DROWNED

Kurg Hughes Found in the Bottom of a Well Dead.

Last Monday afternoon Kurg Hughes was drowned in a well at the home of his nephew, Uria Shoemaker, seven miles north of Marion.

It is not known exactly how the accident occurred as he was found there by members of the family and was dead when found. The supposition is that the plank broke in two or that he lost his balance in some way.

He was about 40 years old, had no family, and was a son of Thomas and Melinda Hughes. He was a Christian and had for many years been afflicted in mind and body on account of a sun stroke received when he was a child.

The Commercial Club.

This club met at the court house pursuant to a call Friday night. The attendance was not large but a number of important business matters were discussed. The prospects seem bright for us to have a canning factory and there is some prospect also for harness and saddle making establishment. The question of the "opening day" was discussed, and Sept. 28th was the universal choice of those present, it being six months from the date of the fire.

President Cochran appointed some committees to look after this matter, and the club adjourned to meet next Monday night, at which time the committee will report the date settled for the celebration and the manner of entertainment agreed upon.

Notice.

The Democratic County Committee adjourned at their last meeting to meet Monday, Sept. 11th, County Court day. A good attendance is desired.

C. S. NUNN, Chairman.

Wanted a Fluor Spar Mine

To Tobacco Growers.

ED. PRESS: I want to explain to the tobacco growers the advantage of curing their tobacco under the process I gave them last week.

The English government has placed an extra duty on all tobacco that has the stem taken out, so that all export tobacco which is shipped to that country has to go in the leaf with the stem in it, and in crossing the ocean if the stem is not thoroughly cured by fire it will mold and make it almost worthless, and the farmer can cure his tobacco a great deal cheaper than the buyer can.

Last week I gave my views as regards curing tobacco, and after the tobacco is thoroughly cured it should be bulked and let it lay in bulk for sixty days or longer before you strip it, so that the leaf may draw from the stalk all of the oil that may be left in it, which will give the leaf an oily appearance and a uniform color and all tobacco in that condition will bring the highest market price.

Should there come a season after you get through firing, and your tobacco comes in high order, build up small fires under your tobacco and dry it before you bulk it; and I want every farmer who has tried to fire his crop by my process, to write me at View, Ky., and give his name and post office, so that I can find him and I will go and see his tobacco, and not to sell until I can look at it.

Respectfully,

A. H. CARDIN.

Passing of An Old Landmark.

Geo. F. Jennings, the owner of the old Crawford Home Place, has had the chimney which was in Carlisle street extension taken down and is preparing to move the house out of the street. He will move it onto a lot west of the one on which the north end of the house sits.

The house is one of the oldest in the city, having been built many years before the war by James Wilson, father of R. W. Wilson of this place. From him it passed to the Armstrong heirs and still later to Dr. J. W. Crawford now of Blandville who sold the entire plot and house to Judge J. F. Gordon who opened the street through it and plotted it into town lots.

It is now one of the most desirable sections of unimproved lots in the city.

OPENING

Of The Crystal Palace Drug Store, Thursday.

It is with no little pride that the Press calls the attention of its readers to the re-establishing of the old reliable drug firm of Woods & Orme in their new, elegant quarters which have been erected on the spot where the firm was burned out in the great conflagration which burned two squares of the business section of this city. The building is a massive two story, pressed brick front, stone columns and plate glass show windows. It would do credit to a city of 10,000 inhabitants. It and the ware room adjoining extend 115 ft. from Main street to the alley. The interior is elaborately finished and equipped. The ceiling is of ornamental steel and handsome design, the tints of which harmonize with the general interior of the store. The floor is finished in tiling of exquisite design and color, and as one enters the store the myriads of tinted electric globes reflect a dazzling beauty over the French plate mirrors, glass show cases, counters and the marble top, onyx column fountain.

The furniture, prescription case and all of the interior equipments are from the great Meyers Bros. Drug Co., of St. Louis, and is made of quarter sawed oak and antique finish with sliding glass doors for all the cabinets. To-day, Thursday Sept. 7th, the firm is celebrating as their opening day and they will present each lady visitor with a handsome souvenir consisting of an aluminum box of sachet powder with the firm's name engraved in gold. A splendid band has been engaged for the occasion and will dispense sweetest music from the balcony throughout the day.

To Speak at Chicago.

Coler, of New York; John T. McGraw, of West Virginia; Ollie M. James, of Kentucky; and ex-Senator Jones, of Arkansas. There will be two hundred guests.

DYCUSBURG.

Our town is one of the busiest places at this time that can be found in the county. The streets are literally jammed with men and wagons on the way to the canning factory with tomatoes, about 1500 cans of which are put up daily. Nearly every boy and girl in town is employed. Mr. M. L. Bennett has charge of the factory, and is hustling things.

There are a few mild cases of scarlet fever in town.

Master George Graves was riding down Main street Monday at a rapid gait when his horse fell and bruised him badly but not seriously.

Mr. Jack Dalton has just completed and moved into one of the prettiest cottages in town.

The meeting begins at the Baptist church Sunday.

The M. E. Sunday school will meet at the school house while the new church house is being built.

Dr. Phillips is going to erect a handsome drug store on the corner of Main and Yancy streets.

Dycusburg is a beautiful village of several hundred inhabitants. It is connected by telephone with all the neighboring cities. It is surrounded by some of the richest farming lands in the State. It was named after old uncle William Dycus, one of the first settlers. It was located at this place because of the facilities offered for a good road to the river for the surrounding country in reaching the river with their produce. There is not a place on this old earth whose people are more generous hearted. There are no vagrants, dry goods box whittlers or professional loafers, but each one has enough to do to attend to his own business and let that of his neighbors alone. Most of the old settlers are dead; a very few of them are living here. Old uncle Bill Bennett is still hale and hearty, and as spry as a ten year old boy. It is interesting to hear him tell of the early days of Dycusburg. Messrs. Cole Bennett, Giles Cobb and Gid Cobb, are all dead. A great many goods have been stored away in their warehouses in the earlier days and many boats were loaded from them.

Autumn Leaves.

Flower and leaf of vine and tree,
Grass of meadow, weed of mire,
Summer gathered them to be
Faggots for the autumn fire.

Smoke-like haze on vale and hill;
Flames of gold and crimson bright
Into life now leap and fill
Field and forest with their light.

