MINING ACROSS THE RIVER

MINES AT FAIRVIEW AND ROSICLAIRE.

OLD CENTER FURNACE

Trigg County Is to Be Reopened After Forty Years of Idleness.

The Rosiclairs and Fairview Mines on the river are each putting out heavy tonnage. The famous Rosiclairs owned by J. R. McLean of Cincinnati Inquirer has been running more than forty years and under management of Captain Thomas maintains its normal output. That may have some idea of the amount of ore in a good fissure vein may be well to note that while property has been operated for more than forty years the working shaft today is not more than 300 feet deep and to this depth the ore has been blocked out and removed from a six acre tract of land. At present depth of the shaft the ore is between 20 and 30 feet wide. Fairview can be seen one of the deepest and most modern mining shafts to be found in the Western Kentucky-Southern Illinois district. The Fairview mines are operated by the Fairview Fluor Spar Co. It is a concentrating plant which was first installed and thought to be enough to handle the output of one shaft has had to take on additional shafts and is now made to handle ore of ore daily, and in one day the shaft has been able to yield 217 tons of ore. Lead and spar constitute the product of the mine. The spar is divided into two grades. Grades number 2 and 3 are shipped as they appear after the mine product has passed over the conveyor belts from which No. 1 and lump containing lead have been removed in the passage over conveyor belts, by trained laborers who line up on either side of the shaft. The lead which amounts to 2 per cent is then handled and separated in the jig and the number one ground flue as flour and barrel for shipment. From three to four loads of product is shipped daily. The company owns a transfer boat that runs from Fairview to Illinois Central incline at Goldsboro, a distance of about twelve miles. The transfer boat handles cars at a time. At present the product is loaded on the rail cars from the mine cars which run out to the landing by means of a railway. But this system of loading will soon be displaced and railroad cars will be loaded directly from a spar tippie. The company will purchase a standard gauge motive to handle the cars on its side. The bed for the road to the mines has been graded. The complete will cost about $15,000. The shaft at these mines is a double shaft and follows the vein fissure inclined about 85 degrees. It is sufficient to hoist the product in cars of car tracks against the side on which the ore buckets are phlange wheels on sides are raised and lowered. When the full shaft is raised to the top it is automatically dumped into the ore bin which it is carried into a crusher and out on the conveyor belts to be sorted. The means of a large dynamo the plant and underground work is protected by electricity the globes are protected by wire shields. The company has also laid out a new mining town and is having the buildings constructed of cement blocks. Several concrete residences have already been completed. The electric dynamo at the mining plant also light the town.

Adiz, Ky., May 29—White, Dixon, who recently leased Old Center Furnace, in the extreme western of this county, between the Cumberland and Tennessee rivers, have put about one hundred hands to work clearing up the old furnace, cutting cord wood, and building houses for furnace hands to occupy. This work will be pushed rapidly, and the promoters hope to have the furnace in operation by the middle of October.

This old furnace was operated some forty years ago by Daniel Hillman, and the iron that was made by it was considered the finest in the country, and the new promoters hope to regain the old reputation of "Center Furnace."

ELDER CHILDERS

Will Preach at Christian Church Sunday—Synopsis of Sermon Last Sunday.

Elder E. R. Childers of Troy, Missouri, preached Sunday morning and evening at the Christian church. He has a very interesting and pleasing delivery and handles his subjects very logically. He will preach again next Lord's day on an interesting subject and will likely have a large congregation to hear him. A brief synopsis of the two sermons preached last Sunday follows: Subject:—"The Temptation of Christ." Matt. 4:1-11.

First Lesson:—"The danger of unbelief. I may not understand all I read in the word of God, but I will believe it." Second Lesson:—"It teaches us how to resist temptation ourselves. Putting on the whole armor of God (Eph. 6:10-20) and taking the sword of the Spirit—the word—we do battle for the Lord and Master. But who is the devil and Satan? A fallen angel called Lucifer, the son of the morning. The subject in the evening was "Christ and Him Crucified." 1st Cor. 1:22-24. The wisdom of God and the power of God to the salvation of both Jews and Gentiles. The wisdom of God because by revelation it supplies all the wants of this threefold being called man—his intellectual wants of his origin, his duties and his responsibilities—of Christ, his friend, altogether lovely—and of his spiritual wants in giving him a spiritual and immortal body, like the glorified body of his Lord. The power of God because because it reveals the love of God to fallen humanity. Prov. 3:16. The goodness of God leads to repentance.

There will be preaching again next Lord's day on the subject: "What Think Ye of Christ?"—Matt. 22:41-42.

The Marion Graded School board met Wednesday, May 30th, and unanimously elected C. E. Dudley, of Pembroke, as principal of Marion Graded Schools. Prof. Dudley comes well recommended by prominent educators in different parts of the State, and was also recommended by Rev. J. R. McAfee, of this city, and Rev. T. V. Joiner, of Russellville.

There is reason to believe that the election of Prof. Dudley will meet with universal satisfaction in the community, and it is especially complimentary to him that he should have been chosen over twenty-three other applicants.

Notwithstanding the wish of many of his friends that he remain here, former Principal Chas. Evans goes to Ardmore, I. T., where he will be superintendent of city schools. Prof. Brinson, who instructed the eighth grade last year, goes to Smithland and becomes principal of the graded schools there. Miss Maggie Moore was chosen to teach the eighth grade, and Miss Sadie Rankin, of this city, and Miss Florence Harris, of Corydon, were selected for the third and fourth grades. The remainder of the places will be filled as last year.

RECONSTRUCTION

Work Being Pushed and Buildings Are Rapidly Taking Form.

W. G. Carnahan's new frame cottage residence, on Belleville street, will be completed and ready for occupancy within two weeks. The work has been under the supervision of Contractor J. S. Braswell.

Dave Woods' new residence on College street has received about all the finishing touches and is about ready to be occupied.

The brick work on the three Wheeler buildings on Main street has advanced rapidly. The second set of joists are being put on and the second story work will advance without delay. Contractor Jennings has all the joists cut and ready for placing and therefore follows closely after the brick masons, which makes no delay. Elzie Clement, a colored hod carrier, fell from a fourteen foot wall on one of these buildings Wednesday, sustaining severe injuries.

The L. H. James office building on Bank street, the Jas. H. Orme drug store, and E. J. Hayward store building on Main street have been built up to the second story this week, ready for the second set of joists. Contractors Boston & Paris are having the work done and they have a good crew of carpenters and brick men. The Hayward store building corners on Main and Bank streets. The front being red pressed brick with plate glass windows. From the Bank street side of the building, select Henderson brick is being used which is laid in white mortar, as is also being done on the L. H. James office building.

Mundo and McGraw, contractors from Henderson, broke ground and began work on the Marion Bank building and the postoffice building this week. They will execute this work rapidly on these buildings as they have but 60 days in which to complete the postoffice building and 75 days on the Marion bank.

Adams and Pierce are moving into their new machine shop and with other buildings, going up in the vicinity, Bank street begins to look industrious.

