Spar company's mill at Marion.

Our Levis correspondent says: "The Trigg County Mining Company are finding plenty of lead and zinc on the Marion Beard property. They are sinking a 150 foot shaft."

The Rosi Claire Mining company are working six days per week in their spar levels and night and day sinking their shaft. Capt Thomas keeps a good steady output all the time.

Ross Goodwin, from Fairview, Ills, was in our town last week. He says they are running about thirty buckets of spar per day out of the Fairview mine. The company are working day and night.

Our Carverville correspondent writes: "This week has shown better work in the Schoolfield-Spees mine. The present shaft is ninety feet deep. Drifting will not be begun under 100 feet, and possibly at greater depth."

Wagons have started hauling mineral from Blue & Nann's Nine Acres to the Columbia Mining Co's mill. Their ore will be separated and milled at this plant until Blue & Nann put up a mill of their own, which will be early in the spring.

It is reported by different people that the largest, richest and quickest vein ever struck in this district was uncovered last week at the Franks property. The vein is composed of lead and floor spar. There was an old shaft sunk at this place for silver about thirty years ago, and in cleaning out this old shaft the above vein was discovered.

A new vein of lead and floor spar was discovered last week on the Big Four Mining company's property. This makes four distinct veins on their property.

Mr W. C. Uren has resigned from the employment of Blue & Nann, to take effect today, Dec 1, 1904. In future he will devote his time to locating veins and explaining mineral properties for any one desiring his services. His long experience and employment for nearly four years by the firm of Blue & Nann is a recommendation to Mr Uren and we predict that he will have very little idle time on his hands. Capitalists and property owners are looking for just such a man, and Mr. Uren's reputation will be a valuable asset.

A twelve foot vein of spar and lead was struck last Friday in the D H Franks old shaft, and the Commodore Mining Co. takes position at once with the best in the district. They will sink a shaft at once, work on it having begun Monday, and will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible. Only last week John Schess, a capitalist of Louisville, bought this property of Harry Watkins and others and he immediately organized the Commodore Mining Co. and it went to developing at once with the most happy results. Mr. Wm. Miller is Pres't and John Schess, Vice Pres't; C. H. Whitehouse Secretary and Treasurer and J. M. Persons Supt and General Manager.

The developments at the 9 acres have been such that all doubts of the future of that camp have been swept away. That district will take rank during the next few years as one of the heaviest producers in the world. The impetus given the district, by the starting of the Eagle and Riley mills and other mills will lead to the development of the entire field, and in a very short time many other plants will be installed here.

The district has the great advantage of producing ores that can be reduced on the ground. In some of the mines, notably the Columbia and Noe, the ore is free milling. That will enable the owners to recover the lead at a minimum of cost and render it unnecessary to haul any bulky product to the railway. Under such conditions mining can be carried on here almost as cheaply as at any point. The installation of plants will cost more, so will supplies, but the percentage of increased cost will be very small.

There are other properties being opened up here for the ores of which the separating process may have to be used, but those ores are of such a character that they will yield readily to the process. The improvements made in methods reduce the cost on such ores to a trifling figure, and bring a vast amount of ore within the field of prospective operations. That process also turns out its product in compact form, the cost of transportation of which will be trifling.

Under these conditions we may look for great activity in this district from this time forward. It has been active this year but will be much more so next year. The mining men now understand the country and the operating property here have disclosed the fact that the ores exist in almost limitless bodies. It is such property that attracts practical miners and we may look for active work to be started on every claim here that gives indications of embracing the great deposit. The advantage to this section of the State from having such operations in progress here, are manifest. It is from this city that the supplies must be obtained, and the resulting business for our merchants will be enormous.

A BIG CONTRACT.

The people of Clay are jubilant over a big coal contract made there that means something will be done in the mining business for three years to come at least.

Mr T. R. Troendle, one of the stockholders of the Buffalo Creek and Tradewater Coal & Mining company, at Daniel Boone, Hopkins county, located on the I. C. railroad, and who is sales agent for the company, made a contract with Mr. Clarence Blackwell, of the Thomas Blackwell Coal & Mining Co. at Clay, to handle all of the output of its mine for three years, says the Providence Enterprise.

The coal company at Clay has a new plant that has only been in operation for a short time and the output is necessarily limited at this time, but they are running four cars a day with the force they have and with a larger force can rapidly increase the output. Mr. Troendle says that he could use one hundred cars per week now from this mine at points on the Illinois Central.

