BIG DEAL CLOSED.

North American Buys U. S. Gas, Coal and Coke Company.

OTHER MINING NEWS!

There has been closed the deal which has been undergoing negotiation for the past few weeks, whereby the North American Coal company of New York buys the properties of the United States Gas, Coal and Coke company, that maintains a large plant here at the foot of Ohio street. The consideration is not known, but is up in the millions. Heretofore Thomas A. Nevins of Newark, N. J., has controlled the U. S. company, which includes the local plant, which at Memphis and Sturgis, Ky., fine steamboats and 20,000 acres of coal land around Sturgis. Nevins only recently bought the fields near Sturgis from other owners but these go in on the deal. The North American company is capitalized at $175,000,000, and disposes from out of the city yesterday of the mammoth deal. Pierpont Morgan is president of the company buying the United States out. Under the new management G. M. Budde, will continue in charge of the local office. It is understood more boats will be bought by the new owners, all the branches enlarged, and the company's interests placed in first class condition.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Gracie Mining company, at Stacey, the following directors were elected: J. T. Wall, R. S. Stowe, G. H. Medley, Gus Breathitt, Gip Watkins, Lewis Weston, Dr. Darwin Bell, T. Watkins, Harry Gaines, B. J. Wall, Chas. Cox, G. H. Stowe, and Thomas S. Shaw. The following officers were elected: President, G. H. Stowe; Vice President, Gip Watkins; Treasurer, Dr. D. E. Bell; Secretary, J. T. Wall; Superintendent of Mines, B. J. Wall. It was decided to sell 200,000 shares of stock to purchase machinery and develop the company's property. —Courier-Journal.

Mr. Reed, who has just resigned his position as Superintendent for the Kentucky Fluor Spar company, has now taken charge of the Senator mines near Princeton, for some Louisville parties. This mine is noted for its richness in lead and zinc, but has suffered from the want of a good superintendent to run it. We feel sure now that under the management of Mr. Reed this mine will prosper and become one of the best paying mines in the district.

Otho Fowler and S. R. Baldwin, capitalists of Kuttawa, are developing some fine spar property on the new McKenny farm near Frances. This is in the district made famous already by "The Mat. News," "The Pogue," "The Theater," and other paying mines. It is said that the quality of the spar they are producing has not been surpassed in the district.

Major Clement started his mine, the Bitter Apple, last Monday. The major will work his mine night and day. He has a fine vein of zinc in shaft now, but he is going to cross and try to cut a vein of fluor spar.

The Columbia and Mary Belle mines are on a boom. Watkins and Neher are running their machine night and day, even to the washer and spar mines. They keep a large number of wagons running daily.

A black damp has run the miners out of the Matthews mine; Mr. Clem has ordered a fan to be put in the place and overcome the gas, thus give the miners pure air to breathe.

Carrville correspondent says: During the week work at the School-Dees mines has gone on day and night. Strenuous efforts are being made to get the water out of the shaft and keep it out.

Kentucky Fluor Spar company has built a new slush washer on the property; they are mining and a large amount of spar daily.

Marion Zinc company has just opened a new mine on the Polk place, the Redd property. Mr. Davidson is general manager.

Mr. J. M. Persons and R. D. Drescher have leased the Felix Cox mineral right near Sheridan, for the purpose of mining fluor spar and have started men to work.

Mr. W. B. Trumbo, of Louisville, Ky., was in Marion last week. Mr. Trumbo was here for the purpose of examining and probably opening up some mineral land he has in this section.

Messrs Miller and Shease of Louisville, owners of the Commodore mines, were here last week working hard putting in boilers, compressors and other machinery at their mines.

John Sheas, of Louisville, one of our mining men, was in the city last week several days. He has recently acquired a fine mineral property next to Pittsburgh Mining Company lease on which some extensive mining is being done.

The Show is Coming.

Sun Brothers World's Progressive Railroad Shows will soon be here up all their own grandeur and splendor, showing on 15th of June.