County Clerk C. E. Welford will begin work on a brick residence next week. The brick to be used are the first turned out by Taylor & Hurley at their brick yards near the city.

Jas. H. Orme has just finished adding two new rooms to his cottage on Belleville street, and the inside finish he has added to some of the rooms is simply grand.

GRAFTERS EXPOSED

Oliver Offered a $1,200 Job to Withdraw From the Senatorial Race.

In the still hours of night, after honest people had retired for the night, one Childs, Swift & Company's salesman, wended his way to the quiet home of J. W. Oliver and finding the Rev. J. W. Oliver away from home, proceeded to make the cause of his visit known to Mrs. Oliver. This representative of the Beef Trust very cautiously informed Mrs. Oliver that he had been sent to see Mr. Oliver relative to the Senatorial race in which he felt much interest; that he had at his disposal an office worth $1200 a year, and that if Mr. Oliver would quit the race in the interest of Conn Linn that the office would be his; that he was very anxious to see Mr. Oliver at once and arrange with him. Mrs. Oliver was disgusted with the manner of this man Childs' familiarity, never having met him before, and she being at home with her little children, and the hour being late. Mrs. Oliver is of opinion that another man accompanied Childs, but who preferred to conceal his identity. Mrs. Oliver is of opinion that another man accompanied Childs, but who preferred to conceal his identity. Mrs. Oliver very properly refused to allow the man to enter her home and informed Mr. Childs that Mr. Oliver was not open to offers of bribery and that she did not appreciate the visit of political grafters and especially so at such late hours.

The above is about the story as related to us by Mrs. Oliver, and even next morning she seemed very much excited over the familiar manner and late visit of this man Childs, who travels this territory for Swift & Company, one of the largest Beef Trust concerns in the country.

No matter who is behind this diabolical scheme, it should raise the ire of every country and the man who was to profit by this midnight visit ought to suffer political annihilation.

J. W. Oliver is in the race for Senator in this district to a finish and his opposition know they have a fighter worthy of their steel. He refuses absolutely to be made a tool of or a party to any such midnight bribery and desires the people to know of this most dastardly insult and place their disapproval upon the method and the man, as well as those sending the offer and the candidate in whose interest the diabolical graft was conceived. Childs left on the midnight train Wednesday night and has not been heard of since. He claimed to represent Dr. Milton Board, of Hopkinsville, Ky., whom he said had sent him to make terms with Mr. Oliver and get him off the Senatorial track in the interest of Conn Linn, of Murray.

The Beef Trust generally employ pretty smooth citizens and Mr. Childs is no exception to their rule.—Lyon County Times.

AT PINEY FORK CHURCH

G. A. R. OF CRITTENDEN COUNTY MEETS

ON DECORATION DAY

A Sumptuous Dinner and Interesting Speeches are Greatly Enjoyed.

The G. A. R. No. 31, of Crittenden county, met at Piney Fork May 30th. The weather being unfavorable in the early part of the day. The crowd was a little late gathering in, but as the clouds dispersed and the sun began to shine the people began to come and at ten o'clock the large church was well filled with people. The house was called to order by the captain, J. M. Walker, after a short but very appropriate address, he called for a song. R. M. Franks and W. A. Woodall led but the congregation joined in the hymn, "My Country 'Tis of Thee." The captain then called on J. Frank Conger to deliver the welcome address, which he responded to by saying he certainly felt it a great honor for him to be called on to give the welcome address on an occasion like that as this is a day recognized by our government as a legal holiday, a day that the people meet at the last resting place of their dead comrades and friends and show respect to them by strewing flowers on their graves and by so doing we not only show respect to the dead, but it begets a feeling in our hearts one for another that otherwise might not be. He said we could not do the dead any good by this, but the living might be benefited and we should not only attempt to show respect to the dead, but also to the living and especially the young should show respect to the old, and while we had misfortune and disappointments he hoped the young people that were there would never have to travel the same road those old veterans that looked him in the face had traveled; and in conclusion said in behalf of the neighbors and friends of Piney Fork he wanted to assure the people there of a hearty welcome. The captain then arose and began an oration but at this juncture the hearse arrived with the corpse of Mrs. J. H. Bugg, which was carried into the house and funeral services held, conducted by Rev. Paris, of this county, and Ogelsby, of Fredonia. Brother Ogelsby read the 90th division of the Psalms. Brother Paris commented on the gentle life and christian walk of sister Bugg, and admonished the children to follow her instructions and prepare to meet her in Heaven.

Brother Ogelsby made a very impressive discourse; said that every person preached their own funeral while living. He said that while we were laying the corpse in the tomb, we were not burying Sister Bugg, but only the house of clay that Sister Bugg would still live in the minds and affections of the people around Piney Fork.

At the conclusion he offered prayer in behalf of the living. Then the pall bearers followed by the entire audience marched to the tomb that had already been prepared and laid the remains in its last resting place to await the resurrection. It was then 12 o'clock and the dinner was spread and everyone seemed to enjoy this part of the exercises for a while, then the bell rang and all gathered to the house again and the regular order of the day was then taken up.

W. H. Walker was called on for a speech and responded very freely, giving a very pointed address on the grandeur and nobility of our country. Then Judge A. Towery was next called for. He said he did not know how to make a speech on an occasion like this, but if it was a political speech he would know what to say, but it would not be proper for him to try to tell about the war when he was a mere brat during that time, but he kept on until he made a splendid speech. Prof. J. B. McNeely was then called for. He spoke about thirty minutes about all the wars and the causes that led to them, and the results; said that God had a hand in wars; said he did not say it was necessary to have the causes that led to war, but after the circumstances which brought on the war had developed then the war was a necessity. He went on to show why we were under obligations to reverence our old soldiers and our flag. At the conclusion of his speech the captain called for a song and the audience joined in singing "God be with you till we meet again," and the old comrades joined in a farewell hand shake and were dismissed by the chaplain, Eld. W. F. Paris.

S. S. Teachers' Training

Christ was crucified approximately at 9 o'clock Friday morning, April 9, A. D., 30. About noon darkness came over the land and for three hours enshrouded the earth in its mystic pall. At the end of this period Jesus Christ gave up his life for the world. Late in the afternoon and before the beginning of the Jewish day at 6 o'clock, Joseph and Nicodemus, secret disciples, yet members of the Jewish Sanhedrim, took the body of Christ, wrapped it in the simple shroud, and laid it in Joseph's new tomb. There it lay until the morning of the third day, made secure as they thought, by the huge stone blocking the entrance, the Roman seal stamped thereon, and the Roman guard to keep its faithful vigil to ward off friend or foe. But at the dawning of the third day, angels came down through the celestial corridors to the tomb of Jesus, with the hand of immaculate power, rolled away the stone, the guard fell back as dead men, and Jesus walked forth in matchless majesty, the triumphant conqueror of the grave, and thus opened the door of the resurrection to all the human race.

HENRY HAMMONDS

Former Marion Boy Killed at Columbus, Ohio—Body
Buried at Evansville.

Saturday, at Columbus, Ohio, Henry Hammond, a native boy of this city, was killed by a live wire while in the employ of the gas and electric light company.

