The Present Season Starts Off With Bright Promise for the Future.

Mr A. D. Noe was in town last week. He expects to start up the Big Four early in the spring, and keep a number of wagons running this summer.

W. A. Davidson, the lumber king of Levisa, arrived in the city Saturday. "The roads are getting better now, so send on your orders for lumber; any dimension. We can supply you," was all he had to say.

Supt. Fred Clement of the Marion Mineral company, was in the city Saturday. He says the repairs and buildings made necessary by the recent fire at the Pogue mine had all been put up and were now about complete.

NOTICE.—I hereby notify my friends that I have resigned from the Marion Zinc Co. and am no longer connected in any way with that company.
Very truly,
F. Julius Fohs.
Marion, Ky., March 15, 1905

Shiv-wheels, ropes and other material was loaded at the depot last week and shipped to the Commodore mines, for the purpose of rigging up a derrier and a horse whim. The Commodore Mining company intend to sink their shaft one hundred feet deep with a whim, then they expect to install air compressors and other machinery that will be necessary to hoist and handle a large output.

New machinery arrived last week for the Louisville-Marion Mineral company, such as gasoline engines and pumps, also a car load of pipes came in for the same company. Supt. Parsons tells us he is going to install this machinery at the Ada-Florence and the Trumbo mines, which is on the Leander White property. He expects to build two new washers, one at each mine, and start mining as soon as this is done on a large scale.

A new vein of bituminous coal near Salem, that was discovered and bought by Major Hearne a week or two ago, is showing up fine as far as they have driven into it. It has a small strata of mother coal in it, and one or two small bands of slate. The coal will average six feet thick and if this seam keeps its thickness as the drift goes back it will surely cause a big boom about Salem, and undoubtedly that, if nothing else, will bring a railroad to that section, as five thousand tons can be mined per day from a six foot vein. This coal is considered to be very fine steam and domestic coal, as it is low in ash and has but a trace of sulphur.

The Kentucky Fluor Spar company is shipping more fluor spar than ever, and they expect to keep up a large shipment, anyhow until the new railroad reaches Hardin and Pope counties, in Illinois.

About three miles west of Salem, on a place owned by Willis Hodge, colored, a rich coal find was recently made. The prospecting done on the property shows a fine quality of coal, with a six foot vein. The property has been purchased by D. Garth Hearne, President of the Eagle Fluorspar company, who will proceed at once to develop it.

The town was full of miners on Saturday, as it was pay day for the Ky. Fluor Spar company, Columbia Mining company, and Marion Mineral company. A good many thousand dollars were paid out by these companies, and a good many of the miners began to feel happy towards evening, and some of them thought they owned the mines.

The Cullen Mine Mill, about three miles east of Salem, owned by the Eagle Fluorspar Co., was started in operation Monday. It will be remembered that the largest machinery to be found anywhere in this part of the country has been placed at this mine within the past eight months, and is the only mill of its kind in the United States. President Hearne is justly proud of this mill, and the people all over the country will be glad to know that it is a success and no longer an experiment.—Smithland Banner.

F. M. Bernard will in a few days file suit in the Livingston circuit court at Smithland against the Pittsburgh Fluor Spar Mining and Manufacturing Company and C. R. Anderson for $12,000.

Attorney C. C. Grassham of Paducah and Capt. J. W. Bush of Smithland will represent the plaintiff.

The suit is for the recovery of money due upon mineral land in Livingston county which were never paid for.

The Pittsburgh Fluor Spar Mining and Manufacturing company transferred its holdings in Livingston county to C. R. Anderson, who began operating under the name of the Pittsburgh Lead and Spar Company.

When the transfer was made the property of Bernard, which was not paid for, was deeded to Anderson. The suit will create much interest in that county when tried.

The law firm of Bush & Grassham has also filed suit in the same court against the Pittsburgh company for $300 attorney's fee, that is a balance due the firm.

The University of Chicago is the recipient of another gift from John D. Rockefeller. The amount of the endowment is said to be between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000, and is to be used for the creation of a school of engineering.

A dispatch from Wheatcroft, Ky., says:

The legal battle over the possession of the houses occupied by the miners between the striking union miners of this place and the Wheatcroft Coal and Mining Co., has resulted in a victory for the company. The suits arose over the attempt of the company to eject the striking miners from the houses owned by the company.

M. F. Mottraw, formerly of Fredonia and Kelsey, a mining capitalist well known in this community, died suddenly at his home in Louisville a few days ago.

Mr McGraw had been sick several months of tuberculosis but a week ago improved to such an extent that it was thought possible to remove him to his native city, and his brother was notified. Mr. McGraw's illness took a serious turn Saturday night just after the arrival of his brother and death soon followed. Mr McGraw was forty-two years of age and unmarried. He had been there only a few months and had lived there in order to improve a number of pieces of real estate he owned in New Albany. His remains were taken to Toledo, Ohio, of which city he was a former resident, for interment.