The U. S. Coal & Coke company have re-opened the old Casey mines, owned and operated before the war by ex-Congressman Sam Louis Casey, of Caseyville. They have struck the celebrated Bell coal and a key to the entire coal field. This was what Mr. Casey was trying to find, and not having the capital necessary for the great undertaking it broke him and he was compelled to abandon the work. Supt. Bucher as well as Mr. Nevins, who own this coal field and the U. S. mines, with his own railroad to the Ohio, feel very proud that this coal has been struck so near the river and their roadbed. Work has commenced in earnest to make it second to no mine in the State. Twenty-five thousand dollars has already been given Mr. Bucher to put in machinery, which will be the latest improved now used by any mines and known as the Electric Haulage system. Mr. Nevins has never hesitated at spending money here to develop the best coal, and while the No 5, 7, 9 and 11 coal is in untold quantities and his mines putting out the No 9, he wanted the Bell coal and he got it. This, with the number of mines now in operation and in preparation for the same, will make almost a solid mining town from the Bell-Union Coal & Coke Co. at Anvil Rock to Blackford and to Caseyville on the Ohio river.

TROUBLE IN PANAMA

And Admiral Goodrich is Cabled "Hold Your Fleet at Panama."

Washington, D. C., Nov. 26. The integrity of the Republic of Panama is gravely threatened, great revolution, demanding utilization of United States vessels and marines is menaced.

After conferences today between the White House, State Department, and the Navy Department, Admiral Goodrich was cabled empty orders to hold his squadron at Panama, where it arrived today, until further orders.

Special orders were also cabled Capt. Merriam, in command of the Dixie at Colon. They were sent by Secretary Morton himself who sent them first to the State Department. At the State Department it is learned that statement cabled Capt. Merriam was in cypher, but was substantially as follows:

"In case of insurrection or at Colon or Panama, utilize all your resources, including the marines, in support of the present Government. Direct command officer of marines to act at once according to these orders, upon the request of the President of Panama."

The forces thus put at the disposal of the President of Panama, are the Pacific squadron, consisting of the New York, Boston, Marblehead and gunboat Bennington, the Dixie at Colon and about 400 marines now on the isthmus.

It thus appears that the State Department has news of the most importance, which it has given to the public. A semi-official statement was given out by the State Department to the effect that a conspiracy had been discovered some time ago against President Amador, but that it had been nipped in the bud.

According to what was given out by the State Department, it was the intention of the conspirators evidently to seize the Government and take charge of the suspended balance of the $10,000,000 paid to the Republic of Panama by the United States.

Late this evening, however, the State Department was busy, privately, on another story. It issued of grave dangers and asked the Navy Department for help. Memoranda of the State Department shows that the Pacific squadron was held up suddenly and the other precautions taken as stated above.

Secretary of War Taft is going to Panama on the Columbia, and she will be accompanied by the Dolphin, the Detroit or the McCroft, now in Caribbean waters, their assistance be needed.

About a week ago Mr. Wm. H. Bennett arrived in Marion from Hankington, North Dakota, and as mineral men are getting to be quite numerous around Marion, every one thought he was in search of treasure from some rich Crutenden county mine. It became known, however, soon after his arrival that the gem he came in search of was Miss Edna Cannon, daughter of our townsman G. W. Cannon, for on Wednesday he claimed her as his bride and took her with him to his far away home in the great north-west. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. R. McAfee at the home of the bride and immediately afterward they took the train going to Chicago. The young couple have corresponded for some time without the knowledge of their friends and Mr. Cannon did not know of it until Mr. Bennett asked for the hand of his daughter. On account of her health not being the best her father was a little reluctant for his daughter to go so far north but the young people importuned and he gave his consent. The groom, as stated, is unknown here, but has the appearance of being a substantial man and a gentleman. The Press wishes them much joy.

A Visit to My Old Home.