Henry Hammond was well known here and learned the profession he followed while working on the local telephone exchange when being installed under the management of J. T. Alexander, of Madisonville. He was an industrious, energetic young man and well liked by all who knew him. He was the son of G. G. Hammonds, of this city, and besides a wife and child he leaves a mother and several brothers and sisters.

Monday's Evansville Courier had the following to say regarding his death:

"News was received here yesterday of the death at Columbus, O., of Henry Hammond, who until a month ago was employed here as an electrician by the gas and electric light company. The message telling of his death was brief, merely stating that he was fatally injured by taking hold of a live wire.

Mr. Hammond married Miss Sessie Scarborough, of this city, less than two years ago. To their union one child has been born. Mrs. Hammond remained here for a short time after her husband left the employ of the gas company and later joined him at Columbus. Mr. Hammond has several relatives living in the city.

The body, accompanied by Mrs. Hammond, left Columbus last night and will reach Evansville some time this morning. It will be met here by a committee from the Elk's lodge, of which order Mr. Hammond was a prominent member.

Mr. Hammond was popular in the city and had scores of friends who will be surprised to learn of his sudden death.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

Considerable satisfaction is expressed in Washington at the general results of the Ohio convention. In the main, the Ohio platform is a hearty endorsement of the administration and its expressions are particularly gratifying. The platform would have been even more satisfactory had it endorsed the administration's recommendations in favor of tariff readjustment but it is, as a whole, so satisfactory that there is disposition to criticize its one defect, Secretary Taft's frank statement, made as chairman of the convention, that the majority in Congress will be compelled to take action with a view to obviating the steady deficit does not agree with that made at St. Louis by Secretary Shaw, recently, when he said, "We are not worried about the deficit," but Mr. Taft's version is the one entertained by the President and a majority of the members of his cabinet. Secretary Taft told the Ohio Convention that Congress would have to restore the war taxes, increase the internal revenue taxes, or so readjust the tariff as to augment its revenue producing power.

Speaking to a high protection State like Ohio, Secretary Taft doubtless deemed it wise to go no further than to present the alternatives, but there is no doubt, in the minds of those who have discussed the subject recently with Mr. Taft, that he believes the tariff schedules should be readjusted, as do all the members of the Cabinet, except Secretaries Shaw, Wilson and Metcalf, all of whom are inveterate stand patters.

There are strong indications that the tariff readjustment policy will receive considerable help from a new and unexpected source, namely from some of the most influential of the protected interests. Several managers of legitimate beneficiaries of the protective tariff have advised the President that their industries are over protected. Paradoxical as they may seem their second statement on the subject seems even more so. They say that there are too large profits in their respective lines. In elucidation of this statement, however, they make it clear to anyone who takes the trouble to think. They say that with the tariff so high as to present the alluring possibility of inordinate profits, new and inexperienced business men are prone to rush into the industry and establish small plants which invariably come to financial grief in a short time. Were these little fellows allowed to pass through a period of financial stress, ultimately to fail, they would naturally sell their products at reduced prices to secure the much needed "ready cash" and so demoralize the entire market. To avoid this undesirable result, the large producers buy up the smaller and weak competitors and are often compelled to do so at a serious loss, because the little fellows invariably overvalue the plant and stock. Moreover, even at a fair valuation, these additional plants are seldom worth much to the larger concerns which are already provided with all the machinery, etc., that they require. To make these purchases the larger concerns are compelled, as a rule, to issue additional stocks or bonds and these increased liabilities are prejudicial to the interests of the stock holders. Therefore, argue the protected manufacturers, it would be more beneficial were the tariff schedules reduced to a reasonable basis, the surplus of domestic competition curtailed and the market kept steady. It will, of course, be obvious to the reader that this argument is advanced only by the managers of legitimate manufacturing concerns which make their profits out of their business and that such reasoning is obnoxious to all of those trusts whose profits are largely comprised of the margins on stock manipulations in Wall street.

The Senate committee on Interstate Commerce has finally adjourned, after taking testimony on the railway rate question for upwards of thirty days, without action. At the executive session of the committee held after the last hearing, however, it was developed that the committee is unanimously opposed to the character of legislation recommended by the President. The committee will meet again two weeks before Congress convenes and will report a bill with which it hopes to lead off the passage by the House of measure in accord with the views of the President. This bill will amplify the Elkins anti-rebate law so as to prevent any possibility of rebates, which curtail the profits of the railroads. It will place the private car lines under the supervision of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the results of which will be problematical. It will not delegate to the Interstate Commerce Commission the power to fix a maximum rate where the existing rate is found to be unjust and instead of increasing the salaries of the Interstate Commerce Commissioners, so that that body may be made more efficient, as the President desires, it will diminish the duties the Commission and make it a less important body.

What the result will be when the irresistible force in the White House meets the immovable force in the Senate, no man can foretell. That will be one of the most extensive subjects of speculation throughout the next session and the results promise to be interesting in themselves and in their effect, whatever they may be. Of course the railroad men are delighted with what they are pleased to term a vindication of their opinions, but those who have been long familiar with the committee and its views never anticipated any other result. Strong pressure is being brought to bear on the President to forego his purpose of calling Congress in special session October 16, but he is "standing pat."

Huge Task.

It was a huge task, to undertake the cure of such a bad case of kidney disease, as that of C. F. Collier, of Cherokee, Ia., but Electric Bitters did it. He writes: "My kidneys were so far gone, I could not sit on a chair without a cushion; and suffered from dreadful backache, headache and depression. In Electric Bitters, however, I found a cure, and by them was restored to perfect health. I recommend this great tonic medicine to all with weak kidneys, liver or stomach. Guaranteed by R. F. "THE MAN IN GRAY."

Beautiful Three Color Print.

As its offering of respect to the Confederate Veterans Reunion, the Henderson Route is distributing a beautiful three-color print, entitled "The Man in Gray," which is receiving widespread admiration throughout the entire south.

The picture, which is printed from an extra fine etching, reproduced from an original drawing by Mr. Robert M. Hoe, the celebrated artist of the Courier-Journal, is 16x 22 inches, and is printed on fine enameled paper, sufficiently heavy for use unframed, but equally suitable for framing.

It is executed in the three cardinal colors of the confederacy—gray, blue and red—on a white background, and has been rightly termed by critics "a gem."

They are enclosed in strawboard mailing tubes for safe transmission by mail, thus avoiding any possibility of breakage and insuring safe delivery.

Send five (red) stamps to L. J. Irwin, Louisville, Ky., for this beautiful reproduction, and after you receive it, whether you are from the north or out of the south, you will be an enthusiastic admirer of the "Hero of the Gray." 41 St

INDIGESTION'S RECORD

"The best remedy I can prescribe for your indigestion, madam, is Green's August Flower. I know of several other physicians who prescribe it regularly."

Indigestion is making an awful record as a cause of sudden deaths. It is beating heart-failure in its ghastly harvest. You read in the papers daily of apparently healthy and even robust men being suddenly attacked with acute indigestion after enjoying a hearty meal, and of their dying in many cases before a physician could be called in.

