TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

held at the School House Monday Morning—Large Attendance and an Interesting Session.

The Institute convened at the school building Monday morning, July 17th. The president Paris being indisposed, not well enough to be present, the institution was called to order by Prof. Charles Evans. He read the organ by Miss Sallie Moore. Reading by Prof. Charles Evans and prayer by P. M. Ward. Thomas was elected president, Allen vice; Francis Gray secretary; Habb asst. sec'y. A history talk by Instructor Moore was very logical and was followed by an endorsement by Rev. J. F. Price.

The enrollment of teachers and students stood adjourned until Tuesday afternoon.

AFTERNOON.

Common school course classified.

ACQUISITIONAL STUDIES

Reading, writing, spelling, extended grammar, geography, history and compositions.

Instructor here give us a talk about the common school course by M. F. Pogue. He says that he thinks there are too many on a right hot day in August sometimes thinks there too

Subjects are reached by good reading and lectures. Personal-representative faculty, national-comparative-memory and other faculties of the mind discussed by Prof. V. G. Kee.

Prof. Kee made a fine talk along these showing the acquisition of the mind. In this first talk he made a fine impression on the minds of the teachers.

After closing the discussion by the thought that culture is the basis of education. He made an impressive of physical education, plays and nature study.

After the able discussions—Advance the discussion. Many were propounded and Miss Moore it a very interesting and McAfee entered the discussion and many good were presented. Prof. Kee made a strong plea for the well of smoking cigarettes.

WEDNESDAY MORNING.

which the institute held. Let the Blessed Sun shine. Reading by the Instructor Moore. Prof. V. G. Kee.

Principles, The Royal Great elementary principles. Outline. Mind has a process, mind must be active.

on mind growth from content and growth. He encouraged teachers to encourage self-activity.

Basic principles. Gray began with the and from that to its parts to the Prof. Evans and was discussed by the would have the of the county to the state and by Mr. Evans and man-hood.

Elementary Book—Miss Jennie Clement. She would use the book with about the fourth grade.

Advanced work was discussed by Prof. Williams. He would recommend Carpenter's Geographical readers, also travel to gain knowledge. He emphasizes the importance of map drawing in the advance class.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON.

Music.

Roll call and several of the teachers answered with quotations.

R. M. Allen, vice-president, was called to the chair.

Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

Literature in our public schools was discussed by Miss Nellie Boston.

Distinction between reading and literature was discussed by Miss Margaret Moore. She very distinctly brought out the difference. Followed by Mr. Evans who urged the teachers to introduce literature into their schools.

The teachers said by a vote they would use literature in their schools as a memory exercise.

R. E. Williams, of Owensboro, was with us to-day and made us a good talk on advance work and on advance geography.

WEDNESDAY MORNING.

Music.

Reading of Scripture by Rev. T. C. Gebaur, of Henderson, Ky.

S. S. Field, worker. This was a very forcible and impressive lesson calling attention of the teachers to the fact that they are the light of the world.

The Instructor took up the institute work.

Theme—Memory.

Analysis—Retention, real associations explains experience, recalls conditions, excellence. He closed by giving a number of methods for improving the memory. Judgment and reasoning is not of itself, but they have their relation with each other.

RECESS.

Methods of reading.

First lesson was introduced by Mrs. Fanny Walker who first uses words then association of sounds then the sentence as a whole.

Rev. Rice says phonic drills comes in later.

Word Nastery was discussed by Miss Nannie Campbell.

NOON RECESS

Prof. Evans is showing his appreciation and love for his Crittenden county co-laborers by giving them in what may be his last weeks work, the best institute work ever given in the county. This is saying a great deal as we have had many efficient instructors in the past, but he knows his audience, their needs and their surroundings, and deals them out accordingly. Long may he live to glorify the cause of Education.

To G. M. Russell—"G. M. R." BY O. G. W.

ESTEEMED FRIEND: The defect in many idealists who aspire also to be leaders of men, is that they do not distinguish between the ideal of thought and the action that was intended to represent it. Amiel says, "Action is but coarsened thought."

To make action fine is possible, but it is not possible to every honest man of high thought. A fine act, a noble course of conduct, an ideal policy—these are the results of ideal thinking. But he who translates high thought into fine action must be an artist of great intelligence, having a trained, creative talent. He who can, out of his own ideals, shape a policy fit to be imposed upon others is one of the rarest of men. But two often one who is conscious of honesty of intention and purity of ideals thinks these to be proofs that his work is worthy and fit to endure. Black's painter in "Shandon Bells" dashes his fist through the picture, which seems to him but a caricature of his fine inspiration. Your picture does not, by any means, deserve any such rude treatment. That we are good in thought and wish to turn that goodness into action, is no proof that we have done so. We should have been spared a world of trouble during the last generation of good men, with high ideals, had been willing to admit that other human beings were as good judge of the quality of their actions as they were. The essence of magnanimity is the willingness to abide by the judgment of the expert in matters of practice, content to believe that the high ideas have failed to translate itself to its appropriate act. To confess defeat and try again is the way to ideal success. To insist that the action was fine because the motive was high is to make the "coarsened thought" the ideal and masterpiece. You, Brother "Nemo," have succeeded. Your masterly manipulation has refined the "coarsened thought."