Some time ago as the sun was hiding himself away behind the western hills I was waning my way to the place my wife and children call home. I chanced to see the light in the window of my old friend, Beck C. Fritz. The thought of my early days came rushing to my mind, and the chilly breeze of the night, impressed me that it was policy to announce to my friend that I desired to lodge with him. So I met with the welcome of my old time visits, and was soon snugly seated by the old fire side which was loaded with knots, sticks and chunks of coal; but it seemed to be more inclined to smoke than burn, but with the poker and shovel my friend continued to work until it seemed that every thing was fire and more fire. It seemed that supper had been ready for some time, but as I am so well known they had to add to it quantity. Well to say we sat up and talked would be using much brevity. Incident after incident was recalled that happened more than 40 years ago which were both sad and joyous. At a late hour in the night we were reminded of the giver of all good and perfect gifts, and by request of the good woman we united around the family altar to give thanks to Him who had preserved our lives for these long years. Next morning I went to the old spring-house from which I took my first drink of water more than 50 years ago, while Drury, my faithful horse, drank from the trough I knelt and drank with him. The old gullies were more numerous and deeper, but the old bunch of Thayer was still standing. So with our usual "come down," "well you come back," I took my leave for town, feeling that my best old north-west path that I went over the old school path that I traveled what a boy, I passed the old sugar haw tree where I plucked the haw the first day of my first school, crossed the path of our fox chase where we used to spend many of our play hours. Our old red fox was Robert Lajay Carrock, who some years ago was killed by a hulk. The leading hound, old Rally, was kept by J. J. Franks. I almost imagine I hear his screams yet. Listen! listen! Well my friends what sustains life is the good things we eat and the good things we think about.

KENTUCKY CROP REPORT.

The drought prevailing in nearly all parts of the State is almost unprecedented in its severity. From nearly every county the cry comes that stock water is scarce and the stock is being driven for miles to water. In many places the streams, springs and cisterns have given out, causing a water famine for man as well as beast. There is great complaint that nearly all the grass seed sown for meadows have perished for want of moisture. There is also apprehension that a large part of the wheat, rye and winter oat seed will perish from the same cause. The early sown grain came up all right but there has not been sufficient moisture in the ground for it to make any progress. The grain sown later remains unsprouted in the ground yet. It remains to be seen what the effect will be if this condition continues much longer.

The corn crop generally in the State is a good one many counties reporting a bumper crop, while others, notably in the fourth division of the State report an exceedingly short crop.

WEEDS

Consumption is a human weed flourishing best in weak lungs. Like other weeds it is easily destroyed while young when old, sometimes impossible.

Strengthen the lungs as you would weak land and the weeds will disappear.

The best lung fertilizer is Scott's Emulsion. Salt pork is good too, but it is very hard to digest.

The time to treat consumption is when you begin trying to hide it from yourself. Others see it, you won't.

Don't wait until you can't deceive yourself any longer. Begin with the first thought to take Scott's Emulsion. If it isn't really consumption so much the better; you will soon forget it and be better for the treatment. If it is consumption you can't expect to be cured at once, but if you will begin in time and will be rigidly regular in your treatment you will win.

Scott's Emulsion, fresh air, rest all you can, eat all you can, that's the treatment and that's the best treatment.

We will send you a little of the Emulsion free. Be sure that this picture is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 409 Pearl St., N. Y. 50c. and $1.00 all druggists.

The acreage of wheat was not increased as expected, only a few counties reporting an increase above an average while many counties fall far below it. The drought setting in so early that it interfered with preparing the land for wheat accounts for the small acreage sown. The amount of land seeded to rye is a full average. The acreage of winter oats is below the average, largely on account of the failure last season.

The tobacco was saved in good condition. Free from frost, worm out and dust it ought to be a very useful crop. While the crop is not a large one anywhere, it is reported to be quite short in the first and fourth districts.

Live stock are fully up to the standard in numbers and condition. The apple crop for winter is less than a half crop.

All things considered the farmers have many things to be thankful for, and can eat his Thanksgiving turkey with praise to his God and congratulation that it might have been worse.

Head About to Burst From Severe Bilious Attack.

"I had a severe bilious attack and felt like my head was about to burst when I got hold of a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Biliousness, stomach troubles and constipation: these tablets have no equal. Price 25 cents. For sale by Woods & Orme druggists.

HOW TO MAKE MONEY.

Lexington, Ky., Nov 25.—In an address delivered by Prof. Burris A. Jenkins, of Kentucky University before the Lexington Bible Society, at the opera house, he said:

"Impending danger threatens the public schools of America by a lack of Bible study and a grasping after commercialism. The most comprehensive study of the age is how to make money. The fact that most men are unable to devise a plan from reading the Bible how to make a dollar keeps them from reading it. Just as education must ever remain incomplete without a study of the Bible so we find the time now upon us when the people will demand that the Bible be taught in the public schools."