Another strong proof that our mineral field in Crittenden county is all right and that lead and zinc fissure veins can be worked profitably, is that Harry Watkins and R. D. Drescher have leased the Columbia Mining company's mines, the Mary Belle, the Mill and all of the Columbia Mining company's property. They expect to sink more shafts on different veins and run out more levels and mine enough ore to keep the mill running night and day. Watkins and Drescher are two experienced miners, and we feel sure that they will set a good example to some other mining companies that are in this section. They are both hustlers. They also expect to open up several new openings on the Mary Belle, and mine at least from twenty five to fifty tons of fluor spar per day. We wish them all the success their great undertaking deserves.

FIVE YEARS IN JAIL.

Louisville, Ky., March 10.—Caleb Powers today completed five years in jail.

He was arrested in Lexington on March 10, 1900, under an indictment from the Franklin circuit court charging him with having been engaged in a conspiracy to bring about the death of William Goebel. On March 10, 1905, he is a prisoner in the Louisville jail, awaiting his fourth trial.

He has been tried three times. Twice he was sentenced to life imprisonment and once to death; the Court of Appeals has reversed the lower court, in each instance, and has sent the case back for another trial.

THE BATTLE OF MUKDEN

Proves the Most Bloody and Disastrous in the Annals of Modern History.

The following facts of this great engagement will prove interesting:

The greatest battle of modern times.
Men engaged: Russians 400,000; Japanese, 500,000.

Estimated losses—Killed and wounded Russians, 100,000; Japanese, 60,000.

Situation according to latest advice: Japanese in possession of Mukden and Fushan with all the Russian heavy artillery, practically all the enemies store and war munitions.

Half, possibly more, of the remnants of the Russian army encircled within the Japanese lines, the retreat of the remainder to Tie Ling, the nearest base, cut off. Kirin 230 miles away over bad roads, beset by Japanese, and the nearest point where the beaten army can hope to reorganize.

Result: Russian military power in Manchuria hopelessly broken. Manchuria and Russian maritime provinces at the mercy of the Japanese and early terms of peace, laid down by Japan, inevitable.

FIRE AT PRINCETON.

Princeton, Ky., March 13.—An attempt was made to burn the Caldwell county court house this morning. At 7 o'clock this morning when the court house was opened, the floor was found to be on fire in the large court room, just inside the big double doors that lead from the corridor on the second floor. The blaze was quickly extinguished.

If the court house had been burned it is probable that all the county records would have been destroyed, as there are no fireproof vaults.

It is suspected that some person interested in the destruction of documents on file in the court house is responsible for the fire.

The fire burned a hole about two feet wide and five feet long, through the floor and ceiling; the damage was not large.

Evidences of incendiaryism were many. Bob Asher, a negro, was to have been tried today for the murder of another negro, but the trial was postponed.

Mike Beverly, grocer, against whom there are now three indictments for house burning, was also on the docket for trial.

The grand jury is in session and indictments probably will be returned in connection with this case of arson.

A Good Word for Our School.

CHARLES WELDON

Passed Away at the Home of His Mother in this City.

Last Friday night Charley Weldon died at the home of his mother, Mrs. Ellen Weldon, the widow of the late L. A. Weldon. The end which was not unexpected came at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Weldon had been suffering many months with consumption. He took his bed Nov. 22, and was never really able to be up after that, altho on the advice of friends he did undertake a trip to Florida, hoping it would benefit him but he was in too feeble a state to rally even under the influence of the balmy air and bright sunshine of the south. He remained there only ten days, and since his return here six weeks ago he has been gradually sinking until the end came Friday night.

Charles Kennedy Weldon was born July 27, 1881, died March 10, 1905 in his 24th year.

He leaves a wife and one child, a bright little daughter one year old. His wife was Miss Mattie Lear, daughter of Thos. Lear, of Tolu, and he was married to her April 14, 1903—less than two years ago. Besides his mother he is survived by two half brothers, Ed Weldon, of this city and Newt Weldon, of Tolu, and one half sister, Mrs. Minnie Babb, wife of C. R. Babb, of Salem, and one full brother, Simpson, of this city, and three full sisters, Mrs. Arba Hina, wife of C. B. Hina, Misses Lena and Sallie Weldon, all of this city.

The funeral was from the residence Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock, and was conducted by Rev. J. R. McAfee. The interment was at the new cemetery.

wife, on account of the arrival of a girl baby to bless their home. Mother and child are doing well and it is hoped that the Doctor will very soon be able to be on duty again.

The largest crop of corn that has been raised in this vicinity for a number of years, is now being shipped from this place on barges.

A big lot of cattle was shipped from this place to Evansville on the Joe Fowler recently.

Quite a number went to Marion Saturday to attend the funeral of Charley Weldon.

Mrs. Jessie Weldon, of Madisonville, is visiting her parents, Mr and Mrs J. F. Lear.

R. M. Franks, of Colon vicinity, was her Saturday. Bob may be a candidate for assessor on the Prohibition ticket. Crack down Bob, you shall have one vote at Tolu. You too Huton.

Estimate of Coal Mined.

Prof. C. J. Norwood, State Inspector of Mines, has just completed his estimate of the coal output in Kentucky for last year, showing that there was a total of 7,089,524 tons mined. These are divided into three inspection districts, and in the western inspection district there were 4,108,617 tons; southeastern, 2,414,602 tons; northeastern, 566,305 tons.

This includes all the commercial mines in the state.

CANNOT COLLECT DAMAGES.

