INCREASED ACTIVITY AMONG THE MINES.

The Crittenden Coal and Coke Company to Double Its Output--A New Corporation.

Mr. C. J. Knight is mining a large amount of very fine carbonates on the Mann property. He is also putting up machinery for the purpose of doubling his output.

Another new shaft is going down at the Ada-Florence which will act as an air shaft. Capitalists from Muncie, Ind., are operating these mines now and Mr. J. M. Persons is their Supt.

Our Carrsville correspondent says: The whistle at the Schoolfield-Spees mines announced ready for work Tuesday. Fifty feet down the great shaft a drift has been begun, running north and south on the main lead.

Two new shafts are going down on the Mary Belle. Supt. Drescher is having them worked two shifts, and as soon as he strikes the spar, which will be at an early date, he expects to mine daily a large amount of No. 1 fluor spar from each shaft.

Mr. Leander White is having considerable work done on his farm, and in one shaft at 17 feet lead and fluor spar was struck. We can't say at this writing the actual width of the vein, but the indications are that it must be a good one.

The whistle blew for the first time at the Commodore last Saturday; the company have been erecting a very large amount of very fine machinery at their mine, for the last three months. Mr. Armstrong tells us that everything is working very satisfactory.

The Keystone Mining company struck a large mud pocket in their vein about three weeks ago, but they drove their level on through it some ten or fifteen feet, when their vein of lead and fluorspar came back as good as ever.

Director Abbott of the Schoolfield-Spees mines returned from Covington last week and at once began the erection of a house at the mines in order to give the hands an opportunity to be close to their work. So says our Carrsville correspondent.

At the Ada-Florence mine General Manager James M. Persons has had a new shaft sunk south of the main shaft. They struck the main lead and drifted back to the main shaft, giving them fine air and putting this great property in splendid shape for deepening and drifting. The property is developing large quantities of good ore and is already taking rank among the best in the district.

The Eclipse Mining company is a new mining company organized about three weeks ago, and have already started work in Panther Holler. The company is composed of capitalists from Louisville. They purchased the McMeican property some three weeks ago from Mr. Harry Watkins, for which they paid a large sum. They are now sinking two new shafts on the property. Mr. Jasper McBride, their foreman, was in town last Saturday and tells us that he has a good vein of very rich carbonate in one of his shafts, and is mining it rapidly, and are also running a large amount of No. 1 fluorspar. Mr. McBride expects to put a number of men to work next week to cut the famous Memphis vein on this property.

The Henderson News-Gleaner is indebted to Senator Hopkins for a copy of the "Fluor Spar Deposits of Southern Illinois." The book embodies the results obtained in a detailed study of the fluor spar deposits principally in Gallatin, Pope and Hardin counties, the study having been taken in connection with the investigation of the lead and zinc deposits of the Mississippi Valley region. The book covers and presents the most important production of fluorspar in the United States.

The book contains a great deal of interesting information regarding the location, history of development and the previous geological work. It also describes in detail and location, the kinds of minerals found in Southern Illinois.

The Crittenden Coal and Coke Co. owned by Marion capitalists, will increase its output 500 per cent. this fall. New mining cars will be placed in service, a new and powerful mine fan installed, and a boiler compressor and punching machine have been ordered at a heavy outlay. They will now take rank among the great mining companies of the commonwealth and their output will go up to 1,000,000 pounds daily and over and will be used in all the great Southern manufacturing centers. The company has received many flattering letters extolling the steam producing quality of its coal. H. H. Sayre is the General Manager, C. S. Nunn, President, and J. W. Blue Secretary and Treasurer. Their mines, commissary and tipples are located at Davis, Ky., on the I. C. R. R., Evansville and Hopkinsville Division.

[From the Sturgis Herald.]

The West Kentucky Coal company are increasing their capacity very rapidly, and are now prepared to run about 2,000 tons of fine coal every day.

Col. W. A. Smith has just returned from St. Louis, where he went on business connected with the noted Bell mine property, which is now attracting the attention of capitalists from all parts of the country.

The West Kentucky coal company of this city now has six mines in operation on their property here, all of which are to be furnished with electrical machinery for both lighting the mines and hauling the coal.

President White of the West Kentucky Coal company of this city, returned from New York the first of the week, where he had been in conference with Pierrepont Morgan. Mr. Morgan is too busy to come to Sturgis just now but we expect him later in the season.

There was an officer of the great Pittsburg coal combine here this week on important business connected with the coal interests of this section. The gentleman was honest enough to admit that Sturgis was destined to very soon be a formidable rival of his own.

