DOSE AND DIG."

Suggestion By The President.

DOLE COUNTRY EXPECTS IT

to be Built at Panama

INVESTIGATION CONCLUDED

Washington, D. C. June 23.—Now at the time of canal to be built at Panama has been settled, it would seem that there is nothing in the way of quick action. The President is reported to have told the commission, "I am not going to dig." This is not the case. The country will be expected to dig, and with all the money that has been spent in preparation, it would seem that the real work is to go on. There is one serious obstacle. The railroad interests are opposed to the canal as a long run, but there are ways still which they can obstruct and delay, and may be depended on to hamper operations whenever they can, to keep the government all they can, to keep it from selling supplies, for a man who controls the great commercial roads are the dominant factors in the great industries in which the Canal Commission will be to carry its supplies. They will be to do the lookout always for the least breath of scandal in the management of the disbursements in Panama. If they could only stir up a scandal of a long minded official inquiry into the canal, it would suit their purpose and hinder the work of the commission. The commission is expressed at the War Department, however that the work is such shape that it can now be pushed forward. And it is believed that the commission is such that will produce the best results from a reasonable standpoint.

—oo—
The Interstate Commerce Commission's investigation into the carrying of roads is continued to the summer. After hearing this week Mr. Jas. G. Garrison, of the Erie Railroad, the Commission has adjourned the hearings without a day for resumption. This was a surprise, as there would be no hearings till fall. For the past several months the commission has been neglecting its regular work, and carrying out the mandate of the Interstate Commerce joint resolution, and accumulating plenty of evidence to be used all summer collating and collating it in form for a report. The conditions that have been met have been scandalous. There have been reports of graft and crookedness among officials both in the commission and in the roads.

The last witness heard, Mr. Garrison, said a word for the railroad industry, and that was one of the most important said on that side of the hearing. He pointed out the very existence of a railroad on its fuel supply, first of all, and then on the lowest figure so as to be the heaviest of all its operating expenses. He added some "hot air" to the effect of the public getting the saving in this direction, and the question is rather beside the point that he did point out however that the road he represented as a privately owned and operated four companies and made no secret of the fact that half of the three millions annually. He said that with the road would be almost as good as dead, and that they were looking for coal lands and would buy them, and they could get hold of them, and they could futher that the roads were growing all the time, and it kept up at the present rate, be using 10,000,000 tons of coal yearly and that by this present mines would be about worked out. He said therefore that the ownership of coal lands by railroads, for fuel purposes at least, was justifiable and that it was a necessity that would have to be reckoned with in framing any law on the subject.

Beside the coal and oil report that the president and the next Congress will have on their hands, there will be also the question of what shall be done with or to the Standard Oil Company. The whole of a long cabinet meeting toward the end of this week was devoted to the consideration of this problem. It has been known for a long time that the Department of Justice had been taking steps in view of Commissioner Garfield's oil report looking to the prosecution of the Standard under the Elkins law or the Sherman law or both. It was generally expected when the cabinet meeting was over that the Attorney General would have some statement to make on the subject of the expected prosecutions, that is whether he would not prosecute. But he said that he would have to give the matter further consideration before making a statement, and the matter had to go.

BRILLIANT SOCIAL EVENT.

Operatic Contata, The Haymakers, At the Marion Opera House July 3rd.

A brilliant, artistic and social event will be the operatic cantata, the Haymakers, by Sturgis talent, directed by Miss Mae Garner, Tuesday night, July 3rd, at Marion Opera House. This entertainment was given at Sturgis on the night of June 26th to a crowded house and was pronounced a decided success. Reserved seats at popular prices will be on sale at Haynes & Taylor's drug store Thursday, June 28th, and by reason of the attractive program and the popularity of Miss Garner and other members of the company we bespeak for these, our neighboring people, a large and enthusiastic audience. Get your seats and avoid the rush.

Delightful Entertainment.

Misses Ina Price and Mildred Haynes, delightfully entertained their friends at the home of Mr. H. A. Haynes Saturday evening, June 23. Creed Taylor won the prize, a box of Lowmy's bon bons, in the contest. Delightful refreshments, consisting of blackberry ice, nut frappe and cake were served. Fruit punch was served during the evening. Those present beside the hostesses, Misses Ina and Mildred, were Willie Croft, Ellis Gray, Cora Melton, Allie Yates, Mary Deboe, Mary Finley, Bernice and Maud Driskill, and Pearl Doss; Messrs. Trice Bennett, Wilbur Haynes, Melton, Ray Planary, Creed Taylor, Clarence Gilliland and Virgil Moore.

Didn't Lose Him.

A few days ago Mr. Wm. Copher, the caterer, thought he had lost a hand. Geo. Fortman, his head cook, failed to show up. On inquiring it appeared that George and his best girl had procured a license to become one. Later when George showed up Mr. Copher forgave him and he now presides behind the screen, where he flips the flap-jack and beats the steak.

Jim on the Water Wagon.

Mr. James M. Freeman presides over the destinies of the street sprinkler. His face is marked by a heavy frown all day long. Even at his giddy height it is plainly visible to pedestrians. It is so noticeable this week that several inquired of Mrs. Freeman the cause, and she says it is because they won't let him hitch Klondike to the water wagon. Mrs. Freeman says he would rather drive one good horse than four plugs.

The Plaindealer Burned.

Jeff Sierrrett's paper at Hawesville, the Plaindealer, was burned last Friday. The building and its contents were a total loss. The damage will amount to $2,000, while only $500 insurance was carried. It is supposed the plant will be reconstructed at once.

Moves to Salem.

The Cumberland telephone crew moved to Salem Tuesday preparatory to putting in an exchange at that place. After having completed the exchange they will extend their line through Livingston county into Paducah.

THE RECORD'S MINING NEWS

Mr. Reed Continues Discussion of Topographical Geological Survey.

SOME CORRESPONDENCE CONCERNING THE MATTER.

TOPOGRAPHIC SURVEY.
We have during the past two weeks been explaining what a topographical geological survey is and have shown the many benefits to be derived therefrom. We want such a survey of this section of country, included in Crittenden and Livingston counties, and parts of Caldwell and Lyon counties, Kentucky, and the greater portion of Pope and Hardin counties, Illinois.

We have already had several geological surveys of this mineral section—even now the Kentucky State Geological Survey is having some special geological work carried on in the district, under Mr. James Fols, whose reports will shortly be forthcoming. All of which work has been and doubtless will continue to be beneficial to an understanding of the district and promoting of its development.

A topographical survey is something different to what we have had, and would prove of vastly greater good towards the development of our resources than any purely geological survey we have ever had or than any that may be made, not made dependent on the study and the mapping of the topography of the country, as a fundamental base upon which to map its accurate areal as well as stratigraphic geology.

Of course we appreciate the present as well as the former geological surveys conducted by the State in Western Kentucky. Other parts of the State have received and are also now receiving attention likewise by the State Geological Survey, in the matter of county as well as Mineral Sections geological surveys; so that this is fairly well distributed throughout the State. However, a large amount of topographic work has been accomplished in Eastern and considerable in Central Kentucky; till almost all of the Eastern Kentucky coal field and a portion of the "Blue Grass" agricultural section, has been surveyed and topographic maps made of the territory.

