MACHINERY INSTALLED

Work for the Eclipse Mining Company is Being Pushed and Will Soon Be Completed

AT CULLEN MINES IS RESUMED

Colcorda Company is operating and day on the 1200 acres in Livingston county.

The Ada-Florence mine property Muncie, Indiana capitalists, an agent four foot vein of fluor spar is evidence.

--0--

Good developments in the way zinc carbonate and sulphide of zinc are evidence on a tract of land lying in Livingston county on Deer Creek.

A short delay in operations at the mines was caused by a broken shaft. However, the repair supplies arrived and work will be resumed early.

--0--

The New Albany Mining Company now in addition to the daily mining operations, grinding fluor spar daily at Nancy Hanks and the work of the mining plant is proving very factory.

--0--

The Eclipse Mining Company will be busy to install its new machinery with opening of spring. The purchase of boiler, air compressor, steam jet, Jap drills, and pump. The carter work for the plant has been progressing rapidly and will soon be completed.

--0--

It is reported that Captain W. C.
McElroy, who has recently been spending several weeks in the field and who formerly directed the operations at the Old Jim mine, has leased from Mr.
Wilson an extension of the Nine Acre property and will soon begin operations.

The Kentucky Fluor Spar Company is sinking two new shafts on the edge property. In the past the edge mine has produced hundreds of tons of fluor spar and the course of the mines has been somewhat indefinite. The drilling of the new shafts will likely be important developments.

Messrs. Blue and Nunn are again giving some prospect work done in the vicinity of the Old Jim mine. The report of the geological surveys indicate that there is yet in the Western Kentucky district excellent deposits of zinc carbonate that has not been developed and an active search may reveal many valuable deposits of this ore.

Luckiest Man in Arkansas.

"I'm the luckiest man in Arkansas," writes H. L. Stanley, of Bruno, "since the restoration of my wife's health after five years of continuous coughing and bleeding from the lungs; and I owe my good fortune to the world's greatest medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which I know from experience will cure consumption if it is taken in time. My wife improved with the first bottle and twelve bottles completed the cure." Cures the worst coughs and colds or money refunded. At HAYNES & TAYLOR'S, 50¢ and $1. Trial bottle free.

The Truth.

Our progressive druggists, Haynes & Taylor, in speaking of the so-called cures for many diseases of humanity, has occasion to speak of "Zemo" a positive cure for Eczema and all skin diseases. The manufacturer of "Zemo," Mr. E. W. Rose, of Harrisburg, Ill., gave six hard years study toward the perfecting of "Zemo." Many persons in Saline county, of which Harrisburg is the county seat, were invited to use Mr. Rose's remedy and in a number of cases of from 12 to 15 years standing, a complete cure was the result. Haynes & Taylor say that after being shown positive proof that "Zemo" will and does cure the most severe and long standing cases that he was glad to offer to his patrons the only remedy that he believed will absolutely give a permanent cure. In a few days "Zemo" will be received and we will display in our show window some photographs of some of the cures made. Mr. Rose has written a strong booklet on the treatment of Eczema and skin diseases and we will take pleasure in giving a copy to those who call. It is our desire to have every sufferer from chronic, long standing cases of Eczema and skin diseases call and see us, when on the authority of Mr. Rose, we will give them a legal guarantee that "Zemo" will cure any case of skin or scalp disease no matter from what cause or for how long standing. "Zemo" is a nice clean liquid for external use and during treatment there is no cause for loss of time from business. Mr. Rose is so much in earnest and so honest in his statements he says he does not want a dollar of the people's money unless a cure is effected.

Bits of Byplay

Will Clark went to Arkansas during the rainy season. There was "water, water, everywhere." He says that for the first time in his life he reached the "high water mark." We wonder very much if he is right about it being the first time.

--0--

The National Stock Company is in town this week and everybody is delighted with each presentation with the exception of Captain Haase and Johnson Crider, who are still looking for "Buster Brown." Captain Haase says he is quite sure it will be here before the week's gone.

--0--

Will Clifton went out on one of his rounds as traveling salesman recently. He represents the Boucher, Force, & Goodbar Hat Co., in Kentucky and Tennessee. Will says he enjoys traveling excellently, as one sees so much of the world in this way.

--0--

Will McElroy attended the show Monday evening and was so frightened at one time. It happened this way: In one of the specialty acts a young lady was trying to instruct the court on acting. "Now," said the instructor, "strike an attitude." The crowd quickly made his way in the direction of Mr. McElroy. On being called back he explained he thought she said "swipe a dude," and, well, Will was so frightened.

Bruce Babb waxed eloquent not long since. Bruce is well read and very earnest in what he says. The subject was being discussed of the new law in the legislature to prevent two people from kissing, on the ground of its being a means of conveying microbes from one person to another and therefore spreading disease. Bruce became excited and asserted that no such law could be passed because didn't the constitution say that every man should be allowed "to worship according to the dictates of his own conscience?"

--0--

A grocery man in a Kentucky town asked a local newspaper man to advertise the fact that he was selling the Heinz Dill pickle, a new brand that was very palatable and pleasant for the stomach. The local was written and hung on the copy hook and when the paper came out it read: "Heinz Dill pickles, pleasant for the stomach, at Copher's." The next day the lady typist of the composing room of the local paper received one of the pickles with directions, "Take one when hungry." The typist swallowed the pickle whole, right, but contends it is one on the proof reader.

--0--

Not long since a little girl called at Haynes & Taylor's drug store, and, Creed, in his usual and pleasing manner, admired the little girl's curls and asked, in his genial way, if they were for sale, adding, he would give her a dollar for one. She said she didn't guess her mamma would let her sell any of her curls. Evidently, it brooded on the little one's mind, as the next day she appeared, and with a knowing little smile, handed a carefully wrapped paper to Mr. Taylor, which contained the much admired curl, and demanded her dollar. Creed says the curl is very dear to him.

PADUCAH HOME TELEPHONE CO.

Reconstruction Work Steadily in Progress

IMPORTANT CABLES STRUNG

Beautiful Quarter Sawn Oak Switch-Board Has Been Installed...
Contains 370 Drops.

MAIN LINE TO PADUCAH IS REBUILT

For several weeks the rebuilding of the local system of the Paducah Home Telephone Company has gone on here. The reconstruction work has been steadily executed under the plans as outlined by us a few weeks ago. The cables on Main, Salem, Depot, Bellville, Bank and College streets have all been strung. The new switchboard which has a beautiful quarter sawn oak finish and which cost several hundred dollars has been installed in the new exchange office in the James' office building on Bank street.