Among the array of talent with this excellent amusement establishment we notice the great Equilibratic Wonders, the two Sun Brothers, known all over creation as originators and exemplifiers of the most intricate and dextrous acts of acrobatic sports, creme de la creme of Juggling, Balancing Wonder-works; in addition to this famous duo we also find Miss Ella Alfonda, the intrepid equestrienne; Mr. Walter Ashburn, the principal somersault rider; Master George Sun, the young Jockey pony rider; Pror. Ed. Kraut, trick ponies, 6 in number; Mlle. Fernandez and her team of educated dogs, coccatoos and carrier pigeons, the great leaping of dogs, Rox and Bettis; Mlle. Le Grande on the revolving globe, up spirals and inclines; Lambert on the high wire; Mlle. Sebastine on the flying cloud rings; Les Freres Obiene, the three musical comedies; the Brothers Marion, in puzzling acts of contortion; Billy Puzell, the clown and many other great and distinguished novelties and features which space forbids mentioning. This is surely one of the biggest shows on the road and one that everybody can attend. The parade takes place at 12 o'clock, noon. Doors open at 1 and 7 p. m. Performance commences one hour later.

To My Policy Holders.

I have no doubt but what you have heard a great many newspaper stories about the Equitable Life Insurance Society. Some of them are true and some are not. There is nothing wrong with her finances, it is simply a little misunderstanding with the officers of the company. As far as I am able to find out the company is on a solid foundation and would advise all policy holders to continue to pay their premiums and hold their policy. It is true that I will in a few days, sever my connection with the company, not because I am afraid of the company, but simply because I have been promoted from a local agent to a district manager, with the old reliable Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn. A company that writes all the latest forms of policies, such as 13, 14, 18 and 19 pay, with annual dividend and automatic extension of time from the first year.

Yours respectfully,
ROBT. L. FLANARY.

Married at Clinton

Luther Farmer and his bonnie bride arrived in the city Wednesday morning from Clinton, Ky., the home of the bride, where the ceremony took place Tuesday. Mrs. Farmer was Miss Mary Smith, the daughter of the well known evangelist, J. J. Smith, and has usually attended the Hurricane camp meeting with her father. She is a talented cornetist and is a young woman of striking personal appearance. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel A. Farmer, of this city, but for several years has resided in Owensboro, where he is employed in the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue. He has fine business qualifications and many friends in this state. They will reside at Owensboro.

To Leave Marion.

There will be general regret among all the people when it becomes known that Lon Johnson and his estimable little family are to leave Marion. But the die is cast and the matter has been finally settled by the Illinois Central R. R., giving Mr. Johnson a station which pays a considerable larger salary and he will leave Marion as soon as the transfer can be made and his successor appointed and installed. It seems that Marion is having more than her share of bad luck this year, and losing Lon Johnson is a personal loss to most of the citizens of the vicinity.

Reception

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Haynes have issued invitations to a reception to be given at their beautiful home on North College street this evening, from 7:30 to 9:30, to meet Mr. and Mrs. William Oliver Tucker. The function will be largely attended by the elite of the city.

Will Not Accept.

Prof. Dudley of Pembroke, Ky., who was chosen as principal of the Marion graded school, has notified the trustees that he can not accept the place as his friends at Pembroke refuse to consider his resignation there, but on the contrary demanded that he remain there, and in order to insure his doing so offered him a large increase in salary. No one has yet been selected to fill the place.

S. S. Teachers' Training Class.

Jesus remained upon earth forty days after his resurrection, showing by many "infallible proofs" that he was risen from the dead. There were three appearances after his ascension. He appeared to Stephen, who saw him at the right hand of God as he was being martyred. He appeared to Paul on the way to Damascus, and the testimony of that apostle is, "Last of all he was seen of me also as one born out of due time." The third appearance was to John on the Isle of Patmos. That vision of Christ embraces the lesson for next Sunday.

OUTLINE OF LESSON.

- I. John's wonderful call.
  - 1 The time.
  - 2 His state of mind.
  - 3 The voice.
  - 4 His turning to see.
- II. The sublime vision.
  - 1 The seven candlesticks—churches
  - 2 Christ in the midst.
  - a His glorious apparel.
  - b White hair—wisdom.
  - c Eyes as a flame of fire—omnipotence, seeing all things.
  - d His feet like shining brass—omnipresent, walking in every place.
  - e Noise as the sound of many waters, his providence speaking to the nations.
  - 3 Seven stars—pastors of the churches.
- III. John overwhelmed with the vision.
  - 1 The comforting assurance.
  - 2 The message to the churches.

LIVING THE LESSON.

- 1 The vision of Christ is glorious. Have I beheld him by faith as my saviour?
- 2 The church house is lighted at night by individual light. Each one contributes to the lighting. The church shines by the light of its members. Am I letting my light shine?

QUESTIONS FOR RESEARCH.