Of the territory so far surveyed and topographic maps made thereof in Kentucky, Eastern and Central Kentucky have had about 20,000 square miles in area finished, while Western Kentucky has received attention to the extent of about an area of 1,500 square miles.

But aside from any plea of ours for a relatively greater amount of topographic work to be carried on in the Western part of our State, we desire to especially call attention to a worthiness and a need for such work here. We want to lay our application before the "powers that be" and make the attempt to have a topographic survey made of our mineral district.

LINCOLN NATIONAL PARK.
Kentucky Should Lead the Way to Large Membership.

Kentucky is to lead the way in rolling up a membership for the Lincoln Farm Association.

The old farm on which Abraham Lincoln was born, and where he spent the early years of his boyhood, at Hodgenville, this State, is to be made into a great Lincoln National Park.

It is a great work of the whole people. Every man, woman and child in Kentucky is asked to join the Association and help make up the fund needed.

Send in any amount, from 25 cents to $25, and you will be made an honorary member without further dues or assessments whatever. The Association will send you a large, handsomely engraved certificate, and your name will be put in the Permanent Catalogue to be kept in a place of honor at the Park forever. Send your subscription to this office. Let every loyal Kentuckian join now and show the nation that Kentucky still leads in patriotism and loyalty to her great men.

The Louisville Daily Herald and THE RECORD both one year for $2.00.

In this latter connection, we would submit the following correspondence:

UNITED STATES GEOLOGICAL SURVEY, Washington, D. C., June 22, 1906. Mr. A. H. Reed, Marion, Ky.

Dear Sir: In reply to your letter of June 18, further concerning surveys in Crittenden and Livingston counties, Ky., and Hardin and Pope counties, Ill. I take pleasure in referring copies of this communication to Messrs. J. C. Norwood, Director of the Kentucky State Survey, and H. Foster Bain, director Ill. survey. According to our agreement with the co-operating States we make our surveys at the point of priority in the regions indicated by the State officials.

Plans for 1906 have been completed and a portion are in progress. This matter which you speak of now should therefore be taken up for consideration another year. I am sure from what I have heard from both of the settlements above named that they are interested in the development of the fluorspar products, Mr. Bain being especially an authority upon the same. Anything that you may desire to add to statement contained in yours might be addressed to them directly. Of course, as a Federal survey our work is also planned with a view of meeting the wishes of such of the Representatives in Congress as may indicate to us their needs. Very Resp., H. M. WILSON, Geographer.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY OF ILLINOIS, Urbana, Ills, June 25, 1906. Mr. A. H. Reed, Marion, Ky.

My Dear Mr. Reed: Mr. Wilson has forwarded me a copy of your letter of June 18th with reference to topographic surveys in the fluorspar region. I should be very much interested indeed in seeing such a survey made, and will be glad to join Mr. Norwood in a recommendation to that effect.

As Mr. Wilson has told you, our plans for this year are complete, so that it will be necessary to let the matter go until another year. Professor Norwood, I believe, has been having some special surveys made in that area. He may feel that they include as much as he can do for the present. Since such a small portion of the field is in Illinois I would not like to insist upon immediate work being done if it would interfere with his own plans. I know Professor Norwood, however, and will be glad to take the matter up with him by correspondence with the hope that something can be done.

Very cordially yours, H. FOSTER BAIN.

This Time It Goes Over Until Next September.

Paducah, Ky., June 27.—The case against H. H. Loving was this afternoon continued until September 4 on motion of the commonwealth. Several of the principal prosecuting witnesses are absent, among them is Dr. H. P. Sights, who is in California and one or two others, who are ill and out of the two a week or two.

Cumberland Presbyterianism.

Recent events in the Presbyterian families have made it pertinent that some action be taken by the members of the Cumberland Presbyterian church. Different men often see the same subject in different lights, and so long as men and women are thoughtful this will ever be and should ever be. Whether or not it was right for the Decatur General Assembly to do just what it did do is for the individual conscience to decide. The thing is done whether it will stay well done Father Time must tell. But one thing we wish to say is that the General Assembly which meets next May at the birth place of the Cumberland Presbyterian church ninety-six years ago will be a history making meeting.

A number of my friends knowing my newspaper propensities asked me to give to the readers of THE RECORD some of the deliverances of the General Assembly in order to give them further publicity. Herewith we give the resolutions adopted by the General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian church.

Resolved 1. That in the reunion and union of the Cumberland Presbyterian church and the Presbyterian church in the United States of America, on the doctrinal basis of the Presbyterian confession of Faith as revised in 1903, the Cumberland Presbyterian church does not surrender anything integral in its own system of doctrine as set out in its own confession of Faith, nor modify in any particular its adherence to the word of God as the only infallible rule of faith and practice; nor has the Presbyterian church asked or expected us to do so.

Resolved 2. That, in uniting with the Presbyterian church in the United States of America, the Cumberland Presbyterian church does not alienate the property now held for particular congregations of the Cumberland Presbyterian church; but that, in the reunited church, such property will continue to be held for the use and benefit of particular congregations in like manner as heretofore.

Resolved 3. That in the adjournment of its General Assembly as a separate assembly, the Cumberland Presbyterian church does not destroy or interrupt its historical continuity, but will continue its life, its history, and its work in the reunited church under the name of the Presbyterian church in United States of America. I will follow this with other articles. W. HUGH WATSON.

BRYAN ASSESSED ON $95,000

List Includes $22,250 for the Commoner and $5 for Corn.

Lincoln, Neb., June 25.—The material wealth of William Jennings Bryan in his Lincoln suburban holdings is over $50,000, while downtown he has $22,000 worth of property, according to the assessor. Upon this he will pay about $600 taxes. This assessment is an increase over that of last year and is represented large part by his real estates. Mr. Bryan's personality is fixed at $10,950, including cash in bank $3,000 sixteen head of cattle, $800; hogs $65; bees, $2; corn, $5, hay, $10; jewelry, diamonds and silverware, $500; household goods, $3,000; firearms, $150; dogs, $10; watches and clocks, $300; carriages and wagons, $700. The Commoner is on the assessment rolls at $22,250.

A Correction.

In an article last week we stated that the late L. H. Paris was a preacher. He was not a preacher. He was a deacon in the Pleasant Hill church and a splendid good man. In fact he was such a good man and such an active man in church affairs that it was hard for an outsider to tell him from a preacher.

If piety and strong faith had been the only requisites he would have been a preacher anyhow.

We also omitted the name of J. Riley Clark, who is now the pastor.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to extend to the people of Mattoon and vicinity our heartfelt thanks for their kindness, help and sympathy to us during the last sickness, death and burial of my beloved son, Frank. We fully appreciate your service and oh, when sickness and death shall come your way, may you have friends who will as readily minister unto you, as you did to us in our affliction.

CIRCUIT COURT IN SESSION

GRINDING OUT JUSTICE AT OLD STAND.

MANY CASES DISPOSED OF

Press Stone, Colored, Given One Year In Penitentiary for False Swearing.

Circuit Court convened Monday and at once got down to business. The cases already disposed of follow:

The case of the Commonwealth against U. G. Kent, O. Alsobrook, J. Burklew, A. H. Crawford, Will Kirk, R. P. Trail, Henry Hamby, were each continued on account of the defendants.