All the local telephones have been cut in, and with the coming of the end of the present week, all the patrons of the system here will be enjoying the new metallic service. The cost of the reconstruction work done here will amount to several thousand dollars and has been first class in every detail.

Besides the rebuilding of the local system, stretching new wires, etc., the main line to Paducah has been rebuilt and no effort is being spared anywhere to give the people here the best service compatible with the field and that the Home Company's money can buy. On the focal switchboard there are now about 370 drops and new ones yet to be added. It will take the construction crew something like two months to finish the work here and most of this time is to be spent in building new routes and putting in new telephones. The Paducah Home Company is also constructing an up-to-date system at Salem, and besides the local subscribers having free use of the Salem system, they may also have free use of the Pressnell exchange at Smithland, the Hutchison exchange at Carrsville, Worrell exchange at Hampton, Lay exchange at Birdsville, and the Tolu Company Exchange at Tolu, including free service to Kuttawa, Eddyville, Kelsey, Dyersburg, and several other local points. The parties named have recently constructed good local systems at their respective towns. Manager W. B. Butler, of the local exchange, is now making up the local directory, correcting old numbers and adding new names.

When all the reconstruction work in this immediate vicinity is completed the local exchange will be according to size, one of the most important and best paying in Western Kentucky.

Maxims of Success.

Many cities of the United States fittingly celebrated the 200th anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin on January 17. These celebrations again brought to the public notice a few of the best sayings of this great American. They are as follows:

Eat not to dullness; drink not to elevation.

Speak not but what may benefit others or yourself; avoid trifling conversation.

Loose no time be always employed in something useful; cut off all unnecessary action.

Use no hurtful deceit; think innocently and justly, and, if you speak, speak accordingly.

Tolerate no uncleanness in body, clothes or habitation.

Be not disturbed at trifles, or at accidents common or unavoidable.

Drive thy business; let not thy business drive thee.

Early to bed, early to rise, makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise.

He that hath a calling hath an office of profit and honor.

One today is worth two tomorrows.

Buy what thou hast no need of, and ere long thou shalt sell thy necessities.

Keep your eyes wide open before marriage, half shut afterwards.

They that won't be counseled can't be helped.

A man may, if he knows not how to save as he gets, keep his nose all his life to the grindstone, and die not worth a groat at last. —"Business."

Meeting of Bi-County Committee.

The meeting of the bi-county committee, composed of J. O. Gray, J. R. Farris, J. R. Moreland, G. N. McGraw, E. M. Robinson, and T. M. George, all of Livingston county, and A. J. Bennett, of Crittenden county, was called at 1 p. m., January 25.

Crittenden county being represented by only one of their committee, it was motioned and seconded, at any rate, that a committee be appointed to circulate subscription papers in both counties for the purpose of seeing how much could be subscribed.

The following compose the committee of Livingston county: Hood Kennedy, Roy L. Threlkeld, R. F. Blakely and Oliver Lasher. And for Crittenden county, A. J. Bennett, Chas. Fox and J. F. Conger.

Any one wishing to subscribe will please make it known to see one of the committee.

In case of sufficient amount being subscribed, all share holders will be notified to meet on April 1 to organize.

JOHN R. FARRIS, Ch'm.

The National Stock Company.

The National Stock Company under the management of J. Albert Dawson, has played nightly engagements at the opera house since Monday night.

Each show has been clean, well staged and well acted.

"In His Power," which was presented Monday evening, portrayed very clearly the wrong and injustice that is sometimes forced upon us, and the final triumph of good over evil.

"The Two Orphans," Tuesday evening's performance, was one of the best plays that has been witnessed this season. The play is ripe with wrong and misery, but shows how a pure, sweet character can come out of it all unspotted and unsullied. This play is a sermon within itself and everyone who witnessed it should have been benefited.

Each evening's performance has been elevating and first-class. The specialties have been also exceptionally good, and we congratulate Manager Boaz on securing such a clean and up-to-date show.

Letter from Silver Heights.

Well, Mr. Editor, we are just delighted with our rural free mail delivery. We can send our boys and girls out after our mail and they are simply delighted although they slip and slide down the old, red, muddy banks of the road, and we get our mail in broken doses which gives us a better chance to read them all. So you see one advantage to begin on, but one of the saving points in the matter is, it has a tendency to keep us at home a part of the time. And our mail horse gets a rest.

And we don't kick at the free delivery of the grocery business, but we do think our old hens ought to lay more eggs so that we would not have to go with our eight or ten or thirty eggs from two miles and upwards to get a cake of "Big Deal" and a package of Arbuckle's and a spool of Dragon thread, spend half a day in a big rain, borrow a bucket to carry our sugar home and pay the same as the city gent who follows the cigar home while the smoke of this torment ascends upward and upward. And the delivery boy goes to and fro not thinking that he is indulging somebody's boys in laziness, but we are not kicking, not a kicking, no sir, not a kicking.

R. M. FRANKS.

Must be Husband Three Years.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 30.—Senator Ector and his friend are elated over the passage of his bill in the Senate today, even though it was slightly amended. The bill provides that if a man is convicted of seduction he shall marry the girl and live with her three years, or go to the penitentiary. The amendment provides that he may leave her if he has statutory grounds for a divorce.

Heretofore the law has allowed any one so convicted to marry the girl and immediately leave the state. The reform has been urged by George L. Sehon and others and will probably go through the House.

THE STEAM LAUNDRY

Will Add Ice Making Machinery in the Spring

LAUNDRY BUSINESS GROWING

Present Capacity of Power and Laundry Building Sufficient to Take Eight or Ten Ton Plant

GOOD BUSINESS AND IS INCREASING

Jno. W. Wilson, at the head of the Wilson Steam Laundry, with his coat off and his sleeves rolled up, is getting on to things and the business of the new institution is rapidly building up. Agencies are being established in all the neighboring towns and it is very safe to say that when the summer arrives the plant will have all the business that its present capacity will permit to handle, but as the trade increases, a corresponding increase can be made in the capacity.

With the opening of spring Mr. Wilson expects to install an up-to-date plant, and it will be added with an eight or ten ton capacity, sufficient to supply all local trade including all places within a thirty mile radius of Marion.

Such enterprise as Mr. Wilson is displaying should be commended by every citizen of the town and community, and the lower price at which he will be enabled to supply ice to nearby towns, considering the saving in waste, will make this additional enterprise here worth much to people who do not reside in Marion.

Mr. Wilson is now receiving estimates on the cost of adding the ice making machinery to his laundry plant, the present building and steam power of which has ample capacity for the addition.

AN APPEAL TO THE EDITORIAL STAFF

Father Spends Everything Hunting For Stolen Child---Will We Find The Boy?