- 1 How many appearances did Christ make between his resurrection and ascension?
- 2 How many after his ascension?
- 3 To whom?
- 4 Who is the author of Revelation?
- 5 When was it written?
- 6 How long a period of time elapsed between the ascension and the writing of this book?
- 7 When was this revelation made known to John?
- 8 Where is Patmos?
- 9 What kind of an island is it?
- 10 Why was John there?
- 11 On what day was it?
- 12 What day is the Lord's day?
- 13 Where were these churches?
- 14 Why seven and no more?
- 15 Explain the symbols of the lesson.

KING ALFONSO

Narrowly Escapes Being the Victim of a Deadly Bomb.

Paris, June 1.—2 p. m.—An anarchist threw a bomb at the royal carriage containing King Alfonso and President Loubet as they were leaving the opera after a gala performance.

The bomb exploded without injuring either the President or the king. Soldiers belonging to the escort were killed.

A large number of arrests were made, including the person who is supposed to have thrown the bomb, and three persons suspected of complicity in the plot, as the latter were seen under the archway of the Louvre with a destructive engine a few minutes before the occurrence of the explosion.

The President and King, accompanied by a distinguished party of officials, and diplomats attended a gala performance of the opera, where the greatest enthusiasm prevailed. After the performance the party entered carriages and proceeded. Just a few yards before reaching the Rue Rivoli a man sprang forward with his arm raised in the air, and before the cordon of police could prevent him he without uttering a word threw the missile in the direction of the carriage. The police immediately rushed toward him. At that moment a deafening explosion occurred. Cries from the crowd were heard and a scene of excitement began, the crowd surging to and fro. Soldiers were seen to fall, but as the flash from the bomb died out it was observed that the King and President had not been struck and their carriage proceeded on its way.

The bomb passed over the carriage and struck the shoulder of a curiasier, then fell to the ground, where it exploded, the fragments striking the horses of soldiers, causing them to bolt and throw their riders. Fragments of the bomb also struck five persons. One of the horses of the escort was killed outright and six others were lying around wounded.

Then the carriage drove to the palace D'Orsay, hemmed in by troops and cavalry.

Immediately following the explosion a man individual was seen to dash into the crowd but men seized him before he could escape and handed him over to the police. He is believed to have been the author of the outrage. Many other arrests were effected.

Throughout the night excited and dangerous crowds remained outside the cordon of police and soldiers that was drawn about the scene of the explosion, and where officials from the municipal laboratory are searching for fragments of the bomb.

King Alfonso of Spain continues to enjoy the festivities which France has prepared in his honor, apparently undismayed by the anarchistic attempt on his life when on his way with President Loubet from the gala performance last night.

Accompanied by President Loubet the young King left Paris this morning for camp to review troops of the Sixth army corps.

Everywhere he was the recipient of tremendous ovations as yesterday's outrage evoked a national sentiment of affection and sympathy for the young monarch and universal reprobation for the dastardly attempt on his life.

The King arose early and made anxious inquiries concerning the condition of those injured by the explosion and he was assured they are all alive.

Several arrests were made and the police continued to investigate the outrage.

Echoes of the Sea Fight.

Nagasaki, May 31.—There is little hope entertained of Rojevskensky's recovery.

Washington, June 1.—Rough estimates made of the Russian losses in the battle fought in the sea of Japan exclusive of nearly 4,000 prisoners, vary from seven to nine thousand. It is feared that the majority perished. Calculating the complements of the sunken and captured ships at upwards of ten thousand men, remain unaccounted for.

Tokio, June 1.—A Japanese fleet is to be sent to invade Europe, according to a report current today. It is pointed out that such a fleet would meet with no resistance until the enemy's country should be reached, as Russia's sea power exists no longer.

Such an invading armada could approach within bombarding distance of Kronstadt, the port of St. Petersburg, and by forcing that stronghold to surrender could threaten the Czar's own capital with his guns.

A high naval official declared here today that this is the strongest play Japan can make to cause the enemy to sue for peace.

There is no doubt the Japanese are perfectly capable of seeking such revenge, not only upon Russia but the whole of Europe. One can imagine the feelings which would be aroused in Europe by the appearance of a Japanese fleet in the waters of the old world.

Similar feelings were excited in July of 1898, when the United States announced its purpose to send a battle fleet to Spain to bombard the cities of that kingdom. Such a thing sent a thrill along the spine of the continental powers which could not view with equanimity the invasion of their waters by a non-European nation.

