THE REPUBLICAN COUNTY TICKET WINS A SWEEPING VICTORY!

Satisfactory Beyond Measure to the Republicans

COUNTY. CRITTENDEN

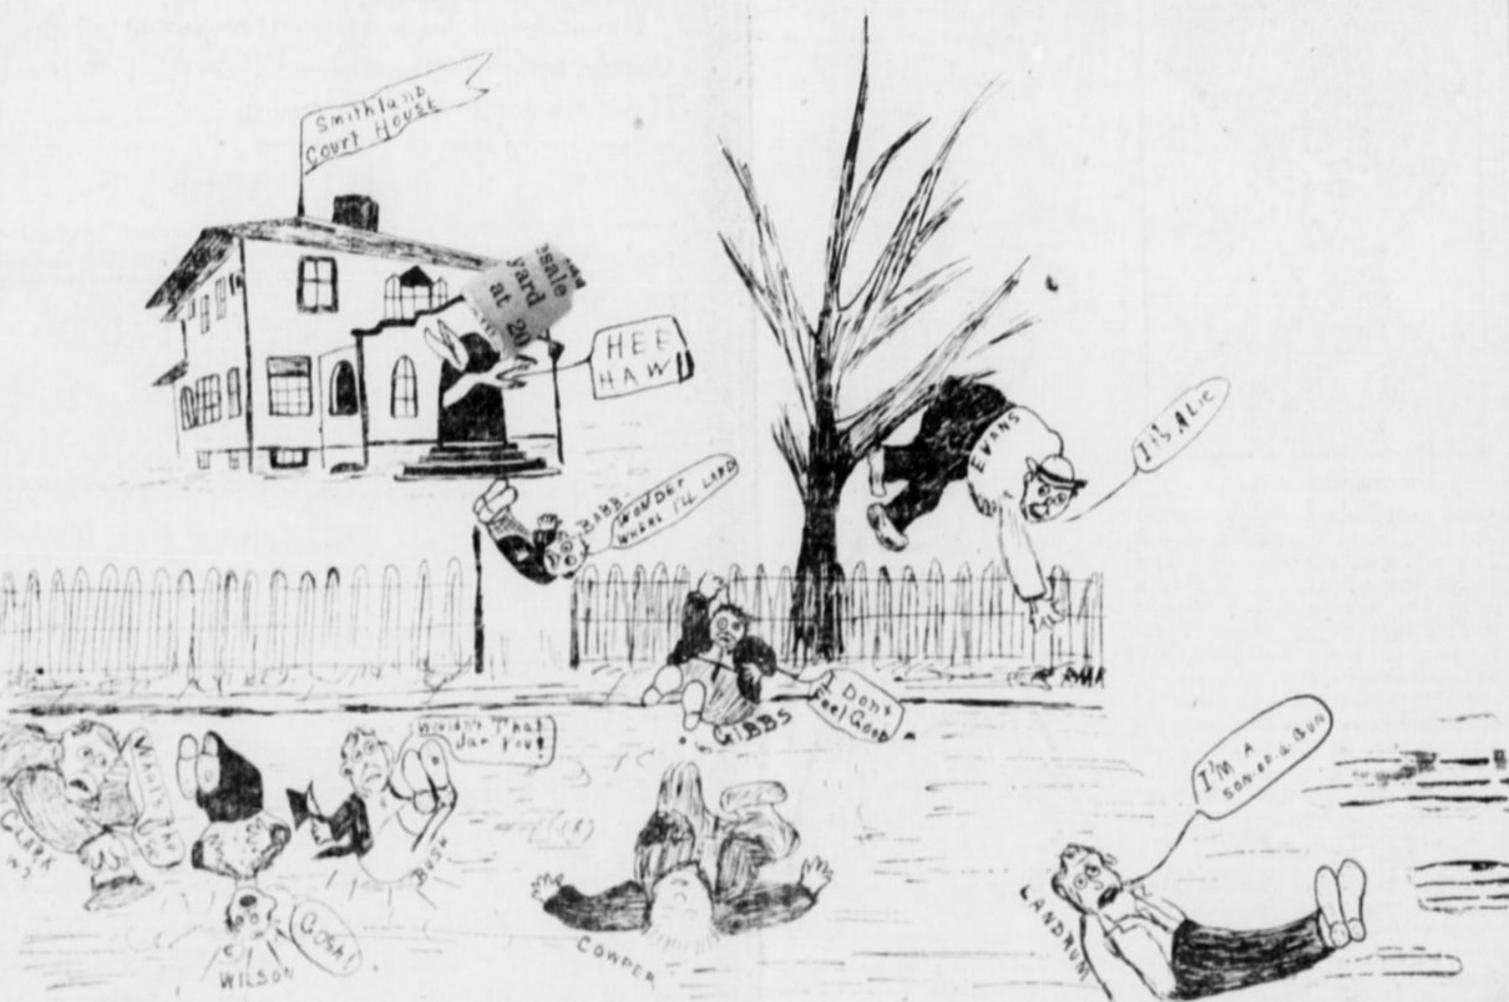

The Day Was Fair and a Good vote Was Polled---Cochran Goes Bown In Defeat.

THE PRESS PROVES A FALSE PROPHET

The rank and file of the Republican party in this county is tried and true. In the face of the greatest corruption fund ever used in this county, the voters turned out from the hills and valleys and put the stamp of disapproval upon jury wheel stuffing and dishonest methods of winning elections. Never was a campaign waged in this county by the Democratic party that showed such a fixed purpose. They intended to buy their way through. That they failed is no fault of theirs. Men voted In this county in this election who live in Missouri, in Indiana, in Illinois and dent, in Union county. They brought every man back who would come that had lived here at any time during the fast five years. Where these men were challenged, they readily took the oath feeling they would be protected in the courts. The spirit of the final meeting at the opera house permeated every precinct. That the Republican candidates won in every race, except for state senate, in the face of all this, is a wonder. But the Republican party of Crittenden is not made up of the stuff that quits, and to the willing and loyal workers all over the county must be attributed a great part of the credit for the result. The people of this county have said to those who traffic in votes that they are not carried off trict majority 514. their feet by "hot air" or campaign lies, neither will the old yellow gold elected in Webster and in Caldwell the get their votes. Long may they live and prosper, and we are sure they will never regret the choice they made last Tuesday. They have elected a set of men who will serve them well.

Below we give the results showing the majorities in this county, every Republican on the ticket receiving a majority of the votes:

R. L. Moore, for state senator, 185, M. B. Clark, for representative, 168. W. A. Blackburn, county judge, 156. C. E. Weldon, county clerk, 69. Carl Henderson, county attorney, 212. THE "MULE" CLEANS THE LIVINGSTON COUNTY COURT HOUSE.