If the editor of every newspaper in the central west will republish these lines there is no question but what Dr. S. L. Byers, of Seccleyville, Ind., will recover his little son, who was stolen from his home last May.

Dr. Byers has spent his entire resources in search for his child, and unless the big-hearted members of the profession come to his assistance his son will grow up an outlaw and an outcast among the lowest people of the earth. It is a cause that should appeal to every one, and no father reading these lines can do so without a quickening of the heart and a sympathetic thrill.

It is believed that if this article is reprinted in the papers it will form an endless chain that will uncover the lost boy's concealment and restore him to his distract ed parents. In doing this the profession of journalism will be fulfilling one of its highest destinies.

Publishers whose circulation touch the Wabash, Ohio and Mississippi valleys, are especially requested to reproduce this story of the lost child, as Dr. Byers believes his boy is now in some houseboat waiting to take the road in the spring. There is a reward of five hundred dollars awaiting any information that will lead to the boy's recovery. No questions would be asked and if the abductor himself should deliver the child to his

An Effective Manner of Ornamenting the Hair.

A CHARMING PLAID COSTUME

Russian Blouse Suits For Small Boys and Girls—Kimono Shaped Sleeves—Evening Dresses With Bolero and Train Cut in One.

An effective and new way of ornamenting the hair for the evening is to purchase a yard of silver or gold gauze ribbon, tie it around the coiffure and fasten at the left side in a series of smart upstanding bows and loops. In place of the gauze ribbon chevee effects may be used.

A woman would be difficult to please who grumbled at the selection of umbrella handles which are being shown just now in the shops. Apart from the ordinary designs in plain woods and metals, oriental effects are prominent, particularly in long handles of antique wood inset with ivory. Han-dies covered with skin and mounted with silver or gold are among the season's novelties. Frog, alligator, elephant and pig skins are used for this purpose.

A net veil that has been caught in a shower of rain is not necessarily a spoiled veil, for by carefully detaching it from the hat in order not to tear the mesh and then pinning it over a pillow the impromptu bath will sometimes prove a blessing by restoring the original stiffness. Chiffon veils stand considerably rough usage, and the black ones sometimes survive a season of almost continuous wear if they are not folded when damp.

The plaid gown in the cut is an attractive design for a useful little costume. The skirt is an umbrella affair, with a center front seam, the edges of which are cut out in mitered straps about two inches and a half in length. Velvet finishes the neck and makes the girdle and the cuffs on the short sleeves of this simple shirt waist.

LA MODE'S FANCIES.

Russian blouse suits for small boys and girls are always in vogue and always, too, in good taste. They are made simple and are rich in design. On some of them there is hand embroidery in a neat pattern that is very effective.

Point gaze lace has a pompadour effect and is admirable as a halfway measure between real and imitation laces.

Kimono shaped sleeves are very fashionable for nightdresses, trimmed with bands of lace finished at the elbows with soft bows of ribbon.

Long black gloves—long enough to wrinkle up on the arm—are being worn with all kinds of gowns.

Straps evidently hold sway in the slipper world, from suede to patent leather, varying from a single strap to eight in number. Some of these straps are open-work, carrying out the effect of more straps to the end of the slipper.

Iridescent effects are suggested in gold and silver belting. In one light the belting shows nothing but gold; in another it breaks into two or three shimmering shades.

The waist pictured may be carried out in any of the charming silks of the season. The original neck finishing gives character to the model and, together with the three-quarter sleeves, brings it quite up to date.

IN VANITY'S REALM.

Many of the evening dresses are made with a bolero and train cut in one. This is really a return to the old fashioned waterfall worn over different skirts. It makes a little change, but is not generally becoming like the princess lines.

Collars are very high, and when plain linen is becoming this style is preferable to lace.

A woman would be difficult to please who grumbled at the selection of umbrella handles which are being shown just now in the shops. Apart from the ordinary designs in plain woods and metals, oriental effects are prominent, particularly in long handles of antique wood inset with ivory. Han-

SUBSCRIPTION ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR.

Entered as second-class matter July 15, 1904, at the postoffice at Marion, Ky., under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

FRIDAY, FEB. 2, 1906.

Some of our best friends often do the camel swallowing and gnat straining act.

The lowly Nazarene was no respecter of persons, but the world is. Wealth and position are influences before which principle is obliterated by the get-in-the-swim class.

Attorney General Hays is expected to shortly announce his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor of this state. Mr. Hays says he has been assured of strong support and believes he can win the nomination.

Gen. Joseph Wheeler, the famous confederate cavalry leader, and a brigadier general of the United States army since the war with Spain, died at 5:35 Thursday afternoon at the home of his sister, Mrs. Sterling Smith, in Brooklyn. The veteran of two wars was sixty-nine years old, but in spite of his age there was hope until yesterday, of his recovery from the attack of pneumonia which caused his death.

The game laws of the state suit the professional sportsmen all right and the dog tax law when passed will receive no protest from them, as it is evident that many of the humble peasants of the state will dispense with the dog rather than pay the tax. Thus the sportsman and his setter may pass by unmolested. The writer does not keep a dog and we do not believe that the majority of the farmers of the state are in favor of it.

"Mary had a little lamb" that was faithful and loyal said Senator DeHaven, when some one asked the pressing necessity of imposing a dog tax of $1.00 per head in Kentucky ostensibly for the purpose of decreasing the population of dogs in behalf of the sheep herds. It was for the purpose of confirming the loyalty of the dog with the loyalty of the sheep. The senate then passed the dog tax bill by a large majority, only ten opposed. How did Bachelor Maxwell vote?

What is it in the nature of man that cannot always be understood? What is it in the nature of man that aside from his divine power made it possible for the teacher of all teachers to say that if I go to my father I will draw all men unto me. It is either the latent or developed attribute of the soul that is touched. When even a cup of cold water is administered by a loving hand, such as a mother's. You would make the soul of man happy? Foster and nourish those attributes.

The bill as passed by the House of Representatives, provides that Oklahoma and the Indian Territory shall constitute one state under the name of Oklahoma, and that Arizona and New Mexico shall constitute one state under the name of Arizona. Should the terms of admission be ratified by the residents of the territories in question, their respective state constitutions must contain clauses prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors and plural marriages. The constitution of Arizona must prohibit the sale of liquor to Indians forever, and that of Oklahoma for twenty-one years.

Last year our advertising patrons were well pleased with the results THE RECORD brought them. One or two partisan merchants of Marion have dropped out of our columns, but when a member of an opposite party steps into his store he puts him on the back and tries to make him think he's it now, we would not try to leave the impression that all who do not advertise in our columns are partisan and we would have it emphatically understood that a man does not have to patronize THE RECORD if he does not choose to do so, but we would like to remind all such that its home circulation is 124 per cent greater than that of its contemporary.