A. D. Noe and Walter Higginson are taking options on coal rights underlying the farms east of Morganfield. The options call for $10 an acre and hold good for twelve months. As soon as the options are secured Messrs. Noe and Higginson will endeavor to dispose of them to capitalists who will proceed at once to develop the field.---Sun.

Fortune Teller Dead.

Maria Markey, well known to all lovers of the black art in this part of the United States, died at her home near Rodney, in Bella Mines precinct last week, aged 90 years. She was undoubtedly a woman of remarkable peculiarities and strange powers. In her character was mingled the superstitious traits of the American Indian, with the ghostly witchcraft of the voodoo priests of Africa. She embraced the Christian faith a few days previous to her death. About a year or so ago she was married for the third time. She is supposed to have had a good deal of money, accumulated by her art of fortune telling.

Populist to Meet.

The Populists of Crittenden county are requested to meet at Marion Monday, County Court day. The old guards are especially requested to come to the conference.

W. H. Brown, Chairman.
A. H. Cardin, Sec'y.

Special Announcement.

We will remove to our new store room, next to McConnell & Stone, to-morrow. Come and see our fine line of groceries, queensware, vegetables, etc. Sale from 10 to 25 per cent.

Organize Farmers Clubs.

Ed. Press: I see there is a call for the farmers to meet at Marion on next county court day to organize a Farmers Club; and I do hope the farmers will turn out and organize a large, strong club. That is just what they will have to do to protect their own interests. This is a day of organization, every other great interest is well organized. So it certainly stands the farmers in hands to get up clubs and business clubs to hold their hands with other organizations.

The time has come for prompt action. We all know that farmers organizations have done great good in other sections; so why not organize? Every farmer in this county should come to Marion on the next county court day and join the County Club.

Farmers must stand together and fight their own battles; no other interests are going to fight them for you. Good prices for all you grow depends on whether you are well organized. If you expect the other organizations to help you fight the great trusts and combinations, you must get up a strong organization of your own. Then the bankers and merchants, doctors and lawyers will come to your assistance. Why? Because their success depends upon your prosperity. Unless you can get other help you can never down the Trusts.

You will never get any help unless you get yourselves in proper shape. You must have a strong organization and stand by it. Any man who expects to work the soil for a living will refuse to go in to help his brother farmers to fight his battles should be drummed out of the country.

Now, brother farmers, I know your will is good why not come to Marion next county court day and learn all you can from the State organizer as he will be present and give you his views. It will not cost you a cent, as the State pays all expenses. I do not think there is a farmer within the county who will not give his influence to this move and the only way to do that right is to be present on that day. So everybody come to Marion and see what can be done.

UP-TO-DATE FARMER.

Death of Mrs. G. L. Witherspoon.

Tuesday morning at her home, the Conroe Hotel, Mrs. G. L. Witherspoon died after an illness of several weeks from an attack of paralysis. At the time of her death she was 62 years, 1 month and 27 days old. She leaves a husband, one daughter, Mrs. Eugeneia Chrisman, four grandchildren, two brothers and one sister.

Mrs. Witherspoon was born in South Carolina in 1843 and moved to Texas about 33 years ago, making Montgomery county her home most of the time. She was a devout Christian being a member of the Baptist church, for a number of years. Her many kind words and deeds of charity have often been of good cheer and solace to the needy and the sary.

A large concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives followed her remains to their last resting place in the city cemetery Wednesday evening all of whom extend sincere condolences to the bereaved.

The funeral services were conducted in the parlor of the Conroe hotel, by Rev. R. W. Aams.

Mr. G. L. Witherspoon is a brother of Mrs. R. W. Wilson of this city and has many friends here who will sympathize with him in his present affliction.

Caryl Gibbons on Divorce.

The head of the Catholic church in this country does not mince matters in his essay on Pure Womanhood in the September Cosmopolitan. It is a astonishingly emphatic and his discussion of woman's responsibility in the home, and the divorce question, is recommended to every woman in the country no matter what her religious creed. It is certainly one of the most stimulating utterances relating to the home sphere that have appeared in a long time.

Killed By Bees.

Thomas Hawkins, age 35, was stung to death by a bumble bee on the farm of John Nave near Owensboro.
He was dead five minutes after the bee stung him. His son was mowing the lawn and ran into the bees' nest.
Hawkins ran to his rescue, and the bee attacked him. He was stung all over the body, especially on the head and face. He ran a short distance and fell to the ground dead. His face was black from the stings.