You have fully convinced me that the coming generation will find no difficulty in answering the question, "Who struck Billy Patterson?" All I can do now is to fall upon the knees of my heart and say, "O God, let the vision of Thy glory never be hidden from our eyes in this world or any other, but forever grow brighter and brighter." Your "last word" that "We have crossed the divide and are going down the slope together," etc., I appreciate; and in response to your soothing, inspiring ministrations, I, with uncovered head and with all due deference and kindly regards, offer you this, perhaps my last,

DULCES MEMORIA.

If we from whom the passing years Have taken all our youth's delight, Nor brought us honors, wealth or fame,

Or that success we deemed our right, Oh! if we could but understand That love is greater than renown, That simple duty, daily done, Adorned us more than laurel crown!

Contentment still is more than gold, And his alone the true success, Whose life "unspotted from the world"

Has known unselfish happiness. Then let us lead our humble lives, Content to do our Lord's behest, Until the evening shadows cool Proclaim the toiler near his rest.

And when at last, the daylight spent, We homeward face at set of sun, Nor wealth, nor fame will worthy seem,

But only duty, bravely done! Calmly we'll look on either life, and here

See nothing to regret or there to fear. Today is a cool summer day, full of calm and sunny sweetness. The earlier harvests have been gathered in and the beautiful valley lies in perfect rest—

"Like a full heart, having prayed." Ah, my friend, there is a spot in every human soul, I guess, where approbation is the sweetest drop that can fall. I'll not imbibit it with a subt or debate—save what has already escaped me. Only the weakness of my limbs—in the branches, so to say—admonishes me that the tree may fall sooner than I expect. Thanks!

Marion Graded Schools.

Prof. Victor G. Kee, the new principal of the Marion Graded Schools, arrived in the city last week and is attending the institute this week. Prof. Kee is a Tennessean, having been born in Lauderdale county near Memphis. He had charge of a department in the Covington, Tenn., city schools last session, and comes to us with the highest credentials and references.

Marion is indeed fortunate in securing the services of so able an educator to wear the mantle of Prof. Chas. Evans, and that the trustees are to be congratulated is the consensus of opinion, not only in their leader but in the strong support he will have in his corps of assistants who are Misses Sadie Rankin, Frances Gray, Lena Woods, Margaret Moore, Florence Harris, of Corydon, Katherine Moore and Mrs. Fannie Walker.

Monument to E. C. Flanary.

The many friends of the late E. C. Flanary will be proud to know that his brothers, H. T. Flanary, of Memphis, Tenn., Kit Flanary, of Dallas, Tex., Gordon Flanary, of Houston, Tex., and Robt. L. Flanary, of this city, and his sister, Mrs. Geo. W. Howerston, of this county, have all contributed toward erecting a handsome stone to mark the last resting place of this popular and widely known man. It proves their loyalty and devotion to their brother who had few peers as to popularity.

It will be remembered that his son, Walter, accidentally shot himself last winter at Smithland dying instantly.

Crittenden County Farmers Call Meeting.

To Crittenden county farmers. As correspondent from this county to the department of Agriculture, Labor and Statistics for the State of Kentucky, I have been requested by the commissioner to ask that all farmers of this county meet in Marion on next county court day, August 14th, for the purpose of hearing an address from the commissioner or his deputy and also for the purpose of organizing a Crittenden County Farmers Institute. CHAS. W. FOX.

Needles 20c per dozen for any and all machines.—T. J. Wring.

Miss Ellis Gray entertained Thursday evening from 8 to 11 in honor of Miss Willie Croft, who left yesterday with her mother and sisters for the Great Lakes.

The evening, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all present, was enlivened by several contests, the most notable of which was a drawing contest in which the honors were equally divided between Mr. V. Y. Moore and Mr. Noble Hill.

Music and flowers added much to the charm of the occasion. Ices were served during the evening.

Those present were: Misses Willie Croft, Virgie Nunn, Verna Pickens, Ollie May Yates, Pearl Doss, Bernice and Maud Driskill, Mary Finley, Mary Deboe, Hilda Schwab, Grace Moore, and Messrs. Wilbok Haynes, Curtis Asher, Noble Hill, Tom Cameron, Virgil Moore, Will McConnell, Curtis Pickens and Ray Flanary.

Mrs. James Seth Henry and Miss Martha Henry delightfully entertained their friends at a "Silhouette" party Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Mr. J. W. Goodloe.

The party was unique and an innovation for the social set and extremely interesting among the "like-ness" sketched, (the guests were to guess the original,) were those such well known citizens as post-master Crider, President Cochran of the Commercial Club, Marshall Weldon, Attorney Will Clark, Druggist Creed Taylor, Dr. J. W. Trisler, Rev. J. S. Henry and other celebrities. In this guessing contest Miss Dell Kevil won the prize and Mrs. Geo. Roberts the booby.

Frappe was served through out the evening on the front Veranda and during the course of the reception all were served with delicious refreshments in the dining room by Miss Mamie Henry, Ethel Hard and Grace Moore. The first course consisting of salads, pickles and crackerettes and second of ice cream, cake and confections. The attendance was unusually large and among those who called during the afternoon were Messdames O. M. James, R. L. Moore, Frank Dodge, A. H. Cardin, A. C. Moore, Geo. Roberts, R. L. Flanary, D. E. Woods, of Decatur, Ill., Thos. Cochran, Augustus Taylor, W. O. Tucker, Jas. Travis, J. W. Blue, J. Huston Orme, H. H. Sayre, S. T. Dupuy, S. M. Jenkins, D. C. Porter, J. W. Lamb and Misses Nonie Blue, of St. Louis, Dell Barnes, Lena, Sallie and Ina Woods.

