BUSY WEEK AT THE ALTER OF HYMEN

Several of Marion's Prominent Young People are Married.

MISS CLARK SURPRISES HER FRIENDS

Miss Hortense Finley Weds at Paducah, and Ernest Husky Takes unto Himself a Better Half.

Miss Cora Clark left here Monday on the 11:15 train for Princeton, accompanied by her brother, Wm. H. Clark. Upon arriving at Princeton she was met by Oscar Gill, a leading merchant of Milburn, I. T., and without delay they proceeded to the hymenial altar and were made man and wife. Miss Clark had spent the winter at Milburn where her brother, Dr. J. J. Clark, resides. But few, if any, here knew that she had a sweetheart there and it is needless to say that the news of the wedding was no little surprise to her many friends here.

Mrs. Gill is a most worthy and attractive young lady and belongs to one of the leading families of this city. She is the daughter of the late and well remembered Dr. J. R. Clark, and resided with her mother in their residence on Depot street.

The groom is a prominent business man of Milburn, I. T., and has many valuable qualities. He should congratulate himself for being so fortunate as to come to Kentucky and claim one of her most popular daughters.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Gill left for Louisville to attend the Confederate reunion, after which they will go to Milburn to reside.

Monday evening at 9 o'clock Miss Hortense Finley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Finley, of this city, and Geo. W. Bougher, of Fort Wayne, Ind., were united in marriage at the residence of W. G. Whitefield on Kentucky avenue and Seventh street, in Paducah, where, for some time, the bride has been cashier in the Lagomarsino Hotel.

The bride is well known and has many friends. The groom is a young business man, with a pleasing address and is connected with the largest independent cigar factory in Cincinnati.

The happy couple arrived in this city Tuesday, and after spending a few days with the bride's parents will leave today for St. Louis, where they will reside.

Mr. Ernest Husky and Miss Ollie McConnell were united in marriage at the home of Rev. R. T. McConnell, at Tolu, last Sunday. They were accompanied by Howard McConnell and Miss Lilly Duval.

The bride is the daughter of T. J. McConnell, who recently ran a boarding house here, and a very popular young lady.

The groom has been known here for several years, and is a valued employee of Adams & Pierce, the machinists. The couple has many friends who wish them long, successful lives. They will reside at the residence of Mrs. Nina Howerton, on Main street.

In Honor of Mr. and Mrs. Tucker.

One of the most notable events in the social history of Marion was the reception given Thursday evening, June 8th, by Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Haynes, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Tucker. About 125 of the 200 invited guests thronged the rooms of the charming home, on North College street, between the hours of 7:30 and 9:30.

Upon entering the guests received a cordial greeting from the host and hostess, who were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Nunn, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. W. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Jno. L. Nunn.

The parlors were tastefully decorated with roses, ferns and potted plants, arranged by Mrs. Tucker.

After chatting awhile in the parlors the guests made their way to the dining room, where the color scheme was pink; the pink shades on the electric lights and the candles at the corners of the tables, adding much to the beauty of the arrangement. Pretty waitresses flitted about, satisfying the needs of every one, in the way of refreshments. This department was presided over by Misses Dell Barnes, Fannie Gray, Leaffa Wilborn and Ruby James.

The guests were invited through the evening to pass upstairs to view the wedding presents, which occupied tables in the halls, consisting of china, silverware, cut glass and linen.

About 9:30 the younger guests assembled in the dining room to cut the bride cake. This ceremony was concluded to the satisfaction of all parties, unless perhaps it might be the unlucky holder of the darning needle.

This closed the evening's enjoyment and the guests departed, wishing many years of happiness and success to the young couple who had so conspicuous a beginning in married life.

Union Services.

The local pastors of the various churches had a meeting Tuesday afternoon at which it was agreed that during the summer season union services would be held on Sunday evening, the pastors taking turn about in filling the pulpits and rotating the appointments from one church to another. At present there is no pastor in charge of the Christian church, but is likely that when one is secured the plan will meet with his approval. Next Sunday evening the services will be held at the Cumberland Presbyterian church, conducted by Rev. J. R. McAfee.

Bless of Consumption.

Mrs. Charles Butler, of the Crittenden Springs neighborhood, died at her home Tuesday evening of consumption. She was the daughter of Columbus and Elizabeth Fritts, and was beloved by all who knew her.

The funeral took place at Crooked Creek church Wednesday morning. She is survived by her husband and two children.

PROSPECTS FOR OIL IN THIS DISTRICT

An Exchange Thinks It Can be Found in Webster County.

BIG COAL DEAL CLOSED AT STURGIS

Paducah Sun Thinks Paducah-Smithland-Marion Electric Railway Would Pay.

The writer has frequently expressed the opinion that petroleum could be found in certain sections of the county and has often wondered why some one did not come along who would organize a company and make a test. An exchange, in speaking of the possibilities of the adjoining county, Webster, as an oil field, says:

"That rich deposits of oil abound somewhere in this section there can be no doubt. It has been found in various places in Webster, Hopkins and McLean counties, but the promoters have never reaped much reward from their experiments."

"It is said that we have better surface indications here in Providence than any of the places at which tests have been, and the prospects are very flattering to strike oil and perhaps gas."

"The lands of S. Hicks and Ross Givens, known as the Harmon tract, near the city, have been leased and a company is being organized to make the test. The sum of $1,500 will be raised and a considerable amount of the sum has been subscribed. As soon as it is all raised a meeting of the stockholders will be held and officers elected, when preparations for drilling will be made immediately."

