DIED IN THE WEST.

Wm. T. Everett Butler Succumbs To Tuberculosis in Denver Colorado.

Telegrams were received in the city Saturday announcing the death in Denver of Everett Butler in that city Dec. 1st of consumption. He, accompanied by his wife, left Kentucky a year ago in search of health and has since remained in the mountains of Colorado. While at times he would feel improved and benefited by the healthful air of Colorado, he has never been permanently better but gradually lost strength until the end.

His faithful wife was at his side during all these weary months of suspense and pain, also his brothers, Edward and Isaac, and his wife's mother, Carter Koon, much of the time and they all returned with the remains which arrived here at noon Tuesday. A great number of friends and relatives were at the station to meet the beloved dead and to accompany him to his last resting place at Salem.

The deceased was born near Salem, July, 10th, 1877, and died Dec. 1st 1905, being in his 29th year. He was happily married to Miss Ida Koon, of the Fredonia Valley, Christman-evoday, Dec. 24th 1901.

His father, the late W. F. Butler, has been dead several years and his mother died June 2nd 1900.

He professed religion in early life and joined the Presbyterian church at Salem and was still a member at the time of his death.

Everett Butler was one of the most promising young men in Western Kentucky and never been refused any office he had sought. He was elected to the General Assembly of Ky. in the fall of 1903 and took his seat in Jan 1904 and served with distinction. He was nominated for county attorney of Livingston county before he went west but his continued ill health caused him to send in his resignation and Hon. W. I. Clark, of Smithland was named in his stead to make the race.

Up Will Go Christmas Turkeys.

Paducah News-Democrat: "Turkeys are going to be in even bigger demand than that prevailing during Thanksgiving week," said a member of the Woolfolk, Bowers company yesterday.

The Christmas market for the big fowls is open now and this will have a tendency to lift the price and keep it up. We are very anxious to get five thousand good, fat turkeys at once. We are expecting to load two cars and ship them to New York.

The turkeys will be dressed here and packed in cold storage cars and then shipped to the market. This is a much cheaper way of shipping than sending the turkeys on foot.

"Not only is the price of turkeys high, but all fowls are commanding good figures. Hens and pullets are seven cents a pound and ducks are bringing the same price. The market gives indications of remaining steady on chickens and ducks as well as on turkeys.

LaGrippe and Pneumonia.

Pneumonia often follows la grippe and never follows the use of Foley's Honey and Tar. It cures la grippe and prevents pneumonia and consumption. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered. Mr. G. Vacher, of 157 Osgood St., Chicago, writes: "My wife had a severe case of la grippe three years ago, and it left her with a terrible cough. She tried a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar and it gave immediate relief. A 50 cent bottle cured her cough entirely." Refuse substitutes. Woods & Orme.

Commercial Club.

The Crittenden County Commercial Club met Tuesday evening in the hall up-stairs in the post office building, President T. H. Cochran presiding; Secretary J. E. Chittenden and Treasurer G. M. Crider being present also. A roll call of the 70 odd names enrolled as members showed the following present:

T. H. Cochran, J. E. Chittenden, C. H. Whitehouse, T. A. Frazer, C. E. Weldon, G. M. Crider, S. M. Jenkins, R. I. Nunn, D. B. Kevil, J. M. Freeman, J. N. Boston, John A. Moore, W. H. Copher, Albert McConnell, H. F. Morris, Johnson Crider, P. S. Maxwell, A. D. Noe, J. R. Finley Forest Heath, Sam Gugenheim.

It was agreed to send some member of the Commercial Club to Indiana to confer with the glass manufacturers desiring to locate here, to ascertain the most favorable terms on which one can be gotten. The Club by unanimous vote agreed to pay the expenses of such trip and C. E. Weldon, J. M. Freeman and D. B. Kevil were appointed a committee to raise funds to defray the expenses of the Club's representative on the trip to the glass factories of Indiana.

The election of officers for the ensuing year was next in order. Thos. H. Cochran was re-elected President; T. A. Frazer 1st Vice President; R. I. Nunn 2d Vice President.

For Directors, two years: J. M. Freeman, J. W. Wilson, C. S. Nunn. For Directors, one year: D. B. Kevil, S. Gugenheim, Jno A. Moore.

A fund was provided to pay all outstanding bills of the "Barbecue and Celebration," and they will now be paid on presentation to the Treasurer of that fund, F. Atchison Frazer.

A vote of thanks was extended to all who lent their help to the barbecue and worked so hard for its success, especially Dr. T. Atchison Frazer, A. M. Hearin, John A. Moore, George Givens and A. C. Moore.

Threw a Plum Bob.

Washington, Dec. 2.—As President Roosevelt's special train was passing through North Philadelphia at 7:30 o'clock this p. m. some unknown person hurled a plumber's bob through one of the windows of the combination car Salvia. The implement weighed about two and a half pounds. It fell at the feet of Major Webb Hayes; son of the late President Hays.

No clue to the thrower of the missile was obtained although the matter was reported to the officers of the Pennsylvania railroad at Philadelphia. The President himself knew nothing about the matter, until an hour or more after its occurrence. The railroad officials are inclined to the belief that the bob was thrown by a boy.

Mining News.

R. D. Drescher & Co. are making a move to put in machinery at the Mary Belle spar mine.

The Yandell mine is working six days per week and getting out 25 tons of fluor spar per day.

Mr. Harry Watkins will leave for Missouri the last of the week for the purpose of examining mineral lands for capitalists of Memphis, Tenn.

The Sander Bros. two young mining engineers from New York, are building a new mill in Marion for the purpose of separating the zinc and spar.

