CROWDED HOUSE

Heard Ollie M. James' Speech on the Tobacco Question at Cadiz.

No man who was in Cadiz last Monday can doubt the popularity of the very high esteem in which our able Young Congressman Ollie M. James, is held by the people of Trigg county, regardless of political affiliations.

He had a few weeks before accepted an invitation from the tobacco organization of the county to be here and deliver an address on the tobacco situation, and the crowd that greeted him was one of the largest seen in Cadiz on a county court day this year. He began speaking a few minutes after one o'clock and every available space in the house was occupied the seats all being filled and the aisles crowded with those who could only obtain standing room.

Mr. James spoke for forty minutes and what he said showed conclusively that he had given the question much thought, and his suggestions to the tobacco growers were for the interest and benefit. He did not abuse those who had failed to join the organization, but insisted that they had no right to stay out and then reap the reward of advanced prices that had been brought about by the means of the organization. He appealed to every grower of tobacco to stand together, and as their cause was a common cause, and if one was benefitted, the reward was sure to come to all. He spoke of the fight that he and his colleagues had made in Congress to have the six cents tax removed from the manufactured article, and spoke confidently that he earnestly believed that they would be successful at the next session.

Throughout he was given the closest attention, and was heartily applauded for the many telling points he made for the interest of the farmers and why they should organize for their own good and protection.

After Mr. James closed his speech Mr. Wash, the chairman, invited Dr. Lackey to make a short talk. Dr. Lackey said that he was glad that he had the privilege of hearing Mr. James' magnificent speech; that he had heard many able talks by members of the association, but that no one had made as strong and convincing speech as our brave, brainy Congressman, and that he was sure that every one had been greatly entertained. He also spoke of Mr. James' service in Congress, and that it had been hinted that he would be a candidate for Governor of Kentucky, and if he did make the race, he was sure Trigg county would give him a big vote. He then called upon the big crowd to join him in a vote of thanks to Mr. James with an invitation to come to see us again, to which every one in the great crowd, without regard to color or politics, joined by a rising vote. —Cadiz Record.

Jail Delivery at Smithland.

Paducah, May 12.—A jail delivery at Smithland, Livingston county, last night resulted in three of the four prisoners escaping, all three being alleged murderers. They sawed out two bars. A negro named Clemmons, charged with hog stealing who refused to go, notified the jailer at 4 p. m. He said they had been out about an hour. The men who escaped are: Jim Wells, white, charged with killing John Hockenberry and throwing his body into the Cumberland river a few weeks ago; James Cowan, white, who shot and killed Warren Woodward, and was captured two weeks ago at Reel Foot Lake, Tenn., after having been at large two years, and Will Proctor, colored, who is said to have knocked a "rouster" on the Evansville packet named Young into the river and causing him to drown. Proctor at a recent term of court was given twenty-one years, but got a new trial.

Trustees Kindly Remembered.

The beautiful memorial tablet of white marble which was presented by the teachers and scholars to the trustees, present and past, of the Marion Graded School, has arrived and will be installed in the auditorium of the new building as soon as possible. It is a fitting tribute to the work of these men who have devoted so much time to this school. Not every man is willing to do it and those who are willing, sometimes are not capable, but in the case of Marion Graded School, the trustees from start to finish, have been both capable and willing. The inscription carved on the marble read as follows:

To the Trustees and Taxpayers of Marion Graded School District.
R. C. Walker, chairman 1894 to 1904.
W. B. Yandell, chairman and trustee, 1894 to 1904.

H. A. Haynes, secretary and treasurer from 1894 to
J. W. Blue, from 1894 to
J. N. Clark, 1894 to 1904.
J. M. Freeman, 1894 to 1904.
Ed Flannery, 1904 to
A. C. Moore, 1904 to
T. H. Cochran, 1904 to
To these and those they represent, who have built so well for us, we out of gratitude and love, raise this tablet in token of our appreciation and gratefulness.

TEACHERS AND PUPILS,
Marion Graded School.

Nunn---Tucker.

An engagement, which will prove interesting throughout the State is that of Miss Nar Nell Nunn of Frankfort, formerly of Madisonville, and Mr. William Oliver Tucker, of Marion.

The date for the wedding has been set for Wednesday, June 7, and will be solemnized at high noon at the home of the bride in Frankfort.

