The Choral Club

An effect has been made on the part of the Board of Managers to secure the services of Henry F. Douglass, a native of New York City, who has been offering an engaging season of Choral Music. This has been accepted, and it is announced that he will be in charge of the new season of 1918-19. The club, under his direction, will conduct its work in a spirit of devotion and earnestness.

The Choral Club, whose aim is to promote the practice of public singing, has been in existence for several years. It has now under its charge a large number of pupils, who are thus enabled to participate in the performance of this important work.

The Choral Club will be conducted on the following plan: Music will be selected from the best compositions of the past and present, and will be taught in a spirit of devotion and earnestness.

Each member of the club will be required to take an active part in the performance of the works assigned to him.

The performance of the works will be in the following order:

2. "The Hymn of the Republic"—by Dr. Wm. C. Handy.
3. "The Battle Hymn of the Republic"—by Dr. Wm. C. Handy.

Each member of the club will be required to take an active part in the performance of the works assigned to him.