Walter Wellman shouldn't swell up over his instruction from the Chicago Record-Herald to go to the North Pole in an airship. The writer hereof was working for Col. Leonard, of the Lawrence Journal, once, when something happened around the office which caused the colonel to give the writer an assignment to go straight to hell and to kick about it! And it never got in the papers much, either.—William A. White in Emporia Kas. Gazette.

So many have received an assignment for the place where the news editor was told to go and so may have performed the feat so successfully that it is a common place as compared with a trip to the North Pole. It is also warmer.

We have received from W. D. Cunningham an American missionary, and whose address is No. 6 Naka Cho, Tokyo, Japan, a small memento in the form of a silk Japanese flag, for which we feel grateful. Mr. Cunningham is doing a noble work for Christianity in Japan and is supported by money sent him from America. His letters have been published in this paper heretofore.

The King of Denmark is dead and Prince Fredrick has been proclaimed King. Fredrick VIII, King Fredrick's a great admirer of America. As Crown Prince he never lost an opportunity to welcome prominent American visitors to his palace and always showed the keenest interests in events transpiring in the United States. He is a close reader of American standard books.

Kentucky has counties enough. Look at the following table:

Kentucky, 40,000 square miles in area, population 2,147,174, and counties 119.

Tennessee, 41,750 square miles, population 2,020,616, and the number of counties, 96.

Indiana, 35,919 square miles, population 2,516,462, and number of counties, 92.

Pennsylvania 44,985 square miles, population 6,302,115, and number of counties, 67.

New York 47,620 square miles, population 7,268,012, and number of counties 61.

Ohio 40,760 square miles, population 4,157,545 and number of counties, 88.

Massachusetts 8,940 square miles, population 2,805,346, and number of counties, 14.

A bill creating the office of assistant county attorney for counties having a population of more than 100,000 will likely pass the Kentucky legislature. The next will be additional money for the office of attorney general.

BARTH-BECKHAM DEAL?

Is there a Barth-Beckham deal? Contemporaneous events point that way. A majority of the committee appointed to decide the contest for the seat in the State House of Representatives for the Fifth legislative district of Jefferson, declared that W. G. Baxter was not duly elected, and that no legal election had taken place in the district. The majority report was signed by three Democrats and one Republican. The three Democrats are ardent friends of Gov. Beckham. It was for a time surmised that their report was approved, if not inspired, by the State administration.

It is more than probab'e that preliminary work of organizing the state farmers' institute will be done at Shivelyville.

It is the purpose to have the delegates from all over the state gather there, organize, elect officers and dispose of routine matters.

After this is done a special train will be waiting to bring the entire body to Frankfort.

There the principals speeches of the convention will be made.

Specialists on wheat raising, corn culture, tobacco growing and every department of the up-to-date farm will talk to the farmers and give them the results of years of work along these lines.

A good road expert will also be on hand to tell the farmers the advantage of improving the condition of their highways and thoroughfares and what it means to a country.

Prof. S. G. Hopkins, of the Illinois experiment station, conceded to be the most noted corn expert in the world, will speak to the convention. Prof. P. G. Holden, another authority on this subject, will also be here. There will be Prof. M. A. Scovell, from Kentucky's own experiment station in Lexington. Prof. Scovell is acknowledged to be one of the best posted men in America today on the raising of cattle.

Prof. J. K. Patterson, president of State College, is on the program for an address, as are other brilliant men.

Refused New Trial.

Judge Reed has refused to grant the Paducah Traction Company new trial in the case of J. P. Pierce, administrator of the estate of Malcolm Greenleaf, against that company, in which a verdict for $5,000 damages was returned. Greenleaf was crushed to death between two cars while employed as a conductor on the Paducah Street Railway. The case will be appealed to the court of appeals.

I am sure the teachers and the public in general is very grateful to him for any good accomplished by his efforts to lift the standard of the teaching profession and trying to form a forbearing public opinion toward the teachers.

We sincerely hope that in searching for health he may be eminently successful in order that he may return in due time to assume the responsibility of his chosen profession wielding the influence of a true teacher, dispensing knowledge, good cheer, peace and happiness among those with whom he comes in contact.

In taking charge of this department of our valuable paper we do so not because we think we are peculiarly adapted to that kind of work, nor do we expect to be or become a glittering, glimmering fixture to the newspaper world. But, we accept it rather reluctantly and through a sense of duty.

or will you not? This does not in any sense imply that this column is open to display individual "wares" and to promote personal and selfish interests, but it is open and ready for anything that will lift the standard of teaching and advance education generally. Briefly speaking that's the idea in a nutshell. And the work for me, as I conceive, is to receive and arrange for publication the productions furnished by the teachers—you are one of them.

Now, if you have an idea that will do some one good, it becomes your duty to arrange it pointedly and send it in.

FARMERS TO MEET SOON AT FRANKFORT

A State Farmers' Institute Will Be Held at Frankfort the Latter Part of February.

Farmers all over the state will be interested in an announcement made by Commissioner of Agriculture Vreeland that during the latter part of February a state farmers' institute or convention will be held in Frankfort. For three days the farmers will be gathered there, will hear addresses of the most learned and expert farmers in the country, and then, too, have the opportunity for pushing before the legislature any measures which they may deem necessary or to the advantage of the farmers as a body.

For the past year or so Commissioner Vreeland and his assistants have been engaged in the formation of county farmers' institutes over the state.

These fifty or more county institutes—for that number is already organized—will each send from one to six delegates to the state convention in this city. In the counties to which the work of the state agricultural department has not as yet extended, representatives will be sent by the commercial club's or business men's bodies.

It is more than probab'e that preliminary work of organizing the state farmers' institute will be done at Shivelyville.

WASHINGTON LETTER

From Our Regular Correspondent

Congress is now in a quiescent state. It is conceded that the "insurrection" in the House, if it ever had any real foundation, has broken down. The joint statehood bill will pass unless something very unforeseen happens to prevent, and the House rate bill, which it is conceded embodies the President's ideas more than do the several Senate bills, will go to conference and get trimmed as sure as conference. The Senate is not in the habit of giving up to the House and while there has been some talk of the House "standing pat" on the rate bill, it is not thought that it will. Possibly this estimate of the House is wrong, but there will be more chances to tell at the end of next week.