The case as Jack Robinson and John Woodside for an affray was dismissed.

Case of Doc Watson carrying concealed weapons and flourishing same; fined $50.

Case of Paducah Cooperage Co., for failing to file statement in Sec. of State's office; passed.

Case of Press Stone, col., for false swearing, was given one year in pen. Cases of Caroline Plumblee, keeping bawdy house, and Fred Hughes and others for disturbing religious worship, and case of Ed. Young for converting another's money to his own use, and the case of Bird Cline for seduction were continued.

Little Miriam Blackburn Entertains.

On Monday afternoon, June 25th, from 4 to 6 o'clock, little Miss Miriam Blackburn celebrated her sixth birthday. The evening was spent very pleasantly, playing games and partaking of the splendid refreshments which consisted of ice cream, sherbet and cake. Each little girl remembered her hostess with a nice little birthday gift. Those who attended were Mary Weldon, Martha Louise Lowery, Elizabeth Cook, Geneva Daniel, Mary Ray, Virginia Flannery, Marion Ainsworth, Fannie Sons, Tommy and Louis Conway, Virginia Guess, Miriam Pierce, Mamie Fritz, Ruth Dodge, Aleie Henderson, Opa Ringo, and Masters Willard Hurley and Reginald Wilson.

Prof. Kee at Riply, Tenn.

Prof. V. G. Kee, who has gone home for a vacation, will not be back until the last of August. He left with many threats of the dreadful things he would do to the hay field and corn field and tobacco patch. If he succeeds in acquiring a brown tan he thinks he will feel sufficiently recuperated for school work in September. A brown tan is acquired all right by looking up in the air at a baseball. We trust the Professor will not acquire too much muscle on his good right arm.

Notice.

All parties having fence stretchers belonging to us will please return same at once. If not we will expect pay for same. HENRY HARDWARE CO.

Philadelphia is a lovely city, and its people are justly proud of it, but there is no Philadelphian who is not glad of an opportunity to go to New York occasionally and "see life." A man of 68 years was so anxious to see "dear old Broadway" again that he walked the entire distance from the Quaker City.

Naples and San Francisco, two unfortunate cities, are similarly situated. They are just about as far apart as the length of the earth's diameter. They are almost in the same latitude, San Francisco being between the 37th and 38th parallels and Naples between the 40th and 41st. Population of Naples, 565,000; of San Francisco, nearly 400,000.

An apparatus has just been invented to serve the same purpose as the old divining rod, by a Swiss engineer, Mr. Adolf Schmid, of Bern. A detailed description of this apparatus can not be given until later, when its construction will be fully protected and the present endeavors of prominent Swiss savants to find out a scientific explanation will possibly have been successful.

Dew is the moisture of the air condensed by coming in contact with bodies colder than itself. It does not "fall" from the atmosphere or rise from the ground. There is never dew on a dull, cloudy night or on a windy night. It may be found on a grass-plot and leave a gravel walk dry. The gravel is a bad radiator and parts with its heat very slowly and therefore does not condense the warm air. Dew never falls on the human body.

One of their favorite hens becoming ill, Samuel Supton and R. E. Fountain, chicken fanciers, of Ridgeley, Md., performed an operation, which has evidently proved very successful, as it saved the chicken's life. It was discovered that the fowl was suffering from "craw irritation," caused by eating small pieces of glass. The craw was opened, thoroughly washed out, sewed up with white cotton and now the hen is as lively as a young chicken.

In Buenos Ayres horse racing is a social institution, as much so as the Spanish bull fighting. All the elite, from the president and his cabinet down, attend the meetings, although the races are invariably held on Sunday. The jockey club is quite as modern and luxurious and exclusive as in London or in Paris, and the initiation fee is three times as much. The club takes a small percentage of all bets made and it is said that nearly $15,000,000 is yearly wagered on this "sport of kings."

When the civil ceremony of marriage is performed in France the official who conducts it passes to the newly wedded pair a little book, which is the wedding gift of the French government. This book contains an official record of the wedding and a number of blank spaces for future births, marriages and deaths in the family. The most important feature of the small volume, however, is contained in about six pages that are devoted to the special instructions which the Academy of Medicine has prepared on the care of young children.

Gambling by post within the last few years has attained enormous dimensions. With the advent of the flat racing season in England, the post offices of towns in Holland, such as Middelburg and Flushing, which normally keep in stock sufficient stamps to supply a population of 20,000 persons, have to lay in sufficient to meet the requirements of 100,000. From this fact alone it will be apparent that gambling by post is profitable to the Dutch, even though it spells misery to thousands of foolish persons everywhere.

PORK BARREL DISTRIBUTED.

Omnibus Bill Goes Through the House in an Hour.

Washington.—The "pork barrel," as the so-called omnibus public building bill is generally called, was rolled into the house today by Mr. Dalzell (Penn.), who reported a broad and comprehensive rule for its consideration. The rule provides that while the consideration of the bill shall be the same as under suspension of the rules, its passage shall rest on a vote of the majority instead of by a two-thirds vote.

By the overwhelming vote of 193 to 21 the previous question was ordered. The rule was adopted.

Mr. Bartholdt (Mo.), chairman of the committee on public buildings and grounds in explaining the provisions of the bill said it represented the painstaking and intelligent labor of many months. He said that more than five hundred bills carrying upwards of $60,000,000 had been referred to the committee and each of the bills was considered on its merits. Out of this mass of public building bills has come the present omnibus building bill which carries in round numbers $421,000,000.

The bill was then put on its passage, and amid loud applause the speaker in an hour from the time the rule was reported, announced that the seal of the house had been put on the measure, and it was started on its way to the other side of the capitol.

OUR MILITARY UNIFORMS

To Be Revised and Modified by an English Tailor.

Washington.—In reply to one of the labor organizations, which protested that the "importation" of G. W. Winters, an English tailor, by the war department to bring the uniforms of the United States Army up to the English standard in the matter of "smartness" and "jauntiness" was a violation of the contract labor law, Acting Secretary Oliver said:

"Mr. Winters was not engaged in constructing new models for our uniforms or to make the slightest change in them. He is only to revise and modify the patterns by which the clothing is cut, with the idea of improving the set of the garments and introducing into their general appearance a more distinctively military effect and to make samples of same from his patterns, but according to our established specifications. These, it is understood, have been made in London and shipped to the United States.

"Mr. Winters is to send the completed samples and patterns to this country and himself follow in order to make explanations or give instruction to the foreman cutter at Philadelphia.

DOWIE DELIRIOUS IN JAMAICA

Claimed That His Prayers Prevented Asiatic War.

Chicago.—Miss Elizabeth McKenna, a nurse, who accompanied John Alexander Dowie to Mexico and Jamaica, testified today in the hearing before Judge Landis to determine the ownership of Zion City properties, that Dowie during that trip was delirious a greater part of the time.

While in Jamaica, she declared, he was continually under the impression that the emperor of Germany was coming to visit him, and at times sent the witness to the port to watch for the imperial fleet. On one occasion, she testified, Dowie dressed himself in evening clothes and awaited the coming of the emperor.

