SMITHLAND

May Get a Branch of the Illinois Central Railroad.

Citizens of Smithland have been told the encouraging news that the Illinois Central will build a branch into that town at an early date

A meeting was held there Saturday evening with a representative of the Illinois Central company, who stated that he would report the matter favorably at Chicago headquarters.

For several months Capt J. W. Bush and Attorney C. H. Wilson have been corresponding with the operating department of the company and at their request Mr. C. R. Rogers of the civil engineering force of the I. C. was sent to Smithland Saturday to confer with the people in regard to this proposition, and the prospects for getting the right-of-way into Smithland from some point near the Tennessee river, to build the branch from that point.

Mr Rogers was given the assurance that the right-of-way could be easily obtained, and he assured the citizens that he would report the subject favorably, and the people of Smithland are very hopeful of getting a railroad into the capital of Livingston county.—Paducah News-Democrat.

Coal and Mineral Lands for Sale.

Coal and mineral lands, prospected with diamond core drills, by contract. The only satisfactory way to prospect, "see the core." Address Wm. F. Keats, Owensboro, Ky.

THE EASTERN WAR.

St. Petersburg, Feb 25.—A dispatch from Sachun dated the 25th says: "Japanese in superior numbers forced the Russian detachment at Tsinketohin to abandon their position at Bereneff hill; the battle was desperate on both sides. The result is not yet ascertained.

Shinking, Manchuria, via Mukden, Feb. 25.—It is reported here that the Japanese are closing in on the Russian east flank and as a result of this movement it is possible there will be a general engagement or a counter movement by the Russians along part of the line. For the past three weeks the Russians have suffered no material disturbances.

Reports of activity at Vladivostok in anticipation of an attack on that place by the Japanese are confirmed by the naval attaches of foreign governments leaving that place by request of the Russian authorities.

Mukden, Feb 25.—An action in the center opened at 8:30 this morning, with siege guns. The firing of field guns continued throughout the day.

Tsinketohen, Feb 25.—The Japanese attack on Bereneff Hill developed into an encounter of the most sanguinary nature. The Japanese, pressing forward with a bayonet charge were received with porrxyn hand grenades or were blown up by concealed mines and the Japanese siege guns, which took position to support the advance were silenced for a time and beaten back. The Japanese came on with greater resolution, however and the Russians finally yielded the hill in the face of greatly superior numbers and a determined series of attacks, which continued night and day.

Silver Mine Again.

Owingsville, Ky, Feb 27.—Telephone messages state that it is believed the famous Swift silver mine has been located at Johns Run, in Carter county. Peculiar ore found there when analyzed was found to contain silver. A rich silver mine was found in Eastern Kentucky in 1750 by John Swift, of North Carolina, who lost his map and could not locate the spot any more. It was generally believed to be in Carter county.

DRINK HOT WATER.

There is nothing better for indigestion than drinking hot water, freely, and immediately after meals, taking a small half a teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda in half a glass of water. At least four glasses of hot water should be taken during the day, and one immediately upon rising.

NEW SALEM.

Interesting Happening of the Tensely Told.

Some one without fear of the law, entered the stable of Dave Brown, who lives near Emmaus church, one night last week and cut one of his mules in a terrible manner. One gash was 24 inches long, commencing on top of its back and extending clear down to its flank, besides other cuts. The cuts ranged from 1 to 2 inches in depth. Brown fastened the mule up in the stable when he fed at night. In the morning he found the mule in the lot, and also the bride. Brown says whoever did the cutting must have bridled the mule and taken it out in the lot to do his dastardly work. About 8 feet of good rope would be the best medicine in such cases. If the mule lives it is ruined.

Since Uncle Sam has given all those who may be lucky enough to live on a mail route free delivery. One sees many kinds of mail sacks and boxes, from a cigar box to one that will hold 10 bushels and from a 2 bushel sack to one that will hold a peck. If Tom Guess and Sheard Hale live through it nothing will freeze them.

There seems to be new life springing up in mining circles the past few days. From all indications this year will be the banner year for our county so far as the mining interest is concerned. There will be a great deal of prospecting done the coming summer. We have the mineral no doubt.

We have no right so far to grumble about the condition of our public roads this winter. Considering the terrible winter they have been better than in many years.

The wheat crop in this section looks rather bad. Since the thaw came where it was sown broadcast it is frozen out badly, but where put in with a drill it is not so badly frozen out.

We can not remember when we ever saw so little work done and so much to do as the farmers now have on their hands.

Deputy Sheriff Flanary was in this section last week, telling the boys that he was in the race for sheriff.

Our farmers, and in fact every one are happy and seem to have new life the past few beautiful days.

Harris Austin's family spent part of last week the guest of Mrs Austin's fathers family at Pinkneyville.

Some few burnt plant beds last week. The tobacco crop in this section will be 25 per cent larger than last year's crop.

Our farmers are sowing more grass and clover than in many years.

John Pace has given up the idea of moving to the west this spring.

It is not much that the farmers will have time to have with the candidates.

We hear great complaint among farmers of the loss of poultry by the cold weather.

Some of our people are attending the protracted meeting at Salem, mud or no mud.

There is general rejoicing in our section over the way the whisky vote went in old Salem.

John Harpending is sick. The balance of our sick are improving.

FIRE SWEEP.

Hot Springs, Ark., Feb 25.—A fire swept the southern portion of this city early today, doing immense damage and causing the known death of three persons; the losses are variously estimated at from one million to two million dollars. Three charred corpses have been found amid the ruins, and as several persons are reported missing the death list may be increased. The identity of the victims has not been established. One of the bodies is supposed to be that of a female guest of the Grand Central hotel.

The fire, which started at 2:30 o'clock this morning, was the worst the State has ever experienced. In five hours it had burned over an area of one square mile. Block after block of residences, business houses, hotels and other buildings were swept away and the entire town was panic stricken although the fire was confined to the southern part of the city; the street car wires and telegraph and telephone poles were destroyed and these services were temporarily suspended.

The fire swept area includes every house on Chapel street all of Market street, from Central Avenue west; Orange street to Grand avenue and a portion of Oak street.

The firemen and police worked valiantly but their efforts could check, the onward march of the flames, and to add to their difficulty the water pressure gave out at 5 o'clock. Bucket brigades were then formed, citizens and visitors alike volunteering their services and doing all in their power to help.

New evaporated fruits, dates and figs. Morris & Hubbard.

ROW IN McCracken.

Paducah, Ky, Feb 25.—Scandal after scandal follows after the investigation of books of the various county officers. Joe Potter, who is a candidate for the office of county judge, was out today in a statement in which he alleges that county judge R. T. Lightfoot has made illegal charges in settlements in nearly every case of administrators and guardians of estates in his court. Mr. Potter states that he has had an attorney at work on the books of the county judge for several days and finds error after error in the settlement of the various estates. Joe Potter is a brother of Sheriff Lee Potter, Judge Lightfoot makes an absolute denial of all the charges.

Charges of errors have also been made against sheriff Potter and his books are under investigation by State Inspector Henry Hines. Deputy Sheriff H. F. Lyon has made a statement in which he says if any errors exist in the exempt list he is solely responsible, as he made the calculations on the Sheriff's books.

Cadiz Jail Delivery.

Cadiz, Ky., Feb 27.—Charlie Dixon, recently indicted for willful murder, and two negro prisoners escaped from jail here through the front door. They had been turned out into the hall by Jailer Smith, who is at a loss to know now they got the door open. Dixon killed Matt Summers on Donaldson creek in January. There have six prisoners escaped from this jail since the present jailer took charge of it in November last.