In the table below we show the Phillips, Democrat. results of Tuesday's voting as taken from the certified precinct returns.

In the senatorial race in this, the Fourth district, composed of Crittenden, laldwell and Webster counties, P. S. Maxwell, the Democratic gominee, was elected. We have been unable to get the returns but the Democrats claim Webster county by 682 majority and Caldwell by 17, making Maxwell's majorities in the two counties 699, which reduced by 185, R. L. Moore's majority in Crittenden leaves his dis-

The City Election.

The election day has come and glided way into the past, but not so with the story of its battle, and of its success and of its victories. Out in the county a bitter political battle was ceaselessly waged, each party striving to win through the strenght of its standard bearers. In our city a battle none the less important, none the less fierce was waged from the time the town clock pealed out the hour of six until four o'clock in the afternoon. On one side, arrayed in great numbers, stood the Republican and Democratic leaders, telling the voters to stand by the Citizen's ticket. On the other side, in equally as large numbers, stood the faithful workers of the Independent Citizens ticket, urging the people to stand by the Independent ticket. All day long a non-political, pure and untainted citizenship fought to win the day. The Citizens ticket had at its head for mayor Dr. T. Atcheson Frazer, while the Independent Citizens ticket had Dr. G. E. Shively for its candidate

VICTORY FOR THE BETTER LELEMENT

The cartoon which heads this page shows a striking result of the election in Livingston county. All the candidates on the fusion ticket were elected and what had never been known in the history of the county transpired. Ring Democracy was completely routed and the great speaking tours made in that county by O. M. James, Everett Jennings, Secretary of States H. . V. McChemey and others came to

Below we give the results showing the majorities in Livingston county for the fusion candidates on the mule ticket:

Jas: Davis for county judge, 183,

Democrat. W. I. Champion, county clerk, 72, Republican.