All the glory of the year
Kindled into beauty so,
Since the winter will be here
Soon the curfew—then the snow.

So the lovely leaves I lay
In my book, all gold and red;
Embers for a winter's day
When the autumn's fire is dead.

[Frank Dempster Sherman, in American Illustrated Magazine.

LOOKING BACKWARD.

What Happened in Marion Twenty Years Ago.

In glancing over our file of twenty years ago, we select the following items from the issue of the PRESS of April 9, 1885. The PRESS was at that time a four page folio, with a scant supply of home patronage. There are several of the old correspondents still connected with the paper, notably Squire Harpending, of New Salem, and Harrison Bigham, of Chappel Hill. These extracts will doubtless prove interesting to our readers—especially to our old subscribers. At that time Marion was but a country village of some 500 people, with all the land back of the school house enclosed as a field for pasture or tillage. It is a proud day for Marion when she can "look upon this picture and then upon that."

Tom Cochran has gone to Paducah. Jeff Clement and wife have returned from Florida.

Henry Ledbetter and wife, of Tolu, were visiting in Marion.

Rev. R. Y. Thomas, and his daughter, Miss Kate, went to Greenville Tuesday.

Robt. H. Dean informs us that he is making arrangements to emigrate to California in a few weeks.

J. P. Moore who has been sick for several weeks, was in town this week for the first time in three months.

Henry Robertson, the efficient Superintendent of Livingston county schools was in town Monday. Henry is an old student of the Academy of this place.

Miss Belle Stewart and Nannie Hodge have returned from Union City, Tenn. We are informed that Mr. S. Hodge has sold his property in Union City and with his family will return to Marion.

The postmaster at this place received a check for $56.88 last week from the Postoffice Department—a portion of his salary while postmaster in 1870-1872.

Messrs. Mitchell & McCandlers, timber men, have about 2,000,000 feet of timber cut on Thos. Croft's farm near Hurricane, and are waiting for high water to float it out.

The people of Crittenden county are waking up on the subject of education. There is no doubt about this and in a few years a neat and comfortable school house can be found in every district.

Rev. B. A. Cundiff, who was pastor of the Methodist church at this place a few years ago, is conducting a revival in Louisville. Over 200 persons have professed religion during the meeting.

The meeting at the Presbyterian church continues with growing interest. Mr. H. C. McGoodwin and wife and Misses Ida Dean and Effie Wilson have joined the church.

Rev. J. S. Henry completed his fourth year as pastor of the Piney Creek church Sunday and the church unanimously called him for the fifth year. He agreed to continue for $75 and in a short time $100 was raised.

Balloon ascension in Marion Saturday.

The scarlet fever scare has about blown over.

S. Hodge and family have returned home.

The marshal collected $307.10 of the town taxes for 1884.

Charlie Hughes, col., was tried by Judge Pierce Tuesday and fined $25 for selling a pistol to a minor.

Marriage licenses have been issued to C. A. Ramage and Eliza J. Fletcher Isaac F. Sizoo to Lucy Stovall.

The fence around the Academy is down, and the festive town hog and cow have free access to the enclosure.

Harry Carnahan is building a residence on his lot between Judge Pierce's and Frank Wheeler's property.

Apples are worth from $1.00 to $1.50 per bushel in Marion.

We are informed that the money for purchasing the lot for the stemmery has been about made up and the stemmery will be built.

H. P. Long was elected town marshal Saturday. He will make a good officer, if he turns his attention to the duties of the office. The board of trustees ought to supplement the usual fees of the office with a salary sufficient to pay a man to look after the business of the office.

Sheriff Flanary went to Paducah Monday after Jarre Lynch, one of the two men who escaped from the jail at this place last summer. It seems that Lynch has been in Tennessee since he left here, until last week he appeared in Paducah and was promptly arrested, and Jailer Pickens was telegraphed to. To say that the Jailer is happy over the capture of the two men barely expresses his exuberant joy.

Dr. J. N. Todd, of Shady Grove, who sometime since announced himself a candidate for the Legislature to represent Crittenden county, has withdrawn from the canvass.

The Local Board of Health, composed of Dr. J. C. Elder, President; D. Woods, Secretary and Drs. W. J. Deboe and J. W. Crawford, held a meeting in the county clerk's office Monday, and passed a resolution ordering the citizens of the town to disinfect their premises, clean out the vaults, etc. The board in view of the general belief of the best medical authorities that the country will be visited by cholera, will do everything in its power to avert the disease and the effort ought to meet the approbation and assistance of the people of the county.

Miss Mina Wheeler Married.

Mr. Charles Gustafson and Miss Mina Wheeler of Coalgate Indian Territory, were married at the Hillman hotel in Cadiz last Saturday afternoon. Only a very few witnessed the marriage ceremony, which was performed by county judge Bingham. The couple remained in Cadiz until Monday, when they went to Marion, where they will visit until about the sixth of September, when they will return to Indian Territory, where they will reside.

Miss Wheeler was formerly County School Superintendent of Crittenden county, but for the past two years has lived in the territory, where she has been engaged in teaching. The groom has for the past thirteen years been in the employ of one of the leading coal companies of the West, and has the appearance of a splendid gentleman.—Cadiz Record.

Miss Mina's hosts of friends in Crittenden will read the above with especial pleasure. Miss Mina is a noble woman and her husband is to be congratulated. The PRESS extends best wishes.

What Ollie Thinks of It.

Interviewed by a Courier-Journal reporter on the treaty of peace, Hon. O. M. James said:

"President Roosevelt was certainly born under a lucky star," said Congressman Ollie James at the Seabach last night. "Talk about that man being hurt in submarine excursion. Why, I believe if the boat stuck hard and fast to the bottom, with no possibility of ever getting away, President Roosevelt, like a cork, would bob serenely to the surface."

"However, I am willing to accord him all the glory that may be due for the part he played in bringing about a peace between Russia and Japan."

Congressman James is accompanied by Mrs. James. They have just arrived from Washington. Prior to visiting the capital they had been spending the summer months around the great lakes.

W. B. SCOTT SHOT.

He Was Waylaid by Timmons, His Son-in-Law.