Seattle, Wash., March 8.—If tuberculosis is an infectious disease, which passes from parent to offspring, then it is against public policy for such marriage to be permitted, and no person should be mulcted in damages who breaks a promise he has made to marry a person so affected.

That was the opinion rendered by Superior Judge Albertson this morning in deciding a motion to strike out interrogations propounded in the suit of Rosa E. Grover against Mayer Zook of Ballard. The young woman seeks to recover from him $25,000 damages for alleged breach of promise. Mayor Zook admitted he had promised to marry the woman and he would have done so had he not later discovered that she was affected with tuberculosis.

The question before the court was a novel one, raised, possibly, for the first time in the United States. The court declares that in a marriage contract three parties were concerned. The man, the woman and the State, and that the State had the right to prevent any marriage which would be dangerous to it.

The Colonel's Waterloo.

Colonel Sohn M. Fuller, of Honey Grove, Texas, nearly met his Waterloo, from Liver and Kidney trouble. In a recent letter, he says: "I was nearly dead, of these complaints, and, although I tried my tried dead, of these complaints, and, although I tried my family doctor, he did me no good; so I got a 50c bottle of your great Electric Bitters, which cured me. I consider them the best medicine on earth, and thank God who gave you the knowledge to make them." Sold, and guaranteed to cure, Dyspepsia, Bileousness and Kidney Disease, by Woods & Orme, druggists, at 50c a bottle.

Drove Him to Suicide.

Chicago, March 8.—Death entered today in the Hyde-Alexander fight for control of the Equitable Life Insurance Company. Despondent because he believed that the struggle for supremacy between President Alexander and Vice President Hyde threatened his only source of income Dr. I. A. Amilon, special agent of the company, and once a well known Philadelphia physician, committed suicide in his boarding house by firing a bullet into his head from a revolver.

At the inquest Ernest L. Durrell, friend of the dead physician stated that Amilon had an interest in a leather preserving company in Philadelphia, from which he expected to realize $8,000,000 in a few years.

IN HIS CHEEK.

Owingsville, Ky., March 9.—A month ago James R. Shrout, a farmer of near Sharpburg, this county, while driving a team of horses cracked his whip at the team. Shrout felt a stinging sensation in the cheek but paid no attention to it. "Afterward he looked for the leather cracker on his whip, but it was missing. His cheek became sore and inflamed. It finally became so painful that he had a physician operate on the cheek. The physician removed a piece of the leather whip cracker more than an inch long from the wound.

JAIL BREAKERS CAPTURED.

Madisonville, Ky., March 9.—Jeff Morgan and John Hall two of the men who escaped from the Madisonville jail last week and who were charged with the murder of Perd Lutz have been recaptured and are in jail once more. The capture was made by Deputy Sheriff Barge Stanley and County Attorney Ruby Laffoon.

The two men were found at the home of a brother to Hall, near Providence, in Webster county. They were in a barn stripping tobacco when the officers went to the house, and quietly gave themselves up.

Gov Beckham had offered a reward amounting to $450 for the two men.

Otho Armstrong, a boy was waiting to be sent to the House of Reform, and who escaped with the other prisoners, was found and arrested in Christian county Sunday by Sheriff Ashby.

Versailles, Ky., March 9.—Jas. W. Parrish, the largest tobacco grower in Woodford county, sold his crop of 240,000 pounds of tobacco at an average of about 10 cents per pound or over $25,000 for the crop.

Armstrong Breaks Jail Again

Otho Armstrong, the young man who with several others escaped from the Madisonville jail recently but was caught and brought back by the Sheriff, succeeded in making another escape yesterday, shortly after noon. The boy was in the corridor and succeeded in picking the lock to the cage door, passed through the cage and out of the little hole through which he passed the night of the other delivery, and went out through the hole in the outside window, and to the ground. The lock looked as if the inside had been blown out, and was battered on one side. It is said that the boy is an expert at picking locks.

He was placed in jail again and Jailer Offutt will make an attempt to see if he can hold him.

To say the least he is about as lively a thirteen year old proposition as ever struck the town.—Hustler.

LOSE THEIR FIGHT.

Frankfort, Ky., March 10.—The Court of Appeals today refused the writ of prohibition asked by counsel for the Hargis brothers and others against Judge Watts Parker, of the Fayette Circuit Court, to restrain him from assuming jurisdiction of them for the purpose of putting them on trial for complicity in the assassination of Town Marshal James Cockrill of Jackson and discharged the temporary writ issued several weeks since, under which officials of Fayette county have been restrained from arresting the prisoners.

The opinion of the court was delivered by Judge O'Rear, Justices Hobson, Baker and Settle concurring. Judge Paynter delivered a dissenting opinion.

The opinion delivered by Judge O'Rear is quite lengthy and covers the ground thoroughly.

MOVING BACKWARD.

Paris, March 8.—The news that Admiral Rojevinsky's fleet has left Madagascar waters and is en route to Jibouti, in French Somaliland, is regarded here as the forerunner of peace. The defeat of General Kuropatkin in Manchuria, which appears to have been the most serious the Russians have met on land, makes it appear that it is impossible for Russia to regain the supremacy either on land or sea, and the recall of Rojevinsky's fleet is taken to mean that Russia has abandoned the idea of being able to overcome Japan's naval forces.