OBITUARY.

Rev A. H. Humphreys was born May 4th, 1837, died Nov 7th, 1904 being 66 years old.

Bro Humphreys was a member of the Baptist church 42 years, and had been a licentiate minister for several years. He leaves a wife and three children, two sons and one daughter. They are all married. He was the father of eight children, who all lived to grow up and be married, and many to mourn their loss; but we believe our loss is his eternal gain. By their fruits ye shall know men, and he being dead yet speaketh.

Though that dear old familiar voice will be heard no more from the pulpit of the many churches of Crittenden county where he has preached so much, yet thank God his good works will follow him; his faithfulness and sweet disposition made many friends who will mourn for him; yet we sorrow not as those who have no hope.

The bereaved family have the sympathy of the community, and may trust in Him whom the dear husband and father trusted so long and meet him where there are no parting words shall ever be spoken, in yonder bright mansion fair, but songs of joy, and peace and gladness sing forever more.

The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. Olive, at the Baptist church at Dycusburg, where he lived, after which the body was laid to rest in the Dycusburg cemetery by the Masonic fraternity to await the resurrection.

Asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep From which none ever wake to weep.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT:—$1.00

Congressman Ollie M. James wins by 9,803, more than twenty-five hundred greater than he won by the last time, and this majority of 9,803 is the greatest ever given a Democratic candidate for Congress in the first district.

Mr. M. W. LaRue, who so agreeably and efficiently represents the local Coopers age Co., at this point, has brought his employment to the point of a notable industry. He buys timber in any quantity, from a cord to a forest, and pays cash for it. He pays his help and "bolt" vendors on the 1st and 15th of the month, and these payments reach from $1,000 to $1,200 each month. This is paid to some 50 or 60 different persons same pay days and ranges from cents to dollars; 100 cents to some and 100 to 200 dollars to others, others. One would scarcely believe there was enough whiteoak timber in this county to make such a volume of business possible, but when it is known that he scours the territory from Iron Hill on the east to Salem on the west and from Gladstone on the north to Crayneville and Mexico on the South, getting a tree here, a cord there, 20 cords from one and 50 cords from another, it will be readily seen from that the possibilities are all in his favor. In fact, this territory would easily supply him at same rate for a year or more.

Dow George

A negro boy was found dead beside the track of the railroad on the hill this side of Crayneville, by the crew of the 7 o'clock train Wednesday morning. An investigation showed that he had been shot through the head, but the coroner's jury failed to ferret out the mystery of his death. He was not cold when found which would indicate that he had not lain there long. His remains were held here at Dorr's undertaking until his brother could arrive from Kuttawa, but as we go to press we are unable to state what disposition will be made of his remains.

Court Closed Wednesday Afternoon

Judge J. F. Gordon, on account of illness adjourned court and left on the afternoon train for his home. The grand jury returned 33 indictments. There were only a few important cases. Rochester Wallingford was acquitted of the charge of housebreaking. No evidence against him except Tommie White's, who is in the penitentiary. His evidence not sufficient. Another important case was Commonwealth vs. Pete Campbell, who was in jail under indictment for malicious cutting of Bud Williamson. He was sentenced to the penitentiary for one year.

F. A. Casner of Providence was here Wednesday. He brought his wife over to see her mother, Mrs. J. D. Asher.

Williams-Pace.

E. C. Williams, of near Hampton, and Miss Gertie Pace, of near Salem, went to Princeton Wednesday on the noon train and were married there and returned here on the afternoon train. The bride is the handsome and bright daughter of Joe Pace, one of Livingston's substantial citizens and is entirely worthy of the young man whom she has chosen for a life partner. Mr. Williams is a farmer and stands high in the community where he lives near Hampton. We wish them much joy.

Wedding at Thos. M. Hill's.

Last Wednesday night at the handsome new home of the bride's father in the Chapel Hill neighborhood, Miss Addie Hill was united in marriage to David Vandell, of the same vicinity, in the presence of a large concourse of friends and relatives. These young people are held in high esteem by all who know them and their popularity was evidenced by the many handsome presents they received. They will make their home with the father of the groom, T. J. Vandell, sr., The Pastor extends them congratulations and best wishes.

Mrs. Carl Flanary Passes Away.