Kuttawa, Ky., Sept. 1.—Ed. Timmons, late yesterday afternoon shot his father-in-law, W. B. Scott, three times with a pistol. One shot took effect in the neck and two in the side.

Timmons was drinking, he blamed his father-in-law for his separation from his wife.

The shooting occurred near the home of Charles Jones, three miles from Kuttawa.

There was no witness, but when the shots were fired Scott's horse ran away and was stopped by a man on Jones' place. When he returned with the horse he found Scott lying in the roadway.

Both Timmons and Scott were in Kuttawa a short time before the shooting. Timmons, who is a dissipated, worthless fellow, boasted that he was going to kill Scott, and purchased cartridges for his gun for this purpose.

When he started to the country he stopped at Herbert Jones' near the scene of the shooting, telling Mrs. Jones he intended to waylay and kill Scott when he came along. A short time afterward the shots were heard.

Scott is dangerously wounded, but was alive at last reports.

Timmons was arrested and is in custody at Eddyville.

He had neglected his wife and she fell ill. Her father took her to his home to care for her. Afterward Mrs. Timmons refused to return to her husband.

Rev. R. C. McConnell, of Tolu, is a son-in-law of Mr. Scott, who is a peaceable, worthy farmer.

Moore the Nominee.

Providence Enterprise: The Republican delegates from Webster Caldwell and Crittenden counties met at Marion last week and nominated Robert L. Moore for state senator.

The nominee was a Democrat prior to the campaign of 1896, but since that time has affiliated with the Republican party. To his friends he is known as "Dr." Moore and is a popular citizen of Marion, but he will have as an opponent in the race a citizen of his own home and a man who is universally popular and highly respected by all who know him.

In observance of a time-honored custom its Crittenden's time to furnish the senator and some time ago the Democrats of Crittenden county met and unanimously nominated Press Maxwell for the place. Mr. Maxwell is an enterprising business man, a life-long Democrat, and a gentleman in whom there is no guile. He is a clean, pure man, and the Democrats of the district will delight to honor Crittenden's candidate.

Notice.

To Edward Allen, Pittsburg, Pa. You are hereby notified that I will have the surveyor and processioners of Crittenden County, Ky., to meet at the black oak corner to my Simpson land on Tradewater river, (said corner being near the Northeast corner to the old Newcom field) on the 25th day of September, 1905 at 9 a. m. for the purpose of processioning and remarking the lines and corners between your land and the land purchased by from the Mrs. Simpson, and known as my Simpson farm, and you are hereby notified to be present at the said time with your title appers and any proof you may have as to the correct location of said lines and corners.

Fears Spread of Cholera.

Berlin, Germany, Aug. 31.—The spread of cholera from two localities on the river Teiche, five days ago to twenty-nine in twelve localities, extending from the Baltic to the river Wurthe, 150 miles south, and its appearance at Hamburg has given an unpleasant thrill to the people of Germany, for it may mean a long and steady fight, as in 1892-93, to prevent the disease from getting beyond control. In those years it is estimated that 800,000 persons died in Russia of cholera.

A Bright Outlook.

Uniontown Telegram: The new owners of the National Coal and Oil company's coal property in Uniontown promise extensive improvements in the property and operations on an extensive scale, just as soon as the work can be done. This company has also recently purchased the extensive Rush coal field adjoining the National property, and therefore have at their disposal one of the largest and most valuable coal fields in Western Kentucky. The establishment of an electric light and telephone system, throughout their mine, the sinking of another shaft, the completion of an incline to the river, and the erection of one hundred dwellings for their workmen are a few of the many desirable improvements promised at an early date.

They have a ready demand for all the coal that can be mined, and it is their purpose to operate the mine on an extensive scale. Indeed, the outlook is highly flattering and when this property reaches the desired state of development the benefits therefrom derived by Uniontown can hardly be estimated.

Accidents at Clay.

Providence Enterprise: A frightful accident happened in the blacksmith shop of the Thomas Blackwell Mining company Saturday evening. Mr. Fred Brown, who was formerly in the grocery business here, volunteered to repair the delivery wagon, of his successors in business and went to the company shops for that purpose. In the shop was a can of powder and several sticks of dynamite were lying around. Brown heated a piece of iron to a ruddy glow, and when he struck it with a hammer the flying sparks ignited the can of powder, which exploded, also setting off the dynamite by concussion. Mr. Brown was fearfully burned over the entire body, but no bones were broken and while he suffers terrible pain it is believed he will recover.

Another accident happened at the Baker mine Monday night in which David Caraway, a miner, had a narrow escape from being crushed to death by falling coal. Caraway was preparing to make a shot when the cartridge exploded prematurely. He was seriously injured as it was, but he is getting along very well and no grave consequences are anticipated.

Dog's 600-Mile Tramp.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 30.—Stub, a Newfoundland dog belonging to Mr. G. H. Hemmings, of this city, has just completed a unique to Superior, Wis., 600 miles, in search of his owner. The dog was left behind with friends when the family went away for the summer. He was very devoted to his master and was inconsolable. Suddenly he disappeared, and yesterday a letter was received from the family announcing his arrival at the hotel in Superior, where the family spent a vacation last year. The dog had undoubtedly tramped the 600 miles from Omaha to Superior, believing he would find his master in the place to which he had accompanied him before.

Providence Record: The tobacco barn of T. W. Doris' living three miles from town, was destroyed by fire Monday night about 8 o'clock, with five acres of new tobacco that has just been housed and was being burned. Mr. Doris had just looked after the fire and emerged from the barn, closing the door behind him and thinking everything was safe, when the tobacco suddenly burst into flames and burned so rapidly that it was impossible to check it. By dint of hard work a big straw stack and stables nearby were saved from the flames. Mr. Doris' loss will not be less than five hundred dollars.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce T. L. COCHRAN, of Marion, as a candidate for Representative from the Third District, composed of Crittenden and Livingston counties, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce S. MAXWELL as a candidate for Senator from the Third Senatorial District, composed of Crittenden, Webster and Caldwell counties, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

The recent Republican senatorial convention which hatched out Dr. Moore and named him a Republican a few moments lost sight of themselves and endeavored to discover a mote in the Democratic eye and imagined they had found it when they charged that the jury wheel in this county had been "stuffed with the names of partisan Democrats, thus trying to eligible Republicans the privilege to serve on the juries of the district. When we reflect that the federal courts in this state have been under Republican control for ten years, and that during all this time one but Republicans have been called to serve on Federal juries, we are led to conclude that the charge is preposterous, and that those making would be guilty of the same offense this county had they the opportunity. But the charge they make absolutely untrue. We are proud the fact that Crittenden county juries have always been made up of the best men and they have invariably risen above partisan considerations the trial of all cases, and that all parties, Democrats or Republicans, white or black, have felt assured of a fair trial at their hands. We believe there has been but one instance where an attempt has been made to use our juries for political purposes and that was when recently an attempt was made to convict one of our prominent Republican county officials. But in this case as in all others, our juries, regardless of politics, refused to suffer themselves to be thus imposed upon.