W. D. Bishop, sheriff, 146, Re-

J. W. Joiner, County attoruey, 45,

L. T. Worten, jailer, 64, Democrat. A. Yancey, assessor, 90, Republican. Chas. Ferguson, school superintendent, 96, Republican.

The highest vote polled in the county for two opposing candidates was 2,156 209 votes. These majorities and the pre-206 cinct votes as shown in the following 211 table, of course, are secured before the 206 final official counting, but possibly are 207 taken from the certified precinct

Livingston, which is a Democratic county and the home county of the Republican candidate for the legislature, cut Cochran's majority down to 112 and in Crittenden, Mr. Cochran's home county, Mr. Clark, the Republican candidate, received a majority of 168, thus electing him in the district by a majority of 56 votes. The mule men in Livingston also secured control of the fiscal court. In 124 eight districts in the county they elected six and in the seventh they did not oppose the nominee because he was a mule man, and the Democrats only elected one man, Esquire Stevens, of Salem. The court will be as follows:

> Republican. Lola, A. M. Davis, Republican. Smithland, C. B. Kendall, Democrat. Panhandle, Chas. Watson, Republican Driskill, E. C. Coffer, Republican. Salem, Esquire Stevens, Democrat.

Owensboro Goes Republican.

Owensboro, Ky., Nov. 7.-W. M. O'Brien, Republican, was elected mayor of this city by 151 plurality over W. P. Small, the Democratic nominee. H. K. Cole, Republican, was elected representative from the city district by 67 plurality.

Mrs. Hugh McCaslin Bead.

Mrs. Hugh McCaslin, of Crayneville, died Sunday morning at 10 o'clock of consumption.

· She was only twenty-three years of age and leaves a husband and one child. Before her marriage three years ago she was Miss Crayne, universally popular and loved by all who came in contact with her womanly ways and lovely traits of character.

Since the age of nine years she has been a devoted member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church at Crayneville, Kentucky. Funeral services were held ** morning at the Craynevill ducted by Rev. W. T. Oak

In the first months of the Russia-Japan war we had a striking example of the necessity for preparation and the early advantave of those who, so to speak, 'have shingled their roofs in dry weather." The virtue of preparation has made history and given to us our greatest men. The individual as well as the nation should be prepared for any emergency. Pale blue vells in a good quality of mousseline de soie are considered the best coverings for the face while motoring. They are certainly becoming. if nothing else, and those who wear them say the dust does not sift through even when going at a rate of forty miles an hour.

Empire effects in coats are one of the novelties of the season both in long and short lengths. Jackets have lost their graceful fullness and are fitted to the figure in almost close lines. The redingote that was in evidence late in the spring appears again this fall, together with the long coat reaching to the bem of the gown. Boleros and short jackets are worn. Long Coats Are the Season's Favorites-Sleeves Finished With Turned Back Cuffs - Attractive Styles For the School Children.

Long waisted, tight fitting bodices are very smart. They open back and front in a V effect.

The newest designs in blouses and afternoon bodices are tucked or gathered on to the foundation. There are no side pieces in the material part. Most of them are made to fasten in middle of the back, extends in front well up under the bust and finishes with handsome buttons. These girdles are often of velvet or oriental embroidery.

Long coats that reach to the hem of the gown seem to be the season's favorites, but the Eton, bolero and hip length jackets all have their followers. Square effects on the shoulders are the fashionable aim, and collars are only moderately large and in a number of instances extremely small roll affairs.

There is a tendency toward skirts fitting more snugly around the hips and getting fuller at the bottom. The circular skirt achieves this result in the most satisfactory manner.