Mrs. Carl Flanary, of the Hebron neighborhood, died Monday afternoon, November 28th, 1904, in the 29th year of her age, having been born November 11th, 1876. She had been a patient sufferer with tuberculosis for the last two years and for some time had been confined to her bed. Mrs. Flanary was Miss Maggie May Daughtrey, daughter of Lewis Daughtrey and wife and was married about eight years ago and leaves besides her husband, two little boys. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. Anthony Ainsworth, of Mississippi, and 30 brothers: Messrs. W. T. Daughtrey of Marion, Jas. Daughtrey of Ford's Ferry, John Daughtrey of Uniontown, Fred, Clyde and Ray, who are at home with their parents. Mrs. Flanary was a Christian, having professed about 12 years ago and cast her lot with the Methodist church at Hebron. She was buried at the Love graveyard, Tuesday afternoon in the presence of a large gathering of friends. Rev. McConnell of Tolu, officiating at the funeral.

A 'Possum Hunt

A great 'possum hunt was engaged in by a crowd of young bloods from Henderson, who came down to spend Thanksgiving. John Cochran "chaperoned" them and among the number were Cook Cronwell, Emmitt and Herbert Rodgers, Shelby and Wm. Elliott and they were joined by Gray Rochester, Robert Rowlett and Emmitt Kollinsky, three Marion boys all older than any of the Henderson crowd, but if all reports are true, not nearly so brave, for they do say one of the Marion boys "climbed a tree" when the dogs scared up a 'possum and it took considerable persuasion to convince him that 'twas safe to come down. The Henderson delegation was delighted with the hunt and invited the three Marion boys to visit them in Henderson and take a "snipe" hunt. But they think that one of them will not accept as he has sworn off ever hunting again.

A strange coincidence is the arrival here last week of Mrs. D. H. Franks from Colorado on the same day that the sale of her old home was perfected for $20,000 to a syndicate of Louisville capitalists. Mr. and Mrs. Franks went west in search of gold and have been most fortunate, but probably not much more than if they had remained in old Crittenden and developed their own land which has proved to be rich in minerals and may make several fortunes for the owners.

The protracted meeting at the Methodist church in this city which is being conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. E. McAfee, is enlisting the help, influence and prayers of the entire community. Each service is largely attended and the preaching has been such as to hold large audiences. Sunday night last when the doors of the church were opened the following joined by letter: Jas. Hardin, Sarah and Mary Hardin, Chas. and Ada Bell Hardin, all of whom recently moved here from Livingston county. New professions and additions to the church were the following: Ray and Eugene Love, Roscoe Rochester, Tom and Walter Johnson, James Howerton, Geo. Orme, Ira Sutherland, Orland Moore, Wilbur, Susie and Manie Boston, Mamie Love and Mabel Stallions. The interest continues and the meeting will too so long as good can be done. The Presiding Elder Rev. Virgil Elgin, was here and rendered valuable service, and the local ministers here lent their aid and their has been no strikes in the choir but excellent singing. A duet by C. S. Nunn and Mrs. Fannie Walker Sunday night thrilled and delighted the congregation. Rev. McAfee deserves and is receiving cordial support and is winning favor each day with the people.

Mrs. J. I. Clement and Miss Rachel Orr did not reach Marion any too soon to get a last look at their old home before it was dismantled. Judge Wager, Mrs. Clement's father, sold the place to G. C. Gray over 20 years ago and he has always wished it was further from the street. The recent fire which damaged it considerably, presented an opportunity to move it and it has been done and a handsome new square residence, also two stories high, will soon take its place.

W. A. Tackwell who, it is alleged, was attacked by Shem Watson, who struck him with a scutlin, breaking his nose and cheek bone last Thursday evening is resting well and gradually improving. Dr. T. Atchison Frazer, the attending physician, thinks he is now out of danger. The trouble came up, so it is said, over the indictment which was returned last court against Lawrence Tackwell, son of W. A. Tackwell. He was cleared of the charge Thursday and on the way home a charge light took place on the hill near Oak Grove church on the Salem road, two miles from town. Mr. Tackwell was the only one of the combatants who was seriously hurt. Mr. Tackwell is at the home and is attended by L. E. Hardin, his son-in-law. His wife and daughter, Miss Catherine, came up to see him Sunday and spent the day.

The popularity of the couple was proven by the many useful and substantial presents sent to them and presented to the bride at the linen shower given in honor on Thursday night. For the present they will board with Mrs. Moore, but will go to housekeeping as soon as their cottage is completed in the Weldon and Blackburn addition. The Press, with their host of friends, wishes them much joy.