Dowie seemed to believe, according to the witness, that by his prayers he had prevented war among Asiatic nations, and that in consequence he was to receive a sum of money.

Deacon H. R. Bracefield, a follower of Voliva, testified that he believed Dowie was inspired by God in establishing Zion City. He was unable to explain on cross-examination how, in view of his alleged divine inspiration, Dowie could be deceived by the people.

ICE DEALERS STILL IN JAIL.

Effort to Arrange System of Returning Overcharges.

Toledo, O.—Early this afternoon the ice company managers and their attorneys had failed to devise any plan by which the ice officials convicted of anti-trust violations could escape the workhouse sentence, and they are still locked in jail awaiting the papers committing them to the workhouse.

All forenoon an effort was made to meet Judge Kinkade's suggestion of restitution to consumers for overcharges. As the five companies practically cover the city and their patrons number thousands it was found difficult to arrange a scheme by which the overcharges can be repaid and thus secure a commutation of sentence.

The best legal talent in the State is employed to relieve the managers from their serious predicament.

CAT HATCHES EGGS.

Devours the Chickens Soon After They Come From the Shell.

Paducah, Ky.—Ben Turner, of this city, has a large male cat that has just hatched two chickens. The cat sleeps day and night and has a bed upstairs. Believing that the cat would be on the eggs sufficient time to hatch them he placed five in the bed and in three weeks two chickens surprised Mr. Turner. The following day the cat devoured the chickens, much to the regret of Mr. Turner.

STATE ITEMS OF INTEREST

RATES REDUCED.

The State Railroad Commission Makes Its Report.

Frankfort, Ky., June 21.—The state railroad commission announced its ruling in the matter of freight rate regulation, which has been under investigation for six months past. The opinion of the commission sustains the contentions of shippers in all sections of the state that they have been discriminated against and that the entire state has suffered.

Taking the Louisville & Nashville Co. as a basis, it operating the greatest number of miles of road in the state, the commission orders a reduction of its mileage scale by 25 per cent. on all classes of freight on the main stem, the Knoxville division and the Cumberland Valley division, in order to bring the rate to that in effect on the Kentucky Central & Lexington division.

All of the other roads in the state are brought down to this basis. It affects mainly the Illinois Central on class rates, its short haul rates being even greater than those of the Louisville & Nashville Co.

KENTUCKY CLUB WOMEN.

They Hold Interesting Session at Mt. Sterling.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., June 23.—The State Federation of Women's clubs opened with the first vice president, Mrs. W. T. Lafferty, of Cynthiana, in the chair. Mrs. James A. Leach, of Louisville, discussed the topic, "Helpful Hints For Club Members," which was responded to in short talks by a large number of the delegates. After a spirited debate by delegates from several points Shelbyville was selected as the next place of meeting. The following officers were chosen: President, Mrs. Charles P. Weaver, Louisville; first vice president, Mrs. James A. Mitchell, Cynthiana; second vice president, Mrs. Mary Winn Lockridge, Mt. Sterling; corresponding secretary, Miss Lula M. Breed, Louisville; recording secretary, Miss Caroline Berry, Lexington; treasurer, Mrs. Letcher Riker, Harrodsburg; auditor, Miss Lula Lindsey, Frankfort; general federation secretary, Miss Luella Boyd, Covington.

KENTUCKY EDUCATORS

Elect New Officers and Decide to Meet Next Year in Winchester.

Bowling Green, Ky., June 22.—The Kentucky Educational association adjourned to meet at Winchester, Ky., next year. A resolution was adopted for the appointment of three members as a commission to reorganize and incorporate the association. Dr. George Ramsey, of Lexington, was appointed to succeed M. O. Winfrey as president of the committee. The officers elected were: Carsdale Hamlett, of Hopkinsville, president, and Mrs. Cora Wilson Smith, of Morehead; H. C. McKee, of Frankfort, and H. H. Cherry, of this city, as vice presidents. T. W. Vinson, of Lexington, was elected secretary, and I. H. Boothe, of Olive Hill, treasurer.

SEIZED PORK LOINS

And Sent Them To The Fertilizer Works.

Louisville, Ky., June 21.—Dr. S. A. Bradley, local live stock and meat inspector, caused to be seized and sent to a fertilizer works 2,400 pounds of pork loins held in cold storage. The officials of the storage company refused to state to whom the pork belonged.

Kidnaped Baby Girl.

Lexington, Ky., June 22.—The kidnaping of his baby girl by Vincent O. Roberts, at Santa Monica, Cal., several days ago, caused somewhat of a flutter in this city, where Roberts and his wife formerly lived. Mrs. Roberts went to California several months ago to buy a home and Roberts followed six weeks ago and joined his wife in Santa Monica.

Think Willis the Man.

Dover, Ky., June 23.—It is thought that R. H. Willis stole the harness he sold in Covington from farmers in this section. Mr. Devore, George Schubert and Harry Smoot, each of whom lost a set of buggy harness, left for Covington to take a look at the harness Willis had, and if they can identify them he will be brought here.

Appointed Judge.

Frankfort, Ky., June 23.—Gov. Beckham appointed John M. Lansing, of Boone county, to the vacancy on the court of appeals bench, created by the resignation of Judge Paynter. Judge Lansing is at present judge of the 15th judicial district.

Served With Distinction.

Campbellsville, Ky., June 22.—Capt. R. E. Jeter, 86, who served with distinction in the federal army, is dead. He was the promoter and did more to have the branch railroad from Lebanon to Greensburg built than any other two men. He was a grand old man.

To Succeed Wood.

Frankfort, Ky., June 22.—Gov. Beckham appointed D. A. McCandless, of Hart county, to succeed the late David G. Wood, as commonwealth's attorney of the Tenth circuit court district of Kentucky.

ABSENCE OF SIGNAL LIGHT

Led To Discovery of Robbery of Railroad Station Agent.

Brent, Ky., June 23.—The absence of a signal light in front of the C. & O. railroad station at Brent, Ky., led to the discovery that the telegraph operator, W. E. Lawwill, had been chloroformed, bound and gagged by men who stole $55. Lawwill has been working on the C. & O. for about six weeks. He had been in charge of the station in Brent for about two weeks. Soon after the news of the hold-up was telephoned to the C. & O. authorities several of their detectives were placed upon the case and immediately sent to the scene.

ABNER AND SMITH.

Alleged Assassins Are Under Arrest At Last.

Lexington, Ky., June 23.—John Smith and John Abner, alleged to have been employed to assassinate Dr. Cox, the Jackson physician, who was shot, have been arrested, after eluding the officers for months. The men were arrested by Deputy Sheriff Shade Fugate. They had come within a mile of town and then sent for Fugate. The men were taken before County Judge Taulbee. County Attorney Hagins announced that the state was not ready to proceed with the trial. Judge Taulbee passed the case, in the meantime ordering the men to jail.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Infuriated Citizens Threaten Summary Vengeance.

Lexington, Ky., June 21.—John Thornton and George Holly, negroes, were saved from the hands of infuriated citizens on the Richmond pike by the arrival of County Detective J. Waller Marshall. The negroes had been terrorizing the people along the road for several days. They appeared at the home of George Bently, a farmer, and threatened his young daughter, Rose. Detective Marshall brought the negroes to jail, and they were indicted.