Francis and Kitty Gray, Kitty and Maggie Moore, Ann Eliza Johnson, Mable and Dell Kevil and many others.

Little Miss Geneva Daniels celebrated her seventh birthday last Thursday afternoon with a lawn party at the home of her grand mother, Mrs. Henrietta Cameron. The young folks had a royal good time and enjoyed especially the ice cream and cake. The fortunate little lady received many nice and useful presents. Among those who attended were the following: Misses Ruth Croft, Virginia Guess, Virginia Flanary, Linda Jenkins, Elizabeth Cook, Florence Dean, Isabell Guess, Lula Cannan, Robbie Moore, Mamie and Ruth Haynes, Ruth Hearin, Susie Boston, Hazal Pollard, Lucile Pollard, Mary Deboe, Lemna James, Madaline Jenkins, Majorie Tonkin, Helen Sayre, Mary Gilbert.

Developed Zinc Mine For Sale

This no prospect but a real thing with the ore sticking out of the ground—true fissure vein and inexhaustible. Seven or eight different parties own stock in this mine and no one of them will give it the attention that it requires and deserves. The order is given to sell and settle partnership.

Their Loss is Your Gain

Mine is situated in the highest mineralized spot in the Western Kentucky Mining District.

Eighteen acres—one shaft 63 feet deep; one shaft 45 feet deep, boiler, engine, steam hoist, steam drill, mining tools, about ready now for pump, about 400 tons of ore on the dump, carbonate of zinc, lead and jack, locations for other shafts in good stuff.

By putting in concentrator the mine is now in shape to pay good dividends.

Price of whole outfit $17,000, without the mineral rights $12,500.

Commission Paid Brokers.

GEO. C. HUGHES, Paducah, Ky.

The following mineral rights can be had with the Developed Property
60 acres, one mile from Hodge mine, floor spar proposition.
70 acres, one-half mile from Riley mine, (same vein) lead proposition.
90 acres, 1 1/2 miles from Columbia mine, zinc proposition.
This 220 acres mineral rights (in fee) and the developed 18 acres are ample assets for a $100,000 company and will pay dividends on that amount.

OBITUARY.

Mary E. Nunn, daughter of Samuel and Sarah Nunn, was born Jan. 12, 1855, and was married to W. H. H. Arfack April 12, 1877, and died June 22, 1905, age 50 years 5 months and ten days. She professed faith in Christ in early life and united with the M. E. church at Rose Bud of which she has been a consistent member for more than thirty years. Sister Arfack is gone from us; her sufferings are over. She leaves a husband, two sisters and two brothers and a host of friends to mourn their loss, but their loss is her eternal gain. The whole community will sympathize with our brother in his bereavement, and will admire his resignation to God's will as expressed in the following words: "While the heart longs for her companionship, the head says it's best for her to depart and be with Christ where she can rest from her labors and constant pain. We bow in humble submission and say, 'thy will, oh God be done.' Sister Arfack was confined to her room and bed for over nine months, during which time she bore afflictions with all the Christian fortitude and courage that any one ever did, until death came and she passed quietly away to her reward. Her friends and neighbors were faithful in every respect, and nothing was left undone that could have been done by them.

Whereas, we want to thank the many friends for their untiring energy and faithfulness during her illness. Whereas, our heavenly Father has in his infinite wisdom removed from our midst our worthy and much esteemed sister, Mary E. Arfack. Resolved that in her removal by death the church, to which she belonged has lost a faithful member and her husband a faithful companion, the community a devoted neighbor and sympathetic friend. Her funeral was preached by the writer at Mount Zion cemetery in the presence of a large congregation from the text, 2 Cor. 5-1. "May the Lord cheer and comfort the broken hearted until he says its enough, come up higher. REV. J. R. KING.

Save 1-2 Your Paint Bills

By using Weir's Bavarian White Lead, the most durable and therefore the most economical lead or paint made. It has zinc in it. The zinc gives the paint a beautiful gloss and prevents the lead from destroying the LINSEED OIL WHICH IS THE LIFE OF ALL PAINT. "Pure Lead" by itself will eat and destroy the linseed oil, thus causing the paint to become porous or open and dust off. Weir's Bavarian White Lead is better and cheaper than mixed paints because one-half of every gallon of mixed paint is linseed oil for which you pay $1.50 per gallon and get an old, stale, unsound linseed oil. Buy fresh oil from your dealer's barrel at its true value. 4 1-2 gallons linseed oil and 100 pounds of Weir's Lead will make 6 1-2 gallons best paint ready to use, that will cost you no more than other standard brands of lead and much less than mixed paint and will last twice as long as either. Write D. T. Weir White Lead Co., St. Louis, Mo., for their booklet "Facts About White Lead." Weir's Bavarian White Lead is for sale by Cochran & Pickens, Marion, Ky.

Obituary.

It has pleased God in his goodness and mercy to remove from the sinfulness of this world another of our loved ones to that Beautiful City, and we have it to say, "One tie less on earth but one more in heaven."

Last winter Mr. Sam Thurman's health failed him and he decided to go to California in hopes of regaining his health. On the 6th of March he and family left for Pomona. How wonderful are the ways of Providence! While there he became very low and seemed to fight against death; when conscious begged to be taken back to his own home, so that friends and relatives could visit his grave. His loving Father gave him the desire of his heart. He recuperated, came back, stood the trip finely, seemed cheerful and hopeful the day he arrived at Repton, which was the 9th of June. In about two weeks, the 24th death claimed him as its own.

