IMPORTANT

Mining News of the Week

The Fair Weather is Followed By Great Activity.

Many Companies Making Permanent Preparations for Large Output—The Fairview Mines.

The continued fair weather is followed by considerable activity on the part of local mining companies, and many improvements in the way of better buildings and shafts at the mine are being made, and considerable machinery is being installed. Among the companies installing new lots of machinery, are the Kentucky Fluor Spar Co., Louisville-Marion, and Commodore Mining Companies. Leading companies will treble their output and several of the newer companies will operate on a paying basis this year.

Suspended navigation during the recent ice-floes in the Ohio river resulted in a dearth of fuel at the Fair View mines across the river from Carrsville, which necessitated the closing down of the mines. Operations were resumed there this week. These are among the largest fluorospar producing mines in the world. THE RECORD reporter at Carrsville writes as follows:

"From one who knows the inside workings of these mines your correspondent has been informed that the output is now 100 tons per day and may be increased to 200 tons within six months. The machinery and appurtenances of this plant cost $120,000. Hon. John Mulholland, the proprietor, intends building a concrete town at Fairview, populating it only with men of families. Some twenty houses will be built this spring, among them a general store where the miners may buy all the necessities of life at reasonable prices. It is said that Mr. Mulholland never 'fired' a man in his life. His general superintendent, Mr. J. M. Jackson, and underground superintendent, John Goodman, were here Saturday night. They intend visiting the mines near Salem and several in Crittenden before returning to Fairview.

Joplin, Mo., March 12.—The highest price paid for zinc ore in the Joplin district last week was $53 per ton, with the assay basis price ranging from $46 to $49 per ton of 60 per cent. zinc. The larger amount of ore shipped was sold on a $48 and $49 basis, while some of the ore shipped had been purchased a week or two ahead, and was settled for as high as a $51 basis. One lot was sold as low as a $45 basis. Prices were off a little during the week from the fact that sellers began hunting up the buyers and offering their ore, while early in the week some of the same sellers were holding firm for a strong price.

During this week lead ore brought $37 per ton as a general price, but some few bins sold at $38 per ton. The shipment of this mineral was the heaviest of the winter, aggregating 703 tons.

The property of the Seacoast Mineral Company in Mechanicsburg has been sold to the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Company for the handsome price of $25,000. The agreement to this effect has already been entered into, and the papers transferring the property are now being drawn up.—Paducah Register.

The shipments for the last week included one car of zinc, making in all 843,760 lbs. as follows:

8 cars gravel fluor spar	436,760
1 car mixed	51,310
7 cars ground	315,780
1 car zinc	40,000

Our Frances correspondent says the Pogue mine is again in operation, also that the Kentucky Fluor Spar Co. is putting up some good buildings at the Matthews mines and digging a large pond on the Yandell property for washing purposes.

Southern iron men interested in the proposed merger of coal and iron companies of the South deny that the project has failed. They admit, however, that the consummation of the combine may have to be deferred until after the meeting of stockholders of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company at Tracy City, Tenn., May 2. A majority of the present directors of that company is opposed to the merger.

Smithland, Ky., March 13.—A big land suit will be tried here this week by Bush and Grassham for F. M. Barnard against the Pittsburg Fluor Spar Mining and Manufacturing Co. and C. R. Anderson for $12,000. It is claimed that the company disposed of its holdings to Anderson, who began operations in the name of the Pittsburg Lead and Spar Company. Barnard was formerly manager of the other company, and claims to have sold it valuable lands, which were not paid for. Bush and Grassham will also sue the company for $300 claimed as a balance on attorneys' fee.

F. Julius Fohs announces that his resignation has finally been accepted by the Marion Zinc Co., with whom he has been associated as mining engineer since October, 1902.

As has been previously stated in our columns, Mr. Fohs will go with the State Geological Survey, and his first work will probably be a detailed investigation and the preparation of a full report on the Western Kentucky district.

Mr. Fohs will take up his work with the Survey on April 1st. He understands the district as no one else does, and we feel that his long experience here, coupled with his technical training and knowledge, will enable him to conclude the investigation in much shorter time than anyone else who could be selected for the work.

H. Van Calysele, an ore buyer from Belgium, was recently in the United States looking after product, and purchased several hundred tons of ore, turning it over to smelters which will convert it into spelter to be shipped to foreign countries. Mr. Van Calysele said that the zinc ore in Belgium and the Isle of Man is practically exhausted and that most of the zinc shipped in Europe comes from Spain, which is a much inferior grade to the American ore. He thinks that American ore will soon be in great foreign demand, which, of course, will result in the fullest development of even the smallest producing districts of to-day. Zinc mine operators in general doubtless recognize these facts, and for the future a higher average price is anticipated than prevailed heretofore.

Deeds Recorded.

D. M. Boyd and wife to Alex Coffield, lot near town, $179.80.

D. Henry Burkley to Martha Asbridge, 12 acres of land on Claylick Creek for $100.

J. N. Boston to O. H. Paris, 1-4 undivided interest in planing mill for $750.

D. S. F. Crider to W. C. Crayne, 18 acres of land on Pine Creek for $141.

By PHILOSOPHER

All Questions Cheerfully Answered to the Entire Satisfaction of the Editor.

Janice Meredith, Mulliken.—Which is proper, to extend the right or left hand in bidding good night to a young gentleman caller?

If the young gentleman is fairly good looking we should advise both hands. If he is real handsome, let the arms follow the hands. Remember, Janice, you live in Mulliken.

Ross G., Sheridan.—"I am keeping company with one of the most beautiful young ladies of the State. She is a perfect dream. How shall I find out if my love is returned?" Just ask her.

Dentist, Vicksburg.—"Is there a bowling record of 300 pins for ten consecutive games?"

There is such a record but it is kept under lock and key in Cincinnati. It happened before the war.

Lon J., depot.—"What's this about Lawson and what has he been doing on the New York exchange?"

Mr. Thomas Lawson has been jarring the amalgam filing out of the stock market.

B. B., Fredonia.—It is difficult to tell from your description what the matter is with your head. Are you sure that it is only ball on the outside? We would advise lye, hominy and turnip greens for the present.

An old subscriber.—Was anything known outside of Crittenden and Livingston counties about our mining district before the present Marion Commercial Club was formed?

There were some rumors regarding it which reached as far south as Princeton, but until the Ada Florence was found, nothing was known in either Louisville or St. Petersburg. The late World's Fair which was held in St. Louis, a town some 180 miles from Marion, gave several people an idea about us and one man came all the way from Missouri to see if it was true.

Geo. W. Brooks to Charles Webb, lot in Marion for $305.