Arrangements have been made tentatively for the interment at Arlington of Gen. Joseph Wheeler. A site has been selected near the front of the historical Lee Mansion and it has been arranged that there will be an escort from all the branches of the United States force stationed around Washington. The outlook is for the greatest military funeral since the interment of Gen. Lawton at Arlington after his death in battle in the Philippines. Gen. Wheeler was known and liked in Washington long before his service in Cuba. But that service identified him as the real stuff that patriots and not partisans are made of and no one will grudge him the honor of a national burial.

One of the most futile bills of national importance that have been introduced into the Senate for a long time is that of Senator Overman to appoint a commission to study foreign trade conditions with a view to increase the American foreign market. Now Senator Overman ought to know, everyone else does, that the Department of Commerce and Labor, the State Department, the Treasury and even the Department of Agriculture are full of the very information he would send a commission abroad to obtain. The magazines and the newspapers have been full for some years past of facts, figures, much of the magazine material written by such men as Frank Vanderlip and Mr. Conant who have made a study of the subject and whose conclusions are of more value than those of the most politically appointed commission. The information is all at hand, but the thing that is needed is the reform in the consular service which has been urged by the State Department and thwarted by the very Senate of which Mr. Overman is a member, and there is needed an awakening on the part of American manufacturers who have yet to grasp the first principles of world business. The time is rapidly approaching when America will have to capture world markets to keep up the standard of national prosperity that has been set in the past decade. But, the information is already in hand and world markets will not be captured by appointing fresh commission at comfortable salaries to find out what is already known.

The coming of the Imperial Chinese Commission to Washington has been something of a revelation to the officials and in no way more so than in the manner that the Orientals today went after facts in the national finance in the Treasury Department. The mere coming of the commission is not an indication that China is waking up but that she has awakened. The Chinese are among the most expert accountants in the world, and those who have seen them say, the most honest. It is a fact that all the big banking and commercial houses in Japan have Chinese cashiers and tellers to handle the money because a Chinaman is notoriously more honest than a Jap. But when the Chinamen got in touch with the officials in the Treasury Department, they knew what they were coming after and knew the answer to at least half their questions before they asked them. Most of the Imperial commission speak English like natives. The financial interpreter today was a graduate of Harvard and Stanford. He and his fellows were not interested in seeing machines punch holes in discarded greenbacks. They wanted to know the system of government book keeping, the safeguard against leaks, the relation of national bonds to national bank circulation and things in that life useful to a nation that has just established a paper currency and is expanding its national banking system. The members of the commission have been quick to deny that they were in this country either looking after war material or exclusively interested in material progress. They say that they are commissioned to study social and economic problems. But from the thoroughness with which they went through the Naval Academy and apparently absorbed the whole system, it would seem that they were not negligent of the warlike side of western progress either. And if China with her four-hundred million of population decided to reorganize on a military basis, she will force the rest of the world to sit up and take notice.

Fuqua-Binkley.

Gene Fuqua and Miss Carrie Binkley, both of Crayneville, were joined in matrimony Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Crayneville Church, Rev. W. T. Oakley officiating.

The bride is pretty and attractive and is very popular in the neighborhood where she lives.

Mr. Fuqua came to Crayneville some time ago and took the position as head clerk in the general merchandise store of Dorroh & Cook. He is a bright, energetic young man and has made many friends since coming to Crayneville.

A bright and happy future is the sincere wish of all who know them.

After the ceremony Dr. Cook gave a brilliant affair dinner in honor of the occasion.

30-2 ADAMS & PIERCE.

THE LITTLE POCKET PHYSICIAN— A MEDICINE DROPPER OUTFIT

Hyomei Inhaler That Is Guaranteed
by Haynes & Taylor to Cure a Case of Catarrh.

Thousands who have been cured by Hyomei, call the inhaler that comes with every outfit "The little pocket physician," as it is so small that it can be carried in the pocket or purse.

There is really no excuse whatever for anyone having catarrh now that Hyomei is so readily obtainable. If you have any doubts about its value, Haynes & Taylor will let you have a complete outfit with the understanding that unless it cures catarrh it will not cost you a cent.

A complete Hyomei outfit consists of "the little pocket physician," a medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hyomei, and costs only $1, while additional bottles of Hyomei can be procured for 50 cents, making it the most economical treatment for the cure of catarrh.

Eskew Brothers.

The Adams and Pierce Machine Shop has been sold to M. O., J. C. and A. J. Eskew, who will conduct the business at the old stand under the firm name of Eskew Bros.

This sale was effected on account of the failing health of the senior member of the firm, S. R. Adams, whose physician has advised him to seek a healthful climate in the west. The many friends of Mr. Adams regret to learn of this and sincerely trust that he may be able to regain his health soon.

The machine shop could not have fallen into better hands than the Eskew Bros. They are honest, upright and straightforward boys and conscientious in all business dealings.

Dog Lost.

Smooth haired, yellow dog. White on toes and end of tail, medium size, name "Jack." Reward of $5 for return.

L. S. HARD,

Marion, Ky.

Killed by a Mule.

The little six year old son of Dan Patton, of Fredonia, was killed almost instantly killed Sunday afternoon.

The mule had been turned out of the stable and the little fellow unconsciously strolled out into the barnyard. One of the mules, a very wild and vicious one, kicked him in the stomach knocking him lifeless. He was carried into the house and medical assistance secured almost immediately, but the child lived only about twenty minutes.

Mr. Patten is a prominent druggist, of Fredonia, and widely known. The deepest sympathy is extended to the family in this dreadful calamity.

Brookshire-Baird.

Wyatt Brookshire and Miss Lossie E. Baird were quietly married Sunday morning at the home of the officiating minister, Elder J. L. Paris.

The bride is a daughter of Grant Beard, a prosperous farmer, living West of Crayneville. She is a pretty and attractive young lady and the host of friends wish the happy couple a long and happy life of married bliss.

Tired Nervous

When you feel languid, tired, nervous and irritable, your vitality is low—your supply of nerve energy exhausted, and your system running down for lack of power.

The organs of the body are working poorly, or not at all, and you are not getting the nourishment needed. This soon impoverishes the blood and instead of throwing off the impurities, distributes it all through the body. This brings disease and misery.

Feed the nerves with Dr. Miles' Nervine, a nerve food, a nerve medicine, that nourishes and strengthens the nerves, and see how quickly you will get strong and vigorous.

"My wife suffered with nervousness and fits, and I thought she had fever, but after her recovery from the fever, she was much worse, and could hardly control herself being exceedingly nervous when the least excited. She would remain in bed all day, and never had a good night's rest. She also suffered much from nervous headache. Dr. Miles' Nervine was recommended by a friend. After the first dose, she slept well and had a good night's rest, and at the end of the first week's treatment she was wonderfully improved. Continued use of Nervine has completed her entire cure."