This should be a warning to you who suffer with regular or periodical attacks of indigestion. If these unfortunate victims of acute indigestion had taken a small dose of Green's August Flower before or after their meals they would not have fallen a prey to such sudden seizures.

August Flower prevents indigestion by creating good digestion. It also regulates the liver, purifies the blood and tones up the entire system in a natural way.

MARION - KENTUCKY

The books of the Home Law School Series are designed especially for young men. Never before has a complete education in one of the best and most practical of the sciences been brought within the reach of every young man. Lincoln was a Lawyer, Home trained, who had great faith in the powers of the young man, and the following extract from his letters shows how he urged them to "push forward."

"The possession and use of a set of books will not only enable but stimulate every young man to 'push forward' and bring out the best that is in him, attaining a higher and more honored station in life than he could hope to attain without them."

The Lawyer of to-day is the right hand to every great business undertaking. In politics and statesmanship the Lawyer stands pre-eminent. He is credited with judgment and discretion, and his advice controls in all important matters. Every commercial enterprise of any importance has its salaried legal adviser. There is a great demand for young men with knowledge of Law. Any man can

SCHOOL TRUSTEES

LITTLE ADVICE ON A TIMELY SUBJECT

Should Avoid Teacher Who Says "The Old Man" and
Can "Elocute."

The following advice to school trustees is taken from the Livington Democrat:

The time is now here for school trustees to begin to cast about for teachers for the fall schools and the affable pedagogue is abroad in the land, "beating the bushes," shaking hands and spouting forth volumes of his pent-up knowledge, trying to impress the stupid [?] trustee with the wonder of how "one small head" can contain all that he knows. And as school teachers are human beings, we would like to give a few words of advice to trustees about the character of teachers to employ, viz: Never employ a young man that uses profane language, drinks whiskey or smokes cigarettes. Never employ a young man that is too lazy to engage in some honest labor during vacation. Never employ a young man that has a personal pride enough to go undressed. Never employ a young man that speaks of his father as the "old man." Never employ a young man that wears a dirty skirt or collar or that goes about with dirty hands and ears. Never employ a young lady that is too lazy to clean her room and make up her bed. Never employ a young lady that reads a ten cent novel at the noon hour. Never employ a young lady that will not help her mother cook and wash dishes when at home. Never by no means employ any teacher who dotes on his or her ability to "elocute."

Teaching school means more than long hours and drawing pay. The country's future citizenship depends, in a large measure, upon the work of the present day school teacher. Therefore let us advise trustees to look out for real teachers, whose educating children is something more than cramming their heads full of things found in text books.

ECONOMIC HOUSE PAINTING

NOW IS THE TIME FOR HYOMEI

Easier to Cure Catarrh
Now Than at Any Other Season.

Now is the time to use Hyomei, when the early summer days make it easy to cure catarrhal troubles. Hyomei treatment, breathed for five minutes three or four times a day in May or June, will do good as quickly as it did in January. Nearly every one knows that faithfully then, it completely cures the system of catarrh.

Hyomei is a purely vegetable preparation whose active curative properties are given off when it is inhaled by the aid of the pocket atomizer that comes with every outfit. It destroys all germ life in the air passages, purifies the blood by supplying additional ozone, and its healing, volatile, antiseptic fragrance reaches every corner of the respiratory tract as no medicine taken through the stomach can possibly do. The complete Hyomei outfit costs one dollar, and consists of a nebulizer that can be carried in a purse or vest pocket and will last a lifetime, a medicine dropper, a bottle of Hyomei. Extra bottles of Hyomei can be procured if desired for fifty cents.

Get this season of the year when catarrhal troubles can be so quickly and readily cured, the merits of the Hyomei treatment should be carefully investigated by every one and a complete outfit should be in every home. R. F. Haynes gives his personal guarantee with every Hyomei outfit he sells to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction. There is no risk whatever to the purchaser of Hyomei.

Throttling the Schools.

The schools of Breathitt county are the prey of the machine that dominates that unfortunate region. Henry B. Noble, superintendent of schools for Breathitt, incurred the displeasure of Czar Jim Hargis. Hargis wants for school superintendent of Breathitt a man whom he can use for the exploitation of the county's school system to the benefit of the Hargis gang and its complex interests. Noble, not answering the purpose, Hargis has determined to oust that individual from the office to which the people elected him. He won't permit Noble to renew his bond. He refuses to set a day for receiving the superintendent's bond; and is, Noble charges, using all his influence to prevent people from going on the bond. Much wrong has been already done schools and teachers this season by this latest Hargistic act of despotism. The May examination of teachers in Breathitt has not been held and cannot be held because Noble has not been able to execute his bond. State Superintendent Fuqua has given Noble till June 1 to renew his bond. If he fails to do so by that time the state superintendent promises a thorough investigation into the whole matter.

Emboldened by his recent practical acquittal at Lexington, Hargis will likely prevent in one or in several ways, the execution of Noble's bond by June 1. Hargis does not fear a state investigation. The Frankfort machine is friendly to the Breathitt boss. Then he can get testimony of any and every kind needed by the car load. Noble won't simply be in it in any state investigation. Hargis wants the schools throttled forever in his own interest. He has them now by the neck. He will hold them if he can and we see nothing in sight to relieve the thousands of unfortunate children in Breathitt from a control so odious and deleterious.—Louisville Herald.

POLITICS

BY GOOSEQUILL.

—There are other "ticks" besides politics.

—"She was bred in old Kentucky," so was politics.

—Politics have at last come to a profession.

—Promise and performance in politics are as far apart as the east and west.

—It stands thus: Promise anything to get votes; perform anything to get the dough.

—But there's another element in Kentucky politics, and that is vote counting. This wonderful innovation is the chief halo that rests about William Goebel's head.

—A Democrat can shake the ballot box to perfection and then if that is not sufficient counting does the rest.

—Jo C. S. Blackburn has a vast vocabulary with which to say loving things about his Democratic brethren.

—To read one of his philippics one is led to believe that there is as much harmony in Democratic ranks as there is in the land where no snow falls.

—But Blackburn hopes to ride to the senate upon the crest of the wave his own popularity dashes against the shores of the Beckham machine.

—But, boat ahoy! there are breakers ahead, and Paynter, who mans the life boat, has a heart that knows no political pity.

—But now wouldn't Ollie James make the governorship of Kentucky look small to Hager.

—But the lion in the way is that wonderful machine. So, there!

—So, here's about how things stand. If he's a Democrat and guilty fair sailing—e. g., Hargis. If he is a Republican and innocent, storm tossed and wrecked—e. g., Powers.

—Few men have the will power to remain good if they remain in politics. There is that about politics on the men who make politics what they are—which contaminates, however much we may wish it may be different.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

For Electric Wiring By National Board of Fire Underwriters.

In all electric work, conductors, however well insulated, should always be treated as bare, to the end that under no considerations, existing or likely to exist, can a ground or short circuit occur, and so that all leakage from conductor to conductor, or between conductor and ground, may be reduced to the minimum.