J. H. Young to D. A. Lowry, 219 acres on Piney Creek for $3200.

J. C. Stephenson to D. M. Johnson, 45 acres on Hurricane Creek for $419.25.

A. R. Hughes to N. E. Hughes, undivided 1-3 interest in 425 acres on Crooked Creek for $5000.

J. W. McDonald to W. L. James 31 acres on Piney Creek for $475.

D. M. Boyd to Fannie Cruce, lot in Marion, $151.20.

Jacob S. Crayne to James A. Hunt, 85 acres on Piney Creek for $450.

J. E. Dean to C. M. Reed, 75 acres on Crooked Creek for $1000.

Geo. H. Foster to Jas. H. Patmore, 2 acres of land for $32.

A. C. Greenlee to Henry B. Asbridge, 7 1-2 acres of land for $100.

John Alexander to C. M. Dillard, 68 acres $525.

J. W. Burklow to D. H. Burklow, 122 acres.

W. D. Brantley to Mandina Brantley, 20 acres, $150.

Rachael Jamison to J. C. Alexander, 132 acres, $200.

J. B. Hunt to A. G. Hunt, 290 acres, $1203.

You should see Denman & Love before purchasing your ready-to-wear hats.

X. Q. W., East Marion.—The very first kiss a girl ever receives is an immense surprise to her because there doesn't seem to be any taste to it. Nothing sweet about it.

X. Y. Z., Sturgis.—How does a coal mine? This question doesn't properly belong to this department and we refer it to the U. S. Coal, Gas and Coke Company who really ought to know by this time.

I. H. 44, Joy.—Yes, they have dropped the singing of the doxology in the Chicago University during chapel exercises. This was done in deference to Mr. Rockefeller. The old doxology "Praise God from whom all blessings flow" is relegated to the past. They seem to be mixed on where the blessings flow from. Several million dollars have flown from Rockefeller to that institution—and there you are.

P. S. M., south side.—Can a postage stamp?

This is a subject properly belonging to the Indian department. George M. Crider, who ought to be authority, says that some canned postage stamps are stamped while other stamped postage stamps cannot stamp the canned postage stamps but Miss Wilborn says that a postage stamp that can stamp the canned postage stamp, is a good thing and to push it along. Send her all you get.

R. S. V. P., Press office.—Why is it that the ham in Copher's sandwiches is not only very thin but its area is exceedingly small as compared to the two bunches of bread which it attempts to separate?

Referring to page 992 of the Church Cook Book recently published, you will find that a sandwich is different from a mince pie and it bears no resemblance to sphenagetta. It is also possible that the American hog is degenerating and can't give up the necessary ham, besides, Copher makes his sandwiches out of small hogs.

WILL STAY IN OFFICE

President's Position Regarding the Federal Appointments.

Washington, March 10.—A general policy as to Federal appointments was determined upon by the President and his cabinet today at their semi-weekly meeting. At the conclusion of the meeting it was announced that, for the present at least, the uniform policy would be to retain incumbents in office during satisfactory service. This policy will hold, it was stated further, entirely irrespective of the length of service of the incumbent. The policy announced is to apply generally to all departments of the government. It is in precise line to the determination reached and announced some time ago regarding postmasters.

Charley Weldon Dead.

Charley Weldon died at the home of his mother, Mrs. L. A. Weldon, in this city, Friday night, of consumption.

For some time past he had been suffering with that dread disease and had been confined to his bed, practically ever since last fall. It was thought that a trip to the sunny south would benefit him and friends had him go there during the winter, but he was then so feeble that the southern breezes proved of no worth to him.

Since he returned from the south where he was gone less than two weeks, he had remained in this city and had gradually sunk until the end came.

He leaves a wife who is the daughter of Thos. Lear, of Tolu, one little child, and is also survived by one full brother, Simpson Weldon, of this city, three full sisters, Mrs. C. B. Hina; and Misses Sallie and Lena Weldon who reside with their mother, two half brothers, County Court Clerk C. E. Weldon and Newt Weldon, of Tolu, and a half sister, Mrs. C. R. Babb, of Salem, besides a mother.

Before his death he avowed his readiness to meet his Maker in peace. The funeral was conducted from the residence Saturday at 1 p. m., Rev. J. R. McAfee officiating. The interment took place in the new cemetery.

New Sub-division.

With the many new sub-divisions of the city that have been recently opened and on which splendid neat cottages are springing up, almost as by magic to one who does not make a frequent detour of the city, we are soon to have another sub-division. It will be known as the Stone-Corway sub-division and will be opened on the 30 acres of land south of Salem street and just west of the city. Elm and Depot streets will be extended through the sub-divisions and will have their outlets in the extension of the Memphis mines road which will be continued across Salem street, along the west part of the sub-division. This will contain some handsome building lots and in the rear is a good supply of water and suitable locations for factories should a railroad be built to Crittenden Springs.

Dies in Washington.

Mrs. Sarah Hill, sister of Lycurgus Travis, of this city, died March 4th at her home in the state of Washington, of measles and paralysis. Besides a number of relatives in this county she leaves seven children. She was a splendid lady, well-beloved by all who knew her and her many friends in this county will be sorry to hear of her death.

A Bunch of Violets.

EDITOR CRITTENDEN RECORD:—We were somewhat astonished by the prospect of a semi-weekly RECORD. By this we are persuaded to believe old Crittenden on the upgrade move, and Marion one of the most enterprising and business-like little towns of the State.

Now, Mr. Editor, we would have you understand that with the greatest of pleasure we welcome this new prospect of what the future may bring us. I have but one thing to say, and that is, you can not send it too soon.

With best wishes for success to the RECORD, and hoping to find a semi-weekly RECORD in this office soon, I remain A SUBSCRIBER.

RAILROAD

To Crittenden Springs.

First Important Link in Road Through Mining District

Illinois Central Company Determined to Establish Through Service From Nashville to Chicago.

Since the publication of our railroad article last week relative to through service between Nashville and Chicago over the I. C., it is reported on pretty good authority that in order to establish the service and carry out present plans the I. C. will overcome all obstacles that are in the way just now, even if they have to build new sections of road. This sort of determination on the part of the officials of that road will undoubtedly bring about the speedy establishment of the service. A little more of such progressive spirit in our town and community could and would bring results in road building closer home and give this district the benefit of railroad facilities that are now very much needed.

It has also been reported that a railroad to Crittenden Springs as the first link in proposed line though the mineral district is now in active contemplation. The matter will be brought before the Commercial Club at its next meeting by several prominent members of the Club, and efforts will be made looking to securing a right of way.

It ought to be possible for the Commercial Club as a progressive body, ever alert and ready to assist to the utmost in the fullest and quickest possible development of the district, to secure a free right of way.

It is understood that some obstacles in securing a right of way are yet to be met and overcome, and in this purpose it has been proposed that the Commercial Club can enter and pave the way for securing a most important enterprise, whose advantages can be enjoyed by all the people of the district.

