WHETHER REPUBLICAN OR DEMOCRAT, CAN YOU ENDORSE T. H. COCHRAN In His Willful and Partisan Efforts to Pack the Juries in Crittenden County?

The Record warns the voters of Crittenden county that the Democratic politicians of this county have a purpose in selecting partisan Democratic juries, and soon or late some Republican will pay the penalty just as Caleb Powers has been paying it for nearly six years. The only legal way to protest against Jury Wheel Stuffing is at the polls. A vote for the Democratic candidates or any one of them means that you are in favor of partisan juries.

WHAT WE HAVE CHARGED AND PROVED IN PRESENT CAMPAIGN!

A Review of the Real Issues--All Challenges Made by The Record Stand Unanswered and Unanswerable by the Press,

Its Political Editorial Staff and the Democratic Moguls-- Sorry that Door Was Left Open--Sorry (?) Towery Was Indicted--Repent in Sackcloth and Greenbacks!

The campaign is over now as far as the RECORD is concerned. We have done what we could to show the people of this county our side of the case. The Democratic campaigners, orators and editors have had their say too, and we believe there is nothing amiss in taking a brief review of the campaign by way of refreshing our memories. We do not think the Democrats have taken an issue but what they have been "smoked out," to use their elegant English. We believe we have not presented an issue except a vital one, nor presented one that has been met and answered.

The issue overshadowing all else in county is the present method of selecting juries as practiced by Thomas H. Cochran, the jury commissioner. We have shown that the same methods are used in this county in stuffing the jury wheel as are used in many places in stuffing the ballot box, and as were used in selecting juries in the farce trials of Caleb Powers. Two hundred and thirteen names out of two hundred and fifty names tells its own story and is unanswerable. T. H. Cochran has never said that he has ever put a single Republican name in the jury wheel. The only answer we have had is from Joe Dean, who said he had put in names of Republicans. It is a fact that almost all the Republicans drawn came from Joe's section, if there is anything in it for Tom he is welcome to it. The fact remains unanswered that Cochran has practiced more partisanship than any one in the county ever did. He has never denied it. The Press and its contributors have never denied it. It is unanswerable. The Press has made the effort of its life to draw our attention to other matters, but we insist on talking about Cochran and his record and have not been turned from our purpose.

We have claimed as another issue in this campaign, and one why we should win, is that those of our nominees who have been renominated, have made capable, efficient and painstaking officials who stand on their records. We have not been driven from this point. The Press and its lawyer contributors, jealous of Carl Henderson have made vicious and unseemly attacks upon him, seeking to draw our attention away from some of the real issues of the campaign to defend Henderson, he needs no defense. If he had an opponent we would defend him and uphold him as his cause demanded. There is no one against him. The people of this county, outside of a clique of lawyers in Marion, know and acknowledge that Henderson has made a good county attorney, and his election is as certain as election day.

We claim that Ed. Weldon has made as good a county clerk as this county ever had. He does not boast of having bought votes by doing work free, yet he has discharged his duty in such a way that no one can find a fault in his record. He has been as polite, as kind, as courteous and as attentive as any man who ever filled the office. He has recorded no orders allowing any one a amount of the money of the county and he has always locked the office door on the night of the election. The claim was made against him four years ago that he was not qualified to fill the office. He has certainly shown different, and he is entitled to your votes on the ground of qualification as much as any one. For every reason imaginable he is entitled to the votes of all Republicans.

As to the efficiency of the other candidates we shall say but a word or two, for no one believes for a moment that the Democratic ring leaders are trying to defeat any one on our county ticket except Ed. Weldon and Walter Blackburn. Therefore the others are in no danger as the Democrats will vote for any of them or all of them if they can get some Republicans to vote for Rochester or Woods in return. But with all their malevolence they have never accused Albert Travis of not doing his full duty as jailer, nor that Jas. Sullenger has not made a good county surveyor, nor that John B. Paris has not made as good a county school superintendent of schools as we have ever had. We claim that all these men named above have made good officials. We have challenged you to pick a flaw in their official record. You have not done it. You knew it was useless to try for Judge Towery told you that there was nothing wrong, and he would know it if there was.

Walter Blackburn has been a servant of a more exacting master than Crittenden county for several years. That he has made a good official is evidenced by the fact of the length of his service. He will make a judge for Crittenden county that every one will be proud of. He is honest, straightforward and trustworthy, and his countenance reflects all these qualities. He will do his duty fearlessly and honestly, and there will be no pull of any sort. He will not pay out the county's money to pets, nor appropriate it to his own use, nor have the county to buy his daughter a bicycle. He will make a record against which nothing can be found.

Delia Flannery! We feel like we were hitting a cripple when we say a single word that can be construed to mean anything detrimental to Flannery's opponent. The way the Democrats are putting the knife to Casner is awful. We will speak of Flannery and Davidson in the same breath, for to some extent they have both been servants of the public in different ways. We cover the case completely when we say that not one of our nominees has been found guilty of anything. They will likely lead the ticket. If John B. Paris had an opponent he would find the Republicans lined up behind him and his record.

The Democrats had no one qualified to run against him and his election goes by default.

Chas. Walker is a plain, honest, fearless farmer, of a family whose name is a synonym for Republicanism. It is unnecessary to say anything more about him for no one can say aught against him, and we introduce him as our next coroner.

We have gone into this matter for some length but we now desire to say that the Republican ticket from R. L. Moore, for State Senator, to J. Anthony Davidson, for assessor, is made up of sound, solid, substantial Republicans, whose nominations were secured by honest methods. The Democratic ring leaders have spilled a great deal of ink and used a lot of typewriter paper to make the people think the primary of April 1, was a fixed up thing. The letters of practically all the defeated candidates speak in answer to that. All the candidates in the primary met and selected the election officers. The election was by secret ballot. No defeated candidate came nearer than 125 votes of the nomination. It is absolutely absurd to think that a set of men at Marion could change a result under such conditions.

One great issue always before the Republicans of this county is the Caleb Powers trials. The Democrats here are profoundly silent. This is not the time to talk about it. We have said and you know that it is true, that every one of their nominees from the State Senate down, endorse everything that has been done by the leaders of the Democratic party in this State since the passage of the Goebel law. They endorsed an effort to disfranchise you. They endorsed an effort to steal your votes from you by putting in a set of men you had defeated for State and Stone and all the other lights that have left them in this state and joined a party that is alive and up to date. Look in this county if you please, and you can find scores of men who vote the Republican ticket and say nothing about it. They don't care to bring such a tempest about their ears as Dr. Moore has had to endure for the last few weeks, yet they can't stand for the Democratic party in its present leadership.

The Democrats have also attempted to bring a few issues into the campaign in order to cover up the main issue, the jury system. They have delved and dug. They have studied the RECORD and records with the diligence of a Sunday school teacher trying to get his lesson on Sunday morning. They wonder why Tom didn't put in some Republican names. They have mourned because Dave "fogrot" to lock the door. They are sorry Joe Rochester wanted old men to work the roads. They are sorry they wanted a new court house. They wish Tom hadn't said he was glad they were going to hang Powers. They are sorry (?) Towery was indicted. They are sorry that Dr. Moore voted in the primary. They are sorry the records show that Ollie got $100 in 1903 and another $100 in 1905. Their campaign has been one of sack-cloth and ashes--and greenbacks.

The first thing they took up was the Towery indictment. The caption in the suit of Wright against Guess, etc., settled their hash. They say it isn't plain enough that he who runs may read, but not plain enough to get us in a libel suit, we trust. They say that suit didn't name Towery. Who were you talking about then when you said some one had made "survey and affidavit" and that it was "false, fraudulent and void?" If you were talking about

By Their Grand Stand Plays They Have Presented a Farce Comedy to the People in the Towery Case!

They Have Made Robt. L. Moore Stronger and Thos. H. Cochran Stands Guilty Undeferred. And Still Loves Ollie, Partisan Juries and Smithland Clique.

The "court house gang" has received the undivided attention of the Democratic coterie. We have explained that there is nothing in this phrase that gets any votes. If the "court house gang" had done all you claimed, it is no worse than to tell old man Arflack that you were going to meet at 2 p. m. and then to take time by the forelock and meet at 10 a. m. and make your nominations and leave him out. You may say, as you have, that old man Arflack don't amount to anything and the jailer's office don't pay much anyway. That makes no difference. He was entitled to some sort of a show and you gave him none. You could boldly have run over him from the front, but it suits your disposition better to stab in the back like an Italian coward. He is too honest for you. You try to reason that it is cheaper for him. That you would have traded him off for Joe Rochester or Dave Woods anyway. That is weird logic. The "court house gang" stands high with the people of Crittenden county when they are put in comparison with a gang who meet and dump $3,000 in this county to try to buy up a couple of county offices. They stand high with the Republicans of this county when compared to a gang that tried to throw out the vote of this county in 1900 because it gave a big Republican majority. They stand high when compared to a set of men who attempt to destroy the ballots in No. 4 precinct so the voters there could get no chance to cast their ballots. Then think of the jury wheel gang, of the lawyer's office gang, of the "opening day gang" and the court house gang taking back seats. The court house gang at Marion don't run things like the court house gang at Smithland. Court house gang talk down there gives you the tired feeling.

The crowd of tricksters running the Democratic campaign in this county this year have attempted to draw your mind away from the real issue by violently assailing Dr. R. L. Moore. Dr. Moore's conduct has put his maligners to shame. In the face of a pitiless persecution he has rested on his dignity and his character and his honor. He well knows that the low and the vile in their party can't stand for them any longer and leaves them. He knows that is what John Young Brown got. It is the same dish served to Buckner and all those men who left their old party for the sake of their principles and refused to be bullied or bought back. He is willing for his case to go to the people as it is, and let the election returns testify as to that sort of argument.

A wonderful effort has been made to side track Tom Cochran in this campaign as in issue, and in doing so, the records of Judge Nunn's court and Judge Gordon's court have been brought into the limelight by these so called Democratic leaders. We do not care to discuss the records of Judge Nunn or Judge Gordon just now, but as we said last week when either of them is a candidate before the people of this county we shall likely have something to say about them. We really haven't time now to discuss any one but Cochran and Woods and Rochester. We know that you had rather not, but we feel it is our duty. What happened before the present jury system was installed, is not so vital as what is taking place now. Every Republican in this county is thinking about these things, Mr. Cochran, and after November 7 you will be thinking about them, too, if you are not now.