Mr. James Persons has leased the old LuRus shaft from the Morganfield Mining company and is mining considerable amounts of lead, zinc, and fluor spar.

The Kentucky Fluor Spar company are working night and day at their Memphis mine, and mining from twenty to thirty tons of fluor spar per day.

They started taking water out of the mines at the Ada-Florence last week; as soon as the mines are drained the company expect to start up work again.

Mr. Pope Yateman, an expert mining engineer, of Chicago, visited our mining field last week and made an examination of the Columbia Mining company's mines and property. Mr. Yateman was well pleased with our mining field and thinks we have a very rich district of lead, zinc, and fluor spar.

The Hopewell Mining company have shut down for the purpose of putting in new machinery. Their old machinery was not sufficient to pump the water and do the hoisting. As soon as they install their new machinery they expect to run on a larger scale and have a big output of zinc and fluor spar.

The Commodore Mining company put in a new Cameron pump last week. This is the best pump in the district and is giving the company entire satisfaction. The Commodore has had a lot of water of late which has prevented them from sinking their shaft as fast as they would like, but now they expect to sink very rapidly and get their shaft down 100 to 150 feet by spring.

One of the most novel receptions of the season was that given by Mrs. R. F. Haynes at her beautiful home on North College street Tuesday evening, Nov. 28th, in honor of Miss Emi Scott, of Frankfort.

Each guest was requested to wear some article of apparel representing their favorite fish. This was indeed an interesting feature as each guest tried to guess what the others represented.

The most notable event of the evening was conundrums which were answered by different names of fish.

Throughout the evening charming musical selections were rendered by Mrs. W. O. Tucker, Misses Agnes Watkins, Gwendoline Haynes, Kitty Gray and Emi Scott.

Later in the evening the guests repaired to the spacious dining room which was tastefully decorated in evergreens. Here they were served with a delicate repast consisting of chicken salad, served in beet cups, bread and butter sandwiches, cheese straws, coffee, ice cream and cake.

Thursday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, at the bride's home, Mr. D. E. Wicker and Miss Myrtle May Parish were happily united in marriage by Rev. M. E. Miller, of the Baptist church.

It was a beautiful home wedding. The parlor was lined with pink and white chrysanthemums; the wedding march was played by Miss Carrie Oliver. The bride is the second daughter of G. N. Parish, one of Crittenden's most substantial farmers, and is greatly admired by all her acquaintances for her sweet and amiable disposition. The groom is one of Crittenden's boys, but for the last few years he has been in Dallas, Texas, where he has charge of a large grocery, and is a model young man.

The happy couple left Friday morning for Dallas, where they will make their home.

The Press and a host of friends extend congratulations.

NEW SALEM.

Hog killing on hand.

Moses Patton, of Dyeusburg, was a pleasant caller in this section last Sunday.

Our old friend, Uncle Billy Fuller has gone to Tenn. on a visit.

Born to the wife of Jas. Mahan, Nov. 28, a big boy.

T. A. Harpending has been on crutches the past week. The result of a horse kick.

This section was visited on the night of the 28th by one of the biggest floods ever known in this part of the county; all fences on the creeks were swept away, thousands of rails lost, and hundreds of dollars loss to farmers.

Henry Brouster visited friends at Tolu Sunday.

Obe Kirk had to move his family the night of the flood; the water was eight inches deep in his house. Obe thought a second deluge had started.

Our young people were entertained at a musical at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brouster one night last week.

The telephone men are at work in this section, putting in new poles, and other things.

A wagon load of bears passed up the road Sunday evening, causing as much excitement as if an auto had passed through this part of our vine yard.

One of our neighbors killed hogs last week, got scared when it commenced to rain and made up two barrels of sausage meat. There was the smell of sulphur around that house when it turned cold.

We always had due respect for a good man, but a mean cuss, who when he thinks there is danger about to be visited upon him, and who was never known to lead in prayer meeting, calls upon his good wife to lead in prayer while he holds the baby, is just a little too mean to live. Such was the case the night the flood came in our section.

DESPERATE BATTLE.

Between Mutineers in Ships and Troops in the Fort.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 29.—Sebastopol was today the scene of a desperate battle fought today between mutineer sailors and troops in the forts and on the shore.

During the battle the town and forts were bombarded by the guns of the cruiser Otchakoff, which lies a burning wreck off Admiralty Point, its hull being riddled with shells and flaunting the red flag of revolution which was hauled down.

Many of the crew of the Otchakoff were killed or wounded. According to one report the barracks of the mutineers were carried by storm, after the mutinous fleet, which is said to have numbered ten vessels, surrendered, and the whole position is now in the hands of the troops under Gen. Neptueoff. The Associated Press, however, is unable to guarantee the correctness of this report.

The battle was begun by troops on the shore, who opened fire on the Otchakoff, which was defiantly displaying the red flag. The commander of the Otchakoff, Lieutenant Schmidt, immediately accepted the challenge.

As a challenge replying to both batteries, one was trained on the town and the other on Ft. Alexander, and the batteries on the north shore.

The battle began at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when Lieut. Schmidt, not receiving a reply to the demands of the mutineers, opened fire from the fleet of ten ships, to which the northern batteries of Fort Alexander the artillery posted on short notice, and several vessels which remained loyal replied.

During the naval battle the sailors on shore were entrenched in the batteries and defended this position with machine guns, and rifles against the attacking infantry.

After an engagement lasting two and a half hours, with the Otchakoff riddled and on fire and the cruiser Dneiper and another vessel sunk, Lieutenant Smith, who was badly wounded, surrendered the entire squadron.

The mutinous sailors on shore surrendered to the Brest and Bielostock regiments.

