MINING NEWS

There is a Bright Prospect for the Schoolfield-Spees Mine.

ZINC FOUND NEAR MARION!

The Schoolfield-Spees mines are located in Livingston county, two and a half miles east of the town of Carrsville and about one mile from the Ohio river in a direct line. The vein which this company proposes to develop runs in a northern direction and is the same vein the Fairview Mining company is working in Illinois.

The fissure is 9 feet wide; the walls are limestone and are a vault, one wall beginning at the surface and the other 40 feet below the surface. On the west wall (which is the foot wall) a vein of spar 18 inches thick adheres, and just outside of the spar a ribbon of sulphide zinc 6 to 8 inches thick is formed, the spar and zinc cutting across the fissure from wall to wall in many places being from 6 to 12 inches thick.

The company behind the venture have met and overcome many obstacles, sparing neither time nor money in the venture, but they are determined to persevere until success shall crown their efforts. The venture is no will o' the wisp prospecting, but a steady, stable enterprise, which when carried to completion will not only benefit the company but the community as well.

The permanency is not questioned when we see what this company has on the ground. They have a good corrugated iron building, 25x50 feet, which is now filled with up-to-date machinery.

They have a good pair of vertical hoisting engines, one horizontal engine, one 50 light Croker-Wheeler dynamo, fan, forge, electric light wire and other equipments; two upright tubular boilers of 55 horse power capacity, Huston, Stanwood & Gamble makers. One Laidlaw-Dunn-Gordon duplex pump of 200 gallons per minute capacity, a tramway 200 feet long, with the latest improved dumping car, together with several hundred feet of iron piping, hose, drills, hammers and many other tools and parts which go to make up a complete mining outfit.

In fact the equipment is complete in every detail and has cost the company several thousand dollars and President Schoolfield considerable trouble and expense besides, to collect and install this plant.

But as this vein is certainly rich in good mineral the company will in the end reap abundant reward for its persistence and outlay in cash and time. The people of the Carrsville neighborhood should be proud of the Schoolfield-Spees mines, for if by their staying qualities this company succeeds it will certainly be a great advantage to all property holders in this end of the county. So why not this vicinity encourage in every way these mines to successful development for in a sense their success means success to every farmer and land owner.

The outlook is certainly bright, trains and money will win in the end, and the way things appear now success is much nearer than failure.

Besides the fixtures, etc., mentioned above, there are three deep shafts, the main shaft being 100 feet deep, the other two merely sunk to intersect the water supply. One has been cemented with concrete. So soon as Director Abbott returns from Covington work will resume and pushed vigorously.

It is again demonstrated by those who have been quietly working with admirable perseverance among the deposits of Claiborne county that they will realize all that they could reasonably hope for in the search they have persistently kept up. This condition of affairs is the present good fortune of two practical men, who have never for a moment doubted that rich deposits would be found by delving after them. So we are pleased to note the "good" that has come to our mining proprietors, Messrs. Mac C. O'Hara, of Kentucky and W. C. Uren, an all around miner of many years experience. The well known Eli Gom place is at present the center of attraction to them and there, in mining parlance, is where they have "struck it rich." On this land they hold an option, and they are already preparing to ship the product to ready market. At the point where they now have a force of men at work, the vein of zinc ore is from 15 to 20 feet in height, in bank, with a 10 foot breath of scope. When assayed it proved to be the very finest quality of metallic zinc.

For many months these patient investigators have conducted operations in a practical and skillful manner, and it must be gratifying to know that success now to them is an assured fact. Mr. Uren, himself a practical man, has given the pursuit of the treasure his undivided attention since coming here, and his many friends in his Wisconsin home will be pleased to learn of his good fortune.

Mr. O'Hara has labored with a genuine "blue grass" grit for many years in these mountains of mineral deposits, and none more than he deserves the reward which is already in sight.

Of course we feel a kindly interest in the success of all such deserving, because persevering workers, and no doubt ample capital will be readily invested to bring out the possibilities of what they discovered lying dormant.—New Tazewell Times.

E. E. Rose and A. H. Fisher in the last few days have uncovered a fine vein of lead on the farm of Mr. Rose adjoining the city limits of Elizabethtown. It is a boom to our county metropolis for the vein is said to be of good extent, and a very fine quality of ore obtained at the depth of only thirty-five feet and in half a mile of a shipping point. Did not we tell you long ago that every square foot of Hardin county was loaded with mineral and every forty-acre tract of land held a fortune for somebody, as it is proving?—Hardin Era.

Last week Harry Watkins bought the J. B. McMican farm and will start a number of miners to work this week. This farm has three magnificent veins of fluor spar running through it, which are known as the Memphis, Beck and Klondike veins. Mr. Watkins expects to open up all these veins and have a large output of No. 1 fluor spar within sixty days.