It has been argued by some that the teamsters, who also own land along the proposed right of way, may oppose granting free right of way privileges owing to a possible loss to the teaming business. It must be pointed out to this class that their interests will be best served by the building of a road, for it is a positively known fact to all who have any experience in such matters, that by the largely increased volume of business, the short haul to the new stations or switches along the route will soon more than offset the present long haul, and with good roads built and maintained will insure business the year round instead of only seven or eight months as at present.

In substance it means to the teamsters fewer mud holes to pull through, no hills to climb, and consequently one team to feed where two are now owned and maintained.

Finally, it will result in as large pay rolls for teamsters from the outset of road building and soon grow to much greater proportions than at present. Teams and wagons will last much longer than under the present conditions of hard usage.

It should also be pointed out that in the road building itself parties along the line of route will be greatly profited by the team and manual work furnished. Farms along the route will be much more valuable and salable, and all conditions will be greatly improved upon.

THE FARMER

CONTRIBUTED

The farmer who farms his farm is the safeguard of civilization and the stalwart arm upon which rests independence. Take away the farmer and what he produces on his farm and the food supply of the world is cut distressingly short. There is no more useful class, nor a more honorable class of people than they on the farm. Hard working, conservative, long hours of toil, small profits in return, these words write his history.

But the average farmer does not make farming pay. There is always the most economical living to make ends meet during the year. They do meet, but barely do, and in some instances the next year's harvest must be drawn upon to meet this year's contingencies.

Bad crops, loss of stock and many other things contribute to these crises. So much so has this become that the farm has lost its attractiveness to many.

Of course the boy who has obtained an education is not going to spend his life in farm drudgery. A profession or business looms up before him, and grand is the sweet morsel that plays about his tongue. Now, why is this? Whatever the state of farming, this sentiment is not a healthy one. No one will question that. Have rows of corn less attraction than rows of figures, or is it because there is more money in something else than in farming?

One thing that has helped to create this sentiment is an utterance all have heard farmer fathers make in the presence of their boys: "I have had a hard time on the farm, and I don't want my boy to have such a time as I have. I want to give him an education that he may enter some profession or business." Mistaken parent, in your desire to save your boy from a "hard time" you have created in him a disgust for the farm, and maybe you thereby spoiled a good farmer and made a poor something else.

Farming is honorable and healthful. What is purer, better, freer than the free air and freedom of a well-kept farm? But there is the keynote—"well kept." "Anything will do," "any kind of work." Any kind of so-and-so has completely driven attraction from farm life.

Look at New Hampshire's abandoned farms—a thousand score of farms with no farmers. From other States the same cry is heard. Where are these farmers? Caught in the craze of this vastly commercial age, the farm was mortgaged, a business was entered, failure followed and the mortgage held the farm.

A decade ago the tendency was toward the city. But Americans are a restless people. Reaction is taking place and the tendency is now toward the farm. Millionaires have bought farms in the South. Two members of President Roosevelt's cabinet own farms in New Hampshire. So, after all, there is a healthy sentiment farmward. But note the difference between the one who lives on the farm and farms it and the one who lives in the city and has his farm farmed. It is of the farmer who lives on his farm and with his "horny hands of toil" plows, plants, harvests—the average farmer we speak. He is the one who "shuns delight and lives laborious days" for a living.

Suggestions from one who does not farm may seem impractical to some. From a professional standpoint the first suggestion is to take one or more agricultural papers. Experts supply their columns, and there is much in them that will benefit the farmer. Suggestion second would be to study, plan and manage to make the farm yield the greatest returns. The wide-awake farmer saves soil by a "resting change." "No idle dirt" would be a splendid farm motto. Third suggestion covers the ground with seeds which act two ways—holds the soil and replenishes the empty hay mow. The fourth suggestion covers these fields of timothy, red top and clover with stock—cattle, sheep and horses. Herein is the dividend on the investment. Machinery, shelter, etc., would come under a fifth and sixth suggestion, but they will be, or have already been solved by the farmer.

The idea of eking out a pittance of a living on the farm is now a dead one. Farm to make a success, to lay up something in the savings bank for the inevitable "rainy day." Because one is a farmer does not signify he is not up to date, progressive, informed on the market, in touch with the world.

Banish the idea that the farm is an unsuitable dwelling for the educated, that it is the slough house where those who can do nothing else may eke out a living. What mean the grand estates in England? No more than that these estates, or farms, have been brought to their present state by the direction of educated men. Donald Mitchell, known in literature as Ike Marvel, crystallized his country home in a book, "My Farm at Edgewood." Holmes owned a farm. Dixon, author of "Leopard Spots," owns a farm. McKinley owned a farm, so have many other notables. So, farmer, you are in excellent company. Let not the expenditures overlap the profits, and you have the problem solved.

Strikes Hidden Rocks.

When your ship of health strikes the hidden rocks of Consumption, Pneumonia, etc., you are lost if you don't get help from Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. J. W. McKinnon, of Talladega Springs, Ala., writes: "I had been very ill with pneumonia, under the care of two doctors, but was getting no better when I began to take Dr. King's New Discovery. The first dose gave relief, and one bottle cured me." Sure cure for sore throat, bronchitis, coughs and colds. Guaranteed at R. F. HAYNES' drug store, price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

BLOOMING ROSE.

Sunshine and rain seem to be at a game of hide-and-seek.

Misses Jessie and Grace Malcom spent Saturday and Sunday with their sister, Mrs. W. Hugh Watson, of near Carversville.

Vernon Malcom and Frank Watson went to Marion Saturday.

Urey Robinson went to the party at Richard Hardesty's Saturday night.

Mrs. Martha Wheeler is seriously ill.

Johnathan Belt is buying sheep.

Quite a number of candidates have been in this section this week. We have two candidates for magistrate, R. A. Hearall and W. R. Vaughn.

C. E. Thomas, the Ditney teacher, seems to have considerable attraction in this neighborhood Sunday afternoons.

W. B. Little began plowing Monday.

A number of farmers are engaged burning plant beds and from indications, we are to have a partial crop of tobacco at least.

The school is now in working trim and moves along nicely.

Agonizing Burns

are instantly relieved and perfectly healed by Bucklen's Arnica Salve. C. Rivenbark, Jr., of Norfolk, Va., writes: "I burnt my knee dreadfully that it blistered all over. Bucklen's Arnica Salve stopped the pain and healed it without a scar." Also heals all wounds and sores. 25c at R. F. HAYNES', druggist.

FAMOUS MINE

Discovered in 1765 and Then Lost for More Than a Century.

A correspondent from Owingsville, Bath county, to the Louisville Post recently said:

"After having been lost almost a century and a half, and after having been searched for in almost every county in the Eastern Kentucky mountains, the famous Swift Silver Mine has at last been found in a cave in the mountain fastness of Carter county. The discovery was made, so a telephone message received here stated, by a party of young men who had been rabbit hunting. They traced a rabbit trail up a small creek known as Moore's branch, and, when near the head of it, in a territory little frequented, they discovered a big cave leading into the side of a high mountain. Securing pine knots, the hunters made torches and entered the cave to investigate. After following a worn trail for some distance they came to the ashes of what had once been a fire, and near the ashes was lying some ore of a peculiar grayish color, and near this were some ancient tools, rudely manufactured in the form of a crucible and mould for making money. The ore was carried thirteen miles to Grayson, the nearest town, and was shipped from there to an assayer in Cincinnati, who pronounced the ore to contain both silver and gold in paying quantities."