Special Notice.

The District Sunday School Convention will be held at Weston, Kentucky, December 14th.

GILBERT-MOORE.

Roy Gilbert was about the busiest man in Marion last Wednesday afternoon. He was taking grocery orders and trying to not forget each little item ordered by the numerous housewives over the city, and in addition he had the show on hand and the opera house to look after. Just in the midst of it all the Electric Light Co. notified him that there was "trouble" at the light plant and that maybe there would be no lights that night and at any rate not until late. Roy was not dismayed but quietly went to work to have his lamps trimmed and burning, so the play could go on without delay. The reason Roy was not excited and in such good humor over it all was not known to many of his friends until Thursday morning, when it became known that he attended the opera house on the previous evening with his bonny bride. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. R. McAfee at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. R. A. Moore, on West Wilson Avenue, and was witnessed by the family and only a few friends of the couple.

Miss Edna Moore, the bride, is the second daughter of the late R. A. Moore, and is a beautiful and attractive girl. She is a granddaughter of Jas. P. Moore, for many years a tobaccoist of this county, and a much beloved man. His widow survives him and lives in this county at the old homestead. She is also a granddaughter of the late J. M. Klapp, for many years a merchant of Dycusburg and who died recently in Jonesboro, Ark. Miss Moore has many friends and admirers who wish her much joy in her wedded life.

The groom, Roy Redford Gilbert, is the son of the well known grocer, A. M. Gilbert, and is a grandson of Dr. J. W. Crawford, well and favorably known here. He is the lessee of the Marion opera house and head salesman in the Gilbert & Hicklin grocery and universally liked.

The popularity of the couple was proven by the many useful and substantial presents sent to them and presented to the bride at the linen shower given in honor on Thursday night. For the present they will board with Mrs. Moore, but will go to housekeeping as soon as their cottage is completed in the Weldon and Blackburn addition. The Press, with their host of friends, wishes them much joy.

Special Notice.

Mrs. Eli Flanary Dies.

Mrs. Eli Flanary died of consumption at her home in Weston, last Thursday November 24th, and was buried Friday at Mount Zion cemetery. She was a member of the Methodist church and belonged to the Mt. Zion congregation. Mrs. Flanary was a daughter of Jacob Hill and was twice married, first to Alonzo Nunn, son of Chappell Nunn and afterward to Eli Flanary. She had one daughter by her first marriage, who is now the wife of Frank Daniel, of Aniston, Mo. In the absence of the pastor the Rev. W. T. Oakley kindly officiated at the funeral and burial.

Long Range Weather Forecasts.

The impulse to look into the past of individuals, of nations and of races, to know whence we are, who our ancestors were, and what they did, is indeed strong; but it is probably exceeded by the desire to see the future, to know whither we are going, what is in store for us along the way, and what is our destiny.

Prognostications have been popular in all ages and in the earlier stages of the development of the races the prophet held an important place, and much confidence was had in his ability to foretell all character of events.

In some respects some of the weather prophets of today resemble some of the prophets of old, for "there were false prophets among the people," again "they prophesy not unto right things;" and "the prophets thereof divine for money," and again, "they prophesied and did not cease," also certain prophets are "light and treacherous persons," especially light; and when it comes to verifying their own prognostications they "are like the foxes of the desert."

There are in these latter days folks who find in everything that purports to tell events of importance or of a sensational nature an entrancing fascination. The prediction of calamities has become a common practice and as a climax the foretelling the time and character of the end of all things has been a prolific theme.

Some of the prophets cause this dire end to be attended by thunder and lightning, whirlwinds and a general unbalancing of the elements, thus making the farthest reaching weather forecast on record. These prophecies have great weight with those who go a hungering after the weird and mythical. They care little for the verification of the problematical and are not disappointed when it is a failure; it has had its effect on the "bugbear" story has on the mind of the child or older person of the primitive races. John Burrows says, "there is something in most of us that welcomes a departure from the ordinary routine of natural causes; we like to believe that the impossible happens; we like to see the marvelous and mysterious crop out of ordinary circumstances." This lingering trait of the primitive mind, often found in cultured minds is like a rank weed in a corner of rare orchids, and calls for long range weather predictions of a sensational kind, devours the prophecy and is elated, caring little for the weather it self. But little harm has been done here as the sensation, the end desired, would if not found here be found elsewhere.