In all wiring special attention must be paid to the mechanical execution of the work. Careful and neat running, connecting, soldering, taping of conductors, and securing and attaching of fittings, are specially conducive to security and efficiency, and will be strongly insisted on.

In laying out an installation, except for constant current systems, every reasonable effort should be made to secure distribution centers located in easily accessible places, at which points the cutouts and switches controlling the several branch circuits can be grouped for convenience and safety of operation. The load should be divided as evenly as possible among the branches and all complicated and unnecessary wiring avoided.

The use of wire ways for rendering concealed wiring permanently accessible is most heartily indorsed and recommended; and this method of accessible concealed construction is advised for general use.

Architects are urged, when drawing plans and specifications, to make provision for the channeling and pocketing of buildings for electric light or power wires.

LOOK in YOUR MIRROR

What would you give to be rid of those pimples and blackheads, that sallow complexion, those lustreless eyes? Take

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

Mrs. Mary O. Hahn, No. 209 Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes: "For two years I have been troubled with biliousness caused by indigestion of the liver. I had dizzy spells at times, pains across my back and a tired, heavy feeling, with loss of appetite and nervousness. One family physician prescribed some liver tablets which certainly did not help me in the least. I took Apollinaris and other mineral waters, but my complexion became more yellow and my general health worse. Reading one of your little booklets, I decided to give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin a trial and am so glad I did. One bottle did more for me than ten dollars' worth of other remedies. I have as usual had the pills remedy. I kept taking it for several weeks, when I considered myself completely cured. My skin is white and smooth as a baby's and I feel in excellent health and spirits, thanks to your remedy."

My Own Story

By

Caleb Powers

This book is a calm, dispassionate account, from the standpoint of the man most interested, of the conditions in Kentucky leading to the assassination of William Goebel, and of Powers' indictment and conviction on the charge of complicity in his murder.

It covers his youth in the mountains of Kentucky, the conventions of 1899, the election, the shooting of Goebel, the arrest, the three trials and the prison life.

For dramatic situations, human interest and political importance, the case of Caleb Powers is unequalled.

OUR FRIENDS.

The publishers of the Record wish to acknowledge receipt of the Houston, Texas, Daily News sent us by S. H. Walker, and the souvenir edition of the Harrison Times, published at Harrison, Arkansas, which was sent us by R. M. Fritts, of Zinc, Arkansas. We always appreciate the spirit of our friends in distant states that prompts them to remember us in this manner.

STILL CRAFTING.

We republish in this issue an article which appeared in last week's issue of the Lyon County Times. If the claims made by the Times are true Dr. Milton Board, superintendent of the Western Kentucky Asylum for the Insane, at Hopkinsville, has offered a few suggestions in the senatorial race in the sixth district. It will be remembered that Dr. Board advised the asylum commissioners to present a couple of choice heifers to Senator Richardson out of a magnificent herd belonging to the state, and that he is the same man who boasted of the fact in a published statement that the presents were tendered on his advice and was indicted in Christian county in Judge Cook's court together with the asylum commissioners for misappropriating state property, but whose indictment was dismissed by the commonwealth attorney in that district on the ground that the superintendent is not custodian of the institution's property, that resting with the commissioners. The claim that the commissioners acted on his advice was a bold one to be made by Board, but he was sure of his standing with the state administration as was evidenced by the dismissal of the indictment against the commissioners. So it seems that Dr. Board's advice is all right under the present state administration, and perhaps the candidates and politicians in the sixth senatorial district would better heed him when he sees fit to butt in.

Good Roads Convention.

Reference was made last week to a meeting of the Commercial Club at which the subject of good county roads was the chief topic under discussion.

On motion and resolution by the Club, it was decided to hold a Good Roads Convention at Marion, Saturday, June 24, and to invite the road overseers throughout the county to attend. A barbecue dinner will be provided at the expense of the Club, and entertaining and instructive addresses will be delivered.

Chairman Dodge, of the National Association for the improvement of county roads, will be invited to attend, and a general educational movement will be inaugurated, as well as plans for the betterment of our system of road working.

Mr. Clem S. Nunn, chairman of the county development and Good Roads Committee, has the matter in charge, and, with a strong and able committee to aid him, much can be accomplished this year, notwithstanding the set back in the work occasioned by the recent fire.

It was decided at the meeting of the Commercial Club referred to to offer medals to road supervisors for the best improvement shown in three sections of road in Crittenden county, all conditions being equalized as far as possible, and the awards to be made by a competent and impartial committee. Three medals will be given, gold, silver and bronze, and will be well worthy of exciting keen competition.

No improvement is of greater or more lasting benefit to a county or community than good roads. Any farm in the county can be enhanced to double value by improved road conditions, affording a means of marketing the products the year round. One team can be made to do the service of two by the same means.

"The Czar wept."

Judging from the Russian admiral's name, Nebogetoff, we are not surprised that Admiral Togo demolished his fleet.

"The old hero who has made the Marion school known throughout the state has been called to a western field."—Webster County Times.

In the great naval battle fought Saturday and Sunday in the Straits of Korea the Japanese obtained a complete and overwhelming victory. Late advices show that Rojstrensky's fleet, composed of all his most effective and powerful ships, was completely shattered. According to the latest information two Russian battleships, one coast defense armored, five cruisers, two special service ships and three destroyers were sunk, and there were captured two battleships, two coast defense armored and one special service ship. Rojstrensky's flagship escaped, badly damaged, and with other vessels of his broken fleet is being pursued by the victorious Japanese. Rear Admiral Nebogetoff, however, was captured, with 3,000 other prisoners. It seems probable that in their crippled condition other Russian vessels will fall into the hands of the Japanese before they can reach Vladivostok. While London rumors say that several Japanese vessels were lost, Admiral Togo officially reports that his squadron was not damaged.

A number of Russian vessels still remain near Shanghai, but it is evident that as a fighting force the great fleet has been destroyed.

No details of the battle have yet been permitted to pass the Japanese censor, but Tokio dispatches make it clear that Admiral Togo is pressing his advantage and harassing the Russian vessels, which are attempting to take refuge at Vladivostok, and make more complete his already sweeping victory.

Not Behind Other Counties.

Editor Record:—I noticed an editorial in your paper of last week in which you say the farmers of Crittenden county should organize an institute similar to the Livingston county organization. I, for one, agree with you. I had the pleasure of attending the Livingston County Farmers' Club meeting held at Salem May 18, and I heard read the papers which had been prepared on the different subjects and the discussion of same, and I was very much pleased with the results of the meeting.

I think the farmers of Crittenden county should organize in the near future and not be behind all the other counties in the State. In nearly every issue of the Farmers' Home Journal we have a supplement containing the papers read and speeches made at a farmers' institute in some county in the State, and I think I gain a great deal of information by reading them. It seems to me that there is nothing that would stimulate the farmers more than to have a meeting every three months and have subjects assigned different members for discussion. By so doing we may gather the ideas of others and compare them with our own, and it seems to me we might profit thereby. It would cost us nothing but a little time, and it could be so well spent that at the end of the year we would be better off. So let's organize a farmers' institute in Crittenden county and see how much we can be worth to each other by it.