This feeling would be even more pronounced in the case of Japan. The prospective appearance of an American fleet in Spanish waters caused the application of such strong pressure that the Madrid government were forced to ask for peace.

Representations are now being made to Russia by the various powers in regard to the advisability of making overtures to Japan for a termination of the war. These overtures will become insistent demands it is believed in diplomatic circles here, if Japan should order Admiral Togo to proceed to the Baltic sea.

Echoes of a Cyclone.

SNYDER, OKLA., May 31, 1905.—ED. PRESS: Having received letters from my old home at Iron Hill and other parts of the county, asking for an account of the cyclone that passed through here on May 10, and thinking that a correct account of the storm by an eye witness might be of interest to the readers of the Press, I beg leave to answer through the columns of your valuable paper.

Snyder was a prosperous little town of a thousand inhabitants, situated in the southern part of Kiowa county and just south of the Wichita mountains, in the Otter creek valley, one of the prettiest and most fertile valleys to be found anywhere. Two lines of the Frisco system cross here and it being a division point for both roads a ten stall round house, a coal chute and water tank was located at this place.

The Wagner company and Burnett Bros. had both built fine large cotton gins at Snyder and a cotton compress had just been put in by a Texas company. Other enterprises were coming and the town seemed to have a bright future.

May 10 was a beautiful, clear, sunny day and unusually warm until about six o'clock, when a cloud raised in the southwest. I was at my place on Otter creek, five miles south west of Snyder, and watched it from the start. I felt uneasy for I never before saw such a terrible looking cloud. It kept up a continuous roar such I imagine as will be heard when the Russian and Japanese fleets meet.

After while the clouds seemed to part in the middle and a clear strip of sky could be seen from bottom to top. Presently they came together again and formed a funnel-shaped cloud, at the same time there were three or four tremendous claps of thunder.

Starting in Green county, about 40 miles from Snyder, it swept a path one half mile wide through the country, destroying every building, killing every animal and every human being in its path, except those who sought safety in their caves.

Its course was northeast and it traveled faster than any train. It missed me about three quarters of a mile, killing three people within that distance of me. It hit Snyder at the northwest corner and left it at the northeast corner.

On going into town the next morning the scene that met my gaze was horrifying. Only a few shattered buildings at one side of the townsite marked the place where the evening before had stood a beautiful and busy town. I saw people carrying dead bodies into one of those wrecked store buildings. I stepped inside and to my surprise there lay two rooms full of corpses the entire length of the building, sixty in all, with clothes half torn off, and smeared with mud till they scarcely resembled human beings.

Everything was quiet. No one said much but continued to search for dead bodies. I joined them and before the search was ended one hundred and thirteen dead bodies were found. Other buildings were turned into hospitals where nearly a hundred injured persons were being cared for.

The weather continued so wet that it was nearly impossible to bury the dead. Relief trains were sent from all the neighboring towns carrying doctors, nurses, provisions and clothing, and in a short time all were being properly cared for.

A relief fund was started, which up to the present time amounts to $22,000, and the town will be rebuilt. Soon after leaving Snyder the cloud raised and nothing more was seen of it except that pieces of furniture was dropped in the country nearly twenty miles from the town, and papers were carried into other counties.

A piano was carried eight miles and set down whole. It was a powerful wind and something I don't care to witness again. The weather has been stormy and wet all spring, too wet for crops to do well.

Thanking you for the numbers of the Press you sent, I will close by wishing the paper and its readers all success.

Yours truly,
JOHN A. WOOD.

In the Indian Territory.

According to Josiah Flint, who is now a resident there the Indian Territory is not a place to shun. Writing in the June Cosmopolitan of town life in that part of the country he says:

"For hospitality, ready assistance in time of trouble and distress, and opportunities to found substantial farm homes the Indian Territory can not be outdone. What the United States Government had in mind when it gave away this garden spot of the southwest to Indians who do not appear to want farms, is beyond the power of imagination of the white Territorians to explain. The probability is that the United States Government did not realize the magnitude of its generosity." The article is illustrated with pen and ink sketches of typical Territorial characters and scenes.

THE PLOT THAT FAILED.

BY MAUD LOWRY.

John Pendleton was a widower at last. I say at last, not because said John Pendleton had any desire to be a widower, far from it. He was very much devoted to his dear departed helpmate—but I say it because she had threatened so long to leave him so and had succeeded only in the last week.