He seemed so glad to get among old friends again, and when he was again slowly sinking he said to his wife, "Carrie I am glad I have got you and the children back among your people. I care not to die but I hate to leave you and the children."

Funeral service was conducted Rev. N. J. Fox, at Repton church, (where he was married to Miss Carrie Fritts, Dec. 14, 1894).

At 3 o'clock Sunday, June 25th, his remains were interred at Repton graveyard. It being "Children's Day," a very large assembly awaited the funeral procession. It was his fortune to have as many people to pay the last tribute of respect as is ever witnessed in the country.

He leaves a wife and five little children, two sisters, two brothers, and a host of relatives and friends to mourn their loss. But our loss is his gain. His sisters, Mesdames Mag Nations and Leila McCollums, were with him in his last hours. His brother John was also at his funeral but his brother Will, who lives in Louisiana, arrived too late.

Dear wife, this is the sorest affliction you have ever had to undergo, but remember God hath said in His blessed Word, "I will be a husband unto the widow and a father to the orphan." May you take comfort and courage; your undertaking to fill a father's and mother's place is great, but your heavenly Father also is great—trust Him.

To all the bereaved ones we extend our heartfelt sympathy, and may we all so live that we too can say, "I care not to die." 'Tis so sweet to trust in Jesus, Just to take him at His word; Just to rest upon His promise, Just to say, "Thus saith the Lord."

BELLE FRITTS.

Told by Ollie James.

"In one of the towns of my district," said Representative James, of Kentucky, "members of one of the churches held a meeting to select a suitable man to fill a vacancy on the Board of Trustees. A gentleman in business as grocer was named as a suitable person for the place, but his nomination was opposed by a member who asserted that the gentleman also sold whiskey along with his groceries.

"I didn't know that he sold liquor too," said the gentleman who made the nomination.

"Well he does," put in another member, "and that's not the worst of it—it's mighty poor stuff."

As a matter of course the nomination was withdrawn and a more suitable person selected, the Congressman failing to state whether the "more suitable person" sold a better quality of the family disturber.

The Morning Stars.

Mr. J. M. Gillum, night watchman at the Mayfield planing mills, says that about two months ago two morning stars began to appear, one far above the other. They began to get closer together until now they have passed each other and are becoming separated again. He says this only happens once in two hundred years, and that the passing of two morning stars are indicative of an era of health, happiness and prosperity.—Mayfield Messenger.

He lived in this county 12 years and moved to Livingston county four years ago, and has since resided there until his death last Friday. His wife preceded him to the grave 25 years ago. He leaves one son, W. E. Stephenson, of Pinckneyville, and three daughters, Mrs. T. G. Brown, of Gallatin county, Ky., Mrs. S. C. Allen, of this county, and Mrs. C. J. Stamper, of Covington. He was a Royal Arch Mason and a Baptist. He professed religion 70 years ago and spent three score and ten years in the Master's cause.

oses to Petoskey.

Mrs. Ellen Croft and her 3 daughters, Misses Willie, Jessie and Ruth, left Tuesday afternoon for Petoskey, Mich., where they remain till frost.

Mrs. Croft hopes to find relief from hay fever from which she suffers every year.

The city of Petoskey, where they have gone is one of the most beautiful spots in all the Southern peninsula of Michigan. It is situated at the head of Lake Michigan, near the Straits of Mackinack, and is on Little Traverse Bay, an arm of Lake Michigan, and is within a few minutes ride of a hundred crystal lakes and springs, with which that section abounds. The city, while of less than 10,000 inhabitants, has some of the finest hotels in America, and all modern improvements, electric lights, electric cars, parks, etc., etc. Daily steamships to and from Chicago, via Lake Michigan, and to Detroit, Cleveland and Buffalo, via the straits and Lakes Huron, St. Clair and Erie. The trip is a nice one and Mrs. Croft's friends hope she and her daughters will not only enjoy it but be much benefited in health and that she may escape hay fever.

Obituary.

Uncle Billy Kemp, one of our oldest and most highly respected citizens, after an illness of some weeks, died at his home near Shady Grove July 5th. Two months and seven days added to his life would have made him 79 years old, his stay on earth dating back to Sept. 13, 1826.

As an example of industry and unrepentable citizenship, he unquestionably stood as a safe and honorable pattern, by and after which all men could well afford to shape and square their lives. His friends were many; if he had enemies they were few and unknown. All of his days were spent in this locality; he was born within one hundred feet of the present family residence, wherein he died.

Uncle Billy embraced the religion of the cross some time after he had passed the middle milestone of his years, and united with the M. E. church at Shady Grove, in which connection he remained until the close of his earthly career. And he it said to his lasting credit that there are no mists nor clouds to gather from reproachful misdeeds or doings to hang over his tomb to disturb or break his peaceful rest, where he now sleeps beside a former wife, the mother of all his children.

Uncle Billy leaves a wife, four sons and two daughters, one brother and one sister, who deeply realize their loss. But as a precious comforting heritage he left to his friends and loved ones the consoling assurance that all was well with him, between his Saviour and himself, and he fell asleep in Jesus to awake in the brighter clime of Heaven.

At the close of appropriate divine services, conducted by his pastor, Rev. T. F. Roland his mortality was deposited in its last earthly abode, in Shady Grove cemetery July 6th, 1905.