Will any one or all of the gentlemen whose names appeared on the petition printed in the RECORD of Sept. 29 deny, or will the Press deny for them, that one of them sent for two prominent Republicans at different times and gave them a history of the certificate signed by Towery, claiming that it was a forgery, and wanted them to have a Republican candidate use it against Towery and Henderson before the primary?

Many side issues have been brought into this campaign. For instance, Joe Rochester wanted all old men to work the road as long as they lived. Joe argued that very fluently for one night and then--dropped it. Joe's ideas about working the roads are something like his ideas about a new court house. He hasn't any. He asks some one who has some. If he were to ask Judge Gordon about a new court house what do you guess? There has also been a great deal of sympathy injected into this campaign by the Democrats. They sympathize with everybody but Caleb Powers and a Republican who is kept off the jury. Their sympathy for defeated Republicans is alarming. It shows such a radical "face about" on their part as to lead one to think that it might not be sincere. They talk sympathetically about the defeated Republicans and the nominated Democrats in the same breath. Not a word about George Arflack. Not a word about R. M. Franks. All about Towery and his terrible treatment. It looks like they were trying to atone for his maltreatment. We don't know but that it looks that way to a man up a tree. As much as you paid Ollie for his trips to Frankfort, Judge?

The Democratic candidates and promoters of candidates have persisted in lying to the people of this county by saying that our candidates or part of them want and will insist on a new court house if elected. This is a lie of the whole cloth and every man who tells it knows it is a lie. There was no talk of a new court house here until Judge Gordon was put on the bench. Ask any one who heard his first in-offices. They endorse the persecution of Powers. They endorse the use of money to bribe men not to vote. They endorse every effort to cut the vote down, knowing their only chance is to get it down to the few they can control. Republicans, just as you prepare to stamp your ballot, think of these things. Think of what you are doing if you vote for any one of them.

One of the greatest issues in this and all campaigns is the Republican party. It is an honor to belong to such a party. Why, young men, tie yourself to something dead, whose stench ascends even unto heaven? Such an aggregation is the defunct Democratic party. No man except a politician or a grafter can expect to reap any benefit from being a Democrat. The cream of their party is leaving them every day. some one else why didn't you say who it was? We said that Carl Henderson told Towery about it being before the grand jury. You said that Ollie James told him and Henderson did not, then say in your next that Henderson did. We said that a Democrat and one who by virtue of his connection with the case knew the facts, went to Republicans and told them it could be used in the primary to the detriment of Towery and Henderson and possibly bring about their defeat. He gave it away and to this hour you have not denied it. His services were "volunteered" in the same spirit we suppose. You don't deny what we say about your client going home and telling about consulting with his lawyers and saying that his case was won, and that the evidence in it would put Towery "behind the bars." The truth is before the people on the Towery indictment and you have dropped it.

Are you in favor of the following proposed Amendment to the Constitution?

Yes ☐

No ☐

"Section 147. The General Assembly shall provide by law for the registration of all persons entitled to vote in cities and towns having a population of five thousand or more, and may provide by general law for the registration of other voters in the State. Where registration is required, only persons registered shall have the right to vote. The mode of registration shall be prescribed by the General Assembly. In all elections by persons in a representative capacity, the voting shall be viva voce and made a matter of record, and all elections by the people shall also be viva voce and made a matter of public record by the officers of election, according to the direction of the voter. The word 'elections' in this section includes the decision of questions submitted to the voters, as well as the choice of officers by them. The first General Assembly held after the adoption of this amendment shall pass all necessary laws to enforce this provision."

The above is the form of ballot for precincts Marion 3, 4 and 5. For all other precincts it is the same except the changes for justice of the peace and constable in the different districts.

FORMER CITIZEN OF CRITTENDEN COUNTY

J. W. Bruff, a Man With Many Friends, Succumbs to Death.

J. W. Bruff, one of the most substantial citizens of Christian county, died Wednesday morning, Oct. 11, at 5 o'clock, at his home near Julian. Congestion of the stomach was the cause of his death. He had been in feeble health for some time but was not confined to his bed but a few days before his death. He was not thought to be dangerously ill until a few hours before he died. He called for his wife and children in his dying hours and was perfectly conscious until the last.

Mr. Bruff was born in Crittenden county, Nov. 6th, 1832, making him 72 years, 11 months and 5 days of age. He came in 1869 to this county where he is well known by all as a man of noble character. He was a man of the home. He was noted for his purity and intensity of his affection for those knit to him by family ties. When he crossed his threshold he left behind him the cares and anxieties of business. He gave his best to his household, the bright smile, the merry laugh and unselfish devotion. To his children he was the indulgent father and opened wide his arms and heart.

Mr. Bruff was married the second time. In 1864 he married Miss Lou Ladd, who only lived a few years, leaving him with one child, Miss Mary Sue Bruff. In 1874 he married Miss Jennie E. Ladd, sister to his first wife, who survives him with eight children, viz., John H., North Yakima, Wash.; Tannie L. McMurray, Cerulean, Ky.; James W., North Yakima, Wash.; Annie B., Ettie J., Howard J., Elizabeth V., and Lee Ladd Bruff.

All his children were present except the two in Washington.

He devoted most of his attention to the education of his children and prepared them for future life.

Mr. Bruff was a member of the Southern Presbyterian church at Newstead. He expressed his willingness to die, and said, "I have more friends in Heaven than on earth." We will believe that he is gone from us into the world of light.

Funeral services were held Thursday at 1 o'clock at the Newstead church by Rev. Tate. The remains were laid in their last resting place in the Newstead cemetery. While the earth was closing over the casket his favorite song, "In the Sweet By and By" was sung and there they left him amid the graves of his relatives and friends he loved so well.

TOWNS IN BUSINESS.

BENEFITS DERIVED BY THE MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP SYSTEM.

How Mansfield, Mass., Has Been Getting About $5,000 Worth of Public Lighting on a Yearly Appropriation of $4,000.

Much has been written by students of economics and social conditions on municipal ownership of public utilities abroad, but very little is heard about such ownership at home.

While the government or states do not attempt to control telegraphs, telephones or traffic lines in the United States, there are several examples of municipal ownership of other utilities in various states, says the Boston Globe. Waterworks probably are more generally owned by communities than any other public utility, and, so far as appears, their ownership by cities and towns has proved successful, has long since passed beyond the experimental stage and has become accepted as a proper thing beyond question.

Mansfield is one of two Massachusetts towns to establish a lighting plant a little over a year ago, the other being Ipswich.

For purposes of illustration of the workings of a small municipal plant established under favorable conditions that at Mansfield is worthy of study, it had a clear field in which to begin business, and it represents a type of plant unknown until recently, having petroleum motors to supply it with power. As a model for towns embarking on municipal ownership the Mansfield plant offers a number of interesting points. Management of the plant rests with a commission of two members, who serve without any handicap.

"We started without any handicap," said a member of the board. "There was no electric light plant in town. We wanted electric light and believed we could manufacture it for less than we should be obliged to pay a private company for it, so we started in last winter (1904) with our plant. We control all the poles and wires, have a new, efficient plant, not yet running to half its capacity, and are making it pay already. You can't beat that anywhere for public ownership, I feel sure."

"The success of our plant has been greater than we had foreseen, and even its opponents acknowledge that it is a success. Mansfield is getting about $5,000 worth of public lighting on an annual appropriation of $4,000, and private consumers are getting a fine service at very low cost."

"Mansfield's investment has been $47,000 for station, equipment, poles, wires, lamps and all apparatus necessary for private and public lighting. We bought the land on which our station stands for $5,000. Our engines and electrical apparatus cost about $25,000."

"Our power is derived from a new and economical type of petroleum driven motor, using refuse oil, which costs us a little more than 3 cents a gallon. We have two motors, which consume about 100 gallons of oil a day. The machinery runs without a hitch and provides steady, reliable power."

Silverton, Colo., a village of 2,000 people, is popularly known throughout the country as the "town that runs itself," says a dispatch to the St. Louis Star-Chronicle. Its citizens have paid no city taxes for more than a dozen years, yet the town is one of the most prosperous in Colorado, and last year had an income of more than $15,000 above all running expenses.

Its entire revenues come from liquor licenses and water and light rentals, and the success of municipal ownership here is such that the citizens would not go back to the era of private public service corporations under any circumstances. Two years ago the local lighting plant was purchased from the corporation which owned it.

Last year it showed a gross income of $17,965.40, including $1,800 which the town charged itself for street lighting. Its operating expenses were $14,388.28. The town's income for water rentals during the same period was $10,000.47 and from saloon licenses $14,122. The total receipts from all sources were $49,820.49, an actual surplus over the town's running expenses of $15,570.52. Practically all of this surplus was expended in additions to the town's water system, which is valued at approximately $55,000. The lighting plant is appraised at $32,000. The latter is now furnishing four times the amount of current produced at the time of its purchase by the city two years ago, the abnormal increase being due to the exceptionally low price of current. Light rentals and water rentals are lower than in any other city in the west, the minimum charges being $1.50 per month, with meter service, subject to a discount of 25 per cent if paid when due. The discount on water rentals is 15 per cent.