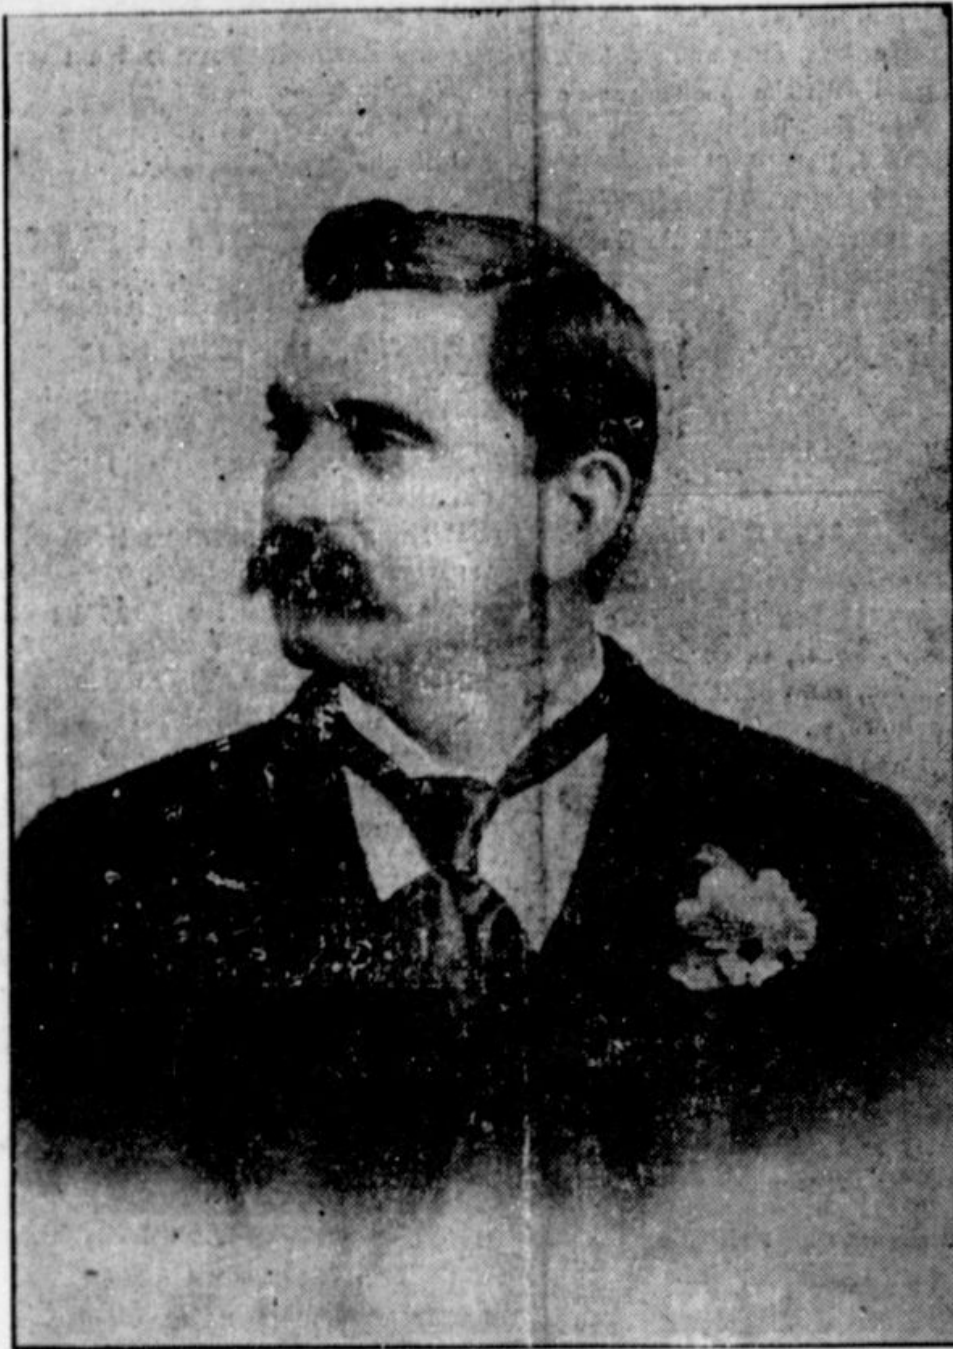

We are in receipt of some fine specimens of lead, spar and carbonate of zinc, from our old friend, A. Dewey, of Lead Hill, Ark., formerly a citizen of Marion. These samples look as though they would assay the very highest per cent. of mineral and look almost as good as samples taken from the hills and dales of Livingston and Crittenden.

J. M. Persons has returned from Muncey, Ind., where he went to close negotiations for operating some mines in this county for a party of Indiana capitalists. Suffice to say that he will manage them profitably for the owners. That's his record.

J. R. Baldwin, a mining capitalist of Kuttawa, passed through the city Monday en route to Koon, where he is interested with some of his friends in mining. He says the work is progressing nicely, and that they have a fine vein of mineral.

Mr. C. H. Bush, who represents the Kewanee Tube Co., has arrived, and will start about fifty wagons to hauling clay from the Stevens mine. It is estimated they will haul about 50 tons a day.

Has Prospered in the West.

The above is a late picture of Robert E. Dowell, formerly of this county, but now of Wichita, Kan., who is spending the summer in Old Kentucky. He will spend part of the summer with his brother, W. E. Dowell, of Tolu, and part at each of the spas—Crittenden, Dawson and Cerulean. Any comment, on our part, on "Bob" is unnecessary, for the citizens of this county have not forgotten his worthy characteristics, and there is nothing we could say which would add to his reputation, and no tribute we could pay will exceed the high esteem and admiration of all his acquaintances. The editor of the Press remembers Robt. E. Dowell as a country boy and when he took Horace Greeley's advice, "go west, young man, and grow up with the country," twenty-one years ago, he had an honest and laudible ambition to attain that which was good, and shun that which was evil, and it will be gratifying to all his friends to know that he is one of the trusted conductors who handles the fast passenger trains on the great Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad with headquarters at Wichita, one of the finest cities in the west. He has prospered and has accumulated a surplus of this world's goods and if "madam rumor" is not mistaken he is back in old Kentucky in search of a life partner from among the blue grass belles.

The Kentucky Fluor Spar company is working all their mines very successfully under the management of Clem Nunn. They have a number of washers located at different mines, and every one busy washing fluor spar.

Mr. Dudley Wallingford found a number of large boulders on his farm one mile east of Marion last week which will assay 40 to 60 per cent. zinc. This has caused a great deal of excitement among Marion mineral men.

Last Friday Mr. J. M. Persons left for Muncie, Ind., to close a contract with mineral capitalists to act as general manager in opening up and operating some new mines in this section. He returned home Tuesday night.

Albert F. Crider, one of the Government's most trusted Engineers in the Government Geological Survey, who has been visiting friends and relatives here, left at noon Wednesday for Washington, D. C.

The State Geological Survey spent several days at work in this section last week. Their report on this field is awaited with much interest and enthusiasm.—Levi's Correspondent.

C. J. Haury, Sr., of Oakland City Ind., who is largely interested in the Trigg County Mining Co., was in the city this week on his way to inspect his mining property.

John Shea, capitalist of Louisville, of the Louisville-Marion Mining Co. is here today.

W. H. Miller, of Louisville, of the Commodore Mining Co., is here this week.

The New Yandell is yielding fifty tons of gravel spar per day, which is being delivered at Mexico.

Her Fifty-Third Birthday.

Mrs. George W. Arfacks was very much surprised on July 3rd, when John W. Arfacks and family, James Arfacks and family and Mrs. Marion Bryant and family loaded up their wagons with all the good things that any one could desire, and drove to the home of their parents, where the day was spent in celebrating their mother's fifty-third birthday. The dinner was spread in the beautiful little grove in the yard, and when all was filled the fragments were gathered up and the evening was spent in reading the Bible and talking on the scripture, "honor your father and mother children that your days may be many on earth." A FRIEND.

County Court.

County court convened last Monday with Judge Aaron Towery on the bench. The most important cases that were called were those against the various mining companies for back taxes. All of these suits were continued.

One will was filed for probate, being that of young Walker, who died in the Chapel Hill neighborhood.

DEATHS

Mrs. Elvira Clinton Cook, relict of of the late Lou Cook, died at her home in Paducah last Saturday July 8th, 1905, at 4 o'clock in the morning. She had been an invalid for several years and was watched over and nursed with loving care by her daughter, Miss Lilly, assisted by Mrs. L. S. Leffel. Everything was done for her but all to no avail; she gradually grew weaker until death relieved her sufferings.

Her remains were brought here Sunday afternoon and the funeral services conducted at the Methodist church by Rev. J. R. McAfee, after which the interment took place at the new cemetery by the side of her husband who died in December 1903, and was buried here. Mrs. Cook left four children: Mrs. Thos. Clifton, of this city; Miss Lilly Cook and Charley Cook, of Paducah, and Harry Cook, of Eddyville, besides three sisters, Mrs. Alice Barrows, of Oklahoma City, Okl., Mrs. Mary Bowen, who resides in Texas; Mrs. J. M. Walker, of Iron Hill, and one brother, Joseph Clinton of Texas.

Mrs. Cook was a member of the Methodist church, South, of the Mt. Zion congregation near Weston, she having never moved her membership.

There was a large attendance at the funeral and many beautiful floral offerings from friends of the deceased.

Mrs. Cook was born June 5, 1838, and was therefore just a month and a few days over 67 years of age.

Of her death Sunday's Paducah Register says:

"Mrs. Elvira Clinton Cook, of 809 South Fourth street, died early Saturday morning, after being a sufferer for nearly ten years from paralysis and a complication of diseases.

Mrs. Cook was born June 5, 1838, in Crittenden county and was the daughter of Peter and Mary Stewart Clinton. On October 2, 1861, she was married to Mr. Lewis Cook with whom her life was spent until his death, Dec. 6, 1903.