"Mr. E. F. Doudna, who is an expert in making tests of this character, and who is also a stockholder in the enterprise, will do the drilling. He will bring the machine here from Tilden that drilled the well at that place. This drill can be sent to a depth of 3,000 feet."

"Our citizens are taking considerable interest in the matter. Collectively it will not cost any individual but a small sum to have the test made, and if it proves successful, a rich harvest is in store for the stockholders, to say nothing of the advantages the town would receive."

"The company will be known as the Providence Oil & Gas Company and articles of incorporation will be filed."

The Lyon County Commercial Club bids fair to be an active, energetic body. The members of the Club are fostering every possible movement to renew the iron industries to the south of this mining district. It is becoming widely known that this district produces the greatest flux know, and with fuel on one side of the district and these renewed iron industries on the other, there is good reason why it should be claimed for the entire field that it is a second Birmingham district in the primary stages of development. The Lyon County Times says:

"Already the Commercial Club can point to one definite result of its efforts. The woodworking plant of the Hillman Land and Iron Co. is now under course of construction, and within a short time the hum of industry will be heard from this quarter. At a recent meeting a board of trustees was selected to accept the deed from the Anderson estate and heirs and to have charge of the site for the citizens who contributed toward its purchase. The board selected is composed of W. A. Sexton, N. O. Gray and Otho Fowler. W. S. Irwin and Otho Fowler are now in Chicago to meet some manufacturers with a view of inducing them to locate their plants here."

"The resumption of work by the iron furnace at old Center Furnace will benefit us directly, as already a number of laborers have gone from here to accept work at that place."

In reference to the proposed Marion-Smithland-Paducah electric line the Paducah Sun, says:

"The news columns tell of how people of Livingston county have appealed to Louisville for aid in building an interurban line from Marion, Crittenden county, to Paducah. Why can't the people of Paducah take some interest in the project? Occasionally we hear of a line being built from Paducah to Cairo, a route handicapped by the river packets on one side and a railroad on the other. If anyone is seriously thinking of building interurban lines, why can't this Livingston county road be considered? It would open up a virgin country rich in both mineral and agricultural products, and undoubtedly prove a paying venture. Those who want to get in on the ground floor had better get busy, or others will get there first."

Sturgis, Ky., June 10.—The big $3,000,000 coal deal was formerly closed today, and the Nevins properties, consisting of all the principal plants and about 70,000 acres of coal lands in three counties, river fleets and elevators and yards at Paducah, were turned over to the North American Company, of which J. P. Morgan is the reputed head.

Samuel Gardiner, of New York, will be president of the new company, and Superintendent Charles Buckner will retain his place here. The company will at once begin the opening of other shafts until the output is brought up to about 3,000,000 tons yearly, 1,500,000 tons to be delivered at St. Louis alone, which will require from 6,000 to 10,000 men to mine.

Joplin, Mo., June 11.—The highest price paid for zinc ore in the Joplin district during the past week was $42 per ton. The assay basis price was $37 to $39 per ton. Zinc sold the past week for $4 more per ton and lead for $5 more per ton than a year ago, when the highest price for zinc was $38 per ton and for lead $33 per ton. Lead advanced $1 per ton during the week and the market was very active at the increased price. A few bins of the choicest lead sold as high as $60 per ton, the price for 70 per cent grades ranging around $58 per ton.

CONTRACT LET FOR MASONIC TEMPLE

Three Story Structure to be Erected By Mundo & McGraw.

POST OFFICE UNDER CONSTRUCTION

Brick Work About Complete on L. H. James' Law Office and Two of the Wheeler Buildings.

Mundo & McGraw have secured the contract to build the new $6,000 Masonic temple on the site of the building which burned on the corner of Main and Belleville streets. The contract was made with the building committee of the lodge, which is composed of Levi Cook, chairman, Horace H. Sayre and David B. Kevil. The temple will be a three story structure, as before, but the front on Main street, including recess corner, will be built of buff brick, and the north side, on Belleville street, will be constructed of select red brick, laid in white mortar. The glass for the front, the doors and windows will be plate. The stairway leading to the lodge room on the third floor will be the rear side entrance, as before. The first and second stories will be occupied by some of the leading dry goods firms of the city. The cheap metal cornice will not be used in the construction of the building, but caprocks and brick cornices will be utilized throughout. The entire job is to be completed within ninety days from the middle of this month, or by the 15th of September.

The work on the three Wheeler buildings is still progressing rapidly and the second story joists are being placed. The South wall of the building adjoining the bank will be constructed by Marion Bank and of course the work on that building can not now be carried much farther until the bank wall is built.

The work on the two Orme buildings and the Hayward building, on Main street is delayed somewhat because material can not be secured fast enough, but the work on the L. H. James' office building is being advanced and the brick work will likely be completed this week.

Mundo & McGraw have laid the foundations for the Marion Bank and this week concentrated their forces on the new Postoffice Building. The windows for the postoffice room are to be protected by iron bars according to Government requirements.

Marion Clark has been employed by Messrs. Yandell and Orme to oversee the erection of their hotel on Bank street, and he has a force of workmen now busy dressing the rough material.

Mrs. A. D. McFee's brick stable is being built by Mr. T. S. D. Elder.