Walking skirts are made three inches from the ground, but dressier jupes are sweep or ground length. Every new jacket has a marked line in front that comes from stitched down plaits or stitching contrived to run down, dart fashion, from the middle of the shoulders to the hem of the coat. All cont sleeves that can stand them have elbow sleeves finished with a turned back cuff. From this cuff comes a close fitting undersleeve. The walking gown pictured is of tan cloth. The long, close fitting jacket has a vest, revers and collar of bronze velvet. The cuffs and jacket are also of this material. The plain circular skirt is sweep length.

MODISH TRIFLES.

The long dust coats in the newer styles are semifitting, with strapped stitched seams. A coachman's collar, finished with rows of stitching, is about the neck.

Bandeaux are placed in all the new bats. Just how and where determine

LESSON VII, FOURTH QUARTER, INTER-MATIONAL SERIES, NOV. 12.

Text of the Lesson, Erra vill, 21-32. Hemory Verses, 21-23-Golden Text, Erra vill, 22-Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1906, by American Press Association.] We have before us today the record of a journey which occupied about four months (vii, 9) and was participated in by about 1,800 people, carrying with them 650 talents of silver and 100 talents of gold (about $3,500,000), in addition to vessels of gold and silver and brass, and, although the dangers of the journey were many, they were delivered from all their enemies and reached their destination in safety without any human protection whatever. This is something worth inquiring into, for in these days of "fear on every side" if we can learn to "serve Him without fear in holiness and righteousness before Him all the days of our life, being delivered out of the hand of our enemies" (Jer. xx, 3; Luke 1, 74, 75), it would greatly glorify God. All these things were written for our benefit (Rom. xv. 4) that we may learn how to have the hand of our God upon us for good (verse 22; vii, 6, 9, 28), in the face of our enemies. Many years had passed since Zerubbabel and his company of 49,000 had gone up from Babylon to Jerusalem by the decree of Cyrus (chapter ii, 1, 64, 65)—the temple had been rebuilded and the passover had been kept (vi. 14, 22)-but as time sped on the tendency to wander away from God, which is common to all, became very manifest and larael had become very much mixed up with the people of the land (ix, 1, 2). It is the purpose of God that His people should be specially His own, a people for Himself, in whom He can live and through whom He can make Himself known to others (Ex. xix, 4, 6; Isa. xiiii, 21; Ps. iv, 8; Tit. ii, 14, R. V.), and all conformity to the ways of The Rev. Irl R. Hick's Almanac will those who are not of God grieves against God is persisted in He will chasten His people, for "whom the Lord loveth He chasteneth" (Heb. xii, 6; Rev. iii, 19; Amos iii, 2). He had just chastened Israel for seventy years in Babylon and had restored them, according to His promise by Jeremiah, but they were already provstiff necked Israel (Deut. ix, 6, 24). So it is always, and the men like Abel, Enoch, Noah, Abraham, Elijah, Elisha, Ezra, Nehemiah, are few indeed. When such men are found, the way that God God. The whole heartedness of Ezra toward God is seen in the first verse of our lesson and in vii, 10. When Ezra might have had soldiers and horsemen for the asking to protect them on their journey it must have seemed to human wisdom great folly not to ask for them, for many would say, "Does not God use such instrumentality?" But Ezra had become acquainted with Him who was to Israel a pillar of cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night, to guide and protect Israel in all their wilderness journeying. He knew of the hos which Elisha's servant saw when his eyes were opened (II Kings, vi, 17). A real Christian is a supernatural kind of person who walks by faith, not by sight, and to whom things unseen are more real than all things seen by our natural eyes. There is no spiritual benefit in fasting for its own sake, but when we desire God and to know Him more than we desire food for the body, when we honestly humble ourselves before Him and desire above all things His will, His way, His glory, then He will not fail to show Himself strong