Early in life Mrs. Cook united with the Methodist church and from that time until her death, her life has been an illustration of the highest type of Christian character. Owing to the nature of her disease she was completely helpless for many years, yet through all, she maintained a most cheerful disposition and not even in the most trying moments did a word of complaint ever escape her lips.

All that the devotion of her children could do to brighten the hours of her illness was done, and well would it be if every sufferer could receive such filial care.

A short service was held at the house this morning at 9:30, after which the remains will be taken to Marion for burial."

Last Wednesday afternoon at his home one mile East of Shady Grove, on the Marion road, Wm. S. Kemp passed from life to eternity. He was in his 79th year, having been born Sept. 13th, 1826, and died July 5th, lacking 9 weeks of being 79 years of age. He had been troubled for a long time with stomach ailments and his death was due to that, it having gone into "locked bowels."

Mr. Kemp was married three times. His first wife was Lucie Ann Towery, to whom he was married over 50 years; she died 11 years ago, leaving 6 children, all of whom are still living. They are R. H. Kemp of this city, Geo. D. and R. T. Kemp, and Mrs. Laura Brantley, of this county; John Kemp of East Prairie, Mo., and Mrs. E. W. Easley of Webster county, this state.

Mr. Kemp's 2nd wife was Mrs. Niecey Williams, who died about 10 years ago. His third wife was Trepha Kemp, and she survives him. He married her 7 years ago. The burial was had Thursday in the Shady Grove cemetery and the services were conducted by Rev. Rowland, pastor of the Shady Grove church.

Mr. Kemp was a member of the Methodist church and was always held in high esteem by every one who knew him. He was an exemplary man and good citizen.

Circuit Court.

Judge Gordon closed the June term of circuit court Tuesday at noon. The Commonwealth business was pretty well disposed of, all important cases on the docket being settled.

In the cases of the Commonwealth vs. Book Buckalew the defendant was acquitted.

Commonwealth vs. Aaron Towery peremptory instructions were given dismissing Towery from the custody of the court and exonerating him from all charges that were filed against him.

Several civil suits were tried among them being Mansfield vs. I. C. R. R. in three cases, in two of which an agreed judgment was filed, and in the third dismissed.

In the case of W. E. Wilcox vs. the I. C. railroad a judgment was rendered in favor of plaintiff for $325 damage, and in the case of McCormick vs. I. C. R. R. tried by jury, a verdict was rendered in favor of defendant.

Simpson & Elder vs. I. C. R. R. tried by jury at the last term of court and held over for new trial; settled by agreement, agreed verdict for the plaintiff of $225.

TORNADO IN TEXAS.

Montague County Swept by a Ter- rific Storm and Many Are Killed.

Fort Worth, Texas, July 6.—A tornado which struck Texas in the upper end of Montague county caused the loss, it is believed, of over forty lives, injured a large number of people and did damage to the growing crops and cattle. Fortunately the tornado missed the small towns in the section through which it swept but took the homes of many farmers and stock raisers. At Jacksboro the Baptist church and twenty other buildings were blown off their foundations and totally destroyed.

At Montague no lives were lost in the town. Most of the killed lived on Salt creek. At Nacomo the Tornado passed a few miles South and the latest lists give the dead at 14 and the injured 41. A reliable man from Nacomo has been over the scene and places the loss of life at sixty; owing to widely separated homes and the fact that in many instances entire families were swept out of existence, details and names are very hard to get.

Nacomo, Texas, July 6.—A tornado and thunder storm passed a few miles west of here yesterday afternoon, killing fourteen persons, and injuring many others and destroying a number of houses. The latest reports from the storm district give the following casualties:

Dead:
Mrs. C. Shackelford, Minnie Shackelford, daughter of R. C. Shackelford, Mrs. S. L. Tumelson and three children, Mrs. Mary Lester and four children, Caleb White, Mrs. Ira Williams, Frank, son of Sam Elkin, was killed by lightning.

Many farm houses were swept entirely away. The Baptist and Methodist churches at Belieher were considerably damaged. The Dixie school house, six miles south of here, was entirely blown away. Hailstones as large as hen eggs fell here breaking much window glass. Reports of the work of the tornado are still coming in. The number of killed and injured will probably reach sixty.

Gone to Oklahoma.

Glenn's Graphic: Before the sun goes down in the west this evening, Madisonville will have lost two of her very best citizens. General C. J. Pratt and his wife will leave today for their new home in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma Territory, where it is their intention to settle down for the remainder of their lives. General and Mrs. Pratt were out there some time ago, and while there they bought property and now they go to take possession of their own.

Of course General Pratt and wife will be strangers when they get to their new place of residence. The people out there do not know these good people as we do and it will take them some time to know them as we have known them. For many years it has been our pleasure to name Gen Pratt as one of our best friends. We really do not like to give up these people.

Painfully Scalded.

Mr. M. Grassham of Salem, the blacksmith at the Cullen mines, was painfully scalded on the head, face, arms and breast last Friday evening. Mr. Grassham had walked out of his shop and had gone out on the ore bank and was standing within range of the exhaust pipe of the engine when steam was turned on. The first escape struck him on the right side of the head, knocking him down, and when he got up another discharge struck him on the back of the head and on the neck and shoulders, and knocked him down the bank and out of the way of the pipe. There was no one with him at the time, the other hands having all left the bank just a few minutes before.

Mr. Grassham was immediately taken to town where his wounds were dressed.—Livingston Banner.

Letter from Texas.

LOCKNEY, TEX., June 26.—Mr. S. M. Jenkins: If you have no objections I will send you a brief description of the plains of Northwest Texas. It might be interesting to many of the readers of the Press, as I have many relatives and friends in Crittenden, Livingston and Caldwell counties.

I will say in the beginning that I am no land or railroad agent and belong to no secret organization and have no land to sell, though I own several hundred acres.

The plains is a level prairie body of land, something over two hundred miles square, and is covered with a fine tuft of mesquit grass, where the Indians and buffaloes used to roam, but which is now fast settling up with farmers and stockmen. We have everlasting water at the depth of 20 to 300 feet, pure and clear as crystal, and as cold and fine as the good old springs in Kentucky. The water is pumped by windmills, gasoline engines, and a 6 inch pipe flow don't pump any of the wells dry.

This is a healthy country; chills and malaria are unknown, as we are away up, 3000 feet above the level of the sea. No creeks or timber, but a very rich and productive soil when we can get the rain.

We raise wheat, oats, corn, cotton kaffir, maize, millet, alfalfa, apples, peaches, pears, plums, grapes and berries of all kinds; vegetables grow to perfection.

We have good schools and churches on the plains. The town of Lockney is situated in Floyd county, 80 miles to the nearest point on the railroad, but we have daily mails all the same; leaves the railroad at 5 a. m. and arrives at Lockney at 6 in the afternoon.

No saloons in our county, and a Kentucky man can't get any mountain dew out here.

Land is advancing, but is very cheap yet at $4 to $10 an acre. We have two railroad surveys crossing at the county seat of Floyd county, both now building 150 miles east of here, but it will be some time before they get this far west. But as I have lived out here fifteen years without any railroad I have got used to getting along without any.

Now will say to those who think of changing States, if you have health and a home stay with it; otherwise go west, where land is cheap, and grow up with the country.