Jas. H. Orme had the ground broken this week for the one story brick warehouse, 20x100 feet, to be used by the Cochran & Pickens Hardware Company, in the rear of whose building it is to be erected.

Surprise Party.

Mrs. J. R. McAfee invited a few of her young friends to a surprise party Tuesday evening in honor of her sisters, Misses Elgie and Moss Davis, of Russellville, Ky. The young ladies were duly surprised, but recovered enough to make charming hostesses. Several interesting games and contests made the time pass pleasantly. Refreshments were served during the evening.

Those who attended were Misses Maude and Bernice Driskill, Mary Nunn, Gustava Haynes, Willie Croft Fenwick Wathen, Maude Flannery and Mildred Haynes, and Messrs. Ray Flannery, Dick Gilbert, Maurice Sutherland, Leslie Melton, Trice Bennett, Wilbur Haynes and Lottie Gilbert.

Mrs. McAfee is a delightful hostess and was assisted by her sister, Miss Mattie Davis, making the evening a most enjoyable one.

AN ELEGANT "IRIQUOIS" SANITARY SODA FOUNTAIN

Purchased by Our Popular Druggists, Woods & Orme.

Messrs. Woods & Orme have closed a contract to purchase an elegant "Iriquois" Twentieth Century Sanitary Soda Fountain. The fountain, with all its parts, will cost about $2,000, and is a handsome piece of structure, reflecting the most artistic art.

The refrigerator at the bottom is of six-ply construction, containing heavy insulated paper especially prepared, patent moisture proof insulator next to wood lining with correct dead air space and heavy tinned copper frame in contact with ice.

Just above the refrigerator is a fourteen bottle chamber for the storage of syrup bottles. These set in a solid bronze, silver plated bottle plate that fits perfectly in a graceful curve in the marble top in front of the onyx structure. The interior of the bottle space is also heavily insulated, and ample ice storage is provided in the rear and below the bottles, the water draining direct into the lower base. There is a battery of six cylinders for coolers.

The "Iriquois" is a striking design of a new type, and peculiarly lends itself to the effect of private decoration. It has a large onyx structure that allows a broad expanse of mirrors. The massive columns are constructed of onyx, embellished with golden balls and caps. The mahogany is beautifully carved, and the student lamp electrolites are novelties. The mahogany L-shaped marble top and marble base counter will be provided with twelve neat oxidized stool chairs.

Masonic Gail Meeting

At K. of P. Hall Saturday evening at eight o'clock for work in M. M. degree. A full attendance is desired, and visiting brethren are cordially welcomed.

C. S. NUNN, Master.

Don't forget the date.

Yours for a good convention, R. M. FRANKS, County President.

The Philosophy of Forgetfulness.

Forgetfulness is passive, not active. The nerve cells of the brain send out long feelers ending in tiny tufts by which they come into contact with other nerve cells. Thinking is an active process. When one tries to think some of these little feelers begin to reach out and touch the filaments of other feelers. In the act of remembering there is an active process by which the filaments feel about until they touch the thing that is wanted. It is the same as when you run your fingers up and down the keyboard of a piano until you strike the familiar chord which brings the tune back.

Forgetfulness is simply a lack of ability to do this. It may be caused by different things; for instance, by the use of whisky. All irritating poisons have the effect of shortening the feelers. They exercise a paralyzing influence. Fatigue also causes an accumulation of poisons in the brain, so that when a man is very tired he cannot remember well—the filaments of the nerve cells become powerless by the poison and cannot reach out to find the pictures or impressions necessary to memory. This is the philosophy of memory.

HOW ROY WAS SAVED FROM WATERY GRAVE

His Own Story, Written by His Father Just as He Told It.

(For The Record)
The readers of The Record will please excuse this delay, as it was unintentional.
Roy will be nine years old in next month. I reproduce his story for the special benefit of any who doubt the promises of the Lord to be with those who put their trust in Him.
The following is Roy's story just as he told it to us after escaping from the very jaws of death on that awful night.

G. W. BROOKS.

"When the log washed away and I fell off of it, something fell on top of me. I think it was brother. Just as I went down I thought how mamma had so often told us to always be careful about the water. I went clear down under the water. The water ran into my ears and nose. I swallowed water several times. I liked to strangled to death, but after a while I got hold of something and pulled up by it. It was an old snag. I swung on to it and got on to something with my feet, so I could stand up. The water was still up to my shoulders.

"I didn't know what to do—didn't know how to get out. So I thought I would pray to the Lord to help me some way. I asked Him to save me and to save papa and brother. I prayed for mamma, too, 'cause I knew she would grieve so much about us.

"It was lightning fast. I could see everything plain through the lightning, and I soon found out where I was. I was in the big hole where papa and I had been a-fishing several times. I was standing on the big root of the old tree that stood out in the edge of the hole. I knew the tree and remembered the big root. But still could not get out, so I thought I would just stand there till day or stand there till the water ran down. I stood there a little longer, and then I heard mamma crying up at the house. I couldn't stand that, so I commenced trying to think of some way to get out. I put my foot out and felt a log or something. I got on to it, and then just kept on stepping. When I would take a step I did not know whether my foot was going to find anything solid or not, but every step my foot found a root or a chunk or a log or something. I kept on till I got on the ground.

"Then I started for home and got lost, but after I wandered around for awhile, I found out which way the house was. I heard the dogs bark and I come home.