Mr. J. O'Nan sold his fine four hundred acre farm, lying one mile west of town on the Caseyville road, to the West Kentucky Coal Co., this week, for $32,000 cash, being $80 per acre, the highest price ever received for a farm of that size in Union county.—Sturgis Herald.

Miss Martha Williams, who has been visiting friends in Denver, Colo., for the past three months, returned home Friday. Judge T. J. Nunn of the Court of Appeals, who is taking his vacation, was in the city yesterday shaking hands with his many friends here. Mrs. Cora Letzinger and children have returned from a visit to Mrs. Eva Moore at Marion. Evidence Enterprise.

Mrs. A. A. Lamb returned last week from a visit to the old homestead of her father, Robt. Philipps, deceased. The place is now owned by her brother, Wayne Philipps, who is afflicted with inflammatory rheumatism and this places the responsibility of the farming on his son, Orville. Mrs. Lamb brought back with her an ear of corn which Orville raised in a field which has been cleared and practically in constant cultivation for seventy-five years. The ear measured sixteen inches long which is remarkable for any land to produce. The Philipps farm referred to is situated on the waters of Hoods Creek, near Gladstone station on the I. C.

Dropped from Marriage Service.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—Many radical changes in form of worship, including the adoption of features of the Anglican service are contained in the Presbyterian prayer book and liturgical service prepared by a committee of ministers and elders of the church. Several Chicago churches are preparing to adopt the new forms which are likely to prove startling to conservative Presbyterians of the old church, in that part of the book dealing with the marriage service the word "obey" is left out.

Mrs. John G. Carlisle III.

New York, August 4.—The many friends of Mrs. Carlisle, wife of ex-Secretary Carlisle, will regret to learn that she is dangerously ill, and that there is little hope, if any, for her recovery. Mrs. Carlisle has been in failing health for several years, in fact since she lost her two sons, Will and Logan, six and eight years ago. For a month her husband has been with her constantly, entirely abandoning his legal business.

Tired Nervous

When you feel languid, tired, nervous and irritable, your vitality is low—your supply of nerve energy exhausted, and your system running down for lack of power.

The organs of the body are working poorly, or not at all, and you are not getting the nourishment needed. This soon impoverishes the blood and instead of throwing off the impurities, distributes it all through the body. This brings disease and misery.

Feed the nerves with Dr. Miles' Nervine, a nerve food, a nerve medicine, that nourishes and strengthens the nerves, and see how quickly you will get strong and vigorous.

"My wife suffered with nervousness previous to a recent attack of typhoid fever, but after her recovery from the fever, she was much worse, and could hardly control herself being exceedingly nervous when the least excited. She was very restless at night, and could not get a good night's rest. She was taken from nervous headache. After the first bottle of Nervine was recommended, she was recomposed. After the first week's use of the first week's bottle of Nervine has cured her. Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist. If it fails, he will refund the money."—Elkhart, Ind.

To Investigate.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—The large insurance companies of New York are to be investigated by the insurance commissioners of Tennessee, Kentucky, Wisconsin and Minnesota. This was the result of a meeting eight State insurance commissioners held here today.

Another result of this conference will be the Interstate investigation of all large life insurance companies so that the alleged misappropriation of funds and mismanagement of the business may become a thing of the past. Some of those present at the meeting today were unable to agree with the four men taking the initiative in the investigation because of lack of power. These men are expected later to join the move and make it unanimous among the western and southern states.

Grave Troubles Forseen.

It needs but little foresight, to tell that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead unless you take the proper medicine for your disease, as Mrs. John A. Young, of Clay, N. Y. did. She says: "I had neuralgia of the liver and stomach, my heart was weakened and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric Bitters, I found just what I wanted, for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women. A Castaway Tragedy.

Beginning due west of Point Conception, on the California coast, and continuing at irregular intervals as far south as the bay of Todos Santos, in Lower California, lie the Channel Islands. In this ideal region for the yachtsman, the fisherman and the hunter one comes to feel like a new Crusoe on his primitive Isle. And, in very truth, Crusoe's semimythical story was enacted upon one of these same islands, though minus the man Friday and the happy ending. The castaway in this case was a woman, a Danish emigrant, left ashore through some mischance by the crew of a vessel that had sought shelter behind San Nicholas during a storm in the early fifties. For over seventeen years the lone creature lived unsought and forgotten, though the time at length came when on the days the mist clearing north wind blew she could climb to the island's highest point and view the ranchers' herds grazing upon the mainland. And at last, when hope and reason had both long died, the poor, wild, gibbering creature was found in her wolf's burrow among the hills by the advance guard of the other hunters' fraternity, who had long wondered at the mysterious footprints they marked upon the lonely sands. — Field and Stream.