A CARD.

To the Voters of Crittenden County: I came home from school on the 13th day of February for the purpose of making a thorough canvass of the county for the nomination at the primary to be held April 1st, for Assessor; but owing to illness I have been, and am yet confined to my room. My physicians advise me I will not be able to be out for a week or ten days yet; it will not be possible for me to make a thorough canvass of the county before the primary, as I had intended to do, but I will see as many of you as I possibly can, and any favor shown me will be appreciated.

Sincerely,

J. Anthony Davidson.

ALBERT HUGHES DEAD.

Tuesday morning at 3 o'clock, Albert Hughes, one of the county's best citizens, died of liver complaint at his home in the Chapel Hill vicinity. He was in his 39th year and was born and reared near this city and has lived in the county all his life. He is a son of James Hughes, who lives near the city limits on the hill. He leaves a wife and two children, one a daughter, Mrs Sheley Agee, and the other a son of 12 years. He has one full brother, Harvey, and four half brothers.

Mr Hughes was a member of the Pleasant Hill Primitive Baptist church and lived a consistent christian life. He was buried at the Paris cemetery Wednesday afternoon and requested that R. v. Frank Paris officiate.

C. railroaders, who regret very much to see him leave Princeton.—Princeton Leader.

Railroad officials estimate that 125,000 cars of freight are tied up on railroads east and west of Chicago, owing to the recent heavy storms. Of this number 75,000 cars are said to be sidetracked on eastern roads and 50,000 cars on western roads. It will require ten days or more to have this accommodation of freight to its destination, and it is probable the loss in perishable stuff may be very heavy.

OUT OF THE PAST.

By Hartley A. Bruce, of Princeton, Ky.

Out of the past there comes to me
Sweet voices of the long ago,
The old time songs and laughter free
Of dear old friends I used to know:
And musing on the old time scenes,
Replete with happiness and joy,
How sad to awaken from the dreams,
And be a man, and not a boy.

I dream again, and forms are near,
Some strong and brave, and true;
And others, that were far more dear,
Are bent, and very feeble, too;
And faces that my fancy shows,
Some were young, and very fair;
But the one of greatest beauty glows
From a magic frame of silver hair.

But waking or in dreams, I see
Those clear and tender eyes of blue,
And far more dear are they to me,
Than all the stars in heaven's blue,
That face, those eyes, her silver hair,
Still beam upon me as no other;
And when in heaven we meet up there,
I'll see and know my sainted mother.

A HARD PROBLEM.

A young farmer asked an elderly farmer for his daughter in marriage. The answer was: "Go into the orchard and bring in a parcel of apples. Give me one-half of the whole number and to the mother one-half the balance and one-half an apple over, and to the daughter one-half the remainder and one-half an apple over, and have one left for yourself without cutting an apple. Then if she is willing you can have her." He solved the problem. How many did he bring?

Uncle Silas (to city friend): Say, what you'd get me a slip or two from one of them electric light plants, I want to try to raise me own bulbs.

AT THE DOOR.

I thought myself indeed secure,
So fast the door, so firm the lock!
But lo! he toddling comes to lure
My parent ear with timorous knock.

My heart were stone could it withstand
The sweetness of my baby's plea,
That timorous, baby knocking, and,
"Please let me in, it's only me."

I threw aside the unfinished book,
Regardless of its tempting charms;
And, opening wide the door, I took My laughing darling on my arms.

Who knows but in eternity
I, like a truant child, shall wait—
The glories of a life to be,
Beyond the Heavenly Father's gate!

And will that Heavenly Father heed
The truant's supplicating cry,
As at the outer door I plead,
"Tis I, O Father, only I!"

—Eugene Field.

MY MOTHER.

Who fed me from her gentle breast
And hushed me in her arms to rest
And on my cheek sweet kisses pressed?
My mother.

When sleep forsook my open eye,
Who was it sung sweet lullaby
And rocked me that I should not cry?
My mother.

Who sat and watched my infant head
When sleeping in my cradle bed
And tears of sweet affection shed?
My mother.

When pain and sickness made me cry
Who gazed upon my heavy eye
And wept for fear I should die?
My mother.

Who ran to help me when I fell
And would some pretty story tell
Or kiss the part to make it well.
My mother.

Who taught my infants lips to pray
To love God's holy word and day
And walk in wisdom's pleasant way?
My mother.

And can I ever cease to be Affectionate and kind to thee
Who was so very kind to me—
My mother.

Oh, no, the thought I cannot bear,
And, if God please my life to spare
I hope I shall reward thy care.
My mother.

When thou art feeble old and gray
My healthy arm shall be thy stay,
And I will soothe thy pains away.
My mother.

And when I see thee hang thy head,
"Twill be my turn to watch thy bed
And tears of sweet affection shed.
My mother.

FIGHT AGAINST STANDARD OIL

Rueyrus, O., Feb 27.—Frank S. Monnett, ex-Attorney General of Ohio, who has been employed by the independent oil people of Kansas to assist in their fight against the Standard Oil Company, is now in Kansas to take up the battle. He says he will take up the power of the courts to enforce the laws passed by the Legislature, and in addition will assist in preparing pleadings in the various cases. Another part of his plan will be to fight against the lease given by Hitchcock on over one million acres of territorial land. Mr. Monnett says that the present action of Kansas Texas and Wisconsin, backed by the national Government, is the strongest blow yet struck against the Standard Oil Company. The proceedings thus far are almost identical with those instituted during his term as Attorney General. These measures were introduced three different times and each time they never got beyond the committee. "I see," said Mr. Monnett, "in this concerted attack on the Standard the handwriting on the wall. If pushed to a finish it will be the death of the world's greatest combine, and will so weaken the lesser evils of a like nature that combine legislation will be much simplified."

Houston, Tex., Feb 27.—A petition is being circulated here asking Congressman Pinckney to request President Roosevelt to include the Texas oil fields in the investigation of the Standard Oil operations in Kansas.

Guthrie, Okla, Feb 27.—The House tonight passed a joint resolution memorializing President Roosevelt to investigate the blanket lease of the oil beds of the Osage nation.

For James for U. S. Senator.

"Now from our point of view and according to our way of thinking, it makes but little difference to the people of this part of Kentucky who their Senators in Congress are, neither nor both of them are of as much actual importance to the people and taxpayers as any country magistrate is to the people that he represents in the Fiscal court of his county. A Senatorship is a soft job usually sold to a politician with the longest purse string. And to our way of thinking the most corrupt legislative body on earth today is the U. S. Senate. Investigations, Impeachments, Irregularities, Frauds, Briberies, Jobberies and wholesale corruption is about all the Senatorial news we hear at the present time. But with such fellows as Joe Blackburn who amounts to so little that no one hears of them except when they want to be re-elected, the case is different for no attention is paid to them, for they never do anything for which to be indicted or to be 'inveigated.' Senator Blackburn was in the Lowe's House of Congress ten years and is now serving his third term in the Senate, and the only thing that he ever did in either House of which we have any knowledge was to pull Bill Chandler's ear, and in our opinion it is now about time to retire him to the shades of private life. As for Governor Beckham we were for him for governor and we are very much in favor of his remaining governor for the full term for which he was elected. In our opinion a better man than Blackburn or Beckham either for U. S. Senator can be found in the First district in the person of Congressman Ollie M. James, and we are decidedly for him for the United States Senate over either Blackburn, Beckham or anyone else."—Smithland Democrat.