OTTO KOLB,

1021 Cherry St., Evansville, Ind.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

Common Colds are the Cause of Many Serious Diseases

Physicians who have gained a national reputation as analysts of the cause of various diseases, claim that if catching cold could be avoided a long list of dangerous ailments would never be heard of. Every one knows that pneumonia and consumption originate from a cold, and chronic catarrh, bronchitis, and all throat and lung trouble are aggravated and rendered more serious by each fresh attack. Do not risk your life or take chances when you have a cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure it before these diseases develop. This remedy contains no opium, morphine or other harmful drugs and has thirty years of reputation back of it, gained by its cure under every condition. For sale by Haynes & Taylor.

The men who complain loudest about their wives being bargain hunters are usually the men who compel their wives to hunt bargains in order to keep the family clothed and fed.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON V, FIRST QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, FEB. 4.

Text of the Lesson, Matt. iv, 1-11. Memory Verse, 4—Golden Text, Heb. iv, 15—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Sterns.

(Copyright, 1906, by American Press Association.)

We see in the Lord Jesus a man perfectly controlled by the Holy Spirit. In all His thoughts and words and works He was a man, a real man, found in fashion as a man, a man like other men, sin excepted, but wholly for God to live out the purposes of God and accomplish the work for which He had sent Him; set apart by the Father and sent into the world (John x, 36) to manifest God to the world, to make atonement for the sins of the world, to redeem and purify unto Himself in thousands of people everywhere and gathering out for Himself a trained people with whom He shall yet rule the world in righteousness.

In His baptism He formally entered upon His official work for which He had been in preparation those thirty years at Nazareth. In this life He devoted Himself to the accomplishment of salvation by death, burial and resurrection and all that is therein included. Ever since Adam by his sin handed the planet over to the devil the devil has had an awful lot to do with this earth and the people upon it, but the Great Deliverer, the seed of the woman, the Lord Jesus, shall yet bind him.

Inasmuch as Satan is still on the field and wages war against the redeemed of the Lord, let us seek to learn from this lesson some of his wiles and our Great Captain's method of victory, for He is saying to us, "Look on Me and do likewise" (Judg. viii, 17). Some think that if they are filled with the Spirit they will not be tempted, but note that Jesus, being full of the Spirit, was led by the Spirit to be tempted. Compare Luke iv, 1. The forty days carry us back to the twice forty days of Moses, the forty days of Elijah and His own forty days between resurrection and ascension (Acts i, 3). These three seem together on the Mount of Transfiguration speaking of His decease by which He was to destroy the devil and deliver the oppressed (Luke ix, 31; Heb. ii, 14) make us wonder concerning the light that is yet to break upon these great events.

Both Mark and Luke say that He was tempted during the forty days, and Mark adds that He "was with the wild beasts." We may be sure that they were as subdued as were the lions in the den with Daniel; but are we not reminded that David had victory over a lion and a bear before he conquered Goliath? After the forty days' fast we read that He was hungry, and then the devil suggested that if He was the Son of God He need not be hungry, for He could turn stones into bread. God the Father had just said at the baptism, "This is my beloved Son." But this father of liars and murderers and all unbelievers, who does not hesitate to make God a liar (compare Gen. ii, 17, and iii, 4, and see I John v, 10), says, "Perhaps you are not the Son of God after all, for if you are why go hungry?" It is a very common suggestion of his, if you were a child of God, would He suffer you to lack this or that? And there are many who listen to him and because of feelings or circumstances doubt their acceptance with God.

Our first parents, with all their needs abundantly supplied, were led by the tempter to doubt the love of God and the word of God and to gratify a wrong desire by eating the forbidden fruit. Our Lord Jesus, the last Adam, being hungry, is tempted to gratify a most lawful desire, but not in a God appointed way. If Christ had saved Himself from hunger by miraculous power He would not have been truly with us.

The second temptation covers ways that are not of God, presumptuous ways. When the devil in this temptation quoted Scripture he omitted the words "in all thy ways." When believers presume upon being kept from harm in ways that are not of God they have fallen into this snare of the devil. It also includes the thought of seeming to be some great one, the pride of life, superiority. Only humility can walk with God. Pride is of the devil, as are also all self will and self seeking.

In the third temptation the devil seems to understand that Christ would wrest the earth from him, and he offers it to Him on conditions—there need be no delay, no humiliation, no suffering, no Calvary, if He will only bow to Satan, adopt his methods. Dr. Weston says that this temptation has sin in the church. She ascended the throne of the caesars and sung the song of triumph. She is no longer as a bride awaiting her Lord's return, but sits as a queen and has no sorrow. Instead of power over men by the gospel it is power by worldly means.

In all Christ triumphed by "It is written," thus fully endorsing all that is written in Scripture. And we know how frequently in His public ministry He said, "It is written," "Have ye not read?" "How readest thou?" In eleven out of the sixteen chapters of Romans Paul uses "It is written" at least seventeen times. If we would conquer Satan and enjoy the ministry of the Spirit by His word and the ministry of angels, we must tolerate no doubts nor fears nor thoughts of self, but be wholly occupied with Christ and skillful in the use of the shield of faith and the sword of the Spirit (Eph. vi, 10-18). It is interesting to note that our Lord quoted each time from Deuteronomy (viii, 3; vi, 13, 16), and we do not wonder that Satan specially hates that book.

THE CLOTHOPPER AND THE BALD-HEADED MAN.

[A story of love and business told in verse, and written expressly for THE RECORD by Robert C. Haynes, author of "Dark Days and Bright."]

XXIX.

"What a dear, noble girl; but don't say 'Mr. Green,' You may just call me Pounder, won't you, Imogene? For 'twas you that I met--may I love you thro' life? Mayn't we walk down life's pathway as husband and wife?

"Oh, my! What a pity it is, Pounder Green, That our views here converge!" said the fair Imogene; "For I can't be your wife--ah, how could it be so, When, to tell you the truth, I am soon to wed Joe!"

"You are soon to wed Joe?" answered Green; "Oh, I see, And of course you will be a dear sister to me! Well, I'll just say bye-bye! It has altered my plan, But I'll get it all back on that bald-headed man!"

XXX.

It was ev'ning once more, and the stars, now aglow, Seemed to wink at each other---why should it be so? Why should not e'en the stars thus be mirthful and gay, Since this was the fair Imogene's wedding day?

The guests had arrived; all was laughter and glee; And the minister, too--Brother Brownlow McGee-- Had just crowded within, where one scarcely could stand, When some one announced that "the bridegroom's at hand!"