OFFICIALS CLASH.

The Governor May Interfere With the Magistrate.

Louisville, Ky., June 22.—Servile work on Sunday is to be forbidden. The state statute will be enforced by Magistrate F. J. Hoffman and his constable, Robert Bartholomew, of the Second magisterial district. The governor has sent a telegram stating that he would use the pardoning power to prevent any magistrate making the saloon-closing law odious. Trouble is expected between the chief executive and the magistrate.

Railway Policemen.

Frankfort, Ky., June 23.—Upon the recommendation of the railroad officials, and in pursuance of an act of the last legislature, Gov. Beckham appointed the following railroad policemen: T. R. Griffin, of Somerset; T. A. Coningham, of Williamstown; J. H. Crane, of Lexington; G. T. Helm, of Danville, and G. T. Morrow, of Somerset, for the Cincinnati Southern railroad.

Illegal Distilling.

Louisville, Ky., June 22.—Peter Bittzer, a saloonkeeper at Twelfth and Grayson streets, and his son, Clarence Bittzer, were arrested in connection with the seizure of the Cane Run vinegar works. Peter Bittzer is charged with having illegally retailed and distilled whisky.

Editor Slugged.

Lexington, Ky., June 21.—Louis Pilcher, a noted Kentucky journalist, was the victim of an assault by highwaymen near the Southern depot. He was not able to cope with the combined strength of the two footpads, who attacked him. Pilcher is editor of the Nicholasville Democrat.

Struck By Pay Car.

Dropped Out of Sight.

Cloverport, Ky., June 23.—An unknown man, about 45 years old, supposed to be insane, after running through the woods, ran into a cave near Tar Springs, and dropped into a pit, the bottom of which has never been found.

Redwine Resigns.

Frankfort, Ky., June 23.—The resignation of Judge David B. Redwine as a member of the state board of control for charitable institutions, has been received at the state executive office and been accepted by the governor.

HARRY THAW KILLS MAN.

Prominent Architect Shot to Death in Theater.

New York.—Stanford White, the eminent architect of the firm of McKim, Mead & White, was shot tonight and almost instantly killed by Harry Thaw, a prominent member of a Pittsburgh family, during the performance of the musical extravaganza "Manselle Champagne," on the roof of Madison Square Garden. Mr. White died before an ambulance could be summoned and Thaw was immediately arrested after the shooting.

White was accompanied by Mrs. Thaw at the time of the shooting.

The Madison Square roof garden was crowded tonight with a fashionable audience. While Harry Thaw, who fills the principal comedy role in the piece, was singing a comic song and the garden was echoing with laughter and applause, a series of shots rattled in the rear of the auditorium, and a man in evening dress was seen to fall across a table at which he was sitting with a party of friends.

The man who fired the shots fled, pistol in hand, toward the nearest exit, where he was seized and disarmed by police.

Instantly the great audience was thrown into a panic and a wild stampede occurred, in which chairs and tables were overturned and men and women fought desperately to escape from the roof.

The first intimation of trouble came when, walking in front of his seated victim, the man exclaimed:

"You've deserved this. You've ruined my home," and drawing an automatic pistol fired three shots.

The first two took effect, but as the third was discharged the pistol was struck up by a fireman on duty in the theater and the bullet went skyward.

GOT HOLD OF WRONG CORPSE

Masonic Funeral Called Off—Not Body of Wm. Marshall.

Birmingham, Ala.—Falling to identify the body of a man found imbedded in a sandbar in the Arkansas river near Pine Bluff, Ark., and brought back here under the belief that it was the corpse of Wm. Marshall, who disappeared June 4, a Masonic funeral which had been arranged for this afternoon was called off, and the body remains unclaimed at the morgue.

When last heard from Marshall wrote his wife from Little Rock that he had bought a ticket to the Philippine Islands and she would never see him again.

The same day he sent her $80 and his watch by express. That night an unknown man committed suicide at Little Rock by jumping from the bridge into the Arkansas river. Believing from the description and circumstances that the suicide was Marshall, a friend went to Arkansas from here, traveled 120 miles down the river and finally found the body of a man whom he identified as Marshall. However when the decomposed corpse was examined here today by a committee of friends and life insurance agents they were unable to identify it, while the clothing did not correspond to that last worn by Marshall. Elaborate funeral arrangements which were in progress were halted, and Marshall's disappearance remains unsolved. The identity of the corpse brought from Arkansas is a mystery.

A MODERN MOSES.

Richly Dressed Babe Found on the Mississippi River.

Hickman, Ky.—A baby was found in the drift of high weeds in the Mississippi river, a few miles above here, near Columbus, Ky., and has not been identified yet. The little fellow, apparently less than six months old, was crying loudly when found. He was securely fastened in the bottom of the skirt on a luxurious rug of Oriental design. On a piece of stationery was written these words, "He is another Moses. Please be kind to him," is a clue that may lead to his identity. The words were written in a feminine hand. A nursing bottle had evidently been placed in its mouth, for the half exhausted contents were silent evidence of the last motherly act of the one who sent the modern Moses on his perilous trip down the Father of Waters.

HOLDS IT A GAMBLING DEBT

Decision of Judge in Account With So-Called Trust.

St. Louis.—Judge Ryan today decided in favor of a purchaser who contended that he does not have to pay for goods which he voluntarily bought from a concern which he alleges is a member of a so-called trust.

The Cahill-Swift Manufacturing Company brought suit against Joseph L. Walsh, a plumber. Walsh admitted the indebtedness, but termed the company a "trust," and argued that he did not have to pay for goods bought from a trust any more than he would have to pay a gambling debt. The court's decision was in his favor.

BOYCOTT AMERICAN MEATS.

British Army Will Use No More Until Investigation Is Made.

London.—In behalf of War Secretary Haldane, Mr. Buchanan, financial secretary to the war office, announced in the house of commons today that orders had been issued to withhold all issue to the army office of American brands of preserved meat until Lieut.-Col. Hobbs, the officer dispatched to the United States to inquire into their character, had made his report, and then some definite action will be taken.

ISSUED WEEKLY.

GEO. M. CRIDER, Editor and Publisher.

SUBSCRIPTION ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR.

Entered as second-class matter July 15, 1904, at the postoffice at Marion, Ky., under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

FRIDAY, JUNE 29, 1906.

It seems to be as difficult to get the Panama canal through congress as it is to get it through the isthmus.

Of course it cheers Senator Allison in his illness to have so many of his fellow-lowans mentioned for Senator in case of a vacancy.

Just now Kentucky can proudly boast of more empty bottles than any other State in the Union. The whole family was thirsty when they reached home.

Ever since Col. Watterson grabbed that front seat on the Bryan horn wagon some people have been afraid he intends to monkey with the steering gear.

It is understood, however, that Pennsylvania railroad employees may still be fired for other offenses than picking up money and gifts that may be flung at them.

Just as if poor Boston isn't having enough troubles with two tail-end base ball teams, it now turns out that her packing houses are no better than those in Chicago.

It will be just like some fool reporter to spoil Mr. Bryan's home-coming as soon as he steps on the wharf by asking him how he is now standing on the question of the sacred "rasho."