A Destructive Fire.

To draw the fire out of a burn, or heal a cut without leaving a scar, use De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. A specific for piles, Get the genuine. J. L. Tucker, editor of the Harmonizer, Centre, Ala., writes: "I have used De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve in my family for Piles, cuts and burns. It is the best salve on the market. Every family should keep it on hand." Sold by Woods & Orme.

TOSSED BY A STEER.

Buffalo Creek, W. Va., Mar 8.—John McIntire, the fifteen year son of a prominent farmer, living near here, was instantly killed this afternoon under peculiar circumstances. He was riding and driving a herd of cattle to Wayne, when a steer ran amuck, killing two of the cattle and scattering the rest. The boy bravely tried to subdue the steer, which, with a mad roar, charged, striking the lad's horse with such force that the animal was knocked from its feet and the boy thrown high in the air. As the body descended it lighted on the head, breaking the neck of the boy and killing him instantly.

MARRIED IN CREEK.

A unique wedding has just come to light in Powell county. A revival has been going on at Bowen in that county, and there were many conversions. Among them were John Knox and Miss Dora Graham. When these young people met at the altar they fell in love with each other. They decided to get married and fixed the day of their baptism as their wedding day. Rev. M. Tolson, the minister conducting the revival was notified, and it was announced that Tuesday would be baptismal day and a wedding would take place after immersion. Over 400 persons lined the banks of Stillwater creek and the young couple were baptized. While standing in the water waist deep the ceremony was performed which made them man and wife. It was the most novel wedding ever witnessed in the State.—Kentuckian

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured.

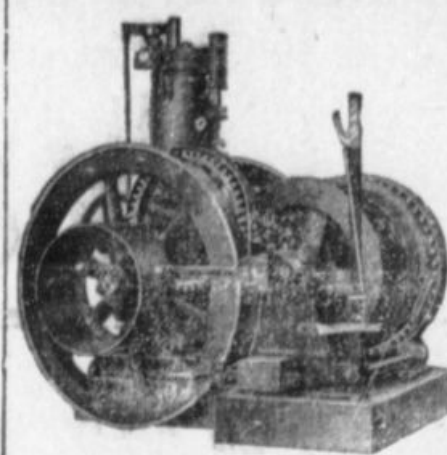

William Shaffer, a brakeman of Denison, Ohio, was confined to his bed for several weeks with inflammatory rheumatism. "I used many remedies," he says. Finally I sent to McCaw's drug store for a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, at which time I was unable to use hand or foot, and in one week's time was able to go to work as happy as a clam." For sale by Woods & Orme.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Misses Bena and Nora Graham of Pembroke, Ky., who have been visiting Mrs. P. G. Rose, of the South Side, returned home today.

The Misses Graham, Mrs. Rose and Mrs. Tom Lewis, with two young men were boat riding yesterday afternoon in Tennessee river when they came near capsizing and only the fact that they were near the bank prevented them from being swamped by the current.

They were sucked under a big barge by the current and the two young ladies were struck in the head by the barge in the collision. Miss Bena Graham and Mrs. Rose were knocked down and came near falling out of the boat and in the general excitement the young ladies came very near sinking the craft. One of the young men succeeded in working the head of the boat around and getting a line out to a man on the barge. The boat was pulled ashore and the young ladies placed on terra firma.—Paducah Sun.

For Representative.

We are authorized to announce
T. H. COCHRAN
Of Marion, as a Candidate for Representative from the counties of Crittenden and Livingston, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

GOOD ROADS PARAMOUNT.

Congressman Ollie M. James informs the Press that he has the assurance from Martin Dodge, chief of the "Government Good Roads Bureau," that a representative from that department will be sent here to attend the Crittenden Good Roads Convention which will meet some time this spring. We hope something will come of this meeting. Our roads have been in a frightful condition, but our county is not alone in this, for all over the country—except in a few favored spots where they have turnpikes—the county roads are neglected. The whole community would be benefitted if good roads were built. They help the farmer, 'tis true, but what enterprise is it on earth that would thrive were it not for the farmer. Cities and towns are benefitted by good roads and by everything else that accrues to the farmer's benefit. We must all pull together and use intelligence in building and maintaining good roads, as we would any other important enterprises in the land. It is in fact Paramount.

The Confederate flags are to be immediately returned to the Southern States.

Robbers blew open the safe of the bank at Benton, Ky., a few days ago and secured $4,000 in money.

High water in the Kentucky river have washed away the locks at Valley View and Ford and cut a new channel.

The men lost out in the great Subway strike in New York. This striking business is a mighty poor way to settle an honest difference of opinion.

The Hargis brothers are now confined in the Fayette county jail at Lexington, pending the hearing of a motion for bail. They are charged with complicity in the murder of Town Marshal Cockrell at Jackson.

Capt. Theodore Steyer is dead. He was formerly mayor of Golconda, Supt. of Schools of Pope county, a "Mason" in high standing, an "Elk," and for 60 years had been a miller, wharfboat and commission merchant of his adopted city, Golconda. He was a polished and educated gentleman, whose scholarly attainments made friends of all who knew him.