Many friends bore testimony of their appreciation of the life of Uncle Billy by their presence at the burial.

A POSITIVE GUARANTEE

Signed by Woods & Orme who Agree to Return Your Money If Dr. Carlstedt's German Liver Powder Fails to Cure You.

GUARANTEE

We hereby agree to refund the money paid for Dr. Carlstedt's German Liver Powder on the return of the empty bottles, the purchaser stating it has failed to relieve and cure him of any of the diseases for which it is recommended. This guarantee covers the use of a $1 bottle or four 25c bottles or two months' treatment. Signed.

Dr. Carlstedt's German Liver Powder is a wonderful remedy, a prescription used for over fifty years by an eminent German physician in his practice both in Europe and this country and sold by thousands of druggists all over the world. So mildly natural are the effects of this remedy that all Kidney and Liver troubles give way to perfect health. It cures the worst cases and many have been cured who had tried every known remedy.

Woods & Orme

can tell you all about Dr. Carlstedt's German Liver Powder; it has cured many of his customers who are recommending it to their friends.

Better than testimonials is the guarantee under which Dr. Carlstedt's German Liver Powder is sold. If it does not relieve and cure you it will cost you nothing, so go at once and procure the remedy and take along this guarantee.

How Is Your Heart?

Is your pulse weak, too slow, too fast, or does it skip a beat? Do you have shortness of breath, weak or hungry spells, fainting, smothering or choking spells, palpitation, fluttering, pains around the heart, in side and shoulder; or hurt when lying on left side?

If you have any of these symptoms your heart is weak or diseased, and cannot get better without assistance.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure strengthens weak hearts, and rarely ever fails to cure heart disease. Try it, and see how quickly you will find relief.

"About January 1st, 1902, I took down with weakness and dropsy, and gradually grew worse. I was told by my family physician that my case was hopeless. My neighbors and family had given me up to die. My limbs and body were swollen to one-third larger than normal size, and water had collected around my heart. For at least three months I had to sit propped up in bed to keep from smothering. I sent for five bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, and by the time I had taken them all I was entirely cured. I feel better than I have for twenty years, and I am able to do any kind of work on my farm. My attending physician told me that if it hadn't been for Dr. Miles' Heart Cure I would now be in my grave."
L. T. CURD, Wilmore, Ky.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails he will refund your money.

Tobacco Investigation.

Washington, July 14.—Because of the receipt of numerous communications from the South, and statements which have appeared in the newspapers throughout the country, at various times, declaring that statements from the statistics department of the bureau of agriculture have been manipulated by the interests of the tobacco trust, Secretary Wilson has begun an inquiry into the subject. Pending the investigation in several districts will be held up, although the regular monthly figures by states will be given out on Monday as usual. It is the intention of the department to probe this matter to the bottom and if any wrong doing is discovered the guilty will be punished.

In the Kansas Grain Fields.

J. F. Loyd of Marion, Kentucky, was a pleasant caller at this office Tuesday. He is in company with thirteen other Kentuckians arrived last week and will remain until after harvest and threshing. Mr. Loyd is shipping a complete threshing outfit direct from the factory at Evansville, Ind., and will begin the season in the Allen-Morse neighborhood northwest of Hoxie as soon as his machine arrives. Mr. Loyd was here a year ago and bought a half section of land in Parnell township and now regrets that he did not buy at least two more sections.—Hoxie (Kan.) Sentinel.

Six Boys Born July 1st.

Mr. Sherman R. France, who lives three miles northwest of the city, has the distinguished honor of having six boys at his house all born on July 1st.

The oldest one is now 16, the next oldest is now 3, the next one 2 and three more were born on the first day of this month. This shows that there have been only four births in the house all on the 1st day of July and six boys the result. If any of the readers of this paper can beat this let us know and take the blue ribbon.—Ex.

A Card.

I desire through the columns of your paper to most earnestly thank my friends and neighbors, the kind Dr. Bacon of Evansville, and our other physicians and the Masonic fraternity, both here and at Marion, for their untiring efforts to aid us in this our saddest bereavement. Every one did what they could for my dear father, without which it does seem I could not have borne the burden. While my father was not a member of the Lodge here, the Masons followed his remains to Marion where they were taken in charge by that Lodge.

Now in the name of my dear mother and her family, as well as my own I again thank you my dear friends, for your many and never to be forgotten kindnesses.

Very respectfully yours,

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Elvira Jane Alexander oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Travis was born at the old Travis homestead in Crittenden county, Ky., Feb. 22nd, 1847 and departed this life June 28th, 1905, meeting her death in the terrible tornado which swept away her home six miles north-east of Phillipsburg, Kansas.

She was 58 years, 4 months and 6 days old. She professed religion at the annual camp-meeting at Piney Fork in 1865. In September after the camp-meeting she joined the M. E. church to which her parents belonged and remained a member of that church until after her marriage. She joined the Cumberland Presbyterian church at Piney Fork to which her husband belonged and remained a member of that church until her death.

She was joined in marriage with John J. Alexander March 25th, 1868. To them were born eight girls, three of whom preceded her to the glory world. The five children left to mourn the loss of this loving christian mother are Mrs. Ella Jacob, Miss Dora Alexander, Mrs. Ada Paris, Mrs. Anna Paris and Miss May Alexander besides the father who was severely injured in the dreadful tornado, all of Phillips Co., Kansas.