Yesterday they had taken her from her home and laid her to rest in the little village churchyard and her bereaved husband was now sitting alone and sad in the desolate home, thinking drearily of the events that had led to the death of his dear wife, and his sad bereavement. Mrs. Pendleton was very stout, and although she complained often and threatened as I have before stated to leave Mr. Pendleton a widower, he firmly believed that he had kept her with him as long as he had by making her believe that fat folks did not die. She of course, protested against his version of the matter, and yet, so great was her confidence in his wisdom that he believed she might still be with him if she had not been undecieved.

It came about in this way. News came to town that Jack Thompson, from the country, had died, and Jack also was fat. When Mr. Pendleton heard of it he said that his wife must not learn of it and although he did not tell her himself, he neglected to warn his neighbors against the act, and so it happened that their next door neighbor, the widow Smith, called over and imparted the news to his wife, and when he came in from his office his wife greeted him with the intelligence that she had told him all the time that fat folks could die.

To be sure that was quite twelve months ago, but Mr. Pendleton felt that he could never forgive the meddlesome widow for being the indirect cause of his dear wife's death.

While he was thinking along this line he fell to studying why the Widow Smith had done this vile and cruel deed—what motive she had in so doing. When suddenly an idea came to him that made him spring to his feet and clench his fists in great wrath. "At last," he muttered, "at last I have solved the mystery. Scheming Widow that you are, you did it because you wanted me yourself. But my fair Widow, for once you will see your plots fail," and shaking his fist toward the Widow's defenseless cottage he hissed, "I say your schemes shall fail for once. You shall not have me, I vow it. You shall not have me!"

The weeks went slowly by and ripened into months and the busy cares of his office together with the soothing hand of time partly healed the wound made by the death of his companion, but there was still a feeling of enmity at his heart against the Widow, who had caused all his woe.

A year rolled by and as Mr. Pendleton was still in his prime, he was persuaded by his friends to give up his solitary life and mingle more with the people. And when at a reception at the home of a friend, his hostess bade him take the Widow Smith out to supper. He thought as he made his way to her through the crowd, "I see she has begun her intrigues. No doubt she hinted to the hostess that it would be very agreeable with her, etc. I guess you think you have got me now my Fair Schemer, (for of course I will have to make myself agreeable tonight,) but we shall see who wins in this little game." And although he felt very bitter towards her he felt that his duty to his hostess bade him remain by her side the rest of the evening.

It must here be confessed that Mrs. Smith was a very handsome young widow, but of course, all her charms were lost upon our wronged Hero and yet they talked quite amiable all the evening and many were the knowing glances cast in their direction.

At the close of the evening Mr. Pendleton felt it to be his duty to escort the Widow home. It would be ungentlemanly to let her go unescorted, when he lived next door, and he would not be ungallant because of a—well perhaps, unintentional wrong—we should not judge.

Two evenings later as Mr. Pendleton was on his way home from his office he came up with the Widow Smith just returning from shopping and she carried several packages. He very politely offered to carry her bundles and walked by her side to her gate and was cordially invited in to tea. Of course he knew not how to refuse, and besides this was so much nicer than taking his tea alone, that accepting a very kind invitation he very often went over and drank his tea at the little table presided over by the bright face and pretty white hands of the Widow Smith.

It began to dawn upon Mr. Pendleton that it would be much more pleasant to have some one to preside over his table at home, and the more he thought upon the subject the more feasible the idea seemed until at last he decided to put his fortune to the test, and so, one night he walked over fully decided upon his course of action, his little speech already made and upon the end of his tongue. He kept repeating it over and over to himself as he strolled along. He was faultlessly arrayed and he felt quite satisfied with himself and the world.

Mrs. Smith met him with a smile and they talked quite pleasantly for an hour, and then at exactly the right time Mr. Pendleton began: "Mrs. Smith I came over tonight—ahem!—I came over, that is," (Mr. Pendleton's speech had forever fled.) "I came over tonight." Mrs. Smith could not suppress a smile, "that is quite evident," she replied.

He made another effort. "You see I came over tonight." "Certainly," she smiled. "I have been thinking, ahem! Mrs. Smith will you marry me," he blurted out recklessly. Mrs. Smith looked duly surprised. "Marry you," she exclaimed, "Why Mr. Pendleton, I am very much surprised, and grieved, I hope you do not think I have encouraged you, that is I hope I have not led you to believe that I would marry again. No, Mr. Pendleton, I shall never marry again. I hope you will not." But Mr. Pendleton had shot out the door and was half way down the walk. When he reached his own gate he turned and shaking his fist menacingly at the widow's innocent cottage, he muttered between his teeth, "Ah! You scheming Widow, I said from the beginning that you should not have me, and I repeat it, YOU SHALL NOT!"