The Panteleimon was injured below the water line and a torpedo boat went on the rocks.

No reliable details of the casualties or damages suffered by the town are obtainable. It is improbable that the town escaped without very heavy damage.

No Secret About It.

It is no secret, that for Cuts, Burns, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Sore Eyes, Boils etc., nothing is so effective as Bucklen's Arnica Salve. "It didn't take long to cure a bad sore I had, and its all o. k. for sore eyes," writes D. L. Gregory, of Hope, Texas. 25 cents at Woods & Orme's Drugstore.

Christmas Cakes

For the Christmas cakes cream one half of a cupful of butter, and add gradually one cupful of sugar, continuing the beating; then add the yolks of three eggs, well beaten, one half of a cupful of milk, and one and three fourths cupfuls of flour mixed and sifted with two and one half teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Beat vigorously, and add the whites of three eggs beaten stiff, one half of a cupful each of walnut and pecan nut meats finely cut, and one half of a cupful of seeded raisins finely cut. Bake in a buttered and floured shallow pan. Remove from the pan, and spread the top with white frosting. Cut in triangular shapes and ornament each with three green leaves, and small round red candies to represent berries.—Woman's Home Companion for December.

In Praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

There is no other medicine manufactured that has received so much praise and so many expressions of gratitude as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is effective, and prompt relief follows its use. Grateful parents everywhere do not hesitate to testify to its merits for the benefit of others. It is a certain cure for croup and will prevent the attack if given at the first appearance of the disease. It is especially adapted to children as it is pleasant to take and contains nothing injurious. Mr. E. A. Humphreys, a well known resident and clerk in the store of Mr. E. I found it to be very satisfactory and it gives me pleasure to recommend it." For sale by Woods & Orme, leading druggist.

Servant of First Governor.

"Aunt" Judah Atkins, the oldest negro woman in Kentucky, died last week at her home in Danville, Ky., at the age of 120 years. She was a servant in the family of Isaac Shelby, the first governor of Kentucky when he began his career as Chief Executive at Lexington in 1782. She was respected by a large circle of white persons, who attended the funeral all in a body.

Dying of Famine

Is, in its torments, like dying of consumption, from the beginning to the very end, is a long torture, both to victim and friends. "When I had consumption in its first stage," writes Wm. Myers, of Cearfoss, Md., "after trying different medicines and a good doctor, in vain, I at last took Dr. King's New Discovery, which quickly and perfectly cured me." Prompt relief and sure cure for coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, etc. Positively prevents pneumonia. Guaranteed at Woods & Orme's drugstore, price 50c and $1.00 a bottle. Trial bottles free.

Hope for Housekeepers.

In telling the story of the first Co-operative store in England, in "Soldiers of the Common Good, in the December Everybody's, Charles Edward Russell says:

"The attraction for buyers at the little Toad Lane store was not the cheapness or first cost of the articles sold there, but something very different. Sales were made at current prices but every purchaser received a metal tag representing the amount purchased, and the promise was held out that when the store was adequately equipped, these tags would be redeemable with a proportionate share in the profits. In other words the store was to be like other stores, except that the profits were to go to the purchasers instead of to the store keeper. The power of this idea was much more tremendous than you would guess. For the first time the patient slave housewives of Toad Lane had laid hold of the concept of hope. Every time they bought a pound of flour at the place called in the barbarous language of the neighborhood, 'The Owl Weavyns Shop,' they laid by a brass tag that would some day be money. They had never before been able to save a cent. Their whole weary struggle had been to make the scanty income spread wide enough to keep the family alive. They had never expected nor dreamed of anything else. And now without their volition, for the first time they have something to look forward to."

A Bad Scare.

Some day you will get a bad scare, when you feel a pain in your bowels, and fear appendicitis. Safety lies in Dr. King's New Life Pills, a sure cure, for all bowel and stomach diseases, such as headache, biliousness, costiveness, etc. Guaranteed at Woods & Orme drugstore, only 25c. Try them.

The Truth.

No town will become a good business center as long as her majority of her business men rely upon a few merchants to bring business to town. Too often the men, in a few lines of trade are the only ones that reach out for customers. Other merchants wait until these business men influence people to town and content themselves with trade that naturally drifts to their place. A public spirited man asks himself if he is doing his part to attract people to come to town. Any person who induces people to come to town to trade is helping the entire business community, and no town is a success unless all lines of trade are working to extend business as far as possible and trying to bring a large territory in the circle of which the town is a business center.—Ex.

To Develop Mines.

The Sturgis correspondent of the Morgantown Sun writes that paper as follows:

Learn to Smile.

To the woman who wishes to make her path through life an easy and an agreeable one, the science of smiling is a most necessary study. Like acting, or art, or engineering, it is a thing in which practice only can make one perfect. A little theory may go a long way, but it is enough to remember these two rules: First, the honey of a smile catches more hearts than the vinegar of a frown or the pepper of a sneer. Second, it is not the mechanical beauty, but the significance of the smile that makes it attractive.—Woman's Life.

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

His Dinner Flew Away.

New York, Nov. 30.—He had two packages. One was internal and the other was a live turkey in a paper bag. He dragged both aboard a northbound express train at Fourteenth street shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday morning.

He dropped asleep and let go the bag. It fell to the floor and the car roared as Mr. Gobbler strutted out and looked haughtily around to see who was laughing.

He marched down the aisle parade fashion, and was doing nicely until a pretty little pink slipper struck and poked him insolently in the ribs.

Flap went Mr. Turkey and landed against a breakfast food advertisement with a bang. The car rose in chase, even the owner of the turkey.

"Wunnum at raffle. Gun gittin' back," said the proprietor valiantly.