Mr. Editor, I am glad you expressed a willingness for a free and open discussion of this subject in your paper. So, brother farmer, if you favor an institute, speak out, or if you oppose it, let's have your objection.

As to the joint fair proposed, if carried out on the principles as suggested I think it would be a good thing. It is, I understand, for the advancement of our agricultural and horticultural interests, and I don't see any reason why it should be anything else, for it will be whatever the people make it; and we can make it a success. "Will we?" is the only question, but I guess I had better stop right here until I hear from someone else. Hoping this will look better in print than it does in my handwriting, I beg to remain
Yours truly,
J. FRANK CONGER.

Court House Question.

Editor Record:—I notice you have offered the public an opportunity to express themselves through your columns as to needed suggestions for improvements of the county. I will just call attention to our court house. I think the people would like to see the proper authorities repair our court house and paint it rather than build a new seventy thousand dollar one. Old brick looks as well painted as new brick if properly done.

However, the bonds for seventy thousand dollars might look better to a few people, especially to those who are able to own them, and those who are afraid to go into the old court house, but the tax payers would rather see the old one nicely repaired which is much needed. I don't think there is much danger in going into the old court house yet.

MAJOR CLEMENT.

Mrs. Mack White Dead.

Mack White's wife died at her home on East Belleville street Tuesday afternoon, of inflammation of the liver, after an illness of ten days.

She was the daughter of Newton and Martha Newcome, of the county. She was first married to Wm. Fowler, after whose death she married Mr. White. She professed religion at Mt. Zion and joined the Methodist church. Mrs. White leaves her husband and two children, one of whom is now laying at death's door with erysipelas. She was a good christian woman and faithful in all her relations.

The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. J. R. McAfee, and the interment took place at the Mt. Zion cemetery.

State Normals.

Kentucky is one of the few progressive states without normal schools, and the teachers of the state are preparing to launch a plan to secure for the state three normal schools under the control and management of the state.

At the state teachers' meeting to be held on the 21, 22 and 23 of next month at Mammoth Cave, the campaign will be started and not dropped until the schools are established.

KENTUCKY CROPS

HESSIAN FLY AND RUST DAMAGE WHEAT.

Tobacco Is Doing Well Except Where Attacked by Cutworms.

The weekly summary of crop conditions, issued by the Kentucky weather bureau, is as follows:

The first part of the past week was cool, the latter part quite warm. Good rains occurred during the week, being heavy in some sections the 25-26th, especially in the western portions, where considerable flooding of the lowlands was again caused. On the whole, the week was favorable for germination, growth, development and cultivation of crops.

Wheat is heading out and filling well in most parts of the state, and the reports continue most favorable; but there is considerable complaint of its falling back in the western part of the state, where there is a great deal of damage from rust and the Hessian fly.

The planting of corn made rapid progress during the week, and in a great many localities the crop is all in; also there was good work done in cultivating the early planted, which has come up well and has a fine stand. Complaint of damage from cutworms continue, though not so numerous as before.

Rapid strides were being made in setting out tobacco plants, conditions being very favorable, and the larger portion of the crop has been transplanted and is doing well except where attacked by cutworms.

Plants are mostly plentiful, though reports of scarcity come from some of the middle western countries.

There is a splendid prospect for oats; clover is good; pastures fine; potatoes excellent promise and hemp good. Gardens are doing finely, and the berry crop is large and promising. The fruit prospect continues good, though apples and peaches are dropping badly. Peaches will probably be a half crop. Grapes are unusually promising.

Died From Heart Failure.

Mrs. Jane Bugg, the widow of Esq. Hays Bugg of Crittenden county died with heart failure at her home in the Piney Fork neighborhood Sunday May 28, age 76.

Her husband who served as magistrate in this county for several years died eleven years ago. The deceased are survived by five children among whom are Postmaster Grant Bugg and Assistant Postmaster Tom Bugg of Fredonia. Mrs. Bugg was an estimable lady, a faithful member of Piney Fork church and loved by all who knew her.

Over-Work Wakens

You Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-worked in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by first druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

WILL GO TO PADUCAH

From a thoroughly reliable source comes the information that the Tennessee Central's extension from Hopkinsville is to go to Paducah instead of Jopps, Ill., and it is also learned that the surveying party has completed the preliminary work of making the survey for the new line, says the Nashville American.

As was stated in the American several months ago a surveying party began work near Hopkinsville a few days after the visit of B. F. Yoakum and President A. J. Davidson, of the Frisco system, to Nashville. They surveyors have just completed their work to Paducah and the preliminary survey is said to be so satisfactory that no lines will be run to Joppa or Evansville.

HOW TO WRITE A BUSINESS LETTER

By Sherwin Cody, Author of
"The Art of Writing English," Etc.

INTRODUCTORY.

The writing of business letters is apparently a simple matter, for millions of people are writing them every day. In certain lines of business, however, highly skilled correspondents are sought, and secured by high salaries. More skilled correspondents would be employed if they were to be found, or if business men realized how much business a poor correspondent can turn away. Business letter writing can be learned as certainly as stenography or any recognized business calling, and without doubt the strictly professional letter writer would be paid according to his ability.

First of all, a business letter should be strictly grammatical. Many business letters are not so; but even the illiterate would soon perceive the difference, and without knowing why, would prefer the business man who seemed by his letters to be master of what he professed.

The simple graces of rhetoric and a trained style would also prove useful, in spite of the limited range which business letter writing seems to have. Every letter writer often feels that he would like a freer use of words. This is nothing more or less than the ability which results from cultivating style according to the principles laid down by Franklin.

PRINCIPLES GOVERNING THE CONSTRUCTION OF BUSINESS LETTERS.

But full knowledge of words, grammar, and the principles of composition will not alone make a good business letter writer. This branch of composition has features peculiar to itself. The principles which govern it may be stated briefly as follows:

1. Know the man to whom you write. No man can write a good business letter unless he understands the person to whom he is writing from top to toe. In most cases he has never seen this person. If he is replying to a letter before him, he can form some idea of the writer from the character of the letter, including the handwriting, if the letter is written by the person who composed it. For the rest, he must judge the person from his general knowledge of the class to which he most probably belongs. In any case the [character of the person, to whom the letter is sent, wholly determines the form of the letter, and even what is to be said. Knowledge of the reader is the first requirement of all composition, and it would be well for the writers of fiction, and all other writers, if they realized it of the business letter writer must.

2. Never write a longer letter than will be read. It goes without saying that, unless a letter is going to be read, it is not worth writing. Country people usually have plenty of time, and like to read long letters; busy city men and women have not the time to read long letters, and simply will not do it. It is folly to write a longer letter than the recipient will read, however important the topic or extensive the subject. If much is to be said and it is important that each point should receive due consideration, a separate letter should be written to cover each important item.

3. How to condense. All letters are necessarily severely limited in length, and the most important principle of composition for letter writers to master is condensation. This may be secured positively and negatively, in various ways, as follows:

a. By omitting all details that the recipient of the letter may reasonably be supposed to know already.
b. By suggesting and implying in the choice of words and forms of the sentence as much as possible.
c. By stating important matters so forcibly that the reader will be forced (or rather induced) to think out the unspoken details for himself. This is the hardest of all to do.