"Now brethren and sisters and friends, give us room," The minister said, while as hush'd as the tomb Were the voices so mirthful a moment before, As the bridegroom and bride now appeared at the door.

XXXI.

"Now before I proceed, friends," the preacher began, "I would kindly suggest to the bald-headed man, That he move further onward and stand there between The man at the top and the hard-pounding Green.

"In the garden of Eden, man's first dwelling place, The first wedding occurred---God's best gift to our race; And his word has gone forth that man can't live alone, He must have a fair helpmate, one truly his own.

"Now, therefore, I would ask you, does any one know Why this man--who's none else than the hod-wielding Joe-- Should not wed this young lady, the fair Imogene, Who's so useful and apt on the writing machine?"

XXXII.

"I do not object," said the hard-pounding Green, "Altho' I, too, once tho't that I loved Imogene; But, to tell you the truth, 'twas a concocted plan Gotten up betwixt me and the bald-headed man!"

"I do not object," said the bald-headed man, "For, altho' it at first somewhat altered my plan, Yet in truth I must say that the hard-pounding Green Gives a very good punch to a writing machine."

"I do not object," said the man at the top,

"Altho' now for two days has our work had to stop; We can make it all right tho' tomorrow, if Turk Will then shoulder his hod and go on with his work!"

XXXIII.

"Ah, that's good of you, brethren," said Brother McGee; "There are no better men than these gentlemen three; The hard-pounding Green and the bald-headed man, And the man at the top--beat that trio who can!"

"And now, Joseph Turk, you who once hopp'd the clods, But who now is engaged in the welding of rods, Do you take this young lady to be your dear wife? Will you cherish and love her the rest of your life?

"Very good; and do you, the fair Imogene Moss-- You who left your machine and your bald-headed boss-- Will you take this young man for your husband thro' life? Will you stick to him, too, 'mid contentions and strife?

XXXIV.

"Ah, again very good; now let each bow his head-- And you, brethren, too, while these last words are said; They will be just a few, for I've finish'd my work; You are husband and wife--Joe and Imogene Turk!

"In conclusion, I'll say just a word to you, Turk, Be faithful and true, and go on with your work! Your dear wife and the pitfalls of life stand between, As you stood betwixt her and the writing machine!

"And in turn, I'll just say to you, Imogene Turk, Deal gently with Joe and your duty ne'er shirk; Just cast off all 'besetments' of life, Imogene, As you did, in good shape too, the hard-pounding Green!"

XXXV.

"I wish you much joy," said the hard-pounding Green; "May your lives run as smooth as a writing machine; May you cling to each other up life's rugged hill, Like the bald-headed boss to a five dollar bill!"

"I wish you much joy," said the bald-headed man; "May you be of one mind and have only one plan; May life's path be as bright and as smooth, be it said, As obstructionless, too, as the top of my head!"

"I wish you much joy," said the man at the top; "May your joys ever flow and no tears ever drop; May your lives be cemented with love till you'll stick, Each one to the other, like mortar and brick!"

MINERAL RESOURCES GOOD IN WESTERN KENTUCKY

Revision by F. Julius Fohs of Reports on Lead, Zinc and Fluor Spar Field in Western Kentucky....
Editorial in Henderson Journal.

At a recent open meeting of the commercial club held in the Park Theater the principal speaker, Mr. W. G. Arner, of Owensboro, twitted the Henderson people with their lack of enterprise and self-reliance, in that they had allowed a party of Pennsylvania capitalists to come in, acquire and develop the valuable measures lying at our very doors. He gave us to understand that our contemptuous ignorance of this boundless wealth was a reproach, and intimidated that other communities would have shown more "get-up."

At the time we were a little restive under the lash so vigorously wielded by the gentleman from Owensboro, and were of the opinion, as we still are, that the case of Henderson was virtually the case of the State of Kentucky at large.

By way of support we find, for example, in the report of the Progress of the Survey for the years 1904 and 1905, recently published by the Kentucky Geological Survey, this statement as to the Western coal field. Facts have been discovered, it says, as to the work in Ohio, Muhlenberg, McLean, Hopkins, Webster and Union counties, together with data from Henderson, which will necessitate a sharp revision of opinion in regard to the distribution and order of the coal fields.

This was written before the work inaugurated by Mr. Nicholson had progressed sufficiently to admit of inclusion in the data referred to. Similarly the revision by Mr. F. Julius Fohs of the existing reports and tabulated information as to the lead, zinc and spar regions of Western Kentucky has developed a great deal of interest. New facts have been discovered and it will fall to Mr. Fohs to contribute a paper virtually new from beginning to end. Henderson people have been in-adapted for bathing and may some day be the ideal bathing resort of North America. It may seem preposterous to talk of the finest sea bathing on earth a thousand miles from the ocean, but truth is no less true because it appears absurd. The sea bathing in Salt Lake surpasses anything of the kind on either the Atlantic or Pacific coast. As the water contains many times more salt and other solid material, it is said to be powerful in medicinal virtues curing or benefiting many forms of rheumatic and nervous disorders. It is a patent tonic and invigorating to both body and mind and there is no end of fun in getting acquainted with the peculiarities. A first bath is always as good as a circus, the bather being his or her own amusing trickster. The specific gravity being greater than that of the human body, one will float like a cask. Using distilled water as unity, Pacific Ocean water has a gravity of 1.027 and Salt Lake water 1.107. There is not a fish or any living thing in all this 2500 or 3000 square miles of beautiful water except the yearly increasing swarms of summer bathers. Not a shark or sturgeon to scare the timid swimmer or floater—not a crab or crawfish to nip the toe of the nervous wader—not a minnow or a frog, a tadpole or a pollywog, in fact, but the water and such substances as it holds in solution.

Master Commissioner's Sale.

Crittenden Circuit Court, Ky.
Mrs. Lena B. Powell, pl'tiff
Against Audell Elder, def't

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Crittenden Circuit Court, rendered at the November term thereof, 1905, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the court house door in Marion to the highest bidder, at public auction, on Monday, February 12, 1906, at 1 o'clock, p.m., or thereabout, (being court day), upon a credit of six months, the following described property, to wit:

Beginning on a stake corner to lot No. 3 in division of land of G. W. Elder, running thence N 64°, W 57 poles to a stone, S 43°, W 44 poles to a stone, thence S 7°, E 58 poles to a stake in bed of creek, thence S 54°, E 74 poles to a stone corner to L. A. Dowell, thence N 81°, E 3 poles to a stone corner to lot No. 3, thence northeast 169 poles to the beginning, containing 48 acres less 18½ acres sold off of this tract of land to—Miles on May 14, 1897. (See deed book No. 6, page 290, in the office of the Crittenden county clerk.)