Flap, flap went the bird, ricocheting around the car at about high level. Women were falling all over themselves in an effort to reach the car ahead. A bright youth with gold rimmed glasses, thought he saw a way to put an end to the trouble and opened the back door of the car. Mr. Gobbler floated out into the darkness of the tunnel.

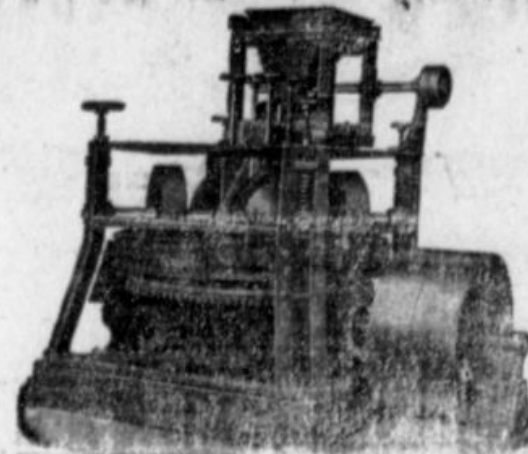

What the man with only one package said to the spectacled youth was unpleasant. The train reached Seventy-second street and out he got, snorting and fuming to beat the band.

"I'll give five dollars to find my turk," said he, as two trackwalkers asked for particulars, and started toward Sixty-sixth street. They returned with two turkey legs and a quantity of feathers, which didn't bring five dollars. They said that the bird had tried to stop a south-bound train.

EDUCATIONAL.

A FATHER'S IDEAL FOR HIS CHILD.

"The best the world can teach him he shall know,
The best his land can give him, he shall see,
And trace the footsteps where his fathers trod;
See all the beauty that the world can show,
And how it is that freedom makes men free,
And how such freemen love and serve their God."

—Edward Everett Hale.

THE TEACHER'S PART.

"The greatest thing a teacher ever brings to a child is not subject-matter, but the uplift which comes from heart contact with a great personality."—Search.

THE STATE'S PART.

"It behooves every Southern State that inaugurates an educational campaign in favor of better schools to inaugurate at the same time some movement that will provide for the better training of teachers. The untrained teacher is the most expensive part of our present educational system."

It must never be forgotten that the teacher is the real center of all education, not the place where school is kept. A larger view of educational conditions in the South must convince any one that an awakened sentiment in favor of better schools must be intelligently directed. Expert educational leaders are necessary. But those leaders are yet to be trained."—Southern Education.

IMPORTANCE OF EDUCATION.

"Education has gotten into politics. Every state platform has an educational plank. The churches of our land are taking it up. It places at the front of the century and the question is, what will you do with it? Every great leader of our country has ever had as the importance of an education for the coming generation. George Washington, the father of his country, gave property for educational purposes.

Education moves the world. Education takes the wild rose and transforms it into the American Beauty. God's great work has been building up man. Stop the schools and see what will happen. The printing presses and transportation will cease by degrees and the world will come to a standstill. An engine will be running along and the engineer will die at his post. There will be no one to take his place. So it is. Where would the world be to-day if it were not for education."—Chancellor J. H. Kirkland.

"The people have a right to the privileges of an education and it is the duty of the State to guard and maintain that right."—Constitution of N. C.

"The General Assembly shall by appropriate legislation provide for an efficient system of common schools throughout the State."—Constitution of Ky.

What is meant by an 'efficient system of common schools'? Does it mean good school houses, beautiful grounds, up-to-date equipment, and poor, untrained teachers? The history of education clearly shows that all educational reform must begin with the teacher; hence the great importance of properly preparing all our teachers for the great responsibilities resting upon them.

Our state is out of debt; our people are in favor of progress. No one would have Kentucky behind the other states of the union educationally. We are up-to-date in most things, but unfortunately statistics show us somewhat backward in education. Here is the position of Kentucky as given by the U. S. Educational Commissioner in 1903, as compared with the seven bordering states with respect to native white illiterates over 21 years of age, beginning with the least illiterate:

Ill.,	Native White Illiterates	2.8
Ind.,	"	3.2
Mo.,	"	4.4
W. Va.,	"	10.7
Va.,	"	12.2
Tenn.,	"	14.1
Ky.,	"	14.3

The position of Kentucky when compared with the same states with respect to amount appropriated for the professional training of public school teachers is also LAST, and the others come in exactly the same order as above. What does it all mean? Does the Training of Teachers pay? The Kentucky Legislature meets in January 1906. If you have any convictions on the subject of State Normal Schools, you should at once notify your Representative and Senator as to your position in the matter. They represent you and want to do your will.

The Rancho del Paso stud, James B. Haggins' $1,250,000 worth of thoroughbred mares, yearlings, fillies and stallions, after a 4,000 mile journey in palace horse cars, with running water and gas illumination, yesterday unloaded at the foot of West-Thirty-sixth street, says a New York special of Nov. 27.

The shipment of horses, 524 head, is the biggest ever made. The cost of transportation, exclusive of the equine commissary and the wages of three score of attendants was $48,000.

The train crossed the continent in four sections, arriving yesterday. The first section got away from Sacramento Cal., at 12:30 o'clock a. m., Saturday. The other sections were run out six hours apart, but in the great distance covered the last section fell behind and lost some time. It is due this afternoon. Mr. Haggins, who was present at the unloading, said the stock had arrived in splendid shape. The stud will be sold at auction.

A Mother's Gift.

Remember her who gave thee this,
When other days shall come;
When she who had thy earliest kiss
Sleeps in her narrow home.
Remember 'twas a mother gave
The gift to one she'd die to save.