Incredible Brutality.

It would have been incredible brutality if Chas. F. Lemberger, of Syracuse, N. Y., had not done the best he could for his suffering son. "My boy," he says, "cut a fearful gash over his eye, so I applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which quickly healed it and saved his eye." Good for burns and ulcers too. Only 25c at R. F. HAYNES' drug store.

Say! Do You Know?

That a bunion's progress is painfully interesting to the pilgrim?
That millions die of intemperance who never taste alcoholics?
That a true friend is a man just a bit near sighted to our faults?
That fat is a fine thing as a cushion, but utterly useless as a push-on?
That you may protect yourself against a Knave, but you haven't a ghost of a show with a fool?
That a stomachache that doubles a man up, of course increases his sighs?
That the man who fixes his gaze on a star may fall into a coal-hole?
That when we don't know a thing, and don't know that we don't know it, it takes us a long time to learn it?
That an open enemy is better than a false friend?

Startling Mortality.

Statistics show startling mortality, from appendicitis and peritonitis. To prevent and cure these awful diseases, there is just one reliable remedy, Dr. King's New Life Pills. M. Flannery, of 14 Custom House Place, Chicago, says: "They have no equal for Constipation and Biliousness." 25c at R. F. HAYNES', druggist.

Crops in Kentucky.

The monthly report of the State Agricultural Commissioner, the first for the present year, shows a wheat average of 90 per cent. of a full crop, and its condition is reported as 85 per cent. The average of winter oats is given as 91 per cent. of a full crop, and the condition as being 80 per cent. The average of rye is given as 92 per cent. of last year, and the condition as 86. The condition of clover is given as 80, and of meadows as 93.

The percentage of the Burley tobacco crop reported sold is 55 and of dark tobacco 37 per cent.

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS

"No, Sir! You cannot palm off any substitutes on me. I've been using August Flower since I was a boy, and I'll have no other."

Forty million bottles of August Flower sold in the United States alone since its introduction! And the demand for it is still growing. Don't it prove that August Flower has had unflinching success in the cure of indigestion and dyspepsia—the worst enemies of health and happiness? Does it not afford the best evidence that August Flower is a sure specific for all stomach and intestinal disorders?—that it is the best of all liver regulators? August Flower has a matchless record of over 35 years in curing the ailing millions of these distressing complaints. Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists.

Teachers' Training Class

BY REV. JAS. F. PRICE

In point of time this lesson comes soon after the last. The fifth chapter in John's gospel is given to one miracle and the ninth to another. But John couples the discussion which followed these miracles and thus brought to light some of Christ's teachings which we find recorded nowhere else. Read all of the ninth chapter.

OUTLINE OF LESSON.

- I. Prelude to the miracle.
 1. Jesus saw the unfortunate man. (1)
 2. The question of the disciples. (2)
 3. Christ's answer. (3)
- II. The miracle.
 1. Truths stated.
 - a—The time to work. (4)
 - b—The work to be done. (5) 2. The means employed.
 - a—The moistened clay. (6)
 - b—The anointing of the eyes. (6)
 - c—The wash in the pool of Siloam. (7)
 3. The cure complete. (7)
- III. The results of the miracle.
 1. The discussion among the neighbors.
 - a—Some questioned. (8)
 - b—Some were sure. (9)
 - c—Some doubted. (9)
 2. The testimony of the man himself.

LIVING THE LESSON.

1. Has God sent me to do any work for Him? If so, will I go?
2. Opportunities are daylight; when they are passed it is night. Am I working in the daylight? Am I using my opportunities?
3. Do I see spiritual truth clearly? If not, will I say, "Open thou mine eyes that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law?"

TOPICS FOR RESEARCH.

1. The relation between sin and disease.
2. The providences of God.
3. The opportunities of life.
4. The responsibilities connected with them.
5. The use of means in healing.
6. The relation of prayer and faith to healing.
7. The testimony of consciousness, v. 17-25.

Pity the Poor Czar.

"Uncasy lies the head that wears a crown" has been quoted so often that it has become trite. But if ever there was instance to demonstrate its truth, it is found in the case of the Czar of Russia.

He is made miserable by the constant weakening and defeating of his forces in war.

He is displeased at the thought of having soon to ask for terms from an enemy whom he belittled and scorned.

He is surrounded by kinsmen who demand that he yield to the people of his empire not a jot of the imperial power that has come to him from his ancestors.

He is called upon by the people to give them greater liberty.

He is threatened by his kinsmen and reactionary Ministers if he grants concessions of moment.

He is besought by his Liberal Ministers to declare a more benevolent policy, and is threatened by the people if he refuses.

He is urged by many influential persons to end the war.

He is told by other influential men to fight until Japan is whipped.

He is in daily fear of a bomb.

He is kept practically a prisoner in his castle.

He is never sure when he sits down to a meal that poison has not been administered.

He is afraid to allow his children or members of his family to go out of doors for fear of assassination.

He is suspicious of nearly everybody.

He does not know when treachery will assert itself in his household.

He passes sleepless nights, his rest being driven away by his cares and worries.

The world will never know how keen has been the mental suffering of this sovereign, for these besetting anxieties have not been of a day's duration only, but of months. That he is able to bear up under the burden is a matter of wonder.

Plainly there is no one on the face of the globe more miserable than this royal personage. And yet, such is human nature, there are few men who would not gladly exchange happiness and obscurity for his anguish and power.—Courier Journal.

Kennewick Irrigating Canal.

watering twenty thousand acres of land on the west bank of the Columbia river, is one of the newest and best irrigating propositions in the United States. Kennewick is the gateway of the Yakima Valley. The season is from two to three weeks earlier than the upper valley, and alfalfa, peaches, pears and all small fruits such as strawberries, cantaloupes, etc.—the latter ripening very early—command the highest market price.

LINKING FARM TO MARKET.

Under this heading in the Louisville Herald there recently appeared a leading editorial from which the following is quoted:

"Good Roads add enormously to the value of farm and city property, but also enrich the producer by bringing him into easier and closer touch with the markets. They are also of great social value, they bring neighbors into more frequent converse, they draw the school nearer the child, the church nearer the worshiper, the county seat nearer the litigant. Every center of population and intelligent activity they bring closer to the farmer. They make for the banishment of isolation, they are promoters of culture and of trade."