Among the Home-Comers of last week was Dr. Joseph J. Clark, of Milburn, Oklahoma. Dr. Clark was born and reared in this city and was the best known young physician in Crittenden county at the time he decided to cast his lot with the good people of the West. He received his literary education in this city and graduated in medicine from the famous old University of Louisville. He is a man of fine personal appearance, accomplished, refined and is a jolly good fellow. Dr. Clark has been solicited to enter the race for delegate to the Constitutional Convention which will soon meet to frame a constitution for the great state of Oklahoma. Should the people elect Dr. Clark a delegate it would be confidence well reposed, and honor well bestowed and his people would be well represented in that august assembly, which will make history for the state. Dr. Clark has always been interested in public affairs and you can put us down for him.

On the Death of J. H. Walker.

Friend Crider:—After having read the grand eulogium in the Crittenden Press of the passing away of my good friend, James Hickman Walker, and of your beautiful encomium in THE CRITTENDEN RECORD, permit me to add my "mite" to the memory of my old friend, as an ordinary man, known brief and simple. But, above and beyond these simple tributes, extend the moral influences of his life and teachings, which neither monument nor epitaph nor spoken words can exemplify nor enhance.

He sleeps, unconscious, in his dust; But unto thou, the human throne, To whom his faith and works belong, He leaves his life in perfect trust.

We can, alas! but throw a worthless wreath

Upon his grave, and heave a useless sigh;

But still, though gone, his spirit hovers nigh

To strengthen us in hope and thought and faith.

All that he said, or did, is ours till death

Unfold the hoped-for Future and lift high

The veil that shrouds man's life in mystery,

And this world has vanished like a breath.

Let us have faith that, no longer here, He still is going on beyond this life, Beyond its ignorant struggles, doubts and strife,

In some far region, in some higher sphere,

With loftier duties and with loftier life, Where all that here is dark at last is clear.

—RUSTIC.

The Brook of Truth.

(By Rustic.)

In the brook of God's truth my heart would drink;

And o'er it my birds would fly.

Ah, sweet! when my soul is its living brink,

And His face is its brightest sky.

For this brook is the truth of His Fatherhood;

It flows from His loves deep springs; And life that delights in its ways is good.

And thought that nests near it sings:

Then flow, flow its waves through all my heart,

All my fields bear its singing sweet.

Of all my life be its waves apart,

In me be its song complete.

Oh! I'd be a brook from His gracious smile,

Flowing the wide earth through,

Making the places that men defile

Loving and clean and true.

The Juramentado.

The following article was written by a Spanish soldier in Spanish, and was translated by the Americans to English, and has proven of great benefit to the soldiers. It was copied by Burrell F. Sjaco, 28th Battery, Jolo Jolo, P. I., May 7, 1906.

The moros are accustomed to suffer

all the caprices of their authority.

The laws of centuries permit the men to be recruited for any purpose whatsoever. The debtor who cannot pay, becomes with his family, the slave of the creditor and the moros are so indifferent to these conditions that their owners do not encounter any difficulty in making them contract such debts for their own resources. The debtor thus loses his rights and his family can be sold throughout the Archipelago. He can sometimes buy the freedom of his family by the risk of his own life, (ie) for the largest number of Christians he can slay.

If the debtor accepts that proposition he becomes that moment a Juramentado, knowing perfectly well that if he manages to get in the midst of an American (or Spanish) Settlement knowing that all hopes of his escape is gone, and death is therefore certain to Juramentados and it is never the case that one regrets his imprudence because there are a number of Juramentados assembled to submit themselves to certain rites, performed by expert, "Panditas or Priests," alone in the forest, the moonlight adding its rays to the weird and fantastic scene.

They commence their exercises fasting and praying, reciting over the graves of the departed Juramentados, and speak of the bliss and happiness that is to be theirs in the Heaven of Mohammed. When they arrive at a sufficient state of exaltation, but never before they are sent into a Christian community.

As this is a ceremony that interest, more or less different families and a great number of formalities have to be gone through, it can never be kept absolutely a secret, no matter how much to their interest it would be to do so and thus it is that the Governor of Jolo, receives notice that an attack by the Juramentados will be made, but never can inform him of the exact time when the attack will be made because the Juramentados themselves do not know at what time they will reach the exalted state. At night-fall in the magic splendor of the moon, reverberated in the depths of the forest, warlike sounding of a gun, like the everlasting lamenting echoes of every wondering soul, the priest congregates all fame thirsting youths, speak of the strong ones who died a noble death in front of the enemy's steel, of menacing shadows of creditors, and the glory of the Moro, and the infamy of the coward and slavery, and of other inexhaustible lives of pleasure where brilliant eyes look upon infinite treasures and imagination crazes them, they convulsively grasp their sharp kris, (Bolo) and imagine themselves feeling the cold steel of death upon their foreheads. From damp vapors of the night surge strange voices instilling valor in their hearts. Th: following day they die at the outpost.

The first Juramentado of whom we have knowledge, through history of tradition, gave themselves to martyrdom through exaltation of belief, exulting in their practice of prayers, fasting and making abstraction of all tastorial pleasure, anxious to gain the paradise of all believers of Mohammed. They prepare themselves for the sacrifices imposing upon themselves material mortification, putting strong binding upon their members and resolving to die on the terminal day. They shave their heads carefully clothe themselves in white linen, (color for mourning worn among the Islanders,) and accompanied by their relatives, after arriving at the spot of bloody purification they take leave from their relatives and present themselves before the largest body possible of armed Christians calling their attention, provoking them in search of martyrdom. The meritorious of eternal recompense were to receive cruel blows without a murmur or a lament, without a show of agony, avoiding suffering until they lie victims to their ignorance. These mystic martyrs followed the warriors and were not satisfied in dying but anxious to kill.

Mixing religious fanaticism with political fervor, never retreating, showing themselves to the enemy and try to cause the death of the largest number possible before falling.

Their open attacks were followed by ambushade surprises, any means seemed proper to gain their martyrdom. The origin of races, the desire to distinguish themselves before their families. Wishing to be revenged and many other causes, make to day the Juramentados. Abuse or any injury or scorn will make assassins of Moros and will convert the greatest coward into a ferocious beast.

Take a Moro who has been your friend and force him to leave you, he will make you take his kris and kill him, because he will never allow himself to be disgraced or dishonored.

Tragedies of all kinds among the Moros are credited to the Juramentados. Modern arms have however diminished their evils in human form and their bravest and most fanatical only commit themselves for this purpose. There are a few panditas to be found who will prepare candidates for this martyrdom the respect for authority cools their religious order.

Mrs. Harvey Burks, Harrisburg, Illinois. Cured by "ZEMO" After Five Years' Suffering.

WHY? SUFFER THE TORTURE OF ECZEMA OR ANY SKIN DISEASE WHEN THIS GOOD MEDICINE +ZEMO+ HAS NEVER FAILED TO CURE

E. W. BORE MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo. HARRISBURG, ILL., MAY 1906.

DEAR SIR: Believing that "ZEMO" saved my skin, I am writing you to tell of my case of itching eczema of both arms. I suffered six years from it. I tried eight different doctors, and every remedy I could hear of without relief. The disease grew worse and spread to my neck and back of the head. My husband bought a bottle of "ZEMO", the first application cleared the skin and I began to improve; in six weeks and one day the disease had disappeared, and my arms and neck as my picture will show, before and after using "ZEMO". My arms were cured and have gained ten pounds in weight, and feel better than I have felt in many years. I will gladly answer all inquiries and recommend "ZEMO" to all persons suffering from any itching skin disease.