That mother sought a pledge of love,
The holiest for her son;
And from the gifts of God above
She chose a goodly one.
She chose for her beloved boy
The book of light, and life and joy.

And bade him keep the gift, that when
The parting hour should come
They might have a hope to meet again

In an eternal home.
She said his faith in that should be
Sweet incense to her memory.

And should the scoffers in his pride
Laugh that fond faith to scorn,
And bid him cast the pledge aside
That he from youth had borne,
She bade him pause and ask his breast
If he or she had loved him best.

A parent's blessing on her son
Goes with this holy thing;
The love that would detain the one
Must to the other cling.

Remember, 'tis no common toy,
A mother's gift; remember boy.

CONGRESS.

The present session of Congress promises to be one of the most important and exciting in the history of that body. A thorough investigation of the Panama scandals is to be made; some legislation regarding railroad rates will be attempted; an effort to reduce certain schedules in our national tariff system will come before the House. Each one of these measures will produce hot and lengthy discussion, and under the brilliant leadership of John Sharp Williams the democrats might hope to accomplish something in the nature of reform were it not for that gag-law known as the House Rules. These Rules place all House legislation at the mercy of the Speaker. With them the Speaker can throttle any measure that does not meet his approval; and the present wielder of the gavel, your Uncle Joe Cannon, is just the man to exercise this authority to its fullest extent. He was put there for that purpose. Hence the minority can not hope to accomplish much good for the country in the matter of tariff reform or railroad rate legislation at the present session of Congress.

On the second day of the session Representative O. M. James introduced a bill for the relief of tobacco growers, and other members of the Kentucky delegation will probably introduce similar measures later on in the session.

The reading of the President's message was listened to with unusual interest, especially by the Senators, many of whom came over to the House to hear the document read. It is quite lengthy and we had intended publishing a full synopsis of it in this issue of the PRESS, but the pressure on our advertising space forces us to lay it over until next week.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

We invite attention to the article of Col. Noel Gaines, "Preachers in Politics," which will be found elsewhere in to-day's PRESS. The views of Col. Gaines are sound and his general proposition correct. In the olden times bloody wars have been fought in order to force a certain form of religious worship upon a State or community; the Pilgrim Fathers fled from this and fled to a land where they could worship God according to their own conscience, should suggest, without interference from either Priest or Praetor. Our Constitution provides for perfect freedom in religious forms of worship and a distinct separation of Church and State. In these latter days no man can mix in politics and remain pure; no minister of the Gospel can mix in them without tarnishing his sacred vestments and bringing into disrepute the holy religion he teaches. This is true; and pity 'tis 'tis true.

The West Kentucky Coal company, whose mines are in and adjacent to Sturgis, Ky., have recently issued bonds to the amount of $200,000, to be used in the development and betterment of their property. These bonds are gilt-edged and of course will soon be absorbed and the money applied as above stated. Just now the company are having some trouble with the miners union of Sturgis and to protect their property have thrown around the Sturgis shaft and light plant a perfect cordon of guards and mounted a Maxim rapid-fire gun in a position to rake with its fire of seven hundred shots a minute the entire surroundings for a distance of 2,000 yards. A powerful searchlight has also been erected to guard against a night attack. The company have offered work with a full union scale of wages, to all who apply as individuals, and not as members of the union. The company contends that the union miners struck on them without previous notice and without just cause, and that never again will they recognize the union. The company will be ready for operations in a few days and expect to have a full force before the end of the month.

Congress assembled in Washington on Monday last, and the respective caucuses, republican and democratic, put forth their two strongest men for the Speakership. The democrats nominated John Sharp Williams and the republicans nominated Joseph G. Cannon for a second term as Speaker of the House. The nomination of a minority candidate for Speaker always carries with it the leadership of his party during the session, and for this purpose the democrats could not have put forward a stronger man than John Sharp Williams. He is a shrewd party tactician and forcible in debate and the PRESS predicts that under his leadership the minority will make itself felt and make history. As Speaker of the House "Uncle Joe" Cannon will rule it with "the mailed hand under the silken glove" and no measure that does not meet his entire approval will ever pass through this congress.

Among the first bills introduced into the present Congress was one appropriating over $16,000,000 to the Panama canal, to meet contracts already entered into, in addition to the $10,000,000 appropriated by the last Congress. That is to say, the Panama Canal Commission have, within the space of one year, created a deficiency of more than $16,000,000 without warrant of law; and hence the haste with which it is sought to supply the deficiency. Thus far the whole canal management has been rotten to the core, and if it is not subjected to a searching investigation by the present Congress the PRESS will lose its guess.

Rev. John Newton Hall, editor of the Baptist Flag, and one among the most eloquent Southern divines, died suddenly at Fulton, Ky., on Monday last after an illness of a few hours. It will be remembered that Rev. Hall made a brief visit to our town several months ago and formed many friendships among our people, who sincerely regret his untimely end.

OUR WEEKLY NEW YORK LETTER

Prince Louis and Horse Show Week.
Gowns and Hats Seen at the Garden.
Fashionable Dogs a Box Feature.
Fur Motor Hats For Pretty Women.

By RENE DEVERAUX.

Glorious autumn weather, the horse show and the august presence of Prince Louis, Prince Alexander and other distinguished guests of the Four Hundred have just given New York fashionables a giddy week of joyous excitement. The whole week was a success. The weather was perfect, the social leaders who entertained in honor of the princes covered themselves with glory—the Garden was never more resplendent, the gowns more gorgeous and, incidentally, the horses were never more splendid. Certainly interest in the horse show does not wane, and, while the well bred woman was perhaps a trifle less conspicuously gowned than formerly, her costumes were marked with a certain smartness frequently marred by overelaboration.