We are always passing through an enemy's country, and the prince of this world as a roaring lion is ever secking whom he may devour, for we wrestle not against flesh and blood (visible things and people), but against the powers of darkness and wicked spirits in the heavenlies (I Pet. v. 8; and Interior Eastern Cities, including Eph. vi, 12); so we must never cease to the Virginias and Carolinas. watch and pray, but we need have no fears, for He that is with us is stronger than our adversary, and "If God be for us who can be against us?" As truly as Ezra and his company reached Jerusalem in safety so shall all the redeemed of the Lord be delivered out of the mouth of the lion and from every evil work and be preserved unto information address His heavenly kingdom (II Tim. iv, 17, 18). Not our faithfulness, but the faithfulness of our God and Saviour, is our comfort as we journey on through life. The silver and the gold and the vessels delivered to the priests to be watched over and kept safely and handed over to the proper persons at Jerusalem suggest to the believer that he also has certain things delivered to him for which he must give an account, as it is written, "So, then, every one of us shall give account of himself to God" (Rom. xiv, 12). The analogy MARION, KY is, however, not a very good one, for these priests delivered up at their journey's end only what they had received in Babylon, whereas the believer, having received at his conversion, or at the beginning of his life journey (for no one has life till he rereives Christ, I John v. 10; John i. 12), his pound or talent or talents, is expected to so use on the way that which he has received that he can gladly testify to its increase at the judgment seat of Christ (Matt. xxv, 27). The salvation we freely receive is to be worked out, and we are debtors to all who have not received the gospel to give it to them speedily (Phil. ii, 13; Will do a general practice in all Rom, 1, 14-16). Kept by the power of courts. Prompt attention given to God, safe in the hand of our Redeemer, we are to let Him use us in any way He pleases for His glory.

City Lots and Residences.

Have you seen the desirable building lots in Clark's Addition to the city of Marion, Ky., and the residences therein that are now being offered for sale by W. H. Clark?

If you have not it will certainly be to your interest to do so before purchasing real estate elsewhere.

These lots and residences are in East Marion and within the corporate limits of the city of Marion. They are of easy access, well located and command a splendid view of the city. They front on the principal streets and are in the coming residence portion of the city. Just the place for a residence.

No part of Marion has grown so rapidly or so well as East Marion and you could certainly do no better than invest your money in the lots and residences shown in the above plat. These lots are especially adapted to building purposes and are the most desirable part of Marion. They will be sold at a reasonable price, and terms of sale will be arranged to suit purchaser.

If you desire to purchase a residence or lot in Clark's addition to the city of Marion, you will call on or write to

Occasionally princes with unpronounceable names and limited linguistic abilities descend on Washington and while there is just as much firing of salutes and just as many exchanges of visits and dinners, etc., there is a decided air of weariness about the affairs in which the participants can only exchange smiles with the guest of honor. Prince Louis' appearance at Annapolis aroused enthusiasm. He is in appearance thoroughly princely but in manner and conversation he has the cordial air of trying to live it down. Profiscacy of This Breed Compared

With Others. In looking over the general run of articles written in regard to the profit. early of this breed it is apparent that the breed as a whole varies, that in mertain families litters of from eight to twelve pigs are the rule, while in Where probably the average will not be over mix or seven, and the breeders of the latter class, which represents the minority, we are happy to say, deery the Poland-Chins as being unprolific and altogether a back number in this day and age, while, on the other hand, those breeders who, is semeeting their breeding stock each year have beid that prolificacy is next after conformation in importance, generally have no kick coming.

With so many contradictory statements coming up in our newspapers and elsewhere every now and then, it would seem that there is no definite way of getting at the facts of this question of prolificacy, as the friends of the Poisad-China will place him above any other breed in this respect, while his enemies cannot say one good word for him

Let us turn a moment to the berd book. Here we find registered the best blood in the country, types the most truly representative of the Posend China bog. As the result of an argument held some time ago we looked through the latest herd books of severs of the different breeds of swine. We found that the average litter for the Poland-China was a fraction less than eight, Berkshire a fraction over eight, and Duroc Jersey between nine and ten.

We have had a little experience with several different families of Poland-Chinas and Berkshires in this state, and we found that the average of all the litters for the former was about eight, thus agreeing with the herd book records. In a few cases where the sows were young and had their first litter the number did not exceed six or seven, but in no case were they "twins or triplets," and these same sows often turned out to be the best of producers after their first litters .-C. D. Hyatt in Agricultural Student.

Starting Sheep on Grain.

When about to feed sheep on grain, if it has not been fed them before they must be started on grain cautiously. especially if corn is a principal factor in the food to be fed. We have great faith in using oats as a principal portion of the grain food when starting the feeding process. A little bran will be helpful, but it is an easy matter to use too much of the latter.