The Ways of Premiers.

Queen Victoria once wrote to Lord Palmerston, then premier of England, expressing the wish that she could speak from his place in the house of commons. Palmerston replied: "Viscount Palmerston presents his humble duties to your majesty and has had the honor to receive your majesty's communication of yesterday stating what your majesty would have said if our majesty had been in the house of commons. Viscount Palmerston may, perhaps, be permitted to take the liberty of saying that it is fortunate for the from whose opinion her majesty did not that your majesty is, not in the house of commons, for they would have to encounter a formidable antagonist in argument, although, on the other hand, so whose opinions your majesty supports would have had the support of a powerful ally in debate." Disraeli, when premier had a more direct way in dealing with women. One of the once attempted to get a certain piece of information from him. He listened to what she had to say and then answered: "Oh, you darling!"

His Serious Offense.

In one of the missionary schools of China the ages of the male students range from nine to thirty-five. Often father and son attend school together and sometimes run spirited race for a first place in a class. Sometimes family rivalry is productive of dire result. The second master had been a short time at the school when one day he noticed that a boy was absent, and he made inquiries as to the reason. The following dialogue in Chinese immediately ensued: Official's Boy—Please, sir, Li Ho Wack isn't well. Master—What is the matter with him? Official's Boy—His father thrashed him last night, and he is too bad to come to school today. Master—He must have committed a serious offense to merit a thrashing. What did he do? Official's Boy—Please, sir, he laughed when you caned his father yesterday!

The Perplexing Conditions Of the Modern World

By President WOODROW WILSON of Princeton University

THE modern world confuses very practiced thinkers, throws very experienced guides out of its way. The age desires law, but cannot find it; seeks order, but does not discover it; would be led, but KNOWS NOT WHOM TO FOLLOW. If quietness of spirit were all, if that life were life enough in which fear and doubt were set at rest and the blood bidden go its slow pace of dull content, as if its very sluggishness were a law of health, one might easily persuade himself that it were enviable to be as the patient, unchanging peoples of the east, with whom life slips by like a watch in the night. But WE are of another creed and impulse.

OUR POWERS STIR TOO IMPERIOUSLY WITHIN US, AND OUR CONSCIENCES TELL US THAT WE SHOULD USE THEM—THE QUIETUDE OF INACTION IS NOT PEACE, BUT IMPRISONMENT.

What is a university but a place wherein to establish the health and natural vigor of minds? And that is not done by knowledge. Knowledge is the mere food and tonic of the mind, learning merely its exercise. The ideal object of education is at once to develop and to simplify the mind by a PERFECT ADJUSTMENT to its uses and to its environment, and such is health.

The modern struggle for wealth is more like a consuming fever than a right function of health. There is in many of our material achievements a touch of frenzy and distemper. Our energy is stimulated to the pitch of intoxication, lacks poise, overlaps the bounds alike of prudence and of pleasure and hurries us, panting, to the BEDS OF EXHAUSTION and sickness, where the physician's task is to get the heat and turmoil out of our blood.

the Kentucky State Journal Fires The Following Broad Side at Senator Blackburn

Listen to the prediction we make (and we want you to remember it next winter): Blackburn will not get a single vote from any county where he has yet made a speech and be it to the eternal credit of the intelligent Democrats of those counties that they have at last awakened to a realization of the fact that the gaseous and inflammable Senator is unfit to represent this great State in the Federal Senate. The people are still holding him to the unanswered question; What have you done? What use have you made of the talent we entrusted to your stewardship? Doubled it? No! Buried it? No! Then where is it? Spent in fireworks. That is all there is in Blackburn's record—shooting crackers and sky-rockets. But this character of statesmanship is not popular in this day of common sense. The people want deeds, not words; they want a man, a real man, of strength, of ability and of capacity to serve them, not a talking machine or fire-eater.

Every Man Carves His Renown.

That we are what we make of ourselves and that ancestry amounts to naught, is proven very conclusively in the case of John Hay, recently deceased, one of the greatest of diplomats.

Two years ago in a speech before the Ohio society of New York, he facetiously traced his derivation as follows:

"I was born in Indiana, I grew up in Illinois, I was educated in Rhode Island, I learned my law in Springfield, Ill., and my politics in Washington, my diplomacy in Europe, Asia and Africa, and desk room in the District of Columbia. When I look to the springs from which my blood descends, the first ancestors I ever heard of was a Scotchman who was half English and a German woman who was half French. One of my immediate progenitors, my mother, was from New England, and my father from the south. In the bewildering of origin and experience I can only put on an aspect of deep humility in any gathering of favorite sons, and confess that I am nothing but an American."