Miss Nunn is the daughter of Judge T. J. Nunn of the Court of Appeals, and is one of the most charming young ladies in Frankfort.

Mr. Tucker is a prominent young business man of Marion. —Sunday's Courier-Journal.

The high contracting parties to the above notable event are well known favorites in the social circles of Marion, and a union in every way so appropriate, and so fraught with bright hopes of future happiness and prosperity can not but be gratifying to their hosts of friends in this community. The Press extends sincere congratulations.

Third District Convention.

Eddyville, May 12.—The Democratic District Committee of the Third senatorial district, composed of the counties of Calloway, Trigg, Lyon and Livingston, met here today to fix the time and manner of selecting a Democratic candidate for State Senator to succeed Hon. J. W. Gilbert, deceased. After a discussion, county mass conventions were ordered in each county for June 3, to select delegates to a district convention to be held at Eddyville on June 7th. The announced candidates are Conn Linn, of Calloway, and Felix K. Grasty, of Trigg. There is also a probability that W. I. Clarke, of Livingston, will enter the race.

Frances Mining Notes.

Operations have been suspended at the big Tabb mine for 60 days, until the new pump arrives. Supt. Reed had three 3-inch pumps pumping at one time and could do nothing with the water. They could not run the big 700 gallon valve barrel because of some old ladders in the shaft. The company, so have been informed, has ordered a twenty-seven hundred dollar pump for that mine.

On the George Parrish place, W. A. Oliver has opened up a 17 foot vein of very fine No. 1 gravel spar. This is one of the best, if not the best strike that has been made this year. This shaft is owned by Evansville parties, the company being composed of Messrs Curry & Ogden, of Evansville, and W. A. Oliver of this place.

The "Matthews" is now producing about 20 tons of gravel spar per day.

Over at the "Pogue" Supt. Fred Clement is rushing things along and producing about 50 tons of spar every 24 hours.

The "Tabor" is proving to be one of the best paying propositions in the district. About 20 tons of spar and lead per day is being hoisted at this mine.

Ten tons daily is the average output at the Wheatcroft. O. M. R.

BISHOP WOODCOCK,

The New Bishop of Kentucky to Visit Marion May 24th.

The Rt. Rev. Charles Edward Woodcock, Bishop of the diocese of Kentucky, will visit Marion Wednesday, May 24th, and will deliver a discourse at the Cumberland Presbyterian church at 7:30 in the evening. It is to be hoped that the people, irrespective of denominational lines, will go to hear him.

Bishop Woodcock will be entertained while in the city by Mr. Horace Hendel Sayre.

Of his visit to Hopkinsville the Kentuckian says:

"All who met him gained an indelible impression of his strength and sweetness of character, magnetic personality and fine intellectuality, and those who were fortunate enough to hear him preach were charmed with his genuine power of pulpit utterance.

He speaks with a delightful fluency and his style is epigrammatic and forceful. His discourses Sunday were not tissues of thin spun theological dogmas, but inspiring appeals for right living and unwavering allegiance to the cause of Christ. That he is a man of large abilities and liberal learning, earnest sincerity and sound common sense, and that his ministry in his high office will have a salutary influence and profoundly touch the life of his diocese is not to be doubted. The mantle of Bishop Dudley could not have fallen on worthier shoulders. And Dr. Woodcock is splendidly fitted in every way to carry on and add to the beloved prelate's good work.

The congregations that heard Bishop Woodcock's sermons at Grace church tested their seating capacity and more attentive or appreciative audiences never assembled in the auditorium. The services were beautiful and impressive and the singing was unusually sweet and delightful. The Bishop's morning discourse had as the text Ephesians V:14: "Christ Shall Give Thee Light," and the translation of the Christ light into a career and a ministry was the theme. It was a powerful plea for noble, useful lives, and an exhortation of triflers and slanderers and of meanness and selfishness.

At night Bishop Woodcock's sermon was on love, being an elaboration of the idea that we are not here to get but to give, and that the only man who is fulfilling his mission is the one that contributes as much as he is able to making the world better and happier.

At the conclusion of his discourse the rites of confirmation was administered to a class of five.

Saturday a reception was tendered Bishop Woodcock at Hotel Latham by the members of the church and a large number of persons were present, and it was a thoroughly enjoyable affair.