"I tell you I wished I could swim when the log washed away. Aunt Rachel, I want you to learn me how to swim. You know you said yesterday that you would learn me how to swim this summer. I thought about that as soon as I fell in. I would sure been gone if I hadn't prayed to the Lord to help me. I know I couldn't get out if He hadn't helped me."

No Secret About It.

It is no secret that for Cuts, Burns, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Sore Eyes, Boils, etc., nothing is so effective as Bucklen's Arnica Salve. "It didn't take long to cure a bad sore I had, and it is all O. K. for sore eyes," writes D. L. Gregory, of Hope, Tex. 25c at Haynes & Taylor's drug store.

The Republicans of Webster county will hold a convention to nominate candidates for county officers the second Saturday in July.

President Roosevelt secured a mutual agreement from Russia and Japan to discuss the question of peace. It is stated that the preliminary negotiations are proceeding smoothly.

Some idea about the enormous growth of business here may be seen from the fact that within less than eight years there has been a gain of 200 per cent.
in the gross receipts of the Illinois Central railroad at this point. From the sum of $26000 the receipts have trebled and this year will be more than $76000; also for the entire community this has been an era of prosperous industry and had it not been so the city could not have withstood so well the strain of the destructive fire of March 28, entailing a loss of $300,000 half so well. During the period the affairs of the railroad company here have been in the hands of a public spirited, congenial, obliging agent, whose actions and courteous manner has gone far to eliminate a certain amount of criticism that naturally falls to the lot of the railroad companies.
He is liked by the traveling public and is considered a most valuable citizen.
Who has joined the Commercial Club and has given his influence to the general improvement of the city. He has announced, by the way, that he has been transferred to Morganfield, but when he leaves the station here he will go to the regret of every business man of the community who have already petitioned the company, if possible, to arrange to keep him here.

Directors Meeting.

The next regular meeting of the Commercial Club will be held Tuesday evening, June 20, at 8 o'clock, at the office of H. H. Sayre, in Pierce building. All directors are requested to be in attendance.
JAS. E. CHITTENDEN, Secretary.

THE ECONOMY OF CONCRETE HOUSES

They Would Last Forever and Would Need no Paint.

People who walk over miles of cement sidewalks and note its surface unimpaired by the wear of heavy travel, have often expressed the thought—
"Why not build a house of this material? It would certainly last forever without repair, and it would not need painting."

Some years ago Edison predicted that the house of the future would be constructed entirely of Portland cement, and he suggested making wooden molds into which the material could be poured in a liquid state and left to dry out, the walls being successively raised by addition until completed.

The development of the theory of the building block settled the matter for all time, allowing the wall to be made in separate sections, which could be easily handled, and when laid with cement mortar in the method of hand brick or stone, gave the practically continuous cement wall.

A great advantage was found in making the blocks with a hollow or core through them, providing an air chamber in the wall itself. To stand the vertical strain, or side pressure, it was found necessary to make the wall of a certain width, but that thickness when made of solid cement stone blocks, gave a carrying or crushing strength, greatly in excess of any possible requirements. It was proved by the most searching tests that a saving of one-third in material could be made by making the blocks with a hollow space that would be perpendicular through the wall, although separated every few inches by solid portions in each block that would make a continuous binder, and it was demonstrated that there would remain most ample strength and rigidity.

This artificial stone, when properly made, has many advantages over the natural product. It is more durable, gaining strength with age. It may be molded in countless forms, saving an enormous cost of dressing and carving.
It is not only imperishable, but, as made in the form of hollow blocks, is more sanitary.

The air chamber gives a ventilated wall with a resistance to changes in temperature, shutting out the heat in summer and the cold in winter. It is fireproof, neither rusts, warps or decays, nor does it call for repair or decoration.

The hollow spaces are most convenient for the installment of gas pipes, water pipes, electric wires, speaking tubes and other appliances, being free and clean from bottom to top of the wall. The wall does not require lath-ing, but may be plastered with Portland cement and finished with plaster of paris, making it vermin proof. As an extra precaution, the walls may be furred and lathed in the customary way.

The Hopkinsville sanitarium will be built of these stones. The contract was let to Mr. C. G. Duke.—Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

All persons holding claims against the estate of Sam Cruce (colored), deceased, are hereby notified to present them properly proved by or before June 26, 1905, or they will be forever barred.

GEO. W. CRUCE, (Col.) Adm.
Marion, Ky., 6-1-05.

KENTUCKY STATE BAR ASSOCIATION TO MEET

Fourth Annual Session to be Held at Covington, June 22 and 23.

The Kentucky State Bar Association will hold its fourth annual meeting in Covington, June 22nd and 23rd. This is an organization of lawyers whose purpose it is to secure the enactment of non-partisan laws and to uphold the legal fraternity of the State. The program is most too long for publication, but the following notes, which are taken from a pamphlet being sent out by the Association, will doubtless prove of interest:

All Sessions will be held in the circuit court room with the exception of the evening on Thursday, June 22nd, which will be held in the Covington Auditorium.

Lunch will be served at the courthouse each day by the Covington Bar Association.

The banquet will be given at the Fort Mitchell Country Club. The price per plate is $3.00. Remittance should be made in advance to Walker C. Hall, Covington, who will issue tickets. It is absolutely necessary for the committee to know promptly the number to be present in order to make the proper provision.

The following rates have been made by the following Cincinnati hotels to members attending the meeting:

The Grand Hotel, Fourth and Central Ave., has been designated as headquarters.