Two or three weeks should be taken to lead them up gradually before they are put upon feed; otherwise the uppetite may be destroyed, and it may take several days and even two or three weeks to bring the flock back to that condition in which they will be able to consume food with a proper

Prof. Kee then spoke of the importunce of grading rural schools. He thinks that centralization of schools is good plan for rural districts and that common school graduation is a good thing because it is a reward for the common school student and is an incentive to higher things.

Mr. Smith, of Tolu, then emphasized Prof. Kee's remarks and gave some useful hints to the teacher.

Miss Kittie Moore told of three ways to interest pupils in geography. One by inviting her pupils to come from different countries to a party, bringing with them a paper written on the country from which they come. Another way is by dressing paper dolls according to customs of different countries, and by having each pupil to represent some place.

Master George Dowell recited "The Way My Grandmamma Did."

Robert Allen gave an interesting talk and some valuable methods teaching geography.

Letter from a Soldier Boy.

Jolo Jolo P. I., Sept. 10, 1905. L. N. Sisco, Levias, Ky.,

Kind Father:-I will write you today to let you know that I am well and alright; hope this to fiind you all well.

I was very much suprised when our Captain handed me your letter you had written to him. I have been writing to you regular, guess my letters have been mislayed some where.

Well, I have never told you about the fights, but as you have read about them in the papers, I will relate them to you. We have had four fights since I came over here. The first fight we had was March 2. We were out marching when we came to a very narrow place in the road and before we knew any thing the bullets were flying every way. We were ambushed and surrounded; all we could do was to lay flat down and form a skirmish line. We kept up a heavy fire for about three hours and drove them back until we could retreat but they would fire at us from up in trees and behind rocks; we suffered awfully for want of water for it was very hot. There was but one man killed, one wounded to obtain as the head of a buffalo bull. and several horses wounded. So, we retreated to Jolo; after that, every night the Moros would come and shoot into the town keeping up a continual disturbance; they killed the governor's secretary and several Philipinos; there had to be something idone, anyway Gen. Leonard A. Wood, who is in command of the island, came down with over one thousand soldiers and a laid waste the island. The morning we left Jolo there was a string of sodliers over a mile long the Philipino scouts in front of the infantry, in front the battery and the cavalry brought up the rear guard with all the pack trains and ammunition. That is the position we were marching.

We were about five miles from_Jolo when all of a sudden we were again ambushed. Bullets sizzed over your heads like rain but the battery was thrown into action and all the carbines pumping steel bullets; we drove them down a big slope and they melted clike snow in summer; nothing could live before such a rain of bullets and sharpnel. We could see them hiding behind trees trying to hile from the bullets but onr rifles will shoot through a thirty-six-inch tree and kill a man on year. the other side. 1 The third fight we The body was then adjourned until found them in rifle pits with a strong wall around them; we battered down their wall with our cannons, then the sharp-shooters poured in their "leaden hail," the infantry went in after them hand to hand the soldiers using [their bayonets, the Moros their spears and wounded, one of my comrades was se-We never took time to count the Moros that were killed, they were in house and shot their animals, stole, killed and ate all their chickens and goats, it was a sight to see the destruction of the property going up in flames, any way you looked you could

A western farmer made a record of five quail, three rabbits and six snakes which he sliced up in one day's mowing in his clover field.

The diameter of a stalk of corn determines the size of the ear which it will produce rather than its height. Mere nubbins of ears are common on stalks fourteen feet high in the southern states.

A vine, such as a grapevine, a creeper or wistaria, may be allowed to grow up and around the trunk of a shade tree on the lawn, often with quite a pretty effect, but it must never be allowed to reach the branches of the tree, for if it once gets into the top of the tree it is sure death to it.

The skunk is a pest of our present agricultural development. There are a hundred of these beasts now where there were five when the country was first settled. We know of a case where over 100 of them were killed on a single farm in the prairie section of the west last season. They are one of the greatest pests which the poultry raiser has to contend with and work a fearful destruction among all our game and ground birds by destroying