Democratic Sentiment Growing.

While in Louisville a few days ago Mr. W. J. Bryan, in reply to a query of a Times reporter as to the Democratic outlook said:

"There is," he says, "a very evident growth of Democratic sentiment throughout the country as shown by the fact that the Republicans who are winning popular favor are doing so by the advocacy of Democratic principle. LaFollette made his splendid fight largely on the primary plan and railroad legislation, both of which are Democratic principles. Roosevelt's arbitration of the coal strike and the Rate Regulation Bill are both directly in line with Democratic tenets, and all the elements of his popularity prove the same thing. From which this conclusion may be drawn: That Democrats need not be ashamed of Democracy since it is so popular with Republicans."

New Magnate at the Helm.

A great deal of interest and time is now put in upon the ball games in this section.

It is said preparations are being made by the United Mine Workers of America to shortly inaugurate one of the greatest coal strikes ever witnessed in this country. It is intended to start the strike in the anthracite coal belt of Pennsylvania and have it gradually dominate the entire country. It is said the operators are on to this move and are piling up in their yards millions of bushels of the black diamonds. Should such a move be inaugurated the families of these miners will be the greatest sufferers in the long run. When will the laboring men of this country realize the futility of "bucking" against combined capital?

Railway Values.

It has been estimated that should any one desire to purchase the railways of the world, his outlay would amount to something like $36,680,000,000.

That sum would represent the entire revenue of Europe for eight years or one-tenth of the entire monied wealth of the world.

It is a remarkable fact that in so short a time as the steam engine has been in operation railways should have become so valuable, yet no one source of the world's wealth exceeds the railways in importance and none is so generally distributed.

Kentucky Geological Survey.

Mr. Jas. H. Gardner, assistant Geologist, is at present doing work in Calloway Co. in the interior. The survey will issue a report in the near future on the valuable day deposits of the Jackson Purchase and to a greater development of the coal industry in this section of the state. Prof. C. J. Norwood, director of the Survey is expected to visit the section sometime during the summer. —Murray Ledger.

Right Kind of a Girl.

An exchange says: "Once I was young, but now I am old and I have never seen a girl that was unfaithful to her mother that ever came to be worth a one eyed button to her husband. It is the law of God; it isn't exactly in the Bible, but it is written large and awful in the miserable lives of many unfit homes. I am speaking for the boys this time. If one of you chaps comes across a girl that, with a face full of roses says to you as she comes to the door, 'I can't go for 30 minutes for the dishes are not washed yet,' you wait for that girl. You sit right down and wait for her, because some other fellow may come along and carry her off, and right there you lose an angel—wait for that girl and stick to her like a burr to a wooly dog."

To Develop Coal Mines.

Articles of incorporation have been filed for the Anvil Rock Coal company and the incorporators are Ross and J. S. Givens, of Providence, I. Bailey and H. H. Holeman of Madisonville, and others. The company will be incorporated under the laws of Delaware.

The place of business will be near Henshaw, in Union county. The company has secured about four thousand acres of fine coal lands there, and excellent shipping facilities are offered. The mines will be located on the Illinois Central railroad and we understand that the right-of-way has been secured for a railroad line to the Ohio river opposite Shawneetown Ill., a distance of five miles.

Motherhood Is Honored.

All that I am, or hope to be I owe to my angel mother.—Lincoln.

Let France have good mothers and she will have good sons.—Napoleon.

I would desire for a friend the son who never resisted the tears of his mother.—Lacretelle.

Unhappy is the man for whom his own mother has not made all other mothers venerable.—Richter.

If you would reform the world from its errors and vices, begin by enlisting the mother.—C. Simmons.

If there be aught surpassing human deed, or word, or thought, it is a mother's love.—Marchioness de Spodara.

The flavor is half the battle. The purity is the other half. My sorghum is pure and has a flavor that is delicious. —FRANK COXEN.

JOHN BRYAN.

John Bryan Belt was born Dec. 5, 1865, died July 20, 1905.

Oh, how we miss him! Those little feet that pattered around and that dear, sweet voice we loved so well is stilled, no more on earth to hear. A place is vacant in our home: a little flower has been plucked. This makes the second one God gave and has taken home to heaven, where those little hands are beckoning papa and mama on to that celestial shore where parting is no more. So dear parents weep no more for little Joel is happy over there; he can't come to us but we can go to him. There is one sweet face now vanished, one sweet voice we hear no more, for God has claimed our Joel.