Grand Hotel.—Single room, one person, without bath, $1.50 to $2.00; with bath, $2.50. Double room, two beds, with bath, $2.50 per day each.

Gibson House.—Single room, without bath, $1.50; with bath, $2.00; single room, without bath, for two persons, $1.25 per day each; with bath, $1.50 per day each. Double room, two beds, with bath, $2.25 per day each.

St. Nicholas Hotel (European).—Single room, one person, without bath, $1.50 to $2.00; with bath, $2.50. Double room, two beds, with bath, $2.50 per day each.

Burnett House (American).—Single room, without bath, $3.00 per day; with bath, $3.50 to $4.00 per day. Two or more persons in one room, without bath, $2.50 each; with bath, $3.00 each.

A rate of one and one-third fare plus twenty-five cents for the round trip has been made by all of the railroads.
Members of the Association, upon buying tickets, must pay full fare and obtain from the ticket agent at starting point a certificate if they wish to take advantage of this reduced rate.
This certificate must then be presented to the Secretary at Covington for his signature, and he will give further instructions.

Base Ball.

George Thomas, David Driskill and Lassie Gilbert went to Salem Saturday and assisted the Levias base ball team in a game with the Hampton boys.
The game was witnessed by more than three hundred enthusiastic rooters and was quite exciting from beginning to ending. The Hampton boys proved themselves to be good ball players and first class gentlemen in every respect, but the Levias team proved slightly stronger in the game.

Especially good work was done by the Marion battery, Driskill and Thomas, the latter of whom was so unfortunate as to receive a fractured nose. The score was 12 to 13 in favor of Levias.

NOW IS THE TIME TO USE HYOMEI

Far Easier to Cure Catarrh Now
Than at Any Other Season.

Now is the time to use Hyomei, when the early summer days make it so easy to cure catarrhal troubles. The Hyomei treatment, breathed for a few minutes three or four times a day in May or June, will do good twice as quickly as it did in January, and nearly everyone knows that used faithfully then, it completely rids the system of catarrh.

Hyomei is a purely vegetable preparation whose active curative properties are given off when it is breathed by the aid of the pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit. It destroys all germ life in the air passages, purifies the blood by supplying additional ozone, and its healing, volatile, antiseptic fragrance reaches every corner of the respiratory tract as no medicine taken through the stomach can possibly do.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but one dollar, and consists of a neat inhaler that can be carried in the purse or vest pocket and will last a life time, a medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hyomei. Extra bottles of Hyomei can be procured, if desired, for fifty cents.

At this season of the year when catarrhal troubles can be so quickly and readily cured, the merits of the Hyomei treatment should be carefully investigated by everyone and a complete outfit should be in every home.
Haynes & Taylor give their personal guarantee with every Hyomei outfit they sell to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction. There is no risk whatever to the purchaser of Hyomei.

Young Life Passed Out.

Friday morning, June 9, Miss Hattie Donakey died at the home of her mother, near Sheridan. Miss Donakey was twenty-three years of age and possessed a sweet-spirited disposition, but had been an invalid all her life, and was subject to epilepsy, which was the cause of her death.
The body was laid to rest in the Union cemetery, in the presence of a large concourse of relatives and friends, Rev. J. S. Henry conducting the services.

POPULARITY CONTEST

TO CLOSE JULY FOURTH

Number of Contestants Comparatively Close Together.

The voting this week shows Miss Wilborn in the lead with 202 votes, Miss Blanche Haase second with 100 votes, Miss Clara Carter third with 88 votes and Miss Clara Crawford moves up to fourth place. The results of the contest from now on until the finish will be very interesting to the contestants in so much as there will be but two more weeks and four days in which to cast votes. There is no one so far in advance but what a little effort on the part of some contestant and friends would place them in the lead, and for this reason it is absolutely impossible to determine who will win the two beautiful prizes. Remember that the leading contestant takes choice of a handsome gold watch or a beautiful diamond ring, while the person running second takes a prize equal to the first. As the voting now stands, by a small effort, persons that are far down the list could easily move up to first or second place, and because of this fact the present leading positions are insecure. All the candidates should be looking out for their interests these days. There are two new entries in the field, and while they have been entered at a late date they may be able by personal effort, to amass considerable strength before the voting is ended at noon July 4th.

The result of the voting at present is as follows:

Miss Leaffa Wilborn	202
" Blanche Haase	100
" Clara Carter	88
" Leona Long	44
" Bertha Moore	24
" Clara Crawford	48
" Maude Babb	40
" Hattie Barrett	16
" Edna Cole	16
" Lena Cardwell	16
" Mable Guess	16
" Katie Carter	4
" Effie Parker	4
" Lilly Doss	4
" Doll Jacobs	4
" Pearl Morrell	4
" Katie Bebout	4
" Muriel Freeman	4

Farm for Sale.

Three hundred and fifty (350) acres of land in Crittenden county, 1 mile from Ohio river, 14 miles from post office, 3 tenant houses with good out buildings, orchards and plenty of water at each. Good timber near each. Two public roads run by it. Good mineral prospects. About 240 acres in cultivation. Will sell whole or in three tracts from 65 to 140 acres. Reason for selling is that I am too old to farm. Call and see me and farm.

47-4t G. P. WILSON, Weston, Ky.