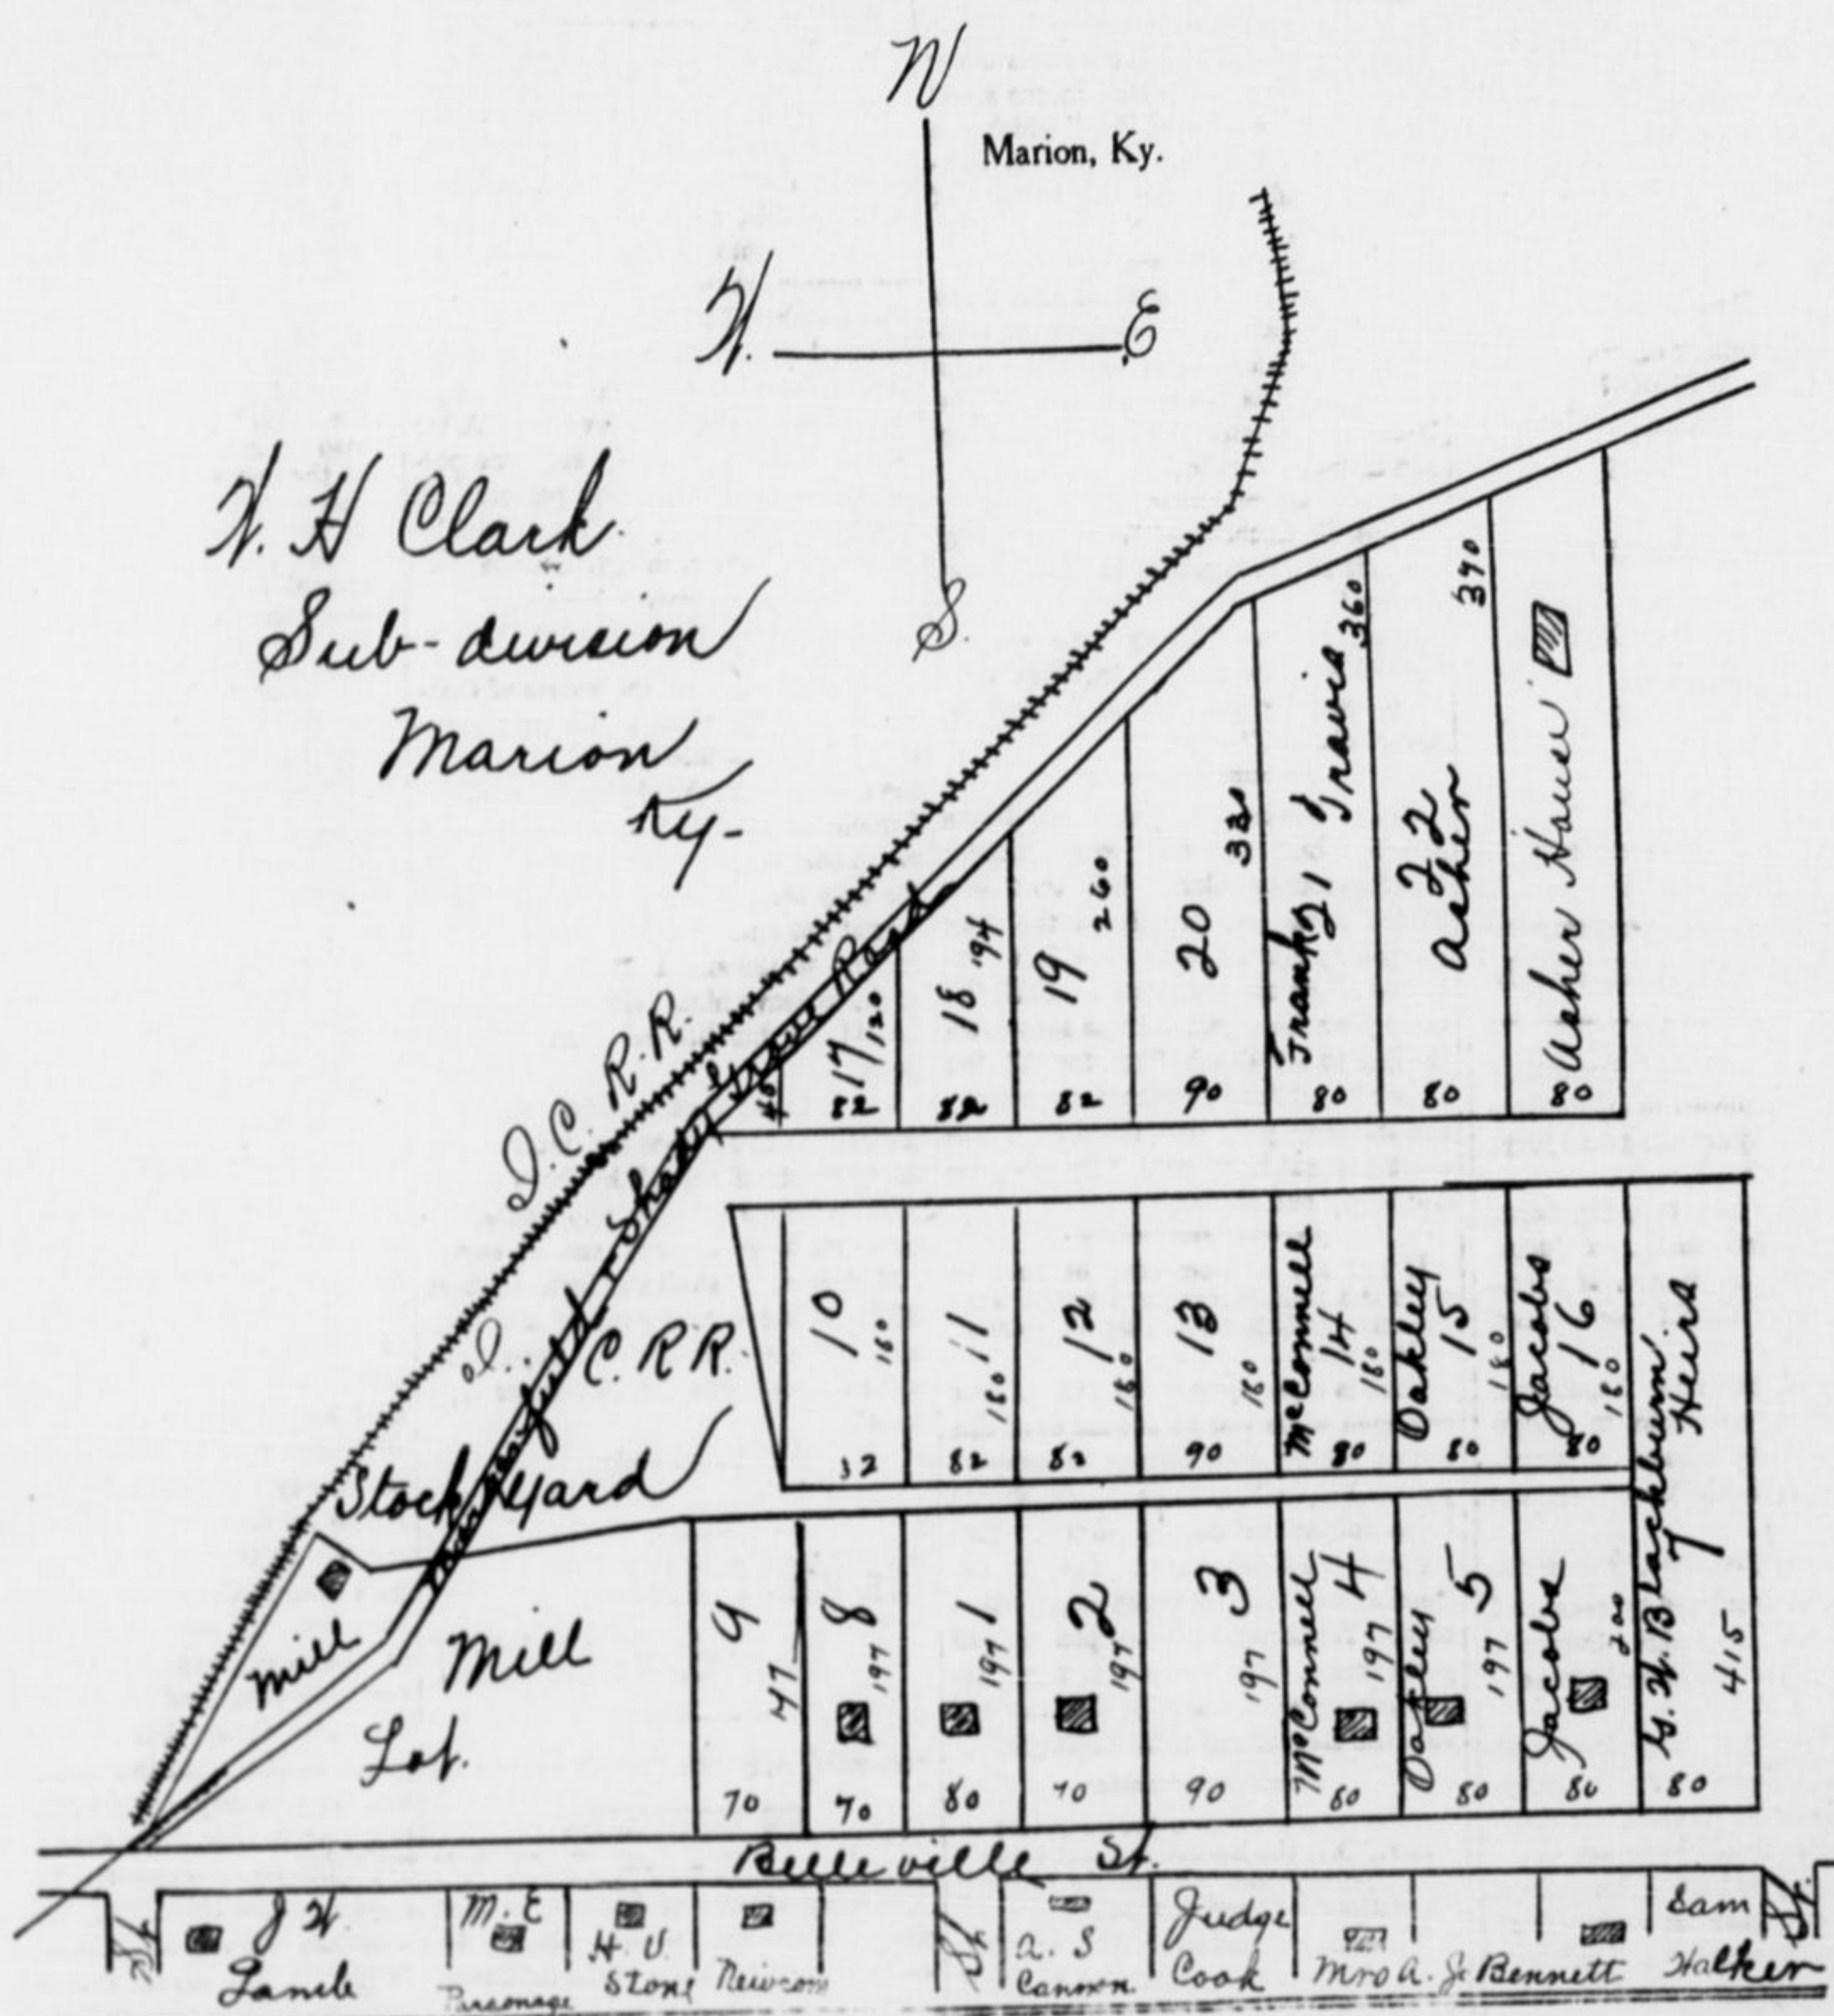

After owning its own electric light plant for over nine years Detroit, Mich., has proved that municipal ownership of correct light system is a success, says the Municipal Journal and Engineer. Where formerly the town paid a private corporation $132 per are light per year the yearly cost per are light now is $61.65, or more than 50 per cent less. In the plant there are seven double deck tubular boilers. Five of these boilers are in constant use. The other two are held in reserve. Every six weeks the boilers are changed. When a boiler goes out of commission it is given a complete overhauling and cleaning. One of the reserve boilers takes its place. The plant is so situated that a switch has been laid and the coal can be unloaded directly from the cars to the bins. A track scale has been put in, and all coal that is bought is weighed on it.