The good old town of Dycusburg has distanced Marion, "the capital of the county," in securing a canning factory, which is an enterprise any community may be proud to have in their midst, and what is best is the fact that it is due to Dycusburg capital, energy and enterprise. Her own people have taken hold of it and gotten it. They have shown their confidence by putting their money into it. In most any town "north of the river" or "Mason and Dixon's line," such enterprises are put on foot and managed successfully and profitably. We have here in Crittenden county the shipping facilities which would be the envy of some localities. On the south the Cumberland, on the north the Ohio, and in the center the great Illinois Central railroad; and still hundreds of 'idle boys'—and not a factory. Let's follow the example of our older and wiser sister, Dycusburg. Six per cent. money is plentiful in Marion. Why not put it in a factory and quadruple it? Don't all speak at once.

Judge E. Barry, editor of the Benton Tribune, is a candidate for the legislature from the counties of Lyon and Marshall. He is a good man for the place and the Press is for him for several reasons. First, he is a good man in every way; second, he is a brother editor; third, he is a knight of the grip, and for all such we have a kindly and sympathetic feeling; fourth, we will always be interested in old Lyon's representative. The editor of the Press has known Judge Barry for a quarter of a century as farmer and stock raiser, Judge, western prospector, during which he footed it over much of Alaska; as Sunday School and church worker; as a traveling man, Democrat, and in the private walks of life, and in each and all he has been found worthy and a citizen his county may feel proud of.

The great battle of Mukden is virtually ended and has proved a Waterloo in defeat to the Russian arms. It will rank in history with Marathon and Thermopylae. With one-half of his once splendid army of 400,000 men either dead, wounded, scattered or prisoners in the hands of the enemy, Gen. Kuropatkin is still battling as fiercely as a tiger at bay to save the remnant of his army. It is said he has 200,000 men at the Tie Pass and is fortifying; but is also said a flanking column of 100,000 Japanese is about to rout him out of that stronghold and again start him on the run. Whatever else may be said of the generalship of Kuropatkin, all brave men must admire the splendid audacity which prompted him to place himself at the head of his rear guard of 20,000 men and defy the whole Japanese army. 'Tis superb!

Mrs. A. S. Hill Dead

T. G. Travis, of the Starr community, has received the news of the death of his sister, the widow of the late A. S. Hill, which sad event occurred at Toppenish, Wash., on Wednesday, March 1st. She leaves seven children—four orphans, no father and no mother—in a strange land. The following touching letter was received from them:

Toppenish, Wash., March 6, '05.

Dear Uncle and Family:

It is with sad and aching hearts we write you this morning. Dear Jesus came Saturday and took dear mama from us. She had measles which settled on her lungs, and last Wednesday she suffered a stroke of paralysis. She never spoke to us any more, only to just call our names. She tried to talk but could not. She suffered the agonies of death until just at the last she passed away sweetly. Pray for us.

Destroyed By Fire.

Fred Millikan, one of the substantial young farmers of the county, who lives two miles east of Marion, had the misfortune to lose his house and all its contents by fire last Wednesday night. He and his family were over at his father's home, which was nearly spending the day, and as the afternoon was stormy and disagreeable they decided to spend the night there. Just about 8 o'clock they noticed the light shining over in the direction of their home, and when they rushed to the door they saw that the house was in flames. Nothing was saved. This is quite a loss to Mr. Millikan and his family, and the Press sympathizes with him in his misfortune.

Recently the Illinois General Roads Commission presented report to legislature containing these significant words:

"It has slowly but surely descended upon the minds of thinking people that it is the wagon road, that, first and last, coming and going, carries nearly all the commerce and traffic of the country. We have spent many hundreds of millions of dollars in improving rivers, lakes and harbors, a subsidizing railroad and steamship lines, and have wholly forgotten the fact that but for the humble wagon road there would be little use for cities, railroad harbors or steamships."

Butler Crip, of northeast Arkansas, arrived in the city Friday morning to visit friends and to attend to some business matters which he left unsettled when he moved to Arkansas last fall.
Mrs. Harry McChesney and Miss Edna Presnell, of Frankfort, are in the city enroute to Smithland for a visit. They are guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Presnell.—Paducah News-Democrat.
Mrs. C. R. Newcom, of Repton, was in the city Wednesday night to visit her grandmother, Mrs. Isabel Flanary, who was quite sick, but who is now much improved. She returned to her home Thursday.
Mrs. Gus Taylor and her pretty little blue-eyed daughter, Marie, of Marion, spent Sunday with the family of Mrs. Gus Baker.—Princeton Leader. Mrs. Taylor and baby, Marie, returned from Princeton Sunday.