At morning and afternoon sessions a surprising number of chic black gowns were noticeable, some of cloth and many of handsome velvet. On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Neilson, the mother of Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt, was splendidly gowned in a severely plain black velvet frock, with which she wore a velvet picture hat piled high with a mass of nodding plumes. A conspicuous "accessory" was a tiny skye dog which accompanied her swathed in a black velvet collar held in place by glittering diamond slides. As Mrs. Neilson and her diamond studded terrier swept into one of the Vanderbilt boxes both Reginald and Alfred Vanderbilt were doing "stunts" in the ring. Alfred driving a smart four-in-hand to the infinite delight of the spectators.

One of the leaders of millionairedom in a nearby box was regal in purple and Irish crochet. Her gown was of velvet faultlessly fashioned in princess style. The fullness was confined at the waist line by tiny tucks forming a corset effect, the bottom of the gown being finished by one large tuck and two small ones. Exceedingly elegant was the deep round yoke of Irish crochet both back and front, outlined with tapering revers of cloth of gold, upon which were embroidered small anchors in tiny dull purple beads. On the inside of the low crush lace collar was a narrow band of cloth of gold. The hat worn with this gown was of purple velvet, upon which were many purple plumes, part of the brim near the front being caught down by a single purple orchid. The high bandeau in the back was a cloud of purple tulle.

Another conspicuous black costume at the Garden on Thursday (on a man this time) was that of Mr. J. Hazen Hyde, possibly taking a turn among the boxes between sessions of court, which he has been attending most punctiliously of late. Mr. Hyde's attire of deep black was in pronounced contrast to the conspicuous waistcoats and red four-in-hands worn by the swagger fellows of his set this season.

There is a noticeable fad among the ultra fashionable for diminutive footmen, and on the boxes of many smart traps these liveried youngsters are comically prominent. In livery exactly matching that of the coachman's these infant servants occupy but small space and are trained to jump from the box agilely and do the needful with all the airs and graces of their elders.

Uncommonly smart were some of the fur motor hats seen on the Central park drives during the week. Headgear for motoring which combines all the necessary attributes seems as yet in a somewhat undeveloped stage. One of the new shapes, charmingly becoming and comfortable, is Colonial in effect, with a hooded piece which may be turned down over the ears, fastening under the chin or caught up over the crown in an envelope effect.

A fascinating young girl at the table of a country club last week wore a mink motor coat with soft white fur collar and a smart fur hat of the above described model of white ermine, the hooded portion framing a wealth of wind blown tresses.

(Our readers may have advice on purchasing or fashioning a motor coat without charge by Rene Deveraux, the fashion expert, by addressing Rene Deveraux, P. O. Box 269, Madison Square, New York, enclosing stamp for reply.)

For Thin Babies

Fat is of great account to a baby; that is why babies are fat. If your baby is scrawny, Scott's Emulsion is what he wants. The healthy baby stores as fat what it does not need immediately for bone and muscle. Fat babies are happy; they do not cry; they are rich; their fat is laid up for time of need. They are happy because they are comfortable. The fat surrounds their little nerves and cushions them. When they are scrawny those nerves are hurt at every ingentle touch. They delight in Scott's Emulsion. It is as sweet as wholesome to them.

Preachers in Politics.

The following article of Col. Noel Gaines, will be of interest to the readers of the PRESS. We wish to state, however, that he is not a minister, but Inspector General of the Kentucky State Guard:

"To the Editor of the Courier-Journal: I have been reading your late editorials regarding the effort of some of the ministers to become 'Preacher Politicians,' and while I have for several years been a constant reader of your special editorials, yet I desire to say that you can now do more good for the cause of Truth, the religion of our Savior, by charging the lines of these mistaken gentlemen as you are now doing, than by almost anything else you can do.

One of the Crimes of Christendom consists in the effort of some of the preachers to mix politics with religion; a crime, because in doing so they bring religion into disfavor, with those especially who have not embraced it and who need it; a crime because that any effort whatsoever of the preachers of religion to seek reform or build up a christian citizenship by resorting to the aid of politicians and civil law, is an effort saying to the world, The thing which religion proclaims, and which comes from the Creator, can not actually and in reality accomplish the desired results; they must have 'help from men and the laws made by the hands of men.

By such action they show the feebleness and weakness of the religion they claim to be the True One, and which they teach, and place all the premium and credit for results obtained on the power of mere creatures a form of men, instead of in the Almighty himself.

As is the custom of many I contend that it is not necessary to damn and destroy, for instance, the seller of liquor, in order to save the victim who drinks it; but rather acquaint all men with that One Wonderful Thing they can attain, which will make new and happy and save both the seller and the drinker. Such will not only appear reasonable to those men, but will appeal to their sense of justice; and, better still, that is the True Plan of Him who died for lost mankind; and he who teaches will best contribute towards a realization of True Reform and True Christian Citizenship that relies solely on the power and inspiration of the Creator of things and not on politicians, (and of one side at that) and the laws of mere men, such a course would raise religion in men's estimation and be vital to them instead of lowering its standard and worth, which seeking help through the laws of men certainly does.

Therefore, when Dr. Powell in his letter to you, published in Thursday's Courier-Journal says: "Now, the simple question is this: Does preaching civil righteousness from the pulpit tend to destroy the respect for religion?" he should be answered yes, yes, beyond all peradventure of a doubt, and especially for the very good reason assigned above. For if a preacher be engaged in preaching the True Gospel, the one Christ preached, then he is a preacher of spiritual righteousness, not of civil righteousness.