DAZED, ARE MEN OF NOTE.

New York, Feb 19.—A Washington dispatch to the Herald is as follows:

It is beginning to dawn on this city that the Federal investigation of the Standard Oil Company, proposed by the Campbell resolution will be a severe test of strength between the United States Government and the great industrial and financial institution in the world. Some men call it an inquest by "the State of a corporation popularly supposed greater than the State and the creator of statesmen."

The adoption of the resolution by the House, the President's order to "begin at once, go to the bottom and report early," the filing of the charges and the actual beginning of the inquiry followed in such swift sequence that the elder men of public affairs are astounded. Secretary McCall is still dazed and does not realize the purport of this unusual series of events. Mr. Garfield, the Commissioner of Corporations, specially charged with the investigation, appears unable to appreciate the scope of his commission.

STEAMER SUNK.

Maysville, Ky., Feb 24.—The ice gorge that has been holding fast in the Ohio river at this point for the past ten days broke this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Although the river men were prepared for the break, having all the ropes and hawsers that could be gotten together, and tied on to their craft, the steamer Big Kanawa is a total wreck. She was torn loose and floated down with the ice and as she passed the ferryboat Lawrence she tore the outer guard off her and went down.

Captain Ed Williamson and his crew stayed with the boat until it began to upset when they jumped for their lives to the floating ice and all got off, but two, who stayed on her until she was almost gone when they, too, jumped for their lives. The boat upset and it is probable the ice will tear her to pieces.

The steamer Tacoma was also damaged and she sprang a leak. Men are at work calking her to keep her afloat. The wharfbort was not damaged. The property lost at this point will run into the thousands.

PERSONAL STORY

After they retreated, it seemed to me that half of them were lying upon the ground. In some places the fallen lay thick. After our firing had ceased—and it did not cease until the retreating enemy was far beyond musket shot—many of them got up and came in unharmed, as deserters.

Some got up and commenced turning the dead and wounded about, and plundering, then ran off. There were two in front of where I was who were plundering and turning the dead about. We supposed they were looking for friends. We hallooed to them to come in. They would raise their heads and look at us and plunder on.

At last they raised up and started off on a run. I suppose there were 200 guns fired at them. At the crack of the guns they pitched over on their faces. After things quieted a little, several of us ran over into the battleground and got guns, while the dirt and clover were flying all about many of the enemy back in the ditches, shooting at us with their little guns, about two feet long, with rising sights.

I got two muskets. I thought of nothing else, as we had many men inactive from want of guns. One of the guns I pulled from under a fallen Briton, and he exclaimed in language which I never understood until I was made a master Mason many years after.

I had no sooner gotten back to our lines than the battle commenced across the river. I stood and listened until the firing ceased, and a few minutes thereafter came an order from Old Hickory (Jackson) for the Kentucky troops to reinforce, for our men had given way.

I gave one of my captured guns to Jake Bird, who had burst his gun close by me during the battle. The other I kept.

I had set down the musket I drew for the engagement, when I crossed into the battleground and some villain stole her, and I never saw her, to know her, any more.

We all started, in double quick, six miles up into town to get boats to cross in. Most of the way up the shore was crowded with the citizens who had come out to the bank of the river, some being undressed, as they jumped up from bed when the battle commenced. Many of them had their arms full of bread and some had cartridges, and they were hallooing:

"Hurrah for Kentuck! Hurrah for Kentuck! Good! Never die!"

I got a couple of loaves of bread; for, mind you, we had eaten nothing since dinner yesterday.

I gave one of my loaves of bread to my captain and kept the other.

We were ordered to shoot off our guns. The Briton gun which I had was loaded when I got it, and the pan open; she had either flashed or the owner had forgotten to prime.

I handed her to a man, who shot her off. He put her up to his shoulder. The British brings his gun only to the hip, and levels her. My comrade put her to his shoulder and took sight and, when then fired, he was nearly whirled round.

Our company got an old keel boat with only two small oars and, knowing the swiftness of the stream, I fully expected that we would land below the enemy, who were coming up, as I thought—seeing many coming up—on the other side of the river.

We were ordered to load our guns and, seeing the chances, as I thought, against us, I couldn't eat my bread. I offered it to several around me, but they all shook their heads.

I loaded my gun and stood in silence till we got over. We then marched down the levee, through the rain, and, when the rain ceased, we were ordered again to shoot off our guns. Mine failed to fire—did nothing but flash.

I borrowed a hatchet from a comrade and sat down in the mud to unbreech her, and while I was at this work the order came to march. I picked up the barrel in one hand and the stock in the other, and oh I went, until we called a halt to see how many soldiers we could gather up that had run.

I got some help and in getting the breechpin out the load fell out. I could not tell for certain, but I have ever been of the opinion that I had loaded her with the cartridge wrong and down, which explained her failure to go off.

While waiting for reinforcements to cross (as we could not gather 100 that had been in the battle on the west side of the river, they having scattered into the swamps like so many wild turkeys), I started out amongst the orange groves and came across, hidden in a ditch, a considerable amount of household plunder.

I was interested in nothing but a nice new tin bucket, with a lid, that would hold about three quarts. I needed just such a bucket, and hooked it.

We lay all night in a ditch and, on Monday morning, we received a new reinforcement, and formed in three divisions and marched down, determined to retake our breastworks, but before the reinforcement crossed over, or rather on Sunday evening, a large sugar house was discovered by some of our boys, about half way between us and the enemy.

Several of our party went down and brought up loads of sugar. It was said at first that the British were run out of the sugar house.

All got what they could eat and their pockets full. Besides, I filled my little tin bucket and carried it back to our camp on the east side of the river.

One division marched down on the river, one in the center and one in the edge of the swamp. I was in the center division. All was as silent as death—not a word spoken except by an officer, and that was: "Keep dressed!"

The soldiers all looked, and no doubt felt, as solemn as death. I know that I did. The most of us supposed that we might want our handkerchiefs for bandages, and we poured out our sugar on the ground. You could see piles of it as we marched along.

Down the river some distance there was a mill run dug out from the river to the swamp and the dirt thrown out on one side some four feet high. This obscured our sight below.

I expected as soon as we crossed to hear the enemy's cannon open upon us, but to our great joy we there met our scouts, who informed us that the British had fled and recrossed the river.

No sooner did we get this information than the heavens were seemingly rent with shouts.

We were now marched back and recrossed the river and dismissed, and were told to occupy our old camps. I was so sore and stiff from the race the day before that it was with considerable difficulty that I reached camp.

When we got there all our provisions had been stolen, and it was now night and nothing to eat. Next morning we drew provisions, but before we could cook any it commenced raining and poured in floods, until the ground was more than a foot deep, water running off toward the swamp like a mill race.

Just at night on Tuesday we got high ground enough to kindle a fire and cook some—the first we had eaten since dinner on Saturday.

I can't say that I suffered as many did. I suppose who had eaten the sugar and were feeling sick.

My messmates found an old cart in the swamp. We carried the body and turned it upside down, and there was room for three of us to sleep on it at a time.

The dead were all carried off and buried when we got back. The number of British soldiers killed, wounded and taken prisoners has been variously estimated. Perhaps 3000, or less, would be near the number.

Our loss on both sides of the river was perhaps less than 100.

Gen. Gibbs commanded the right of the enemy, and fell nearly opposite to where I fought, at the head of his division, not more than 70 yards from our lines. His horse also was killed. It was a bay horse, and I thought it the finest I ever saw.