The Rt. Rev. Dr. Woodcock was born in New Britain, Conn., about fifty years ago. He received his ecclesiastical education in Berkeley Divinity school at Middletown, Conn. and in 1884 was made assistant in Grace church, Baltimore, which position he held for four years. He then became rector of Ascension church, Ansonia, Conn. There he remained for twelve years. About five years ago he became rector of St. John's church, in Detroit. This is the largest Episcopal church from New York to the Pacific coast, and has a membership of about fifteen hundred.

He is a man of striking personal appearance, with a strong, attractive face. His visits to Hopkinsville will always be looked forward to as events of marked interest and already he has won the love and admiration of all with whom he has come in contact.

Marion Graded School.

Marion Graded School, which has just closed its 11th years' work, has a record not to be ashamed of. The school opened Jan. 21st, 1895, with 267 pupils, and turned out 26 common school graduates the first year. The first corps of teachers was composed of the following:

Charles Evans, Principal.
S. W. Adams, 1st Asst. and teacher of 8th grade.

Walter Blackburn, teacher of 7th grade.

Miss Mattie Kevil, teacher of 6th and 5th grades.

Miss Maggie Moore, teacher of 4th and 3d grades.

Miss Alice Browning, teacher of 2d grade.

Miss Lina Clement, teacher of 1st grade.

The first session had enrolled 40 non-resident pupils.

How the school has grown and thrived every citizen of the vicinity knows full well.

Last year there was enrolled 492 pupils, of which 119 were non-resident.

Each year as many as fifteen families have moved to Marion to educate their children, and during the 11 years no less than 405 common school students have graduated from this school, representing 8 counties and 4 States.

No school in the State has equaled this record.

There has been 74 high school graduates and not a class without a non-resident graduate.

Who will keep up the pace set by the old leader, who now goes to a new field.

Farmers Met in Salem.

The Farmers Club of Livingston county meets Thursday at Salem and has invited Crittenden county farmers to join them in getting up a fair for the benefit of both counties and all the contiguous territory. This is an enterprise of greatest moment to the two counties and the Press opens its columns to give it publicity and encouragement. Every farmer within fifteen miles of Salem, in fact, every one in either of the counties or in Caldwell and Lyon near the line, should put his shoulder to the wheel and lend his influence or his money, if need be, to put this commendable enterprise on foot. A county fair in a rich agricultural section like the Salem Valley, is an assured success and will be of vast assistance to the yeomanry in improving the status of their live stock and crops. Nothing cements communities together like an old fashioned county fair. It brings the people together enabling them to exchange ideas, become better acquainted and in a community of high moral, educational and religious standing, everyone is sure to be benefited, therefore let's have the fair by all means.

Frisco Surveyors.

Last week the chief engineer of the Frisco Railway system, with his corps of surveyors, were in Princeton and vicinity looking over the country in regard to the Joppa or direct St. Louis line extensions of the Tennessee Central, recently purchased by them. Its natural and cheapest route would be through here and they will not miss Princeton many miles, although other towns may offer big enough inducements to divert it their way. As we have said before, it seems to us that the Commercial Club should be up and doing. —Princeton Chronicle.

Critical Condition.

The Japanese nation is greatly inflamed over France's failure to respect the neutrality laws of nations between combatants. It is charged that the Russian fleet has taken on supplies of both coal and provisions in French waters, and the threat is made that French seaports may be fired on in retaliation.

The effect of this move on the part of the Japanese would be far reaching and tremendous. France would, throwing off all disguises range herself with Russia, England would instantly line up with Japan, with whom she already has an offensive and defensive treaty. Germany would take the part of France and Russia, and there is a strong probability that this country would be drawn into the world's war which would inevitably follow.

At no time since the opening of hostilities between Russia and Japan has the peace of civilization been so critical and dangerous as now. —Jim Richardson in Glasgow Times.

COMMENCEMENT

Of Marion Graded School Has Come and Gone For the Eleventh Time.

The 11th annual commencement was held in the opera house, May 11, 12 and 13. Each service was attended by a large audience which was highly entertained by the delightful programme.

Thursday was an evening with Whittier, in which some of his best poems and essays were recited by some of the brightest pupils of the common school. Pantomimes and music made the essays more effective and enjoyable.