She also leaves four brothers L. E. and T. G. Travis, of Marion, and G. M. and J. H. Travis of the Starr neighborhood and two sisters Mrs. J. L. Travis of Marion and Mrs. A. F. Easley of the Shady Grove neighborhood.

She was a woman of great consecration and determined to rear her children for God. The and her husband had their family altar and gathered their children daily around the sacred hearth-stone in earnest devotion. And I have often heard her say that if it was God's will for her to go in a storm that she wanted to go from earth to Heaven just that way and that she was not afraid to meet her dear Savior in the storm for he would make all things right.

Her loving husband will miss her for he has lost a faithful companion. Her children will mourn her absence because they have been deprived of the heart of the home. Her brothers and sisters will weep for her because the family circle is broken.

But though she is absent in body her memory is hallowed with an influence that makes her present in spirit and she still lives through her sacrificing deeds that will bear fruit in eternity.

As the gardener plucks the flowers with the rarest tints and sweetest perfumes to adorn his king's table, so dear ones, let us find comfort in our knowledge that earth has given up one of its richest gems that it may find a richer setting around the king's throne, and she has been chosen because of her fitness to make Heaven more attractive for us.

It can truly be said of her that piety penetrated her entire being. No one could help observing her purity and loveliness of soul, thus we feel assured that she has exchanged pain for joy and a cross for a crown.

The funeral was held Thursday afternoon June 29th at the Crider home, Rev. L. W. Kemp preaching the sermon from Matthew 6:20, "Lay up your treasure in Heaven." A large number of sorrowing friends and neighbors followed the remains to Fairview cemetery at Phillipsburg. What is death to her who meets it with an upright heart?

A quiet haven where her shattered bark Harbors secure 'til the aough storm is passed.

Perhaps a passage overhung with clouds, But at its entrance a few leagues beyond

Opening to kinder skies and milder suns And seas pacific as the soul that seeks them.

HER SISTER MARY.

What Wives Should Remember.

That Adam was made first.
That "he pays the freight."
That "blessed are the meek."
That nine men in ten detests gossip.

That all angels are not of your sex.
That confidence begets confidence.
That men sometimes have "nerves."

That there should be no place like home.
That it takes two to prolong a family jar.

That the least said is the soonest mended.
That with all his faults you love him still.

That you should have no secrets from him.
That husbands have troubles of their own.

The he's "all right" when you know him.
That woman's best weapon is her weakness.

That home is more than half what you make it.
That he is just as anxious to get rich as you are.

That wives are unusually favored in this country.
That his typewriter cannot help it if she's pretty.

That he likes to hear that the baby is his dead image.
That six pair of slippers are enough for any man.

That a man likes neatness in your attire at all times.
That candy in excess is worse than rum in moderation.

That you should not run up bills without his knowledge.
That "a baby in the house is a wellspring of pleasure."

That she who puts on the gloves should know how to spar.
That he is not in love with every woman he glances at.

That it is policy to let him believe he is "Lord and Master."
That your relationship is closer to him than to your mother.

That a prompt and pointed answer does not turn away wrath.
That he does not get sleepy the same moment you do.

That there are letter drop boxes on the nearby corner.
That you should not expect him to light the fire in the morning.

That you can't keep books, and there is no use of your trying.
That he expect you to look your best when you go out with him.

That it does not improve his razor to use it for chiropodial purposes.
That house-hunting is not reckoned by the average man as a pastime.

That 8 p. m. is 60 minutes past 7 o'clock, not 15 minutes to 9.—Boston Globe.

A Grim Tragedy

is daily enacted in thousands of homes, as death claims, in each one, another victim of consumption or pneumonia. But when coughs and colds are properly treated, the tragedy is averted. F. G. Huntley, of Oakland, Ind., writes: "My wife had the consumption, and three doctors gave her up. Finally she took Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, which cured her, and today she is well and strong." It kills the germs of all diseases. One dose relieves. Guaranteed at 50c and $1.00 by Woods & Orme, druggists. Trial bottles free.

The Joy of Home Coming.

The train lurched forth with a shriek and a roar,
And speed off toward a Southern clime;
A tired boy smiled, his vacation was on,
He was leaving the city behind.

The scenery seemed fleeing to a world beyond,
On myriads of changing wings.
The cherries smiled at the clover blooms,
And the children waved from their grapevine swings.

The gray rock walls overgrown with ferns,
Towered o'er the track with wonderful height,
That pierced the sky's ethereal blue
And hid the sun's life-giving light.

In the dense green woods the cattle knee deep in the cooling stream,
And the song-birds flitted through the underwood,
Like a rainbow's mystic gleam.

The tired boy to the business world
His weary eyes then closed
And fondly dreamed of the old home place,
Where the Cumberland gently flows.

Where each familiar object shared,
His childhoods joy, naught to condemn,
Back to the quiet country town,
And to the folks who believed in him.

As he onward sped ever the cedar hills,
The hours seemed to creep away.
But the train slowed up and whistled shrill,
As the twilight claimed the day.

Was he really there? back home again?
Ah! his heart with rapture thrilled,
When the conductor called with a lively air,
"All out for Pleasureville."

Sonnet.

BY O. G. W.

O world, thou chooseth not the better part,
It is not wisdom to be only wise,
And on the inward vision close the eyes;

But it is wisdom to believe the heart.
Our knowledge is a torch of smoky pine,
That lights the pathway but one step ahead

Across a void of mystery and dread.
Bid, then, the light of tender faith to shed
By which alone the mortal heart is lead

Unto the thinking of the thought divine.