Success to you and Crittenden Press.

You friend,

R. C. BENNETT.

STARR.

Crops are growing fine.

"Aunt" Pliny Moss is very sick, at the residence of Henry Agee.

A mad dog has been making a circuit through this community.

Deaths.—This community was shocked at the sad news of the sudden death of Mrs. Jane Alexander. Mrs. Alexander had many friends in this vicinity. Here's our sympathy to the bereaved husband and children.

Dear Cousins.—We are all grieved to hear of these awful calamities—cyclones, deaths, etc.; but the Lord doeth all things well. And we will say that this leaves us all well, and a good prospect for a fine crop, and we hope to hear in your next letters that you are all prospering and doing well.

Your affectionate cousin,

Thursday brought us more sad news. J. M. Andrews of Washington State writes to Mrs. Addie Crayne that Retha is dead. Retha Andrews was a sweet little child, about three years old. We were very sorry to hear of the death of this little child, because she was so quiet and of such quiet disposition. But the Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away.

Is anything doing for the Graded school at this place? Another question is what has become of the young man who engaged to teach here this fall? And why isn't he here hustling around for pupils? Any information leading to his whereabouts will be thankfully received by the board of trustees.—Livingston Democrat.

Speak up, Brinsion.

The New Baby.

Little Georgie was taken by his aunt to see the newcomer, aged one day. He was duly and profoundly impressed with the specimen and asked where the little brother came from. "God sent it," answered the aunt, reverently. The answer made a deep impression on little Georgie, for that afternoon he was seen out in the back yard gazing up into the deep blue sky, and spreading his diminutive apron expectantly as he said, "Dear Lord, please throw me down one too."—Troy Press.

Fire at East Prairie.

Fire at East Prairie last Thursday night burned the stores of Jones & Co., J. J. Jones, C. C. Parton and J. M. Ford, some of them only partially, however. The rear of the store of Jones & Co. was burned and they lost a quantity of meat, coal oil and flour. They were insured for $400. J. J. Jones carried no insurance and his stock was injured in carrying it out.

Parton had $400 insurance and $200 loss.

This is an unfortunate occurrence to this thriving town, but with the enterprise and energy the citizens have thus far displayed in making it a city, it can not interfere materially and will probably advance East Prairie to its desired goal.

Several of our Crittenden county folks get mail at East Prairie.

May Cause Trouble.

Lexington, Ky., July 6.—The disposition of the estate of the late Thomas Lyons, valued at nearly a quarter of a million dollars, rests on the ability of Mrs. Philip Baker, of Pocotello, Idaho to prove her identity, and if she is able to establish the claim that she is a niece of the dead man she will come in for her mother's interest.

Whether the division of the estate will result in a legal battle is not known, but at any rate Mrs. Baker says she has sufficient evidence to convince every one that she is entitled to a third of the great estate, and does not anticipate any trouble in getting her share. On the former trip to this city she was given several thousand dollars as the first distribution.

An article in a recent issue of the Courier-Journal on the Kentucky coal fields has this to say in regard to the prospective development of our Western coal interests:

"Kentucky is now the second largest coal-producing State in the south, Alabama leading last year in output by about 3,000,000 tons. Kentucky is the only State in the Union with two coal fields, the Eastern and Western, to draw from. One of these fields is as yet scarcely touched, but is now producing annually 6,000,000 to 7,000,000 tons of coal. With developments, broadly speaking, just beginning in the Eastern field, and with a great revival in developments in the Western field, brought about by the entrance of new operators, it is a question of but a few years until this state will be the leading coal-producing field of the entire South.

BY Shelled Corn.

Washington, Ind., July 3.—Chas. Wilkey, 16 years old, was accidentally killed in a very peculiar manner this afternoon. He and some other boys were at C. M. Lemon's grain elevator, in Painsville, when Wilkey playfully jumped into the corn bin, from which some men were loading a car by means of a chute. The boy's body entered the chute, shelled corn piled in upon him, and he smothered to death.

Found a Husband.

St. Louis, Mo., July 6.—After missing a Fourth of July excursion train at Union station, John Hurd, of St. Louis, and Miss Dolphine Harmon, of Louisville, who had been visiting friends in St. Louis, decided to marry. They found the St. Louis marriage license office closed. Directed to East St. Louis they procured a license at the home of Mr. George Caughlan, Deputy Marriage License Clerk. Justice of the Peace Brady married them. They telegraphed the news of their wedding to Louisville and decided to go there on their honeymoon wedding trip.

Mr. Hurd gave his age as thirty-six and Miss Harmon gave hers as twenty-six.

Finally she took Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, which cured her, and today she is well and strong." It kills the germs of all diseases. One dose relieves. ## Wealth and Its Disposal

By Dr. F. L. PATTON, President
Princeton Theological Seminary

JUST where the line should be drawn in the vast accumulation of wealth I am not prepared to say, but it does seem that the modern tendency and modern conditions allow wealth TO RUN TO AN EXTREME. It isn't the money so much that these men are after who have made great fortunes as it is the power that great wealth gives them. THAT is what they seek—POWER. The general tendency now is for each man to do unto his neighbor as his neighbor would do unto him, ONLY HE TRIES TO DO IT FIRST.

The man that I particularly object to is the cold blooded, right living rascal who grinds the face of the poor under the cloak of the law and by the sanction of custom accumulates a great fortune and in doing it goes just as near to the prison gates AS HE DARES. He skates to the very edge of the ice in legal as well as personal morality and gloats over his achievements—yes, even glories in them openly. That's the dangerous man in the community. His example can work great harm to thousands of ready and willing imitators.

THE LAW ALLOWS A MAN SUCH LATITUDE IN HIS BUSINESS DEALINGS THAT IT IS ALMOST A TEMPTATION TO DO WRONG.

I don't believe in this howl about tainted money at all. I have no patience with it whatever. I do not believe in tainted money. I think that one can do just as much good with tainted money as with any other kind, and perhaps the doing good with it is THE BEST WAY TO REMOVE THE TAIN.

It does not suit me that a man should make a great fortune and then try to square himself by giving large bequests to charitable institutions. I would like to see him give some of it away while he is making it to the poorly paid people whom he employs. That would be a much more real and effective benevolence than endowing institutions or swelling the funds of ORGANIZED charity.

I would like to see the poorly paid clerk and moderate salaried employee receive a little more practical attention from their employers. That appears never to enter the calculations of the rich merchant or manufacturer or business man of any kind.

For instance—and this is a case that occurs thousands of times over every year—there is a poorly paid clerk, say in some commercial establishment the head of which is a millionaire. This poorly paid clerk, who gets $15, $20 or $25 a week, as the case may be, has possibly and probably a wife, with three children, and quite likely the wife has consumption. That clerk's struggle in life is ABSOLUTELY HEROIC. Does he get any help in his hard path of self denial and privation from the rich employer? Not a bit of it.

The rich employer may know, and probably does, all about the clerk's daily problem of existence. And what does he do? Why, he gives him $10 at Christmas, and with that little gift the rich employer's heart swells up with the great pride of good doing, and he pats himself on the back to think how generous and thoughtful he is. Possibly it never occurs to him that his miserly $10 is not a drop in the bucket of the clerk's needs. What would it do toward supporting the three children for the year or how many doctors' bills would it pay in the struggle to save the wife's life?