Jose Guess is dead and apparently forgotten by some of his friends but not by all. For twenty-five years he was the Rock—the bulwark—on which the waves of Democracy beat, and in all those years he stood solid as a stone wall, upholding the principles of the party in whose principles he believed. The fight never became too thick for him, and he would leave no stone unturned to defeat the cohorts of democracy. He left a son entirely worthy of his sire,—manly and true, and unfortunate in that he has but one hand. This son, an applicant for the Tolu post office to succeed T. A. McAmis, has been turned down and the office given to one Meyer, who recently moved into the county, and known to a comparatively few of its people. "This is a funny, funny world." But it's the irony of fate—the ingratitude of politics.

Last Saturday the chairmen of the Democratic committees of Crittenden, Caldwell and Webster counties met at Blackford in convention and nominated P. S. Maxwell, of this county, for State senator from this, the Third district. There was no brass band, no blare of trumpets,—simply a dignified, sensible business meeting, in keeping with the man they named to be the next senator. 'T would be a waste of words for the PRESS to try to increase the respect and in fact admiration which the acquaintances of Press Maxwell feel toward him, and they are anxious for election day to come to give him another proof of it.

Congressman O. M. James has been invited by the "Jefferson Club" of Chicago to attend a banquet to be given on Tuesday evening, Sept. 12, in honor of W. J. Bryan, on the occasion of his departure for a trip around the world. This is quite a distinguished compliment, and especially so as only six speakers from the whole United States will respond to toasts. Mr. James has accepted the invitation and has selected the toast to which he will respond, and has notified the committee of his intention to be present to do honor to America's Great Commoner.

The treaty of peace between Russia and Japan, now in process of development at Portsmouth, N. H., appears to be exceedingly distasteful to the people of both countries. Word comes that in Russia the peasants are arming by the thousands to resist the government, while in Japan a wave of indignant protest has swept over the island which has even reached the Mikado on his throne. The people of both countries think the other has overreached them; and this is pretty good evidence that both countries have received about what they deserved; that is, justice.

Our curiosity was aroused when we read the nominating speech of our friend, Attorney A. C. Moore, at the unseemly haste with which he testified concerning the republican senatorial nominee, R. L. Moore. Why did he consider it necessary to say of him that he "is a man of undisputed integrity and honor and a christian gentleman." Has our friend Moore heard Dr. Moore's reputation in those respects called in question?

N. E. Christian, the one juror on the panel who saved the neck of Polk Fletcher, on trial recently at Russellville for murder, has been charged with receiving a bribe for his services, but the charge seems to rest on a somewhat vague foundation and may be the outgrowth of partisan rancor. Christian "bitterly" denies the charge and now expresses his conviction as to the guilt of Fletcher.

Madisonville, Ky., was visited by a $100,000 fire on Monday night last. Among the business houses destroyed were: J. B. Harvey's grocery, C. L. Ross' grocery; Thompson & Slaton's, furniture store; Madisonville Feed store; The Grand Leader, dry goods; Offices of Hoffman & White, dentists; Hardman's photograph gallery; Harig's shoe shop.

Hon. J. C. S. Blackburn, spoke at Morganfield Monday afternoon and at Sturgis Monday night. He also spoke at Dixon on Tuesday. His friends are claiming the Second district for him, while Joe himself says he has not been "fatally wounded" yet.

We are under obligations to Squire T. A. Harpending for a copy of the PRESS dated twenty years ago, and we have copied some items from it and published them in this issue.

Pursuant to the call of President J. Frank Conger the Farmers Club convened at the court house in this city Saturday afternoon. There was a large and enthusiastic attendance, and several new members were secured. A good many items of importance were discussed, among them being the regular program for monthly meetings. Next meeting of the club will be at Whitehall, but the date has not yet been agreed upon, and will be announced later.

The old hickory distillery was started Monday on its fall run. For several weeks the force have been engaged in getting everything in apple pie order and superintendent Lowery has succeeded in putting the plant on a better basis than it ever was before.

Mr. James is in good health and is much benefited by his vacation. Mrs. James, who is one of the handsomest and most charming young matrons in the State, is here with her husband.

Peace Divine.

BY O. G. W.

It comes at last, this tender, tranquil
peace,
Caught from the holy calm of her
still face,
When 'mid the noiseless flowers that watch the place
She sleeps the silent sleep of sweet release.

It comes, this hush that bids all doubting cease,
When unseen angel hands with soothing balm
Touch weary hearts and give them
blessed calm;
It passeth understanding, this sweet
peace,
Of mine, because of her untroubled
rest;
Her deep repose which seems and is not death,
But strength new-born to live the perfect whole,
Her Heavenly joy makes me supremely
blest,
Though hushed her voice her ran-
somed spirit saith,
"It is the peace divine that fills your soul."

A $500 Pearl.

New York American: Of all the persons on Coney Island last night, no two were quite so happy as Mr. and Mrs. Edward Morrison of Jamaica Bay, for on Sunday Mrs. Morrison caught a 575-pound loggerhead turtle at Rockaway Inlet and yesterday she found that the big lump on the creature's back was a "pearl barnacle" 100 years old and worth $500. When Mrs. Morrison and her husband heard this they started at once for Coney Island to celebrate the event.

Mrs. Morrison, who is afraid to look at the turtle again for fear it may have a diamond necklace or a submersible concealed somewhere, is preparing a list of her friends to give them a turtle supper. The turtle will attend the feast in a big wooden cage, and the pearl, mounted, will adorn the center of the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrison were out for weak-fish at Rockaway Inlet when there came a bite that almost pulled the hearty fisherman out of the boat. She held on and her husband began to row for the shore. An immense turtle crawled out on the beach and attempted to get away with the line, but little Master Morrison ran up and jumped on its back. The three soon had the creature fastened in a rope cradle and then towed it to Canarsie.