The Lesser One.

TO J. H. O. BY O. G. W.

A single star, companioning the moon,
Made answer to a prayer of mine
last night,
Disclosing by her patient, steady
fast light
The way to walk with men at busy noon;
To walk with men and wear the precious boon
Of long-knit comradeship with greater souls.
Yet keys my own soul mine, nor pay the tolls
Of sundered self the great demand so soon.

Dear friend, have I not loved thee
with such love
As man may yield alone to those above,
Still bending to thy will's supremacy?
Yet God gave me also a soul to keep,
A lamp to tend, as in the moonlight deep
He set that star to shine steadily.

About Florida.

The following clipping is taken from the Democrat, published at Dade City, Florida:

"The crowning social event of the season was given at the Dade City anniversary, last Monday evening.

The following guests were present:
Misses Carrie O'Neil, Elvira Carter,

Staley, Edna Stubbs and Mrs. Eyer;
Messrs Chas. Tourcheon, Courtney
Clark, Boone Embry, Miles Embry,
J. C. Griffin, Dr. Sistrunk, Ray Mc-Mahan and Cleo Hendley.

Music and games were the order of the evening. One of the most pleasuring features of the evening was the gussing contest, in which all the guests joined. Miss Elvira Carter won the first prize and Miss Isah Staley won the booby prize.

Refreshments being next in order
the boys fished out their girls and repaired to the dining hall, where was spread a delicious repast of ices and cake. "All report a most delightful time.

Veteran Steamboatman

Capt. R. Y. Northern, of Smith-land, Ky., is here this week visiting Mr. Paul J. Northern, who is his great-nephew, says the Sturgis correspondent to the Morganfield Sun.
Capt. Northern is a veteran riverman, having been a boat captain for over forty years, running from Nashville to New Orleans. He owned and commanded the E. Howard, built at Louisville many years ago. This boat ran during the terrible yellow fever scourge when as many as four hundred a day were dying at New Orleans. The Captain is 85 years old, but is very entertaining, taking great pleasure in telling of his many and varied experiences during this fearful epidemic. He will go from here to visit his sister, Mrs. Yeager, and nephew, T. Y. Northern, of Providence, Ky. Capt. Northern called on us, having heard that Rosenheimer had once been a river man himself, and we found him a very pleasant
gentleman, a good conversationalist, with an exceptionally bright memory of the old happy steamboat days.
Captain Northern knew all the great river men of his day who commanded such magnificent steamers as the Robt. E. Lee, the Belle Lee, the Natchez, Vicksburg, Old Hickory, Emma C. Elliott, John Cligore and many others. Capt. Northern was commander of the Howard when she collided with the large side-wheel steamer, Swallow, just forty miles this side of New Orleans. The bow of the Howard plunged through the Swallow's fore deck to her boilers, sinking her instantly with a loss of several lives. The blame of this fearful collision was laid to the Swallow.
The captain says that the day is not

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce T. COCHRAN, of Marion, as a candidate for Representative from the county of Crittenden and Livingston, at the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce LES O. POGUE, of Frances, as a candidate for Sheriff of Crittenden county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Our Democratic friends over in the Kentucky Senatorial district, learning up to the situation, county in the district seems to favor a son and they are trotting him out, regardless of consequences. Over in Lyon county there seems to be several favorite sons and a small scrimmage in primary resulting. Rev. Oliver, teacher and present representative of Lyon county, bolted the convention after a few "apostolic knocks," and may result in a divided delegation from that county. In our neighboring county of Livingston a horse knocked the persimmon the favorite nag, Hon. J. R. Summers receiving 6 instructed votes to George Landrum. Livingstons has no better man than Jim Summers and the Press would be much obliged should he receive the nomination. Calloway county instructed twelve votes to be cast for Conner of Murray, who has developed most strength thus far. It is thought the vote of Livingston will go to Linn after the first ballot, and will doubtless be the nominee, Mr. Murray is a prominent young attorney and should he receive the nomination, which is equivalent to an election.