THAT IS THE KIND OF BENEVOLENCE—THAT INFREQUENT, SET AND MISERLY BENEVOLENCE—THAT DOES NOT SUIT ME.

I don't mean to say that I think the rich are hypocrites AS A CLASS and that they drive hard bargains on week days and do things which are not sanctioned by the law of man's justice to man while on Sunday they pose as good Christians, but I do mean to say that a great many of them probably do not think of the injustice and unnecessary hardships their lack of consideration entails. The spirit of commercialism is so strong that it dominates even men WHO MEAN TO DO the very right thing.

It always was hard to be good, and I suppose it always will be. I doubt if it's any harder now than ever. Human temptations and weaknesses have been much the same since the world began. But that is no reason why we should not TRY TO BE BETTER and get others to be better. That is what the Saviour's example was for. Christ not only preached these doctrines of Christian ethics, but he practiced them as well, and there is our example—honesty, uprightness, kindness, benevolence, gentleness, thoughtfulness AND HUMILITY. When a man practices these he comes pretty near a high standard of personal morality.

Benevolence is a much misused word. When a beggar comes to a man and asks for help and the man says: "Oh, no! I never give anything that way. I subscribe yearly to the Charity Organization society. Go to them. They will help you"—that man may think that he is benevolent and that he has done all that falls upon him to do, but he is greatly mistaken.

I DON'T CARE FOR THAT KIND OF BENEVOLENCE—IN FACT, I DON'T THINK VERY MUCH OF REFERRING PEOPLE TO ORGANIZED CHARITY ANYWAY. IT'S A HABIT THAT A MAN CAN EASILY GET INTO, AND IT IS A HABIT THAT IS SURE TO DWARF HIS HEART AND HIS BETTER IMPULSES.

America Plays the "Baby Act" In Art

By RABBI LEON HARRISON of St. Louis

THE great lesson which the world's fair teaches us is the lesson of universality. We are hopelessly local, immersed in our immediate concerns, WITHOUT BREADTH OF HORIZON. A great fair makes us metropolitan, sweeps us outward into the great world currents of thought and aesthetic endeavor.

We are beginning to tire of that excuse often advanced, that America is a young nation, that its thought processes cannot yet be mature. In art we have played the "BABY ACT" too long.

THE TIME HAS COME WHEN AMERICA MUST TAKE ITS PLACE IN THE INTELLECTUAL AND ARTISTIC ARENA OF THE GREAT WORLD.

Japan's Rise as A Naval Power

She Will Soon Rank Fourth In Point of Sea Armament—Her Russian Trophies—Admiral Togo In His Cabin.

THE victory of the sea of Japan placed the nation ruled by the mikado in the front row of the countries that are known as naval powers. Japan in virtually annihilating the navy of Russia and making herself undisputed master of the waters that wash the eastern coast of Asia won a position alongside the United States, Germany, France and even England. American naval experts have already begun to advocate more strenuously than ever the increase in the naval strength of the United States, not because of any fear of war with Japan, with which we are on the best of terms, but because a stronger navy, as it is held, would furnish a better guarantee of the continuance of peace. Several additional battleships will be sent to Philippine waters.

Admiral Togo attacked Rojstrensky with but five battleships in his fleet, although the Russians had seven. Two of the latter—the Orel and the Nicolas I.—were captured and are to be added to Japan's fleet. Five Russian ships—the Retvizan, Pobleda, Poitava, Peroviet and Sevastopol—were taken with Port Arthur, and there is strong hope at Tokyo that most if not all can be rendered seaworthy once more. The battleship Cesarevitch is interned at Kaiochau, and it is supposed Japan expects to claim it in the peace negotiations.

Two of the largest battleships ever constructed are now building for Japan in England and will soon be completed. Should all the Russian vessels mentioned be added to her fleet she would have a force of fifteen battleships, three times as many as Togo commanded when he overthrew Rojstrensky. But, in addition to the battleships, Japan has added or expects to add many Russian cruisers and torpedo boats to her naval force. These include the cruiser Varig, which was sunk at Chemulpo, but has since been raised;

ADMIRAL TOGO, FROM HIS LATEST PICTURE. the cruisers Bayan and Pallada, captured at Port Arthur, and several interned vessels. Of these three are at Manila—the Aurora, Oleg and Jemchug—while the Lena is cooped up at San Francisco, the Diana at Saigon and the Askold at Shanghai. Transports and colliers and various minor craft are at other ports. Whether Japan will get all these as one outcome of the peace negotiations remains to be seen. In any event it is held that her naval strength will be much greater at the close of the war than at its beginning. It is predicted by some naval experts that Japan will soon rank fourth in point of sea armament.

Naval experts agree that it was the preparedness and personnel of the Japanese navy which enabled it to meet and overwhelm with utter destruction a force of equal if not superior strength in point of armament. All concede that for the readiness of the Japanese to meet the Russians in the sea of Japan chief credit belongs to Admiral Togo, the quiet man who planned the action from his cabin in the flagship Mikasa. This cabin has sometimes been described as very plain and bare, but the English artist Seppings Wright has drawn a picture of it, in which appear a roll top desk and a luxurious looking swivel chair, a mirror and a mantle, on which are flowers and photographs, while in the center of the apartment stands a table, on which are seen two of the dwarf trees which the Japanese are expert in growing. These little trees are said to be hundreds of years old and were presented to the admiral by Count Okuma. In this cabin Togo keeps a shell which burst on board the Mikasa before Port Arthur and came near killing the Japanese commander. The fragments were collected and pieced together with cement.

GORGEOUS ATTIRE.

Dress of a Liverpool Merchant in the Eighteenth Century.

The Liverpool merchant in the latter half of the eighteenth century must have presented a by no means unpleasing appearance. He dressed, as a rule, we are informed, in a suit of one color, usually light or of a snuffy shade. The cut of his ordinary coat resembled that of a court dress coat, with standup collar and gilt, silvered, twist or basket buttons. His waistcoat was very long, with large "flaps," containing flapped pockets, these often decorated with buttons. His breeches, being short, were ornamented at the knees with buckles of gold, silver or stone, kept in countenance by large gold, silver or gilt buckles on his shoes, his legs being hosed, as a rule, in silk, plain, striped or ribbed. Ruffles at his wrist and a white stock about his throat were an almost invariable accompaniment, and on his head a cocked hat, pointed in front and higher at the back than the sides, over hair dressed into large "cannon" curls on each side of his face, with a cue hanging behind, or it might be over a "tie," "cauliflower" or "brown bob" wig. Thus, with stick or umbrella, rendered remarkable by reason of its head of gold, silver, amber or ebony, would he wend his way to "town." In "full dress" he must have even more attractively looked the merchant "prince" in his waistcoat of silk, satin or velvet rich in color and design, with long flaps elaborately embroidered, silk breeches and silk hose, with conspicuous knee and shoe buckles. If he on occasion dined with the mayor he might receive an engraved invitation card similar to the following, directed to Mr. Leece in 1776: "Mr. Mayor presents his compliments to Mr. Leece, begs the favor of his company on Sunday next to dinner, at 1 o'clock, at the Exchange. An answer is desired. 12th July, '76."

BUNDLE BEARERS.

A Role That City Men Are Not Now Inclined to Play.