EXCURSIONS TO THE WEST

Address
JOHN SEBASTIAN,
Pass. Traf. Mgr., Rock Island System,
CHICAGO.

To the Pacific Coast—to California, Oregon, Washington—round-trip, long transit and return limits, liberal stop-over privileges.

The rate is practically on the basis of one fare for the round trip. Of course, if you wish to visit both California and Oregon or Washington, the cost is slightly more.

These reduced rates are in effect on certain dates in months of May to October, inclusive. They apply from all Eastern points via Chicago, St. Louis or Memphis gateways. The Rock Island System will take you up in either Chicago or St. Louis, or at hundreds of other Middle West points and carry you to the Coast in through Standard or Tourist Sleepers with unexcelled Dining Car service. The Rock Island also affords a choice of routes: on the "Scenic" route you can stop off in Colorado—see Salt Lake City—visit Yellowstone National Park; on the "Southern" route you can go via El Paso, thru New Mexico, then "up coast" to San Francisco and on to Portland or Seattle if desired.

In short, these Pacific Coast excursions offer an unusually good chance to see our western country in a comprehensive manner.

If you desire to go only as far as Colorado, there are excursion rates in effect to that section and return, all summer long, specially reduced June 30 to July 4, August 12 and 13, and August 30 to September 4. Extension trips to Ogden or Salt Lake and return at low cost also.

From September 15 to October 31, 1905, one-way tourist or "colonist" tickets will be on sale to California and the Pacific Northwest—about half regular fare.

If interested, send name and address on this coupon, designating which booklet wanted and to what point you plan to go. Name probable date of start also, so we can advise definitely with respect to rates, etc.

Send Colorado booklet and rates.

Margaret Rankin is attending the institute at Marion this week.

STARR.

Dear Cousins of the West—Your letters of recent date at hand and contents noted. Some of them bring good news, but that one from Miss Leah Andrews, was a sad one as it gave all the particulars of little Reatha's death, and we extend our sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

Since our last letter several happenings have taken place.

We are having good rains and the corn crop is just simply fine and everything now looks prosperous.

Now you wanted to know about the Piney Camp-meeting. All we have to say is no "announcements made yet."

Our wheat crop is just only moderate but it is selling at a fair price and that is making up for the "like" in quantity.

Oh my! you all ought to see new Marion. Every building on the burnt district is being replaced with brick of the latest and modern style.

They are just beautiful and Marion is laying the foundation for a great city and when you all come back from the west a few years hence you will not see "Old Marion" but the new and substantial city of Western Kentucky.

You have asked us to give all the news so here it is. Our farmers are threshing wheat, cutting hay, finishing up their corn crop and working their tobacco; our merchant is busy exchanging goods for country produce; a few are attending church at Enon, our good women and children are gathering and canning black berries; our road is being worked and the mad scare is over.

Mrs. Belle McNeely, of Paducah, is visiting in this section.

Our friend is J. B. Bradley is yet in very bad health and Mrs. Paulina Morse is very low at this hour and is not expected to live but a few days.

"Billy" Riley has just come in from Washington and he is not speaking very loud in praise of the land of "flitteringers."

REPTON.

Frankie Summerville was in Marion Sunday.

P. E. King of Heushaw spent last week with his brother, J. H. King, of this place.

G. W. Schelke, city passenger and ticket agent of Evansville, was here Saturday.

Miss Edith Wing, of Marion visited Miss Kittie Howerton, Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. W. R. Hodges and Miss Laura McChesney spent Sunday in Cray-neville.

Quite a number went from here on the excursion train Sunday.

Miss Iva Hicklin of Marion, who has been visiting at Rodney, returned home Sunday.

Misses Anna and Rebecca Phillips left Tuesday for Michigan, Miss., where they expect to spend several weeks.

CARRSVILLE.

Miss Lucy Daniel is on the sick list.

Miss Jesse Shouse of Joy visited relatives here last week.

Several from here attended the barbecue at Cline's Spring Saturday.

Albert Likens will soon have his splendid residence ready for occupancy.

Dr. Keibler is the latest addition to our medical fraternity. He and Dr. Kidd own the Crescent drug store.

Miss May Hale, of Salem after a visit to relatives here during the past week returned home Friday.

Prof. M. C. Wright left for Kansas Tuesday, where he will remain for several days visiting his sons, Frank and Clarence and other relatives.

Mrs. Phene Warner of Henderson who has been visiting her parents, returned to her home Saturday, her sister Ida returning with her.

There has been an unusually large crop of blackberries this year.

Messrs Bruce Campbell and W. Hugh Watson left for Marion Monday for the teachers institute.

Several men from here who work at the Fairview mines become overheated last week and had to return home.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Burns have moved to Marion.

Billy Rhodes left Monday for Dexter, Mo.

We hope to soon have a local telephone here supplying each residence. Five private boxes have been put in already and a switchboard will doubtless be installed soon.

We are certainly proud of our Citizens Bank. It has made a record.

Mrs. Tom Spees has been sick several days.

Johnathan Clemens like to have lost a fine horse Saturday night with the thumps.

Miss Necie Sullinger of Irma visited her sister, Mrs. Kinzie Morris last Saturday, a social and ice cream supper being given in her honor.

A fine boy arrived last week at the residence of Mr. Allen Williams. Mother and child doing well.

Mrs. Bell Carr visited her sister, Mrs. Bon Spees, last week.

