TOBACCO BILL CHOKED OFF

Power of Tobacco Trust is Great in Senate

SENATOR ALDRICH BLAMED

Bill Passed the Lower Without a Dissenting Vote to Remove Six Cents Tax from Farmer.

SUCH LAW WOULD NOT SUIT TRUST.

Washington, April 8.—Slim, indeed, seem to be the prospects of the passage through the Senate of the bill, which recently passed the House, removing the tax of six cents a pound on unmanufactured tobacco. When the bill reached the Senate it was referred to the Committee on Finance, of which Senator Aldrich, of Rhode Island, is chairman, and then referred to a sub-committee. This was nearly a month ago, but the bill is still sleeping in a pigeon hole. Yielding to the urgent importunities of independent tobacco growers, the sub-committee expects to grant a few hearings to the measure, but it was admitted today by the members of the sub-committee that there was little chance of its passage at this session of Congress.

Representative Hopkins, of Kentucky, who was very active in securing the passage of the bill through the House, says it is being smothered by the Senate committee through the influence of the tobacco trust, so-called, and he asserts that Senator Aldrich is the principal obstacle in its way.

Speaking of the situation this afternoon he said: "The House without a dissenting vote, passed the bill which would have allowed the farmer of Kentucky to sell or otherwise dispose of his tobacco crop just as other farmers dispose of their wheat, corn and potatoes, and the purchaser could in turn sell it as he chose. Under the operation of such a law the farmer could exchange his tobacco with his merchant for groceries, shoes, etc., and the latter could again sell it to his customers at one-half the price he would have to charge for the most inferior grade of manufactured tobacco. It would open up a new field of trade for the farmer who now has but one customer, the tobacco trust, which dictates the price."

"This, of course, would not suit the trust, whose chief aim is to kill off all kinds of competition in both the buying and selling markets. Every pound of leaf tobacco sold by the farmer would replace a similar amount of manufactured product, and cut off the profit on the same of not less than 100 per cent. to the trust."

"Moreover, it would tend to raise the price on raw stock which the trust has to buy from the farmer."

Electric Line to Henderson.

The Evansville and Henderson Traction Company has filed articles of incorporation with a capital stock of $10,000, divided into $100 shares. The company is to operate an electric line from Evansville, Ind., to Henderson, Ky., passing through Howell, Ind. The line will have a length of twelve miles. Incorporators and stock holders are as follows: H. W. Richardson, twenty shares; J. E. Bohannon, twenty shares; A. L. Rich, twenty shares; C. C. Tennis, twenty shares; C. H. Britton, fourteen shares; E. G. Reiman, three shares; J. W. Prichard, three shares. The limit of debt is $50,000.

Indian Moccasins.

Jno. W. Wright of Hazelton, Kas., who is here in the interest of the Spencer Davis sickle self-sharpener, carries in his grip a pair of real Indian moccasins made by an Indian squaw in her wigwam on the reservation. The beads are artistically attached and the moccasins present the idea of comfort and ease.

Teachers for Philippines.

Washington, D. C., April 10.—One hundred and twelve American teachers will begin their work in the Philippine public schools when their next session opens on June 10. Of these teachers 100 are men and twelve are women, eight wives, sisters and fiancées of men who are going to the islands to teach or are already employed in insular schools.

Hardship in the remote provinces have proved too much for women teachers and consequently few women are being employed at present and great care is taken not to send them when they have not relatives and friends. None of the new teachers are more than forty years old and most of them much younger. Young college men form a considerable part of the force of the new teachers.

All agree to remain in the islands for two years in the government service.

A Stable Burned.

There was an alarm of fire given Saturday which proved to be a stable belonging to Dr. Trisler. The building together with some feed and a buggy were completely destroyed.

It is supposed to have caught from a match dropped by a colored boy in the employ of Dr. Trisler, who had been in the stable a short time before and had lighted a pipe before going out. The boy had taken one of the horses out and the other one was barely saved.

TELEPHONE FRANCHISE NOT CONSIDERED

City Council Declines to Act at Present But May Do so Later-- Other Work.

At the regular meeting of the council Tuesday night J. D. Templeman, representing the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Company, presented a petition signed by quite a number of business men asking that a telephone franchise be sold. The form of franchise and petition were read, but with the exception of one councilman the body declined to receive the matter for consideration. A number of the petitioners have since appeared a bit indignant at the action of the council, but there is good reason to believe that many of the councilmen were not at all averse to the reception of the petition at another time, and in fact, some have so expressed themselves, still it seems that a petition from such a large number of fair minded business men would be worthy of consideration at any time.

The question of publishing the city ordinances was to have been disposed of at Tuesday night's meeting, but left over again until next meeting. All bids were duly in as requested, but the city attorney decided that the lowest bid was not properly before the house, although it was according to the order as shown by the minutes. It was a request communicated to the city clerk in person before the meeting to the effect that the Record be permitted to continue the publication of the ordinances on the terms of the contract that publication now has with the city.

Obituary.

At about 8 o'clock Monday evening, March 19, 1906, at his home near Fredonia, Ky., Mr. James Willis Crider passed from earth to immortality leaving a sorrowing wife and a large family to mourn him. He was a kind and indulgent father and friend, a good neighbor. He was patient under long and painful suffering.

He was baptized into the Baptist church in Oct., 1905. God has promised a reward to the faithful and if the wife, seven dear boys and niece will be faithful and true as was he, when comes the time for them, too, to give the ties of life, that dear father, uncle and husband will smilingly welcome them into the pearly gates, that have opened to him. He died like "One sustained and soothed by an unflinching trust, like one who wraps the drapery of his couch around him, and lies down to pleasant dreams."

A FRIEND.

Wife Murderer Improving.

Hopkinsville, Ky., April 4.—Percy J. Luster, said to have murdered his wife at Guthrie last July and who was committed to the asylum here several days ago in a very serious condition, is very much improved. His appetite has returned and he is now able to set up all the time. The physician says he cannot yet tell whether Luster will recover.

Jesse Bowling eighty-eight years old known as "Uncle Jess" a'over Christian county, died at his home in Crofton last week.

FREIGHT TRAIN BADLY WRECKED

Three Freight Cars Totally Demolished.

NO ONE SERIOUSLY INJURED

Passenger Train Delayed Several Hours Makes Transfer of Passengers Necessary.

EXACT CAUSE OF WRECK UNKNOWN.

Although no lives were lost one of the most disastrous wrecks on the I. C. this year occurred Saturday morning about one mile south of the city just before noon.

Three heavy box cars of a north bound freight train were derailed, tearing up the track perhaps fifty yards and completely demolishing the cars, which happened to be empty.

It took several hours after the wrecking crew arrived to clear the track so that other trains could pass over it.

Passenger train due here from Evansville at 11:15 was detained until 11:27, when passengers and baggage were transferred, the 11:15 going back to Evansville pulled by a freight engine secured in the yards and the 1:27 backing back to Princeton.

On account of recent rains an abundance of mud made it still more unpleasant in transferring the passengers from one train to the other.

Traffic of all kinds was delayed fully six hours until the track would be cleared and the road made passable.

The exact cause of the wreck has not been ascertained but it was possibly caused by some defect in the rails or perhaps fast running around the curve.

Luckily no one was seriously injured and beyond the loss to the railroad company no harm was done.

JIM HOWARD TAKES UP EAST BURDEN

Condemned Man Begins Work in the Penitentiary Without Complaint.

Frankfort, Ky., April 4.—James B. Howard entered upon his duties in the penitentiary this morning without a murmur.

He was assigned as off-bearer to the planer in the sand room and told several prisoners he had been in training for the work for several months.

Obituary.