Yours gratefully,
Mrs. Harvey Burks

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

Bro. J. S. Henry preached last Sunday at Good Hope. The rain kept many away. He preaches next Sunday at Macedonia.
There will be services at the C. P. church next Sunday at 11 o'clock.
Rev. J. H. Butler preached last Sunday night on the subject, "Choice of Moses" Heb. 11, 24-26. He refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter.
Preaching at the Baptist church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock followed by the administration of the Lord's supper.
Rev. Ben Andres will preach next Sunday at Dean's school-house immediately after Sunday school which meets at 3 p. m.
Wednesday evening of this week the Baptists had a call meeting for the purpose of installing Deacons G. Hughey Hurley and Zed A. Bennett. The installation was presided over by Rev. J. H. Butler. This special call meeting also appointed a committee to push forward the work of church building.
The Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian and Cumberland congregations will all worship together next Sunday night in the Cumberland church. Rev. J. H. Butler will occupy the pulpit. This combination of Churches will worship together each Sunday night through the hot weather.
Rev. J. H. Butler, of the Baptist church, preached last Sunday from the text: Romans 1: 16. His theme was "I Am Not Ashamed of the Gospel." His talk was divided among the several heads we noticed that: I am not ashamed of the author, I am not ashamed of the principles, I am not ashamed of the precepts, I am not ashamed of the ordinances. Bro. Butler delivered a very fine sermon which was listened to by a good sized audience.

—oo—
Rev. J. R. Lamb, of Prescott, Washington, filed the appointment of Rev. Ben Andres in the Methodist church last Sunday night. Commenting on the fact that some one else was at the particular time supplying his own pulpit he felt it only proper and right to supply the place of Bro. Andres, who was sick. Reed Lamb took as his text, or rather as his theme, Romans 1: 16; "For I Am Not Ashamed of the Gospel of Our Lord Jesus Christ," and in addition another verse in Proverbs that the call is to men. Throughout his discourse he made his appeal to men. It was one of the best and strongest appeals heard from a Marion pulpit in many a day. A lady listener remarked at the close that she could have listened to that all night. Mr. Lamb left for the West this week and will not be heard in Marion again very soon.

Following The Flag.

When our soldiers went to Cuba and the Philippines, health was the most important consideration. Willis T. Morgan, retired Commissary Sergeant U. S. A., of Rural Route 1, Concord, N. H., says: "I was two years in Cuba and two years in the Philippines, and being subject to colds, I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which kept me in perfect health. And now in New Hampshire, we find it the best medicine in the world for coughs, colds, bronchial troubles and all lung diseases. Guaranteed at Haynes & Taylor, druggist. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Unique Order.

Col. Jim Rankin, of the firm of Rankin & Pickens, the grocers on Salem street, received a unique order the other day from one of his kinsmen as follows:
Fords Ferry, Ky., May 30, 1905.
Cousin Jim Rankin, Marion, Ky.
Please send your Cousin Jim Barnes a nice country ham by Cousin Ben Rankin, and oblige.
Your Cousin,

Don'ts for the Fourth

Don't pick up a cannon cracker to find out what is the matter with the fuse.

Don't take your wife and baby buggy riding behind a nervous horse.

Don't try to dissuade the boys from setting them off in bunches. They'll go quicker that way.

Don't assault the fool who shoots his revolver in the air. He may have another load left.

Don't go on an excursion if you have a happy home.

Don't put a cannon cracker under your grandmother's chair. She may have money to leave.

Don't forget the fire department's telephone number.

Don't forget, if you have no children, that the people who have them are a good deal more anxious than you are to have it all over and done with.

PLEASED JOHN ADAMS.

Early Celebration of the Fourth in Philadelphia Described in Statesman's Letter.

Noise and fireworks, parades and display and even liquor set their mark upon the anniversary of the nation's birth while the nation was still very young and the story was yet abroad in the land. A picturesque description of the first annual celebration of the nation's birthday, 1777, when the United States was a year old, is that by John Adams in a letter to his daughter, written from Philadelphia. "Yesterday being the anniversary of American Independence," he says, "we celebrated here with a festivity and ceremony befitting the occasion. I went on board the Delaware with the president and several of the marine committee, soon after which we were saluted with a discharge of 13 guns, which was followed by 13 others from each of the armed vessels on the river. The warships and shores were all lined with a vast concourse of people all shouting and huzzing."

After the presidential party had come ashore there followed, according to Mr. Adams' letter, a "good dinner and good cheer." And there was "fine music from the band of Hessians taken at Trenton and continual volleys between every toast from a company of soldiers drawn up in Second street." Then came a parade of the companies and regiments. Of the evening celebration he writes: "I was out walking about the streets for a little fresh air and exercise and was surprised to find that the whole city had lighted up their candles at the windows. I think it was the most splendid illumination I ever saw." And again: "I had forgot the ringing of the bells all day and evening and the bonfires in the streets and the fireworks let off."

However, the national independence was first celebrated July 8, 1776, four days after the signing of the Declaration, according to Marshall, "on a warm sunshine morning." In the yard of the statehouse (at Philadelphia) "where, in the presence of a great concourse of people, the Declaration of Independence was read by John Nixon. The company declared their approbation by their repeated huzzas.
The king's arms were taken down in the courtroom, after which we went to the commons, where the same was proclaimed at each of the five bat-tallions. Fine starlight, pleasant evening. There were bonfires, ringing bells and other demonstrations of joy."
One day later, July 9, the declaration was celebrated at New York in a manner directed by Washington. After this each recurring July 4 was observed by the army. In 1777 it was celebrated by a "feu de jole" (volley) and every soldier was given an extra gill of rum. In 1779 the day brought joy to wrongdoers in the army. All prisoners under sentence of death were granted pardons by Washington and released from confinement.

WHAT JOY THEY BRING To EVERY HOME

as with joyous hearts and smiling faces they romp and play—when in health—and how conducive to health the games in which they indulge, the outdoor life they enjoy, the cleanly, regular habits they should be taught to form and the wholesome diet of which they should partake. How tenderly their health should be preserved, not by constant medication, but by careful avoidance of every medicine of an injurious or objectionable nature, and if at any time a remedial agent is required, to assist nature, only those of known excellence should be used; remedies which are pure and wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, like the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Syrup of Figs has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs has also met with the approval of physicians generally, because they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs, obtained, by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act most beneficially and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs always has the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it. If you fail to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.

INVESTMENT IN MOTH BALLS

Manner of Using the Preventive
That Proved to Be a Signal Failure.

A State street druggist, telling of the quaint characters whom he encounters in his business, recently said: "Late one afternoon one of the 'old soul' ambled up to the counter. 'How yez anything good to kill moths?' he asked, relates the Chicago Record-Herald.
"Yes," said I, "we have moth balls,
the best remedy known."
"Give me tin cists' worth, thin," says he.