I merely mention this incident to show that a man can be brave and yet on the side of the aggressor—the wrong side, and if this be so, which we must all admit, how much more brave is he who is conscious that he is right, and how true the Shakespearean sentiment:

"Thrice armed is he that hath his quarrel just!"

Gen. Fakenham was killed at the head of his reserve, a quarter of a mile from our lines.

Both armies remained in sight of each other for some ten days, and kept up cannonading each other. I have stood and watched many an hour, and when I would see the flash at night and the round curling smoke in the day, I would fall down upon the ground until I heard the report, for the ball came quicker than the sound.

On the 18th of the month (January) an exchange of prisoners was effected. I watched this maneuver with great interest. It took place in the open field before us. There was first the sound of the trumpets, then a flag from each camp went out, with the respective officers behind each flag.

The flags struck down about a hundred yards apart. Then an officer from each side advanced on horseback, meeting each other and passing, and turning, each with his face toward his own flag, they met, bowed and shook hands, exchanged papers in an instant, put spurs to their horses and retired behind their flags to headquarters. This was performed a time or two, and the prisoners marched out and were taken in charge by their own officers and marched into their respective camps.

A few nights before the exchange I went to sleep on the same ground while on picket guard. I had been sent out that night under a captain of the regular army, and he refused to let his men sleep at the guard fire.

When mounted the third time I got so sleepy, a little before day, that it seemed impossible to keep my eyes open. I put tobacco juice in them and walked backward and forward on the line as far as I dared to walk.

I found myself going to sleep while walking, and thus staggering out of the line, where I was in danger of being shot by my own men. I went back to my post, hugged up my gun, with my blanket around me, and lay down, with my head on a bunch of sugar cane, which the enemy had tied up to use in filling our ditch. I was determined that no one could get my gun without awakening me. No sooner was I down than I was fast asleep.

But Providence interposed. I woke up a few moments before relief came.

On the 19th of the month volunteers were called for to go down to the lake to annoy the British, who had retreated the night before.

I volunteered, and was paraded early in the day, but things not being ready we were ordered to stack our arms on the parade ground and await further orders.

I drew the sugar that I had brought from over the river and made some sweetened water and, while I was eating, I took sick at the stomach. When the company started in the evening I felt too sick to go, and I got worse every hour. For three days and nights I thought I should die. I couldn't eat a bite of anything and wanted nothing but cold water. I sent for the doctor, old Mr. Pentecost. He came and threw back the tent door—for we had drawn our tents a few days before—and asked me what was the matter. I told him I didn't know, but I was very sick.

He brought out a big oath and swore that it was nothing but the measles. He said for me to drink nothing cold, but plentifully of warm drinks, and I would be well in a few days, and away he went. I quit cold water and drank plentifully of warm drinks, and the next morning I was broken out in red pimples with the French measles from head to foot.

I was about the first man in camp to take the measles, and I had never heard of it until I had it.

After I got home I met the old doctor in Princeton, Ky., and when taking his cup he would call me up to him and tell the company how he saved my life without medicine.

The truth is, I felt much better after I learned what was the matter. I got one of my messmates to roast me some Irish potatoes, and I ate two—all the food I had eaten in five days. I refused to go to the hospital, where many went and died.

Now, as I have spoken of messes and messmates I will state some of their names. A mess was six men who drew their provisions together, cooked and ate together and slept in the same tent, and had one fire.

John Neely, Alex. R. Davidson (William Garner's wife's father) and Jacob Bird were three of my messmates, and as I did not like the other two I shall not name them.

After I got well I made frequent trips up to town. I knew my brother was on the way down with a flatboat of produce, and I was almost dead for corn bread.

My ingenuity was often taxed to the full to get through the guard. We had removed our camp to within four miles of the city. Sometimes I could get a pass, but more frequently I would go without one, sometimes by wading the ditches and going five or six miles through the swamp.

I have slipped by the guard under the levee, between him and the river. One time I sauntered along and took the windward of the guard, while he was standing with his back to the wind—for I have felt as cold wind here there in Kentucky. When I got up close behind him I broke into a run. He hallooed for me to stop. I kept on. He swore he would load his gun for the next challenge.

To my great grief my brother never came until I had left. He got detained on the river.

The news of peace came, and all our thoughts were turned on home. I got a furlough and left on the morning of the 16th of March, in company with young Jim Wadlington, Alex. Dun and several others. I wished to stop at my sister's Polly Sherby's and then come home through the nation with the army. My comrades all turned off one by one to see their friends and I had to travel alone.

Soon, however, I fell in with other soldiers on furlough who lived in Mississippi, but I soon left them in consequence of their stealing a tin cup where we stayed all night.

I got to my sister's, near the Grindstone ford of the Bay Apier, and stayed there some ten days until the army came up. I then joined them again and came with them to Covert's Ferry, on the Tennessee river.

There a good many of us took passage on the top of a flatboat and came down the Tennessee river and got out not far from where Birmingham now is.

Our company grew less every few miles by the men turning off to their homes, until I was left alone again. I made my way home by myself until in the neighborhood, where some of my old neighbors, who were glad to see me, fell in and accompanied me home, where I met my mother and all the family at the gate—and such joy I had never experienced before.

I think that was about the 24 of April. I had been gone about five months, and my age was now 17 years and 1 month.

A Favorite Remedy for Babies

Its pleasant taste and prompt cures have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a favorite with the mothers of small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds and prevents any danger of pneumonia or other serious consequences. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears will prevent the attack. For sale by Woods & Orme.

OTHERS WILL FALL

Moscow, Feb. 21.—The assassin of Grand Duke Sergius, when questioned declared that all the efforts of the authorities to learn who he is would have no effect. He adds that, before his victim is placed under the ground other victims will be found. Regarding his motives the assassin said he only acted in the interests of an oppressed people. He considered the deed was an act of duty. He said he is aware that the Emperor was an innocent dupe, and his party had decided to deliver the Emperor from the evil influences surrounding him in the hope that he would some day join in the new movement and become the head of a National Government.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured. William Shaffer, a brakeman of Denison, Ohio, was confined to his bed for several weeks with inflammatory rheumatism. "I used many remedies," he says. Finally I sent to McCaw's drug store for a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, at which time I was unable to use hand or foot, and in one week's time was able to go to work as happy as a clam." For sale by Woods & Orme.

Success Summed Up.

"What is the secret of success?" asked the Spin.

"Push," said the button.

"Never be led," said the pencil.

"Take pains," said the window.

"Always keep cool," said the ice.

"Be up to date," said the Calendar.

"Never lose your head," said the barrel.

"Make light of everything," said the fire.

"Do a driving business," said the hammer.

"Aspire to grater things," said the nutmeg.

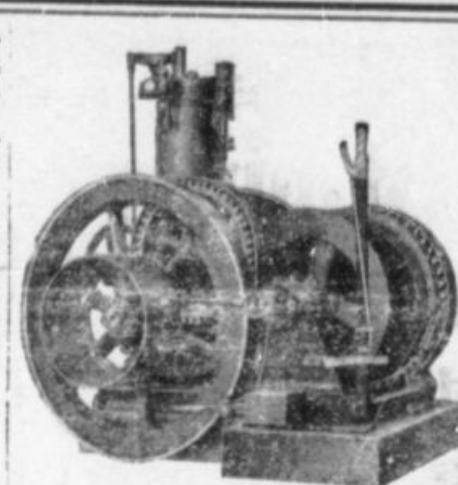

"Be sharp in all your dealings," said the knife.

"Find a good thing and stick to it," said the glue.