Willie B. Beard, son of F. M. and Mollie Beard, was born Oct. 15, 1876, and died Feb. 25, 1906, of pneumonia. He leaves a devoted father and mother, a brother and a host of friends to mourn for him, for I never knew any one so universally loved or more deserving than was Willie. Oh, how we all shall miss him and long for the clasp of his vanished hand, for the sound of his sweet voice that is stilled. If his voice was so sweet here, how melodious it must be now, spiritualized and glorified in Heaven. I imagine I can see him basking in the sunlight of eternal glory singing praises to God.

Willie has left us and our hearts and homes are desolate, but death is the gate that opens out of earth toward the House eternal in the Heavens. While we have lost a loyal friend and loved one Heaven gains a bright jewel, and while we sorrow here he rejoices in his eternal home, where death never enters and where partings are never known.

Dear parents, your noble boy is not lost to you forever; he is yours as ever, as you are his. The ties that unite you are not broken. They are too strong for death's stroke. They are made for the joys of eternal love. I know you feel as if your hearts were crushed, but Christ is our refuge and help in time of trouble, and He doeth all things well. It seems hard to us that Willie was taken in his noble young manhood, when he would have been such a comfort and help to you, his dear parents, in your declining years. God's workings are sometimes mysterious to us. We in our human weakness cannot see and understand, for we indeed see through a glass darkened, but the Bible tells us He doth not willingly afflict and just a few fleeting months, or years at most, and you will meet your darling son in that Home, Sweet Home. Again you will hear his precious voice and how grandly sweet it will be when he welcomes you as the pearly gates unfold, never to say goodbye any more—no more heartaches, no more pain, no more care, but rest, peace and heavenly joy through all eternity.

The silver cord is loosened
That held the immortal part,
And coldness wraps the bosom
And stillness claims the heart.

But yet, where'er the spirit
May wander on its way,
God's promise we inherit,
'Twill live in endless day.

—Written by his Cousin E.

SENSATIONAL SUIT TO BE BROUGHT

At Owensboro to Recover the Estate of Mrs. Lena Weeks for Dowie's Church.

Notice of a sensational suit to be filed at Owensboro by the Zion church of Chicago, against the estate of Lena Weeks, was made several days ago.

The proposed litigation will involve the property in which Mrs. Lena Weeks formerly held an interest and which she gave to Zion City, when she became a citizen of that place and a member of the Dowie community.

Mrs. Weeks formerly resided in Hopkinsville but left there last fall to join Dowie's congregation. When she became a member, she gave over all of her property to Zion City, and the law department of Zion immediately proceeded to assume charge of it.

Investigation shows that relatives in Hopkinsville had for the past several years been paying the taxes on the place for which they claimed it. These relatives refuse to turn over the property to the Dowie lawyers, hence the law suit will shortly be brought to recover the property.

The attorney representing the Zion Law Department has in his possession a letter he claims was written by Mrs. Weeks in which she gives entire estate to "Zion and Christ."

Mrs. Weeks' relatives will make a strong fight against giving up the property and a warm legal contest is promised.

New Barber Firm.

H. F. Foster, the well known barber, has sold his barber shop to Messrs. Walter Burns and Walter McConnell. Mr Foster contemplates going to New Mexico to reside in the future. He has made many friends since coming to Marion and there is a general feeling of regret at his departure. The barber shop will continue to do business under the firm name of Burns & McConnell.

These are deserving young men, experienced in their line of business and well worthy the citizens' patronage.

An Error.

The local in a recent issue of the Record saying that A. S. Hard would go to Shady Grove Tuesday, June 10, was in error and should have read "Tuesday, April 10." Any way the seed sweet potatoes have already been delivered and will soon be growing.

WILL START A NEW ROAD

On Madisonville & Hartford
New Railroad.

IN HEART OF GOOD COUNTRY.

Contracts for Construction of New Road to Be Let on the 23rd Inst.

TAPS RICH MINERALS AND TIMBER.

The building of the Madisonville, Hartford and Eastern railroad, which is now assured, is due entirely to the energy, ability and enterprise of a few well-known Madisonville citizens. And that the building of this road is assured, is evidenced by the fact the final contracts for construction will be let on the 23d day of this month, and the work of construction will begin immediately afterward.

But building the railroad is not the only enterprise that is on foot. A new town has been surveyed and platted, and the promoters of this enterprise seem perfectly confident that within a few years it will be the metropolis of the Green-river valley.

At the first opening of the new railroad it was apparent to all who looked the proposed route over that there was room for one good town between Madisonville and Hartford, and what is thought to be the right spot for this town has been selected. It lies in one of the most beautiful and picturesque spots of Kentucky, surrounded by rich mineral, timbered and agricultural lands, and coal mines are already being opened in the vicinity in anticipation of the coming of the road.

LARGE FAMILIES IN MUHLBERG.

Citizens Are Fathers of Twenty-Four Children, While Broods of Sixteen Are Common.

Central City, April 12.—Some county up in the mountains is boldly making the assertion that it has the most fatherly man in the state for the reason that he had 20 children, one wife being the mother of eight, and other twelve. Muhlenberg county has always been slow to boast, but when she sees another claim the honor that rightly belong to her she must object and step forward to numerate some of her fatherly citizens. William Allen has 24 children four by his first wife and twenty by the last; Meredith Walker has 12 children, all whom of whom had the same mother; William Greenwood has twenty, and only one wife, and Elijah Duke has 18 children, all having the same mother, and there are a hundred other families having 16 children. These fathers are and were all Muhlenberg county citizens and would be highly elated did their effort to place their native town in a higher class by increasing the population secure for them an autograph letter from the President who appreciates such efforts.

Protect Proprietary Medicines.

Did it ever occur to a you that proprietary medicines are a blessing to mankind generally? The good ones have long continued sale; the poor ones have short life and soon leave the market.

If we had to depend entirely upon physicians and druggists it would be expensive and very inconvenient at times, especially in the country and at night when neither could be conveniently reached. For nearly forty years Boschee's German Syrup has been used in many families, and thousands of lives of adults and children have been saved by its use, when it was impossible to reach a physician. German Syrup is the best household remedy for coughs, colds, throat and lung trouble. It quickly relieves the hacking cough, loosens the phlegm, and brings sound and refreshing sleep. Twenty-five and seventy-five cents. For sale by Woods & Orme.

His Wife's Talent

AN EASTER STORY

By ELVIRA FLOYD FROEMCKE

THE Babcocks were fortunate young people; and their good luck was more than partially invested in Nancy. Nancy was of the grenadier type; severe, capable and thorough. She had been "managing" for the ten months of their married existence; cooking, washing, ironing and dictating, till they became more like her children; and the day she proposed to "earn Mrs. Babcock housekeeper" was a day deferred.

One sad morning Mrs. Babcock passed as she opened the kitchen pantry door, for there, like a ghost of the departed, hung Nancy's "chore duds," i. e., faded cotton skirt and sack, checked sunbonnet and huge prunella gaiters. "Mercy!" exclaimed she, "I feel as if Nancy's eyes were on me. I wish she were here. I'd hug her."

"What's that?" called Joe. "If you feel like hugging anybody, come here and hug me, for I must be off."

Mollie sniffed. "Poor Nancy, I hope she can come back to-day. Oh, Joe! Easter three days off, Nancy sick, the choir coming here for Easter supper, and a wife who knows nothing but singing and loving! Poor Joe!"

Joe did not answer, but his kisses proved his content, and Mollie, flushed and smiling, was convinced.

A boy stopped Joe at the gate. "I'd like to see Mrs. Babcock," he said. Joe indicated Mollie.