What a sermon of wisdom this is,
and what an important lesson it conveys to this section, both for the farmer and mine operator. It is more than a sermon, for each sentence is capable of furnishing ample sentiment for a text, and therefore this one paragraph could be enlarged upon and a whole series of essays written thereon.

A study of the history of all nations, of States, of communities, shows their progress to run side by side with the progress of road building and bridge building. Not the mere laying out or marking off of a roadway, but the establishment of a road system which will avoid heavy grades, and by macadamiz-ing and ditching insure good roads the year round.

"Roads are not merely an evidence of a community's civilization," says the Evening Post, "but they are the chief means toward the highest civilization. Instead of over-estimating the value of these roads, we do not rightly estimate them. We cannot fairly do it."

Mukden fell, but with it 184,000 lives were lost.

While the Japs were occupying Mukden the Russians were trying to occupy Tie Pass.

The Bank of Benton was robbed of $4,000 Sunday night and the

"The way to give a child a fair chance in life is not to bring it up in luxury, but to see that it has the kind of training to give it strength of character."—Roosevelt in address before "Mothers congress."

With President Roosevelt after the Beef Trust, congress after the Railroad Trust, the different states after the Standard Oil Trust, Lawson after the Wall Street Trust and the farmers after the Tobacco Trust it begins to look like there will be no further need for little Willie Hearst's cartoons.

The secretary of the treasury has issued a warrant of $750,000 in favor of McMurray & Cornish, lawyers, residing in the Indian Territory, as fees for services rendered by them to the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians. This was an unusual large fee and was paid after being protested by the secretary of the interior, approved by Congress.

We publish this week an announcement of the preliminary steps in a movement to secure a railroad to Crittenden Springs and ultimately on through the mineral district. We hope to see the Commercial Club take up this matter in the same spirit and with the same vitality and vigor as they have exhibited in handling the water works and good roads propositions. A railroad, either steam or electric, would be the logical outcome.

Our editorial of last week, under the heading "Our Kentucky Metropolis," was republished verbatim by the Louisville Evening Post in the issue of Saturday, March 11.
Further than this, we have received a letter from Editor Richard W.
Knott, of the Post, stating that he had read the article with pleasure, and thanking us not only on his own behalf, but for our efforts on behalf of the friends of good government.

Facts and figures tell this story about the Panama canal: Distance from New York to San Francisco via old route, 13,714 miles—via canal, 5,299 miles. From New York to Manila, old route, via San Francisco and Yokohama, 19,530 miles—via canal, 11,585 miles. The canal is to be 49 miles long. The French company began work on this canal in 1883, and on account of some fraud in the management ceased work in 1889. It is estimated that ten years will be required to finish this wonderful waterway.

ELEVEN

Confessions at Christian Church and Revival Continues.

Elder W. J. Hudspeth, assisted by the pastor, Elder H. A. Mc-Donald, is continuing the revival at the Christian church. To date there have been eleven confessions, and it is likely that several more will be made. A baptizing will take place at the church some time before the services are brought to a close. The meeting will very likely continue through next week, as it is proving a successful one, and Elder Hudspeth is delivering strong and appealing sermons. On Sunday night, March 5th, he preached a sermon that has brought out much favorable comment, and the following is a brief outline. His text was taken from John 14:12:

"The Savior said, Verily, verily,
I say unto you, he that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go to my Father."

"That we may be able to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion as to the greatness of Christ's work on earth, we must look at him,

"1st, as the world's greatest power intellectually. He was always equal to every condition or circumstance in life. He never was approached by friend or foe that he was at a loss to know what kind of answer to give. The Sadducee with his little materialistic creed made of two little articles of faith, first, that there is to be no resurrection of the dead, and second, there is no such thing as the existence of spirits, came to him represented by a shrewd lawyer, who in substance said, 'Good Master, you say there will be a resurrection of the dead, I want to ask you a question. A man married a wife and he died, and she married his brother and he died; she married another brother and another till she had married seven brothers.

Now in the resurrection whose wife shall this woman be?' The Lord was ready with His reply and said:
'There is no marrying nor giving in marriage in the resurrection, but we shall be as the angels.' He was always ready.

"2nd, looking at Him from a standpoint of moral greatness we find in Him that which is admired by both the skeptical and Christian world.

"3rd, thus far all are agreed that Jesus is superior to all men from an intellectual and moral point of view, but it is claimed for him by His friends that He is none other than the son of God. He came to seek and to save the lost. To do this He does what no other one has ever done. He spoke sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf and speech to the dumb in order to prove His claims to be the Christ and Savior of men. After He arose from the dead He sent His apostles out to bear witness to the world of His resurrection from the dead,
'the Lord confirming the word with signs following.' Mark 16:19-20.

"This work went on till God's word was confirmed to the world and completed—reduced to writing and now these things are written that we may believe that Jesus is the Christ the Son of God, and believing we might have life through His name.' Jno. 20:30-31.
Since the complete revelation of God's will to all the world as we have it in the New Testament, we have seen no more miracles to demonstrate the truth. The reason is:

"1st, the truth has been established.

"2nd, God has a greater work for His people to do. It is greater to save a soul than it is to save a body. So our Lord has left us the work of preaching the gospel of salvation to all the world and every creature. Let us not be indifferent to our task."

We have the best laid in town—
a trial order will convince you.

CIRCUIT COURT

Convenes Next Monday With Less Than Ordinary Docket.

The docket for the session of circuit court which convenes Monday is below the ordinary both from the standpoint of cases in number and of importance. There are several cases against the Standard Oil Co. for selling oil from wagon without license. The weather will likely be fair for people to attend court, and much business should be done. The jurors are as follows:

GRAND JURY.

Married at Golconda.

A telephone message received from Joy announces the marriage of Claudie May Chittenden to J. S.
D. Chittenden. The marriage took place Monday morning at 3 o'clock, at Golconda, Ill. The contracting parties, anticipating parental objections, their fathers being half brothers, accompanied by Lee Skelton, also of Joy, took French leave Sunday night and crossed the river at Golconda, where the proper papers were secured and the knot was tied.

The bride and groom are prominent young people belonging to good families, and the announcement of the marriage is cause for surprise on account of their near relation. We wish them long, happy and useful lives, and forgiveness at the hands of their parents.

Monday was the biggest county court day we have had since last fall.

Attorney Thos. W. Champion went to Blackford Tuesday on business.

Mrs. John Sutherland, who has been sick for several days, is much better.

Alvis Stevens went to Princeton Sunday night returning Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams, of Ford's Ferry, were in the city Monday.

Miss Clara Crawford, of Tolu, is the guest of his sister, Mrs. J. B. Champion.

Messrs. Delmer Babb and Ed Edwards, of Piney, were in the city Monday.

Mrs. D. C. Porter returned Monday from Owensboro where she visited relatives.

Miss Carrie Moore, of Hopkinsville, spent Sunday with her parents in this city.

Just received a full line of dry goods, pretty laces and embroideries at the PALACE.