Did not men refuse to attain their righteousness by obeying the law written by the hand of God himself, in tablets of stone? And will preachers now persuade themselves they can get men to obtain righteousness by obeying the laws written by the hands of feeble men? It would appear that their duty is to entreat men to seek righteousness only through the great Spirit of God. It is a sign of a lack of confidence in the spirit of true religion, if they attempt to do it otherwise.

Again Dr. Powell does not quote the Master's teachings accurately, when he said Christ's words were 'ye Pharisees, hypocrites, how shall ye escape the damnation of hell?' and the authority for the ministers of today using strong denunciation against wicked civil government officials when being elected, etc. For it is known that Christ, as all his words show, was not referring to the affairs of civil government or civil affairs, but was solely condemning these people for their hypocrisy in their regulation of affairs. All of

The Taking Cold Habit

The old cold goes; a new one quickly comes. It's the story of a weak throat, weak lungs, a tendency to consumption. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral breaks up the taking-cold habit. It strengthens, soothes, heals. Ask your doctor about it.

"I had a terrible cold, and nothing relieved me. I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and it promptly broke up my cold, stopped my cough, and eased every part of my body. It did wonderful work for me."—MR. J. E. LEE, Toledo, Ohio.

Made by J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Also manufactured at Sarsaparilla, Pills, Hair Vigor.

Keep the bowels regular with Ayer's Pills. Just one pill each night.

Christ's denunciations were against hypocrites in affairs religious, not in affairs temporal.

Was it not that Christ, who, in answer to a question, or complaint against unjust taxation replied, 'render under Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's?' He would not interfere nor encourage a complaint concerning even unjust taxation. He would not even mix with affairs of civil government.

And was it not the apostles who would not leave off continual praying and preaching of the Word, to even wait on or serve the poor widows and orphans in their own congregations and appointed men especially for that, so important did they regard attending to their own business the continued praying and preaching of the Word?

Finally, where do these good gentlemen find reason for necessity for, or authority for their leaving off of praying, yea, continued praying and preaching the Gospel, to mix in civil affairs and in politics. I call upon Dr. Powell and Dr. Jones, and all of the ministers of that Ministerial Association who have been of late dabbling in politics, to produce their authority.

Respectfully,
NOEL GAINES.

The First Requisite of Beauty.

The first requisite of beauty is a clear complexion. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup clears a sallow blotched complexion as it stimulates the liver and bowels, and the eyes become bright and clear. You owe it to your friends to take it if your complexion is bad. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup does not nauseate or gripe and is very pleasant to take. Refuse substitutes. Woods & Orme.

Why He "Scattered" Them.

A Georgia darkey charged with bigamy said to the judge: "Hit's true I got more than one wife, suh, but dey's scattered." "Scattered?" "Yes, suh, Some's in Alabama, some's in Tennessee en only one in Georgia—whar I live at. De only way to have peace, judge was to make a scatteration."

Neuralgia And Other Pain.

All pain in any disease is nerve pain, the result of a turbulent condition of the nerves. The stabbing, lacerating, darting, burning, agonizing pain that comes from the prominent nerve branches, or sensory nerves, is neuralgia, and is the "big brother" of all the other pains.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills rarely ever fail to relieve these pains by soothing these larger nerves, and restoring their tranquility.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills leave no bad after-effects, and are a reliable remedy for every kind of pain, such as headache, backache, stomachache, sciatica, rheumatism and neuralgia.

They also relieve Dizziness, Sleeplessness, Nervousness, Car-Sickness, and Distress after eating.

"For many years I have been a constant sufferer from neuralgia and headache, and have never been able to obtain any relief from various headache powders and capsules, until I tried Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They always cure my headache in five minutes time." FRED E. SWINGLEY, Cashier 1st Nat. Bank, Atkinson, Neb.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first package will benefit. If it fails he will return your money. 25 doses, 25 cents. Never sold in bulk. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

Saturday, Dec. 16, Christ's further labor and John's last labors, John 3:22-24.

OUTLINE.

There is no S. S. lesson in this week's readings. It would take too much space to give a complete outline. The Tabular Life of Christ gives the topics, which is a fairly good working outline.

HELPS TO STUDY.

On the inquiry of the Pharisees, "Who art thou?" see Lk. 3:15. On the basis of a literal interpretation of Mal. 4:1, Elijah was expected to come before Christ. (Mt. 17:10) Jesus recognizes this prophesy as fulfilled in its real sense in John the Baptist. (Mt. 17:11-13; 11:14.) John denies that he is Elijah as they expected him to come, that is, in person. John calls himself simply a voice; he wishes to sink his own personality out of sight.

The expression, "The Lamb of God," means a man pure, meek, gentle and bearing the sin of the world, and by bearing it taking it away, freeing the sinner from the consequences of it.

The experience at the Jordan, so deeply significant for Jesus, became also to John a revelation of Jesus as the One for whom he had been looking, the One who when filled with the Spirit, should baptize others with that Spirit. Andrew learned how different a Messiah Jesus was to be from that which he at first thought.

V. 46, "Nazareth," not even mentioned in the Old Testament—a place without distinction or reputation, and with which no one had ever associated the Messiah. Testimony and the impression made by Jesus' own character on susceptible minds won for Jesus his first disciples. Jno. 2:4, "Woman what have I to do with thee?" seems to imply that his mother might have wanted him to make a display of his powers. It may have been that her request opened to him the dawning of his hour. To manifest his glory was to reveal the excellence and beauty of his character and power. After this miracle the disciples believed on him more firmly than before; faith is by its very nature a thing of degrees, capable of growing and intended to grow. (Lk. 17:5)

Oxen, sheep and doves were necessary for sacrificial purposes, The temple tax (Mt. 17:24) was required to be paid in Jewish money. As the Jews came from many lands and used different kinds of coinage, they needed money changers. What then was wrong? The offensiveness of this traffic to Jesus was not in the traffic itself, which was a convenience, if not a necessity, to those who came from a distance to attend the feast and make offerings in connection with, nor of the presence of animals in the temple or its courts, since this also was a necessity in connection with the sacrifices, but in the conversion of a place of worship into a place of traffic, a traffic to which the priests must have consented, and from which there is reason to believe they themselves derived a profit.