TWO CLASSES OF LETTERS.

There are two general classes of business letters, those which give information asked for, and those intended to induce people to buy goods. Usually in replying to specific inquiries there will be an excellent opportunity to throw in a word of persuasion.

1. Replies to questions. In replying the letters asking for information, a full statement of all the facts is highly desirable. If a person has asked a question he will be interested to read the reply all through. The general tendency of business men is to shorten such letters unduly. As a rule, such letters should be rather long. It is a mark of courtesy which is appreciated, and the business man never knows when his reputation for courtesy will bring him a big order, or when his reputation for crabbiness or the indifference which brevity indicates will send a highly profitable order to some other firm. Moreover, the man of sound business principles will give as much attention to small inquiries and small orders as to large ones, for there is no telling when the small buyer will become the large buyer; to say nothing of the fact that most fortunes have been made through large numbers of small sales.

2. Circular letters. On the other hand, letters which are designed to stimulate business or secure orders, that is, which are more or less advertising circulars, are very likely to be too long, and so they are not read and only feed the waste basket. The fault is almost universal, and it is notoriously fatal. The seller is full of his subject, full of arguments. He could talk for an hour, two hours, all day. It is therefore very hard for him to confine himself to a few words judiciously spoken.

Note.—Any who wish to go more deeply into this subject may write to Mr. Cody, who will be glad to advise in regard to books and methods of study. Address Opera House Building, Chicago.

LOLA.

There will be a basket dinner at the church here the second Sunday in June, it being children's day. A lengthy program has been prepared for the occasion; everybody is invited to attend.

The Marion Zinc Co. began work at the Mann's property Wednesday of last week, that company being employed by Mr. Manns to work the mine.

We understand the people of Dittney are preparing to rebuild the church that recently burned there.

Several of our people attended the foot washing services at Pleasant Hill. They report a large attendance.

We see in a recent issue of the Crittenden Press that their Hampton correspondent stated that the Hampton baseball team played Lola, Joy and Good Hope boys and the score stood 26 to 1 in favor of the Hampton boys. Now, brother, you surely have optical delusions or midnight dreams, as the Lola boys have never played the Hampton boys. Let us play some time in the future and then give the score of the game.

The women's prayer meeting was held at the church Thursday afternoon of last week. Rev. Milton Wright preached for them.

The farmers are late planting their corn on account of the wet weather.

Yulee Radcliffe, who recently quit work at the Cullen mines is working at the Mann mines.

We are glad to report that W. E. Flannery is some better at this writing. He has been confined to his bed for six weeks.

Mrs. Madge Davidson, Master Trueman and Miss Lucy Carter, all of Levisa, were visiting near here Saturday and Sunday.

The Sunday school here is still growing in interest and attendance. W. L. Kennedy, our superintendent, takes great pains in the work.

B. M. Lewis and family, of Golconda, Ill., are visiting Mrs. Lewis' parents Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Kennedy.

Frank Singleton and Miss Ora Taber were married at the residence of J. T. Slayden last Sunday night, Esquire J. D. Foley officiating.

Louisville

In th Hart of th Famous Blu Grass of Kntucky.

If you have never visited the metropolis of Kentucky, Louisville, the gateway to the South, you may never have another opportunity as favorable as the one offered during the

Confederate Veterans' Reunion

June 14-16, 1905

Which, it is anticipated, will attract a hundred thousand and visitory from all parts of the country, but more especially from the new and hustling South and South-west.

Rates of approximately two cents a mile for the round trip will be in effect from most all points in the United States on account of the Reunion, and Kentucky is prepared to entertain royally her honored guests at that time.

It may not be amiss to remark that the "Man in Gray" will hold the center of the limelight during this period (and he is justly entitled to this honor), but the favorable rate will also attract a horde of sight-seers, pleasure-seekers and investors to Louisville, the town that ships more carload freight than any two other cities in the South. This freight mention is merely incidental and to acquaint you with the importance and magnitude of our business interests.

The Purpose of this Article

Is more to interest you in Kentucky's most popular railroad, the Henderson route—more properly termed the St. Louis-Louisville Comfort Line—as a solid comfort passenger line than as a common carrier of freight, although we appreciate, and will continue to do so, all the freight that moves our way.

Our passenger service between St. Louis, Evansville and Louisville compares favorably with any competitor, and one feature of it, we feel satisfied, is much superior—that is the "invariably on time" feature—which, you will agree with us, is a very important factor.

Our equipment, consisting of Reclining Chair Cars (seats free), Pullman Drawing-room Sleepers, Vestibule High back Seat Coaches and Parlor Cars through without change, is as fine and comfortable as any operated in or out of Kentucky—bar none—and we earnestly solicit your patronage.

In purchasing your ticket to Louisville for the Confederate Reunion, or on any trip which takes you between St. Louis, Evansville and Louisville, declare the Henderson Route in and insist on your ticket reading our way.

L. J. IRWIN,
General Passenger Agent.

"The Man in Gray"

Send five stamps (red ones) for a copy of picture entitled "The Man in Gray," a beautiful reproduction from an original drawing by Mr. Robert H. Hoge, the celebrated artist of the Louisville Courier Journal, executed in the three cardinal colors of the Confederacy—red, blue and gray—on a white background. Picture is 16x22 inches, and is printed on fine enameled paper, sufficiently heavy for use unframed, but equally suitable for framing.

They will be enclosed in strawboard mailing tubes for safe transmission by mail, thus avoiding any possibility of breakage and insuring safe delivery.

Descriptive Booklet

We are also distributing a small but complete booklet descriptive of Louisville hotels, restaurants and boarding houses, showing their capacity, rates, etc., which will be of interest to anyone contemplating a trip to Louisville this summer and which we will gladly mail on request without expense to you.

LESSON X, SECOND QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, JUNE 4.

Text of the Lesson, John xx, 11-23. Memory Verses, 19-21—Golden Text, 1 Cor. xv, 20—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1905, by American Press Association.] We have come to our last lesson in this gospel, in which we have been spending nearly six months, and while the lesson verses are but few we are asked to read the last two chapters. In xx, 31, we have the reason why John wrote this gospel, "that we might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and, believing, have life through His name." We called attention to this in the first lesson, and after these months of study it should come with more power. He came to give life and life abundant, and there is no life but in Him, as it is written "He that hath the Son hath life, and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life" (1 John v, 12). It is the risen Christ who gives life, for by the resurrection from the dead He was with power declared to be the Son of God (Rom. 1, 4).

The word "believe" is used in some form over ninety times, and in chapter 1, 12, it is shown to signify "receiving" Him. We have been taught throughout that believing does not mean seeing or feeling, and now in the end we have His great word, "Blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed" (xx, 29). One of the strangest things in all the resurrection story is that even John, whom Jesus loved, who also leaned on His breast at supper, knew not the Scripture that He must rise again from the dead (xx, 2, 9; xxi, 20) and that He had to upbraid all the disciples with their unbelief and hardness of heart because they refused to believe those who had seen Him after He rose from the dead (Mark xvi, 11-13).