Messrs. W. Hugh Watson and Vernon Malone, of Blooming Rose, were in town Saturday.

Chase & Sanborn's celebrated coffee is the best. Sold only by MORRIS & HUBBARD.

Mrs. Eva Moore and Oil Tucker spent Sunday in Fredonia, the guests of Mrs. Henry Rice.

Mrs. J. M. Freeman and daughter, Miss Muriel, spent Tuesday with friends at Crayneville.

Miss Grace Ainsworth left Monday for Mayfield where she has a position in a millinery store.

Shoes, shoes! We have the Eclipse & Hannan for men, and Drew Selby for women, at the PALACE.

Business at THE RECORD office kept us hustling Monday. It seems that our friends remembered us. Come again.

Boston & Paris carry the best shingles made. Their Red Cypress "Best" is the best shingle made.

Elder H. A. McDonald arrived Friday from Cadiz, and is assisting in the revival at the Christian church.

Irva Blackburn, of Rufus, and J. T. Street, of Morganfield, took dinner at the Gill house one day this week.

P. T. Sigler, formerly of Boxville, and who travels for Parson & Seoville, wholesale groceryman, Evansville, has removed to this city to reside. This is a central point in his territory, but doubtless the main reason is because of the splendid school here and the environment it affords his children.

Ladies, always remember that Miss Ada Harrig & Co. is headquarters for all styles of up-to-date millinery. We have received already a beautiful line of ready-to-wear and street hats and are prepared to make to order anything desired in nobby spring hats. Our selection is of the choicest and our prices are the lowest. 36-4f

W. H. Bickers, at present a shoe merchant at Hopkinsville, formerly a newspaper man, and well known to the business men of this city as the gentleman who made up the late illustrated edition of the Crittenden Press, was last week indicted by the grand jury at Hopkinsville for burning a house on which there was insurance. The charges were somewhat sensational and Bickers protests his innocence demanding a speedy trial.

The Richards & Pringle's Famous Georgia Minstrels that will appear at the Opera House March 21st have fifty royal colored minstrel entertainers appearing at every performance and fun runs riot through the entire program of varied acts—big hits, every one of them—study the list: Famous Clarence Powell, Clever Billy Young, Pete Woods, Pat Bartlett, Happy Beaupard and and Robert Williams. These are the men that will shine on the end.

G. P. Wilson, of Weston, is in the city.

MISS WILBORN

Leads in the Popularity Contest. Miss Clara Carter Second

In the Popularity Contest the voting has moved up lively and Miss Clara Carter stands second with 48 votes while Miss Wilborn is in the lead with 64 votes. A great deal of interest is being shown in the contest but it is absolutely impossible for one to tell who will be in the lead from one week until the next.

Two new candidates have been entered by their friends. Miss Lily Doss, daughter of C. E. Doss, of this city, and Miss Mabel Guess, daughter of T. C. Guess, the Salem mail carrier of this city. It will be noticed that the name of one contestant is not in the list this week, Miss Carrie Moore. Her absence from the city and certain reasons has prompted her withdrawal which was only granted after our protest was met by reasonable cause on her part. She is a very popular young lady and has many friends in the county, but she is now an instructor at Lockyear's Business College at Hopkinsville. Those who have voted for her will receive her personal letter setting forth her position.

We announce the standing of all contestants as follows:

Leaffa Wilborn	64
Clara Carter	48
Bertha Moore	16
Clara Crawford	16
Maud Babb	16
Blanche Haase	12
Edna Cole	8
Lena Cardwell	8
Katie Carter	4
Effie Parker	4
Lily Doss	4
Mabel Guess	4

Following are the rules governing our Popularity Contest, in which two very handsome and valuable prizes will be awarded the two most successful contestants.

The contest will positively close at 12 o'clock, noon, on July 4, 1905.

Any young lady will be eligible as a contestant, who is nominated by her friends and is supported by their votes.

The two prizes are of equal value—fifty dollars each, and the winning candidate who receives the highest number of votes cast shall have first choice; the other prize will be awarded the young lady receiving the second highest number of votes cast.

Four votes will be allowed with each dollar paid in advance on subscriptions to THE RECORD which may be one or more yearly subscriptions, two semi-annual subscriptions at 50c each, or four quarterly subscriptions at 25c each, but the total when turned in must equal one yearly subscription at $1.

The votes will be deposited in a ballot box which will be under lock and seal until the contest shall have terminated, when a committee will be selected to count the ballots.

The selection of the committee will be left to the most successful contestants, that is, four committeemen will be chosen by the four contestants receiving the highest number of votes, and a fifth will be chosen by majority vote of the other four committeemen. The fifth committeeman will be chairman of the committee, and make the awards to the successful contestants.

A tally will be kept by the editor of THE RECORD of the votes cast and the standing of each contestant will be published in each issue.

The prizes will be kept on exhibition at the jewelry stores; the diamond ring at Stewart's and the gold watch at Cook's.

Following is the form of ballot to be used:

"I cast votes for Miss
as the most popular young lady in the RECORD's Popularity Contest.
Signed"

Cold Grub

You may get plenty of exercise and at the same time your stomach and bowels will get out of fix. You wonder why—It's easy. You eat a cold meal in the middle of the day, wash it down with hot coffee or cold beer, finishing off with a lot of indigestible pastry and go back to work. If you will take a dose of every night, it will unload your stomach and bowels and you will soon be able to eat anything without suffering.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

W. E. Oswald, of Ottumwa, Ia., writes under date of April 1, 1901: "I will take this means to inform you of the benefits I have received from using your Syrup Pepsin. I have been troubled for three years with my stomach. In fact could hardly keep down anything I could eat, and had spent between $100 and $200 with doctors, without getting relief. One day I saw Syrup Pepsin advertised and as I had tried everything else, I gave Syrup Pepsin a trial, and after the first dose, I could eat without nauseous feeling. I have recommended Syrup Pepsin to a number of persons who used it with entire satisfaction. I will add that a friend stated he would have been willing six months ago to part with a 400 acre farm for the relief he has obtained."

CORTELYOU

Succeeds R. J. Wynne and Rest of Old Cabinet Retained.

When the business of the new administration was taken up, President Roosevelt sent a large number of nominations to the Senate including all of the members of the present cabinet except Postmaster General Wynne. George B. Cortelyou was nominated for that office.

The renomination of Secretary Shaw as secretary of the treasury recalls the fact that when he was first nominated it was with the understanding that he would not remain longer than March 4, just past. During the last campaign, President Roosevelt asked him, in case of his election to remain at the head of the treasury department and he then consented, with the condition that he should be permitted to retire in February, 1906, when he will have served a four year's term. Secretary Shaw has no intention of remaining longer than the date fixed upon.

The nominations include the names heretofore announced as ambassadors and Senator Cockrell as interstate commerce commissioner.