Crowds went to J. B. Casey's landing in Canarsie yesterday to get a glimpse of the big loggerhead. According to all the old fishermen of the place the turtle was an infant about four hundred years ago, or a short time after Columbus made his first visit to the United States.

Will Flash 280 Miles.

A dispatch to the Inter Ocean from Colorado Springs, Col., says: Tonight the greatest searchlight in the world will flash upon the west from the summit of Pike's Peak.

Possessed of twice the power of the lights carried by the great battleships, and built upon a track 120 feet in circumference, with rotating contact, this marvelous light will fall upon the Kansas-Colorado State line, the Royal Gorge and Denver and Cripple Creek gold fields. Its white beam will carry 280 miles through the jagged hill country of the rocky mountains.

To accomplish this it was necessary to build an electric light plant upon Pike's Peak, which involved the almost impossible task of constructing a gasoline engine which could be operated at that altitude.

Master Mechanic David Jones overcame this difficulty. He figured that an engine, like human lungs, needs more air as the atmosphere becomes rarer, and he planned one which accentuated the air openers in an adequate degree. This unique engine works splendidly and the highest electric light plant in the world will be started tonight.

Man's Footprint in Coal.

The Pottsville, Pa., correspondent of the New York Sun writes that paper as follows:

"The first human imprint ever found in anthracite coal was uncovered by Michael Sineavage, a miner of the Eagle Hill Colliery today, the print being that of a man's foot. Fossils of ferns, snakes, etc., have been plentiful, but this is the first evidence that pre-historic man was in existence in this country during the formation of the coal beds. The imprint, it is estimated, must have been made ten thousand years ago.

Sineavage, not appreciating the value of his find, dumped it in an ordinary coal wagon after he had shown it to his fellow miners.

Paducah Negro an Inventor.

Courier-Journal: Henry Urkhart a colored switchman employed in the local L. & N. yards has invented a "brake shoe" which is said to be one of the best railroad appliances invented in years, and which may make the inventor a wealthy man.

The patent precludes any possibility of the shoe slipping, shaking or dropping out and will be a great time saver and a safety to the railroads in many ways. Urkhart is preparing to push his patent and will organize a stock company to get it on the market.

A brake shoe is a piece of iron fitted into a socket which fits against the car wheels. When the air is applied the shoe comes immediately in contact with the wheel and bears all the friction.

Pitchfork Wound.

Owensboro Messenger: Mr. Oscar Payne, a farmer of the Basin neighborhood, is in a critical condition as a result of having a pitchfork handle driven in his side. The large wooden handle penetrated his body to the depth of eight inches. There is very little hope entertained of his recovery by his friends.

The accident was a very unusual one. Mr. Payne was in his barn loft forking hay, which was being thrown up to him from a wagon. He lost his footing in some way and dropped his fork in an attempt to steady himself. The fork fell through an opening in the floor to the ground, and the tines, sticking in the ground, held it in an upright position. Mr. Payne's efforts to keep from falling failed. He fell full weight on the handle of the fork.

Mt. Vesuvius in Active Eruption.

Naples, Aug. 30.—Mount Vesuvius is in full eruption; a dense black cloud hangs over the islands, which has thrown the inhabitants into a state of panic.

This May Be True.

H Colorado Springs special to the Chicago Inter Ocean says:

"Evidently mistaking hailstones for corn or some other kind of food six valuable Pekin ducks belonging to Samuel Hodgson of Florence, Col. ate heartily of them and died soon afterward. When cut open the fowls were found frozen inside. The life of another of Mr. Hodgson's ducks was saved by pouring hot water into its craw.

The ducks, which had remained in the shelter of the barn during the heavy hailstorm, rushed out when the storm was over and were seen by members of the Hodgson family rapidly eating the ice lumps.

Soon they began to stand on one foot and then on the other, as in winter days. One after another they fell to the ground and died within a few minutes. Mr. Hodgson is at a loss to understand the cause of their death until he had cut them open.

Scattered the Crowd.

Shelbyville, Ind., 30.—Three thousand persons attended a harvest carnival in the public square were driven from the place last night by a cloud of frisky crickets that suddenly descended upon the gathering as though from the clouds. The insects covered the ground to a depth of several inches and alighted on the shoulders and heads of the persons present until all were obliged to evacuate the premises. Whether they came from will ever remain a mystery.

Save 1-2 Your Paint Bills

By using Weir's Bavarian White Lead, the most durable and therefore the most economical lead or paint made. It has zinc in it. The zinc gives the paint a beautiful gloss and prevents the lead from destroying the linseed oil which is the life of all paint. "Pure Lead" by itself will eat and destroy the linseed oil, thus causing the paint to become porous or open and dust off. Weir's Bavarian White Lead is better and cheaper than mixed paints because one-half of every gallon of mixed paint is linseed oil for which you pay $1.50 per gallon and get an old, stale, unsound linseed oil. Buy fresh oil from your dealer's barrel at its true value. 4 1-2 gallons linseed oil and 100 pounds of Weir's Lead will make 6 1-2 gallons best paint ready to use, that will cost you no more than other standard brands of lead and much less than mixed paint and will last twice as long as either. Write D. T. Weir White Lead Co., St. Louis, Mo., for their booklet "Facts About White Lead." Weir's Bavarian White Lead is for sale by Cochran & Pickens, Marion, Ky.

Wedding Superstitions.
A bride who finds a spider on her wedding dress may consider herself blessed.
The bride who dreams of fairies the night before her marriage will be thrice blessed.
If the wedding ring is dropped during the ceremony, the bride may as well wish herself unborn, for she will always have ill-luck.
If the groom carries a miniature horseshoe in his pocket he will always have good luck.
No bride or groom shall be given a telegram on the way to church. It is positively a sign of evil.
Kiss a bride right after the ceremony, and before the newly-made husband has a chance to do so, and you will have excellent luck throughout the year.
Should a bride perchance see a coffin while being driven to the railway station prior to departure upon her wedding tour, she should order the driver to turn back and start over again, or else she will surely meet with bad luck.