"That ain't never Aunt Nancy's marm," he gasped; then "Be ye?" to Mollie; and added: "Wa'al, I swan, before he delivered the mournful news of Aunt Nancy's 'swol' jaw and shet eyes' that would keep her in bed for a week."

"Oh-h!" said Mollie, and "Oh-h-h!" mocked Joe.

"What shall we do?" laughed Mollie. "Do everything we proposed and a little more, to show how clever we are," answered Joe.

"Yes, but Alice Morris will pity you for having married me."

"Will she? Then think how you would have pitied me had I married her," and, singing a rollicking little song, he ran down the path, like the happy fellow he was.

At choir practice that night they rehearsed the Easter anthem, "Therefore, Let Us Keep the Feast." The music was new and delightful. Sopranos and tenors led, Alice Morris coming in with her deep contralto at the words "with malice and uncharitableness."

"Alice sings her solo as if she understood malice perfectly," whispered one of the chorus. Mollie heard the ungracious remark and resolved to be very gentle with Alice and her friend, if possible.

She spoke pleasantly and walked home beside her. She told her she had and, dressing swiftly, he hastened downstairs. No breakfast odors greeted him, and the house was very quiet. The kitchen fire blazed, but no kettle was over it. There with her head on the table was Mollie, sobbing as if her heart would break, and from the refrigerator rolled and effervesced rusk dough, that like a frothy sea surged over the kitchen floor.

"What under the canopy," began Joe, and then he laughed. Oh, oh, how he laughed!

Mollie tried to look haughty, but broke down and sobbed out her story on Joe's shoulder.

"See here," said Joe, kissing her and putting her out of the kitchen. "You run upstairs, Mrs. Babcock, and get to rights. When your eyes look like my Mollie's eyes, open a box that lies on the bed, and see if that box's the right shade. Tut!" as Mollie sobbed again, "mind! You're not to come down till I call." He closed the door and began to whistle.

"Geet!" said he, "what a mess! That old cat (meaning Miss Morris) has given Mollie the wrong recipe. I bet I could make rusk enough for 20 people out of what's left. It's lucky I was brought up on a farm."

When Mrs. Babcock smelled coffee she forgot her instructions and made straight for the kitchen. To her surprise Nancy was at work, faded calico, prunella boots and all.

"Why, Nancy," said she, "I am glad you're back!"

"Nancy be blessed!" shouted Joe from the depths of her plaid sunbonnet, and Mollie's fun began; for in Nancy's "duds," and imitating her stride and grab of things, he did present a droll figure, and Mollie laughed until they were both merry and bright as Easter day.

"There! That's O. K., little woman," said Joe, standing off and viewing the table; and indeed it was. All their prettiest china, glass and silver decorated the satin-like cloth. The dishes were laden with salads, meats, preserves, cakes and dainties, and, like a floral weave, were hyacinths and lilies.

"Listen, Mollie! By and by I'll slip off, light the fire and put over the kettle. When I come back, you va-moose and finish up." Mollie nodded, smiling delightedly.

The members of Trinity choir were coming. Mollie and Joe met the happy ten at the door and made them welcome. All were merry and full of the day's events. Mollie kept talking and avoided personalities; she dreaded being questioned about rusk. In due time Joe disappeared—unmissed—for some one was playing "Die Traumerl."

He was gone so long that Mollie trembled; but when he returned, flushed and happy, Mollie slipped off like a vision.

The kettle's music greeted her, the kitchen was neat, and a scent of baking filled the air. Mollie wondered at it, but was too busy to investigate.

When they assembled, all complimented them on the beauty and abundance of the table.

"Yes," cried Joe, ecstatically, "Mrs. Babcock is a notable housekeeper; Mollie, she went on, avoiding his wife's rebuking glance, "Why, Mollie, you are forgetting the rusk."

He stepped to a side table, and, lifting two plates heaped high with golden steaming rusk, placed them with the feast.

room, where they unpacked his shopping.

"You dear," she cried, as the treasures were unrolled that proclaimed Joe's catering ability; "I never should have remembered half these things, yet I should have missed them directly we were at table! But didn't you bring me anything?"

"O, yes. I met Dr. and Mrs. Grey at the station, and they are expecting us for dinner to-morrow, sure."

"Is that all? That was for you, too," pouted Mollie.

"All! All! Well, I think it pretty nice, Mrs. Babcock! No dinner to cook, and a jolly good one to eat! What do you women expect?"

Easter morning dawned clear, and Mollie awakened in a joyous mood. She sprang out of bed, and, singing a scale or two, rejoiced.

"O, leave off, can't you?" mumbled Joe, longing for one more snooze; and remembering the rusk, secretly rising for the Easter feast, she "left off."

Suddenly Joe's drowsiness fled. He remembered that Nancy was away.

THERE, WITH HER HEAD ON THE TABLE, WAS MOLLIE.

and, dressing swiftly, he hastened downstairs. No breakfast odors greeted him, and the house was very quiet. The kitchen fire blazed, but no kettle was over it. "Listen, Mollie! By and by I'll slip off, light the fire and put over the kettle. When I come back, you va-moose and finish up." Mollie nodded, smiling delightedly.

The members of Trinity choir were coming. Mollie and Joe met the happy ten at the door and made them welcome. All were merry and full of the day's events. Mollie kept talking and avoided personalities; she dreaded being questioned about rusk. In due time Joe disappeared—unmissed—for some one was playing "Die Traumerl."

He was gone so long that Mollie trembled; but when he returned, flushed and happy, Mollie slipped off like a vision.

The kettle's music greeted her, the kitchen was neat, and a scent of baking filled the air. Mollie wondered at it, but was too busy to investigate.

When they assembled, all complimented them on the beauty and abundance of the table.

"Yes," cried Joe, ecstatically, "Mrs. Babcock is a notable housekeeper; Mollie, she went on, avoiding his wife's rebuking glance, "Why, Mollie, you are forgetting the rusk."

He stepped to a side table, and, lifting two plates heaped high with golden steaming rusk, placed them with the feast.

The blessing was a saving grace, and Mollie could lower her radiant, overmoist eyes, for well she knew that the heaven of her good husband's love had saved her from the "old leaven" of malice and uncharitableness.

AN UNLUCKY THIRTEEN.

They Were All Creditors and Not One Ever Got a Cent Due Them.

"Did you ever sit down at a table where there were just 13?" asked a man of his companion in a railway carriage.

"Once," replied the latter. "Well, you never observed that any bad luck followed it, did you?"

"Why, yes. Bad luck for most of the 13."

"Any of them die?"

"Not that I know of. Never heard of any of them dying."

"Not enough victuals to go round?" queried the other.

"Who's talking about victuals? There wasn't any victuals."

"Thought you said you sat down to a table where there were 13 persons."

"That's what I said. The table was in a lawyer's office. It was a meeting of my creditors. There were 12 of them. I was the other man."

There was a long pause, and then the first speaker inquired:

"In what way did the meeting prove unlucky, may I ask?"

"None of them ever got a cent from me," answered the other, heaving a deep sigh as he left the carriage.

ONE ON "FIGHTING JOE."

And He Quietly Paid for the Extra Work He Made as Representative.

The late Gen. Joseph Wheeler, when a representative in congress, was traveling in a buggy along a country road in his district in Alabama. He overtook a mail carrier, groaning under the weight of an enormous sack of stuff, and invited the man to take a seat beside him.

"Why don't you have a horse?" said the general. "I have had three at different times," replied the carrier, "but they died. The work was too heavy."

You mean that the burden of the mails was too great?" Yes, that's just it. There's a—fool representative from this district who sends out such a lot of truck that the mails are loaded all the time. This bag is full of such stuff; books and such. "How much money would you buy a horse?" asked the general, feeling in his pocket. "Horse are high now," answered the carrier. "I couldn't get a good one for less than $30."