"Do the work you are suited for," said the Chimney.—Baltimore Sun.

For Representative.

We are authorized to announce
T. H. COCHRAN
Of Marion, as a Candidate for Representative from the counties of Crittenden and Livingston, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

It was a graceful thing, the recent act of Congress returning to the several Southern States the Confederate battle flags, together with the Union flags captured by the Confederates during the late Civil War. This act should have a beneficial effect in cementing still closer the bonds of brotherhood between the two sections of the Union. It is the last act in the bloody drama and should bury all cause of future hatred. There are 544 of these flags, of the different States. Of these 104 are Union flags, which were captured by the Confederates and will be returned to them, together with the 440 belonging to the Confederate States.
There was a move made to restore these flags during the Cleveland administration, but as considerable opposition developed the matter was dropped. Since then the Northern mind has broadened considerably, and when the subject was again broached it met with no serious opposition.

The naval appropriation bill carries with it over $90,000,000.
The bill provides for the construction of two new battle ships. And thus Uncle Sam's navy continues to grow. In this connection the Cincinnati Enquirer has this to say:

"The purpose to build a great navy is not a sudden inspiration.
It has had definite shape for twenty years. The people were quick in patriotic response when the new naval program was adopted in the first Cleveland administration, and there has since been no abatement in general zeal. Our expansion policy has quickened the nerves and spirit of the country, and any backward or tardy step in the naval program would be nothing less than disgraceful. The pace has been set and the country must keep to it."

The books of the county judge and sheriff of McCracken county are under inspection in Paducah.
Serious charges have been made in connection with both those offices and State Inspector Hines is now at work on the sheriff's office.

The Washington correspondent of the Louisville Times says:

"Ollie M. James has established a reputation as a rapid fire legislator. On Saturday he introduced a bill giving Trigg county the right to construct a bridge across Cumberland river. Yesterday he got the War Department's endorsement for the bill. This morning he secured a favorable report to the House, g t unanimous consent for its consideration and passed it. He immediately went to the Senate and there got the promise of a favorable report. The bill will become a law."

The long expected battle between the forces under Gen. Kuropatkin and Marshal Oyama, is now in progress, and thus far, according to the dispatches, the Japanese have decidedly the best of it. Several days must elapse before the end comes. If Kuropat-kin is thoroughly beaten it is doubtful whether Russia could send him another army in the present distracted condition of that empire.

During the past week or ten days there has been several very destructive fires in various parts of the country. First, Indianapolis was scorched to the amount of two million dollars. Next a three million dollar fire at New Orleans destroyed all the I. C. railroad's terminals, elevators and warehouses.
And last a three million dollar fire destroyed a mile square of Hot Springs, Ark.

The dispatches from St. Petersburg during the past week are very conflicting. At one time they assert that article of peace are ready for signature and the next day assert that the Czar is determined to fight to a finish. If Kuropatkin is defeated in the impending big battle terms of peace will be dictated by the Japanese.

The Standard Oil Company is getting ready to enter the battle with the National Administration and if the "britchin" don't break" somebody bids fair to retire from the contest with a mighty black eye. With two such fighters as Roosevelt and Rockefeller in the ring the far is bound to fly.

The Mansfield, O., News, thus speaks of a recent marriage ceremony in that city says:

"Again have the heart of radiant, fragrant young maiden and heart of cavalier flaming with love been blended into one by nuptial tie."

And the name of the bridegroom is "Dennis."

Mrs. Elmer Crider and two children, who have been the guests of Dr. T. A.
Fraser and family, left for their home at Blackford Wednesday.

Miss Mary Butler is improving and her mother, Mrs. J. H. Butler, of Hampton, who is still here, hopes to take her home this week.

ACROSS THE SHAKHE.

Seventy Per Cent of Russians
Cut to Pieces by the Japs.

St. Petersburg, Feb 28.—According to the Associated Press dispatches from Mukden the Japanese Sunday evening crossed the Shakhe river, but the place of crossing was eliminated by the Russian reinforcements. The fighting is continuing on the Russian left flank, with indications that the Japanese are planning a demonstration against the center, which the Russians consider impregnable.

The Russians sustained repeated attacks, some divisions losing 70 per cent in killed and wounded in hand to hand fighting with the bayonet to which they resorted after firing their last bullet. In order to hold the Pass the last reserves were sent to the firing line.

Newchwang, Feb 27.—The Japanese are shelling Mukden with eleven inch mortars. The bombardment which was recently commenced, is reported to have caused great damage behind the Russian lines.

Advices from Chinese sources say that a general engagement is in progress all along the line; the heaviest fighting is reported to be occurring on the Japanese right, and General Kuroki is said to be sweeping far north and threatening to crush the Russians back on the railroad.

A special force is reported to be moving from the south and east with the intention of cutting off the Russians communicating by rail with Vladivostok.

St. Petersburg, Feb 28.—The Associated Press hears from high authority that Gen Kuropatkin considers his position on Shakhe river to be menaced to such an extent by Gen Kuroki's success on the left flank as to necessitate the immediate withdrawal of his army to Tie Pass, and has so advised the Emperor.

No confirmation of this report has been received, but it is pointed out that, with the Japanese pressing the whole Russian line, such an operation must almost inevitably end in a disaster of the first magnitude.

Russian Headquarters, Huan
Mountain, Manchuria, Feb 28.—
The Japanese attack was renewed at dawn yesterday along the whole eastern front and Da Pass was taken after fighting of the most serious character.

BURIED AT CHAPEL HILL.

The remains of Andrew Davis were buried at Chapel Hill Saturday. He was 23 years old and a son of S B Davis, who formerly lived at Crayneville but moved to Paducah several years ago.

COMMERCIAL CLUB.

At the meeting of the Commercial Club Tuesday night several committees reported.

Mr Jackson of the water works was not ready to furnish a statement of the cost.

Mr Newlands, of Chicago, was present and discussed at length the canning factory proposition.
Several made talks on the subject and expressed themselves as being willing to take stock should the enterprise be gotten up.

Assignment at Kelsey.

G. W. Bennett, the grocery and hardware merchant of Kelsey, made an assignment Monday night to G. W. Stone, former postmaster. Mr Bennett has never recovered from the unfortunate fire which destroyed his store last fall, soon after he purchased it, and as he was financially involved decided on the advice of his attorney, to take the step he did.

Little Child Hurt.

Sherman Crayne's little son, 6 years of age, was seriously hurt at their home, 6 miles southeast of Marion Tuesday afternoon.
He was riding on an old gin and got his leg caught between the sweep and a post, and it stripped the flesh from the knee to the ankle so completely that several at-tches were necessary to hold it on.
Dr Geo Shiveley was called and soon had the little sufferer in as good condition as the accident would allow of, and if no complications ensue he will soon be all right.

Normal School Opened Monday.

Normal school class started off Monday with a large attendance. This work with an eye toward the preparation for better teaching, seems to be not only popular with those without the district, but many of the young ladies and gentlemen within the district are attending also, as will be shown by the enrollment which we give below: Lizzie Morse, Ethel Hard, Nellie Champion, Nellie
Boston, Lena Terry, Sue Moore, Effie
James, Mamie Henry, Elizabeth Johnson, Mabel Minner, Marion Smart,

MRS. JOSEPH A DOLLAR DEAD

Ellen Thomason, daughter of Newton Thomason, and wife of Jodie Dollar, died at her home in this city Friday,
Feb. 24, 1905, at 12 o'clock.