In Memorial

Rev. J. L. Hughey, of Norris City, Ill., author of the following poem, which we republish upon request of an old war veteran, is a native son of Crittenden county. He is the son of John R. Hughey, deceased, and was reared in the eastern part of the county. For more than twenty-five years he has been an ordained minister in the Cumberland Presbyterian church.

It was forty years ago, yes, forty years ago,
The cruel war was ended by surrender of the foe;
For four long years the war was waged and many brave men fell,
The grief we and their loved ones felt no tongue can ever tell.

We dug a ditch and with our hands we laid them side by side,
A coffin, shroud or winding sheet no one could then provide;
Two and one-half million names were upon the Union roll,
One-third this number at the close were all that we could poll.

Sixty-seven thousand brave one fell on the battle field;
Three and forty thousand wounded also to death did yield;
Two hundred and fifty thousand from other causes died;
Lots: Three hundred and sixty thousand on the Union side.

The enemy we met was brave—they fought with all their might—
No doubt a large per cent of them thought they were doing right.
They lost as many men as we, or more upon their side;
Counting both the blue and gray, near eight hundred thousand died.

Now, looking back upon the war after these forty years,
Is what we won worth all the loss, the aching hearts and tears?
To put a price on those dear boys who gave their precious blood,
Could not be fixed with stacks of gold as high as Noah's flood.

There is no value we can fix in estimates of gold,
The heritage they left for us no tongue has ever told—
In that long four years struggle those dear boys who died, and we,
Preserved for all this happy land of both the brave and free.

What might have been no one can tell if our cause had failed, (Perhaps for us it's better that such things are always veiled)
It's what we were, what we are and what we are going to be
That holds a treasure large enough to interest you and me.

Human slavery was the issue causing much confusion,
To think our nation thus could stand was a great delusion;
A bitter strife in politics was agitating all,
A house divided in this way would soon be sure to fall.

Our leading men would compromise and try both sides to please,
But like an opiate, no cure, only just a little ease,
For soon the fever higher raged and men would false accuse,
And sometimes with most bitter words their neighbor would abuse.

This question was the leader in each national election—
The ballot often gave it a different complexion.
In eighteen hundred sixty, when Lincoln was elected,
The people of the North by the South were not respected.

With James Buchanan in the chair there was no repression,
So the South began at once the work of its secession,
And before Lincoln took his seat, Jeff Davis was installed,
With seven States by their own act to secession enthralled.

The sky grew dark and gloomy as the days were passing by,
The nation in the balance lay to either live or die.
What of the heritage left by our fathers who had died?
What of the blood bought liberty, of which we had such pride?

Had we forgotten Valley Forge, and also Bunker Hill?
Were all the battles of that war for nothing but to kill?
We answered: "No, our fathers died, as everybody knows,
That we, their unborn children, might be free from tyrant foes."

When Lincoln took his seat he said, "If you will loyal be I'll not disturb you in the least, nor set the negro free—
The Union, though, must be preserved, let cost what'er it may,
It shall forever be maintained in spite of what you say."

When promises and pleadings failed to stop secession's tide,
And they said within the Union they never would abide—
It was on the twelfth of April, eighteen and sixty-one,
Fort Sumpter was the target, and the war—it was begun.

The question now at stake, and the one to be decided,
Was "Shall the nation be as one, or shall it be divided?"
Our tender hearted president wished that no blood be shed;
He knew that war would fill the land with sorrow for the dead.

But nothing else but war would do—the South, it would not yield;
No other way could settle it except the battle field,
So to the call we did respond, our Union to preserve;
Each of us took a solemn oath our country we would serve.

We left our loved ones weeping, it was hard from them to part—
It was like breaking vital cords that bound them to the heart.
We loved them, yes, we loved them, as no tongue could ever tell,
We also loved our country, and we loved it full as well.

Each comrade still remembers how they'd beat the old long roll;
It tried a soldier's mettle, yes, it tried his very soul.
At once we'd form a battle line, the enemy to meet—
It meant, perhaps, a bloody field if neither would retreat.

We remember how we lay on our arms all through the night,
And how, when day began to break, we would begin to fight;
The groans of dying men we'd hear amidst the battle din,
And thus we'd struggle in the fight until one side would win.

There were messages to mother from many dying boys,
To them we'd stop and listen, too, amidst the battle's noise—
Sometimes the one with message for a mother or a wife
Before the battle ended had laid down his own dear life.

We have not forgotten how we could see the powder flash,
And how, sometimes, with bayonets there'd be a mighty crash;
How the elements were pregnant with red-hot shot and shell,
And everything, as Sherman said, seemed like a real hell.

Sometimes we'd get so very close the bayonets we'd fix,
And then in deadly combat with the enemy we'd mix.
The awful horrors of such scenes no human tongue can tell,
Though it could give a picture of the deepest pits of hell.

Thank God, the war is over, and each citizen is free,
To every human bondman we have brought the jubilee.
Through all the awful struggle our republic safely stood,
And now we are, both North and South, a common brotherhood.

The boys came home in sixty-five with scar and shattered health;
Some folks got rich, but many more lost all of the wealth;
The G. A. R. was organized by those who won the day,
And Uncle Sam, in making laws, has let them have a say.

Our numbers on the roll are getting smaller every day,
It will not be much longer until all are gone away,
But as long as one old soldier still lingers in the world
We will hold memorials with our banners all unfurled.