In these two chapters we have three of the ten or more appearances after His resurrection, concerning which it is written that "He showed Himself alive after His passion by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God" (Acts 1, 3). In all the appearances He expounded Scripture and opened up the Scripture and opened their understanding that they might understand the Scriptures concerning Himself (Luke xxiv, 27, 32, 36, 38, 44-47).

Mary Magdalene was the first to see Him (Mark xvi, 9); then on that same day He seems to have been seen on four other occasions by the other women, by Peter, by the two who walked to Emmaus, and in the evening by the ten, Thomas being absent. In our lesson chapter we read that Mary Magdalene, having found the tomb empty, ran to tell Peter and John, and they, having come and seen for themselves the empty tomb, went away again to their home, but Mary remained at the sepulcher weeping and was so intent upon finding the body of her Lord that she had neither eyes nor ears for even holy angels, and when He Himself spoke to her she did not know Him, but supposed Him to be the gardener. She loved intensely, but grief because of unbelief blinded her.

The love of God is the greatest thing we ever heard of, but on our part love is not always the greatest thing, for without faith it is impossible to please Him (Heb. xi, 6), and in Mary and the other women who bought the spices we see how blindly and fruitlessly love apart from faith may act. Faith, which worketh by love, is the true method of serving God and one another. The perfect picture is work of faith, labor of love and patience of hope (Gal. v, 6, 13; 1 Thess. 1, 3). His first resurrection word is: "Why weepest thou? Whom seekest thou?" And it is a good word for every weeping, disconsolate one. So also is His word to the disciples that same evening, "Why are ye troubled, and why do thoughts arise in your hearts?" (Luke xxiv, 38). He Himself is the remedy for all trouble and sorrow of heart, even as He said, "Let not your heart be troubled; believe God; believe me." He called her by name, and that seems to have opened her eyes. We are reminded of Isa. xlii, 1, "Fear not, for I have redeemed thee; I have called thee by thy name; thou art mine." See also Ex. xxxiii, 12.

Much has been said and written as to why He refused to allow Mary to touch Him when a little later on the same morning He allowed the other women to hold Him by the feet and worship Him (Matt. xxviii, 9). I am content to accept His own reason given in few words, "For I am not yet ascended to my Father," and to believe that between the time of His meeting Mary and the other women He had ascended and returned. The ritual of the great day of atonement explains why she could not touch Him till He had ascended.

The last verses of our lesson tell of His appearance that evening to the disciples as they were assembled with closed doors for fear of the Jews. No door was opened for Him, yet He suddenly stood in the midst. In our glorified bodies we, too, shall pass through doors and walls without hindrance and go and come like lightning even as the angels now do. His word to them is ever His word to His people, "Peace be unto you," for all His thoughts to His own are thoughts of peace.

Note in verses 21-23 that all believers are sent in His name to proclaim the forgiveness of sins through His precious blood (Luke xxiv, 47). As the Father gave Him the words to speak, so He gives us the words and the same Holy Spirit and authorizes us to go in His name with His message (John xlii, 40; Matt. x, 20; Jer. i, 7-9; Ex. ix, 12; Rev. xxii, 17).

More Double Track

Writing in The Raleigh Post of yesterday, Mr. J. C. Caddell foresees the time when trains running between Greensboro and Charlotte will dash through a continuous city, and says that the next ninety-nine-year lease of the North Carolina Railroad by the Southern will call for four tracks instead of one. So, indeed, it will be; and this reminds us of the agreeable statement in the Washington correspondence of The Post of yesterday that a force of hands will tomorrow begin grading on the double track between Greensboro and High Point. It is a continuing wonder how the Southern Railway contrives to handle so many trains, passenger and freight, on a single track, between Greensboro and Charlotte, with so few accidents, and a continuing cause of congratulation to the alert and clear-headed train dispatchers. The Southern is a great system, the most effective developer of the South, and it has not undertaken its double-tracking policy too early. Think of the volume of its traffic fifty, even twenty-five years from now.

FORTIETH MEETING

The 40th Convention of the Kentucky Sunday School Association meets at Somerset, June 7th, 8th and 9th, next. Every county should be represented. Three of the choicest workers of America, besides the choicest speakers of our own state will be on the program.

The people of Somerset are as hospitable a people as can be found in the State, but naturally their capacity to entertain is limited, and in order that no one may be shut out who desires to go, our State Executive Committee will provide entertainment at hotels and boarding houses for all over the number the people can entertain in their homes. If it therefore becomes necessary for the State Committee to charge each delegate asking for entertainment $1.00. This is a small amount and no delegate should consider it a hardship to pay it. If it should not be needed for entertainment it will go into the state treasury.

A special train will leave Louisville at 10 a. m. June 7, and arrive at Somerset 4:10 p. m.

SPLendid WELCOME

FOR MEN WHO WEAR GRAY

Greatest Reunion in History Is Promised By Louisville People.

Louisville is making elaborate preparations for the coming reunion of Confederate veterans which will be held there June 14-16.

Nothing will be left undone in order to the comfort and entertainment of the "boys in gray," and they are allowed to spend no money in the city.

Mayor Granger has promised to have the city in perfect sanitary order, and has decreed that Louisville shall be decorated as never before in its history.

Electric light arches will be erected all over the city and from each arch will be suspended, in his letters, the name of a hero of the cause.

Twenty bands will be distributed at the various headquarters and will be constantly playing.

The mammoth Horseshow building erected by the Confederates at Louisville for the reunion of 1863, has been enlarged to double its former capacity, and is now the largest building in the state.

It will be the general headquarters and all the meetings will be held there.

Breckinridge Castleman, will committee of 100 on entertainment has planned a barbecue to be held at Shawnee Park at which 10,000 persons will be entertained and following an English custom there will be a garden party for sponsors, men of honor and their friends.

Then will come the gorgeous speaker's ball in the horseshow building where 15,000 spectators can witness the brilliant spectacle.

There will be something doing every hour during the reunion in the way of entertainment for the veterans, except while they are asleep. Of course there is no desire to interrupt the regular proceedings of the association, but these pleasures and recreations will be provided and will be at the disposal of the visitors.

It will be a season of the year when Louisville is at its best. The park will be open with myriad forms of entertainment and the theaters will be in full blast. In addition, excursions up and down the river will be arranged.

Louisville boasts of five beautiful parks, where nature has shown her handiwork of her happiest mood. Man has aided to increase the pleasures. These are Fountain Park, Shawnee, Cherokee, Jacobs and Central parks. They will be alive with the varied forms of entertainment found at such resorts.

The five theaters of the city will all have attractions during the week. Several four deck steamers from Cincinnati have been chartered for the reunion and will be used as pleasure boats. Land excursions to various points of interest in and about Louisville will also be arranged.

And all of this will be free to the visiting Confederate veterans. Just as the gray they wear in their pants of nobility, so will the official reunion badge be passport and open the way to everything within the gates of Louisville.