There was a time, remembered easily by many, when the tender husband did not shrink from carrying home materials for his dinner. Men of learning in those simpler days grasped the eel of commerce, as the eel of science, by the tail. The statesman with Jovian brow and blue coat with brass buttons was very human with a dried codfish wrapped carefully in brown paper under his eloquent arm. To see a highly respectable citizen with a demijohn was a cheering sight. Nor was it beneath the dignity of a painful preacher of the word of God to carry a pair of trousers to the tailor when the rent was beyond the skill of domestic ingenuity.

The present civilization may be real or chrome; this at least is certain—the age of carrying bundles is gone so far as city men are concerned, although no Burke has celebrated in sonorous prose its passing. The man protests against the burden of a can of peas, a jar of marmalade, his wife's bank book. The youth insists that the two or three collars bought to bridge him over the

THURSDAY, JULY 13, 1905.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce T. H. COCHRAN, of Marion, as a candidate for Representative from the counties of Crittenden and Livingston, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

The arrival in this country of the remains of John Paul Jones forms an interesting epoch in the history of our nation. And it was but fitting that those precious remains should be escorted to the land he loved so well and defended so gallantly by a picked squadron from our powerful navy. The daring deeds of John Paul Jones read like a romance and have excited the wonder and admiration of the civilized world. With a handful of insignificant ships of war, as compared with those of the present day, he swept the ocean like a besom of destruction that struck terror into the hearts of his country's enemy. Too long has his precious dust reposed in foreign soil; but now a grateful people will see that that dust is fittingly honored.

The general business outlook is good. The business interests of the county are moving along at a brisk rate, although somewhat of a lull is experienced in mining and some other branches of trade. Money is plentiful and crop conditions bright. A wheat yield much larger than last year is indicated by reports we have received, and that is an encouraging feature of the situation. Abundant harvests furnish a substantial basis for trade and industrial activity, and signify much to the farmer and merchant. The outcome of the crops, therefore, is looked upon as the signal for aggressiveness in our business life. Factories, railroads and enterprises generally will feel a new stimulus and the agricultural pursuits of the country be crowned with more than the average success.

Company A, of the pick and shovel brigade, under Hale Walker, charged Finley Hill last week and after a desperate struggle retired in great disorder; although slightly disfigured they are still in the ring and will renew the assault again soon, with renewed vigor and they have great hopes of demolishing it.

Claude Slaton, the Sturgis banker, who so mysteriously disappeared has been heard from and says he will never return. His actions are inexplicable.

There is a move on foot to get J. E. Crider of the Fredonia Valley creamery, to establish an electric light plant in connection with the creamery, which he owns. He has an engine and has up steam each morning from 4 o'clock until 8 a. m. and then again from 4 to 8 p. m., so that to keep up steam and supply lights till 11 p. m. would be a comparatively small expense, and the two towns, Kelsey and Fredonia, could well afford to have this great modern convenience. The two towns could be connected by a string of lights and darkness turned to day. Fredonia and Kelsey together as one town is a pretty good one and would support such an enterprise handsomely, as the people are able financially and are progressive.

The Banner District.

The First district of Kentucky is her banner rural free delivery district. It is the one represented by Ollie James. His constituents have asked for more than those of any other district, and they have gotten more. Today there are 102 routes in operation in the First district. There were 191 petitions for the establishment of routes sent to the department. Thirty-six of these petitions had to be turned down, and fifty-three of them yet remain to be investigated and passed upon. Last year at this time there were only three or four districts in the State which had less routes than did the First. It had thirty-one to its credit then, as against 102 now. No district in the State, and few in the United States, show such relative gains in the number of routes established as does the First.—Louisville Times.

The way for Crittenden county to get rural routes is to petition Congressman James and he will do the rest.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Providence is booming. Two new railroads are building into the town.

Robert Mathey, white, was hanged Friday at Owensboro, for the murder of his paramour June 26, 1904.

The ice plant at Princeton is making a car load of ice, 40,000 lbs., a day. Marion should have one of equal capacity and could support it.

Detroit is to have a 10-story cream brick hotel, built strong enough to admit of five more stories being added. The way Marion is building up we may have one here some time.

Irving H. Wheatcroft of the town which bears his name, just over the line in Webster county, gave his employees an outing of one week on a steamboat trip to Nashville. Hurrah for Mr. Wheatcroft!

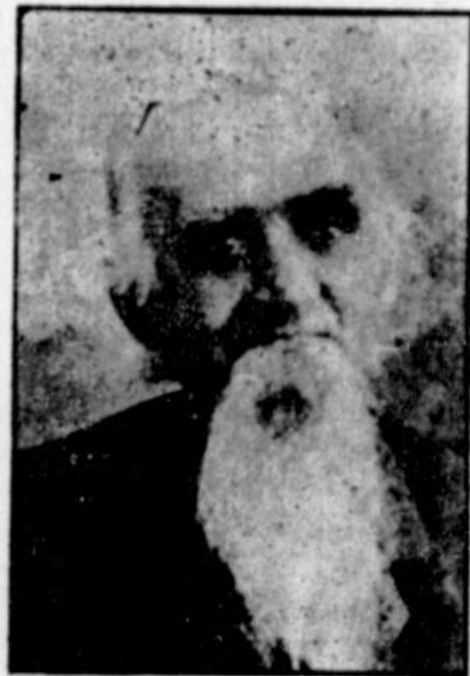

Major J. B. Tyler, aged 71, died at Princeton Wednesday of dysentery. He was a prominent Republican and Odd Fellow, and for many years was a liveryman at Princeton.

Gov. Beckham has addressed a communication to State Insurance Commissioner Prewett in relation to extortionate rates charged in some parts of Kentucky, which he says is not in proportion to the losses.

THE SAGE OF PINEY.

The Crittenden PRESS over on the alert where the interest or pleasure of its thousands of readers are concerned, presents herewith a well executed reproduction of the features of its old and highly valued correspondent, "O. G. W." otherwise Dr. Thomas Perkins. "The Sage of Piney." The picture in one respect scarcely does our friend justice, in that it represents him as an old man, whereas he is merely a youth of some eighty odd summers, with a heart as light, an eye as bright and a step as firm as a skittish Miss in her school days.

During the past twenty years Dr. Perkins has contributed some very fine literature to the columns of the PRESS. He is a gentleman of fine scholarly attainments, a graduate of the celebrated Philadelphia School of Medicine and Surgery, and is probably better up in the pathology of his profession than any physician in his section.

To many people Dr. Perkins is a mystery, a sphinx, a rara avis. For eighteen years the writer of this has been proud to call the Doctor his friend, and during all that time has ever found him the refined gentleman, the genial companion, the fascinating raconteur, and the "good fellow" generally, with a heart filled with the joy of living and a tongue tipped with the essence of wit and wisdom.

In times gone by the Doctor has revealed to the writer, probably more than to any other man in the county, save one, glimpses of his earlier career, and if there is any portion of it over which he desires to cast a veil; if there is any part or parcel of it which he desires to remain a sealed book, it is certainly his privilege. We are willing to take him as he is and for what he is—the fascinating, jolly, good tempered "O. G. W."—the chiefest among ten thousand and the one altogether lovely—a Rose of Sharon, as it were, and a Lily of the Valley.

And now a last word, old friend. We have crossed the divide and are going down the slope together. Our faces are set to the West. The sun of our lives is hovering around the rim of the Western horizon, and when its last beams quiver on the brink and are lost to our view in this world may it rise for us in that celestial land of Beulah which lies beyond the stars.