Girls Stay Young.
Sometimes our girls are in such haste to reach young ladyhood, and the advantages they imagine to be gained with it, that they forget the added burdens and trials that necessarily follow in its train. Speaking of this, a writer wisely says: "Wait patiently, my children, the whole limit of your girlhood, the whole limit of your girlhood, is not after womanhood; let it come when you will, keep out of public view. Cultivate refinement and modesty. Care and responsibilities of life will come soon enough. When they come you will meet them, I trust, as women should. But, oh, be not unwise as to throw away your girlhood. Rob not yourself of the beautiful season, which wisely spent will brighten all your future life."—Ex.

and it cures the cold. That's what is necessary. It soothes the throat because it reduces the irritation; cures the cold because it drives out the inflammation; builds up the weakened tissues because it nourishes them back to their natural strength. ## A $500 Pearl.

New York American: Of all the persons on Coney Island last night, no two were quite so happy as Mr. and Mrs. Edward Morrison of Jamaica Bay, for on Sunday Mrs. Morrison caught a 575-pound loggerhead turtle at Rockaway Inlet and yesterday she found that the big lump on the creature's back was a "pearl barnacle" 100 years old and worth $500. When Mrs. Morrison and her husband heard this they started at once for Coney Island to celebrate the event.

Mrs. Morrison, who is afraid to look at the turtle again for fear it may have a diamond necklace or a supurb concealed somewhere, is preparing a list of her friends to give them a turtle supper. The turtle will attend the feast in a big wooden cage, and the pearl, mounted, will adorn the center of the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrison were out for weak-fish at Rockaway Inlet when there came a bite that almost pulled the hearty fisherman out of the boat. She held on and her husband began to row for the shore. An immense turtle crawled out on the beach and attempted to get away with the line, but little Master Morrison ran up and jumped on its back. The three soon had the creature fastened in a rope cradle and then towed it to Canarsie.

Crowds went to J. B. Casey's landing in Canarsie yesterday to get a glimpse of the big loggerhead. According to all the old fishermen of the place the turtle was an infant about four hundred years ago, or a short time after Columbus made his first visit to the United States.

Will Flash 280 Miles.

A dispatch to the Inter Ocean from Colorado Springs, Col., says: Tonight the greatest searchlight in the world will flash upon the west from the summit of Pike's Peak.

Possessed of twice the power of the lights carried by the great battleships, and built upon a track 120 feet in circumference, with rotating contact, this marvelous light will fall upon the Kansas-Colorado State line, the Royal Gorge and Denver and Cripple Creek gold fields. Its white beacon will carry 280 miles through the jagged hill country of the rocky mountains.

To accomplish this it was necessary to build an electric light plant upon Pike's Peak, which involved the almost impossible task of constructing a gasoline engine which could be operated at that altitude.

Master Mechanic David Jones overcame this difficulty. He figured that an engine, like human lungs, needs more air as the atmosphere becomes rarer, and he planned one which accentuated the air openers in an adequate degree. This unique engine works splendidly and the highest electric light plant in the world will be started tonight.

Man's Footprint in Coal.

The Pottsville, Pa., correspondent of the New York Sun writes that paper as follows:

"The first human imprint ever found in anthracite coal was uncovered by Michael Sineavage, a miner of the Eagle Hill Colliery today, the print being that of a man's foot. Fossils of ferns, snakes, etc., have been plentiful, but this is the first evidence that pre-historic man was in existence in this country during the formation of the coal beds. The imprint, it is estimated, must have been made ten thousand years ago.

Sineavage, not appreciating the value of his find, dumped it in an ordinary coal wagon after he had shown it to his fellow miners.

Paducah Negro an Inventor.

Courier-Journal: Henry Urkhart a colored switchman employed in the local L. & C. yards has invented a "brake shoe" which is said to be one of the best railroad appliances invented in years, and which may make the inventor a wealthy man.

The patent precludes any possibility of the shoe slipping, shaking or dropping out and will be a great time saver and a safety to the railroads in many ways. Urkhart is preparing to push his patent and will organize a stock company to get it on the market.

A brake shoe is a piece of iron fitted into a socket which fits against the car wheels. When the air is applied the shoe comes immediately in contact with the wheel and bears all the friction.

Pitchfork Wound.

Owensboro Messenger: Mr. Oscar Payne, a farmer of the Basin neighborhood, is in a critical condition as a result of having a pitchfork handle driven in his side. The large wooden handle penetrated his body to the depth of eight inches. There is very little hope entertained of his recovery by his friends.

The accident was a very unusual one. Mr. Payne was in his barn loft forking hay, which was being thrown up to him from a wagon. He lost his footing in some way and dropped his fork in an attempt to steady himself. The fork fell through an opening in the floor to the ground, and the tines, sticking in the ground, held it in an upright position. Mr. Payne's efforts to keep from falling failed. He fell full weight on the handle of the fork.

Mt. Vesuvius in Active Eruption.

Naples, Aug. 30.—Mount Vesuvius is in full eruption; a dense black cloud hangs over the islands, which has thrown the inhabitants into a state of panic.

This May be True.

H Colorado Springs special to the Chicago Inter Ocean says:

"Evidently mistaking hailstones for corn or some other kind of food six valuable Pekin ducks belonging to Samuel Hodgson of Florence, Col. ate heartily of them and died soon afterward. When cut open the fowls were found frozen inside. The life of another of Mr. Hodgson's ducks was saved by pouring hot water into its crop.

The ducks, which had remained in the shelter of the barn during the heavy hailstorm, rushed out when the storm was over and were seen by members of the Hodgson family rapidly eating the ice lumps.

Soon they began to stand on one foot and then on the other, as in winter days. One after another they fell to the ground and died within a few minutes. Mr. Hodgson is at a loss to understand the cause of their death until he had cut them open.

Scattered the Crowd.

Shelbyville, Ind., 30.—Three thousand persons attended a harvest carnival in the public square were driven from the place last night by a cloud of frisky crickets that suddenly descended upon the gathering as though from the clouds. The insects covered the ground to a depth of several inches and alighted on the shoulders and heads of the persons present until all were obliged to evacuate the premises. Whether they came from will ever remain a mystery.