When we all have passed away, as is evident we will,
And there are no more old soldiers our broken ranks to fill,
When our old trail bodies shall have returned to earthly mold,
We hope our friends will never cease such services to hold.

And in the early springtime, on the thirtieth of May,
Let all friends and loved ones meet on each memorial day,
And with the flag and flowers go and decorate each grave
Of all the men who volunteered their country's flag to save.

And now my dear old comrades all, this poem is for you;
I hope you will keep a copy and often read it through,
And if your heart grows tender by what has here been said,
Then do good to those who are living and remember friends that are dead.

And now I make this one request in drawing to a close,
We know it can't be very long till we in death repose;
I want to ask that everyone will give the Lord his heart,
And turn away from every sin and choose the better part.

Then we'll meet up yonder with those gone on before,
We will draw a pension constantly, never wanting any more,
We will not take flags and flowers and in the graveyards meet,
Our decorations there will be crowns at Jesus' feet.

According to late reports the little mining town of Providence may have a desired outlet by way of the I. C. R., in addition to the transportation facilities afforded by the L. & N. The following appeared in the last issue of the Providence Enterprise:

"The Kentucky Midland railroad, from Providence to Wheatcroft, giving providence connection with the Illinois Central, is the best item of news the Enterprise can give to its readers this morning.

It is a certainty. The road will be built and the work of construction will commence without delay.

Mr. Irving H. Wheatcroft, telephoned from Wheatcroft yesterday that he and Ross Givens would be here in a few hours and would like to have an audience with the business men. They arrived about noon and at 1:30 o'clock a meeting was held in the office of the Providence Banking Company.

Mr. Wheatcroft briefly, but concisely, stated his plans for building the Kentucky Midland railroad from Providence to Wheatcroft, and the proposition he made almost took the breath of the listeners. It was this:

Mr. Wheatcroft binds himself to build this road provided the citizens of Providence would guarantee the right of way and terminal facilities here. He stated that the road would be about 15 miles in length and that he already had deeds in his pocket for fully eight miles, leaving only about two miles to be secured that he expected our people to donate.

He stated that the road would be an independent line and that he had a traffic arrangement with the Illinois Central to operate the road, guaranteeing also that it should not pass into the hands of the Louisville & Nashville.

Mr. Wheatcroft has practically secured all the right of way from Wheatcroft to the Allen Watson farm. There are two or three tracts through which it would have to be arranged. The land from the Watson farm to Providence is owned by J. F. F. Young, J. H. Barnhill, S. Hicks, Ross Givens and N. J. Payne. All of these were present at the meeting yesterday except Mr. Barnhill, and all present except Mr. Young signed their names to the right of way.

This is the best proposition Providence has ever had to get a competing line of railroad and all our citizens would contribute something towards getting the road. It is not right to let the burden fall on a few. It is impossible to estimate the great value this road will be to our town and every body should give something to get it. Our business men are donating liberally and the necessary amount will be raised in a very short time.

It is not known what effect this will have in the construction of the Morfield & Atlanta road, but if that road should come the Wheatcroft route would be two roads would traverse about the same territory. The new line will most likely cause the M. & A.

people to settle upon the Clay route, which is said by many to be the shortest and best route, anyway.

The surveyors were here yesterday winding up the survey of the Wheatcroft route.

Washington Letter.

(From our regular Correspondent.)

President Roosevelt has brought, if not to a close, at least to a period, the peace negotiations which have for the past week had their center in Washington by addressing to Russia and Japan a duplicate note in which he appeals to both belligerents to bring to a close the "terrible and lamentable conflict now being waged." It is generally believed that the President did not take this step without first ascertaining that it would prove acceptable to both powers and it is generally accepted as a long stride in the direction of peace. Should peace be accomplished as the direct result of the initiatory steps which the President has taken it will add one to the many triumphs that have crowned his administration.

Summing up the general situation in the light of the best information obtainable, it may be said that following the President's frank presentation of the situation to Russian Ambassador, which occurred a week ago, the Czar finally sent for Ambassador Meyer, who, it will be remembered is the member of the Republican National Committee, from Massachusetts, and a close friend of the President's. Mr. Meyer served his apprenticeship in diplomacy at Rome where he was Ambassador throughout the last Administration. After his audience with the Czar the Ambassador cabled a full account to the President, the character of his communication having been as closely withheld as possible. He made it clear, however, that the Czar was still unwilling to be placed in a position of suing for peace, although he was grateful for the President's friendly expressions and intimated that he would be glad to know something of the peace terms which Japan would demand.

After a careful consideration of Ambassador Meyer's dispatches, the President sent for the Japanese Minister, Kogoro Takahira, who came immediately to the White House, despite the fact that he had to leave a sick bed to do so. What the character of his interview with the President was can only be surmised, but it is known that Japan still maintains the position that she cannot define peace terms until Russia has done more than express a mild interest in their character. The Mikado believes that the Czar should first frankly declare that he is ready to make peace if Japan's terms are moderate and that then, the President or other intermediary, should secure from the Czar an acceptance, at least in principle, of some of the conditions fundamental to permanent peace. For instance, Russia should, in the estimation of Japan, recognize the right of Japan to an indemnity the property of the permanent evacuation of Manchuria, the permanence of Japan's control of Korea, etc. This much accomplished a protocol could be signed and the actual amount of the indemnity, the fate of Vladivostok, and similar more specific questions could be left for final settlement between the principals. The Czar, on the other hand, maintains that it is extremely difficult for him to commit Russia to peace without some appreciation of all that peace implies.