City Lots and Residences.

Have you seen the desirable building lots in Clark's Addition to the city of Marion, Ky., and the residences therein that are now being offered for sale by W. H. Clark?

If you have not it will certainly be to your interest to do so before purchasing real estate elsewhere.

These lots and residences are in East Marion and within the corporate limits of the city of Marion. They are of easy access, well located and command a splendid view of the city. They front on the principal streets and are in the coming residence portion of the city. Just the place for a residence.

No part of Marion has grown so rapidly or so well as East Marion and you could certainly do no better than invest your money in the lots and residences shown in the above plat. These lots are especially adapted to building purposes and are the most desirable part of Marion. They will be sold at a reasonable price, and terms of sale will be arranged to suit purchaser.

"FURTHER CHALLENGES."

"Name one, just one, Republican who has been indicted in Judge Gordon's court by a partisan grand jury, who should not have been."

"Name one, just one, Democrat who escaped indictment in Judge Gordon's court by reason of partisan jury, who should have been indicted."

"Name one, just one, Republican who has been convicted in Judge Gordon's court by reason of partisan jury, who should have been acquitted."

"Name one, just one, Democrat who has been acquitted by reason of partisan jury in Judge Gordon's court, who should have been convicted."

"Name one, just one, Republican who has lost a case in Judge Gordon's court, by reason of a partisan jury, who should have won it."—Crittenden Press.

We beg leave to answer the above challenge by respectfully informing you that Judge Gordon is not the issue in this campaign, but should be a candidate four years hence we will take up his case and we will fight him on his record. However, there is an issue in this campaign, and that is the PARTISAN MANNER IN WHICH JURIES ARE SELECTED IN THIS COUNTY. IT WAS MADE SO WHEN YOU MADE YOUR AFFABLE JURY COMMISSIONER, THOS. H. COCHRAN, A CANDIDATE FOR THE LEGISLATURE. And on this issue of the campaign we submit to you the following proposition, which we will clothe almost in your own words:

NAME ONE, JUST ONE, PETIT OR GRAND JURY PANEL THAT HAS BEEN SELECTED BY T. H. COCHRAN COMMISSION THAT WAS NOT DEMOCRATIC—NAME ONE, JUST ONE, THAT WAS NOT SELECTED IN A PARTISAN MANNER.

NOTE—When you convince the voters that it is not partisan for 42 per cent of the county, Democrats, to furnish 82 per cent of the names (Democrats) for the jury panels, the laws of nature will be reversed and the sun will rise in the west and set in the east.

"Stand by your guns, boys!"

Cycles are not so popular now.

Who was responsible for that Towery indictment? Read the answer in the stars next Tuesday at 10 o'clock.

Is it natural for a defeated candidate to feel disappointed more or less, but it is not every defeated candidate that is a traitor.

"I am unable to find anything that Carl Henderson has done for this county."—Thos. W. Champion.
He needs the attention of a specialist.

We wish to call the attention of the voters of this county to the report that a certain gentleman is handling Democratic campaign money. It is said that he has promised to deliver the goods next Tuesday. He spends most of his time in the country, especially Sunday.

Oh Ollie! Oh dear! Oh Thomas! why did you go to Livingston and let the "mule" men know that you were for the gang?

News Item:—Thos. H. Cochran left early Friday morning with flags and banners, for Hampton, to gain in the gang rally.

Did you ever "ride out" on a bicycle when you wanted to "ride in"? One man can answer that question now affirmatively, but after Tuesday there will be two.

Make a cross mark in the circle under the log cabin and one in the small square after the word "No" which you will find at the right of the constitutional amendment near the bottom of your ballot.

Whenever a party gets to such a low ebb that it can neither defend its principles nor its acts it is certainly in a bad way. This is the condition of the latter-day Democracy in Crittenden and Livingston counties.

Thos. H. Cochran—"What our party needs is to get together in Livingston county."

Thos. Evans—"Every time we do, there's less of us to get together next time, and by and by we'll have no party left, sir."

Uncle Dave said the Republicans solicited him out and were running him for county clerk, but that was before some one mentioned the way the county clerk's door was left unlocked about election time in 1899, the same year the command was sent down the line to let the ballots for all the larger Republican precincts be stolen, and the same year that the chief Democratic mogul here said "By —, we will throw out No. 4."

If you are a Democrat be sure to go to the polls November 7th and vote the straight ticket from top to bottom.—Democrat.

That is a pretty way to talk to your own men while you go around over this county asking Republicans to support your ticket, telling them there should be no politics in county affairs. THE RECORD is not two-faced. It is for the Republican party because it is based on the fundamental principles of all government. We ask every true Republican to go to the polls Tuesday and vote the Republican ticket straight.

"A con skin to a jug of butter-milk, that the Record will not come out plainly and answer the above questions."—Dixon Journal.

Whether we endorsed the appointment of Myers as postmaster at Tolu? Yes.

Whether we endorse the action of the supposed "court house gang" in Marion with reference to the defeat of Towery? If there had been such a gang we would positively denounce it. There was no such, but to you, Mr. Journal, we will also say as we did to the Press last week, that there is $300 outstanding reward for reliable evidence to the effect that the gang existed and sent out the runners as the Press and Towery charge and which you have seen fit to repeat. Now, how about your reputation and responsibility if you don't win that reward? Neither the Press nor Towery has won it yet. But send over your "con skin."

OUR FOREMAN.

It may be interesting to our readers to know that L. C. Newman is now the foreman of our printing office. He comes well recommended, is a practical, competent and thoroughly up-to-date printer, as well as an all round newspaper man. He edited and published the Dixon Banner, a paper published at Dixon a few years ago, and for the past two years has been with the Sun, at Morganfield.

He is a man of family and has just moved to this city where he will reside in the McChesney house on Maple street.

The Secret Ballot in Danger.

Dear Sir:—The legislature, at its last session, passed a law, whereby it is proposed to give up the secret ballot and go back to the old viva voce system of voting which compels every man to let every other man see whom and what he votes for.

This is an evil measure passed for iniquitous purposes. It is a move backward, and an effort to again adopt a system of voting in Kentucky discarded by every live commonwealth in the United States.

The return to this system is not desired by any one, Republican or Democrat, who has the highest and best interest of this great state at heart.

The laboring man, the wage earner, the farm tenant, the poor man, and all others who are at the mercy of the capitalists, want to vote freely and without fear of capital and what it might do.

The capitalist, the merchant and the manufacturer want to vote without fear of the loss of life or liberty or the confiscation of their property by any political grafters, whatever may be their politics.

The secret ballot is one of the mighty safe guards of liberty and must be kept inviolate. The corrupt politician and the corrupt voter alone would profit by a return to the old way of voting.

Vote against this amendment by stamping "X" in the little square opposite the word "No", which you will find on the right hand side of your ballot, and your vote will be against the amendment.

Hand this to your neighbor, both Republican and Democratic.

Yours truly,
COMMITTEE ON SECRET BALLOT.

Man's Unreasonableness

Is often as great as a woman's. But Thos. S. Austin, Mrg. of the "Republican," of Leavenworth, Ind., was not unreasonable, when he refused to allow the doctors to operate on his wife for female trouble. Instead, he says, "we concluded to try Electric Bitters. My wife was then so sick" she could hardly leave her bed, and five (5) physicians had failed to relieve her. After taking Electric Bitters, she was perfectly cured and can now perform all her household duties." Guaranteed by Haynes & Taylor, druggist, price 50c.

To the Voters of Crittenden County.

I desire to say to the voters of Crittenden county that I am very sorry that it is impossible for me to get into the campaign in the closing hours of it. I would be glad if it were possible for me to see you all. But on account of the very serious illness of my brother I cannot get out. He has been very low for two weeks and I do not feel like I ought to leave him. He has been an invalid all his life as many of you know.

I wish to say that anything that any one can do to advance my interests or the interests of any of the boys on the ticket with me will be appreciated by me as much as by any one on earth.

If elected, I shall put forth my best effort to serve you capably and honestly. Trusting that every Republican will be at the polls on November 7, I remain

Yours truly,
J. F. FLANARY.

THE GHOST WALKS ON HALLOWE'EN NIGHT

And Many Are the Pranks Played on the Unsuspecting.

Tuesday night was Hallowe'en and many were the pranks played by small boys under cover of the darkness. The Grand Charivari occurred between 9 and 10 o'clock after which gates were taken from their accustomed places and fences relieved of their palings.

The school house was visited and several radiators removed.

About the midnight hour, strange objects were seen dodging behind any available object that could be found handy and, although an extra force of watchmen were supposed to be on duty, not one of these "imps" were caught—just whose fault we do not know. It may have been the agility of the midnight marauders, or possibly sheer fright of the officers, anyway, the Hallowe'en sprites succeeded in spiriting away the watchman at the power house who was so badly frightened that his hair still has an inclination to stand crosswise although all the soap in the city has been resorted to that it may be restored to its normal condition. They then gained possession of all the whistles, bells, tin pans and in fact, any thing with which "music" could be made, and the harmonious sounds produced were greatly enjoyed by the revelers, at least.

Then, after this gentle reminder to those who do not believe in "ghosts, spirits and sprites," and all such, they retired to other lands until they deem it necessary to give us another lesson in the existence and mysteries of "ghostism."

Suggestion for Next Jury.

We would suggest to Thos. H. Cochran the following names to be put in the jury wheel when he fills it at the next term of court, who, when drawn out, will be:

W. A. Blackburn for county judge.
C. E. Weldon " county clerk.
Carl Henderson " county attorney.
J. F. Flanary " sheriff.
John B. Paris " supt. of schools.
J. Anthony Davidson " assessor.
Chas. Walker " coroner.
Jas. Sulenger " surveyor.
Albert Travis " jailer.