Save 1-2 Your Paint Bills

By using Weir's Bavarian White Lead, the most durable and therefore the most economical lead or paint made. It has zinc in it. The zinc gives the paint a beautiful gloss and prevents the lead from destroying the LINED OIL WHICH IS THE LIFE OF ALL PAINT. "Pure Lead" by itself will eat and destroy the lined oil, thus causing the paint to become porous or open and dust off. Weir's Bavarian White Lead is better and cheaper than mixed paints because one-half of every gallon of mixed paint is lined oil for which you pay $1.50 per gallon and get an old, stale, unsound lined oil. Buy fresh oil from your dealer's barrel at its true value. 4 1-2 gallons lined oil and 100 pounds of Weir's Lead will make 6 1-2 gallons best paint ready to use, that will cost you no more than other standard brands of lead and much less than mixed paint and will last twice as long as either. Write D. T. Weir White Lead Co., St. Louis, Mo., for their booklet "Facts About White Lead." Weir's Bavarian White Lead is for sale by Cochran & Pickens, Marion, Ky.

Wedding Superstitions.

A bride who finds a spider on her wedding dress may consider herself blessed.

The bride who dreams of fairies the night before her marriage will be thrice blessed.

If the wedding ring is dropped during the ceremony, the bride may as well wish herself unborn, for she will always have ill-luck.

If the groom carries a miniature horseshoe in his pocket he will always have good luck.

No bride or groom shall be given a telegram on the way to church. It is positively a sign of evil.

Kiss a bride right after the ceremony, and before the newly-made husband has a chance to do so, and you will have excellent luck throughout the year.

Should a bride perchance see a coffin while being driven to the railway station prior to departure upon her wedding tour, she should order the driver to turn back and start over again, or else she will surely meet with bad luck.

Girls Stay Young.

Sometimes our girls are so hasty to reach young ladyhood, and the advantages they imagine to be gained with it, that they forget the added burdens and trials that necessarily follow in its train. Speaking of this, a writer wisely says: "Wait patiently, my children, the whole limit of your girlhood, do not enter womanhood; let it come to you. Keep out of public view. Cultivate refinement and modesty. Care and responsibilities of life will come soon enough. When they come you will meet them, I trust, as women should. But, oh, be not unwise as to throw away your girlhood. Rob not yourself of the beautiful season, which wisely spent will brighten all your future life."—Ex.

Gave $1,000 To Hospital.

Roosevelt's Wife.

London, Aug. 29.—Mrs. Roosevelt must be a proud woman to-day when she realizes the happiness carried to millions of women in Russia and Japan by the culmination in Portsmouth of the splendid work of her husband. No other Power than the United States could have brought peace at this time and it seems providential that at this crisis a man like Mr. Roosevelt, who dared to do, regardless of precedent or tradition, should have been at the head of the great republic.

Honor is also due to the ruler of Japan, who, for the sake of peace has made concessions beyond what the statesmen of the world deemed incumbent upon him.

While the whole world rejoices at the restoration of peace it is in the homes of Russia and Japan, which have furnished the hundreds of thousands of gallant men facing each other in Manchuria, where the blessed news will be heard with the keenest joy.

Faithful Unto Death.

Matilda Canterbury, an old colored woman who was born in Virginia, some time in the thirties was brought to Kentucky by old Mr. Wallace and for many years she has served them as a slave. Her exact age is not known but she is supposed to be in the neighborhood of 70 years.

Aunt Matilda has made many friends since she moved to Marion, about six years ago, among both white and colored. She has for many years been a Christian, joining the church at old Rock Spring, near the old Hurricane camp ground. She was the oldest one of the Wallace family living. She went from one of the Wallaces to the other until she was free.

So trusty was she as a servant that she was never sold, but remained in the family. A great old woman has gone.

"While out strolling last evening," says a reporter, "we passed a house from which emanated the inspiring strain of music from a piano and the throat of a charming young lady." The only words the reporter caught from the song were something about "Dear Mother." Passing on and turning down a side street the reporter saw through the kitchen window the 'dear mother' with her arms buried almost to the elbow in a pan of dough, the perspiration streaming down her wrinkled face and the hot range enveloping her. #### Big Loans.

New York, Aug. 29.—Well informed banking interests are of the opinion that the treaty of peace between Russia and Japan will soon be followed by a Russian loan and with another later by Japan. The extent of these loans will depend largely upon the provisions of the agreement between the two countries. Bankers believe that Russia will make liberal compensation to Japan, although this may be provided for in a separate understanding. It is known that Russia has made all preparation for placing part of a loan here, and it is well known that Japan contemplates raising more money to pay internal obligations.

A Living Monument.

If we were to assemble all those who have been cured of heart disease by Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, and who would to-day be in their graves had not Dr. Miles' been successful in perfecting this wonderful heart specific, they would populate a large city.

What a remarkable record—a breathing, thinking, moving monument, composed of human lives,—that for which every other earthly possession is sacrificed.

The Miles Medical Co. receive thousands of letters from these people like the following:

"I feel indebted to the Dr. Miles' Heart Cure for my life. I desire to call the attention of others suffering as I did to this remarkable remedy for the heart. For a long time I had suffered from shortness of breath after any little exertion, palpitation of the heart; and at times terrible pain in the region of the heart, so serious that I feared that I would some time drop dead upon the street. One day I read one of your circulars, and immediately went to my druggist and purchased two bottles of the Heart Cure, and took it according to directions, with the result that I am entirely cured. Since then I never miss an opportunity to recommend this remedy to my friends who have heart trouble. If it fails he will refund your money."

Missin' Company.

Our company has come and gone,
But not in the same old way,
'Tis best, perhaps, but it seems
forlorn
Not one of 'em could stay.
He was a grand and honest man
And knew his business well,
He always has a smile for all
And something good to sell.

I've known him since I was a boy,
And never knew when he
Did not brighten as he spoke.
Of truth and honesty.
Though he smiles a kindly smile,
The wrinkles would not out,
He always had a smile for her,
And she a smile for him.
He always has a cheerin' word
For those who meant life's journey
well,
Besides his stock of pranks and jokes
Had somethin' serious to tell.

'Tis pleasant to remember now
As I saw 'em side by side,
To know that such as these have
lived,
And as they lived they died.

May Die from Sow's Bite.