Fighting Joe counted out $30. "That'll buy your horse," he said. The man gazed upon the money in astonishment, and could not find a word to say before the general drove off.

Doctor Brigham Says

MANY PHYSICIANS PRESCRIBE

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The wonderful power of Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the diseases of womanhood is not because it is a stimulant, not because it is a palliative, but simply because it is the most wonderful tonic and restorative ever discovered to act directly upon the generative organs, restoring diseased and restoring health and vigor.

Marvelous cures are reported by all parts of the country by women who have been cured, trained nurses who have witnessed cures and physicians who have recognized the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and are fair enough to give credit where it is due.

If physicians dared to be frank and open, hundreds of them would acknowledge that they constantly prescribe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in severe cases of female ailments, they know by experience it can be relied upon to effect a cure. The following letter proves it.

Dr. S. C. Brigham, of 4 Bragg Park, Fitchburg, Mass., writes:

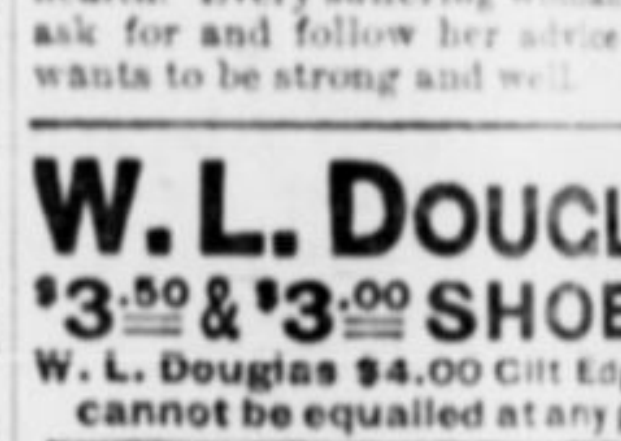

"It gives me great pleasure to say I have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound very efficacious, and I have written it in my practice for female ailments. My oldest daughter found it very useful for female troubles when time ago, my youngest daughter is now taking it for male weakness, and is surely gaining strength and vigor."

I freely advocate it as a most reliable cure in all diseases to which women are subject, and give it highest endorsement."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, bloating, flatulency, weakness of organs, displacements, inflammation, etc., can be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If you need write to Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for ten years has been advising women free of charge. No other person has had the benefit of her wider experience in treating female ailments. She has guided thousands to health. Every suffering woman should ask for and follow her advice if she wants to be strong and well.

RHEUMATISM CURED

Disease Yielded Readily to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills After Other Treatment Failed.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure rheumatism because they supply the necessary elements to the vitiated blood and ensure a cure. Mrs. A. Baker, of No. 1111 1/2 street, Syracuse, N. Y., will furnish living evidence of the truth of this statement. "There has been rheumatism in my family ever since I can remember," she says. "My grandmother was a great sufferer from muscular rheumatism and my mother also had the disease in a mild form. About a year ago I had a hard cold and rheumatism came on in my left knee. There were sharp pains, confined to the neighborhood of the knee and they seemed to go into the bone. The pain I suffered was intense and I also had dizzy spells. The doctors called my trouble rheumatic and sciatic rheumatism. When I didn't get better under their treatment my brother-in-law suggested that I try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I bought three boxes, and, by the time I had taken them, the pain and dizziness had entirely left me. I wanted to make sure of a cure so I bought three more boxes, but I didn't take quite all of them. I found that I was entirely cured. Before I took the pills the pain was so severe that I had to cry at times and when I was cured I was so thankful and grateful and I am glad to recommend them to every one who suffers with rheumatism."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured many cases of anemia, sciatism, nervousness, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia and St. Vitus' dance that have not responded to other modes of treatment. All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

THE MISSIONARY FIELD.

Missionaries are at work in 247 of the walled cities of China. There are still 1,500 walled cities without missionaries.

The Jesuit fathers in charge of the Shanghai Catholic mission, in their recent annual report, announce an increase of 6,375 converts received during the year 1903 into the church.

The year 1903 in the Presbyterian mission in Canton, China, was the best in its history. To the 29 churches there were 1,093 additions, and the local contributions amounted to $8,000.

The South Carolina conference is said to raise more money for the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education society than any conference in Methodism with the exception of Rock River.

Methodists of this country have undertaken the task of raising $250,000 for an Indian jubilee fund. Bishop Thoburn is chairman of the committee on the fund, and will go to India to take part in the celebration.

A LIVING DEATH.

Vividly Described by a Citizen of Sioux Falls, South Dakota.

Andrew Johnson, 411 West Twelfth St., Sioux Falls, S. D., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills saved my life. My doctor, from a careful analysis of the urine and a diagnosis of my case, had told me I could not live six weeks. I was struck down in the street with kidney trouble, and for a whole year could not leave the house. I lost flesh, my eyes failed me, I bloated at times, my back hurt and I suffered a living death. There seemed no hope until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. Then I began to improve. The pain left gradually, the swellings subsided, I gained appetite and weight, and, to make a long story short, I got well!" Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

"Jesus' Power Over Disease and Death" — International Sunday School Lesson for April 15.

LESSON TEXT.—Luke 7:1-17. Memory verses, 14, 15.

GOLDEN TEXT.—"Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection and the life."—John 11:25.

TIME.—Same as last lesson, the summer of A. D. 28, in the middle of the second year of Jesus' ministry.

PLACE.—Capernaum, on the northern shore of the Lake of Galilee, and Nain, a town southwest of Capernaum, seven miles from Nazareth.

SCRIPTURAL REFERENCES.—Read the references to Capernaum, Matt. 4:13-16; 8:5, 9, 10; 11:23; 17:24; 18:2; Mark 1:15-20; 2:1-4; John 4:46; 6:57, 24-31. Compare this miracle for a Gentile with that for another Gentile, the Syrophenician, Matt. 15:21-28; Mark 7:24-30. Compare the miracle at Nain with the raising of Jairus' daughter, Matt. 9:23-25; Mark 5:22-42; Luke 8:40-56; and with the raising of Lazarus, John 11. Contrast it with the resurrection miracles of Elijah, 1 Kings 17:19-23, and of Elisha, 2 Kings 4:32-37. Compare it with the raising of Dorcas, Acts 9:36-42, and of Eutychus, Acts 20:7-12.

Comment and Suggestive Thought.

V. 1. "When He had ended all His sayings." Those of the Sermon on the Mount.

V. 2. "And a certain centurion's servant." This centurion was a heathen by birth (v. 9), and was probably in the service of Antipas.—International Critical Commentary. "All Palestine was under Roman military government; this centurion was probably connected with the garrison at Capernaum." "Who was dear unto him." The adjective "does not necessarily imply an affectionate relation between the master and the servant, though such may well have existed.

V. 3. "And when he heard of (R. V., 'concerning') Jesus." Christ had already worked many wonderful miracles and spoken many wise sayings in Capernaum, so that the centurion had the best foundation for his faith. "He sent unto Him the elders of the Jews." Leading, representative men.

V. 4. "Besought Him instantly." R. V., "earnestly," as in the phrase, "concluding instant in prayer."

V. 5. "For he loveth our nation." This Gentile soldier found in the Jews "a purity, reverence, simplicity and nobleness of life which he had not found elsewhere."—Dean Plumptre.

V. 6. "Then Jesus went with them," saying, according to Matthew, "I will come and heal him." As they drew near to the house, "the centurion sent friends to Him," with another message. "I am not worthy that Thou shouldst enter under my roof." This feeling of unworthiness was due partly (1) to his own consciousness of sin, and partly (2) to his knowledge of the Jewish feeling that "as the houses of Gentiles were unclean," entrance into them, and still more, familiar fellowship, would "defile."—Eidersheim.