You might put in the following names without offending your chieftain:

Attorney R. L. Moore, who, when drawn out will be state senator.
Jas. A. Moore, attorney at law.
John A. Moore, attorney at law.
W. J. Deboe, attorney at law.
A. C. Moore, attorney at law.
Geo. M. Crider, postmaster.

These names will look better when comparing the political affiliation of your juries. None of them can serve. Debarred by statute. Note: 1785 Other Republicans could serve.

THOMAS W. CHAMPION WRITES "OLD TIMER"

And Others, Asking Them to Vote for Him—Old Timer's Reply.

The following is a form of a letter sent out by Thos. W. Champion, the Democratic candidate for county attorney to Republican voters:

Dear Sir:—No doubt you are aware of the fact that I am a candidate for the office of county attorney of this county to be voted for at the coming November election.

You perhaps, vote different from me in national affairs where laws are made by men elected to public office, but when we come to our own door and with matters that concern our own fireside, I believe you will agree with me when I say that it is the duty of every good citizen to vote for the man that will best serve him and his fellows regardless of politics and party lines. I have no mind to throw at Mr. Henderson for I don't believe in trying to get into office by any such tactics, but at the same time I am unable to recall anything he has done for the people of this county. I shall try to see you in person and make an appeal to you for your support in this race. I have been practicing law for more than three years and I have tried at all times to treat the people honest and be fair in all my dealings. If elected to this office I will at all times be found at my post trying to do my duty. Trusting I will be able to have your support and influence, I beg to remain with every expression of kind regards

Sincerely your friend,
THOS. W. CHAMPION.

Our friend Tom had no idea this letter would ever meet the gaze of "Old Timer" or that the public would ever know how he was trying to hoodwink the unsuspecting Republicans of Crittenden county. Tom says he is unable to recall anything Carl Henderson has done for the county. This may be the truth for there are no people so blind as those who will not see. We can tell Tom of a great many good things Carl has done for this county. He, with the aid of Judge Tom Nunn, saved the county that excessive tax in 1903. It was he that made the superintendent of that tie company come to Marion with Charlie Grassham and settle their back tax. It was he and Weldon who at their own expense went to Frankfort this year and saved the county excessive taxes, but it was he who made wealthy mining companies pay into the treasury of the county taxes on property that had never been listed until this year. In short, Tom, he has done more for the county than any man who has served us in that capacity. In fact, I am afraid Tom is not right some way. I expect he has been looking into his father-in-law's old telescope and if he has he is a gone Tom.

I have examined this and it is a sort of a three barrel concern. You look in at one place and all you can see is Tom's father-in-law, Aaron, making his debut into the Republican party twenty years ago. The second place shows the Republicans ousting him from the pie counter of that party and he taking a long farewell look at that brick structure below the jail built with the county's money at a cost of $840.00 but for which he had contracted to pay over a thousand dollars, but it being reduced however, on account of Carl Henderson's protest. The third place shows the Goebel monument surrounded by a lot of hungry pie hunters and the rump legislature that robbed Gov. Taylor of his office and in the crowd is one long, lank fellow with the inscription in his hand, "$100,000.00 for evidence to convict honest men," and west of this stand is a very large and hairless fellow and in his hand is the inscription, "Pie for all that come this way."

It was the last inscription that caught "Papa Aaron's" eye because pie is what he loves and all that he is after. So, Tom, don't ask the Republicans to help you out, but let that bald-headed man take care of you and "Papa Aaron" when he throws out No. 4 "by—!"

Don't try to make "Old Timer" believe that you are opposed to throwing mud when every reader of "Papa Aaron's" organ and yours, the Press, knows that it has been filled with dirt and falsehood and edited by a Goebel-gang during the whole campaign.

Tourist Cars Popular.

The idea that an inferior class of people patronize the tourist sleepers is an error. On many trips only the best class of travelers are found. They are merely men and women of good sense who would rather travel to California in this manner and save a snug sum of money to be used elsewhere. It is beginning to be understood that it is by no means necessary for the traveler to spend a large sum of money in order to enjoy a trip to the Pacific coast.

If you cross the continent in one of the tourist sleepers of the Union Pacific you will enjoy your trip, and save considerable money. Inquire of J. H. LOTROP, C. A., 903 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo.

THE SHADY GROVE SPEAKING AND RALLY

Champion told Henderson He Did Not Want Division of Time, but After Speaking was Over Said He Asked for It.

Saturday afternoon the Republicans had an enthusiastic Rally and Speaking at Shady Grove. Senator Deboe who was billed to speak was unable to do so on account of illness the crowd was, however, entertained for three hours by Frank U. Harris, of Princeton, W. A. Blackburn, Republican nominee for County Judge, P. H. Darby, of Princeton, County Clerk C. E. Weldon and County Attorney Carl Henderson.

Round after round of applause greeted the speakers as they referred to the attitude of the Democratic party and candidates in this campaign. Mr. Blackburn, in a brief way, outlined the policy he will adhere to as County Judge. He took occasion to refer to the misrepresentation that was made in regard to his attitude on the question of a new court house, he said that he was apposed to a new court house and had been ever since the question had been agitated; that he was under no obligations to Judge Gordon, the Democratic Circuit Judge, who has been trying to have the old court house condemned. He paid his respects to his Democratic opponent, Judge Rochester, and asked the voters if they believed that Judge Rochester would turn his back on his friend Gordon on the court house question, in view of the fact that Gordon has given Rochester two offices, Master Commissioner and Trustee of the Jury fund. He also referred to certain acts of Judge Rochester while he was Co. Judge, allowing relatives to preform public work and paying them almost twice as much as for what others had agreed to do the same work. Blackburn said he had no family favorites to reward at the expense of the tax payers, if he is elected County Judge, and that he would see that public contracts were let to the lowest and best bidder.

Mr. Henderson reviewed his acts as county Attorney and showed to the evident satisfaction of all the voters that he had saved the tax-payers several thousand dollars by the fight he and Mr. Weldon had made before the State Board of Equalization. He spoke of the partisan manner in which the Democratic jury commissioners, of this county, have acted in stuffing the jury wheel with Democrats and excluded competent Republicans. He denied the statement of The Crittenden Press and the Democratic nominees that there were no partisan juries in this country, as an example of such juries he referred to the trial of Caleb Powers, he said that one of the issues in the campaign was "partisan juries" and that every vote cast for the Democratic ticket was an endorsement of Judge Gordon and his Democratic jury commissioners and all the evils of the Democratic party.

Mr. Weldon asked the voters to elect him County Clerk, he said that he had only held the office four years and called attention to the fact that his opponent had held the office twenty-four years, difference twenty years. He said if elected County Clerk he would endeavor to do in the future as he had in the past—treat all alike.

After the speaking was over Mr. Champion, the Democratic nominee for County Attorney, tried to make a "grand stand play" by stating to the crowd that he had come there to make a speech and had asked Mr. Henderson for a division of time and that Henderson had declined. To this Mr. Henderson said the statement was absolutely false; that Champion said to him before the speaking that he knew that the speaking was advertised as a joint appointment by the Republican nominees of Crittenden and Caldwell counties and that he did not expect and did not ask for a division of time, from the manner in which the crowd received Henderson's answer it was evident that they believed him and regarded Champion's action as a play for sympathy.

New Hotel Leased.

The new hotel building of Yandell & Orme has been leased by Mrs. Emma Ebell and daughter, Miss Carrie, of Caseyville, and will be furnished and ready for occupancy by November 15.

It will be run as a strictly first class and up-to-date hotel in every respect. New furniture of all kinds will be put in throughout the entire building. New carpets, iron bedsteads, best mattresses and springs will be installed with the opening of the hotel.

Mrs. Ebell comes with the most flattering of recommendations from the traveling fraternity in general. They were awarded this contract over at least a dozen other applicants on account of the high endorsement given them by traveling men who recommend Mrs. Ebell because of the splendid accommodations she afforded while in charge of the hotel at Caseyville, of which she has had the management for many years.

Mrs. Ebell and her daughter will assume entire management, including office work.

An Appeal
TO THE VOTERS OF CRITTENDEN COUNTY:
As chairman of the Republican Campaign Committee I appeal to the voters of Crittenden county to vote the straight Republican ticket at the coming November election for county officers, for state senator and representative. Our candidates are all personally known to me and are clean men of good, moral character and fully competent to fill the offices to which they aspire. It is necessary, more than ever before, for the Republicans of this county to register their protest at the polls against partisan juries and the unfair and unlawful practices of the Democratic party in this county.

Under the management of Harry A. Haynes, J. W. Blue, T. H. Cochran, R. E. Flanary and V. G. Kee, a series of amusements consisting of four different attractions has been arranged for the benefit of the Marion Graded Schools.
Henry A. Haynes, proxy of H. A. Haynes, was elected treasurer and Prof. Victor G. Kee, secretary of the committee.
These gentlemen have guaranteed to the people strictly first class and elevating entertainments.
The first one will be presented in the new auditorium of the school building on Wednesday evening, November 8.
It consists of the Odeon Male Quartette and Miss Nettie M. Jackson, reader and story teller. This troupe comes well recommended from all parts of the country.
The entire lecture course, besides this musicale, consists of two lectures and one other musicale.
It is hoped that this course of lectures will be attended by all, as it is entitled to your patronage.

It cannot make a new heart, but will restore a sick one by strengthening the heart nerves and muscles, relieving the unnatural strain, and restoring its vitality.

"I had a very bad case of heart trouble. For six months I could not work. Last July I was plowing corn and feeling bad all day. In the afternoon in plowing one row I had to lay down, or fall down, three times. My heart throbbed as though it would burst through, and I had difficulty in getting my breath. I purchased a bottle of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, and before I had used half of it I could lay down and sleep all night. Previously I had to get up from five to ten times a night. I have taken several bottles, and my heart is as regular as clock work. I feel like a new man, and can work considerable for an old man, 54½ years old."

Criticising the Minister

By Rustic.

It may be wise to state at the very outset that this article does not mean anybody, is not aimed at any one parish but is rather the fruit of many years' observation of the ways of parishes with their ministers—ways by no means peculiar to one denomination.

When the minister is first settled, everything is "heavenly"—too heavenly to last. Whenever two or three of the parish meet together, felicitations are exchanged upon their good fortune, and the new minister's praises are loudly chanted. Apparently, his adoring flock would hardly be surprised to see him appear on the pulpit Sunday morning with a visible halo surrounding his head like the saints of old.