Mrs. Dollar had been a patient sufferer with consumption for several years and her death was not unexpected although her family and friends had not anticipated it so shockingly sudden.

She was born on the 5th day July, 1864 and was therefore in her 41st year.
She was a Cumberland Presbyterian and a member of old Piney church.

Her mother lives on the old homestead on Piney, and three brothers also survive her, they being Marion, of Phillipsburg, Kansas, and Claud and Jacob, of this county. Her father and two sisters preceded her to the grave.

Mrs. Dollar left only one child, Ruth, a little girl of 12 years of age. Mr. Dollar has the sympathy of the entire community in the loss of his wife who was taken just in the prime of life.

The funeral was conducted by Rev. E.
H. Blackburn, whose remarks were very touching, he having known her from childhood. The interment was at the new cemetery Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

GOOD WOMAN GONE TO HER REWARD

Mrs. Eliza Jane Lamb, relict of the late James Madison Lamb, died Saturday afternoon at the residence of her son-in-law, Wm. Hicklin in this city.
Mrs. Lamb was a daughter of Timothy Taylor and his wife, who was Miss Evaline Crabtree before her marriage. She was born in this county (then Living-ton) in 1828, on the 22nd of March, and as her death occurred on the 25th day of February 1905, she was therefore in her 77th year. She was married in September 1848 to J. M. Lamb, and the union was blessed with five children of whom only two survive, they being Jno.
Wesley Lamb and Mrs. Ruth Frances Hicklin, wife of Wm. Hicklin, both of this city.

Mrs. Lamb was a woman of noble traits and has long been a follower of Christ, having professed in early life and joined the M. E. church at Green's Chapel, where she was a member at the time of her death. Her burial took place there Sunday afternoon, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. J. H.
Hayes, the pastor. A large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends attended.

Mrs. P. H. Deboe came near having a serious accident Saturday. The wall of the cistern at their home in East Marion caved in while she was drawing a bucket of water and she came near being precipitated into it. She escaped with a bad scare.

The old fashioned turbine water wheel will make good meal and flour, so does Paris & James' mill at Tolu. Our thanks are due for a sack of meal which makes batter cakes like mother used to make. Their flour is the confectioners and bakers pride.

The meeting day at Deer Creek church has been changed from the 4th Sunday (and Saturday before), to the 1st Sunday in each month and the Saturday before. Services therefore will be held next Saturday and Sunday, March 4th and 5th. W. K. Gibbs.

John Nunn hurt one of his fingers very badly last week on the handle of a can-ket. He suffered intensely with it until Monday when he decided to have it amputated at the knuckle which Drs. Frazer and Daughtrey did very satisfactorily.

Rev. J. F. Price preached at Sullivan Saturday and Sunday on the following subjects: "The Millennium," Saturday at 3 p. m.; "Signs of the Times," Saturday at 7 p. m.; "When Shall These Things be?" Sunday at 11 a. m.; "The Jews, Prophecy and Fulfillment," Sunday at 7 p. m.

At this season of the year it is hard to get up a good meal, but the fortunate housekeeper who uses the "Red Cook Book" can soon find something in it that will please the taste and satisfy the appetite of an epicure.

The grocery firm of Gilbert & Hicklin has decided on the cash basis and begun business that way yesterday, March 1st. This is a step in the right direction and it would be best for us all of every house in the city adhered to that basis. They expected to make prices that will interest the public and every reader of the Press should call in and compare prices.

The friends of W. H. Crow, who is now one of our oldest citizens will sympathize with him greatly in the loss of his son, Samuel, who died occurred last week at his home in Harrisonburg, La. His father was there spending the winter as in his custom. An account of his death will be found elsewhere in this paper.

T. G. Travis, of Starr, brought to the Press office this week an old war relic in the shape of a rapier which did service in the Revolutionary war. It was picked up on the battlefield of Trenton in 1775 by Arthur Travis, a great uncle of T. G. Travis, who was in Gen. Washington's army. He also has a brass tomahawk which was presented to his great uncle by Gen. Washington, who had received it from an Indian chieftain. The relics are quite curiosities and a number have examined them with interest. Mr. Travis prizes them very highly.

Wm. Calhoun Love, who wrote the memoirs of the battle of New Orleans, published in the last issue of this issue of the Press, was a grandfather to both of the Will McChesneys, one of whom lives at Kepton and one at Kelsey, was a great uncle of J. R. Moore and Squire W. H. Asher, both of this city. His father was the Love who was said to have been killed by the Harpes in Webster county, then Hopkins. He was a Cumberland Presbyterian preacher, and the first one that ever preached at old Sugar Grove church. He formerly preached at Piney and is buried there. Many of our old citizens knew him well.

Mrs. Jane McConnell, the mother of our well known merchant, W. T. McConnell, died at her home near Shady Grove, Tuesday, Feb. 28, 1905, in the 74th year of her age. Mrs. McConnell was a daughter of Coleman Brown, of Caldwell county and was the mother of 6 children: Hodge, James M., W. T., and Asper, all of this county, and Mrs. John Casner and Mrs. R. H. Kemp, the latter of whom is dead. She was a Christian woman and belonged to the congregation at Blackburn church, where E. B. Blackburn is pastor. She was buried Wednesday and a large concourse followed the remains to the cemetery, where Rev. Blackburn officiated at the burial.

H. F. Morris, the head of the new grocery firm who bought out C. J. Black & Son, is one of Marion's successful merchants. He came here only recently comparatively but has grown by leaps and bounds until his trade now is the equal of any on the square. D. J. Hubbard his partner, is one of the cleverest county men and he has friends by the score. He is a brother of J. B. Hubbard the banker, and has a wide circle of relatives and acquaintances who will rally to his support. We bespeak for them a liberal share of the public patronage and if fair treatment and prompt attention will merit it they will certainly have a large business.

The Bowling Party Friday night was the pleasantest affair of the week. Delicious refreshments were served and everything was done to make the occasion enjoyable. Among those who attended were the following visitors in whose honor the party was given: Misses Maud Dodds, of Crider; Maud Babb, of Carrsville; Myrtle Johnson, of Fordsville, and Misses Rebecca Williams, Leaffa Wilborn, Kitty Gray, Ebba Pickens, Fannie Gray, Kitty Moore, Lillie Doss, Mabel Guess, Susie Gilbert. Among the gentlemen present were Dr. Morris, Ol Tucker, Rob C. Oak, Creed Taylor, Ira Pierce, Trice Bennett, Kay Kevill, Alvis Stephens, Henry Haynes, Maurice Nunn and S. L. Mansfield. The prizes, Dr. Morris won the goats prize, Miss Leaffa Wilborn, the ladies first prize and Miss Mabel Guess second. Choice confections, sherbet, ice cream and cake were served during the evening.

We have Heinz Keystone brand canned goods in endless variety. A trial is all we ask. Morris & Hubbard.

Uncle Jake Bettis died at his home near Irma, Tuesday, Feb. 28, 1905, of the la grippe in the 33rd year of his age. He was a native of Tennessee, but early located in this county. One of his sisters was the wife of Stanton Pierce and the mother of J. P. Pierce, of this city, but she preceded him to the grave. Another sister was aunt Frances Moore, the widow of Jesse Moore. He is survived by his wife who is very feeble health, and by 4 children: Mrs. J. W. Ainsworth, Mrs. R. A. Harrell, Henry Bettis, all of this county, and John E. Bettis, of College Park, Ga. He was a member of Deer Creek Baptist church and was buried there Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Masonic honors by the Sheridan lodge, he having been a Mason in high standing and a member of Sheridan lodge. No citizen stood higher than did Mr. Bettis. His integrity was unquestioned to his dying day.