On persons of another disposition these prophecies have another effect; these are they who move constantly in the shadow of some calamity, and live in awe until the time of fulfillment is past, and then in sad disappointment they are comfortably under the protection of some other shadow; there are fewer of this than of the other class, and while the prophecy has its distressing effect it is doubtful if any injury has been done, as here again the subject must have the shadow from some source.

There is another and a larger class of persons who are interested in long range weather forecasts—those who desire them for the weather they are supposed to foretell. For them the long range forecast, if reliable, would have a commercial value. This is the only class that merits serious consideration. Many of these understand that the United States weather bureau does not make long range weather forecasts, and that on reliable predictions for the weather for a month or a year are promulgated; and they are content to abide by their necessities, trusting that some successful system may be established in the future. There are, however, some of that valuable class of citizens who place much credence in long range predictions, and are closely wedded, some to one and some to another of the weather prophets. Undue weight given to some necessary coincidences in the weather as it occurs and the predictions made increases their faith to such an extent that a multitude of failures are unheeded.

Those belonging to this class are requested to compare all of the predictions of their favorite prophets with the weather as it comes and mark down the successes and failures. Many of the predictions are so mythical or obscure as to time and place that no verification can be made. The United States weather bureau has carefully examined such as are capable of having verifications applied to them, and has found them to be entirely untrustworthy. Other competent persons, not connected in any way with the weather bureau, have also examined them and with the same results. The parallel between the long range forecast and the weather of the period covered by it, is fatal to the prediction. Were it otherwise the United States weather bureau would gladly adopt the successful system and supply a long felt want.

Most localities have weather men who are sometimes persons of intelligence and influence. Some of them make predictions for a day and others for longer periods. Those who confine their forecasts to the immediate future often base their predictions on signs, which have a logical relation with the weather, whether or not the forecaster understands the connection. These meet with more or less success. Others there are who base their predictions on nothing more than the vagaries of their own mental aberrations; they apparently get the mind in some sort of motion and accept whatever is ground out. Their predictions are of no value and little harm, few people placing enough credence in them to be deceived.

Another class of predictions have more than local celebrity; they are using various systems, some of which have been exploded for generations; some depend on the appearance of natural objects and the actions of birds and animals; some on the phases of the moon; and others on the position of the planets; some judge the coming season by the past, on the assumption that one extreme follows another; other have a fair knowledge of the movements of storm areas and conditions that attend their movements across the continent; they make a free use of the publications of the weather bureau and fit their predictions to the character of weather to be expected at particular seasons.

Should the attempt at fitting be successful the weather and the prediction may agree nicely for a considerable time; but if it does not start out of joint with the weather it is sure to get out in time and then the forecast and the weather will for a period be the reverse one of the other.

This class is probably the most harmful of all who deal in future weather, for by employing terms and expressions in common use by the United States weather bureau they lead some to believe that their work is reliable.

Predictions of this character, as now made, being valueless, the publication of them can do no good, and the editor who rightly excludes them from his paper benefits the public.

The system on which the forecasts issued by the weather bureau is based is entirely different from any of the long range systems, and does not admit of that character of forecasts, and such predictions should never, as is sometimes done, be attributed to the weather bureau.

Beware of Counterfeits.

"DeWitt's is the only genuine witch hazel salve" writes J. L. Tucker, of Centre, Ala. "I have used it in my family for piles, cuts and burns for years and can recommend it to be the best salve on the market. Every family should keep it, as it is an invaluable household remedy, and should always be kept on hand for immediate use." Mrs. Samuel Gage, of North Bush, N. Y., says: "I had a fever sore on my ankle for twelve years that the doctors could not cure. All salves and blood remedies proved worthless. I could not walk for over two years. Finally I was persuaded to try DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which has completely cured me. It is a wonderful relief." DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cures without leaving a scar. Sold by Woods & Orme.

WISHING.

(By Ella Wheeler Wilcox.)

Do you wish the world were better?
Let me tell you what to do:
Set a watch upon your actions,
Keep them always straight and true,
Rid your mind of selfish motives,
Let your thoughts be clean and high,
You can make a little Eden
Of the sphere you occupy.

Do you wish the world were wiser?
Well, suppose you make a start
By accumulating wisdom
In the scrap book of your heart,
Do not waste one page on folly,
Live to learn to live,
If you want to give men knowledge
You must get it ere you give.