Friday evening which was the last evening of the common school programme, gave the audience a glimpse of Tennyson, in which Enoch Arden was displayed in pantomimes and essays. Each and every one did their part with grace and skill. The essays were well delivered and at the close of the evening a medal was given to Miss Fenwick Wathen by Dr. R. J. Morris for the best interpretation of his lectures and standing the best examination on the subject of the teeth, on which he had given them four lectures.

Saturday evening was an evening with Burns and his Cotter's Saturday Night. The High School Club which is composed of fourteen, quoted Burns in essays and poems and assisted by a very fine orchestra made the evening very entertaining. Miss Mildred Haynes being the honored member, made a very effective speech at the close of the evening.

The music was enjoyed by every one, being furnished by one of the finest orchestras that has ever been in Marion. The graduates received beautiful bouquets and other presents, showing the love and esteem of their friends, which of course, added to their pride and pleasure of the occasion.

Bridge Washed Out.

The Mayfield Mirror says: "Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miller and daughter arrived Saturday afternoon from Golden Pond to visit Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bennett, parents of Mrs. Miller, who resides four miles south of Mayfield.

Of their narrow escape from drowning the Mirror further says: "Walter Miller and wife in attempting to cross the creek a mile South of Mayfield Saturday afternoon came near losing their lives on account of the high water having swept away the bridge. Not being familiar with the crossing they drove their buggy into deep water, and but for the timely help of Mr. Cul. Futrell and others a disaster might have occurred. —Cadiz Record.

Livingston County Notes.

Mr. Julius Fohs, director of the Geological survey in this section has been having quite a great deal of work done around here. The survey in this county will require several months to complete, and no doubt will lead to the development of paying mineral properties. According to the best geological indications, there is valuable beds of coal, lead, zinc, and other minerals in this section, and in a few years Livingston county will be known abroad as a great field of mineral wealth.

Capt. R. Y. Northern moved his household goods to his farm near the Berry ferry, last week, and will reside there with his son, Mr. Ernest Northern, most of the time. D. E. R. Goodloe occupies the house on Wilson Avenue from whence Capt. Northern moved.

Hon. H. V. McChesney, Secretary of State, was here Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. McChesney and her little daughter, Anna Elizabeth, who have been visiting several days, will remain several weeks. Mr. McChesney returning Sunday. —Smithland Banner.

A New Railroad.

A new railroad company has been legally organized at Morganfield, Ky. with headquarters in that city. The object of the company is to construct a railroad, to be called "The Morganfield and Atlanta Railroad," with initial and terminal points presumably at Morganfield and Providence, Ky.

The officers of the company are T. B. Young, President; A. W. Mason, Vice-President; J. K. Waller, Secretary and W. W. Olney, chief engineer.

Of the survey now in progress the Morganfield Sun says:

Chief Engineer Olney and his party of surveyors and assistants are still hard at work on the survey being made for the Morganfield and Atlanta railroad. They expected to go into Providence last Saturday, but were prevented by the heavy rain. They are about one half mile beyond Clay, when they were compelled to stop on account of the water.

They returned to Clay Tuesday and took up the work at that point Wednesday morning and have no doubt got into Providence before this time. A survey was made of Clay and a partial survey of Morganfield has been made.

It is understood they will survey back from Providence, running a route through Wheatcroft. It now seems pretty well settled that the road will run from Morganfield to Providence, though the promoters have not given out any information to that effect. Already several routes leading out of Morganfield have been surveyed, and it is probable another going by Boxville will be made. The exact route even if the road runs into Providence, to be finally accepted is yet, therefore, a matter of uncertainty.

Land of Twins and Triplets.

Scotland is the land of twins and triplets, holding a long lead over her sister countries in this respect. In twelve months no fewer than 1,625 mothers gave birth to twins and 25 presented triplets. Scotland is among the few countries of Europe where the proportion of male babies is greater than the female. Striking an average it is found that there are about 104 males to every 100 females, but the surplus of grown up girls is nevertheless large, as so many men travel south and apparently neglect to take the precaution to obtain return tickets to the Land of Cakes. There is yet another interesting fact about Scotland. It is the land of hale old age. Recent returns show that during one year 673 people died between the ages of ninety and one hundred. —Chicago Journal.

Is Our Government Just to Its Women?

BY HON. LOUIS MCKINSTRY.