NOW IS THE TIME TO USE HYOMEI

Far Easier to Cure Catarrh Now
Than at Any Other Season.

Now is the time to use Hyomei, when the early summer days make it so easy to cure catarrhal troubles. The Hyomei treatment, breathed for a few minutes three or four times a day in May or June, will do good twice as quickly as it did in January, and nearly everyone knows that used faithfully then, it completely rids the system of catarrh.

Hyomei is a purely vegetable preparation whose active curative properties are given off when it is breathed by the aid of the pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit. It destroys all germ life in the air passages, purifies the blood by supplying additional ozone, and its healing, volatile, antiseptic fragrance reaches every corner of the respiratory tract as no medicine taken through the stomach can possibly do.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but one dollar, and consists of a neat inhaler that can be carried in the purse or vest pocket and will last a life time, a medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hyomei. Extra bottles of Hyomei can be procured, if desired, for fifty cents.

At this season of the year when catarrhal troubles can be so quickly and readily cured, the merits of the Hyomei treatment should be carefully investigated by everyone and a complete outfit should be in every home. Haynes & Taylor give their personal guarantee with every Hyomei outfit they sell to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction. There is no risk whatever to the purchaser of Hyomei.

Dying of Famine

Is, in its torments, like dying of consumption. The progress of consumption, from the beginning to the very end, is a long torture, both to victim and friends. "When I had consumption in its first stage," writes Wm. Myers, of Cearfoss, Md., "after trying different medicines and a good doctor in vain, I at last took Dr. King's New Discovery, which quickly and perfectly cured me." Prompt relief and sure cure for coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, etc. Positively prevents pneumonia. Guaranteed at Haynes & Taylor's drug store, price 50c and $1.00 a bottle. Trial bottle free.

Water Works for Elkton.

T. W. Morris, superintendent of the Hopkinsville Light and Water System, and Contractor Dalton, of that city, were here Wednesday and with Mayor Denny inspected the various sites for the water supply and stand pipe of the proposed water works system for Elkton. — Todd County Times.

A Bad Scare.

Some day you will get a bad scare, when you feel a pain in your bowels and fear appendicitis. Safety lies in Dr. King's New Life Pills, a sure cure, for all bowel and stomach diseases such as headache, biliousness, costiveness, etc. Guaranteed at Haynes & Taylor's drug store, only 25c. Try them.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE.

CRITTENDEN CIRCUIT COURT, KY.

J. W. Lamb, admr. of Emma Campbell, Plff.
Against
E. E. Campbell, etc. dft.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Crittenden circuit court, rendered at the March term thereof, 1905, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the courthouse door in Marion to the highest bidder, at public auction, on Monday, the 26th day of June, 1905, at one o'clock p. m., or thereabout, (being circuit court day) upon a credit of six months, the following described property, to wit:

A certain tract of land lying and being in Crittenden county, Ky., on the waters of Trade Water river, and bounded as follows, viz: Beginning at an ash and black oak on the bank of Trade Water river, corner to Mrs. Carrie Brightman's dower interest, running thence with the line of same S. 193 poles to a stone with black oak and white oak corners, corner to dower interest in line of lot No. 2, thence with the line of same, E. 24 poles to a hickory, ash and elm on the bank of Trade Water river, corner to said lot, thence down said river with its meander, N. 7, E. 8 poles, N. 30, E. 34 poles to a stake on bank of Trade Water river, with persimmon and ironwood pointers, one pole below the stake corner, thence down the said river with its meanders to the beginning, containing 50 acres by survey.

For the purchase price the purchaser, with approved security or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

J. G. ROCHESTER, Commissioner,
Crittenden Circuit Court.

Some Personal Opinions On Eben Holden

From William Dean Howells

I have read "Eben Holden" with a great joy in its truth and freshness. You have got into your book a kind of life not in literature before, and you have got it there simply and frankly. It is "as pure as water and as good as bread."

From Rossiter Johnson

You have produced a book that ought to live. It is the best story I have read in a long time, and I enjoyed it from cover to cover.

From Mary E. Wilkins

It seems to me a most remarkable production, way and way ahead of "David Harum," which is not to be mentioned in comparison with it. "Eben Holden" is simply adorable. I have not read a book in many a day by an American author which has so pleased me.

From Secretary John D. Long

I have read it with great interest in the honest and homely character which it describes with so much humor and naturalness.

From Harriet Prescott Spofford

"Eben Holden" is a noble creation. I have been wondering if I ever read so vivid and breathless a battle scene.

From Amelia E. Barr

I congratulate you on having given the world a pure, strong, natural story. It is as far above "David Harum" as noonday is above dawn.

The Record will begin the publication of "Eben Holden" next week. Be sure you read the first chapter of this masterpiece of fiction.

Huge Task.

It was a huge task to undertake the cure of such a bad case of kidney disease as that of C. F. Collier, of Cherokee, Ia., but Electric Bitters did it. He writes: "My kidneys were so far gone I could not sit on a chair without a cushion, and suffered from dreadful backache, headache and depression. In Electric Bitters, however, I found a cure, and by them was restored to perfect health. I recommend this great tonic medicine to all with weak kidneys, liver or stomach. Guaranteed by Haynes & Taylor, druggists. Price 50 cents."