The question of protection to home industry which has so long been a bone of contention between the two political parties has been settled. The gordian knot was severed by President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft decided to go into the market of the world to buy materials which to construct the Panama Canal. Of course when purchased abroad will be admitted into the United States duty free and is brought into direct competition with the home produced article. Such the case, with what show of expediency can the government compel citizens to pay more for an article than it is willing to pay itself. Verily protection to home industry has saved a mortal wound in the bosom of its friends.

A day ago Admiral Togo visited the two old sea dogs greet other heartily. Admiral Togo complimented his opponent in a fight he had made. He bears no enmity.

Every admirer of bravery will be pleased to learn that the wounds of Admiral Rojesvsky, received in the great sea fight, are not fatal. Amid the general and somewhat unreasoning rejoicing in this country over the brilliant Japanese victory, we should not withhold our meed of praise from the man who handled his fleet so skillfully and led it into the very jaws of death so daringly and so gallantly. Honor to whom honor is due. In defeat, the PRESS doffs its cap to Admiral Rojesvsky, the man.

Would it not be a good idea for the United States to cease building battle ships and turn its attention to torpedo boats.

The Thomas Blackwell Coal and Mining company of Clay, has been boring for No. 9 coal for several days and were rewarded Tuesday by striking the coveted vein at a depth of 252 feet from the surface. The county jail, jailor's residence and other public buildings on that square are to be lighted with electricity. Judge Towery realizes the danger of coal oil lamps being used in the public building, and is looking to that as well as the public convenience. Prisoners in jail should have a light that is safe and one which could be controlled by switch from the outside. Judge Towery is to be commended in providing our efficient jailor with this modern, safe and most economical of all lights.

"Insects are fond of whisky."—Solemn words of an English scientist)
Oh, hapless victims of the jug,
Behold the tipsy Tumble Bug;
Behold the zig zag dragon fly,
The cricket reeling through the rye,
The Jersey Lightning Bug we find
Always with headlight on behind,
The beetle wheels his drunken flight ("Drooning" says Gray; was Thomas right?)

The Yellow Jacket, village wag,
At German picnic gets a jag,
The Doodle Bug likewise offends
A constant scandal to his friends,
The dipsomaniacal Gnat
But seldom knows where he is at,
The June Bug's always on a tear,
(A sober June Bug, what so rare?)
And Lady Bugs—now heaven forbid;
And yet we know that Katydid.
In contrast to this tipsy crew
It gives me great delight to view
The highly moral Water Bug,
Who always shuns the whisky jug,
Far from the crowd's ignoble strife,
He leads a quiet, temperate life.
Of all that's virtuous the type
He stays at home and hits the pipe.
—Puck.

Quality vs. Quantity.
Hard muscles and strong body do not depend on the quantity of food you eat, but on its perfect digestion and proper assimilation. When you take Kodol dyspepsia cure your system gets all the nourishment out of all the food you eat. It digests what you eat regardless of the condition of the stomach and conveys the nutrient properties to the blood and tissues. This builds up and strengthens the entire system. Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia, belching, sour stomach, weak heart, etc. Kodol dyspepsia cure for what is sometimes called America's national disease—dyspepsia—is destined to eventually work a wonderful and lasting benefit to sufferers from this distressing and mind harassing condition. Sold by Woods & Orme.

Break in Vesuvius' Cone.
Naples, June 2.—The upper cone of Vesuvius cracked last night on the north side and emitted three wide streams of lava. In less than an hour they ran 500 meters and reached the Nimborio Hill, which protects the observatory. The detonations now have ceased.
Owing to the direction of the lava
the villages on the slopes were threatened. The spectacle at night was magnificent, despite the foggy weather. The emissions of lava already have diminished and the stream has been making less progress than it did at first. It now covers the old lava of 1895.
The central crater is throwing up noiselessly dense puffs of smoke. The phenomena indicate that the eruption will exceed in violence any other of recent date.—Pad. Register.

Has Stood the Test 25 Years.

Hon. T. Butler Improving.
In a letter received from Mrs. T.
E. Butler she stated that her husband, Hon. T. E. Butler was somewhat improved in health. The letter was of date May 25th, and stated that Mr. Butler was now able to be propped up in bed for a short while at a time, and could take some nourishment, and hopes were entertained for his ultimate recovery.