Judge Towery Exonerated.

The case of the commonwealth against Judge Towery was called last Friday in the Circuit Court, and both sides announced ready. After the commonwealth introduced its evidence Congressman Ollie M. James, counsel for the defendant, asked the court for peremptory instructions, which Judge Gordon immediately gave, dismissing the case. Afterwards, Commonwealth Attorney Grayot, in a few remarks, concurred with the court and said, "that after hearing the evidence, nothing else should be done except dismiss the case."

This closes an unpleasant chapter for our esteemed county judge, who was indicted by the grand jury at the last term of court for signing the name of County Surveyor Sullenger, to a land warrant, laid on land claimed to be vacant near Tolu. In his evidence before the court, County Surveyor Sullenger admitted that he had authorized Judge Towery to sign his name as deputy surveyor and while not conversant with this particular piece of land he also admitted that after the survey had been made by Judge Towery as deputy surveyor he was informed of it and told the judge it was all right. Judge Towery was dismissed on Sullenger's evidence, and because the court saw no evidence of fraud or wrong, intentionally or otherwise. Judge Towery's numerous friends are proud of his vindication.

Mrs. Lon Johnson and Mrs. S. M. Jenkins gave a reception last Thursday afternoon at the home of the latter in honor of Mrs. D. E. Woods, of Decatur, Ill. The house was brilliantly lighted and decorated for the occasion and notwithstanding the inclement weather most of those invited were present. Little Misses Margaret Woods and Linda Jenkins were doorkeepers. Mrs. Perry Duke Maxwell, of Ardmore, I. T., assisted the hostesses and their guest of honor in receiving the visitors. Mrs. O. M. James presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. R. F. Dorr and Mrs. R. W. Wilson served the refreshments in the dining room, and they were elegant and dainty, consisting of salads, pickles, sandwiches and salted nuts for first course and ice cream, cherry fruit sherbet and cake for the second course. Mrs. J. W. Blue and Mrs. R. F. Haynes assisted in entertaining the guests. The house was decorated throughout in pink and green and sweet peas. Each guest was presented with a hand-painted souvenir, and was given a conundrum, the guessing of which caused much merriment—also telling their hobby—each one admitted having a hobby and told the others about it, which they all enjoyed very much. Some of those who attended were Mesdames J. G. Rochester, John H. Tonkin, of Wheatcroft; D. Everett Woods, guest of honor of Decatur, Ill.; James Travis, Hugh Hurley, J. Seth Henry, Gus Taylor, Frank Dodge, Levi Cook, Ellen Croft, Perry Maxwell, of Ardmore, I. T.; Geo. Roberts, Eva Moore, John Grayot, of Smithland; J. F. Gordon, of Madisonville; H. V. Stone, A. C. Moore, Thos. Hearin, R. L. Moore, H. H. Sayre, J. H. Orme, S. T. Dupuy, E. H. James, J. W. Blue, Fannie Walker, R. L. Flanary, John Nunn, W. O. Tucker, R. F. Haynes, Carrie Maxwell, Chas. Evans, E. P. Stewart, R. F. Dorr, F. W. Hall, of Owensville, Ind., and Misses Della Smith, of Owensville, Ind., Nonie Blue, of St. Louis, Mo., and Mrs. R. W. Wilson and the hostesses Mrs. S. M. Jenkins and Mrs. Lon Johnson, who proved themselves delightful entertainers.

A GUEST.

Last Friday evening Masters Harry Ramage and Lonnie Moore entertained a quiet number of their friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Ramage. The home was magnificently arranged in honor of the occasion, and the table, my, oh my, what a sight to behold! It was not only loaded with all the delicious eatables the heart could desire, but was gay with many brilliant flowers and hued lights. The most interesting feature of the evening was "merry making." This game lasted from the time of the arrival of the first guest until the departure of the last. During the fleeting hours many games were indulged in while Miss Mayme Graves rendered some very enchanting music, and at ten o'clock one and all were invited into the lovely decorated dining room where fruits, nuts, ices and cakes were found awaiting them. After refreshing themselves they returned to their games and not until the wee hour of mid-night approached did the merry-makers think to recognize their duty to their hosts and depart, but after duly considerations and hearty good nights, they reluctantly did so, pronouncing Ramage and Moore grand hosts. There were fifty-five invitations issued. Those present were Misses Vera McCord, Mayme Hubbard, Effie and Lacy James, Ada and Ina Hughes, Mary Lou and Allie Wilborn, Mabel Kevill, Velda Hicklin, Mayme Graves and Ida Lou Ramage, of Dycusburg; Irabelle and Willie Carlous, Luella Webb, Pearl Doss, Pearl James, Maud and Bernice Driskill, Bulah Hibbs, of Madisonville; Lillie Duvall, Mabel Wilson, Jennie and Mollie Potter, Bertha Moore, and Messrs Norman Henry, Curtis Asher, Tom Cameron, Howard McConnell, Ray Duvall, Lonnie Moore, Harry Ramage, Byrd Guess, Noble Hill, Rob Cook, Claud Guess and Roscoe Rochester.

Miss Madeline Jenkins celebrated the anniversary of her birthday last Saturday July 8th. The hours were from three to five, and during the afternoon many of her friends called to pay their respects. Among those noted were Misses Mattie Henry, Ruth Dollar, Florence Dean, Maud Flanary, Maud Watkins, Katie Yates, Mira Dixon, Mildred Rankin, Katie Vandell, Jessie Croft, Manye Haynes, Gwendoline Haynes, Mildred Trisler, Elvie Pickens and Nannie Rochester. The drawing contest was much enjoyed by all, Miss Mildred Rankin being the winner. Conundrums were asked by each of the guests and several games were played. Refreshments were served in the dining room consisting of cake, punch, sherbert and chocolates. The party was very enjoyable, and most of the young folks who were fortunate enough to be invited attended and each one brought Miss Madeline a beautiful present, and all left hoping she would live to celebrate many of her birthdays and we might be her guest.

Reading. The bride is a daughter of Mr. F. G. Daniel of Marion, Ky. The groom is a popular night clerk at the Florentine hotel and has many friends in this city who extend hearty congratulations. ## Letter from Washington.

ZILLAH, WASH., July 2, 1905.—
Mr. Editor: As I sit down to write back to my old valuable paper; as I look back across the Rockies and see our noble oak, I will write a few words back to my many friends as they requested of me.

We will try to tell our many friends in old Livingston and Crittenden county something about the State of Washington.

Well as I have looked around some over the beautiful Yakima Valley, I went to a baseball game at Wapataw a few days ago; there were 19 innings and Wapataw came out winner 8 to 7; $1200 were up on the game.

The people are making preparation for a big Fourth, which takes the place of Christmas in this country.

I spent one day on the Indian reservation, just riding and looking around. I found the soil a dark sandy loam, a very productive soil. You can rent raw land on the reservation for 50 cents an acre by taking it for five years at a time and put a certain amount of improvement on it.

You can buy land on the north side of the Yakima river from $1.50 to $3 per acre and wheat will average 70 bushels per acre, barley about 50 bushels, oats about 120 bushels, potatoes will average about 12 tons to the acre; Early Rose are now selling here at 5 cts per lb., which will make $100 per ton.