"I made up the package, handed it to him, and he ambled out again. I had forgotten all about my customer until about four o'clock the next afternoon, when I was forcibly reminded of the transaction of the day before. After I had waited on my customers in their turn I walked over to another counter and was there confronted with my moth-ball investor. Without giving me time to make an inquiry, he said:
"Are yez the young man that sold me thin things yistiddy" showing me the remains of about half a dozen of the white balls.

"I answered in the affirmative, and also inquired what the trouble was.
"Av all the con games I've run up against in me toime, this bates thim all," he said. "Do think of anyone running a decent down-town store selling the loikes of thim things to kill moths with, or anything else, for the matter of that. They might be all right for playing marbles, but for killin' moths, niver. I may not be as young as yez are, young man, but I'm just as stiddy, and I want to tell you wan thing. If ye can show me the man or woman that can throw wan of thim balls quick enough to kill a moth I'll not only ate ivry wan of thim yez have in stock, but I'll say nothing about the picture the coud woman and meself broke in the foine little game yez would have us play."

TEETH THAT WERE USELESS

Puzzle to the Man Who Had Suddenly Sustained the Loss of Them.

Harry Leon Wilson, author of "The Spenders," was domiciled for a summer in Connecticut with a colony of artists and writers, all of whom had to go into the city every day, relates the Saturday Evening Post.

Wilson was doing nothing but loafing. He loafed artistically, and from time to time met and had fun with some of the natives of the place. One day he found two men in the road who seemed congenial, and he struck up an acquaintance with them. He proposed a drive and they got a surrey and two horses.

"Can you drive?" asked Wilson.
"Sure," one of his sudden friends replied, "I am a fine driver."

They got aboard and started down the road. Before they had gone half a mile the team was frightened by a passing automobile and ran away. The driver valiantly steered the horses into a telegraph pole and Wilson and his two friends were thrown helter-skelter into the road.

Wilson slowly gathered himself together. One of his friends was sitting in the ditch rubbing his bruises and the other stood in the middle of the road gazing in tearful misery at two front teeth which he held in the palm of his hand.

"Pretty lucky escape, wasn't it?"
asked Wilson, for want of something better to say.

"Yes," replied the man with the teeth, weeping afresh, "but please, oh, please, tell me, what shall I do with these?"

FOREIGN FINANCE.

Great Britain's public revenue in April, the first month of the fiscal year, amounted to £418,895, and expenditures, £213,360,361.

New capital issued in London from January 1 to May 5, amounted to £288,788,915, as against £434,216,505 in the same period in 1905.

Total operations of the Bank of Japan in the year 1905 amounted to ¥14,578,127,060, an increase of ¥5,744, 166,420 compared with 1904.

The annual report of the Banque de Paris for 1905 shows that net profits amounted to only 10,894,883 francs, against 19,411,421 francs in 1904.

A loan of 100,000,000 francs will be shortly put on the Paris market for the French colonies in West Africa.
The greater part is intended for Senegal and the Upper Niger, to improve the navigation on the two rivers.

Pitted Pitcoe.

A man who had started with a friend on a week's automobile tour stayed away two weeks. When finally they got back to town, he went home, and his wife received him coldly.
What he dreaded was a scolding and an upbraiding. "I am so glad to be back with you here, dear," he said;
"but I pity Pitcoe. Poor old Pitcoe?"
"What is the matter with Pitcoe?"
said the lady, sharply. "Ah, poor fellow," said her husband, "at this moment his wife is giving him the very deuce!" And that witty speech got him off.

"There is one advantage in this business," mused the expert gardener, as he stood in his orchard. "It is grafting all the time, but you can always get the public to swallow it."—Balti-

NOTES ON COTTON GROWTH

About 70,000 bales of cotton are year's crop of the Laguna south Mexico. The Mexican mills will require an additional $9,000,000 from the United States during 1906.

The British charge in Guang-zhou has forwarded to London a sample of weevil-resistant cotton grown at Retaihulen district of western Indo-China. It is called "Pachon" and short-season cotton, productive with a fiber of good length and texture.

The Turkish minister of agriculture is about to buy 2,500 pounds of American and Egyptian cotton seed for improvement of the quality of cotton raised in Turkey. The seed will be distributed in the provinces of Aidin and Salonika, according to Levant Herald.

The exports of raw cotton from southern Nigeria in 1905 declined 96,308 pounds, having been 348,000 pounds in 1904. This falling off is expected to adjust itself during the present year, when the new planting will commence to yield, states the Government Gazette of the Niger protectorate. It has also been reported that there was some cotton to be shipped from northern Nigeria.

THE DOCTOR'S WIFE

Agrees with Him About Food.

A trained nurse says: "In the profession of my profession I have found many points in favor of Grape-Nuts.
Food that I unhesitatingly recommend to all my patients."

"It is delicate and pleasing to the palate (an essential in food for sickness) and can be adapted to all ages being softened with milk or cream for babies or the aged when debilitated by teeth renders mastication impossible. For fever patients or those on liquid diet I find Grape-Nuts and bismuth water very nourishing and refreshing. This recipe is my own and is made as follows: Boak a teaspoonful of Grape-Nuts in a glass of water for an hour, strain and add with the beaten white of an egg and a spoonful of fruit juice or flavoring.
This affords a great deal of nourishment that even the weakest stomach can assimilate without any distress."

"My husband is a physician and he uses Grape-Nuts himself and recommends them to his patients."
"Personally I regard a dish of Grape-Nuts with fresh or stewed fruit as the ideal breakfast for anyone well or sick." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

In any case of stomach trouble nervous prostration or brain fog a 10 days' trial of Grape-Nuts will work wonders toward nourishing and rebuilding, and in this way ending the trouble. "There's a reason" and it proves.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Your Life Current.

The power that gives you life and motion is the nerve force, or nerve fluid, located in the nerve cells of the brain, and sent out through the nerves to the various organs.

If you are tired, nervous, irritable, cannot sleep; have headache, feel stuffy, dull and melancholy, or have neuralgia, rheumatism, backache, periodical pains, indigestion, dyspepsia, stomach trouble, or the kidneys and liver are inactive, your life-current is weak.

Power-producing fuel is needed; something to increase nerve energy—strengthen the nerves. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is the fuel you need. It feeds the nerves, produces nerve force, and restores vitality.

"When I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Anti-Pain Pills I was confined to my bed. I had severe nervous spells, the result of two years illness with malaria. I gradually grew so weak that I was unable to sit up. The spells would commence with cold chills, and I would become weak and almost helpless. My circulation was poor. I had doctored right along but grew weaker and weaker. The Nervine seemed to strengthen me right away and my circulation was better. I have taken in all seven bottles of the Nervine, and I am entirely well."

ROSA E. WEAVER, Stuart, Ia.
Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

Sore Muscles.

Prominent athletes throughout the country find that the best treatment for sore muscles after severe exercise or hard work of any kind, is a hot bath at bed time, which opens the pores. This should immediately be followed with an application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm vigorously rubbed into the skin. This liniment removes all stiffness and soreness and has become a favorite rub down, as it acts promptly and keeps the muscles in excellent condition. For sale by Haynes & Taylor, the enterprising druggists, of Marion.