Even his peculiarities are delightful as a contrast to those of the previous pastor, the present minister having doubtless been chosen on the principle of contrast. Human nature, which enters largely into the composition of parishes, is prone to swing, pendulum-like, from one extreme to the opposite.

The new minister introduces some innovations in the service, the parish work, etc., whose novelty pleases, and everyone seconds all his ideas with enthusiasm. The sewing societies and all the church meetings are well attended, and everyone is full of zeal, ready and willing to work. All the people, even the gentlemen of the parish, turn out regularly to church, and the stragglers and drifters about town all float in to hear the new comer. The pews are full and the faces of the church officers are radiant as they bustle up and down the aisles trying to find seats for the late comers. A great wave of prosperity seems to have struck the church, and, floating buoyantly along upon its swelling tide, everyone congratulates everyone else upon this amazing "boom" and the drawing powers of the new minister.

Let not the minister, however, deceive himself by dreaming that this ideal state of things will last. His trial hour has not yet come. But it will. Generally, in the second or third year of his pastorate, the reaction sets in. The novelty has worn off and his people having become accustomed to his special gifts and graces, accept them as a matter of course. The stragglers and drifters have floated off in the train of some other novelty, the episcopal and set nle have become episodic and few are left—"the ding-deck" sort of "Stand by your gunn their pews, cycles are not so pop-e parish. Who was responsible for that indictment? Read the answer, the stars next Tuesday at 10 o'clock."

"It is natural for a defeated candidate to feel disappointed more or less, but it is not every defeated candidate who is a traitor."

"I am unable to find an answer. Carl Henderson has done a fine job. He needs the attention timony from each side to appear in. Each adds a certain gentleman is his master from the eratic campaign money. He has promised to deny the comments of or the gossip she has picked up in a round of calls. And the next day, in store or bank or wherever male gossips most do congregate, the husband says: "People don't seem to like Mr. Blank as much as they did at first. My wife says," etc. Then each of the male gossips pluck a feather or two from the plumage of the minister's once admired virtues, until he is, so far as character goes, literally picked to pieces.

People now go to church in a critical mood instead of an admiring one, which makes a deal of difference how a sermon sounds to one. It is so much easier to criticise a sermon than write one. The merest modicum of intellect apparently fits one to criticise the minister's most scholarly efforts. More often, however, it is not the minister's sermons which give dissatisfaction. I have seen—every one has—able men of excellent character criticised out of their pulpits for the most trivial nothing. It might be some insignificant personal eccentricity, some peculiarity of dress or bearing or manner, which might be because he was considered to slight his sermons and spend too much time running about the parish calling, or in working in outside charities and town matters. Or, it might be because he spent too much time in his study, writing indeed most admirable sermons but "it is three months since he called on Mrs. Jones."

A wise old physician of my acquaintance used to say that nothing insured a young doctor's success so certainly as a good "how d'ye do." This is preeminently true of the minister. He may possess all the virtues, be a St. Francis and St. Augustine blended in one, but, if he has not a good "how d'ye do," woe unto him! If, however, he has the social graces in a marked degree, when the wave of criticism sets in, the parish will look askance upon his suavity, and wonder if he is quite sincere.

Perhaps the minister has ventured to preach politics or temperance in the pulpit, and so offended one or two wealthy pew renters to the point of withdrawal, or he may have turned "mugwump" and voted as he pleased without consulting the parish, just as if he were a man and not a minister. Or perhaps, very likely indeed, his wife has or has not done something. A parish may not feel quite sure that they own the minister, body and soul, but few of them doubt their absolute possession of his wife.

Whatever the special ground of complaint, the period of criticism is certain to come, and the minister may as well be mentally prepared to undergo it. If, however, he be a good man and true, "let nothing him dismay." Let him go straight on, doing his duty conscientiously as God gives him to see it, and ten to one he will come out like Christian, of "Pilgrim Progress," when he espied two lions on the narrow way he needs must go. Mistrust and Timorous had been driven back by them. But, Christian, keeping "in the midst of the path," and going boldly on, heard them roar, but they did him no harm." And, the period of criticism once out-weathered, the minister may safely consider himself well settled in the saddle for a long trip.

Two or three things it would be well for you folks of the parish to remember. First, because you pay the minister a small sum for services faithfully rendered, you do not own him. He is not a teetotum to be spun at your pleasure. He is an independent soul, accountable not to the parish, but to God alone for his opinions and the conscientious use of his powers. If the minister's idea of his duty and his people's are so radically opposed to each other that compromise is impossible, then there is but one remedy. Let them part in peace, in mutual dignity and self-respect.

Secondly, you must remember that the minister is human, indeed, makes no pretension to be otherwise. First-class angels are almost as rare in the pulpit as in the pews. The secret of his power lies in the very fact that he speaks to you from the level of our common humanity. Tried and tempted as you are, like you not always without sin, he seeks to share with you the strength he has gained in trial, to lead you to heights well won from sorrow and temptation, where he would walk with you as a brother and a friend. Being human, he will necessarily have imperfections. But do not let yourselves look at him through a microscope exaggerating each little roughness into a mountain. You should stand far enough off for proper perspective, take the large view, and get the "all-together" of him. If, on the whole, seen thus, you find him to be earnest, sincere, faithful to the best he knows, doing his duty as in God's sight, do not block his way with your petty criticisms. Accept him for better, for worse, just as he is. If there be some points you wish were different, you should remember it is often wiser to "hear those ills we have" than to "fly to others that you know not of." Instead of standing coldly off and criticising him, take hold and help him. Stand by him, work with and for him, and very likely his trivial imperfections will shrink back into their proper nothingness and be forgotten.

Beware always of the first beginnings of criticism. Don't begin it yourself, and, if some one else does, stifle your natural human impulse to hear and to tell some new thing, and stamp it out then and there, as you would a fire on the edge of a sun-dried prairie. Take a decided stand, hold up his positive qualities, and the negative will be forgotten. We never can know the influence wielded by even one human being who is in dead earnest. You are only one but you may prove to be like the little Dutch boy whose tiny finger stopped the leak in the dyke and saved his native town.

If the minister really has faults that it seems to you may impair his usefulness, then it is for you to have the courage of your convictions, and tell him of them between him and you alone. Tell him and no one else. It may be giving him the faithful wound of a friend but better this than the secret stab in the back, the whispering it all about the parish in confidence.

How often, when
"Hosannas languish on our tongues,
And our devotion dies,"

When we seem wholly given over to the world and the flesh, (if not the third member of that copartnership,) a word from the minister has awakened the higher nature that was not dead, only sleeping, and lent your lives again the delight and inspiration of the consecrated aim—the upward look! Can you not remember single sermons, possibly a single sentence of a sermon from which you date a new life impulse? When the waves and billows of unbearable sorrow have gone over you and you lie prone and hopeless, often it is the Christian consolations brought you by the minister that first gave you strength to take up the burden of living again. He christens your little ones, speaks the word that makes your child not yours any more, but another's, stands by you by the open grave of your dead. His ready sympathy is always yours in your dearest joys, your heaviest sorrows. Probably you shall never realize what you owe to his influence until you reach that other world where the minister too, will first know all the good he has done. A peculiar tenderness and consideration would seem naturally to make relations at once so intimate and so solemn, at all events, a great breadth of the charity that "suffereth long and is kind," that "thinketh no evil," that "beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things."

Sells More of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than of All Others Put Together
The following letter from a quality where Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is well known shows by the unqualified demand for it that the medicine sells on its own merit. Mr. Thos. George, a merchant at Mt. Elgin, Ontario, says: "I have had the local agency for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy ever since it was introduced into Canada, and I sell as much of it as I do of all other lines I have on my shelves put together. Of the many dozen sold under guarantee, I have not had one bottle returned. I can personally recommend this medicine as I have used it myself and given it to my children and always with the best results." For sale by Haynes & Taylor, the enterprising druggists of Marion.

To the Voters of Marion.
I am a candidate for the office of police judge of this city. This court has become next to the circuit court in its importance to the people. Under late enactments of law its jurisdiction has been increased until it is an important civil court. Having exclusive jurisdiction in the city limits and concurrent with the justices over the county, its penal jurisdiction is large. To the city the judge is the conservator of its peace and responsible for the enforcement of the laws. He must have a knowledge of the laws, at least to a very considerable extent to enable him to administer and enforce them. I served one term as attorney for this county and practiced law twelve years. The judge of this court should without fear or favor administer the law to high and low alike. Dealing punishment to the guilty and releasing the innocent who may be brought before him, having the moral stamina to exercise his judgment and do the right in the conduct of his official duties. You know me. If you believe that I possess the qualifications for this place, I ask your suffrage. And I will appreciate your vote on the 7th day of November. Very respectfully,
J. R. FINLEY.

In Time of Peace.
In the first months of the Russo-Japan war we had a striking example of the necessity for preparation and the early advantage of those who, so to speak, "have shingled their roofs in dry weather." The virtue of preparation has made history and given to us our greatest men. The individual as well as the nation should be prepared for any emergency. Are you prepared to successfully combat the first cold you take? A cold can be cured much more quickly when treated as soon as it has been contracted and before it has become settled in the system. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of colds and it should be kept at hand ready for instant use. For sale by Haynes & Taylor, the enterprising druggists of Marion.

THERE IS NO SORENESS IN REPUBLICAN RANKS!

Defeated Candidates and Their Friends Are All in Line Except Towery, Who is Busily Engaged "Hollering"

HURRAH FOR OLLIE M. JAMES JUST NOW.

To Republicans of Crittenden County.

As you know, I was a candidate for the nomination for assessor. During that canvass I fought Mr. Davidson and Mr. Ordway fairly and openly for the nomination up until the primary. I was strictly for Chandler for assessor, but the majority of my good old party favored Mr. Davidson with the nomination, who is every inch a gentleman, and I am now as strong for his ultimate success as I was to secure the nomination for Joe Chandler. I want to openly thank Mr. Davidson and Mr. Ordway for the fair treatment they gave me during one friendly fight prior to April 1. I wish to thank my friends for the loyalty shown me and will ever hold them in grateful remembrance. Now, as I went down in defeat, I want my friends to be as loyal to the entire Republican ticket as they were to me. I assure you that I feel no soreness over the result and would earnestly urge all Republicans to stand by the good ticket our good citizens saw fit to put in the field. Again offering my allegiance to the party and my loyalty to the ticket, I cheerfully submit this to the Republicans of this county and feel confident that our principles will lead us to victory on November 7.