V. 7. "Say in a word." Literally, "Say with a word, and let my servant be healed." The word is to be the instrument with which the healing is to take place, instead of Jesus' coming in person.—Int. Crit. Com.

V. 8. "For I also (like Jesus, but in another sphere) am a man set under authority," etc. "He means: 'I also, though a very humble person in the army, under the authority of more important officers, still have a command over a body of men who do implicitly as I bid them.'"

V. 9. "He marvelled at him." "Only the Saviour marvelled; once at the unbelief of His fellow citizens at Nazareth (Mark 6:6), once at the faith of this heathen."—Van Oosterzee.

V. 10. "And they that were sent." Christ's message through them to the centurion was, "As thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee" (Matt. 8:13). "Found the servant whole."

V. 11. "The day after." R. V., "soon afterwards." "He went into a city called Nain." A small town 25 miles to the southwest.

V. 12. "When he came nigh to the gate of the city." Nearly all towns and villages were surrounded by walls, as a defense against marauders. "Behold, there was a dead man carried out." "The bier on which the body was borne was, in the case of the poor or classes, a simple board supported on two poles. There was no coffin; the corpse was simply covered with a large cloth. Abbott.

V. 13. "The Lord." A title first used by Luke in this place, perhaps because in this miracle Christ showed Himself supremely the Lord of life and death.

V. 14. "And He came and touched the bier." "Of wickerwork. The boly lay with its face turned up, uncovered, and its hands folded on the breast."—Eidersheim.

V. 15. "And he that was dead." "The spectators were sure that he was dead, for they were carrying him out to bury him."

V. 16. "And there came a fear on all." R. V., "And fear took hold on all." "A great prophet is risen up among us." "They might have thought of Elijah and the widow of Sarepta; of Elisha and the lady of the not far distant Shunem."—Farrar.

V. 17. "And this rumor (R. V., 'report') of Him went forth." "It would spread like wildfire far and wide."—Lx. Greek Text.

Lessons from Miracle at Nain. One of the blessed suggestions of the miracle is the arrival of Christ just at that time.

Our life is like a game of anagrams, in which the letters of words are thrown into a jumble. Only God knows how to arrange them, and spell out the meaning for us.

God wants worded prayers, but often, as at Nain, He answers the silent petitions of our griefs, our needs, our desires. (Isa. 65:24). What Christ said to the mourning widow He says to all who are born with sorrow: "Weep not."

SAVED BABY LYON'S LIFE.

Awful Sight from That Dreadful Complaint, Infantile Eczema—Mother Praises Cuticura Remedies.

"Our baby had that dreadful complaint, Infantile Eczema, which afflicted him for several months, commencing at the top of his head, and at last covering his whole body. His sufferings were untold and constant misery, in fact, there was nothing we would not have done to have given him relief. We finally procured a full set of the Cuticura Remedies, and in about three or four days he began to show a brighter spirit and really laughed, for the first time in a year. In about ninety days he was fully recovered. Praise for the Cuticura Remedies has always been our greatest pleasure, and there is nothing too good that we could say in their favor, for they certainly saved our baby's life, for he was the most awful sight that I ever beheld, prior to the treatment of the Cuticura Remedies. Mrs. Maehelle Lyon, 1826 Appleton Ave., Parsons, Kan., July 13, 1903."

HIGH CLASS DRUGGISTS

AND — OTHERS.

The better class of druggists, everywhere, are men of scientific attainments and high integrity, who devote their lives to the welfare of their fellow men in supplying the best of remedies and purest medicinal agents of known value, in accordance with physicians' prescriptions and scientific formula. Druggists of the better class manufacture many excellent remedies, but always under original or official names and they never sell false brands, or imitation medicines. They are the men to deal with when in need of anything in their line, which usually includes all standard remedies and corresponding adjuncts of a first-class pharmacy and the finest and best of toilet articles and preparations and many useful accessories and remedial appliances. The earning of a fair living, with the satisfaction which arises from a knowledge of the benefits conferred upon their patrons and assistance to the medical profession, is usually their greatest reward for long years of study and many hours of daily toil. They all know that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative remedy and that it gives universal satisfaction, and therefore they are selling many millions of bottles annually to the well informed purchasers of the choicest remedies, and they always take pleasure in handing out the genuine article bearing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package. They know that in cases of colds and headaches attended by biliousness and constipation and of weakness or torpidity of the liver and bowels, arising from irregular habits, indigestion, or over-eating, that there is no other remedy so pleasant, prompt and beneficial in its effects as Syrup of Figs, and they are glad to sell it because it gives universal satisfaction.

Owing to the excellence of Syrup of Figs, the universal satisfaction which it gives and the immense demand for it, imitations have been made, tried and condemned, but there are individual druggists to be found, here and there, who do not maintain the dignity and principles of the profession and whose greed gets the better of their judgment, and who do not hesitate to recommend and try to sell the imitations in order to make a larger profit. Such preparations sometimes have the name—"Syrup of Figs"—or "Fig Syrup" and of some piratical concern, or fictitious fig syrup company, printed on the package, but they never have the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of the package. The imitations should be rejected because they are injurious to the system. In order to sell the imitations they find it necessary to resort to misrepresentation or deception, and whenever a dealer passes off on a customer a preparation under the name of "Syrup of Figs" or "Fig Syrup," which does not bear the full name of the California Fig Syrup Co. printed on the front of the package, he is attempting to deceive and mislead the patron who has been so unfortunate as to enter his establishment, whether it be large or small, for if the dealer resorts to misrepresentation and deception in one case he will do so with other medicinal agents, and in the filling of physicians' prescriptions, and should be avoided by every one who values health and happiness. Knowing that the great majority of druggists are reliable, we supply the immense demand for our excellent remedy entirely through the druggists, of whom it may be purchased everywhere, in original packages only, at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, but as exceptions exist it is necessary to inform the public of the facts, in order that all may decline or return any imitation which may be sold to them. If it does not bear the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, do not hesitate to return the article and to demand the return of your money, and in future go to one of the better class of druggists who will sell you what you wish and the best of everything in his line at reasonable prices.

The Crittenden Record.

ISSUED WEEKLY.

JAS. E. CHITTENDEN,
Editor and Publisher.

SUBSCRIPTION ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR.

Entered as second-class matter July 15, 1904, at postoffice at Marion, Ky., under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

FRIDAY, APRIL 13 1906.

Prof. B. E. Thorn, of Cerulean springs, has been appointed county superintendent of Trigg to succeed Alford Cunningham, deceased.

The Madisonville Hustler is putting new machinery and will issue a six-column, eight-page paper instead of a six-column. The Hustler bears right name.

France and Great Britain are taking census of the people of their respective domains. It is said that the British census may show that King Edward rules more people than any other Monarch.

The county court house at Murray,
which burned recently, is to be rebuilt.
The fiscal court has decided to submit to the people the voting of $50,000 for the purpose. The vote will be taken in November next.

The fiscal court at Henderson passed a resolution, providing that the question of the county having a new $125,- 000 court house be voted on at the next November election. The old court house is in a dilapidated condition, and the records are not safe. The question of extending the gravel roads to the county line will also be voted on.

We have no objection whether the Opposition Party names Judge S. W.
Lager or Haley; because Western Kentucky has several of the best runners that ever entered the field: Judge James Breathitt of Christian, Hons. W. J.
Deboe of Crittenden, G. W. Long of Muhlenburg, E. T. Franks, R. W.
Slack and G. W. Jolly of Daviess counties, any one of them can "lick" the Opposition Candidate with a fair and accurate count.—Cadiz Informer.