Bran 85c 100 pounds, cash.
Williams & Freeman.
Robert Fisk left Sunday night for Jackson, Tenn., where he has accepted a position with a telephone company. His family will move there about the first of April.
Mrs. Carrie Thomas will leave Thursday night for her future home in Memphis, Tenn. Marion is the loser by her departure and she will be missed in church and society circles.
J. S. Newcom will have his fine horse, Jim Stewart, to make the season at his farm near Weston. He also has two jacks, Longfellow, a black animal, Tom, a blue, and wants the people to call on him.
James M. Freeman has purchased of J. W. Givens the house and lot opposite Jos. Bourland's new house and will have it removed and erect on the lot a handsome brick residence. West Wilson avenue is improving rapidly.
Mr. W. B. S. Hinkle, of 650 West 47th street, Chicago, who has been here for the past four months visiting his sister, Mrs. Martha A. Stout, left Monday for his home. He may return here later and make some investments.
Miss Maude Dadds, the attractive niece of Mrs. T. C. Guess, returned home last week. She is quite popular with the young folks in society here who regret her departure. She is tall, graceful and a young woman of charming manners.
Noble Hill finished up twenty months service in the postoffice and now he has gone into the laundry business. He will now go to see the girls instead of them having to go to see him. Noble has a special rate on shirt waists. Girls it will pay you to see him.
Ladies, always remember that Miss Ada Harrig & Co. is headquarters for all styles of up-to-date millinery. We have received a beautiful line of ready-to-wear hats and are prepared to make to order anything desired in nobby spring hats. Our selection is of the choicest and our prices are the lowest.

Mesdames Brinson and Travis entertained on Tuesday, the As You Like It club. Those present were: Mesdames Evans, Sayre, Dupuy, E. Moore, C. Moore, R. Haynes, Jenkins and Miss Ida Woods. Refreshments consisted of coffee, sandwiches, pickles, cake and sherbert.
Quincy Love is now proprietor of the Arlington, the leading hotel of Clarksville, Tenn. He makes a fine landlord and the "boys on the road" are high in their praise of his house. Under date of March 10, he writes us. "I am always glad to get the Press and am glad to see the improvement you are making in it. With best wishes for you success."
Katie Stephenson, the bright and interesting little daughter of Rush Stephenson, formerly a student of the graded school, was here Tuesday to visit her great-grandfather, Robt. Lucas, who has been lying at death's door for the past week. As he was better she returned to her home at Mexico Tuesday.
Rev. W. J. Hudspeth, the evangelist, who is conducting a protracted meeting at the Christian church in this city, is arousing much interest and the meetings are being well attended. His subjects for the remainder of the week are: Thursday, Man's Part in Salvation; Friday, What is conversion; Saturday, Change of Heart.
The passenger train due at 3:33 p. m., was delayed Tuesday on account of a wreck on the local freight north of here somewhere near Repton. As a result the engine of the passenger train pulling the Washington emigrants got out of water and had to be supplied from the Electric Light Co.'s supply well and with their new fire hose.
Mrs. McFee's luncheon, from 2 to 5 Saturday afternoon was an enjoyable affair. Those present were: Mesdames Cameron, Wilson, Dupuy, Sayre, Hayward and Jenkins. Mrs. McAfee entertained them in an interesting way by reading letters from her sister and son, who are now in Cuba. All were invited to the dining room where an elegant lunch was served.
Fred Brown and Miss Nora Scott were married here Tuesday by Elder McDonald, the Christian minister. Miss Scott's father left Tuesday for Washington, but at the last she decided in favor of Old Kentucky and Fred Brown. His sister married last Saturday in Elizabethtown, Ill., a Mr. White, so it seems that White and Brown came near breaking up Scott's Washington trip, at least they kept two members of his family here.

GOOD ROADS TREATED BY A SPECIALIST.

Mr. Temme Handles the Subject in a Masterly
Manner and Knows Whereof He Speaks.

However, to proceed on a plan where every step taken is like the building stone or brick in a building, being a part of the whole but supporting and bearing every other part, it is necessary as a first step that a survey be made of the public roads: Bellville, Dycusburg, Salem and Fords Ferry, for the distance of two miles from the corporate limits of Marion. It is here understood that, no extensive road improvement having been attempted in Crittenden county heretofore, two miles as an initiatory step would be sufficient, while in other communities the writer would have suggested eight or ten miles on each of the above mentioned roads.

The survey should give in the field notes the course or bearing (not by the needle, but absolute), of each stretch of road; the width thereof, the corners of land on each side thereof, and the length of each stretch or bearing given in feet. Culverts, bridges, creeks, buildings within five hundred feet of road limit, should be given; the corporate limit of Marion should be permanently established in the center of the road by a lime or hard grained sandstone, say thirty-six inches long and at least six inches square, marked on its two sides, "Marion," and "C. Co." respectively, and imbedded into the ground so that its top (marked in the center with an X) is flush with the ground surface. This would be a permanent landmark and always available for starting point and bench mark. It would also be absolutely necessary to establish at each turn or meander of said road, in the center thereof and at the boundaries, a permanent landmark. An iron pipe or iron pin of not less than one inch in diameter and thirty inches in length being driven into the ground flush with the surface would do. And here I would suggest that contributions of material are in order, from any citizen or company who have old pipe or rod iron encumbering their premises; if sent to the machine shop of Messrs Adams & Pierce; I am sure these gentlemen are public spirited enough to cut and point them for use on the public roads, free of charge. I would also suggest here that there surveys can be made by the aforesaid gentlemen at their leisure time free of charge to the county, the time and work of their assistants to be paid out of the funds of the Crittenden County Commercial Club, the amount thereof being made available for that purpose.

The surveys having been made it is next in order to ascertain from the court records whether the road itself has: first, a legal existence; second, its legal width; third, whether the adjoining land owners have encroached thereon, or whether it is necessary to obtain a greater width by purchase or condemnation. There is where the public spirit and legal acumen of the Crittenden county Bar will come under the lime light and will no doubt stand the test.