Shepherdsville, Ky., Sept. 1.—D. B. Ellison, one of the wealthiest farmers in Bullitt county, who lives near Belmont, is expected to die of blood poisoning which resulted from the bite of an infuriated sow. While going over his farm several days ago Mr. Ellison came close to the litter of one of his prize sows. The animal was feeding a short distance off, but immediately rushed to defend her offspring. The animal sank her tusks in his left knee, making two small holes through the flesh as clean as if a probe had been run through. The wound was dressed and but little thought of until the leg began to swell when they discovered that blood poisoning was well under way.

Roosevelt's Wife.

Marion, Aug. 29.—Mrs. Roosevelt is a proud woman to-day when she realizes the happiness carried to millions of women in Russia and Japan by the culmination in Portsmouth of the splendid work of her husband. No other Power than the United States could have brought peace at this time and it seems providential that at this crisis a man like Mr. Roosevelt, who dared to do, regardless of precedent or tradition, should have been at the head of the great republic.

Honor is also due to the ruler of Japan, who, for the sake of peace has made concessions beyond what the statement of the world deemed incumbent upon him.

While the whole world rejoices at the restoration of peace it is in the homes of Russia and Japan, which have furnished the hundreds of thousands of gallant men facing each other in Manchuria, where the blessed news will be heard with the keenest joy.

Faithful Unto Death.

Matilda Canterbury, an old colored woman who was born in Virginia, some time in the thirties was brought to Kentucky by old Mr. Wallace and for many years she has served them as a slave. Her exact age is not known but she is supposed to be in the neighborhood of 70 years.

Aunt Matilda has made many friends since she moved to Marion, about six years ago, among both white and colored. She has for many years been a Christian, joining the church at old Rock Spring, near the old Hurricane camp ground. She was the oldest one of the Wallace family living. (She went from one of the Wallaces to the other until she was free.

So trusty was she as a servant that she was never sold, but remained in the family. A great old woman has gone.

"Dear Mother."

"While out strolling last evening," says a reporter, "we passed a house from which emanated the inspiring strain of music from a piano and the throat of a charming young lady." The only words the reporter caught from the song were something about "Dear Mother." Passing on and turning down a side street the reporter saw through the kitchen window the 'dear mother' with her arms buried almost to the elbow in a pan of dough, the perspiration streaming down her wrinkled face and the hot range enveloping her. She was singing, "We'll Work 'Till Jesus Comes."—Ex.

Big Loans.

New York, Aug. 29.—Well informed banking interests are of the opinion that the treaty of peace between Russia and Japan will soon be followed by a Russian loan and with another later by Japan. The extent of these loans will depend largely upon the provisions of the agreement between the two countries. Bankers believe that Russia will make liberal compensation to Japan, although this may be provided for in a separate understanding. It is known that Russia has made all preparation for placing part of a loan here, and it is well known that Japan contemplates raising more money to pay internal obligations.

Incredible Brutality.

It would have been incredible brutality if Chas. F. Lemberger, of Syracuse, N. Y., had not done the best he could for his suffering son. # A Living Monument.

If we were to assemble all those who have been cured of heart disease by Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, and who would to-day be in their graves had not Dr. Miles' been successful in perfecting this wonderful heart specific, they would populate a large city.

What a remarkable record—a breathing, thinking, moving monument, composed of human lives,—that for which every other earthly possession is sacrificed.

The Miles Medical Co. receive thousands of letters from these people like the following:

"I feel indebted to the Dr. Miles' Heart Cure for my life. I desire to call the attention of others suffering as I did to this remarkable remedy for the heart. For a long time I had suffered from shortness of breath after any little exertion, palpitation of the heart; and at times terrible pain in the region of the heart, so serious that I feared that I would some time drop dead upon the street. One day I read one of your circulars, and immediately went to my druggist and purchased two bottles of the Heart Cure, and took it according to directions, with the result that I am entirely cured. Since then I never miss an opportunity to recommend this remedy to my friends who have heart trouble; in fact I am a traveling advertisement, for I am widely known in this locality."

J. H. BOWMAN, Manager of Lebanon Democrat, Nashville, Tenn.
Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails he will refund your money.

Missin' Company.

Our company has come and gone,
But not in the same old way,
Tis best, perhaps, but it seems
forlorn
Not one of 'em could stay.
He was a grand and honest man
And knew his business well,
He always has a smile for all
And something good to sell.
I've known him since I was a boy,
And never knew when he
Did not brighten as he spoke.
Of truth and honesty.
Though he smiles a kindly smile,
The wrinkles would not out,
He always had a smile for her,
And she a smile for him.
He always has a cheerin' word
For those who meant life's journey
well,
Besides his stock of pranks and jokes
Had somethin' serious to tell.
Tis pleasant to remember now
As I saw 'em side by side,
To know that such as these have
lived,
And as they lived they died.

May Die from Sow's Bite.

Shepherdsville, Ky., Sept. 1.—D. B. Ellison, one of the wealthiest farmers in Bullitt county, who lives near Belmont, is expected to die of blood poisoning which resulted from the bite of an infuriated sow. While going over his farm several days ago Mr. Ellison came close to the litter of one of his prize sows. The animal was feeding a short distance off, but immediately rushed to defend her offspring. The animal sank her tusks in his left knee, making two small holes through the flesh as clean as if a probe had been run through. The wound was dressed and but little thought of until the leg began to swell when they discovered that blood poisoning was well under way.

When Tommy Trot Goes Shopping.

When Tommy Trot goes down to town
He enters every store,
And so at once proceeds to buy,
'Till buying is a bore.
I fear his mamma and papa
Can never know the things
He buys and loses while in town,
For which his money rings.
When Tommy Trot goes down to town
He marches on straightway,
Until he reaches just the place,
And then he buys without delay.
Not of rubies nor of diamonds,
But of things prettier far,
And 'twould not take the wisest
head
To guess just what they are.
When Tommy Trot comes home from town
He marches up the street,
As if there were no richer boy
In all the world to meet.
Though his purse is empty
He is glad enough to sing,
But when he goes to pay his pa
His money would not jing.

He is blessed with great opportunities, and knows how to improve them. Such boys make the hearts of their parents glad and benefit the world. But for such boys we would have no great and good men. God bless the good boys and save the bad ones.