Senator Elkins in coming out for a railroad rate bill of his own said that while he was classed as a railroad man, he had ten times the interest in shipping that he had in carrying. He said that he was opposed to the Hepburn bill because it did not go far enough. He said there were wrongs, abuses and discriminations by the railroads and he wanted to see them stopped. He said the Hepburn bill would not stop them.
He said that he wanted a bill that empowered a court review with the right of the court to suspend any rate fixed by the Interstate Commerce Commission compelling the railroads to deposit a certain amount of money in dispute with the court pending the decision on the bill. But what he said he was particularly anxious about was a distinct prohibition against the railroads proceeding or dealing in the commodities they carried. This he admitted was prohibited by the decision of the Supreme Court in the Chesapeake and Annapolis case, but he wanted it specifically stated in the act. He was also in favor of compelling the railroads to put in switches and make connections with lateral lines on a reasonable basis. Also he wanted the bill to compel the carriers to make a fair distribution of cars and to provide for prompt connections and a prorating agreement with connecting lines. All this coming from one who is classed as a railroad senator, sounds very fair. It was a more liberal proposition than had been expected from him. Now the question remains, was Mr. Elkins talking in good faith and was he as much in harmony with the President's ideas as he professed to be. If he were not, where was the "joker" in any of his proposed amendments?

Is Your Home Like This?

Sometime ago when the Brown Book asked for some original definitions of a home, it received among others the following answers:

An inn where love is landlord and contentment is chief guest.

The place where one is treated best and grumbles most.

Home is a corporation whose preferred stock is contented children.

That place where the heart is and the bills are sent.

Here is the sculptor's work room to shape man's destiny.

Home, happiness, health, harmony,
heart's ease, holiness, heritage, heaven, heir.

Home is where we express our worst and best selves.

Where we keep everything but our temper, criticisms and advice.

To some a place to eat, sleep and wash.

God's kindergarten where souls are trained for humanity and heaven.

Simply two words, love and mother.

A loving wife, a good table and a clean bed.

A man's rest—a woman's joy—a child's paradise.

Neat wife, sober, industrious husband. Respectful children. Out of debt.

Home is love's bank, and our account is never overdrawn.

God's thought, childhood's refuge—maidenhood's dream—woman's heaven
—man's inspiration.

Home is God, father, mother, babies,
love, education and eatables.

Maid sublime, meals on time.

Nonescrappy, all happy.

Home is where love rules; unselfishness, tact and harmony exist.

Home, "the center of gravity in the sphere of life."

Home is the result of learning to bear and forbear.

Bright and cheerful place, pleasant wife, kiss at the door.

Home is where mother is, be it humble or great.

Home is what we make it, either heaven or hell.

Father, mother, brothers, sisters,
plenty to eat, wear and share.

Home to mankind is as to the hub of the wheel.

My happy little wife,
Blue-eyed baby,
And God always.

Home is where the heart finds its greatest content.

Where loved ones "bunk" together.
The best school for making true men and women.

Where love reigns supreme,
And filthy dirt is never seen.

Neuralgia And Other Pain.

All pain in any disease is nerve pain, the result of a turbulent condition of the nerves.

The stabbing, lacerating, darting, burning, agonizing pain that comes from the prominent nerve branches, or sensory nerves, is neuralgia, and is the "big brother" of all the other pains.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills
rarely ever fail to relieve these pains by soothing these larger nerves, and restoring their tranquility.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills
leave no bad after-effects, and are a reliable remedy for every kind of pain, such as headache, backache, stomachache, sciatic, rheumatism and neuralgia.

They also relieve Dizziness,
Sleeplessness, Nervousness, Car-Sickness, and Distress after eating.

"For many years I have been a constant sufferer from neuralgia and headache, and have never been able to obtain any relief from various headache powders and capsules, until I tried Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills.
They always cure my headache in five minutes time." FRED H. SWINGLEY, Cashier 1st Nat. Bank, Atkinson, Neb.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first package will benefit. If it fails he will return your money.
25 doses, 25 cents. Never sold in bulk.

Watch What You Are Doing!

"Did you ever raise a family?"

"Yes, sir!"

"How did you raise them?"

"Well, sir, as soon as they got big enough to slap or spank, I began to slap and spank them."

"Did you wait until you was in a good humor before you slapped?"

"No, sir! I waited for nothing. I never slap when I am in a good humor."

"Well, you slap often, do you?"

Well, well sir, when I get out of tobacco or snuff I lose patience with everything."

"Do you take your baby to church?"

"No, sir!"

"Why?"

"Because it ain't the style nowadays. It's an awful sight of trouble to fix up a bottle to take to church."

"You don't nurse the baby, then?"

"No, sir, that has just about gone out of fashion and I wish it was. If it was not for the cost of bottles and rubbers, and there are other reasons why I do not take the baby."

"What are they?"

"Well, one of them is this. Just about the time they begin to sing a solo, they begin to cry and twist and you know you have to listen awfully close, at best, to have any words in a solo, and that is one of the up to date things of our church and it helps to keep down excitement. If we should not want to stay after the solo we have an excuse to go home to the babies, and some of the preachers sometimes make their sermons shorter when they know a lot of women leave their babies at home. I can't endure a long sermon anyway. Well, now, you have been a little bit inquisitive as to how I do and so on. Did you ever raise a family?"

"Yes, ma'm, I have raised two families."

"Well, hurrah for you. How did you begin?"

"Well, I never slapped or spanked.
I never promised a whipping to one of my children. I never whipped while out of humor and never quarreled with my children under any circumstances.
I never allowed one to cry if I whipped it. I never whipped any of them more than twice."

"Did you nurse them?"

"No, ma'm. My wife nursed them. We neither used rubbers nor bottles."

"Did you take them to church?"

"Yes, ma'm."

"Why did you take them?"

"Because they were ours."

"Weren't they a heap of trouble?"

"No, ma'm. We got used to it. We had a good many and we began to take them early and they got used to it and we had no bottle to get cold and make the babies twist and grunt. They never disturbed us during a solo. My children never had a whipping at school and two-fifths of them have been teachers. And they revere their father's name. They never asked him to let them go to a dance nor a party in their lives. If they ever wanted to go they never said so. So I have had no trouble with my children and became a social companion with them, even though you may have ten or thirty.
And you will be glad you are living.
And you will not get old though you may have passed half a century."

R. M. FRANKS.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contains Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange
the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and is made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co.

pation.

Disease Worse Than Leprosy.

Washington, March 29.—Gangrosa, a tropical disease more repulsive than leprosy, has become so prevalent upon the island of Guam that Lieut. Mc-Namee, U. S. N., the acting Governor of the island, has recommended the establishment of a hospital for the isolation of the disease which is believed to be highly contagious. Admiral Rixey, the Surgeon General Navy, has approved the recommendation and it is likely a $5,000 hospital for cases of the new disease will be erected immediately near the leper hospital on the island.

Lieut. McNamee says the disease destroys the upper part of the face by slow ulceration and is worse, both to the victim and his companions, than leprosy. As 400 cases have already developed Lieut. McNamee says its isolation is imperative.

 incubation.

HUMAN HEAD FOUND NEAR RAILROAD TRACK

Head Was Wrapped in Marlon Milling Company Flour Sack.

Central City, Ky., April 9.—Three boys, Ernest and Herbert Williams, and Leslie Harrison, while walking to Central City from Beaver, today found a man's head hidden under a pile of cross-ties half a mile south of the tunnel on the L. and N. railroad one mile from this place. The head was wrapped in a copy of the Evansville Journal, dated April 5, and had been placed in a muslin flour sack of the Marlon Milling company of Marion, Ky. The bundle had been placed under the ties after the rain last night.

