President Roosevelt Takes Some Changes.

Long Sleeves A. B. James.
AN OPPORTUNITY FOR YOU!

To get your choice of the latest and most attractive Millinery Goods at Cost, and even below the cost mark!

The Misses Harrig, who have been engaged in the millinery business here for the last few seasons, have returned to Madisonville, and I have purchased their entire stock, consisting of the latest styles in pattern, trimmed, and ready-to-wear hats from the New York, Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Louis and Nashville markets, besides beautiful little baby caps, laces, ribbons and other millinery notions.

Something About This Sale.

This wonderful closing out sale begins at once and will last until the entire stock is closed out. Come early and get first choice. I want all of my friends to secure some article of value from this sale, and believe it is large enough for all my friends both far and near to profit by it. This large stock of millinery is NOT OLD, SHELF-WORN, OUT-OF-DATE GOODS, but new, up-to-date, stylish millinery, bought for this fall and winter trade by a fashionable milliner of large experience. Call and examine the goods for yourself.

Besides a few Children's Specialties secured in this purchase, I have a complete line of the little tots' necessities in my regular stock.

WOMEN AND MARRIAGE

WASHINGTON LETTER
From Our Regular Correspondent

Washington, D.C. — The International Women's Day celebration is being held in the United States today, with events across the country to honor and celebrate women's achievements and contributions. The theme for this year's celebration is "Empowering Women: A Global Challenge." The event is organized by the United Nations and is observed in many countries around the world.

The day is marked by various activities, including speeches, rallies, protests, and cultural performances. The United Nations has called for a focus on women's rights and gender equality, highlighting the challenges and progress in achieving these goals.

Washington's celebration will include a march and a keynote speech by a prominent women's rights activist. The event is expected to draw thousands of participants, and it is anticipated that the speeches and discussions will provide insights into the ongoing struggle for gender equality.

A special focus will be on the achievements of women in science, technology, and innovation, with panels and workshops aimed at encouraging young women to pursue careers in these fields. The event will also feature a film screening and a performance by a female-led orchestra.

The International Women's Day celebration is a reminder of the significant progress that has been made in women's rights over the past century, but it is also a call to action for ongoing efforts to achieve gender equality and empower women worldwide.

GOING TO SEA
BY RAIL

Indians have a lot but is it an accomplished fact? One of the most interesting and difficult feats of camp life is the journey to the coast. The Pacific Ocean, with its vast expanse, presents many challenges to those who seek to cross it.