All these data being on hand, the writer of this has volunteered to Judge Towery his services free of charge to the public, to tabulate the same, draft a map thereof on a scale suitable to be continued in the future to the county limits and to be made a permanent record of the Fiscal Court of Crittenden county, the county to furnish the linen mounted drawing paper needed while I will furnish my time, work, drawing instruments, etc. free of charge, provided the work is begun, and the two miles finished this year.

I have further, previous to this, in presence of Judge Towery and Mr C. S. Nunn, pledged myself to give two days per month of my time and service for the improvement of said highways, free of charge to the public, provided that the Fiscal Court and the general public, the Crittenden Commercial Club included, will "get a move on them" about road improvements on the line indicated.

For, after all these foregoing wants have been ascertained, and permanently settled, then the real work begins.]

Then first and foremost, donations are again in order. This is time it will be stakes, oak stakes, planed on both sides, two inches by one inch and two feet long, pointed at one end, and there will be needed for the total of eight miles from six to eight hundred of them. Timber crayons to write with on said stakes, but these no doubt will be furnished gratis and gladly, it being in his line of business by Mr. Cochran, of Cochran & Pickens, the efficient President of the Crittenden County Commercial Club and popular candidate for the Legislature.

All the foregoing being ready, the work of taking the levels can be begun, a work of no little difficulty in a rolling country, for upon this work mostly depends the calculation of cut and fill, cost etc. And here again I have promised Judge Towery to furnish, free of charge, my time and work and the making of the necessary profile as a part of the permanent record of the Fiscal Court.

It is now in order, in my opinion, for every precinct in the county to have a list of citizens presented at the next session of our Fiscal Court, giving each man's name and the amount and nature of his donation for the permanent betterment of our public roads. And, in the matter of donations (or this purpose, a friend of mine, somewhat grizzled and, at times, soured, suggests that like at a church fair, everything of a character suitable or unsuitable for the purpose, saleable or unsaleable in the market, is acceptable, except babies; which, he adds (never himself having been blessed with them) are too great a blessing to allow any one to part with them, even for the public good.

As to suggestions about the real work of grading, draining, bridging and ballasting, or rocking public roads I'll try to write in the near future.

"SAVED MY LIFE"

—That's what a prominent druggist said of Scott's Emulsion a short time ago. As a rule we don't use or refer to testimonials in addressing the public, but the above remark and similar expressions are made so often in connection with Scott's Emulsion that they are worthy of occasional note. From infancy to old age Scott's Emulsion offers a reliable means of remedying improper and weak development, restoring lost flesh and vitality, and repairing waste. The action of Scott's Emulsion is no more of a secret than the composition of the Emulsion itself. What it does it does through nourishment—the kind of nourishment that cannot be obtained in ordinary food. No system is too weak or delicate to retain Scott's Emulsion and gather good from it.

CONSTITUTION

A TRAGIC ENDING.

Emma Turley, Formerly of This County, Commits Suicide at Uniontown.

Emma Turley, a domestic in the employ of Mr. J. P. Daniel, of this city, died quite suddenly last Sunday morning, and a post mortem examination, made by Drs. Whitledge and Cottingham, of this city, and Dr. Adcock, of Morgantown, bore out their previous impression that the woman had ended her own existence by taking poison.

Decided traces of poison were found in her stomach and Dr. Whitledge stated to The Telegram that there was no doubt but that she had poisoned herself. Although she had been complaining for several days, she was violently ill only a few hours. The fact that she had threatened to take her life on several occasions, gives additional proof to the suicide theory.

An inquest was held over the remains Sunday by Squire H. L. Lightheart, and the sense of the jury's verdict was that she had died by her own hand. Monday morning Drs. Whitledge and Cottingham, of this city, and Dr. A. C. Adcock, of Morgantown, performed an autopsy with the result announced above.

The tragedy seems to have been the old story of woman's trustfulness and man's perfidy. Numerous letters were found in her possession from a man now living in Missouri, but formerly of Marion, Ky., protesting his faithfulness to her and that he would right the wrong done her by an immediate marriage.

That hope long deferred maketh the heart sick, was illustrated in this instance, and the poor woman at last giving up all hope doubtless saw in death the only solution to the tragic problem facing her.

The deceased came to this place from Marion last September. Her relatives were telephoned to regarding her death, but no one came to claim the remains, and they were buried by the county Monday afternoon.

Thus to the myriad list of life's tragedies is added another; soon to be forgotten, perhaps, but nevertheless a tragedy, that to one poor soul, at least, brought its burden of infinite sorrow.—Uniontown Telegram.

Girl Took Deadly Drug.

Greensburg, Ind., March 9.—Disappointed in a love affair with a prominent young farmer, living near Greensburg, Carr e Hobbs, twenty-four years old, who came here from Connersville three years ago, ended her life by taking morphine.

She took the drug soon after her lover left her at 11 o'clock last night and her dead body was discovered this morning. A note addressed to the young man was found tucked in her shirt waist. She took him her ring and a lock of her hair, and the note told of a broken promise and a wounded heart and asked her lover's forgiveness for the rash act.