Furious Fighting.
"For seven years," writes Geo.
W. Hoffman, of Harper, Wash. "I had a bitter battle, with chronic stomach and liver trouble, but at last I won, and cured my diseases, by the use of Electric Bitters. I unhesitatingly recommend them to all, and don't intend in the future to be without them in the house. They are certainly a wonderful medicine, to have cured such a bad case as mine." Sold, under guarantee to do

In a Kentucky Post Office.
A postal card that was not addressed was put in the post office this week, and in the hope of attracting the attention of the writer it was tacked up at the delivery window, the written side in evidence. Evidently it was a report on a horse trade and read as follows:
"Well Jim I tell you the truth I had rather have the yellow poney the big horse he had two fits while I had him and that aint the worst of it
I sold him for a song."—Greenville

C. B. LOYD, Fredonia.

Another Attempt to Escape.
James Cowan, James Wells, Ed.
White and Will Proctor, negroes in jail at Smithland on the charge of murder, made a desperate attempt to escape jail Friday afternoon about 4 o'clock, but were discovered by Jailer H. T. Threlkeld, just in time to prevent the second escape within three weeks.

The prisoners had broken open their cell doors with an iron pipe and were prizing on the jail doors when the noise was heard by the jailer.
Three weeks ago the prisoners escaped by filing off two of the bars at the jail, but were recaptured at Casey-ville and Owensboro.

A Fearful Fate.
It is a fearful fate to have to endure the terrible torture of piles. "I can truthfully say," writes Harry Colson, of Masonville, Ia., "that for

Save 1-2 Your Paint Bills
By using Weir's Bavarian White Lead, the most durable and therefore the most economical lead or paint made. It has zinc in it. The zinc gives the paint a beautiful gloss and prevents the lead from destroying the linseed oil which is the life of ALL PAINT. "Pure Lead" by itself will eat and destroy the linseed oil, thus causing the paint to become porous or open and dust off. Weir's Bavarian White Lead is better and cheaper than mixed paints because one-half of every gallon of mixed paint is linseed oil for which you pay $1.50 per gallon and get an old, stale, unsound linseed oil. Buy fresh oil from your dealer's barrel at its true value. 4 1-2 gallons linseed oil and 100 pounds of Weir's Lead will make 6 1-2 gallons best paint ready to use, that will cost you no more than other standard brands of lead and much less than mixed paint and will last twice as long as either. Write D. T.
Weir White Lead Co., St. Louis, Mo., for their booklet "Facts About White Lead." Weir's Bavarian White Lead is for sale by Cochran & Pickens, Marion, Ky.

Help The Press.
BY F. L. A.

A line or two, for the Crittenden
Press,
May help a little, no one knows,
Will venture then, though we have to guess,
At results—but harmless risk I suppose.
Let's give it a boom, or try it anyhow;
As it has arisen, to a second life,
Rising from it's ashes, it makes its bow,
To each old patron, and his wife,
Tendering it's aid, to neighbor and friend,
With all of it's capacity to serve Never more ready to receive than to lend
But lack of cash tonic, may weaken it's nerve.
Send in the tonic, new names, and
the news,
In this, you will be helping others
Just think a moment, you can't refuse,
For all men you know are brothers.
Then help the Press, I know you can Hold it up—it's helping you to stand,
It aids the cause of every man,
Rich and poor and tiller of the land.

Better than testimonials is the guarantee under which Dr. Carlstedt's German Liver Powder is sold. If it does not relieve and cure you it will cost you nothing, so go at once and procure the remedy and take along this guarantee.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's catarrh cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Sold by druggists, 75c.

A Living Monument.

If we were to assemble all those who have been cured of heart disease by Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, and who would to-day be in their graves had not Dr. Miles' been successful in perfecting this wonderful heart specific, they would populate a large city.

What a remarkable record—a breathing, thinking, moving monument, composed of human lives,—that for which every other earthly possession is sacrificed.

The Miles Medical Co. receive thousands of letters from these people like the following:

"I feel indebted to the Dr. Miles' Heart Cure for my life. I desire to call the attention of others suffering as I did to this remarkable remedy for the heart. For a long time I had suffered from shortness of breath after any little exertion, palpitation of the heart and at times terrible pain in the region of the heart, so serious that I feared that I would some time drop dead upon the street. One day I read one of your circulars, and immediately went to my druggist and purchased two bottles of the Heart Cure, and took it according to directions, with the result that I am entirely cured. Since then I never miss an opportunity to recommend this remedy to my friends who have heart trouble; in fact I am a traveling advertisement for I am widely known in this locality."
Manager of Lebanon Democrat, Nashville, Tenn.
Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold by your druggist; he will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit you. If it fails he will refund your money.