I am sincerely,
JOSEPH L. CHANDLER.

To the Voters of Crittenden County.

October 19, 1905.
As is known by all who have kept trend with political affairs in this county, I was a candidate for the Republican nomination for the office of sheriff in the primary election held April 1. I was defeated for the nomination by Mr. Flanary and not by any "court house gang," for I know of no such organization, but unfortunately for myself and others who sought the nomination for sheriff, there were too many of us from my side of the county. We divided the vote in our section among ourselves which gave Mr. Flanary the nomination.

But, while I was not nominated, I am still a Republican and loyal to my party and its candidates. When more than one man aspires to an office, some of them must be defeated. If I had been the nominee I would have been entitled to the support of the friends of the other candidates and now I want to ask all of my friends as a personal favor to me as well as doing a good deed, to stand by the Republican ticket all the way through.

Truly yours,
W. A. WOODALL.

To the Taxpayers.

S. M. Jenkins, supposed editor and owner of the Crittenden Press, seems to be very much interested in the taxpayers of Crittenden county.

If so, Mr. Jenkins, why don't you tell why it was you were permitted to print the financial statement of this county this year without letting some one bid on it?

Now, as to ballots, Marshall, don't fret. I will see to it that the ballots of this election will not cost the taxpayers of Crittenden county one cent more than they did in the good year of 1901 when your dear Davie gave the contract to the Crittenden Press.

Now, Marshall, don't be too fast. You must remember that you are not the only pebble on the beach. There are other printing offices in Kentucky, and I beg to inform you that I can receive bids on ballots without calling on you.

I have only had the printing of ballots in this county three years and I gave the printing of them to the Press two years out of the three, and yet you say I, at least, should even up. That is what I am trying to do.

I will say to the taxpayers that I have never given the printing of ballots to any one without first receiving bids. When the Press printed the ballots in 1902 and 1903 under contract from me, it met the price made by Jno. P. Morton & Co., and in 1904 THE RECORD met Jno. P. Morton & Company's price and it will do so this year.

The Press would have you believe there is a chance of saving the county $100 or more in the printing of ballots. Now, the facts are these. The ballots have not cost more than $100 but twice since 1900.

In 1901 when your dear, bosom friend, Davie, gave the contract to the Press, it was paid $110 for ballots and supplies, and in 1904 I gave the printing to the CRITTENDEN RECORD and the price paid was $111.08 and there were about 2000 more ballots printed than in the year 1901 at a cost of only $1.08 more.

I wish to say to my friends that I will guarantee to you that the ballots will not cost any more than the usual price paid. But, as for Marshall and the gang that are dictating to him I desire to say that so long as I am county clerk or even a private citizen, he will be compelled to run without my support.

My record is before the people and upon that I am willing to stand. I submit my claims to the people and by their decision at the election November 7, I will abide.

I am sincerely yours,
C. E. WELDON.

Healthy Mothers.

Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symptoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Boschee's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother should be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectoration easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest to the cough-racked consumptive. New trial bottles, 25c; large size, 75c. For sale by Woods & Orme.

I was a candidate for the nomination in the Republican primary election in April for the office of jailer of Crittenden county. I was defeated for the nomination, but I am for the man that defeated me and for the entire Republican ticket. I am no less a Republican now than I was before the primary. I believe in the principle of the party and I want to see the candidate of my party successful at the polls.

PATRICK C. GILBERT.

To the Voters of Crittenden County.

Oct. 17, 1905.

EDITOR CRITTENDEN RECORD:
I desire to take up enough of your space this week to publicly thank all my friends who stood by me so loyally in my canvass for the nomination for sheriff in the primary of April 1. I do not deem it necessary to say that I am now and have always been satisfied with the results of that primary, because it expressed the will of the people. No ambition of mine is greater than the will of the voters of my party. I wish to say in addition that it is my desire to see the whole ticket elected, and I expect to do as much to bring about that result as I ever did in any election. I have seen too much of political juries to ever give the Democratic party in this county aid even by my silence. I trust that no man who voted for me on April 1 will fail to vote the Republican ticket from top to bottom on November 7.

Again thanking all my friends, I am
Yours truly,
W. S. HICKLIN.

To My Friends.

To my friends who gave me their votes in the April primary I desire to express to you my sincere thanks. You were my friends then and you are my friends now. At that time I asked you to vote for me for assessor. But I was fairly defeated and I now come to you and ask you to give the support you gave me to J. Anthony Davidson for assessor, and while you are voting for Anthony don't forget the other boys who are on the Republican ticket. Let every Republican do his whole duty this November election by voting the Republican ticket.

I desire to see every man on the ticket win and to that end I shall vote. I am faithfully yours,
W. H. ORDWAY.

To the Voters of Crittenden County.

October 19, 1905.
I wish to say to the voters of Crittenden county that the Democratic party has done nothing in this state or county for the last ten years that offers the least inducement to any Republican of which political faith I have ever been, to affiliate with it. The Republican party has and does offer every inducement to any and all men everywhere who believe in civil and political liberty to vote for and co-operate with it. In so doing I believe the best results can be brought about, therefore, I shall do in the coming election what I have been doing for forty years—vote for what I believe to be the best interest of the Republican party.

A. A. DEBOE.

To My Friends.

As it will be impossible for me to see all of you in person before the election in November, I take this method of again expressing to you my sincere gratitude for your support in my race for county clerk four years ago, and I assure you that I shall always be thankful to you for the interest you have manifested in me.

I have at all times endeavored to do my duty as your county clerk, and to treat all men alike, and to prove myself worthy of the honor, and if I have at any time failed, it was unintentional.

I received the nomination for re-election from my party without opposition, and it is my sincere desire to see my party successful. I am glad that I can go out before the people as a candidate of a party that is in favor of fair elections and a fair count, and one that is in favor of nonpartisan jurors.

My opponent would have you believe he has been solicited by men of all political parties to make the race again. That is simply his old way of placing himself before the people, and, if you will look at his card in the Crittenden Press in 1894, 1897 and 1901, you will see he claimed the same.

I would like to serve my friends and my party as your next county clerk, and I promise, if elected, to do my duty and I assure you that no living man will appreciate your vote more than I will.

Sincerely thanking you,
C. E. WELDON

A Card.

Having received the nomination for office of Judge of the Crittenden County Court, I take pleasure in announcing myself a candidate for same, and just here I want to thank my many friends for their kind remembrance of me in days gone by. My life, as well as my official record, is as an open book before you.

When questions effecting the interest of the people, such as taxation for the purpose of building a new court house and working roads by taxation, I am opposed to, until a majority of the citizens demand it. My humble judgment is that a few have not the right to impose unnecessary taxation upon the majority of people without their consent. If elected I shall take this stand upon these questions when presented to me. These are my views on the matters, briefly outlined. I ask you to consider them, and if you believe I am right, honest and competent, vote for me, and if elected, I shall endeavor to convince you of my highest appreciation for your kindness by a faithful discharge of the duties of County Judge.

J. G. ROCHESTER.

A Card.

TO THE VOTERS OF CRITTENDEN COUNTY:

After being solicited and urged by quite a number of friends from all political parties and chosen by the unanimous vote of the committee of my party I have consented to become a candidate for the office of county clerk, but I am sorry to say that it will be impossible for me to make anything like a thorough canvass. However, I will do the best I can in this respect.

It would afford me great pleasure to visit you personally in your homes, but this is beyond my power. You can rest assured that I feel grateful to you for past favors and will appreciate your sympathy and help in this contest.

Nothing known to me would give me more pleasure than to serve you as your next county clerk. It is true, I am, like many of you, growing old, but yet I feel I know that I can discharge the duties of the office personally.

If elected, you will always find me at my post ready to serve you.

Faithfully yours, D. WOODS.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON VI, FOURTH QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, NOV. 5.

Text of the Lesson, Est. iv, 10, to v, 3—Memory Verses, 13, 14—Golden Text, Ps. cxlv, 20—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1905, by American Press Association.]

While events are transpiring and the consummation of any matter is being awaited there may be more or less anxiety as to the outcome, but with a successful and glorious consummation assured one can rise above the present seeming discouragements and trials and bear meekly and even joyfully many things which would otherwise overwhelm us.

Abraham, having seen the God of glory, was sustained while he waited and, not considering himself, was fully persuaded that what God had promised He would perform (Acts vii, 2, 3; Rom. iv, 19-21). Joseph was doubtless sustained in his trials by the glorious destiny which had been set before him in his God given dreams. Moses saw that which enabled him to turn his back upon his attractive prospects in Egypt and choose affliction with the people of God rather than the pleasures of sin for a season (Heb. xi, 25-27). The glory of the kingdom was so real to Paul that he counted all present sufferings as not worth mentioning (Rom. viii, 18). The story of Job and his afflictions would be a very sad one were it not for the abundant prosperity in the last 140 years of his life (Job xlii, 10-17), so that, looking at the finished story, the Spirit says through James that the Lord was pitiful and of tender mercy (Jas. v, 11).

If Mordecai and Esther could have known beforehand that their trials would result in Mordecai's promotion to be next to the king, great among the Jews, seeking the wealth of his people and speaking peace to all his seed, that the people who did the king's business would help the Jews and that his people would be filled with gladness and feasting (chapters x, 3; ix, 3 (margin), 17, 18, 19, 22), it would have lifted them far above the clouds and darkness of things as they appeared at the time. All these things were written for our benefit that we, through patience and comfort of the Scriptures, might have hope and rejoice in hope of the glory of God (Rom. xv 3; v, 2).

Haman, the Jews' enemy and oppressor (iii, 10) because of his hatred of Mordecai, had caused to be proclaimed throughout the whole kingdom that on a certain day all Jews, young and old, women and children, should be slain. Mordecai caused a copy of the decree to be sent to Queen Esther with the request that she should go to the king and make intercession for her people that they might not be slain. Esther sent word to her cousin, Mordecai, that it was as much as her life was worth to go into the presence of the king unbidden, to which Mordecai replied that unless deliverance came she would perish with the rest and that probably she was just where she was for this very emergency. She then asked that all the Jews in Shushan should join her and her maids in a three days' fast, after which she would go to the king, ready to die if need be for her people. Our lesson tells us that she obtained favor in the sight of the king and that he offered to grant her whatever she might ask even to the half of his kingdom.