Progressive Euchre.

Nicholasville, Ky., March 9.—The grand jury of Jessamine county has begun the investigation in progressive euchre playing here prizes are offered. Pet Butterflies.

The readers of the PRESS are indebted to Mr. Thos. Land, of Shady Grove, for this story of the unique pets. And to his credit be it said, that his statements are always accepted as true by those who know him. Mr. Land says, that in the early days of the present winter, he in tearing up an old shelly stump, discovered a great many butterflies,—and though they were seemingly lifeless he called the attention of his little daughters to them, and they, true to the instincts of childish nature, eagerly gathered up quite a number of the charming insects, and hastily returned to the warmer climes of mama's room, where they could more fully enjoy the incalculable values of their new find,—and to their surprise and delight, they soon discovered that their little lovers of the floral world were showing signs of life and activity, and quickly their delight was raised to ecstasy, when their beautiful pets began to mount upon their wings, and flit about the room, as in summer. A box cage was provided and the pets were snugly housed away in their new winter quarters. But the little girls, each as pretty as their newly captured pets, could not refrain from frequent visits, and other manifestations of interest for the weal of their new charge, often brought them into their mother's room, and as often they would revive, and crawl, and flit about, as at first, and while refreshments of various kinds were placed at their disposal from time to time, they showed no inclination to partake of nourishment. One, now and then, from being handled would get wounded, and die; but not one of them has died until wounded in some way—but now, only one remains to communicate to its fellows the story of its captivity, and of its new acquaintance with the royal little misses, its captors. But the surviving one bids fair to break its long fast, when the earliest spring flowers begin to unfold their petals of loveliest hues, and to freight the air with their sweetest fragrance, which is always appreciated as an inviting salutation by all the butterfly tribes.

But let us not dismiss this story as if only worthy of, and interesting to juvenile minds, for in considering the nature, the habits and the almost inextinguishable life of the butterfly, not only we, but the greatest scientists may find an inexhaustible field for inquiry and instruction. For when we remember that everything in all nature, animal and inanimate, is created in, and under, and perfectly and peculiarly adjusted to the law, or laws of its own being, is it not so surprising that even an insect should seemingly die, so often, and as oft, revive again, when subjected to the sudden changes from a warm to a lower temperature, and vice versa. Nor, is it so strange to us when we find so many nature, organisms and smaller systems, and each, so widely separated from all the rest, and yet, each a natural member of the whole, or larger system, which we call nature, and these, one and all, from the smallest indecipherable atom, or elementary principle, up to the highest developed organism, so completely conforming in all regards to the laws of its own being, and while each of these pursues its own course seemingly independent of every other deviation in nature, and as prescribed by the laws of its own existence, and tendencies, they all harmoniously unite informed the harmonious whole—which whole or larger system under the influence of its higher set of laws, bringing all the smaller subdivisions into harmonic conformity, with itself, presents to us a true paradoxical phenomenon, viz:—discord in unison with itself.

But, all this sublimely wonderful discoveries need not be so surprising to us, if we only, only, remember, that our maker, the God of the christian, if the efficient author of all these things, and their law, operations of laws, etc. Then, never again say, Ah it's just a butterfly! or it's only a story interesting to children—for the existence of a single, living, butterfly is not only a demonstration of the designing and creative and preserving power of almighty God, but resides in the little, seeming insignificant insect, great fountains, and rich stores of sublimest truth, in living reality, and form. Think of it!

Things Made from Paper.

The Krup company of Essia is turning out field pieces made of paper. They have half the lightness of forged steel, but will endure an equal strain. They are mounted on light carriages to be drawn by infantry. It is not generally remembered that the first use of paper for the manufacture of all kinds of domestic articles, originated in Troy, N. Y. In Russia houses are made of blocks of papier mache, and have proved to be as durable as stone. The pulp is compressed under great weight that drives out all moisture and leaves the mass as hard as flint. In the far west pasteboard partitions are now common. They are highly objectionable when a man with a vigorous and thoroughly developed snore occupies the adjoining bedroom.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

The young people left the dock at 10:30 p m in a small rowboat. At daylight the boat was found overturned and the three dead bodies were dragged from beneath the boat.

A STREAM OF GOLD.

Coshpton, March 8.—Jacob Stillhauser, in burning out an old sugar stump on his farm near Keene today, found a pot of gold and silver coins suspended in the hollow tree. His first intimation of the treasure was a molten stream of gold among the cinders.

Stillhauser has a washpan filled with the half molten mass and the coins are still plainly discernable although they are badly melted by fire that had continued since Monday.

The value of the mass is estimated at three thousand dollars. It is supposed to have been hidden by some pioneer in early Indian days.

FIFTY YEARS

From a small beginning this firm has grown until our factories now cover many acres. Some of our machines sold fifty years ago are still giving faithful service.

WHEELER & WILSON SEWING MACHINES

The Rotary Hook, a distinctive feature, originated with this machine, operates in one continuous revolving motion. Compared to a shuttle it works on exactly the same principle as the circular buzz saw in contradistinction to the cross cut saw. The work that can be accomplished, the speed that can be made, and the ease and convenience of operation all are features that have combined to give this machine its present enviable prestige.