I defy any man who prizes his right to vote to give any good reason why the average, intelligent, conscientious, law-abiding and tax-paying woman has not the same equitable right to a voice in the government that he insists upon having. There is not one of the tenets of our theory of government which justifies man's claim to recording at the polls his will as a freeman, which does not guarantee in theory the right of every free woman to record her will at the polls.

I once saw a dozen ladies undertake to exercise what they had been advised was their right. The inspectors, refused to receive their votes and the ladies quietly turned away. While the discussion was going on, an old pauper stood by, intently interested in the proceedings. His large family had been a charge upon the town for years. These very women had given of their time and money to preserve that family from cold and starvation; had paid taxes year after year to enable the postmaster to honor the drafts of the old pauper to keep him alive through the winter. And yet as those ladies turned sadly away with their ballots still in their hands, the face of the besotted old brute was wreathed in smiles. He had been declared their superior before the law. All their knowledge, their piety, their philanthropy, their ardent patriotism, went for naught in the scale, when weighed against the attribute that he was a male. No depth of mental, moral or physical degradation could disfranchise him. No height of learning, refinement, loving service to humanity or peril for their country, could by any possibility enfranchise them. And when I saw that old wretch laugh and realize the outrageous injustice of the law, I decided that while I had a voice and a vote, they should be given at every opportunity to terminate that wrong.

He Never Blamed the Booze.

He took a bottle up to bed,
Drank whisky hot each night;
Drank cocktails in the morning,
But never could get tight.
He shivered in the evening,
And always had the blues
Until he took a bowl or two--
But he never blamed the booze.

His joints were full of rheumatiz;
His appetite was slack;
He had pains between his shoulders;
Chills ran down his back.
He suffered with insomnia;
At night he couldn't snooze,
He said it was the climate--
But he never blamed the booze.

His constitution was run down
It was overwork, he said;
His legs were swelled each morning,
And he often had swelled head.
He tackled beer, wine, whisky
And if they didn't fuse
He blamed it on dyspepsia--
But he never blamed the booze.

He claimed he hardly slept at night,
And always had bad dreams;
He claimed he often lay awake
Till early sunrise beams.
He thought it was malaria--
Alas! 'twas but a ruse.
He blamed it on most everything--
But he never blamed the booze.

His liver needed scraping,
And his kidneys had the gout;
He swallowed lots of bitters,
Till at last he cleaned them out.
His legs were swelled with dropsy,
Till he had to cut his shoes;
He blamed it on the doctor--
But he never blamed the booze.

Then he had the tremens,
And he tackled tats and snakes;
First he had the fever,
Then he had the snakes.
At last he had a funeral,
And to give him his just dues,
The epitaph carved far him was--
"He never blamed the booze."

Japan Will Win.

New York, May 10.--The Russian and Japanese fleets will meet in a few days. Japan will win. The slaughter of men in that battle will be so great as to startle the civilized world. The only redeeming feature of the fight will be the fact that there will be no more wars for years.

"Japan's defeat, however, would not mean England's defeat, as many suppose. Japan was forced into this war and has something more than the grabbing of territory to fight for."

Vice Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, of the British navy, made the above statement: today just before his departure for Liverpool in the steamer Oceanic.

Questioned as to the alleged breach of international law on the part of France the Admiral said he did not think that France was anxious to violate recognized usages and customs. While she may have been very close to a violation, he said she would be able to clear herself when the time came.

"The reason I think that Japan will win in the coming fight is that she is the greater gunner of the two. There is nothing in numerical strength.

The secret of success in a naval battle lies in placing one's ships to advantage and letting the gunners do the rest. Japan will win the fight by getting the superior position and firing the greater number of telling shots, even though Russia has the greatest number of ships.

"We are not likely to have any great war in many years after this. England and America hold the secret of peace. If these two nations should mass their fleets no other country or group of countries would dare fight them.

"England and America must come together on that question.

"I am going home now to take command on June 4 for three years in the Mediterranean squadron, the biggest collection of warships assembled under the English flag. My flagship is to be the Bulwark. They will all be modern ships."

Planted Eleven Acres.