For the benefit of our readers and especially those who wish to keep posted in current history we give a list of the most important nominations, as follows:

Members of the cabinet—John Hay, District of Columbia, secretary of state; Leslie M. Shaw, Iowa, secretary of the treasury; William H. Taft, Ohio, secretary of war; William H. Moody, Massachusetts, attorney general; George B. Cortelyou, New York, postmaster general; Paul Morton, Illinois, secretary of the navy; Ethan A. Hitchcock, Missouri, secretary of the interior; James Wilson, Iowa, secretary of agriculture; Victor H. Metcalf, California, secretary of commerce and labor.

Ambassadors extraordinary and plenipotentiary—Whitelaw Reid, New York, to Great Britain; Robert S. McCormick, Illinois, to France; George N. L. Meyer, Massachusetts, to Russia; Edwin H. Conger, Iowa, to Mexico; Henry White, Rhode Island, to Italy.

Consul general—Robert J. Wynne, Pennsylvania, at London, England; Frank H. Mason, Ohio, at Paris, France; Alex A. Thackara, Pennsylvania, at Berlin, Germany; Hoffman Phillips, New York, at Tangier, Morocco; Thomas Sammons, Washington, at Niuchwang, China; Stanley Stoner, Missouri, Calcutta, India; Henry B. Miller, Oregon, at Yokohama, Japan; J. Linn Rodgers, Ohio, at Shanghai, China; George W. Roosevelt, Pennsylvania, at Brussels, Belgium.

The Senate in executive session confirmed the nomination of all members of the cabinet, of former Senator Cockrell, of Missouri, to be interstate commerce commissioner and of former Senator Quarles, of Wisconsin, to be United States judge for the eastern district of Wisconsin.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case they fail to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

"We Are from Port Arthur."

"See," said Pyrrhus to one of his generals, as they scanned the dead Romans on the battlefield of Tarentum, "these men have all their wounds in front. With such soldiers I could become master of the world." Rome was young in Pyrrhus' day. Its Marcellus, Scipio Africanus, Caesar and other conquerors were still in the future. The world was destined to hear something from Rome in the centuries following the defeat at Tarentum. The old king of Epirus himself saw Rome in a menacing shape more than once before he died. Even at his first meeting with Rome he was compelled to confess that "Another such victory would force me to return to Epirus alone."

The Japanese are treating the world as startling surprises these days as the Romans did a score of centuries ago. "Out of the way for us; we are from Port Arthur!" shouted Nogi's veterans in Russian as they advanced on Kuropatkin's lines in the fighting of the past few days. This war cry voices an elemental audacity and confidence which no peril can daunt. The havoc worked in the Japanese ranks by the Russian cannon and rifle fire is greeted with roars of laughter by the surviving Japanese. This laughter in the face of death is an expression of the wild joy that young and virile races feel in fighting. Men who laugh at death may have a good deal of the barbarian in them, but they are formidable enemies in war.

It will be well for the world to keep watch of these Romans of Asia. If their Scipios, Pompeys and Caesars are not yet in sight they may be nearer at hand than the world realizes. With Hannibal, the Carthaginian, at their gates the Roman populace auctioned the land on which his armies camped. They knew that time was fighting their battles, and that the gathering of their scattered forces would make them invincible. The elder Scipio of Africa overthrew Hannibal. A later Scipio took Carthage by storm, leveled it with the ground, ran a plowshare over its site and sowed salt in the furrows, to make the annihilation final. This was Rome's answer to Hannibal's invasion. Nemesis also marches with the Romans who are pushing the Russians across rivers and through mountain passes across Manchuria. "Out of the way for us; we are from Port Arthur!" This is Japan's answer in 1905 to the Russia of 1895 that forced the exhausted Japan to give up Port Arthur, which she had captured in the Chinese war. It is an announcement to the world that the flag which is up at Port Arthur in 1905 will stay up.—Globe Democrat.

Healing of the Man Born Blind

Sunday School Lesson for Mar. 19, 1905
Specially Prepared for This Paper.

LESSON TEXT—John 9:1-11. Memory verses 10, 11. Read all the Chapter. GOLDEN TEXT—"I AM THE Light of the world."—John 9:5.

TIME—The same as that of last lesson. The Feast of Tabernacles, October, A. D. 29. PLACE—Jerusalem, at the pool of Siloam.

SCRIPTURE REFERENCES—Other cases of the healing of the blind by Jesus are as follows: Matt. 9:27-31; Matt. 20:29-34, with parallel accounts in Mk. 10:46-52, and Luke 18:35-41; Mark 8:22-26; Matt. 12:22, 23. Instances of healing where means were used: Mark 7:32-34; 8:22-25; Matt. 8:14, 15; 9:27-29; 20:34; Luke 12:11-12; 22:51; Jas. 3:14. References to Jesus as the Light of the World: John 1:9; 8:12; 9:5; 12:35, 36; Luke 4:18, 21; Isa. 29:18; 35:5; 42:7; Eph. 5:14; Rev. 21:22. Comment and Suggestive Thought.

Pool of Siloam.—One of the few spots about Jerusalem that can be quite positively located. Called in early times, Siloah, Shiloah, or Siloam (Neh. 3:15; Isa. 8:6); it is still called by the neighboring Arabs Birket Silwan. It is found to the south of the temple mount, and receives much of its water from an intermittent spring in the Kidron valley, known as the Fountain of the Virgin. It is connected with this fountain by a rock-hewn tunnel, which it is believed was dug by King Hezekiah, just before the time of the Assyrian invasion, to bring its waters into the city (2 Chron. 32:4, 30). This tunnel is circuitous, being some 1,700 feet in length, while the distance to be traversed is only 1,200 feet. A rude inscription cut in the stone records that men began working at both ends and met in the middle. After the Jews' return from captivity, a stone arcade was built around it, roofed with large slabs of stone. This probably was still standing in Jesus' day. Healing properties, especially for cases of eye diseases, are attributed to its waters.

V. 1. "Passed by." Passed along the street in Jerusalem. "He saw." Not the careless look of a curious observer, but the compassionate look of one eager to help, was fixed upon the man.

V. 2. "Who did sin?" The disciples touch on a common Jewish belief that blindness or other affliction of the body was sent as punishment for sin.

V. 3. "Neither . . . nor parents." They had been guilty of no greater sins than others who were not thus afflicted. "Works of God . . . in him." His blindness was the occasion for showing forth God's glory by the miraculous healing.

V. 4. "L." Rev. Ver. "We." Christ calls us to be coworkers with him. "While it is day." We must do at once the duty that lies before us; we know not how quickly the opportunity for it will have passed. The healing of the blind man as one of the "works of God," showing forth His compassion and His divine power. Giving sight to the blind was one of those miracles which the Jews were led by prophecy to expect of the Messiah (Isa. 29:18; 35:5). "Night cometh." The night of death, which ends man's opportunity for labor on earth, soon comes to all. Never throughout eternity shall we have another opportunity than the present of suffering with Christ and enduring for Him (Jas. 1:12; 1 Pet. 4:13, 14).