Hence we gather that the State is called upon to do for Kentucky what the commercial club is doing for Henderson, viz.: to collect, to classify, and to tabulate information.

standing dumbfounded before your own mathematical truths. Say Salt Lake is 100 miles long and 27 miles wide. That gives an area of 2700 square miles. There are 27,878,400 square feet in one mile, so the lake has an area of 75,271,680,000 square feet. Take 20 feet as its average depth, then 20 times 75,271,680,000 will give us 1,506,451,600,000 cubic feet as the contents of the lake. Now, 16½ per cent or one-sixth of this according to the analysis of eminent chemists, is salt and sulphate of soda. That is, the lake contains 250,905,600,000 cubic feet of salt and soda. Of this mass ½ is sulphate of soda and ½ is common salt. A cubic foot of soda weighs 50 pounds and a cubic foot of salt weighs 80 pounds, so we have the contents in part of this unparalleled reservoir of wealth 784,080,000 tons of sulphate of soda and 8,789,169,600 tons of salt. When figures mount as these do to trillions, they become too vast for any careless handling. These are thus far correct and reasonable though almost incomprehensible. Carry the computation a little further, say sulphate of soda is worth $20 per ton, 784,080,000 tons of it is worth in the markets of the world, $156,816,000. Put a value of $10 per ton on salt and 8,789,169,600 tons of it will have a money value of $87,801,696,000 or enough in two ingredients of this watery wonder of the new world to pay all the national debts in Christendom and leave a nice little fortune for every man, woman and child in the United States. Do these figures seem astounding? The facts are astounding and the figures but do them justice. The conclusions are inexorable and the figures though overwhelming, are absolutely correct and trustworthy, but let us split the figures in two, halve all the estimates and we still have a sum so prodigious that all the arithmetic classes of creation would stagger before it.

The whole lake is dotted with picturesque mountain islands rising out of the blue-green water to a height of from 3000 to 5000 feet above the level of the lake. The principal of these brine surrounded beauties are: Antelope, St. Mary, Fremont, Carrington, Gunnison, Dolphin, Mud, Egg, and Hat Island. Antelope is the largest of them all and is 16 miles long and 5 miles wide. It lies in plain view of Salt Lake City and towers to an altitude of 4000 feet above the surface of the lake and abounds in exquisite scenery. Streams of pure, fresh water tumble down its rocky canyons, rich grasses flourish everywhere and it is beautified by groves of trees, thrifty ranches, orchards and gardens. Short deposits of salt of iridescent hues are found upon it. It has a beautiful, gently sloping beach of snowy sand well

State Democracy Also on Record.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 25.—A Democratic House went on record this morning as conducting the election frauds in Louisville. Whatever might have been the real vote of the House, the rulings of the temporary speaker, W. J. Goode, forced the result. The majority report had been received, signed by three Democrats, who had no motive and no interest in the case except to see the ends of fairness, and by no Republicans on the committee. A minority report, apparently written by Chas. Carroll, was signed Mulcahy, Barr and Gates.

The majority report declared there was no election held in the Fifteenth district. Which consists of the tenth ward of Louisville, and recommended that neither side be paid any expenses. The minority report declared W. G. Baxter elected over B. E. Neal, and allowed Baxter about $275 expenses.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Long visited in the Pleasant Hill neighborhood last Sunday.

Wyatt Brookshire and Miss Lossie Beard were married at the home of Rev. Paris Sunday while sitting in a buggy.

Levias.

James B. Franklin is improving and we hope to soon see him out.

John H. Grimes has entered a business college at Memphis, Tenn.

Fred Love and family have moved to the H. C. Love place where he will make a crop.

Miss May Barnes, of Ledbetter, returned home after several days visiting relatives here.

The bright weather of late has enabled the farmers to do a great deal of fencing and clearing.

Dr. J. Anthony Davidson was out greeting his friends last week, the first time for several months.

Work at the Keystone mines has opened up with renewed activity. The Happy Jim however, is awaiting the music of the spring birds.

The county judge did some much needed road supervising here last week. We hope his decision will be satisfactory and that long neglected piece of road will now receive attention. Now, let us have that bridge across the Carter branch and we will be satisfied for a while.

Smith Jones will move his saw mill to the bridge on Crooked Creek in a few days.

Aunt Nancy McLean has been confined to her room for several days, but is improving.

Distinctively Different; In Every Way the Best.

The Weekly Globe-Democrat, of St. Louis, covers a field peculiarly and exclusively its own.

It is issued twice a week. A big SEMI-WEEKLY paper. Eight to ten large pages every Tuesday and Friday. One Dollar a year.

Nothing particularly different, you say, about that—there are other "Twice-a-Week" papers.

Yes, but the similarity ends there. No other paper is like the Globe-Democrat in any other respect.

An entirely unique feature of the Globe-Democrat, a feature which is highly prized by its readers, is its systematic method of preserving and presenting the CONTINUITY OF NEWS.

The two papers each week, Tuesday and Friday, are carefully prepared with the view of giving the complete news of all the world for that week.

They are so combined in the make-up as to form continued and connected stories of the various important events, showing the developments from day to day and the final results.

Other weekly and twice-a-week papers, as a rule, print only a few telegrams of the day of issue.

The "Twice-a-Week" Globe-Democrat gives the telegrams of every day in the week more comprehensively than the average Daily, and of more value to the average reader.

Moreover, the "Twice-a-Week" Globe-Democrat is not simply an echo of the Daily edition.

It is a separate and distinct publication, especially prepared to supply the requirements of people who want all the news of all the earth—and something more.

It presents the World's daily history in concise but complete form. It is of equal interest in all parts of the United States. It is invaluable alike to men and women, young and old.

It thoroughly provides for every member of the family. In high-grade literature particularly excels. Its market reports are correct and complete in every detail.

Its departments devoted to "The Home," "The Farm and Garden," "The Family Circle," "The Sunday School," "Science and Industry," are each and all THE BEST of their kind and either one is more than worth the subscription price of the paper.

In politics it is strictly REPUBLICAN, but it is above all a newspaper, and it tells the truth without fear or favor. It has no equal or rival as a great National news and home journal.

Remember the price, only One Dollar per year 104 papers—less than one cent a copy. Postage prepaid.

You will make no mistake if you send $1.00 TODAY for a year's subscription. Or you can get your own paper ONE YEAR WITHOUT COST by inducing two of your neighbors to subscribe and sending their names with $2.00.

FREE SAMPLE COPIES, containing order blanks and full particulars, will be cheerfully furnished upon receipt of postal card request. Address Globe Printing Company, Publishers,