H. C. Rice, of Kelsey, is probably the first Caldwell county farmer to plant tobacco this year. On May 4th, he planted six acres and yesterday he planted five more, making eleven acres already planted. The plants used on May 4th, were large and tough and on going over the ground Wednesday for the purpose of replanting, Mr. Rice found a good stand, which was very gratifying. Mr. Rice is one of the many Caldwell county farmers, who have entered the agreement of the Dark District Tobacco Growers Association to reduce the acreage, and although he has over three hundred acres of cleared land, he will not plant but about fifteen acres.--Princeton Leader.

DESTRUCTION!

Tornado Sweeps Through Oklahoma, Leaving Death and Ruin in its Track.

Sapulpa, I. T., May 11.—At 10:40 Wednesday night the dispatcher for the Frisco in this city received a report from Enid, O. T., advising him that a tornado had struck Snyder, O. T., wrecking the town and killing five hundred people. A request for assistance also came.

The dispatcher ordered a relief train with physicians sent from Chickasha, I. T., and Quannah, Tex.

The wires between Sapulpa and Snyder went down at ten o'clock tonight.

Guthrie, Okla., May 11.—The first news of the disaster was received at Hobart, Oklahoma, by telephone giving the statement that a tornado had struck the town.

It is now impossible to reach Lawson, the nearest telephone exchange to Snyder.

Guthrie, O. T., May 11.—At 1 o'clock it was known that close to 100 persons had lost their lives at Snyder. The injured as far as known now will number perhaps one hundred.

The storm was of the regular twister variety and swooped down on Snyder without any warning. It came from the Southeast. It cut a swathe a mile wide destroying everything in its path for a distance of ten miles southwest and three miles northeast of Snyder.

A Good Suggestion.

Mr. C. B. Wainwright, of Lemon City, Fla., has written the manufacturers that much better results are obtained from the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in cases of pain in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus by taking it in water as hot as can be drunk. That when taken in this way the effect is double in rapidity. "It seems to get at the right spot instantly," he says. For sale by Woods & Orme, druggists.

Wanted---Boys

Boys wanted at once of any age or breed, to fill important positions. They must have clean hearts, clean habits and a clean face. They need not know how to roll cigarettes, and if not up to date on the smutty jokes of the pool room their ignorance will be overlooked. They must be boys who get up cheerfully in the morning and build the fires, and can lay down a book occasionally to do an errand; who treat mother and sister and every other boy's mother and sister with respect, and who do not refer to father as the "old man."

It is not absolutely essential that they be brilliant at school, but they must be studious and ever persevering, never cheating. Their employer's interests must be made their interest. They must never be afraid of earning more than the wages they receive.

Merchants want them to sweep out the store for a few years and ultimately to take charge of it; newspapers want them to commence with the crowd at the bottom and work to the roomy places at the top. In fact, they are wanted everywhere—in the law room, in the counting room, to run great public works. The public wants them for judges in the courts, for senators and presidents, and the nicest girls in all the world want them for their husbands.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Very Best.

"I have been using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and want to say it is the best cough medicine I have ever taken," says Geo. L. Chubb, a merchant of Harlan, Mich. There is no question about its being the best, as it will cure a cough or cold in less time than any other treatment. It should always be kept in the house ready for instant use, for a cold can be cured in much less time when promptly treated. For sale by Woods & Orme, druggists.

What is Religion?

In stating that "my religion begins where your religion ends—in service to mankind," permit me to explain. Religion, in my view, is not a matter of interest chiefly for the serious moments of life; it is not to be reserved, in the main, for such grave occasions as marriages or the birth of children or great disasters or for the approach of death. It is the whole atmosphere of life; it is the foundation of character. It is not a gush of feeling or a sudden outburst of enthusiasm. It should be a still, steady glow. I cannot imagine any topic of human inquiry in which there is such an intense need of perfect freedom from self-conceit and from confusion of mind. We all need a perfectly clear conception of what a religious man is. Earlier generations have entertained strange conceptions of what is to be religious. A ceremony, an observance, worship of a sacred book, a beloved ritual, or a sacrament, or all these together, will never make any person truly religious. Those who are to the maintenance of religion. They are not religion, and never can be. And, indeed, when we come to the bottom of the matter, there is only one test that is just and true concerning the religion of a human being. I believe that religion is love to God and love to man. Now the test of the religious quality of a human being is really this: does he love man? If he loves man truly, he cannot help loving God; and there is no way of telling whether he loves God except by seeing whether or not he loves man. We should remember this in our daily lives, and in our judgment of our fellows:

Abou Ben Adhem put this matter just right, when the angel told him that his name was not written in the book of those who loved the Lord.