Herod began to rebuild the temple 20 B. C. Forty-six years would bring us to the Passover of 27 A. D.

Jesus answers Nicodemus' thought, not his words. He tells him that if one would enter the kingdom, he must be born anew. "How can a man" are words of utter perplexity. Jesus repeats that except a man be spiritually regenerated, by true repentance and the work of God's Spirit, he can have no part in the kingdom of God. The Pharisees trusted to Abraham's descent according to the flesh (Mt. 3:9) and counted this sufficient to give them a place in the kingdom. Jesus tells Nicodemus that natural descent produces only a natural man; fitness for God's kingdom comes only through the power of the Spirit. (Jno. 1:12, 13) "Earthly things," v. 12, the facts of the new birth; "heavenly things," the explanation of how these things come about.

The first year of Christ's active work, the Early Judean ministry, was spent in Judea completing the work that John had so faithfully inaugurated.

Mrs. Parthena Gillis, of this county, left Tuesday at noon for Booneville, Miss., being summoned by a telegram announcing the serious illness of her daughter, Mrs. Cora Bateman. The message simply stated that she was not expected to live.

Q. M. Conyer will open the Hotel Crittenden at Marion today. The hotel is beautifully furnished, is new throughout and will be run in a style that will make it popular with the traveling public. Mr. Conyer is the former proprietor of the Kelsey hotel of Caldwell county, and is a clever gentleman.—Princeton Leader.

Mr. W. A. Oliver, of Crittenden county, was a passenger on the north bound train Monday to Evansville to organize a stock company composed of himself and three Evansville capitalists to open the South Crittenden Mineral Mines. The new company will be capitalized at $25,000 and incorporated under the laws of South Dakota.—Sturgis correspondent to Uniontown Telegram.

D. N. Kemp, of Tunica, Miss., has returned to this county to join his wife at the home of her father, G. N. Fox, in the Iron Hill vicinity. While in the south Mr. Kemp acquired quite a reputation as a nimrod, having killed lots of wild game. He brought back as a trophy the foot of wild cat which his dogs killed a few days before he left the Mississippi delta. Anyone desiring to see it can do so by calling at the Press office. It is useless for us to add that it is not attached to the animal.

H. A. and F. S. North, of Chicago, and W. Murray Sanders, of New York, who are interested in the new separating plant being built here, are all in the city this week. The organization of the "Saunders Ore Separator Co." has been completed and the work is being pushed on the buildings on the R. R. near the Ky. Flour Spar Co.'s mill south of the city.

Ed Metz, who has been occupying the house which John Hurley recently bought of Will Browning, of Pomona, Cal., was compelled to move his family to Sturgis as he could not get a house in Marion. This looks bad for Marion that as good people as Ed Metz and family had to move to another town in order to get a house. We hear of cases similar to this one every day.

Doctors Could Not Help Her.

"I had kidney trouble for years," writes Mrs. Raymond Conner, Shelton, Wash., "and the doctors could not help me. I tried Foley's Kidney Cure, and the very first dose gave me relief and I am now cured. I cannot say too much for Foley's Kidney Cure." It makes the diseased kidneys sound so they will eliminate the poisons from the blood. Unless they do this, good health is impossible. Woods & Orme.

We have a full stock of winter goods at old prices.

Mine Disaster.

Diamondville, Wyo., Dec. 2.—Eighteen miners lost their lives in explosion last night in the diamond and coke company's mine No. 1. It is believed all the men who perished were instantly killed.

A "blow-out" shot caused the disastrous explosion which wrecked the mine. The shock of the explosion was felt all over this town.

News of another disaster at the Diamond mine, the second in less than five years, quickly spread, and practically the whole population at Diamondville flocked to the shaft.

The bodies of most of those who perished in last night's disaster have been brought up. The majority of victims were Englishmen.

Macy's NEW YORK HOSIERY.

"Learn to do some one thing better than any one else has ever been able to do the same thing, and, though you live in a wilderness, the world will beat a path to your door."

In the little town of Chemnitz, Saxony, there lived a chemist who spent years trying to do one thing—to make a black stocking that would be absolutely fast black.

This chemist succeeded, and the path the world beat to his door is very wide and well worn indeed. By his discovery Louis Hermsdorf made himself world famous, and his little town of Chemnitz became the center of the stocking industry of the entire world.

You don't have to look very far back to remember the time when to wear a black stocking was to wear a stocking that would fade, that would discolor the feet, that by the original Hermsdorf process, and each one is guaranteed absolutely fast black. It is needless to say that MACY'S stocking department is famous.

These stockings, bought almost a year in advance, are made to our special order in Chemnitz, and each stocking is dyed by the original Hermsdorf process, and each one is guaranteed absolutely fast black. It is needless to say that MACY'S stocking department is famous.

It is true economy to be very careful in buying black stockings.

MACY'S representative goes to Chemnitz each year to buy the original Hermsdorf Dyed Stockings, made to our special order in Chemnitz, for a little less than other dealers ask you for the domestic imitation kind.

Postage on stockings is about 10 cents per half dozen pairs.