The finders notified Police Chief Jenkins, and Coroner Brown of Central City, who brought the head here, apparently it is the head of a man 30 years old, with brown eyes and a perfect set of teeth. Trains never stop at the tunnel and only freights had passed in the night.

The boys stated that two strangers examined the head and tarried a few moments, afterward proceeding on foot in the direction of Russellville.
 The Coroner is holding the head for further investigation.

Marion, Ky., April 9.—The Marion Milling company ships flour exclusively. No one here knows anything that would throw any light on the finding of a man's head near Central City today.

 you relief and its continued use for a short time will bring about a permanent cure. For sale by Haynes & Taylor, the enterprising druggists of Marion.

 city, one block from court house for

Simple Way to Cure Catarrh by Hyomei Without Stomach Dosing.

It is the height of folly to dose the stomach with internal medicines to cure nasal catarrh. It cannot be cured except the catarrhal germs that are present in the nose, throat and lungs have first been killed.

The soothing air of Hyomei heals the smarting and raw membrane of the air passages in the nose, throat and lungs, kills off the catarrhal germs and rids
 the system of the last trace of catarrh.

The complete Hyomei outfit consists of a hard rubber inhaler which can be carried in the purse or vest-pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei, and costs only one dollar, while extra bottles can be obtained for 50 cents.

Haynes & Taylor positively guarantee a cure when Hyomei is used in accordance with the simple directions on the package, or Haynes & Taylor will refund the money. This certainly shows their faith and belief in the virtues of Hyomei.

MARION, : : : KENTUCKY.

It is fair to presume that the Elysee palace will now become a social center not equaled since the days of Canning. The new president's wife is well qualified to uphold the honor and dignity of his position, whether she is called upon to entertain a queen or a plebeian. When the French constitution was drawn up the Empress Eugenie was unpopular with the Republicans, and they were determined that the ruler should not come under petticoat government. It is possible that Madame la Presidente will have the official title that goes with her position.

CHEAPER FARM LANDS

Southwest Offers Best Opportunities For Securing Homes.

Many farmers in the Northern and Eastern states are selling their high priced lands and locating in the Southwest. Many who have been unable to own their homes in the older country are buying land in the new country.

Unusual opportunities exist along the lines of the Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain Route. The rich, alluvial, delta lands and river bottom lands of Southeast Missouri, Eastern Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, capable of producing 60 bushels of corn, a bale of cotton, 4 to 6 tons of alfalfa, 150 bushels of potatoes, and other grains, vegetables and hay crops, can be bought for $7.50 to $15.00 per acre. When cleared and slightly improved will rent for $4.00 to $6.00 per acre cash.

Uplands more rolling, lighter soil, adapted to fruit growing—peaches, pears, plums, grapes, berries, also melons, tomatoes and other vegetables, can be bought for $5 to $10 per acre in unimproved state. Many places with small clearings and some improvements can be bought very cheap.

This is a fine stock country. No long winter feeding. Free range, pure water, mild climate. A healthy growing country, with a great future.

Write for map and descriptive literature on Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Kansas and Indian Territory. Very cheap rates on first and third Tuesdays of each month.

Watson's Magazine

The leading exponent of Jeffersonian Democracy, edited by Hon. Thos. E. Watson, of Georgia, the Father of Rural Free delivery; author of "The Story of France," "Life of Napoleon," "Life and Times of Thomas Jefferson," "Batheny" and other books. Mr. Watson was the People's Party nominee for Vice-President in 1896, and for President in 1904. He is today heading a middle-class reform movement which is bound to sweep the country in a short time.

Watson's Magazine is not a Socialist publication. It does not stand for collective ownership for all the means of production. Mr. Watson believes in public or government ownership of railroad, telegraphs and telephones; in municipal ownership of street railways, gas, electric lights, water works, etc.; and he believes in private ownership of all industries not natural monopolies.

The middle class—the home owners, farmers, small business men and property owners—won Jefferson's victory in 1800; won Jackson's victory over Nick Biddle's money power in 1832; won Lincoln's victory in 1860. But each time after the flush of victory and died away, they became careless of their rights and went to sleep. They have slept a good portion of the time since 1865, but—

Watson's Magazine is waking them up. Another great victory is in the air. Keep in touch with the movement.

STATE NEWS HAPPENINGS

STATE RACING COMMISSION.

Gov. Beckham Appoints the Members of the Board.

Frankfort, Ky., April 5.—Gov. Beckham announced the appointment of Col. F. F. Clay, of Bourbon county; Col. Milton Young, of Fayette county; and Col. Jack Chinn, of Mercer county, representing the great breeding interests of Kentucky, and former Mayor Charles F. Grainger, of Louisville, and Louis Descognets, of Lexington, widely known business men, as members of the Kentucky state racing commission provided for by the Chinn bill and adopted at the recent legislative session. No one of the appointees has received his commission as representative of any racing association operating in Kentucky, or which proposed to enter the racing game in this state. In Chinn, Clay and Young the great wealth of the Kentucky breeders is represented. Col. Chinn was selected by the breeders to put the bill through for their benefit, and he is spoken of for chairman of the commission. The body will meet here Saturday, April 14, next, to organize.

TUCKER MURDER CASE.

Absence of Prosecutor and Attorney General Causes a Postponement.

Covington, Ky., April 5.—In the federal court in this city a motion was made for a continuance of the case of G. M. Tucker and others, revenue officers, charged with murder in Pike county. It is said that the man came by his death in resisting arrest by the officers on a charge of operating an illicit whisky still in the mountains of that county. It developed that neither the commonwealth's attorney of Pike county nor State Attorney General Hays were present to prosecute the case, the only prosecutor being an attorney from Pike county who was hired by the friends of the dead man. Judge Cochran pointed out that no one has any authority to prosecute such a case except the commonwealth's attorney, and, possibly, the attorney general.

ALLEGED CORRUPT WORK.

Grand Jury Will Investigate the Actions of Certain Lobbyists.

Frankfort, Ky., April 7.—Acting under orders given by Circuit Judge Stout, the grand jury of Franklin county began an investigation of rumo current here during the last week of the regular session of the general assembly, of corrupting work of lobbyists against the measure proposing to place a tax upon rectified whisky. The members of the staff of a local paper were questioned by the jury and gave information which will result in a number of persons from out in the state being summoned to come here and tell what they may know.

Will Fight New Law.

Louisville, Ky., April 7.—It is now believed that instead of leaving the state, because of the rectifiers' tax of 14 cents on each gallon of whisky made or brought into the state for branding, the distillers of Kentucky will fight the constitutionality of the law. Those familiar with the law, however, declare that it is constitutional in every degree.

Lyne Going East.

Lexington, Ky., April 7.—Jockey Lucien Lyne, who has spent the winter at his home in this county, left for New York, where he will ride the coming season. Lyne will likely have his first mount in the east this year on Roseben, in the Carter handicap, on the opening day of the Aqueduct meeting.

Has No Opposition.

Bowling Green, Ky., April 6.—Chairman Mark, of the Third congressional district, has called a meeting of the committee here for Saturday, April 14, to nominate a democratic candidate for congress. Hon. James M. Richardson, of Glasgow, the incumbent, will have no opposition.

Young Widow Sues.

Louisville, Ky., April 5.—Mrs. Annie Liming, a young widow of this county, alleges in a suit filed that she has been victimized out of $2,500 by J. E. Dixon under promise of marriage. She sues to recover the piece of real estate which she says the defendant purchased with her savings.

Revenue Collections.

Lawrenceburg, Ky., April 7.—At the office of Stamp Deputy Thomas W. Bell for the month of March the revenue collections amounted to $198,628.86. For the corresponding month of 1905 the receipts were $129,210.95, an increase of $66,417.93.