Abou spoke more low, But cheerily still, and said, "I pray thee, then,

Write me as one who loves his fellowmen."

The angel wrote, and vanished; the next night

He came again, with a great awakening light,

And showed their names whom love of God had blest.

And, lo! Ben Adhem's name led all the rest.

Life is eternally pouring itself into new channels, and religion must follow where it leads Hayfed Hogs.

Luther Hamilton bought of Harry and Hub Scrivener a lot of hayfed hogs, averaging about 120 pounds, for five cents. The Scrivener brothers were the first to experiment with hay as a food for hogs. By mixing in a few ears of corn with a bunch or two of hay, a combination or hash is made, which the hogs enjoy and fatten upon. Owing to the practice of this method the hogs sold to Mr. Hamilton were brought into marketable condition in a shorter time and at less expense than under the old system of feeding corn straight would have required. The important discovery to which the public is indebted solely to the Messrs. Scrivener, is destined to work a great revolution in the hog industry.—Winchester Democrat.

ROSCOE ROCHESTER.

Sunday School Teachers' Training Class.

After the prayer Jesus offered for his disciples in the last lesson, they went from the quietness and sacredness of the supper room, across the brook Cedron into the shades of Mt. Olivet. There, in the silent shades of Gethsemane, Christ endured that agony of soul in silent prayer that drew his body with blood. At the close of this sad scene, the mob came to arrest him. Betrayed by the kiss of his professed friend, deserted by those who had sworn lasting fealty to him, he was led away by ruthless hands to the high priest Annas, where he underwent a preliminary examination, after which Annas sent him bound to Caiaphas, the acting high priest. Here an informal meeting of the Sanhedrin really condemned him. During the proceedings of his trial, occurred Peter's bitter denial. After his condemnations, he was subjected to the greatest abuse, as the Sanhedrin could not legally condemn him at a night session, they met early the next morning, Luke 22:66-71, and pronounced the formal sentence of condemnation against him. He was then led before Pilate, and thus we come to the present lesson. While John's gospel closely connects vs. 38 and 39 of this lesson, there is a hiatus in which the trial before Herod occurred as recorded in the other gospels.

OUTLINE OF LESSON.

- They take Christ before Pilate, v. 28.
- 1 They did not enter, v. 28.
- 2 Pilate went out to them, v. 29.
- a Demanded the accusation, v. 29.
- b Their evasion, v. 30.
- c Remanded Christ back to them, v. 31.
- d Confessions of their subjugation, v. 31.
- Thus fulfilling prophecy, v. 32.
- III. Pilate's private investigation.
- 1 Pilate's first question, v. 33.
- 2 Christ replies by a question, v. 34.
- 3 Pilate's second question--demands what Christ has done, v. 35.
- 4 Christ's reply, giving the nature of his kingdom, v. 36.
- 5 Pilate's third question, v. 37.
- 6 Christ's reply--he is a king, v. 37.
- 7 Pilate's fourth question, v. 38.
- IV. Pilate's confession him innocent.
- 1 Pilate's effort to release him.
- 1 They demand the release of Barabbas.

LIVING THE LESSON.

- 1 The Jews were very fearful of defiling themselves outwardly, while within they were full of deceit, murder and all impurity. I will try to pay more attention to the cleansing of the inner man than the outward man. 1 John 1:17; 2 Cor. 7:1.
- 2 Pilate knew more truth than he lived. Do I live and obey the truth I know?
- 3 Pilate found no fault in Christ, yet he condemned him to be crucified. Will I let interest or favor or prejudice swerve conscience and cause me to act in such an inconsistent way?

TOPICS FOR STUDY.

- 1 The office of High Priest.
- 2 The real High Priest.
- 3 The ruling High Priest.
- 4 Changes in the High Priesthood and why made.

Somebody Told.