What a contrast between her and that other woman in Mark vi, 23, 24, to whom a similar offer was made, the one seeking life and the other death, the one suggesting Christ the Saviour and the other the devil, the destroyer.

The rest of the book tells of the dramatic overthrow of the Jews' enemy, who was hanged upon the very gallows he had caused to be erected for Mordecai after he had been compelled to do to Mordecai the honor he longed for for himself. The king's sleepless nights, the records which were read before him, the discovery that Mordecai had not been rewarded for saving the king's life, the presence of Haman in the court at the right moment and all the events following are among the most thrilling ever written, and all indicate God working on behalf of those who rely upon Him.

Although no name of God is found in the English text of the book, it is full of God from beginning to end. It is also most suggestive of the great deliverance for all sinners wrought out by Him who not only was ready to die for us, but actually did die, the just for the unjust, that we might be saved.

Because He laid down His life for us we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren (1 John iii, 16), and specially in this matter of spreading the proclamation through all the world that there is a great deliverance for all who will accept Him (Luke xxiv, 47). This book tells of a proclamation being made through the known world twice within twelve months. How quickly a similar sale would in a short time give the gospel to every creature on earth!

The third day of chapter v, 1, cannot but recall the third day records of Abraham and Isaac, of Jonah, of the marriage of John ii, the saying of Hos. vi, 2, but notably the resurrection of Him who has redeemed us and the power of whose resurrection we should covet to know (Phil. iii, 10). The "What wilt thou?" of the king reminds us of the same saying of our Lord to many a needy one, and also of His gracious promise in John xiv, 13, 14, and elsewhere, which, if we really believed and appropriated, would send us whither possibly we have not yet gone with the glad tidings of life for the perishing.

BY MR. THOS. H. COCHRAN

Again and Again is the RECORD Borne
Out in Its Charges Against the Democratic Nominee

BUT STILL HE ASKS TO BE ENDORSED

More evidence corroborating our statements regarding the present jury system in this county have come to light. The jury list drawn at the last day of the June term of court for the Nov. term were unsealed by Circuit Clerk John Asher Tuesday. We give below the names found, with their political affiliations:

GRAND JURY.
Robt. Kemp, Chas. F. Jackson, John Ford, J. E. Stevenson, Democrats; H. H. Sayre, Republican; C. E. Lamb, Jim Hicklin, J. B. Carter, T. E. Griffith, Democrats; Jo Chandler, Republican; J. E. Terry, Owen Boaz, I. D. Nunn, Democrats; W. F. Mott, Republican; Joe Cook, W. F. Oliver, M. H. Weldon, Jeff McChesney, Tom Walker, E. R. Hill, Democrats.

PETIT JURY.
Henry Moore, Democrat; Ira D. Clark, Prohibition; Henry L. Threlkeld, J. N. Boston, M. V. Sutton, Oscar Leet, Chas. Bozeman, G. W. Howerton, Democrats; Jas. A. Hill, Republican; G. W. Gahagen, Ed Dean, Chas. Truitt, Henry York, John H. Parish, Democrats; J. A. Deboe, Republican; John R. Jackson, Powell Heath, Wm. L. Taylor, Arthur R. Nunn, Alex. Woody, E. R. Williams, Lacy Miller, Linford Love, Wm. J. Little, John C. Brown, D. F. Walker, G. G. Gray, R. M. Franks, R. E. Pickens, Frank Woodside, Dem.

This shows 17 Democrats and 3 Republicans on the grand jury list, and 27 Democrats and 2 Republicans on the petit jury list. We are completely borne out in our contention that the jury is now packed almost exclusively with partisans and political pets, and that Thos. H. Cochran has not an iota of a claim upon any Republican voter in this county. We said in another issue that 82 2-5 per cent. of the names were those of Democrats and that 14 per cent. of the names were Republicans. According to this list we were mistaken, as 88 per cent. of this list are Democrats and only 10 per cent. Republican.

We find among the Republicans on the grand jury list the name of H. H. Sayre. Mr. Sayre came here from Pennsylvania only a few months ago and does not know more than 50 people in this county outside of the town of Marion. He is superintendent of the mines of the Crittenden Coal & Coke Co. near Dekoven. He employs 40 or 50 men in these mines and it is necessary that he be there every day. It would be impossible for him to serve, no doubt. Who knew these facts? Thos. H. Cochran.

On down the line we find the name of Jo Chandler. Jo is deputy assessor for this county, and has been since 1902. Jo could not serve at the November term on account of that being the time that he is taking lists. However, the statutes exclude all civil officers. If he would resign as deputy assessor he could serve. Did Thos. Cochran know this? Rather. This leaves only one Republican on the grand jury list, W. F. Mott.

Let us see if the petit jury list is not somewhat better. The first name that strikes us as being a Republican is Jas. A. Hill. Now, we'll bet a coonskin that they didn't know that was Jas. Alex. when they put his name in. They very likely thought that Jas. N. Hill was the name that was going in, for Jas. N. Hill is a Democrat out and out. They are both called "Jim Hill" and the jury commissioners didn't investigate this as closely as they intended. All the Hills around Chapel Hill are Democrats, any way, except Jas. Alex., and consequently they did one thing they scarcely ever do. It was honest, too, but it was an honest mistake. Ask Thos. H. Cochran.

A little further down we find the name of J. A. Deboe. This is entirely the limit. He is postmaster at Clinton, Ky., in Hickman county, and quite out of reach of the sheriff. He lists some land in this county and these honest (?) jury commissioners pretended to think he was a resident of this county. This is so entirely cute that we are moved to take off our hat to them. So this leaves one Republican for the grand jury and one for the petit jury, two Republicans out of 189.

The Republicans in this county take that as a direct slap at them from you, Thos. H. Cochran, and they will tell you about it on November 7. What have you gained now from this sort of business? Not any friends. Not anybody's respect. The Democrats whose bidding you have done so well, will despise you for being an underling and a tool. Not any honor. It is ten thousand times more honorable to have put in the names of good men who were Republicans and have gone before your people on a record like that. You would have been prouder of it yourself. If not, then your life as a Christian is false because a man who wants to do right and to live right will not be carried off his feet by partisanship, and do things he will regret when his temper cools.

WHAT WE HAVE CHARGED AND PROVED

tion to the grand jury and he will tell you that Gordon talked condemning the court house from first to last. Every man who had an office in the court house did all he could to keep it from being condemned. Not a man on the Republican ticket has ever advocated a new court house. Judge Rochester has possibly not advocated in public a new court house but what he has said in private conversation with Judge Gordon is not known. He has been appointed trustee of the jury fund and master commissioner by Gordon and he also is his confidential real estate agent. They are pretty close together on most questions and likely are on this one.

There is not a reason why any one who calls himself a Republican should scratch his ticket in a single place. Every man on the ticket is a Republican. Every man on the ticket is clean. Every man on the ticket is honest. Every man on the ticket will make a good official. Every man on the ticket was nominated fairly. No one on the ticket ever shirked his duty to the party. No man on the ticket will try to trap off some other man on the ticket. No man on the ticket endorses an effort to buy office. No man on the ticket endorses partisan juries. Every one of them endorses fair election, majority rule and Theodore Roosevelt. If there is a Republican anywhere who does not feel it his duty to go to the polls on November 7 and stamp in the circle under the log cabin and then fold his ballot and have it deposited straight Republican, he is certainly weak in the faith. If every Republican will do that it will show the jury wheel paddlers that the people of this county, at least a good majority of them, do not endorse this method of filling our court house with pets and partisans. If they persist in doing it anyway, let them take the consequences.

"Dora Thorne."

Next Thursday evening, November 9, will be seen at the Marion opera house the play of "Dora Thorne," which has been attracting considerable attention on account of the popularity of the novel.

"Dora Thorne," as a story is too well known for comment, but it must be admitted that the playwright has improved upon the plot to such an extent that the play is far more interesting than the book. Dramatic license is somewhat elastic at times to say the least, and in the play the most exciting and dramatic points of the book are brought out with decisive action and powerful clearness; nor is the comedy found wanting. Much humor is intermingled with the episodes of the drama, making as a whole a play novel and interesting in the extreme.

A company of players well suited to their respective roles have been engaged to interpret the well known characters, and a most enjoyable evening's entertainment is promised to all lovers of the good and best amusements.

Sam Gugenheim and Mrs. Eva Moore
Were Married Last Friday in St.
Louis at High Noon

A COMPLETE SURPRISE TO FRIENDS

In the whirl and tumult of politics and courts, Cupid has by no means retired from the field of action, and his courts are far more interesting, for he wields the arrow and the dart. Pierces through some poor swain's heart. And, he is at least satisfied with the outcome of one.

The marriage of Mrs. Eva Williams Moore and Mr. Sam Gugenheim comes almost as a complete surprise to their wide circle of friends and acquaintances. They were married last Friday morning, October 27, at high noon in St. Louis.

The bride has for several years been hostess at the New Marion Hotel and has made a host of friends. She is quite a favorite on account of her many womanly traits and her superior beauty of face and figure as well as of character.

Mr. Gugenheim has for many years been in the dry goods business at this place, of which he has made a signal success. He is one of the firm of Yandell-Gugenheim Company. His success is largely due to his pleasant and impartial manner and his thoroughly gentlemanly qualities which are always in evidence.

They will be at home to their many friends at the New Marion Hotel after November 10.

THE RECORD joins the entire community in wishing them a long, prosperous married life.

HON. M. B. CLARK

Republican Nominee for Representative.

"I AM IN FAVOR OF IMPARTIAL JURIES."

In accepting the nomination tendered me as your candidate for representative in the next general assembly of Kentucky, I desire to thank you for the confidence imposed in me and accept the nomination from a sense of duty rather than a personal interest. It is my earnest desire to represent the good people of Crittenden and Livingston counties in such a way as will go down to the credit of my self and the general good of the state, and enter the race with no other motive in view.

I am in favor of impartial juries, honestly elected according to law, and am uncompromisingly opposed to packing juries and composing them only of one political party. It is for the good of the community that courts should be free from political and religious influence, and should be guided by justice and law impartially administered. I believe in fair and honest elections and the counting of every vote as cast.

While the present election law needs to be amended so as to give the people all needed protection in their rights, and am in favor of such amendment, to my mind the secret system of voting is much better than the viva voce system.

I stand for an economic administration of the affairs of the state and am opposed to all grafting and corruption. If elected, I shall faithfully try to serve the people to the very best of my ability. Very respectfully,

M. B. CLARK.