For Franchise Taxation.

Frankfort, Ky., April 7.—The Kentucky state board of valuation and assessment fixed the valuation upon all public service corporations for the purpose of franchise taxation for the year 1906. Only slight changes are made from last year.

Made An Assignment.

Cynthiana, Ky., April 6.—John T. Cummins, formerly county clerk of Harrison county and a well-known farmer, made an assignment to Judge W. T. Lafferty. The assets are between $5,000 and $6,000.

OUT OF THE PARTY.

Republicans Read Judge McClintock, Accused of Favoring Democrats.

Paris, Ky., April 6.—At a meeting of the county republican committee resolutions were adopted expelling Judge D. McClintock from the republican party and forbidding him in the future to attend meetings or conferences of the republicans. He is accused of having secretly worked for the success of the democrats. Mr. McClintock for over 29 years has been an active republican. He was a member of the county committee and a candidate for county judge in the republican primary. He was by appointment acting postmaster, and was a leading candidate for the same office at the time of the appointment of the incumbent, Louis Earlywine. He is also prominently identified with the business interests of the city, being a director of the Agricultural bank, the Bourbon County Agricultural society and representative of several large insurance companies.

THE NORMAL SCHOOLS.

Governor Appoints Commission With Authority To Locate Them.

Frankfort, Ky., April 6.—Gov. Beckham appointed seven commissioners, as follows, with authority to locate the two normal schools provided for by act of the general assembly at the recent session: Prof. Geo. Payne, of Paducah; Attorney G. B. Edwards, of Russellville; Attorney Basil H. Richardson, of Glasgow; Superintendent E. A. Mark, of Louisville schools; B. M. Arnett, banker, of Nicholasville; Prof. John Morris, of Covington, and Senator Morton Watson, of Louisville. The commissioners will assemble here April 14 next, and advertise for proposals for location of schools. Richmond and Bowling Green are leading in the competition for location. Each has offered valuable property for school site.

FARMER KILLED BY ENGINE.

Buggy Containing Thompson Barnes and Son Struck on Crossing.

Williamstown, Ky., April 7.—Thompson Barnes, a prominent Grant county farmer, was instantly killed at Mann's crossing near here. He had been in Cincinnati on business and his son met him here with a buggy. They were in the act of crossing the railroad track about a mile below town when Engine 672 crashed into them, horribly mutilating Barnes and hurling his son 25 feet. The latter was bruised, the horse killed and the buggy demolished.

After a Separation of 40 Years.

Fulton, Ky., April 5.—After being separated for more than 40 years, C. M. Rutter, of Fulton county, and Deputy Sheriff Charles Thompson, of Union City, Tenn., who fought in the same company during the civil war, came face to face on the crowded streets here and a very emotional scene followed.

Colored Children Cremated.

Bonnville, Ky., April 6.—During the absence of Jim Dixon, a colored section laborer, and his wife, his dwelling took fire and was destroyed, cremating two boys, aged three and six years. A third child, aged ten, attempted to rescue his brothers and sustained serious injuries, which may cause death.

Minister Was Arrested.

Lincoln's Youth and Early Manhood

By
WARD HILL LAMON,
His Friend, Intimate and Bodyguard

First Trip to New Orleans.

In the beginning of March, 1828, Abe went to work for old Mr. Gentry, the proprietor of Gentryville. Early in the next month the old gentleman furnished his son Allen with a boat and a cargo of bacon and other produce, with which he was to go on a trading expedition to New Orleans, unless the stock was sooner exhausted. Abe, having been found faithful and efficient, was employed to accompany the young men as a "bow hand" to work the front oars. He was paid $8 per month and ate and slept on board. Returning, Gentry paid his passage on the deck of a steamboat.

While this boat was loading at Gentry's Landing, near Rockport, on the Ohio, Abe saw a great deal of the pretty Miss Roby, whom he had saved from the wrath of Crawford, the school master, when she failed to spell "defied." She says, "Abe was then a long, thin, lanky, gawky boy, dried up and shriveled." This young lady subsequently became the wife of Allen Gentry, Abe's companion in the projected voyage.

"One evening," says she, "Abe and I were sitting on the banks of the Ohio, or, rather, on the boat spoken of. I said to Abe that the sun was going down. He said to me: 'That's not so. It don't really go down. It seems so. The earth turns from west to east, and the revolution of the earth carries us under, as it were. We do the sinking, as you call it. The sun, as to us, is comparatively still. The sun's sinking is only an appearance.' I replied, 'Abe, what a fool you are! I know now that I was the fool, not Lincoln. I am now thoroughly satisfied that Abe knew the general laws of astronomy and the movements of the heavenly bodies. He was better read than the world knows or is likely to know exactly. No man could talk to me that night as he did unless he had known something of geography as well as astronomy. He often and often commented or talked to me about what he had read—seemed to read it out of the book as he went along; did so to others. He was the learned boy among us unlearned folks. He took great pains to explain; could do it so simply. He was different than too."

The trip of Gentry and Lincoln was a very profitable one, and Mr. Gentry, Sr., was highly gratified by the result. Abe displayed his genius for mercantile affairs by handsomely putting off on the innocent folks along the river some counterfeit money which a shrewd fellow had imposed upon Allen. Allen thought his father would be angry with him for suffering himself to be cheated, but Abe consoled him with the reflection that the "old man" wouldn't care how much bad money they took in the course of business if they only brought the proper amount of good money home.

At Madam Bushane's plantation, six miles below Baton Rouge, they had an adventure which reads strangely enough in the life of the great emancipator. The boat was tied up to the shore, in the dead hours of the night, and Abe and Allen were fast asleep in the cabin in the stern, when they were startled by footsteps on board. They knew instantly that it was a gang of negroes come to rob and perhaps to murder them. Allen, thinking to frighten the intruders, cried out: "Bring the guns, Lincoln. Shoot them!"

Abe came without a gun, but he fell among the negroes with a huge bludgeon and belabored them most cruelly. Not content with beating them off the boat, he and Gentry followed them far back into the country and then, running back to their craft, hastily cut loose and made rapid time down the river, fearing lest they should return in greater numbers to take revenge. The victory was complete, but in winning it Abe received a scar which he carried with him to his grave.

CHAPTER III. Lincoln Starts Out in the World For Himself.

Abe and Gentry returned from New Orleans some time in June, 1828, having been gone not quite three months. How much longer he remained in the service of Gentry, or whether he remained at all, we are unable to say, but he soon took up his old habits and began to work around among his neighbors or for his father, precisely as he had done before he got his partial glimpse of the great world down the river.

In the fall of 1829 Mr. Wood saw him cutting down a large tree in the woods and whipsawing it into planks. Abe said the lumber was for a new house his father was about to build, but Thomas Lincoln changed his mind before the house was half done, and Abe sold his plank to Josiah Crawford, "the book man," who worked them into the southeast room of his house, where relic seekers have since cut pieces from them to make carnes.

In truth, the continued prevalence of that dreadful disease, the milk sickness, was more than a sufficient reason for a new removal now in contemplation by Thomas Lincoln. It was an awful scourge, and common prejudice suggested flight. In the spring of 1830, before the winter had fairly broken up, Thomas and Abe, Dennis Hanks and Levi Hall, with their respective families, thirteen in all, took the road for Illinois. John Hanks had gone to the new country from Kentucky in the fall of 1828 and settled near Decatur, whence he wrote Thomas Lincoln all about it and advised him to come there. Lincoln sold his farm to Gentry and his corn and hogs to Dave Turnham. The corn brought only 10 cents a bushel, and, according to the price list furnished by Dennis Hanks, the stock must have gone at figures equally