Do you wish the world were happier?
Then remember day by day
Just to scatter seeds of kindness
As you pass along the way:
For the pleasures of the many
May be oftentimes traced to one,
As the hand that plants an acorn
Shelters armies from the sun.

FREED HER LOVER.

Portland, Maine, Nov. 25.—Inspired by her great love, Maria Gardiner a pretty young woman employed as a governess in the family of Lieutenant Colonel Caffrey, commanding Ft. McKinley, crept between the sentries in the night, and breaking the window of the guard house liberated her soldier lover, M. J. Whitey. Then the couple made their way cautiously to the shore of the island and taking a small boat which the young woman had previously concealed, rowed to Portland, four miles away, where they were married by a justice.

A gale, which had steadily increased, nearly swamped them on their way back, but with their little skiff filled they finally made the fort shore at 1 o'clock at night.

Sergeant Whitey immediately returned to prison. He is from Richmond, Va., and three weeks ago was committed to the guardhouse for terrorizing Portland citizens with a big revolver. He had cleverly planned his hasty marriage but wisely made no attempt to escape.

FOURTH MURDER.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—The police say that Natoli Salafali, who was found dead in the lake in Rogers Park, is the fourth victim in Chicago of the "Black Hand" since Sept. 19.

The other three were committed at Riverside Sept. 19. Salafali's body was covered with stiletto wounds and his head crushed.

Two months persistent work on the Riverside murders has proved conclusively to the police that the three Italians so mysteriously murdered in a shanty at Riverside, last September, were victims of the Mafia.

In the light of evidence that has been brought from the old country home of the three slain men at Palermo, Italy, it is believed that arrests will follow.

The new evidence obtained by the combined efforts of the authorities of the two countries has likened the Riverside murders with a series of tragedies, the first of which was the assassination of M. Notarbolini in Sicily in 1893, for which Palitzola was, after conviction, given 30 years.

MRS. CECILIA STOWE, Orator, Entre Nous Club.

176 Warren Avenue, CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 22, 1902.
For nearly four years I suffered from ovarian troubles. The doctor insisted on an operation as the only way to get well. I, however, strongly objected to an operation. My husband felt disappointed as well as I, for home with a sick woman is a disconsolate place at best. A friendly druggist advised him to get a bottle of Wine of Cardui for me to try, and he did so. I began to improve in a few days and my recovery was very rapid. Within eighteen weeks I was another being.

Mrs. Stowe's letter shows every woman how a home is saddened by female weakness and how completely Wine of Cardui cures that sickness and brings health and happiness again. Do not go on suffering. Go to your druggist today and secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui.

WINE OF CARDUI

Don't try to fight the devil with fire. Take a weapon with which he is not familiar.

Don't expect people to profit by the advice you give without following it yourselves.

Don't forget that the most tedious conversations are those in which "I" is the text.

Don't worry over today's troubles until tomorrow, then it will not be necessary.

Don't make the mistake of thinking that the pleasure you buy is equal to the happiness you earn. Don't make the mistake of thinking that a knowing look will always serve the same purpose as real knowledge.

WOODS & ORME'S UNUSUAL OFFER.

Sell Dr. Howard's Specific at Half-Price, and Guarantee a Cure.

"It isn't often that we have faith enough in the medicine put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure," said Woods & Orme to a Press reporter who dropped into their store, but we are glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that basis.

"The Dr. Howard company in order to get a quick introductory sale, authorizes us to sell their regular fifty cent bottles at half-price, 25 cents, and, although we have sold a lot of it, and have guaranteed every package, not one has brought back as unsatisfactory.

"One great advantage of this specific," he continued, "is its small dose and convenient form. There are sixty doses in a vial that can be carried in the vest pocket or purse, and every one has more medical power than a big pill or tablet or a tumbler of mineral water.

"We are still selling the specific at half-price, although we cannot tell how long we shall be able to do so, and any one who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion, or a general played-out condition ought to take advantage of this chance. You can tell your readers that if they are not satisfied with the specific they can come right back to our store and we will cheerfully refund their money."

Then, my friend, would like to know why fair twin roses blush and blow in baby's cheeks? I'll tell thee. They're nourished by "TEETHINA."

See! "TEETHINA" (Teething powder) overcomes and counteracts the effects of the summer's heat, aids digestion, regulates the bowels and relieves much suffering and dread.