V. 5. "As long as I am in the world." That day was not yet closed; Jesus did not leave this world when his body ascended to heaven (Matt. 28:20).

V. 6. "Spit on the ground." Jesus used spittle in working other miracles. Spit, and also clay, were reputed remedies for diseased eyes. Though Jesus could have wrought the cure by a word, he found it wise in this case to use simple means.

V. 7. "Wash in the pool." Wash off the clay into the pool. Jesus always gave those whom He healed something to do—perhaps it was only to express their need and ask His help, but it was something to deepen their confidence in Him.

V. 8. "Sat and begged." He was a well-known blind beggar, often seen in public places. "I am he." Many a flagrant sinner has been so transformed by meeting Jesus, that observers have questioned whether he could possibly be the same man. Every renewed soul feels himself "a new creature."

V. 9. "They." The neighbors and others who had collected. The first questioning was from natural curiosity.

V. 10. "A man . . . called Jesus." Better, "the man." This one already had some knowledge of Jesus, and took it for granted that his questioners also had such knowledge. "Made clay," etc. Here, as throughout the record, the restored man proves himself an intelligent witness. When the man named Jesus as his healer, and people recollected that this was the Sabbath day, some hastened to bring him to the Pharisees, who so jealously watched the movements of Jesus. These questioned the man, then questioned his parents. To their inquiry, he could only reply, "One thing I know, that whereas I was blind, now I see," and he reiterated his assurance that one who could work so divine a miracle could not be a sinner. This was regarded as equivalent to confessing that Jesus was the Christ, and they had passed resolutions to cast out of the synagogue any who made this confession. Accordingly the restored man was cast out.

Practical Points.

V. 1. Like Jesus, we should take heed to pass no opportunity for doing good. "Be instant in season, out of season."—2 Tim. 4:2.

V. 6. Divine power does not disdain the use of means; we also by works should prove the power of faith and love. "Learn to maintain good works for necessary uses."—Titus 3:14.

V. 7. Obedience is the test of love. "The doers of the law shall be justified."—Rom. 2:13.

V. 11. Let us never tire of telling how Jesus has opened our minds and hearts by His love.

Commercial Club.

Why can't the enterprising citizens of Smithland organize a commercial club to boom the town and try to secure some, at least of the many things that we need, among which could be mentioned a flour mill, a cannery, a steam laundry, an ice plant, water works, electric lights, and last but not least an electric car line from Paducah to Marion, via Smithland. The town will never grow and amount to anything unless we do something to make it grow. There should be something here to give people employment and to induce people to locate here. Dry goods, groceries and drugs are necessities and should be sold in all towns but they do not help to make a town grow. We want something for people to do. So let's have a Commercial Club and boom the town.—Livingston Democrat.

AS A WORKING TOOL

for the student and the writer, as an authoritative reference book for schools, teachers, families, business and professional men, there is one book which offers superior advantages in the solid value of its information, and the ease with which it is obtained.

One's admiration for Webster's International Dictionary increases daily as it comes to be better known. It never refuses the information sought and it never overwhelms one with a mass of misinformation illogically arranged.

The St. James Gazette of London, England, says: For the teacher, the pupil, the student and the literature, there is nothing better: it covers everything.

This and That

BY GOOSEQUILL.

When Anarchy scores a point Government receives a stab.

An education is a useless appendage unless it helps to better fight the battles of life.

Time is to work in, eternity to rest in; but what will the fellow do who puts in his resting here.

Samuel Smiles says: "Laziness is the universal disease."

"Economy may be styled the daughter of Prudence, the sister of Temperance and the mother of Liberty."

One of the prime prerequisites of success in life is to never lose heart.

Some people lose heart in the "spring poetry stage," but that stage does not last always.

Take away the s and smiles will go miles; add s to words and you have swords, and both subserve the idea. Smiles will go miles; try it. Words can be changed to swords; don't try it.

He is like an abandoned mining shaft who has an education that is of no use to him.

He spent a farm to obtain an education. Having obtained an education he bought a farm and farmed the farm the remainder of his life. Success or failure?

An idea is a brain blaze that the winds of adversity cannot fan out. The man is not the idea, nor is the idea the man. But oftentimes the one is the cord that fastens the other to fame.

A strong health and healthy strength, with no kink in the one nor warp in the other, make the ideal citizen.

A sharp line should be drawn between the spendthrift and the miser. Be neither the one nor the other. But feed the soul on that more wholesome economy which wisely earns and prudently spends, thus erecting a barrier to keep independence in and improvidence out.

Success does not come by reading about it in books, but a face-about of the real things of life. There's much in the old Latin proverb, "Labor conquers all things."

To reform one must meet things as they are, not as we wish them to be. Dream, but awake and polish the dream with activity until it gleams.

"Upward thy tendency, motion thy rest," is the way the poet, Lowell, sings of the fountain, and unintentionally perhaps, he touched a vital principle of human life. Not in simply doing nothing, but a change in doing something, is rest.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The amount of deposits in the savings banks of the United States in the year 1903 was $2,935,204,315 and the individual depositors number 7,365,228. Fifty per cent. of this amount was deposited by those who work for a living—the wage-earners. This not only marks a distinct era of prosperity, but frugality as well.

It is now almost a foregone conclusion that the Presbyterian and Cumberland Presbyterian churches will reunite after a period of separation of 95 years. The agitation, if it teaches anything, shows that preachers, as well as other people, can say hard things. More's the pity since they "point to other worlds and lead the way." In the last named church the vote of the presbyteries up to last week was 39 for and 34 against re-union.

Hoss Poetry.

To tell the age of a horse,
Inspect the lower jaw, of course;
The sixth front tooth the tale will tell
And every doubt and fear dispel.

Two middle "nippers" you behold
Before the colt is two weeks old.
Before eight weeks two more will come;

Before eight months the "corners" cut the gum.

The outside grooves will disappear
From middle two in just one year.

In two years, from the second pair,
In three the corners too, are bare.

At two the middle "nippers" drop;
At three, the second pair can't stop.

When four years old the third pair goes;

At five, a full new set he shows.

The deep black spots will pass from view

At six years from the middle two.

The second pair at seven years;

At eight, the spot each "corner" clears.

From middle "nippers," upper jaw,

At nine, the black spots will withdraw.

The second pair at ten are white;

Eleven finds the "corners" light.

As time goes on the horsemen know
The oval teeth, three-sided grow;
They longer get, project before,
Till twenty, then we know no more.

We are selling bran for 85c per hundred pounds cash.

We have just received a car load of American Field Fence. Everybody says that this is the best fence on the market, and we believe it. If it was not the best we would quit selling it. All who have purchased fence of us, come at once before it is all gone as prices are advancing and will come higher.