See our carpets and rugs before buying. Nunn & Tucker.

The oratorical contest last Wednesday night at the opera house drew a large crowd, many persons from a distance attending. The programme was as follows: Invocation ..... Rev. Price

ORATIONS. No Monopoly on Patriotism ..... Miss Ina Price

The Picket on Duty ..... Archie Davidson

Tekel Uphams ..... J. H. Yates

The Hand of God in American History ..... Miss Willie Croft

Marion's Men ..... Miss Mary Lou Wilborn

Musical ..... Miss Sallie Wood

Benediction ..... Rev. McAfee

The judges, who were all strangers to the contestants, awarded the gold medal to J. Hope Yates, and his friends were so satisfied he should have received it. The silver medal was awarded to Miss Ina Price, whose oration was indeed a gem. The speakers all did so well that it was only a guess to name the winners in advance of the decision. Each one of the young folks had many adherents and even the judges admitted it was a hard task to decide. Everyone was proud of the quintette—all of whom belong to Marion. The Press extends congratulations to each of them.

We have just received a car-load of American Field Fence. Everybody says this is the best fence in the market and we believe it, and if we didn't we wouldn't sell it. All who have purchased this fence of us will want it for all future purposes—so come at once before it is gone as prices are advancing and the next car will come higher. MARION HARDWARE CO.

NATURAL CURIOSITIES

And Pre-Historic Ruins in Kentucky Worth Seeing.

About twelve miles west of Burlington is a peculiar chasm, in a hill, which forms a zigzag avenue through it. The north side of the chasm is a perpendicular wall of rock, composed of pebbles, and is eighty feet high. Big Bone Lick is in this county and near this place. The lick is in a valley, which comprises about one hundred acres. The valley is surrounded by irregular hills, the highest being on the west, and reaching an altitude of about five hundred feet. In the year 1773 James Douglas of Virginia, visited this place and found, upon the ground a mastodon. The last of the bones were removed about one hundred years ago. The bones of some of the animals were extremely large, the teeth weighing ten pounds, while some of the tusks were eleven feet long and seven feet in diameter. The ribs were equally as long and about four inches broad. Mr. Douglas used the ribs for tent poles.

In Greenup county there is one of the largest and most beautiful fortifications to be found in the country. This place embraces 10 acres of ground, and has four entrances, north, west, south and east. There are two wings, one at the north and one at the south entrance. The wing at the north entrance extends one half a mile to a small tributary of the Ohio. The walls of the fortification are constructed of earth, ten feet high, thirty feet broad at the bottom and twelve feet wide at the top, while the entrances are twelve feet wide. The ground within is level and covered with trees, which gives it the appearance of the "Enchanted Castle." When this court was constructed and by whom, will perhaps always remain a mystery, for it was made, no doubt, a hundred years before white man ever set foot on the soil of Kentucky.

It would take volumes to tell of the beautiful scenery and the wonderful curiosities of our proud and grand old State.

Impoverished Soil

Impoverished soil, like impoverished blood, needs a proper fertilizer. A chemist by analyzing the soil can tell you what fertilizer to use for different products.

If your blood is impoverished your doctor will tell you what you need to fertilize it and give it the rich, red corpuscles that are lacking in it. It may be you need a tonic, but more likely you need a concentrated fat food, and fat is the element lacking in your system.

There is no fat food that is so easily digested and assimilated as

TRAGEDY IN GRAVES.

T. H. Cosby Shoots Bynum Green, Then Kills Himself.

Mayfield, Ky., Feb. 17.—T. H. Cosby, one of the most prominent citizens and farmers of the county, living four miles north of here, shot Bynum Green last night at 7 o'clock, after which he shot himself and died almost instantly.

It seems that Bynum Green, who is a widower, 48 years old, was in love with a daughter of Mr. Cosby and Cosby objected to his attentions to her and told his daughter he must not come to see her any more. Bynum had an engagement to call last evening, at 7 o'clock to hear her answer to his request to marry her. She told her father he would be there for that purpose and it bore on his mind so that he went to Mayfield a few days ago and borrowed a pistol but let none of the family know it.

Green arrived at the Cosby residence about 7 o'clock, which so enraged Mr. Cosby that he went to the door where Green and his daughter were sitting and said: "You have ruined the happiness of my home," at the same time drawing his pistol and shooting Green in the face, after which in a scuffle with his family, who tried to take the pistol away from him, shot himself behind the right ear, and died in less than an hour.

Mr. Cosby was a Mason and a member of the Christian Church, and one of the best men in the county.

The Colonel's Waterloo.

Colonel Sohn M. Fuller, of Honey Grove, Texas, nearly met his Waterloo, from Liver and Kidney trouble. In a recent letter, he says: "I was nearly dead, of these complaints, and, although I tried my tried dead, of these complaints, and, although I tried my family doctor, he did me no good; so I got a 50c bottle of your great Electric Bitters, which cured me. I consider them the best medicine on earth, and thank God who gave you the knowledge to make them." Sold, and guaranteed to Cure, Dyspepsia, Biliousness and Kidney Disease, by Woods & Orme, druggists, at 50c a bottle.

A Millionaire's Advice.

The late Jay Gould once said to a friend: "When you invest in the stocks of a company don't look for the best for you will never find them. Look for good one, then invest and do it quickly. Don't wait to see if it pans out all right, for there is where you lose your opportunity. When you have waited to see how it pans out you will have to pay a premium on the stock and you will have lost the biggest advance in their value. You must make money on your judgment and foresight and not on demonstrated facts."

Striking Hidden Rocks.

When your ship of health strikes the hidden rocks of Consumption, Pneumonia, etc., you are lost, if you don't get help from Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. J. W. McKinnon, of Taladega Springs, writes: "I had been very ill with pneumonia, under the care of two doctors, but was getting no better when I began to take Dr. King's New Discovery. The first dose gave me relief, and one bottle cured me." Sure cure for sore throat, bronchitis, coughs and colds. Guaranteed at Woods & Orme's drug store, price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

SAM CROW DEAD

Sam R. Crow, son of Mr. W. H. Crow, of this city, died at his home in Louisiana Feb. 18. He was born in this county, Jan. 25, 1873, and was married to Miss Dora Sliger, Feb. 21, 1899. After his marriage he moved to Louisiana, where he resided until death. Besides a wife and one child, he leaves a father, one sister and brother, and one half brother and four half sisters to his loss.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by druggists. Price, 75c per bottle. ### HARGESSES INDICTED.

Jackson, Ky., Feb. 22.—The Breathitt county circuit court grand jury indicted James Hargis, Elbert Hargis, Alex Hargis, Ed. Callahan, Jesse Spicer John Abner, and John Smith, for complicity in the murder of Jim Cockrell. No trial will be attempted until the court of appeals passes on the question of jurisdiction, the men being under indictment in Fayette county for the same offense. Cockrell was shot in Breathitt county but was taken to Lexington where he died. The Hargises will fight the Fayette county claim of jurisdiction to the end.

BLACK-DRAUGHT STOCK and POULTRY MEDICINE

Stock and poultry have few troubles which are not bowel and liver irregularities. Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine is a bowel and liver remedy for stock. It puts the organs of digestion in a perfect condition. Prominent American breeders and farmers keep their herds and flocks healthy by giving them an occasional dose of Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine in their food. Any stock raiser may buy a 25-cent half-pound air-tight can of this medicine from his dealer and keep his stock in vigorous health for weeks. Dealers generally keep Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine. If yours does not, send 25 cents for a sample can to the manufacturers, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

ROCHESTER, Ga., Jan. 30, 1902.
Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine is the best I ever tried. Our stock was looking bad when you sent us the medicine and now they are getting so fine. They are looking 20 per cent. better.