'Twas a secret, he said. If I opened my head, If I breathed what he whispered to me, It was easy to guess there would be a bad mess And the consequences none could foresee. No one else he could tell for he knew very well I was close, while most others he'd doubt; So it seems very queer that you've happened to hear I can't think how that secret got out. I confided in Jones, there's no one but owns That old Jones will keep perfectly mum, For a man more discreet you're not likely to meet. Not an oyster was ever more dumb And Smith heard it as well, but he swore he'd not tell And that Brown would not bruit it about, I was perfectly sure as I felt quite secure I can't think how that secret got out. It is really too bad and my friend will be mad, When he finds it all over the town, But that Jones said a word is entirely absurd, And I'm sure that it couldn't be Brown. And for Smith I'd go bail, he'd not carry a tale And my sense of my duty's devout, It is certainly queer by my conscience is clear, I can't think how the secret got out. --Chicago News.

A Smart Elephant.

Hartford City, Ind., May 20.--Since the wreck of a train with the Gollman Bros. Circus at Kempton, Ind., a few days ago, one of their large elephants refuses to board or alight from her car. It requires a block and tackle to get her aboard and the same means to get her to alight. Once in the car she immediately butts her head through the car, so that she can see what is going on.

At the station here this morning the animal noticed the water spout extending from the water tank and crapped her trunk around it and pulled it off, almost pulling the big tank over. The elephant is the mother of a cub two weeks old, and her curious actions since the wreck have been remarkable, which are attributed to the awe and fear for the safety of her child.

Postal Card Dun Lawful.

Judge Taylor, of the United States District court of Cleveland, Ohio, has established a precedent in the manner of treating postal communications. Attorney Fritz Rudin, of Elyra, had written a client on a postal card, and had asked him for the payment of a debt, said to have been owing for legal services. The card was directed to J. D. Gown, who turned it over to the Federal authorities. Rudin was arrested for sending a threatening and defamatory communication through the mail. Through his attorney, Judge W. W. Bynton, he demurred to the indictment and the court sustained the demurrer. The court held that a request for the payment of a debt, if properly worded and in a respectful tone, should be admitted to the mails.

CAVE-IN-ROCK.

J. L. Lowry, a merchant of our town, went out and bought forty acres of land near Lead Hill, which was worth thirty cents, more or less, paying $1,000 therefor. Last week he began prospecting on the place and at depth of six feet uncovered a vein of very fine lead ore. The hills in that locality seem to be mountains of lead. Mr. Lowry has already refused an offer of $2,000 for his prospect.

J. A. Oxford, our assessor and county treasurer, is in Evansville having a large tumor removed from his knee. It was removed in May, 1904, but has returned. Serious fears are entertained that he will lose the limb.

In an altercation between Chas. Beavers and Richard McDowell Sunday evening at church in the country, both were bruised up with clubs and McDowell's father interfered to stop the fight and was shot in the arm by Beavers. None of the injuries are thought to be serious. It was an old grudge. All honor to the great benefactor, whisky. This is one fight in which, it is said, he was not concerned. All the parties were sober. The same cannot be said of two other recent disturbances in town.

NEW SALEM.

This section was visited by one of the worst electrical storms in years Saturday night. It looked for a few minutes like everything would be blown away. Every one that had cellars or storm houses took to them for safety.

The prospects for the farmer have not been more gloomy for years; first there is not more than 10 per cent. of a wheat crop in this part of the county and in quality it is not over 35 per cent. of a crop and should the rains continue a week longer there will not be an acre to harvest.

There is not over fifty per cent. of a corn crop planted and the question now is, when will the remainder be planted.

Mr. Ladd, who is running the Croson farm this year, is the first to set tobacco.

The farmers are complaining that the tobacco plants are running forward of transplanting, but owing to the rains it is impossible to prepare the ground.

Bro. Lowry, of Livingston county, passed through this section last week.

Dave Woolford has started a goat ranch on his farm near New Salem church.

Bro. Oakley will preach at New Salem the 4th Sunday in this month, at 3 p. m. The sacrament of the Lord's supper will be partaken of at that time.

Berry Davidson and wife, of Livingston county, were guests of J. H. Brouster's family last week.

James Hall has the contract to build J. S. Lowery's storm house. Jim says it will be a honey when it is completed.

The farmers look blue.

One thing we can brag on, and that is the pastures. They were never any finer.

Mr. Baker and family visited Mrs. Baker's father at Mexico, this county, last week.

Preaching at Tyners Chapel every 4th Sunday at 11 a. m.

Bro. E. M. Eaton of Mullican passed through this section last Sunday.

Our farmers are having quite a rest.