Fruit crops here this year will average about 60 per cent. of a crop. Offers of $1 per box have been made for Ben Davis apples for fall delivery. A box will hold about a bushel; pears $2 per box and the box holds 55 pounds. There will be a full crop of hops and the hop raisers are expecting 30 cents per pound; we had about a 75 per cent. crop of hay, that is the first cutting. Alfalfa hay is selling for $4 per ton, red clover and timothy hay is selling at $6 per ton, and as for corn we don't raise any in this country, only a few rows of sweet corn to eat; land is too valuable to raise corn.

We have got good draft stock in this country; have lots of ponies in this place; they sell all the way from $2 to $50; as for good blooded harness and saddle stock they are very scarce in this place, and as for our good long eared mules are concerned we have none.

We have fine stock cattle out here; they are as good out here as they are anywhere. Cattle is selling for 4 cents per pound gross, we have fine sheep out here and I have not learned their price; hogs are scarce and are selling at 5 cents a pound.

Perhaps some one would like to know what kind of people we have out here. A few old Kentuckians of Livingston and Crittenden counties, and some highly educated ministers of the gospel, right after Sam Jones and from that on down to the present time to a rat-tail Chinaman.

May God be with you all and if any one wants any information about Washington I will tell them what I know.

As ever yours,
M. C. CRUCE.

Your Life Current.

The power that gives you life and motion is the nerve force, or nerve fluid, located in the nerve cells of the brain, and sent out through the nerves to the various organs.

If you are tired, nervous, irritable, cannot sleep; have headache, feel stuffy, dull and melancholy, or have neuralgia, rheumatism, backache, periodical pains, indigestion, dyspepsia, stomach trouble, or the kidneys and liver are inactive, your life-current is weak.

Power-producing fuel is needed; something to increase nerve energy—strengthen the nerves.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve-vine is the fuel you need. It feeds the nerves, produces nerve force, and restores vitality.

"When I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve-vine and Anti-Pain Pills I was confined to my bed. I had severe nervous spells, the result of two years illness with malaria. I gradually grew so weak that I was unable to sit up. The spells would commence with cold chills, and I would become weak and almost helpless. My circulation was poor. I had doctored right along but grew weaker and weaker. The Nerve-vine seemed to strengthen me right away and my circulation was better. I have taken in all seven bottles of the Nerve-vine, and I am entirely well."

ROSA E. WHAYNE, Stuart, Ia.
Dr. Miles' Nerve-vine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

The Fashions of Paris.

The general keynote of the season's dresses is, clear, pale colors, shapes and soft, wide undulating skirts says Edouard La Fontaine, in the August Delineator. The materials are generally finer than those proved last year. The leading color is white in various shades—pure white or chalk, sand, twine and so forth, then comes blue, in numerous gradations from the palest flax flowers to the brightest bluebell. Pale pink is in great favor and always gives a refined aspect.

There can be doubt that the tendency of the current fashions is to enhance the beauty of the waist line. This brings us back to more close-fitting busts and hips and to wider skirts.

The practice of combining laces of various origins was started last year but general approval has insured its success for this season. Effective, thick flowers in Irish lace on a background of Valenciennes produce a very pleasant and varied impression. Eyelet embroidery of a somewhat elaborate pattern can also be matched with lace, and one of the most graceful creations of the season is a lace princess gown having toward the lower edge broad incrustation of muslin on which the roses are painted by hand.

Among hats, the most popular model is the small plateau boldly tilted over the face and profusely trimmed under the brim with choux or tulle and velvet bows, and adorned on top with beautiful natural appearing flowers. The recent fashion of bold coiffures and audaciously tilted hats with larger crowns, and some interesting models are seen with crowns four, even six inches high.

CHAPEL HILL.

Died at his home July 5th, Mr. I. B. Hodges, one of the old landmarks of this county. He was close to 80 years of age, a good man and a good citizen.

W. H. Bigham has had a very bad spell of flux for the past two weeks, but is up again.

Tobacco is looking very well in Chapel Hill; some is ready for the bud to come out.

Mr. T. M. Butler from Fiedonia, was through here buying sheep last week, paying a good price, from 3 to 5c a lb.

Threshing wheat is progressing slowly in this vicinity. On account of the wet weather it is in the shock yet.

Mr. Tom Hill has sold some very fine white oak timber to Baird & Co. of Crayneville.

Cutting hay is a slow go, it takes sunshine to make hay. But very little has been saved in our precinct. Corn is looking fine; the prospect for a good crop is flattering at present.

Plowing is over and the crop is in good condition.

A Curiosity.—Miss Ruby Bigham was looking in her dresser drawers, and seeing something and supposing it to be a mouse, she tried to catch it when she discovered it to be a little snake about 3 inches long, in the top drawer.

Oats are all cut, in the shock and are very good; were thin on the ground but had good heads.

Fruit is very good; apples are falling off; some peaches and a splendid grape crop; plums are plentiful; all kinds of vegetables are good, Irish and sweet potatoes, cabbage, etc.

Gallant Kentucky Editor.

Springfield, Ky., Sun: Figure it out on a rose leaf and write it with the brew of a lily, that no where under the great blue dome is there a creature half so pretty as a Kentucky woman. She's prettier than an evening star, in the shadow of a summer sunset, more inspiring than a thousand songs and as bewitching as a fawn tangled in a wilderness of roses. She's our hope, our romance, our vine and fig tree—the light which enables us to see a million miles beyond the north star.

Found After Several Months.

During last May Ebbie Hollingsworth, aged 10 years, a son of Mrs. Fannie Hollingsworth, stepped on a piece of a hat pin over two inches long and it had been in his limb ever since, until Sunday, when it was extricated near the knee by Billy Horner. The pin had worked its way up near the knee joint and strange to say has never given the boy scarcely any pain. The point was seen Sunday piercing its way through the skin and Mr. Horner's attention was called to it, and he pulled it out very easily.—Ex.

Learn to Forget.

Forget each kindness that you do, As soon as you have done it; Forget the praise that falls to you The moment you have won it; Forget the slander that you hear Before you can repeat it; Forget each spite, each slight, each sneer

Wherever you may meet it.

Remember every kindness done To you whatever its measure; Remember praise by others won And pass it on with pleasure; Remember every promise made And keep it to the letter; Remember those who give you aid And be a grateful debtor.

Save 1-2 Your Paint Bills

By using Weir's Bavarian White Lead, the most durable and therefore the most economical lead or paint made. It has zinc in it. The zinc gives the paint a beautiful gloss and prevents the lead from destroying the LINSEED OIL WHICH IS THE LIFE OF ALL PAINT. "Pure Lead" by itself will eat and destroy the linseed oil, thus causing the paint to become porous or open and dust off. Weir's Bavarian White Lead is better and cheaper than mixed paints because one-half of every gallon of mixed paint is linseed oil for which you pay $1.50 per gallon and get an old, stale, unsound linseed oil. Buy fresh oil from your dealer's barrel at its true value. 4 1-2 gallons linseed oil and 100 pounds of Weir's Lead will make 6 1-2 gallons best paint ready to use, that will cost you no more than other standard brands of lead and much less than mixed paint and will last twice as long as either. Write D. T. Weir White Lead Co., St. Louis, Mo., for their booklet "Facts About White Lead." Weir's Bavarian White Lead is for sale by Cochran & Pickens, Marion, Ky.