NINETY YEARS YOUNG.

John W. Oliver is Active as an Editor at Four-score and Ten.

A journalist still in active service who almost links the twentieth century with the eighteenth is John W. Oliver, veteran editor of the Yonkers (N. Y.) Statesman. Mr. Oliver recently celebrated his ninetieth birthday. He saw Thomas Jefferson and John Adams, and shook hands with Lafayette. He witnessed the driving of the first spike in the construction of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, the act having been performed by Charles Carroll, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. Though his boyhood memories are associated with the men who were prominent in the eighteenth century and the Revolutionary period, he is busy today helping to solve through the press the problems incident to the complicated civilization of the twentieth century.

Mr. Oliver was born in Baltimore April 30, 1815. He learned the printing trade, and at twenty walked from Baltimore to New York, which he reached in an almost penniless condition, having only 6 cents in his pocket. But he at once found a position in a printing office, and in a month's time was foreman. Two years later he was running an office of his own. He applied steam machinery to job printing and helped to revolutionize the trade. In 1840 he organized the Washingtonian movement in New York, and in 1842 joined with a brother in organizing the Sons of Temperance. They also published a temperance paper. In 1872, when he was nearing the thirtieth age, according to Osler, he sold out his printing business, intending to retire, but the same day he made the sale he accepted a position as editor of the Yonkers Statesman. In 1881 political influences resulted in his removal as editor, but within a month he had formed a company, which bought the paper, and he thus became its principal owner as well as editor. In 1883 he established the present daily edition of the Statesman. It had been published as a weekly for twenty-seven years previous to that time. In 1890, at eighty-four years of age, he married for the third time.

Mr. Oliver is at his desk in the Statesman office every day and usually does considerable of the editorial work of the paper. His home is three-quarters of a mile from the office, and he always walks back and forth for exercise.

KOTARO DATO.

Young Japanese Who Is Studying Art in St. Louis.

Kotaro Dato is a young Japanese who is studying art at the School of Fine Arts in St. Louis. He is considered an artist of much promise and has adopted occidental methods in drawing and painting. Although he has been a student at the art school in St. Louis but a year and a half, he has already won several prizes. In view of the popularity of Japanese productions in America, he expects to remain in this country. Speaking of the difference between American and Japanese ideas of art, Mr. Dato, who is a little fellow four feet six inches in height, says:

"In my country we do much different from America—that is, you have long lines of pictures hanging on the wall for many years; we change according to the season and don't have butterflies and fly ponds on the walls when the snow is on the ground or snow pictures when it's hot."

A BUSY PROSECUTOR.

District Attorney Jerome, Who May Indict Equitable Officers.

District Attorney William Travers Jerome of New York, who has taken steps to determine whether officers of the Equitable Life Assurance society have made themselves amenable to criminal prosecution, is not afraid to tackle violators of the law whether in high places or low. His fights against keepers of gambling houses for the rich and wealthy corporations engaged in supplying race track news to pool rooms and his campaign against graft and vice in every form in New York have won him a reputation as a bold defender of the interests of the public as opposed to criminals or promoters of questionable schemes.

The criminal prosecutions of a great city like New York necessitate a vast amount of work for the lawyers engaged in them. The city of New York embraces several counties, and Mr. Jerome's jurisdiction is restricted to one, New York county, but even so he has to supervise the conduct of about 12,000 cases annually. Of course he cannot give all of these his personal attention and has a large army of assistants, but the system of the office is such that its head keeps conversant with what is going on, and his ideas dominate the policy of the department. The detectives, clerks, accountants, messengers and experts of various kinds in his employ may be counted by the score. Each of the thousands of cases passing through the office requires a certain amount of investigation, and Mr. Jerome's assistants make regular reports to him on such investigations, and he decides what is to be done.

District Attorney Jerome is a native of New York and forty-six years old, though he scarcely looks that age. His country home is at Lakeville, Conn., where a friend one day found him building a clock.

"I should think," said the friend, "that you would be afraid of the walking delegate coming along and ordering a strike."

"I have provided against that in my design," answered Jerome. "This is to be a nonstriking clock."

RICHARD F. OUTCAULT.

Interesting Career of the Artist Who Created Buster Brown.

Richard Felton Outcault of Buster Brown and Yellow Kid fame is a native of Lancaster, O., and is forty-two years old. But the statement of these facts does not give much of a clue to his personality. He is quiet, thoughtful and dignified, and in appearance not the kind of man one would look for in the inventor of the popular Buster. It is more to the point to say that he is married and has two children who are as lively youngsters as ever grew. Speaking of where he gets his ideas for the Buster pictures, Mr. Outcault says:

RICHARD F. OUTCAULT.

"I get most of my ideas from my children—not all, of course, for you see my house is still standing. The adventures of Buster, by the way, are not upon the whole extravagant. My own children have done worse, and they're not bad children at that. I have no fear of ever running out of ideas. My chief difficulty is in adjusting my attitude toward them and their misbehavior. Imagine for yourself the difficulties of this parental position. Most parents do their best to keep their children good—I mean quiet and well behaved. See the temptation I have to do otherwise. Why, the success of my work depends upon their getting constantly getting into some new scrape. Shall I ruin my business or my children?"

"My position is not only difficult; it's pathetic. I come down some mornings in a hurry to catch my train to find that my children have glued my gum shoes fast to the floor. What am I to do? Shall I spank them or pat them on the head?"