PHANTOM HAND.

Elkhart Ind., Feb. 25.—Mrs. A. J. Tellarday created quite an excitement here today. This morning as she was getting breakfast, when, she declares, she saw a "white something" beckoning to her from a corner of the kitchen. She turned and declared she distinctly saw a large hand, which she recognized as that of her former husband. She tried to grasp it but the strength suddenly left her right arm and the phantom hand fell into the fire.

She got it out as quickly, as she could but not before it had been badly charred, and then she says she heard a voice say in a loud tone: "You're all right, mother: you're doing exactly right." She fainted with the spirit hand held tight in her fingers and on being revived by members of her family told her strange story.

The charred hand was exhibited and hundreds of people visited the house today to inspect it; some expressed doubts of its genuineness and microscopes were brought into requisition by sceptics. So annoying was the throng at the

TERMS OF PEACE

Agreed Upon, but Russia May Risk One More Battle
With the Japs.

London, Feb. 21.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from St. Petersburg confirming advice of Feb 17 and 18 from St. Petersburg to the effect that peace was under consideration, adds that definite terms are being discussed there tonight. The dispatch goes so far as to say that the Russian terms are almost complete. The dispatch printed here tonight says:

"The question of peace has not only been formally discussed but the conditions on which Russia is prepared to make peace has practically been agreed upon. These are as follows:

"Korea to be placed under Japanese sovereignty.

"Port Arthur and the Liao Tung peninsula to be ceded to Japan.

"Vladivostok to be declared a neutral port, with an open door.

"The Eastern Chinese railroad to be placed under neutral international administration.

"Manchuria, as far as Harbin, to be restored as an integral part of China.

"The difficulty lies in settling the question of indemnity, upon which it is known Japan insists, but it is thought this objection will not prove insuperable.

"The most trustworthy opinion in St. Petersburg is that in view of the internal situation and the enormous difficulty of carrying on the war, peace on the terms mentioned will be concluded within a comparatively short time if the indemnity can be arranged, but it is quite possible that Russia may decide to risk another battle before a decision is reached.

TRAIL ACQUITTED.

E. J. Trail, the barber charged with assaulting Mrs. Ramie Bradford, was acquitted in the police court. Before Mrs. Bradford, who was the first witness to take the stand, had finished giving her testimony, Judge Sanders interrupted.

ed her, and ordered Trail dismissed.

Trail, who is married and has a family, was arrested Tuesday afternoon on complaint of Mrs. Bradford and her husband, T. F. Bradford, a machinist employed at the Illinois Central railroad shops. Trail is manager of the Frank Just barber shop at 127 Broadway. Tuesday morning Bradford went to the shop and is alleged to have attempted to shoot Trail. Patrolmen Cross and Terrell were summoned and disarmed Bradford after a struggle. He was taken to the station and an investigation of the "gun play" led to Trail's arrest.

The court room was crowded when the case was called. Judge Sanders stated that it was one of the largest crowds he had ever seen in the court.

Mrs. Bradford was the first and only witness to testify. She stated that on Monday morning while she was standing at the foot of a flight of stairs leading to a photograph gallery, she met Trail, who asked her to drink some beer. She accepted and they drank while standing on the steps. She said that she did not remember much after that, but that they boarded a car and went to the residence of Henry Thomas. The next thing she remembered was being in bed late in the afternoon and that she had been told by a "lady friend" that Trail had been with her all day.

On being cross-examined by Attorney Worten, who represented Trail, she admitted that she had met Trail in Uncle Tom's saloon on several occasions and on various occasions had been in the saloon drinking beer. She said she did not go there to meet any one, but just went along with a "lady friend" who did meet men. On one occasion, said Mrs. Bradford, "she got as drunk as a dog and I had to take her home."

The climax was reached when Mr. Worten asked her if she was married.

"Yes sir, I am."

"Are you married to Bradford?"

"Well, you all have got to prove that."

When the question was repeated she refused to answer and Judge Sanders said that it was taken for confession that they were not married. She admitted that she rang up Mr. Trail over the telephone and asked him if he wouldn't compromise and settle the trouble out of court. To this proposition Mr. Trail refused to listen.

At this point Judge Sanders ordered a halt and dismissed Trail. —Paducah News-Democrat.

GEN. STOESEL'S RETURN.

Kafa. Crimes, Feb. 27.—Lieut. General Stoessel, the former commander of Port Arthur, arrived here today. He was welcomed by a cheering crowd. At the dockside a deputation from the municipality presented him with the traditional bread and salt and an address of welcome. Stoessel, addressing the assemblage said:

"My officers and soldiers coming back to the fatherland bow to you."

Many relatives of those who had defended Port Arthur were present and there were pathetic exhibitions of grief or joy according to the news received. Stoessel personally condoled with the widows and orphans, and many of them kissed his hand. The General expressed indignation at the reports regarding the available number of troops at Port Arthur at the time of the surrender of the fortress, and said the statements were all untrue. The Russian fleet, he added, were destroyed beyond repair there was no medicine in the fortress, it could not have held out more than a day longer, and the surrender saved the women and children.

of the sentence.

Among other objections averred by Mr. Feighner was that the jury was not representative. ## LATE EASTER.

This year Easter Sunday comes on April 23d. The date is later than usual. But few times in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries has Easter been so belated. In 1810 it fell on April 22d and on the same date in 1821, and again in 1839. In 1848 it came on April 23d and in 1859 on April 24. The latest Easter recorded in the two centuries was in 1886, when it fell on April 25. There will be but two more Easters on April 23d in the twentieth century, in 1916 and 2000. In 1943 it falls on April 25. Last year Easter came on April 3. The earliest Easter recorded in the two centuries thus far was in 1818, when it fell on the 22d day of March.

S. S. Teachers' Training Class.

Again we make a skip of seven months in the life of Christ. Last Sunday's lesson was in March just before the passover, near the shores of the sea of Galilee. Next Sunday's lesson was in Oct. at the feast of tabernacles. He went up secretly to the feast; but as was his custom, when the people sought him he began to preach.

OUTLINE OF LESSON.

- I. The great proclamation.
- 1 The occasion, v 37.
- 2 The great invitation, v 37.
- 3 Given with great earnestness.
- 4 A great promise, v 38.
- 5 The spiritual meaning.
- II. Different views.
- 1 Some said, "This is the Prophet."
- 2 Some said, "This is the Christ."
- 3 Others quibbled.

III. The arrest of Jesus thwarted.

- 1 Some wanted to arrest.
- 2 The officer's refusal.
- 3 The protest of Nicodemus.

LIVING THE LESSON.

- 1 Christ is able to make me a river of living water; am I such a river, or am I a little rivulet, or am I a stagnant pool?
- 2 Some people spend their time in quibbling over the truth instead of accepting it; do I spend my time thus?
- 3 Nicodemus stood up for Christ in the face of his enemies; do I always stand up for Christ?

TOPICS FOR STUDY.

- 1 Period of time between last lesson and this.
- 2 Where spent?
- 3 How spent?
- 4 Miracles of this period.
- 5 Difference between the feeding of the 5000 and that of the 4000.
- 6 Teachings of this period.
- 7 The various opinions of Christ.
8. The report of the officers.
